Four Hour Limit Set For Mornings

Everyone wears jeans these days, and Cobb's will have some men's jeans priced at only $2.49 a pair. If it should rain soon, or not, there are three all weather coats for ladies at a low-low $10 and $15 at Cobbs.

Mrs. Mary Griffiths Celebrates 100 Birthday

Mrs. Mary Griffiths, mother of Ray Griffiths, grandmother of Herbert Griffiths and great-grandmother of Prentice Griffiths and Monaca Griffiths celebrated her 100 birthday Monday, June 24 with several family, church and community activities.

Mrs. Mary Griffiths sat on the row with her children and the rest of her family behind her, she was heard to say "This is the best part of my birthday." After church services the family had dinner, ate cake, sang "Happy Birthday" and assisted Mrs. Griffiths in opening her gifts at the Hilton Hotel.

Among the 40 out-of-town relatives to attend those from Muleshoe were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Griffiths, Miss Monaca Griffiths and Doran Reynolds.

Others related to Mrs. Griffiths, who live in Muleshoe are Mrs. E.W. Evans, Mrs. F.W. Jones, Cliff Griffiths, Byron Griffiths, Mrs. Oscar Rudd and children.

Mrs. Griffiths contributes her long life to the fact that she only drinks warm tea or tap water. She believes "iced" drinks are harmful.

Mrs. Griffiths and her late husband, John Daniel, have five sons and two daughters. One son and daughter are deceased. The remaining sons and daughter were present for the celebration. They were Mrs. Esther Burton of Tucumcari, Ray of Muleshoe, Evan of Phonix, Charles of Sartoga, California and Robert of Oklahoma City.

In her interview with Kelley, Mrs. Griffiths stated that she feels no different now that her age has reached three digits.

But she knows there's something special about this birthday. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob Griffiths, says she's been talking about her birthday since about May 1. Thursday, June 20 her greetings from President Nixon were in her mailbox. Dr. Webber, newly elected president of the Southern Baptist Convention was on hand at the luncheon to congratulate her. Also many greetings and flowers from Muleshoe residents arrived.

Mrs. Griffiths can't remember much about her early life, but recollecting through the help of her family, Mrs. Griffiths tells Ed Kelley some details of her long life.

Born in Pennsylvania in 1874, she grew up in Missouri and

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION --- "Trot on down" to the turkey market for this week's best buy, one authority says. She's Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Turkey supplies this year are expected to be six per cent above 1973. Big birds are generally the best buy -- you can serve a family of five or six several different meals from a large turkey," the specialist noted. Fresh fruit and vegetable items in greatest supply at lowest prices include oranges, bananas, cantaloupes, watermelons, pineapples, cabbage, squash, sweet corn, okra, green beans, carrots, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions, Mrs. Ciyatt said. Potatoes are still lower than normal supply, and prices remain relatively high, she said. "At meat counters, look for best beef values on chuch roasts and steaks, ground beef, round steak and roasts, and rump roasts. "Pork values include smoked hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, and end-cut loin roasts and chops," the specialist reported. The economy-quality egg value continues to be grade A, large-size eggs.

The Lonely Heart

A History of Bailey County Pioneer Families

Robert Earl Luttrell, Sr.

R.E. Luttrell was born April 28, 1891 in Taylor, Texas. He married Artie M. Phillips and had lived in Bailey County since 1923. Luttrell died on October 29, 1965. Luttrell worked as a farmer and a cowboy for many of the area ranches and was a close friend to W.O. Laurence, a cowboy for the James Ranch. The couple had three children: Earl Luttrell Jr. of South Gate, California; Mrs. George W. Skates of Hot Springs Arkansas; and Mrs. Lee Roy Moore of Amarillo. The couple lived in Vernon prior to coming to West Texas. Mrs. Luttrell's grandmother was a cousin to Cynthia Ann Parker and Mrs. Luttrell used to see Chief Quanah crossing the river near Vernon. She knew him as well as her other "relatives". Luttrell was the author of a poem about early Bailey county days.

