HOUSTON COUNTY SCHOOL CLUB NIGHT

Crockett, Texas,
March 6, 1922.

Dear Editor:—Those persons interested in the school affairs of the county would probably be pleased to attend the meeting of the Houston County School Club at the court house Saturday night the 11th at 7:30. Permit us to announce that First Assistant State Superintendent, Mr. S. M. N. Marrs, will be with us in the meeting. Mr. Marrs is an entertaining and forceful speaker and is probably the best posted man in the state in school matters. As you all know, he is a candidate for the State Superintendency, but I wish to assure you that his business here does not relate in any way to his candidacy. He is coming here in response to our urgent request on purely a scholastic mission in the hope that he may do or say something to brighten the hopes and prospects of the people and teachers along educational lines. The outlook for schools and for the funds to maintain them suitably is, like a great many other prospects, somewhat doubtful and gloomy just at this time; so it is the hope of our School Club to frequently bring broad men into our midst from wherever we may get them and to gather from them that hope, that vision, that inspiration and information which will make us bigger and broader and better able to forestall the inclinations of despair and pessimism which are so current and "Which doth so easily beset us."

This announcement in your paper will be duly appreciated by the Club and I trust that you and all your subscribers will meet with us.

Yours respectfully,
J. H. Rosser.

Chickens and Eggs.

As an illustration of the possibilities of advertising and also of the possibilities of the chicken and egg industry, some information as to the chicken and egg business in Crockett Saturday is given. A representative of a north Texas poultry company came to Crockett last week and advertised that he would buy eggs and poultry for direct shipment in his own car, establishing headquarters with C. L. Manning & Company and shipping direct to New York. The result is given by C. L. Manning & Company as follows: On Saturday this one firm alone paid out $480.11 for poultry and eggs, which was in connection with the live poultry car. Another firm in Crockett paid out around $200 for chickens and eggs, another $154 for chickens alone, another $50 for eggs alone, another $50 in round numbers for chickens and eggs and two others about $25 each for poultry and eggs. In all about $1000 was paid out in Crockett Saturday for poultry and eggs and that at a time when conditions are abnormal and business greatly depressed, the egg market especially being at its lowest. But, as before stated, it illustrates the possibilities of the poultry business at Crockett primarily and, incidentally, the possibilities of advertising. The advertisements of C. L. Manning & Company brought in the eggs and poultry.

Arrested for Moonshining.

Glee Yarbrough, a white man of middle age, and Barclay Baker, negro, were arrested by Sheriff Hale and deputies Friday and a whisky distillery captured. The distillery was found on a small branch between the Huntsville and Creek roads, about twelve miles southwest from Crockett. The distillery was of considerable size, capable of making plenty of whisky, and it seemed that a plenty had been made—too much for the maker and for those who drank it. The sheriff had known for some time that some one was making whisky in that part of the county, but was unable to locate the maker until last week, although diligent watch had been kept. Yarbrough and the negro were brought to Crockett and placed in jail by the local officers and will be held for the federal officers from Tyler.

First Methodist Church.

Preaching Sunday at eleven o'clock by the pastor. Sunday school at 9:30. Everybody come next Sunday, the "big race" starts. The Cadillac is expected to lead.

The Methodist church will begin a revival meeting in Crockett Sunday, March 26. Rev. R. L. Flowers and wife of Dallas will do the preaching. A special singer will accompany them. This is a great evangelistic team, prepared to render us a great service in Crockett. The entire public will be asked to cooperate in the revival. We especially request that all christian people pray for a special visitation of spiritual power upon this effort to save men from sin and build up the church of God. Pastor.

To My Friends.

Having been advised that the report is being circulated that I have withdrawn from the race for county commissioner in precinct No. 4, beg to say that the report is untrue. My friends will please take notice that I am still in the race and in the race to stay, notwithstanding all reports of the contrary. I hope to see all democratic voters, both men and women, before the campaign is over and let them know how I stand on all public questions. There is no good reason or excuse for my withdrawing from the campaign, as many good, honest men and women have promised me their support and influence.

