PRINTING OF NAME ON BALLOT ENJOINED

HEARING IS SET BY JUDGE A. M. BLACKMON FOR NOVEMBER 1.

Fairfield, Texas, Oct. 28.—An injunction seeking to keep the name of Earle B. Mayfield off the ballot as nominee of the democratic party for the United States senate in the general election November 7 was granted by Judge A. M. Blackmon in the seventy-seventh district court shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The injunction was sued out in the name of County Attorney L. E. Eubanks of Limestone county.

Judge Blackmon was just closing court here this afternoon when an automobile containing Richard Mays of Corsicana, W. W. Nelms of Dallas and County Attorney Eubanks drove up to the court house.

The party asked for Judge Blackmon, and the petition was handed the judge in court. Judge Blackmon, after reading it, granted the temporary restraining order as requested.

"In effect, the injunction granted by this court is similar to that at Corsicana, with the exception that it was sued out in the name of a county officer, the county attorney of Limestone County," said Judge Blackmon after the proceedings were over.

The new restraining order is directed against the secretary of state, S. L. Staples, and all county judges and members of the county boards having to do with the printing of ballots, and restrains them from certifying or printing the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the ballot.

Home Coming Day.

Methodists, attention! Next Sunday is "Home Coming Day." Once a year we try to have "Home Coming Day." The idea is to get every member of the church to attend the same service once a year. Want you to make a sure enough effort to come next Sunday.

The Lord has blessed us with material blessings this year; we are more prosperous than for years. Let us all come to church next Sunday and thank Him for what he has done for us.

Want you to make a sure enough effort next Sunday and come to the 11 o'clock services. "Home Coming" will be the subject of the hour. The pastor will discuss home and all it means.

The slogan is "Every member at church Sunday, November 5." If you know some aged or infirm person who has no way to come, phone them that you will be after them in your car.

Want every member of the church to help to get all other members to come next Sunday.

It will make the heart of Jesus glad to see all of His children whose names are on our church roll present next Sunday.

It will be a glad surprise to the town to know what it has so many Methodists in it.

Let next Sunday be "dress parade day" for the Methodists of Crockett. The entire public is invited to attend our home coming service. Pastor.

IS PERSECUTION, NOT PROSECUTION

Editor Crockett Courier:

If in the minds of the people there was any doubt that the injunction suit against Earl B. Mayfield was persecution instead of prosecution those doubts were certainly dispelled when, after losing everywhere else, they scoured the state to find a prosecuting attorney who would sign the complaint and instituted a new suit at Fairfield. Judge Hawkins Scarborough had selected his own questions to put to the jury and told the jury he would abide their decisions. When they could not decide as he wanted them to, he forced them to answer the questions in his way, and then peremptorily made permanent the injunction. This itself is enough to convince the public that it is persecution rather than prosecution. The new suit at Fairfield has outraged every sense of square dealing.

While the public have not access to the expense account of other candidates, judging from what was done by them openly and the cost of the same, there are a number of candidates who spent far more than Mr. Mayfield. The fact is the opposition to Mr. Mayfield at the present time is spending ten dollars to where Mr. Mayfield spent one, if we are to judge by what we see. Fair-minded men will not approve, but will resent singling out Mr. Mayfield for persecution and letting others go scot free. Contrary to the statements made by Judge Scarborough and Mr. Nickols, there was no evidence produced to prove that Mr. Mayfield violated the law by spending more than $10,000. In order to get the amount more than that, they added in what others spent without his knowledge. The law does not allow this to be counted.

Those who instituted the suit know they had no case in court, but expected to have the thing tied up in court so late that Mr. Mayfield's name would be kept off the ballot. As it is his name may be left off the ballot in many counties, but every fair-minded voter should take special pains to see that Earle B. Mayfield's name is written in at the proper place, and thus defeat the most outrageous trick that the old liquor crowd has ever perpetrated upon the public.

KEELING FAILS IN COURT ACTION TO STOP SUIT

Senatorial Mix-Up Shows Little
Sign of Clearing Up.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—An application for leave to file mandamus proceedings seeking to restrain Judge A. M. Blackmon of the Seventy-seventh district court from enforcing the injunction he granted against Earle B. Mayfield's name being placed on the November election ballot as democratic senatorial candidate was overruled by the supreme court at 8:45 o'clock tonight.

