BELLS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE FOR MURDER OF J. T. DAWES

J. F. and Jim Bell Will Serve Life Terms in the Penitentiary Unless the Case Is Reversed and Remanded.

The murder case against J. F. and Jim Bell, father and son, on trial for killing J. T. Dawes, consumed the remainder of last week. The pleadings of the attorneys were not concluded until late Saturday afternoon, when District Judge John S. Prince delivered his charge to the jury, which retired immediately. Before midnight a verdict was reached, which was to the effect that the defendants should each have a life-term in the penitentiary. The hour being late the jury decided to not have the court officers and the defendants called, but to retire for the night. Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock the court officers were notified that the verdict was ready and the defendants were brought into court. The jury announced its verdict and was discharged.

The defendants will file a motion this (Tuesday) afternoon for a new trial. Should the petition be denied, they will carry their case into the court of criminal appeals.

The jury's verdict has given eminent satisfaction to those who thronged the court house and heard the testimony. It was the general prediction that nothing short of life sentences would be given. Testimony was to the effect that Dawes was attacked by the Bells and beaten with clubs and that, when he attempted to defend himself, was shot to death, receiving four gunshot wounds from a Colt's revolver.

AN APPEAL TO THE SUPPORTERS OF CAMPBELL, BROOKS, HENRY AND DAVIS.

Gentlemen:

You doubtless know that upon your course in the election to be held on the 26th inst. between Senator Culberson and Ex-Gov. Colquitt for United States Senator will depend the RESULT of that election. That is, you have it in your hands to nominate or defeat either of the two candidates. In short, YOU HAVE THE BALANCE OF POWER.

This makes the RESPONSIBILITY for the result of this primary to REST upon your shoulders. Just as you go, the election will go; and just as you FAIL to go, if you do not vote, the result will be.

We do not see how any of you can vote for Colquitt, and we feel that you should be a UNIT for Culberson. In any event, we are confident that the great majority of you, and perhaps ninety (90) per cent of you, are in sympathy with the present Senator.

Therefore, you should understand that Culberson's success depends upon your VOTE AND INFLUENCE. Without it Colquitt must NECESSARILY win. You can see how absolutely CLEAR that is. It is INEVITABLE. We need not stop to discuss ISSUES with you. You are intelligent men and FULLY understand the situation. The question is: Do you appreciate the POWER that is in your hands, and will you EXERCISE it properly? We hope you will. We BELIEVE you will. We APPEAL to you TO DO IT. The ISSUES are great. The result FAR-REACHING. The Democracy of Texas is ON TRIAL. The Democracy of the NATION is IMPERILED. Woodrow Wilson's success or defeat depends largely upon the result of this primary. What will you do? The EYES OF THE NATION are upon us. The Republicans of the North and East are WATCHING AND WAITING. As Texas goes in this contest, they believe the Nation will go in November. They have good reason to so believe. Will you ENCOURAGE them, or will you DISCOURAGE them? You know how this is. We need not elaborate to show it to you. We URGE that you think about these things, and that you do your WHOLE DUTY on the 26th by supporting Senator Culberson. Only in this way do we feel that you can PROPERLY exercise the great POWER and meet the RESPONSIBILITIES resting upon you. Houston County Culberson Club. (Advertisement.)

Death of Mrs. A. L. Porter.

At the old homestead, where she had lived for so many years, Mrs. A. L. Porter passed away last Thursday morning. She was the widow of the late J. M. Porter, for whom Porter Springs was named. Mr. and Mrs. Porter, after marriage, spent their life at Porter Springs.

Mrs. Porter, who died at the age of 79 years, was a sister of Dr. J. B. Smith, Mrs. B. B. Arrington and Mrs. Bettie Chamberlain, all of Crockett. The Smith family of which they were members was reared on a plantation not many miles from Porter Springs.

Early in life Mrs. Porter became a member of the Methodist church to whose teachings her devotion grew until the time of her death. The remains were brought to Glenwood cemetery at Crockett for interment. Funeral services were held from the First Methodist church Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. S. F. Tenney, who had been a friend of Mrs. Porter for many years.

Mrs. Porter had been twice married, first to Isaac Adair, who lost his life fighting for the Confederacy. Of this union Mrs. Emma Brown of Fort Worth is yet living. Her second marriage was to J. M. Porter, a widower, whose two sons yet living are I. A. Porter of Torreon, Mexico, and J. A. Porter of San Antonio.

Those yet living of Mrs. Porter's children by her second marriage are: Mrs. Joe Adams, J. M. Porter and A. S. Porter of Crockett and Karl Porter of Porter Springs.

Mrs. Porter was one of the country's best women, and many deeds of neighborliness and charitableness are attributed to her.

Just the Thing for Diarrhoea.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over two weeks," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days was as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL OVERRULED IN MURDER CASE.

Jim Bell Accepts Sentence, But J. F. Bell Appeals Case to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

A motion for a new trial in the case of J. F. and Jim Bell, convicted for killing J. T. Dawes and given life sentence, was heard by Judge John S. Prince in the district court of Houston county Wednesday morning. The motion was overruled.

Jim Bell, the younger of the two, accepted sentence and will go to the penitentiary. The father, J. F. Bell, gave notice of appeal to the court of criminal appeals. He will remain in the Houston county jail until his sentence is affirmed or reversed.

Four Drowned Sunday Afternoon.

Messrs. J. B. Broderick, Chas. Long Jr. and Harvey Bayne Jr. made an automobile trip to Huntsville Sunday. On the return trip they passed the scene of a most pathetic tragedy. About a mile beyond Riverside three young girls had gone bathing in Harmon creek, which empties into Trinity river near Riverside. The girls were Gladys Berry, 10 years old; Jewell Berry, 14 years old, and Woody Francis, 12 years, the last named a daughter of Dr. W. F. Francis of Huntsville. The other two girls were daughters of Ed Berry of Huntsville, who, with Mrs. Berry and Miss Lois Francis, an older sister of the drowned girl, had come out to the creek for a Sunday afternoon outing. The scene was 12 miles from Huntsville.

The girls who had gone into the water stepped over an unseen ledge and disappeared. Mr. Berry, seeing the danger the girls were in, plunged into the water to save them, but not being an expert swimmer, he lost his life without rendering any assistance to the girls, all three of whom drowned. The screams of Mrs. Berry and Miss Lois Francis attracted near-by people and the alarm soon became general, reaching to Riverside, where telephone connection was had with Huntsville. Diving parties recovered the bodies of the three young girls and the father, but life had been extinct for some time when recovered. Messrs. Broderick, Long and Bayne arrived soon after the bodies were recovered, but there was nothing they could do and they came on to Crockett.

