Second place was a tie between Buck Wood and Amelia Gonzales. Both just missed two games, and were both off 20 points on the tie breaker. Sam Gonzales won third, missing three games and being

Cotton Harvest At Standstill

The South Plains cotton harvest remained at a standstill the past week due to unfavorable weather and wet fields, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the U. S. D. A.

However, the U.S.D.A. classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland

continued to receive samples from cotton harvested before the adverse weather.

The four classing offices classed 50,000 samples during the week ending Friday, November 24th. This brought the total classed this season to 133,000. Through November 24th last year only 48,000 samples of the 1971 crop had been classed.

Low Middling (51) was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week making up 33 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling (41) made up 26 percent, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) 14 percent and Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) 7 percent.

Staples were predominantly 31 to 34. Twenty-one percent had a staple length of 31, 24 percent stapled 32, 25 percent was 33 and 12 percent was 34.

Micronaire readings are an indication of fiber fineness or maturity. Cotton with micronaire readings of 3.5 through 4.9 is considered in the premium range. Fifty-seven percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 1 percent was in the high micronaire range of 5.0 - 5.2, 15

The Businessmen's Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture met Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. in the council chamber at City Hall. Chairman of the committee, Lyndal Murray, presided.

Glen King, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture reported that the Christmas Hut was now ready and that Santa Claus will be there beginning Saturday. He will be there each Saturday from 4 to 6 p.m. until December 16, when he will be at the Hut every day until Christmas.

King also announced that he will be attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Pre-Legislative Conference in Wichita Falls on December 1 and 2.

Royce Clay reported to the committee the results of the project recently completed that had residents from Tulia coming to Muleshoe to rate the town and merchants and residents from Muleshoe going to Tulia to rate their merchants and town.

After visiting a certain business in Muleshoe, the people filled out an evaluation card on that business. Some of the problems noted were the weed problem and the lack of signs directing people to the business district when entering town from the north or south.

One thing Clay pointed out was that the salespersons in the store did not make an effort to make sales and applied no sales pressure. He recommended that the BAC sponsor a salesmanship course to salespersons in Muleshoe sometime after the first of the year. Bob Stovall, chairman of the Christmas program this year, reported on the Christmas Parade to be held on Saturday. He presented Mrs. Lee Kimbrough and Mrs. Mike Miller of the Llano Estacado Civic Club who gave a progress report on the parade. This year, the Llano Estacado Civic Club is in charge of the parade. The BAC voted to reimburse the Club for the ribbon awards to be given to the bicycle division winners and for the invitations that were mailed

Cutting Property Taxes

President Nixon recently said he hoped to reduce property taxes by half before his present-four-year term of office is ended. If the President can accomplish that, he will have done more to alleviate an unjust financial burden in the form of excessively high property taxes for the middle class in America than any other President.

Several proposals have been put forward. The most desirable is that to allow property taxes paid by home owners to be deducted from federal taxes—up to a certain figure.

Other proposals include one which would guarantee local communities federal reimbursement when and if they lowered property taxes. But this proposal doesn't guarantee relief, fairly and nationwide, to all on an equal basis.

The proposal to allow taxpayers an exemption from federal taxes to offset part of their property taxes would mean instant, equal treatment for practically everyone; special provisions could easily be made for those few not benefited equally.

The President's proposals will be sent to the 93rd Congress. Members should see to it this is one order of business speedily and positively dealt with. The electorate made its views more than clear on this subject in the primaries of 1972.

out to area bands. Both projects, however, were decided upon by the club before the club was in charge of the parade.

Bob Phillips and Lyndal Murray reported to the committee on the recent trip to Cloudcroft, N.M., to cut the Christmas tree for Muleshoe.

The City of El Paso loaded the tree onto Muleshoe's truck with a crane they had. It was reported that later this same crane was lost when it fell off a cliff. The committee thanked the City of El Paso for all of their help in getting the tree. Murray, Phillips and Randall Copley left Muleshoe on Monday, November 20, and returned the next Wednesday.

Tommy Black also brought up the subject of Christmas store hours for the merchants in Muleshoe.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported increased trading on the Lubbock market as more cotton became available and prices were $10.00 to $15.00 per bale higher.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3,5 to 4,9 premium microaire range were: Strict Low Middling (41) staple 31 - 24.05 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling (41) staple 32 - 25.25, Strict Low Middling (41) staple 33 - 26.65, Low Middling (51) staple 31 - 22.00, Low Middling (51) staple 32 - 22.95 and Low Middling (51) staple 33 - 23.85.

Cottonseed prices were slightly higher and farmers received $45 to $52 per ton for their cottonseed at gins. Average price was $48.10 per ton.

sponsored by the South Plains Association of Governments, in coordination with the West Texas Health Systems, Inc., was to study and discuss improvement of emergency medical care in the 15-county South Plains region.

A recent study by the National Academy of Sciences concluded that "Emergency Medical Services is one of the weakest links in the delivery of health care in the nation". According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 60,000 persons died last year, who possibly could have lived if given proper emergency care. Also less than seven per cent of the nation's ambulances can communicate with hospitals.

Experts on the various aspects of an Emergency Medical System were on hand to present information on successful solutions in handling emergency problems. Dr. Fred Vogt, M.D., University of Texas School of Medicine at Houston, consultant to the President on Emergency Medical Care, spoke on "What is a Good Emergency Medical System?" Gene Pipkin of the State Department of Health described the development of an emergency communications system. Neli L. Vaughn, also of the Health Department, discussed the MAST (Military Assistance To Safety and Traffic) program. Jerry Mussey with the Regional Medical Programs of Texas talked on the possibilities of federal funding for an Emergency Medical System.

