Class Receives Notes From Mrs. Johnson

On January 22, 1973, the day that former President Lyndon Johnson died, the children in Mrs. Helen Bryant's first grade class at Richland Hills Primary School expressed a wish that they would like to express their sympathy to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Mrs. Bryant suggested that the class write letters to the family. The class did write letters and on Monday, March 12, each individual student in the class received acknowledgements from the Johnson family.

MORE VANDALISM REPORTED . . . Muleshoe is getting a bad reputation due to several incidents of vandalism lately. These two pickups, one belonging to Rev. H.D. Hunter and the other one belonging to Billy Reese were both stripped of their tires Sunday night in front of their respective owners' homes. Both homes are located in the 1700 block of West Avenue E. Both of the pickups were sitting in the driveways and were not parked out in the street. This is just another addition to a long line of vandalism cases that have been reported during the past few weeks.

BAC Discusses ASCS Closings

Nolan Harlan, president of the Bailey County Farmers Union, met with the Businessmen's Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Tuesday morning.

The meeting was called on the decision of closing the local ASCS office.

At this time, no decision or announcement has been made as to which counties will be involved.

According to a letter written to Congressman George Mahon from E.J. Pearson, acting administrator of the United States Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation and Conservation Service in Washington, D.C., all ASCS offices will be directly affected by the cutback of agriculture funds.

However, the local Chamber of Commerce and the Bailey County Farmers Union are in agreement that everyone in the county should work to keep the office operating in Bailey County.

Farmers Union has had a county-wide write-in on this matter and now the Chamber of Commerce is going to have petitions and also encourage people to write to key congressmen and Senators on this matter.

Nolan invites any other organization to work with them at any time and in any way. For further information call Nolan at 933-2317.

The group also discussed that agriculture costs the taxpayers two cents out of every dollar paid in taxes. Out of this two per cent revenue, 14 per cent of the administration's budget cut and program termin-

Agricultural Seminar Slated Monday Night

On Monday night, March 27, Bailey County farmers will have an opportunity to hear five important agricultural topics discussed in Muleshoe in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria during a Commercial Agricultural Seminar. This meeting was developed and is being sponsored by the extension Field Crops Committee headed by J.G. Arnn of Bailey County.

This meeting has been designed to help meet the needs of the commercial producer of this area. As we try to meet the expanding needs of the commercial agricultural problems of Bailey County, we find situations from time to time that need to be discussed and covered that will help producers realize more profit.

The following topics and speakers have been secured for the meetings:

High Micronaire Cotton Varieties and Quality of Planting Seed, by Dr. Robert Metzler, Area Agronomist in Cotton; New Forages to Consider in Bailey County, by Dr. James Suprah.

Organized Crime Rampant In Texas

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of five stories dealing with the rise of organized crime in Texas and the steps being taken to combat it. Education of the public to the dangers of organized criminal activities is one of the prime goals of the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council.

Crime Prevention Council. Statistics used in these stories were made available through the Council in conjunction with the Texas Department of Public Safety. This first story deals with a broad view of the problem. Subsequent stories will deal in specific types of criminal activity. Attorney General John Hill and Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Department of Public Safety, are acutely aware of the problem and both have it high on their priority list.

"We are not about to sit back and let Texans be victimized by mobsters," Hill said recently. Speir commented, "We have all aspects of the problem under close surveillance and already are making many arrests. It may be however, that new laws will be needed to assist us in cracking down hard on certain elements of organized crime."

Hill and Speir are co-chairmen of the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council which consists of the state's top law enforcement personnel.

The Council has compiled some startling information. --Gang killings, used effectively to gain promotion up through the ranks, are still occurring in and around the major metropolitan areas.

The majority of the gangland murders are believed tied to narcotics trafficking and underworld power struggles. --Bookmaking is perhaps the largest money maker for organized crime in the state. Bookies realized a gross profit of $98 million from both college and professional football games during the 1971 season alone. Bets totaled some $815 million which means about 12 per cent "off the top" went into the pockets of organized crime."

