Jaycee Installation Held Here Friday

Baccalaureate, Commencement Joined

The 23rd Annual Installation Banquet of the Muleshoe Jaycees took place Saturday night May 25, at the Muleshoe Catholic Center with the installation of new officers for 1974-75.

New officers installed were Charles Moraw, president; Monty Dollar, first vice-president; Butch Duncan, second vice-president; Royce Harris, secretary; Bob Finney, treasurer; Bill Russell, State Director; and Hugh Young, reporter.

New directors will be Ted Barnhill, Dick Kelton, Mike Armstrong, Joe Mata, Bob Addison and Jack Hysinger, Gene McGuire will be the new chaplain.

Bill Blackburn, National Director for Area I-A from Amarillo, installed the new officers, Master of Ceremonies for the banquet was JCI Senator Kenneth Henry.

Several awards were presented and the highlight of the evening was the naming of Gil Lamb as Citizen of the Year. Other awards presented were Bill Russell, Outstanding Jaycee; Monty Dollar, Keyman Award; Monty Dollar, Outstanding Committeeman; James Brown, Outstanding Committee Chairman; and Wayne Hollingshed was presented the Travel Trophy on behalf of the Lubbock Jaycees.

All of the outgoing officers and directors were presented the Presidential Award of Honor by the outgoing president, Bill Russell.

There was a dance held afterwards at the Muleshoe Country Club.

The Muleshoe Jaycees would like to thank Jeff Smith, banquet chairman and his committee, Curtis Walker, Pat Sultenfuss and Bob Finney. Also the Muleshoe Jaycee-ettes on a job well done for their work on the decorations and settings.

A special thanks goes to Stan Black and everyone at the XIT Restaurant who catered this banquet.

CAPITOL FLAG FLIES OVER MHS....A flag that was flown over the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C. on May 14, 1974, has been received by Muleshoe High School. Senator Lloyd Bentsen sent the flag to Muleshoe High School. In the letter accompanying the flag, Bentsen stated "During recent conversations based on your letter on the school lunch program, Larry Meyers told me of the efforts by you (Neal Dillman) and Tom Jinks to instill a strong feeling of patriotism in your students. I applaud your efforts in this regard and thought the enclosed flag would be of interest to the students of your school system." The flag was raised Tuesday, May 28, and flew over Muleshoe High School all day. Next semester, the flag will be flown over all of the Muleshoe schools at some time. Pictured raising the flag are members of the MHS Student Council, Robert Shafer, Dusty Davis, Maribeth Dillman, Mike Bland, Susie Cousatte, John Gunter, Perry Poynor and Gary Gunter.

With The Journal Staff

Twelve students from the Muleshoe area are among 256 students named to the Dean's Honor List at South Plains College for the spring of 1974.

A total of 67 students earned a 4.0 grade point average or all A's, announced Nathan Tubb, academic dean at SPC. Students must maintain a 3.25 grade point average and carry at least 12 hours in order to be named to the list, he explained.

Muleshoe students on the honor list include Cassandra Cargile, Mrs. Jessie L. Posey (all A's) and Mrs. Jean Seiber (A's).

Students from around the Muleshoe area named to the honor roll include Steven Kaltwasser of Farwell; John K. Anderson (all A's), Janet K. Britton and Jesse Castillo, all of Earth; Cleason B. Stanberry (all A's) of Bovina; James L. Turnbow of Lariat; and Michael L. Cleavinger, Darla K. Dear and Karen A. Dear, all of Springlake.

Mrs. Joyce Osburn of Milpitas, California, daughter of Mrs. Corda Taylor, and her granddaughter, Karen Osburn of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, visited with Mrs. Taylor for several days and left for their home Thursday.

Mrs. Taylor served a buffet supper for special friends of her daughter, Joyce.

Guests who visited were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kelly of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hand of Texico, her aunt Mrs. Torado Servatius of Texaco, and Mr. and

The program is scheduled for six (6) weeks and will begin June 10 and end July 19. The Muleshoe Junior High Building will be the designated campus and classes will be from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m., Monday through

Feedgrain Supplies Up, Prices Down

College Station -- Sorghum producers in the United States can expect feedgrain supplies to increase during the next few months, thus bringing prices down. Of course, much of the outcome depends on the world feedgrain situation and the weather, says a grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"We are now moving into the transition period between grain crops, so the market will tend to overreact to any news--good or bad," points out Roland Smith. "Producers will want to keep abreast of the situation, since the way they market their 1974 crop will have a sizeable impact on their income. Current indications are that a sorghum price of around $3.50 per hundredweight can be expected during the coming season."

