HON. J. W. MADDEN CONGRATULATES THE COURIER

Now Is the Time for All Loyal Democrats to Stand by Organized Democracy.

Editor Courier:

I am taking this method of congratulating you and your valuable paper for your courageous stand for organized democracy.

There is every indication that sinister influences are at work to seriously cripple if not destroy the democratic party both in this state and in the nation. Just what these influences are I do not know. I am constrained, however, to believe that a large number of former democrats are going to "bolt" the ticket without stopping to think and fully consider the effect of their threatened course.

If this spirit of what I may call "disloyalty" to the democratic party were confined to this state alone and to the nominee for governor only, I could then feel some better about it, but even then I could not approve of it. But the fact stares us in the face that a large portion of the "bolting" element is also very "lukewarm" towards the national ticket and some of them say they are not going to vote for it.

We can not have party organization—effective party organization—without party discipline. In other words, to make the party a living, efficient agency for the public good, the party must have some way of carrying its policies and principles into effect.

Of course, I understand the reasons advanced for not voting for Mrs. Ferguson for governor, but, to my mind, those reasons do not justify the length to which some of our former democratic friends are going. In fact, I would not approve of it at all. In other words, I could see some consistency in a voter quitting the democratic party and casting his lot with some other party, or no party, if so desired. But I can not understand how any voter claiming to be a democrat can, not only refuse to vote for the nominee, but also go over to the republican party and vote for its nominee for governor.

IMPETUOUS SWAIN WOULD GRAB GIRL HE WANTED MOST

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 20.—Chief Deputy Sheriff A. Newton Jr. reversed the role of Don Cupid here a day or so ago when he was called upon by a frantic mother and tearful daughter to shoo away an ardent suitor who insisted upon marrying the girl against her wishes.

The impetuous swain had purchased a license and sent the trousseau over to the home of the unwilling bride with word that he would be around later with a minister ready to tie the fatal knot.

Upon interference by the constituted authorities of law and order the "red hot papa" departed peacefully, declaring he would win the girl in the end.

nee for governor. To "scratch" the nominee or to "stay at home" and not vote at all, while I would not consider either the proper thing to do, would, it seems to me, not be so bad as to go over completely, "boot and baggage," and vote for a rank, outspoken, full-fledged republican. Republicanism and democracy are as far apart as the polls and have been so ever since the organization of this government. The Hamiltonian and the Jeffersonian theories of government still exist, and, in principle, they are irreconcilable, and the republican nominee for governor is the recognized representative of the Hamiltonian theory in Texas. Therefore, to be a democrat and a republican at the same time is an impossibility.

Let it be understood that I am now pleading for the integrity and the solidarity of the democratic party. I do not want to see it disrupted and destroyed, and I am hoping that our dissatisfied friends will see their way clear to reconsider and vote the whole ticket from John W. Davis down to constable on November 4. J. W. Madden.

Paving Started.

The work of paving the San Antonio road has been started seven miles southwest of Crockett and will be brought toward Crockett. It is estimated that this work will take up four months and in the meantime detours will have to be made by travelers.

CAPITOL COMMENT BY YANCEY MERIWETHER

Display of campaign buttons, active participation in political clubs and open show of party preference among employees of the federal government have attracted the attention of the civil service commission. Government workers in the various departments are said to be distributing campaign literature, badges and buttons, circulating political petitions and to be otherwise engaged in various phases of political effort.

Government workers are prohibited under the competitive civil service laws from openly engaging in politics. Persons in the federal civil service are forbidden to use their official authority or influence for the purpose of interfering with the election. They may express privately their opinions on all political subjects. They may join political clubs and they may wear campaign buttons and badges while off duty. But they are restrained by law from taking a prominent part in the activities of any political organization.

Federal employees are drawn from every state in the union. They cannot vote in the District of Columbia because of the peculiar condition existing here which denies citizens of the district the franchise. But many of the states allow voting by mail and the majority of employees take advantage of this privilege.

Under the civil service act, the civil service commission is empowered to investigate alleged violations of the rules or laws regarding political activity, assessments, coercion and discrimination, and it is the present policy of the commission to see that the rules are strictly enforced. An investigation into the charges of violations is being made, and every legitimate means will be employed to procure the prosecution and punishment of every person who violates the civil service rules or laws.

The case next on call was that of John Perry Richardson, who is charged with assault with intent to rape, and who got five years in the reformatory.