"Bookmaking is the most intricately organized field in all

Those governments participating would be required to pay 15 per cent or $30 as their part of the cost of each kit. It will be required that one officer from each agency receiving the kit must attend a 40 hour criminal investigation school to be trained in its proper use. The application would amount to $20,000. dependent on responses from local governments in the region. In the area of alcoholism, directors focused on a newly stated policy by the Big Spring State Hospital concerning admission of alcoholics. The policy restricts the method of admissions to their facility and it was the opinion of SPAG's Alcoholism Advisory Committee that such a policy is ill-timed due to limited resources presently available in the South Plains area to treat these individuals locally. The board of directors in their action approved the writing of letters to the state hospital and to various state agencies and community leaders within this area requesting reconsideration of the policy to provide temporary relief of this new policy restriction, until such time as the planning work being done by SPAG in the area of alcoholism is completed and services on a local basis made available to cope with the problem.

The closing will also mean a payroll loss in Muleshoe and inconvenience for the whole county if the office moves to a place of considerable distance. Recently, the state Farmers Union president stated that a survey showed that 88 per cent of urban law enforcement officers expressed support for the farm bill in a recent fly-in by Farmers Union.

Kiwanis...

Bartley Dowell, Hereford, District Lt. Governor.
The Kiwanis Club of Muleshoe was organized on February 5, 1973. The organizational meeting took place at 7:30 p.m. at the XIT Steak House with Jack Smith, District Representative of Liberal, Kansas, directing the meeting, charging the new members with preliminary responsibilities, and explaining the purpose and operation of Kiwanis.
The new Kiwanis Club will meet at 6 a.m. on Wednesdays in the Corral.

A year after the first Kiwanis Club was organized the Kiwanis Club of Hamilton Ontario, Canada was chartered, and the organization grew apace in the two countries. On April 17, 1962, a program of international extension was begun with the chartering of the Kiwanis Club of Tijuana, Mexico. Since that time Kiwanis Clubs have been built in Western Europe, the Far East, the Caribbean area, South and Central America, New Zealand and Australia.
The Motto of the club is 'WE BUILD' and the purpose is to render voluntary service to youth, community and nation. The membership of the club includes business and professional leaders. In order to maintain a diversity of interests and occupation, each club limits its membership to two from each business or professional classification.
The "Average" Kiwanian is 46 years old, has two children, whom he intends to send to college, owns his own home and his automobile. He is a community leader, participating actively in many civic affairs. He is often a member of the city council, chairman of the community fund, director of the Red Cross, a leader in Boy and Girl Scout activities, and active in the work of his church.

The policy for Kiwanis International is developed by an International Board of Trustees, headed by an International President. Also on the board are the president-elect, immediate past president, two vice-presidents, a treasurer, 12 trustees, a secretary and an associate secretary.
Kiwanis International is divided into 30 administrative districts. Each district has a governor and it, governor who administer divisions, which are geographical groupings of clubs. European clubs are banded together into a group known as Kiwanis International - Europe. There are also several provisional districts -- Mexico, the Republic of the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.
Key Club International is a Kiwanis sponsored high school organization for boys. Current membership of Key Club is 90,000 in more than 3,600 high schools across the U.S. and Canada and in the Bahamas. Key Clubbers perform much the same type of service work in the high school that Kiwanians do in the adult community.
Circle K International is a college men's service organization sponsored by Kiwanis. There are currently 850 Circle K Clubs on college campuses in the U.S. and Canada. Some 10,000 collegians are members of the organization.

The speaker for the charter banquet, C.T. Bush, Sr., is a resident of Athens, Texas. He is a board chairman of the Henderson County Memorial Park, Corplk the board chairman of the Bush Development Corp., and owner of the Bush Polled Hereford Ranch.
He and his wife, Rosalie, have three children, Charles Bush of Athens, Lee E. Bush of Athens, and Mrs. C.W. Bess of Ft. Worth. They also have three grandsons.
Bush was educated at the Marion Military Institute in Alabama and joined the Kiwanis Club of Athens in 1945. He has been Lt. Governor of Division 14, 1956; District Chairman, New Club Building 1968-71; Governor-elect, 1971-72; and has 28 years perfect attendance.