According to Smith, the prospect for increased supplies and lower prices is brought on by a record feedgrain crop in the making and uncertain demand factors. He expects both domestic and export buyers to stay out of the market for a while to see where the price will stabilize. This will result in sluggish forward contracting for the new sorghum crop through early summer.

"Although sorghum production will be down slightly this year with about a one percent decrease in planted acres, corn acreage is expected to increase a whopping 10 per cent. This will set the stage for the feed grain market," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Any change in fuel and fertilizer supplies could also have a measured effect on the feed-grain market, adds Smith.

The Muleshoe High School Class of 1974, consisting of 105 students, graduated Friday night, May 24, in ceremonies held at the Muleshoe Junior High gymnasium.

Maribeth Dillman on the piano and Wayland Etheridge, organ, played the processional and recessional. Escorts were Terri Crane and Marshall Pool.

The invocation was given by Rev. Timothy Schwertner, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

Don Long, president of the Senior Class, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

Fred Mardis, principal of High School, made announcements and Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker.

Rev. H.D. Hunter gave the Baccalaureate sermon. He is the minister of the Assembly of God Church of Muleshoe.

Opening his salutatory address with a tribute to three MHS faculty members, Steve Block recognized Kerry Moore, "head of the best speech department in the State"; Eric Smith, science instructor who "was there in times of need"; and Burl Block, "four languages instructor, who worked hard for the students...and my dad".

"Education is like planting a garden, and the mind is like a garden...it may run wild or be a fruitful garden", Block stated.

Correlating his theme of education to a garden, Block told of four steps necessary for the garden, or mind's growth. "Planting, cultivating, watering, and most importantly, fertilizing are especially vital in secondary level of education's gardens. "Many minds have too much fertilizer..." Block said.

"We can climb up on the golden stairway of education, or let it pass. Education should lead to better and finer lives, or it can be unhappy and useless," he concluded.

"Success is being the best of whatever you are. Be yourself be not an imitator". Valdictorian Regina Poteet told the MHS commencement audience.

"Each new day is an opportunity to start all over again. So let us not clutter up today with the leavings of yesterday. There are dreams and horizons open."

Miss Poteet began her address with reminiscing that four years ago "with eager minds we entered the hallowed halls of Muleshoe High School...We obeyed the rules...and then became seniors...the ruling class."

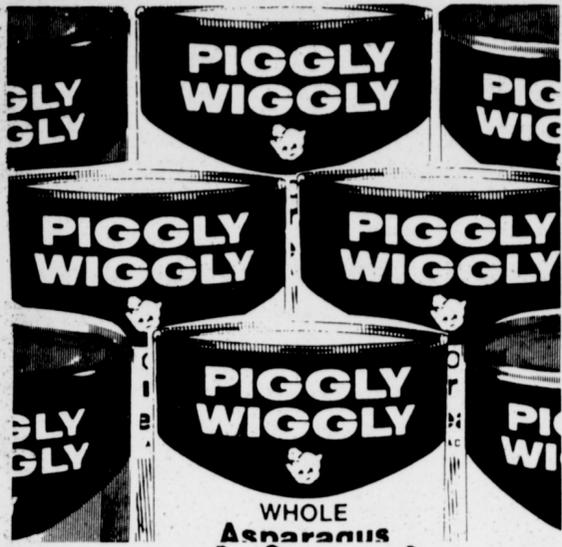

She thanked parents, teachers and classmates for "Friendly helping hands" during the year.

"Our past is past and will never return; our future we know not, and only the present can be called our own. Do not mourn the past or sit idly by while dreaming of the future."

Sen. Tower Speaks On School Busing

The Senate has just finished, after more than a week of debate, the Education Amendments of 1974 containing federal aid to elementary and secondary education. While there are some very good provisions included in this act, such as my proposal to establish a bilingual educational training program, I was disappointed that we fell only one vote short of approving a tough anti-busing provision.

