SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

The Courier told last week of the fishing job in the Porter well on the Austin farm near Crockett. That fishing job has never been finished. Resumed last Thursday with a new overshot, another break occurred, necessitating a delay until Sunday. The overshot is a pipe flared out at the bottom so that it will dig its way around the thing to be gotten out. The overshot is put on the drill stem and sent down to be twisted around the thing to be gotten out, as stated, which in this case is the bailer. Twisting on to the lost bailer, Sunday afternoon, the overshot broke when a strong pull was taken. It was again repaired Monday and sent down Tuesday, only to be again broken when a strong pull was taken. Mr. George L. Porter, the operator, left Tuesday night for Houston and returned Wednesday night with a Johnson overshot, said to be stronger than the one he had been using. He expects to get out the bailer this week, pull the packer and strainer, clean and reset the strainer, reset the packer, which he thinks has been set too low, reset the casing, bail the water and bring in the well, all of which is going to take time, without mishaps. The strainer is the perforated pipe set in the oil sand, the packer is to shut off the water from above the perforated pipe, the bailer is a long pipe with closed bottom to draw out the water and the swabber goes down through the water, bringing up the water as it returns. The theory is that there is so much water in the well that it is holding back the gas and oil. Bailing was in progress when the bailer was lost two or three weeks ago. The problem then was to get out the water. Now it is to get out the bailer. Mr. Porter is confident he has a paying oil well if it can be brought in and he is also confident of bringing it in. A half dozen or more geologists sent here by the big oil companies have been in Crockett this week, and without exception they have expressed confidence in the outlook for an oil field. Some sharp trading has been going on in leases and royalties, prices varying according to distance from the Porter well. A number of purchases have been made by parties from other oil fields.

Home Demonstration Agent.

Through invitation of Judge Patton, acting in behalf of a number of citizens of the county, Miss Helen Higgins, state home demonstration agent of the Extension Department of A. & M. College of Texas, went before the commissioners' court Monday and explained the work of the home demonstration agent, and the work they were doing in Texas, also showing the good one could do in Houston county. Miss Higgins proposed that if the court saw fit to employ a home demonstration agent, the A. & M. College would go fifty-fifty with the county on the salary and furnish a woman well qualified to fill the position. The court seemed very favorably impressed with Miss Higgins' talk, especially Judge Patton, who expressed himself as heartily in favor of employing a home demonstration agent. But no action was taken on the proposition until the next term of court. It is just like one of the commissioners remarked after Miss Higgins' talk, "that there was no answering her argument whether the court accepted her proposition or rejected it."

There were several citizens present at the meeting and all seemed to enjoy Miss Higgins' talk, among whom Mrs. J. A. McConnell, who made a short and very forcible talk, urging the employment of a home demonstration agent for Houston county.

We especially urge every one who is interested in the employing of a home demonstration agent to see and counsel with your commissioner before the next term of court.

Club Dances.

Two dance-parties were held in the rooms of the "Pine Bur Club" in this city toward the end of last week. On Friday evening the club members, under proper chaperonage, entertained and about thirty couples, including chaperones, participated in the evening's pleasures. Sandwiches and punch were served. The music was by a travelling orchestra from Louisiana. On Saturday evening the young maid friends of the club members procured the same orchestra and gave a dance in the club rooms, which proved to be another enjoyable event of the week. Among those attending one or both dances, exclusive of chaperones, were the following young people: Misses Hilda Burton, Josephine Edmiston, Florence Arledge, Bitsy Arledge, Shirley Jordan, Bess Jordan, Daphne Scott, Audrey Latimer, Lucile Lenoir, Marian Dupree, Katy Lacy, Euda Castleberg, Delha Mildred Wootters, Katie Barbee, Hattie Stokes, Alta Stokes, Mary Sue Powers and Johnnie Patton; Messrs. Steve Denny, Bobby Bricker Smith, Robert King, Loch Cook, Ralph Ellis, Dawson Robbins, John Cook, W. W. Aiken, Jack Barbee, Burk Lockey, Lanier Edmiston, Lewis Durst, Weldon Craddock, C. M. Neel, Milton Hollis, Mike McCarty, Collin Lochfield, Harry F. Moore, Edward McConnell, Dozier Austin, Eugene Kennedy, Johnson Lundy Arledge, Durward Allbright, Guy Lansford and John Franklin Shivers.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Callers at the Courier office this week report entirely too much rain for the crops. Much corn that was planted last week will have to be replanted and some of it will be replanted for the second time. A great deal of corn was planted last week and the hard rain that followed has packed the ground to such an extent that the seed will not come up, it is feared. We hear of some cotton being planted which, of course, will have to be replanted. Saturday's rain was one of the hardest of the season.

