New Feedlot Proposed Here

The Texas Water Quality Board will hold a public hearing in Amarillo on October 11 to consider applications for waste control orders by three cattle feedlots in the panhandle area as well as a certificate of registration for a commercial swine operation. The hearing will be held in Conference Room C of the Municipal Building starting at 10 a.m.

Coyote Lake Feedyard of Lubbock is requesting a permit pertaining to a variable amount of rainfall runoff water from a proposed livestock feeding operation to be located approximately 12 miles southwest of Muleshoe in Bailey County. The feedlot will have a capacity for feeding 15,000 head of livestock.

The rainfall runoff water will be collected in a retention facility which is a natural depression 600 feet wide, 15,000 feet in length and having an average depth of two feet. It will drain in an area of approximately 92 acres which will include the cattle pens, a roadway and the natural topography of the land will divert other rainfall runoff from entering the depression. The runoff water will be evaporated and there will be no discharge to the surface waters of the state.

ROTARY DISTRICT GOVERNOR Rotary District Governor Marshall Formby of Plainview visited in Muleshoe Monday night and Tuesday as a guest of the Muleshoe Rotary Club. The following is an article written on the Bailey County Electric Co-op in conjunction with National Co-Op Month.

Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association was organized on August 30, 1938 in Muleshoe. The co-op was approved by the Secretary of State in September of 1938 and a group of interested citizens accepted the charter, elected a board of directors and wrote the by-laws.

Cecil Tate was the first attorney for the project. In November of 1938 the first office was set up. Cecil McLaury was the first project superintendent. The first loan contract was executed on November 30, 1938 in the amount of $178,000.

W.G. Morrison of Waco was appointed as a consulting engineer and the plans for the co-op were approved on December 5, 1938. The first contract for construction was awarded in December of 1938 to J.E. Morgan of El Paso.

The first purchase of wholesale power was made from Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company on December 26, 1938 at a rate of 1.25 cents per kilowatt hour.

On January 2, 1939 the co-op rented office space in the old Panhandle Lumber Company building.

The co-op began staking the first lines in February of 1939. The project superintendent reported the first 100 miles of lines were completed in October, 1939.

The first lines were energized on November 10, 1939. At that time there were 187 miles of line serving 127 members.

It has been reported that Walter Damron's home was the first to be connected.

The co-op now employs 54 people as of 1972. In 1970 they employed 68 and in 1971, 48 people.

There are 30 present employees who have more than 10 years of service with the co-op. Bailey County Electric operates the Five Area Telephone Cooperative on a contract, on Page-3, col. 1

Join A 4-H Club During 4-H Week

The week of October 7-13 is being observed as National 4-H Club Week throughout Texas and the nation. 4-H Club work continues to grow in popularity as the Number 1 youth organization. National 4-H Week provides an opportunity for those in 4-H to renew their efforts for more active programs, perhaps redirect some aspects of the on going program, and also make a special effort to recruit new members.

4-H clubs are open to any boy and girl between the ages of 9 to 19 and offer many new exciting programs and project areas for individuals regardless of their interests and backgrounds. "4-H Gets It All Together" is the theme of this year's observance and in countless ways 4-H has "gotten it together" by involving more young people than ever before. Latest available figures show some 5.5 million young people across the nation participating in 4-H annually.

The theme is appropriate in that it shows 4-H as a complete program designed to aid in the growth and development of the youth of this country. 4-H is dedicated to building a better tomorrow by providing an active program in leadership and citizenship training. It also allows boys and girls to explore various career opportunities and to work toward improving their communities. 4-H is not all work. There's plenty of time for fun and fellowship. Activities throughout the year, such as fairs, shows, camps, playdays and picnics, provide plenty of opportunity for recreation and "just having a good time."

Working together, growing together, learning together --- that's what 4-H is all about

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex. -- The third largest state oil and gas lease sale in Texas history brought more than $21.4 million to the state permanent school fund and boosted its total above $1 billion. Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale further may be the "most significant" ever conducted by the state, since it "marks beginning of a new concept in management of mineral resources."

Of 1.3 million acres in 1,712 tracts of state land offered for sale from border to border, more than 392,886 acres were leased at an average price of $54.65 an acre for oil and gas purposes. For the first time, leases contain a new "in kind" provision which allows the state to accept its one-sixth royalty (where there is production) in oil or gas for resale, as well as in cash.