I am very encourage, however, that the bilingual vocational training program is on the verge of final approval. It is anticipated that this provision will be an extension of Title VII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act which provided funds to local education agencies for programs to benefit children with limited English speaking ability. This program has been a major success and needs to be expanded both in terms of its scope and its funding.

The bilingual vocational training act will primarily benefit those individuals with limited English speaking ability who are not in school, and who wish to obtain additional skills. The objective is to remove barriers to limited English speaking citizens as they strive to obtain better jobs in the private sector. It is immediately apparent that this proposal will bring new opportunities to literally hundreds of Texans.

During Senate debate on the education amendments, my colleagues and I worked very hard to adopt a tough anti-busing provision which would have prohibited the forced busing of school children beyond the school nearest or next-nearest to their home, and further limited its use to a measure of last resort. This is the language that was approved by the House of Representatives earlier by a margin of 3 to 1.

While the anti-busing proposal for which we have fought in the Senate for some three years lost by only one vote, we may still find encouragement.

As we all know, the people of Texas by overwhelming margins have shown time and again that they are opposed busing of school children only to achieve a racial balance. As a matter of fact, numerous polls and studies have shown this practice to be rejected nation wide by substantial numbers.

Despite our narrow loss on the tough anti-busing proposal, the Senate did adopt an amendment which provides a mild curb on the authority of federal district judges to order busing as a remedy in desegregation cases. The language of this proposal is similar in many respects to that approved by the House. However, the Senate version applies only to future court orders, without any provision for reviewing and modifying the existing ones.

Furthermore, the Senate amendment contains the restriction that the ban against busing beyond the next-nearest school need not be observed by the courts if they find it is inconsistent with constitutional requirements for abolition of segregated school systems, or the equal opportunity guarantees of the 5th and 14th amendments.

This language would leave the ultimate decision of whether to order busing to the discretion of the courts. But since the Supreme Court, itself, has urged Congress to provide direction in this critical area, I feel that they will be at least somewhat responsive to the will of Congress.

Secondly, the Senate overwhelmingly approved a prohibition against implementation of a court busing order during the school year, which indicates an awareness of the severe disruption such orders cause, and an acknowledgement that they have a detrimental effect on the educational process.

Thirdly, I think we must remember that less than two years ago anti-busing amendments similar to the one considered last week were being defeated by a margin of 2 to 1 in the Senate, and were receiving only narrow approval in the House of Representatives. This year we lost by only one vote in the Senate, and the House margin of approval has increased to approximately 75 percent. Certainly we must acknowledge the significant advance which these voting figures represent, and if the trend continues at its present rate, we may be very optimistic that at the next opportunity we will be successful.

Finally, the Senate action last week was not definitive. A conference committee of representatives from both the House and Senate will now attempt to reach a compromise between the differing provisions of the present bill which will be acceptable to both the House and Senate as well as the President. Certainly we cannot overlook the strong pressure which will be exerted during this conference for a compromise anti-busing provision which accurately reflects the sentiments of everyone.

We have accomplished a great deal. We still may emerge with an effective statutory curb on the discretionary power of federal judges to order the forced busing of our school children to achieve racial balance.

Daiton, M.D., Cardio-vascular Surgeon; all of Lubbock. The topics to be covered range from "Respiratory Therapy: Old and New" to "Open Heart Surgery".

The highlight of the symposium will be the Friday evening banquet where Dr. Page will speak on "Ten Ways to a Longer Life - All in Fun." All interested persons are invited to attend. Eight hours credit are being offered by the American Academy of Family Physicians, as well as the Texas Nursing Association Continuing Education for Recognition Points.

Cost for the banquet Friday evening is five dollars (a luncheon is also offered Friday for an additional cost of five dollars).

Contact Howard Wright at St. Mary of the Plains Hospital, 806-792-6812, ext. 233, for pre-registration or additional information. Participants need to be pre-registered.

Lowery Named To Post For Water Inc.

John W. Lowery, a longtime Lubbock business and civic leader has been named Director of Field Services for Water, Inc. In the position, Lowery will direct the organization's membership cultivation, area organization and public education activities.

Water, Inc., is a non-profit corporation working toward a water importation project for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. It is supported wholly through membership dues.