In spite of the wet weather the Courier has a list of subscription renewals double that of last week. Farmers were busy in their crops last week, but have had some spare time since Saturday's rain. Among the number calling to renew or subscribe or sending in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

For County Commissioner.

Mr. E. C. (Ed) Thompson announces in the Courier this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 3, which lies southwest of Crockett. When asked by the Courier if he had any statement to give out with his announcement, Mr. Thompson said: "Owing to the fact that I was a candidate for commissioner on the American party ticket two years ago, and that upon that account my democracy might be questioned by some, I feel that, in order that the voters may judge for themselves, I should state at this time the principles upon which I base my democracy. First, I believe in the old-time democratic principle of a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and I believe this principle should govern in all public affairs—in county, state and nation—and I promise that, if elected to the office of county commissioner, I will do all I can to eliminate graft in the commissioners' court; that I will try at all times to get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar expended, and practice such economy that Houston county may be put upon a cash basis in the shortest possible time and taxes lowered as soon as compatible with the best interests of the county." Mr. Thompson's announcement is made subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held July 29. He is well known to the voters of commissioners' precinct No. 3, in which he was born and reared and in which he made the race in the general election year before last. The Courier feels that he needs no introduction at its hands, but will add that he is capable and honest and would make a good commissioner. He solicits and will appreciate your support in the coming primary election.

For County Commissioner.

Mr. R. V. (Richard) Webb announces this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 4. Mr. Webb was born, reared and educated in the precinct whose people he now wishes to render some service in an official capacity. The old home place is near Arbor, in which community he now lives and in which community he is rearing his family. He is 48 years old and is engaged in the honorable vocation of tilling the soil, which has been a life-time vocation for him. With the exception of making the race for county commissioner in the same precinct fourteen years ago, he has never before offered for a position of public trust. Sixteen years ago he was unfortunate enough to lose one of his arms, but, although greatly handicapped in that respect, he has continued to earn a living for the family and himself with the one remaining arm. He does not now offer his misfortune as a plea for the party's nomination, but he proposes to stand on a platform of honesty and efficiency in the public service. No candidate for county office has been more loyal to the party at whose hands he is now seeking the nomination and election. He asks an investigation, and if you find him capable and honest, he will appreciate your support from now until election day and your vote on election day, July 29.

PROCEEDINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

The spring term of the Houston county district court convened in regular session Monday morning of this week, with all officers of the court, including District Judge W. R. Bishop, District Attorney B. F. Dent and District Clerk V. B. Tunstall, present.

The grand jury was called and accepted as follows: P. L. Fulgham, J. F. Fulmer, H. C. Rich, Sam Tigner, J. B. Allen, F. C. Edmiston, H. H. Hallmark, J. R. Hinson, Henry Daily, J. M. Creasy, E. S. Dawson, A. B. Mulligan.

Bailiffs were appointed as follows: Mattie Satterwhite, door bailiff; D. K. Smith, W. N. Ferguson, Houston Betts, Arthur Holcomb, M. C. English, Jack Townsend and Alf Harrell, riding bailiffs.

The grand jury, after being charged as to its duties, retired to the room heretofore provided for its deliberations.

Two cases on the criminal docket, continued from the last term of the district court, have been set for trial as follows:

Ed Mansell, murder; set for Thursday, April 20.