Armstrong said new pollution control regulations are written into the leases to protect the environment while drilling continues. Additional regulations were imposed to protect the Padre Island National Seashore. Gulf tracts attracted more than $16 million of the bonus payments, by tracts $4.5 million and upland leases the balance.

The School Land Board leased 1,440 acres in the Gulf off the mouth of the Sabine River, in spite of a state of Louisiana protest that the area may be within its boundaries. Tracts off Matagorda Island were also leased over protest of the Air Force which has a bombing range in that region. Bid on one of six Gulf tracts which the federal government protested for inclusion in the sale was held in abeyance. The U.S. says it may own the tracts due to shoreline erosion.

CONCON PUBLIC INFO COMMITTEE MEETS--An all out effort to get the news and information about the 1974 Texas Constitution Convention is being planned by a legislative committee headed by Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, Goliad.

Rep. Dohlen met with legislators and newsmen last week to discuss a public information office for the Con Con where all news media can get complete information about the convention.

The office will be set up in the capitol building as close to the convention hall as possible, Von Dohlen said, and asked reporters how they wanted the information bureau set up for maximum efficiency for all media.

APPOINTMENTS -- Don R. Workman of Lubbock was named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe as chairman of Texas Youth Council after resignation of Robert W. Kneebone in a major TYC shakeup.

Other recent Briscoe appointments included Cue Boykin of Midland as Industrial Accident Board chairman; John L. Blair of Kountze (reappointment) to the Texas Air Control Board; Dr. Xico P. Garcia of Corpus Christi, Henry A. Guerra Jr. of San Antonio and Margal M. Vicens of Brownsville to the Good Neighbor Commission;

J.C. (Zeke) Zbrank of Liberty, Otho Plummer of Beaumont and Bryan D. Beck Jr. of Beaumont to the Lamar University board of regents; T.L. Roach of Amarillo, C. Wallace Harrell of Gonzales and Irby B. Carruth of Austin to the West Texas State University board; Carter McGregor Jr. of Wichita Falls to the Midwestern University board; Dr. Sidney W. Edwards of Kyle and Dr. Eb C. Girvin of Georgetown to the State Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences;

Donald F. Dean of Madisonville to the Trinity River Authority board of directors; Don Doyle of Austin and Sheriff Robert R. Gladney of Freepert to the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education; Phillip A. Lord of Pasadena to the State Board of Plumbing Examiners; Elsworth Drummer of San Antonio and Judge Raul Gonzales of Sinton to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Commission; and Gordon Sauer of Fredericksburg and Mrs. Cary Isenberg of Dallas to the Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz Memorial Naval Museum Commission.

SCHOOL TAXES UP -- According to a Texas State Teachers Association survey, 44 per cent of local school district officials responding to a survey said local school tax increases were necessary this year to balance budgets.

Seventy-five per cent, said TSTA, responded that they will have to raise local taxes in 1974-75 to keep programs at present levels. Twenty-nine per cent said programs had to be curtailed this year.

AG OPINIONS -- Signboards planted on private land should be treated for condemnation purposes as though they were owned and erected by the landowner regardless of private agreements on leases, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other opinions, Hill concluded:

*Portions of the new Campaign reporting and Disclosure Act of 1973 setting up state and county election commissions are unconstitutional, but validity of other portions is not affected. Balance of the act will be enforced, Secretary of State Mark White Jr. said.

*New law bringing most Texas coastal waters under the uniform federal regulatory act does not supercede penal provisions governing seining. It does not cause the Parks and Wildlife Department to lose regulatory authority over shrimp in Cameron, Brazoria, Jackson, Willacy, Jefferson or Orange counties.

*Gillespie County retains title to its county roads dedicated more than a century ago, except where they have been fenced by landowners continuously for 20 years and are not reasonably necessary to reach adjoining land.

*The County judge of Hill County may not also serve as veterans county service officer.

*A court reporter's salary should be paid by counties of a district on a scale fixed by the district judge.

*Texas Amusement Machine Commission jurisdiction over coin machines on federal bases depends on terms of cession agreements and appropriate state law. If located on land not ceded to the U.S. and acquired with non-appropriated funds, commission jurisdiction will be complete.

*A tape of testimony of Dallas vending machine magnate R.B. Williams before a 1969 House committee can be released under the open meetings law. However, Hill retained some of the committee files submitted to him for further study as to whether they may be confidential.

*An act of the 1973 Legislature creating mass transit authorities with power to levy motor vehicle emission taxes is constitutional.

