School Board Filing Deadline March 5 For Group Training

Contracts Renewed For Dillman, 15 Other School Personnel

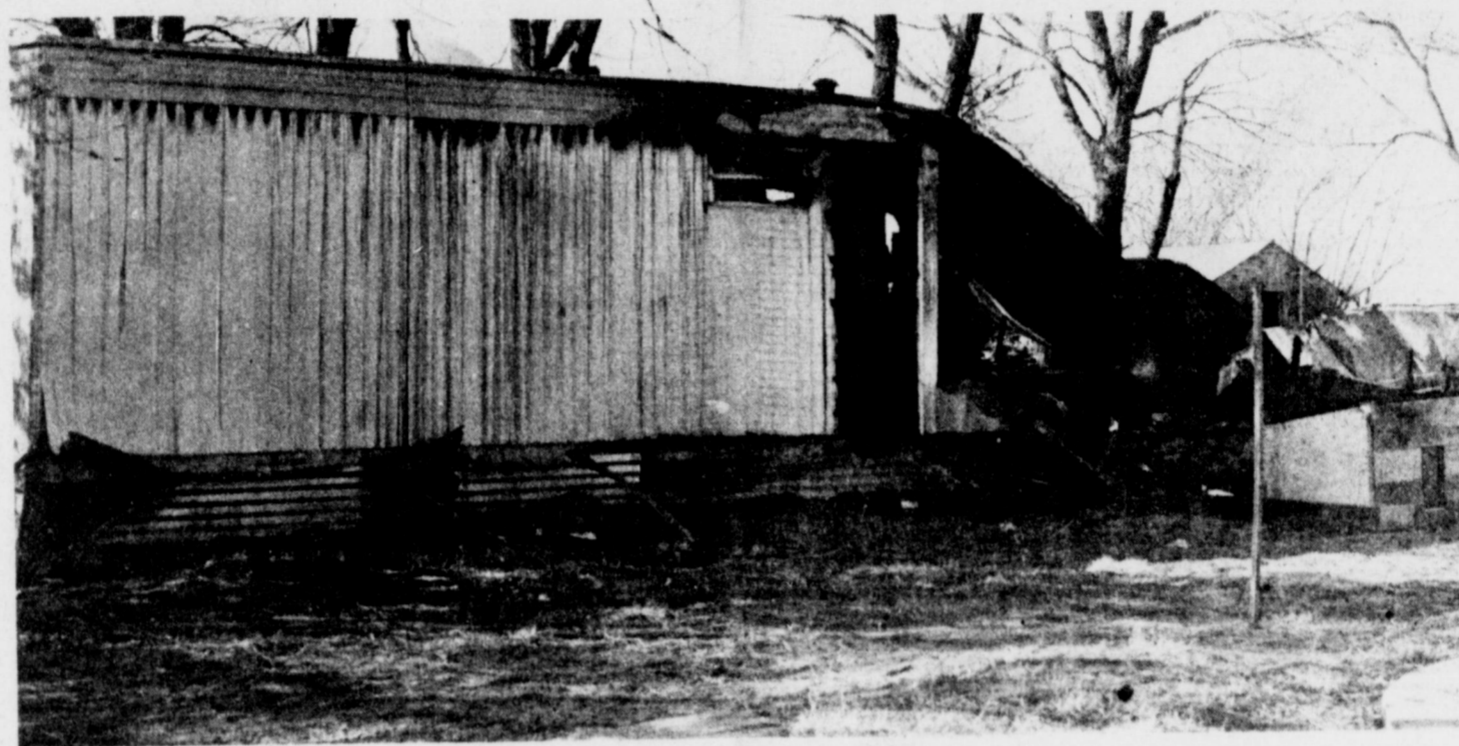

Wednesday, March 5, is the deadline for candidates for three places on the Muleshoe Independent School Board to file with the school business office. Each of the three places is for a term of three years.

Royce L. Turner announced his filing last week. Louis Wayne Shaffer and Ernest Ramm, both incumbents, announced their filing for re-election Monday night at the school board's meeting. The positions of Shaffer, Ramm and Aubrey Heathington are to be filled in this election. Heathington had not announced at presstime. Other current members of the board include Don Harmon, David Stovall, Carl Bamert and Charles G. Lewis. Absentee voting will be held at the county clerk's office March 17 through April 1. The election is to be held Saturday, April 5, at the high school cafeteria, 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Ernest Kerr was appointed election judge, George Cabrera, assistant judge.

In other business at Monday night's meeting, the board re-employed the following administrators, counselors, head coaches, speech director and music directors: Neal B. Dillman, superintendent of schools, three year contract ending June 28, 1978, 29 years total experience, 15 in Muleshoe; Kathleen Frances, counselor, one year contract, 17 years experience, 12 in Muleshoe; Ben Gramling, counselor, one year contract, 14 years experience, 13 in Muleshoe; Tom Jinks, director of special programs, two year contract, 20 years experience, nine in Muleshoe; and Elizabeth Watson, curriculum director, two year contract, 32 years experience, 29 in Muleshoe.

David Murphy, choir director, one year contract, two years experience, one in Muleshoe; Tony Clines, band director, one year contract, two years experience, two in Muleshoe; Kerry Moore, director of speech and drama, one year contract, 15 years experience, 15 in Muleshoe; Raymond Schroeder, head basketball and golf, assistant football coach, one year contract, 13 years total, nine in Muleshoe; Charles Stout, athletic director and head football coach, one year contract, seven years experience, six in Muleshoe.

Ronnie Jones, assistant junior high principal, one year contract, 12 years total, eight in Muleshoe; Bob Graves, assistant high school principal, one year contract, 17 years total, 17 in Muleshoe; Milton O'Neil, primary principal, two year contract, 23 total years experience, 13 in Muleshoe; Bill Taylor, elementary principal, two year contract, 23 years total experience, 21 in Muleshoe; Wayland Ethridge, junior high principal, two year contract, 14 years total, 11 in Muleshoe; and Fred Mardis, high school principal, two year contract, with a total of 12 years experience and 10 in Muleshoe. All one year contract end June 15, 1976. Two year contracts terminate on June 30, 1977.

TRAILER DESTROYED . . . A 12' x 70' trailer house belonging to Don McMakin, 11 miles south of Muleshoe on Highway 214, was totally destroyed by a fire early Monday morning. McMakin was spending the night with his parents who's home is some 200 feet from his trailer. His mother was ill. A passing trucker alerted the family of the fire. It was believed a stove exploded or an electrical blanket set the fire. The Bailey County Fire Department came at once McMakin said.

Commissioners Appoint Election Officials

Bailey County Commissioners' Court met in Regular Session at Courthouse in Muleshoe on February 10.

Bids were received for County

Depository for the years 1975-76. Only one bid was submitted for depository and First National Bank, Muleshoe was approved as County Depository for said years.

Election Officials for General and Special Elections for the year 1975 were appointed as follows: CANVASSING BOARD (Absentee Box) Connie Dale Gorton, Barry T. Lewis and Dorothy Wood.

VOTING PRECINCT #1 Mrs. Bill Taylor and Kathleen Hayes.

VOTING PRECINCT #2 Leldon Phillips and Ernest Ramm.

VOTING PRECINCT #3 Ross Goodwin and Loyce King.

VOTING PRECINCT #6 C.C. Snitker and Bob Newton.

VOTING PRECINCT #7 C.G. Damron and Mrs. Fred Beene.

VOTING PRECINCT #8 Mrs. Jack Schuster and Mrs. W.R. Bowers.

Court interviewed persons interested in being appointed as Justice of Peace Precinct No. 1, since that office has been vacated by the resignation of Morris Nowlin on February 1, but no action was taken until a later date.

Members of Civil Defense met with Court with request to purchase safety equipment, and Commissioners agreed to pay one-half of cost of said equipment.

Request of District Attorney for approval of salary for Sandra Martin, Secretary for said office.

Frank Ellis requested additional subsidy in continuing ambulance service for Bailey County was heard, but no action was taken at this time.

The next meeting will be held February 28 at the Commissioners Court Room.

Football Fans: Note Schedule Of '75-'76

The Muleshoe Mules will kick off their football season for 1975-76 with the games in the same order and to the same teams as the past fall, officials announced Monday.

The local school board approved next year's football schedule Monday night at its regular meeting. The board also approved $12.50 price for season tickets; $2 per-game admission; $2.50 gate admission; and $2.75 for reserved seats pre-game tickets. Student tickets at $3 for the season.

Annual GSPA Board Meeting Planned

LUBBOCK, TEXAS -- Glenn Weir, associate administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service from Washington, D.C., will discuss government farm programs in a talk at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association March 6.

The GSPA board meeting will be held in conjunction with the Ninth Biennial Grain Sorghum Research and Utilization Conference March 4-6 at the Hilton Inn in Lubbock, Texas.

The meeting of the GSPA board follows an award luncheon that climaxes activities at the utilization conference. A.W. (Dub) Anthony of Friona, Texas, will preside at the GSPA board meeting. Anthony is president of the GSPA.