John Morgan, forgery and passing forged instrument; set for Monday, April 17.

All other cases appearing on the criminal docket are subject to call for Monday, April 17, including all other cases against John Morgan and all criminal cases continued from the last term of the district court.

A Faithful Servant.

In reporting the death of Capt. John J. Bradford, his niece wrote of an incident connected with his army life which illustrates the fidelity of the old-time slave. Like all the young men of his time, Captain Bradford had a body servant, Berry, who had followed him all during the war. Realizing that Fort Gibson was soon to fall, and that Berry would be impressed into the Yankee service, Captain Bradford told Berry to escape and make his way back home, intrusting him with a handsome gold watch to be given to Captain Bradford's mother. For three weeks faithful Berry dodged and hid, swimming creeks and crossing swamps by night. At last he reached home, worn out and emaciated. Seeing Mrs. Bradford sitting on the gallery, he staggered up the steps and laid the watch in her lap, saying: "Here, Mistus, is Mars John's watch an' Ise come home to die." Mrs. Bradford at once had faithful Berry placed in one of her rooms in the "big house" and nursed and cared for him until the end—only a few days later. This incident also illustrates the attachment of the owner for the slave.—Confederate Veteran.

Near East Relief.

Those of us who were fortunate enough to hear Mrs. Waller Saturday and Sunday were reminded afresh of the great suffering among the people of the Near East.

Texas is expecting to send a full ship load of supplies to those suffering people, and Crockett is called on to do her bit in this worthy work. Next Monday and Tuesday, April 3 and 4, will be bundle day for Crockett, and all who have cast-off clothing of any kind are asked to bring them to the Johnson & McLean building on those days where a committee will receive them. Shoes, hats, caps and clothing of any kind will be received, and it is hoped that we will get up a large shipment.

KING BORIS IS BADLY IN NEED OF READY CASH

Sofia, March 19.—The young King Boris of Bulgaria is so much in need of ready cash to maintain his modest household that he has sold some of his automobiles and all of the wines and liquors belonging to his father, the exiled Ferdinand. American visitors to Bulgaria have been surprised to find old vintage wines and rare champagnes from the royal palace on the tables of Sofia's hotels at $2 a bottle.

The former Czar Ferdinand, now barred from Bulgaria, enjoyed in his days of imperial power all the luxuries and extravagances of the royal sovereigns of the Elizabethan age. But his son, who is beloved of all the people for his simplicity and lack of ostentation, lives almost as humbly as one of his peasants. Bulgarians say that when the father fled the country, just before the armistice, he took with him all the crown jewelry, money and realizable assets and left the son nothing.

Boris' civil list is much below the salaries received by American corporation presidents. The young ruler has repeatedly refused financial assistance from the government because he felt the country's need of economy and conservation was too great. He is doing everything he can to make both ends meet. The various palaces built by his father are now the property of the state, otherwise he could realize something on their sale.

In his desire to set an example of economy and frugality to his people, the king for a long time has stopped all entertainments and court functions. He maintains a modest household of three or four servants and one or two guards.

Boris is just past 27. His people say he has all the virtues of his mother and none of the characteristics of his father. He is frail of body and delicate in features. He has a compelling charm of manner and an earnestness and sincerity that win instant admiration.

His chief motive of life is work. He never is idle. If he isn't busy with the affairs of state, he is studying. Horticulture, natural history and engineering are his hobbies.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEES SALE.

The State of Texas, County of Houston.

Whereas, on the 1st day of November, 1919, William H. Henry and wife, Angeline Henry, executed a certain deed of trust to Andrew Kingkade, Trustee, which is recorded in Book 18, page 78 of the Deed of Trust Records for Houston County, Texas, for the purpose of securing the payment of five promissory notes executed by said William H. Henry and Angeline Henry payable to the order of the Oklahoma Farm Mortgage Company as follows:

One note for $30.00 due November 1st, 1920;

One note for $28.00 due November 1st, 1921;

Eleven Railroads in South Fail to Earn Expenses.