*The open records bill does not permit public disclosure of birth and death records filed with county clerks, and certain portions of the Artesia Hall child care facility file are not subject to disclosure under the same law.

COURTS SPEAK--Directors of the $127 million Moody Foundation did not have authority to increase the board membership.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the 10-year prison sentence given a Pecos man the 1971 slaying of his parent.

The Parks and Wildlife Department will appeal a $30,667 Gillespie County commission award for 131 acres land condemned for Lyndon B. Johnson State Park Inclusion Highway DEPARTMENT CITED--For the third time in six years, Texas Highway Department received top national honors from Discover America Travel Organizations Inc.

The Department took the 1971 award for its Infobord program in highway rest areas picturing scenic, historic and recreation all features. A total of 18 Infobords are contemplated over the state.

WATER PROGRAM APPROVED -- The Texas Water Quality Management program has been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The state program had to meet federal water pollution control act requirements for Texas to receive $1,200,000 in federal funds to assist with operation of the state program.

BOLLWORM DEADLINE EXTENDED--Deadline for cotton stalk destruction in the pink bollworm control program in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and five Coastal Bend counties was extended to October 15.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White extended the deadline for cleanup operations in Nueces, Bee, San Patricio, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo and Starr counties due to rains which upset planting and plow-up schedules.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Briscoe asked that Fort Bend County be declared a disaster area as a result of floods and requested federal aid for flood-damaged Hidalgo, Guadalupe and Wilson counties.

The State Textbook Committee began a new series of meetings here on October 9 to select $11.8 million worth of new textbooks.

U.S. Sen. John Tower promised efforts to expedite a Laredo request for a permit to build a new international bridge across the Rio Grande. No decision is expected before January.

A significant cut in production of Texas farm crops and livestock is seen in 1974.

A governor's conference on rural development is slated here October 23.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found something else to worry about, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

People are always talking about spreads, the spread of Communism, the spread of inflation, the spread of radiation, middle-age spread, but nobody ever talks about the spread of capitalism.

What got me to thinking about this was a statement in the paper the other day by Secretary of the Treasury Schultz, who said he'd have to admit that "the United States got burned in the Russian wheat deal."

As you will recall, Russian buyers with their coats and ties on eased into this country, bought up over a billion dollars worth of wheat at $1.85 a bushel with money over half of which they borrowed from Washington, and immediately thereafter the price of wheat soared to over $5 a bushel.

It is now reported that the Russians, discovering they could almost triple their money, took part of the wheat home but sold some to Italy and other grain-short countries, at a very satisfactory profit.

This is what I'm talking about, the spread of capitalism. Somebody has let the cat out of the bag. You let Russia get a taste of profit-taking and the first thing you know China will want in on it, then the other Communist countries, maybe even Hanoi.

I don't know that there's anything that can be done about this, or should, but it might not be a bad idea for Washington to get on its toes, brush up a little on its knowledge of human nature.

There's something about a good profit that the human animal has never been able to resist, and anybody who doesn't know that human nature exists in all countries, communist or non-communist, aligned or unaligned, is likely to come out on the short end of the stick, not to mention facing a lot of American wheat farmers who got taken. Keep a sharp lookout for wheeler-dealers in Communist clothes.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

 tract basis. They are two separate co-ops.
 Together, both co-ops operate 28 vehicles. These are all purchased locally by the low bid process.
 Bailey County Electric and Five Area Telephone had a payroll of $357,000 in 1965, $452,000 in 1972 and it is estimated that in 1973 both co-ops will have a payroll of a half a million dollars. 78 percent of this is the electric co-op and 22 percent is the telephone co-op.
 The value of the plant has increased from $6,700,000 in 1963 to $10,200,000 in 1973.
 Both co-ops are paying over $35,000 per year in ad Valorem taxes. They pay $7,000 a year in taxes to the Muleshoe School District and $7,000 a year to the Morton School District, plus other taxes except for a profit tax.

The Electric Co-op had a total of 4900 connections in 1964 to 5300 in 1973. Forty-five per cent of the connections are in Bailey County, 20 per cent in Cochran County, eight per cent in Castro County, 13 per cent in Lamb County and 13 per cent in Farmer County.
 Irrigation wells numbered 1840 in 1964 and now in 1973 number 2300.
 Rural residences serviced by Bailey County Electric decreased from 2559 in 1964 to 2511 in 1973.
 Bailey County Electric serves 28 cotton gins in this area which ginned 61,000 bales in 1971 and 100,000 bales in 1972.
 The power bill is approximately 41 per cent of the revenue received by the Bailey County Electric.

