Police Report

Arrests logged recently in the Muleshoe Law Enforcement Center include the police department arresting two for being drunk and the Sheriff's office arresting one for worthless check and two for being drunk.

Former Local Patrolman

Shoots Man

Richard Loter, a former Muleshoe stationed Highway Patrolman, now stationed in Lubbock, shot and killed a Wichita Falls ex-convict who was apparently wounded earlier Friday afternoon during a thwarted arrest in Lubbock. Loter shot the man on a rural county road after he leaped from his pickup truck with a sawed-off shotgun cradled in his arms.

Investigators stated that 34 year old Richard Craig Bartlett, wanted by federal authorities for firearms violations, was killed by a single shotgun blast fired by Highway Patrolman Loter, about 3 p.m.

The patrolman who had pursued Bartlett after spotting his pick-up on Loop 329, said he crouched behind the open door of the patrol car and fired one after Bartlett aimed the loaded 12-gauge shotgun at him.

The shooting occurred on a dirt road separating two cotton fields about three miles northwest of Wolforth. Bartlett's pick-up came to rest in a ditch on the opposite side of the road after he apparently lost control. Investigators said the hood of his pick-up flew up in the highspeed chase and blocked Bartlett's vision.

Increased costs of labor, materials, money and taxes were cited by the company as the major reasons for the rate increase request. Spokesmen said that a Standard wooden pole had increased in cost by 175 percent since the last rate change, with a 365 percent increase in the price of crossarms used on the poles.

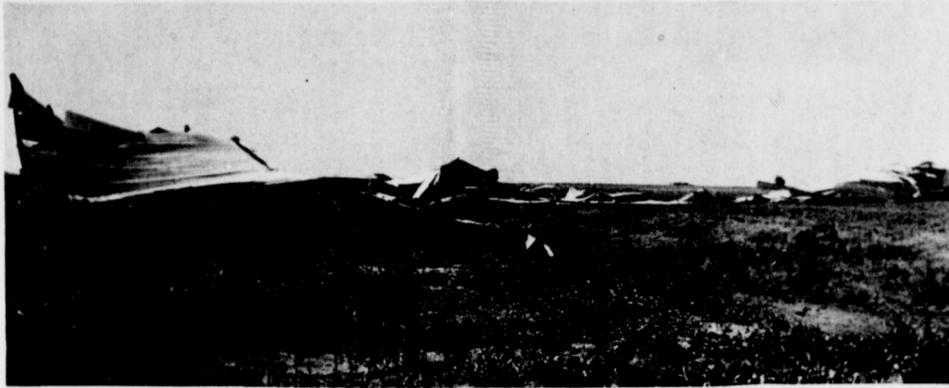

Other increases in costs since 1967 include a 162 percent rise in the price of steel for substations; a 124 percent increase in copper wire; labor costs up nearly 54 percent and taxes going up by almost 57 percent. Interest paid on borrowed money has jumped up 68 percent.

The company pointed out such increases in other prices since 1967 as 108 percent for ground beef; 67 percent for coffee; 58 percent for milk; 28 percent for margarine; and 100 percent for lettuce as indicates that its request for an average increase of 10 percent was reasonable.

For residential service in homes which are not electrically heated and do not have electric water heaters, the new schedule is as follows:

7.10 cents per kwh for the first 50 kwh used each month

4.70 cents per kwh for the next 50 kwh used each month

TORNADO DAMAGE...This barn belonging to Rev. H.D. Hunter of Muleshoe, was destroyed Friday night by a small tornado that hit southwest of Muleshoe. The tornado also did some damage at Bailey County Feeders, Dr. Jerry Gleason's Animal Clinic and then tore down several highline poles northeast of Muleshoe near Clay's Corner. This barn is located about five miles south of Muleshoe on Farm to Market Road 1760.

Southwestern Public Service Company announced today that it will seek the first general rate increase from its Texas customers since 1967.

The proposal requests an average increase of 10 percent, to be effective with billings in September of this year. The request is addressed to municipal governments in the communities served by the company, those bodies being the regulatory authority in Texas.

Southwestern has had only two previous rate increases, 23 and 7 years ago, respectively. The 1967 increase was 7.62 percent. There have been 14 rate reductions since 1942, when the company took its present form.

In connection with the fuel-cost adjustment, it is charged on the basis of the number of kilowatt-hours used by the customer. As a result, it has the least effect on customers using smaller amounts of energy both as to amount and percentage of bill, and has the most effect, both ways, on larger consumers.

Southwestern's peak demands for electric service fall in a short three to four-month summer season because of irrigation of agricultural crops and air conditioning. In order to more evenly balance the year-round load on the company's system and use the generating equipment and transmission lines most efficiently and economically, the company offers electric heating rates during the winter season. This type of rate structure benefits all residential customers, whether they heat electrically or not, because it brings in more revenue dollars, which helps keep all rates lower, than would be the case without the incentive for those customers preferring electric heat.

The new general service rate that applies to most commercial customers, is as follows:

7.1 cents per kwh for the first 100 kwh used each month

4.6 cents per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month

2.4 cents per kwh for the next 6,000 kwh used each month

1.4 cents per kwh for the next 6,000 kwh used each month

.9 cents per kwh for all additional kwh used each month

Attention Seniors!