Other business slated for the board meeting includes an election of officers and a review of GSPA policies related to government farm programs and agricultural marketing practices. Current GSPA officers in addition to Anthony are K.B. Parrish, Springlake, Tex., Melvin Barton, Dimmitt, Tex., and Mabry Foreman, Felt, Okla., all vice presidents; Pat Northcutt, Siverton, Tex., secretary-treasurer; and John Smith, Cameron, Tex., and Larry Abeldt, Hope, Kan., directors. Elbert Harp of Abernathy, Tex., is executive director of GSPA which has offices at 1708-A 15th St., Lubbock, Tex. Operating in five states through the High Plains grain belt, GSPA is the national organization for grain sorghum farmers and is active in research, market development and legislative representation.

Texas Farmers Union Legislative Day Set

Over 100 farmers, ranchers and their wives will take on the role of 'citizen lobbyists' as they assemble in Austin, Tuesday, February 18, to participate in the Texas Farmers Union Legislative Day activities.

The Farmers Union members will be petitioning their representatives in Austin on matters of great importance to rural areas and agricultural production in the state. Emphasis will be placed on informing urban members of the Legislature with problems faced by rural citizens.

Among the key issues to be discussed by the farm organization members will be the creation of a state Public Utility Commission. Rapidly increasing utility rates and marginal service are critical issues affecting many parts of rural Texas. Members will be lobbying for a constitutional amendment which would permit lands being used for the production of food, fiber and livestock to be taxed at its productive value. Many farmers and ranchers are being forced out of business by high property taxes they are paying due to the high market value of land created by speculation and its location relative to other land uses.

Other issues which the 'farm lobbyists' will be discussing include an increased appropriation for the Senior Texans Employment Program, a work program for older low-income Texans administered by the Farmers Union Community Development Association, and the establishment of a committee to study the feasibility of a state young farmer land transfer program.

The Legislative Day activities will begin with an early morning breakfast and briefing session. Several state office holders and key committee chairmen will brief the Farmers Union members on important legislation dealing with rural area.

Volunteers Needed

A Civil Defense action program is being organized in Bailey County to inform the public in event of danger and to assist in disaster areas. The initial meeting of the all-volunteer organization which will work with the police and fire departments, was enthusiastically endorsed by the more than 40 persons who attended the Monday night meeting.

The BCCD group will be composed of weather watching, shelter, communications, welfare, ambulance, traffic control and search and rescue teams.

Cleve Bland, BCCD Co-ordinator says that approximately 30 to 45 days of tornado weather are normally expected in the area. They will need all the volunteers they can get to carry out the Civil Defense program.

When Bailey County is placed under any kind of a weather watch, the weather watch team that is being trained to observe clouds by both the Fire Department and Civil Defense, will be stationed at different points around the county. These groups will monitor the clouds and report by radio back to the BCCD center, to be located in the basement of the Law Enforcement Center.

Should the situations become serious, the CD shelter officers will see that public shelters are opened by CD volunteers.

Should a disaster occur, the CD center welfare teams will handle the homeless and those needing food and shelter.

Traffic control and ambulance service will be carried out in conjunction with local police and CD members in order to eliminate excessive traffic and to care for the injured.

Search and rescue teams will be trained to check damaged areas for injured survivors and those in shelter places.

Bland pointed out it is vital that the CD have a list of all shelters, including all homes that have basements.

In the event of a tornado, search and rescue teams will use this list to check for basements of the destroyed homes for survivors.

Officers elected are Cleve Bland, Bailey County Civil Defense co-ordinator appointed by County Judge Glen Williams and the commissioners court; assistant co-ordinator is Chamber of Commerce manager Tommy Black; chief communications officer is Jack Taylor.

Three Fires Over Weekend

Firemen of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department have had a busy year so far. There have been 15 fires since the first of the year. Three of these fires were reported this past weekend.

The fire department was called out Sunday, February 9 at 1:30 p.m. where a dumpster at 5th and D had caught on fire. Monday morning at 1:30 a.m. the fire department was called out to the Emmitt Dean house, where the Dick Wylie family is living, two miles west on the 1760 road. Apparently the fire started from a couch in the living room. It was reported that only two rooms of the house was badly damaged.

The fire department had barely gotten to town when another fire call was reported in the O. E. McMakin home, eleven miles south on road 214. The fire destroyed the trailer house that Don McMakin was living in. The cause for the fire was determined as either the stove or an electric blanket caught ablaze.

Jack Taylor At Lazbuddie Baptist Church

Jack Taylor will be in a Deeper Life Bible Conference at the First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie February 16 through 22.

Taylor is the Pastor of Castle Hills First Baptist Church in San Antonio. He is the author of the following books: 'Keep the Triumphant Living', 'Much More', 'Victory Over the Devil', 'One Home Under God', and 'After The Spirit Comes'.

There will be morning services Monday through Friday at 10:00 a.m. and evening services will be held Sunday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is urged to attend this Deeper Life Bible Conference.

Jaycees Attend District Convention

The District I Convention was held at Midland, February 7, 8 and 9.

Speaker at the Saturday noon luncheon was Rich Clayton, chairman of the board; Speaking at the Saturday night banquet was John Thomson, Vice President of U.S. Jaycees and past president of the Texas Jaycees.

At the Sunday awards luncheon Frank Liehell, president of the Texas Jaycees spoke.

Two members of the Muleshoe Jaycees were elected to District offices this past weekend, Curtis Walker was elected as National Director for Area IA. Charles Moraw was elected State Vice President for Region 114.

Muleshoe Jaycees were awarded the Travel Trophy for having the most members present and traveling the furthest distance within their district. Gene McGuire was awarded a plaque for placing first in the 'Faith in God' competition. The Muleshoe Jaycees, accepted this award for McGuire, who had to return early from the convention to become a deacon in his church. Ted Barnhill was given an honorable mention in the 'Keyman' competition.

Jaycees who attended from Muleshoe were: Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Finney, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Dollar, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Fields, Leon Logsdon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Butch Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Goree, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhill, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Young, Kevin Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moraw, Jeff Smith, and Bill Dale, State Vice President, Region 114.

Charles Moraw and Curtis Walker will be sworn in for their offices at the State Convention in May at Houston, Texas.

The Muleshoe Jaycees met Monday for their noon general membership meeting with the President Charles Moraw calling the meeting to order. Invocation was given by Terry Fields. Pledge of Allegiance was led by Bob Finney and the Jaycee Creed was led by Mike Armstrong.

Guest was Wayne Hollingshead of the Lubbock Jaycees and currently a state vice president.

Cattle Slaughter Jump Expected

COLLEGE STATION -- The slaughter of grass-fed cattle, calves and yearlings increased sharply during the past year due to high feed costs and low prices for feeder animals.

Will there be a change in 1975?

"The same trend in commercial slaughter will continue, but increases will be even more drastic than in 1974," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Since there will be fewer animals moving to feedlots, beef supplies will come primarily from bulls, cows, calves, and non-fed steers and heifers," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Uvacek expects the slaughter of non-fed or grass-fed steers and heifers to increase a whopping 56 percent over 1974, while calf slaughter should increase 33 percent and cow

New Decisions Needed On Harvesting Cotton

RALEIGH -- In the face of drastic changes in cotton prices and the costs of cotton production, cotton producers should take a long hard look at their capital investment in harvesters and at the way they use modern, high-speed pickers or strippers. A new study by Cotton Incorporated shows that harvesting decisions based on possible gin jam-ups are almost as outdated as hand-picking.

The modular system for harvesting, handling, storing and ginning seed cotton has liberated harvesting operations from restraints imposed by slow ginning, says J.K. ("Farmer") Jones, associate director of agricultural research for mechanization at Cotton Incorporated. Cotton Incorporated is the research and marketing company of U.S. cotton growers. The new study was prepared by Dr.

William Lalor, manager of systems and cost engineering in the agricultural research division. "Any decision on harvesting speed and harvesting capacity involves a trade-off between the loss of unharvested cotton that remains in the field and the cost of enough harvesting equipment to prevent losses in the field," says Jones. "In making these decisions, producers should carefully consider the new module system," Jones believes. "Seed cotton storage can mean more economical harvesting and ginning for the producer." What is financially best for any producer will depend largely on whether he has high yielding or low yielding cotton. The new study shows that a producer of high yield cotton benefits most from very rapid harvesting made possible by a storage system. Capital investments in added harvester capacity are quickly amortized. "But producers of low-yield cotton will gain advantages with a storage system," Jones says. "Low-yield cotton does not require rapid harvesting. It cannot produce revenues required to justify the capital investment in greater harvester capacity. But a storage system still allows a low-yield producer to operate the harvesting, the greater the cost of ginning. The increased flow of seed cotton to the gin dictated ever increasing gin capacity -- to the point of diminishing returns. But the Cotton Incorporated study shows how seed cotton storage offsets the demand for increased gin capacity, and thus effectively cuts ginning costs. Ginning capacity need not match harvesting capacity. "In addition, a module system for handling seed cotton will give any producer protection against bad weather and will lessen his vulnerability to changing market conditions," Jones claims. As we move closer toward a situation where two-shift ginning is no longer possible, or if annual gin volume should be reduced significantly, the benefits of a seed cotton storage system would take on even greater importance. The Cotton Incorporated study has been released to the industry in the form of a new "Agro-Industrial Report" Publication entitled "Optimum Harvesting-Storing - Ginning Systems." Jones said the report is available to anyone who would like more detailed information. Requests should be addressed to Dr. William Lalor, Cotton Incorporated Research Center, 4505 Creedmoor Road, Raleigh, N.C. 27612.

