GRAND JURY REPORT.

REVIEW OF COMMISSIONER LIVE- LY'S CRITICISM.

Observations on the Commissioner's Record and Allied Subjects.

(SIXTH INSTALLMENT.)

Editor Courier:

For reasons which will appear in a local elsewhere I shall have to suspend further review and criticism of Commissioner Lively's record as County Commissioner, of his and some other members of the Court's efforts to secure the enactment of a Special Road Law for Houston County. And while letting in the light on these subjects we also proposed to so adjust the searchlight as to give the people a thorough insight into quite a number of matters of which they are ignorant and which they have a right to know.

It was our purpose in this installment or one of the near-future to give the people a full and comprehensive history of the conspiracy (for it was nothing else) and all connected with it which constructed under cover and put through under cover, without the knowledge of anyone but those parties to it and beneficiaries of it, that obnoxious Special Road Law, providing in the first place for 150 days of "road service" and finally as put through by Representative Luce, with the help of others, providing for 100 days. We are in possession of data and facts, in black and white, which would be surprising to the public and especially to those few who suggested, constructed and contributed to engineering that Road Law through the Legislature. We know what we are talking about when we say what we do. Knowing how to get certain things we went after them and the possession of them confirms us in all we have said and charged about that conspiracy. The truth is that what we have in black and white, properly authenticated, establishes more than we have been contending for. Some parties may deny certain things but we have the proof of all we have said and charged. Certain things were even written the Committee on Roads and Bridges at Austin; certain things were stated to members of that committee, etc., etc. What we have at our command will astonish the public.

Besides giving the people information on the matters above mentioned which we had hoped to do in this installment, we had also intended to go into a thorough exposition of the manner in which the financial affairs of this county had been conducted, how the public funds had been misappropriated, misapplied and squandered for years. We had hoped to go into the tax rate and the taxable wealth of the county for years past and show just what each has been for years; at the same time showing beyond question that with able management the tax rate of the county should be lower than it is now. The writer can take the rolls of the tax collector for years past, the agency through which the public funds are collected, and assemble such an array of figures of money paid in for taxes as would astound the tax-paying public and cause them to ask, "what has become of all this money and what have we got to show for it as an equivalent?" When we take the amount of money paid into the county treasury for the past fifteen years from various sources and funds, foot up all this money into an aggregate, the size of the pile would be amazing. After doing this, as we did, and then run critically over the minutes of the Commissioners' Court, which holds the keys to the vaults or the strings to the purse and which is the disbursing Court, as we also did, only feelings of amazement will take possession of those who look into these things. The question then comes up, what has become of all this money, how was it spent and what is there to show for it? Thousands and thousands of dollars have gone for things like "Bug O," "Steel Towers and Tanks," "Auditing Committees," and the like. One will be forced to the conclusion that money enough has been misappropriated, misapplied and squandered to build two court houses like the present one and pay the cash for them. And yet the one built about 20 years ago isn't paid for yet.

The Wonderful Y. M. C. A.
 In the past ten years no other religious organization has received so much money as the Y. M. C. A. Millions have been raised for new buildings all over the land, and with no apparent strain. Its businesslike administration of its vast resources, its energy in pushing its work—in the cities and through the railroad, army and navy branches—and its fine policy in following the armies in all recent wars, have created for it a world-wide enthusiasm. At the last banquet of the international committee, Senator Root affirmed that they had made their way by working with men more than by talking to them, saying: "Come with us," not "Go do that." By their appeal to all classes of Christians, as well as to non-Christians, they have kept out of doctrinal theology, and by their activity in good works they have escaped cant in religion. All interested in saving our boys and young men rejoice in their world-wide success.—Leslie's Weekly.

SELMA LAGERLOF AND HER HOME

THE most popular novel ever written in Sweden is "Gosta Berling's Saga," by Miss Selma Lagerlof, who has just been awarded the Nobel prize for literature. Since 1891 when this romance appeared, her publisher, Albert Bonnier, has printed about sixty thousand copies. This means much in a land of only five million inhabitants. Even adding Norway and Denmark, the only foreign countries in which there is a market for Swedish books, this output corresponds to two hundred thousand copies in England or one-half million in America.