Washington, March 19.—Combined earnings of American railroads for January, on the basis of railroad compilations of interstate commerce commission reports issued Sunday, amounted to $29,604,000. This total, which represented the returns from 200 out of the 201 class 1 systems in existence, and 235,389 miles out of an approximate 250,000 of rail mileage in the United States, were estimated to represent 2.60 per cent return on the capital value of railroad investment, compared with an earning rate of 3.4 per cent shown during December.

During the month 74 railroads, 26 in the East, 11 in the South and 37 in the West, failed to earn their operating expense. Owing to seasonal traffic variations, January and February are usually marked by lowest railroad profits.

AMERICAN TROOPS WILL BE RETURNED FROM GERMANY

Washington, March 20.—All American troops will be out of Germany by July 1, under orders issued by Secretary Weeks today by direction of President Harding. About 20,000 officers and men are directly affected. The announcement of the decision for complete American evacuation of German territory was made by Secretary Weeks as his first act on return from a vacation in Florida. The order had no relation, he said, to the wrangle in congress over further reduction of the size of the army nor did it result from the correspondence between the state department and the allied commissioners over the American demand for a share in German reparations payments.

The original order of the president it was pointed out directed that all troops on the Rhine with the exception of not more than the single infantry regiment and artillery and other auxiliary detachments be brought home in army transports as rapidly as possible. The movement is now in progress and the work of the two transports running in the service will be continued under today's instruction, Mr. Weeks said, until the remaining troops also have been returned, which will be before July 1.

The war secretary made no objection to steps that would be taken to turn the Coblenz sector over to the allied commanders.

It was admitted at the war department that the action of the United States, in completely abandoning the Rhineland position, might have some effect on the negotiations resulting from Secretary Hughes' action in submitting a request that the United States receive a share of German reparations payments already made to cover maintenance of the armies on the Rhine. It was insisted, however, that the step was not a direct result of those negotiations, since complete withdrawal was forecast before the note calling attention to the American bill in excess of $241,000,000 on this account was transmitted.

DODGE FACES TWO MORE CHARGES AS HE LEAVES PRISON

Tribulations of Millionaire
Speeder Are Many And Varied.

Detroit, March 19.—John Duval Dodge, millionaire speeder, will leave the Detroit house of correction Monday at 9 a. m. to face a fresh series of tribulations.

Tuesday Mr. Dodge will be arraigned in Kalamazoo on the charge of driving an automobile while drunk. He will later be arraigned on charge of illegally transporting liquor.

Miss Emeline Kwackerneck, Grand Rapids normal school student who was seriously injured when she jumped from Dodge's automobile March 11, after being offered, she alleged, a drink of whiskey, will be sufficiently recovered to appear against Dodge.

Young Dodge was sentenced here to serve five days in prison, pay a fine of $100, and his license was revoked for one year after he pleaded guilty to speeding, in recorder's court Thursday. He earned the admiration of the other prisoners Saturday by the vigor with which he shoveled coal, his first prison task. He worked so hard he became ill and had to be transferred to clerical work. Throughout his ordeal Dodge was cheerful, partaking heartily of prison fare, and did not complain because he was not permitted any special privileges.

When he leaves the prison he will be master of a fortune of $1,600,000, circuit court Saturday having admitted to probate the amended will of his father, the late John F. Dodge, permitting the son to share in the estate. Under the original will young Dodge was cut off with a monthly allowance of $150.

Tax the Auto Owner and Relieve Geishas.

Tokio (By Mail to United States)—The geisha think the taxation program of the recent government is fine—just perfectly charming. And the owners of automobiles in Japan think the policy is rotten.

The debate waxes warm in all the tea houses these days.

The new budget has trimmed the taxes of all the geisha, who are the waitresses and entertainers in Japanese tea-houses. And it has added another boost to the already stiff automobile taxes.

In political circles the opposition parties are laughing at what they term a "bone-head play" by the Seiyukai, which is the party in power.

