MEMORIAL SERVICES TO BE HELD HERE

There will be held at the First Methodist church of Crockett, Texas, at 3 p. m., the 7th instant; and at the same hour on Sunday following, the 14th instant, at Groveton, Texas, memorial services in honor of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines who sacrificed their lives in this country and overseas during the world war.

In connection with these services, to which the general public is invited, personal presentation will be made, to the next of kin, of the French memorial diplomas as per list following.

At Crockett, State Senator W. L. Dean of Huntsville and at Groveton Capt. N. H. Phillips of Crockett will deliver the presentation address. Those entitled to receive diplomas may attend at the place most convenient.

It is understood by the French government that from this list there are probably omitted some names of deceased soldiers and the next of kin entitled to these diplomas from Houston, Trinity and adjoining counties; but the list is the best our own government could furnish to France at the time it was called for and a supplemental list will be forwarded after these diplomas are delivered, and the others due to be issued will be forwarded and delivered later.

SOME EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES

There is one manufacturing industry that is very much needed in Crockett, and that is a first-class machine shop and foundry. One large enough to handle the heaviest class of machinery, and the consensus of opinion of those best informed in regard to the matter is that such an institution properly handled would be profitable. These industries at Palestine, Lufkin and other places in this section are always crowded with work and it is very difficult for our home people to get the necessary repairs done.

When you stop to think about it we have three gins, the oil mill, several saw mills and five garages that are constantly needing work done that has to be sent out of town, and in addition to the large amount of work from these institutions a machine shop and foundry in Crockett would draw much trade from adjoining towns, so there is not the slightest doubt but plenty of business would be forthcoming right from the start.

The plant should be located on a side track in the railroad yards, so that the heaviest pieces of machinery could be handled conveniently. This feature would materially assist in getting outside business of the heavy type. What is wanted to begin with is to find some mechanic who fully understands the business and has a little capital he is willing to invest in this manner, and then have our Crockett people supply the balance of the capital. This enterprise if started right and managed properly should rapidly develop an industry employing twenty-five to fifty hands, and provide another substantial Saturday payroll.

Spokes and Handles.

With very little added investment a handle and spoke factory could be included in the project and another fifteen or twenty hands employed.

The Texas Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Dallas, of which our Commercial Club is a member, is trying to find us the right party to manage this enterprise, and all of our citizens should constantly keep the matter in mind with a view of helping to find the man. The spoke factory man came here to investigate our supply of hickory timber a couple of weeks ago when our roads were the very worst and left with the understanding that he would come again when conditions were more favorable.

While we have a factory for the renovating and repair of mattresses, and doing all the business it can handle, it does not manufacture new mattresses, and right here is another enterprise that could be successfully carried on in Crockett. The history of this manufacturing business is most attractive from a money making standpoint, and the capital required is not large.

Another manufacturing industry that could be successfully conducted right here at home is a dry press brick factory. We have an abundance of the very best grade of clay for the purpose, plenty of wood to burn the brick and a good home market for a large percentage of the finished product.

The writer has some practical knowledge of the business and does not hesitate to state from the standpoint of one who has manufactured this staple commodity that a first-class grade of dry press brick can be made here for one-third the present price of those being constantly shipped into town. Before the war, and with fuel and labor as high as it is here at the present time, these brick could be made in the north for less than six dollars a thousand, and they can be made here at the present time for six dollars, and our dealers are paying $28 a thousand on board cars Crockett. Every brick yard in the state is asking $24 on board cars at the yard where made.

Here are four manufacturing enterprises that are thoroughly practical from a business point of view for our town and every one, properly managed, big money makers. Are our people enough interested to suggest anything that will lead up to a realization of these added Saturday payrolls?
H. H. Fisher, Secretary.

Mayor Edmiston Explains Coming City Election.

With reference to the communication of Mrs. Jno. McConnell in a recent issue of the Times, the purpose of the coming election is to vote to put our city under the General Paving Law, which will enable the City Council to undertake any paving venture, such as paving the square, paying a portion of the cost and assessing the balance of the cost against the abutting property owners. The result of the election would not call for any paving at this time, nor will it add a cent of cost to any taxpayer. We would simply be in a position to pave at some future time, if seemed advisable, and nothing along this line could be done without a further vote of the tax-payers. In line with the present movement to improve our little city, it is the desire of many of the property owners to pave, and it is essential that the city have the power to force all owners to pay their part of the cost, where the city votes to pay part, and a majority of the owners are willing to assume a part. Every citizen will recognize the justice of this, and we confidently expect the voters to carry the paving law election by a large majority, and the public may be assured that the Council will not act hastily, nor seek to add anything to the burden of taxation, and can do nothing without the tax-payers having a vote on the proposition. Without attempting to use all the verbiage of the law mentioned in the call for election, the above is the purport of it in a concrete form, and there are no hidden meanings, and we think all of us are anxious to see our square and business streets paved when the time is propitious, and it can be done without burdening our people.
C. L. Edmiston,
Mayor.