Invitations to attend the meeting were sent to local elected officials, hospital administrators, medical societies, ambulance operators, civil defense directors, hospital districts, Department of Public Safety, Texas Tech School of Medicine, Texas Nurses Association, and others.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Nixon's Victory - The Party Victory - Congress - 1974, 1976

Washington, D. C. -- The Nixon landslide was a triumph for the President both personally and as the leader of a rejuvenated party -- only eight years ago where the Democratic Party is today.

The question for the future is whether the G.O.P. has been permanently expanded and strengthened by the President's successful campaign.

Slight G.O.P. gains in the House fail to provide the answer. And while the President won a majority of the youth vote, the key to the future is whether this year's victory carries with it party advantages which will last into 1974, and 1976, when someone else is leading the G.O.P.

The President almost personally revived a badly-beaten party after its 1964 rout and has now won broad voter support. But this could be largely a personal triumph, similar to 1952 and 1956.

If all the arguments, debates and set speeches in the world were put in a pile and burned, there would be much blaze but very little loss.

There is a belief among some that President Nixon should have involved himself more heavily in Senate and House races--in an effort to get a G.O.P. controlled Congress.

But the President had to concentrate on his own race and being President was considered the best political approach. That didn't allow him to do much for many congressional candidates.

In the South, among blue collar workers and Catholics the President's gains were remarkable. If his party can retain some of this former Democratic vote, Mr. Nixon will have accomplished a significant and historical political realignment.

If so, Democrats who began splitting badly in 1948, and who split so badly in 1968 and this year, have greatly helped along the realignment. In that connection, new leadership almost seems a must for the Democratic Party.

Today's successful business or social personality is too often a smiling front rather than a genuine or sincere individual.

PROVEN PERFORMANCE DURING 1972

SX 520 This is a NEW medium maturing yellow corn that was number one in yield tests conducted by Ronnie Gfeller, agronomist, on the Dan Heard Farm, 1 mile south of Dimmitt during 1972. With a yield of 221.5 bushels per acre P-A-G SX 520 stood well (0% lodged stalks) and still out-yielded the late varieties of corn. This P-A-G single cross is another of the fast germinating, vigorous, high yielding "new breed" of P-A-G custom hybrids. SX 520 is an excellent dual purpose corn for high grain yield—high quality, top tonnage silage.

SX 98 Distinctive because of its dark green color and relatively up-right leaf for maximum light utilization. SX 98 yields and yields and yields. (208.2 bushels per acre in 1972 Dimmitt tests.) A fairly short hybrid corn (7 ft. 3 in. in tests) with good ear placement. Has a bred-in "digestive system" that gives it the capacity to make full use of large amounts of fertilizer.

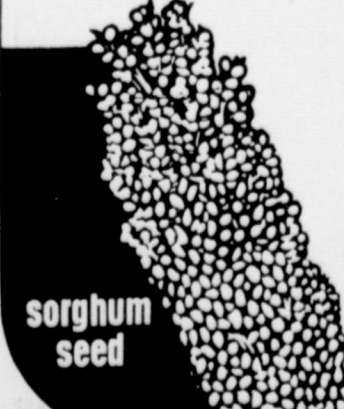

344 A very attractive 3-way cross with dark green color and large, girthy ears. The grain is a medium dent of high quality. A real producer, outstanding performance in tests in Dimmitt area during 1971, and produced 190.8 bushels in the 1972 tests. 344 is a proven high yielder.

492 A tall, rugged, 4-way with the built in capacity to produce "tons" of high quality silage over a wide range of conditions. Grain yields are very high for a double cross hybrid. 492 produces medium length ears with dense grain high in test weight. Several reports of yields in excess of 30 tons of excellent silage made during 1972. Planted beside other silage varieties, farmers and feed lot managers keep planting and recommending P-A-G 492 for top yields of high quality silage.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Area Couple

The West Camp Baptist Church was the setting for the Thanksgiving afternoon wedding of Beverly Faye Tims and Buddy V. Foster, Rev. Glenn Harlin, pastor of the church, led the couple in their double ring vows read before an altar decorated with a half moon candelabrum holding light pink tapers and entwined with greenery and hot pink ribbons which formed a backdrop for a kneeling bench and a memory candle. After the couple knelt for the benediction, they lighted the memory candle. The couple descended the aisle under an arch formed by the attendants holding lighted candles.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Tims of West Camp, and the bride groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Foster of Oklahoma Lane.

Gaye Rundell registered the guests as they entered the church. The registration table was covered with a floor length white lace cloth over pink. On the table were the couple's wedding book and a hot pink candle on a white pedestal, ringed with miniature multi-colored flowers. An easel holding a large formal portrait of the bride completed the registration setting. Sue Pointer of Littlefield presented scrolls to the guests.

Tina Rundell, organist, played traditional nuptial selections and wedding marches. Vickie Smart, accompanying herself at the piano, sang "I Love You Truly," "The Twelfth of Never," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Larry Tims, cousin of the bride, and Ken Foster, brother of the bridegroom.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of organza over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and natural waistline. The bodice was overlaid with Alencon lace and featured a small stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves which ended in petal points at her hands. Seed pearls were applied in petal designs around the neckline of the bodice and around the collar. Her fingertip veil of illusion was bordered with wide lace as was her chapel length train. The veil and train were attached to a Juliet cap covered with lace and embroidered with seed pearls in petal design.