All graduating seniors and dates ($4.00 admission charge if date is not a senior) are invited to a "Midnight til Dawn Party" at the XIT restaurant sponsored by senior parents.

On May 25, following commencement, senior reception at the high school cafeteria, and checking of caps and gowns, complete your graduation night with dancing, games and reminiscing at the XIT til dawn. Then breakfast will be served.

Parent co-chairmen for the party are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hamilton, finance; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowan, midnight snacks, Mr. and Mrs. Don Barnes, band; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Throckmorton, games; Mr. and Mrs. Bill St. Clair, breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin St. Clair, publicity; and Mr. and Mrs.

Multi-Million Dollar Plant Making Pellets

The multi-million dollar Protein Processors plant east of Muleshoe, began operations Monday.

They are now running at half speed since they are only operating one drum or half of the mill at the present time. Lucky Spurlock, manager, reported that they will be in full production within another week.

At the present time there are about 54 employed at the mill and in the fields.

Protein Processors has about 7,000 acres of alfalfa in the Muleshoe area and these acres are now being harvested.

The mill takes alfalfa and makes pellets that are used for livestock feed. All of the pellets are being shipped out and the first load of pellets are expected to be shipped out next week with the first shipment probably going to Fort Worth.

Spurlock said that this week they are moving into their new plant site and should be in the new office completely by Wednesday.

The huge mill has a great capacity and should run 20 tons of alfalfa through per hour when it is in full production. The mill will be processing green chopped alfalfa and stacked sun-dried alfalfa.

One interesting note at the plant is the fact that the plant has all women truck drivers. At the present time there are 15 women truck drivers. They are working eight hour shifts at this time.

The mill is now in 24 hour a day production as cutters and swathers in the alfalfa fields are working on a 24 hour basis.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — The end may be in sight for the historic Texas Constitutional Convention which began last January.

Delegates have been zipping along since they came back to work after the May 4 primary election, and only one major article — the catchall, controversial General Provisions — was left to complete on tentative passage at mid-week.

After that, of course, lawmaker-delegates must go back through the whole package on final consideration. And only those articles receiving a two-thirds majority vote can be submitted to voters.

Actually, the convention has until the end of July to complete the entire revision effort.

However, President Price Daniel Jr. has expressed hope for a much quicker windup. Daniel, of course, pushed unsuccessfully for agreement on a proposed revision before the primary election, then had to settle for a month's recess during April.

Convention leaders debated whether to submit a $1 million budget — enough to last until mandatory July adjournment — or to budget piecemeal, hopeful of getting through within a few weeks.

Daniel expressed a preference for budgeting through July, then "giving a lump of it back" on earlier adjournment.

However, Administration Committee Chairman Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon said he was concerned that appropriating through July would tempt delegates to stay that long.

Meanwhile, Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards gave delegates some practical advice on how to get new constitutions adopted.

His own state has just approved one.

PRIMARIES CANVASSED — Executive Committees of both Democratic and Republican parties canvassed returns of the May 4 primary.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is officially the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, having won over Frances "Sissy" Farenthold 1,024,335 to 438,564. W.H. Posey of Houston got 31,498 votes and Steve S. Alexander of Waco 26,889. Republicans certified James H. (Jim) Granberry as their candidate for governor. Granberry defeated Odell McBrayer of Fort Worth.

Raza Unida again is running Ramsey Muniz of Corpus Christi for governor and Fred Garza for Railroad Commissioner. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby will be opposed in the general election by GOP Gaylord Marshall of Dallas; Atty. Gen. John Hill by Tom Cole; Bob Bullock by James N. (Nick) Rowe of McAllen; Agriculture Commissioner John White by Zack Fisher of Memphis; Treasurer Jesse James by Robert G. Holt of Amarillo; Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong by Mary Lou Grier of Boerne; Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon by Joe P. Cain of Houston and Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace by Dale W. Steffes of Houston.

FUEL SHORTAGE CONTINUES — Once more, the statewide oil allowance (for June) has been set at a wide-open 100 per cent — for the 27th straight month — amid warnings that fuel shortages may last through summer.

Railroad Commissioner Langdon commended Texans for their conservation efforts. He noted that crude oil stocks in the state are up two million barrels over a year ago — to 93.3 million — and that U.S. supplies are up 8.1 million barrels.

Langdon credited voluntary energy-conservation efforts with the improved inventory picture, but he warned that heavy summer vacation travel may cause more lines at the pumps.

Nominations to purchase crude oil for the next month totalled 3,879,449 barrels, an increase of 18,684 barrels over May.

COURTS SPEAK — A Dallas man won a reversal and new trial of a murder conviction because the state placed in evidence an obituary of his slain wife.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also reversed the assault to murder sentence assessed a Harris County man due to introduction by the state of a marriage annulment petition purporting to show he had a violent temper.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a state savings and loan commissioner's order backed by an Austin court allowing Equitable Savings of Fort Worth to set up a branch office in Lubbock.

The State Supreme Court

set a June 12 hearing in a suit over whether Day and Zimmermann Inc., which operates Lone Star Army Ammunition plant at Texarkana, must pay $112,668 in state sales taxes. The taxes were paid under protest on materials bought by the munitions maker. Day and Zimmermann claims the purchases were non-taxable, since they were made for the U.S. government.