FIRST FIGURES OF 1920 CENSUS

Population Announcements Issued for Cincinnati and Washington.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The first population announcements for the 1920 census were issued tonight by the census bureau and were as follows:

Cincinnati, 401,158; an increase of 37,567, or 10.3 per cent.

Washington, 437,414; an increase of 106,345, or 32.1 per cent over 1910.

Cincinnati ranked as thirteenth city of the country in 1910, with a population of 363,591. Washington ranked sixteenth with a population of 331,069. Census bureau estimates of Cincinnati's population July 1, 1917, were 414,248 and Washington's on that date 369,282.

In making the announcements tonight, Director Rogers stated that the figures were preliminary and subject to correction. The final figures will be those certified to congress.

The city of Washington is co-extensive with the District of Columbia. In counting the national capital's population only the actual residents were enumerated, all transient persons, members of the diplomatic corps and the members of congress and their families being omitted. A police census of Washington several months ago placed the population at 455,428.

From now on, as soon as the statistics gathered by the enumerators and special agents are assembled and verified, the data will be made public, the population of the larger cities of the country being given out first. Then will follow the population of the various counties, which number more than 2,900 together with their divisions of townships, precincts and towns with the population of each incorporated city, town or village. After the counties are complete the population of the various states will be announced and then the count of the entire United States.

In the thirteenth census, that of 1910, the population of the entire country was not announced until December 10.

Work on the fourteenth census is proceeding much more rapidly than that on the thirteenth census of 1910. The first announcement from the 1910 enumeration was made sixty days after taking of the count began, while in the 1920 census Washington and Cincinnati have taken only fifty-two days.

As the population of the various cities, towns and villages are ready to be made public, Director Rogers of the census bureau will certify to the mayor or other executive head of each place the actual count, as announced in the preliminary figures. Should any place consider its population inaccurately counted, there will be opportunity to place proof before the census bureau and if a claim is substantiated, verification of the census bureau's figures will follow.

Newspapers Supreme Medium of National Advertising Drives.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Newspapers have become supreme not only as the medium for local advertising, but for national advertising as well. According to figures given out by William A. Thomson, director of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers association, the papers led the magazines by $50,000,000 in 1919. He spoke before the newspaper advertising department of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"It has never been denied," he said, "that the newspaper is the life blood of the local merchants. Merchants of the United States spend $500,000,000 annually in newspaper advertising. Last year the volume of newspaper national advertising reached $150,000,000. The closest competitor of the newspapers, the magazines, carried $100,000,000 of advertising in 1919.

Eight or nine years ago the newspapers carried not more than $40,000,000 of national advertising a year. And then there was much wrangling over circulation. That has been eliminated by the audit bureau of circulations.

"There are 2160 daily newspapers printed in English in the United States and 510 Sunday papers. The combined circulation exceeds 28,000,000, so it is evident that the newspaper is read everywhere, every day, by every one. It is the medium of quick response; it talks in the language of the towns; it is friend in the home, and is the cheapest of all mediums."

Government Warns Against Fake Income Tax Experts.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The internal revenue bureau Friday issued a warning to the people to inquire carefully into qualifications of persons advertising themselves as "income tax experts" and offering to aid taxpayers in making out their income tax returns for a consideration.

"The commissioner's attention," says an official statement, "has been directed to advertisements and announcements of this kind, some of which are issued by former employees with the obvious purpose of capitalizing their service in the bureau of internal revenue to secure business. The claims made by certain of these former employees, to say the least, are extravagant and not in line with knowledge of the income tax laws and regulations obtained while with the internal revenue service. The advisory tax board, at one time a part of the bureau organization, comprised but five members although claim to its membership is now being made by former employees in no way connected with it.

"Every taxpayer is assured of a square deal for the government based entirely on the tax laws and regulations and the facts in his case. No other influence is allowed to enter into internal revenue matters and the intimation of any firm or individual that they are in position to exert special influence with the internal revenue officers is without foundation.

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies superfine value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

Reasons!

Why you should use Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles, have been shown in thousands of letters from actual users of this medicine, who speak from personal experience. If the results obtained by other women for so many years have been so uniformly good, why not give Cardui a trial?

PRESIDENT SEEKS PALMER'S VIEWS

Officials Begin to Study Financing Under Private Control.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Railroad finances began to push the labor situation into the background in official interest Wednesday. Federal authorities began bucking into the job of figuring how much freight rates, and perhaps passengers fares, too, will have to be advanced to put the carriers on a sound footing after they are turned back of private ownership next Monday.

While brotherhood officials worked on the brief which will supplant their appeal of Tuesday to the president to veto the railroad bill, the measure itself arrived at the White House and was at once dispatched to Attorney General Palmer for an opinion. The general expectation is that his verdict will uphold the bill. After this the president will act. Of the insiders only few look for a veto, the prevailing conjecture is that Mr. Wilson will sign it.

Statistical Experts at Work.

Meanwhile the statistical experts who thrive on figures and logarithm tables, began to compute whether a 10, 20 or 30 per cent boost in transportation rates will be necessary to yield the roads the 5 1-2 per cent on valuations provided by the bill. The government guaranty continues until September 1, which means deficits paid out of the treasury until that time.

