5 Defending Champions Back For Second Shot At Crown

AMARILLO, TEX .- Five of drag racing's World champions from 1971 will return for repeat shots at their respective titles when the 8th annual NHRA World Finals unfold at Amarillo Dragway next weekend (October 20-22).

Heading the list of defending champions is Texas' own Ken McLellan of Friona who will be bidding for his second straight Super Stock Eliminator title in the $220,000 classic. driving the same Ford Cobrastang that carried him to victory a year ago.

McLellan will be joined by defending Funny Car champion Phil Castronovo of Utica, N.Y., Competition Eliminator winner Tom Trisch of Rockford, Ill., Modified champion Jim Stephens of Leona Valley, Calif., and last year's Stock Eliminator winner, Dave Boertman of Muskegon, Mich.

Castronovo escaped injury in a spectacular crash during the NHRA Nationals at Indianapolis of his Dodge Challenger exploded and tore the plastic body off. The machine was almost totally destroyed and Castronovo has come up with a '73 version to race in the World Finals.

Trisch dominated the Competition Eliminator category last year with three national victories in his Chrysler-powered Bantam roadster but has been winless thus far this season. He placed second in divisional point standings to qualify for this year's event at Amarillo.

Stephens also is without a major event victory this year and finished the regular season in third place among the points leaders from his division. He will again drive an immaculate 1929 Ford roadster pickup powered by a 302-cubicinch Ford engine.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION ----Produce counters remind shoppers that fall is here. The season brings numerous fruit and vegetable products to the market. Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, reported that for the fourth consecutive year the apple crop is large. "As a result, there will be plenty of fresh, good quality apples of all varieties, so buy them according to the way you plan to use them," she advised. Jonathans, Rome Beauties, Red and Golden Delicious are all available--with beautiful color due to chilly nights. Other fruits worthy of consideration pricewise include bananas, grapes, cantaloupes, pears, oranges, and honeydew

"Grapes are coming from storage and prices are up a bit, but quality is particularly good this year," she noted. Two varieties offering good eating are Calmerias, a large white sweet grape, and Barlinkia Ribier, an interesting looking and very tasty large black grape.

Originally imported from South Africa, the Barlinkia Ribier is now raised in California. Red Tokay grapes are also available at produce counters.

"Good vegetable choices for fall meals include Butternut and acorn squash, pumpkins, cabbage, broccole, cauli-flower, potatoes, turnips, rutabagas, carrots and dry yellow onions," Mrs. Clyatt

continued. These, along with cooking eggplant and sweet potatoes are seasonal vegetables generally of good quality and moderately priced. For the beef section of the meat department, the specia-list cited as the best values round steaks and roasts, ground beef, chuck roasts and steaks and beef liver. In addition to the ones just mentioned, there are some scattered specials on such popular steak cuts as porterhouse and T-bone steaks. Although there are more advertised specials, beef prices seem to be much the same as those of a week ago. According to the Extension specialist, pork prices are steady at a relatively high level.

Mrs. Clyatt also pointed out frozen turkeys of all sizes are available at economical prices in most retail stores.

Exhibit Scheduled At Baker Gallery

John Free and Wilson Hurley will be on hand to meet the public with a major exhibition of their work Friday evening, October 20 from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m., and again Sunday afternoon, October 22, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the Baker Gallery of Fine Art, 13th Stjeet and Avenue L, Lubbock, Texas.

John Free, western sculptor and painter from Pawhuska, Oklahoma, specializes in works showing cowboys, cattle and horses in action. Free spent most of his boyhood at the ranch of his grandfather and says this had a tremendous influence on his life. Free's ranch background gives his art superb strength and accuracy of what he depicts. Free's bronze "Layin' Him Down' is very typical of the action and motion that he achieves in bronze, which is a cowboy roping a steer - the bronze shows the way the horse works to help throw the steer. His bronzes in miniature are very life-like and have a nostalgia of the passing of the Old West. Free is one of the few living artists that has the distinction of having a one man show at the National Cowbov Hall of Fame, Okalhoma City. This year he was elected to membership in the Cowboy Artists of America. His work is

Wilson Hurley's work is well known to art collectors in the Southwest and West Coast. He selects subjects and emphasizes them with light and shado to make extraordinary esthetic composition, His varied experience as a pilot, engineer and lawyer gives him an insight for painting the sky and land. The results of concentrated effort and a dedication to a completely new look at the Southwest has resulted in some of the most outstanding canvases to be seen in the area today. His preoccupation with the effects of atmosphere bring to mind the importance of weather

AUSTIN, Tex. --- Gov. Preston Smith kept legislators guessing whether he would call them to work in another special session immediately after conclusion of the fourth called session.

Regardless of the outcome of deliberations on competitive rates for auto and home insurance. the session managed to pass a respectable number of the nearly 30 pieces of legislation submitted by the Governor.

Nearly a week before adjournment deadline, lawmakers handed the Governor bills he sought to restore some of his fiscalbudgetary authority. They gave him an emergency fund, authority to use it to head off fiscal crises and provided for some gubernatorial power to review need for budgeted spending. These additional bills were among those finally passed and sent the Governor:

*A $13.5 million appropriation for medical school building at Texas Tech University. Lubbock, and the University of Texas medical school at Hous-

*An $8 million appropriation for a new school for the mentally retarded at Fort Worth. *A $317,000 appropriation to pay leftover costs of May-June primary elections.

