Cotton Heavily Damaged By Wind, Sand

About 30,000 Acres Damaged Saturday

It has been reported that about 30,000 acres of cotton in Bailey County were damaged by the severe wind storm on Saturday, June 8. John Fuston of the Bailey County ASCS reported that about 5,000 to 6,000 of the estimated damaged acres were completely wiped out. What cotton that was planted in the south part of the county was reportedly wiped out.

The blowing sand and static electricity in the wind burned the cotton plants so severely that they turned brown and died. Many farmers had large cotton losses while almost every farmer suffered some damage.

Fuston said that there were several programs through the ASCS office to partially cover the losses.

Former Bailey County Agent J.K. Adams reported to the Journal that the cotton crops were hurt extensively, some to the point that the results may show up in next fall's cotton harvest.

Adams stated that a lot of the damage was caused by the static electricity from the high winds carried in the air and going through the grounded plants.

Chances of making another crop at this late date, Adams said, is debatable. Dry land farmers can replant cotton if enough moisture is available, and hope for more moisture through the summer and a late freeze this fall. They can also plant grain sorghum in mid-June and hope for adequate moisture since it takes more time for the grain to mature than it does for the cotton. Time seems to be the most important factor. So it really is a toss-up. One alternative may look good to one farmer, while another farmer may choose another alternative.

Late June cotton planting is a big risk to farmers after putting quite a bit of money and time into a crop.

The drought conditions in Bailey County was a factor in the damage. If the moisture in the ground had been adequate, then the recovery of the plants would have been more rapid.

Evidently everything was hurt by the winds Saturday. Alfalfa, grain sorghum and corn were whipped around by the highwinds and leaves were cut off by the blowing sand.

Adams also reported that the outer perimeter of his alfalfa near the water sprinkler system was damaged by what looked to be frostbite. Evidently the fine mist from the sprinkler and the high winds reacted to form what looked like frostbite on the outer edges of the alfalfa plants.

Flag Project Not New To Jaycees

The Muleshoe Jaycees offer a very useful service to the people and the merchants of Muleshoe.

Their Jaycee Flag Project is beneficial to the merchants as they put up flags in front of businesses on each holiday. The cost of this service is just $15 per year and the Jaycees put the flags out and bring them in at night.

Bruce Peterson is chairman of this project this year.

The city of Muleshoe is divided into three routes, red, ing, June 11, with Ted Barnhill, chairman, presiding.

He reported that the hospital night project had been turned over to the hospital committee.

Tommy Black, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, reported on the chamber activities and reviewed the Fourth of July activities. He reported that the highlight of the celebration this year would be the barbeque for everyone at 6:30 p.m. that evening. Prices will be $2.75 per plate for adults and $1.50 for children. Parade participants will receive free tickets.

SOLOS AT 67 . . . John Thomson of Muleshoe soloed Saturday, June 8, for the first time. It is not unusual for a man to solo at the airport here, but this is an unusual case as Thomson is 67 years old. Thomson reported that he has had 14 lessons and has put in 18 hours. He has only been flying for a little over a month

now. He says he enjoys flying very much. He says most of the credit for his flying should go to Morgan Locker as he is his instructor. Thomson said anyone could fly if they had Locker as their instructor. Thomson intends to go on and get his private pilot's license.

School Board Hires Three New Teachers

The Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees met in regular session Monday, June 10.

The board heard the current financial report including reviewing balances of all categories of the operating fund; checked the bank balances of all school funds; approved payment of current bills and heard the current tax collection report, which showed that 95.6 per cent of the current taxes have been collected.

The members heard and discussed a request by the Chicano Unidos Campesinos, Inc. to use school facilities for the purpose of setting up a child day care center, for children four years old and under.

The use of any school building was denied by the board. They did approve the use of a designated playground, provided that a liability clause could be worked out.

The board reviewed the Summer Maintenance needs for all campuses and buildings. At Richland Hills Primary they will repair roof leaks, clean and wax all classrooms and corridor floors, order repair parts and fix leaking fountains, paint nurses office and restroom, repair holes in the black top on the parking area, clean and wax the lunchroom floor and replace broken windows.