The electric co-op has a 10 year contract to buy wholesale power from Southwestern Public Service which expires in 1982.
 Over the years the co-op has paid back $709,000 in capital credits to its members.
 The co-op stopped refunding those in 1969 and have not started back again at this time.

 Eddie Mardis and Dan Ellis won the team roping with a 13.766 time.
 Eddie Mardis won third place in the calf roping with a time of 13.893.
 Sherman Presley won second in Ribbon Roping. His time was 10.771 seconds.
 All three of the above mentioned boys won a buckle at the rodeo.
 Eddie Miller of Lazbuddie won first in the bull riding event at the same rodeo.

$250,000 per year over the past years. In 1972 $370,000 was spent and it will be that or more in 1973.
 The co-op had its first rate increase in 1973 since it was organized. The rate increase was 10 per cent.
 It has been reported that the co-op has done more new construction in the last months due to the new sprinkler systems.
 The Five Area Telephone is also a co-op and has six exchanges, Lazbuddie, Lehman, Needmore, Maple, Lariat, Bu-la.
 It also operates two mobile phone towers on the Lazbuddie and Maple exchanges and carries approximately 90 mobile phones.
 They are in the process of converting lines and the Lazbuddie exchange has just been completed.

Oklahoma Will Meet Texas On Saturday

Our vote for the roughest schedule among our top teams at least over a period of three weeks - would have to go to Oklahoma. The 4th-ranked Sooners played Southern California in Los Angeles two weeks ago, and then met Miami in Florida last week. Saturday, they have a date with Texas in Dallas. Quite a road trip! Last year, the Sooners whipped Texas, 27-0, and this year they're favored by 6 points. The Longhorns are rated 15th in the nation.
 Alabama booms on in pursuit of the Southeast Conference championship. The Tide is still Number Two in our ratings, and if they follow form which they have a consistent habit of doing-they'll whip Florida this week by 34 points.
 Another power with title hopes in the Southeast is Tennessee. The Volunteers are #12 in the country, and are matched against independent Georgia Tech. Tennessee won't have an easy day against the Engineers, but they'll win it by 19 points.
 On the West Coast, the once-tied Trojans of Southern Cal go after another conference win. They meet Washington State, and again they may make hard work of winning. The 6th-

August Consumer Price Index

WASHINGTON -- The Consumer Price Index rose 1.3 percent in August to 135.1 (1967-100), the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported. A substantial increase in food prices, primarily for meats, poultry, and eggs, accounted for about 80 percent of the rise in the CPI.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the July-to-August increase in the CPI was 1.9 percent. In the 6-month period ended in August, the CPI rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 10 percent; over the 12-month period the rate of increase was 7.5 percent.

The August increase in the CPI was the sharpest 1-month rise since September 1947, mainly because of the record 6.1 percent rise in the food index. The nonfood commodities index increased 0.5 percent in August after seasonal adjustment, slightly above the average for recent months. The services index rose 0.7 percent, the largest monthly rise in almost 3 years.

The price freeze, in effect since June 13, was terminated for all foods except beef on July 18 and for most other items on August 12. Food prices were collected on August 7th, 8th, and 9th, and prices for other items were collected throughout the month.

The index for food purchased in grocery stores climbed 7.4 percent; this index usually declines in August. Most of the August increase was due to unusually sharp advances in prices of poultry, eggs, and pork. Beef and veal prices also increased sharply. Precise rose for bread, milk, and most other food items except fresh fruits and vegetables. While the decline in fresh fruit prices was more than usual for August, the decline in fresh vegetable prices was less. The index for food away from home--restaurant meals and snacks--increased 1.1 percent in August.

 The index for nonfood commodities, which usually declines in August, rose 0.2 percent. Prices for apparel rose, instead of declining as they usually do in August. Prices for houses, home maintenance and repair commodities, and fuel oil also increased. The effect of these increases was moderated by declines in prices of new and used cars. The decline in new car prices, however, was smaller than usual for August.

