WOODROW WILSON BREAKS SILENCE; GREET'S ADMIRERS

ARMISTICE DAY SPEECH IS FIRST IN THREE YEARS;
FLAYS SOLONS.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Woodrow Wilson, in his first public address since he was taken ill three years ago, declared today that America always had stood for justice, and that the "puny persons now standing in the way will presently find that their weakness is no match for the strength of a moving Providence."

Addressing a group of admirers who paid him an Armistice day call, the former president said the "group" in the senate which had prevented the ratification of the treaty of Versailles did not represent the United States, "because the United States is moving forward and they are slipping backward."

"Where their slipping will end," he added, "God only will determine."

The text of Mr. Wilson's address, which was in reply to one delivered on behalf of the delegation by Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, follows:

"I am very much moved by this wonderful exhibition of your friendship and approval, and I have been reflecting today that Armistice day has particular significance for the United States, because the United States has remained contented with the armistice and has not moved forward to peace.

"It is a very serious reflection that the United States, the great originative nation, should remain contented with a negation. Armistice is a negation; it is a standstill of arms; it is a cessation of fighting, and we are so bent on a cessation of fighting that we are even throwing our arms away.

"It is a singular circumstance that which Mr. Morgenthau has in part adverted that while we prescribed the conditions of the armistice we did not concur in the establishment of permanent peace. That, of course, was brought about by a group in the United States senate who preferred partisan motives to the honor of their country and the peace of the world.

"They do not represent the United States, because the United States is moving forward and they are slipping backward. Where their slipping will end, God only will determine.

"And I have also been reflecting upon the radical difference between armistice and peace. Armistice, as I have said, is a mere negation; it is the refraining from force. But peace is a very positive and constructive thing as the world stands nowadays, because it must be.

"I am not militaristic, but a plain, practical citizen who would profit by experience of the past and not indulge in day dreams. We as a people wish peace with the world and have always declared ourselves strongly of that view. We have been leaders in advocating thorough understanding between nations and we have carried militarism the world over. We do not want war; none of us would seek it, but complete disarmament on our part alone will never prevent it.

"Only last year the question of general disarmament on land was broached, but some of the nations interested declined even to discuss it with us. We are and have been in a practical state of disarmament, and now only advocate a moderate measure of preparation as a national insurance. Any other view of the question is fallacious, fatuous and foolish."

RICE C. RUSSELL GETS FIFTY YEARS

In the Rice C. Russell murder case, on trial in the Houston county district court last week, testimony was closed Thursday afternoon and the case given to the lawyers for argument. Argument was continued Thursday night and resumed Friday morning, speeches being made by six lawyers, Attorneys W. M. Futch of Henderson, John M. Mathis and C. M. Cay of Houston representing the defense and Attorneys N. B. Morris of Houston and Earle Adams Jr. and District Attorney B. F. Dent representing the state. Argument was concluded and the charge given to the jury at noon Friday. By the middle of the afternoon the jury announced that it had reached a verdict and the verdict was handed to the court by the foreman. The verdict found the defendant guilty and assessed the penalty at fifty years in the penitentiary. The defendant, on hearing the verdict read, fainted and was returned to the jail in a semi-unconscious condition. He was expecting a lighter verdict, although in a former trial he had been condemned to hang. Judging by the expressions heard from Crockett people who had attended the trial throughout, the verdict was no surprise to many, although there were some who were looking for a lighter verdict. Attorneys for the defense have asked for a new trial and a hearing will be had Friday of this week. The attorney and some friends of Russell from Henderson were here Sunday to consult with Russell regarding a new trial. Mr. Futch left Sunday afternoon for Houston to consult with the other attorneys in the defense, but will return to represent the defense in the hearing set for Friday.

Criticism, if constructive, is good for our community and for our people. But criticism, with nothing better to offer, becomes pessimism, and is destructive. It breeds dissatisfaction over conditions that exist without offering any means of correcting them. The next time you feel like criticizing those in authority, be charitable enough and fair enough to withhold that criticism until you are in a position to suggest a suitable remedy. You may not speak at all.

