Two To Six Inch Rains In County

A Journal survey has revealed that while the rains received recently have been very beneficial to the area, what is needed now is sunshine and hot weather.

According to one source, a farmer, "wheat land, drylands, that have been left due to crop failure or not being able to plant, now need to be cleared of weeds in order to sow wheat for the next crop. This cannot be done until the land dries out enough for the farmers to get in the fields."

Another farmer stated that "the wetness is having a bad effect on irrigated cotton, since it needs the hot dry weather now in order to mature. The excessive wetness will definitely hurt the "mike" of the cotton."

General weather reports county wide range from two inches to over six inches in some places since last Wednesday, August 21.

"The cattleman's general outlook as far as grazing land has improved since the rains. Pasture land that has been "down to nothing" is greening up and coming back. This will enable the cattlemen and feeders to retain their stock for a while longer in the hopes of a better market."

According to various reports some of the rains came very fast and hard and did not do a great lot of good; however, the largest part of the rain did come in slow easy rain and will be a life-saver for some of the farmers in this area.

One farmer stated that he had "been able to finally cut off his irrigation wells for the first time since pre-watering began."

As soon as the fields dry out, according to the County Agent, Spencer Tanksley, the silage harvest will resume in full swing. Tanksley also stated that "insect infestation has been slowed down considerably by the rains."

Blackleg Cases On Increase

Cases of blackleg in cattle are increasing over Texas, according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University. Thus, County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley urges cattlemen to take the necessary precautions to protect young animals from the fatal disease.

Raising calves without immunization is hazardous, emphasizes Tanksley. Most cattlemen realize the danger of blackleg and routinely vaccinate their calves. However, some become complacent because they don't hear of blackleg outbreaks and therefore fail to vaccinate.

Tanksley points out that vaccinating calves too early can cause blackleg. Calves up to three months of age fail to develop a lasting immunity. Vaccination should be at the age of four months and should be repeated annually until the animal is at least two years old.

Before beginning a preventive vaccination program, Tanksley suggests a visit to the local veterinarian for advice on disease problems in the particular area. Certain vaccine combinations are available at a relatively low cost that will protect calves from a series of diseases.

Bailey County Applies For Disaster Loans

AUSTIN -- Texas farmers who lost all or part of their 1974 crops may begin qualifying for crop disaster payments.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported that farmers who had crop damage due to drought -- or other natural disaster -- can apply for payments through their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office (ASCS).

"It is important, however, that farmers make application before they plow up or destroy the field stubble of existing crops," White reminded.

Farmers can qualify for payments one of two ways. If crops have been totally destroyed, a farmer can file for relief depending upon his crop allotment. White said that an inspector trained by the Federal Crop Insurance Program checks the fields and appraises the damage. Payments are made on his appraisal.

If, however, a farmer can salvage something for his field, he harvests what he can, and the disaster payment becomes the difference between the projected and actual yields.

"This only applies to cotton and feed grains," White noted. "Rice and peanut farmers are not eligible for direct payments. They must apply for loans through the county ASCS office."

Emergency relief loans have also been made available to some farmers and ranchers through the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). The rural service agency has surveyed 53 Texas counties and is making loans available to farmers and ranchers.

Food Policy Termed Russian Roulette

A state farm organization leader told a meeting of Wichita County farmers and ranchers at Burk Burnett Thursday night that "the recently issued crop report indicates the need for a national food policy to replace the no-policy attitude in government which is becoming a game of Russian roulette."

Jay Naman of Waco, President of Texas Farmers Union, painted a pessimistic picture concerning what he said is "desperate food and feed supply situation." Naman, who was in Burk Burnett to present the charter to the Wichita County Farmers Union, a newly organized affiliate of Texas Farmers Union, pointed out that recent crop reports indicate that the carry-over of feed grains and wheat supplies will be "by far the lowest in our lifetime." He said that this indicated the "desperate need for improved federal farm programs with provisions for the establishment of a food and fiber reserve in case of a disaster."

"Present agricultural policies foster extreme problems for farmers and ranchers. The boom and bust features of farm policy are bad for the producer as well as the consumer," Naman said.

