

THE PIECE THAT WAS LOST.

It was a midsummer morning. The grass was waiting for the scythe, but after breakfast Silas Rogers took down the old man's hat and he went to the eadly clampan for over eighty years, and they sat reverently down to worship. The reading was that tender lesson of the wandering sheep, and the lost piece of silver, and the heavenly rejoicing over the sinner that repenteth; and after the earnest, though homely prayer, they were ready for work. Amor, the hire man, and Heuler, the boy as they started out of the house, almost stumbled over a woman sitting in the doorway, having opened the account. I say $50 worth of goods for the first month. The next month I put you off until you order another $50 worth of goods. You call it replacing without avail. Finally you place the matter in the hands of a lawyer. He sees. The affair gets into the courts. Publicity ensues. Time—

SAID OF WOMAN.

There is only one real tragedy in a woman's life: the fact that her past is her lover, and her future invariably her husband.

In the case of a woman who defies her hair, sex is a challenge, not a defense. If you advance me the small sum of $25 in cash I'll agree not to open an account with you.

FARM AND GARDEN.

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO AGRICULTURISTS.

A STUDY OF THE EFFECT OF DEEP AND SHALLOW CULTIVATION ON THE GROWTH OF THE CORN PLANT, AND THE POSITION OF THE CORN ROOTS IN RELATION TO THE SOIL.

To this end a few hills, at the Illinois experiment station, were examined just as they were found growing in the soil, by digging a trench beside the hill and washing the vertical side with water. The particular object of the inquiry was to ascertain the number of the roots that are likely to be disturbed by cultivation; what proportion of all the roots was sufficiently near the surface to be so injured; and whether by deep planting, three inches deep, enough roots would be cut; so that any considerable effect should be expected therefrom. Only a portion of the roots, necessarily, could be seen. Such delicate fibers as young corn roots are easily broken in washing the dirt from them.

THE TAP-WORM IS A VERMIN.

The tap-worm is a steep parasite of the flock, and thousands of sheep pine and die because of it, without the shepherd knowing anything of the cause, says Sheep Breeder. And that is the case with the whole range of life in the sheep's brain, would not exist a single year were it not for the dog, feeding on the sheep that die from the disease caused by this parasite. The tap-worm is a vermiform worm into his stomach, where they mature into long, flat, unpleasant masses, made of sections, in each of which more than a thousand eggs, each with a single cell, are contained. The parent of thousands more and each a hundred sheep in a flock. The tap-worm is a very simple one, although it is not always so. It has a head, which is so treated as to kill whatever worms it may have about itself by giving him, occasionally, a dose of thirty or forty grains of powdered arsenic in some laxative. For this reason, a farmer should keep his sheep on a diet of castor oil twice a day for two or three days. It is desirable to keep the dog confined so that the worms are not carried to other sheep. A sudden change of diet, such as barley or corn, may be given to the sheep. For these several kinds of worms infecting the sheep, some of the best remedies are: for tap-worm, 25 grains of calomel, or other organics, besides those of the brain.

WHEAT RAISING IN ENGLAND.

At the recent convention of the National Association of British and Irish Millers, held at Southampton, the following resolutions were adopted: "That the association is of opinion that it is the duty of the Imperial Government to foster and encourage the production of wheat in the British Islands, believing that its production, as providing food for the people, is a matter of national importance."