If a man promises to pay you a certain bill on a certain date you expect him to keep his promise. If he fails to pay, his credit is impaired, your confidence in his good intentions is shaken and your respect for him is, in a measure, destroyed. And all for one little broken promise! It requires many years of correct living to build up a reputation of value. One false step may destroy it. Look before you step, and think before you promise.

CHANGE OF PARTY LEADERS IS SEEN IN NEXT CONGRESS

RESULT OF GENERAL ELECTION WILL MAKE MANY NEW ALIGNMENTS.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Probable changes in the leadership of both great parties in the next congress took a predominating place today in post-election discussions here and in conferences among members of senate and house as they arrived in increasing numbers for the extra session which begins a week from Monday.

Agreement was general that sweeping alterations would occur in the roster of titular party managers after March 4, in both senate and house, and it became apparent that the impending readjustments would be a subject for continual negotiation and jockeying throughout the next four months.

Defeat of Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican floor leader in the house, in his campaign for election to the senate, retirement from the democratic house leadership of Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, because of ill-health, and announcement by Senator Underwood of Alabama that he would not accept re-election as democratic senate leader, made it certain that new selections must be made for the chief places of party responsibility. That other changes may be made for political and other reasons continues to be the subject of wide discussion among senators and representatives.

Already a plentitude of aspirants for leadership are springing up at both ends of the capitol and there has been much private sounding out of sentiment during impromptu office and lunch room conferences. Some political observers will be surprised if the later stages on the canvassing do not develop heated rivalries and vigorous campaigning within both parties.

The party caucuses in which the question of leadership will be settled are not to be held until the eve of the convening of the new congress, but the situation is further obscured by uncertainty as to when that will take place. Ordinarily the Sixty-eighth congress would not meet until a year from next December. Should an extra session become necessary after the present senate and house expire next March, however, the leadership shakeup would be advanced accordingly.

In the senate, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader, was re-elected, and his friends here expect him to seek to hold his leadership. They express confidence of his election, but add that like Senator Underwood, he is not in the best of health and may finally withdraw his name and conserve his strength for other duties. Whether the republican "irregulars" of the progressive or radical type would oppose Mr. Lodge's re-election is uncertain, but is regarded as an important factor in view of general opinion that they will hold the balance of power in the next senate as well as house.

Increased Advertising.
Prosperity is largely a matter of enterprise. When dollars are scarce, enterprise can get behind them and make the few more nimble to do the work of many. When dollars are plentiful but lazy, lacking the spur of enterprise, they do not accomplish much. Dollars are seldom scarce during the holiday season. Somehow, people manage to celebrate Thanksgiving in a fitting manner each year, and to spend more money for Christmas than they spent the year before. As an enterprising merchant, you are going to work for your share of business from this condition. Every additional line of advertising you carry will help your community by increasing the nimbleness of the money involved. Every additional customer you secure will help your community through the increased publicity rendered. Start that holiday advertising and increase your business, and make both objects easier by a well ordered campaign of holiday publicity.

PROCEEDINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

The case against Ed Mansell, charging murder, was taken up Friday afternoon in district court. Argument was concluded Tuesday morning and the case given to the jury. Tuesday afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed the punishment at three years in the penitentiary with sentence suspended.

Mansell, who was the hotel keeper at Weldon, was on trial for shooting to death a young man in his hotel. He had been tried at a former term of the court, but a mistrial resulted. The defendant and the man who was killed had exchanged words at the hotel the night before the killing regarding the deceased's conduct, and the trouble between them had been renewed the next day, resulting, it is said, in the deceased being warned by the defendant to not again come to his hotel. On the following night the defendant, finding the deceased in his hotel, against his orders and wishes, shot and killed the deceased, who was engaged in a game of cards at a table in one of the hotel rooms. The deceased was found to be armed and was attempting to use his arms, it was said.

Ed Helm, negro, indicted for transporting intoxicating liquor, was on trial Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed the punishment at one year in the penitentiary.

District Judge Bishop has appointed the following men to serve as a jury commission: R. J. Spence, W. A. Riall and W. H. Collins.

Armistice Day Observed.

The signing of the armistice was celebrated in Crockett Saturday night with a bonfire on the public square and with the blare of horns, the ringing of bells and an automobile parade. The day was further observed on Monday by the closing of business places and making a general holiday.

SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

The Driskell well, northeast of Crockett, is reaming to set casing. The drill has gone beyond 3000 feet, and the indications are so good that the operators have decided to ream out and set the casing on a rock that is near the 3000-foot level. Col. T. E. Otis, the manager, thinks he has an oil well and that he will bring it in within 60 days.

The Porter Springs well is about half the depth of the Driskell well, but is getting deeper every day. The indications at this well are also of the most encouraging nature.

The well of the Porter Oil Company at Crockett remains closed for the time being—closed for only a few days more, we are informed.

The Courier has no report from the Weldon well or the Grapeland well.

Washington Herald Acquired by Hearst.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Definite announcement was made today that William Randolph Hearst had purchased the Washington Herald, a morning newspaper, and will assume control on November 19. The purchase will give the Hearst interests two daily papers in the National capitol.

Commissioner Hart Dead.

Mr. E. W. Hart, elected Tuesday of last week as county commissioner, died at his home eight miles east of Crockett on Friday night following. Mr. Hart had been in failing health for some time. He was born November 20, 1872, and was thus 50 years of age, less ten days. He was a native of Houston county and was the son of a Dr. Hart who once lived in Crockett, but was born and reared in the southeastern part of the county. He had lived in the community in which he died for many years, always enjoying the friendship and esteem of his neighbors. He was a member of the Methodist church, and the funeral services, which were held in Energy cemetery at Bellett Saturday afternoon, were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Robert H. Hodges, assisted by Rev. E. A. Maness of Crockett. The burial ceremony of the Knights of Pythias lodge, of which Mr. Hart was a member, was administered by members of that lodge. The deceased also held membership in the Woodmen of the World order. Appearing at the grave were six

PRESIDENT LAYS WREATH ON GRAVE OF UNKNOWN HERO

SIMPLE CEREMONY GRIPS EMOTIONS OF SMALL GROUP PRESENT.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Harding laid a wreath of remembrance today on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington national cemetery. It was sent there as a wordless greeting from the heart of America to a valorous, honored son and commemorated the first anniversary of his home-coming from France.

And the utter simplicity and sincerity of the tribute today was in a way as gripping as was the day-long tide of emotional fervor that marked the home-coming. It set a custom for the national observance of Armistice day in the future that will make the Unknown from France the keeper of America's annual expression of pride and glory in her sons who fought in France—be they living or dead.

There were many other tributes brought to the tomb during the day. Sometimes little groups of men and women from distant countries made the journey to lay bright flowers on the moulded stone work that holds the body of a nameless American for whom no honor has been too high; sometimes the blossoms were laid there by men moved to individual tribute to the dead. It was thus that General Pershing's offering was placed.

The man who commanded this humble sleeper and the surging ranks of his comrades in France had hoped to go himself and alone to carry his tribute to the fallen to the tomb. But he was called elsewhere to talk with patriotic men on living issues in the nation's life and reluctantly assigned his aide to go after the others had come and gone with their flowers and place his offering on the tomb.

A mere handful of spectators and a little detachment of armed men made up of soldiers, sailors and marines to represent the three fighting services of the nation were at hand when the president appeared with Secretary Weeks and Secretary Denby to pay the nation's honors to the dead. Cavalry had escorted the presidential party from the White House, but had turned aside before the tomb was reached. There was no word spoken on the terrace sweep, where the tomb lies, except the commands that moved the rifles of the guard of honor to salute.

Salute to the Dead.

The president seemed to feel a deep significance in the moment as though he sensed the solemn approval of the hundred million of his countrymen in what he did in their name. He placed the great wreath against the stone work of the tomb, then stepped back to pause a moment looking down on the plain block of masonry that covers a plain soldier chosen to typify the greatest among the nation's heroes. The hush on the terrace was almost breathless and every eye was fixed on the still figure of the president standing with bared head bent as though in reverry.

Slowly, almost as though it was unconscious, the president raised his hand in military salute to the dead, his shoulders straightening. Then he turned away and a moment later was speeding back to busy affairs in Washington, behind the trotting cavalry.