Operation Motorcide Activates Friday

"It is indeed tragic that so many men, women and children will be come victims of motor vehicle accidents this last holiday weekend of the summer when thousands of motorists traditionally take to the highways for an outing," Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said.

Bell said the DPS will use all facilities and personnel at its disposal in an effort to reduce the predicted death toll. A special "Operation Motorcide" will be activated at 6:00 p.m., Friday, August 30, and continue through midnight Monday, September 2. During this period, all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

During the holiday period the DPS will tabulate each traffic death, and the totals will be announced three times daily in order to call public attention to the highway dangers.

"More people are killed in Texas each year in traffic than are killed in all the United States by murder and homicide," Bell continued,

Economic Stabilization

Both the House and Senate moved with unusual speed this week and passed a bill creating the Council on Wage and Price Stability requested by President Ford last week to monitor wages and prices. I cosponsored the bill in the Senate and helped defeat all efforts to amend it to add any control authority over wages and prices. Let me emphasize that I supported the provision requested by the President only as long as it called for authority only to monitor the economy and not to control it. Just after both houses of the Congress acted on the monitoring bill, President Ford issued a statement again emphasizing that he was not seeking any authority over the wage and price structure of the economy. I have steadfastly opposed any such controls since our unhappy experience in 1973 when controls did more to worsen the inflationary spiral than they helped solve the problem. The idea behind the creation of the council is to give it authority only to monitor the economy. It is expected to work with labor and management to improve the structure of collective bargaining, and to encourage price restraint both in the private sector and in policies of the government in an effort to determine what effect such pricing might have on the economy.

Sec. 182, RIDING ON ROADWAYS AND BICYCLE PATHS. (a) Every person operating a bicycle upon a roadway shall ride as near to the right side of the road as practicable, exercising due care when passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction.

(b) Persons riding bicycles upon a roadway shall not ride more than two abreast except on paths or parts of roadways set aside for the exclusive use of bicycles.

(c) Wherever a usable path for bicycles has been provided adjacent to a roadway, bicycle riders shall use such path and shall not use the roadway.
Sec. 183, CARRYING ARTICLES. No person operating a bicycle shall carry any package, bundle or article which prevents the driver from keeping at least one hand upon the handlebars.

Sec. 184, LAMPS AND OTHER EQUIPMENT ON BICYCLES. (a) Every bicycle when in use at nighttime shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred feet to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of a type approved by the Department which shall be visible from all distances from fifty feet to three hundred feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

(b) Every bicycle shall be equipped with a brake which will enable the operator to make the braked wheels skid on dry, level, clean pavement.
"These rules are published in the hope that each parent will take the responsibility of seeing to the fact that their children, and they themselves obey these laws. This is for the safety of the child or bicyclist as well as other motorists," said J.R. Carpenter, Assistant Chief of Police.

ages and dislocation of resources, and certainly imposing more problems on our economy than are resolved.

Although I have opposed any and all efforts to create again authority of the federal government to control wages and prices in any form, I do recognize the serious problems we face as a nation in controlling inflationary pressures in our economy. They are enormous and pervasive and they need to be dealt with through appropriate monetary and fiscal policies. The proposal which the Congress has just passed is not going to solve everything, but I think it sets up in the right direction an aid to the traditional tools of economic policy.

The new council, as I envision it, is first and foremost a forum -- a forum which draws representatives from all sectors of the economy to debate freely and air economic issues. It is a forum to collect economic information and follow the direction of the various economic sectors. It is therefore a forum with oversight authority and not an operating agency.

The provision in effect represents a license by the Congress to the President to exercise his influence to arrest the inflationary spiral, even through the President basically has such executive authority without this bill. However, the President did request the endorsement of Congress for the proposal. I believe he feels that Congressional action give it more weight, gives it more muscle, and gives it more authority.

From the standpoint of using the council for come friendly persuasion, sometimes referred to as "jawboning", I think that this does give it more muscle. This is why I fought so hard to prevent any stronger authority where the discipline of a government agency or council begins to replace the discipline of the market place, which should be the final arbiter of wages and prices.

