AUSTIN WITHDRAWS SHERIFF'S RACE

Crockett, Texas,
May 20, 1920.

Editor Courier:

Will you kindly inform your readers that, while I have every reason to believe from the assurances of my many friends that I would be successful in my race for the sheriff's office, I do not believe it would be to my financial interest to continue in the race.

I therefore ask that you remove my name from the list of aspirants for that office. Thanking you for this, and my many friends for their support and words of encouragement, I am
Yours very truly,
P. D. Austin.

Legion Minstrels.

Under the auspices of Thomas R. Brailsford Post No. 134 of the American Legion, minstrels were given in the High School Auditorium Friday night, May 21. The entertainment was interspersed with snappy songs and new jokes. Mr. George Loeh Cook was a success as interlocutor. The end men, who made the audience laugh, were Hunter Warfield, Burk Lockey, Gail Leediker, Harvey Bayne, Arthur Owens and Mayes Berry. The symphony chorus was composed of Messrs. Waller, Bryan, Black, Scarborough, Rains, Lockfield, English, Monk and West. "Waiting for Chow," by the guardhouse sextette, Messrs. Owens, Berry, Leediker, Lockey, Warfield and Lockfield, was numerously encored. The minstrels closed with "The Troubles of the Average Recruit, Individually and Collectively," featured by "Hard Boiled Gus" Cook, drill sergeant just back from the A. E. F., who had the assistance of Third Lieutenant Corporal "Blondy Buck" Berry.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The Courier office has never before been the center of such encouraging crop reports as have been coming in during the last week. According to these reports, prospects for corn and cotton and other things are most flattering all over the county, with the exception of the Trinity bottom lands, which are badly overflowed from the heavy rains north of us. Fine corn and cotton of the Trinity bottom lands will have to be replanted, entailing a heavy loss on river bottom planters.

Among the number calling to renew or subscribe or sending in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

W. E. Bennett, Crockett Rt. 5.
D. S. Williams, Lovelady.
H. E. Barnes, Crockett Rt. 4.

In the Markets.

Mr. John C. Millar of the firm of Millar & Berry, dealers in men's furnishings, is now in the northern and eastern markets to see what can be done and what can be had in the way of replenishing Millar & Berry's stock of furnishings for the coming season. Their house is now stocked with the things needed by men and boys for the present season, but the future necessities of their customers must be anticipated and looked after, to the end that no one may leave Millar & Berry's store without finding what they want.

That is why Mr. Millar is now in the northern and eastern manufacturing centers. He is there to see what the markets have to offer and at what price they have to offer it. Houston county customers may feel assured that Mr. Millar will look after the interests of Millar & Berry customers not only in the matter of price as well. Mr. Millar is an experienced buyer and an artist in the selection of men's and boys' wearables. His trip will be worth much to his customers in the matter of selection and adaptation.

The store of Millar & Berry has become noted over Houston county as the home of correct apparel for men and boys. It has also become noted as headquarters for reliability and dependability in all things, and especially so in clothing for men and boys. The firm name of Millar & Berry stamped in any article of wearing apparel is the true sign of reliability and dependability. If you are a customer of this house, you will know how true this is, and it is unnecessary to remind you. But if it so happens that you are not a customer of Millar & Berry, then try for yourself and see for yourself if all statements herein contained are not easily verified.

Millar & Berry's spring and summer stock, although being fast depleted, would be hard to improve on as regards styles, materials and prices. Their fall and winter stock will be still harder to beat as a result of Mr. Millar's visit north and east. An invitation is extended every man and boy in Houston county to visit the store of Millar & Berry and see what the northern and eastern markets afford as represented in this truly representative store of men's and boys' wearables. It.

Class Entertained.

On Saturday evening of last week Miss Mary Spence entertained her Lovelady pupils with an enjoyable party at her home.

The house was beautifully decorated in the Senior Class colors, green and gold. Over the table in the dining room was a large gold heart from which green streamers were extended to the edge of the table. At an appropriate time the young people gathered around the table and at a signal from the hostess each pulled a string. Out from the depth of the heart fluttered a happy golden wish to each. A contest followed in which Miss Beatrice Dean and Nick Mainer won the prize. A lovely ice course was served during which Miss Spence gave the following toast to her pupils:

"Here's to my dear pupils.
We have worked and toiled together—
We have labored over perplexing lessons
Thru fair and stormy weather.
And here's to my pupils I've punished
And who were lovely to me just the same.

It was for their good that I did it,
For to hurt them gave me pain.
And here's to the school graduate,
For they have won this heart of mine,
And here's to all the Lovelady people,
Always so broad and generous and kind.

Then Miss Ella Francis Mainer responded with the following:
Here's to our dear teacher,
whom we love,
We truly do.
And here's to her patience and kindness as the lessons we labored through.
And here's to her happiness, forever and a day;
May her pathway be strewn with flowers all along the way.