It's Not All Bad... Bah, Bah, Bah... Off-Farm Down, On-Farm Up? ... Grain Stocks Decline.
Not everything you hear or see about the livestock outlook is bad. There are some heartening signs. Take a look at the December meat production figures, for example, and look, too, at the cow slaughter picture. Both in Texas and throughout the nation, production of red meats is increasing. In Texas, commercial production during December was up 38 per cent from a year ago, and 13 per cent higher than 1973. Nationwide, red meat production is seven per cent more than a year earlier. Beef production is up eight per cent. Cattle kill is up 13 per cent. Cow slaughter--the beef industry factory--is also on the increase. Cow slaughter in 1974 totaled 7,600,000 head. It is projected that will increase at least a third more during 1975.

All of this means we are making progress in reduction of beef supplies. But until they decline even more, the livestock picture is not going to be bright. Per capita consumption of beef continues to increase, too, but unfortunately, beef production is still ahead of consumption. It's estimated that we will produce about 125 pounds per capita of beef while consumption is projected at around 116 pounds per capita. Beef is now perhaps the best food buy around; look around and you'll see that beef prices to the consumer finally are showing some relation to the price drops suffered by the producer for the past year or so.

WHILE almost every other category of livestock is showing increases, one part of the Texas animal agriculture industry--sheep and lambs--is showing a big decline. It's the lowest population for sheep and lambs in Texas since 1919. As of Jan. 1, there were 2,688,000 head of sheep and lambs in Texas; this total is 13 per cent under the previous year. Way back in 1919, sheep and lamb population totaled 2,600,000 head. And the inventory of goats and kids on Texas farms and ranches is now the smallest number on record. The inventory shows 1,150,000 head of goats and kids, which is a 15 per cent decrease from a year ago. Nationwide, numbers of sheep and lambs as of Jan. 1 are down 11 per cent from 1974 and 18 per cent below two years ago.

OFF-FARM grain storage capacity in Texas as of Jan. 1 is down 33,000,000 bushels from a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Off-farm storage totaled 719,000,000 bushels. By regions, West Texas capacity dropped from 445,000,000 to 416,000,000; North Texas capacity dropped from 167,000,000 to 154,000,000; and South Texas capacity increased from 140,000,000 to 149,000,000 bushels. Meanwhile, farmers should consider locating storage now for grain crops in view of projections of increased acreage, especially for grain sorghum.

RICE stocks and corn are reported to be above amounts on hand compared to a year ago in Texas. Sorghum, wheat, barley and oats are below last year. Grain sorghum stocks in Texas are down 41 per cent from a year ago; wheat is down 2,000,000 bushels from a year ago; oats are down 9,000,000 bushels; barley is 594,000 bushels below a year ago. Nationwide, stocks of all grains except wheat were below a year earlier. Stocks of the four feed grains--corn, oats, barley and sorghum--are 22 per cent less than a year ago. Corn is down 19 per cent; wheat is up 19 per cent; soybeans are down 14 per cent.

The Inflation Question

The major doubt in the economic proposals of President Ford designed to counter the current recession concerns his suggested tax on crude oil; the President proposes to substantially raise fuel and gasoline prices in order to reduce consumption and obtain revenue—part of which would offset tax rebates.

But the tax on crude would undoubtedly be inflationary. And many doubt whether higher gasoline prices will significantly reduce consumption. The experience in some countries, most recently Italy, indicates it will not.

It seems increasingly likely Congress will go along with tax cuts, to stimulate the economy, but will devise other methods to deal with the energy crisis, rejecting as inflationary and dubious on other grounds the sharp hike in oil prices. The best interests of the American people lie in a compromise between the White House and Congress so that a legislative package can be speedily enacted into law.

1977. Other items on the agenda included the adoption of an official policy for the quarter system, with the schools being in operation during at least three quarters during each school year, providing 180 days of instruction for students and 10 days of inservice education for teachers, as required by State law.

Current enrollment figures reported a total enrollment of 1,809.62 less than were enrolled one year ago at the same date. Senior high lists 504 students, junior high, 440, Mary DeShazo Elementary, 442, Richland Hills Primary, 410, and special education school-wise, 33.

A review of average daily attendance for the first 18 weeks compares 1973-74 at 1,740.52 with 1,701.03 for the current year. The average membership report for grades 9-12 submitted to University Interscholastic League for classification purposes showed 526.03 for 1973-74; 520.83 for 1974-75 (18 weeks).

The board approved the request by the Muleshoe State Bank to release $20,000 in pledged securities that have matured. A balance of $659,000 in pledged securities to cover all school accounts.

Tax collections as of February 10, included $657,050.61 collected, with $7,503.19 delinquent taxes collected, less discounts, penalties and interest, making a total of $651,996.29. The balance of the 1974-75 budget of $705,940.00 is at present $53,943.71. More than 87 percent of the 1974 taxes have been collected, with slaughter, 32 per cent. The slaughter of bulls is expected to increase 12 percent. On the other hand, the specialist sees little change in the level of fed steers and heifers available for slaughter in 1975.

A total of 42 million head of cattle are expected to move to slaughter in 1975, an increase of 14 percent over the past year. An additional four million head of calves will also be slaughtered, up a million head from 1974.

"All this points to a reduction in the nation's beef cattle herd which has grown too rapidly in the past two years. The resulting oversupply situation has been largely responsible for current low market prices," contends Uvacek.

Homeowners Warned Of Being Underinsured

AUSTIN(Special) --Insurance companies throughout the state today warned property owners that due to skyrocketing inflation almost all citizens are underinsured.

F. Darby Hammond, president of Southwestern Insurance Information Service here, pointed out, for example, that the cost of housing construction has jumped about 70 percent since 1967.

A home that cost $20,000 in 1967 now sells for $34,000. "Homeowners who have not increased their insurance even in the past year are underin-sured and would face drastic losses if an accident occurs," he said.

The insurance industry is proposing a solution to the problem which will not cost homeowners much increase in premiums, if any. "Homeowners should increase the amount of their insurance to actual value at today's prices," Hammond said, "and they can do this without costing them a lost of money."

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Baker this past weekend was their daughter and son-in-law and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Lowery Mallory and Charles F. Worth, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Gilliland visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gilliland of Roswell over the weekend. They also visited long time friends, the Denvey Briggs.

While visiting in El Paso this weekend with their son and family, the Jerry Inmans, The Sherman Inmans also visited with Mrs. Myrtle Allsup. She is doing real good and was happy to see someone from Muleshoe.

When the Inmans walked in she was reading a letter from her former Sunday School teacher, Mrs. Rose Allen of Muleshoe. She enjoys very much hearing from her friends here and will be celebrating her 85th birthday on Valentine Day, if anyone would like to write her. Her address is: Mrs. Myrtle Allsup, Four Seasons Nursing Center, 1600 Murchon Street, El Paso, Texas 79902.

94 percent collected of the 1973 tax. A total of $15,917 taxes have been collected over last year's total, the report stated.

The financial report also included a review of budget balances of all categories of the operating fund; the bank balances of all school funds; the status of athletic fund, activity fund, lunchroom fund, and a review of replacement costs on building insurance. No action was taken on the latter report.

The board reviewed an annual transportation report to Texas Education Agency. State reimbursement for transportation for the 1974-75 year will be $44,629, the report stated.

The board reviewed criticisms of school personnel. Discussion was held in regard to various bills that are currently before the state legislature. Also discussed were the possibilities of putting the school tax roll on computer. The possibility was tabled for further study.

The next regular meeting of the school board will be Monday, March 10.

slaughter, 32 per cent. The slaughter of bulls is expected to increase 12 percent. On the other hand, the specialist sees little change in the level of fed steers and heifers available for slaughter in 1975.

A total of 42 million head of cattle are expected to move to slaughter in 1975, an increase of 14 percent over the past year. An additional four million head of calves will also be slaughtered, up a million head from 1974.

"All this points to a reduction in the nation's beef cattle herd which has grown too rapidly in the past two years. The resulting oversupply situation has been largely responsible for current low market prices," contends Uvacek.

Rhonda Stevenson Installed Worthy Advisor

Rhonda Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.R. White, was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Muleshoe Assembly, Number 161, Order of Rainbow for girls, Friday, February 7.

Miss Stevenson dedicated her term to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.R. White; her brother, Joe Bob and her sister, Annette. Rhonda's theme was Friendship. Her symbol was the clasped hands and her song was "Friends". Rhonda's colors were shades of green and yellow and her flower was the yellow iris.