THE COWMAN SURPRISED BY THE PLOWMAN

Way out west in Bailey County, At the line of New Mexico Where the prairie turns to "hill" land, Where the corn and cotton grow.

There's no place like Bailey County, There's no place in all the West; That will beat old Bailey County When you put her to a test.

The land that stood a year ago, With waving grass and turf, Now raises the finest cotton and corn That ever grew out of the earth

There is the old and rugged rancher That has been grazing her for many years; When he sees the farmer plowing, Knows he has to move his steers.

There's many an old-time cowboy, Who worked for thirty bucks so cheap, Now he can hitch up to a pick sack, And make his thirty bucks a week.

That's way out west in Bailey County, At the line of New Mexico, Where the prairie turns to "hill" land, Where the corn and cotton grow.

So you had better coil your lariat, boys And hang it up to rest, For the "cowboy" days are over, In this part of the West.

John Tower United States Senate

This country presently finds itself in something of a paradox regarding the livestock industry. We have on the one hand a surplus of livestock in many parts of the nation, and on the other hand continued high prices for steak and pork chops at the supermarket. It is a situation that has left the livestock industry in the state of near economic chaos for more than a year.

The problems are traced back to the unwise imposition of a freeze on the price of meat in March, 1973. From there, things went down hill until we reached the dilemma now faced by the industry.

Under present market conditions, the price of cattle is much lower than cattlemen received from feedlots only a few months ago. In many cases, cattlemen are averaging a loss of $200 per animal, and it is estimated that the total loss to the industry amounts to $1.5 billion since October of last year. In addition to the low prices, many cattlemen are without adequate financing to enable them to survive and diversify by going into the feeding business. Without some quick assistance, the cattle industry faces certain disaster.

I have been working in the Congress and with the Administration in an effort to bring some relief. On May 21 I wrote to the President urging him to reimpose quotas on imported meat. Regulations governing imports have been tightened recently around the world until we find that the United States remains the only country still allowing unlimited imports of meat items. Our country could become the dumping ground for foreign meat. Such actions would come at the expense of our domestic livestock industry, and this ultimately would lead to shortages and higher price spirals.

Earlier this month I joined with several other senators to introduce legislation providing government guaranteed loans to cattlemen facing critical financial problems to keep in operation. This proposal, to be operated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for bonified cattleman only, was heard in committee this week and I anticipate a report for full Senate consideration in a matter of days.

In an effort to further express my feelings to the Administration, I recently asked Secretary Earl Butz to come to my office to meet with a group of senators commonly interested in the plight of the cattle industry. We expressed our unanimous opinion that the Administration should re-impose import controls and make a concerted effort to help the producers.

A few days after the meeting in my office, the White House called a meeting of producers, wholesalers and other middlemen, and retailers. An effort was made to determine why there is such a wide spread between the price paid for cattle at the lot and the price of steak at the supermarket. Frankly, I was disappointed that the meeting was not more productive. There were some indications that consumers can soon look for some meat specials at the markets, and that the Administration is trying to obtain voluntary restraints on meat imports. Also, an effort will be made to increase exports to Canada, and to increase the government school lunch purchase programs. While the government seemingly is trying, I feel these efforts are short of action that could be taken under these extreme circumstances.

While the wide price spread between the producer and the consumer, I do not feel that the average housewife is aware of the serious problems facing the cattle producer and feeder. Yet there is the real possibility of a new shortage developing in the near future. Should such a shortage develop, I believe that it will be with much longer than the one we faced last year during the era of rigid price controls.

We in Texas have much more to lose because our state by far exceeds any other in the number of marketable livestock. The economic impact of this industry to our state is enormous. The tremendous growth in our population and in our affluence has led to multiple increases in the demand for red meat in this country. The enormity of this demand has led to a dependency upon feedlot operations to supply our needs. Virtually all livestock now sold for marketing eventually wind up on a feedlot. Should the feedlots find that they are no longer financially able to continue these mass-production operations, the supply of quality meat will drop sharply, creating a severe shortage. These shortages, as we know from experience, only bring on higher and higher prices to the consumer.