AG OPINIONS — An 18-year-old public school student may legally serve on a school board of trustees if otherwise qualified, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- * A tape recording of an open meeting of the Texas Board of Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies is public information.
- * A court-appointed counsel for an indigent defendant is entitled to compensation even if he spends only a fraction of a day on the job.

- * The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, lacks power to revoke approval for programs offered by the Texas State Technical Institute (except for teacher training programs).
- * The judge of the Court of Domestic Relations of Nueces County may act as presiding judge, but he gains no authority beyond the jurisdiction given him by statutes relating to juvenile and domestic relations matters.

- * Marl, gravel and shell sales by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are subject to state and local sales taxes.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Henry L. Seale of Dallas and Kenneth A. Douglas of Austin were appointed by Governor Briscoe to the Advisory Council on Community Affairs. Briscoe reappointed Kenneth L. Barr of Fort Worth, Richard Brown of Austin, Edwin B. Daniel of Wichita Falls and Bernis W. Sadler of Fort Arthur to the council.

Briscoe appointed Dr. Vivian A. Hicks of Fort Worth to the Advisory Council on Early Childhood Education.

Sen. Ron Clower of Garland is chairman of the new Senate sub-committee on Mass Transit. Sen. Jim Wallace of Houston and Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Fort Arthur are members of the panel.

Frank Hildebrand, executive director of Texas Tourist Development Agency, is national chairman of the Discover America travel organization.

CONGRESSMAN

Bob Price

18th Congressional District

House Democrats have opened the way for a vote in the House Chamber to abolish in one stroke the important oil depletion allowance which in the past has encouraged oil firms particularly small independents, to re-invest in efforts to find and develop new oil supplies. I am not being partisan on this matter. The action was taken by the House Democratic Caucus in the first us of new reform procedures. The House Ways and Means Committee had already taken action to phase the oil depletion allowance out of existence, which I oppose. This was to take place in a series of steps over a number of years. But the House Democratic Caucus voted to instruct its members on the House Rules Committee to allow a vote in the House Chamber on an amendment to kill the depletion allowance outright and immediately. Under normal procedures, the Rules Committee would have granted a rule under which this amendment would not have been allowed.

At this writing, the Rules Committee has not taken its vote, but if the Democratic members of the Committee follow the order of their colleagues, not only will the oil depletion allowance be in even worse straits than the gradual phase-out the ways and Means Committee had planned, but the action may signal the collapse of the democratic committee system in the Congress.

The action by the Democratic Caucus is a serious blow to energy consumers, since a reduction in tax incentives for oil and natural gas exploration will mean less energy in the future. Instead, we should be striving to increase our domestic energy production. The action is also a serious blow for our local economy in Northwest Texas where so many small businesses and so many jobs depend upon vigorous oil and natural gas activities, directly or indirectly.

LAND USE LEGISLATION was cleared for final House action recently by the House Rules Committee in a reversal of a vote last February to table the measure. The bill would set guidelines for the use of land in relation to the environment and authorize $800 million for the states to use in developing land use plans. Although the bill does not actually require or permit federal planning or zoning of private property, I am opposing this bill because landowners can be legitimately concerned as to exactly how far the states might go with the encouragement they would find in a federal land use law.

SMALL BUSINESSMEN would some relief from the paperwork required by the federal government, if the legislation I am co-sponsoring is passed. The single, most difficult and costly reporting requirement imposed upon business is probably the quarterly wage report for social security purposes, gave a money management demonstration using posters. Tankley spoke on the agriculture outlook for Bailey county. He spoke on the lack of rain in the dryland area which has resulted in not enough moisture to plant.

He also stated that the irrigated land has been hurt by high winds that have taken the moisture from the soil. He said that there was some wind and sand damage but that the cotton and potato stands looked real good.

IRS form 941. The bill I am sponsoring is passed. The single, most difficult and costly reporting requirement imposed upon business would not change the present social security payment system, but it would change the reporting system so that businessmen would be able to make out this form only once a year. An estimated $235 million a year would be saved for businessmen in this way by reducing accounting costs.

FARM PROTECTION against rising costs would be provided upon enactment of a bill I have introduced to attach a farm cost escalator to the target prices in the Farm Act. The act contains my escalator provision but under a House-Senate compromise during passage it does not take effect until the 1976 crop year. Producers need protection against the rising costs of this year and next, if the protection envisioned through the target price mechanism is to be preserved. Fifty million Americans already enjoy cost-of-living escalators for their incomes through most wage contracts, social security food stamp allotments and provisions for retired military, civil service and postal service employees. Surely our 1.5 million farmers and farm managers deserve the benefit of the target price escalator.

MANY EXPERIENCED CATTLEMEN have lost their savings, ranches and any equity that they had accumulated, due to the financial losses they have been suffering because of low on-the-hoof beef prices. This situation is largely due to government action last year to freeze meat prices and the beef market has still not recovered. In this emergency, I am seeking the establishment of a guaranteed loan program to enable cattlemen, who now have insufficient collateral to obtain regular commercial loans, to be able to obtain regular commercial loans to be able to restock. If cattle feedlots are not restocked, beef will in time be in short supply for American consumers. Other agricultural producers and businessmen are able to obtain emer-

IN MEMORY of those who have fought for America in the past, and those who guard our freedoms now, we observed Armed Forces Day May 18 and will celebrate Memorial Day May 27. I hope we will each include in our Memorial Day weekend plans a time for reflection on the meaning of this solemn occasion.