Mrs. Robert Hunt, the outgoing Mother Advisor, presented the following installing officers: Installing Officer, Mrs. Eric Smith; Marshall, Marcia Rudd; Chaplain, Faith Free; Recorder, Prisca Young and Musician, Jona Oyler.

The officers for the coming term were brought into the assembly by the installing officer. Each girl then signed the book of times. The invocation was given by the installing chaplain and followed by the installation service of officers, Mother Advisor and Advisory Board.

Miss Stevenson then presented her family behind the bow for introduction. They were Mr. and Mrs. T.R. White and her brother, Joe Bob Stevenson.

Special music was presented by Miss Linda Schultz, who sang "Friends".

Miss Stevenson then presented all past and present Mother and Worthy Advisors; Wyley Bullock, Worthy Patron of the Muleshoe Eastern Star; all Masons and Eastern Stars and the Muleshoe Chapter of DeMolays.

Miss Stevenson then presented Marcia Rudd with a Past Worthy Advisor's pin who in turn presented Rhonda with the traveling gavel. She will be the 49th Worthy Advisor to wear it.

Mrs. Robert Hunt presented awards to several of the girls. Mrs. Fred Uphoff the incoming Mother Advisor presented the Past Mother Advisor's pin to Mrs. Robert Hunt.

The flower drill was then given honoring Rhonda by several Rainbow girls.

James Jennings gave the benediction before the Rainbow girls closed the service with the retiring march and the singing of "My Rainbow".

Those assisting Rhonda with her installation were registering guests, Tyree Waggon, Vicki Griffin and Karl Simmons serving the traditional "Rainbow Cake".

Officers serving with Miss Stevenson are Worthy Associate, Maribeth Dillman; Charity Fran Dunbar; Hope, Sherrell Rasco; Faith, Gwen Reeder; Recorder, Sharla Henry; Treasurer, Linette Newman; Chaplain, Denise Reeder; Drill Leader, Glenda Rasco; Musician, Sandy Dunbar; Love, Tonya Magby; Religion, Judy Lust; Nature, Sheryl McCamish; Immortality, Sherla Hunt; Fidelity, Sandra Faver; Patriotism, Stephanie Brantley; Service, Shannon Kennedy; Confidential Observer, Pam Young; Outer Observer, Kenetha Hysinger and Mother Advisor, Mrs. Fred Uphoff.

The advisory board for the coming year are Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mrs. Bennie Sue Free, Mrs. Latrial Hysinger, Mrs. Ona Payne, Mrs. Fred Uphoff, James Jennings, Lee Dunbar, Murrell Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Epting and Mr. and Mrs. Curby Brantley.

West Plains Hospital Hospital Briefs

These six girls were selected from a field of 37 girls who were nominated by the teachers at the college. They were then interviewed by a panel of six teachers. Twelve semifinalists were picked and these girls were invited to a tea attended by them and the Heads of the teaching departments at South Plains. These department heads voted for the top six. There will serve as hostesses for the remainder of the year and for 1975-76 college term.

The girls act as official Hostesses for the college for various functions. They take visiting students on tours of the campus and visit surrounding towns acting as good-will ambassadors for the college.

Sharon is the daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wrinkle of Muleshoe and she is a 1974 graduate of Muleshoe High School. Sharon is a second semester Freshman at South Plains and was on the Dean Honor list for the fall term. She has been selected a member of the Texas Junior College Association All-State Honors band and they will perform at the State Convention in Houston February 20 at the Shamrock Hilton Inn.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION -- Poultry offers economical protein choices at the supermarket this week, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt.

"Chicken hens are a good choice, and egg supplies are adequate for the demand--with little change in price," the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reported.

"Currently, Grade A, large-size eggs give the consumer more for his money," she added.

"Another good value is fish, and many varieties are available in frozen form with little or no waste," The Texas A & M University System specialist said.

Of beef, Mrs. Ciyatt said special prices are not extensive, although some appear on chuck cuts and ground beef. Also, some markets are high-lighting rib or T-bone steaks and beef liver.

"Real pork values are difficult to find, but good choices, price-wise, include Boston butt roasts, smoked picnics, liver and roll sausage.

"Cheese specials are dairy counter features, along with milk and sour cream."

At fruit and vegetable counters, the specialist noted some features on Temple oranges as they reach a peak harvest, and she said grapefruit and pear supplies continue to be heavy--with orange supplies ample.

"Most plentiful vegetables include cabbage, potatoes, carrots, onions, turnips, squash and cooking greens."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Coupons can save money, if consumers use them wisely. Coupons that offer "money off," or refunds, for usual purchases do save money.

However, consumers who clip out every coupon they see--and buy the advertised products--will increase spending rather than savings.

Miss Jeanie Putman Honored At Shower

Miss Jeanie Putman, bride-elect of David Wisian of Springlake, was honored with a Bridal Shower Friday, February 7 in the home of Mrs. Ray Precure from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Special guests were Mrs. B. R. Putman, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Elroy Wisian of Springlake, mother of the prospective groom; Mrs. Herbert Wisian of Springlake, grandmother of the prospective groom; Mrs. Jim Putman of Clovis, N.M., sister-in-law of the honoree; and Mrs. Ronald Young sister of the honoree. The table was covered with a white lace over gold cloth. Miss Linda Stedji, Miss Nancy Elmore and Miss Cynthia Chandler served cake, cookies, and lemon punch from silver and crystal appointments. Miss Terri Bryant registered the guests.

Hostess gifts were a set of cookware and a picture frame for a picture painted by Mrs. L. E. Evans.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Lee Dunbar, Mrs. Ben Chapman, Mrs. Orbie Chandler, Mrs. Danny Kelly, Mrs. Bob Glass, Mrs. Vernon Brown, Mrs. Jack Knowlton, Mrs. Buel Barber, Mrs. Bob Dodd, Mrs. Ray Precure, Mrs. James Crane, Mrs. A. C. Bryant, Mrs. Shirlee Richardson, Mrs. L. E. Evans, Mrs. Don Puckett and Mrs. Aubrey Quarles.

Miss Cowan, Miss Hooten Pledged Social Club

Kim Lee Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowan of 214 East Elm, and Gayla M. Hooten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten of Rt. 3, Box 38, were among the 42 women who have signed bids to pledge social clubs this spring at McMurry College in Abilene, Texas.

"There are 12 social clubs at McMurry," says Dr. Alan Staley, dean of student life at McMurry. "These are founded upon democratic principles and are dedicated to the promotion of wholesome social activities."

Kim is a 1974 graduate of Muleshoe High School. She is majoring in Elementary Education. Gayla is also a 1974 graduate of Muleshoe High School. She is majoring in Secondary Education.

The social club tradition at McMurry is almost as old as the college itself, which was established in 1923 and celebrated its 50th anniversary year last year.

McMurry College is a liberal arts college which belongs to the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church.

SCS Present Book On Flowers To Library

Jerry Wenmohs, District Conservation with the Soil Conservation Service in Muleshoe, presented the Muleshoe Public Library a book titled, NATIVE FLOWERS OF TEXAS.

The book, prepared by C.A. Rechenhain, State Resource Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Temple, was published to assist people interested in the wildflowers of Texas. The book will help identify the major flowering plants of the area in which they live and work.

A native plant, according to Wenmohs, plays a big part in our environment. Some of them feed us. Others feed our animals. Some provide clothing or shelter. Many plants furnish a home, food or cover for the many interesting kinds of wild animals and birds. Some plants simply provide spectacular unspoiled beauty.

This book, NATIVE FLOWERS OF TEXAS, was prepared to help individuals to identify the flowering plants and to discover new opportunities to use them in making our land more useful and more beautiful said Wenmohs.

Miss Nickels, Miss St. Clair Initiated

Pattie Nickels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nickels and Janis St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair were initiated into the Delta Eta Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha after meeting the requirements given during their pledgeship. They are now entitled to a lifetime membership of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Patti is a 1974 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is a second semester Freshman at West Texas State University.

A power above all human responsibility ought to be above all human attainment.

C.C. Colton.

My wife and I had the privilege, two summers ago of traveling over a lot of Europe, in a bus, with a group of students from E. N. M. U.

They are crowded, one-thousand and thirty people to the square mile live in Holland. The standard of living in Europe is much lower than here. All cars and tractors are smaller than here. Gasoline is more than one dollar per gallon. The Governments love the gas tax.

Most of the people live in large cities, in apartments. The buildings are five to seven stories high, built of stone, hundreds of years ago. The streets are narrow. No room for the renters to park their cars, even if they had the money to buy them. Most transportation is with under ground electric trains that are easy to use and understand.

Several hundred years ago most of the big cities decided to build big churches. They were built out of stone and marble.

It took a hundred years or more to build some of those great buildings. St. Peters Basilica is the most outstanding and beautiful of all. It is near the Vatican in Rome. Dante and Michelangelo are two of the great builders and sculptors of that time. Their work, and some others of that time will last long into the future.

Now the local people are not very interested in the churches. But they are crowded with tourists that marvel at the beauty of those great buildings.