Other cases set for trial are as follows:

DECISION A VICTORY FOR MRS. FERGUSON

NONE OF POINTS RAISED BY THE COMPLAINANTS IS SUSTAINED.

Austin, Texas., Oct. 18.—The last vestige of the ancient bar against women in office was swept away by the supreme court today in holding Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple and all other women in the state eligible to elective positions.

Attempts to bring out of the dim past and establish as present day law the figments of an old order were cast out by the highest court of the state, which pronounced women as independent entities on an equality with men.

While holding that Mrs. Ferguson is qualified to vote, the court also held unconstitutional that part of the statute which seeks to confer on a private citizen the right to bring suit testing the qualifications of a candidate for governor. This belongs to the legislature, the court said.

Decision Is Lengthy.

The plaintiff, Charles M. Dickson of San Antonio, has fifteen days in which to file a motion for rehearing and it was stated the case will not be sent back to the court of civil appeals for issuance of the decree until expiration of that time. It would then be too late for any action, as ballots would have been printed.

LONG STAPLE COTTON FOR CHEROKEE CO.

Troup, Tex., Oct. 20.—The initial move on the part of Cherokee county farmers to discontinue the growing of short staple cotton was made this week by Bloomer Florence and Walter Powers. These men have returned from Van Zandt county, where they purchased 400 bushels of cotton seed of three leading long staple varieties.

The seed were selected from cotton which this year averaged a bale to the acre from fresh seed. Florence and Powers say they intend to plant all three of the varieties upon the same kind of land, giving the crops the same cultivation and fertilization in order to observe the results next summer and fall. The seed affording the best results will be of the variety they will continue to plant each year thereafter.

Cherokee farmers found great difficulty this fall in finding markets for short staple cotton. Thus it is believed the action of Florence and Powers will result in many other local farmers planting long staple cotton next year.

The Mexicans ferried across the river at Clapp's Ferry when Texas was a part of Mexico. GENERAL ELECTION MOST IMPORTANT

Crockett, Texas,
October 20, 1924.

Editor Courier:

The press of Houston county, and of the state as a whole, has been liberal in publishing and distributing information as to how a democrat can legally and morally repudiate his pledge and vote for Butte, the republican nominee for governor.

Knowing that the fundamental principles of the press to be educational, and knowing the editors of Houston county papers to be fair and impartial men, I am assuming that you gentlemen shall not object to publishing a few observations in the interest of Mrs. Ferguson and clean politics.

As a supporter of Mrs. Ferguson, and as a life-long democrat who has never scratched the ticket, I want to insist that it is every voter's duty who voted in the primary to cast his or her vote on November 4 for Mrs. Ferguson. It is not only our duty to vote for Mrs. Ferguson because we voted for her in the primary, but it becomes our duty to make special effort to get to the polls and to see that the good work started in the July primary is carried out.

There is being a lot of propaganda put out by that political K. K. bunch at Dallas, advising voters why they should repudiate their pledge and vote for Butte for governor. Among them we find preachers who hold responsible and important positions in our churches, and the president of the S. M. University is advising us to scratch Mrs. Ferguson and vote for Butte in the interest of good government. The daily papers are filled with this propagand, and there is a strong organization behind all this stuff, and the only way in which the people can defeat this movement is by coming to the polls on November 4 and burying this bunch so deep with an avalanche of votes that they will never stick their heads up again.

I do not consider an argument necessary to convince a man that he is honor-bound by an obligation taken in good faith. It is not even pertinent to argue such proposition, and I shall not take up space upon that phase of the question. I presume every man and woman who is intelligent enough to cast his or her vote, has sense enough to know right from wrong, and it does not require a learned professor, or a high-up minister to tell a voter how to cast an honest vote, and honest votes are the only kind that can and will promote good government, and all this bumpkin about good government is political Ku Klux propaganda and put out to mislead the voter and to becloud the real issue involved.

The main purpose of this communication is to impress the rural voter with the importance of his voting in the general election in November. Usually the general election goes by default, and there is very little interest taken in it, but the situation is different, and the towns and the cities are strongly organized, and if the rural voters fail to come in and vote, Butte is going to be elected. So don't be misled and become over-confident. The only hope the opposition has of success is in keeping the rural vote from being delivered, otherwise, if all vote in the general election who voted in the July primary, Mrs. Ferguson will be elected by 200,000 or 300,000 votes. She beat Felix Doolittle Robertson, the klan candidate, over 90,000 votes, but Felix Doolittle got a big vote, and if Butte gets half of his vote, and half or two-thirds of the Ferguson vote stay away from the polls Butte will be elected.