"The geisha can't vote, whereas most automobile owners can. So just wait until election day," they chortle.

If Japan's automobile taxes had prevailed in America Henry Ford would have flivvered before he ever started. At present taxes and upkeep for one year here equal approximately the initial cost of a low priced car. Tinlizzies are few and far between and any automobile is a luxury.

Was Surprising."—Got Along
Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 8, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

REAL AMERICANISM.

A memorial to sixty-two Princeton men who were killed during the Civil War has been completed by the university authorities, with no distinction between the men who served in the Union armies. So far as is known, this is the first time that the names of the soldier dead have been set down alphabetically without regard for the uniform the men wore. Strangely enough, there are thirty-one from each side.

It is probable that more sons of Old Nassau were killed during the struggle, but the destruction of records has made it almost impossible to obtain a strictly accurate list.

The names are inscribed in the war memorial room in Nassau Hall on the west marble panel. On the south side of the room, which is done completely in white marble, are the names of the 144 Princeton men who were killed in the World War, and on the east side is a panel for the names of those who died in the Revolution. Owing to the difficulty in collecting data on the heroes of this war, the work is progressing slowly and will not be finished for some time.

Forty-six of the men whose names appear on the Civil War lists were officers, fifteen were privates, and one was a surgeon, divided as follows: Two Confederate brigadier generals, one Union adjutant general, five Union and two Confederate colonels, three Union lieutenant colonels, ten Confederate and eight Union captains, seven Confederate and four Union lieutenants, one Union adjutant, one Union surgeon, two Confederate and one Union sergeants, and seven Union and eight Confederate privates.—The Packet.

In sending this account of the memorial tablet, John Watson writes from Princeton, N. J., as follows:

"The memorial tablet is placed in Nassau Hall, the oldest of the university buildings, and where the Continental Congress met in the summer of 1783. The tablet is in memory of the Princeton alumni who were killed in the War between the States, and their names appear in alphabetical order without anything to indicate whether they served the Union or the Confederacy. It would be a handsome thing to have it that way anywhere. But it is altogether unusual to find such a memorial tablet in a Northern State. It might be said that time and circumstance warrant it; but I prefer to regard this fine and graceful act as typical of Princeton University. It is not only an American university in the best and broadest sense, but it is our outstanding and foremost American university. In the early days many young men came here from the South, especially from Virginia; and even to this day more Southern boys come to Princeton than to any other college in the North.

"The spirit of the university is also the spirit of the town. When I first came here, a few years ago, I was invited by a gentleman to whom I had a letter of introduction to dine with him at the Nassau Club. In the reading room I was surprised to see handsome steel engravings of Gens. R. E. Lee, A. S. Johnston and Joseph E. Johnston along with similar portraits of General Grant and other Northern generals. I expressed my surprise, and my host (who did not know that I came originally from the South) conveyed a polite reproof in his reply when he said: "That is because Princeton is an American town." I have found it so since then, and so I wish to bring to your attention this action of Princeton University in honoring equally its alumni who fell in the war between the states. Princeton University has an added claim upon the affections of the Southern people."—Confederate Veteran.

JIM REED TALKS.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri was invited to address the Missouri-Kansas Wholesale Grocery association. He accepted the invitation. He declared the United States was using poor business principles by not insisting that foreign countries repay borrowed money. For instance: "The sooner we make these countries pay their financial obligations or else put them in the bankruptcy court of the world the better it will be for the United States. The way to help the foreign countries is to trade with them. Take European goods and trade them wheat and corn." The senator said if the men running the affairs of the United States would apply more hard-headed banking methods to European debtors a large amount of the interest due this country would be collected, thus eliminating much of the high taxation now existing in this country. Europe cannot buy the products of the United States until it devotes more thought to working than to maintaining large armies and navies, the senator declared. Senator Reed then asked his hearers this question: "When did we get this idea that the United States is a wet nurse to the world? Did Europe ever do anything for us? After the armistice, Poland borrowed 60 million dollars from us to feed civilians. Then Poland put all its able men to war. France has more than one million men under arms. Yet we lend her money. In one year England spent 700 million dollars for fleets and she owes us money. These nations need to get to work. Europe will not work until we stop feeding its population. We owe 28 billion dollars. Europe owes us 10 billion dollars and has paid no interest. We can never reduce taxes in this country until Europe pays us." James A. Reed of Missouri has his faults, but he is a straight shooter. If we sell to Europeans then we must buy from Europeans. Germany is working her way out. Why shouldn't the debtors of the United States (former allies of the United States) work their way out?—Wichita Record-News.