The big problem is that of determining what the valuation is. On this there is a maze of conflicting theory. Back in 1904 La Follette made his big fight in the republican convention for a plank for physical valuation of the roads. Nine years later, in 1913, an act was eventually passed, and since 1914 a bureau of valuation has been at work under the direction of C. A. Prouty, who has been with the interstate commerce commission a quarter of a century. In six years the work has reached the point where the track work has been finished, the land inquiry is about 80 per cent complete and the accounting inquiry about 80 per cent finished.

Figures on only about six lines are complete, including the Rock Island system. The Illinois Central, Great Northern and Santa Fe are nearly completed. The entire job will require at least two years more.

The facts which the bureau is ascertaining under the requirements of the act are:

The cost of reproducing new structures and equipment and all property of the carriers excepting its lands.

Depreciation which has occurred in the property.

Present value of the lands.

Original cost of the property or the investment in the property. After these items have been determined, it will be the task of the interstate commerce commission to decide what the valuation of the carriers for rate-making is. At the outset, the general plan is to fix an arbitrary valuation on the basis of such facts as are now known, and later on make readjustment.

Women to Have Right to Vote in Primary.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 25.—M. H. Wolfe, chairman of the democratic executive committee, in a letter to Mrs. Hortense Ward, Houston attorney and suffrage worker, announces that women will have a right to vote in the state primary election and participate in the conventions to be held March 1, 4 and 25. This information came in answer to an inquiry from Mrs. Ward with a view to ascertaining whether women are legally entitled to participate in the primary and conventions, particularly with reference to the selection of delegates to the national democratic convention.

Mr. Wolfe's reply follows in part: "I understand the primary election law in Texas to mean that women have the same right as the men; therefore it will be quite in order for women to be delegates to all of the conventions, both local and statewide, and to participate in all the activities of the democratic party."

SPRING OPENING

Coats

With the one-piece frock so favored, the separate Spring Coat is of prime importance. Our displays include the newest and smartest ideas in fabric and style. Two correct types and lengths are shown. The utility garment is still three-quarter and seven-eighth length—while the sport wrap is shorter, varying from finger-tip to knee length. Belted models are shown in both types.

Lighter weights of the beautiful Fall fabrics are used for Spring, such as Silvertone, Velour and Wool in novelty weaves. Several charming models are also fashioned of Tricotine, Poiret Twill, Polo Cloth and Serge.

Frocks

Individuality of style is a marked characteristic of the Spring frocks. One sees many distinct types here with every occasion covered for which a frock is worn. Delightful interpretations of the Balkan blouse, the tunic, the Redingote and the draped effects, with variations of sleeves and neck line, are shown in large patterned foulards, plain and figured crepes, colorful satins and dainty wash fabrics. Skirts are shorter with bouffant effect at the hips shown in many of the models.

Neckwear

The low neck line of blouses and dresses calls for low neckwear styles and dominant among these are the points, squares and unique shapes, joined to fit perfectly the shape of the neck of the blouse or dress.

Suits

The main feature of the new Spring suit style is the length of the jacket, with the short length prevailing. Belted coats with ripple peplums vie with the Eton and pony jackets for popularity. Suit skirts, both plain and pleated, are of conservative fullness, and shorter than last season.

Trimming of rows of buttons close set on sleeves or at the side, or braid and embroidery, and vests of brocaded or novelty silks, give a hint of the charm of the new suits.

The popular fabrics are Poiret Twill, Serge, Tricotine and Gabardine in rich dark colors.

Blouses

The new blouses in all their dainty beauty are now shown in our Blouse Shop. Georgette Crepe with its sheerness and transparency is the popular material used. Scarcely any other fabric can take its place in the feminine fancy, as it blends with the prevailing fashions, besides being daintily attractive and durable.

The colored blouse is more favored than white for all occasions. Cotton blouses, especially of Organdy and Voile, are also in great demand. Wash blouses of Linen are shown in colors and white trimmed with a color. Some blouses of net and linen lawn are prettily trimmed with Filet and Maline lace. Other trimmings largely used are hand tucks and pipings, especially in novel check and striped effects.

Complete Displays of Authentically Styled Spring Apparel for Women, Misses and Children

Our displays of the new Spring Modes of Apparel for Women, Misses and Children are now complete and ready for your selection. The new Coats, Suits and Frocks are shown in their most beautiful and authentic style features—offering garments of charming individuality.

Hundreds of Women await our announcement each Spring, because they have learned to know that what they buy here—Apparel or Accessories—is Correct in Style, of First Class Quality, and Reasonably Priced.

Footwear

The low shoe is particularly pleasing this Spring with our selection quite extraordinary in variety of styles and materials. There is the fancy strap slipper in perfect accord with the fashions of the season; the ever-popular pump, which includes the colonial type, and the trim lace oxford in a pleasing array of styles, all made the best way to assure satisfaction. Patent and soft kid are the principal materials.