At Mary DeShazo they plan to paint the gym and lunchroom, refinish the gym floor, clean and wax all classroom and corridor floors, clean and wash lunchroom floor, refinish wax lunchroom floor, refinish student desk tops, replace broken windows, and paint and repair playground equipment.

At Junior High they plan to clean and wax all classrooms and corridor floors, replace broken windows and ceiling tile, clean and resal gym floor, repair basket racks in P.E. dressing room, and paint dividers in the boys and girls rest rooms.

At Senior High they will clean and wax all classroom and corridor floors, replace broken windows, clean and resal gym and cafeteria floors, fix leaking faucets, repair west press box on the athletic field, install tile in the dressing rooms at the fieldhouse, repair irrigation well and refinish student desk tops.

The board also approved the painting of the Mary DeShazo Elementary Cafeteria and gym, the repair and deepening of the irrigation well on the Senior High campus, the remodeling of the press box on the football field, and approved making the necessary roof repairs on each campus.

The board appointed the Tax Equalization Board for 1974-75. Names will be released after the people who have been appointed have been contacted. This board will meet Tuesday,

Jaycees Discuss Plans At Weekly Meeting

The Muleshoe Jaycees met Monday June 10, 1974 for their noon general membership meeting with the President Charles Moraw, presiding. Invocation was given by the Chaplain Gene McGuire. Pledge of Alliance was led by Dean Seiber. The Jaycee creed was led by Dick Kelton.

Guests included Ray Halsell of Rascos, Andy Douglass of Tri-County Savings and Loan and special guest was Wayne Hollingshed, Past President of the Lubbock Jaycees.

Joe Mata reported on the Muleshoe-Stegall Opportunity Plan. This project helps Muleshoe students to further their education regardless of race, color, creed, and is vital to youths because of financial difficulties to continue their education. Tickets are now available from any Jaycee and for each one dollar donation, there is four chances for a half of beef or a half of pork. The drawing takes place July 4, 1974 at 8:00 p.m. at the High School Auditorium and you need not be present to win.

Royce Harris reported on the new work vest to be distributed to each new member and they will be ordered within the next two weeks.

Jaycee of the Month patches were discussed by members present Monday and will be ordered from the Lubbock Jaycees, who have a state franchise on these patches.

Gene McGuire reported on a new project for our club patches to be made up and sold at Conventions and conferences

JAYCEE FLAG PROJECT . . . Jaycee President Charles Moraw, left, and Jaycee Director Joe Mata, are shown as they inspect the flags before putting them up before businesses on a holiday. This project of the Jaycees has been in effect for about 10 years now. The Jaycees put up flags and take them down for merchants on holidays. This saves the merchant from having to pay an employee to come down on a holiday and put out the flag.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH . . . Mrs. Alice Burge, who is employed at the Muleshoe State Bank, was named Employee of the Month for the month of June. Presenting the plaque to Mrs. Burge is Ted Barnhill, chairman of the BAC. The Business Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture presents these awards to the most courteous employee each month.

Future Of Lake Falcon Discussed

A standing-room only crowd heard officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, International Boundary and Water Commission, South Texas and Zapata Chambers of Commerce and officials from the Republic of Mexico discuss the future of fishing in Lake Falcon.

Meeting in Zapata inland fisheries biologists of the TP & W outlined fish population trends in Falcon since its impoundment 20 years ago. Like so many other lakes of this vintage, game fish populations, notably black bass, are declining while rough fish are increasing.

The some 200 people at the meeting were vitally concerned with largemouth black bass fishing since most of their livelihood came from the sport fishermen who visited Falcon. What could be done to maintain the lake's fishing? Department inland fisheries chief Lonnie Peters of Austin explained that the department lacked facilities to produce stockable size bass in sufficient numbers for even Lake Falcon much less the rest of Texas' public and private waters. "Stocking bass in older, more established lakes is of limited value," said Peters. "Often the small bass we place in the lake are nothing more than expensive food for the large fish which are already there." Coordination is being made with the International Boundary and Water Commission to maintain water levels in Falcon during the spawning season of the bass to insure nesting sites and survival of young fish.