Then John R. Mainer rose with a twinkle in his eye and said:

Dear teacher, you say it pained you to punish us.
Well, believe me, it pained us, too.
But I guess those lessons we would never have learned if it hadn't been for you.
I well remember when we clashed

The licks like rain did fall (Gee how it hurt), but it is all over now, dear teacher,
And we love you in spite of it all.
A Pupil.

DETAILS OF DEATH OF CARRANZA

Late President's Chief of Staff
Sends Message to Obregon.

Mexico City, May 23.—A dispatch received from Juan Barrantan, chief of staff of President Carranza, says Carranza met his death at the hands of General Rodolfo Herrero's forces at Tlaxcalantongo. The dispatch did not give the exact date. The dispatch follows:

Villa Juarez, State of Puebla, May 22.—To General Alvaro Obregon: Referring to your telegram of this date, Herrero joined the column at Patla, professing loyalty. Arriving at Tlaxcalantongo, Herrero offered hospitality to Carranza, placing sentinels who knew the terrain. At 4 o'clock in the morning his men, abusing the confidence imposed in them, surrounded the shelter where Carranza was sleeping, firing their rifles furiously into the hut. Everyone offered resistance, although with the natural demoralization caused by the unexpected attack.

"General Francisco Murguia fought valiantly, repulsing the traitors who surprised the defenders when they were leaving their shelters to attack the enemy.

"The unexpectedness of the attack enables us to clear our military honor. The defense was so general that the attackers were forced to take sixty prisoners, among them Mario Mendez, Paulino Fontes, Gil Garias, General Heliodoro Perez, Colonel Gomez, General Villela and Carranza's military aide.

"Mendez formerly was director of the national telegraph lines, Fontes was former director of National Railways and Senor Garias was Carranza's private secretary.

"Our conscience is clear. Our grief for the death of President Carranza is inconsolable. We are satisfied we did not abandon him for one moment.

"The few men wounded and dead is explained by the fact that the attackers planned their crime, knowing the place the president was sleeping. The loyalty and courage of the president's followers were useless against the treason of those criminals."

Only One Besides Carranza Reported Killed.

Mexico City, May 23.—President Carranza and General Morales Molina were the only persons killed at Tlaxcalantongo, according to newspaper dispatches Sunday. General Rodolfo Herrero is quoted as saying he only desired to kill Carranza and Ygnacio Bonillas. General Molina conducted the military trial of General Roberto F. Cejudo, former commander in chief of the forces of Emiliano Zapata in Hidalgo, who was accused of dealing with the rebels. He is said to have been mistaken for Bonillas.

The dispatches add that the three generals and two members of the Carranza cabinet, who at first were reported killed, have disappeared and probably are in hiding.

Three channel sweepers, boats of a new design, will be built to remove obstructions from the New York State barge canal.

Dinner Party.

Sweet peas in crystal baskets, tied with tulle, were attractively arranged throughout the home. The table, daintily appointed in all accessories, had for central adornment a cut glass bowl filled with sweet peas resting on a reflector wreathed with the same blossoms. Peeping from between the flowers in the bowl, a little winkie sat giving the guests the pass word as they entered. Pink tapers in crystal holders twined with bows of pink tulle gave emphasis to the color scheme. The place cards pictured sweet peas. Five delicious courses were served.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA. You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

LEVI P. MORTON, AGE 96, DIES

Vice President of Harrison Administration, Notable American, Passes.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 16.—Levi P. Morton, vice-president of the United States under President Benjamin Harrison, former governor of the State of New York, and one of the most noted financiers of his generation, died suddenly at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

It was his 96th birthday, and all day long the venerable statesman had been receiving and reading telegrams of congratulation.

Mr. Morton was taken ill with a slight cold three or four days ago, but his condition did not become serious until Sunday evening, when bronchial pneumonia developed. He lapsed into unconsciousness soon after and then came peacefully. With him at the bedside when he died were his daughter, Miss Helen Morton, who had made her home with him at Ellerslie, his country estate, since the death of Mrs. Morton Sr., in August, 1918; his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Eustis of Washington, and his nephew, Morton Minot.

Children Pay Tribute.

Saturday had been a joyous one to Mr. Morton. More than 150 children of the Rhinebeck schools were his guests. The entire day he devoted to the children. Mr. Morton was wrapped up in the children and notified all that it was the children's day. He had instructed his employes to provide prizes for the children and a regular field day was arranged on the spacious lawns of Ellerslie.

Although Levi Parsons Morton came to New York city in 1854, he did not enter politics, in which he was to become so prominent both in State and nation, until 1876, until he ran for congress and was defeated. Before that time he had devoted his time entirely to business and had amassed a large fortune.