"Psychologist say that one reason the general public fails to take positive action in matters of traffic safety is due to a lack of personal identification with the problem. It might behoove all drivers in our state to stop and consider that they have less than a 50-50 chance to go through their driving career without being involved in a traffic mishap, or without incurring injury to themselves or one of their family. The more than 1,550 persons killed in traffic crashes on Texas streets and highways this year had no idea that they would be involved in an accident either."

"In the final analysis, traffic safety must rest on the shoulders of every person who gets behind the steering wheel of a car. With the proper attitude of alertness and with the acceptance of responsibility, we can see positive results in our attempts to halt the increases in the number of traffic mishaps," Major Bell concluded.

I am pleased that we did manage to get a clean bill out of the Congress, virtually as was requested by the President.
I would emphasize, however, that this legislation in no way diminished our need to maintain vigilance in exercising the fiscal and monetary policies that are the basic ingredients of economic stability. Nor should this legislation reduce our efforts to explore fully all other non-control policies to stabilize wages and prices in our economy.

I think it is essential that we be realistic and admit that the country still is in for a bitter dose of inflation. It is a problem that all of us together must tackle. All of us -- both as individuals and as government officials -- must be prudent in our spending and cut out all non-essential spending wherever it is found.

Hispana Cause Expected To Advance

Washington -- "The succession of former Vice President Gerald Ford to the presidency of the United States and the nomination of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to the Vice Presidency are clear indications that the progress made in the last years toward solving the problems and needs of the nation's Spanish-speaking Americans will continue perhaps at an even faster pace," said George Bush, Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Agriculture Field Day, Open House Scheduled

The 65th Annual Field Day and Open House of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock has been set for Tuesday, September, 10. Highlighting the occasion will be a comprehensive review of recent developments in agricultural research.

Announcement of the upcoming field day activities was made by Dr. George McBee, resident director of TAES at Lubbock, and Dr. Darrell Rosenow, field day committee chairman and TAES associate professor in grain sorghum breeding.

According to Rosenow, members of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, ARS-USDA, National Weather Service and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be on hand to explain and demonstrate research efforts being conducted on the sprawling 320-acre site known as the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center. These agencies are based at the center, except for NWS whose agricultural meteorologist is officed there.

The site is located seven and one half miles north of Lubbock on Highway 87, just north of the Lubbock Regional Airport. Field tours will begin at 1:00 p.m. with special evening tours from 5:30 - 6:30, said Rosenow.

Stops along the 35-minute tours of the Station's research plots will include new developments in soil water research, soil fertility, short season, narrow row cotton, weed control research, and sorghum insect pest management.

The tours, via tractor-pulled cellent rapport with the Spanish-speaking community in his own state of New York, will add great visibility to the Hispana cause in the new Ford Administration," Bush added.

It is apparent that the recently sworn President desire to continue to advance the Hispana cause in his new Administration, as proven by his first address as President to a joint session of the Congress on August 12. He said, "To the limits of my strength and ability, I will be the President of the black, brown, red and white Americans..."

As Vice President, Ford showed evidence of his concern for the Spanish speaking when he assured a group of Hispana residents of Denver, Colorado, on April 6 that he "intended to move ahead with domestic policies and programs for Hispanics."

Speaking to a group of Spaniards at the White House on April 11, Ford reaffirmed his earlier position when he said that he "would do everything to insure equal opportunity for the Spanish-speaking people."

Gilda Bojorquez Gjurch of Arcadia, California, member of the Republican National Committee's Spanish Speaking Advisory Committee, commenting on the new Ford Administration's apparent thinking with regard to the Spanish-speaking community, said, "I am confident that the new President's openness and candid approach to current problems and Rockefeller's dedication as a public servant and rapport with the Spanish-speaking will be greatly appreciated by the Hispanic community." She added, "I am certain that my feelings are in consonance with the feelings of the members of the Advisory Committee."

In praising the Ford/Rockefeller team, Mrs. Gjurch said, "The President and Gov. Rockefeller have both demonstrated in their own rights a clear desire to uplift the opportunities of the Spanish-speaking and to make then a viable, integral part of the United States system." She added, "We are confident that they will both work on our behalf to achieve that goal."

TDPS Estimates

34 Labor Day Fatalities

AUSTIN--Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today estimated that traffic accidents in Texas over the Labor Day Weekend will claim 34 lives.