"Gosta Berling" was Miss Lagerlof's first book. She was 33 when it appeared, and an unknown school teacher. Now she is the most famous woman in Scandinavia. Her book describes the life of the Swedish country gentry early in the last century. It is a story full of cold northern nights, sleigh bells, music and dancing.

I visited the authoress in the home of her childhood, in the valley of Lake Fryken in Westland, the scene of the saga. Fryken is a long and narrow lake. Its shores are varied with bluffs, slopes, woods, churches, red farms and white manor houses. Before "Gosta Berling" appeared the religion was little known. Now it is the place of pilgrimages of all Sweden. Two tourist steamers, Selma Lagerlof and Gosta Berling ply the length of the lake.

I sailed on the Selma Lagerlof. Tourists crowded the rail, pointing to places which figure in the romance. "There is Berga, where the wolves chased Gosta and Anna," said a mother to her children. "And Bjorne manor house, where Marianna ran home after the ball, across the snow in her satin slippers. Here Gosta drove the countess across the lake."

I observed that the tourists even called the villages by their fictitious names and not by the names on the map. I was told that even the natives confuse the two sets of names, so much has Miss Lagerlof influenced local geography.

Selma Lagerlof's own home is less accessible to tourists. It lies back on the hills, at the edge of the forest. Twenty years ago the estate was sold out of her family. Only last year she bought it back and is fitting it up for a summer residence for her aged mother, at the same time that she adds a new wing to her mansion in Falun.

A pretty maid in white and blue ushered me into the drawing room. In the hall stood a little wicker table and on it a pile of fresh manuscript. Here the authoress had been writing and directing the painters and plasterers. The drawing room, light and airy, in imitation of Swedish manors of Gosta's time, was just finished. The white enamel chairs were upholstered in delicately flowered silk.

Miss Lagerlof welcomed me most cordially. She looks much younger than 51. She is tall, a trifle heavy and moves slowly across the room owing to a slight chronic lameness. Her eyes are kindly and sympathetic. She speaks, as she writes, slowly and collectedly.

"Velkommen till Wormland!" she cried, smiling. "Shall we talk English or French, or perhaps you understand Swedish?"

"Since you speak English so perfectly," I replied, "we had better use that language."

Miss Lagerlof then began asking me many questions about America, especially about American women and about religion.

"You seem to have so many prominent women in America," she said. "In Sweden we have no women who can take the leadership."

I suggested Saint Birgitta and Selma Lagerlof, but she smiled slightly and continued.

"There is Mrs. Eddy. She interests me. I should like to know her. What a power in one woman to change the religion of half a million people!"

This brought the conversation to religious sects in America, a subject which interests Miss Lagerlof professionally, for in one of her best known books, "Jerusalem," she describes how the preacher of a new sect came from Chicago to Sweden, and carried off half the population of the township of Naas to live in Jerusalem. The book is founded on an actual occurrence, ten years ago, and many of the Swedes are living in Jerusalem yet.

"Come into the dining room," said Doctor Lagerlof, "and you will see some views from America."

Her uncle, an artist, was painting a series of panels which will take up the entire wall. Each panel depicts a scene from the home of one of her relatives. Here was the harbor of Seattle, where the authoress has a brother, and also a view from the Rockies after a photograph taken from his summer home.

When, at last, the conversation turned to her own books, I asked: "Why did you begin to write so late, Doctor Lagerlof?"

"Oh, I began when I was five," she replied, "but it took me years to find a style."

"How did you come to think of 'Gosta Berling'?"

"You see I lived here until I was 22 and heard the stories, which I have woven together in the book, from the old folks, and from retired officers who used to visit us for weeks at a time in the winter. But it never occurred to me to write about Wormland until I was studying in Stockholm to be a school teacher. And after that it took years. As you know, I wrote the story, at last, in a few weeks, for a prize contest."

"And you have been writing ever since?"

"Day and night."

