Cone Johnson CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Will address the voters of Houston County at Crockett Monday, July 18th, at 10 a. m. in the court house. Come and hear him.

Mr. Page Replies to Mr. Edmiston.
Editor Courier:

In my last article to Courier I put certain questions to some of the commissioners asking in effect if there wasn't some kind of an understanding between at least two of the commissioners and at least three of the City Council by virtue of which understanding the aforesaid members of the City Council were to work and vote for the re-election of certain commissioners and the aforesaid commissioners were to show their appreciation of such support and votes by appropriating some of the county's money to the city council to use on the streets of Crockett.

I must admit my surprise to find the Mayor rushing into print and in effect admitting all and more than I had suspected. I looked for replies from certain commissioners but not from members of city council. And least of all did I look for an admission. There was and is ample evidence that some such understanding exists from the fact that some three or more members of the City Council were actively at work for the re-election of S. H. Lively and one other commissioner—not only working to that end but openly avowing their intention to vote for these commissioners on the 23rd inst. The writer thought possibly the commissioners named might reply to the questions asked—but didn't dream of the mayor admitting all we had suspected. He in effect admits that he and other members of the City Council are supporting and going to vote for the aforesaid commissioners, Lively and Harelson, because these same commissioners had voted some of the county's money in the past and could expect the same in the future for the City Council to use for the betterment of the city's streets and roads. All of which means in plain old English that certain aldermen are going to vote for certain commissioners on the implied or constructive agreement that in return for such votes these same commissioners if re-elected, will show their appreciation of such votes by doing some voting themselves—that is by voting some of the county's money to the City Council for use on the streets etc. That is the full and exact size of the transaction—swapping votes. Mr. Edmiston cites instances in the past of such appropriation and admits that they expect the same generous courtesy in the future.

The commissioners can appropriate some of the county's money to the city for such uses as the City Council is pleased to apply it on streets etc., but we do not believe in getting it by such dickering. W. B. Page.

Must Be Above Suspicion

Kidney and bladder ailments are so serious in their consequences, and if unchecked so often fatal that any remedy offered for their cure must be above suspicion. Foley Kidney Pills contain no harmful drugs, and have successfully stood a long and thorough test. Will McLean.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor-oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. To Houston County Democrats.

The campaign is drawing to a close, and we address you in the interest of C. C. Stokes for congress. It is the desire of his friends that Houston County give him a rousing majority, as it should. We have never had the congressman, and, if we unite in our efforts, we have an excellent chance of electing Mr. Stokes, and, if we ever expect to elect any of our county men to district or state offices, we must give them the prestige arising from a practically unanimous county vote. Anderson county has the governor, congressman, one judge of the court of appeals, district judge, district attorney, state financial agent, as well as other minor appointive offices, and has enjoyed a plentitude of office holding for many years. Is it not high time that Houston county enjoyed some of the emoluments of office, and can we ever hope to have them, except we stand in a solid array behind our own men? Will you not join forces with us to give Mr. Stokes an overwhelming majority in his home county, as he deserves? He was raised among us, and we know him to be in every way entitled to your confidence and support. He is an active and consistent member of the Methodist church at Crockett, is identified with the moral interests of the town and county, and would be a credit to you, if elected to the office to which he aspires.

The experience of Mr. Stokes in the legislature and senate of this state qualifies him to fitly look after the interests of his constituents, and we believe him every way a stronger man than his opponent, Mr. Gregg. At Austin he was instrumental in securing some of the government positions for young men of his county, and none went to relatives, quite in contrast to the action of Mr. Gregg in appointing his wife private secretary at a salary of $1500 per year, when he himself was drawing $7500 per annum, with sundry perquisites. This is only one of the various charges that can be brought against him truthfully, and lack of space prevents going more into details.

The withdrawal of Mr. Stevens has solidified the vote of the special interests on Mr. Gregg, and Mr. Stokes must look for his support from the plain people, who have only their ballot to assist them in placing men in their offices who will look after their welfare. With limited means only to carry on the campaign, opposed to every special interest, and with his opponent backed by the wealthy interests of Houston county, Mr. Stokes must depend on his friends to advance his interests, and in what more substantial way can this be done than by showing the balance of the district by practically a solid vote that we endorse him? We sincerely trust that every democrat of Houston county will rally to his support, overlooking any past political differences and laying aside any prejudice. Let us not only come out to the polls and give him our own vote, but speak to our friends and neighbors, and influence every possible vote for him, and we are sure that all will feel gratified that they had a part in giving him the rousing majority that we feel confident old Houston county will roll up for her native son.

HILDA THE HELPER

VIII.—Might Have Been Mayor

Hilda the Helper now and then was wont to say to women, "Let us GO-OPERATE WITH MEN and be right in the swimmin'."

So pleased were all the men with her—they saw SHE WAS A STAYER—they said, if she did not demur, they'd like to make her mayor.

But Hilda had another plan in helpfulness to mingle, the which concerned a single man who wouldn't long be single.

Saved by His Wit.
Lord Justice Fitzgibbon, at the time when he was one of the justices of appeal of Ireland, was holding assizes in Tipperary county when a man was brought before him on indictment for murder. The case was proved that the victim came to his death by being hit with a stick in the hands of the defendant, but the doctor testified that he had what they called in medical parlance a "paper skull."

brought before the court for sentence it was noticed that his lordship had his black cap in his hand.

"Have you anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon you?" demanded Lord Fitzgibbon.

The man looked for a moment and then said, "No, your lordship, I have nothing to say, but I should like to ask one question."

"What is that, my man?" said Fitzgibbon.

"I should like to know what a man with a head like that was doing in Tipperary?"

The black cap was put away and a prison sentence imposed.

"If."

Joseph Chamberlain, the English statesman, was once indebted to a nursery rhyme for a great oratorical hit. In one of his speeches he was criticising Lord Beaconsfield and Lord Salisbury on their return from Berlin, where they had been carrying on negotiations with Bismarck. Both had made speeches explaining their actions, and one of them in the course of his oratory used the word "if" so many times as to give Mr. Chamberlain a chance in his reply to make one of those popular allusions which are remembered longer than any logic.

"What the honorable gentleman has said," he remarked, "remind me of a rhyme I learned from my nurse:

"If all the seas were bread and cheese,
If all the rivers were ink,
If all the lakes were currant cakes,
What should we have to drink?"

The effect on the audience was tremendous. No one ever forgot that "if."

Marriage Marts.

The famous Tunis marriage mart is held twice a year, in the spring and in the autumn. The Tunisian girls attend by the hundreds, each with her dowry in coin and jewelry disposed about her person. The "golden girdle of maidenhood" encircles her waist, and in it is an unsheathed dagger. When the dagger is gently removed by a passing gallant and presently returned, it means that a proposal has been made.

A prettier custom prevails among the Ooroon maids, who, at stated intervals, assemble in the market place. In front of each is a lighted lamp, an emblem of conjugal fidelity. A young man feels attracted and gently blows upon the flame, extinguishing it. When the girl relights it, it is a rejection; if she allows the lamp to go unlighted, however, the suitor is acceptable.