Dispatches to the daily press announce that there are four newly-made graves in the Huntsville cemetery and many saddened homes as a result of this pathetic tragedy.

A. H. Murchison Dead.

A. H. Murchison, a former citizen of Houston county, died in Houston, following a surgical operation, Wednesday morning. Mr. Murchison's home was in San Antonio.

The remains will be brought to Crockett for interment. The funeral will be held from the residence of T. D. Craddock this (Thursday) afternoon and will be under the direction of the Masonic lodge. Interment will occur in Glenwood cemetery.

Mr. Murchison was the elder son of the late John W. Murchison, who at one time was one of Crockett's merchants. He was born at Porter Springs, where his father at that time conducted a general store. The Murchisons later moved to Crockett and engaged in business, the son being interested in the firm. The family removed to San Antonio before the death of the father, who left here on account of ill health.

Since going to San Antonio Mr. Murchison has been engaged as a travelling salesman and has been a frequent visitor here, where he had an extensive acquaintance and friendship. He leaves a mother and an unmarried sister in San Antonio, a married sister in Austin and a brother, John Murchison Jr., in Corsicana, besides many relatives in Houston county, to mourn his demise while yet in the prime of life.

Changing The Day

A Shrewd Move That Brought Its Reward

By RAYMOND CAMPBELL

Alphonse set the coffee pot close to Sheldon's hand and retired to the bar. The dinner rush was over, and he was certain that no one would come now until after the theaters let out.

Meanwhile the two young people at the table would surely chat for half an hour or so, which time Alphonse might spend with profit in discussing with the fat bartender certain nice points in the mixing of fancy beverages.

Meanwhile his two patrons sipped their coffee, and Sheldon lit the cigar that Alphonse had brought. When he dined alone the cigar came from the corner box on the five cent end, but when the young lady came Alphonse always brought a perfecto from the box in the ice chest with an elaborately casual "The usual, monsieur."

This was intended to impress the guest with the belief that Sheldon habitually smoked fat perfectos with red and gold sashes. Tonight Alphonse's elaborate politeness was ignored by the usually genial Sheldon.

"Now for the news," he began as the waiter headed for the bar. "I couldn't wait for Saturday to tell you, though it is only two days off."

"Isn't it funny that we always fall back on Saturday night?" commented Bess. "I don't know when we have been out to dinner in the middle of the week."

"Never, I guess," agreed Sheldon. "You see, Saturday is a sort of holiday. I get my salary, and you get your check from the publishers, and we're both happy and content, even if not in agreement."

"We would be in agreement if you would only stop considering a proposal as an essential feature of the Saturday celebration," reminded Bess, with a show of severity. "You must go and spoil it all by proposing, Fred, when I've told you long ago that to marry would spoil my career. I am making a little name for myself in the art world, and I can't keep house and paint too."

"And I've told you," retorted Fred, "that I would not stop asking you to marry me until you said 'Yea.' I guess I've proposed to you sixty times in the last sixty weeks, Bess, and I'm good for sixty times sixty if I have to hold out that long."

"Did you ask me out to dinner to propose to me?" demanded Bess.

"Not primarily," he admitted. "What I wanted to tell you was that my big chance has come at last. Benny Groll has made a good contract, and he needs a man to put a little money and a lot of time into the business. I have more experience than money, but Ben wants me, and he'll give me a half interest if I'll come in. It's what I've been working and waiting for ever since I came to town, Bess, and this is to celebrate my good luck."

A slender hand was stretched across the table and grasped his own.

"Dear boy, I am so glad," she said sincerely. "You have worked hard, and you are entitled to your reward."

"Which is why I am going to ask for it," retorted Sheldon. "I am going to break my usual custom and propose on Thursday instead of Saturday, Bess. I want you to work for, dear. It will be pretty hard camping out with the construction gang and working on the job with the field corps. I want to come back to camp every night and feel that I have done another good day's work for you."

"Work, like virtue, should be its own reward," paraphrased Bess. Sheldon shook his head impatiently.

"I know all that," he said, "but that sounds better than it works out. I want to feel that when the job is done and Groll & Sheldon become a firm of importance Mrs. Sheldon is proud of what her husband has done."

"I shall always be proud of what you do, Fred," reminded Bess. "We two are the only ones from the old town in all this big city. We have always been chums, and of course I shall be proud of your great achievements."

"That's not what I want," said Fred impatiently. "Of course I am going after this chance, no matter what, and I'll work as hard without your promise as with it, but it will be sweetness to the labor, Bess, if you tell me that I may work for you."

"Won't you take a career by proxy, dear? Do you want to work to the end of your days and live the loveless life? Aren't there times when you want to give it all up and just stop worrying about checks that publishers do not send and canvases that don't sell, though you know that they are as good as some that bring big money? Don't you tire of your career sometimes, and don't you feel as though it would be nice to let some one else do the worrying?"

"And if I do?" she asked, with an odd little note in her voice.

"Then let me carry the burden," he pleaded. "Let me do the planning for you. In six months from now I shall be at the top of the heap and making money, but you can make those six months of toil very pleasant, dear, if you will only listen to your heart—and me."

"I have listened to you," she reminded, with a little laugh. "Why, Freddy, there has not been a Saturday night in more than a year that you have not urged me to marry you. I'd like to, dear, but there is my career."

"Does it all pay?" he demanded.

"Is it worth all the worry and the contriving?"

"Perhaps," she said uncertainly, and Sheldon pressed the advantage.

"Wouldn't it be nice if you didn't have to scrimp and scrape and plan the spending of every penny?" he demanded. "Wouldn't it be nice to have a real home instead of a three room flat, to eat regular meals instead of chafing dish messes and to—well, to have me across the table every night instead of just Saturdays? It would be our own table, too," he reminded, "and not a table d'hote."

"Perhaps."

It was spoken so low that Sheldon had to lean across the table to catch the whispered word. But he did catch it, and his face beamed satisfaction.

"And you will marry me?" he cried delightedly.

This time he did not hear, but he knew that the coveted answer had been spoken, and he caught the hand that toyed nervously with the cup.

He spoke no word, for none was needed. Their eyes told each other messages that never have been put into words, spoke a language that only lovers know—and Sheldon was content.

It was Alphonse whose discreet but suggestive cough from the doorway leading to the main room recalled them to more earthly matters and an unpaid check. Sheldon drew a bill from his pocket and laid it upon the tray.

"Keep the change," he said, "and celebrate our good fortune." Then Alphonse, helping him into his overcoat, assured his radiant customer in French and English that it should be done.