He was born in Shoreham, Vt., May 16, 1824, the son of an Episcopal clergyman. Young Morton worked in a country store and went to night school and then kept a general store in Hanover, N. H., where he built up a prosperous business. After four years in a store of his own in Concord, N. H., he moved to Boston and became connected with the dry goods firm of James Beel & Co. In 1854 he came to New York and founded the dry goods house of Morton & Grinnell, which suspended after the panic of 1857, settling for 50 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Morton soon after this founded the banking house of Morton Bliss & Co. One evening in 1863 he invited all the creditors of Morton & Grinnell to dinner. Beside his plate each guest found a check for the amount due him morally, though not legally, from the suspended firm. The next few years Mr. Morton devoted to business. In 1896 he was a member of the syndicate that helped the government specific payments. In 1876 he was elected to congress by a great majority.

Ambassador at Paris.

President Garfield sent him as minister to France in 1881—he had previously declined the nomination for the vice presidency—and he served four years, becoming very popular in Paris through his lavish entertainment. While he was minister it was charged that he became interested in a contract as a member of his firm with the Credit Industrial for the sale of Peruvian products in the United States. He was exonerated.

In 1885 and 1887 he was defeated for the United States senate, but in 1888 he was elected vice president on the Harrison ticket. He did not get a renomination in 1892, but in 1894 was elected governor of New York by about 130,000 plurality.

While he was governor, the first Greater New York charter was adopted. He signed the Percy-Gray racing bill, the repeal of which, under Governor Hughes, killed racing in New York.

Electric power will be sold by the year at a nominal figure to industries that locate in a new Oregon town.

A STATEMENT AND RE-ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Democrats of Houston County:

In justice to you and to me I feel that I should make this statement because of recent events affecting my candidacy for the Legislature, and though a little bit "scarred" I want you to know that I am still "in the ring." I am not discouraged by my defeat on the 15th inst. Only the MANNER in which it was done is all that "stings." You all know HOW it was done, and if you do not, you will know it in due time. Mr. Daniel was one of the first men to pledge me his support, and that was before I even announced as a candidate, and repeatedly after that and down to just TWO days before the election he professed to be my friend, and then—well, you know what happened. He says he did not know his name was on the ticket when it was put there, alleging that "his friends" placed it there without his knowledge or consent. But he DID know it on Wednesday night before the election on Saturday, and then refused to "right the wrong," saying "his friends" had got him in the trouble and it would not be "just to them" to do anything but to let it go.

Of course, I take it that Mr. Daniel's friends could have had no feeling of enmity towards me, and that they got Mr. Daniel into the race without knowing of his pledges and promises to me, for I know they would not want him to act in bad faith with any one. Then, they also did not know that I had agreed about a month before the election, with some of the business men of the county, and others, among them Mr. Daniel, not to run for the "special" or unexpired term, if they desired some more experienced and older man to have the place and could get such a man to take it, this understanding being the same reason set out by Mr. Daniel's friends for getting his name on the ticket. And they doubtless did not know that these same people with whom I had made said agreement, after they had tried for two weeks or more to get a suitable man to make the race and had failed in their efforts, came back to me and said they could get no one to run and for me to go ahead and make the race, Mr. Daniel being one of them. So, it looked like I was the only man who would have the office and had to run or let the place go by "default." Under these circumstances, I remained in the race, feeling absolutely safe as to any opposition until Mr. Daniel's name went on the ticket only TWO days before the election. I make this statement only to get myself before you in the true and correct light, and I know that no one familiar with the FACTS will deny anything I have said.

But I have no desire to do any one an injustice, bear no MALICE towards anybody, and prefer that "the dead past bury its dead." I go into the July primary only with renewed courage and am not at all downcast over my defeat, and I merely ask that you do right by me at the coming primary, forgetting about the way I have been treated and vote for me strictly on my merits alone. Mr. Daniel has kindly stated to me since the election that he will in no case oppose me in July, and the gentlemen who asked my withdrawal and then asked me to remain in the race, each and all assured me that any man they might select for the "short" term would not run against me in July, and that they themselves would support me. I want each and all of these gentlemen, including Mr. Daniel, to know that I am deeply appreciative of this kindness.

Therefore, I come again asking your support in this primary, including the 350 good women, who are qualified voters, assuring all of you that no one will be more grateful for your suffrage and no one will try harder to merit your confidence should I be elected.

Very respectfully yours,
Chas. C. Rice.

One or two items I wish to add. I feel that the people should know that when Mr. Daniel came into the race, the tickets had all been printed, with no name as a candidate but mine, and had been distributed over the county, Mr. Daniel knowing of it and expressed gratification that I was to have no opponent. The tickets with both names, without my knowledge, were printed and distributed Wednesday before the election, and I have a suspicion that Mr. Daniel was more "gratified" over the SECOND set of tickets than over the first. Just what became of the first set of tickets I do not know, but they did not "show up" at the polls. It might be proper to suggest that some one should go "ticket hunting."