Speir noted that traffic deaths in Texas, which earlier were running up to 30% under the 1973 toll, have been rising throughout summer months. He said the upward trend is related to heavier traffic and an alarming disregard for the 55 mile speed limit.

The DPS director said every effort would be made to prevent accidents and deaths by placing all available DPS troopers on duty during the holiday period which extends from six p.m. Friday, August 30, through midnight Monday, September 2.

Speir noted that many local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in the all out effort to make the streets and highways safe.

In addition, he said the DPS would be working with the news media in a special public education program call "Operation Motorcade." A concerted effort will be made to focus public attention on where and why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday.

Few people complain about being over-rewarded by life's fortunes.

Tree Litter

From time to time, when the west wind blew, twigs and leaves from Fred Miller's poplar tree would flutter down into a neighbor's back yard. Resentful, the neighbor finally took the matter into the courtroom.

"It is up to Miller to keep his litter out of my yard," he told the judge. "If there is no other way, then let him cut the tree down."

But the court refused to mix in. Noting that the tree was located entirely on Miller's land, the court said he could not be blamed for the natural process of shedding.

Generally speaking, the law will not interfere with natural growth on private property.
Thus, another man was held entitled to maintain four large maple trees on his land even though they kept a neighbor's house in the shade. The court said his freedom to use his own property outweighed the indirect annoyance to the neighbor.

On the other hand, the neighbor may have a valid complaint when the injury he suffers is more substantial. Thus, when branches actually spread across the property line, most courts give the neighbor the right to chop them off at the boundary.

Furthermore, a neighbor usually has grounds for suit if a tree threatens his safety. Another case involved a badly decayed elm, standing near a back yard fence. The next door neighbor, fearful of an impending accident, warned the tree's owner of the danger--to no avail.

One morning, during a storm, a heavy bough split off and fell across the fence, smiting the neighbor on the shoulder. Under these circumstances, the owner of the tree was held responsible for the neighbor's mishap.

The court said he had no more right to keep a dangerous tree on his property than to keep a dangerous building.

Collins, Colo., where she received her P.H.D. degree in Radiology and Radiation Biology in the field of cancer research on August 15, at the Colorado State University. She is leaving for a job at Livermore, Calif., this week. Mrs. Carver is a niece of Mrs. Caldwell and a granddaughter of Mrs. Furr. Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Furr flew by jet from Lubbock to Denver, being the first jet trip for both. Mrs. Furr is 91 years old and she enjoyed the trip because it was so much faster than the trip would have been by car.

The farm organization president told the newly organized county affiliate that it is time for all farmers to join hands and present a united front to the new president and his administration. He said that most of the nations' farm organizations are now working together through an informal coalition, with only one major farm organization not participating. Naman said "we have a great opportunity to influence the new administration to strengthen the farm programs and to provide the incentive necessary for an abundant agriculture."

Teach Children Eat Right Foods

COLLEGE STATION -- Allowing a child to eat only the foods he likes and making up lost nutrients with vitamins is a poor practice, one foods and nutrition specialist contends.

"Learning to enjoy a wide variety of nutritious foods is basic for developing good lifetime eating habits," Frances Reasonover, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

She explained that children who eat only the foods they like have to depend upon these few foods for all the 45 essential nutrients.

Parents can encourage children to learn to eat a variety of foods by setting a good example in their own eating habits.

"It's all right for a child to have a few dislikes. If he refuses certain dishes, don't push but offer them again later," the specialist suggested. Children's taste buds are sensitive -- they generally like bland foods better than those with sharp or distinctive flavors.

"A food 'jag' -- eating only one food for a time -- is common and seldom harmful. A wise parent will not worry about this, knowing his child will soon concentrate on a different food," she advised.

Letting the child help prepare food, serve himself and allowing him some choice in the selection of his meals are other ways to encourage variety in the child's diet.

This will be set up at the Mule Memorial Site and coffee, cakes and donuts will be available at no charge to all holiday travelers.

The wise woman will look over her past winter's wardrobe before she starts shopping for the coming season. It may be possible to build on some particularly nice garment or accessories she already has.

