To Organize In Muleshoe

The Muleshoe Jaycees are starting a Little Brother Program to help boys between the ages of eight and 16. The program will offer guidance and companionship to boys who are deprived of a father in their home.

The program will be worked on a one-man, one-boy, basis. The Big Brother will be a volunteer from the Jaycees or an interested volunteer from the community.

Little Brothers will be boys ages eight to 16 who (with their mother or guardian) request a Big Brother.

Applications are now being taken. A team composed of three Jaycees and the principals of the school system will match the boys with their Big Brothers.

Application forms can be obtained from Bob Stovall Printing, Rowena Watson at the Referral Center, 211 East Avenue B, or from Doyce Turner.

Bidders included Plains Builders of Lubbock with a total bid of $34,452; Ready Mix Concrete, Muleshoe, $34,103; Mills and King Contractors, Lubbock, $30,769.65; Elmer Terry, Lubbock, with a base bid of $41,261; Hallmark Builders, Lubbock, $33,002; Tusha Buildings, Inc., Lubbock, $34,-620; and Dura-Built Products,

After considerable discussion and hearing from a representative of each company, mayor made a the motion to accept the low bid of Mills and King of $30,769.65 including all alternatives, subject to the results of talking to several references. high costs of production, and still receive a fair return on their investment. If America is to be assured of a sufficient food supply, the farmer cannot be put out of business. To be able to continue to produce at a profitable level without price supports, the market price of food would have to rise considerably. The price of food today would not approach that required if price support payments were discontinued. Ultimately, it is the consumer who benefits from price support payments, for they insure the continued food supply while keeping the cost down.

Commenting on the Agriculture Appropriations Bill in general, Tower stressed:

-- Approval Committee recommended increase of $3,116,-000 in the screwworm control program, "The outbreak of screwworms in Texas this year, one of the most severe ever recorded, could possibly have been contained with proper funding. Further, it is an indication of what can happen next year. This additional funding and the prospect of cooperative program with Mexico now being negotiated, should be effective in preventing the costly losses which occured in Texas this year."

--Supported recommended increase by $500,000 in the funding level for construction of an agricultural research plant in Temple, Texas to modernize the insect control program, "Plants such as these will, in time, prove invaluable to both the farmer and the environmentalist. executive session July 24, approved an appropriation of some $10 million for the Screwworm Control Program for Fiscal 1973. This is $1 million more than the Administration sought in its budget request.

Senator Bentsen said he was also pleased by the Committee's action in increasing the appropriation for the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) by some $85 million above the Administration request, to $225 million.

"REAP helps farmers, on a 50/50 cost-sharing basis, establish vital conservation protrams," Bentsen said.

"Too few people realize that soil erosion is the greatest single source of pollution to our rivers, streams and lakes. And this program, in recent years, has helped to significantly reduce soil erosion on about a million farms annually," Bentsen added.

-- USO personnel did not traffic in or use dangerous drugs or natcotics.

-- The money manipulation, money changing and misappropriation of USO property was able to occur not because of a deficiency in USO procedures but rather as a result of the failure of USO's staff to observe and enforce these procedures and the failure on the part of USO's auditors to detect the illegal activities. -- USO National Headquarters must share some responsibility for the problems caused by inadequately-trained and ill-qualified persons in key positions in Vietnam. The investigation committee of the USO Board of Governors has investigated the rumors and allegations regarding the possible involvement of Samuel G. Anderson, USO's present Executive Director and its Executive in Vietnam until October 1970. No evidence was found of any illegal activities on his part.

The investigators also found that no material monetary losses were sustained by any serviceman as a result of money manipulation activities. These activities did not involve any funds of servicemen or of USO. They related solely to the flow of illegally obtained MPC (Military Payment Certificates) through certain of the USO clubs. No serviceman was in any way damaged, defrauded or denied the services he could ex-

Juvenile crime in this country has reached very serious proportions in the last decade. Arrests of juveniles for violent crimes have increased by 167 percent. Arrests of juveniles for property crimes, such as burglary and auto theft, have jumped 89 percent. Almost twothirds of all arrests for serious crimes are of young people under the age of 21. Our failure as a nation to deal with this crisis is tragically clear. The rate of repeated criminality for institutionalized delinquents is the highest of any age group --between 74 and 85 percent. Many if not most adult criminals have a juvenile record. In an effort to combat this traffic situation, the House voted last week to extend the Juvenile Delinquency Act for two additional years and to refocus its program on the prevention of juvenile delinquency. The House bill insists that efforts under this act must be tied intimately into the school system wherever possible.

Texas Farmers To Gain With Grain To Russia COLLEGE STATION --- An extra $25 to $30 million over the next three years may be the benefit to Texas farmers as a result of the recent grain purchase agreement between the United States and the Soviet

Jones of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. "About 3.5 per cent of the $750 million sales agreement will go to Texas farmers," he said. "The percentage is smaller than some other agricultural states because Texas produces less than two per cent of the U.S. wheat and corn crop. These crops are expected to make up the bulk of the Soviet Union's requests."

Union, according to Dr. Lonnie

The U.S. -Soviet trade pact was the largest single grain agreement ever signed, and deliveries are to begin immediately.

"The expanded market for sorghum, wheat, corn, barley, rye and oats should mean improved grain prices and lower surpluses," Jones noted. "If the Soviet Union should request more grain sorghum and less corn than expected, Texas farmers could profit even more," he predicted.

Sorghum requests are expected to amount to about six per cent of the total agreement. Texas produces one-third of the U.S. sorghum supply and will profit directly from any increased requests.

Jones also calculated that if the $750 million agreement is increased to $1 billion, as Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz has predicted, Texas grain producers will receive about $30 to $35 million.

The assistant professor in Texas A&M University's Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology agreed with Secretary Butz that consumer prices for grain products should not increase as a result of the Soviet grain sale.

"Surpluses are on hand from last year's bumper crops, and this year's crop is predicted to be large. These supplies should meet most of the additional demand without reducing the quantity of grain available to the U.S. consumer," Jones pointed out. Acreage that grain farmers are allowed to farm may increase or remain stable, headded. In past years the Secretary of Agriculture has lowered acreage that can be farmed to restrict the grain supply and thereby maintain prices. An increase in the acreage allotment would allow farmers to produce more and increase their revenues.

"An added effect of the agr eement will be the profit to the state's agri-business by the shipment of grain through Texas ports. In addition to Texas grain much of that produced by