 The services index rose 0.7 percent in August. A rise in mortgage costs, primarily due to increases in mortgage interest rates, accounted for more than half the rise in the services index. The August index reflects increases in mortgage interest rates on conventional loans and the increase from 7.0 to 7.75 percent on VA-guaranteed loans announced in July. Charges for residential telephone and other household services also increased. The rise in the rent index was larger than in recent months. The index for medical care services continued to increase moderately, and the index for transportation services edged up only slightly. Approximately 117,000 individual prices were collected directly by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in August for use in the index. Approximately 80 percent of these quotations (accounting for about 40 percent of the weight of the CPI market basket) represent monthly comparisons. Sixty-two percent of these monthly comparisons showed no change, 29 percent showed an increase, and 9 percent a decrease. The proportion of food prices increasing in August was considerably larger and the proportion showing no change was smaller than in July. The August index also includes approximately 23,000 price comparisons from periods prior to July, 18,000 of which cover the quarterly span from May to August. About 20 percent of these quarterly price comparisons increased, compared with 17 percent in the April-to-July period. The proportion of restaurant meal prices increasing was much larger in the May-to-August period than in the preceding 3-month period. In addition, about 4,700 rental units were surveyed in August and 28 percent of these reported increases from February 1973, more than the proportion reporting increases for the 6-month period ended in July.

CottonMarketNews

Market activity remained about the same level as last week in Western cotton markets, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA. Demand was strong. The limited volume of grower offerings was readily absorbed into marketing channels at most locations. The bulk of current offerings was being delivered against contracts made earlier in the year. Small mixed lots brought 50.00 to 80.00 cents per pound in Central and South Texas with better quality lots bringing the higher prices. In South Texas, offering prices for below grade qualities ranged from 25.00 to 40.00 cents per pound. Growers generally rejected offers at the lower prices. Growers around Harlingen, Texas contracted a limited volume of 1974-crop cotton at 64.00 to 65.00 cents per pound. Contracting activities for 1973 crop were moderate on the Texas Plains where prices ended the week around 38.00 cents per pound above loan rates for better quality, premium mike cotton. Central Arizona growers rejected offers to contract their 1974 crop at around 60.00 cents per pound, basis grade 31 staple 34. In Southeastern New Mexico, growers were offered 80.00 to 85.00 cents per pound for their 1973, Acala 1517, crop and 60.00 to 65.00 cents for their 1974 crop, basis grade 31, staple 37. Contract prices were around 68.00 cents per pound.

basis grade 31 staple 35 in the San Joaquin Valley of California for 1974-crop cotton. The Central and South Texas harvest was delayed by rain during the week. It was expected that harvesting could not resume for up to two weeks in some locations. Harvesting was getting underway at most Central Arizona and California locations. Defoliation operations were increasing in California, Arizona, Southeastern New Mexico and around Abilene, Texas.

Water, Inc. Cites Two Major Blocks In Importing Water

"The question is no longer can we import water to West Texas? The real question is when will we import water to West Texas?"
 That was the summation of Water, Inc.'s statement to the West Texas Water Resources Council at its initial meeting in Lubbock, a statement that updated the benefit/cost ratio of the water import plan to demonstrate that when calculated on the basis of current prices, such a plan could well be economically feasible.
 Tommy Swann, Water, Inc., staff economist highlighted a study he has just completed showing a benefit/cost ratio with benefits totaling almost three times greater than federal agency rationing developed for the plan to import water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico from the Mississippi River, explaining that the federal agencies used average 1965-69 prices received and paid by farmers in developing benefits and compared them to 1972 construction costs, Swann substituted current prices for developing both sides (benefits and costs) of a new ratio, showing possible benefits as high as $2.88 for each $1.00 cost. (Swann used the same formulas and computations for developing his study as those used by the federal agencies, substituting only current prices for those used in the original study.)

Water, Inc., cited two major stumbling blocks in the way of importation of water to the area, both at the federal level. One was the need for realistic federal standards for evaluating proposed projects, standards that recognize all levels of benefits, and the other the final report of the National Water Commission recommending that the federal government virtually remove itself from the field of water development.
 All levels of government must work together with unity of purpose before we can answer the question "When will we import water?" the statement concluded.

REBELS CUT FIRST The Country Rebels recently cut their first album. Members of the group are Randy Miller, Robin Miller, Doug Niece and Diane Miller.

Country Rebels

A group of Clovis musicians who have been playing together for approximately one year under the name of "The Country Rebels" recently cut their first album which is now on the market. The young people involved are Doug Niece, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Niece, and three of the Richard Miller children, Randy, Diane and Robin.