Since we must depend on these producers for our supplies, we simply cannot sit idly while they go out of business. And many of them will be forced out of business unless action is taken immediately. I will continue my efforts to bring stability to the cattle industry, and hopefully to bring lower prices at the supermarkets.

Services Held Thursday For Joyce French

Services for Mrs. Joyce French, 46, of Lubbock, were held at 11:00 a.m. Thursday, June 20, in the W.W. Rix Chapel with Bishop Samuel Richards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints officiating. Burial was in the Peaceful Garden Memorial Park under direction of Rix Funeral Home.

Justice of the Peace, Charles E. Smith, Wednesday, June 19 ruled Mrs. French's death was due to a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Smith said she had been shot once in the head. Mrs. French was found lying in the kitchen of her home late Tuesday by the police. A 22-caliber pistol was found near by.

Mrs. French was a native of Oklahoma. She lived in Lubbock since 1948, moving there from Tucson, Arizona. Survivors include one daughter, Janette of the home; her mother, Mrs. Frankie Myers of Tucumcari, New Mexico; and her father, Jim Griffin of Earth.

CONGRESSMAN

Bob Price

18th Congressional District

The Congress appears now to be moving to help cattle producers and feeders, and thus encourage a continuing and lasting beef supply for American consumers.

On Tuesday and Wednesday (June 25-26) the House Livestock Subcommittee will conduct hearings on bills to establish a loan guarantee and loan insurance fund to help cattlemen and feeders to obtain credit with which to restock feedlots. I first offered such legislation last May 30, with 17 co-sponsors. Since then other bills have been introduced utilizing the same concept but making modifications in details. These guarantees and loan insurance contracts would be made available only to borrowers who are no longer able to obtain credit through normal lending channels.

This previous week, the full Committee laid important groundwork for this bill, introduced May 30, by conducting general investigative hearings on livestock and food prices. Agriculture Secretary Butz was among those who testified and I participated in these hearings throughout the week. I thought the Secretary made it clear that while he felt any cattle loan guarantee legislation should be of an emergency and temporary nature, he also recognized that the industry is suffering a severe economic depression which threatens to put many out of business.

In the meantime, the Senate Agriculture Committee, acting quickly, held hearings on a bill offered by Sen. John Tower and others which was patterned after my cattle loan guarantee bill. I testified at those hearings early in the week, along with others, and on Wednesday (June 19) the Committee approved a modified version of the bill for passage on Monday (June 24).

Meanwhile, action was being taken along other fronts to help deal with the same problem of long-depressed on-the-hoof beef prices. A number of Congressmen evidenced interest in my bill to require a temporary beef import embargo. Shortly after Secretary Butz' testimony to the House Agriculture Committee Thursday (June 20), the committee approved a resolution I submitted expressing the sense of the Committee that the President should rescind his earlier order which lifted meat import quotas. The Senate Agriculture Committee also approved such a resolution. Foreign trade action, of course, is complex and we should not take action which would result in reprisals from our trading partners which might decrease the volume of our agricultural exports. But pressure from the Congress toward a beef import embargo is giving our trade negotiators a big stick to use in their negotiations and it should help them to obtain voluntary reductions in our beef import levels.

After his testimony to the House Committee, I also urged Secretary Butz to: revise the grading system for beef to include the upper one-third of beef currently graded good in the category known as choice; and, to re-institute the sales promotion program terminated last August known as the Plentiful Foods Program. The beef grading system has not been substantially revised for nearly a quarter of a century.

HEW Organizes Nursing Homes LTCD Standards

A new division, called Long-Term Care Standards (LTCS) has been organized in the Regional office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Purpose of the new division, directed by Mary Lou Lane, is to ensure that safety and health care standards are being met by nursing homes and other institutions participating in Medicare and Medicaid programs.