Faithfully yours,
Adv. 1t. J. O. Kelley.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The way Courier subscriptions have been coming in the last week makes the list look like the week before Christmas. The list this week is four and a half times as large as last week, which may be attributed to the good weather and a good newspaper. Let us repeat that the small list of last week was attributable solely to the bad weather. We hope it is with pardonable pride that we refer to our large list of subscription renewals this week, and we take this occasion to thank those who have made possible such a good list.

Callers report that much land is being broken for another crop. The people are beginning to look forward instead of backward and a better feeling is evident. Among those calling to renew or subscribe or sending in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

We Regret.

The Courier received in Wednesday night's mail two newsy communications which we very much regret were received too late for this week's paper. We regret it all the more because these communications are from two of the best communities in the county and from two of the Courier's best young correspondents. The communities are Pearson Chapel and Prairie Point. These communications are good enough to go over, however, and will appear in next week's issue without fail.

SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

The Porter well on the Austin farm is the object of daily and nightly pilgrimages from Crockett people and the subject of absorbing interest by day and night. When the Courier went to press last Thursday, the drill in this well was on rock which it was hoped would prove to be the cap rock. The underlying sand was penetrated Friday and a core taken. The formation proved to be oil sand of the finest quality, but of unknown quantity. Drilling was stopped by Mr. Porter, who left immediately for Houston to buy casing, the strainer and other essentials necessary to bringing in an oil well. Some of these arrived Monday and some Tuesday, but a necessary part did not arrive until Wednesday night's express. The casing, a job which will require several days, was being set Wednesday night and Thursday. It is said that we will know by Sunday whether we have an oil well or a hole in the ground. The depth of the sand is between 3600 and 3700 feet. The operators are confident of oil, but will not vouch for the quantity.

The Driskill well has not straightened out its affairs and, consequently, has not gone beyond 1500 feet. The Grapeland well is at a standstill around 750 feet.

Messrs. Winan and Cox, who will put down the Porter Springs well, were here this week from Mexia and made the location, which is on A. B. Mulligan's land, two miles west or northwest of Porter Springs. Messrs. Winan and Cox announced that the drilling machinery would be hauled out Thursday to the location.

For Public Weigher.

T. W. Crowson of Lovelady has authorized the Courier to announce him as a candidate for the office of public weigher at Lovelady, which is designated as precinct No. 3. Mr. Crowson has lived at or near Lovelady for many years, perhaps all his life—the Courier editor has no knowledge of his ever having lived anywhere else. He is, therefore, too well known to the people of the precinct which he desires to serve in the capacity of public weigher to need any kind of an introduction at the hands of the Courier. It is known that he is competent and honest, and these are the essential qualifications of the citizen seeking public office. That he is both competent and honest is borne out by the testimony of his neighbors and others who have had dealings with him. His candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic party, and he solicits and will appreciate the support of all good, democratic men and women in the coming primary election to be held in July.

Tell him that you saw his ad in the Courier.

Pine-Bur Foot Warmers.

Some of the young men of Crockett have organized a local musical combination which they have named the "Pine-Bur Foot Warmers." The purpose of the organization is to supply instrumental music for entertainments—real orchestra music. This orchestra played for a dance Friday night in Eichelberger hall, recently vacated by the American Legion, and the music was liked so well that the orchestra has been prevailed upon to play for other and similar occasions.

J. E. WINFREE WILL MAKE RACE FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

Former Crockett Man Announces
Candidacy; Platform Also Made Public.

Houston, March 5.—J. E. Winfree has announced his candidacy for the office of representative in the State legislature from Harris county, position No. 2, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

Mr. Winfree, who has been a resident of Houston for the past seven years, stated Saturday he is a representative of the great masses, having sawmilled, farmed, surveyed and taught school in his youth. For the past 10 years he has been a lawyer, and at present is a member of the law firm of Winfree & Wesloe.

His platform as announced includes:

"1. Strict economy in the administration of the State affairs, better schools, from the cross-road school where I was educated and later taught, to the graded city schools, where my two boys now attend, and from the youngest State normal to our great university in all of its branches. In fact, were it in my power, I would make the University of Texas the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas and the common school system a vast educational system, second to none in the Union.