Again, let me express my heartfelt gratitude to those who voted for me on the 15th inst. In the light of all the circumstances surrounding that election I do not see that my opponent has anything to "gloat over." True, I was defeated, but it does my heart good to know that some people saw fit to vote for me anyway. The returns show that at all the boxes where the "trick" became known it failed to work. I have absolute confidence in the great mass of the people to do the right thing when they know the facts.

Please Estimate on a Shirt, a Pair of Shoes and a Hat.

Some time ago we saw a story in one of the printing trade papers which we must quote from memory, as we do not know which paper published it. Let us, however, acknowledge and give credit to the author, so far as we are able.

"A certain printer has notified the merchants in his town that he will shortly be in need of a shirt, a pair of shoes and a hat. He asks that each merchant furnish him estimates as follows:

One shirt with and without collar; also in one, two and three colors. Estimate each way.

One pair of shoes. Estimate for two colors, black or brown. Also give prices, whether high or Oxford and laced or buttoned.

One hat, soft or derby (estimate for black, brown, green and grey, with and without band, size to be determined later.)

This printer adds that he is about to place a large order in the near future, and will give special consideration to the merchant who makes him a reasonable price on this small initial order."

Etc., Etc.

Why isn't turn about fair play? How many times is the printer asked to figure just such nonsense?

DOLLAR SAVED NOW IS TWO IN FUTURE

Says Now Better Time to Save Than Ever; Doubts General Price Decline Will Come.

Houston, Texas, May 29.—The man who saves a dollar now is thereby saving the equivalent of two dollars for the near future, in the opinion of J. W. Hoopes, vice president of the South Texas Commercial National Bank, formerly with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

This statement was made by Mr. Hoopes in connection with his opinion as to the high cost of living, which, he declares, the people are most largely responsible for despite the fact that extortion and profiteering are being practiced beyond the question of a doubt, he states.

Credit Is Too Cheap.

"It is a question of milking the cow as often as she backs up to be milked," said Mr. Hoopes. "Credit is too cheap—too easy to obtain. One popular method employed by merchants in meeting competition is in offering credit. The practice of buying on credit leads to the purchase of nonessentials to the greatest extent, which not only adds directly to the aggregate of what is taken into the 'living expense' account, but also creates a demand which, by comparison with the supply, keeps prices up.

"If sentiment could be trained along the line of everybody cutting out the nonessentials for two months, or even two weeks, the lessening of the demand would automatically affect the supply to the extent that prices would start downward, and if these methods were continued, normal conditions would more readily be restored than by any other means.

"It is true that wages would have to decline accordingly, since the cost of production must enter into the price of a product; but the purchasing power of a dollar would soon be doubled by reason of the reduction in prices of essentials.

Value of Dollar Doubled.

"If the people would save the money they are spending for nonessentials, for every dollar they saved in this way they would have saved the equivalent of two dollars for 1921, by reason of the fact that the purchasing power of the dollar would be doubled. There has never been a better time to save money than now by reason of this and the further fact that money is easy to obtain, and although it costs so much more to live, practically everybody could find a margin to put away if they would exercise stricter economy instead of permitting the unusual amount of money they come into possession of encourage them to use it too freely.

"I fail to see any definite indication of an immediate general decline in the cost of commodities and seriously doubt that any will come, except in specific cases, more of a local nature, until the people reach the point of eliminating the nonessentials and holding their purchases of the essentials down to the minimum; then prices will automatically decline."

LEGISLATURE MAY HAVE QUORUM

Senate Asked to Withdraw From Agricultural Committee.

Austin, Texas, May 23.—Possibility of the Texas senate and house joint agricultural committee getting down to real work Monday on taking of testimony in the pink boll worm investigation is predicted on a novel and unusual situation. While Representative McDowra is still hopeful that a quorum of the committee will be present, the present status of the question is not solvable before Monday morning.

The senate has been asked to recede from its action of the first day, when it added by resolution, every senator to the agricultural committee not already a member. Thirty-one senators and 21 members of the house agricultural committee total 52. If there is no quorum of the senate so that action may be rescinded, the number necessary for a quorum will be 27, and it is known no such number of the joint committee can be gotten together. Then, too, if the senate has a quorum and decides not to recede from its action of Thursday, the situation is not changed. If the senate on the other hand has a quorum and decides to permit the regular agricultural committee, composed of nine members, to proceed with the work, the total joint committee will be 30. Sixteen will be a quorum and Chairman McDowra states he has secured promises from as many as 18 of the house agricultural committeemen to remain here Monday until the committee meets, at least, which would insure a quorum.

Clearly Apparent.