There are thousands of other war dead from France sleeping among the quiet hills of Arlington. Their gleaming headstones flank the great amphitheater on one side as those other glorious dead of older wars flank it with the time-greayed monuments and markers on the other. And while the nation paid its simple tribute to all those who sleep beneath the newer stones today in the honors accorded at the tomb of the unknown, sorrowing relatives did not forget that Armistice day is above all the day of the men of the American army in France and their brothers in arms at home who stood ready to join the ranks overseas. As the day passed there blossomed among the newer grave-stones flowers of every hue, rivalling the splendor of autumnal coloring in the woods that frame the field of the dead.

New York City Gives Smith Record Majority.

New York, Nov. 7.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, rolling up the greatest plurality New York City has ever given any candidate in any election today was swept back into the gubernatorial chair from which he was ejected in 1920 by Governor Nathan L. Miller.

The vote for governor, with 599 districts out of 7,301 in the state missing at 1 o'clock was: Smith (Dem.), 1,316,235; Miller (Rep.), 922,844.

The vote for senator, with 1,921 districts missing was: Copeland (Dem.), 924,465; Calder (Rep.), 752,163.

Republicans not only admitted the defeat of Mr. Miller but conceded that William M. Calder had lost his seat in the senate to Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York City, formerly mayor of Ann Arbor, Mich., and until today an untested factor in New York politics.

The republicans maintained that their majorities in the state senate and assembly had been little impaired.

The victory of Mr. Smith was anticipated by many political observers, but even his sturdiest supporters had not predicted that in New York City he would beat the record plurality of about 417,000 established by Mayor John F. Hylan in 1920. Returns at midnight, with sixty-seven districts missing out of the 2,747 in the city, gave the margin to him of 468,763 and his supporters predicted that this would be exceeded when the last ballot had been counted.

MAYFIELD'S LEAD GROWS SLIGHTLY

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 11.—Earle B. Mayfield's majority over George Peddy for United States senator probably will be under 120,000. Total given out by the Texas Election bureau November 8 gave him a majority of 112,818, out of 284,614 votes counted. In 320,340 votes tabulated Saturday, he had a majority of 114,340, gaining only 1522 in the 36,000 additional votes accounted for. Saturday's tabulation showed: Senator, Mayfield, 217,621; Peddy, 103,281.

Mayfield's majority, 114,340. Returns from 161 counties; incomplete, 60 counties, 30 counties unreported.

Governor; Neff 224,748, Atwell, 53,407.

MANY STALWARTS GO DOWN IN DEFEAT

REPUBLICANS STILL MAINTAIN CONTROL IN CONGRESS.

New York, Nov. 9.—Republican control of the house of representatives in the sixty-eighth congress was retained finally by announcement of the election of R. Scott Leavitt, second Montana district, at 2:44 a. m. today giving the republicans the necessary 218 for a majority. At this hour the democrats had 205, the socialists one, farmer-labor one and independents one, with nine district still unreported.

The republicans held the senate, but by a reduction of a half dozen votes. Republican casualties which broke with the first returns yesterday defeating Governor Miller and Senator Calder of New York, continued with somewhat lessened force today as returns dribbled in. They told of further republican losses in the senate and house, and governors and state legislatures, although the belated congressional results were somewhat more favorable to the republicans.

Stalwarts Defeated.

Among the additional republican stalwarts who went down to defeat today on additional returns were Senators Kellogg of Minnesota, beaten by Dr. Hendrik Shipstead, farmer-laborite, and Senator Townsend of Michigan, the latter losing to former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, the first democratic senator to be elected from Michigan in seventy years. Also definitely defeated by Senator Kendrick, democrat, was Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican floor leader, who aspired to the senate.

Delay in the house result because of the keen contest has not been paralleled since 1916. A number of missing districts are in far western states. In others received today the early announcements were changed. The democrats continued their gains, totaling 67 seats at latest figures, principally from New York, Ohio, Missouri, New Jersey and Oklahoma. As against this democratic sweep, the republicans failed to unseat a single democrat.

Lodge Has Plurality.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, it finally turned out, had a plurality of 8,425 over his democratic opponent, Colonel Gaston, instead of the meager 1,945 reported early in the day. Through a transposition of figures the Associated Press tabulation of Senator Lodge's plurality was shown as being reduced to 1,945, and other news distributing agencies in some manner arrived at the same figures.