OTHER WORTHY WORK was officially recognized May 19, on International Shrine Hospital Day. I know of the excellent voluntary work Shrine Hospitals to research and care of burns. The Galveston Unit of the Shriners Burns Institutes has stepped up burn prevention activities in anticipation of an increasing number of burn victims due to improper storage and handling of gasoline during this period of energy scarcity. Also, 13 Shrine Temples in Texas have reorganized a united blood recruitment program in anticipation of increased needs for burn victims and others. Work like this is voluntary effort at its finest and in the true spirit of the American adventure.

Few young men realize what they are doing when a sweet young thing murmurs the magical word, "Yes."

May Declared As Aviation Month Here

Governor Dolph Briscoe has designated May as General Aviation Safety Month in Texas. Recognizing that general aviation aircraft now number more than 13,000 in Texas and that general aviation has an enviable safety record during its growth period, Governor Briscoe called for coordinated effort of the aviation industry, the aviation public and the local state and federal government agencies to prevent aircraft accidents.

"A better safety record can be achieved by improvement of airman attitude, skill judgement and knowledge and by reduction of hazards in the general aviation environment", the Governor said.

ON GASOLINE
U.S. energy chief William E. Simon said the end of the Arab oil embargo will cause further price increases on gasoline and fuel oil and added that federal allocation of petroleum would continue.

ON GAS COUPONS
With the oil embargo off, the government is locking up 4.8 billion ration coupons printed at a cost of $12 million in hopes they'll never be used. The government's biggest worry is security.

(When the commercial customers' demand - the number of kilowatts the company must have to serve his load - exceeds 10 kw, the 4.6 cents block of the rate is extended 38 kw for each kw of demand above 10 kw. This demand feature affects only the larger customers.)

The company projects that the rate increase will produce annual revenues in Texas, where it serves the great majority of its customers, of $ 6, 161,000.00. Of this amount $3,021,000.00 will go for additional taxes.

In the face of high interest costs that now range from 9 to 11 percent, the company's rate of return on its investment is 5.87 percent. If the proposed new rate had been in effect during 1973, it would have yielded a rate of return of 6.61 percent. Texas law allows as much as 8 percent rate of return for utility companies.

Best Wishes to Every Senior on Graduation Day. Everybody is proud of you, and happy for you.

Mrs. Beverly Hays of Fort Collins, teacher - coordinator of the Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO) program in the city's three high schools, has been selected as the Colorado State Home Economics Teacher of the Year for 1974. The award, sponsored by the American Home Economics Association and "Family Circle" magazine, was initiated this year to give recognition to home economics teachers who make outstanding contributions to better individual and family living and healthier communities. The award is designed to encourage creative approaches to teaching.

As a winner of the Colorado award, Mrs. Hays is eligible for a national competition. Mrs. Hays has directed the HERO program in Fort Collins for four years, teaching classes finding work training stations for students, and sponsoring student organizations related to the program. This year she is supervising 58 high school students who are learning and earning in the community. The HERO program in Poudre School District offers students training in food service, child care, home furnishings and home services. Most programs only offer training in food service and child care.

Another feature of the local HERO program developed by Mrs. Hays is the emphasis on individualized instruction which allows each student to study materials relevant to her job and her ability. Most HERO programs rely on the traditional class instruction.

Mrs. Hays says she likes the relevancy of the vocational home economics program which gives students the opportunity to learn not only at school, but also in actual work situations. Mrs. Hays is a graduate of Colorado State University, where she majored in home economics. She is studying at CSU for a master's degree in vocational education and guidance.

She is president of the Colorado Association of Vocational Home Economics Teachers. She is vice president of the board of directors of the United Day Care Center in Fort Collins. Mrs. Hays is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Black, also the granddaughter of Frankie Black and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Amarillo.

Earlene Klink

Art Association Hosts Guest Artist

The Muleshoe Art Association met Tuesday, May 14, at the community room of the Muleshoe State Bank with guests artist, Earlene Klink of Clovis, New Mexico.

Mrs. Klink stated that her favorite media was oil, because of the way it will blend itself into any mood and pastels because of the brilliant color.

Mrs. Klink feels that the southwest not only reflects the beauty of God's love but also mirrors the spirit of man. From its wondering prairies, searching streams, majestic mountains and soaring pines, Mrs. Klink has captured both beauty and spirit in her New Mexico landscapes.

She enjoys producing still life which are as bright and cheerful as her feelings of life are. She demonstrated a pastel of a Mexican child.

The art field is now as a vocation to Earlene, even though she has painted for a number of years.

She has studied under Ben Konis of Amarillo, Ruberto Wesley of Taos, Marilena Burk and Ruth Crawford of Clovis, Kris Gikas, Vern Aken, and Dale Hamblin of New Mexico University, and Lasanda Calton of Portales.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Austin--One popular investment today, and periodically throughout the past, is fine jewelry. Gold jewelry, diamond rings, and other jewelry with precious metals and stones are being purchased in record amounts.

But it is often impossible for an inexperienced consumer to tell if a piece of jewelry or an uncut stone is what it is represented to be.