Proposed Amendment

TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HOME FOR WIVES AND WIDOWS OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7.

Joint Resolution to amend Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, so as to authorize the grant of aid in the establishment and maintenance of a home for the disabled and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors and such women as aided the Confederacy, and making an appropriation.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3. Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, associations of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never remarried and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1880; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month, and provided further, that no appropriations shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in the excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year. And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year, and no inmate of said home shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home; and provided further, that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of the amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the regular election of State officers, in November, 1910.

The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this Resolution. W. B. Townsend, Secretary of State.

The KITCHEN CABINET

A BEAUTIFUL behavior is better than a beautiful form. It gives a higher pleasure than statues or pictures. It is the finest of the fine arts.—Emerson.

Cordiality.
Cordiality is a quality which can be cultivated, and there is no one thing which makes so much difference in our friendships as the lack of it.
How we do admire a sincere, cordial friend, one who is always the same, dependable, and meets us in the friendly spirit at all times.
Such a friend is always there, when needed; one knows what to expect from him and is never disappointed.
We may be what we wish to seem, by practice and of course in this, as in all other virtues, growth comes by exercise.

When entertaining our friends the fact that we are welcome and enjoyed means more to us as guests than elaborate display or fine cooking.

"A dinner of herbs where love is, is better than a stalled ox," if love is not.

Simple entertainment is becoming sensibly stylish, the thing to do, one style which most of us are willing to recognize.

The people who can entertain their friends simply and often, not trying to ape those who can afford more costly entertainment, are justly the popular people of today.

A well arranged table, beautiful linen, well laundered, is one of the first essentials; a simple little centerpiece of some kind, on which to place the vase or fern dish, gives an air to an otherwise commonplace table.

In choosing dishes, the plain, or ivory colored ware is serviceable and easily replaced if broken; then too, white ware goes well with any color scheme.

Let the glass and silver be rubbed bright and glistening, and this will be sufficient preparation of the entertainment of any guest.

A great variety of foods are not good form, or many courses as was formerly thought a necessity. A few well prepared dishes, daintily served, will make a feast fit to set before the king.

First appeal to the eye, then it is easier to satisfy the stomach.

A HEARTY welcome manifested in kindly and polite attentions, will make a very plain meal more enjoyable than a banquet.

Salad Dressings.
One of the simplest of all salad dressings is the one of oil and vinegar called the French dressing. Olive oil is so wholesome that the taste for it should be cultivated. Elderly people especially need the oil to limber up the stiffened joints, and nourish the wasting tissues.

Where vinegar seems to disagree, lemon juice may be used. Use four parts of oil to one of acid, as too much acid is not good for the stomach.

Add a half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper to the above amount, stirring with a fork or spoon until well mixed. Some tastes like a bit of onion juice added to the dressing or a cut clove of garlic might be rubbed on the inside of the bowl in which the dressing is mixed.

A salad dressing of sour cream with seasonings and a bit of vinegar is liked by many, on cucumbers.

Nellie Maxwell.

Real Southern Biscuits.
Three pints of flour, two eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sweet milk, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cake of compressed yeast dissolved in half a cupful of water. This makes a stiff dough; allow it to rise four or five hours, then roll out and cut with two sizes of cutters. Place smaller on larger, dip in butter, let rise again. Bake twenty minutes.

Russell Sandwiches.
Take an equal amount of cold boiled chicken and boiled tongue, the meat of a dozen olives and six hard cooked eggs; mix all together and chop them as fine as possible. When about the consistency of powder add mayonnaise to make a paste, and spread on buttered bread.

French Terms Used in Cookery.
Au lait means with milk. Coffee au lait, coffee with milk.
Au gratin means with crumbs. Dishes finished with buttered crumbs. Coffee noir; black coffee.
A casserole. A covered baking dish of stone ware.

A BAD THING TO NEGLECT.

Don't neglect the kidneys when you notice lack of control over the secretions. Passages become too frequent or scanty; urine is discolored and sediment appears. No medicine for such troubles like Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly remove kidney disorders.

Mrs. A. E. Fulton, 311 Skidmore St., Portland, Ore., says: My limbs swelled terribly and I was bloated over the stomach and had puffy spots beneath the eyes. My kidneys were very unhealthy and the secretions much disordered. The dropsical swellings began to abate after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and soon I was cured.

ATTRACTED BY THE GOSPEL

Koreans Have Shown Themselves Willing and Anxious to Hear the Word.

Rev. C. T. Collyer writes as follows in the London Christian:

"It is more than twenty-one years since I first left home for the mission field. Never have I known of people being so ready to hear the Gospel as are the Koreans just now. I have had the privilege of doing a good deal of personal work during the past few weeks. Without stretching the point, I can say I have had personal conversation with several hundreds of heathen. Not one to whom I have spoken but has acknowledged that he must become a Christian. The young empress of Korea has not been making good progress with her studies, so it was felt she ought to have some young lady companions who are used to study. A young lady from our school was chosen for this position. She has been in the palace less than a month, but she has found many opportunities of witnessing for her Lord, with the result that her majesty has definitely set one hour each day for the study of Christianity, and ordered that a Bible and hymn-book should be procured for her. It has been my privilege to order a specially bound copy of the New Testament for her."

It is a Mistake
Many have the idea that anything will sell if advertised strong enough. This is a great mistake. True, a few sales might be made by advertising an absolutely worthless article but it is only the article that is bought again and again that pays. An example of the big success of a worthy article is the enormous sale that has grown up for Cascarets Candy Cathartic. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known through persistent advertising and the mouth-to-mouth recommendation given Cascarets by its friends and users.

Like all great successes, trade plates prey on the unsuspecting public, by marketing fake tablets similar in appearance to Cascarets. Care should always be exercised in purchasing well advertised goods, especially an article that has a national sale like Cascarets. Do not allow a substitute to be palmed off on you.

Looked Like a Pattern.
"My dear," asks the thoughtful husband, "did you notice a large sheet of paper with a lot of diagrams on it about my desk?"

"You mean that big piece with dots and curves and diagonals and things all over it?"

"Yes. It was my map of the path of Halley's comet. I wanted to—"
"My goodness! I thought it was that pattern I asked you to get, and the dressmaker is cutting out my new shirtwaist by it!"—Chicago Evening Post.

He Rose to It.
"Do you know," said a little boy of five to a companion the other day, "my father and I know everything. What I don't know my father knows, and what my father don't know I know."
"All right! Let's see, then," replied the older child, skeptically. "Where's Asia?"

It was a stiff one, but the youngster never faltered.

"Well, that," he answered coolly, "is one of the things my father knows."—Harper's Bazaar.

Notes and Comments.
Church—Does your neighbor play that gornet without notes?
Goddam—Yes; but not without comments.—Xonkers Statesman.

The morning after is responsible for many good resolutions.

Controlled Newspapers.

The Atchison Globe says that no advertiser has ever tried to control its editorial policy, the remark being occasioned by the charge often made nowadays, that the big advertisers direct the editorial policy of newspapers.

