IDENTIFY VICTIMS IN BERGDOLL PLOT; THREE ARE JAILED

SWISS KILLED, AMERICAN HIT IN KIDNAPING ATTEMPT.

Eberbach, Germany, August 12.—The man who was shot and killed Saturday by Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, has been identified as a Swiss named Karl Schmidt of Lausanne, and the man wounded is said to be Roger Sperber, an American resident of Paris.

Lieutenant Griffith, said to be an American, Faust Gagarin, a Russian, and Eugene Nelson, supposed to be an American, who were seated in an automobile outside the hotel in one of the rooms of which Bergdoll used his automatic pistol to save himself from being kidnaped are under arrest here.

Bergdoll several days ago returned to Eberbach from Switzerland to meet his mother, who had arrived from the United States. He again took up his residence in a local hotel where he had been living during the past three years until he went to Switzerland.

The local authorities assert that Bergdoll had been watched closely for several days by strangers living in his hotel. They expressed the belief that a plot to kidnap the man who is wanted by the United States government had been carefully planned and financed. Rope ladders, black-jacks and a supply of opiates are said to have been found in the possession of the men under arrest. The automobile in which it is believed Bergdoll was to have been taken off is described as a former American army car.

Local feeling is running high against the men under arrest. Bergdoll continues to be popular with the natives. The populace is declared to be doubly resentful over the alleged renewed attempt to kidnap Bergdoll, as the first attempt, made two years ago, and in which a German woman was wounded by a man alleged to be an American detective, is still fresh in their memory.

VIOLA DANA IN CHARMING COMEDY

Viola Dana, the vivacious little Metro star, will be seen Wednesday 22 at the Crockett theatre in her latest photoplay, "They Like 'Em Rough." In the role of Katharine Trowbridge Miss Dana has one of those parts which fit her like the proverbial glove and which give every opportunity for the charm, sprightliness and vivacity with which her screen acting is associated.

"They Like 'Em Rough" is the story of a girl who had a peculiar aversion to authority—who wanted to do everything she was forbidden to do and nothing that she was required to do. Discovering that her aunt and uncle, aware of this streak of perversity, were plotting her marriage with a very eligible young man by apparently opposing the match she in turn decides to revenge herself on them by going out and marrying the first man she meets.

And she does. He happens to be a rough-looking customer with a beard and hob-nailed boots and a lumberman's mackinaw. After the knot is tied by a justice of the peace, Katharine hands him the $100 she had offered him to marry her and says, as she steps into her roadster, "Thanks a lot. See you again some time, maybe."

"Yes," says the lumberman. "You'll see me from now on," and he jumps into her car, takes the wheel and drives her to the logging camp in the mountains of which he is boss.

'TOO MANY LAWS' —LYNCH DAVIDSON

Former Lieutenant Governor Says Millions Are Spent In Bureaus.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 9.—"Too many laws" are among the troubles of the State and the Nation, according to recent speeches made by Lynch Davidson, former Lieutenant Governor and one of the men who will run as a candidate for Governor next term, according to his friends.

In a number of recent speeches Mr. Davidson has made statements that are taken as planks in the platform on which he will make his race for the governorship. In a speech delivered at Groesbeck Monday, as given out by his office here, the following statements were made:

"The tendency of today is toward too many laws. There is a veritable reign of laws. They stifle private enterprise, usurp the citizen's fundamental rights, restrict his freedom and sap his individualism, devour taxes with the burdensome expense of their administration and in general clog the wheels of the country's prosperity.

"Through bureaus and commissions and the labyrinth of laws the Government spends millions of dollars annually undertaking to do for the people the things they could do infinitely better for themselves. How much better the country would be if all that money were devoted to education.

"Every child should be taught to recognize the extent beyond which Government ceases to be for the purpose of governing and becomes paternalistic and socialistic, the results of which are sovietism and communism, as witness Russia's tragic fate.

"The executive or administrative department likewise possesses the power of great influence for good or bad government and of those seeking such offices our requirements of capability should be especially exacted.

"With efficient, economical, commonsense administration by men whose individual experience and competence in economic matters qualify them to transact the large business affairs of government in an expert way, many of our present problems of government can be solved and many of the ills that make our taxes so high today can be eliminated.

"The expensive, needless bureaus and commissions can be dispensed with by a sufficiently strong hand, much of the Government red tape and excessive laws can be removed, wasteful leaks can be stopped—the penitentiary system, for instance, devouring almost $1,000,000 of taxes annually, by good business management could be made to produce instead of consuming that much."