Reports from other states indicate there is a rash of deceptive practices in segments of today's jewelry market, although most jewelers are honest and depend on customer good will. Sometimes, however, even an unwary jewelry store owner may be "taken".

One report revealed that a jeweler who had been selling "amber beads" for years discovered when he had the beads tested that they were not amber at all. His foreign supplier had misled him.

Federal Trade Commission officials report that the problem is compounded by the fact that so few people who are taken advantage of by deceptive practices in the jewelry industry ever discover the deception and file complaints.

It is usually only when a person has a piece of jewelry appraised for insurance or when he tries to sell it that he becomes aware that he has been taken.

A diamond engagement ring is often the first piece of expensive jewelry many persons purchase. It's of great importance to select a highly reputable jeweler and to depend on his advice when picking a diamond, since for most couples an engagement ring is a major investment.

There are four things to consider when buying a diamond: carat, color, clarity, and cut. And there are two standard grading systems that classify diamonds by these four criteria.

One system is used by the Gemological Society of America, and the other by the American Gem Society.

Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division learned of a consumer who bought a diamond from one jeweler, only to have another jeweler appraise the stone a few months later at about half what he had paid for it.

To avoid such disappointments, have the jeweler indicate on the sales receipt the exact description of the diamond according to one of the two standards mentioned. The receipt should state which standard was used and should indicate precisely the diamond's carat size, clarity, color and cut. "Carats" and "points are terms of weight for diamonds. There are 100 points to a carat so a quarter of a carat is written ".25". It takes 142 carats to make one ounce. The Federal Trade Commission standards require that there be no more than one-half point variance from the exact weight in grading a diamond.

Diamond color can range from colorless to canary yellow, with the colorless ones generally preferred. A very few diamonds can be accurately described as "blue-white," but they are quite rare. Occasionally a diamond may naturally possess an unusual tint, but it is also true that artificial methods such as subatomic particle radiation, heat treatment, or chemical methods may be used to tint a diamond or to conceal an off-tint. Such treatment should be disclosed to the purchaser.

Clarity refers to the absence of imperfections in a diamond. Most of them have imperfections, but if they are not visible to the naked eye, the stone is more valuable. Most jewelers advise consumers to purchase a stone with as few invisible flaws as possible. They say that any diamond with visible flaws is likely to have poor resale value.

Cutting is the fourth thing to consider. It's the method by which jewelers shape a diamond and arrange its facets (or reflecting surfaces) to get brilliance and fire. Experts advise consumers not to compromise on the quality of a diamond's cut, since poor cutting can run a diamond's proportions and beauty.

Jade and American Indian Jewelry are two other types of jewelry especially popular today.

Because of increased trade with China and a corresponding interest in Chinese goods, Jade is now in the limelight. It has been valued in China for thousands of years, although the best jade comes from Burma.

Our attorneys have reports from a consumer agency in the East about a woman whose $6,000 "jade" jewelry piece turned out to be green garnet worth about $1,000 so investigate carefully before investing.

Due to the recent upsurge of interest in American Indian silver and turquoise jewelry, many amateur collectors are combing the market for good buys.

Experts warn, that it's not the cost of the materials that makes Indian jewelry so valuable, but the quality of workmanship, therefore, it is very important to rely on the guidance of a good dealer who generally trades directly with the tribes producing quality jewelry.

If you have a consumer problem, consult our Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

ALL AMERICA

is proud of the new Seniors! It is a traditional pride of a nation in the accomplishment of its youth.

We are especially proud of the young men and women who make up this class of graduates in our community. The reason is more than tradition... it is because in our memory we have never observed a finer group of young people who worked harder, or more confidently than these Seniors.

We wish the very best of everything to all of them.

Junior-Senior Prom 'Hula Nui'

Graduating seniors of Muleshoe high school and the junior honorees were transported Saturday night, May 18, via scenery and music to Hawaii, the Aloha state with its string of beautiful tropical isles in the Pacific Ocean.

It was a "Hula Nui" (in Hawaiian, a great, large; dance) with approximately 300 persons attending the festivities.

Both the junior class-school sponsored Junior-Senior Banquet held at the high school cafeteria, and the prom which preceded the banquet at the Catholic Center, carried out the theme of the 50th state's beauty and song.

Parents of the classes of 1974 and 1975 hosted the prom. Members of the school board, administration, faculty and other special guests attended the gala of 1974.

The Sledge Hammers of Clovis, N. M. furnished the "hula" (music) for dancing, as well as a clever mid-evening floor show.

Guests were greeted by pretty girls who looped a lei around their necks and were welcomed to a Muleshoe version of America's only island state. At the door Prom Chairman Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair and Mr. St. Clair gave their Aloha (greeting) in behalf of the other parent-sponsors. The guest book was ready under a gay umbrella beach stand table, bedecked with flowers, where each young woman guest received a souvenir dance program.

Lush thick growths of tropical plants and ferns encircled the ballroom, which featured brilliantly colored pua (flowers) and graceful palm trees. Tropical birds in cages and "on the loose" perched in trees and pineapple plants dotted the landscaped scenery.

The sparkling warm blue waters along sandy beaches which surround the island were depicted by a full sized wall mural. Glittering stars fell in abundance from a tropical night's ceiling.