Alphonse's thanks followed them even out upon the street, where Sheldon tucked Bess' arm into his own with a new air of proprietorship that the girl found very comforting.

"Fred," she whispered, "did you know that I was tired and depressed today?"

"I was only taking chances," he explained, with a happy laugh. "I thought it out last night when I was almost certain that Benny would put the deal through. I figured that you always felt as I did when you had money in your pocketbook on Saturdays—and that you'd feel as I do two days before pay day. It was worth taking a chance by changing the day."

Bess patted his arm affectionately. "I wish you had found that out before," she whispered. "It is only from Saturday to Tuesday that I cared about a career."

Don't Be a Micawber.

There is no more common thought among young people than the foolish one that by and by something will turn up by which they will suddenly achieve fame or fortune. Things do not turn up in this world unless somebody turns them up.—James A. Garfield.

MUTILATED CURRENCY.

Often Used in Attempts to Cheat the Treasury Department.

Many efforts are made to cheat Uncle Sam through the redemption division of the treasury department, which division has to do with redeeming partly destroyed government currency.

Once a man in a western state sent in half of a ten dollar bill, accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that while on a spree he had used the other half to light a cigar. The half he forwarded was nicely sharked along the inner edge, and the story would have been accepted by treasury officials had it not been that within twenty-four hours there was received from a bank in the same state the other half of the note.

The fact was that while more or less intoxicated the man had struggled for possession of the bill with some one who had wrested half of it from him; the despoiler had turned his half into the bank and received five dollars for it; the intoxicated man, recovering his senses, had found the other half in his pocket and, not wishing to lose his money, had conceived the plan of singeing the edge of the note and claiming that the other half had been destroyed. So he committed perjury in an attempt to rob the government.

A man in Cleveland sent an affidavit to the treasury department, accompanying the singed halves of two twenty dollar bills and one ten dollar bill. This affidavit was typewritten and in perfect form. It set forth that the deponent was a commercial traveler; that after returning from a journey he had been cleaning out his traveling bag when inadvertently he had thrown into the fire an envelope containing $50 in bills; that in accordance with section so and so he would like to have the money restored to him, etc.

Twenty-four hours later a big shipment of mutilated currency came from a subtreasury in the west. An official asked whether there were any half notes in this shipment. In four or five minutes a clerk brought him the missing halves of the bills the Cleveland man had sent in.

The attempt to defraud was plain. The matter was at once put into the hands of the secret service division, and a man was sent west to investigate. The man who had made the affidavit confessed at once. He had cut the bills in halves and for one-half of them obtained $25. The other half he signed and attached to his affidavit. The man forfeited his liberty for a year and a half.—Washington Star.

NATIONAL BOUNDARIES.

Lack of Geographical Knowledge Has Cost the World Millions.

Lack of geographical knowledge has cost the nations of the world millions of dollars in treaty making, declared Sir Thomas Holdich, the British geographical authority, in a lecture before the Royal Geographical society on "Problems in Boundary Making."

"Lack of exact knowledge," he said, "is the first rock on which boundary treaties split. Where maps did not exist and where it was out of the question to wait for them to be made, the arbitrators have been forced repeatedly into adopting the worst of expedients, the straight line."

"The disadvantages of a straight line have been illustrated in several instances lately, notably in boundary disputes in central and southern Africa. In one case an awkward international complication arose when it was found that a wide tract of valuable land had been erroneously assigned to England and had to be transferred to Belgium. Then there was the adoption of a definite meridian which crossed the Kalahari desert, the eastern limit of German southwest Africa. This entailed years of scientific labor, costing a sum equal to the value of thousands of square miles of useful map making, to find out where the meridian really lay."

"Absurd incidents arose over the delimitation of the boundary between the United States and Canada. One of the main difficulties arose as to what was meant in the treaty by a 'main channel.' Between Vancouver and the mainland there is an archipelago, and among them at least three channels that might be called 'main channels.' Chief among these islands was one called San Juan. In 1859 a pig was shot by an American on San Juan, and the American was haled before a British magistrate and threatened with imprisonment. This put a climax to the dispute. American honor was touched, and troops were landed from both sides. It looked as if the pig incident would lead to war, but the position was saved by arbitration. The award gave away the whole archipelago to the United States."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Rice in the Orient.

Rice is "wet," that grown for the most part in flooded land, or "dry," that raised on uplands. Its growth in those regions where civilization has penetrated least is pathetic. Parts of the east are still covered with virgin forest of tall trees. Underneath all is dark in heavy shade. Creepers twine up hundreds of feet and are all topped off with indescribable orchids, all hunting for air and sunshine. In the thick wood a suitable spot is chosen, for rice they must have or starve. Undergrowth is cut out and staked and hedged around to make a fence for the little rice farm.—Exchange.

Repairing a Crown.

What curious old records one comes across sometimes in unexpected ways! Here is one which has reference to Edward III. and Philippa of Hainault and is kept, with other documents, at Harwich, their majesties having had at the time a palace at Felixstowe. It runs thus: "For repairing ye queen's crown which ye king threw into ye fire, item 3s. 6d." The points which strike one in this memorandum are the violence of the king's temper and the cheapness of the mending process.—London Graphic.

Ingenious Spiders.

There exists in Australia a species of spider that makes its habitation along the seashore, in the crevices of the rocks, between high and low water marks. But when the tide is in their homes are covered with water. Instead of deserting them, however, the spiders solve the difficulty by means of closely woven sheets of silk, which they stretch over the entrances, behind which they manage to retain sufficient air to keep them alive during the time they remain submerged.

When He Pleased Himself.

Out of the ninety odd plays that he has written, most of which have been produced in this country, Henry Arthur Jones, dean of the English playwrights, is said to have written but one play to please himself. That one was "Michael and His Lost Angel." He pleased himself in writing it, but the public drove it off the stage.—Argonaut.

MacPherson's Testimony.

The MacPherson—Man, Judkins is right—there's a deal of sufferin' attendant on you whusky drinkin', for, McTaggart, ye'll mind me, whiles a mon's drinkin' his ain whusky there's the terrible expense tae think of, an' whiles he's drinkin' a friend's whusky he drinks sae much that he suffers terrible the morn.—London Telegraph.

Of and Off.

The grammatical use of the English "of" and "off" proves to be a stumbling block to the average foreign element.

"Here's the paper you bought off me," is the usual expression of the newsboy, but it was a little startling for a woman of more than necessary embonpoint to be summoned to the back door to hear, "Here's the lard Mrs. Blank borrowed off of you."

More startling was the grieved servant's retort when the master, after vainly trying to dissect the steak, angrily demanded, "Where in blazes did you get this steak, anyway?"

"Why, I got it off of William!"—New York Tribune.