Undermuslins

A timely display of lovely undermuslins bearing the fresh atmosphere of a new season, presenting new and distinctive styles; in soft, fine, service-giving materials, should prompt many of our patrons to make selections early. Puritan Undermuslins are further evidence of the painstaking attention which is given to the selection of merchandise for this store.

Skirts

That the separate skirt will be more popular this Spring than ever is evident not only because it is approved by the Fashion and is in high favor with smartly dressed women, but because of the attractiveness of the styles shown. Styles and materials are exceptionally pretty. Dainty silks and woolens in nobby stripe and plaid patterns, fashioned in plain or draped models or with graceful pleated tunics provide a wide range for individual expression. All skirts are shorter this season.

SECRETARY BAKER EXPECTED TO QUIT

Political Wiseacres See Trouble Brewing in Colby Nomination.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Announcement of the selection of Bainbridge Colby of New York, former Bull Moose, for secretary of state to succeed Robert Lansing, has brought to light a situation in the president's official family which may result in another cabinet resignation, voluntary or enforced, that of Secretary of War Baker.

It appears that two factions among the advisers of the president have been maneuvering to influence him in the selection of a successor to Mr. Lansing. One faction was pressing Mr. Wilson to name Under Secretary of State Polk for the position, the other faction was working for Secretary of War Baker.

Complain Against Baker.

The Polk faction, discovering a few days ago that the president was inclining strongly to the selection of Mr. Baker, played their last card by laying before the president certain complaints pertaining to Mr. Baker's official acts and political activities.

Involved in the case against Mr. Baker were two letters he wrote to the president following Mr. Wilson's dismissal of Secretary Lansing on charges of usurping executive functions. One was a letter the president received from the war secretary to which Mr. Wilson took no exception. The other was a mysterious letter of different import which Mr. Baker showed to his friends, but apparently reconsidered sending to the White House. In this letter Mr. Baker is said to have admitted that if Mr. Lansing usurped executive power he also had shared the culpability.

Still another letter figuring in the affair was one said to have been written by Baker to Lansing sympathizing with the latter in connection with his treatment by the president.

Whether Mr. Wilson was influenced by the complaints made against Mr. Baker is not known. It soon transpired, however, that the president had dropped both Baker and Polk from consideration, and both factions were amazed when Mr. Wilson announced the selection of Mr. Colby.

Secretary Baker declined to say anything about the story behind the Colby appointment or his letters pertaining to the dismissal of Mr. Lansing. Friends of the war secretary, however, have advised him fully of what has been going on beneath the surface at the White House, and some of them opine Mr. Baker will not remain in the cabinet much longer.

If Wish Nearest of Kin, No Disturbance of Bodies.

Washington, Feb. 25.—If such is the wish of the nearest of kin, the bodies of American soldiers overseas will not be disturbed in any way whenever practicable, Secretary Baker said today. In cases where the men are buried on private ground or in isolated spots where the graves can be not given proper attention, however, they will be reinterred in permanent cemeteries abroad.

PROLONGED FIGHT FREELY PREDICTED

NEW CABINET PREMIER ACTIVE SUPPORTER OF COLONEL ROOSEVELT.

Washington, Feb. 25.—President Wilson again upset the expectations of official and political Washington Wednesday by naming Bainbridge Colby, a New York attorney, who left the republican party with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, as secretary of state.

The selection caused scarcely less of a sensation than the dismissal of Robert Lansing from the state portfolio two weeks ago, and was received with such undisguised surprise in the senate, where the president's choice must be approved before Mr. Colby can take up the duties of office, that none of the leaders cared to predict when confirmation might be voted.

Accepts With Appreciation.

Not even among those on the inside of the administration circles had there been any expectation that the selection would fall on Mr. Colby, who told inquirers Wednesday that he himself had been given only a very brief notice of the president's intention. Summoned to the White House he spent an hour with Mr. Wilson, after which he announced that he would accept with a deep appreciation the responsibility imposed upon him, and said he would have no further comment to make until the senate had acted.

Word of the nomination reached senators as they were assembling for the day's session, and in their private talks during the day they discussed little else.

Once before the senate has been called upon to act on a nomination of Mr. Colby and then confirmation was voted, although a strong fight against him was led by the two republican senators from his State. That was in 1917, when President Wilson named him to membership on the shipping board. It was said in some quarters that the reasons which led to objection at that time need not necessarily apply in the present case, but Senator Calder of New York said he would insist that the nominee's qualifications for the secretaryship be looked into carefully before he would vote for confirmation of that position.

A native of St. Louis, 51 years old, Mr. Colby has been engaged in law practice in New York since 1892 except for the 19 months he was a shipping board member. During the latter service he was an American representative in the inter-allied shipping conference at Paris and was active in directing the board's war policy. He resigned in March of last year, saying that the critical war period having passed he preferred to return to private life.

Commissioner Kramer Calls Off Expedition Into Michigan District.

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 25.—Thirty-five federal agents and members of the Michigan State Constabulary, who arrived here last night under Major A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition commissioner for the Central states, to "clean up" Iron County, were en route back to their home stations, while Major Dalrymple was bound for Washington to confer with Prohibition Commissioner John Kramer.