Separates are so popular that new blouses, skirts or jackets can be used to form entirely new outfits.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Swimming is more than a sport in Texas--it's a way of life which the Texas State Department of Health recognizes and has a part in through training of swimming pool operators.

Thousands of new pools will be constructed this year throughout the nation. In Texas at this moment, well over 50,000 pools are attracting swimmers like bees to a flower.

This is all to the good, swimming lends itself to social adjustments. It teaches coordination and builds stamina and character. A child that overcomes fear of water has learned courage.

But here are also elements of risk. This accelerated interest in swimming creates hazards to life and limb. Also, dangers of disease transmission is present. That's why the State Department's regional offices conduct courses to teach pool operators the various skills of their job.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
Is it right for your mother to open your mail or to read your diary? From something my mother said I am sure she has been reading my diary but she says she has not.
I will say she has not opened my personal letters but she opened some a few days ago which she thought might contain obscene stuff.
What do you think about this?
Mary G.--III.

done so, you will be wise to take her word for it. If you have the idea that someone is reading it, you could get a diary with a lock and key.

As to mail, I think a parent has a right to open an envelope if she thinks it may contain obscene material. And this is so, because so much of this kind of thing is sent to young people who have not ordered it or who have done so, not realizing what it really is. This kind of material should be reported to authorities and a parent can do this much easier than a youngster can.

Louisa.

Address letters: Louisa, Box 532, Orangeburg, S.C. 29115

Answer:
No one should open another's mail or read their diaries. Perhaps your mother's intuition has caused her to say something which makes you think she has read your diary but if she says she has not

But when state and local health authorities, pool operators, and pool patrons join hands to make swimming what it should be--wholesome, safe, and fun--the results can be highly beneficial. That kind of cooperation is now going on throughout Texas.

Before the year is over, Health Department instructors will have provided instruction to some 1,000 operators of public and semi-public pools at approximately 18 schools. The Department welcomes owners of private pools to the instructions if they desire to attend. But most of the emphasis is--understandably--on pools which serve the public.

The course also cover pool safety, bathroom sanitation, and the various filtering systems used by modern pools.

How important are swimming pool as links in the chain of diseases transmission? Eye ear, nose and throat, skin and intestinal infections are among the most common conditions spread in swimming pools. Typhoid fever and diarrheal diseases have been traced to neighborhood pools.

Most prevalent, however, is ring worm of the feet, commonly called "athlete's foot". It is not contracted in pool water, but by walking on wet floors on which the spores of the infected flourish.

Swimmers, too, have a responsibility toward pool cleanliness. Like most public places, a pool quickly assumes the character of its least desirable patron.

Co-sponsored by regional and local health departments, courses consist of six hour of intensive technical and practical instruction. It covers such things as how to disinfect the water, and how to control water acidity. Water acidity, incidentally, is the factor which causes swimmer's eyes to burn, rather than chlorine as is supposed.

The Consumer Alert

By John L. Hill Attorney General

COLLEGE STATION -- Pork prices are up, and features are fewer, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

Some features will be Boston butt roasts, quarter-loin cut into chops, liver, smoked hams, bacon and frankfurters, the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"Fryer chicken prices continue at about last week's levels with budget features still on whole fryers.

"Turkey supplies are large, but consumers should buy turkey to meet specific family needs," Mrs. Clyatt advised. "Dairy features include cottage cheese, yogurt and ice cream.

"Beef specials range from ground beef with soy protein, chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and roasts to sirloin and rib steaks -- consider feature items and evaluate choices on a cost-per-serving basis."

At vegetable counters, potato prices are down a bit, but head lettuce prices and quality show variation, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

"New-crop sweet potatoes are available at moderate prices -- buy just enough to use in a week or ten days-- they don't keep until they're cured.

"Beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, okra, dry yellow onions and squash are good buys, price-wise.

Fruit buys include cantaloupes, plums, bananas, oranges and grapes.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Turkey economy -- it's grater on a large bird, 16 pounds or more. Large birds usually cost less per pound than smaller birds, and there is a larger proportion of meat to bone.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Homemade ice cream is almost a forgotten treat. There's a certain nostalgia about homemade ice cream at family gatherings.