A Bismarck Story.

Lord Amthill once found Bismarck reading Andersen's story on the "Ugly Duckling," which relates how a duck hatched a swan's egg and how the cygnet was jeered at by his putative brethren, the ducklings, until one day a troop of lordly swans floating down the river saluted him as one of their race. "Ah," observed Bismarck, "it was a long time before my poor mother could be persuaded that in hatching me she had not produced a goose."

GAME OF SWEEP AND SHELL.

Rowing is the Oldest of All Our Inter-collegiate Sports.

Intercollegiate rowing antedates all sports in which our American universities engage. Students of Yale and Harvard first met in competition on Center harbor, Lake Winnepesaukee, on Aug. 3, 1852. In the sixties and seventies aquatics reigned without a rival. In neither popularity nor scope was baseball, football or any other sport to be compared with it.

Rowing is still the most important major sport in seats of learning where adequate facilities exist, important not alone in its tradition and present prestige, but in the part it is playing in the general campaign of eliminating from the undergraduate body the fashion of taking athletics by proxy.

Originally a sport in which the few came to row and the many to cheer, rowing today calls to the inept and to the mediocre as well as to the man qualified to sit in a university shell. As a muscle builder no sport equals the game of sweep and shell, and it holds poetry and pleasure as well as physical benefit for its devotees.

At Harvard, Cornell, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Ann Arbor, Columbia, Wisconsin, Leland Stanford, California and Washington definite advances in aquatics have been marked each year, and at all the interests of the nonvarsity oarsmen have been observed in varying degree as the support of generous alumni has permitted.

Following the lead of such schools as St. Paul's, Groton, Exeter and Middletown, preparatory institutions throughout the country have done much to interest their students in rowing for its own sake, with the result that each year seats of higher learning receive large groups of boys who care for the sport not so much for the opportunities it may offer them to beat some one else as for the physical improvement and mental pleasure they derive therefrom.—Lawrence Perry in Scribner's.

Hopi Courtship.

When a Hopi maiden decides which of the eligible young men of the tribe she wishes to marry she goes and sits in his house and grinds corn until he is sufficiently impressed by her industry to marry her. After the ceremony, which is an elaborate one, the couple go to live in the wife's house. If she tires of her husband she can obtain a divorce by merely throwing his saddle out of the house. After marriage the house, fields and all their property except the herds belong to the wife.

The Hopis are indulgent parents. The right of the children to do as they please is never questioned.

Retort Royal.

King Edward VII. was never at a loss for a quick, suitable answer. One day he was coming around a street corner on one of his periodical walks in London when he collided with a very stout person, who, being nearsighted, did not recognize the king, took him by the lapel of his coat and gave him a tongue lashing.

"Do you know, sir," finished the irate man, "that I am a member of the London council?"

"In that case I beg your pardon," replied the king, "for I am only the king of Great Britain."

The World's Southernmost City.

The capital of the territory of Magellan, belonging to Chile, is Punta Arenas, the southernmost city in the world, with a population of about 12,000, good wharfs and stores, paved streets and extensive traffic. All vessels going through the strait stop at Punta Arenas, and much wool is shipped from there. It is a free port, has a wireless telegraph station, is a station for the Chilean navy and does a large business in the coaling of steamers. It is, in fact, a crossroad station between the east and the west.

Her Poor Memory.

To Mrs. Hopkinson, a very quarrelsome old lady, her pastor said: "You must never cherish an enmity, madam, against your neighbor. If your neighbor injures you, forget it."—"So I do forget it, doctor," said Mrs. Hopkinson piously, "but the trouble is, I've got a powerful bad memory, and I keep forgetting I've forgotten."—Exchange.

The Soda Fountain

An American Institution

Did you ever stop to realize that the soda fountain is as much an American institution as the sausage is a German institution, "French Bread" is an institution in France and the Plum pudding an English institution? And the funny part of it all is that though one seldom sees a soda fountain in Europe (and then only for the sake of attracting American tourist trade) just as soon as a foreigner gets to this country he too seems to learn to love the soda fountain.

But, if you are old enough to look back a few years you will remember that only comparatively recently has the soda fountain been either so popular or so beautiful and hygienic.

You may remember what these old soda fountains looked like—what poor provision they made to supply even their scanty trade.

What has wrought this great change—what has made the soda fountain a national institution—a comfort and necessity in the daily lives of men and women—not only during the hot summer time but the whole year 'round.

The answer lies in that delicious beverage Coca-Cola. Soon after its introduction at the fountains people began to ask more and more for this distinctive drink. Along with its demand came the demand for more places that would serve it. Soda fountains sprang up everywhere, improving in beauty, neatness and attractive service. It is a fact that the soda fountain and all its allied industries have come to play in the economic life of the nation today in due largely to the stimulus given to it by Coca-Cola.

In the same way has the call for bottled beverages grown. In 1899 Coca-Cola in bottles was first put on the market and the same quick recognition and appreciation was accorded to it in this form as is so evident in the fountain trade. The same principles of purity, goodness and deliciousness made another astounding record of growth possible. Bottling plants have been established all over the country to take care of this branch. Today there are over 90,000,000 glasses and bottles of Coca-Cola are drunk every month—just as much as is the soda fountain a national institution so is Coca-Cola the National Beverage.

Hill County Raising Hogs.

Over $50,000 has been paid to the farmers of Hill county by Cockrell & Keeton since Jan. 1 for surplus hogs, i. e. those shipped. This does not include the great number slaughtered by the local markets for home consumption nor cars shipped by others. In spite of the large number shipped, there are still a large number of hogs in the county. These hogs have been profitable purchasers of feed and thereby the farmers have realized a double profit to say nothing of the extra hauling.—Hillsboro Mirror.

A Boy Falls—

When he has no confidence in himself or his fellowman.
When he values success more than character and self-respect.
When he does not care what happens to his neighbor or to his friend so long as he is prosperous.
When he knows that he is in the wrong, but is afraid to admit it.
When he does not try to make his work a little better each day.

When he becomes so absorbed in his work that he cannot say that life is greater than work.
When he lets a day go by without making someone happier and more comfortable.
When he values wealth above health, self-respect and the good opinion of others.
When he is so burdened by his business that he finds no time for rest or recreation.
When he is so busy doing that he has no time for smiles and cheering words.—Ideal Powers.