Peters also said that the department plans to stock Falcon with walleye in the near future. Walleye have shown tremendous potential in other Texas lakes with a rough fish problem. The predator fish are native to northern waters and feed heavily on shad, grow rapidly, and are fast becoming a popular game fish with Texas anglers. Peters also expressed hope for another species of introduced fish -- striped bass -- which could remedy some of Falcon's problems.

Stripers, however, would make spawning runs up the Mexican rivers which empty into Falcon and be susceptible to netters. The point was made to Mexican officials present at the Zapata meeting that netting must be controlled before striped bass could be stocked in Falcon.

Few friends come through when the majority is on the other side.

A MEMORIAL GIFT to the American Heart Association honors the memory of a loved one and provides hope for the living.

during the summer until some detailed plans could be worked out.

The board reviewed and studied the estimated income and expenditures for the budget for 1974-75 school year. The Maintenance Rate was raised .05 cents to 1.38. The Debt Service Rate will remain the same as last year, .34 cents. The total rate will be $1.72. The rate increase was necessary because of the following:

Inflation: non-funded State Legislative Programs passed by the last Legislature, including, Workman's Compensation, local cost; kindergarten program, bus and transportation laws, bilingual education programs, and a ten per cent increase in salaries for school personnel.

The firm of Williams and Merriman CPA's was selected to audit the 1973-74 school funds.

The board selected the Southwestern States General Agency of Dallas to handle the student and athletic insurance for the 1974-75 school year.

They also heard a summary of the Superintendent's Annual Report that is required to be filed with the Texas Education Agency in Austin each year.

The application and contract to receive Audio-Visual Media Services from Region 17, Education Service Center, Lubbock, was approved.

The board then approved the employment of the following school personnel:

David G. Lynn as assistant coach. He is a graduate of Eunice, New Mexico High School and holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from New Mexico State University. He has four years teaching and coaching experience at Tucumcari Public Schools. He is married and has one child.

Mrs. LaVaonne McKillip was transferred from eighth grade reading teacher to Junior High Librarian.

Loy Gene Hampton was employed as a Junior High teacher and coach. He is a graduate of Artesia New Mexico High School and holds a B.S. degree from Eastern New Mexico University. He has teaching field majors in English and Physical Education.

The board approved the employment of personnel for the Summer Migrant Program.

The following vacancies in positions were announced: Girls P.E. and Health, Choir Director, Auto Mechanics, Foreign Language, Homemaking, Speech Therapist, Special Education (Elementary), Assistant High School Coach, and teacher of Government and Driver's Education.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY Lloyd Bentsen, United States Senator

The President recently signed into law legislation to make government comply with a 1967 law which prohibits private employers from discriminating against older workers because of their age.

This is legislation which I authored and introduced because I feel strongly that government should not require private employers to meet standards which it does not meet.

The 1967 Age Discrimination Act forbids businessmen from discriminating against workers because of their age. But governmental units were not required to comply with the terms of that law.

For example, if a private businessman refuses to consider hiring workers who are middle age, or pays lower salaries to older workers, or if he places the major burden of lay-offs on the older workers, he is in violation of Federal law.

Under the terms of this law, a major oil company recently agreed to pay $2 million in back wages to 160 older employees it had discharged, and to hire 120 of them. And similar settlements have been negotiated by other industries facing enforcement of the law.

Inequity Corrected: Yet, until now, Federal, State and local governments have been exempt from the Age Discrimination Act. My legislation corrects this inequity by making the law apply to the government as well.

I first introduced this bill in the Senate two years ago. And I am pleased that after a long, hard struggle, a breakthrough has been achieved and the measure is now law.