Lasso® hates Carelessweed!

Lasso, the preemergence herbicide from Monsanto controls Carelessweed as well as other broadleaf weeds and almost a dozen annual grasses that compete with cotton. What's more, Lasso doesn't carryover to harm rotational crops. So even if your cotton gets hailed out, you can come right back in with soybeans or corn. You don't have to incorporate Lasso, either. Apply it preemergence at planting and you're through.

This year, use Lasso. And get the Carelessweed before it gets your cotton.

MJHS Choir Activities

by: Kacy Sanderlin
The seventh and eighth grade Choralairs attended an all day clinic March 1. The clinic was directed by Mr. Tom Moseley from Abilene. The Choralairs spent all day working on their contest music.
On March 6, the Choralairs spent all day at contest at Coronado High School in Lubbock, Texas.
They sang "In Thee Is Gladness", "Jubilate Deo", and "Up and Get Us Gone". The Choralairs got second and third place.
We congratulate them on their accomplishment and look forward to their performance of "In God We Trust" April 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Junior High Preparing For Variety Show

Preparations for the Muleshoe Junior High School Variety Show have begun. The show, to be put on April 9th at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium, will consist of various talents of M.J.H.S. students.
The sponsors, Mr. Rogers of the eighth grade, Mr. Richardson for the seventh grade, and Miss Pettit of sixth grade, with Mr. Gregory and Mr. Parish assisting. Very few entries have been turned in and we encourage all students with any talent to enter. Entry forms may be obtained from any of the three sponsors.

Top Television Program Ratings

The Journalism Class has taken a survey to see which television show was the favorite among the students. There were some very unusual shows nominated, but this is the way the Jr. High's taste went: 1. Waltons, 2. Kung Fu, 3. Sonny and Cher, 4. Bill Cosby, 5. Rookies, 6. M*A*S*H, 7. Brady Bunch, 8. Maude, 9. Jackson Five and in tenth was Partridge Family. Apparently the school really goes for the Waltons. Later on in the year we will be conducting another T.V. survey to see if the Waltons is still tops.

Sixth Grade Class Reads "King Arthur"

The students in the morning classes of the sixth grade reading class under the direction of Miss Nancy Pettit have enjoyed reading the book entitled "King Arthur". Miss Pettit has made the book most interesting by making the students present an illustration that recalls a situation that happened in the book. For instance, some students made a fiery dragon that announced the birth of a son to King Arthur. Other students elected to dress dolls that would resemble characters that were in the book. There were very close to 80 projects that were displayed in the sixth grade reading room. This was a most interesting and creative way to present the book to the sixth grade students; and, Miss Pettit would like to think that everyone is really enjoying it.

Students Have Drills

by: Edwin Watson
Lately the Jr. High students have been having tornado and fire drills. In the case of a tornado drill the principal rings one very long bell. The students go out and sit in the hall and face the wall with their hands over their heads and be quiet. During the fire drill, the principal rings the school bell three short times. The students are supposed to march quietly, single-file out the closest door. If the door has a red obstacle in front of it that represents a fire. The students then have to turn around and go to another door. The students will probably be prepared in case of a fire or tornado.

Student Council Will Attend Convention

The Muleshoe Junior High Student Council is planning to attend the State Student Council Convention March 28, 29, and 30 in Austin. There will be four students attending the convention, those being Gary Gunter, Brent Gunter, Donita Dale and Patty Pena. There the students will attend what is referred to as a "Leadership workshop". They will learn how to better themselves and their Student Council, also better and more meaningful activities to start among themselves and in their school.
The convention will be held in the convention center in Austin, Texas. They will be staying at the Sheraton Hilton Hotel. These representatives will be traveling to Austin in Mr. Ronnie Jones' car. Since the High School is running for an office, these students have been helping the high school's campaign. The sponsors that will be attending are Mrs. Mary Scoggin and Mr. Ronnie Jones. The trip will surely be an unforgettable experience for these six people that will be attending.