I appeal to you to take a day off, come to the polls, business or no business, and vote your honest convictions. Very truly,
H. G. Guinn.

Blinding Headaches

"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. . . I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work, just couldn't go. I used and it relieved me.

"About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. . . We tried all week to help her, . . . but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up."

LONG DROUTH AIDS COTTON

Troup, Texas, Oct. 19.—Favorable weather prevailing for the past several weeks has enabled farmers in this section to gather the majority of their cotton crops. In fact, except for late opening of scattered patches, nearly all picking has been completed. The opinion of some farmers here is that with a late frost, late cotton stands a chance to mature, and thus increase the output in this vicinity.

Scarcely any picking is being done by hired help. From a dollar to a dollar and a quarter per 100 is paid pickers. A large number of East Texas cotton pickers have shifted westward, where it is claimed better prices prevail.

County Agent E. Gentry estimates the cotton crop for Smith county at 18,000 bales, which compares with 34,500 bales for 1923. Grades are lowering some, most cotton offered on the streets running strict low middling. The average price this week for cotton was 24 cents. The staple is shorter than usual.

Sweet potato shipments out of Smith county this fall will run short, compared with last year's crop. Drought cut the crop heavily and, too, a smaller acreage is reported. Ribbon cane was as severely cut this year as the potato crop, and it is improbable that a single car of syrup will move from Smith county this fall, although there will be some syrup offered to local trade.

The pecan industry near Winona has not been impaired by the drought. It is estimated that the Combination Orchard company at that place will ship 75,000 pounds of pecans from their 12-year old orchard. These nuts are of a high quality and are selling at the orchard for 50 cents a pound. Pecan orchards at Tyler and Arp also show fine prospects for production this year.

Unprecedented activity in oat sowing is apparent this fall, according to County Agent E. Gentry. A campaign to encourage extensive oat sowing was started in Smith county in late summer when it became apparent the dry weather would greatly curtail the feed crop. Mr. Gentry says the oat sowing is more general this year than he has ever known before for Smith county.

Although herring abound in North Pacific waters, smoked herring are imported to that region from Scandinavian countries.

WHY SHOES WEAR OUT

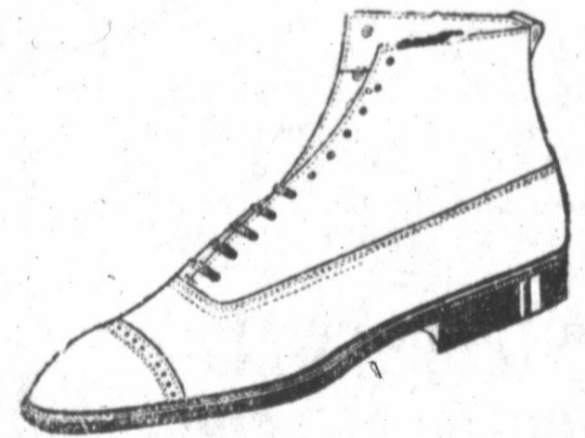

The average step is 26 inches. This means 2,437 steps to the mile; or 12,185 in a five-mile day. A person weighing 160 pounds in one day has pounded into his shoes 974 tons and 1,600 pounds of meat, bone and troubles, and all this he carries above his shoes. A steel hammer weighing 160 pounds coming down at that rate for four months would have to be renewed each day and would have to be fished out of the deepest hole in the earth at the end of four months.

We know the construction of every shoe we sell. We have shoes for light dress wear—the medium weight, as well as those which require the hardest possible service. We carry the stock and know the shoe—for this reason we handle your shoe problems efficiently and to your interest. Needless to say the price is right.

What Are You?

—A DEMOCRAT by Name Only?

Or a DEMOCRAT in Principle and Good Judgment?

Do You Believe in Blindly Following the Dictation of a Few, BECAUSE You Are a Democrat---

Or Do you Believe in Exercising Your Own Good Judgment and Supporting the First Two Cardinal Principles of True Jeffersonian Democracy---

CAPABILITY and HONESTY?

Good Judgment Says Vote for Butte

Butte's Election as Governor Means a Democratic Victory.
The Election of Butte Depends Upon the Straight Thinking DEMOCRATS.

Who is it that has made the demand, plea, and battle cry, "The Pledge"?

When, before, did any true democrat in Texas feel the necessity of calling on Democrats to vote a straight ticket, that some candidate might "ride in" to office on the merits of the balance of the ticket.

