Saturday's Marriage.

Miss Minnie Lane and Mr. Monroe Graham were married Saturday evening at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Mainess. Both the bride and the bridegroom reside on the Rusk road north of Crockett.

Confederate Day.

The Confederate veterans of Houston county observed Jeff Davis' birthday June 3 in Crockett with appropriate ceremony. A fine talk was made by Rev. E. A. Maness at the Methodist church, where also an appropriate song service delighted the veterans. Following the services at the Methodist church, a dinner was served the veterans in the ladies' aid room of the Presbyterian church.

Music and Dancing.

The "Aggieland Jazz" band, an orchestra gotten together at A. & M. College and composed of A. & M. students, played an engagement in Crockett Tuesday evening. The occasion was a dance given by the young men of the city at the American Legion club rooms. This orchestra played at Marshall Friday night, Palestine Monday night and was scheduled for Houston Wednesday night. It is considered one of the best to be had and Crockett is indeed fortunate in that this orchestra could fill in an engagement here. The music being the essential feature of any dance party, Crockett young people are not now content with anything less than the best, such as is supplied by the "Aggieland" orchestra of seven instruments. This orchestra is becoming famous and expects to tour the Pacific coast during the summer. The dance was one of the most enjoyable in spite of the warm weather and was participated in by twenty or thirty couples, perhaps a third of whom were chaperones. Among the visitors present were noted Miss Margaret Kelley of Longview, Miss Elizabeth Purifoy of Alabama and Misses Dorothy Berriman and Cornelle Underwood of Palestine; Messrs. Arthur Eastham of Denison and Pace McDonald and party of Palestine, and Mrs. James Valentine of Ranger.

Quid Nuncs Entertained.

In marked contrast to the usual run of the "Quid Nunc" affairs, was the day spent with Mesdames J. H. Smith and J. C. Millar as hostesses. The guests were invited to come in their gingham dresses and spend the day in the woods, at Lakeview, the Smith's house on the lake at the Country Club.

Very inviting was the pretty little club-house, with its setting of green trees and its decorations of field flowers and ferns in brown baskets. The guests very quickly made themselves at home and with merry jests and talk passed away the morning hours.

At one o'clock the welcome sound of a kitchen spoon beating on the dish pan led us to the screened gallery where one long table seated the twenty-four guests. The table was beautiful, with its long lake in the center, surrounded with ferns and field flowers, swans and ducks floating on its surface, and the fishermen on the bank. But what was ever more inviting was the feast of good things that table held to which the guests did ample justice.

The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent in playing bridge, forty-two, swimming and other pastimes. The beautiful drive home in the late afternoon was the perfect close to "A Perfect Day."

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

All Expenses Will Be Paid By the Federal Government.

Citizens military training camps for the Eight Corps area, which includes Houston county, will be held during the summer at Camp Travis, Texas, and Fort Logan, Colorado. The course at Camp Travis will open July 15th and close August 14th. The camp at Fort Logan will begin August 1st and close August 31st.

Camp Travis is part of the largest military post in the United States. It and Fort Sam Houston adjoin the city of San Antonio, a well known resort of the Southwest with a population of 161,000, and all of the attractions of a busy and most beautiful city. Among the many attractions of San Antonio, the famous Alamo, the old Spanish missions, Breckenridge Park are worthy of special mention. Camp Travis is the home of the famous Second division—today the only war strength division—whose record overseas in the world war forms a glorious page in military history of the United States. The troops of this division will give interesting demonstrations for the benefit of those attending the training camps.

Fort Logan, where the other camp will be held, is situated ten miles from Denver, the capital of Colorado, a city of a quarter of a million of people, and one of the famous health resorts of the world.

The purposes these camps are designed to serve are to bring together young men of all types, both native and foreign born; to develop closer national and social unity, to teach the privileges, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship. To show the public by actual example that camp instruction of the kind contemplated will be to the liking of their sons; that it will develop them physically, mentally and morally, and teach Americanism in its true sense.