The injunction was granted at Fairfield Saturday and hearing on making it permanent will be held at Groesbeck Wednesday.

The application was filed by Attorney General Keeling early tonight, but the nature of the proceedings was not made known until the court rendered its decision.

The application contended that the district court acted beyond its jurisdiction in granting the injunction. It also declared that the plaintiffs in the injunction did not have sufficient interest to bring the suit and to maintain it. Assistant Attorneys General John C. Wall and L. G. Sutton joined in the application.

MAYFIELD CERTIFIED AS NOMINEE

Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—On advice of the attorney general, Secretary of State Staples Saturday morning certified by telegram to all county clerks the name of Earle B. Mayfield as democratic candidate for United States senator.

The telegram sent to the county officials follows:

"As secretary of State, I hereby certify to you the name of Earle B. Mayfield as the nominee of the democratic party for the office of United States senator from Texas. This name should immediately be printed upon the official ballots as such in the ensuing general election."

The attorney general's opinion to Mr. Staples follows:

"In response to your inquiry you are respectfully advised that it is now within your authority and is your legal duty to certify to the proper officials the name of Earle B. Mayfield as the nominee of the democratic party of this State for the office of United States senator to be printed upon the official ballots as such in the ensuing general election."

"The decision of the supreme court of Texas handed down yesterday is to the effect that the parties plaintiff in the case of State ex rel C. E. King, et al, vs. S. L. Staples, secretary of state et al, in the district court of Navarro county, were without legal capacity or authority to institute the suit in quo warranto and that therefore the district court of Navarro county was and is without jurisdiction of the cause. It necessarily follows that the injunction issued by that court was void ab initio and is of no effect."

PROCEEDINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

The case of the state against John D. Morgan, charging forgery, was taken up in the Houston county district court Monday morning of this week. The state announced ready for trial and the defendant's motion for a continuance was overruled. The jury empanelled and sworn, the defendant pleaded not guilty, on the ground that he was temporarily insane if he committed the forgery, an offense of which he had no knowledge. Monday was taken up largely in securing the jury, which was empanelled as follows: J. E. Allen, W. C. Carroll, Charlie Arnold, Emmitt Robert, H. E. Stockton, J. D. Woodward, F. H. Butler, O. B. Domy, Starks Kelley, W. H. Buchanan, Will Domy and W. T. Buchanan. Following the conclusion of the evidence, the case was given to the jury Wednesday at noon. In the early afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. Remaining on the docket against the defendant are eleven other cases of similar character, and it is not believed that they will be called for trial at this term of court.

A case in which the jury failed to agree was that of Charlie Martin, negro, charged with the murder of a negro. This case was taken up Friday of last week and the defendant entered a plea of not guilty. The evidence was concluded Saturday and the case given to the jury. On Sunday, the jury was discharged, it having failed to reach a verdict. The defendant claimed self defense.

Jim Williams, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, entered a plea of not guilty. The jury found him guilty and assessed his punishment at three years in the penitentiary.

Other cases disposed of last week were as follows:

Jim Williams, burglary; dismissed.

Louis Veal, burglary; dismissed.

MAYFIELD WINS SWEEPING VICTORY BEFORE HIGH COURT

Corsicana Judge Without Jurisdiction, Is Final Ruling.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 27.—The State supreme court tonight granted a motion to stay the action of the Navarro county district court in the injunction suit seeking to prevent the certification of the name of Earle B. Mayfield as democratic senatorial candidate. The court also in its answers to the certified questions from the Dallas court of civil appeals held that the plaintiffs were without authority to institute and maintain the injunction, and therefore the district court is without jurisdiction.

In holding that the appellees had no jurisdiction to bring and maintain the injunction proceedings, the court also held that section 91, chapter 88, which was the center of argument at the hearing before the court Wednesday, is constitutional.

Two Cited in Contempt.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 31.—Action on two motions by the fifth court of civil appeals here this afternoon cleared up somewhat the United States senatorial muddle that has resulted from an almost constant round of litigation since steps were taken by the Mayfield adherents to keep the name of George Peddy from appearing on the election ballot.