"2. I believe in the enforcement of law.

3. I would recodify the laws of the State and cut out many of the useless and duplicated laws on the statute books.

"4. I am in favor of better highways, and would join with my colleagues in the legislature, if I am elected, in attempting to make our State a vast spider web of macadamized and concrete highways.

"5. I have never before offered for office of any kind. I am 30 years old, married and have three boys, and desire the position for the good I can do my constituency and the good name I may earn for myself."

Map of Camino Real Now Hangs in Alamo.

San Antonio, Tex., March 4.—On the walls of the Alamo has been hung a map of the oldest highway in the Southwest—a trail which led from Mexico City, across Texas and to Natchitoches, La., in the days when pioneers were first gaining a foothold in the territory that now boasts of fine roads, handsome homes and prosperous cities.

The map, which is 18x18 feet, has been presented to the Alamo and the Daughters of the Republic of Texas by Texas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The highway is known as the Camino Real, King's Highway or San Antonio road. The map was made at the instance of Mrs. Lipscomb Norvell of Houston, who urged its preparation and assisted the daughters in obtaining the notes from which it was prepared.

Prior to its presentation to the Alamo, the map was shown at many towns in Louisiana and Texas and later hung in the legislative halls at Austin.

The State of Texas appropriated $8000 to verify notes for the making of the map, and the Daughters of the American Revolution of Texas provided an additional $2500, which was spent in collecting all available information from which the route was traced. The trail is now marked by 123 granite monuments, each five miles apart, for a portion of the distance.

EVERY YEAR.

Editor Courier:

The following most beautiful poem was transcribed several years ago while the writer was visiting the Virginia State Library. It is reproduced that its beauties may not forever be lost to Courier readers: P.

The Spring has less of brightness,

Every year;

And the snow a ghastlier whiteness,

Every year;

Nor do summer flowers quicken

Nor the autumn fruitage thicken

As they once did, for they sicken

Every year.

It is growing darker, colder,

Every year;

As the heart and soul grow older,

Every year;

I care not now for dancing

Or for eyes with passion glancing—

Love is less and less entrancing

Every year.

Of the loves and sorrows blended

Every year;

Of the charms of friendships ended

Every year;

Of the ties that still might bind me

Until time to death resign me

My infirmities remind me

Every year.

Ah! how sad to look before us

Every year;

While the clouds grow darker

o'er us,

Every year;

When we see the blossoms faded

That to bloom we might have aided

And immortal garlands braided

Every year.

To the past go more dead faces,

Every year;

As the loved leave vacant places

Every year;

Everywhere the sad eyes meet us,

In the evening's dusk they greet us

And to come to them entreat us,

Every Year.

"You are growing old," they tell us,

Every year;

"You are more alone," they tell us,

Every year.

You can win no new affection;

You have only recollection,

Deeper sorrow and dejection,

Every year.

Yes! the shores of life are shifting,

Every year;

And we are seaward drifting,

Every year;

Old places changing, fret us,

The living more forget us,

There are fewer to regret us,

Every year.

But the true life draws nigher,

Every year;

And its Morning Star climbs higher,

Every year;

Earth's hold on us grows slighter,

And the heavy burden lighter,

And the dawn immortal brighter,

Every year.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—"

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"... I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

the World War prolonged hostilities. That is the truth, because if the United States had stayed out the Germans would have gobbled up the French and the English before frost. They were just about whipped when we got in.

It is a long road that never turns. These hard times will not last always. The great nations of Europe are slowly recovering from the World War, and more hope is inspiring the people than at any time since the awful catastrophe that almost destroyed their civilization. If the rulers of European countries could but get their minds diverted from war and the preparation for war and devote their talents, money and energy along the paths that lead to peace, then plenty and prosperity would soon bless them as never before.