The division is responsible for seeing that federal standards for skilled nursing facilities (SNF's) and intermediate care facilities (ICF's) are consistently applied and enforced in the 1,200 long-term care facilities in HEW's southwest region. Similar divisions are being organized in the nine other HEW regions around the country.

New regulations announced in Washington earlier this year place emphasis on the health and safety of patients, while enabling HEW and state governments to enforce standards more effectively.

The regulations, for the first time, set common standards for certification of long-term care facilities which participate in either Medicare or Medicaid programs.

Under the regulations, LTCS has authority to enter into and/or terminate agreements with long-term care facilities. The unit works closely with state Medicaid agencies and state survey agencies, and the division is now the focal point where state agency personnel may obtain information, consultation, training and technical assistance. Likewise, it is a reference point for the general public on matters concerning long-term care facilities. Ms. Lane and her staff are located in the Federal Building, 1100 Commerce, Dallas.

Deaf Smith Junior Olympic

Set June 28

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will host its second annual Junior Olympic Preliminary Track meet on June 29 at Whiteface Stadium Hereford. Field events will begin at 9:00 a.m. and preliminary running events at 10:00 a.m.

This meet is sanctioned by the West Texas A.A.U. Association and is sponsored nationally by the Chevrolet Motor Division of the Junior Olympics Program. This phase of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States is designed to encourage age-level competition between both boys and girls up to 18 years of age. The Program includes a variety of sports and is conducted each year throughout 58 district associations of the A.A.U. and involves in excess of 100,000 A.A.U. volunteer workers. In the year 1973 over 16,000,000 youngsters competed in some phase of the A.A.U. Junior Olympics Program.

The district championships will be held in Borger, at Bulldog Stadium on July 6. All events held in the district meet will be held at this meet. Dr. Joe B. Whitley is meet director. There is an entry fee of $1.00 for each athlete, with no charge for spectators - send entry forms to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, 701 N. Main Street, Hereford, Texas 79045.

The only requirement for participation in the meet is for each participant to be registered with the A.A.U., which requires a fee of $1.50. This fee qualifies the athlete to participate in any Junior Olympic track meet in the United States for one year. Registration forms and information regarding registration may be obtained from: West Texas A.A.U., Dick Walker-Reg. Chrmn., Box 2000, Lubbock, Texas 79457. Registration may be by mail or in person prior to the meet; however an athlete can be registered in Hereford the day of the track meet.

High Risks In

Deep Wells

Critics of oil company profits, the cost of natural gas and the depletion allowance will be interested in the outcome of a gas well recently drilled just 80 miles west of Oklahoma City. The "deepest well yet" was drilled by Lone Star Gas with three other minor partners and the tab was $6-million for the dry hole. The well had gone to a depth of 31,441 ft., (just a few feet short of six miles into the earth's crust) before hitting liquid sulfur. Hydrogen sulfide began eating away the drill string and the well had to be plugged at the 14,000 ft. mark.

The well used enough steel drilling pipe to erect a 14 story building and also required an expensive high-tensile-steel drill pipe and special drilling fluids. This well happened to be just 19 miles from another dry hole which went down over 30,000 ft. and cost $5.5 million dollars. Lone Star Gas headed that venture also.

The number of wells drilled to depths below 20,000 ft. were 74 in 1973 compared to 49 in 1972 and 57 in 1971. The wells averaged $2 million apiece and the success ratio is about 46 percent.

It's human nature to take things for granted, just as the U.S. took the rich oil production of the Mideast for granted. It will be only a matter of time before natural gas reaches a price level which will make imported liquefied natural gas from North Africa and Russia competitive with our own gas production. Will we then be potential victims of a natural gas embargo? We must demand that Congress carefully evaluate and study the depletion allowance and exploration incentives to U.S. oil and gas producers. Unrealistic pricing of natural gas by the Federal Power Commission should be reviewed much more thoroughly before the oil and gas industry is criticized for excessive profits which resulted from a situation over which they had little control. Second guessing is a luxury this country can't afford when it comes to the best ways to develop a diminishing vital natural resource.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — A flood of Mexican aliens, estimated at more than a million a year, is pouring into Texas, according to a new Texas Good Neighbor Commission report.