- 1/2 c sugar
- 2 T cornstarch
- 1 c milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/3 c coffee cream
- 2 egg whites
- 1 1/2 c whipping cream
- 2 t vanilla extract
- pinch of salt

Mix sugar and cornstarch. Add scalded milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook in double boiler 25 minutes. Stir several times during cooking. Combine with well beaten egg yolks. Cook for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add salt and coffee cream. Mix well, strain and cool. When custard is cool, whip cream and fold into custard.

Pour into refrigerator trays and freeze. Before the ice cream has frozen solid enough to serve, remove the tray from refrigerator. Stir well with a spoon from front to back of tray. Then carefully fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Freeze. If you like churned ice cream increase amount of custard needed and use your hand or electric churn. Freeze according to your churn's directions.

*Serve plain or with your favorite topping.

Under no circumstances should you sign a contract with any blank spaces left on it, Patricia Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, warned. Mark blanks "void." Consult a lawyer before signing anything you do not fully understand.

Accepting a child as he is, rather than comparing him to brothers and sisters, promotes a positive self-concept, according to Hene Carrington, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Texas Property Owners Assured Flood Coverage

Some 2,000 Texas property owners were assured today by the National Flood Insurers Association that they have the full protection of flood insurance policies which they have purchased but have not yet received because of a paper work backlog.

According to certain reports, the City of Muleshoe has certain areas of prime building spaces which fall into the flood requirement on insurance. These homes or future homes will be required to obtain flood insurance before loans will be made on them.

"This delay in getting policies to people has absolutely no effect on the coverage which they have purchased," said Wallace R. Smith, assistant general manager of the NFIA, an association of private insurance companies formed to provide flood insurance under a cooperative government-private insurance industry program.

The program is administered by the Federal Insurance Administration, a unit of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. It was established under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968. Policies may be obtained through a local property and casualty insurance agent or broker. The NFIA appoints a single servicing company for each eligible area, through which the policies are written. The company then supplies agents and brokers with applications upon request and processes requests for flood insurance received from local agents and brokers.

"If one of the property owners affected by the backlog should suffer a loss covered by the policy," said Smith, "he will be paid just as if he had the policy."

Smith said the backlog of paper work, which affects flood insurance policies purchased since July 1, is the result of a delay in the preparation of special flood maps needed to set flood insurance rates and a delay in the amiling of a new flood insurance manual to servicing companies.

The problem actually began, according to NFIA, with the passage of federal legislation late last year which expanded the flood insurance program. In most cases, the amount of flood insurance available to home owners and businessmen in flood-prone areas was increased by more than 100 per cent.

The remaining 133 Texas communities are under the emergency program, under which subsidized rates are charged pending the completion of actuarial studies in these communities.

Adding to the problems of the NFIA, according to Smith, has been the tremendous increase in the number of flood insurance policies being written since the program was expanded. He estimated that the 375,000 policies now in force countrywide will grow to a million by the end of 1974 and to more than one and one-half million by July of 1975.

Guide For Apartment Hunt

Several columns ago I commented on a new practice by some mortgage lenders in the Milwaukee area of slipping a sliding-scale interest rate clause into conventional new-home loans. No one thought much about it until the money crunch hit. Then the interest rate went up on a number of home loans and the screams of unhappy homeowners were heard all the way to Washington.

Once again the proposal has been made by the head of the Federal Home Loan Bank that variable interest rates be used on home mortgages. The variable interest rate proposal was made two years ago and received such a violent congressional reaction at that time that it was quickly withdrawn. The objectionable part then, as now, was whether the proposal would result in a loss of home equity by older couples, especially those with fixed incomes. The proposal could lead to a rise in home mortgage interest costs of as much as two and one half percent over the life of a mortgage.

The variable interest rate proposal is being offered as a possible solution to the heavy drain of depositors dollars out of savings and loan associations and into other higher yielding short-term investments. Time was when a government ceiling on how much a savings and loan could pay depositors, helped keep home mortgage rates down. But not any more. The average effective interest rate on conventional new-home loans has hit an all-time high of nine percent, up from 7.8% just a year ago. So, in spite of government ceilings on the amount of interest which savings and loan depositors may receive, mortgage interest rates continue to flee the thrift institutions.