The temporary injunction, entered last Saturday at Fairfield, by Judge A. M. Blackmon of the seventy-seventh judicial district, restraining S. L. Staples, secretary of state, from certifying the name of Earle B. Mayfield as candidate for the United States senate, to the various election boards, was ordered vacated and set aside.

S. L. Staples, secretary of state, and W. A. Keeling, attorney general, were ordered to appear before the appellate court here Monday morning to answer charges of contempt of court on allegations that the secretary of state, advised and encouraged by the attorney general, certified the name of Mayfield to the election boards over the state before final disposition of the litigation growing out of the temporary injunction granted by Judge Hawkins Scarborough at Corsicana.

If you do not already know him, you will find him easy to get acquainted with and easy to do business with. So you must not feel any hesitancy, whatever, in paying the new firm a visit. Mr. Herrin earnestly desires that his friends give him an early call and that those who are not acquainted with him be extended the same cordial invitation. He is anxious to become acquainted with all who are not now acquainted with him. He will carry a complete line of hardware for the farm and home. He will carry everything that is usually carried by a hardware store, and if he has not what you want, he will take great pleasure in getting it for you, if it is possible to procure it. He will appreciate an early visit and a liberal share of your patronage. Go to see him and try his goods and prices.

Mr. A. J. McLemore Dead.

Mr. A. J. McLemore, 67 years a resident of Houston county, died at his home in Crockett on Thursday night of last week. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and interment followed in the Crockett cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Key, pastor of the Kennard Baptist church, and Rev. A. S. Lee, pastor of the First Baptist church of Crockett. Mr. McLemore was a member of the Baptist church at Kennard, having moved from Kennard to Crockett last summer.

Mr. McLemore was 76 years old. He came to Houston county from one of the older states in 1855 and had continuously resided in this county 67 years. The most of his life was spent on his farm at Kennard, but failing health this year had caused him to move to Crockett. He had spent a good deal of his time in Crockett on account of his health.

WHEN THE TIDE COMES IN.

(L. N. Cooper)

Pretty vine, farewell!
Clinging close to latticed height,
Till pierced by the frosty spear of night,
In sorrow thy head is bowed;
So when thy leaves to yellow turn,
And fluttering fall to new-made urn,
Then let me midst the din of sin,
Cling close to Him when the tide
comes in.

Pretty rose, farewell!
Turning thy petals toward the dawn,
Till a winter's nail remains un-drawn,
The frankincense of thy grace is dead;
When from thy face the blush is blown,
And the bloom has left the stem alone,
Then let me when the blasts begin,
Cling close to Him when the tide
comes in.

Pretty violet, goodbye!
Content to sit at the feet of all,
Till a cold gray day like a funeral pall Usurps thy throne of purple and gold;
Thy passage, like departing saint,
Knows no care, nor fear, nor bears complaint;
So let me go from the haunts
of men,
Clinging close to Him when the tide comes in.

The home is the unit of our government, and the government is an aggregation of all the homes. If children are neglected and permitted to grow up ignorantly, narrow, careless and thoughtless, unmindful of the importance of a high standard

GOOD MATERIAL.

Dartmouth College is restricting the number of students to those who are prepared to do the work required by a first-class university. Well, after all the interesting talk about a university of the first class, the only way to build it is to turn out scholars of the first class, and that can't be done with material that is unprepared when it enters the university. If there are those who desire to pursue this question intelligently let them take the number that annually enter our colleges and universities and follow them up during the four college years. It will be seen that only about 30 per cent of those who enter are prepared to go on through and graduate. The system is all wrong, and Dartmouth is taking the only route to correct it. The question is a simple one. If the boys and girls cannot be prepared in high school for college work it is an injury to them to send them on to college unprepared. Not only is it an injury to the students, but to their parents as well. It is an inspiring scene to look out over a thousand freshmen just entering college, but it is sad to think that only about three hundred and fifty of them will graduate. That is the situation, that is the tragedy of our system of education which so few educators have the courage to correct, or even suggest a correction.

What the Former A. & M. President Writes in the Rusk County News.

THE WILD PIGEONS.