The album titled "Junior Daugherty Presents the Country Rebels" was cut in Las Cruces last April but was not released until September 7. Junior Daugherty, a well known fiddler, has several albums on the market; and it was with the desire to purchase some of these that Mrs. Miller got in touch with him. She asked him to listen to the Country Rebels and give her his professional opinion. The end result was they got together and with the help of Junior Daugherty and his daughter Penny, they recorded the album.

Since the album was cut, Doug has married and is now living in Texico. The Millers are residents of Clovis and students at Clovis High School and Catts Junior High. Randy, 17, is a senior at CHS and Diane, 15, is a sophomore. Robin, the vocalist of the group, is 13 and an eighth grade student at Catts Junior High. They are the grandchildren of Mrs. Earl Darsey and the late Earl Darsey of Muleshoe.

The Millers have been musically inclined most of their lives and feel they inherited their talent since both of their grandfathers were musicians. Randy plays the drums, Diane plays the bass guitar and Robin sings.

Doug, the oldest member of the Country Rebels at 22, not only plays rhythm guitar and sings but writes songs as well. Four of the 12 songs recorded on the album were written by him. These include "The Game of Life", "Blonde with Eyes of Blue", "Do You Love Me Enough To Stay Away" and "Why Did He Go Away?".

There is an unusual variety in the 12 songs on the album in that they include everything from jazz to Spanish and cajun beat.

Record $275,000 In Premiums Offered At Fort Worth Show

FORT WORTH -- A record $275,000 in premiums will be offered during the 78th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 25 through Feb. 3, reports W.R. Watt Jr., Stock Show general manager. Some Horse Show classes begin Jan. 22.

Premiums are listed by breed in the 1974 Premium List, which was mailed this week. "Rules have been changed in some classes, and new breeds and classes have been added," Watt said. "Prospective exhibitors are urged to read the new Premium List carefully."

Watt said Junior Steer exhibitors will be allowed to enter only two steers, and all breed champions and reserve champions must sell at the Sale of Steer Champions at 9 a.m. Jan. 29. Maine-Anjou have been added to the Steer Show, and steer judging has been set for two days, Jan 25 and 26.

Time required for breeding cattle to remain at the show has been shortened, giving exhibitors an option on the length of time animals stay. Brangus has been added to breeding cattle classes, and Brown Swiss to the open and junior dairy divisions.

Watt said a major rule change has been made in cutting horse competition. "A line will be marked across the arena about 75 feet from the cattle herd. Any turnback man who allows all four of his horse's legs to go over the line will cause a penalty against the contestant for each infraction. The rule applies to registered and open cutting, as well as a new category for non-professional."

Performance classes for Morgan Horses have been added, and coupled with other added classes in the Horse Show, premiums are up $2,500 over last year. Other premium increases include over $4,000 in beef carcass; $1,000 for Santa Gertrudis and Charolais breeding cattle; $3,700 in the Junior Show, and $3,315 in open dairy classes.

The Stock Show will host the National Centennial Angus Show, with $20,000 in premiums. Also contained in the Premium List is a complete schedule for judging and auctions.

Premium List books are available at the Stock Show office or by writing P.O. Box 150, Ft. Worth, Texas 76101.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
We have been married for six years and have three children. We never have the good times like we used to have because we have to stay home with the children and what money we have goes for the necessary things of living.

Now our children are all three nice normal children and we love them and we do enjoy them but we would like a change and to be able to go dancing or to the games like we use to. I get very tired not seeing other people and I know my husband does too. What do people like us do to make marriage more fun?

D.B.--Miss.

Answer:
There are many ways you can make life more enjoyable. A portable grill is not so expensive and you can invite a neighboring couple, who have children, the same ages of yours, over for hot dogs or hamburgers some evening or merely have them over for a cool drink and cookies.

Some couples exchange baby sitting with their neighbors and take turns keeping the children one night.

Help is so hard to get and so expensive that today I see many young couples who take the children with them on outings and the young fathers seem to be very helpful and considerate in helping with these children.

Get out of a rut and arrange some interesting things for your family to do. Louisa.

U.S. Grain Sorghum Foreign Visitors See

U.S. grain sorghum is attracting the interest of increasing numbers of buyers from around the world. The market promotion work of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board is showing returns with substantially larger exports of grain sorghum.

GSPA-TGSPB will host nearly one hundred foreign buyers of grain in October and November of this year. Teams of feed company representatives and government officials from Taiwan, Japan, Germany and Korea will be touring the grain sorghum production area of West Texas.