Better than 60% of the country's housing money comes from thrift institutions where the small investors puts their savings. Congress is aware of the right of the small investor to get an attractive return on his savings. By holding down interest rates on savings and loan deposits, the government in effect is forcing the small investor to subsidize the homebuyer at a rate of return of seven or seven and one half percent when the current rate of inflation is over 10%.

The expanded program called for NFIA to distribute by July 1 of this year the new manual, which includes new policies and new policy applications. It also called for the Federal Insurance Administration to prepare by July 1 flood insurance rate maps for various sections of the country. These maps establish the vulnerability of a given area to flooding and thus provide a basis for determining the cost of flood insurance.

While the new flood insurance manual was in the hands of all agents by July 1, NFIA said, the companies which service the program did not receive them until about July 10. In addition, some agents mistakenly continued to use the old applications. Also about a third of the flood maps were not completed in time and another third were completed but were inaccurate, according to NFIA.

As a result, policies sold from July 1 on -- most of which went into effect as usual after a 15-day waiting period -- could not actually be issued. (In the first 30 days in which an area is eligible for flood insurance, there is no waiting period.) Some of the premiums collected will have to be adjusted, some upward and some downward. In no case, said Smith, will the premium adjustment amount to more than a few dollars a year.

The premium adjustments, NFIA said, apply only to policies written under what is called the regular flood insurance program. This program, which is applicable in about 69 of the 202 Texas communities eligible for flood insurance, is in effect in areas for which actuarial rates have been es-

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is either serious or kidding this week, take your choice.

Dear editor:

I have been working on a theory for permanent world peace and I'd like to know what you think of it.

It's fairly simple, once you get hold of it.

Take the current situation, on Cyprus. As I understand it, Turkey wants part of the island, Greek another, and the Cypriots haven't been consulted either way, so it's only natural that Greece and Turkey should fight about it until Henry Kissinger can figure out how to divide the island as he has every right to do since both sides are fighting with our weapons.

There's the point. An undivided country is an open invitation to warfare. All countries smaller than the United States, China, Russia and anybody else who has the atom bomb should be divided at once before fighting breaks out and kept that way, and it should have been done years ago. You don't see North Dakota fighting South Dakota, do you? North Carolina fighting South Carolina? Those places got used to the idea of being divided long ago and settled down to peaceful co-existence.

If Henry Kissinger would sit down with a map and a ruler and divide every small country exactly in half and then call a world conference to see what other countries get which halves, we might put an end to these constant squabbles and settle down to waiting around till somebody figures out an answer to inflation.

Some may argue that the small countries aren't going to like this, but have you ever heard of a small country being consulted when a bigger country decided to take it over? And of course some may point out that there's a South Korea and a North Korea and a South Vietnam and a North Vietnam and they're still fighting, but people who point out such things probably are members of the media who go around emphasizing the bad side of a good theory.

The world is not all bad. I've got a neighbor who claims he drove into a filling station the other day and they cleaned his windshield and checked his battery water.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Battle lines are drawn for the State Democratic Convention here September 17.

Liberal delegates, although apparently outnumbered, asserted their intentions at a recent meeting in San Antonio to claim their full share of convention plums.

— First, they made clear, they will fight for proportional representation on the State Democratic Executive Committee, the party's policy-making and house-keeping body in Texas.

— Second, they are demanding their share of the 76 delegates to the national Democratic mid-term mini-convention in Kansas City next December.

— The liberals also made preparations for expressing their views on the party platform, resolutions and rules.

— Finally, they indicated they may challenge Gov. Dolph Briscoe's choice for SDEC chairman and other top committee officers. Choices of incumbent governors for these posts traditionally have gone unchallenged where they have majority control of conventions.

The "open party" Democrats at the San Antonio session adopted a platform committing themselves to a state party organization that will support Democratic candidates and principles at all levels rather than "promoting the policies of incumbent governors."

Bob Bullock of Austin, Democratic nominee for comptroller, is being urged to oppose incumbent SDEC Chairman Calvin Guest of Bryan, Governor Briscoe's choice for a second term.

Meanwhile, the national Democratic charter commission broke up in anger when party regulars and reformers clashed over reform measures in the proposed Democratic constitution.