Jim Galloway of the Dallas Marines was called upon for a speech at the stag banquet given in the Auditorium Wednesday night. Jim admitted right off the bat that he wasn't a speech maker, then told this story and sat down: "A French nobleman arrived in the United States on Saturday night and was met by a reception committee. The committee took him to church Sunday morning and to a ball game Sunday afternoon. Asked by one of the committeemen what he thought of baseball, the Frenchman replied: "I hardly know what to think. This morning they sang 'Stand up for Jesus' and this afternoon they yell 'For Christ sake sit down!'"—Mineral Wells Index.

Jurors for the weeks beginning Monday, April 3, and Monday, April 10, need not appear for jury service, as stated to the Courier Tuesday by Sheriff O. B. Hale. This notice may be considered as official, District Judge Bishop having notified the sheriff on Tuesday that no jurors would be needed for the weeks stated and having authorized the sheriff to give notice to that effect.

Houston County Oil Prospects.

The Driskill well is at a standstill at 1500 feet, as is also the Grapeland well at 750 feet. The Porter Springs well is between 300 and 400 feet and has already encountered strong gas formations. The formations in all of these wells are said to be very favorable. The Porter Springs well had a slight accident Tuesday in dropping some piping which was recovered Wednesday. The Courier has no report from the derrick at Weldon. The depth of the Porter well at Crockett is around 3600 feet.

A. H. Luker Will Not Enter Race for Representative.

To the People of Houston County:
Since it has become generally known that I have had under consideration the matter of entering the race for representative from Houston county, I wish to advise my friends that I have reached the decision not to do so. As much as I would appreciate the honor of serving my county in the legislative halls, I regret that circumstances are such that I cannot respond to the call for service. I appreciate fully the encouragement of those who proffered me their support.
Respectfully,
1t. A. H. Luker.

Crockett Shows Growth.

An extension of Grace street is being made from the intersection of that street with Public avenue to connect with a new street intersecting North street at Mary Allen seminary. The Grace street extension is made by the property owners along the new thoroughfare, prominent among whom are Smith Brothers. This new street will open up a new residence section for Crockett, but the name of the new addition has not yet been announced. A large number of new homes have been built in Crockett during the last year and, on account of the continued growth of the city, an additional residence section has become necessary. The city continues to grow at a steady pace in spite of the business depression that has existed during the last year.

Methodist Revival.

Revival services began at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Rev. E. A. Maness, the pastor, preached the opening sermon. He laid stress upon the great truth that real Christianity means a personal Christ dwelling in the heart of the believer. A large congregation was present—the pastor thinks he feels the forerunner of a great revival.
Remember that every one is welcomed to attend these services, take part in the worship and make their contribution to the success of the meeting. The object is a revival for the entire community.

and will lead the campaign until the close of the meeting. This is a time when we need a great revival in our church and in the community. Let's follow the leadership of these faithful evangelists as God may lead them and enter into a higher spiritual life. This is such an important matter that it ought to be attended to at once.
Any honest inquirer after life and peace as it is in Jesus Christ will find help and assistance in this revival. Such a person is especially invited to be present. And remember! The entire public is invited. The Pastor.