The best sign we have seen of any reform in the administration at Washington was the frank confession of President Harding that his mind had undergone a complete change with reference to a large navy. If the mind of Europe could experience a complete change with reference to armaments there might be some hope for the peace of the world. It is unfortunate that poor France could not have converted her sword into some kind of a farming tool when the war was over. With Germany utterly disarmed, the Kaiser eliminated, and the people struggling to build up a republic, it does seem that France could live in peace with her vanquished neighbor. If France should treat Germany fairly and generously, as a humane victor should treat a defeated enemy, the wounds would heal and the very thought of a future war would soon become repugnant.

THE DALLAS NEWS AND TOM WATSON.

The Dallas News descended into the most vulgar rage of the season when it heard that Tom Watson of Georgia had declared that Mr. Mellon is violating the laws of these United States in holding the high office of the Secretary of the Treasury. If Mr. Mellon is not eligible, if he is holding that office in violation of any law, it ought not to be any impropriety in a United States Senator rising upon the floor of the Senate and making declaration of the fact. The News being a great defender of law and order should not oppose a decent arraignment before the bar of justice of the rich as well as the poor, the great as well as the small, in all cases where the laws of our country are outraged. In view of the fact that the Dallas News is a strong exponent of law and order and a self-constituted custodian of the proprieties of United States Senators, will it please state its objection to a public exposition of the wrongs, misdeeds and delinquencies of so-called refined gentlemen whose standing in the financial world and even in society, when those wrongs are committed against the dignity and laws of the country? The greatest crimes of history are those committed in high places. The financial affairs of the world have often been manipulated in a way to enrich the manipulators at the expense of the great mass of the people. Mr. Mellon is said to be the wealthiest man in America except one. He is a director in more great money producing enterprises than any other man of his day and time.

As the keeper in an advisory way of all the money of the richest government in the world he might be able to favor and enhance his magnificent fortune. At least the great statesman that made the law that Tom Watson said Mellon is violating thought so. The Secretary of the Treasury ought to be a man of wonderful ability and influence. Alexander Hamilton was that sort of a man. But he had to resign the office finally to make a living for his family. If Mr. Mellon is in office in violation of the laws of this nation he ought to be ousted, although he is as rich as the richest.

But the Dallas News hates Tom Watson and will avail itself of any supposed mistake of the Georgia statesman to denounce him. The News, from its standpoint, has a moral, religious and legal right to hate Tom Watson. The Dallas News loves Mr. Wilson with all the ardor that David loved Jonathan, "passing the love of women," as the Scripture saith. Tom Watson hated Mr. Wilson, or did hate him, with all the wrath and vengeance with which Jefferson hated Hamilton. His hatred was so virile that it ran to madness. The admiration of the Dallas News for Mr. Wilson is in the nature of adulation, not the worst form, which means sycophancy, cringing, fawning, and things like that. But genuine admiration. And The News is not to blame for that. It should stand up for its ideals, its celestial men. But the Dallas News exhibits rather a bad spirit in denouncing all men who differed from Mr. Wilson. Mr. Wilson differed from himself very often. Mr. Wilson declared in a speech at St. Louis that this country ought to have the largest navy in the world. At one time he was strongly opposed to Federal woman suffrage, and afterward used his official position to urge its adoption. And all through his public career he was undergoing changes. One of his best friends, Mr. Henry Ford, says in his paper that Mr. Wilson changed overnight on some of the most important questions that came before the great League of Nations Conference at Versailles.

EUROPE IS DYING BY THE SWORD.

A well-informed Englishman who has been traveling and delivering speeches in the United States recently is giving the real reason why Europe is bankrupt. "Insensate militarism" is the way he states it. And here are his figures: "Estonia has an army of 25,000; Latvia, a little country of one million souls, has an army of 28,000; Poland has an army of 450,000; Czecho-Slovakia has a standing army of 150,000; Jugo-Slavia has an army of 120,000; Roumania has an army of 190,000; Greece has an army of 250,000; France has a standing army of 750,000; Belgium has an army of 115,000; Italy has an army of 200,000. So, here we have about 2,000,000 of the best men in Europe in arms. The expense to keep these men in arms must amount to billions annually. With Germany utterly disarmed there are as many soldiers in Europe as there were in 1914. These countries may think, if they think at all, that armies will save them, but as sure as time rolls round the nations that live by the sword will die by the sword. The sword will not furnish life forever. It is not only the history of all dead nations, but it is the word of inspired prophecy.