I enjoyed early Rome best of all. The Catacombs haven't changed any since biblical times. The three palaces where the great Kings and Rulers of the Roman Empire lived are in total ruin. Only piles of broken rock mark the spots where they lived.

John A. Hoffer, Foreman on Watergate Jury: "We tried not to let our personal feelings get in the way and to decide it on the facts."

The Coliseum, about one-half mile away, where for four-hundred years gladiators fought and killed each other to entertain the crowds, is mostly destroyed.

The building that interested me most was the Pantheon. Built about twenty-two hundred years ago, is in perfect condition today. It is a temple dedicated to all the Gods. All through the dark ages the church protected it. It's a large building of stone. The inside is very beautiful with marble, inlaid in many shapes and colors. The ceiling is nearly two-hundred feet high, all in rock, chipped and chiseled in such a clever way that none have ever fell. I can't figure it out. But those rock hounds did it. They done a good job. The biggest one thing that baffled me most of all was the eight columns at the front of the building. Each of them was in one piece, no scratches or blemishes on any of them. My guess is, they were about one-hundred feet high and six feet thick, enlarged at the top and bottom, so they would hold the large rock slabs that tied them together at the top. They all added to a bewildering engineering miracle-I can't understand.

I try to think of our engineers going out in the rocky mountains and cut out a rock one-hundred feet long, six feet wide, make it round and smooth, then move it fifty miles, set it up on end. Do the same thing eight times.

It was done twenty-two hundred years ago. I saw it with my own eyes.

Family Financial Inventory

COLLEGE STATION -- Inventories are just as important for families as they are for profitable businesses, Mrs. Doris Myers, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, pointed out this week.

"This can determine net worth and guide future needs and planning. Another use is as a basis for insurance coverage or even claims if property is lost," she said.

A good place to begin is the household inventory—a room by room listing of every item. This should include the date purchased, original cost and present value. To determine present value, figure replacement cost, less deductions for depreciation, the specialist explained.

For gift and homemade items, estimate value of cost. Heirlooms and antiques may have increased in value rather than depreciated. This may call for an appraisal by an authority to determine present value. Don't forget to include personal effects such as clothing, jewelry, etc., she said.

Mrs. Myers pointed out that items in the garage and store room such as the family car, yard care and recreation equipment can amount to a sizeable sum.

"If the home is paid for, find out its value today. If you are paying on a mortgage, determine how much is invested. Add the value of any other real estate owned.

"Include in your inventory the name and value of investments, bonds, other savings and life insurance. Figure cash value for each."

Also include the amount of money in checking accounts and the amount others owe you. If there is any other item that has value, add its worth to complete the total family assets.

Turning to the liabilities column, the specialist advised listing each by name and amount owed. The list may include debts such as home mortgage, installment contracts, notes, charge accounts, credit card obligations and personal loans.

"Total the debit side, then take the difference in what is owed and what is owned -- this gives the family's financial picture," she said.

"In fact, they find out exactly where they stand overall--and many families are pleased to find out they're really doing better than they thought they were."

Baking Beauties Have Meeting

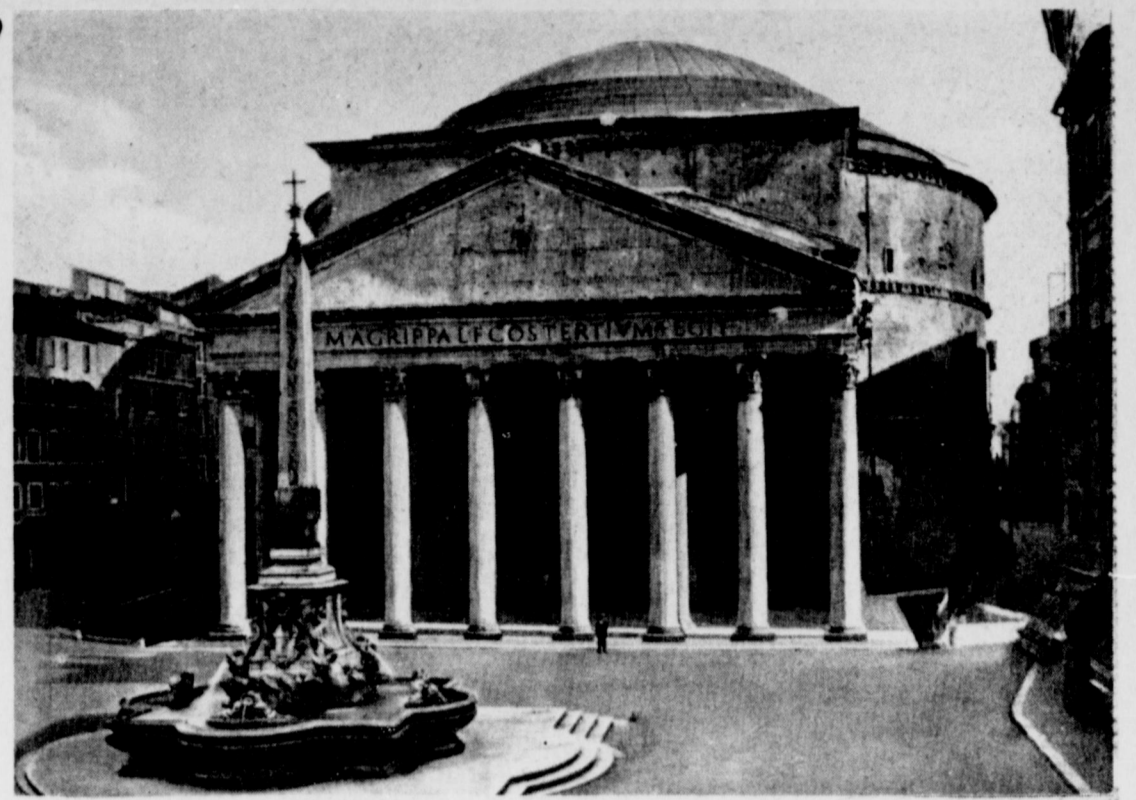

The Progress 4-H Baking Beauties had their third meeting in the home of Mrs. Bill Snell, Friday, February 7.

The girls cooked pigs in a blanket and peach halves topped with cinnamon and sugar for extra flavor.

Those present for the meeting were Sharon Carpenter, Connie Puckett, Deva Roming, Lori Hunt, Paula Snell, Delia Shaw, Jr. Leader, Sheila Hunt and Mrs. Bill Snell.

Henry Kissinger, Secretary of State, on oil crisis:

"I want to make clear that the use of force would be considered only in the gravest emergency."

THE PATHEON . . . The Pantheon was one of the many places Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Goucher toured two summers ago. This building was built twenty-two hundred years ago. It's a temple dedicated to all the God's.

Rifle Team Has Meeting

The Progress 4-H Rifle team met Sunday, January 26 at the Joe Sooter's barn. The Senior team met at 1:00 p.m., and the Junior team met at 3:00 p.m.

The high score for the Senior team was Danny Joes with a 205 out of a possible 300.

The high score for the juniors was Donnie Gage with 125 out of a possible 200.

The high score for the Seniors was Danny Jones with a 264 out of a possible 300 and the Junior high scorer was Clayton Ramm with a 146 out of a possible 200.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I hear so many of the young people now-a-days complaining about not having this thing or that because the others they associate with have these things. They think they have it hard but they have no idea of what being hard up means.

If they had lived through the depression when one's father came home week after week because his boss didn't have the money to pay his help, and the mere fact of getting fifty cents for pleasure was impossible; they might realize what it means to be depressed.

Those people couldn't leave their jobs because there were no other jobs to get and their only hope was to hang on and hope for better times. You may not know this but that was a desperate time.

Gloria-Va.

Answer:

I know all about it. I, too, lived through the depression when bills were not paid and a dollar bill seemed like ten.

But there were many fine people in that era—the grocers and storekeepers who extended credit to people for hundreds of dollars. Most of them got their money eventually but it took a lot of faith in ones fellow men to do this.

Old dresses were made over. Cuffs and collars on shirts were turned, hose were darned and many people ate very simple fare. But they lived through it.

Times have changed and I trust that our youngsters will never have to live through such years.

Louisa.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Try this ginger cake recipe and it will probably remind you of coming home from school to that delicious aroma of hot ginger cake in the kitchen. Please note there's no sugar in the recipe!

Ginger Cake

- 3 c sifted flour
- 1 1/2 t baking soda
- 1/2 t salt
- 1 t cinnamon
- 1 t ginger
- 1/2 t cloves
- 1 c butter or shortening
- 1 c boiling water
- 1/2 c molasses
- 2 eggs, beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking soda, salt and spices and sift together 3 times. Pour boiling water over butter, and stir until blended. Add molasses, then beaten eggs. Add flour mixture and stir only until blended. Pour into greased and floured 9 x 13 inch pan with buttered paper on bottom of pan. Bake at 350 degrees, 40 to 50 minutes or until centers springs back on touch test. Delicious served hot with your favorite cream topping.