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY DREW, OF METRO-DREW COMEDY FAME, IN A CORNER OF THEIR GARDEN AT SEA GATE, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew are about the busiest persons imaginable, but they manage to get away from their work long enough each week to enjoy themselves at their summer home at Seagate, Long Island. They are under contract with Metro to produce a one-reel comedy every week, and it must be of the highest order. Mr. Drew would insist on that, even if it was not in his contract. They work hard and they play hard. Once Mr. Drew gets on the floor of a studio he is strictly business, and everything moves along without unnecessary delay. He directs his own comedies, and when he is the central character in the action, he often confers with his wife regarding effects as they appeal to her. At Seagate the Atlantic Ocean is in their front yard. Both are fond of bathing and boating, and both are exceedingly fond of flowers and shrubbery. Their home is one of the show places along this stretch of beach.

THE MOUSE IN THE CREAM.

Being a Story of a Pound of Butter, Which Points a Moral.

Some years ago when Thomas L. Calvert, chief inspector of the Ohio dairy and food department, was running a general store in a country town, a woman came into the store with a small quantity of butter which she wanted to sell.

"We made this for our own use, but we found that a mouse had run through the cream, so we decided to sell it," she said. "You know, it will make no difference just so the person who eats the butter does not know that the mouse was in the cream," she added.

Mr. Calvert bought the butter, padded it into a different shape and put it away in a cool place in the rear of the store. Two days later the woman came back to the store to buy some butter. Mr. Calvert sold her the butter he had bought from her. He had bought it for that very reason, intending to teach the woman a lesson. The next time the woman came to the store she told Mr. Calvert that the butter he had sold her was of fine quality and she asked where he got it.

"It was what you sold me; you know you said that it would make no difference if no one knew that the mouse ran through the cream," Mr. Calvert said.—Columbus Dispatch.

The Story of a Famous Hymn.

The famous hymn beginning "God moves in a mysterious way," known as "Cowper's Hymn," had its origin as follows: Cowper was all his life the victim of melancholia and more than once attempted suicide. One day, bent upon destroying himself, he got into a cab and ordered the driver to take him to a certain point on the river where he intended to drown himself. The cabman, noticing his strange appearance and feeling that all might not be right with him, drove him about the city and finally stopped in front of the poet's door. Stepping out and recognizing the old familiar surroundings and shocked at the thought of his narrow escape, Cowper exclaimed, "God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform," and, rushing in, immediately composed the immortal hymn.

The Louvre.

The Louvre dates away back to the reign of Dagobert in 628. In 1204 it was a prison and in 1364 was made into a library. The new building was begun by Francis I. in 1528 and enlarged and adorned by successive kings, principally by Louis XIV. But it was Napoleon I. who gave the Louvre its real glory. Turning it into a museum, Napoleon deposited in it the finest collection of paintings, statues and art treasures known in the world. The magnificent buildings of the new Louvre were begun by Napoleon I. and completed by Napoleon III. about 1857.

Maybe You Know—

The man who always asks, "What day's today?" "What time is it?" when there is a clock on the wall as big as a full moon, with a calendar under it.
And who never, never, never has a match.
And who always borrows your pencil and takes it away.
And who never looks up anything he wants to know, but comes to you at your busiest hour and asks you.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Nature's Eloquence.

There is eloquence in the tongueless wind and a melody in the flowing brooks and the rustling of the reeds beside them which, by their inconceivable relation to something within the soul, awaken the spirits to a dance of breathless rapture.—Shelby.

Honest.

"Why did you give up your last position?"
"I didn't give it up, sir. I was fired."
"Oh, in that case take off your hat and coat and go to work. We can use a man as honest as you."—Detroit Free Press.

An Odd Blunder.

When the British admiralty built the splendid naval barracks at Chatham it fitted up one of the largest rooms in fine style for court martials and had "Court Martial" inscribed on a big brass plate on the door. When it was about to be used for the first time the discovery was made that the regulations require all naval court martials to be held on the water.

A Bull For a God.

The ancient Egyptians believed that the spirit of their greatest god, Osiris, dwelt among them in the form of a pure white bull marked by a certain sign. Herodotus mentions two of these signs—a black eagle on the back and a black forehead with a square of white in its center. These creatures when found were worshiped during life and mummified after death.

Advantages of Buying Advertised Goods

Merchandise that is advertised moves much faster than that which is not, and therefore the stock is kept new and up-to-date. There are no shopworn, slow sellers to be disposed of in the store that keeps the advertising columns at work selling goods.

And you can always depend upon the quality of advertised articles. The merchant's reputation is back of his merchandise and he cannot jeopardize it by misrepresenting his goods even the least bit.

Furthermore, the dealer's newspaper announcement usually offers money-saving bargains, and every thrifty person should take full advantage of such opportunities. Read the advertisements today.

VIII.

In addition to the foregoing, plaintiff will offer tax receipts and redemption certificates to show the payment of taxes on the land herein sued for, as well as parol and other evidence to show occupancy, use and enjoyment of said premises.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays for citation herein to defendants, requiring them to appear and answer herein; that upon the trial hereof he have judgment against said defendants and each of them for the title to and possession of said land, and that the cloud cast upon plaintiff's said title by the pretended claims of defendants be cancelled and held for naught, for his said damages, writ of possession, costs of court, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, to which he may show himself entitled.

Herein fail not, but have before said Judicial District Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, John D. Morgan, Clerk of the 3rd Judicial District Court of Houston County, Texas.

Given under my hand, and the seal of said court, at office in Crockett, Texas, this 3rd day of August, A. D. 1916.

JOHN D. MORGAN, Clerk of the Third Judicial District Court of Houston County, Texas.

I hereby order this writ published in the Crockett Courier for the time herein specified. This the 5th day of August, A. D. 1916.

R. J. SPENCE, Sheriff of Houston County, Texas.

Citation By Publication.