It seems incredible that a race of birds so numerous as were the wild pigeons a little more than a half century ago should now have become totally extinct. This section, known as Eastern Texas, comprising the territory bounded by the Trinity River west, the Sabine River on the east which marks the line between Texas and Louisiana, on the north and northeast by the Red River, and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico, was in its primitive state, doubtless, the greatest game preserve in the world. All of it, covering some 50,000 square miles, was one solid forest, through which meandered thousands of ever-running streams of pure, freestone water. This forest contained millions and millions of nut-bearing and fruit-bearing trees, vines annually loaded with berries; grasses and herbs of every description, besides marshes on the creeks and river bottoms that were alive with insects.

This being a new country when the Civil War occurred, it can be readily understood how easily it would be for wild life to become reinstated in the absence of guns, and men to use them. Since everything in the gun line, and every able bodied man was taken away hundreds of miles to fight the "Yankees," wild life had nothing to fear.

Only the old white men, the women and children and the negroes were left, and the country being very sparsely settled, the soil yet in its most fertile and productive state and far removed from an army, the conditions for sustaining wild life both fowl and animal were better than the time when only the Red Man was monarch of all he surveyed. Because the fields, what few there were, were well tilled in corn, oats, wheat, rye, peas and other feed crops, and they, added to the natural supplies, acted as tonics to draw wild life hither.

Deer and wild turkey became so numerous that the farmers were forced to improvise traps and other devices to frighten them away from the ripened crops. Squirrels were a veritable menace, and during rainy days in the fall and winter they would have to be frightened away from the barns where they would assemble to feast upon the grain stored away to be used as needed.

But of all the mighty hordes of wild life, of foot or wing, that migrated here to plunder and destroy the fruit of field and forest, the wild pigeon was so far in excess of all others, and all others put together, that even a comparison of that sort would convey but little conception of the magnitude of the number.

The wild pigeons came during the last years of the Civil War, and remained just a few years thereafter. Their origin has never been satisfactorily explained. They would only appear in the late fall, and long before spring the bulk of them would have vanished. As a lad in my early teens, on my father's farm, I had my first and last vision of these innumerable swarms of birds. They would begin their flight for roosting places late in the evening, all flying in the same direction, and apparently at a speed of a mile a minute, or more.

And now comes that part of the story which has no parallel in the entire history of bird life. Imagine you are standing on a level plain, the extent of which either way you cannot see, and then there would appear a flock of birds reaching from horizon to horizon and leaving only your mental fancy to calculate the extent of the column, and then observe the columns coming closer and closer together until over the whole plain upon which you stand is a solid flying roof, so thick as to obscure the sun. The picture is not overdrawn. They were soon to be at their roosts, in swampy places, near the banks of creeks and lakes, where small trees and vines formed a mass of tangled growth, and often higher up in larger trees that grew in dense thickets. Here they would light in perfect swarms, like bees, until the branches would often bend and break beneath their weight. Men and boys, armed with sticks, would fall upon these bird camps, and in less time than it takes to tell it, they would slay enough pigeons to feed a small town.

Whence they came, and whither gone, the ornithologists have not been able to inform us. It may be that they migrated here from the wilds of the Rocky Mountains, Mexico, the Isthmus, and the boundless forests of South America. But it seems strange that they all should go and none return. Not one has ever been seen in this section since they so suddenly left a half century ago. Their miraculous increase during the Civil War and their tragic exit soon thereafter is the most wonderful chapter known in the annals of bird life. As much as has been written about it the subject has never received the attention which its importance demands. Is it possible that away back in the dark recesses of some wild mountains, barred against the entrance of man, there may yet remain a remnant of this, the once largest and noblest of all the families of birds?

A FIGHT AGAINST THE CATHOLICS.

We have heard in a round-about way that the principal fight of the Ku Klux Klan is against the Catholic church. Just what they have against that church we are not permitted to know. Here we are well started on the 20th century, 2000 years after Christ came to save the world, with the two great Christian churches so aroused by anger and hatred, each against the other, that only a spark is necessary to touch off a religious conflagration such as the world has not witnessed since the dark ages. It is time for sober thinking, deep meditation, and profound investigation of the real differences that separate these mighty religious bodies. In the meantime let us hark back the Constitution and the Bible and be sure that we stick close to them. The fight in this immediate section is unquestionably not against Jew or Negro, and there are no Catholics here.