Nursing Home News by Myrtle Guinn

Mrs. Finly came to see some of the resident on Thursday. She visited Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. McDaniels, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Guinn and they all enjoyed her.

Mr. and Mrs. Blonde Ray came to see her mother, Mrs. Duke everyday at mealtimes.

Mrs. Hall was surprised Friday night from a visit of her granddaughter, Sarah and her six year old great granddaughter of Portland Oregon. They were on their way home from a visit to California, Arkansas and other southeastern states. They too, were happy to see their grandmother whom Sarah hadn't seen since she was a child.

Mrs. Lavada Lassiter of Whiteface, comes each week to see her mother who is bedfast. Mrs. Newton enjoyed the cakes which she brought with her.

The moisture we had this week was very welcome to the farmers and we are hoping for more soon.

Mrs. Perry is about the same. Mrs. Ora Martin, her daughter and her son-in-law were here Monday to see her.

Mrs. Boone's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Boone of Hereford came Sunday for a visit with his mother.

Mrs. Millie Epperly had a birthday Sunday and went to her son's home and had a birthday dinner. Her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Epperly of Portales, N.M. came to see her and brought several gifts, dresses and a necklace. Odis brought her back before night.

Mrs. Birdsong came Tuesday afternoon and visited Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Guinn. She also visited Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Jackson. They all enjoyed her coming to see them.

Mrs. Gladys Phillips visited her mother, Mrs. Hardin every afternoon. She works in the lunch room at school and comes by on her way home after work.

Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Williams, Mr. Wilman, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Carpenter haven't been feeling as well as usual the past few days.

Marie Ingram had visitors Sunday. They were her cousins, Mrs. Mildred Ingram and husband and another cousin. They went to Marie's house and had a real good time visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lewis came Wednesday morning to see his mother, Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Terrell and Mrs. Gatewood have been visiting several friends and Mrs. Terrell's brother, Mr. Sullivan on Wednesday afternoon.

This little verse which follows means so much to me and this would be a better world if each of us would read it and apply it in our own life. "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference." How much happier we all would be, ourselves and make others around us realize that God has his own plan for us if we only trust Him for His wisdom and guidance in our daily lives.

Mrs. Hite called on friends here Wednesday. Among those were Mrs. McDaniels, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Guinn. We are always glad to see her.

INQUIRY ON C.I.A.

Clark M. Clifford, the former Secretary of Defense who helped to draft the 1947 legislation setting up the Central Intelligence Agency, has urged Congress to form a special committee to investigate the published charges of domestic spying by that agency.

John Tower United States Senate

Our country badly needs an energy policy. We must draft a comprehensive plan that will provide the fuel we need at a price we can afford. There isn't much time in which to get the job done.

President Ford has proposed a comprehensive energy plan, and we in Congress have some hard choices to make. The choices we make will have a profound effect not only on you and me, but on our children, and possibly upon our children's children. It's important that you know what these choices are, and what the effect of each is likely to be.

In this report and in subsequent reports, I want to talk to you about the President's energy plan, and about the possible alternatives to it.

We can't talk about solutions until we understand the magnitude of the problems we face.

Americans consume about 17 million barrels of oil and 63 billion cubic feet of natural gas a day. Oil and natural gas make up about 77 percent of our total energy consumption.

Only a little over three-fifths of the oil we use is produced within the United States. Nearly six million barrels of oil a day must be imported.

By 1985 our demand of "oil equivalents" -- oil plus our natural gas consumption converted into oil equivalents on the basis of heat value -- could be about 35 million barrels per day, around 25 percent higher than today's 28 million oil equivalents.

But the production of oil and gas from presently proved reserves will drop by 1985 from the present 21 million barrels per day of oil equivalents to around nine million barrels per day.

This will leave a gap of about 26 million barrels a day of oil equivalents -- far more than today's total U.S. oil and natural gas production -- to be made up by imports and by oil and gas from reserves still to be found and proved.

We're paying $25 million a year now for the oil we import. That oil bill is depressing our economy, worsening inflation, draining American money out of the country, and damaging our balance of payments.

By 1985, the burden will be intolerable. It ought to be clear to all of us that we must do something now to regain our energy independence. Our economic -- and very possibly our political -- future depends on it. The alternative is to virtually hand over the deed to America to the Arab nations.

There is no easy way to obtain energy independence. We shouldn't kid ourselves about that. The era of cheap energy is over, and nothing is going to bring it back.

We have to take both a short term approach and a long term approach to the attainment of energy independence.

In the short term, we have to take what steps we can to conserve the energy we have. Energy conservation means more than cutting out waste. True conservation picks up where waste leaves off. True conservation means greater reliance on public transportation where possible, strict enforcement of lower speed limits, cooler homes and offices in winter, warmer in summer.

But conservation by itself can't possibly do the job. We'll need more energy in the years to come because our population is increasing. It would be foolish for us to reduce our energy supplies to the point where we worsen unemployment and limit our ability to clean up the environment.

For the long term, we have to increase our supplies of energy. There is no alternative.

President Ford has proposed a comprehensive energy package which he says will make America energy independent by 1985.

I have reservations about some parts of the President's plan, which I shall detail in a later report to you. But the President at least has a plan, which is more than can be said of many of his critics.

For the short term, the President plans to spur energy conservation through the price mechanism by placing a tax of up to $3 a barrel on imported oil. This would be a bitter pill to swallow -- higher prices for gasoline and other petroleum products could cost the typical American family from $275 to $345 additional each year -- but it would go down easier than the only alternative to it -- gasoline rationing. I am so strongly apposed to gasoline rationing, and so firmly convinced that you should know exactly how it will affect you, that I plan to devote my next radio report to you entirely on the subject of gasoline rationing.

THE SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS

As you may know, I have been appointed vice-chairman of a Senate Committee that will investigate the CIA and the FBI.

The Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations will consist of six Democrats and five Republicans. It will be organized in much the same way the Senate Watergate Committee was organized, Senator Frank Church of Idaho will be the chairman.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether the CIA has violated its charter by engaging in illegal domestic surveillance of American citizens.

The CIA is the first peacetime intelligence organization the United States has ever had. Its existence and authority rests upon the National Security Act of 1947.

The Act calls for the CIA to perform certain services as directed by the National Security Council, which is headed by the President and includes the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Treasury.

The lawmakers who set up the CIA wanted to make sure if could never be turned into a secret police agency like the intelligence agencies in Nazi Germany and Communist Russia.

To provide that guarantee, there was written into the law that created the CIA a provision which implicitly restricts its operations to the field of foreign intelligence.

The CIA, the Act provides, "shall have no police, subpoena, law enforcement powers or internal security functions."

There have been charges that the CIA has violated its charter by maintaining files on thousands of prominent Americans, including congressmen and senators.

We will get to the bottom of these charges.

The agency responsible for counterespionage in the United States is the FBI. Unlike the CIA, it has the clear-cut right to conduct surveillance of Americans in America.

But there are severe legal restrictions on the means by which the FBI can obtain information, and there have been charges that the FBI has engaged in illegal wiretapping, breaking and entering, and other unlawful means of obtaining information.

We will get to the bottom of these charges, too. I think some examination of the domestic activities of our intelligence-gathering organizations is perhaps overdue. It is essential that the agencies involved in this kind of work be proscribed from activities that violate their charter or threaten the individual freedom of American people.

The select committee can develop constructive legislation that affords such proscriptions and protections, but it must do so in a way that will preserve the confidentiality of matters that impact on the national security of the United States.

Our international adversaries have sophisticated intelligence-gathering organizations. They have the advantage over us in that they operate in this country in a free society. In most respects in our operations abroad, we operate in closed societies. That makes the gathering of significant intelligence a much more difficult proposition.

We have to provide adequate safeguards for our legitimate operations abroad.

I hope the committee will conduct many -- if not most -- of its meetings in private. We can elicit more information and more significant and more penetrating and in-depth information if we go into executive session.

We have to be concerned not only with protecting our agents and our operations abroad. We must also respect the confidence placed in us by foreign governments.

Care must be exercised not to embarrass foreign governments, but perhaps some neutral governments and some that may not appear to be so friendly that may have supplied us with some cooperation in the matter of intelligence-gathering that is vital to the United States.

If we are not vigilant against leaks, and vital secrets are disclosed, our investigation would do the nation more harm than good. But a full and fair investigation, with careful safeguards against disclosures of national secrets, can serve both the nation and intelligence-gathering agencies well by clarifying the role the CIA and FBI should play in a democratic society.

Texas Association Of Rural Water Corporations To Meet February 21-22

AMARILLO -- Members of Water, Inc., will converge on Amarillo Saturday (Feb. 15) for the organization's Eighth Annual Membership Meeting. Featuring presentations by a Congressman, the Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and two State Senators, the get-together officially opens at 9:00 a.m. at the Caulty Inn (1-40 East) with registration beginning an hour earlier.

Keynoting the annual meeting will be U.S. Representative Jack Hightower, making one of his first appearances in his home district since Congress convened in mid-January.