"We are most fortunate that Lowery has joined our organization's staff," said Duncan Ellison, executive director. "His many years as a dairy company executive and his civic activities have equipped him well for his Water, Inc., work."

Lowery has been a Lubbock resident since World War II. He was vice president of Bell Dairy Products, Inc. from 1948 until 1964. After two years of retirement he rejoined the firm as marketing director for both Bell and Creamland Dairies, Inc. of Albuquerque. A member of the Lubbock Lions Club he has served as president and twice as deputy district governor of Lions District 2TL He has served ed as the Lion's chairman of the coaches All-American Game for the past four years. He is a past president of Dairy Product Institutes of Texas, past chairman of Milk Industry Foundations and past director and public relations chairman for the Lubbock United Fund.

Lowery is married and has a son now serving with the armed forces in West Germany.

Grain...

cellent feedgrain crop appears making in the Southern Hemisphere. South Africa and Argentina are recovering from severe droughts of a year ago and their feedgrain crops will be moving into the world markets soon. A bumper crop in these countries could mean some stiff competition for the United States in the export market.

"Some slowdown in the livestock feeding industry could decrease the domestic demand for sorghum," points out Smith. "Some cutback is already evident."

So, the market situation for sorghum and other feedgrains will be in a state of fluctuation during the next few months. Sorghum should be favorably priced with corn this fall as more corn moves to market. Until then, producers will have to keep a close eye on market developments.

Seniors...

The time to be happy is now. The place to be happy is here. The way to be happy is to make others happy," the Valedictorian concluded.

Fred Mardis then presented the Class of 1974 and Aubrey Heathington, president of the school board, awarded diplomas.

The Senior Class of 1974 then rose and sang their class song, "A Place In The Sun."

The benediction was given by Rev. Glenn Harlin, minister of the West Camp Baptist Church.

Honor students for the class were Regina Margaret Poteet, Steven Clark Block, Terri Lee Bryant, Cynthia Kay Chandler, Kim Lee Cowan, Glenda Pam Harlin, Susan Yvonne Head, Le-Keith Herman, Michael Keith Jones, Fred Wesley Locker, Darla Denett Man, Sammie Ann Mardis, Bonnie Marie Sain, Lula Danita Throckmorton, Larry A. Torres, David Joe Wheat, Brenda Kay Weeks, Sharon Kay Wrinkle, and Donna Gayle Her-ring.

Class officers for the Class of '74 were Don Long, president; David Wheat, vice-president; Glenda Harlin, secretary; Brenda St. Clair, treasurer; Kim Cowan, reporter; and Tim Black, parliamentarian.

Class sponsors were Kerry Moore, Burel Block, Mrs. Lucy Faye Smith, and Mrs. Cheryl Gist.

Following the combined Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises, a reception was held in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

Godless Parents

At first blush, the Wilsons—seeking to adopt a baby boy—seemed to be well suited for parenthood. They were a devoted, idealistic young couple, with high standards of morality.

But there was a problem. They did not believe in a Supreme Being. Was this grounds for disqualifying them as adoptive parents?

After a court hearing, the judge said it was not and granted the adoption. It would be unconstitutional, he said, for the state to require a belief in God in order to adopt a child.

"The First Amendment not only requires the state to be neutral between various religions," added the judge, "but between religion and non-religion as well."

Most courts would agree that a belief in God is not essential. Nevertheless, religious attitudes may carry at least some weight in the determination of parental fitness.

Thus, in another case, a court ruled in favor of adoptive parents (and against the child's own father) partly because of the religious atmosphere of their home. As one judge put it:

"Religion and morality are inextricably interwoven in the lives of most people in this country, and belief in the tenets of a religion may be indicative of moral fitness in a particular case."

Furthermore, it usually helps if the would-be parents and the child have the same religion. Often, state laws call for this "matching up" of religious affiliations.

But again, this is not a hard-and-fast rule. Thus, courts have allowed non-matching adoptions when it would take considerable time to find adopting parents of the same faith.

Reason: the importance of promptness in arranging placements.

"In view of the emphasis placed by child care experts on a stable and wholesome environment in early infancy," said one court, "delay must be deemed detrimental."

Junebug, Meanest Bug On Plains

Lubbock -- "Junebug" or May beetle may be what you call one of the most common, destructive insects on the Rolling Plains. Its common name is carrot beetle and entomologists call it Bothynus gibbosus but it's a destructive nuisance by any name.