GREAT THRONGS PAY TRIBUTE TO DEAD IN MARION

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Warren G. Harding's friends and neighbors tonight were passing by his bier in the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding Sr., paying a last tribute to his memory as president and citizen.

They began the slow and solemn march past his coffin at 2 o'clock this afternoon and on Mrs. Harding's orders, they were to be permitted to pass by until the last in line had an opportunity to say a silent farewell if it took until the sun begins to brighten the eastern skies tomorrow.

The stream of humanity, cosmopolitan as that of the mighty nation, seemed without end as the hours of the night dragged along. By 9 o'clock it was estimated that more than 15,000 already had filed past the flag-draped coffin and probably that many more were still in line moving slowly toward the Harding home. At that hour they were passing through at the rate of about forty per minute or 2,400 per hour.

The line early in the evening had extended down East Center street to two blocks beyond the office of the Marion Star, which until recently was controlled by the late president.

Once in the line few left it, apparently determined to stay there until they had seen the face of their departed friend. Whole families stood in line and oftimes there could be seen a babe in arms along with an aged grandparent.

CASHIER KILLED IN ATTEMPTED HOLDUP

One Man Held Narrowly Escapes Lynching; Two Others Wanted.

Vinita, Ok., Aug. 9.—After narrowly escaping lynching at the hands of infuriated citizens of Ketchum, Raymond Thomas of Tulsa was lodged in the Craig County jail here late today in connection with the attempted robbery of the First State Bank of Ketchum and the slaying of Frank Bitts, cashier of the bank.

When Thomas confessed that he was one of three men who tried to rob the bank this morning and informed the citizens who the other two were, and named their place of hiding, his life was spared. Before the citizens changed their minds an officer rushed Thomas to the county jail here.

The robbers entered the Ketchum bank this morning, asked for the Ketchum brothers and then ordered Bitts to "stick 'em up." When he failed to comply, he was shot through the heart and instantly killed. Two shots were fired at Herbert Ray, bookkeeper, but both went wild. The robbers then fled without obtaining any money.

Thomas was picked up while the search for the bandits was in full blast.

Leaders of the posse stopped Thomas on the road and asked him if he had seen anything of three men in a car. He told them he had not and they left him. Later he got in a car with some officers and they began questioning him again, with the result that he was taken to Ketchum and identified as one of the bandits.

Then the struggle began to prevent the angry citizens from lynching him.

Thomas named Allison Ivey, also of Tulsa, and a man named Burks, as the other bandits. Burks did the shooting, he charged.

He said that Ivey and Burks were hiding in a cluster of weeds near Brown's Ferry, three miles east of Ketchum, when he left them.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Callers at the Courier office during the last week continue to report plenty of hot, dry weather and cotton opening rapidly. Picking is now well under way and will continue until the crop is gathered. All crops are cut short by the drouth.

Mrs. Goolsbee Dead.

Mrs. M. C. Goolsbee died at her home in east Crockett Monday, August 13. She was about 77 years of age and had been an esteemed resident of Crockett for many years. Her native state was Georgia, but in early life her family moved to Woodville, southeast Texas. Her husband, Dr. Goolsbee, a dentist and for many years a resident of Crockett, died in this city a number of years ago.

Mrs. Goolsbee became a member of the Presbyterian church in early life and was a member of the Presbyterian church in Crockett about forty years, according to her pastor, Rev. S. F. Tenney. For a number of years she has been an invalid, suffering intensely much of the time. It is said of her that she bore up under her afflictions with true Christian fortitude, having faith in her Savior and His promises.

Of her immediate family surviving are O. W. Goolsbee of Bryan; Mrs. Malone Armstrong and Mrs. M. E. McClure of Alto; Webb Goolsbee, Cleon Goolsbee and Miss Fannie Goolsbee of Crockett, all of whom were present at the funeral.

Funeral services were held at the late residence of the deceased Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. S. F. Tenney, the Presbyterian pastor and personal friend of the deceased for many years. Interment followed in Glenwood cemetery.

Another Filling Station.

Smith Brothers have bought the residence and lot known as the E. L. Simpson place. This lot constitutes a block of ground. They are having the southwest corner graded down for a filling station and the southeast corner graded down for a building of some other kind. This property is north of and across the street from the Pickwick hotel property now owned by Smith Brothers and will no doubt be eventually converted into business uses.