The president of the regional organization dedicated to seeing that supplemental water is imported into West Texas and

Wilbur D. Mills, Congressman (D-Ark):

"I have never been one to quit in the face of adversity and I will not be a quitter now."

Eastern New Mexico, George W. McCleskey, Lubbock, issued a special invitation to the general public to attend the session. Although this meeting is officially designated as our annual membership meeting, it is in fact one which is of great interest to the general public," he said. "If the productive capacity of this area is to be preserved for the nation and the work, supplemental water is an absolute necessity and our program Saturday is designed as an information update on the status of our quest."

McCleskey noted that Gov. Dolph Briscoe's Water Task Force has just completed a short-range action program for the state and one of the highlights of the Amarillo meeting will be a report by Gen. James Rose, the governor's director of planning coordination and chairman of the Task Force. Others appearing on the program include State House Speaker Bill Clayton, State Senators Max Sherman and Kent Hance and Hary Burleigh, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board. Water, Inc.'s 42 advisory directors will be honored at a breakfast preceding the membership meeting.

A ding-a-ling orders Gas air conditioning now.

A telephone call to Pioneer Natural Gas brings an air conditioning specialist to your home for a free survey and cost estimate at no obligation to you. He'll answer all your questions, and tell you what it will take to install GAS air conditioning in your home. It's the first easy step toward having your dependable GAS air conditioning installed before the first hot, windy days are here.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built to cool quietly and efficiently. There are fewer moving parts, and no compressor to break down or wear out. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. It's this simple principle that gives GAS air conditioning its long life with no loss of cooling capacity and easy maintenance.

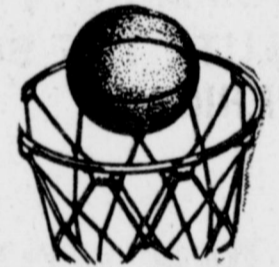

Install GAS air conditioning now. You'll avoid the rush, and be enjoying the quiet, cooling comfort of GAS air conditioning while everyone else is waiting. Give us a ring... a-ling.

Tex Watson talks about Natural Gas for the Future

I'm pleased to report to our customers that Pioneer purchased more gas during 1974 than we used. This new gas will be available for future use, of course.

As you know, Pioneer is having to pay more for new gas than we've ever paid before. The competition for the gas produced in our area has never been so fierce. But the higher prices are resulting in lots of new exploration and production. I know of numerous wells which could not have been drilled at prices prevailing three years ago.

The increase in field prices means that our customers will have to pay more for the energy they use in their homes -- gas and electricity -- but, more important, it means he'll have the gas he needs.

All energy will cost more in the future but gas will remain your best energy buy.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas voters will decide April 22 in a statewide constitutional amendments election whether they want to increase retirement benefits for school teachers and state employees.

Both houses of the legislature have agreed on the proposal to lift the present six per cent ceiling on matching state contributions to the pension funds (replacing it with a 10 per cent limit).

If voters approve, retired teachers will get boosts in their benefits ranging from five to 18 per cent, and pensioned state employees will get an additional 12 per cent.

Cost of the teacher benefits' raise is estimated at about $98 million and the state employees' pension improvements at $21.8 million.

Meanwhile, the House of Representatives also approved for the April 22 ballot a proposed constitutional change to raise legislators' pay from $400 to $600 a month and expense allowances from $12 to $30 a day for length of a lawmaking session.

Senators may balk at the pay raise proposal which has been advanced in more than half a dozen forms over the last 15 years, without convincing voters.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he will actively support the legislative pay raise proposition if the Senate goes along with submitting it on the April 22 ballot.

A quick recapitulation on emergency spending matters already before the legislature (or finally passed) indicates about $310 million in outlays have been committed during the first month of the 64th lawmaking session.

And Governor Briscoe submitted $672,000 more in recommended quickie appropriations late last week.

FLOOD AID VOTED

A legislative resolution will allow the state to spend money already appropriated to the governor as matching funds to aid victims of natural disasters.

Immediately, funds can be used to provide the state's 25 per cent share of aid to residents of flood-hit Anderson, Bell, Cooke, Denton, El Paso, Hopkins, McLennan, Parker, Williamson, Falls and Nacogdoches counties.

The federal government will match state dollars three to one. The federal disaster act of 1974 provides for financial aid up to $5,000 per individual or family.

PAY RAISES SET

One hundred and twenty-five thousand state employees were assured a $93 million pay raise effective February 1.

Governor Briscoe signed the legislation into law to provide the raises over a seven-months' period.

Most state employees in the low-to-medium pay bracket will receive a 13 per cent raise, and most of those in the middle-to-top category will get a nine per cent increase. Additional raises are expected to be voted on a permanent basis after September 1.

LANDS LEASED

Leases of 88,506 acres of state land for oil and gas drilling brought the state $4,199,099.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong termed results of the sale better than expected.

Submerged tract bids totaled $2.26 million.

Highest bidder was Texas Oil and Gas Corp. — $708,400 for 642 acres in Ward County.

The School Land Board leased 4,317 acres of uplands for more than $1 million in bonus payments; 28,761 in Texas bays for $901,664 and 925 acres in Texas rivers, creeks, lakes and bayous for $27,114.

AG OPINIONS

A state university can permit religious-oriented groups to use its meeting room on a non-discretionary, first-come-first-served basis, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Value of a mobile home should be included with value of land it rests on for tax purposes.

Residence of a liquor licensee does not have to be disclosed.

Neither does a school district employee's letter of resignation.

A dry portion of a justice precinct does not lose its status due to redistricting.

A person who owns enough stock to insure election to a bank board of directors is not eligible to serve as a member of the State Banking Board.

A state college has no authority to withhold faculty salary payments on grounds of neglect of duty such as tardiness in submitting grades.

Governmental bodies should reveal the educational background and work experiences of its employees.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court agreed to review a usury case in which a Dallas builder claimed he was charged 1,000 per cent interest on a six-day loan.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a life sentence in a Brewster County murder case due to improper testimony allowed at the trial.

The Supreme Court nullified the adoption of a Gregg County child by the mother, finding no showing that the divorced father had failed to offer support for two years.

A prosecutor's critical comments on a Waco murder case defendant's refusal to testify in his own defense brought a new trial on order of the Court of Criminal

Appeals

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Briscoe named DeWitt Greer to another term on the State Highway Commission.

He also announced re-appointments of Mrs. H. E. Butt of Corpus Christi, Dr. Margaret Cigarroa of Laredo and Edwin Ray Van Zandt of Beaumont to the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Lyn B. Van Dusen and Dean Rindy of Austin were named by the Senate subcommittee on consumer affairs to aid in an investigation of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Governor Briscoe named Kenyon F. Clapp, longtime aide, as his executive assistant, succeeding Charles G. Farnell who resigned to return to Dallas law practice.

SHORT SNORTS

A proposed new shield law

There are encouraging signs that burdensome textile inventories are being worked down, that demand for yarns is picking up, and that a gradual upturn in the demand for raw cotton may be in sight, comments Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

For the first time in many months, cotton yarn spinners in late December, 1974, reported interest in contract purchases, Johnson notes. This marked a break in the hand-to-mouth buying that has dominated the industry of late, as knitters sought contracts for delivery of cotton and polyester-cotton yarns through the first quarter and in some instances through June 1975.

An article in a leading textile trade publication at the time stated, "Yarn buyers are again seeking long-term contracts because their inventories have been depleted and they realize that raw cotton prices cannot go much lower."

"This was the first solid evidence of improved yarn demand we had seen in a long time," Johnson said, "and there have been other encouraging signs since then."

In late January, for example, a high official of Montgomery Ward said that the giant retailer's apparel inventories were in "excellent shape." He suggested that apparel stocks were in better shape than hard lines "because we haven't felt the price pressure to liquidate appliances and hard goods on the same basis."

Johnson also referred to "price pressure." The contract purchases reported by yarn spinners in December were at "greatly reduced prices," and Johnson cautioned that spinners could not continue making large volume sales until prices were high enough to represent a satisfactory margin of profit.

The price element in contract purchases was made as well in Daily News Record of January 27, Johnson noted, under the headline, "Cotton Yarn Production Hits Comeback Trail." The Daily News Record is often referred to as the "Bible" of the textile industry.

The DNR article opened by stating, "The cotton yarn industry . . . is beginning to restore production." It continued with, "The moderate revival of demand which began last month has resumed after the holiday shutdowns. As a result, producers of all cotton and cotton-polyester yarns have built up fairly good backlogs extending through the first quarter."

"Knitters making Fall 1975 plans have in some cases made yarn commitments extending well beyond the first quarter. But this abandonment of the spot buying policy in favor of intermediate-term contracts has been exacted at what spinners describe as profitless prices."

Depressed cotton exports and many other factors have affected and continue to affect cotton prices, Johnson concluded, "but these favorable developments on the domestic scene are noteworthy as a step toward a turnaround in the raw fiber market, hopefully no later than the second quarter of this year."

Farmers, Ranchers Advised Of Deductions

COLLEGE STATION - With the March 3 income tax deadline for farmers and ranchers rapidly approaching, particular attention should be given to various deductible expenses.