Big Shipment of Hogs Go to State of California.
Four car loads of hogs were shipped out of Grapeland Monday to a point in the state of California. There were 685 hogs in the shipment, 3 cars of stocker hogs and 1 car of young shoats.
The hogs were sold by J. W. Howard and Henry and Balis Dailey and the buyer stated that the entire lot was the best bred hogs he had found in East Texas, and he has bought them at several places.
Requirements of the ruling of the state livestock sanitary commission had to be complied with, the hogs being loaded direct from the wagons into the cars, and all were vaccinated by an expert veterinarian, who furnished a certificate to the railroad company before the cars were moved.
We may eat California's canned goods, but they eat our hogs.—Grapeland Messenger.

Your Spine

The nerves that radiate from the spine to the heart, liver, stomach, kidneys, and other organs carry the vital energy that controls the functioning of these organs. A slight slippage of any of the spinal bones interferes with the flow of this vital energy to the organs or parts, and a disturbed functioning is the result.

CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENT concerns itself with adjusting the spinal bones to normal, so that the vital energy that flows over the nerves can be properly distributed throughout your body, and health is the result.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN ON FORGIVING AGAINST LAWLESSNESS.

Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well-wisher to his posterity, swear by the Mood of the Revolution never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. * * * To the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property and his sacred honor—let every man remember that to violate this law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the character of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence of the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap, let it be taught in schools, in seminaries and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and in almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in the courts of justice. In short, let it become the political religion of the nation, and let the old and the young, the rich and the poor, the grave and the gay of all sexes and tongues and colors and conditions sacrifice unceasingly upon its altars.—From the Lyceum Address, Springfield, Ill., January 27, 1837.

DUFF OF HOUSTON ACQUIRES 2 LINES FROM KATY ROAD

Properties Are Trinity and Sabine; Beaumont and Great Northern.

The acquisition of two East Texas branch lines of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway system by interests headed by R. C. Duff of Houston was announced Friday in a dispatch from New York city.

The properties to be acquired are the Beaumont and Great Northern railway and Trinity and Sabine railroad.

The text of the announcement which was made by Doremus and company, 44 Broad street, New York, representing the reorganization managers of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company, follows:

The Announcement.

"An arrangement has been reached before the reorganization managers of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company interests, headed by R. C. Duff of Houston, whereby the detached lines of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas system located in Eastern Texas, consisting of the 67-mile branch extending from Trinity to Colmesneil, formerly known as the Trinity and Sabine railroad, and the Beaumont and Great Western railroad, which extends from Weldon to Livingston, a distance of 50 miles, will, on the completion of the present plans for the reorganization of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, be acquired by a new company to be organized and operated by Mr. Duff and associates.

"The plans of the new owners include substantial repairs and improvements on the lines which they are acquiring, and contemplate extensions of the Trinity and Sabine from Colmesneil to Jasper, and from Weldon to Waco.

"They also provide for an energetic and sustained effort fully to develop the industrial and agricultural possibilities of the counties intersected by the lines of railroad to be conducted by a special department in the organization, the function of which will be to stimulate settlement and development."

according to statistics announced today by R. D. Cahn of the state department of labor. It was reported there were 209.7 persons registered in February for each 100 jobs open compared with 232.4 in January. There were 2876 fewer persons seeking jobs last month than in January. Of 903 firms here, 435 took on workmen while 341 laid off men. No changes were made by 127 others.

Venice Flooded to Depth of Three Feet.

London, March 23.—A Central News dispatch from Venice says that a tidal wave late Wednesday night inundated the city, the water rising to a depth of more than three feet in some of the public squares.

Venice, situated virtually at sea level and threaded by canals, is subject to periodic inundations, due to unusually high tides and spring freshets. The squares, such as St. Mark's, are under water at such times, but the rise seldom exceeds a few inches.

THAT OLD TIME RELIGION WILL SAVE COUNTRY

—Warren G. Harding.

President Says "Lighter And Frivolous Attitude" A Menace.

Washington, March 24.—The church can render no higher service at this time than to put forth its utmost influence in behalf of "frank and willing obedience to the law of the land," President Harding declared Friday night, in an address before the Bible class of Cavalry Baptist church. No newspaper correspondents were admitted to the church, but the president's address was made public from the White House.