More than half the illegal entrants cross the Rio Grande into Texas. Good Neighbor Commission said the number of such entries is greater than the total number of immigrants who entered the U.S. legally from all the countries of the world. Last year, the GNC noted, 575,000 deportable Mexican aliens were found in the U.S., and immigration officials figure one escapes for every one apprehended. Sophisticated smuggling techniques aid the crossings.

Immigrations have a social and economic impact in virtually all regions, since the aliens move on to metropolitan areas all over the U.S. in search of better jobs and safety from arrests. Top AFL-CIO officials promptly called for tough new state laws making it an offense to hire illegal aliens, punishable by stiff fines or prison terms.

DEMOCRATS TO DELAY — Democrats are still in a dither about whether they should "recess" their September 17 state convention until September 19 to avoid a conflict with a high Jewish holy day. A rules change to allow the delay will be aired at a special meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin July 16. If hotel rooms can be made available September 19, SDEC will consider the change (to keep the convention from falling on Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year). But a three-fourth majority is necessary to order the rules amendment.

APPOINTMENTS — Clyde Johnson of Bulverde and San Antonio was named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to the Texas Water Quality Board, succeeding the late Gordon Fulcher of Atlanta. Briscoe also named E. Carl Dillard of Pearsall to the State Judicial Qualifications Commission. He reappointed five State Health Advisory Committee members and appointed as new committee members Mrs. Edd Henard of Wellington, Mrs. Emma Nugent of Orange, Mrs. H.L. Long of Kilgore, Mrs. Marie Bynum of Longview, Rogers Wilson of Austin, W.W. Manley of Terrell, Rev. Claude Black of San Antonio, Domingo Pena of Corpus Christi, Ernest Coker Jr. of Conroe, Ronnie Boules of Pecos and Ed Baker of Arlington.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held a newspaper's donating free space to an official's column when he is a candidate for reelection is not a campaign contribution under the law. In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: A county commissioner may not be paid for serving as appointed lawyer for an indigent defendant. Texas Water Development Board has a duty to approve or disapprove plans for proposed levees along any stream subject to floods or overflows. An appointed attorney who represents both an indigent criminal defendant in district court and a juvenile in juvenile court the same day may not receive more than one fee.

monthly in 1972 to 182,000 in 1973. Aid to Families with Dependent Children declined from a peak of 121,588 in February 1973 to 118,681 families in July.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court held unconstitutional a new state law regulating juke boxes and other coin-operated amusement machines. Attorney General Hill called on the U.S. Supreme Court to accelerate a Texas case challenging impoundment of water pollution funds by President Nixon. Austin, San Antonio and Lower Colorado River Authority called on the Third Court of Civil Appeals to require the Texas Railroad Commission to force Lo Vaca Gathering Company to live up to its gas supply contracts. The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a life sentence given a Dallas man for assault to murder a police officer. A hearing was set in the Supreme Court for July 17 on whether two elderly sisters can get back $100,000 and 7,500 acres of land they gave to the Stephens County Museum, Inc. The high court ordered the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals to take another look at adequacy of a $4,146 damage award given a Van Zandt County man who was bitten on the hand by a neighbor's hog.

OIL ALLOWABLE SET — The statewide oil allowable for July was fixed by the Railroad Commission, for the 28th straight month, a 100 per cent level. Major crude oil buyers asked for 3,843,362 barrels of oil daily in July, a decrease of 36,087 from June. Commission Chairman Jim Langdon pointed out that the U.S. still imports 1.5 billion barrels of crude annually — a "very long way" from self-sufficiency. Exceptions to the 100 per cent order were East Texas and Kelly-Snyder fields which were restricted to 86 per cent production.