Hence it is clearly apparent that the question of beginning work by the agricultural committee on the pink boll worm situation in Texas, on Monday or Thursday (there being no doubt, it is said, of a quorum on the latter named day) must necessarily devolve on the possibility of a brief senate session Monday and what the senators may decide in the premises during the session. It seems to be the general impression that no committee quorum can be expected to remain in Austin until after the Dallas State convention. But once the committee meets Monday, if it does meet with a quorum, it will recess from time to time and continue work, regardless of the number present. It is believed most of the house members of the committee will remain, however, according to Chairman McDowra.

It was stated Sunday night that the exact method of procedure by the joint pink boll worm committee has not been gone into, but will be the first matter taken up when the committee meets. It is expected, it was said, that this important feature will be arranged by attorneys representing the respective sides; that it is understood Jake Wolters of Houston will represent farmers in the alleged infested areas, while the State will be represented by Attorney General Cureton and one selected by the State agricultural department. Mr. Wolters has announced that he is making the fight for farmers without charging a fee.

2,500,000 POUNDS OF SUGAR IS FOUND

Federal Agents Locate Cars in Chicago; Charges May Be Filed.

Chicago, May 23.—All the time that Chicago has been howling for sugar and being put off with dabs of half a pound or so, at any price the holder cared or dared to charge, 24 carloads, totaling 2,500,000 pounds of sugar have been kicking around in the railroad yards here increasing in price every minute, owing to strong demand and the demurrage charges.

The 24 cars were located Saturday, resting on a siding near the Field museum. The sugar was shipped from New Orleans and the various consignees have been notified by the Illinois Central railway officials to get the sugar out of the cars, but the latter say they are unable to get any trucks. Railway men say the sugar has been shunted around various yards and sidings, but has now been assembled on a spur practically in the heart of the city, where it can be reached and removed easily.

The consignees, for the most part, are candy manufacturers, one such firm getting five carloads. Meanwhile government officials are tracing the devious routes followed by the cars, to ascertain if proceedings can be started against the consignees for delay in putting the sugar on the market.

Officers Are Scored in Liquor Case Trial.

Chicago, Ill., May 19.—Accusing the federal district attorney and the central district prohibition officer of lack of co-operation in the handling of alleged liquor violation cases, Judge K. M. Landis today threatened to cancel the remainder of the term of court unless there was a change of method on the part of officials.

An alleged bootlegging case was on trial before Landis.

Instructing the jury to ignore the "sloppy manner in which the district attorney had presented the case," the judge called District Attorney Charles Cline and Major Dalrymple before him.

"I am wasting my time and your time by hearing such cases," he said. "There is much ado about these cases when they come to trial and then each turns out to be the case of some man who has been arrested for carrying a pint of booze on his hip. The newspapers tell of cases where thousands of dollars' worth of whisky has been stolen. Why don't you bring in some of the big offenders?"

PROTECTION FROM GREED DEMANDED

Jail the Profit Hogs, Senator Capper Demands in Senate Speech.

Greed in big American industries was lashed with the figures of its own indecent profits by Senator Arthur Capper on the floor of the United States Senate April 24, when he demanded that the government jail the profits hogs, who daily are robbing every man, woman and child in the nation by levying exorbitant and constantly-increasing prices for the necessities of life, for food, medicines, clothing and building materials. Senator Capper did not speak in generalities, but struck straight out, naming by name the giant interests he attacked and giving the staggering figures of their mountains of gain, profits accumulated by an insatiable greed that apparently has neither mercy nor limit in exacting toll on necessities for which thousands of people are in want and suffer hardship.

This unrestricted robbing of the people, Senator Capper said, was breeding industrial disorder and strikes. While the Department of Justice farcically pursued the profiteers with puny suggestions for meatless Thursdays and the Treasury Department sent out preachment exhorting the people to economy and thrift, the sugar gougers, cotton mills, leather, steel, drug, tobacco, linseed and scores of other big industries went calmly and mercilessly ahead, "bleeding the country white."

Senator Capper said: Mr. President, while the Department of Justice is pursuing the profiteer with steakless Thursday, and the Treasury Department is fortifying the people with preachments on thrift and economy, another epidemic of strikes and industrial disorder has come upon us as the result of rampant, long-continued, unrestricted profiteering, and we go on increasing prices.

No country can adjust itself to constantly increasing prices. No country can be enriched by the gouge process. Our delusion of prosperity continues, but our volume of business is declining, as might be expected. Prices for American products have soared so high that both home consumption and what foreign demand there is are falling us. Between high profits and high taxes the people have been hit hard. As a source of wealth for business or for exploitation they are not inexhaustible. And the results we are getting are telling the story.

The extent to which the people have been bled by war and extortion is almost unbelievable. A recent statistical report relates that 79,642 American corporations, many of whose stockholders are now dodging their income taxes thru stock dividends, averaged gross profits of more than 500 million dollars a piece in a single year. It is illuminating also to learn that in just one year during the war the gross income of American corporations rose from 35 1/3 billions to 84 1/2 billions. In a single year the war gave us 10,173 new corporations, and they are few in number, indeed, who have not piled up enormous net profits and great wealth on the capital invested.