Sells Half Interest in Queen Bee For $150.

Amelia, N. D., Oct. 12.—A half interest in Achievement Girl, a queen honey bee of the Amelia apiaries, has been sold to J. M. Cutter & Son, Montgomery, Ala., for $150, setting a new record for bee values, according to W. A. Crites, manager of the Amelia Bee farm.

The queen was mailed to Alabama, where she will spend the winter; to be returned to North Dakota next spring. She was a member of a colony which last summer set one of three world's records for honey production, according to Mr. Crites.

QUARANTINE OF TICK COUNTIES TO STAND

NONE WILL BE RELEASED DEC. 1, AS HERETOFORE, OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 21.—Notwithstanding the fact that tick eradication work in Texas advanced more the last year than during any previous year, it was announced that no counties will be released from quarantine in December. In the past it has been the policy of the bureau of animal industry and the live stock sanitary commission of Texas to release a number of counties December 1 each year.

This announcement was made by J. E. Boog-Scott, chairman of the live stock sanitary commission of Texas, and Dr. Harry Grafke, inspector in charge of Texas for the bureau. The announcement followed a request of the bureau in Washington for the certification of counties to be released through headquarters.

In reaching the decision to continue all counties now under quarantine on the same status, it is explained by Dr. Grafke and Mr. Boog-Scott that due to difficulties now being faced in released counties in carrying out final tick eradication, it will be the better policy to continue the quarantine in counties now conducting systematic tick eradication work.

"The failure to release counties this year does not mean that the progress made during the last year is not satisfactory, but it means the adoption of a policy requiring counties to be nearly 100 per cent clean before they are released," Dr. Grafke said.

The new regulation is a protective measure to counties already practically clean of ticks and of released counties, it was said. By keeping systematic counties under quarantine, it is pointed out, it is easier to keep a record of work being done, and to be thoroughly informed at all times as to the exact location of tick herds.

The September report on tick eradication in Texas shows 208,722 herds of cattle in the state dipped for tick eradication, while among these herds only 12,357 herds and 179,516 cattle were reported tick-free. Systematic counties found 5,416,518 head of cattle dipped.

SILVER SPOONS.

Vernon Times: Why grieve because you were not born with a silver spoon in your mouth? It might have choked you to death.

It would be difficult to imagine a more uncomfortable baby than one born with a spoon, even a silver spoon, in its mouth. In the first place, a baby has to grow considerable before it can be spoon fed, so that there is no forcing on him at birth. Furthermore, those who are born with silver spoons in their mouths are liable to acquire the habit of mouthing the spoon when they eat soup, a shocking mannerism which may be observed in many of the sort of people who are said to have been born with silver spoons in their oral orifices. Of course, the saying that one was born with a silver spoon in his mouth implies a metaphorical spoon. It is no implication that the born one has always had a lot of luxuries, some of which were debilitating or inconvenient, like a silver spoon in the mouth. There are many thousands of that kind. You find them everywhere, lots of them doing business with bootleggers, others practicing the arts of jellybeans, yet others indulging their untrained tastes in bizarre automobiles, and a few—darn few—studying the ways of wise men that they may be able to hold that which was wished on them at birth. A boy born rich has a hard time in this more or less democratic and calculating world. When he has more money than is good for him he buys more things than are good for him, makes more acquaintances than are good for him and does more fool things than are good for him. And as surely as the day follows the night, or vice versa, the rich young man gets acquainted with men and women smarter than he is, and, working individually or in groups, they match their shrewd wits against his duller ones, and bump his head. Rich young men are the meat of those who hunt easy game—and the female sex develops some wonderful marksmen or markswomen.—Galveston News.

STEPS TO PREVENT FAKE PROMOTIONS

ADVERTISING CLUBS TO TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT GOOD NAME OF STATE.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 21.—The Associated Advertising Clubs of Texas, in their annual convention at Houston, are going to launch a vigorous offensive against the fake stock promoter and his advertising operations from Texas.

