WHAT SILAGE WILL DO FOR WEST TEXAS.

The Kansas Agricultural College completed in May a feeding test with beef cattle that is of great value to every feeder in that state. It is of even greater importance to the stockmen of Western Texas. It showed that in feeding beef animals, silage from kafir made 28 per cent more profit and silage from sorghum made 8 per cent more profit than silage from corn. Cane is a sure crop in Western Texas and in average years produces a high yield. West Texas can produce as many tons per acre of silage from sorghum on cheap land as is being secured from corn in the northern Mississippi Valley on high priced land. The Kansas demonstration shows that now that it is known how to make good silage from cane, West Texas may become as great a fattening district as it is a stock raising section.

The Kansas tests were made with Hereford calves and showed that a ton of corn silage, a ton of kafir silage and a ton of cane silage had equal feeding values. The profits from kafir and cane silage were greater than those from corn silage on account of higher yields and lower cost of production. Cottonseed meal was fed with each kind of silage and this is largely produced in Texas. Corn silage usually has produced better gains than either kafir or sorghum silage. The reason was found in this test. The kafir and sorghum used to make silage for this feeding test were cut when the seeds were practically matured, but while the stalks were green and filled with sap. The kafir and cane were cut three weeks later than the corn.

The West Texas stockmen should choose a variety of sorghum that will yield the greatest tonnage and should plant and cultivate it to secure the most vigorous growth and heaviest yield. The Red Sumac is the variety that has given the highest yields in the Panhandle. The crop should be cut and put in the silo as soon as the seeds are hard. Large areas can be handled cheaply and well by planting with a two-row lister and cultivate with two-row cultivators. Mile-long rows are practicable on every ranch and help reduce the cost.

Cane silage will increase the profits from raising cattle in West Texas. Silage stored in good silos will keep for years and is always in condition to feed.

The cattle men of West Texas have spent more money in improving the blood in their herds than the stockmen of any other grazing district. In almost any herd in West Texas the calves at weaning time are equal in form, size and weight to the pure bred beef cattle of the corn belt. From weaning time on they generally show a steady deterioration in quality as long as they are kept on their home ranches. The feed is dry in winter and often deficient in quality. The yearling in the spring weighs less than he did the fall before and it takes him until the first of July to get back to his weight he had when he was weaned. Sometimes a severe drought cuts off the feed in summer and the cattle become so stunted that they never fully recover.

The silo filled with cane will stop all these losses. Summer or winter, whenever feed gets short, silage can always be ready and with it there never need be a day in the life of a steer in Texas when he does not gain in weight. The Texas stockman can open his silos as soon as pasture gets short, feed just enough silage to keep the stock gaining and as soon as good pastures come again seal up the silage that is left and hold it for another time of need. In years of heavy rainfall silage can be stored for the years of drought. It is just as good six years after it is made as in the first season.

PERFECTS MACHINE FOR THRESHING COTTON BOLLS

Cane silage will enable the West Texas stockman to fatten his cattle if he wants to. Milo is a good grain crop in that part of the state and Texas is the largest producer of cottonseed meal. Milo ground in the head, mixed with cottonseed meal and the mixture sprinkled on cane silage will put three to five pounds of gain a day on a well bred Texas steer. If the Texas stockmen will make use of the information developed in the silage demonstration at the Kansas Agricultural College, they can at least double their annual output of beef. This means much for the nation's food supply when the vast area of Texas is considered.

Death of Grandpa Jarnigan.

Well Mr. Editor I am just off a trip from Comanche county. I went to take Mr. and Mrs. McCharen and Hudson Jarnigan to visit Mrs. McCharen's father, who was very low with heart trouble. He died on the 17th of October at 11:10.

Grandpa Jarnigan was in his 83rd year. He was laid to rest on the 18th in the Oakland cemetery about six miles South of Gorman. He was a good man and loved by all who knew him. Mr. Jarnigan died at the home of his son, Watt Jarnigan. His children did all that could be done for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarnigan were the parents of nine children, six living and three dead. Only three of them could be present when their father passed away. These were two daughters and a son. Mrs. Ed McCharen of Eliasville and Mr. Watt Jarnigan of Gorman, Texas and Mrs. Ollie May Love, formerly of Dickens but now of Gorman.

Funeral services were held at the grave, conducted by Brother Rudd of Gorman.