Although she writes slowly and deliberately, she has, since "Gosta," produced ten books. When obliged to rest, during the day, she composes on her couch.

"But business affairs take so much time," she complained, sending a maid to the telephone. "Here is the house to be furnished, and I have been all the morning negotiating for the English translation of 'Nils Holgersson.'" "Nils Holgersson," one of the latest of her books, is the story of a little boy who is transformed into a Brownie, and tours Sweden on the back of a wild goose. The book is used in the schools as a reader and geography book. One hundred and twenty-five thousand copies of it have been printed.

The shade of Dr. Johnson met the shade of Noah Webster.

"Hush, doc," said the latter, and he swiftly drew the great lexicographer along the chilly hallway.

Your dealer would get it for you if he knew that you wanted it. For grain, use 60 for corn, 80 for roots, fruit and truck, 10 per cent. of Potash in the fertilizer. ### TITLED DANCER IS DARING

Lady Constance Richardson Amazes London Theater Patrons by Her Scanty Attire.

London.—Lady Constance Stewart Richardson's first appearance as a professional "barefoot" dancer at a public music hall was the most daring display that London has seen, and it has witnessed dances by Maud Allan, Isadora Duncan, Gertrude Hoffman and many others of the so-called Greek dancers.

It was given at Alfred Butt's Palace music hall, where Lady Constance is said to receive a salary of $1,000 a week, which, it is reported, she will devote to charity.

When she appeared on the stage the audience sat up and gasped. She wore filmy drapery, practically transparent. Her costume was such that it would not have been tolerated if worn by a professional dancer, but worn by a woman of title nothing was done.

In this costume she gave four dances, much the same as those she has given at other times, although, perhaps, more daring than those she gave in New York when she danced before society there.

The audience was silent until she had finished the last dance, and then broke into thunderous applause.

Although Lady Constance made her professional debut in London, her first appearance in public as a "barefoot dancer" was made in New York last winter.

She danced first at a musical given by Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and later, on February 23 of last year, gave her Greek dances at Sherry's for the benefit of the milk committee of the Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

Lady Constance did not impress her New York audiences as being supremely graceful. Her arms were said to be too long, and the same fault was found with her neck. While she danced here only at private affairs, she charged $500 for her services.

An Indian's Hatred.

Charlot, hereditary chief of the Bitter Root Indians, erroneously called Flatheads, is dead. He was every inch an Indian, reserved, taciturn, haughty, self-contained, and at times resentful. But to those who broke through the crust of his reserve he was well known as a loyal friend, as steadfast in that role as when he played the foe. Charlot suffered much; he was deceived and cheated; he was maligned and mistreated; his pride was hurt; but he suffered most over the wrongs that were inflicted upon his people. Some of his personal grievances he forgave, but he was resentful to the very end against those who had, according to his belief, robbed his people. He was proud and he despised deceit. He had some warm friends among the whites; these he trusted to the limit. But to his last breath he cherished a fierce hatred of the men who led to him and who drove him from the ancestral home in the Bitter Root. And where is the white man who would not have done the same.—From the Misoulian.

Stones in Trees.

Dr. Cecil Carus-Wilson described before the Linnean Society in London recently some singular observations concerning the inclusion of stones in the roots and stems of trees. Oaks growing in a gravelpit in Kent had so many stones embedded in their roots that they resisted attempts to saw them. Some of the roots are described as consisting of "a conglomerate formed of flints enclosed in a woody matrix." In one specimen 67 flints were found, the largest weighing several pounds. In Norton churchyard near Faversham are three old yew-trees, in two of which flints and fragments of tiles have been seen at a height of seven feet above the ground. In Molash churchyard are other yew-trees which have flints embedded in their trunks as much as eight feet above the ground. The tissue of the wood appears to have grown round the stones, which have been carried upward with the growth of the trees.—Youth's Companion.