The Associated Clubs are going to back and promulgate a law, or amendments to present laws, which will make it impossible for any character of promoter other than those operating in a strictly honest way to use Texas as a base for operations.

The executive organization of the Associated Advertising Clubs of Texas outline the position of the advertising fraternity in the following statement:

"Texas is being malignantly and unscrupulously misrepresented in the United States and Canada by fake stock promoters who are using this state as a base of operations.

"The enormous production of Texas in oils and minerals has lent some credence to the romantic fiction of the stock promoter.

"It would seem, therefore, that it is a cardinal duty with advertising men to serve notice on the world that they are going to fight for the good name of Texas, and to prevent further deceptions by the fake and dishonest promoter who seeks to use Texas for his unlawful gain."

The practical plans of the association include a thorough discussion of the matter at the state convention in Houston, November 12, 13 and 14, and the appointment of a legislative steering committee to co-operate with the volunteer better business bureau commission in bringing an actual legislative program into being for the current session of the Texas legislature in January, 1923.

Emphasis was also laid by the Associated Clubs in their statement on the fact that every effort would be made to prevent any damage to the promoters of legitimate concerns proposing to operate or operating in the state of Texas at present.

KAISER KEEPS PLANS SECRET

Doorn, Holland, Oct. 21.—The veil of secrecy that has hidden the life of the ex-kaiser since he took up his residence in Holland becomes more impenetrable than ever before as curiosity increases abroad due to his marriage with the Princess of Reuss. This curiosity does not greatly affect the villagers of Doorn. They view the approaching nuptials with an air of indifference, even of boredom. Nine-tenths of them are austere galvanists and they look upon pomp and panoply as sinful vanities. Being strict Sabbatharians they disapprove of William's choice of Sunday as the day for the wedding feast.

Even more silent are those in the ex-kaiser's entourage. The few Dutch aristocrats, who from time to time are received as visitors to the former emperor's retreat, cloak themselves with a hauteur and a superior air of reserve that even the nerviest reporter cannot penetrate. All that the correspondents have found out is that both the civil and religious ceremonies are to take place November 5, within the precincts of the Chateau, and that they will be attended by a Dutch government secretary from The Hague, the governor of the province of Utrecht, the burgomaster of Doorn, a few of the Dutch nobility residing on neighboring estates, and about 50 invited guests from Germany, mainly dignitaries under the old regime and army generals.

SHEPHERD AND THE LAMB!

The pastor of a colored church in Tennessee was hailed before the board of deacons on serious charges. It was alleged that although married he had been caught in the act of embracing a comely female member of the congregation, in the vestry room. The evidence against him appeared to be conclusive. Three presumably unbiased witnesses testified to the fact. The accused was asked whether he had anything to say in his own defense. He answered at length and with eloquence. He led off by pointing out that the word "pastor" was a Latin word meaning "shepherd." Therefore, he properly was a shepherd. He also called the attention of the court to the fact that in pictures and paintings and more frequently in the Master Himself was shown as a shepherd carrying a lamb.

Now then, he contended, it naturally followed that he, as the shepherd, took a member of his flock in his arms, he merely was carrying out a scriptural example.

In the minds of the deacons there seemed to be no way of controverting these arguments. Accordingly they went into executive session and drew up resolutions exonerating the preacher. But they added a proviso. The concluding clause of the document read by the senior deacon before the congregation on the following night, ran as follows:

"And be it finally resolved that in future, if our beloved pastor should feel de desire stealin' over him to tek one of de lambs of de flock in his arms, dat he shall tek a ram lamb!"

GOVERNOR FREES MAN CONVICTED OF LIBELING HIM

NEFF REMITS FINE AND PERSONALLY FORGIVES ALSUP.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 19.—Fisher Alsop, Temple newspaper man, who was tried on January 12, 1921, at Waco and convicted for libeling Governor Pat M. Neff, late Thursday afternoon was granted a remission of his unpaid fine of $2000, the extreme penalty under the law, by Governor Neff in a proclamation issued from the executive office. Alsop was convicted, in the language of the indictment, for "unlawfully, wickedly and maliciously writing, printing and circulating a defamatory and libelous statement" in regard to the age of Pat M. Neff.