Who in Texas has bolted the democratic party more than Ferguson? Yet this is the type of Democrat that is now wailing for us Democrats to keep the pledge sacred.

Has Ferguson practiced his own preaching?

What stronger admission of lack of ability could be made?

Why Does Fergusonism Fear the Democratic Vote?

- How about the Ferguson liquor record?
- Why was Jim Ferguson impeached as Governor of Texas?
- What does our Texas school books record about the Ferguson reign?
- Why does Ferguson fight our State educational institutions?

BUTTE'S PLATFORM

Geo. C. Butte says:

"My platform has only one plank and that is the Governor's oath of office to support the constitution and impartially enforce all the laws.

"I will be the friend of every man and woman, boy or girl, who loves the State of Texas supremely.

"With no enemies to punish—with friends in all parties and factions—I want to be the instrument in God's hands to bring our distracted State back into the path of peace without which there can be no real progress in Texas.

"Within my authority I will re-appoint all honest and competent public servants now on the payroll of the State, regardless of how they may vote in this election. Other things being equal, I will always give preference to the ex-service men and women of Texas."

Let the thinking men and women of this great State consider their obligation to their children—to the State, to honest government—above everything else.

This advertisement paid for by Democrats who put Good Government First.

Does any true Democrat think that a return to power of Fergusonism—a vindication of his record—can help the real democratic party in the eyes of the world?

Contrast the opposition of Wilson by Ferguson with the war record of George Butte.

For six years Ferguson has done everything to destroy the democratic party. He is not a Democrat and branding him as such can raise no obligation for any true Democrat to support him. He is an enemy of education, of prohibition, of woman suffrage and of the democratic party.

Geo. C. Butte is a lifelong prohibitionist—a proponent of better education—a student—a Christian gentleman unstained by political activities.

TRINITY DEFEATS CROCKETT ELEVEN

Trinity High beat Crockett on the Trinity field by a close score of 6 to 0 Friday. This was the first time that Trinity had ever won a football game from Crockett.

Crockett raised a protest when the Trinity man, apparently downed, crawled over the goal line and was allowed a touch-down. The referee claimed, however, that the man had not been officially downed.

Jasper Brannon and Broyles starred for Trinity, while Leediker at end, Julian at guard, Bynum at center, Hughes at quarterback and Cook at fullback performed creditably for Crockett. Some of Crockett's best men were off form in Friday's game. The Trinity team slightly outplayed the C. H. S. club.

Crockett will make every effort to get a return game with Trinity on the local field, believing that the local squad is capable of a better game against the Trinity boys. The local team will play in Livingston Friday. Livingston has defeated Groveton 102 to 0 and has lost to Nacogdoches (14 to 13) and Houston Central (26 to 0).

Married at Huntsville.

Charlie Stockton of Crockett and Miss Castine Guice of Grapeland were married in Huntsville Saturday night. After spending the week-end with their parents, they returned to Crockett where they will make their home. The bride is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Guice and was a member of the graduating class of the Grapeland High school last May.

FALLS 2000 FEET TO INSTANT DEATH

Luna Park Exhibition Ends in Tragedy When Parachute Goes Wrong.

Houston, October 20.—Miss Montie LeMay, professional balloonist and parachute jumper, who opened an engagement at Luna Park on Sunday, was dashed to her death at 5:30 Sunday, when her parachute failed to open after she had dropped from a gas balloon at an altitude of slightly more than 2000 feet. She died as she was being lifted from the sandy ground in Thrift's pasture, about three blocks from the park.

The accident brought to a tragic end the first of a series of balloon ascensions that were to have been staged at the park. The LeMay party arrived here Saturday from Dallas, but originally are from St. Paul, Minn.

Failure of the third of a series of three parachutes to open resulted in the accident, it was said by persons who witnessed the woman's 2000-foot plunge through space.

Leaving the ground attached to a 75-foot balloon filled with smoke and hot air, the woman ascended to an altitude of about 2000 feet before attempting to disengage herself from the balloon. As a crowd of more than 3000 persons gazed in awe, the intrepid young woman could be seen to reach up and pull the cord that would release her from the big gas-filled bag.

Leaving the balloon, she dropped a short distance before the first parachute opened. An instant later it fluttered away.

Frantically Miss LeMay tugged at the second parachute. It failed to open. Dropping with the speed of an express train the young woman could be seen to make repeated efforts to open the parachute. Stunned, the dense crowd stood and gazed breathlessly at the tragedy being enacted in the air.