COTTON CONTINUES ADVANCE; $7 BALE HIGHER OVER WEEK

Traders Alarmed by Prospect of Shrinkage In Ex- pected Yield.

Houston, August 13.—Cotton continued its advance last week. Closing prices Saturday showed net gains of about $7 a bale all around, and represented recoveries of more than 3 cents per pound from the low levels reached just before publication of the last condition report two weeks ago.

Unfavorable weather was primarily responsible for the continuation of the upward price movement. With 12,000,000-bale ideas shocked severely by Washington's surprisingly low condition figures at the beginning of the current month, production possibilities have undergone further downward revision as a result of complaint of too much rain in the eastern belt and drouth in the western half.

Despite the conflict of opinion concerning the benefit or detriment of the hot, dry weather which has held Texas and Oklahoma in its grip a fortnight, fears have increased that the ultimate yield in these two States will not reach figures thought possible several weeks ago.

The reverse has been the case east of the Mississippi river, and in that section of the cotton belt the overabundance of moisture of late has been causing almost as much uncertainty as the lack of sufficient rain in the Southwest.

A CHANGE TO CONCRETE ROADS

Major W. F. Hutson, divisional engineer for the state highway department, Dallas headquarters, and J. M. Page, highway engineer, bureau of public roads of the federal government, were visitors in Palestine one day last week, coming to confer with Engineer Davis and county officials on the county's big road construction program. The gentlemen expressed themselves as impressed with the thoroughness of the program, and gave the county officials a very pleasant surprise by assuring them that the state aid appointment would be increased from $600,000 as heretofore agreed upon to $800,000.

Engineer Davis and County Judge Quick, after a conference with the highway department men, called Chairman Royal of the county advisory committee, and he in turn got as many of the county committee together as was possible in a short time and the matter of the entire road program was gone into fully. Present at the meeting were a number of committeemen from both the city and county. Major Hutson made a proposition that if the county would adopt a high class type of road for the designated highways, that the state highway department would pay three-fourths of the cost of same instead of one-half, as is the usual custom. This suggested the designated highways to be built of concrete, and the discussion showed that such a road can be built under the one and three-fourths plan at a cheaper cost to the county than the original designations. The committee after going over the whole plan approved it and recommended that the full commissioner's court and committee adopt the new plan, giving the county the very highest type of roads and availing the county of this more liberal offer by the state highway department.

Pending final decision on the matter, it has been suggested that the county's offer to buy native rock be withdrawn. As soon as the court acts on the latest proposition definite announcements will be made.—Palestine Herald.

A newspaper man from an adjacent county came out in his paper a few days ago and stated that Cherokee county roads were the best in seven counties that he had traversed. And still the county is on a cash basis, paying her debts as they come due, scrip being an unknown factor in this county. We might also venture the assertion that with our being in the lead in good roads, old Cherokee is no further in debt than lots of other counties around us who have no roads.—Alto Herald.

TEXAS YOUTH ON HARDING'S FUNERAL TRAIN

One of the sailors comprising the military guard on the train bearing the body of President Harding across the continent is James Oakley Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bean of Grape-land, Texas.

Young Bean joined the navy April 15, 1921, and was sent to the Great Lakes station for training, being transferred later to the New London submarine base. He afterwards became a yeoman, and was assigned to Hampton Roads, where he entered the yeoman school. He was on duty on the transport Henderson during President Harding's Alaskan trip.

PASSING OF A SPLENDID TEXAN.

The death of Hon. R. T. Milner at his home in Henderson Monday took from Southeast Texas one of its best-known and best-loved residents. The whole of his manhood was spent in the immediate neighborhood of the place where he died, save for the few years that he was president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. That institution was in a somewhat demoralized state when he became its head. He began the work of reorganization which has resulted in making it the splendid college that it is. Mr. Milner had a talent for public service, a talent which he exercised whether in or out of office. The public interest he made his own personal interest. He probably gave more thought to the problem of advancing the welfare of his State, and particularly his community, than he did to that of advancing his own individual welfare. He served with distinction as Commissioner of Agriculture, having been the author of the law creating that department and the first head of it. As a member of three Legislatures he was active in the enactment of several laws that have served the material and educational interests of the State well. He, in an unostentatious way, made a greater impress on the history of Texas during the last fifty years than have many men who have won a much larger fame than was given to him. He loved Texas, and his love for it was fruitful of good.—Dallas Morning News.