Alsop pleaded in the article that Pat M. Neff was not born on November 26, 1871, as he claimed, but that his correct birth date was one year later and that Neff, for the purpose of concealing his correct birthdate, had not only changed the records in the family Bible, but had stolen from the family cemetery and destroyed a tombstone of a little sister who had died, it was alleged, in infancy; and that Neff had obliterated all signs of her grave and that the birth date record in the family Bible which Neff was claiming as a record of his birth was the birth date of this little sister who had died in infancy—all this had been done by Neff, as alleged by Alsop, for the purpose of concealing the birth date of Neff. These in substance, were the allegations contained in the published articles.

CONSTANTINOPLE ALWAYS WILL BE OURS,' TURK SAYS

Constantinople, Oct. 19.—Rafet Pasha, military governor of Thrace, arrived here this afternoon from Ismet to take up his duties in restored Thrace. Rafet proceeded to the faith mosque, where he addressed an audience made up of city officials, members of the Moslem clergy, university students and Turkish war officers. His speech was followed by scenes of frantic ecstasy. The thousands of persons who had lined the streets to welcome him were filled with patriotic fervor.

Although Rafet did not mention the sultan, his auditors saw a reference to him in Rafet's opening phrases: "I come with no hand of fellowship to any one save the Turkish nation. I recognize nobody except the Turkish people, no official except their representative, Mayor Yussif Zia Bey. From today the Turkish people no longer are in slavery. I bring you independence. From today Constantinople is ours, always will be ours."

His Greatest Achievement. At a dinner in honor of President Underwood of the Erie, an exceedingly modest and retiring man, speeches eulogizing him came thick and fast. When they had ended Mr. Underwood, after thanking everyone present for the complimentary expressions, replied: "But, gentlemen, that for which you have given me credit is not all. You forgot to mention that last winter, when I was in control of the harbor, no ice formed and traffic was unimpeded, the first time in many years that such a condition has prevailed.—Wall Street Journal.

One of the longest telephone lines in Asia will be constructed between Pekin and Harbin.

Breaking In the Pen. Usually, when a man comes to the penitentiary, he is brought here by the state transfer agent or sheriff but this week three came alone, and in advance of their commitment papers. As the officials had no authority to admit them they were refused. Guy Parish, sent from Nacogdoches for two years on a forgery charge wired his sheriff to instruct Sheriff King to put him in jail until the papers should come. This was done, and he spent 36 hours in jail but Saturday was admitted to the pen. The second man was Frank Karel from Marlin, for one year on charge of making whiskey. He wired his attorney at Marlin for instructions and was told to "hang around" until papers came. He was admitted Monday, but the third candidate from Belton is still in town waiting his chance to begin serving sentence. His name could not be ascertained.—Huntsville Item.

ALL NOMINEES ARE INDORSED

G. O. P. CANDIDATE MUST STAY WITH HIS PARTY, RESOLUTION SAYS.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28—Declaring that George E. B. Peddy, fusion candidate for United States senator, "bears the mandate of the republican party," and that he "can not escape, if he would, his obligation to it and its organization," the State democratic executive committee in session here today adopted a resolution indorsing Earle B. Mayfield as democratic nominee for the United States senate and called upon all members of the party to support him at the general election. Only two dissenting votes were cast.

The only opposition to the resolution was voiced by W. T. Bagby of Lavaca county, offering an amendment proposing that any reference to George E. B. Peddy be eliminated.

Mr. Bagby praised Peddy's record and said that he was in favor of "leaving the door open" to democrats who left the party but who wish to return later. The amendment was tabled upon motion of John Davis, proxy for C. R. Stephens.

Peddy Is Challenged to Disclose Source of Funds.

Greenville, Texas, Oct. 27.—The democrats of Hunt county, at a called meeting today, challenged, in resolutions, the opponents of the party "to disclose the source of its fund of thousands of dollars being used" in the present senatorial campaign. They also challenged George E. B. Peddy, independent democrat and republican candidate, to "disclose the source and amount of funds being used by him in paying the expenses of his personal campaign."