Loss of control of the senate by the republicans was not threatened, although they suffered a net loss of six. Eight republican senators were defeated but the party countered by defeating two democratic senators, Hitchcock of Nebraska and Pomerene of Ohio. The republicans had carried eleven and democrats twelve and the farmer-labor party one of the thirty-five senatorial contests. Of the five still in the balance democrats were leading in all—Montana, Utah, New Mexico, West Virginia and Washington.

'TURKEY FOR THE TURKS,' IS SLOGAN

Paris, Nov. 11.—"Turkey for the Turks," is the slogan which the Turks gave as their watchword to Mark O. Prentiss, special representative of the American Near East relief—who was sent by headquarters to make a survey of the work in the brient and who has just reached Paris from Constantinople after going through the Smyrna fire. He is returning to the United States to report on the future responsibilities of refugee work.

Mr. Prentiss had a conference with the American ambassador at Rome, Richard Washburn Child, and will see Ambassador Herrick here and Ambassador Harvey at London and finally will report to the state department at Washington.

Yards of cloth dyed red, or white, or blue, or all of these colors mean nothing. You may pass them a thousand times without giving them a second thought. But work that cloth into an American flag and it becomes at once the symbol of the greatest heritage of mankind—liberty. The man who loves his country will respect its flag. He will not treat it as yards of cloth. The man who does not respect his flag can not, under any possible stretch of the imagination, be classed as a lover of his country.

Study your neighbors and your friends, but let that study be in a spirit of fairness and impartiality. They all have their faults, which are more often upon the surface and open to criticism. But they also have their good qualities, which are generally under the surface, felt only by the few and unknown to the many. Most men have more good qualities than bad ones. But the bad ones command instant attention, while the good one are passed by without notice.

RADIO IS NOT NEW.

Contrary to the popular belief, Radio is not a new science, but is, in fact, older than the automobile. Twenty-eight years ago Marconi succeeded in transmitting signals through the ether and five years later had stations in operation on opposite sides of the English channel. The first fundamental principles of Radio were discovered by Maxwell as far back as 1867 and twenty years later Hertz made further valuable contributions to the science. Even the vacuum tube, which, as we all know, is the vital part of the long distance Radio was patented by DeForest sixteen years ago. The only new thing about Radio is the idea of broadcasting which is responsible for the sudden tidal wave of public interest in the science. Thousands of scientific men and amateurs have been carrying on experiments since Marconi first began successful transmission of messages.

We must know then, that the science is not a new one and is no longer in the experimental stage. Principles of Radio are the same today as in the beginning and while it is true that many improvements and refinements have been made, as in all other science, there is now not as many changes in Radio equipment from year to year as there is in automobiles or phonographs. In one well known Radio receiving set made by Westinghouse, there has not been made the slightest change of design in nearly two years. All of the new improvements that are under way, including the static eliminator, can be added to any receiving set now in use.—Huntsville Item.

TEXAS HISTORY AND PEOPLE WHO MADE IT

Battle of Gonzales.

The first shot fired for Texas independence was on October 2, 1835, at Gonzales, where the Mexicans tried to get a cannon which the people had there as a protection against the Indians. Colonel Ugartechea, commander at San Antonio, knew these people would use the cannon against his troops should war be declared, so decided to get possession of it. To keep from alarming the colonists, he sent a corporal and five soldier in an ox cart for it, but when they refused to surrender it, he sent a captain and a hundred dragoons to take it. Upon arrival he did not feel strong enough to cope with the situation, so he marched up the river and went into camp to await reinforcements. The soldiers spent a pleasant night in raiding a farmer's melon patch, but at break of dawn they were surprised to see a hundred and fifty Texans, under command of Colonel John H. Moore, marching down upon them with the disputed cannon mounted on heavy wagon wheels and pointing toward them in a threatening way. It was loaded with scrap iron and pieces of chain and at the first volley the Mexicans fled in terror, leaving five men dead on the field. Thus ended the battle of Gonzales, the first one fought for Texas Independence.

First Congress of the Republic.