As of this month, the Civil Service Commission has the authority to enforce compliance by the Federal government. And I am hopeful that soon we shall see beneficial effects from the legislation.

Federal agencies have now been ordered to pledge a policy on nondiscrimination on the basis of age in all personnel actions and to review all existing personnel practices in order to weed out roadblocks to workers over age 40.

It was disturbing to learn from a special Senate study that the Federal government far from being a model employer, may actually have been leading offender in applying pressure to coerce older employees to retire early.

The Senate study showed, for example, that Federal training programs are frequently "off limits" to older persons. It showed that the number of involuntary early retirements from Federal jobs has soared in the last several years.

And it showed that pensions for those who are coerced into retiring early are entirely inadequate.

Apart from the economic problems created by government pressures against older workers, this discrimination because of age can lead to what has been termed "a human tragedy." It adds to the feeling of uselessness which is so prevalent among older Americans today.

Productivity of Older Americans: Yet the myth that productivity is solely a function of age was long proven false. Older workers are among the most productive in many areas.

And our aim should be to let older workers know that their age is no bar to a productive life.

Medical science is steadily increasing man's life span. And at a time when such developments are taking place, it makes little sense to concentrate on moving older workers out of the government labor force.

Instead, we would be better advised to direct our efforts to improving employment opportunities for those over age 60, so that our older citizens may have the fullest opportunity to remain productive for as long as they have the ability and the desire to work.

Our nation must take advantage of the many talents and the resources that all Americans have to offer, regardless of age.

This new law ends the double standard, whereby we forbid private businessmen to discriminate against older workers but permit government to continue to discriminate.

Government will at last be forced to put its own house in order and strike down age discriminatory practices in its own back yard.

The Consumer Alert

By John L. Hill Attorney General

AUSTIN-- What do most people complain about to our Consumer Protection Division? Car repair problems.

Other attorneys general say that's the case in other states as well. And reports from the White House Office of Consumer Affairs bear this out. Car repair complaints to that agency have outnumbered by about four to one any other category of consumer problem.

Americans spend an incredible $25 to $35 billion a year on auto repairs and maintenance, according to Virginia Knauer, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs.

Much of this is for faulty repair work or for repairs that were not even made, she claims. Although most repair shops provide honest service for every dollar they charge, the few who don't can give the industry a black eye. That's why reputable repairmen are eager to alert consumers to certain questionable tactics.

While individual grievances vary widely, they say certain unethical practices seem to turn up more frequently than others nationwide. These include:

--Selling customers unneeded repair work or parts;

--Charging customers for repairs that were never performed;

--Quoting customers a low price for repairs, when actual charges turn out to be substantially higher;

--Making unauthorized repairs and requiring customers to pay for them before releasing their cars;

--Not allowing customers to view work being done on their cars and not showing replaced parts on their request;

--Advertising special low prices on repairs, then urging customers who respond to purchase more expensive repairs, and services (a tactic known as bait and switch); and

--Advertising "sale" prices that actually are standard prices.

In some instances, manufacturers have complained that a few of their authorized dealerships have prepared false repair orders, added unperformed service or repair charges to repair orders, submitted fictitious warranty repair orders for repayment, and falsely claimed that warranted repair work had been repeatedly performed on the same vehicle.

Recently, Dallas became the first city in the State to set up guidelines for car repair shops and require them to be licensed under a revised city consumer affairs ordinance. Many of those guidelines coincide with the following safeguards recommended by attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division:

1. Avoid unnecessary repair work by keeping your car properly maintained and serviced.
2. If the need for major repairs arises, get estimates in writing from at least three repairmen. Make sure the estimates cover the maximum charge, cost of actual work to be done, and when the repairs are to be completed.
3. If more work is necessary and the cost will exceed the estimate, make sure the repairman will notify you and get your approval before proceeding.
4. When you have a major repair ask for an itemized list of parts and repair costs. Then, if you should have the same difficulty just a short time later, the shop would be unlikely to charge you again for the same work or parts.
5. If you receive unsatisfactory service at a factory-author-

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is having a hard time understanding the stock market, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: While it has always seemed to me they were taking up time that could have been used for something more interesting, the television network newscasters every evening always give a report on the day's stock market, how many shares were exchanged and how many points the average share rose or fell. To me this is about as interesting as a nationwide weather report on what the average temperature was for all 50 states at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

However the other day something new crept in. Walter Cronkite reported that when a major bank in New York reduced its prime interest rate from 11.75 per cent to 11.60 per cent the stock market gained 19 points.