The bride carried a bouquet of hot pink and light pink roses atop a white Bible engraved with her name. The Bible was a special gift from her father. Following bridal tradition, the bride carried for something old a handkerchief belonging to her late maternal grandmother, Mrs. B. H. King. Something new was her wedding ensemble; something borrowed was a gold bracelet belonging to Mrs. Zula Rundell, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom; and something blue was a garter to which she had attached her promise ring. She carried in her shoes pennies minted in the year of the couple's births.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Ann Tims. She wore a formal length two-piece dress of hot pink A'legante, featuring a gathered skirt and wide waistband. Small ruffles over the shoulders accented the long full sleeves which were gathered onto wide cuffs.

Bridesmaids were Ginger Herington, student at South Plains College and former classmate of the bride; and Mrs. Jenine Foster, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of light pink A'legante styled identically to that of the maid of honor. Their headpieces were light pink satin rolled roses on petal shaped light pink lace with hot pink and light pink ribbon trim. They carried circular arrangements of light pink net holding round rose candles with hot pink and light pink streamers. They wore corsages of pink carnations.

Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Charlotte Tims, Mrs. J. W. Herington, Mrs. L. C. Herington and Miss Ellen Herington. Vickie Smart played piano selections during the reception and Ann Tims and Kenny Hughes presented rice bags to the guests.

For a short wedding trip the bride wore a white street length dress of textured double knit and white knee high boots. She wore the rose corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 6623 B Kimberly Street, TSTI, Amarillo, where the bridegroom plans to continue his studies. The bride and bridegroom are both 1972 graduates of Farwell High School.

Out of town guests attended the wedding from Midland, Canyon, Irving, Clarendon, Dumas, Kress, Littlefield, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Thirty-three guests attended the rehearsal dinner at Clara's Restaurant in Farwell on Wednesday evening, November 22.

Bobby Foster served as his brother's best man. Groomsman were Jack Foster, brother of the bridegroom, and Harold Jones. Ushers were Kenny Hughes of Kress, cousin of the bride, and Stanley Milstead. All male members of the wedding party wore dark suits and light pink shirts with ties of hot pink A'legante.

The bride's mother was attended in a floor length ensemble featuring a deep rose velvet skirt and light pink crepe blouse with ruffles at the neckline and on the sleeves. Her corsage was of deep red roses.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a full length dress of pale orchid knit fashioned on princess lines. The lace textured dress had orchid and silver trim on the bodice to the waistline. She wore a corsage of orchid carnations.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white lace over pink and featured a three-tiered pink wedding cake iced in white and decorated with hot pink and light pink roses. Four layers surrounded the bottom pedestal of the cake which was topped with a bride and groom figurine. The memory candle from the wedding setting and the bride's bouquet were featured on the table. The silver given the couple by his grandmother, Mrs. Rundell, completed the table decor. White napkins bore the names, "Beverly and Buddy, Nov. 23, 1972" in silver. The cake was served with pink punch, nuts and rose shaped mints in shades of hot pink and light pink. Presiding at the bride's table were Paula Mayfield and Penny Phillips.

Gayla Foster and Sheree Rundell served at the bridegroom's table which was covered with a brown linen cloth overlaid with an ecru lace cloth which belonged to the bride's late grandmother. The table was centered with an arrangement of light pink carnations and hot pink flowers and ribbons. The chocolate cake, which was a double ring atop a sheet cake, was iced in white and bore the names "Beverly and Buddy" in shades of pink. Silver coffee service and white napkins inscribed with "Beverly and Buddy" completed the table setting.

College scholarships totaling $111,000 will be at stake Tuesday (Dec. 5) when high school seniors here and throughout the country join in the written knowledge and attitude examination of the 1973 Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow. This year, for the first time in the 19-year history of the educational program, boys are eligible to participate.

Scores on the 50-minute test will form the basis for selection of a Homemaker of Tomorrow here. This student will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search, and will, together with all other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow -- one from each state and the District of Columbia -- will be awarded $1,500 scholarships. To be chosen in judging centering on performance in the written examination, they will also earn for their schools a 2-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

Late next April, the 51 State Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a faculty adviser, will gather in Washington, D. C., for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Personal observation and interviews during the tour will be added factors in the selection, from the state winners, of the 1973 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships of the four national winners will be increased to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

A $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship, instituted in last year's Betty Crocker Search, will be part of the program again this year. Recipient of this award will be the participating student who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the two criteria, achieves the top score on the test's nutrition items. About nine million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2 million.

The Search examination is prepared and graded by Science Research Associate, Chicago, which is also responsible for all judging and selection of winners.

The doctor retorted: "Nonsense! I took your wife's appendix out three years ago, and I never heard of anyone having a second appendix."

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa, We hear and read so much about sex as the only thing important in making a good marriage that I think the news media and television both, are giving young people false information and I think it is time for people who know better to speak out. Marriage stands a much better chance of lasting and being successful if two people are congenial-if they like the same things and if their attitudes on basic honesty and consideration for other people are in agreement. This doesn't mean that they should agree on everything-variety is the spice of life and good arguments without anger pep up a marriage. I believe that one of the most important factors in a good marriage is the ability of two people to communicate with one another. The people who enjoy talking together will usually find the home an attractive place to be. Be interested in what the other person is doing and know enough about it to discuss it. If you can't do this be a good listener and questioner. Sex has its place but making a home a refuge of contentment for busy people in this era of confusion is a great factor in the success of any marriage. Wife--Va. Answer: I agree with you that the couple who can communicate with each other-who talk things out instead of repressing their hurts and differences--will have a more lasting marriage than those who fail to do so. Louisa.