On October 3rd, 1836, the first Congress of the Republic of Texas met at Columbia, Brazoria county. Prior to this the seat of government was at Velasco. The accommodations were very meager, but a commodious residence was used as a state house. It had several large rooms on the ground floor, with a wide hallway between. Two of these rooms were used for the assembly of the House and Senate and other rooms for committee meetings and clerical work.

In consequence of the serious illness of Lorenza de Zavalla, vice-president of the Republic, Senator Richard Ellis of Red River county, was elected president pro tem of the Senate, and Richardson Scurry, secretary. In the House of Representatives, Ira Ingram of Matagorda was elected speaker, and Willis A. Farris, secretary. The next day after the usual notification from one house to the other, and the joint notification to the executive, President Burnet sent in his message.

UNDERWOOD WILL QUIT LEADERSHIP

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 7.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama today formally announced that he will not be a candidate for leadership of the democratic minority in the senate after March 4.

"The condition of my health," said the senator, "makes it advisable both in justice to the party and to myself that I should not offer for re-election. I do not want my friends to feel any unnecessary alarm about my health, but it is not robust enough for me to continue after March the duties of leadership which require such constant attendance."

Upon reaching home here from Washington recently Senator Underwood was attacked by bronchitis and he had to cancel his speaking engagements.

His term as senator from Alabama extends four years from next March.

RAIL LEGISLATION MAY BE SOUGHT AT SHORT SESSION

HARDING TELLS FRIENDS HE WILL PRESS PASSAGE OF SHIP SUBSIDY BILL.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Possible addition of railroad legislation to the ship subsidy and other administration measures on the program for the coming winter in congress was indicated today by White House developments.

President Harding was said to have told callers he intended to press the ship subsidy bill strongly in the house next week and also through the senate, and this, in face of discouraging reports from republican congressional leaders. The president also made an appointment with Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee to take up in a few days the question of railroad legislation. Amendment to the Esch-Cummins law to strengthen the railway labor board, possibly by giving it powers to enforce orders upon railroad officials and employees, was reported under contemplation.

Plans For Opening Monday.

The president today made partial plans for the opening next Monday of the extra session of congress. His opening message, which probably will be in the form of a personal address at a joint session next Tuesday, will be very brief, it was said, and will be devoted principally to the ship subsidy bill. The opening address also is expected to urge speedy disposition of appropriation bills with a view to a clean-up of all pressing business by March 3, next, and avoidance of extra session next spring of the newly elected congress.

The president, it was stated officially, intends to ask the house to take up the ship subsidy bill immediately during the two weeks of the extra session preceding the regular December session, and request will be made of the rules committee next week for a special rule to hasten the house vote on the measure. It is believed the president will also promise in his message next Tuesday later recommendations on other subjects.

OFFICIAL WILL GET RICH OFF LAWSUIT

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 14.—Stokes V. Robertson, State revenue agent, will receive a fee of approximately $1,600,000 for personal services in the fire insurance litigation in the event the fine of more than $8,000,000 assessed the 130 companies, upheld by the State supreme court yesterday, is made effective and the sum collected. Mr. Robertson holds office under a 20 per cent fee basis in lieu of salary. While there is a question whether the entire fine will be collected in view of the fact the companies involved have withdrawn from the State, a million dollars belonging to those companies, seized by the State under writ of garnishment when the case was filed, can be levied upon, in the opinion of State officials and in that event the revenue agent's fee will amount to about $200,000.

Richard K. Fox of Police Gazette Dies.

Red Bank, N. J., Nov. 14.—Richard Kyle Fox, editor and publisher of the Police Gazette, internationally known sport publication, died here today. He had been in failing health for a year. Mr. Fox was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic. He was first employed as a messenger boy in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When 20 years old he married, came to the United States and acquired a position with the Wall Street Journal.

In 1875 he became publisher of the Police Gazette, at that time a sheet devoted to crime and criminals, and gradually converted it into a sporting publication.

He leaves a widow, a daughter and three sons.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR WOMEN IS DEMAND OF NATIONAL BODY

FAR REACHING DECLARATION OF RIGHTS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Officers of the national woman's party, representing women of 33 States, today unanimously adopted a far-reaching declaration of rights as the basis for a country-wide campaign demanding equal rights for women in the house, church, industry and government.