LEG A MASS OF HUMOR

"About seven years ago a small abrasion appeared on my right leg just above my ankle. It irritated me so that I began to scratch it and it began to spread until my leg from my ankle to the knee was one solid scale like a scab. The irritation was always worse at night and would not allow me to sleep, or my wife either, and it was completely undermining our health. I lost fifty pounds in weight and was almost out of my mind with pain and chagrin as no matter where the irritation came, at work, on the street or in the presence of company, I would have to scratch it until I had the blood running down into my shoe. I simply cannot describe my suffering during those seven years. The pain, mortification, loss of sleep, both to myself and wife is simply indescribable on paper and one has to experience it to know what it is.

"I tried all kinds of doctors and remedies but I might as well have thrown my money down a sewer. They would dry up for a little while and fill me with hope only to break out again just as bad if not worse. I had given up hope of ever being cured when I was induced by my wife to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. After taking the Cuticura Remedies for a little while I began to see a change, and after taking a dozen bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, in conjunction with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, the trouble had entirely disappeared and my leg was as fine as the day I was born. Now after a lapse of six months with no signs of a recurrence I feel perfectly safe in extending to you my heartfelt thanks for the good the Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I shall always recommend them to my friends. W. H. White, 312 E. Cabot St., Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 4 and Apr. 13, 1909."

The Fight Against Tuberculosis.

Interest in the anti-tuberculosis campaign now being waged throughout the United States is evidenced by the fact that in the year 1909 163 new anti-tuberculosis associations were formed, 133 tuberculosis sanatoria and hospitals were established, and 91 tuberculosis dispensaries were opened. Compared with previous years, this is the best record thus far made in the fight against consumption in this country. During the year 1909, 43 more associations for the prevention of tuberculosis were formed than during the previous 12 months, and 62 more hospitals and sanatoria were established. On January 1, 1910, there were in the United States 394 anti-tuberculosis associations, 386 hospitals and tuberculosis sanatoria and 265 special tuberculosis dispensaries.

The excellent cut of Horace Greeley's birthplace at Amherst, N. H., in the Sunday Herald of recent date suggests this anecdote which may be of interest:

THE DEBUTANTE.

If in many a household a little child is the absolute sovereign, with no rival near the throne, in other homes the uncrowned queen is the girl at the verge of womanhood who is about to be formally introduced into society. She is the visible incarnation of the thought and prayer, the labor and the anxiety of parent or guardian, from her infancy. She has looked forward to the day of her debut with a certain impatience, as though to an emancipation of a kind, and yet she knows that the restraining influences around her life thus far have been as scarfs of silk or gossamer, and not like shackles, says Philadelphia Ledger. A hint to her has always meant more than a positive proscription, and never has it been necessary to enforce a harsh and rigorous command. To the girl who has been rightly trained, whose essential charm is enhanced by innocent reserve, unaffected candor, ardent enthusiasm for things that are beautiful and good, a manner unflinchingly courteous and an enunciation musically sweet—to any maiden who unites these not incompatible qualities, the doors of social and personal opportunity are thrown wide open, and she is received with pleasure anywhere, as likely to impart more "sweetness and light" than she receives.

Dr. Van Eeden, a noted Dutch scientist and author, tells the people of this country there is too much running to Europe for our ideals in art, finance and public policy. This country should have an art and literature that are distinctly American. This big, beautiful land, which Providence has filled with the resources of all goodness, should be sufficient to itself. Copying European art has been destructive of American ideals, and has wrecked an originality that would have achieved far more than imitation. The basis of art progress is inspiration and not copying, and yet, in this country, we have been going upon the idea that following the lines and tints and insight of ancient art is the perfection to which we aspire. The idea of Dr. Van Eeden is that we should absolve ourselves from this tendency and strike out for ourselves toward the high altitudes to which a kandler religion, a broader science and a deeper sense of social duty directs the way.

To have lived in three centuries is an experience very uncommon. A woman has just died in Philadelphia, at the age of 115 years, who was the mother of 19 children and leaves 150 descendants. She was a native of Kiev, Russia, and recalled vividly persons and incidents of days that now are historic, including a visit to her parents' home 75 years ago by Emperor Nicholas, who bestowed a souvenir in recognition of the courtesy shown to the monarch. What mighty changes, political and otherwise, embracing the whole marvelous march of modern progress, have been wrought within the life of this one woman!