Major Dalrymple, who led the aimed expedition to Iron River, in the heart of the Upper Peninsula iron belt, with the avowed purpose of arresting county and village officers on charges of conspiracy to obstruct the enforcement of the prohibition law, was called off by Mr. Kramer and ordered to meet the opposing side and seek a compromise without legal action.

The worsting of federal agents in the first clash with state officers in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution has given a serious blow to the enforcement of the dry law, Major Dalrymple declared before he left for Washington.

Martin S. McDonough, prosecuting attorney of Iron County and leader of the county authorities, who Major Dalrymple declared, were in "open revolt" against the United States, received a telegram today from District Attorney Myron H. Walker at Grand Rapids, advising him to take no action until the district attorney could come here to investigate the case.

Mr. McDonough had obtained a warrant for the arrest of Major Dalrymple charging him with malicious libel, and had planned to have it served by the chief of police at the railroad station when the train bringing the federal men arrived last night.

A telephone message from Crystal Falls, fifteen miles away, however, notified McDonough that Major Dalrymple, in anticipation of trouble here, had issued fifty rounds of ammunition to each man in his party. The prosecutor then advised Iron River citizens to go home and avoid and demonstration that might provoke open hostilities.

Today Mr. McDonough waited upon Major Dalrymple at the hotel where the latter was staying and warned him that if he carried out his announced plan and arrested anyone in Iron County without a warrant or searched any private home in the county for liquor, the county officers would "arrest every man in your party and put them in jail."

DECLINES TO SAY HE IS DEMOCRAT

Asked by Party's State Committee in Georgia if He Cared to Qualify.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—Herbert Hoover in a telegram to the state democratic executive committee today said he did not feel "that any real public service will be performed by injecting" himself in the race for the nomination for president, and declined to declare himself a democrat so that under the rules in Georgia he might appear as a candidate in the preferential primary April 20.

"I was not identified with the democratic party before the war," Hoover said, "and my official connection with the government has been solely a war service and consequently not of a partisan character."

Asked if He Could Qualify.

Mr. Hoover's candidacy was brought forward through a petition signed by more than the required 100 white democrats who asked the democratic executive committee to place his name in the primary. The committee had ruled that a man must be a democrat to run in the primary and, as Mr. Hoover had not declared his partisan affiliation, the committee wrote asking if he cared to qualify. His reply, a telegram from New York made public here tonight, follows:

"I feel confident that it is not necessary to dwell at length upon my gratitude to you for the honor implied in your letter of Feb. 22.

"I especially appreciate it since I was not identified with the democratic party before the war and my official connection with the government has been solely a war service and consequently not of a partisan character.

"I have not been able to persuade myself at all that any real public service will be performed by injecting myself into the race for the nomination to the greatest honor at the disposal of the American people.

"Therefore, aside from any other reason, I do not intend to file my name."

Hundreds of Mexicans are Coming to Texas for Work.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 25.—Hundreds of Mexicans are now coming to Texas. Recently it was announced in Washington that the head tax and literary tests would be suspended, the action of the Washington authorities being taken at the instigation of farmers from Southwest Texas, who showed that it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to operate many of the farms without the Mexican labor.

Since that time the railroad lines leading from Mexican border cities have been lined with Mexican laborers coming to the United States to seek work. The Texas-Mexican Railroad, leading from Laredo, is followed by many. Hundreds are said to be crossing the river and for want of transportation walk along the railroads.

Rough Roads for Wheels Are Smooth Roads for Passengers

WATCH Overland 4 on rough cobbles or unpaved roads. The wheels follow surface inequalities, but the new Triplex Springs give car and passengers remarkable riding steadiness.

They give 130-inch Spring-base to a car of 100-inch wheelbase.

This makes for the gently buoyant road action of a large, heavy car with the economy in upkeep, fuel and tires, and convenience of handling of a scientifically designed light car.

Auto-Lite starting and lighting, door-opening curtains and dash light give but a hint of the completeness and quality which characterize everything about Overland 4.

Get the Best Here and Pay No More

The house that gives so-called "bargains" in groceries also gives inferior goods. Inferior goods are generally expensive at any price—they are not conducive to health and strength. We do not make a bluff at offering you "bargains" at the prevailing high prices of everything. There are no bargains any more, in any line. But we DO give you the BEST groceries and provisions to be had, and no one can charge less for the quality we sell. Our prices are LOW, considering the cost to us, BECAUSE WE HAVE REDUCED OUR MARGIN OF PROFITS.

GOOD FELLOWS IN OFFICE.

We in this country have gradually dropped into the habit of electing good fellows to public office.

If they are possessed of some slight qualifications, we are fortunate. If they are without qualifications, elect them any way—because they are "good fellows."

The professional politician is invariably a "good fellow." It is part of his stock in trade. It is necessary that he be such in order to succeed.

Because of this you find our public offices filled with professional politicians.

The young fellow with political ambitions goes out after some small office, and because he is pleasant and agreeable, a good talker and bunk slinger, we give it to him.