Though not so numerous on the High Plains, it's still the main hold up to commercial sunflower production.

It is found all over the U.S. northern Mexico and southern Canada but it seems to do especially well on the High and Rolling Plains. On the Rolling Plains it may sometimes number several hundred thousand beetles per acre.

The carrot beetle not only destroys carrots; it goes after beets, potatoes (sweet and Irish), celery, parsnips, small grains, corn, tomatoes, peppers, cantaloupes, watermelon, cotton, and commercial sunflowers. And it also feeds on the roots of a large number of native plants, further boosting its number. Much secondary damage to desirable plants is caused by skunks, possums, coons, and coyotes digging up the beetles for food.

This pest is no numerous and destructive that the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has several scientists researching ways to control or contain it. One of these is an entomologist, Charlie E. Rogers, at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Chillicothe-Vernon. Rogers says so far no chemical they've used seems to faze the carrot beetle. It just keeps right on digging innumerable holes in the ground, eating roots and killing or damaging whole fields of plants. But the Experiment Station will test other chemicals, until an effective one is found.

Meanwhile, on the biological front things look more encouraging. Rogers says TAES researchers have discovered two species of parasitic flies and one species of mite that parasitizes adult beetles. Also, three or four species of ground beetles were found hatching among carrot beetle eggs. The larvae of these ground beetles prey on the immature carrot beetles. And, as yet unidentified fungus or bacterium killed a large number of both carrot larvae and adults. Eggs are sometimes attacked by a fungus and fail to hatch.

"Though as yet no chemical seems to control this pest," Rogers says, "we will continue to check for one that does. And we will expand our search for natural enemies of the beetle that, perhaps with our help, can multiply and bring this pest under control."

"Meanwhile, our past research indicates some measures we're taking to combat this pest:

1. Clean cultivate in and surrounding field crops to eliminate native sunflower and careless weed, the natural host plants of adults. This will also reduce the breeding sites of the carrot beetle and prevent the accumulation of organic material in the soil which larvae feed on.
2. Light traps or homemade devices combining lights and tubs of water to drown beetles can help keep numbers down. Light traps we use are standard USDA 40 watt black light models. The bucket of each trap has two Vapone insecticide strips for killing trapped beetles. These strips are changed every seven days. The most beetles we've caught in one trap in one night were an estimated 45,000. Catches often average 10,000 to 15,000 per night between April and November.
3. We avoid placing regular lights around holding pens for cattle. Beetles congregate around lights and manure furnishes organic material they like for breeding sites."

Work on the carrot beetle is also being done on the High Plains at Lubbock. George Teetes, TAES entomologist, says the carrot beetle is the principal obstacle to expanded production of oilseed sunflowers on the High Plains. Though the carrot beetle infestations are not as severe on the High Plains as on the Rolling Plains they're still very destructive.

This difference is apparently due to tighter soils and the lack of availability of alternate hosts.

Teetes says that this year part of their work will be determining principal areas of infestations. This will be done with small plantings and light traps.

"The full potential of sunflowers on the Plains has been recognized but will be difficult to assess until the carrot beetle is contained," concludes Teetes.

Nursing Home News
by Myrtle Guinn

Mrs. Mildred Davis took her mother home on Tuesday afternoon. We were happy to meet these lovely people.

Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Small came to see his sister, Mrs. Miller on Thursday. The Smalls are from California. Mrs. Miller hadn't seen them for about three or four years, so it was a very pleasant surprise visit. A nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Small also came and they had a very nice visit together while here. Mrs. Artie Raye O'Hair came with them. She is Mrs. Miller's daughter of Bovina.

Mrs. Chubby Douglass and daughter, Andra Kay, came to see Mrs. Hall Saturday. Mrs. Hall kept Andra Kay when she was a small child.

Mrs. Bennett came to see Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Guinn on Monday.

Mrs. Markley visited Mrs. Hall Sunday. She lives in Dimmitt.

Those visiting Mrs. Whitford were her sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. Almon Whitford, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Bearden, Mrs. Trulock, Bonnie Green, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boone.