Splashing gayly, a 10 foot waterfall framed by a tropical greenery flowers and beckoning lights became the backdrop for the malichini (newcomer, tourist guest) photography spot. Under the grass roofed cabana lit by sand candles was a serving table laden with a luau of fruit punch, sandwiches and basket of tropical fruit.

"Little grass shacks" were other added features of the decorations. The hula dancers, with their graceful motions, appeared earlier at the banquet.

Sponsors were the committee chairman and a special committee which included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin and Mrs. Harold Cowan, assistant chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanks, decorations chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jinks, Mr. and Mrs. John Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin St. Clair and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hall.

Mahalo (thanks) go to all parent-hosts who helped in so many ways, and to the several businesses to assisted in prom preparations and decorations, Chairperson St. Clair stated, "We hope it really was a "Hula Nui".

HULA SUCCESSYes, the dancing to the Sledge Hammers of Clovis made the hula (dance) and nui (great, large) success for some 300 persons attending. Susan Head is recognizable in the crowd.

STARS OVER HAWAII... Whether seated at a softly lit "sand candle" table or dancing under the glittering stars, the MHS juniors and seniors and their guests enjoy the '74 prom at the Catholic Center.

DIGNITARY TABLE ENJOYS MUSIC Sponsors and adult guests visit, with palm trees and the waterfall adding to Hawaiian theme mood.

LUAU TABLE POPULAR...Honorees and their dates Vickie Griffin, Jimmy Wisian, Bonnie Sain, (Kelly St. Clair, nearly hidden) Mike Glover and Helen Baldares enjoy the feast at the tropical grass hutted refreshment table.

ENJOYING THE PROM Mr. and Mrs. Lindal Murray and Tom Jinks seem to enjoy the prom, which followed the Jr. - Sr. banquet Saturday night.

"OVER FROM THE ISLANDS"....Clad in typical Hawaiian attire so perfect for the occasion are MHS faculty members Kerry Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Gist, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Taylor. Taylor, industrial arts instructor at MHS, was for the third year chairman of the Jr. - Sr. Banquet decorations. His four-six foot tropical birds were the most beautiful and outstanding decorations at this year's banquet.

UP IN FRONT...Sponsor committee chairmen (1 to r) Mrs. Irvin St. Clair, finance; Mrs. Kenneth Hanks, decorations; Mrs. Ernest Martin, assistant chairman; Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair, general chairman; and Mrs. Harold Cowan, assistant chairman, pose by "Little grass shack."

Treena Bass Is New Mascot

On May 13, 1974, the mascot tryouts were held. Treena Bass Amy Clark, and Benetta Roming all tried out for this. Each girl gave a speech on why they wanted to be mascot. The sixth and seventh graders then voted on who they wanted for mascot. After counting all the votes on the first ballot, a tie resulted. After one runoff against Benetta Roming and Treena Bass, the winner was Treena Bass. We are sure Treena will do a good job in helping the cheerleaders boost the Mules on to VICTORY.

Rehearsals Begins May

On Sunday, May 26, the rehearsals will start for the ninth season of "Texas". Members of the cast and crew and hospitality staff - about 140 people will gather in the Branding Iron Theatre on the Campus of West Texas State University to meet the staff and directors of the production, to have their pictures taken, to discuss the business of the show, and to receive their schedules for the next weeks. The cast rehearses 6 1/2 days a week, eight hours a day to get ready for the opening: singing, saying lines, blocking motion, and going through warm-up exercises so that each one will be able to run to his place on stage (sometimes a quarter of a mile from the dressing room) and to arrive calmly with enough stamina to sing or dance.

There are seven principal roles in the production. The actors who will appear in these parts are as follows, in the order of their appearance on the stage. Uncle Henry will be played by Dennis Sook, of Minnesota and New York, who comes to Canyon directly from a tour with the National Shakespeare Company which covered 30,000 miles in eight months. His early theatrical experience was in Minneapolis and St. Paul and he has B.A. degrees in speech and in theatre from Mankato College, Minnesota and Augustana in Illinois.

The second actor to appear is Calvin Armstrong, who will be played this year by Don Washburn. Don is a student at West Texas State University. His major roles include "A Man for All Seasons", "A Company of Wayward Saints",

"Camelot", "A Train Going Somewhere", "The Marriage", and "Macbeth". At the awards night for 1973-74 in the Branding Iron Theatre last Sunday, Don received awards for his roles as Tesman in "Hedda Gabler" the deaf mute in "Madwoman of Chailiot" and for his direction of Noel Coward's "Private Lives".

The "Texas" audience next becomes acquainted with Kate who will be played by a newcomer to the "Texas" stage Robin McKenzie Goodhue, wife of James Goodhue of Amarillo. She has made many appearances in Amarillo Area, however, and is well known to handle audiences through her work with the Diamond Horseshoe Supper Theatre, and the High Plains Center for the Performing Arts. Her many credits include performances at the Okoboji Summer Theatre at Spirit Lake, Iowa, the Front Street Theatre in Memphis, Tennessee, and Colony Catherine near Amarillo, Texas. While seeking her advanced degree at West Texas State University, this year she has appeared as "Z" in "Village Woking", Mme. Josephine in "The Madwoman of Chailiot", and Hedda Gabler in "Hedda Gabler".