Mrs. Jarnigan is left to the care of her children, and from my acquaintance with them I am sure she will be well cared for.

COTTON THRESHER LATEST INVENTION

A. J. Bryan Perfects Machine to Thrash Boll Cotton, Doing Away With the Laborious Picking.

SAVES TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS A BALE

Cleans Cotton and Breaks Up the Burrs, Allowing Gin Stands to Get All the Cotton. Farmers Are Loud in Praise of Machine.

It is not often that a man of moderate means can be heralded to the world as a public benefactor, but such is the case with Mr. A. J. Bryan, a resident of this county, living just a few miles east of Graham.

Mr. Bryan's financial condition is like that of most of the plain people of this section—comfortable, and he could not find a great school or endow one with a sum sufficient to keep it up to date and free from monetary want, but he has given to the farmers of the world, and this means far greater than mere dollars.

Mr. Bryan's gift to the world is a thrashing attachment for gins that will do away with cotton picking entirely. It will revolutionize the whole cotton industry by doing away with that laborious system of picking cotton and allow it to be pulled in the burrs.

For years and years men have been trying to perfect a machine that would pick cotton. If their energies had been directed in the right direction—that of doing away with cotton picking entirely—they would have been on the road to greater accomplishment.

This has been left for Mr. Bryan to accomplish and how well he has succeeded was demonstrated at the Graham Gin Co. gin last Friday. The yard was full of wagons loaded with boll cotton, and Mr. Bryan made the announcement that he had his thrasher ready to attach to the gin, stating that with it he could get a better turnout than they had heretofore been giving, but said it would take some time to make the necessary changes.

Every farmer in the yard insisted on the new machine being installed, as they were anxious to know what difference it would make in their bales.

Just as quickly as it could be done the thrasher was installed and put to work and the glad smile that o'erspread Mr. Bryan's face when the first burrs came from the gin stands was evidence that his new invention worked.

The great saving to the farmer was clearly shown in the bales that were turned out after the installation of the thrasher. Heretofore a wagon containing two thousand pounds of cotton in the burrs turned out a bale of lint weighing from 350 to 410 pounds, according to the toughness of the burrs. On Saturday a test was made with a load of burr cotton brought in by Mr. T. D. Findley of the Dakin community. There were 1913 pounds of this burr cotton which turned out a bale of lint weighing 620 pounds. Taking these figures as a basis it is shown that the thrasher actually made for Mr. Findley, on this one bale, the tidy sum of $25.00. Not only does the thrasher get more cotton out of the burrs, but it is said to raise the grade of the cotton, thereby assisting the farmer in getting a better price for his product.

If the invention of Mr. Bryan only succeeded in saving ten, or even five dollars worth of cotton in each bale, think of the many millions this would amount to on the whole crop produced by the South.

In addition to the vast saving of cotton at the gin this means a saving of at least half the labor in picking, as farmers tell us that more than twice as much cotton can be pulled as can be picked, and there is not a farmer in the South that would not be glad to do away with all the unnecessary labor in getting his cotton crop to market.

With this thrasher attachment every particle of cotton is removed from the burrs and there will be no further need for the farmers, with their wives and children to sweat over getting the cotton out of the field and troubling all the time to see that each boll is picked free from the trash, as trash has no terrors for Mr. Bryan's thrasher. It cleans it out of the cotton just as easily as the saw teeth pull the lint from the seed.

The cost of the machine is small and every ginner in the country can afford one. No extra lot of parts are necessary to attach it to any gin, as it is installed at the head of the suction pipe that goes to the wagon for unloading. It has only one pulley that must be belted, thereby making the cost of installation a very small matter.

The machine Mr. Bryan set up at the Graham Gin was made by him and while he was certain that it would do the work it was intended to do it was not given a trial except as before stated in this article.

Mr. Bryan came to this county about twenty-three years ago. He is a practical ginner, and for several years has been studying out the plans for his thrasher, but only last fall began to perfect the idea. Last year he was part owner with I. B. Padgett and G. T. Cherryhomes in the Graham gin, but sold his interest to Mr. G. D. Hinson. He continued however to look after the gin and bought the new machinery with which the gin is equipped.