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Houston County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Francisco Perez, the unknown heirs of Francisco Perez, the unknown heirs of H. Edwards, deceased, Peyton F. Edwards, the unknown heirs of Peyton F. Edwards, Sarah M. Edwards, the unknown heirs of Sarah M. Edwards, Emily Smith, joined by her husband James F. Smith, the unknown heirs of Emily Smith and James F. Smith, Belle Raguet and husband Charles M. Raguet, the unknown heirs of Belle Raguet and Charles M. Raguet, Sarah Ellen Edwards, the unknown heirs of Sarah Ellen Edwards, Hayden H. Edwards, Jr., the unknown heirs of Hayden H. Edwards Jr., Sarah E. Sparks and husband James R. Sparks and the unknown heirs of Sarah E. Sparks and James R. Sparks, by making publication of this citation once in each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county to your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Houston County, to be held at the Court House of said Houston County, in the town of Crockett, on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September, A. D. 1916, the same being the 9th day of October, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of August, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 7651, wherein J. M. Thornton is Plaintiff, and Francisco Perez, the unknown heirs of H. Edwards, Peyton F. Edwards, Sarah M. Edwards, the unknown heirs of Sarah M. Edwards, Emily Smith and her husband James F. Smith, the unknown heirs of Emily Smith and James F. Smith, Belle Raguet and husband Charles M. Raguet, the unknown heirs of Belle Raguet and Charles M. Raguet, Sarah Ellen Edwards, the unknown heirs of Sarah Ellen Edwards, Hayden H. Edwards Jr., Sarah E. Sparks and husband James R. Sparks and the unknown heirs of Sarah E. Sparks and James R. Sparks are defendants, and said petition alleging that on the first day of January, 1916, he was lawfully seized and in possession of the hereinafter described tract of land, claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit: Being a part of the Francisco Perez league of land, situated in Houston County, Texas, about seventeen miles S. W. from Crockett, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the S. W. corner of Block No. Three (3) of a subdivision of said league. Thence N. 45 E. with the line of block number three 513 7-10 vrs. to corner in prairie from which Butler's well bears N. 45 E. 4-10 vrs. Thence N. 45 W. 1080 vrs. to N. W. line of block number four, to a stake, from which a Black Jack 7 inches brs. S. 22 E., another 8 in. brs. S. 28 W. 4-8-10 vrs. Thence S. 45 W. 513 7-10 vrs. with said block line to N. W. corner of block number seven. Thence S. 45 E. with the line of block number 7, 1080 vrs. to the place of beginning, and containing 98 1/2 acres of land.

The record fails to show any deed from Francisco Perez to any one, and certain parties who have made transfers of said land show the grantors to have claim thereto, by virtue of a will said to have been made by Hayden H. Edwards, and there is no will of record in Houston County, while other transfers purport to have been made by their attorneys in fact, and no such power of attorney is of record in Houston County. That the same casts a cloud upon the plaintiff's title, which he herein seeks to remove.

Plaintiff says that he and those whose title he has, claiming the same under deeds duly registered, has had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the land and tenements claimed in plaintiff's petition, cultivating, using and enjoying the same and paying all taxes due thereon, for a period of more than five years after the defendants' cause of action accrued, if any they ever had, and of this he is ready to verify.

For further plea in this behalf he says that he, and those under whom he claims, claiming to have good and perfect right and title to the land herein sued for, has had, and held peaceably the land claimed, and adverse possession of the same, cultivating, using and enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years after the defendants' cause of action accrued, if any they had, and before the commencement of this suit, of which he is ready to verify.

Wherefore he respectfully prays, that citation be issued for the defendants in terms of the law, requiring the defendants or either of them to appear at the next regular term of this court, and show cause why all cloud may not be removed from plaintiff's title, and that plaintiff have his judgment for the same clearing his title, and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said

Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, John D. Morgan, Clerk of the District Court of Houston County.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Crockett, this 5th day of August, A. D. 1916.

Tumlinson, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. D. Dashiell, deceased, the unknown heirs of Lucy Ann Sharpes, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. T. Sharpes, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. F. Harvey and the Louisiana and Texas Lumber Company, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Houston County, to be held at the Court House of said Houston County, in the town of Crockett, on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September, A. D. 1916, the same being the 9th day of October, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 7th day of August, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 7652, wherein T. J. Routen is Plaintiff, and the unknown heirs of Peter Tumlinson, deceased, the unknown heirs of J. L. Monroe, deceased, the unknown heirs of R. W. Gibson, deceased, the unknown heirs of G. W. Tumlinson, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. D. Dashiell, deceased, the unknown heirs of Lucy Ann Sharpes, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. T. Sharpes, deceased, the unknown heirs of B. F. Sharpes deceased, the unknown heirs of E. L. Angier, deceased, the unknown heirs of W. E. Tyler, deceased, the unknown heirs of Theresa Harvey, deceased, and J. L. Monroe, R. W. Gibson, G. W. Tumlinson, B. D. Dashiell, E. L. Angier, W. E. Tyler, Lucy Ann Sharpes, B. T. Sharpes, B. F. Sharpes, Theresa Harvey, J. W. Harvey and the Louisiana and Texas Lumber Co. are defendants, and said petition alleging that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple and is lawfully seized and possessed of the following described tract of land, situated in Houston county, Texas, being a part of the Peter Tumlinson 640 acre survey, about 16 miles S. E. from Crockett, Texas, and being 40 acres out of the S. E. corner of said Peter Tumlinson 640 acre survey, in a square, said 40 acres being 475 varas square.

Plaintiff alleges that he and those under whom he claims title to said land have had and held the peaceable, continuous and adverse possession thereof, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, under deeds duly registered, paying all taxes due thereon for a period of five and ten years respectively, and plaintiff specially pleads the five and ten years statutes of limitation in bar of any claim asserted by the defendants or any of them to said tract of land.

The fact that there is no title out of Peter Tumlinson, the original grantee of said survey, to any one for any part of said survey, that there is no title out of J. L. Monroe, R. W. Gibson and G. W. Tumlinson to undivided one-fourth of said 640 acre survey, and that the Louisiana and Texas Lumber Company is asserting some sort of claim to a part of said tract of land sued for herein, casts a cloud upon plaintiff's title.

That the other defendants herein are asserting some sort of claim to said land, the character of which is unknown to plaintiff.

Wherefore, plaintiff sues, and prays that defendants be cited herein, and that upon the trial hereof, he have judgment for the title and possession of said tract of land, removing all clouds therefrom, and for costs of suit and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, John D. Morgan, Clerk of the District Court of Houston County.

BETTER REASON NOW THAN BEFORE.

The Courier announced before the primary that its editor would vote for the Hon. C. A. Culberson for senator and we make the announcement again. If there was good reason for supporting Culberson in the first primary, there is better reason for supporting him in the second. Culberson carried Houston county with a good lead. A majority of the delegates attending the state convention were Culberson supporters and wore Culberson badges, and they were not confined to any political faction, but were Ferguson men and Morris men. They put through a resolution—a plank in the platform—commending the course of the democratic president, Woodrow Wilson, and especially so in regard to his Mexican policy. This brought a protest from the Colquitt badge-wearers—it was a direct stab at Colquitt's attitude toward the present national democratic administration—but the Colquitt crowd lost and the plank was affixed. Now, the Courier finds itself in the company of a plurality of Houston county democrats following the first primary and in the company of a majority of state convention democrats—finds itself sitting on a platform plank—in its advocacy of the re-election of Senator Chas. A. Culberson. Thus we have better reason for supporting Culberson now than before.

In advertising one should be sure of the quality offered for sale. One's success will depend upon the manner in which he pleases his customers. Articles not of merit should never be advertised. They are not worth advertising. You cannot afford to associate your name and reputation with any but products of worth.