The experience of the Globe is the experience of most newspapers. The merchant who does a great deal of advertising is more interested in the circulation department of a newspaper than in the editorial department. If a daily paper goes to the homes of the people, and is read by them, he is satisfied, and it may chase after any theory or fad, for all he cares. He has troubles of his own, and he isn't trying to shoulder those of the editorial brethren.

There are newspapers controlled by people outside of the editorial rooms, and a good many of them, more's the pity; but the people exercising that control are not the business men who pay their money for advertising space. The newspapers which are established for political purposes are often controlled by chronic office-seekers, whose first concern is their own interests. There are newspapers controlled by great corporations, and the voice of such newspapers is always raised in protest against any genuine reform.

The average western newspaper usually is controlled by its owner, and he is supposed to be in duty bound to make all sorts of sacrifices at all sorts of times; there are people who consider it his duty to insult his advertisers, just to show that he is free and independent. If he shows a decent respect for his patrons, who pay him their money, and make it possible for him to carry on the business, he is "subsidized" or "controlled." The newspaper owner is a business man, like the dry goods man or the grocer. The merchants are expected to have consideration for their customers, and they are not supposed to be subsidized by the man who spends five dollars with them, but the publisher is expected to demonstrate his courage by showing that he is ungrateful for the patronage of his friends. It is a funny combination when you think it over.—Emporia Gazette.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS AND IS GIVEN AN OVATION SELDOM EQUALED

The Mighty Traveler Goes Buoyantly Through a Long and Trying Reception-Parade, Showing Lively Interest in Everything American

The White Company Receives Unique Compliment for the Sturdy Reliability of Its Steam Car From Mr. Roosevelt and Family

Theodore Roosevelt and Party in White Steamer.)

After fifteen months' absence, exactly as scheduled, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt disembarked from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, Saturday morning, June 18, at 11 a. m. To the keen disappointment of a large group of newspaper correspondents, Mr. Roosevelt absolutely refused, as heretofore, to be interviewed or to talk on political subjects, but his rapid fire of questions showed the same virile interest in public affairs as before.

If the welcome tendered by the vast throng may be considered a criterion upon which to base a "return from Elba," surely there was no discordant note in the immense reception-parade, nor in the wildly clamorous crowd which cheered at every glimpse and hung on his very word.

The incidents of the day in New York were many, but perhaps none better illustrated the nervous energy and vitality of the man, the near-mania to be up-and-doing, which he has brought back to us, than the discarding of horses and carriages for the swifter and more reliable automobiles. The moment the Roosevelt family and immediate party landed, they were whisked away in White Steamers to the home of Mrs. Douglas Robinson at 433 Fifth avenue. A little later, when the procession reached the corner of Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, Colonel Roosevelt again showed his preference for the motor car in general and the White cars in particular, when he, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Collector Loeb transferred from their carriage to White Steamers, which were in waiting for them.

After luncheon at Mr. Robinson's house, the entire party, including Colonel Roosevelt, again entered White cars and were driven to Long Island City, where they were to take a special train to the ex-President's home at Oyster Bay.

The supremacy of the White cars with the Roosevelt party was again demonstrated on Sunday, when the party was driven to church in the White Steamers, and a group of some forty prominent Rough Riders were taken in a White Gasoline Truck to a clamor at the Travers Island clubhouse of the New York Athletic Club.

Happenings the Wide World Over of Important Events Condensed to Good Reading.

DOMESTIC.

Colonel John S. Mosby, the venerable guerilla leader of the confederacy, has been dismissed from the department of justice by Attorney General Wickersham. Colonel Mosby was appointed a special attorney by President Roosevelt to prosecute certain cattlemen in the West, who were operating on public lands in bold disregard of the law.

Another brief but interesting contribution to the record of the growth of Texas in the past ten years was made by the census bureau Saturday when the population returns for Karnes and Runnels counties were made public. Runnels County was shown to have a population of 20,858 against 5,379 in 1900, a gain of 15,479, or 287 per cent in ten years. Karnes County has 14,942 against 8,631, a gain of 72 per cent. This makes twenty-five Texas counties reported upon. They show an aggregate population of 398,818 against 279,332 in 1900, an increase for the twenty-five counties of 119,486, or nearly 43 per cent.

John D. Rockefeller celebrated his seventy-first birthday anniversary Thursday in the same way he spends practically every other day in the summer at Forest Hill, Ohio.

Congressman Walter Preston Brownlow died at Johnson City, Tenn., Friday. Mr. Brownlow was 60 years of age. He represented the First Tennessee district seven terms in succession and had been nominated for another term. He made a record surpassing all other congressmen from the South in point of achievement in the way of appropriations for his district. His death will result in a state of political confusion and a struggle is looked for between the Brownlow and Evans republican factions.

Carl Etherington, 22 years old, employed Thursday night by the State Anti-Saloon League as a blind tiger raider, was lynched at Newark, Ohio, Friday, following a day of almost continuous rioting. The heavy doors of the Licking County jail were battered down and Etherington was dragged from his cell. He was shot, kicked and bruised before the street was reached, and the finish followed quickly. Etherington early in the day confessed that he killed Wm. Howard, proprietor of the "Last Chance" restaurant and a former chief of police in a raid on a saloon.

The latest development of the Nicaraguan situation is found in the apparently authentic information which has reached the state department that former President Zelaya has made an overture to aid Estrada, the head of the revolution party which is dragging along in the vicinity of Bluefields. These reports come from several sources to the department and are to the effect that Zelaya has proposed to Estrada to pull off the Madrid gunboat Venus and give the insurgents freedom from interference from the sea if Estrada will protect Zelaya's property in Nicaragua and refund to him the first installment of $50,000 which Zelaya paid to the United States on the Emery claim.

The order signed by President Taft withdrawing 8,492,731 acres of the public lands, in accordance with the new law authorizing the president to withdraw public lands from entry, did not include any public land not heretofore withdrawn.

More than twelve tons of frozen or desiccated eggs, shipped to New York from Chicago, were seized as unfit for human consumption at the Kings County Refrigeratory Company's plant in Brooklyn Thursday.

Fifty thousand garment and cloak-makers, of whom 8,000 are women, walked out Thursday in New York at the call of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, which demands an eight-hour day, an increase in wages and a guarantee that the contractors shall stand behind subcontractors for wage payments.

A. S. Campbell, chief law officer of the reclamation service, in a letter laudatory of the cabinet officers, has tendered his resignation to Secretary of the Interior Ballinger. Mr. Campbell will sever his connection with the interior department July 25 to take up the practice of law in Denver.

Cash to the amount of $15,000 and $7,000 worth of unsigned treasury certificates have disappeared from the vaults of the Citizens' National Bank of Clinwood, Va., and a reward of $1,000 has been offered by the officers of the institution for the arrest of Wolter C. D. Sutherland, cashier of the bank, who disappeared Wednesday.

What is thought to be the largest single payment ever made by the United States' engineers office at Galveston was made by Major George P. Howell Wednesday, when $350,000 was turned over to David M. Picton & Co. of Galveston for jetty construction work at Aransas Pass. The payment was made in seven checks of $50,000 each.