Students Wouldn't Deprive Girls of Their Smokes.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 28.—"Any woman has a perfect right to smoke if she wants to." That's the answer to a straw vote taken among the student body at the State University here. And it is declared that at least 500 of the girl students do smoke.

As to whether smoking lowers the intangible value of the regard in which a girl is held is something else again—the student body couldn't decide as to that.

Miss Lucy J. Newton, dean of women, says girls shouldn't smoke—it's bad for their health, and besides, the South has never and never will get used to it. Dr. Ethel Lynn Heard, physician for women at the university, says they ought to wait until they get married, anyway.

LAWS INFRINGING ON RIGHTS, BAILEY SAYS

Former Senator Declares Liberty Won at Alamo Is Being Lost.

Dallas, Texas, March 2.—Liberties for which the forefathers of Texas fought and died at the Alamo and Goliad are threatened today by the ever-advancing encroachment of federal legislation, Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States senator from Texas, told an audience of more than 200 persons at the Independence Day luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, at the Oriental Hotel at noon today.

After paying eloquent tribute to the founders of Texas and recounting the deeds of heroism of Travis, Crockett, Bowie, Bonham and others, Mr. Bailey said he doubted if Texans today were living up to the heritage of freedom left them by their forefathers.

"There is nothing like the Alamo in the history of the world," declared the former senator; "and if there had been no Alamo and Goliad, there might never have been a San Jacinto."

"Ours is a glorious heritage, won by men who loved liberty better than lives. Are we proving worthy of their glorious deeds by preserving the liberty and independence which they bequeathed to us? Not as we ought to have done it."

"Not Arguing Prohibition." They made Texas a republic and then voluntarily exchanged independence for statehood. Had I been living then, I believe I would have favored such a move; but living now I sometimes wonder if we would not have been better off if we had not made the change. Then we would have had some state rights. Then we would have decided for ourselves if we would have saloons or bootleggers in our midst; whether our women would vote, and whether we could let our children work. This is not true today. The federal government has taken regulation of these matters out of our hands. Today the state of Texas cannot say what the freight rate shall be on a bale of cotton from Abilene to Dallas; but who else besides ourselves is interested or concerned in such a matter?

"If any man had prophesied to Sam Houston or any of these hardy pioneers who founded Texas that the time would ever come when it would be a mockery to talk of state sovereignty, Texas would never have joined the union.

"I am not arguing the prohibition question. I don't care whether you are a dry wet or a wet dry. (Laughter.) Some men's tastes and principles don't run the same. I just insist that Texas be allowed to decide this question for herself. I am not a candidate for any office, and I never expect to be a candidate again, so I can talk freely to you.

Attacks Child Labor.

"In Texas most women are intelligent enough to vote, and the more intelligent they are, the less they are inclined to vote. (Laughter.)

"But in Mississippi a black cloud of ignorance hangs over the state, and the large number of negro women there should not be allowed to vote, and every man knows it.

"Already the federal government has come down to Texas and told us we shall not allow our children of certain ages to work. I am opposed to children of tender age being subjected to hard labor which endangers their health or their lives, but I am not in favor of any government regulating our children."

Mr. Bailey declared that the federal child labor law was "born in greed and bred in propaganda," and that the secret of its passage was that the cotton spinning mills of South Carolina were paying children who worked for them lower wages than the Massachusetts mills were forced to pay.

The former senator declared that the prohibition law would never be repealed, but that it ought to be obeyed, and that its passage had demonstrated to all legislators that no law can be enforced unless there is public sentiment behind it. "Even the pros are finding the law dryer than they intended to make it," he said, amidst roars of laughter.

American Legion Carnival.

The Brown and Embree shows have been engaged by the officers of the local Thos. R. Brailsford Post, American Legion, to stage a big spring festival and carnival to last seven days, starting Saturday, March 11th, and ending Saturday, March 18th. The carnival will be located on the show lot just below the W. V. Berry home.