Plan Learning Experiences For Preschool Age Children

COLLEGE STATION -- With older children off to school, the younger child or infant finds the home and neighborhood quieter or slightly deserted. Rather than a lonely time, for him this can be a special time, according to one authority. "There are experiences parents can provide a child in the form of games and play that will greatly influence his intellectual ability later on," she said. "There's no guarantee, but the latest research in child development strongly suggests that."

Hostesses for the occasion were the women of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Plan Learning Experiences For Preschool Age Children

Second, teach the child to explore the world about him. "Help him acquire facts, develop attitudes about new situations and an approach to dealing with them." Bells, rattles, a soft safe toy, or finding a toy under a blanket offer the infant his first adventures in exploring. Exploration continues as he grows and for the preschooler can take on new proportions with a pet, watching fish in an aquarium, playing in a sandbox or a safe treehouse. "Let him tear down and build an old alarm clock or play with old cardboard boxes and building toys." Third, teach your child that learning is enjoyable. "If parents see play as a grim, joyless endeavor and never play with their children, the mood will be conveyed to the young child and a great deal will be lost," Miss Taylor said. "One principle to remember is never turn a child off or push him aside. Respond to his questions and his search for information."

"Parents can take many things in stride--learn to observe and add to the child's learning experiences at the pace he has established." An example would be allowing him to learn one color at a time, rather than two or three at once. "Play imparts to a young child some basic facts about himself and the world about him. The sooner he finds the world an orderly, consistent, controllable place, the sooner he will have confidence to explore his world further. "Because parents usually work with their children, the child gains confidence in the world and establishes a basic trust in his parents. "This is the foundation of a loving relationship that can last a lifetime, and can affect his relationships with all people he will ever encounter. "Also it offers parents a great opportunity to learn and live in new ways and to aid the young child to learn and grow," she concluded.

A History Of Bailey County Pioneer Families

Dave Coulter in 1921 at the age of 22

Dave Coulter
Dave Coulter was born January 29, 1899, in Mayfield, Kentucky. His ancestors were Scotch-Irish. Coulter moved to Ballinger from Kentucky when he was nine years old. He came to the area from Ballinger in a Model T arriving on September 8, 1930. His first home was in the YL community and he "busted" in dryland farming for irrigation. A farmer and "jack of all trades", Coulter did electrical work to pay expenses. Coulter recalls shooting ducks at Soda Lake, which is now dry. "We hunted coyotes from horseback on the ranches and would take turns chasing the coyotes until they would lay down and die". Coulter remembers, "The only haircuts in 1932 were given by D. R. Pochell who cut hair with sheep shears". Later haircuts were 35 cents at Lud Taylor's. An excerpt from the May 4, 1933, issue of the Journal read, "Dave Coulter, bovine specialist living in the forest of Old Hurley townsite northwest of town, says to just give your cow something to make her hicough and one can get whipped cream without having to whip it". Coulter, stationed in Louisiana during World War II, wrote the Journal in Sept., 1942, asking that his paper be sent to him at Leesville, La. The article appearing in the Journal read, "Dave said to 'sock' the next guy who griped about West Texas sandstorms and cold weather. His description of the mosquitoes, ticks and chiggers is very vivid, and says the hot, sultry weather is beyond belief for those who are used to the cool nights of the Plains". Coulter is the father of three children, Charlene Blaylock, Elinor Jane Raney and Jerry Don Coulter.

Texas Farmers Union To Hold Convention

Farmers and ranchers from across the state will converge on Arlington December 7-9 to hear farm speeches and adopt policy on agricultural issues. Texas Farmers Union will hold its three-day convention at the Inn of the Six Flags.

The opening session, Thursday night, will feature a welcome by Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff, greetings from State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and a keynote address by National Farmers Union president Tony Dechant.

Stanley Moore Secretary-Treasurer of North Dakota Farmers Union will address the state-wide farm organization meeting on Friday morning, and Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco will make his annual report to the convention. Friday morning's convention program will be greetings from leaders representing 4-H, FFA, Young Farmers, and Young Homemakers.

The highlights of the Friday afternoon convention program will be the adoption of the 1973 Policy Program and business caucuses of membership from the nine (9) Farmers Union districts.

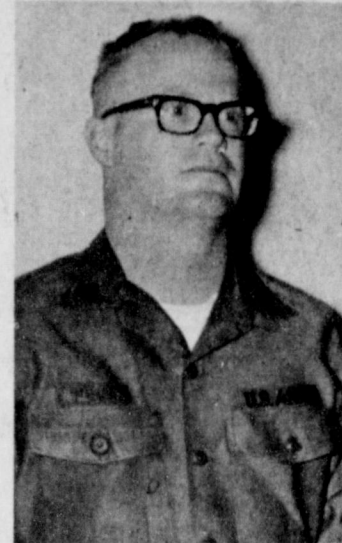

The traditional annual banquet on Friday evening will hear from Lt. Governor-Elect William Hobby of Houston. His appearance before the Farmers Union convention will be his first before a farm group since the general election.