Since two state rangers recently made another gambling raid at Galveston, a great many people have begun to wonder where the rangers will next appear in the limelight, and Adjutant General Newton has received many inquiries as to their whereabouts. However, he is telling nothing about them.

That at least three, and perhaps more, of the Central and South American republics will make a concerted protest of some kind at the coming international conference of American States at Buenos Ayres against the Central American policy of the United States is the possibility being discussed in diplomatic circles in Washington. Rumors to this effect have been persistent of late in quarters usually well informed and some responsible Latin-American representatives admitted their approximate truth, though none would permit himself to be quoted.

One of the first measures that Governor Campbell will submit to the special session of the legislature, which will convene in Austin in two weeks, will be prohibitive of moving picture exhibitions displaying the scenes of the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight.

Three important ordinances were adopted at Tuesday's session of the Houston city council, and the first petition against billboards in the city was received and referred to the council as a committee of the whole. One of the ordinances provided for the rental of water meters to water consumers, the other grants an extension of thirty years to the franchise of the Houston Gas Company, and provides for reductions in the rates to be charged for gas, and the third ordinance concerns the telephone company. Under the terms of the telephone ordinance the telephone company will pay into the city treasury 1 per cent annually of its gross receipts. It is limited to thirty years.

Assistant Attorney General John M. Brady Tuesday said that there was not much of a chance for an agreement between the State and Ringling Bros. in the suits in which the State of Texas is attempting to collect over $20,000 from the circus as alleged back circus taxes, due the State, counties and cities for a period of several years.

FOREIGN.

The government of Havana, Cuba, has prohibited exhibition of the Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures. Incitement of racial animosity is feared.

The second distressing accident of the aviation meeting now in progress at Bethany Plains, Rhelms, occurred Friday, when the Baroness de la Roche, driving a Voisin biplane, lost her nerve at a height of 50 meters, shut off her power and fell with her machine to the ground. Her legs and arms were broken and she suffered severe contusions. At first it was believed that the baroness had sustained a fracture of the skull, but this proved not to have been the case.

The select committee of parliament to consider the civil list for King George of England, recommends an appropriation of $3,170,000 yearly for the maintenance of the royal family. This is an increase of $60,000 over the allowance made during the last reign.

Baron Mumm von Schwartzstein, the German ambassador to Japan, who has returned from a tour of investigation in Korea and South Manchuria, records among other remarkable evidences of Japanese activity that 2,500 tons of coal are being taken daily from the Fu Shon mines, which Japan acquired by the Portsmouth treaty. Only three shafts had been sunk into a coal seam 140 feet thick when the ambassador visited the mines. Two others are nearly ready and a total production of 7,000 tons per day is expected.

The British government has been informed that Estrada has impressed into service the natives of the Atlantic coast, which act is in contravention of the 1905 treaty between Nicaragua and Great Britain. This convention excepts these natives from military duty to Nicaragua for fifty years.

The German cruiser Bremen arrived at Callao, Peru, Friday, and is coaling before proceeding to Nicaragua, where she is going to protect German interests.

HIS WISH.

Mrs. Henpeck—Ah Henry, when I'm gone you'll never get another wife like me.

A BURNING ERUPTION FROM HEAD TO FEET

"Four years ago I suffered severely with a terrible eczema, being a mass of sores from head to feet and for six weeks confined to my bed. During that time I suffered continual torture from itching and burning. After being given up by my doctor I was advised to try Cuticura Remedies. After the first bath with Cuticura Soap and application of Cuticura Ointment I enjoyed the first good sleep during my entire illness. I also used Cuticura Resolvent and the treatment was continued for about three weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about the house, entirely cured, and have felt no ill effects since. I would advise any person suffering from any form of skin trouble to try the Cuticura Remedies, as I know what they did for me. Mrs. Edward Nanning, 1112 Salina St., Watertown, N. Y., Apr. 11, 1909."

Unflattering Truth.

A Chicago physician gleefully tells a child story at his own expense. The five children of some faithful patients had measles, and during their rather long stay in the improvised home hospital they never failed to greet his daily visit with pleased acclamation. The good doctor felt duly flattered, but rashly pressed the children, in the days of convalescence, for the reason of this sudden affection. At last the youngest and most indiscreet let slip the better truth.

"We felt so sick that we wanted awfully to do something naughty, but we were afraid to be bad for fear you and the nurse would give us more horrid medicine. So we were awfully glad to see you, always, 'cause you made us stick out our tongues. We stuck 'em out awful far!"

Foxy Hiram.

"Well, now, if that ain't surprising!" ejaculated Mrs. Ryetop, as she shaded her eyes with her hand. "There goes old Hiram Skinfint, and rather than step on a poor black ant he picked it up, and I bet he is going to drop it somewhere out of the reach of danger."

Her husband laughed knowingly. "Not Hiram Skinfint, Mandy. He'll go down to Jed Weatherby's general store and order a pound of granulated sugar. Then while Jed is looking another way he'll drop the ant among the grains and tell Jed as long as his sugar has ants in it he ought to sell it at half price. Like as not he'll try to get Jed to throw a two or three raisins and a yeast cake. You don't know Hiram Skinfint."

TRADE CONDITIONS INCREASE

BUSINESS FOR NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES IS $190,000,000.

Imports for Eleven Months Amount to $15,887,418, Against $8,860,429 for Same Months of 1909.

Washington—Trade of the United States with its non-contiguous territories for the fiscal year just ended aggregated about $190,000,000, according to statistics of the department of commerce and labor. The department contrasts with the record of 1897, when the trade with noncontiguous territories aggregated only $35,000,000. Statistics show that for eleven months of the last fiscal year the shipments from the United States to Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines, Guam, Midway, Tutuila and Alaska amounted to $75,000,000 and the shipments therefrom to the United States $96,666,000. This trade, both export and import, was larger than that of the preceding year. The largest percentage of gain was in the Philippines, to which the recent tariff act extended the privileges of the interchange of merchandise duty free. Imports from the Philippines for the eleven months were valued at $15,887,418 against $8,860,429 in the same months of 1909. Exports for the corresponding period amounted to $15,140,445 in 1910 and $9,825,083 in 1909.

More than $10,000,000 reduction in the postal deficit has been made in the first nine months of the fiscal year just ended, according to final returns from the auditor for the post-office department. Such a reduction is unprecedented. Deficit for the nine months was $2,709,000 as against $12,832,000 in the same period of the preceding fiscal year. In the third quarter ending March 31, the postal service earned a surplus of $1,363,000, the revenues for the quarter amounting to $58,934,000 and the expenditures $57,571,000. The latter showed an increase of less than 4 per cent.

HOUSTON HAS A $70,000 FIRE

Flames Started in Pool Room Caused Loss to Many Firms and Threatened Block.

Houston, Tex.—While filling a tank with gasoline for the purpose of supplying a lighting system in the pool room at 904 Franklin avenue Saturday morning, a negro porter, it is claimed, accidentally stepped on a match carelessly thrown on the floor and ignited the oil, causing a fire which threatened for a time to destroy the larger portion of one of the principal blocks in the commercial district of Houston. The total loss from the fire is placed at about $70,000.