MJHS Girls Athletics

by: Donita Dale
The Seventh and Eighth grade Athletic girls have been taking up many different events. Such as Volleyball, High Jump, Bowling, Shuffle ball, Table Tennis, Tumbling, and Tennis. The reason is so everyone can participate in the different events, Track and Field, Softball, Archery and Baseball Spring Training will be taken up later on in the year.

The best way to get along with people is to smile, be friendly, and seldom say what you think.

It's peculiar but the well-to-do often seem more reluctant than the poor to contribute to a public benefit.

Arthritis And VD A Medical Emergency

Gonorrhea can lead to a serious form of arthritis and "a pandemic of venereal disease sweeping the world today is accompanied by a resurgence of gonococcal arthritis."

The warning was voiced here today by Dr. Frank R. Schmid of Northwestern University Medical School in Chicago, speaking at national medical meetings of The Arthritis Foundation at the Pittsburgh Hilton. "Gonococcal arthritis is by far the most frequent form of infectious arthritis," he said, "and it can strike violently." "Once it occurs," Dr. Schmid stated, "it becomes a medical emergency. Joints must be tapped regardless of whether it is midnight or Sunday afternoon. The offending microorganism must be identified on a smear or in a bacterial culture."

Treatment must begin at once, he continued, because joint destruction can be exceedingly swift. The drug of choice is penicillin, administered intravenously to a hospitalized patient. Response to proper therapy is rapid. The cure rate for gonococcal arthritis is almost 100 per cent. Because it is infectious, and the causative agent is known, this is one form of arthritis that rheumatologists can treat and achieve a prompt payoff.

Because men and women with gonorrhea often do not know they have it, they may first see a doctor because of arthritis symptoms rather than gonorrhea symptoms. Even then, the arthritis is sometimes difficult to diagnose, Dr. Schmid said. It is often preceded by a characteristic rash with which many physicians are unfamiliar.

However, once seen, Dr. Schmid continued, it is easy to recognize again. Gonococcal arthritis is much more frequent in women than in men. This is because the symptoms of gonorrhea are more hidden in females and the arthritis may gain a foothold because the underlying disease is not recognized.

Dr. Schmid cautioned his colleagues to "think" gonorrhea and gonococcal arthritis whenever faced with a puzzling case of fever, discomfort and "vague" joint symptoms.

The fact that gonococcal arthritis is reemerging as a major problem is underlined by two other scientific reports on the subject to be presented at The Arthritis Foundation meetings here this week.

Dr. K.D. Brandt of Boston University will talk about the possibility that there are two different forms of gonococcal arthritis.

Dr. A. Garcia Kutzbach of the University of Tennessee College of Medicine will report on the use of penicillin in the treatment of gonococcal arthritis.

Arthritis in its many forms affects more than 17 million Americans seriously enough to require medical care.

It is not known how many of these have gonococcal arthritis, but it is clear that the incidence is rising with the increase in gonorrhea itself.

CASTOR BEANS GOOD CROP

Castor beans will be a good crop for producers in this area in 1973. Several of our farmers reported that they were a good cash crop for them this past year. "I really believe that they can be an even better income producer this year", Earl Richards states. Castors are a crop that has the approval of the A.S.C.S. for planting on set-aside acres in 1973 and many of our producers don't feel that they can afford to let good land lay idle. Set-aside acres must be kept clean and this costs money, so why not apply this expense to the production of another cash crop.

We have a good market with a guaranteed minimum price of 6¢ per pound for clean beans. This market price could be higher if the price of castor oil is high at the time it is marketed by Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. This escalator clause is made possible because of a marketing agreement the mill has with a domestic consumer. An arrangement of this kind offers us the opportunity to continue castor production indefinitely. Contracts are available at the Muleshoe Cooperative Gin and Earl will be happy to explain the details to anyone who is interested in producing castors this year.

Our local castor industry can remain healthy if enough of the crop is grown and Plains Cooperative Oil Mill is willing to contract for up to 30,000 acres on a first come, first serve basis. This crop may be even more important to us in the future, especially if we have a continuing decline in farm subsidies. We believe that castors offer our cooperative members a means of some diversification in their cropping system and at the same time an opportunity to increase their farm income.