The immigration commission has discovered that as a rule there is a falling off in the size of families after their arrival in the United States. Coincident with this discovery has come the more important revelation that as the number of children decreases the size of the individuals increases. This fact is discoverable among the children of the well-to-do as well as those of the poor. It probably will be found also that a greater proportion of the children in these smaller families live to grow up, and grow up healthy, than was the case in the old-fashioned large families. The smaller family necessarily can be better cared for.

Another reign of terror is apparently begun in Russia. The assassination of the dreaded head of the secret police shows that the anarchists are by no means subdued, and will probably create consternation throughout Europe and retard progress in Russia, for coercive measures will probably be adopted and popular liberty be given a check in the endeavor to seek blindly this most insidious of enemies, who strikes only in the dark. In the meantime, it will add a new horror to the life of the terror-haunted czar.

Now a Columbia professor comes forward to announce that every honest man interprets the Ten Commandments figuratively. What chance does this give the rogues to go wrong?

APPROPRIATIONS FOR TEXAS $3,008,580

$100,000 MORE WILL BE ADDED TO RIVERS AND HARBOR MEASURE BY AMENDMENT.

COMMITTEE COMPLETES WORK

$1,250,000 is Conditional On Action of Houston—Engineers' Recommendations Reversed.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The rivers and harbors bill was completed yesterday, and Texas will receive for new projects and maintenance $1,758,580, in addition to the $1,250,000 for the Buffalo Bayou project and the $100,000 for Corpus Christi to be tacked on in the House as a committee amendment. The items are: Galveston Harbor, $250,000, of which $100,000, or as much as is needed for that sum, is for repairs to the jetty; Galveston channel $250,000, Bolivar channel and turning basin $90,000; Texas City channel, maintenance, $50,000; West Galveston Bay and mouth of adjacent streams, maintenance, $50,000; Sabine Pass, maintenance, $150,000; inland waterways, from Matagorda Bay to mouth of the Brazos, $200,000; inland waterways, for maintenance, $50,000; Post Lavaca channel $10,000, Aransas Pass channel $217,000, Trinity River, for maintenance and improvement $50,000, completion of lock $85,000, and to begin construction of two new locks $25,000 each; Brazos River, for maintenance below Old Washington $45,000, new lock and dam near Waco, $75,000; Red River, for maintenance, $50,000; Jefferson waterway $100,000, Sulphur River $7,500.

Houston Gets $1,250,000 Conditionally.
In addition to the foregoing, Houston will get $1,250,000 for the Buffalo Bayou ship channel on condition that the navigation district votes a like amount to complete the work.

It was decided to ask the House, as a committee amendment, for an appropriation of $100,000 for the construction of a twelve-foot channel from Corpus Christi to Aransas Pass.

This action was taken because Gen. Marshall, chief of engineers, sent to Congress the report on the Corpus Christi channel, in which he absolutely reverses the Board of Engineers. In overruling the board, he says: "In view of the great cost and present condition of Aransas Pass harbor and the probable length of time that will elapse before a deep water port with proper railway feeders and terminal facilities can be provided in close proximity to the harbor entrance at Aransas Pass, it is my opinion that it is advisable for the general government to provide a channel from Aransas Pass through Turtle Cove to Corpus Christi twelve feet deep and 100 feet wide at a cost of $207,900, with $35,000 annually for maintenance. This work should be undertaken in order to secure some immediate benefit."

GOOD SHOWING FOR THE BANKS

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENTS OF PAST FEW YEARS.

Figures Do Not Include Banks Admitted in January.

Austin: The annual report of the department of insurance and banking which is now being compiled but which by the way, will not be printed, will show the wonderful development of the state banks in Texas. The report will show that on December 3, 1907, there were 309 state banks and banks and trust companies in existence, the total capitalization of which was $10,006,700; total resources, $34,734,346.46 and the total deposits, $20,478,831.14. On February 5, 1909, the number of banks had increased to 375 and the total capitalization to $11,619,000 and the total resources to $46,352,612.74, and the total deposits to $31,633,148.50. The biggest increase now follows: On December 31, 1909, the total number of state banks had increased to 515 and the total capitalization to $16,128,500 and the total resources to $72,179,855.57 and the total deposits to $0,944,104.79.