Business firms who have built up great selling organizations by advertising realize what promptness is worth, what honor requires, what pleased customers mean. They have been able to build great businesses because they have given people value for their money and thus pleased them.

One should be prepared to fill orders promptly and satisfactorily when he advertises. He cannot afford to do less. The inquirer will judge you by your business methods. Especially is it important to give as much as you promise.

Honesty is the best policy—anywhere. This is especially true in advertising. A dishonest man can not stay in business. The advertiser is placed upon his honor and is required to fulfill his obligations.

Wesley Chapel Fair.

Every one remembers the splendid success of the Wesley Chapel Community Fair of last year, and also knows that this year the fair is to be repeated on a much larger scale, with over $300 in cash premiums, and that the entries are open to all residents of the county. In other words people living in Houston county can exhibit livestock and farm products of any kind, and compete for the very liberal premiums that are offered. It is to be hoped that the entries will be very general, as the fair this year, if successful, will establish a basis for a permanent county exhibition of this kind.

Practically all the merchants of Crockett have signed an agreement to close their stores for the entire day, and it is expected that the attendance from Crockett will be very general. A large amount of work has been done on the highway recently, so the road is very good from Crockett, and jitney service will be provided for the general public.

Exhibits will be judged by representatives of the A. & M. College, and thus satisfaction guaranteed in this important particular. The date is Thursday, August 24, and we predict that it will be a red-letter day for Houston county.

H. A. Fisher.

Married in Houston.

Mr. J. W. Saunders of this city and Miss Anne King were married in Houston on Monday evening of last week. They didn't say anything to their Crockett friends about their plans, but the news of their wedding eventually leaked out.

Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Saunders went to Dallas for a few days and returned to Houston, where the bride was visiting a sister. They are now in Crockett, having arrived on the "Sunshine Special" Monday afternoon.

The bride was a visitor in Crockett until a short time ago, when she went to visit a sister in Houston. While here she was a guest of her relatives, Mrs. E. Winfree and Mrs. I. A. Daniel. Before coming to Crockett, she had only recently returned from a visit to a sister in Tampico, Mexico, but who is now visiting in this country on account of the Mexican war. The bride's original home was at Navasota.

Mr. Saunders went to Houston Sunday and was married to Miss King on the following day. They are both popular young people, both belong to prominent families and both have the sincere wishes of a large coterie of friends for their future happiness and welfare. Mr. Saunders is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Page, with whom he has made his home.

Senator Culberson and the Liquor Traffic.

In an address before the democratic state convention at Dallas on August 16, 1906, Senator Culberson said:

"Opposition to sumptuary laws which unduly affect the liberties and commerce of the people is a cardinal principle of the democratic faith, but that principle must be rationally applied. When the whiskey traffic becomes lawless, when it harbors the vicious and the criminal, when it invades the residence districts of the towns and cities of the states, and when it defies the will of majorities legally and constitutionally expressed, when it enters politics and seeks to dominate affairs therein, it will find no refuge in the democratic party. As a man of liberal views upon this question, I warn this interest, as I have warned it heretofore, that such a course as this will exhaust the patience of the people and arouse in them a purpose to enforce their laws which will be resistless."

Did O. B. Colquitt ever demand that the liquor interests, or any other great offender, should obey the law? If so, when was it, and where was it?—Waco Morning News.

The next semi-annual meeting of the Houston County Singing Convention will convene at the Baptist church in Lovelady, at 1-p. m., Saturday, September 9th, and will hold business session Saturday afternoon and a musical program Saturday night and all day Sunday, September 10th.

Every one take notice that the time of meeting has been changed from the first till the second Sunday in September. We meet this time on the second Saturday and Sunday in September.

All classes in the county are urged to write the secretary for forms to fill out in sending delegates and it is hoped that every community in the county will be represented by at least two delegates. Citizens living near enough to drive to Lovelady Sunday morning are solicited to bring lunches for dinner on Sunday.

We have the assurance of some of the best talent in the state this time, hence our reason for the date being changed. Some of them could not come the first Sunday.

THE UNTERRIFIED DEMOCRACY OF TEXAS STANDS BY WOODROW WILSON.

In Convention Assembled It Tells Candidate Colquitt He Is Wrong.

CANDIDATE COLQUITT DENOUNCES WILSON.

In an interview on December 26, 1914, Colquitt made the following charges against President Wilson and his administration, viz:

1. "The Wilson administration has been the GREATEST FAILURE in the history of the presidency."
2. That because of his INCOMPETENCY so far as the South is concerned, "its business is PROSTRATED, its CREDIT is impaired, and thousands of its people are STARVING."
3. That the administration's tariff law, instead of lowering the cost of living, "has had the CONTRARY effect."
4. That the administration's FOREIGN policy "has been IMBECILE."
5. That, if he had been president, he would have sent "American IRONCLADS to England's door to ENFORCE" opposition to England's contraband order.
6. That in repealing the "Panama Canal tolls," Wilson made another "WEAK SURRENDER to ENGLAND."
7. That the "Wilson and Bryan" management of the Mexican affair had been an "egregious FAILURE."
8. That "Wilson and Bryan" have stood by "ENCOURAGING one GANG of BANDITS after another."
9. That this government has "kept England and Germany from restoring order in Mexico and has ITSELF done NOTHING but CONTRIBUTE to the DISORDER and LAWLESSNESS."
10. That the EXPLOITERS in Mexico have obtained "absolute CONTROL of that country" and obtained it by "getting the EAR of our GOVERNMENT AT WASHINGTON."
11. That "the president has STOOD IN THE ROAD and CONDEMNED THE SOUTH, which made him."
12. That the president vindicated an "OBSCURE THEORY of POLITICAL ECONOMY, but mighty near RUINED THE COUNTRY DOING IT."
13. That the policies of the president have brought "MORE WIDESPREAD MISERY than the South has known IN THREE GENERATIONS."
14. That these policies have "CONTRIBUTED TO DEPRIVE MILLIONS OF WAGE EARNERS OF EMPLOYMENT."
15. That "I AM CONVINCED THE NATIONAL ELECTION OF 1916 WILL END THE DEMOCRATIC REGIME."

Last week the Democrats of Texas, in convention assembled, applied to ex-Governor Colquitt, candidate for United States Senator, a stinging REBUKE for his denunciations of President Wilson. It did this, not only in a GENERAL way, but, in the most SPECIFIC terms, it enthusiastically and UNANIMOUSLY indorsed his "Mexican Policy," the very thing that Colquitt had so BITTERLY condemned. Here is the EXACT language of the State Democratic platform on that question, viz:

"We cordially and heartily indorse the national democratic administration, under the leadership of President Woodrow Wilson, and we confidently congratulate the nation upon the unswerving devotion and honesty with which the democratic party has respected its pledges and maintained the ideals of a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

"Upon the record made we earnestly ask the voters of the United States to support the national democratic ticket at the coming November election."