The Brown and Embree shows are very strongly recommended by the various legion posts all over the country and are widely known and endorsed as carrying the very best attractions of magnitude and merit. Good clean wholesome amusements—not an immoral feature will be on the entire midway.

The local post of the American Legion will receive a certain per cent of the proceeds taken in at the carnival.

Should Cure Her.

Over in another town, many miles from Crockett, for nothing like it has or could happen here, at a moving picture theatre a woman was reading aloud the announcements that accompanied the picture, oblivious to the annoyance of those in her vicinity. Suddenly her voice slowly died away, as the crowd about her was convulsed with laughter as she read this aloud from Topics of the Day films on the screen: "We hate to put ashes in anybody's ice cream, but deliver us from the woman who reads the moving picture titles aloud."

INCOME TAX FACTS.

To avoid penalty, income-tax returns must be in the hands of collectors of internal revenue on or before midnight, March 15, 1922.

Every taxable return must be accompanied by a payment of at least one-fourth of the total tax due. Extensions of time for filing returns are allowed only in exceptional cases, illness, absence, etc. Applications for extensions under these circumstances should be addressed to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives. No extension beyond thirty days can be granted by a collector. Requests for further extensions must be addressed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.

For failure to make a return on time the penalty is a fine of not more than $1,000, plus 25 per cent of the tax due.

For failure to pay tax when due or for understatement of the tax through negligence there is a penalty of 5 per cent of the tax, plus interest at 1 per cent a month until paid. For making a false or fraudulent return the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000, or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the cost of prosecution and an additional assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of tax paid.

PUBLISHERS HAVE PROBLEMS.

Receipts from advertising and subscriptions during 1921 fell short of meeting the cost of producing the Northfield News by $1,663.20.

The cost—including mechanical and editorial expense—of producing an average issue of the News during 1921 was $275.

The total receipts from subscriptions at two dollars a year would pay the cost of producing nine issues of the News.

Advertising receipts must make up the balance—and in 1921 the revenue from this source fell considerably short of meeting the total cost of production.

If subscribers were to pay an amount needed to meet the cost of production, the subscription rate in 1921 would have been $7.65.

Confronted by this situation—which is typical in the country newspaper field—publishers can not reduce subscription rates, no matter how keenly they might wish to do so, without courting financial disaster.—Northfield (Minn.) News.

It will take the world one hundred years to appraise the rascality which characterized the Washington management of the business features of the war. More crooks gathered at the national capital during the war and held high position there than ever got together in an official capacity at any other time or in any other place in the history of the world. There was a time when no public official dared to protect a crook, or to help to cover up his misdeeds. No other president ever called to his cabinet a man whose administration of a great public trust was as notoriously shaded as was that of A. Mitchell Palmer in his capacity of Custodian of Alien Enemy Property. It was a matter of public talk at the time that he was selling the property which came into his hands at bargain counter prices to his friends. This fact was so notorious that when he became a candidate for the democratic nomination for president a New York paper said he was in high favor with Tammany because of the way he had handled the property of alien enemies which came into his hands. Tammany can always be relied on to embrace any politician who understands the science of growing rich in office.—Senter's Dixie.

If one group has a right to choose one law which it dislikes and therefore decides to disobey, then any other group has the same right to pick out some other law and disobey that and so on indefinitely. There is no place to stop if it be once admitted that laws which any citizen or group dislikes may be violated with impunity. There is no middle ground in this matter; either we shall have orderly liberty regulated by law, or else we shall have the weltering chaos of the mob. There are people in this country who deny utterly the right of private property, who believe that if anybody has anything he must have stolen it; who openly preach confiscation of houses and factories, stores and banks. The only thing which prevents realization of their red vision is the constitution and respect for law.

We Are Unloading This Week

A Solid Car Each of Meridian Red Bag Fertilizer and Kasch's Pedigreed Cotton Seed

The Kasch cotton seed are direct from the grower, Ed. Kasch at San Marcos, who has put forth more effort than any other man today to produce a high grade cotton. He has accomplished this by producing a cotton that yields from 40 to 44 per cent lint, yields more to the acre and has large, easy picking bolls that seldom fall out. Twelve hundred pounds will always make a bale weighing 500 pounds. Let us give you a booklet telling you more about this cotton.