Next he fixes his eye on an office a little higher up, and because he has proven himself a "good fellow" in the small one we give him the next one.

Then the state legislature, and even congress, offer attractions to his ambitious mind.

We have come to know him well, have smoked his cigars at election time, have admired his democracy in kissing the kids, have accepted his blarney at face value, and again we give him his heart's desire—because, you know, he's a "real fellow."

In the state capitol, or in Washington, the "good fellow" meets other "good fellows"—fellows who do not hold public office, but who do hold the power of materially advancing the personal interests of the new legislator "if he is a good Indian."

But there we draw the veil. You know the sordid story by heart—the story of capitalistic intrigue and domination at the expense of the people, of the blighted hopes of honest constituents, of the betrayal of public trust.

Too often it is seen in this country, because in the beginning we were soft hearted and easy and believed in the honeyed words and worthless promises of a "good fellow."

These are troublous times, and we need something more than "good fellows" in our offices of public trust. We need statesmanship capable of reconstructing the scrambled and battered fabric of our body politic.

We need honor and brains instead of political sagacity.

But we reap only as we sow.—Exchange.

THE CANADIAN PAPER SHORTAGE.

Canadians who are irately protesting against the elimination of their Sunday newspapers, and the general curtailment of newspapers and periodicals in Canada because of the shortage of paper there, should realize that it is the unjust attitude of their government toward American paper manufacturers that is responsible in a large measure for the shortage of paper in both the United States and Canada.

With American mills short of wood, for raw material, and with an unprecedented demand for paper to fill, prices have risen to new high records in the United States. The Canadian mills are taking advantage of this situation to reap huge profits by shipping the bulk of their supply into the United States, thus creating a shortage in Canada. The mills in Canada make paper at less cost than do the American mills, and they find it highly profitable to sell their product on this side the line.

A long step in the solution of the paper shortage problem in both countries would be for the Canadian government to vacate the order in council which prohibits Americans from removing from Canada the wood they bought years ago for the manufacture of paper. If American mills could get their hands on this supply of raw material they could increase their production of paper sufficiently to relieve the shortage in the United States and at the same time make available for Canadian use large supplies of Canadian paper now coming across the line.

The Canadian ban on wood exports is clearly in the interest of Canadian paper mills. It is a rank discrimination against American mills and works an injustice upon the publishers and the public of both Canada and the United States.

The United States probably will soon send a commission to intercede with the Canadian government for the lifting of the ban on wood exports. Canadian publishers and the Canadian public who are deprived of Sunday papers because of the hoggishness of Canadian mills should have representatives to co-operate with the American commission when it begins negotiations with the Canadian government.—Houston Post.

COURAGE AND ITS REWARD.

Be strong and of a good courage.—Joshua 1, 6.

No one ever set out to do a good deed that evil did not attempt to prevent its accomplishment.

The favorite plan of the prince of darkness in such cases is to discourage the one whose heart has responded to the inspiration of love to use his talents and capacities in the cause of righteousness.

The most effective implement possessed by the wicked one is the wedge of discouragement.

Its sharp point makes it possible to use it where no other can be, but when it is successfully started all the other weapons in the hands of the devil may be used at his leisure. This was true in the days of old as well as now, for the brave and intrepid Joshua had to have assurance from the Most High before he was willing to start on his magnificent enterprise of leading the children of Israel into the Promised Land. This assurance had to be repeated and emphasized to him: "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee: I will not fail thee nor forsake thee. Be strong and of a good courage—for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever on goes—only be thou strong and of a good courage." This advice was repeated in different words centuries later by him who understood utterly the hearts of men when he said: "Hope thou in God.—Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid;" and the apostle said, "Resist the devil and he will flee from you."

Nothing good is accomplished without difficulty. No victory can be won without a fight.

Every struggle is an opportunity for triumph.

Every battle is an occasion for victory, and every victory for right is a demonstration of the power of good over evil, truth over error, love over hate.—Galveston News.

WHAT ARE YOU?

Are you willing to admit that you are not as good as other people in democratic America?

Do you agree that there is a strata above you, as well as below you?

If so, the middle class union, recently formed in New York, will welcome you with open arms—provided you are not a capitalistic profiteer or a member of a labor union.

The middle class union has for its object the protection of the interests of what it terms the middle class—the lawyers, doctors, teachers, and all others who are not capitalists or affiliated with labor unions. It maintains that this great class is at the mercy of both capital and organized labor, and is further trimmed by the profiteers in other lines. Emancipation is its object.

The object is a worthy one, and organization is needed among these people. It may in time grow to respectable and even formidable proportions—after a new name has been selected.

The average American likes to think that he is just as good as any other man—that the self-styled American aristocracy are just a bunch of scheming, unscrupulous, profiteering financial buccaneers, moral degenerates aping the ways of the old world.

Middle class? Not on your life. Every man is seated serenely on the top of the ladder—at least in his own estimation.

Whisper it softly, but come quickly! We have a little "something" stowed away in our sanctum which we dole out sparingly on occasion to our convivial but thirsty friends—good, cool, sparkling water. Have one?