Tuck soon appears to match wits with Kate, and for the seventh season, Jerry Williams will return to delight the "Texas" audiences in this role. He has whetted his skill in comedy through work at West Texas State University, and in Community theatres. During the day Jerry owns and manages Williams' Et Cetera, a shop of antiques and specialties, and also serves as a clinician in speech pathology, a field in which he is certified.

The fourth leading character in the ninth season of "Texas" is another newcomer to this production, Dwayne Hood who will play Dave Newberry. Dwayne holds a degree in music from Texas Tech University and is choral director at the Denver City High School. He is also director of the Denver City Community Chorale and has produced and directed: "The Sound of Music", "The Music Man", "Brigadoon", and "Lil Abner". His acting credits include roles in most of "The Devil and Daniel Webster", "Old Man in 'Androcles and the Lion'", and parts in many other musicals such as "West Side Story" and "Oklahoma".

Elsie comes on the stage in the show shortly after Dave. For the sixth season, after an absence of two years, Neva Chowning will appear in the role. She trained for her responsibility as leading lady with many appearances in important roles during her years at West Texas State University and received her B.S. degree. Now she has returned for her Master's work after becoming a licensed real estate saleswoman in Austin. Her major field is business and communications work in speech and finance. During this year she has directed "Hedda Gabler", played the lead in Noel Coward's "Private Lives", and was elected Best Actress for the year for her portrayal of Countess Aurelia in "Madwoman of Chailiot".

The seventh leading role introduced in the script is that of Aunt Anna. For the fifth season, Jane Lipscomb will support and scold Uncle Henry. As a member of two pioneer ranching families, she knows her role from the experiences of her own grandmother's. She received her B.A. degree from Texas Women's University, her graduate work from Columbia University. While in New York, she was a member of the Daltrey Opera Company. During the past year, she has given much time to the Amarillo Little Theatre, appearing in "Mame" and working diligently to arrange and publicize the costume shop in downtown Amarillo.

These seven actors and their accompany cast of 73 more people, will open the ninth season of "Texas" in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon and Amarillo, Texas on June 19, 1974. They will play nightly except Sundays through August 24, 1974. For tickets and information write to Texas, Box 268 Canyon, Texas, 79105 or call 806-655-2182. Showtime is 8:30 p.m. C.D.S.T.

Adequate Moisture Boost Wheat Yield

Although most of the area water, timely irrigation can still increase yields from 8 to 12 bushels per acre, says a Lubbock based agricultural engineer.

Leon New, area irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that in most cases, area wheat is in the soft dough stage of grain filling.

"Daily water use generally averages 2 to 2 1/2 inches every 10 days during this stage," he explains. "This means that available soil moisture in many wheat fields has declined considerably during the past 15 days. Even where moisture levels were high at the beginning of this period, soil moisture has dropped by approximately one-half or more."

"Where soil moisture has not been recently replenished," he adds, "an irrigation now appears to be a profitable use of water, especially light applications. Good soil moisture levels are important for normal grain development and to keep weight up."

The Extension specialist says that best yield increase per acre-inch of water comes from irrigations in May. An application during the heading to flowering stage usually boosts yield more than any single irrigation during the season, normally from 10 to 20 bushels per acre. An irrigation during flowering and another during early grain filling can increase yields 20 to 30 bushels per acre where plant growth and production potential have been maintained up to these stages, he adds.

As grain reaches maturity, wheat yield response from irrigation rapidly diminishes, new cautions. Very little, if any, yield increase can be expected from applications as wheat approaches the hard dough stage. Adequate moisture for this growth stage is generally available from earlier irrigations.

Delegates Work On Judiciary Article

Constitution Convention Delegates almost completed initial debate this week on the Judiciary Article, but recessed until Monday at 2:00 p.m., with three amendments and two proposals for separate submission still pending. Debate on this Article has progressed rather smoothly because of the years of study on Judicial Reform by Committees of the Legislature, the State Bar Association, legal scholars, and various study committees.

A unified judicial system designed to provide for more effective and efficient administration of justice in Texas is the goal of the Judiciary Article. The Article provides for a merger of the Court of Criminal Appeals with the State Supreme Court, creation of a Judicial Council to equalize case loads between courts and prescribe other rules of administration, and provides for a system of Circuit Courts to perform duties now assigned to County Courts at Law.

County Judges will not have to be lawyers, all judges other than Municipal judges will be elected by qualified voters, and Justice of the Peace Courts will remain unchanged. Salaries of all judges in the unified judicial system will be paid from state funds.

While there were sharp differences of opinion during debate, most delegates were obviously trying very conscientiously to work out intricate details to perfect the best possible unified judicial system for Texas. Debate should be completed Monday or Tuesday on the Judiciary Article, followed by debate on the General Provisions Article and its controversial sections on right to work and the environment.

"WE WANT TO MAKE A GOOD IMPRESSION - SO PUT YOUR BEST FOOT FORWARD"

Lt. Governor's Report

By Bill Hobby

AUSTIN - The Finance Article tentatively approved by the Constitutional Convention represents a substantial reorganization of many provisions on finance and taxation.

It provides for a major reform of ad valorem taxes, imposes more restraints on state borrowing, and provides more flexibility in the use of public funds and public credit.

One substantial change requires that all real and tangible personal property be taxed on the basis of market value and at the same effective rate.

The present Constitutional requirement that all property be taxed equally is generally regarded as unenforceable since tax assessors have found no way to levy taxes on intangibles such as stocks, bonds, mortgages, cash, etc.