BEAUTIFICATION AWARDS MADE — Seven cities received Governor's Community Achievement Awards for outstanding community beautification projects during the last year. Winning cities were Stanton (under 2,500); Eastland (2,501 — 5,000); Athens and Jacksonville (5,001 — 10,000); Lufkin (10,001 — 20,000); New Braunfels (20,001 — 60,000) and San Antonio (over 60,000).

Eighty-six communities submitted entries in the competition. Awards were made at the seventh annual meeting of the Beautify Texas Council here.

BUDGET HEARINGS START — Hearings of the 1976-77 state budget — the first to use the new zero-base system — are under way. Some of the early requests by state agencies reviewed by the Legislative Budget Board and the governor's office are running almost twice current spending. Requests, under the new plan, are divided into three levels — bare minimum, middle bracket and highest feasible.

SHORT SNORTS — Twenty key state agencies report substantial employment increases for blacks and Mexican-Americans. New textbooks considered for school use will go on display July 1 in 20 regional education service centers. A $48,000 state award from the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation will assist Attorney General Hill in legal research on rights of the mentally retarded. Texas is seeking more than $17 million in federal funds to help finance public school programs for children of migrant farm workers during the 1974-75 school year. More than 175 Texas areas are eligible for flood insurance through a new special program administered by the National Flood Insurers Association.

Livestock Buyers Charged With Violating P & S Act

WASHINGTON, June 24 -- Arvel L. Baker, operator of the Art Baker Cattle Co., of Hereford, Tex., has been charged with violating financial, payment, and record-keeping requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) said today.

Baker is registered as a market agency buying on commission and as a livestock dealer. He purchases livestock in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kentucky, Minnesota, North Carolina, and Georgia.

USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration charged in an administrative complaint that Baker:

- Had current liabilities exceeding current assets by more than $401,000 as of March 31, 1974;
- Issued insufficient funds checks for more than $159,000 worth of livestock from October, 1973 through February, 1974;
- Failed to pay, when due, for more than $430,000 worth of livestock from August, 1973 through February, 1974, including those listed above, and still owed more than $270,000 as of March 31, 1974; and
- Failed to maintain sufficient accounts and records to fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved in his livestock business.

Filing of the complaint does not prove that Baker has violated the Packers and Stockyards Act. He has a right to a hearing to determine whether the evidence supports the charges. If the charges are proven, he would be placed under a cease and desist order. His registration could also be temporarily suspended.

Market agencies and livestock dealers are required -- under the Packers and Stockyards Act -- to maintain a solvent financial position, and to pay promptly for livestock, unless credit has been arranged in advance. These are designed as measures of financial protection for the sellers of livestock.

The P&S Act is a fair trade practices law. It promotes and maintains fair and open competition in the marketing of livestock, poultry, and meat. The Act is administered on a non-discriminatory basis.

The record in this case is open to the public. Copies of this complaint, P&S Docket 4970, may be obtained from the Information Office, Packers and Stockyards Administration, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The Consumer Alert

By John L. Hill Attorney General

AUSTIN -- The mail order business is booming. In 1973, consumers bought $50 billion in goods or services by mail in response to several billions' worth of direct mail advertising. Proponents of direct mail advertising say it offers "arm-chair shopping" and brings special items to the attention of persons who otherwise might never be aware of them. They say it is convenient, allows consumers to consider purchases in the privacy of their own home, and that it is a boon to elderly or handicapped persons who find it difficult to get out of the house to shop. Opponents call it "junk mail" and point to the growing problem of mail order fraud experienced in the U.S., as mail orders increase. They complain that their names are purchased by direct mail advertisers in group mailing lists without their permission and that, as a result, they receive much unwanted mail. The truth probably falls somewhere in between. It is correct to say that the incidence of mail order fraud has risen. U.S. Postal Service inspectors report that more than $160 million was lost last year by consumers in deceptive mail order schemes.

But it is also true that some legitimate mail order businesses are trying to see that consumers get what they pay for. Many of them belong to an organization known as the Direct Mail Marketing Association, which is working with the White House Office of Consumer Affairs to devise standards for direct mail marketing.