There's enough custom harvesting equipment available to handle the harvesting of the crop. The control of volunteer castors has been greatly improved. A chemical applied to the land following castors has almost completely eliminated volunteer castors in grain sorghum. A light roguing may be necessary before harvest. This has eliminated the only significant objection to castor production.

There are plenty high quality seed available with seed of the highest yielding hybrids in good supply. The seed produced in 1972 has strong, high germination. Mr. Richards says this seed is available at the Muleshoe Cooperative Gin. He reminds us that the water and fertility requirements of castors is about the same as that for cotton and that it is an additional cash crop that does well in our area. It certainly is a crop that merits the consideration of our cooperative members.

If there should be further questions concerning the production of castors or the contract marketing agreement, Mr. Earl Richards of the Muleshoe Cooperative Gin invites you to stop by the gin office.

PX 50A HYBRID CORN

harvests early - 14 to 21 days quicker than full season hybrids

YIELD CHAMPION
MATT IRWIN - TEXLINE

Matt Irwin knows that it takes a good corn hybrid for intensive management to produce champion yields. Last spring he went with PX 50A. "The 207.08 bushels per acre is the highest yield I have raised."

On April 10th Irwin preplanted 200 lbs. of NH3. Five days later he applies 600 lbs. per acre of 4-10-10 and 1 lb. of boron, 2 lbs. zinc and 3 lbs. of manganese. In mid-July he added 75 lbs. per acre of 28-0-0 to the soil through his pivot sprinkler system. He irrigated 8 times. Weed and insects were controlled with chemicals.

Likes Harvestability of PX 50A. "I like the way PX 50A dries down early in the season", (16.2%), stated Mr. Irwin. "Standability was good. It threshes good with no problems. After harvesting was completed on October 18th he let his cattle in the stalks - "for that extra profit".

Crime...

have just touched the surface but we are making progress." --Prostitution is prevalent in many areas, especially those with sizeable populations. Available information places the average gross weekly income per prostitute in Texas at $1,400 for those working in the more sophisticated operations. This is usually split on a 60/40 basis with the "House" or the procurer.

Prostitutes, in many instances, are lured into that "profession" to obtain money to support a costly narcotics habit.

--At least eighteen separate narcotics smuggling rings are known to be operating in Texas cities. There are several hundred major traffickers who have been located and identified by various law enforcement agencies.

Vigorous prosecution at all levels of law enforcement has been stepped up on drug pushers. Arrests are increasing statewide.

The "take" in Texas on illicit drug traffic is almost impossible to reduce to dollars and cents, partially because of strong indications that in addition to supplying users in the state, the pushers also supply the markets in at least nine other states.

Texas drug rings are known, for example, to supply connections in Chicago, New York and Miami.

This unsavory phase of gangland is highly profitable, however. It also leaves in its wake thousands of broken and shattered lives and death. Violence comes easy in the uneasy world of the drug pusher.

Nuevo Laredo's dope war bloodbaths have attracted national and international attention to that Mexican city just across the Rio Grande from Texas. A Bexar County grand jury report last spring 'isolated' nine criminal organizations connected with narcotics headquartered in San Antonio and the surrounding area. Since then San Antonio police have put several of these out of business and are actively working on the others.

The report said "no indications of a direct connection with the Mafia" was found in San Antonio.

District Attorney Ted Butler says, however, "organized syndicates are directly connected as purchasers and sellers of illegal drugs."

--Poetically, or jokingly, dubbed the "Wheels of Crime," no less than 40 auto theft rings have been uncovered in Texas. Last year in Dallas alone car theft hit near the $7 million mark.

Statewide there were 48,323 auto thefts reported in 1971. Valued at over $50 million, these hot cars were "fenced" in Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, California, Mexico and even Europe.

Not only are cars stolen to be stripped of their valuable parts but also resold after changing the true identification. Texas law enforcement officials state flatly that stolen vehicles figure heavily as transportation for crooks involved in armed robbery, kidnapping and other offenses.