These figures do not include about forty banks that have been admitted to do business in the state during the month of January and part of this month, which if counted, would add materially to the showing indicated by the figures given above.

TO PRESERVE RARE DOCUMENTS

Texas State Library Will Keep Valuable Volumes in Wire Cage.

Austin: The Texas State Library has just installed new shelves, with a capacity of 25,000 volumes. The new equipment is the largest pattern and have many advantages over the old shelves for the display as well as preservation of the books. In addition to space for the 25,000 volumes there has been constructed a wire cage for all valuable manuscripts, pamphlets and the like, so that these valuable and rare books and papers may not be handled except on the special permission of the librarian, E. W. Winkler. This cage has a capacity of 15,000 average-size books. In the inclosure will be kept the early-day proclamations of the Republic, the foreign letters, home letters and diplomatic correspondence, the records of all Presidents and Governors of the Republic and the State to date.

Many old and rare Spanish documents of historical worth to Texas are being preserved, as well as the originals of famous letters of the early settlers and Generals of the State. The pamphlets and papers are now kept within the cage, while in the past every library visitor was allowed access to them.

TEXAS PUBLIC LAND FOR SALE

Forfeited to State for Non-Payment of Interest.

Austin: Land Commissioner Robinson announces that he will, within a short time begin the preparation of a list of lands to be declared forfeited for non-payment of interest which was due on November 1, 1909. Considerable latitude is generally allowed the purchasers of the public domain within which to pay the annual interest due on land, and notwithstanding this fact many of the purchasers fail to pay the interest until it is too late.

Dallas County Bond Approved.

Austin: Currie McCutcheon, Assistant County Attorney of Dallas County, was here with $600,000 of Dallas County viaduct and bridge bonds. They were approved by the Attorney General and will be registered by the Controller.

Shorter Work Day for Senate.

Washington: Finding that 3 o'clock adjournments nearly every day and regular weekly adjournments from Friday to Monday do not enable them to push the President's legislative program slowly enough, the leaders of the Senate have now pretty nearly made up their minds that they will have to adopt Senator Bailey's suggestion and put back the daily hour of assembling from noon to 2 o'clock. Bailey's suggestion in full was that the meeting hour be fixed for 2 o'clock and that night sessions be held.

Penitentiary Sub-Committee Report.

Austin: The report to Senator Claude B. Hudspeth and Representative W. O. Stamps concerning their recent tour of the State penitentiary system, to be submitted to the Penitentiary Investigating Committee in Huntsville, will supply means of contrasting conditions prevailing now with the affairs of the system last fall, and at the same time it will provide an accurate index to the beneficial results which have already accrued to the investigation.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH INDICATES PLAN

PRESIDENT DISCUSSES MEASURES SCHEDULED FOR EARLY CONSIDERATION.

NO MENTION OF SHIP SUBSIDY

Postal Savings Bank, Rivers and Harbor Bill and Postoffice Appropriations Now Before Congress.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The fact that President Taft in his New York speech picked out for emphasis such subjects as postal savings banks, interstate commerce legislation, anti-injunctions, statehood and conservation of the National resources seems to mark these subjects for early consideration by Congress. Especially is this true, for the reason that measures to carry out these party pledges have reached advanced stages before the appropriate committees.

It is remarked also that the character of Mr. Taft's allusions to our Federal incorporation bill would hardly justify the placing of that measure in the first rank of Administration issues, while the fact that ship subsidy was ignored altogether makes it questionable whether that executive will bring pressure to bear to promote its chances.

May Defeat Ship Subsidy Bill.

The ship subsidy legislation seems almost certain to pass the Senate, but the Democrats in the House are preparing to line up against the bill and they believe that with some Republican assistance they will be able to defeat it. It is not improbable that the Senate would then resort to placing the measure upon the postoffice bill as a rider, in which event a second contest would be precipitated in the House.