A special program has been planned for the ladies and young people attending the Arlington meeting. Farmers Union ladies will attend a special luncheon and style show program at the nearby Six Flags Mall Friday noon. A youth party on Friday night and special brunch for young people and youth leaders has been planned for Saturday morning. Tours of several area recreational facilities have been planned throughout the convention. The convention will conclude at noon on Saturday following the election of the state president, vice president, and delegates to the National Farmers Union convention.

In the edition dated November 16, 1972, I got the impression somebody is a bigot and racial person saying to I Quote "We would like to see one politician stand upon hind legs and tell minorities, which seek special privileges, to jump into the lake."

1. Do you call a person who should get subsidized by the government for working on a farm that gets subsidy someone who gets special privileges being he sweats and bleeds like everybody else. The farmer gets it for crops he doesn't plant, is he special.

2. Do you call someone working in farm labor wanting special privileges, when they used to give medical services to the Mexican National that came here under contract.

3. Do you call the Indian who wants for the treaties the U. S. Government signed with them honored someone wanting special privileges.

4. Do you call the chicano who wants to hear about his culture and have bilingual education in school systems being his ancestors helped settle this born land several decades ago. Instead all he hears is the heroic deeds Wyatt Earp to Davy Crockett, Jim Bosire did and not the wrong they did to the so called murderer Joaquin Murietta all we hear is what he became.

5. Do you call the Black man who won the rights to eat in restaurants, go to the same schools, movies and so on, someone wanting special privileges when they were asking for something that was right. I feel the person who wrote the quote thinks he is someone special and wants privileges and he should go jump in the lake.

Farm Bureau To Send Delegates To Meeting

Waco -- (Spl) -- The Texas Farm Bureau will send ten voting delegates to the 54th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation Dec. 10-14 at the Convention Center in Los Angeles.

State delegate strength is based on membership size. The TFB ended its official year with a record high of 136,943 member families enrolled.

Also planning to attend the convention from Texas are a number of county Farm Bureau leaders, state officers and board members and staff, as well as representatives of Farm Bureau young peoples' activities.

National policies to guide the 2-million-member AFBF will be adopted by voting delegates from 49 states (all except Alaska) and Puerto Rico. The TFB annual convention Nov. 12-15 in Houston approved recommendations on a number of national issues.

The TFB is asking for an extension of the Agriculture Act of 1970 and said the set-aside portion of the law should be supplemented by some form of long-term land retirement program.

TFB opposes dollar limitations on government payments. It is also against government-owned or controlled reserves of farm products.

Restrictions on use of farm chemicals and feed additives should be removed unless they are proved harmful, the TFB recommended. TFB also wants more research by USDA to develop new materials and methods which are 'economical and ecologically safe' in controlling harmful insects.

Guest speakers include Governor Ronald Reagan of California and Frank E. Fitzsimmons, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. AFBF president William J. Kuhfus and Secretary-Treasurer Roger Fleming will also address the convention.

Heading the Texas FB delegation will be J. T. (Red) Woodson of Gober, recently elected to his third one-year term as president.

Other delegates include:

Vice-President Carrol Chaloupka, Dalhart; Secretary-Treasurer Bill Reid, Lamesa; and State Directors H. L. King, Brownfield; T. J. Richards, Paducah; Dan Pustejovsky, Hillsboro; Edwin Sanderson, Paris; B. J. Gist, Abilene; John A. Smith, Cameron; and Henry Burton, Lufkin.

Representing TFB in young peoples' activities will be Miss Anna Marie Shutt, Edna, 1973 Queen; Miss Anna Mary (Scout) Bergner, Stinnett, state Talent Find winner; and Wesley Jarvis, also of Stinnett, Discussion Meet representative.

Miss Shutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Shutt, Edna; will be introduced, along with other state queens, at a general session of the convention.

Miss Bergner, daughter of Mr. John Bergner and the late Mr. Bergner of Stinnett, will participate in the national-level Talent Find.

Jarvis, a 27-year old wheat farmer, will compete in the national Discussion Meet at the AFBF convention.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews a recent decision of the Supreme Court this week, in his own way. Dear editor:

It has been the custom over the past few years to berate the U.S. Supreme Court, some people saying the judges have made some haywire decisions, especially involving the rights of criminals and other odd decisions the Founding Fathers never thought of when they wrote the Constitution. Some have even said that the calibre of the Judges has been lowered, that, as with other inflationary situations, while it cost as much as it ever did to operate the court you just don't get nearly the quality of decisions.

Well, that's mostly out of my province, but the Court did act the other day in a way that makes you believe it still has some smart guys on it.

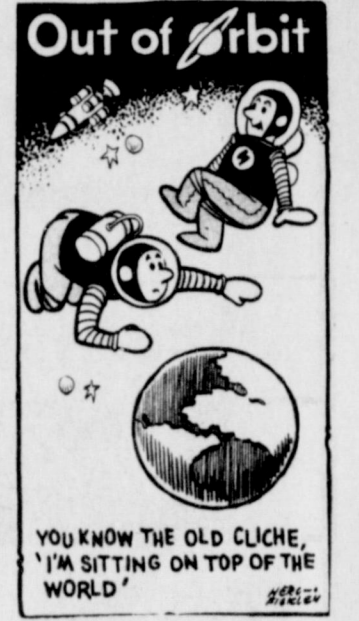

Here's the situation: some parents, displeased because a school teacher had paddled their son, sued the school on the grounds it was unconstitutional. I don't know which part of the Constitution they based their suit on, although I'm pretty sure it wasn't the Freedom of the Press clause. Who ever heard of an editor's child needing paddling?