Mrs. Malby is in room 80 and seems to be doing as well as expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood of California visited his mother Mrs. Norwood and brother Louie and wife over the weekend and spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Louie Norwood. They expect to return home to California the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hall and their mother, Mrs. Hall expects to visit the cemetery at Friona on Monday.

The first Church of Christ came Sunday afternoon and sang songs for us. We enjoyed them very much and hope they come again.

Mrs. Guinn went to her sons Mr. and Mrs. Allen Guinn on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fulcher who is 100 years old plays her french harp nearly every day. We listen to her sweet music and think it marvelous she can play.

Mrs. Choat passed away on Saturday. She was a very remarkable woman and we will miss her.

Mrs. Gibbs passed away a few days ago she was in her 90's and a very sweet precious woman to all of us.

Mrs. Harris is a dear sweet woman.

The first United Methodist ladies hosted a birthday party here, Tuesday, for those having birthdays in May. There was music and singing. Punch and doughnuts were served to three having birthdays and the guests. It was all very nice and enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Emmanuel also had visitors. Her sister Mrs. Lura Northcutt and Mrs. Aileen Edwards, also Mrs. Dorothy Brock and daughter Carolyn.

Mrs. Perry's sisters visit her every day. Mrs. Thompson has returned to Arizona. She has been here several weeks.

Mrs. Dorothy Stark from Levelland came to see Miss Murray Sunday.

This is a very wonderful little prayer and I enjoy it as I read and pray it daily. "Lord make me an instrument of thy peace, where their is hatred let me sow love; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and when there is sadness, joy."

Our thanks go to the Muleshoe Journal for their prompt delivery of papers and faithfulness in picking up the news items.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Twaddell of Amarillo came to see her mother, Mrs. Brown on Tuesday bringing her gifts of hose and candy and taking her out to dinner.

Among those coming to see Mrs. Lewis this week were Leon Murial and Kirk, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Annie Stevens, Mrs. Danforth, Mrs. Locker and granddaughter and the ladies of the church.

MINI-ACTIVITY DAY

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU Mrs. Annie Stevens, 90 years old; Mrs. Danforth, 84 years old and Ben Williams 73 years old were honored with a birthday party Tuesday, May 21 at the Muleshoe Nursing Home. The Mary Martha Circle of the United Methodist Church sponsored the party and Mary Young entertained.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I am disturbed over the letter from the man whose wife had left him and who was trying to locate her. Perhaps she was not happy with the people and kind of lives they were living in her congregation. I left a community such as this and sought the companionship of people who believed as I do. I pray that all of his family will be united once again and I am sure that if he prays and tries to live by his Bible all will come right again.

Answer:

There are many reasons why some people leave home. It may be that they feel they are being unfairly treated by other members of the family. Unless the cause for such actions is mental or physical brutality, a person will do well to examine himself or herself and try to find out if they themselves are not partly to blame. Some people have a way of rationalizing everything they do as the right thing. They fail to take into account the other person's point of view. No one is perfect and there are usually two sides to every controversy. I cannot blame a woman for leaving home if a husband becomes impossible to live with because of abuse or immorality but other than this there is always a chance of working things out if consideration and patience exist between the two parties.

RECIPE
By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Need a suggestion to boost lagging appetites? Sometimes a tasty bread adds zest to a meal. A green vegetable and a simple meat to compliment Jalapeno Corn Bread is met with delight by my family.

Jalapeno Corn Bread

3 c corn meal mix
3 T sugar
3 beaten eggs
1/2 c chopped jalapeno peppers
1 large onion, grated
1 c whole kernel or cream style corn
1/2 c vegetable oil
1 (8 oz) pkg. grated cheese

Preheat oven to 375 degrees (glass pan 350 degrees). Slightly grease 9 x 12 inch pan. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Pour into greased pan and cook for 30-35 minutes, or until done. Serve hot.

Stand In Line
"Kiss me, darling."
"Now?"
"Well, if you're going to dicker, forget it."

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION -- Beef, now at lower wholesale prices than it was a year ago, is one of the few food items boasting that distinction today, one expert says.

She's Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Consumer Marketing Information Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"Scattered beef specials now offer the comparative shopper good values on chuck cuts, sirloin and rib steaks, round steak and beef liver," she added.