Food Inquiry Committee.

It is expected that the select committee of the Senate designed to conduct the proposed inquiry concerning the price of food products and other necessities of life will be announced at an early day in the present week. There is little doubt that the Republican membership of the committee will consist, as heretofore announced, of Senator Lodge, chairman; Senators Elkins, McCumber, Smoot and Crawford. The Democratic membership has not been decided upon, but indications are that Senators Simmons (N. C.) and Clark (Ark.) will be asked to officiate on behalf of the minority membership.

If the committee should thus be composed the trans-Mississippi country would have four of the seven members. The Republican members generally express the opinion that the inquiry can be conducted so speedily as to insure a report before the conclusion of the session of Congress, and efforts will be directed to that end. They will undertake especially to demonstrate that the tariff is not responsible for the rise in prices. The question of whether the House Committee on Ways and Means will undertake the investigation of the high cost of living in view of the action of the Senate is still undetermined. There is no general demand for a rival inquiry and the indications are that the House will be willing to leave the whole subject to the Senate.

Discovers New Land.

Valparaiso, Chile: The French Antarctic expedition under Dr. Jean Charcot reached a latitude of 70 degrees south, longitude 126 degrees west and discovered 120 miles of new land to the west and south of Alexander Island.

Prison Stripes Discarded.

Jefferson City, Mo.: For the first time since the Missouri penitentiary was established, more than seventy-five years ago, the male convicts appeared this morning dressed in civilian clothing, the hated stripes having been changed for light blue clothing. This mark of degradation will be imposed in the future only as punishment. The warden explained that it was up to every convict from now on to judge if he prefers plain and substantial clothing to the loathsome stripes.

Few Lepers in Texas.

Austin: From what can be learned here the government has about decided that there is not a sufficient number of persons afflicted with leprosy in Texas to justify the establishment of a home for lepers. Thus the law passed by the last legislature on the subject is to all intents inoperative. The total number of cases in the state is given at twenty-two, which is not a sufficient number to justify the expenditure.

HE MEANT EVENING GOWNS.

Well-Meant Compliment to American Women Somewhat Marred by Unfortunate Error.

Miss Pruger, who from his triumph at the Savoy hotel in London has come to New York to conduct a very fashionable restaurant, was complimented by a reporter on his perfect English.

"Well," said Mons. Pruger, smiling, "my English is, perhaps, better than that of the Marquis X., who supped here after the opera the other evening. Our fine supper rooms looked very gay and fine, diamonds flashed, pale fabrics shimmered, and everywhere, turn where it would, the eye rested on dimpled, snowy shoulders shining like satin above décollete bodices of Paris gowns."

"These décollete bodices impressed the Marquis X. He waved his hand and said:

"I've known parfaitement that the American young ladies was beautiful, but ah—I cannot say how far more beautiful they seem in their night dresses."—N. Y. Press.

Reflections.

The beautiful home was crowded with people assembled to honor the distinguished guest.

But the explorer soon tired of the attentions, and as he leaned his arm against a pillar, he allowed himself to be transported back to the scene of his triumph.

"Such a waste," he mumbled, audibly, staring into space, "such a waste, such a waste."

Why so many stout ladies left the house in indignation, the hostess was unable to learn.—Sunday Magazine of the Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Holiday Sermon.

"In takin' up 'de collections fer de holiday heathens," said Brother Dickey, "don't ferget dat dey is 'cross de water. My advice is ter save all de warm kiver fer de home heathens—silk ez blankets, an' ol' overcoats. Dem heathens whar de missionaries go lives in a hot country, an' all de kiver dey needs is a umbrella ter keep de sun off."—Atlanta Constitution.

CLEAR-HEADED Head Bookkeeper Must be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee did for him:

"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago, and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

"About three and a half years ago I had an attack of pneumonia, which left a memento in the shape of dyspepsia, or rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My 'cup of cheer' had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial."

"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently, and we did not like it much. This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Postum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of curing my stomach trouble, I verily believe, for I am a well man today and have used no other remedy."