The democrats at the meeting deplored "the injection of factional strife, hatred and bitterness into the ranks of the Texas democratic party by erstwhile and pledge-repudiating democrats." The resolutions re-affirmed allegiance to the democratic principles promulgated by Thomas Jefferson, to state and

WOMEN DEMOCRATS CALLED TO SERVICE

To the Women Democrats:

I am making this appeal to you because I know that women are always interested in law and order and good government, and that they have a natural impulse to see the "right thing" done.

Next Tuesday is general election day, and the strongest effort since the days of "carpet bag" rule is being made to tear down and destroy all that has been done by the democratic party in Texas in the last fifty years.

By means of "false pretense" a lot of fellows, led by the republicans, are doing all that cunning, and chicanery, and trickery can fabricate to defeat the nominee of the democratic party for United States senator. It is strange that some of our own citizens, who voted in both of the democratic primaries this year and took a solemn "pledge" both times to "support the nominees of the primaries," are being deceived by this ignominious piece of deception. I only hope they will get their "eyes open" before election day. I am sure the democratic women are not going to be led off by it, but will cast their votes for the nominees of the party from United States senator down. I urge each and all of you to not fail to go to the polls and do your full duty as democrats. You now have a splendid opportunity to render your party and your country a signal service, and I trust you will not neglect to do it. Very respectfully yours,

J. W. Madden,
County Chairman.

Streets May Be Paved.

A surveyor's force has been running lines on the Court House square and some of the main streets of Crockett during the last week. The purpose of the survey is to get at the cost of paving the Court House square and some of the streets leading therefrom. It is a preliminary step looking to a campaign for street paving. Following the survey the probable cost can be determined and placed before the city's taxpayers. The plan to meet the cost, as heretofore announced, is for the city to pay a third of the paving cost and for the abutting property owners on each side to pay the remaining two-thirds. The plan for paving the square includes the payment of a third of the cost by the abutting property owners on one side and the city a third. The county, which owns the court house, would be asked to pay the remaining third of the paving cost. Those who own the abutting property would be the largest contributors, for, not only paying a third of the cost, they would have to pay their part of the city's tax, and also their part of the county's tax as well. There is no question but what the paving is needed. The only question is as to cost and results.

LET EVERY DEMOCRAT BE PREPARED.

With the election but one week off, The Post would remind the democrats of Texas that they must not neglect to complete the good work they so splendidly advanced on August 26.

The republican bosses of the State, working in connection with the primary welters, have been spending a large slush fund like water. Where they got it will be definitely known later, unless those who collected it and those who gave it perjure themselves. They will have the fullest opportunity to disclose the facts.

Very little of the money came from small contributors. It was obtained in gobs and has been spent in gobs. There is every reason to believe that large sums of it came from special interests located without the State.

The small outlay of Earle Mayfield which the welters have raised so much disturbance about was as nothing compared to the sum which the enemies of democracy are spending.

There is much more reason now than there was in August for the democratic party of Texas to go to the polls, because there is much more for the party to rebuke.

In August it was filthy politics that the party condemned. Now it is filthy politics, plus trickery, prostitution of the courts to the base ends of embittered politicians and unprecedented party treachery, that calls for a crushing rebuke.

Never in the history of Texas has there been such an unwarranted, malicious and disgusting campaign of mendacity, treachery, perfidy and slush money directed against a democratic nominee as these sordid elements have waged against Earle B. Mayfield, and now is the time for the men and women of Texas to prepare to show them impressively that the people's right to nominate a senator of their own choosing is not to be trifled with.

It is impossible to tell at this time what the outcome of the injunctions will be, but democratic men and women who stand for decent politics must be prepared to write the name of the democratic nominee on their ballots. It is possible that the supreme court may summarily dispose of the legal sharpers and their friendly district judges by a sweeping injunction against their further pernicious activity, but it must be remembered that court processes are slow, and it is the delay that the conspirators are seeking in their effort to deprive the democratic party of its right to have the name of its nominee for the United States senate on the official ballot.

Even the courts can not stop citizens from asserting the right of which the enemies of decent elections and decent politics are attempting to deprive them, for they can write the name of Earle B. Mayfield in its proper place on the ballot, if for any reason or through any trickery it is not printed there.—Houston Post.