At pork counters, Boston butt and loin roasts are in the spotlight, while other features include quarter loins cut into chops, smoked picnics and come brands of bacon.

Turning to poultry sections, Mrs. Clyatt cited chicken, eggs and turkey -- both whole bird and parts -- as economical. She termed turkey and egg supplies "large."

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at economical prices include apples, oranges, grapefruit and strawberries.

"Also, dry yellow onions, green onions, mustard, turnips and greens, cabbage, carrots, beets and radishes -- along with soft-shell, or summer, squash.

"Watermelon prices dropped this week as supplies started increasing, while cantaloupe and honeydew melons reflect varying prices, usually according to melon size," Mrs. Clyatt said.

She reported pineapples in fairly heavy supply -- and bananas in lighter supply with higher prices.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: chicken meat that turns darker near the bone after it's cooked indicates a young, tender bird.

Because today's chickens are marketed at earlier ages, bones aren't completely calcified. Bone marrow expands during slow freezing, as in home freezing, causing pigment to seep through the bone -- which doesn't affect taste or quality.

College Station -- Onion prices dipped to lowest levels of the year during the past two weeks, one authority reports.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A & M University System, estimated this year's onion crop 18 per cent greater than last year's, with prices three to four times lower.

Cabbage, carrots, broccoli, soft-shell squash, cooking greens, radishes and green onions are other "economically priced vegetables worth considering this week," the specialist said.

"Cantaloupe and strawberry supplies are increasing with prices more attractive, and this is the last 'peak' month for pineapple. Watermelons are more plentiful, but prices remain relatively high.

"Apples, bananas, oranges, avocados and honeydew melons show moderate prices," Mrs. Clyatt noted.

20% Of Texas Arrests Are 17-19 Year Olds

Austin--Twenty per cent of the arrests recorded by the 273,180 criminal fingerprint cards received at the Texas Department of Public Safety last year were of 17, 18, and 19 year olds, the DPS said today.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, added that the Texas percentages "appear to be consistent with those nationwide." Those in the late teen years arrested represent a combined total of 19.52 per cent of all arrests, he added.

Conversely, the oldest person whose arrest was reported by a fingerprint card was a 96 year old white male who was charged with theft.

The Identification and Criminal Records Division a DPS is the state's central collection agency for criminal history information and Joel Tisdale, chief of the operation, said his division experienced another record year.

The 272,180 criminal arrest fingerprint cards increased by 21,510 cards over the number for 1972. A daily average of 1,019 cards was submitted by 635 different Texas agencies and 18 out of state agencies.

Of the total number of cards processed, it was found that 65.18 percent had a prior record existing in the bureau. The remaining 34.82 percent were new to the system, Tisdale added. In the laboratories bureau, a section of ICR, the polygraph examiners increased their clearance of cases last year by 64 percent over 1972. In all they cleared 1,761 criminal cases.

Another sizeable increase came in the photography section where assistance in specialized photography on physical evidence instances rose from 131 cases to 186 during 1973 for a 42 percent hike.

Another area in which the lab's workload was notable came in the marijuana examinations. Combining the totals of the headquarters and the nine field labs, there were 40,157 tests conducted on marijuana during 1973, which shows an increase of 40.8 percent over the 28,519 examinations in 1972.

The firearms section cases increased from 355 cases in 1972 to 401 in 1973 for a 13 per cent climb. In all, they conducted 5,504 examinations of evidence.

Meanwhile, the questioned document section checked 3,422 documents as compared to 2,761 the previous 12 months, accounting for a 24 percent workload increase.

The modus operandi bureau, which keeps tabs on known criminals, improved its facilities so as to enable faster and more comprehensive service to police agencies. The bureau's files contain a variety of information including fingerprints, photos, and operational methods used by criminals active in Texas.

The latent fingerprint section received 4,461 latent fingerprint for examination and assistance was rendered 721 times to city, county, state, federal and military officers while aiding in 196 different investigations.

Forty-seven percent of the total services of the labs was given to assisting city police officers while 29 percent of the bureau's energies were contributed to helping DPS law enforcement officers. An additional 21 percent of the lab's efforts was aiding county officers. Rounding out the work load were assistance to federal and other requesting law officers.

And, during the year, the complete criminal histories of 73,337 individuals were coded and filmed which accounted for 492,034 separate documents.