The thieves don't limit themselves to automobiles by any means.

Campers, motorcycles, mobile homes, heavy equipment, boats and motors -- just about anything and everything on two or four wheels is fair game.

In the theft area, the problem of the "fence" is a major one. Many of them recruit newcomers, especially youths for a car heist, with the thieves thus launched on criminal careers.

Narcotics, car theft rings, the 'fence' (purchaser of stolen goods), and bookmaking are areas in which law enforcement officials feel stronger laws are needed.

Specifically, the refer to the political hot potato of electronic surveillance.

Federal court ordered electronic surveillance, which included but is not limited to wire tapping, is legal under the Federal Omnibus Crime Control Act, but the Texas Legislature has yet to authorize it in this state by statute.

HIGH PLAINS SORGHUM GROWERS PROVE IT PAYS TO PLANT McNAIR

HOW? THROUGH STANDABILITY & YIELDS!

ARDIS BARTON
Earth, Texas

"McNair 654 and 650 will both have a place in our farming plans in '73! I've planted 654 for two years with good results and I tried 650 for the first time last year. It stood well even after a severe ice storm."

GENE STEELING
Farwell, Texas

"McNair 654 Maize is hard to beat! This is the best I have ever had. It made about 10,500 lbs./acre for me in 1972!"

FLOYD BANISTER
Alton, Texas

"McNair's 895 and 654 hybrids performed well for me in '72 in both yields and standability. These two hybrids are outstanding enough for me to recommend them to my neighbors."

GENE TEMPLETON
Muleshoe, Texas

"After planting 700 acres of McNair 654 in '72, I plan to plant it again in '73--along with McNair 650. This last hybrid looked mighty good in my neighbor's fields last summer."

TO SING IN ALL REGION CHOIR . . . Five Muleshoe Junior High School students won places in the All Region Junior High Honor Choir. The auditions were held at Wilson Junior High School in Lubbock on March 17. Muleshoe students selected to sing in the choir are, from left, Renae Ruthardt, Danny Ward, Melody Mauldin, Randell Hamilton and Sharla Farmer. The All Region Choir will perform at Lubbock High School on April 14, at 7:30 p.m.

"While not in favor of just opening it up entirely, we badly need such a law. But we must see that proper controls such as a court order based on probable cause, proper supervision and discretion are used," said Colonel Speir. "Uses of electronic surveillance must be carefully limited and the penalties for abuse of this power must be high. No bill will ever have my support which does not protect law-abiding citizens from the invasion of their privacy," Governor Briscoe told the Legislature.

Attorney General Hill is also cautious about "bugs" and wire taps. He concurs, though, with Governor Briscoe and Colonel Speir that tightly regulated electronic surveillance can be effective in investigating certain conspiratorial, organized criminal rings - who plot their criminal plans by telephone. "In seeking this type of limited law to assist our law enforcement personnel we must be certain to build in adequate penalties for those who would undertake to illegally invade the privacy of law-abiding citizens," Hill pointed out.

But organized crime in Texas is not limited to gambling, prostitution, narcotics or auto theft. There is evidence the policy rackets have moved into the Gulf Coast area. "The Numbers' long has been a key part of mob business throughout the United States, but apparently it isn't that big a threat in Texas yet.

Poor people are the major customers for numbers racket operators.

Loan sharking has not found too fertile a field in which to operate in Texas, although there is some evidence it exists. Organized crime also has quietly moved in legitimate businesses in Texas in recent years.

Symptoms of criminal schemes to take over legitimate business operations surfaced in Texas during 1972.

A major Texas newspaper reported one "textbook" example in a coastal city.

The owner of a small company was lured into joining a 'mob - controlled conglomerate' by fantastic offers of credit, stability and dizzy promises of rapid financial success.

In the end, the firm's assets were raided (transferred and milked) and the company was left bankrupt.

Lawsuits pending in Texas courts list charges of "fraudulent advertising of assets resulting in an increase in stock prices," "conspiring to gain control," and "attempting to dissipate the assets of both the company and the holding company."