All young men between the ages of 16 and 35 are eligible and the following statements are made by the government announcements: "Thirty days vacation free." All expenses paid. Uncle Sam will pay your railroad fare to and from the camp. He will also furnish you free all necessary uniform, clothing, food, shelter, medical attendance, arms, ammunition and equipment.

Young men of Crockett and Houston county, how would you like to spend 30 days of your vacation in this manner?

For further information and copy of application blanks call at the Crockett post office. Copies of all the blanks can be seen at the Commercial Club rooms.

MARTIAL LAW HALTS FIERCE RACE RIOT

Pitched Battle in Negro Section and Burning of Entire Section Follows.

Tulsa, Okla., June 1.—Possibly 100 persons dead, hundreds wounded and property damage estimated at $1,500,000 were outstanding results Wednesday night of race disorders which broke out here Tuesday night following the arrest of a negro accused of attacking a white girl and which continued sporadically throughout Wednesday.

Wednesday evening Tulsa was quiet, with the city under martial law and its streets patrolled by troops of the Oklahoma national guard sent here at the direction of Governor J. B. A. Robertson. Officials were hopeful that the worst of the trouble had passed and that the coming of dawn would find normal conditions restored.

However, they did not relax their vigilance, and it was stated that everything was in readiness to handle a grave situation should one arise again. Civil officials were co-operating closely with Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett, who came here Wednesday morning with additional troops for riot duty.

No accurate check of the dead had been made at a late hour, and unofficial estimates ran from the known list of 10 whites and 70 negroes dead. According to an opinion of Police Inspector Charles Daley, second in command of the police force, the list would reach 175 dead. The exact total, officers said, would probably never be known, as a number of negroes perished in the flames which consumed the entire negro district, which formerly housed about 13,000 negroes, including women and children.

Whole Section Burned.

The razed area starts near a station of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, scene of the heaviest fighting Wednesday morning, at Boston avenue, continuing east along the railroad tracks to Pearl avenue, north along Pearl to a point half a mile outside the city limits, west to Cincinnati avenue, south on Cincinnati to Lowell, a short distance on Lowell to Boston, and then south on Boston. The entire area covers a space in the shape of an L.

A few feeble flames lighted sections of the burned waste

Wednesday night, while a few lone walls, standing seemingly without support, rise against a background of smoldering debris.

Thousands of the negroes and their families have fled the city, and it is reported some have taken refuge in Bartlesville, Okla.

"We have the situation well under control," Adjutant General Barrett said Wednesday night. "We do not anticipate any further rioting," he added, "although nothing has been overlooked as a precaution against its recurrence. With Tulsa under martial law, we expect to see a rapid readjustment of conditions."

Negroes Under Guard.

About 5000 negroes were herded in the fair grounds, east of the city, under the protection of national guardsmen. They were gathered there from all parts of the city, where they sought refuge during the day.

Hundreds of homeless negroes, who fled into the country outside of Tulsa during the rioting, were drifting back into town Wednesday night. They came on foot and in wagons, carrying what few household possessions they were able to escape with.

Crowds of several hundred, resembling refugees in the war zone in France, could be seen trudging back on roads leading into Tulsa.

The negroes at the fair grounds were being cared for and fed under the direction of a committee appointed by Adjutant General Barrett.

To Investigate.

The committee composed of prominent citizens was also charged with investigating the riots and fixing responsibility. At a meeting Wednesday several members voiced criticism of the action of white men who wilfully destroyed property owned by negroes and rendered thousands homeless.

From shortly before 10 o'clock Tuesday night, when the first firing began near the court house until late Wednesday morning, the city presented a scene of wild disorder. Hundreds of automobiles bearing armed white men raced about the business district.

The heaviest fighting occurred between midnight and 6 o'clock, when several pitched battles with hundreds on each side were waged about the negro quarter.

Seats for motor trucks intended to make long journeys have been intended that are readily converted into two sleeping bunks for the drivers.

NEFF TO INSPECT PRISON SYSTEM

Governor Plans to Investigate Penitentiary Conditions In State.