Quail at Eagle Pass for Delivery Over Texas.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 21.—The State game and fish department is informed the bird men have delivered 2500 "bob whites" at Eagle Pass for distribution over the State. The birds are to be kept in quarantine for the next 10 days. Careful attention has been given to the matter of feeding and the expectation is that there will be small loss.

The effort to re-establish quail in certain portions of Texas, where they have been decimated and to get them established in other portions of the State where they have never been known is going to be very successful. There are scores of applications for the birds from farmers over the State. Some of these are to be disappointed, in all probability, for they expect—judging by their letters—to get an entire covey, whereas they are lucky to get a pair of birds. But if they care for them properly they will have a covey or two by the end of the summer. Each of those coveys will result in others so that within the course of five years there will be quail all over Texas.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Houston County—Greeting:

Box and wife, Cora Box, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if there be no newspaper published in said Houston County, then in a newspaper in the nearest County to said Houston County, to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court of Precinct No. One of Houston County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Crockett, on the last Monday in February, A. D. 1920, the same being the 23rd day of February, A. D. 1920, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 16th day of February, A. D. 1920, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 6536, wherein Kennedy Bros. are Plaintiffs, and A. M. Box and wife, Cora Box, are Defendants, and said petition alleging:

That beginning on or about the 11th day of January, 1919, and on divers dates thereafter during said year, as shown by itemized account filed, the plaintiffs at the special instance and request of defendants sold and delivered to defendants certain goods, wares and merchandise amounting to the sum of One Hundred Ninety-six and 39-100 Dollars whereby defendants became indebted to and promised to pay plaintiffs said sum; that said goods, wares and merchandise were reasonably worth the several sums charged therefor; that said account is past due and unpaid, and defendants have failed and refused to pay the same.

Plaintiffs pray judgment for the amount due on said account with legal interest and for all costs of suit.

Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand at office in Crockett, Texas, this 16th day of February, A. D. 1920.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

On Monday afternoon, at the residence of A. A. Aldrich, the Junior Society of the Presbyterian Sunday school gave an entertainment called "Ministering to the Saints." A number of guessing contests were arranged which afforded much amusement. The playlet proved a matter of interest to both participants and observers. Refreshments were served and a free-will offering realized the substantial sum of about ten dollars. Mrs. Aldrich planned and managed the little affair and feels much encouraged at its success. The following took part: Master John Baker, C. C. Jones, Will Ike Kennedy; Misses Augusta Ione Shivers, Margurite Sullivan, Cleo Tindell, Elsie Hale, Mary Ellinor Shivers and Mary Sue Jones.

If production has begun to increase, as Mr. Baruch says it has, then he but reads a plain and infallible sign when he predicts that the cost of living will soon begin to decline rapidly. It is true, as he observes, that "when the hoarder and profiteer see great production in sight—and they will be the first to see it—they will get from under." The cause will work the end forecast by Mr. Baruch inevitably. But the fact that production has begun to increase is not the only reason one could find for the belief that there must be an early reduction in the cost of living. There is another in the fact that exports must diminish, absolutely and relatively to imports, as a result of the depreciation of European currencies. Still another reason for the belief that the cost of living must soon begin to come down is the growing expectation that it will. There is as much of cause as of prophecy in a popular expectation. Let the country come to expect that prices will advance, and it invites and enables those whose interest it is to advance them to do so. As a matter of historical fact the expectation of higher prices preceded the first upward movement of them, and kept ahead of them, luring them to every step they took. It doesn't greatly matter whether the popular expectation has much economic warrant or not. The mere fact that higher or lower prices have come to be expected by the people generally will operate both as an economic and psychological force to make them follow the expected course. Probably still a better prophecy is to be found in the indubitable fact that the rising tendency has already been arrested.—Galveston News.

House Military Committee Refuses to Include Universal Training.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Meeting the demand of republican leaders, the house military committee by a bipartisan vote today refused to include universal military training in the army reorganization bill, which will be formally reported tomorrow by Chairman Kahn. Sharp opposition to the reorganization program is assured when the bill reaches the house floor, and it may be attacked earlier by minority report.

Except From Speech of Hon. Pat Neff, Hillsboro, Feb. 21.

The constitution of Texas clearly provides that the candidate for governor shall have resided in this state for at least five years preceding his election. Bailey has lived as a private citizen in Washington for the last 10 years. He owns his home in Washington, his family lives in Washington, he maintains his law office in Washington, and all of his interests are outside of Texas. The fathers who wrote the constitution, whose tenets he professes to so dearly love, and the courts of the land declare that he is in no way a citizen of Texas.

Last year in New York Mr. Bailey said that the organization of a new party is inevitable. He came to Texas, and said he was ready to get out of the party, and organize a new one. He soon discovered that he was too weak to split the party, and therefore he announced for office within the party.

***
From the day that this government declared war in behalf of human liberty, up to this hour, Bailey's voice has never been heard to utter but one kind word in behalf of his government, his party, or his president, and that was when Wilson vetoed the wartime prohibition law.