The Meridian fertilizer that we have is especially mixed for cotton and corn, the formula being 11-1-65-1, the kind we have always sold, with the exception of 1 per cent potash, that all fertilizer factories have been unable to get for some time. It is without a doubt the best fertilizer sold today. The price is within reach of all.

Mrs. L. Meriwether has returned from Washington, where she has a son, and from Kipton, Ohio, where her daughter resides. After a few weeks with relatives and friends in Crockett and Grapeland, she will go to Alpine to instruct a class in music.

Postmaster at Lovelady.

Collins M. Click has been appointed by President Harding to be postmaster at Lovelady. It is believed that a good selection has been made. The present postmaster, Mr. C. B. Moore, will retire on account of his age after a faithful service of many years.

Some Good Eggs.

Messrs. Heath Brothers, who live near Crockett, left at the Courier office Saturday two hen eggs, each measuring 3 inches around and 6 inches the long way, from tip end around to tip end. The two eggs weighed nearly a half pound, or nearly a quarter pound each. They were of the Rhode Island Red stock.

New Business Firm.

The Crockett Grocery and Grain Company is a new business organization in this city. You read its announcement in the Courier last week and you know of its location and what it proposes to do. Advertising is educational. If you did not read last week's Courier, get it now and read the announcement, but read the other business announcements, too. It will pay you to do so. And read them this week.

From California.

Editor Crockett Courier: Please find enclosed postoffice money order for $1.50 to renew my subscription for one year. We look forward to getting the Courier each week. I see through it there is very much oil activity around Crockett. I am hoping with the rest of the Houston county folks that they strike a gusher.

Sincerely,
W. A. Sowers.

For County Commissioner.

Weches, March 6, 1922.

To the Voters of Commissioner's Precinct No. 4, Houston County, Texas.

I am again in the race for commissioner for precinct No. 4. I am 38 years old, and was born and reared in Houston county, where I have lived practically all my life. Two years ago I made the race, and I wish to thank every one who voted for me at that time. To those who saw fit to support my opponents I bear no ill will. I again submit my candidacy for your consideration, hoping that you will decide to elect me this time. Financially speaking I am a poor man, but I do not wish to make that an issue. I expect to run on my merits as a citizen and taxpayer.

I favor a progressive, constructive management of the business affairs of the county, and if elected I shall endeavor with the cooperation of the other members of the court to put the county on a cash basis and keep it there. I am a firm believer in economy, but do not favor a "penny wise and pound foolish" management of the county's affairs. If enough of the good citizens support me, both ladies and gentlemen, to elect me, I shall try very hard to give them no cause to regret it. I ask that you do not pledge yourself until I have the opportunity of seeing you.

B. L. (Ben) Womack.

For County Commissioner.

Cal Barbee announces in the Courier this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 3. Mr. Barbee lives at Lovelady, where he is now serving his second term as justice of the peace. He is not only well and favorably known by his neighbors in Lovelady, but also by the older citizens and taxpayers of commissioners' precinct No. 3, to which precinct he has rendered faithful service for one term, going out of the commissioners' office in 1900. Those who remember his service as commissioner will readily recall his faithfulness to the public duty with which he was then entrusted. He proposes now the same faithfulness if again honored with the office of county commissioner, which office is of the same importance to the county as the legislator is to the state and the congressman to the national government. Mr. Barbee was born and reared near Lovelady and has reared and educated a family at Lovelady. He is a democrat through and through, his first vote being the democratic ticket and his last one for the democratic nominee. He solicits and will appreciate the support of all good democrats, men and women, in the coming July primary.

For Sheriff.

O. B. (Deb) Hale announces this week as a candidate for reelection to the office of sheriff of Houston county, subject, as a matter of course and as are all other names appearing in our announcement column, to the action of the democratic primary to be held in July. He is now serving his first term as sheriff. He was not without experience as a peace officer when he entered the sheriff's office and he has profited by that experience, adding to it, untiringly, his energy, keen foresight and natural ability. Running throughout these, and as the foundation for all true public service, is a fearless determination to do his sworn duty. There are few if any to publicly state that he has not made a good sheriff, although there may be some who think so under breath. But the man who does things will have enemies, if for no other reason than through jealousy of his success, and in the course of time they may encompass his defeat. Mr. Hale is not boastful of his accomplishments, but he will consider the second term as an endorsement of his course in office, and he will appreciate the support of all good, law-abiding democrats in the coming primary election.