The following are the principal losers in the fire:

Two-story brick building, owned by Mrs. Sarah B. Jones and Mrs. Charles Miller, valued at $20,000; Kentucky Liquor Company, value of stock, $5,000; R. C. Mount and J. G. Sims, proprietors of pool room, value of stock, $1300; Inman, Nelms & Co., cotton samples room, value of stock, $2000; Farmers Union Cotton Company, value of stock, about $600; E. A. Calvin, publisher Union Guide, loss about $1000; three-story brick building owned by John H. Lang estate, valued at $25,000; A Stelzig, harness and saddle store, value of stock, $8000, loss about 50 per cent; Mistrot-Munn Co. warehouse, value of stock, $30,000, damage about 75 per cent; two-story brick building owned by A. Franklin Sittig, valued at $10,000, loss nominal; Dorsey Printing Company, value of stock about $20,000, loss about 25 per cent; two-story brick building owned by Josie E. Bell, valued at about $10,000, loss nominal; J. W. Watson, barber shop, loss nominal, principally from water.

Good Peach Crop.

Mexia, Tex.—The crop of Eiberta peaches is beginning to move and so far the shippers are getting good prices for the fruit. The entire fruit crop is much better than it has been for many years and in consequence home canning of fruit will be extensive around the homes in Limestone County.

Mosquitoes Stop Drillers.

Orange, Tex.—The drilling rig of the Guffey Refining Company has been closed down on account of the mosquitoes, which have been so bad in the past few days that work of all kinds near marshes or water has been suspended. Old-timers say that mosquitoes were never worse.

Solid Trainload Onion Fertilizer.

Laredo, Tex.—As an evidence of the value of cotton seed meal as a fertilizer John Davis placed an order Saturday at Jacksonville, Tex., for a solid trainload. The price was $6,000, all of which will be used in fertilizing his onion lands in North Laredo for next season's crop.

PROFITABLE DAIRYING
 By HUGH G. VAN PELT
 Dairy Expert Iowa State Dairy Association

What the Dairy Cow Has Been Doing

Perhaps there is no better explanation of why one breed of cows is better for milk production than the other, than to look into the history of them as breeds. In doing this we find how they were produced and why. We find, for instance, that the beef animal has been bred in her native country by breeders who were past masters in the art of breeding. For hundreds of years they have devoted their efforts along the line of producing an animal which would convert the very greatest possible amount of food consumed, into beef and fat to deposit over the back and loin and rump, over the ribs and down deep in the twist. They have striven to breed such an animal because there has been a demand for just such an animal, and this demand has sprang from the consumer of beef through the retail clerk in the meat market, through the jobber and on to the packer, and from him through his buyers to the commission men and on down through the feeders of steers to the breeders of beef cattle. In the meat market the demand for the trade has been for cuts of beef that are taken from over the back and the loin and the other parts mentioned, because the beef found in these regions is more suitable to the taste, richer in its flavor, more tender, better grained and, in fact, more to be desired than is the meat which is found in the neck, brisket, plates and in those portions considered the cheaper part of the animal. Because of the demand, the better parts of the animal have demanded a higher price and, consequently, the animal which is most greatly developed in these high-priced cuts is the more valuable animal, and because of the fact that like begets like or a likeness thereof, it has been necessary to breed animals the likeness of which would be well developed in these qualities. This is the demand that has caused the breeder of beef cattle to produce an animal that would convert every possible portion of its feed into beef and fat and lay it over the top of the back, the ribs, etc.

The Beef Breeders' Accomplishments.
 The wonderful results that have been accomplished by these breeders of beef cattle are not to be belittled, because they have produced a wonderful work. They have produced an animal that is capable of making two pounds of valuable beef where one pound or less was to be found in the animals of the past. They have made wonderful improvement in beef production and today we find in the beef breeds, steers that, although they are not capable of making any more gain out of a bushel of corn than is a Jersey or a Holstein steer, still they have the ability of converting their food into high-priced beef rather than into cheap tallow, as is the case with the majority of the dairy-bred steers. But it would be the height of folly to say to the feeder of beef cattle that he should use upon his farms dairy cows because, besides supplying a calf that would be worth one-half as much as the beef calf, he could produce twice as much milk and butter-fat as though he kept a beef cow. He would be very sadly surprised when the time came to market his steers if he found that he had made no profit from them, and this surprise would probably be just as great and just as keen a disappointment as the disappointment which the dairyman finds after he has produced and put beef cattle into the dairy with the guarantee that the calves which he produces will be worth more two years hence when he goes to sell them, even though his cows do not produce half as much milk and butter-fat.

Now, on the other hand, if we look through the origin and the development of the dairy breeds of cattle, we find that for hundreds of years there have been men with ability just as great as that used by the developers of beef cattle who have been working and tussling with the laws of breeding for years, striving to produce an animal that would convert every possible bit of its food into milk and butter-fat. They have cared little for the beef that might be found on the animal's body, but what they have striven to do was to develop an animal that after consuming and digesting a large amount of feed would assimilate it into blood which would carry it, instead of to the top of the back, and ribs, around through a well placed and large udder and there convert it into milk and butter-fat. Like the breeders of beef cattle their results have been wonderful and they have to a large degree accomplished their end; but in so doing they have developed an animal radically different in form and conformation from that which the producer of beef cattle has developed. Instead of being rectangular and square in form and covered with beef from one end to the other, they have produced an animal that is wedge shaped, open jointed and angular in form. Now, they have not produced this animal of this shape because they thought that a long neck, bony ribs, an open jointedness and spareness in flesh, prominent hip bones and leanness in appearance all over, were an indication of beauty, but in their great interest in the question of developing an animal that would convert every portion of its food into milk and butter-fat, they have given up this result and they have found that it is impossible to produce an animal that will take a given amount of food and convert it into two different products at the same time.

The Dual Purpose Cow.
 However, as indicated in the beginning, there is probably a place for the dual purpose cow, by which term we mean that cow that is capable of producing some milk and butter-fat and some kind of a calf every year. There are many who are to be found in every business who cannot accomplish to the same degree the results of others, and likewise there are many breeders and feeders who, were they to have the very best beef cattle that could be raised, would not appreciate them to the extent that they would take the very best care of them, and consequently they would degenerate and deteriorate from year to year, so that in the end the results would be far from flattering, and it is without doubt equally profitable for these men to have an animal much inferior to the very best. And the likelihood is that they can make almost as much profit out of a common animal as they can out of an animal developed to the very highest degree possible, and the same is true relative to the cow that has to be milked upon the farm. There are many who would milk cows, that have not studied the fundamental principles of handling, caring for and feeding the dairy cow and it would be a terrible hardship to the cow were she compelled to withstand the care, feed and management that she would receive at the hands of these feeders, because, as has been stated before, she is more or less of an artificial being, and in order to do her best work she must be subjected to the very best methods of management, and for this purpose likely the so-called dual purpose cow is to be recommended. She has been of wonderful service in that she has been used as a stepping stone from beef production to the production of milk and butter-fat. If we look to the history of every country, we will find that the different stages of development are, first, grain farming, next grain and stock farming, next stock farming, and finally stock farming and dairying. The man who has educated himself as a feeder of beef cattle always finds that to feed for the production of milk is a much different business. He must have different kinds of animals, keep them under different kinds of shelter and feed them foods of different kinds and in different proportions, and on the whole

CARE OF THE LAWN MOWERS

Attention to Small Details Will Greatly Prolong Usefulness of This Needed Summer Utensil.