*Exemption of aviation schools regulated by the Federal Aviation Agency from control by the Texas Education Agency un-annex from the Odessa junior college district. *Establishment of Texas Film

Commission as a statutory permanent agency. COURTS SPEAK -- The State Supreme Court refused to order a Houston judge to approve fees of court-appointed attorneys for poor defendants in a criminal

The Third Court of Civil Appeals found H. D. Nicholson was qualified as a candidate for district judge in Navarro County though he had not had a law office for the last six years. AG OPINIONS -- Third parties expect the state and its agencies, whether individuals, associations, or corporations, may legally contract for dental care of citizens only by complying with the non-profit corporation act, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held. Martin's opinion said the Department o Public Welfare and other state agencies can so contract under the medical assistance act.

In other recent opinions, Martin held:

*House members cannot buy their old desk chairs, since state property must be disposed by according to statute.

*A Fort Worth ordinance regulating and licensing bail bondsmen in municipal courts does not conflict with the constitution or statutes.

*Nepotism law exemptions (for those with two years' state service prior to election of relatives) apply to year-round legislative employees but not to those who work only during legislative sessions.

*A new law authorizing Midland to disannex itself from the Odessa junior college district is constitutional. *A local salary bill for assistant school superintendents is unconstitutional because it applies only to one county. AWARDS PRESENTED -- Cullen Luttrell of Sonora, maintenance supervisor for Sutton and Schleicher counties, received the third annual Lady Bird Johnson award for Highway beautification.

Luttrell's prize was $1,000-presented by the fomer first lady. Television personality Arthur Godfrey participated in the awards ceremony.

For the fifth week in a row, the Oklahoma Sooners hold a very strong position as our number one team. They fortified the top spot with a powerful win over Texas last week, but now they move into conference competition which can be a whole new ball game, 11th ranked Colorado is road-block #1 for the Sooners, and after the Buffaloes' win over Iowa State last week, they could be difficult. Oklahoma is favored by 31 points. Also in the Big Eight, our new #3 team, Nebraska, plays Kansas, and Iowa State, drop-ped to 15th, meets Kansas State. The Cornhuskers will scuttle the Jayhawks by 43 points, and the Cyclones should whip the Wildcats by sixteen. The Southeast Conference has already had some coronary provokers, and there's another one cooking on the front burner this week: Alabama versus Tennessee. The Crimson Tide has been in the number four spot in our ratings for five weeks. . . Tennessee is #13. It'll be a toughie but the Tide should win by eight.

Taking a quick look at the forecasting percentage, we're almost up to date again. Getting the scores from all over the nation becomes more difficult every year. Through Saturday, October 7th, we had forecast the results of 914 games. And we're not unhappy with our average of .759 based on 694 winners, 220 losers, and 20 ties.

CELEBRATE DURING OCTOBER AND OBSERVE NATIONAL COOPERATIVE MONTH

Cooperatives are good business plus good business-but with a difference.

They are people-all kinds of people-who work together to do what one cannot do alone. People together can, and do, meet just about any sort of need imaginable . . . marketing, getting farm supplies electric and telephone service, credit, insurance, housing, health care, and on . . . with efficiency, economy, and warm understanding.

Today's user-owned cooperatives-whether marketing, purchasing, or service—fit into the contemporary scene like hand in glove.

People in cooperatives are now people, actively participating in programs for community development, improving the environment, and bettering the quality of life for everyone, everywhere.

Cooperatives serve-by placing priority on people, making them a vigorous part of the American business system.

That's the big PLUS.

Drug Abuse Prevention Week Will Be Observed October 15-21

tion are major national problems and certainly are problems that receive the highest priority in the State of Texas. Thousands of Texas youths and adults endanger their health through the inappropriate use of drugs of all kinds.

In addition to the human costs, society loses thousands of dollars a year in health services, lost man hours, theft, and general social destruction. Drug abuse ruins lives and destroys families. It also takes lives. It must be of concern for every Texan.

An annual "Drug Abuse Prevention Week in Texas" allows us to voice our concerns over what has to be done to tackle this major dilemma facing society. But it doesn't fully tell the day by day efforts put forth by State agencies to attack the problem and their efforts to provide at least a partial answer through the many services offered at the State level, say State Health Department offi-

to see if the patient is a user of heroin. Then, the maintenance dose is arrived at carefully. While an addict with a big problem can take large doses of heroin or methadone, a nonuser could have a death-dealing dose on his first experiment with either.

Why has the maintenance program become a useful tool in the treatment of drug addiction? Persons on a maintenance program haven't really kicked the need for narcotics, but they are able to perform their normal jobs, care for their children, and attend school by using the narcotic drug substitute. But even after using methadone, they cannot release themselves from their drug dependence without going through total withdrawal, for methadone is an addicting narcotic just like heroin.

Research is now underway to find a substance to take the addict off of methadone, an agent that would block the efhave been fatalities in Texas fects of heroin over long periods of time and yet not produce an addiction to the new substance.