At any rate the case got all the way up to the Supreme Court, and what was the Court's decision?

In its wisdom, in fact in its unchallengeable Solomon-like smartness, the Court simply declined to rule on the case. Washed its hands and said no thanks.

Say what you please about those Judges on other decisions, but in this case they demonstrated absolutely superior wisdom. Nobody was about to catch them getting messed up in a local school affair.

To this day we don't know whether the kid was paddled unconstitutionally or not, but if I were a kid I believe I'd watch my step and try to avoid whatever it was that brought on that whipping. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Incorporating Should Begin A Year Ahead

Incorporating a profitable minimum tillage operation into a High Plains farming program should begin as early as a year ahead of time, or at least immediately following harvest the preceding fall, scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation advise.

In planning ahead one year where grain sorghum follows cotton, Foundation scientists recommended instead of disking in Treflan, farmers planning to utilize minimum tillage practice the following year should incorporate Treflan with the rolling cultivator. This will reduce the amount of residue carry-over.

However, farmers who did not apply heavy amounts of Treflan in cotton this year, may be in position to take advantage of the unusually wet field conditions, scientists at the Foundation believe that many High Plains farmers may be able to increase their income from next year's sorghum crop by reducing expenditures in unnecessary land preparation.

In the minimum tillage program outlined by the Foundation, farmers are urged to chisel the water furrows 12 to 14 inches deep immediately after harvesting cotton. This tillage operation is recommended as soon after harvest as possible.

The chisel operation serves several purposes. It opens the ground to aid winter moisture penetration into the root zone and roughens ground surface to catch more snow during the winter. Soil erosion protection is afforded by cotton stubble and the roughened surface.

It is not necessary to shred cotton stalks after harvest unless the stalks are exceptionally tall and will disrupt future planting activities by becoming entangled in planter chains and gears.

If concerned about the amount of herbicide residues, farmers are urged to put soil samples in pots for indoor plantings of grain sorghum this winter.

During the winter, on minimum tillage acreage, farmers are urged to control winter weeds with a mechanical operation. Scientists point out that it is preferable that minimum tillage acreage, be on land without particular weed problems. And, they point out, cultivation of existing weeds might eliminate the need for a contact herbicide at planting time.

Also, during the winter, farmers should consider the double row grain sorghum variety they will select for the minimum tillage acreage.

Besides a preplant irrigation, there may not be anymore land preparation until just prior to planting time. Scientists warned that land prepared for minimum tillage does not take water as rapidly as conventionally tilled land and the preplant irrigation is necessary for sufficient germination moisture.

Prior to planting, existing beds need to be smoothed and shaped with a rolling cultivator. During this operation, herbicides can be applied. If weed problems exist, a contact herbicide can be applied along with the regular control pre-emerge herbicide application. Good, high beds are needed for planting, scientists pointed out. Fertilizers can be applied preplant or as a sidedress after planting.

Minimum tillage grain sorghum works best where adequate irrigation is available. Sorghum yields under minimum tillage have been equal to conventionally tilled acreage. Foundation scientists report that the timing of irrigation and not the amount is the most important factor influencing yields. The seven-leaf stage is critical for adequate moisture in minimum tilled double rowed grain sorghum. At the seven-leaf stage, the plant is changing from its vegetative to its reproduction stage and its yield potential is being developed. Scientists observed that the amount of soil moisture available at that time is less than in conventionally tilled sorghum crops due to reduced amounts of moisture taken by the land during preplant irrigation.

High taxes check both inflation and elation.

Minimum tillage offers advantages of increased soil erosion protection during the winter and early spring, protection of young seedlings and reduction of tillage costs. Foundation scientists have reduced tillage operations from 15 conventional operations to 9 under the minimum tillage program.

MODEL PLANES & SPRAY
Newark, Del. - Large model airplanes are being used at the University of Delaware to find safer and more accurate methods of spraying for mosquitoes. The planes flown by remote control are used in experimental spraying operations. The results are applied to large craft and quantities of insecticide.

As discussions of a cotton program for 1974 begin to proliferate on the High Plains and across the belt, two things dominate conversation.

First, growers prefer an extension of the present direct payment, set-aside program to any alternative yet proffered--provided it can be continued with a payment rate and a payment limitation high enough to make it a workable program. On this proviso there is full recognition of the difficulties involved with an urban-minded Congress. But there is no inclination to abandon the attempt. The Administration continues to profess its support for the set-aside approach, and literally no one believes a farm program can be passed without Administration support.

Second, there is an increasing realization in the industry, especially in the producer segment, that the current inventory management system is working poorly and will continue to work poorly until revised or replaced. And it is thought this will hold true whether the new program follows the set-aside approach or veers in some other direction.

Under the present system when cotton production exceeds annual domestic and export demand the excess is acquired and controlled by Commodity Credit Corporation, an agency of the Federal Government.

"This leaves inventory management policies subject to political pressures that often take precedence over economic reality," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "and so long as this is the case there is no reason to believe that a slight oversupply, or even an adequate supply, will not exert an unwarranted amount of downward pressure on producer prices in the future as it has in the past."

Johnson pointed to events of the past 17 months as evidence that the present system is not working for the benefit of the industry. During this period there has been only about a 10 percent change in the cotton supply situation, he noted, and that small change has resulted in a 58 percent increase and a 30 percent decrease in prices.