Lawn mowers are self-sharpening and when they do not cut the grass properly it is because the screws need setting, and not because the blades are dull. To make the lawn mower cut smoothly adjust the screws on the side of the stationary knife or blade. Loosen the front screw and tighten the back screw, so that the front sharp edge of the stationary blade will be raised closer to the rotary blades. Then, if the lawn mower is still not sharp enough also tighten the screws that fasten the rotary blades, so that they will be lowered closer to the stationary blade. To illustrate: A pair of scissors whose screw is loose will not cut, but tighten the screw, thereby bringing the blades together, and the scissors will cut again. Do not sharpen a lawn mower by filing the edges of blades, for if you do you will increase the space between the rotary blades and stationary blade and your lawn mower will cut worse than before you tried to sharpen it. Although this hint will be new and valuable to men mostly, by prolonging the life of a lawn mower it is a household economy and housewives should welcome a hint that affects household expenses favorably.

RECIPE FOR COFFEE CAKES

Ingredients That Go to Make Confection Popular on Almost All Breakfast Tables.

To two egg yolks beaten till creamy, add one-half cup fine granulated sugar with a pinch of salt, beating till very light. All four tablespoonfuls very strong and fine flavored coffee, and a scant cupful of flour into which is mixed one small teaspoonful baking powder. Lastly, add two egg-whites beaten stiff, having one-half cup granulated sugar beaten in. Bake on sheets in a hot oven. Cut when cool into small rounds with tin cutter; put two together and cover with the following cream: Whip till stiff one jar of heavy cream, adding one-quarter cup sugar, and just as much coffee as the cream will take without thinning, beating in a little at a time, perhaps two tablespoonfuls. Beat one egg-white stiff, adding one-quarter cup sugar, a little at a time, beating vigorously, and add one tablespoonful coffee; add this to the whipped cream. The pieces of cake left over in cutting out the rounds can be utilized for a dessert. Put the cake in bottom of glass dish or punch cups, then a layer of fruit; then whipped cream.

Asparagus Loaf.

Make a cream sauce with two tablespoonfuls each butter and flour cooked together until bubbly, half teaspoonful salt, a dash of pepper and a cupful of rich milk or thin cream. When smooth and boiling add a scant half cupful finely minced lamb, chicken or veal, one cupful cooked asparagus tips and four eggs beaten. Turn into a well buttered mold, holding about a pint and lined with asparagus stalks. Set this mold in a dish of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the center of the mold is firm.

Let stand a few moments, invert over a heated serving dish and unmold. Serve with cream sauce, to which asparagus tips and a few minced mushrooms have been added.

Pineapple Marshmallow.

Cut with scissors half a pound of marshmallows, drain juice of a can of grated pineapple and use pulp only. Sweeten with one cup of sugar. Beat half a pint of heavy cream very stiff. Add marshmallows to cream and half a cup of powdered sugar. About half an hour before serving add the sweetened pineapple. Serve in sherbet glasses with maraschino cherries on top.

Fruit Blanc Mange.

Grape juice or the juice from any canned fruit may be used. Place the sweetened juice over the fire in a double boiler; when boiling stir in cornstarch and a pinch of salt, wet with cold water, allowing two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch to each pint of juice. Pour into molds.

Graham Gems.

One egg, one scant cupful of sour milk, one cupful of graham flour, one even teaspoonful of soda, salt. This makes eight gems.

Bran Biscuit.

Stir together two cupfuls wheat bran, one cupful flour, a cupful and a half sour milk, a quarter cupful butter, a teaspoonful soda and three tablespoonfuls of molasses. Make like white biscuit and bake.

Rhubarb Sweetmeats.

To three cups of rhubarb cut fine, add one pint of raspberries, the juice and grated yellow rind of one lemon, one large cupful nut meats and two pounds sugar. Cook together until thick.

QUEER HABITS OF AUTHORS

Peculiar Eccentricities That Can Only Be Set Down to the Eccentricities of Genius.

Mark Twain's habit of writing in bed in the latter years of his life has called attention to some of the peculiarities of composition among earlier authors.

Milton never could write his poems unless his head was thrown as far back as possible and his eyes looked upward. Maturin stuck a water between his eyebrows when he was working, not only to show his servants and household that he was engaged in composition but also to help him concentrate his faculties.

Glover was best able to compose a ballad while he was walking in the garden of a friend and destroying her flower beds with his cane. Although Mezeray worked only in daytime, he had to have candlelight in the room while he wrote his histories. Rousseau found that his thoughts came most freely when he wandered in the woods and collected botanical specimens.

Descartes lay perfectly still and motionless while engaged in thought. Ampere could work on his problems only while standing up, and thus he anticipated the desk of those modern writers who stand at their work. Ampere was in the habit of writing down his thoughts in enormous letters.

Haydn never set to work on his scores without drawing on the ring given to him by Frederick II., and Paelello was in the habit of covering himself with bedclothes before he thought he was capable of his best work.

CANNOT BRING HIS HAREM

Ruler of Siam Would Be Welcomed in This Country, but His Wives Are Barred.

Announcement that his majesty, King Chulalongkorn of Siam, is planning a visit to the United States already has caused much interesting discussion because the king has 40 wives, and he means to bring them along. Just whether he will be permitted to enter the United States with his harem is an interesting question.

Various princes have started for this country with several of their wives, and at all times have been informed that only one wife would be permitted in this country. No king, however, ever has made a visit under such circumstances, and undoubtedly President Taft will have a delicate diplomatic task before him in deciding the question. The king, however, means to stop in Honolulu, it is said, and perhaps the question will be adjusted there. In Hawaii there is a special law against polygamy, and the United States attorney of Honolulu says he means to follow the law if the king lands in Honolulu.

For Pieces of Lace

WOMEN with clever fingers will find it worth their while to save all bits of lace, ribbon and embroidery that are in good condition, for they can utilize every scrap in making the jabots, bows and collars that are now so much worn. The construction of these trifles makes pleasant work for the summer vacation, and they are as useful for gifts as for personal use. The four designs given are not commonplace, yet they are easy to make. The jabot is made of mull Valenciennes lace, with embroidered butterfly tabs of linen. The large design hardly needs an explanation, as it is a working drawing for a collar to be worn with a collarless gown. The bow has ends of malines under squares of lace. Linen is the material used for the standing collar.

French knots in blue and Irish crochet lace motifs ornament it. The strap is fastened by three pearl buttons.