"Each year agricultural producers pay extra income taxes because they fail to deduct certain legitimate business expenses," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Every dollar of business expense not deducted will result in higher income tax bill."

The Texas A&M University System specialist lists a number of commonly overlooked expense items:

1. Allowance for space in the home used as an office.
2. Items in the home used for business—calculator, typewriter, paper and recordbooks, to name a few.
3. Postage.
4. Meals for hired labor.
5. Bank charges and interest on charge accounts.
6. Tax preparation fees.
7. Bookkeeping fees.
8. Cost of purchased livestock that was lost, stolen, or died during the year.
9. Auto and truck expenses, such as licenses and insurance, according to the portion used for business.
10. Costs of utilities, telephone service and other service charges that pertain to the farming and ranching business.
11. Subscriptions to farm and ranch and related magazines.
12. Farm organization dues.
13. Expenses incurred on business trips, and that portion of vacation travel that related to business.

"The key to preparing an income tax return that most correctly reflects your farming or ranching operation is to have a good record-keeping system," emphasizes Hayenga. "Such records should indicate all items purchased for business. These items should be paid by check whenever possible to have a record of payment."

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Baked Chicken Casserole

Boil 3 to 3½ pound chicken until tender. Remove meat from bones and cut moderately fine. Add the following:

- 1 c chicken broth
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 c diced celery
- ½ c chopped pecans (or your favorite nut) pinch pepper
- 1 T lemon juice
- ¾ c salad dressing
- 3 hard-boiled eggs, chopped
- 1 small jar red pimento (optional) pinch of salt

Mix all ingredients together and pour into a deep casserole. Add 2 cups crushed potato chips on top. Bake at 450 degrees for 20 minutes. Serves 8 to 10. This can be made early in day, adding potato chips just before baking. An excellent casserole to prepare for guests or party.

Proyecto De Ayuda Mutua Llevado Acabo

Viviendas Cuauhtemoc, Inc. ha recibido una noticia que sus planes de casas, estimados de costos y proyecciones del programa de ayuda propia se han revisado favorablemente por la oficina de Farmers Home Administration. La oficina de FHA aqui en Muleshoe es autorizada para aceptar aplicaciones de prestamos de familias que desean hacerse dueños de casas nuevos pro medio de un proyecto de ayuda propia. Familias interesadas deben hacer primero un aplicacion a Viviendas Cuauhtemoc, Inc., que es un corporacion sin ganancia, Luego, la agencia preparara las formas necesarias, los planes de casas, los estimados de costos y los especificaciones de casas. Esta informacion sera sometida a FHA, que hara un decision final sobre cada prestamo. Se puede comenzar la construccion cuando un grupo de familias han recibido aprobaciones sobre sus prestamos. El grupo tabajara bajo el direccion de un supervisor educado en construccion, empleado por las agencia. Aunque un porcion minimo del trabajo se hara por subcontratistas, las familias mismas haran la mayor parte del trabajo durante su tiempo libre. De este modo, es posible reducir el costo de la casa.

ON MOBILE HOMES
WASHINGTON--The Federal Trade Commission has moved to eliminate what it called unfair and deceptive warranty practices in the mobile home industry by proposing a new rule on all future mobile home warranties.

Bula News
By Mrs. John Blackman

Our community has received over an inch of moisture in the past week, with the previous moisture we have had, it looks like the farmer might have plenty of moisture to plant on.

Bula girls have won district, at this time they do not know who, where, and when they will play for bi-district.

To Pep and also the boys did, but the girls already had district won.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair visited Sunday with their daughter and family at Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Childress, sons, Todd and Tanner. Todd, the four year old grandson had broken his arm, and grandparents went to check on him.

Mrs. Lula Harlan, is now a resident of the Knights Rest Home in Littlefield. She has lived in the Amherst Manor for several months, but moved Friday to Knights Home. She would enjoy her friends coming by for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Adams were in Lubbock, Monday for check-ups with their eye doctor, Dr. Snider. They also visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Genita Harris.

The weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Latham. Dennis McCain was a dinner guest Sunday with Chris, at the home of his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. F.L. Simmons enjoyed having as their guest Thursday night a friend, Robert Mullins, from San Diego, Calif. Mullins and their late son, Darmon Simmons were war buddies, during World War II. They were on the S.S. Raleigh together, then they were stationed on several islands, with their families. Then both were stationed in the state of Washington for some time after returning to the states. Both retired from the service, and bought homes in San Diego.

WMU met Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., with six in attendance. Mrs. Battles had charge of the lesson Lay volunteers for Home Missions. Mrs. Richardson, Prayer chairman, read the call to prayer and Mrs. Locker gave the prayer for the missionaries and opening prayer. All present participated in the lesson discussion. Attending were Mrs. E.O. Battles, Miss Vina Tugman, Mrs. Rowena Richardson, Mrs. Fred Locker, Mrs. C.A. Williams, and Mrs. P.R. Pierce.

Sherril Claunch and Lisa Risinger, are confined to the Medical Arts Hospital. Both received cuts and bruises about the face, from being involved in a two car accident Saturday night, about three miles east of Bula. A car with one occupant, had stalled on the highway, due to the dense fog, the girls were unable to see the vehicle until they were too close to avoid hitting it. Others coming along afterwards, narrowly escaped having the same accident. A Demel girl from Pep, came along soon afterwards and also has cuts and bruises about the face from having the same accident. Real sorry about this as all could have been seriously hurt, and maybe several others.

Pat Casey, from Lubbock, preached his first sermon, Sunday morning for the Church of Christ, after being hired by the Church as their minister. He and his wife Sandy, were dinner guests of the John Blackman's. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Testerman of Littlefield were visitors and were dinner guests of the Blackman's, also.

Lisa Risinger and Sherril Claunch were in route home Saturday night from Littlefield and a car was on the highway with out lights and they ran into it near Fred Lockers, Vanessa Demel came a long and ran into their car. Lisa and Sherril were both patients in the Medical Arts Hospital till Wednesday.

The Baptist women met 9:30 Tuesday morning. The meeting opened with the song "Need Thee Every Hour" led by Mrs. Chester Petree with Mrs. L.E. Nichols at the piano. A prayer was given by Mrs. J.D. Bayless. Mrs. Harold Layton was in charge of the program, taken from the Royal Service. Those taking part in the program were Mrs. Dale Nichols, Mrs. E.N. McCall and Mrs. L. E. Nichols. Mrs. Petree gave the call to prayer. Mrs. Jocy Vanlandingham gave the benediction. Present were Mrs. Charlie Shaw, Mrs. Dale Nichols, Mrs. E.N. McCall, Mrs. Alma Altman, Mrs. L. E. Nichols, Mrs. J.D. Bayless, Mrs. Jocy Vanlandingham, Mrs. Chester Petree, and Mrs. Harold Layton.

Congratulations to the Bula High School girls basketball team, on winning district, due to part of the girls unable to play they lost their game Tuesday night to Pep.

The J.D. Bayless's received word Friday afternoon that her brother-in-law, Rev. Ray Cunningham of Vincent underwent surgery at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, Friday morning.

Jimmie Gilliam of Hereford underwent surgery at Hereford, Sunday a week ago and was transferred to Amarillo, Wednesday and had emergency surgery, Thursday. Mrs. Gilliam and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Butler drove to Amarillo Friday to be with him.

Lolan Commons of West Camp and Dwaine Key and Kenneth and Kathy of Oklahoma Lane visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Key, recently.

Mrs. Clara Williams and Dome Moral of Morton and Mrs. Quinton Nichols went Monday to Parkway Manor and West Wind Rest Homes in Lubbock and gave the senior Citizens a facial, and gave all of them that had facials a set of Mary Key cosmetics. Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Williams went to the Manor's Rest Home Friday and they gave the employees facials.

Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Peterson visited their daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Abney at Chaning Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Bayless were in Muleshoe on business Saturday and were dinner guests in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Coffman.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cox Sunday was her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Petree and daughter, Beckie, of Clovis, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Newton left Saturday morning and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Layton left Sunday morning for Dallas. Also Mr. and Mrs. Pete Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin McBee are attending the co-op ginners Convention in Dallas till Wednesday.

E.C. Gilliam and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gilliam drove to Amarillo, Thursday and spent the night to be with his son, Jimmy. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Gilliam of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gilliam of Anton.

Visiting Mrs. G.R. Newman, Sunday afternoon was her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Joe Newman of Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gilliam and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Gilbert Scottie and Janet of Hub visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Gilliam, Sunday.

The farmers really appreciated the 1 and 5 inches of rain that fell last Thursday through Tuesday.

W.L. Key of Amherst spent Thursday night with his son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Key.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Huff and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huff of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Huff, Jr., Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Key also visited with them.

The Bula Junior High basketball teams played in the Whitarral tournament Saturday. The boys won second place and the girls won consolation.

Gary Welch returned home Saturday from the Methodist Hospital, where he had surgery on his hand.

Mrs. Bill Key and Mrs. Bonnie Long attended the speech class play at the Three Way School Friday night.