The proof of profiteering is the margin of profit. We know that margin has never been wider, nor greed more insatiable.

Do you suppose, Mr. President, that the people who pinch, skimp, and are being forced to do without many things they need, in order that we may continue to double the pre-war number of our millionaires every twelvemonth, thrill with patriotic fervor whenever they read an unctuous lesson on thrift and 100 per cent Americanism from one of these 1,000 per cent

American tax-dodging grandstanders, or that it merely arouses their American dander and promotes wrath and profanity?

The same day a Texas cotton raiser wrote me he had to go to the public works in order to pay the grocery bill for which he went in debt while raising his 1919 crop. I read in a New York newspaper that the net profits of the Amoskeag spinning mills for 1919 were seven times greater than those it cleared in 1917, and that its 1918 profits were thirteen times greater than those it earned in the four years between 1912 and 1916.

All this, over and above deductions for taxes, high cost of labor and materials, and all the other things which we are commonly and repeatedly informed are responsible for the exorbitant prices this and other corporations are allowed to charge the American people for the actual necessities of life.

This cotton farmer said in his letter:

"The profiteers have cleaned me up, and what is still more they will be on the job next year and the next, and so on until we are all become reds, radicals, bolsheviks and devils. I am tired making millionaires of 2,000 pop-eyed parasites each year while reducing my family to pauperism. I don't want to blow up anybody or any institution, for I prefer to live and act like a white man, but this profiteering all along the line will have to stop or I shan't be able to do either."

From a man in his circumstances I do not call that an intemperate letter. In fact, it shows great restraint.

The mill that took this man's cotton at a price which, because of the general prevalence of profiteering, impoverished him and his hard-working family, increased its margin of profit from 2 3/4 cents on every dollar of its sales in 1917 to 15 1/2 cents in 1919. And this government is supposed to be hunting for profiteers.

Mr. President, the speculation and profiteering in cotton and cotton goods has been open, flagrant, scandalous. The Associated Press just a few days ago, carried the information where all the world might read that the Belton Cotton Mills, at Belton, S. C., had declared a dividend of 100 per cent and that the Easley Cotton Mills of Easley, S. C., had declared a stock dividend of 300 per cent. It is equally well known that the Senate committee investigation the high cost of living was recently presented with visual and ocular proof that the spread between the farm price of cotton and the store price of cotton and the store price of cotton materials was about 1,800 per cent and that the retail price of cotton goods is so high that ordinary persons can scarcely buy bedding, cottons, muslins and gingham. If this is not grand larceny in the daytime, I do not know by what other name we could possibly call it.

A New York newspaper, the Evening World, recently published the profit records of big corporations like the Amoskeag Manufacturing company, the American Hide & Leather company, the Woolen Trust, the Cotton Trust, the Steel Trust, the United Fruit company, the Standard Milling company, the Tobacco Products corporation, the Manhattan Shirt company, the United Drug company, the American Linseed company and others whose earnings have far more than kept pace with their costs and taxes, exceeding them in not infrequent instances from 100 to several hundred per cent, and in some cases far exceeding 1,100 per cent. In each instance the attention of the Attorney General was directed to this easily accessible evidence. But nothing has come of it.

At this moment the most brazen challenge of the government we have had in this long saturnalia of greed comes from the gamblers in sugar. We are told, Mr. President, the refiner-

We Have Prospered

☞ A store that is not prosperous can not possibly offer a bargain. Regardless of their own wishes, they must keep prices up.

☞ Thanks to our vast army of customers, we have prospered for the simple reason that our volume of business has been greater than ever before in our history. Constantly increasing trade has enabled us to buy in larger quantities and at reduced cost to us.

☞ Every one knows that our prices have been extremely fair, and that the value of an article has often increased when the price has not.

☞ A policy that has made us prosperous by bringing us unlimited business in the past will continue that prosperity by holding that business in the future and bringing us more.

☞ We have hundreds of special bargains for you. Come in and look us over.

THE BROMBERG STORE

WHERE BUSINESS IS ALWAYS GOOD

ies are unable to provide for the enormous new stocks of sugar. But a corner in sugar has evidently been formed right under the eyes of the Department of Justice. As a consequence, no such wild scramble for sugar shares ever was known. Cuban-American at 580 rose 40 points in one day. Forty thousand shares of Punta Alegre were sold at a rise of 11 points. Tens of thousands of shares of other members of the sugar group were sold at advanced quotations, while sugar-refining stocks also boomed because of the increase of spread between the raw and the refined product.

Mr. President, this body and this government are soon to hear very emphatically from the people in regard to the profiteering in sugar. The canning season raid is on. The price already is rising about a dollar a week wholesale in early anticipation of the canning season. For years the sugar interests have annually and shamelessly and openly robbed American housewives during the canning season. They have, with their extortionate charges, as regularly, blighted the poor family's only hope of putting up and storing away a cheap and wholesome supply of fruits and vegetables for winter. Every principle of healthful living demands just these things in the family diet.