Among the first to reach the spot where Miss LeMay plunged to earth were Jack T. McCully, Luna park press agent, and J. T. Whitaker. The woman died as the two were placing her in the rear seat of a touring car preparatory to speeding to the Southern Pacific hospital, a short distance away.

E. T. Vincent, the young woman's husband, reached the scene of the accident less than two minutes after his wife's body struck the ground.

He rode with the body to the hospital.

"It was my fault for sending her up there," he cried. "I should have gone. I wanted to. And I didn't kiss her goodbye. She asked me not to. She said that for me to kiss her gave the spectators the impression that the ascension was dangerous.

"Montie was an expert parachute jumper. Her father, though, did not want her to work this season. He told us that he would set us up in the hotel business in Florida if we would just give up this business."

A moment before strapping herself to the parachute Miss LeMay was calmly chatting with Earl Gill, a rider on the Luna park motor silodrome, and McCully, the press agent.

Extending his hand, Gill said: "Well, little fellow, goodbye, and good luck to you."

"Thanks," the girl replied as she clasped his hand.

She signaled to her husband that she was ready.

"Let go, everybody!" Vincent shouted to the score of men and boys who were holding the tugging bag down.

As the ropes were released the bag shot skyward, Miss LeMay strapped beneath it. As she hurtled over the crowd she waved her hand, merrily shouting, "I'll be back for supper, folks."

Through the dusk the balloon ascended, attaining an altitude slightly in excess of 2000 feet. As the crowd cheered Miss LeMay could be seen to reach up for the cords which held her to the swaying, bulky bag of hot air and smoke, and leap.

Sunday School Picnic.

A very enjoyable occasion was the picnic which the Christian Sunday school had yesterday afternoon upon the banks of the Three-Mile Bayou. There were just one hundred by count, the exact number in Sunday school last Sunday.

According to the pre-arranged plan, all but a very few who could not get off this early in the day met at the church promptly at 3:30, where automobiles and a large truck furnished by Mr. Thomas Self carried the crowd to the grounds. The site selected by the committee, which was composed of Messrs. J. A. Grant, A. Houston and R. F. Swanner, is about a half mile beyond Mr. Cal Beeson's, on the banks of the bayou, and is an ideal place for a picnic. The children were full of pep, and engaged in various games and explorations, listening to and heeding "the call of the wild" until about 5:30 when the good ladies spread a bountiful feast of good things too numerous to mention upon a splendid table improvised by Mr. Cal Beeson. In addition to the sumptuous eatables which the ladies took in baskets, the committee had a good colored cook under the direction of Mr. Adam Leediker to cook a large pot of what they term "Mulligan" all afternoon, and this was pronounced by good judges to at least equal any part of the feast, which is saying a great deal, for the table fairly groaned with all kinds of delectable dishes that one can imagine. Ice cold lemonade was provided in profusion all the afternoon. After supper a huge fire was kindled, which lent great attraction to the scene. A short program consisting of an impressive reading by Miss Evelyn Brightman and all joining in singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," after which all went home feeling that we had spent Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 20.—The sleight-of-hand trick of rolling up money was used effectively for the second time here in the past month Saturday when Jose Garza lost his roll of $200. Two men approached and asked him to hold their money, $1000, while they found a third man. They asked Garza if he had any money, and asked to roll it all up together. After they had given Garza the roll, he went home and unrolled it and found only a newspaper inside the wallet.

COURIER'S STAND EN-DORSED.

A number of friends have called during the last few days to compliment the Courier on its editorial of last week regarding the party pledge in the coming general election. Those who have called are unanimous in the verdict that the Courier is right. As pointed out by one friend no organization, political or military, can long exist without discipline. Discipline is as necessary in a political party as it is in the army, if the political party is to withstand the assaults of the enemy. A party election pledge cannot be violated without weakening the moral fibre of the party organization. When we participate in a party primary it is with the understanding that we will support without reservation the choice of the majority within the party. We know who the candidates are and we know their records. By our participation we pledge ourselves to support all nominees without reservation, equivocation or provision. A nomination by a party primary means election, so far as the partisan is concerned, as by his action he agrees to support the nominee. If that is not true, the party primary is a failure. If one partisan may withdraw his support for good and sufficient reason to himself, another may do the same thing, and party disorganization results. The Courier will support every nominee on the ticket, from president down to constable. The democrat who participated in the primaries and does not now support the nominees, forever ties his hands as far as advocating party loyalty in the future is concerned.