GOVERNORS TO MEET — Governors of the southern states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will meet near here September 8-11 to discuss a wide range of problems, including economy and energy.

Governor Briscoe is host to the Southern Governors Conference which will meet at Lakeway, a luxury resort on Lake Travis 20 miles northwest of the Capital City.

About 300 reporters will join the 19 governors and their staffs for the three-day business meeting, and the social rounds of tennis, golf, sailing and parties.

Gov. Melvin Evans, governor of the Virgin Islands, is chairman of the Southern Governors Conference for 1973-74.

ment that National GOP Chairman George Bush of Houston did not get the vice presidential nomination, although most had no objection to Nelson Rockefeller.

Joe Bill Watkins is resigning as executive assistant to Attorney General Hill, and will be succeeded by David Kendell. Watkins will return to law practice in Houston.

Governor Briscoe has asked Armstrong County be added to the list of counties designated as disaster areas due to prolonged drought in Central and West Texas.

State Banking Department received an application for a Twin City State Bank at Texarkana.

A statute of former President Lyndon B. Johnson was unveiled at LBJ State Park near Stonewall Saturday (August 24).

The Department of Public Safety denied it made any surveillance or background reports on members or staff of a joint committee on prison reform.

Texas Water Rights Commission set October 10 hearings on creation of Meadowlakes Municipal Utility District (Burnet County) and Timmeron MUD 1 (Hays County near Wimberly).

INSURANCE JARGON HIT — The State Board of Insurance is declaring war on "the fine print, double talk and gobbledy-gook" in insurance policies, according to Board Chairman Joe Christie.

Christie said the average policy holder cannot understand policy jargon, and recent tests show Einstein's theory of relativity is more readable than an average hospital insurance plan.

Christie said efforts will be made in the next session of the legislature to improve "the readability factor" of insurance policies. He recommended that other state agencies give some attention to similar readability problems involving documents over which they have jurisdiction.

No-fault auto insurance will be another subject for legislative consideration in 1975, Christie told Texas Bankers Association at a conference here. He said a recent study on the subject by the Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs will be of major help to lawmakers.

AG OPINIONS — The University of Texas must give a legislator access to files on UT land leases, but may keep confidential land appraisals and sealed bid contents, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• Records of a city's exercise of licensing authority over electrical installations is public information and should be disclosed.

• Police supplementary reports of accidents, including witnesses' statements and photographs, although involving possible litigation against a city, are part of the official record and are not excepted from disclosure.

• A faculty member who fails to exercise the option to participate in the optional teacher retirement system does not have the right to a second opportunity to exercise that option on returning to teaching in Texas after terminating previous employment and leaving the state to seek an advanced degree.

• Whether a water pump and irrigation casing are fixtures within terms of taxation depends on facts in a particular case.

• An individual who is not a registered engineer may not display or use membership in or certification by an association using the term "engineer" in its name in his professional or business activities.

COMMITTEES NAMED — State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest named an election advisory committee to plan statewide rallies and extensive voter registration and get-out-the-vote campaigns to help Democratic nominees.

A pre-election statewide telecast is also under consideration for the party's nominees.

Members of the committee include all statewide Democratic nominees, Guadalupe County Democratic Chairman Lem Allen, Travis County Chairman Ken Wendler, Midland County Chairman Vann Culp, Tarrant County Chairman Estil Vance, Swisher County Chairman R. T. O'Daniel.

Also Democratic Congressional Candidates Bob Krueger of New Braunfels, Jack Hightower of Vernon and Mike McKeel of Dallas and seven members of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

SCHOOL AID APPROVED — Seven Texas school districts and four regional education service centers will receive a total of $191,091 in federal funds to develop modern planning, budgeting and program evaluation techniques in 1974-75.

The grants will go to El Paso, Galveston, Birdville, Waxahatchie, Irving, New Caney and Lockhart and to ESC regions in Edinburg, Corpus Christi, San Angelo and El Paso. A second round of grants totalling $79,599 will be awarded later this fall.

SHORT SNORTS

A Houston federal court decision held unconstitutional a requirement that campaign literature contain both the name of the person paying for it and identification of the printer or publisher who prepared it. The state will appeal.