But the Sugar Trust is allowed to prey on the health and welfare of this nation every year in the canning season that it may enrich itself further by profits running high in the hundreds of millions. The people are helpless; there is no real substitute for sugar. It is piracy so colossal and so criminal that Captain Kidd and all the famous pirates of history become Sunday school characters by comparison. How long is this government going to stand for it?

Sugar speculators blandly predict sugar will sell at 30 cents or more a pound retail when the canning season opens. Conservative wholesalers say the price to the consumer will reach or exceed 50 cents a pound before it closes. One billion pounds of sugar have recently been exported from these shores to Great Britain in addition to the millions of pounds shipped abroad during recent weeks or months, says a current news report. This government owes it to itself and to the American people to declare at once an embargo on sugar and to seize immediately every stock of this commodity in the United States for distribution to the consumer at cost.—From speech by Senator Capper of Kansas.

WHAT THE FORMER A. & M.
PRESIDENT WRITES IN THE RUSK COUNTY NEWS.

"THE OUTLOOK IS GLOOMY"

The above are the words of Congressman Sisson. He thinks the thirst for office and greed are causing wise men to view with alarm the situation. Here is an extract from his very able speech:

People are crowding into our cities. The farms are being deserted. Labor is demanding shorter hours, less labor, and more pay. Great fortunes have been made by the few. The breach between capital and labor has been widened. The rich are endeavoring to avoid the payment of taxes and are resisting the graduated income tax and are insisting upon the expenses of the government being paid by the masses by placing a consumption tax on all that they use and on all that they need.

Individualism is being threatened with communism. Our nationalism is threatened with internationalism.

The present congress seems powerless to comprehend and to deal with the situation.

No one can foresee what the result of the coming election will be.

Taxation instead of being reduced is being increased. Not a single war law or war measure has been repealed.

Remedies are being proposed which will only increase our burdens.

Petty party advantage is being sought, and the party in power in Congress seems utterly incapacitated to deal with the situation.

The daily press is filled with a crusade against the high cost of living and abuses Congress for not reducing it.

Now every eye is upon Congress, expecting it to do something because you have invited it, because you have promised more than you can perform. Congress is corrupting the minds of our people in so far as they can by the false idea that if the present Congress is kept in power, they, by legislation, will bring prosperity—that is, present it to the people on some legislative platter. This idea has gone so far that every demagogue that runs for office endeavors to convince the people that he will have the government do more for them if he is given office.

The Constitution is forgotten by these men in their thirst for office. Even men in Congress vote for and advocate measures that they believe are popular, and when asked, "Is it constitutional," the reply is, "If it is not, the Supreme Court will so hold." They are thus "passing the buck," to use a modern slang expression. This is cowardly and unworthy of men who have taken a solemn oath not to violate but to uphold the constitution. Is it any wonder that great numbers of our people lost confidence in the sanctity of that sacred instrument? Is it any wonder that we see socialism on the increase in our great cities? Is it any wonder that the radical element is on the increase?

FARMERS, LISTEN!

You farmers who have planted standard lint cotton seed this year had better organize right now in a way to club your cotton next fall, or you will suffer. Did you know that your good cotton is being penalized every year, because it goes to the market in company with bad cotton?

Are you going to toil in the dew and the hot sun to make it, and freeze your hands and feet to gather it, and then permit it to be depreciated by keeping bad company?

Farmers who are always producing good cotton should meet at the court house right now and get in a position to club their cotton, and then sell it to responsible spinners. Good cotton is right now and will continue to be for a long time, in demand at a good price. But if you persist in raising good cotton to sell some man's bad cotton you will continue to suffer.

This plan that the good lint cotton producer has of selling his cotton at 20 cents per pound less than it is worth, to hold up the price of sorry cotton is calculated to kill this town as a cotton market.

We call upon the Henderson Chamber of Commerce to call a meeting at once for the purpose of remedying this deplorable situation. This organization is composed of sensible business men; men who are patriotic and who earnestly desire to see the town, the county and their country generally prosper.

It will not be more than three or four months until cotton will be ready for the market. Every just, patriotic citizen wants to see the farmer who is striving to do right to get the full value for his cotton.

Because the Dallas News took issue with the President on the peace question, another great paper has openly and vigorously charged The News as being disloyal. Has it come to pass that one can not differ from the President in the most parliamentary way without being disloyal? What did we fight the Kaiser for, any how? The Dallas News has supported the President with more devoted loyalty than it has ever supported any man in its life.