Recently an editorial in a national farm magazine stated "To make a profit in any business under our private enterprise system, you must manage the supply." And it went on to say "Eventually growers of a commodity must manage its supply if it is to be managed."

More and more cotton producers are recognizing the truth of these thoughts, and a greater-than-ever-before effort will be made in 1973 to discover some mechanism whereby the management of cotton inventories can be moved from government hands to the hands of an entity designed to accomplish industry objectives.

The two principal objectives, both of which are urgent and neither of which can be achieved without the other, are (1) greater and more consistent returns for growers from the marketplace and (2) continuously adequate and balanced supplies of cotton fiber for mill customers.

A number of suggestions for a means to producer or industry control of cotton inventories are being explored. Unfortunately none, to date, appear to be the ultimate answer.

But there is full recognition of the need. And that in itself is encouraging.

There's no reason why an automobile driver cannot exhibit courtesy on the highways.

STATE Capital NEWS
By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex.--December 31 is the deadline for owners of advertising signs along major interstate, U.S. and state numbered highways to apply for permits under the new Texas Highway Beautification Act. The act is designed to control all outdoor advertising from big billboards to fence signs along the right-of-way line. It required that no sign can be erected within 660 feet of an interstate or federal-aid primary highway without a special $25 outdoor advertising license. An additional $5 permit is also required for each sign. On premise signs--those advertising activities on the land or offering the property for sale--are exempt. The law, passed and made effective last June 29 to avoid loss of federal road-building aid, will be implemented in stages. License applications, first stage in the process, must be accompanied by a $2,500 bond for each county in which signs are located up to a $10,000 maximum for owners with signs in more than three counties. Permits will be issued for signs in more than three counties. Permits will be issued for signs in place prior to June 29 whether they conform to the law or not, and these will be allowed to stay in place until programmed for acquisition or removal. New signs must conform to the law before permits are issued. The Highway Department also had begun removal of abandoned and illegal signs on controlled highways. Those planning to erect new signs on controlled highways are advised to check with Highway Department district offices to determine if the location conforms to the law. Property owners have also been advised to contact the department's district offices concerning signs located on their land without permission. LEGISLATORS BRIEFED -- State legislators received briefings last week on three major issues to confront them in January. A pre-session legislative conference at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs of the University System here provided details on: -- Need for judicial reorganization. The court system was termed a hodgepodge of independent operations with "nobody minding the whole store." -- Federal revenue sharing and its impact on state and local finance. Legislators were advised Congress and taxpayers will be looking over their shoulders to see that new federal windfalls are wisely spent. -- Property taxation and school finance. Major overhauls in the system of financing public education and in property tax administration are needed, tax authorities said. AG OPINIONS -- A recent opinion by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin warned that closed meetings of governmental agencies with attorneys and staffs can be held only for limited purposes. Martin's opinion, requested by Beaumont Criminal District Attorney Tom Hanna, said agencies can meet privately with attorneys only to discuss pending or contemplated litigation. It concluded the agencies can meet with staff members only to discuss matters of internal administration. Martin delivered a detailed interpretation of the state open meetings law in response to Hanna, who inquired whether county commissioners can meet in private to discuss legal matters with their attorney. In other recent opinions, Martin found: *The state may sell or rent property bought in delinquent tax sales before expiration of the two-year redemption pe-

Cotton Production Increases Again... Cattle on Feed Declines Slightly... Pecan Production Expected to Set Record... Crop Prospects Good...

Texas cotton production for this season is estimated to be more than one million bales above 1971. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates Texas' production this year now at 3,800,000 bales. This would be an increase of 1,221,000 bales over 1971 production. Yield, based on September 1 conditions, is expected to average 356 pounds per acre. Only 263 pounds per acre were produced in 1971. Harvest is virtually complete in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Harvest in south Central is more than one-third complete. Blackland cotton harvest is now reaching full momentum with a good to excellent yield reported. Cotton on the High and Low plains is making good to excellent progress.

A ONE percent decline in the number of cattle on feed compared to a month ago is reported for Texas. The state continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. As of September 1, there were 2,095,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter in Texas. Compared to a year ago, this is 32 percent higher. Placements into Texas feedlots during August totaled 381,000 head; this is 28 percent above a year ago. Marketings of fat cattle during August totaled 406,000 head. This is 16 percent above last year.

In the major six-state cattle feeding report, which includes Texas, Arizona, California, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, number of cattle on feed totaled 7,551,000 head. This is a three percent decrease from a month ago, but 17 percent more than for the same time in 1971. Iowa is the second ranking cattle feeding state with a total of 1,476,000 head as of September 1 on feed.

A RECORD pecan crop is in prospect for Texas. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates a crop of 70,000,000 pounds, the highest ever. This is almost three times more than last year's crop of only 24,000,000 pounds. The Texas crop will account for 35 percent of the total estimated U. S. production this year.

Harvest in most areas is expected to be two to three weeks earlier; the first pecans of this season were harvested in late August in San Saba County. The 1972 crop estimate is one million pounds above the previous record crop of 69,000,000 pounds in 1968.