What this proves is that nobody listens to the networks' stock market report, because if they did somebody would figure out that if a drop in the interest rate of fifteen-one-hundredths of a cent can send the stock market up 19 points, think what dropping the interest rate a nickel would do.

If everybody in the country bought some stock a day before the interest rate came down, everybody would wind up rich, could pay off his bills and go back in debt at a much lower interest rate.

But times are too out of joint for something as simple as this. Why I read just the other day that a candidate had been indicted before an election. I never heard of that before. I thought you always waited till a man was in office and then indicted him. Then if he pleads guilty you give him a probated sentence so he can be free to write a book.

Say, I hope President Nixon is taking some experts along with him when he visits Russia so they can study capitalism. I understand the Russians, during the oil boycott which they secretly promoted, sold their oil right and left at double the usual price and made enough profit to pay for the wheat they bought from us a year earlier at about half price with money they borrowed from us.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Estate prices Up... Peanuts More Popular... Demand for Cotton Increases... Watermelons on Market... Hay Cutting Underway.

FARM REAL estate prices jumped over the United States by 21 per cent during the past year, from $233 to $280 an acre. Although the per-acre prices may be higher in some areas of Texas, latest figures show Texas farm real estate prices climbed by a more modest nine per cent. The jump was highest in Colorado, 33 per cent, and Pennsylvania was second with 31 per cent, followed by Alabama, Iowa and South Carolina with 30 per cent.

PEANUTS AND PEANUT BUTTER are being consumed by Americans more than ever, the USDA reports. There were 524 million pounds of shelled peanuts used in edible products from August through December, 1973, an eight per cent increase over the same period for 1972. Experts think the increased demand for peanuts came because of the higher prices for beef, dairy products and poultry. Growers received about two cents a pound more for peanuts in 1973 than they did the previous year... Peanut planting in Texas is more than 35 per cent complete, but moisture is short for planting in the Cross Timbers area.

COTTON CONSUMPTION is up over the world by about two million bales, to about 59 million. The carryover in the United States August 1 is expected to be 3 1/2 million bales, below a previous USDA estimate because export volume now is expected to increase. Cotton planting in Texas is about 70 per cent complete, compared to 75 per cent at the same time last season. Planting is making rapid progress on irrigated fields on the High and Low Plains, but more rain is needed on the High Plains to complete planting. Boll weevils and flea hoppers are reported in cotton in the southern half of the State.

WATERMELONS are ripening in the Coastal Bend area where labor and truck shortages have been reported. Watermelon harvest is expected to begin in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, and vines are in the bloom stage in East Texas... Sweet corn and tomatoes are beginning to ripen in Central Texas, and harvest of peppers, eggplant, squash, potatoes and cucumbers continues on the Upper Coast. Squash and cucumber harvest is over in the Coastal Bend and sweet corn and carrot harvest is almost over in that area.

HAY CUTTING is underway all across Texas, and yields of this first cutting are reported good. Prospects for a second cutting are good in East Texas but most of the western half of the State needs rain for the second crop. Rainfall during the week ending June 1 helped many areas in East Texas and Southeast Texas. Areas north of Beaumont were reported to have had five inches during the week.

NUMBER OF broiler chicks placed and the number hatched were down slightly during the week ending May 25. There were 3,839,000 placed, which is two per cent below the same time last year and also for the previous week. Chicks hatched totaled 3,942,000, down one per cent from a year ago and two per cent below the previous week. Eggs set for broiler production numbered 4,584,000 which was four per cent below a year ago.