INDORSES WILSON'S MEXICAN POLICY.

"In order that those living in states remote from Texas may know the real feelings of the citizens of Texas, upon whose ears the tocsin of war has sounded; upon whose ears the hoofbeat of the cavalry horse has fallen; in whose ears the crack of the rifle and the shout of the American soldier has rung in the controversy with Mexico, we, the democrats of Texas, are glad of an opportunity to openly and unanimously indorse the Mexican policy of President Wilson, and we sincerely approve the caution, the wisdom and the patriotism which he has exercised in dealing with the trying and troublesome conditions that have sorely taxed his patience in the conduct of our international and domestic relations with Mexico."

This leaves Candidate Colquitt without a Democratic "pillow" upon which to rest his UN-Democratic head, and FORCES him into the Republican party where he justly belongs. It is a TACIT endorsement of Senator Culberson's candidacy, who has worked "shoulder to shoulder" with President Wilson. Culberson is thus UPHELD by the Democrats of his State, while Colquitt is OPENLY REPUDIATED. Texas Democrats thus REFUSE to REWARD TRAITORS to its cause. It was ever thus and thus it should ALWAYS be. Now let Democrats, AT THE POLLS on the 28th inst., apply to Colquitt ANOTHER rebuke by refusing to send him to the United States Senate. RETIRE HIM FOREVER! Let the slogan be: DOWN WITH COLQUITT UP WITH WILSON AND CULBERSON!

Lovelady's First Bale.

Mr. C. B. Moore informs the Courier that Lovelady has received its first bale of the 1916 crop of cotton. The bale was grown and ginned by Lang Smith, weighed 528 pounds, classed middling, and was sold by Mr. Smith to R. E. Parker at 17 cents a pound.

Mr. O. Petersen was among those remembering the Courier with a business visit this week. Mr. Petersen has either built or helped to build most of the houses in Crockett during his long residence here. Not only that, but he has been one of the Courier's most appreciated readers during all this time. A native of Denmark, he came here soon after landing in this country, then a young man; and although many years have since passed, he is still a young man.

First Bale Sold.

Crockett's first bale of the 1916 cotton crop was sold Friday to Daniel & Burton at 13.75. The bale weighed 575 pounds and was sold by Melton & Routledge. It was grown on the Nick Routledge farm by Ed Melton, which is stated partly by way of correction, as the Courier was misinformed last week as to who grew the cotton. Our information then was that Jack Christian grew it.

The second bale arrived Monday and was brought in by John Burton. There will be plenty of cotton from now on.

Work on the Pennington Road.

In addition to over one hundred days' team work that have been pledged by farmers living along and adjacent to the Pennington road from a point ten miles east of Crockett to Pennington, and the fact that the county commissioners have agreed to construct the bridges and culverts necessary, the citizens of Crockett have subscribed nearly $400 in cash for this particular piece of road work, making practically $1,000 all together, which judiciously handled will put it in very good condition. A working organization is being arranged, and it is expected that, within a week of this time, camps will be established and the work go forward in a vigorous manner.

School District Trustees.

A meeting of the trustees of all of the schools of Houston county has been called to meet at the court house in Crockett on the 21st of August for the purpose of complying with the law passed by the 34th legislature to the effect that the county board, district trustees and the county superintendent should hold such a session once each year.

In this meeting it is expected that the trustees of all the districts, both common school and independent, will come together for the purpose of discussing such subjects as may arise and those that will be assigned. Much good will accrue to the schools of the county if all will attend with a view of learning something concerning the proper management of schools, which will enable the county board and county superintendent to be of more assistance in building up the schools of the county.

At this session of the trustees the compulsory school law will be discussed by those who have made a study of it, and it is expected that the trustees and the superintendent will agree upon a uniform date for the whole county for the law to take effect.

The hour of the meeting will be 10 a. m. Monday morning, August 21.

Crockett as a Poultry Center.

Under date of August 8, Prof. H. L. McKnight, field organizer of the Extension Department of the A. & M. College, writes the secretary: "Since my visit to Crockett I have been considering the desirability of a joint campaign between the extension forces and the Crockett Commercial Club, having for its purpose and aim the making of Houston county a poultry center, somewhat after the manner of Denton county. From personal knowledge of the results of this campaign, now less than two years old, I can say that Denton county is well on the way to statewide recognition as the center of a great poultry industry. The people there seem to have caught the spirit, and to have entered into the business with a determination to win. Why could not the same thing be done for Houston county? It could be done, if your business men could be induced to 'get in the game', good and strong. Without a live county demonstration agent, I doubt the Senatorial Primary.

To the Democratic Voters of Houston County:

Whereas, at the State Democratic primary election held for the nomination of all officers including United States Senator, on the 22nd day of July, 1916, no candidate for United States Senator received a majority of the votes for that office.

And, whereas, Hon. O. B. Colquitt and Hon. Chas. A. Culberson were the two candidates who received the largest number of votes at the Democratic primary election held on July 22, 1916.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the duty imposed upon me, I, Cecil Allen, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee of Houston county, Texas, do hereby call a second primary for the purpose of determining the choice of the Democratic party as between Hon. O. B. Colquitt and Hon. Chas. A. Culberson, the two candidates receiving the largest number of votes at the first primary election, same to be held on the fourth Saturday in August, same being the 26th day of August, A. D. 1916.

At such primary only the candidates, viz: Hon. O. B. Colquitt and Hon. Chas. A. Culberson, who received the highest number of votes in the primary election held on July 22, 1916, shall be voted upon.

Cecil Allen, Chairman,
County Dem. Ex. Com.

wisdom of undertaking the campaign, even with all the support your organization could give it. I know something of the manifold duties of your position, and I know that to make over the poultry industry of Houston county will require more time and attention than you can give to that particular line of work, however meritorious it may be."

From this it will be seen that here is the opportunity to secure the hearty co-operation of the Extension Department of the A. & M. College in a project that is entirely feasible, and, when developed, means so much to Houston county. To develop the poultry industry in our midst, as herein outlined, means a poultry slaughterhouse in Crockett in the near future, and all the substantial benefits that go with the development of the poultry industry, but to secure it, we must have a county demonstration agent, and this matter will be up for consideration before the commissioners' court in a few days, and, we trust, favorably acted upon.