Debate at the opening session of the two-day equal rights conference centered principally around two planks in the declaration which demanded that "restrictions upon the hours apply alike to both sexes," and "that women shall no longer be barred from the priesthood or ministry, or any position of authority in the church, but equally with men shall participate in ecclesiastical offices and dignities."

Speakers on the labor question argued that industrial regulations applying to hours and conditions should apply alike to women and men, and that women did not ask special legislation. Led by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, national president of the party, other speakers declared that as women were the mainstay of the church and principal educators of their children in religion, they should enjoy equally privileges of leadership in the pulpit.

To carry out the plan of equality, the conference then adopted a plan of campaign reaching into every State where legislatures are to meet this year to stir sentiment among both men and women in favor of the equal rights declaration. Equal rights sentiment would be stimulated not only in State legislatures but in congress as well, through the working of congressional committees in each State.

To effect this it is planned for women over the country to work toward having women nominated as candidates for every local and state office and appointed equally with men to positions under local, county and State governments.

Mrs. John Rogers of New York, chairman of the advisory council of the party, presided over today's session. Sunday morning there will be a conference of women lawyers from all parts of the country, and in the afternoon the conference will reconvene for the disposal of several important party questions.

Hope Hampton Reveals True Woman's Love.

Hope Hampton, in "Love Penalty," is the attraction booked by the Crockett Theatre for a one day's run, November 23. ## UNCLE SAM FINDS ALASKAN RAILWAY BUSINESS GOOD

HEAVY TRAFFIC NECESSITATING MORE SLEEPERS, BAGGAGE CARS.

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 11.—Uncle Sam is finding the railroad business good on his new Alaskan line, which runs from tidewater at Seward and Anchorage, across the mountains to Fairbanks and Newana, on the territory's interior river system.

Traffic has been so heavy on the line that it has been necessary to add more Pullman sleeping coaches and baggage cars. At present the road is operating 30 passenger coaches, 716 freight cars, 236 cars of miscellaneous nature, making a total of 782 cars.

In addition to the railroad, the government also is operating two river transports to connect the lower river points with the road. These boats will connect with mosquito fleets operating on the smaller rivers of the interior and will serve to hook up the entire section in one great transportation system.

Coal is one of the big items on the freight bills on this transportation system. The coal is taken from the mines along the railroad and sent to all parts of the interior by rail and boat.

With a good supply of coal at reasonable prices it will be possible to mine large areas of frozen ground which, it is believed, contain goldbearing gravels. Geological survey officials estimate there is $300,000,000 in gold in these gravels.

Nome, one of the distant points of Alaska, will benefit by getting coal at lower prices. At present coal is $45 a ton in Nome. By taking it down the river and across an arm of the Bering sea to Nome it is thought coal can be sold there for half the price.

Special Term in December.

A special term of the Houston county district court will be held in December to clear the civil docket of an accumulation of business. District Judge Bishop has called a special session of the court for Monday, December 4. There has been so much criminal business at this term of the court that the civil docket has become congested. One murder case transferred from another county consumed almost a full week of the court's time.

ORGANIZATION OF A THIRD PARTY

New York, Nov. 11.—A third party to be composed of farmers and manufacturers and to be headed by Bernard M. Baruch, who served as chairman of the war industries board under former President Wilson, was proposed by Colonel Robert H. Montgomery at the reunion of the war industries board association today.

Colonel Montgomery, who was assigned to the board by the war department and also was active in the reorganization of the United States shipping board after the war, told how he had summarily discharged 1600 employees, or one-half of the total staff of one department of the shipping board at the outset of President Harding's administration.

"Senators and representatives were so busy for months afterward calling on the shipping board trying to get $1200 a year clerks reinstated, instead of being up at the capitol enacting constructive legislation, that I believe it accounts for the reverse suffered by the republican party in the recent election," Colonel Montgomery said. Colonel Montgomery explained that he was a republican who believed in the need for a third party. He suggested that the manufacturers and the farmers form an alliance and that it be propagated by Bernard M. Baruch, who he said was the most logical candidate to head it.

"I want a party that would wipe out the rascals who seek to nationalize industry and other radical things," said the speaker.

Never kick about what other people say of you. It might be worse if the whole truth were known.