CROP prospects continue at a high level over most of the state. Grain sorghum production is expected to top off at 60 bushels per acre, a record high yield. Harvest throughout the state is more than half complete. Corn production is now estimated at 35,000,000 bushels. Per acre yield is expected to be 70 bushels, which is eight bushels lower than 1971. Peanut yields this year are expected to be higher than in 1971. A yield of 1,430 pounds per acre is anticipated; this compared with 1,235 pounds per acre in 1971. Soybean production is now estimated at 5,670,000 bushels compared with 2,781,000 in 1971. Wheat seeding is active from the Edwards Plateau to the northern High Plains. Seeding for the state is about 20 percent complete.

all adult categories of welfare recipients on Jan. 1, 1974. The three adult categories now eligible for state welfare assistance are needy blind, needy aged and permanently and totally disabled. The state must establish a program for continuous review of welfare recipients hospitalized or in nursing homes or mental institutions. The Board also directed that persons moving into the state must live in Texas 90 days before they are eligible for assistance. A Board legislative proposal would allow garnishment of wages in child support cases. BENEFIT COMPLAINT LODGED -- The State Insurance Board heard a complaint that a federal law to boost workmen's compensation benefits for longshoremen and other harbor workers in unrealistic in defining workers covered. A Houston insurance agent said the new higher premium rates for coverage would extend to all employees of a shipyard, including cafeteria workers, parking lot attendants and gate guards. The agent said an employer with a $15 million annual payroll would have to spend $1.5 million in workmen's compensation premiums. Benefits would scale from $167 a week to $267 in 1975. SHORT SNORTS State Insurance Board held a hearing Wednesday on changes in fire and homeowners insurance rates. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin resigned as vice-chairman of the State Republican Party. A bill providing for semi-monthly payment of state employees and a constitutional amendment to control proliferation of water districts have been pre-filed in the Senate. Gov. Preston Smith approved a $263,618 allocation of federal funds for Economic Opportunities Development Corporation in Atascosa, Karnes and Wilson counties. An application has been filed for a new state bank in Lancaster, Dallas County.

The State Supreme Court affirmed a Plainview jury and Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals finding that an insurance company owed damages for accepting health insurance premiums from an old couple without intending to pay claims. A Tyler man lost an appeal to the Supreme Court in a suit for $25,000 in insurance on his wife who died of gunshot wounds nine days after she applied for coverage. The Supreme Court agreed Baytown Savings Association was entitled to a charter to do business. CANDIDATES SPEND MILLIONS - U. S. Sen. John Tower and Governor-elect Dolph Briscoe spent a record $5 million in their campaigns. Tower, best financed congressional candidate in the country, reported expenditures of $2.6 million. Briscoe reported he spent $2.4 million. Tower's Democratic opponent, Barefoot Sanders, said he spent $265,674. Briscoe's Republican opponent, State Sen. Henry Grover, reported outlays of $1.2 million. Tower listed contributions of $2,597,466 and debts of $19,371. Briscoe itemized contributions of $1,939,896, indicating he picked up a $500,000 deficit. Reseachers Hunt For Weevils Weak Link

The Key to developing more effective boll weevil control programs, will probably depend upon a better understanding of weak links in the life cycle of the pest. Such a weak link may exist in the overwintering stage of the boll weevil says Dr. Don Rummel, research entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Data collected over the past few years indicates strongly that the key to winter survival of the boll weevil in West Texas is the amount and favorability of overwintering habitats near cotton. In West Texas heavy mesquite and shiny oak cover appear to provide the most favorable boll weevil overwintering sites. Rummel says that a study in now underway on boll weevil overwintering sites in the High and Rolling Plains cotton producing area. Researchers hope to classify all types of potential overwintering sites and determine the factors which make them suitable for winter survival of the insect. The overwintering stage is a critical period for the boll weevil since the insect must survive for a period of up to six months before cotton is available. A better understanding of the factors involved in the overwintering stage of the boll weevil may offer a new insight into possible control techniques Rummel said.

One possibility for control would be modification of favorable overwintering habitats by burning or other forms of brush control. However, this approach would be feasible only if the habitats were not very large. A promising approach at this time would be directing the weevils into less favorable habitat where they could not survive the winter Rummel states. Preliminary work indicates that the boll weevil pheromone may be used to attract boll weevils from cotton fields in the fall into restricted overwintering areas. If this technique can be perfected we might be able to attract overwintering boll weevils into areas where conditions would be unfavorable for survival Rummel said.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Cure Guaranteed?

Gerald was a born skeptic. When a doctor suggested surgery for the stiffness in his left arm, Gerald demanded a flat guarantee of good results. The doctor, confident of success, gave the guarantee.

But the operation, through no one's fault, turned out to be a failure. Gerald duly sued the doctor on grounds of "breach of contract." And, even though the doctor had done nothing wrong medically, the court ruled that Gerald had a good case.

A doctor, like an engineer or a carpenter, can make a legally binding guarantee if he is so inclined.

Nevertheless, since medicine is not an exact science, this seldom happens. Courts point out that doctors often do—and should—give "therapeutic reassurance" to their patients without intending to make a positive guarantee. "The doctor's reassurance that his patient will be all right," said one court, "must not be converted into a binding promise by the disappointed or the quarrelsome."

In another case, a doctor remarked to his patient that a certain treatment would "make a new man out of you." When the treatment was tried with less than complete success, this patient too claimed damages for breach of contract.

But the court found no basis for liability. The judge said no reasonable patient would read into the doctor's comment a positive assurance that he would indeed become a new man.

A special problem has arisen in connection with sterilization procedures that fail to prevent the later conception and birth of a child. Even assuming that the doctor has given a firm guarantee, has the patient actually suffered any harm by having a baby? Some courts have simply recoiled at the idea that a baby is a liability—at least, if mother and child are healthy. Denying one such claim, a judge said: "The cost was outweighed by the blessing."