How do direct mail advertisers get your name for their mailing lists? There are several ways. They can buy membership rolls from some organizations, they can purchase some publication subscription lists, they can buy consumer lists from some businesses, or they can deal with agents who supply such material. Prices can range from $15 to about $35 per thousand names. Direct mail advertisers can also obtain from the U.S. Census Bureau tracts showing the average value of houses in a certain area, match Postal Service zip codes to areas with more expensive houses, and check with the Internal Revenue Service for the average income of certain zip codes for a period five years earlier. Once they acquire such information, direct mail marketers can target their sales pitches to persons of a general income bracket who can more likely afford their products.

According to the DMAA, the best prospects for direct mail marketers are persons with higher than average incomes who are active in several organizations and who have responded to direct mail advertisements in the past. DMAA officials say they believe most people don't mind being on direct mail advertising lists, but that they are happy to oblige those who want to get off them.

They have a mail preference service to remove names of persons from all of their members' mailing lists. Consumers who fill out the necessary form and return it should notice a decrease in direct mail advertising in their mailbox within two months, according to DMAA, since it claims to represent between two-thirds and three-fourths of all direct mail advertisers in the country. The DMAA also has a mail order action line to help consumers who have problems with mail orders. Our Consumer Protection attorneys suggest that you first complain directly to the firm yourself. Often difficulties can be resolved in this manner. Our attorneys say that many consumers who lose money in direct mail purchases sometimes do so because they are too willing to believe glowing promises or exorbitant claims. They urge that you use common sense and caution in evaluating claims for mail order products or services and that you do not rely on pictures that may accompany the sales pitch. No gadget or "special plan" can turn an obese figure into a svelte one overnight. And no "investment secrets" can make you a financial genius if you have trouble adding two and two. Our attorneys, as well as reputable direct mail marketers, also suggest that you follow these tips when shopping by mail: never send cash with your order, make sure a guaranteed delivery date is mentioned in promotional material, indicate if you are willing to accept any substitutes, and keep a record of your order. If you have a consumer problem, call our Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Inside sandhill philosopher Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the plight of cattlemen this week, we think. Dear editor:

As everybody knows, cattlemen are having a rough time right now because the price of cattle has dropped from 30 to 50 per cent in recent months while nearly everything else, on the wings of inflation, has continued to go up. What I don't understand about this is why cattlemen don't read the newspapers.

If they did they'd find out how the leaders of the dairy industry have handled the problem. It's fairly simple. All you do is contribute heavily to practically everybody in Congress, whether he owns a milk cow or not or has any dairies in his district, and whatever legislation you want thereafter has easy sailing. So long as it flows, milk seems to be as good as oil.

But that's just part of it. After you get what you want you somehow let the word leak out that you've made all those contributions to all those Congressmen and higher-ups and, what do you know, everybody starts sending the money back, thus leaving you in good financial shape to contribute to the next campaign.

It's sort of a revolving fund and in recent weeks Congressmen have been returning dairy money faster than other government officials have been turning in jewels from foreign potentates. Everybody ought to clean out his vault and his conscience every once in a while.

Cattlemen ought to shake the sand out of their boots, get the dust out of their eyes, and catch on. Who knows, if they'd been on their toes we might, instead of giving away atomic secrets to bring peace in the Middle East, have been getting the same results by giving those countries each a billion pounds of our surplus beef.

What does a country need with atomic secrets when its people aren't getting enough to eat? Give em some beef to eat and they might figure out atomic energy on their own. Might even figure out a better way to grow crops than with a walking plow.

Of course I understand all the Middle East countries have signed agreements not to use their atomic energy for anything except peaceful purposes, but with paper as high as it is these days it could be even truer than ever that agreements sometimes aren't worth what they're written on.

Cattlemen ought to learn that when you're in trouble you don't wring your hands, you wring Congress's. Yours faithfully, J.A.