The new article provides the tools for the Legislature to overhaul our badly faltering ad valorem tax valuation system. It will require each county to appraise periodically all taxable property according to state-wide standards. Each taxing authority in the county would use this appraisal, but would be left free to set its own tax ratio and rate.

Another change would require the Legislature to give special tax consideration to real property devoted to farm or ranch purposes. Similar special treatment is authorized for land in timber production.

These provisions provide for appraisal based on productivity rather than market value. They are designed to protect the farmer and rancher in areas where development is making land worth more for commercial purposes than for farming and ranching.

The new Finance Article proposal continues the Highway User Fund unchanged. Income from motor fuel taxes still would be distributed on the basis of 75 per cent to highways and 25 per cent for public schools.

The proposed article continues the pay-as-you-go principal presently contained in our Constitution.

which are not now included due to loopholes in the present Constitution.

The article omits any reference to a state income tax, leaving the option open to future Legislatures. The present Constitution specifically authorizes a state income tax.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
The State of Texas: To Guadalupe Cortez, Jr., Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Bailey County at the Courthouse thereof, in Muleshoe, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 1st day of July A.D. 1974, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 28th day of January A.D.

1974, in this cause, numbered 3690 on the docket of said court and styled Anna Marie Cortez Plaintiff vs Guadalupe Cortez, Jr.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows:
to-wit: Divorce, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

How much noise emanates from tractors and other farm machinery is not one of those things about which farmers have been overly concerned. But if the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has its way the question may become more important than anyone would have thought possible a few years ago.

OSHA is proposing a noise standard for agriculture. The proposal has not been published, but it is on the way, and as written would impose an expensive, time consuming and largely useless set of noise monitoring and protection rules on all farm employers regardless of classification or size.

Hearings on the Proposed standards are scheduled for May 29 and 30 in Washington, so there is a chance that OSHA regulations on acceptable noise levels and the required protection against unacceptable noise will be reasonable and practical.

Very little information is available on either the amount of noise exposure in agriculture or its effect on employee hearing. And the absence of such information makes it impossible to determine, first, if there is a problem, and second, whether any problem which may exist can be corrected by practical means. One of OSHA's prime considerations in this area should be the fact that, unlike much of industry, nearly all exposure to noise in agriculture is frequently interrupted by periods of quiet. This fact has been pointed out by OSHA to the Standards Advisory Committee on Agriculture, the Texas member of which is Tony Price, Executive Vice President of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas.

The proposed regulations

Advisory Committee, noting that medical surveillance is one of its greatest concerns, says
"Audiometric testing and monitoring in the present agricultural environment is neither economically feasible nor practical," adding that "In one state alone, we are looking at the monumental undertaking of testing approximately 100,000 individuals at over 300 widely dispersed locations."

Summing up its statement, the Advisory Committee said
"Finally, and foremost, this committee believes the proposed standard in its present form is not practical in its application to agriculture until further study is developed on noise levels, exposures, and the feasibility of controls."

If Cattle's Still King, Lamb's A Millionaire

AUSTIN—"Texas is the number two producer of U. S. lamb but has the dubious distinction of being one of the smallest—if not the smallest—in per capita consumption in the United States," said Agriculture Commissioner

John C. White. Last year Texas marketed $49.5 million in sheep and lambs, second only to New Mexico. Around 95 percent of slaughtered lambs were shipped east and to the West Coast where appreciation for the little animal runs high. Persons with ties to the Near East and countries like Greece and Ireland are raised with lamb in their diets. In Texas, however, where cattle has always been king and the appearance of sheep once was enough to start a range war, lamb is still branded with the epithet "mutton." The prejudice was further instilled during World War II when mutton and poorly prepared lamb were served in mess halls around the world. "There are many men who remember that experience and don't want their wives to serve lamb," White said. But those days are over. Mutton, strong-tasting meat from adult sheep, is found only in sausage or processed meat. Only 367,000 head of Texas sheep were slaughtered last year compared to 1.1 million lambs. Lambs are slaughtered between 4 and 12 months. Because they are young, their meat is tender. Lambs are fattened on grass for 4 months, White explained. Those not slaughtered then are sold to feedlots. This relatively new practice has permitted the lamb industry to develop into a year-round business. Previously most lambs were slaughtered in the spring. Hence, the name spring lamb.

Most Texas lambs are slaughtered in two San Angelo meat packing firms and loaded into refrigerated trucks for transport to major distribution areas. Transportation is one reason why more lamb is not delivered in Texas. "A trucker can take a 30,000-pound load non-stop to Chicago," said White. "But only a few major chains sell enough lamb in Texas to buy in such huge lots. Selling it in small amounts adds considerably to delivery costs." The picture may be changing, however, as out-of-state people continue to settle in Texas, bringing with them a taste for lamb. The meat is available in some metropolitan supermarkets in a variety of cuts, and consumer demand will increase the market, White said. The Texas Department of Agriculture promotes the sale of Texas lamb during May and June as part of its TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) program. "It is a versatile meat that can be roasted, barbecued, broiled and stewed," White said. "Price varies according to cut, just as it does for beef. We're hoping Texans will experiment a little bit this summer with home-raised lamb. They may find out they enjoy it."