One federal crime fighter recently noted "more and more racketeers are going into securities transactions."

In recent months several Texas banks were defrauded in an illicit securities scheme began in San Francisco and had ramifications in New Jersey.

"Cities hit in this one scheme included Houston, El Paso and Lubbock," investigators said. One of the oldest tools of organized crime is the application of pressure to coerce potential victims.

Operators within criminal ranks will resort even to murder if the purpose suit their bosses. Even office holders are not immune from being the object of criminal conspiracies.

For example, one office holder found himself the target of an alleged plot which resulted in indictment of three South Texas men at the conclusion of a two-month investigation.

"The conspiracy involved the attempt to hire someone to commit murder," said a court spokesman.

Although it may not sound like it from the above facts Texas organized crime really isn't rampant at this point.

There's no Murder, Inc. as such, and there are no gang lords with overtones of "God-fathers."

Organized crime is not necessarily synonymous with the Mafia.

"In general," said Colonel Speir, "it consists of unlawful activities of the members of a highly organized, disciplined and sophisticated association engaged in supplying illegal goods and services."

The Colonel added, "Home-grown criminal organization frequently employ the same tactics used by those in the more classic organized criminal operations."

Attorney General Hill puts it another way. "We know the problem exists, and all segments of the criminal justice system are working on it. Texans deserve nothing but the best efforts of us all - they have been and will continue to get nothing less to make sure their lives and property are protected."

This series of articles will continue with specifics in each of the major organized crime fields and will outline what is being done about it.

Citizen support in the fight against organized crime will be explored as well as some causes and effects. The next story deals with auto theft.

 Life would be more pleasant, if pay days came more often than collection days.

 Now that we've had a taste of it, winter doesn't seem all we thought it was last summer.

 The explanation of the younger generation is to be found in the older generation.

Controlling Volunteer Sorghum

LUBBOCK - The rapid build up of volunteer sorghum has caused much concern among farmers, seed producers and weed scientists, says Dr. James Supak, area agronomist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock. These pest, he explains, compete with grain sorghum for nutrients, water and sunlight.

type or weedy sorghums because they are prolific seed producers, contribute to new infestations in succeeding years. In addition, many of off-type or weedy sorghums, because they are prolific seed producers, contribute to new infestations in succeeding years. "Now that farmers are planning their cropping programs for the coming season," Supak says, "this is the time to give some attention to controlling the problem. There are two primary sources of the off-type and weedy sorghums. One is the planting seed, few, if any, hybrid grain sorghum seed are completely free of the undesirable types.

"Another important source are volunteer plants that grow from seed remaining in the soil from previous years. These can come from off-type plants that went to seed in a grain sorghum field or from sudangrass and forage sorghum hybrids which were used for temporary summer pastures and for standing hay in the fall and winter. If these crops were allowed to head out, a large number of the seed produced will be present in the soil and volunteer plants may be even a greater problem in following years."

The length of time it will take to control the volunteer problem will depend on the severity of infestation, the types of sorghums which make up the volunteer crop, weather conditions and the cultural practices used, the agronomist points out.

"Relatively light infestations of the tall, coarse-stemmed offtype sorghums may be virtually eliminated in one or two years. These type plants produce soft seed which are more apt to decompose or germinate during the off season, thus permitting volunteer plants to be eliminated by freezing weather or by fall and spring tillage operations. "To encourage decomposition and volunteer growth in the fall or early spring," Supak says, "it is a good practice to shred and disc immediately after harvest. "In contrast, several years may be required to eliminate the tall, fine-stemmed, open-headed weedy sorghums which resemble the sudangrasses. These types tend to produce hard seed which frequently shatter before harvest, remaining dormant in the soil for several years." Explains Supak, "Both the weedy and off type sorghums are virtually impossible to control by any method other than roguing once they have emerged and are growing in a grain sorghum field. Although it is a fairly expensive operation, roguing is extremely important if crop rotation is not practiced and if the fields are still relatively free of weedy sorghums."