SOME PARISIAN COIFFURES

Tendency Now Shows a Less Close Mass of Hair Surmounted by an Aligrette.

We turn to Paris for the prevailing coiffure, and in turning we find slight but noticeable changes.

The present tendency is toward a less close mass of hair to which an aligrette or plume adds height. This decoration is here shown worn with a jeweled band of ribbon, which may be gold or silver or a color studded with brilliants or with iridescent gems, according to the gown.

Particularly appropriate for the young girl is the wreath of roses worn with a not-too-flat coiffure, but a simple one. Leaves are often substituted for the roses and to good effect.

With two winged ends of black velvet, altogether suitable for an older woman, is that broad band of black tulle wired along its edges and studded with jet.

And last we recommend for the more youthful one a simple fillet of gold or silver gauze, with at each end a large rose, made of cloth of gold or silver.

Time was when the young girl looked overdressed with her hair in a fillet unless it was a very simple affair, indeed; but fashions have become so much more elaborate that, with a little discrimination, it is quite possible to single out many simple enough hair ornaments for the youthful face.

Girls and Their Figures.

Stiff corsets are unknown in France. French corsets are always supple and bendable, and this accounts much for the ease of French figures, which are never tightened except at the waist, leaving the bust and hips quite free.

If the figure is tightened in too much at the bust and hips, it gives too straight a look to the figure and makes it stiff and uncomfortable, movement being rendered ungraceful by this stiffness. Let any girl try to lace her corset only at the waist and let her select it as soft and light as possible, and then see if her figure be not as graceful in shape as the French figure.

No tight, straight down, even lacing will ever make a pretty figure. If the corset cannot be made expressly to suit the figure, then let it only be laced in the middle of the waist. Even then no real corset should be worn by girls until they are well in their teens.

For Fashion's Sake.

Too many women wear things because they attract the eye, with too little consideration of the becomingness. Waiting for a car at one of the subway stations the other day was a young woman, rather unusually well dressed. But her face was horribly marked, especially about the cheeks and chin. More than one of the waiting crowd looked curiously, and no doubt pitied her misfortune. As she drew nearer the electric light, however, these markings resolved themselves into nothing more terrible than the pattern of her heavily embroidered veil! Seen in the light, the pattern—a design that might have been enlarged to some purpose on a pair of curtains—was not beautifying. Seen from a little distance, or in a dim light, the effect was as described.

MANTLE USED IN MANY FORMS

Transparent Wrap Has Caught the Fancy of Fashion, and is Surely Here to Stay.

Chiffon, marquisette, silk voile, or any other material that has not warmth, but a beautiful transparent color, is now used for outer wraps that may not be useful if the primary use of dress be considered, but they are decidedly beautiful, which is their own excuse for being.

Mantles of beautiful hues fall like clouds around the forms of their fortunate wearers. They are weighted with heavy fringe, silk or beaded, or they are adorned with marabon or heavy oriental embroidery.

The shapes are so varied that were any attempt made to describe these mantles there would be no end. Suffice it to say that all lengths, degrees of fullness, variations of the lower line and disposition of ends are allowable, the individuality of the designer coming into play as the deciding voice.

The effect of these transparent wraps over the filmy evening gowns of the season is indescribable. Mere man might ridicule and scorn the idea of a chiffon cloak, but flout one of these before the sensible creature, and if he have an appreciation of the beautiful he will uphold you in your choice of a lovely accessory.

LATEST HAT MODEL

The latest hat, of white chip lined with black chip, the brim covered with valenciennes and a mass of white knotted feathers.

Uses of Cretonne.

The "cretonne girl" is trimming her hat to match her waistcoat, jumper, girdle, belt and collar and cuff sets. With whatever materials she has left she fashions a bag which is mounted on the gilt frame of a shopping purse that is out of commission because its handles are broken and its leather sides shabby. This does not matter, because she throws the leather away and substitutes cretonne bands for the broken or worn handles of leather. If the "cretonne girl" is unusually energetic she may contrive a parasol to match her other flowered accessories by carefully matching the cretonne figures upon the gores of an ancient parasol cover and then mounting it upon the original frame.

What's the Answer?

We're ready to quit! After sending two perfectly rhymed, carefully scanned, pleasurable sentimental pieces of poetic junk to seventeen magazines and having them returned seventeen times, we turn to the current issue of a new monthly and find a "pome" modeled after Kipling's "Vampire," and in which home is supposed to rhyme with alone, run on page eleven with all the swell curlycues ordinarily surrounding a piece of real art. If poetizing is a gift we are convinced that this poet's must have been. As for us, we are on our way to the woodshed to study the psychology of the ax or any other old thing that hasn't to do with selling poetry to magazines.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. Cost of Spontaneity.

"I want the office, of course," said the aspiring statesman, "but not unless I am the people's choice."

"We can fix that, too," said his campaign manager; "only you know it's a good deal more expensive to be the people's choice than it is to go in as the compromise candidate."

Hilda the Helper wedded Brown, her faithful young Philander, the richest merchant in the town, who thus proposed with candor:

"You're such a helper, Hilda dear—you're such a business heartener—it seems to me 'tis very clear you ought to be my partner."

So read the moral, maidens all: DON'T STOOP TO KNOCK AND SLANDER, BUT BOOST YOUR TOWN, HELP ROLL THE BALL: THERE'S MORE THAN ONE PHILANDER.

(The End.)

Farm and Factory

Texas has 8,794,000 head of cattle, valued at $130,201,986. It is a remarkable fact that Texas has the best grade of cattle of any state, but for economic reasons fails to realize their value. It is possible that the Texas farmer may not exceed the Illinois farmer in grade of cattle but our ranches show up exceedingly well in the matter of grade of stock.

In Illinois the cattle are worth $28.09 per head and in Texas $14.79 per head.

"Comparative Value in Texas and Illinois."

It cost approximately $5 per head to ship cattle from Texas to the Chicago packing houses and the remainder of the difference in price is accounted for by the fact that Texas cattle are taken off the ranches and pastures and shipped to corn countries where a few bushels of corn are fed to them and $10 added to their value. If we had enough packing houses in Texas to utilize our supply of live stock and did our own feeding we would add $15 per head to our cattle, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

Packing houses sufficient to meet the present needs of Texas would add $43,970,000 to the value of our cattle, which is more than the packing houses would cost:

Added Value to Texas Cattle by Texas Packing Houses.

By bringing the packing house to the farm we adjust economic conditions and the increase in value of live stock goes to the producer without increasing the price of meat to the consumer, without increasing the expense of the packer. The farm and the factory go hand in hand and the prosperity of either is dependent upon the other, and no clearer example of this fact could be presented, than that of the packing house and the increase it at once brings to the farmer in the value of his cattle.

A Modest Request.

An impeccably dressed gentleman the other day when walking along Piccadilly felt a movement in his pocket and, clapping his hand thereto, seized the wrist of the thief. He drew forth the erring member, and, looking at it with supreme disgust, he released it, saying, with a grimace of disgust, "For heaven's sake, my good man, go and wash your hands before you put them in a gentleman's pocket again!"—London Tatler.