Eibert Harp, GSPA executive director said, "We are always happy to have these teams visit us. It is a wonderful opportunity to show them what grain sorghum is, since it is not as well known in other parts of the world."

Tours of the High Plains production and feeding area have been arranged for these visitors. Conferences with animal nutritionists at Texas Tech University will be held for the purpose of acquainting these potential customers of U.S. sorghum with its feed grain value.

GSPA is a member of the U.S. Feed Grains Council, through which its overseas market development work is conducted in virtually every part of the world.

When the Association's foreign market development works began, little grain sorghum was being exported.

The first foreign visitors to arrive this fall were eight members of a team from Taiwan which arrived in Lubbock September 30. They were followed by a 20 man team from Germany, October 3, consisting of mixed feed manufacturers and livestock producers. A high level government team from Japan arrived October 4. Additional teams from Japan and one from Korea will be visiting later in October and November.

WEEKLY RECIPE

Sarah Anne Sheridan

The right salad or slaw is a compliment to a meal and often the key to a successful meal. Cabbage is relatively cheap and retains its crispness if properly prepared. Use home cooked or prepared dressings--oil is not recommended. Here are a few basic rules and hints for cabbage combinations.

A salad should fit into meals for flavor, color, texture and food value. Salads should be simple, attractive, easy to eat, fresh and crisp with the right dressing.

In-season ingredients are budget-wise. Save your exotic, expensive creations for special occasions.

Cabbage Combinations

1. Cabbage, onion, tomatoes, green pepper.
2. Red cabbage, white cabbage, green pepper, onions.
3. Cabbage, carrot, peanuts.
4. Cabbage, cucumber, radish.

Sweater Knits

COLLEGE STATION ---- Sweater Knits make the fall fashion scene, but may require slightly different sewing techniques.

"In general, techniques suitable for double knits can be used successfully with stable sweater knits," Margaret Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, noted. "Stretchy knits, however, require slightly different treatment."

"For example, select patterns -- in your regular size-designated for stretchy or sweater knits."

"Also coordinate weight of the fabric in relation to design -- light to medium weight for most styles and heavy weight for jackets and pants."

"Before cutting, launder sweater knits to allow for relaxation shrinkage. Exceptions to this are wool and mohair and blends of these two fibers."

Slit tubular fabric open along one rib, the specialist instructed, noting that some knits are solid in tubular form.

To keep colors alike on all areas of a garment, use the "with nap" layout, she added. "If a center crease doesn't come out, lay pattern pieces to avoid it."

"At the same time, don't let fabric fall over the edge of the cutting surface -- it'll stretch," Miss Vanderpoorten warned.

"When cutting these fabrics, use very sharp shears or shears designed for knits -- do not use pinking shears."

The specialist recommended using a ball point needle or a very sharp number 9 or 11 needle, depending on fabric weight. Also, polyester or polyester-cotton thread.

"Set machine stitch length at 10-12 stitches per inch for either straight or zigzag stitching.

"To make sweater seams, stitch on the seamline and again one-fourth inch from seamline in the seam allowance."

"Avoid seam breakage during wear by stretching seam slightly during sewing."

"Trim seams to three-eighths of an inch. Either zigzag stitch or over-cast edges loosely. Also staystitch neck edge to prevent stretching."

Mules Lose Game To Clovis Wildcats

The Mules played the undefeated Gattis Wildcats Thursday, October 4, here at 5:00. The Mules received the kick but they were unsuccessful in scoring until the second quarter. They took the ball all the way down the field running the same play. David Gutierrez made the touch down. But the conversion attempt failed. Late in the second quarter, the Mules were forced to punt deep in their own territory. The Wildcats recovered the ball on a bad snap from center and with 6 seconds remaining in the half scored with a 15 yard pass completion. At the end of the half the score was 6 to 6.

The Mules kicked off in the second half and forced Clovis to give up the ball on fourth down. The Mules had to punt but got off a bad kick and Gattis got the ball on the 20. They scored a few plays later and led 12 to 6. Midway through the fourth quarter, the Wildcats intercepted a pass on the 25 and ran it back for 6 points. The Mules couldn't put together another drive and lost 18 to 6.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN--How "used" is a used car?

If its vintage is stated accurately, the prospective buyer received an honest statement of its mileage; the working parts are in working condition, and the price represents the fair market value of the specific vehicle involved, then it's entirely up to the consumer to decide if a certain used car is a good buy. But a misrepresentation as to year of model, or a purposeful misstatement of mileage accrued would constitute a deceptive trade practice under the 1973 Texas Deceptive Trade Practices - Consumer Protection Act.