Politically speaking, Bailey is satisfied with everything but the League of Nations, the National Administration, the State Administration, the Democratic party, the president of the U. S., the two Texas senators, the 18 Texas congressmen, the State Legislature, prohibition, woman suffrage, and the enforcement of the prohibition law. But Joe is mighty pleased with himself.

Mr. Bailey claims that all those who are now in office are little men in big places. It seems to me it is better to be little men doing big things, than to be a big man like Bailey in congress for 20 years, and accomplish nothing. And think that a wonderful man is this modest, unassuming Bailey! He will admit any hour in the day that he stood for a quarter of a century, the one towering intellect in congress, and yet he has not even one piece of constructive legislation to his credit. With all his self-admitted ability as a great statesman, he has never been able to connect his name with any worthy constructive legislative problem, and he never championed a big meritorious cause that was successful. He and his kind fought the federal Saving Banks—we have them. He and the Express Companies opposed the parcels post law—it was passed. He and his Republican manufacturing clients contended against the passage of the Child Labor Law—Congress passed it. He and Wall St. money lenders ranted against the Federal Reserve Banks—they are blessing the people. He and the trans-continental railroads opposed the Panama Canal—the oceans were soon shaking hands across the Isthmus. Bailey opposed the Pure Food Bill—the enacted law now adds to the health of the world. Bailey fought the nomination of Woodrow Wilson—it made Wilson popular in Texas, and he became the choice of the nation. He and the breweries opposed the submission of prohibition—the amendment was submitted and adopted. He fought the nomination of Morris Sheppard—Sheppard won. He grew in-signant at the submission of the suffrage amendment—it is being ratified as fast as the State Legislatures can meet. He and the liquor interest fought wartime prohibition—it became the law of the land. He said it was unconstitutional—the Supreme Court, as usual, did not agree with him. He fought Jim Hogg and his constitutional amendments—both were triumphant. Bailey dares not suggest the repeal of these amendments, though he says he never changes. It.

Informal Dinner at Dallas.

Mrs. L. Meriwether has received the following letter from R. E. Stuart, special representative for the Art Publication Society at Dallas, which her friends and patrons consider is a tribute that she well deserves. We are fortunate in having such a progressive, conscientious music teacher for our children. Mrs. Meriwether hopes to attend the dinner, leaving here Wednesday night for Dallas. The letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Meriwether:

I am giving a little informal dinner at the Adolphus hotel here next Thursday evening, February 26, 1920, at 6:30 o'clock to the more prominent Progressive Series teachers and would appreciate it very much if you will do me the honor to be present.

It has been intimated to me by the society that Mr. Ernest R. Kroeger might be available for a big free normal on the Progressive Series in Dallas in June of this year if really desired by the Progressive Series teachers in Texas and myself. Mr. Kroeger has conducted the normals on the Progressive Series for Cornell University for the past few years. He is a big man—in fact unquestionably the best known American musician since the passing of Sherwood and McDowell.

Similar normals will be given this year at Cornell University, Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Sternberg School of Music, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Minneapolis, St. Louis, New Orleans, and Montreal. It is my opinion that it will be a great thing for Dallas to have one also, where the Progressive Series teachers and their advanced pupils could attend at a minimum of expense; also all other teachers and pupils who desire to do so as it will be absolutely free to everyone.

I am not, however, willing to use my influence and efforts to bring Mr. Kroeger here for this normal unless the teachers of Texas want the normal, will attend it, and become partners with me in making it the success that the undertaking deserves, and I want to get an expression at this dinner of the consensus of opinion among the more prominent teachers on the matter.

Won't you come? You will meet lots of enthusiastic teachers.

Kindly write or wire me immediately whether or not I can count on your being present as I must know not later than Wednesday morning, February 25, whether or not "to have a plate put on for you."

An informal reception will be held in the main parlor on the mezzanine floor of the hotel immediately preceding the dinner. Anticipating the pleasure of seeing you, I am

Sincerely and cordially yours,
R. E. Stuart,
Special Representative.

Fifty of the music teachers met with Mr. Stuart and his secretary, Mr. Wesson, at the dinner in the Adolphus hotel in Dallas and voted unanimously to have the Progressive Series Summer Normal, beginning June 14 and ending July 3. There were a number of letters from other teachers who were unable to attend, but who heartily endorsed the Normal, and promised their co-operation and help in every way they could. Mrs. L. Meriwether.

Died of Pneumonia.

Jack Selman, 16 years old, and a son of Mrs. Wade Selman, who lives in the Belott community, died at the home of his uncle, Mr. Sid Johnson, in Crockett Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock. The young man was suffering from pneumonia when certain complications set in which necessitated his removal to Crockett for specific treatment about two weeks before he died. The motor hearse of Waller & Green, undertakers, conveyed the remains to the Belott cemetery Wednesday afternoon where funeral services were held. The religious service was conducted by Rev. L. L. Sams, pastor of the First Baptist church of Crockett. The bereaved have the sympathy of our people.

Mrs. R. E. McConnell, Miss Maude McConnell, Mrs. Hallie Collins, Miss Mac Burton and Henry Ellis returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Houston.