Without giving too much weight to alarmist expressions, the president said, "we must nevertheless recognize that there is a very apparent tendency to a lighter and more frivolous view of the citizen's relations to both the state and the church." If people who are known as leaders, he added, become known for their defiance of some law, they need not be astonished if their example is followed by others.

At another point, Mr. Harding discussed "the loose talks nowadays about the cause of the spiritual demoralization of the community, and declared that it could not be laid entirely to the war, but to a tendency before that period toward a "certain moral laxity, a shifting of standards, a weakening of the sterner fibers."

In his experience of a year in the White House, he said, "there has come to me no other such unwelcome impression as the manifest religious intolerance which exists among many of our citizens."

"I hold it to be a menace to the very liberties we boast and cherish," he asserted.

Declaring his belief in the part which religious reverence has played in American achievement, the president said:

"If I were to utter a prayer for this republic tonight, it would be to reconsecrate us in religious devotion, and make use abidingly a God-fearing, God-loving people."

"There is no relationship here between church and state," the president said. "Religious liberty has its unalterable place, along with civil and human liberty, in the very foundation of the republic. There is shown the far-seeing vision of the immortal founders, and we are a better people and a better republic because there is that freedom. I fear it is forgotten sometimes.

"In spite of our complete divorcement of church and state, quite in harmony with our religious freedom, there is an important relationship between church and nation, because no nation can prosper, no nation can survive, if it ever forgets Almighty God.

"Disregard of one statute inevitable must breed a lack of respect for the law in general. This tendency is obvious, and ought to give the deepest concern to people who have seen in this world the fearful results that follow from the breakdown of respect for the social fundamentals."

EDITORIALS BY COL. R. T. MILNER

What the Former A. & M. President Writes in the Rusk County News.

GOV. NEFF IS SOON TO TAKE THE STUMP.

It is taken for granted that Governor Neff will offer for reelection. And it is also expected that he will at the earliest possible time make known the issues upon which he will ask the voters to elect him. The voters were never more anxious to have a plain, specified, thoroughly outlined program, or platform, or statement of the things which the candidate for governor will advocate for legislation. Swaying audiences with oratory is good at May Day picnics. Long dissertations on the importance of the enforcement of laws, and the authority of the state to exercise certain powers in bringing offenders to the bar of justice, are good to mix in along with a great platform of specified recommendations to the legislature. But the plain people are absolutely hungry for political meat.

Candidates for the legislature are announcing—for what? Just for the legislature—every fellow for himself with the devil closely behind him. The man who expects to be elected governor of Texas ought to retire for a month into the hidden recesses of the mountains, and at the expiration of that time he will be able to lay down in a way that the dullest voter could understand every proposition which he expects to recommend to the legislature. No evasion, shifting and shuffling will count in the campaign this year. Are you for economy? Then just exactly how are you going to get it? Are you for the consolidation of departments? Then tell us which departments. Are you for the total abolishment of some bureaus? Then tell us which ones. Are you for simplifying the judiciary? Then tell us just how it is to be done. Are you in favor of regulating certain things? Then point out the things that need regulating and how are you going about it.

Make the issues so strong and so plain that the people will favor or oppose, and then candidates for the legislature will be forced to take one side or the other. A campaign without sides is a poor, weak campaign.

Turn back the pages of Texas political history and you will find that each governor who is worth writing about had live issues.

That word "economy" has been worked so often and so much that it means nothing unless it is accompanied with facts stating how economy is going to come about.

Without well defined issues fought out and adopted by the people the next legislature and the next governor will go down in history, the weakest and supine of the age. The people are in no frame of mind to condone weakness in office. They are tired of apathy. They are sick almost to the point of desperation of trucklings in office.

Governor Neff can be elected easily on a bold, open, candid platform for economy, sure and certain economy, robust efficiency and a campaign so forcefully outlined that those who ask the people for their votes will be asked: "What side are you on?"