And alteration or resetting of an odometer--the instrument on the car which indicates its total mileage--also is prohibited under the new Federal Odometer Law, which requires that each transferor of a vehicle make a certificate attesting to the mileage.

The certificate must identify the vehicle transferred by its make, model, body type, serial number and last license plate number. It must include the transferor's name, address and signature, and the certificate signed has to refer to the fact that the giving of incorrect information may result in civil liability.

The alternative to the person or dealer transferring ownership of a motor vehicle would be to state that the actual mileage is unknown--if he really cannot attest to it.

The enacting of state and federal prohibitions on odometer "rollbacks" were affirmations of the long-held enforcement philosophy that this practice does work a fraud on consumers.

For instance, in Texas, the Attorney General's office in 1972 obtained 39 court injunctions prohibiting used car dealers and auto lease services from setting back odometers under an umbrella prohibition against deceptive trade practices.

We thought that it ought to be spelled out, and the Texas Legislature agreed, so odometer rollbacks were added to the specific list of trade practices outlawed under the 1973 act.

It is easy to understand that there may be circumstances in which an individual trading in an old car or a used car dealer selling one may not be able to swear to the actual mileage--because the car has had so many owners, or because of mechanical difficulties.

So the state law (and the federal act) include the language, "with the intent to defraud."

Deceptions, frauds and misrepresentations are the blocks we want to remove from the consumers' path to an equal footing in the marketplace. If you are shopping for a used car, and have reason to doubt the seller's statement on mileage, there are several clues you can follow to ascertaining the true figure: For one thing, examine the vehicle itself. Do the brake pads, emergency brakes or tires indicate more wear than the mileage would appear to warrant?

Almost any reputable seller also will encourage you--or at least, permit you--to drive the car to your own mechanic for an even closer check. You are always free, of course, to talk to the previous owner. If he can't be identified easily, you can write the motor vehicle registration division of the Texas Highway Department--enclosing $1 and the vehicle identification number, and get a history of the title.

If a consumer suspects that mileage has been misrepresented, he can file a complaint under federal law, which prescribes penalties for violation of three times actual damages, a maximum of $1,500.

Or, a private suit could be filed under the new Texas law, and if the court determined that there was a violation, the judge could award three times actual damages.

If you have a complaint, contact your county or district attorney, or the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office.

Horse Showing Nice Hobby

by Shelly McGlaun

Horse showing is a fun hobby that all kids can enjoy doing if they really try at it. You first have to have a good and outstanding horse. Then there are certain things you have to do to keep a good horse. In a halter class, you have to keep him brushed every day, and feed him good horse feed instead of a cheap feed. He's got to be able to stand square in the front and back feet. And he's got to look good to the judge.

In a performance horse, you want a smooth horse that is well balanced and broke. You brush and bathe your horse before you show him. A Western Pleasure horse needs to be able to pick up both his left and right leads.

It is lots of fun to show horses; and I would like to see more people get interested in horse showing.

The Defense Department reports that it expects to order the closing of a significant number of military bases by next spring. This would be the second wave of base closings in about a year.

Weeds Receiving Attention

Weeds, the farmer's perennial enemy, are receiving increased attention from agricultural research personnel at the High Plains Research Foundation. Perennial weed control studies are important, especially with soil bank and set-aside acreages coming back into production.

Two weeks which have become very troublesome in the High Plains area are Texas blueweed and Silverleaf nightshade, both becoming prevalent in many fields. But, according to preliminary results of a blueweed control study underway at the High Plains Research Foundation, there may be effective means of chemical control.

Agronomists, Gaylan Goddard and Jim Schrib, using ten materials and twenty chemical treatments have had some success in controlling the troublesome weeds. Of the ten chemicals in the study, four have shown more than 85 percent control of both blueweed and nightshade six weeks after application. Long term control results will continue to be studied and will be reported in the Foundation's Annual Report.

According to Goddard, only hormone type chemicals have shown success in control. Contact chemicals killed most plants immediately but did not stop them from re-developing, however, higher rated did suppress regrowth longer.

"These weeds are beginning to become a headache for farmers on the High Plains. We will be hearing more about them in the next two years. And probably, the areas where they will be the biggest problem will be on land that has laid out for several years and is being returned to cultivation this year," Goddard stated.