The paper situation is very acute and is growing more so every day. Large newspapers and periodicals have been forced to reduce the size of their issues and many hundreds of smaller journals have been entirely suspended. Several large daily papers have decided upon a very unusual plan to enable them to reduce the number of pages in the makeup of their papers. This plan is to limit the space of their advertisers to a maximum space of from one page to three columns, one prominent daily (in Kansas City we believe) enforces the latter restriction. As an additional measure to that of limiting advertising space, several have cut out the running of feature and special articles in their Sunday editions.—Texas Lone Star.

Judge William Pierson of Hunt county is a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. It will be remembered that Judge Pierson was second in 1918 for the other of our highest courts, withdrawing in the second primary out of deference to Senator Lattimore's plurality. Judge Pierson is a distinguished District Judge, having presided over some of the great State cases at Greenville and Sulphur Springs. He is comparatively a young man, 48 years of age, a graduate of Baylor and University of Texas and in 1901 and 1903 was a member of the Texas Legislature. His wide acquaintance over Texas and his experience and recognition as a jurist make him a prominent candidate for this important position.

At the State Democratic Convention in Dallas.

Ewing R. Thomason of El Paso was the first speaker. He was introduced by Mr. Watkins. "I bring you greetings from the unterrified and unbluffed democracy of Cooke and El Paso counties," Mr. Thomason began. "Almost three months ago I came here, laid aside my own candidacy to speak a word, if I could, for the greatest national administration the world has ever known. And so for two months I did my part in winning that glorious victory that was won in the county conventions."

Dwight L. Lewelling of Dallas was the next speaker. Mr. Lewelling declared that being a Dallas man he would prefer that the other candidates precede him on the platform. "We are here to pronounce solemn judgment according to the will of the people. The only one who assailed the democratic party, Joseph Weldon Bailey, is dead politically, but the party still is living.

"My friends, I have come to the conclusion that I can not continue in the race. But before I withdraw I want to make sure of the eternal defeat of J. W. Bailey, and I also want to see a man as governor who is not controlled by machine politics or boss rule. I am not financially able to go on, and it is with regret that I withdraw. However, the people ought to elect that princely man from Waco, Pat M. Neff."

Pat M. Neff of Waco next was escorted to the platform. He opened by saying that Mr. Lewelling always had been known as a good speaker, but that this "was the best speech I ever heard him make." Mr. Neff declared that the candidates had not gathered to discuss their personal campaigns, but as democrats of Texas to see how this state could aid in the election of the next democratic president.

"I trust that the democrats of Texas as they select their delegates to the San Francisco convention will place none but true democrats on guard," Mr. Neff said.

Home Coming.

Huntsville, Texas,
May 20, 1920.

To the Crockett Courier,

Crockett, Texas.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Saturday, June 5, has been set aside as Home Coming Day at the Sam Houston Normal College, and through the Crockett Courier I wish to invite and urge all former students of Houston county to be present and make the reunion a complete one. Everything possible is being done to make this day one long to be remembered. Some of the special features are addresses by noted speakers, among whom are Mrs. Pennybacker of Austin, Dean Taylor of the University, Dr. O. H. Cooper of Abilene; band music, class reunions, and dinner for all served on the Normal Campus.

Huntsville people have opened their homes to all visitors. Join the present student body on the old campus. Let's have a good time for "Auld long syne."

Yours truly,

Blye Leediker.

Hobby Will Submit "Cattle Tick" Bill.

Austin, Texas, May 23.—Governor Hobby has promised a number of representatives that he will submit to the legislature for its consideration a proposed amendment to the present "tick eradication" statute. A member of the house who is interested in the bill stated Sunday night that it is desired to amend the bill to the end that cattle not found to be infested by the agents, whose business it is to inspect them, shall not be subjected to a dip. Furthermore the bill provides that owners of cattle hurt or maimed while being dipped shall be reimbursed for the loss by the commissioners' court of the respective counties where dipping is indulged.

All Cattle at Lockhart Must Go Through Vats.

Lockhart, Texas, May 22.—The lowly infested and tick bitten long horn cow has a laugh coming to her in an edict sent fourth by the inspector of the tick dipping vats of the county that all cows and cattle of high and low degree, must take the plunge in the vats. The rich man's $500 cow as well as the lowly flea-bitten one, must be sent in the same fluid.

The work of dipping the stock goes merrily on, and so far no one has complained of its requirements. Vats are located conveniently, so that one can find a vat about every three miles from his home.

Lovelady Death.

Hazel, four years of age, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Satterwhite, in Lovelady last Wednesday. Interment occurred in the Lovelady cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Satterwhite formerly lived in Crockett where they have numerous friends who will regret to learn of their sad misfortune.

Leaves Red Cross.

Resigning his position as surgeon with the American Red Cross, Dr. William Nunn Lipscomb has associated himself with Dr. Terry T. McCord of Cincinnati, O., in the practice of surgery and medicine. That he may reach the success in private practice attained by him in the army and with the Red Cross is the wish of Crockett's people among whom Dr. Lipscomb was reared.