For County Commissioner.

J. C. (Crip) Allee announces this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 2, which lies west and northwest of Crockett. Mr. Allee lives at Ash, where he is engaged in the noble vocation of farming. He is 44 years of age and sufficiently experienced in the affairs of county interest to make a good commissioner. It should be needless to say that his candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic party, as it is a fact that he has been a democrat all his life, having cast his first ticket in a democratic primary and his last for the nominee in the last general election. His democracy is on straight and so is his platform. When asked by the editor about his platform, Mr. Allee said: "You may state that my platform is for less spending of the county's money—the other fellow's money—and for a lowering of the tax rate for all." Mr. Allee was reared in the Ash community and is well known over the western part of Houston county. He hopes to meet during the campaign all who do not know him, and he will appreciate the support of all democrats, both men and women, in the coming July primary.

For District Clerk.

Mrs. R. D. (Ethel) Calhoun announces this week as a candidate for the office of district clerk of Houston county. As a daughter of Mr. T. C. Lively, one of Augusta's most prominent citizens, and as a teacher in the public schools of Houston county for a period of six years, Mrs. Calhoun is well and favorably known to many people in the northern part of this county. She is a widow with the responsibilities of a livelihood on her hands and the rearing and educating of a young son, but she does not ask for the office purely on those grounds. She is entering the race strictly on her qualifications and competency to fill the office and she asks your support on this basis. She asks a most searching investigation of her qualifications and competency. Mrs. Calhoun lived in Crockett for awhile during the lifetime of her husband and has many friends here as well as in the Augusta and Grapeland sections. Her candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic primary and she will appreciate the support of all democrats in the coming election.

For County Commissioner.

I. W. (Ike) Tatom announces in the Courier this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 4, which lies to the east and southeast of Crockett. His candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held in July. Ike enters the race on a platform of economy in the matter of public expenditures. He is a farmer, lives among the people who farm the land themselves (real dirt farmers) and has a close understanding of the desires of those who toil. He has a practical education, knows what a dollar ought to buy (whether for himself or for the public) and believes that if there should be any difference in the expenditure of private and public funds, the difference should be in favor of the public funds, as the job is in handling other people's money, and a man should be more careful in handling other people's money than he should be in handling his own. He will appreciate the support of all good men and women in the coming democratic primary to be held in July.

CHIROPRACTIC

From the standpoint of Chiropractic, the body is a machine, each part of which gets its health-producing power from the brain through the nerves. Where there is even a slight compression of nerves, it will act so as to arrest the flow of nerve energy and disease will be the effect in the part the nerve ends in. The only place such nerve pressure can occur is where the nerve trunks come through the joints of the spine. This is the real CAUSE of disease and can be readily and completely removed by Chiropractic SPINAL ADJUSTMENT.

We shall be glad to go into your case thoroughly, give you a complete explanation of the science of CHIROPRACTIC, and, if you desire, an examination and spinal analysis. This service is WITHOUT CHARGE TO YOU, and places you under no obligation. Ladies who prefer may consult with a lady graduate Chiropractor.

Oliver Farm ImplementsTHE NO. 2 WALKING CULTIVATOR

There are many features of the Oliver No. 2 Walking Cultivator which appeal strongly to the thoughtful farmer. It is simple, strong, durable, easy to handle and does excellent work.

Stands Up Under Hard Usage

The gangs on the Oliver No. 2 Walking Cultivator are equipped with adjustable cone couplings. This enables the operator to take up the wear in the gang coupling to prevent the gang tipping sideways and keeps the cultivator running true as long as it lasts.

We have a complete stock of all kinds of farm implements and can supply you with anything you may need at the right price. Investigate our line and prices before buying.