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co.'s branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my coffee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues' in addition to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion."

"There's a Reason."

City Tax Collector, C. W. LeGory, made his annual report to the city council Monday, February 14. His report showed that he had collected for the year 1909 $9308.54, which amount is about 91 6-10 per cent of the total amount assessed. J. A. Harrelson announces this week for re-election as county commissioner from precinct No. 3. Mr. Harrelson has been spoken of as a probable candidate for another office, but has decided to again stand for re-election to the office which he now holds. He expects to go before the people at the proper time and explain fully his position on all matters relating to the general welfare of Houston county.

J. M. Creasy announces this week as a candidate for county commissioner of precinct No. 4. Mr. Creasy is now serving his first term in office and asks that he be given a second term on his record for fairness and impartiality toward his constituency. By reason of his having served one term, he believes that he is better qualified to discharge the duties of the office than if without experience.

Mr. John L. Straughan of the Lovelady precinct sends the Courier his announcement as a candidate for the office of county commissioner of precinct No. 3, subject to the action of the democratic party. Mr. Straughan says: "I am 40 years old, and have resided here, in this precinct, ever since 1879. I think I am well qualified to fill the office. ## Scholarship Offer Withdrawn.

The Courier's free scholarship offer is withdrawn. The reason of the withdrawal is simple and is this: A lack of interest by those who might have been the beneficiaries. The offer has now been running two and a half months and no effort has been made by any one to win the scholarship. This is a valuable scholarship, worth $110 at the college and is in the best business school that the Courier knows of.

Scholarship for Sale.

The Courier has a scholarship in the best business college in the South that it will sell at a discount. This scholarship is worth $110 and cannot be bought for a cent less than that at the college. It is good for an unlimited business and stenographic course in the Port Arthur Business College, the only endowed business college in the South. If you are interested call at or write to the Courier office for further particulars.

Better Roads Demanded.

Postmaster, Crockett, Texas. Sir:—The bad condition of the roads on routes numbers 1, 3 and 5 from your office have this day been called to the attention of the patrons residing thereon.

You will also take the matter up with the local road authorities and patrons residing in the locality of the bad roads, and inform them that the department insists upon roads covered by rural delivery being kept in good condition for travel at all times, and that this matter should receive their immediate attention.

If it is found that sufficient interest is not shown in the service to maintain the routes in good condition for travel they will very likely be amended so as to avoid the bad roads, or, if this cannot be done, the discontinuance of the routes will have serious consideration.

You will again report to the department at the expiration of thirty days from date whether or not the roads have been repaired.

Respectfully,
Fourth Ass't Postmaster Gen.

Beautiful Song Service.

From Corsicana Paper. That music hath charms to gather one of the largest audiences seen in the little city of Corsicana in many a day, was proven on Sunday evening last, when the first Methodist church was taxed to its capacity, to hear Farmer's Mass, given in sacred concert, under the direction of Mrs. Huberta Nunn.

Tho' given last season by the same musical director, the music was none the less enjoyed, and if possible, more enthusiastically received.

The large choir of the Methodist church, so ably directed by Mrs. Nunn, was given additional choral strength by the best vocal talent from other choirs, which numbered the chorus of fifty or more. Mrs. Nunn seems especially gifted in securing beautiful choral effects, the ensemble work being given with excellent phrasing and tone-color that reflected credit upon her as a director of superior ability.

Endowed by nature with that fine musical sense and a personality of unusual charm, the work of this accomplished singer and musician, is always imbued with that "Spirit Life" that captivates her audiences. The rich, contralto voice of Mrs. Boggs was heard to excellent advantage, while Mrs. Nunn sang, "Hear us, O Father!" by Millard, with that perfect enunciation and interpretation that classes her singing with the best. The solo parts by Messrs. Hoover and Johnston, with the voices of the two lady soloists, gave a beautiful vocal setting to the choral work and were heard with full appreciation.

The entire program was given strength and musical support by the skillful organ playing of Mr. George Weiler, who also rendered a beautiful offertory for the silver offering.