POINDEXTER'S BOLTING RECORD.

If there is any man in Texas who has no claim on a democratic nomination it is Poindexter. It is charged and not denied that in 1878 he voted the greenback ticket headed by James B. Weaver for president. It is charged and not denied that in 1892 he bolted the state democratic convention at Houston because the Clark faction, of which he was a leader, could not succeed in dominating the convention and destroying the railroad commission. The bolters nominated Clark and the regular convention nominated Hogg. The Clark convention, of which Poindexter was a member of the platform committee, placed in its platform the following plank: "We believe in the right of local self government untrammelled by central authority. We, therefore, oppose all sumptuary laws which vex the citizen and interfere with his individual liberty." Poindexter is now posing as a life-long prohibitionist. It is a matter of history that Clark and Poindexter formed a combination with the republicans and waged a relentless war on Hogg and the regular democracy. In 1896 Bryan was nominated by the regularly organized democracy. In the Dallas News of July 15, 1896, Poindexter denounced Bryan and declared he would not vote for him. That was the year of the Palmer and Buckner ticket, commonly known as the McKinley Aid society. It is charged and not denied that as early as April 21, 1896, Poindexter and others met in Dallas and repudiated the administration of Culberson and the democratic executive committee headed by James G. Dudley and that Poindexter was again a member of the platform committee. It is also charged and not denied that on August 25, 1896, this same crowd, joined by Poindexter, held a convention at Waco and again repudiated the regular democratic organization, both state and national. Such is Poindexter's bolting record. Now, in all candor, do you think he has any claim on the democratic party for any nomination whatsoever?

DAVIDSON'S ANSWER TO BAILEY.

As predicted, Senator Bailey has returned to Texas and taken a hand in the governor's race. He made a speech at Chico Saturday in which he criticised Attorney General Davidson for not prosecuting in a criminal proceeding the Standard Oil trust. As Senator Bailey's "time and attention have been devoted to national questions, his opinion might not be of much value on state questions," particularly as to the attorney general's mode of prosecuting Standard Oil. Senator Bailey also criticised the attorney general for collecting for the state a fine of $35,000 from the harvester trust and said that the harvester company turned right around, organized a new company and went back into the same business at the same stand. Perhaps the harvester company was following Bailey's advice to the Waters Pierce Oil company which was to "dissolve the offending corporation, organize a new corporation, come into the state with clean hands and obey the law." Answering in a speech at Dallas Monday, Davidson said:

"The harvester people organized a new corporation and affidavits were made by its officers, some of the most reputable citizens of this state, that they were not a party to any trust or any combination and setting forth in detail the ownership of every dollar of its stock. Senator Bailey evidently meant to convey the impression that the Texas Harvester Company was still a trust. If this be true every officer of this company has deliberately and wilfully perjured himself and ought to be in the penitentiary. If he has evidence of the fact that these men have sworn falsely and are a trust and are robbing the farmers of Texas, why does he not produce the evidence before the attorney general of Texas in order that suitable action may be taken, or present it to some county or district attorney and let the grand jury return bills of indictment in order that 'stripes may be put upon those who violate the anti-trust laws'?"

"The truth of the matter is that Senator Bailey desires to encompass my defeat, because four years ago while in the performance of a sworn duty in trailing down the most infamous monopoly that ever preyed upon the people of Texas there was uncovered the tracks of this distinguished United States senator leading to 26 Broadway, and there was exposed to the people of Texas the shameful fact that the name of their junior senator was in the secret cypher code of the Standard Oil Company.

"Because of that exposure and that alone I have been persecuted from that good day until this; indignity after indignity has been offered me; my character has been assailed from every side; abuse and misrepresentation have been heaped upon me and the effort has been made to besmirch and destroy my good name by the circulation of the most infamous slanders. While I have suffered as no other public officer has ever suffered, yet I have no regrets to express or apologies to offer for the fight I have made in the people's interest. I did my sworn duty, without regard to the fact that my official action reflected upon those occupying high places, and I would follow the same course if it was necessary for the fight to be made over again.

"Senator Bailey has declared war upon me, not because what I have omitted to do, but because of what I have done toward driving from the borders of this state illegal monopolies. I accept his gauge of battle and submit my cause to the great toiling masses of Texas, whose interests I have protected, with an abiding faith in the righteousness of their judgment on July 23."

Legal Notice.

The Orange and Northwestern Railroad Company, Special Stockholders Meeting. Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Orange and Northwestern Railroad Company, duly called by the Board of Directors of said Company, will be held at the principal office of said Company in the City of Orange, State of Texas, on Tuesday the 8th day of September, A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

(a) To consider and to authorize the issuance and disposal of the bonds of this Company to be known as its First Mortgage Six Per Cent Gold Bonds, to bear date of May 1, 1910, to be payable the first day of May, 1940, in gold coin of the United States of America, of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness, with interest from the date thereof at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of May and of November in each year in like gold coin, and both principal and interest to be payable at the office or agency of this Company in the City of New York, and both as to principal and interest free from any tax or taxes which this Company may be required to pay thereon or retain therefrom by or under any present or future law of the United States or of any State, county or municipality therein. Said bonds to be of such denominations as may hereafter be determined, and the issue of said bonds shall not exceed at any one time the aggregate principal amount of Ten Million Dollars, ($10,000,000);

(b) To direct and authorize the execution on the part of this Company for the purpose of securing the payment of said bonds, of a mortgage and deed of trust of all the railroads and interests in railroads, equipments, franchises and property of this Company whether now owned by this Company or which may hereafter be acquired by it by the use of any of said First Mortgage Six Per Cent Gold Bonds;

(c) To authorize the Board of Directors to adopt and use such form of mortgage as they may deem proper, and to ratify the proceedings of the Board of Directors of said Company in authorizing said bonds and the use to be made thereof; and

(d) To consider and act upon such other business as may properly be transacted at the meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors.
Dated, Orange, Texas, June 24th, 1910.
The Orange and Northwestern Railroad Company.
By J. H. Elliott, Vice-President.
Attest: J. O. Sims, Secretary. 9t.

A Few Short Weeks

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months ago my kidneys became congested. I had severe backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley Kidney Pills promptly cured my backache and corrected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them for only a few short weeks and I can cheerfully recommend them." Will McLean.

The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering, and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by Murchison-Beasley Drug Co.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Crockett Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that

Backache pains come from sick kidneys.

'Twould save much needless woe.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys,

Many residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Mrs. Henry Scott, 312 Covert St., Palestine, Tex., says:

"I have used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills in the past few months and the best of results have always followed. I suffered from dull, bearing-down pains across my back and sides and the kidney secretions were entirely too frequent in passage, annoying me greatly. Doan's Kidney Pills have relieved me to a great extent and I can recommend them highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co.,

'Foley Kidney Pills Have Cured Me'

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and specks float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Will McLean.

Hay Fever and Asthma

Bring discomfort and misery to many people but Foley's Honey and Tar gives ease and comfort to the suffering ones. It relieves the congestion in the head and throat and is soothing and healing. None genuine but Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package. Will McLean.