Austin, Texas, June 2.—Governor Neff is to make a personal investigation of the entire penitentiary system. Formal announcement to that effect was made at the executive office late today, after which the governor left on a night train to begin his investigation.

He will visit some of the farms, but declined to say what farms he will inspect nor indicate their location or time of visit. The announcement said he would not return to his office until the first of next week. It was further stated that on this trip the governor would only inspect a few of the farms, the personal investigation of the whole penitentiary system to come later.

The governor's announced purpose has more than a single significance at this time. His investigation follows that made by the joint legislative investigating committee, and before it has made known its formal conclusions and recommendations. The governor evidently expects to have first hand information in dealing with the penitentiary situation when it comes before the special session of the legislature following the submission of the report of the investigating committee. It is considered probable that he will make recommendations as well as those to be made by the committee.

In making a personal investigation at this time the governor acts almost immediately following the mutiny at the Huntsville penitentiary, the escapes from the farms, the burning of the furniture factory at Huntsville, the burning of barns of the Shaw penal farm and the governor's refusal to issue pardons, paroles or furloughs, not to mention the controversy growing out of his request for the resignation of Commissioner W. F. Pryor.

A study of conditions is to be made, it is understood, and the governor may break the rule and issue some pardons upon his return to Austin. He intimated he would grant some pardons in the future in his recent statement instructing the wardens to stop prisoners from escaping.

Careful Buyers Read Business Man's Message.

The printed announcement in the newspaper is the merchant's personal message to the readers. He tells them what bargains he has to offer. He keeps them informed as to the arrival of new goods. He shows them the way to obtain quality at a saving in price.

Careful, economical buyers watch the advertisements in the Courier and save money on their purchases. Are you one of them? Or do you buy haphazardly, merely to accommodate some one else—to help some one profit by your thoughtlessness?

Look over the advertisements in this issue and see what bargains are offered this week.

Low-Cost Mileage

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices, when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower cost per mile. Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of the Good-year Tires, Tubes and Accessories, we sell, is based on the fact that they consistently deliver exceptional mileage at low cost.

RESERVE BANK HEAD EXUDES CONFIDENCE

Governor Harding Feels Sure Trade Recovery Is Just Ahead.

Washington, June 1.—Governor Harding of the federal reserve board made the following statement on returning from a trip through agricultural and industrial sections of the Middle West and South:

"I traveled through Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama, stopping at one or more cities in each state. Everywhere I saw and heard of great activity on the farms and abundance of farm labor. Apparently every acre of land cultivated heretofore is being utilized this year, with better crop diversification than usual.

"The most optimistic sentiment, which prevailed everywhere, was most gratifying. The bankers and business men of the sections are looking for a trade revival in the autumn and seemed to have no doubt that there would be ample credit for both agricultural and trade requirements. The only exceptions were the live stock men I met in Topeka, who seemed anxious to obtain two or three-year loans, either through private agencies or through the war finance corporation, or the federal farm loan banks.

"The trip confirmed my conviction that we in this country have now passed the most trying period of the worldwide readjustment of trade and prices, and are on the road to recovery. We are approaching the new crop season with underlying conditions far sounder and more favorable than they were a year ago, and in spite of unprecedented carry-over of cotton and grain, largely financed on bank credit, the reserves of the federal reserve system are nearly 40 per cent higher than they were a year ago, which leaves no room for apprehension regarding the financing of either agriculture or industry."

lection, said deed of trust being upon the real estate hereinafter described; and

Whereas, the said Oklahoma Farm Mortgage Company, a private corporation, is the holder and owner of said note and the said Arthur E. 3 1/2 Per Cent Liberty Bonds Set Low Record.

New York, June 1.—Further selling Wednesday of 3 1/2 per cent exempt liberty bonds forced the price of that issue down to 86.84, the lowest quotation in their history. That figure represents a net loss in these bonds overnight of 66 points.

Other liberty issues were heavy on increased offerings, but victory notes held firm.

Selling of liberty 3 1/2s, according to reports in the financial district, proceeded mainly from interior sources and was ascribed to the increasing financial needs of individuals and institutions.