Mr. Bryan is proud of his invention, more from the fact that he succeeded in doing what he started out to do than the immediate financial gain that will come to him. The people of Graham and Young county are just as proud of the new invention as is Mr. Bryan. They are proud that Young county can offer to the world the services of a poor man who will cause others to become rich, who will save the farmers of the South millions of dollars that they now lose by reason of the high cost of harvesting their cotton. This will in a few years, at most, be a thing of the past. Cotton can now truly be gathered, and with the assurance that it will be just as clean when it is ginned as if it were carefully picked.

Mr. Bryan is receiving the congratulations of his many friends who have seen the thrasher in operation and it is the unanimous opinion that he has succeeded in making the thing that the South has long been wanting and needing.

The Reporter extends its congratulations to Mr. Bryan. He may not be heralded throughout the world as a man who has given millions to this cause or that one, but we can say that many a farmer and his family will hold him as their greatest friend by reason of his having given them something to lighten their burdens and assist them in getting all the fleecy staple that grows in the burr that it is hard to pick it from.

Yancey Sees a Show and Young County Roads.

Well, Mr. Editor I kinder want to give you a piece of my mind. I went down to Ft. Worth last Sunday to the great Ringling Bros. Show and returned Wednesday. I saw the wonders of earth. I went in my Ford; but the greatest wonder of earth is why the high minded people of Young county will allow the roads of our county to get in the mess they are. Why a stranger traveling across Texas can easily tell when he strikes Young county. From Bryson to Eliasville they are a holy sight.

On the 5th and 6th of November Woodrow Wilson and Gov. Colquitt and the whole United States are going to take up the pick and shovel and work the roads. I feel, Mr. Editor, that everything that can move a cloud as big as your fist ought to get out and work on the roads. As for my part I am going to turn the Order of the Sons of Rest loose from El Paso to Texarkana on those two days, from 4 years old to 85, everybody and their dogs.

My wife says if the ladies will all turn out she will go and do all she can. She says she can dump a scraper as good as anybody. Some will say, "oh he has got an auto, that's what is the matter with him." Now, Mr. Editor, if I was going to drag off a dead horse I would much rather drag him over a good road.

Let everybody show their love for old Young county and get out and do something on those two days.

C. D. Yancey.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS BUY GRAHAM MILL

New Concern to Be a Stock Company, Incorporated for $40,000.

J. S. CRISWELL, MANAGER

S. R. Crawford, R. E. Mabry, R. E. Lynch and Others Are Recent Purchasers of Property.

One of the largest deals made in Graham for some time was consummated last Wednesday, when a party of local capitalists bought the Graham Mill & Elevator Co. property from D. G. Vick. The new concern, like the old one, is an incorporated stock company, with a capital stock of $40,000.00.

The officers of the corporation are S. R. Crawford, President; R. E. Lynch, Secretary-Treasurer and J. S. Criswell, General Manager. These with Messrs. R. E. Mabry and P. K. Deats will constitute the Board of Directors.

In their hands the Graham Mill, whose products are well and favorably known throughout the state, will take on new life and its patronage will no doubt increase greatly.

The purchasers of this property, we believe, have done well by retaining Mr. Criswell as the manager. He has had charge of the property for the past several years and is one of the most competent millers in the state, in addition to being a manager who knows how to get results.

A new power plant to cost $5,000.00 has been ordered and with its installation this will be one of the finest milling plants in West Texas.

The Mill makes a specialty of "Supreme" and "Our Special" flour, besides meal and feed products. One firm in the central part of the state uses nothing but their flour in the manufacture of its food products, buying it several ears at a time.

The Graham Mill has the support of all the wheat growers in this section because of its absolute fairness to the growers and has attracted attention of wheat growers from many miles in the adjoining counties.

Mr. D. G. Vick, former owner, when seen by a representative of this paper, said: "My mercantile interests are such that I did not have time to look after the Mill property and knowing the future that was possible for it in more active hands decided to sell. I want to express my appreciation of the loyal support given me by the wheat growers of this section and say that no better flour can be had anywhere than "Supreme." It is just what its name implies.

"I feel proud of the record I have made with this property, and bespeak for my successors the same liberal patronage given me. In my opinion the Graham Mill has a great future ahead of it." No changes will be made in the present force of operators.

Don't you enjoy trading with the merchant who is public spirited and is always ready to help any movement that is for the good of the town? That's one reason some merchants make a success and others fail. Not the only reason, but one main reason.—Lakewood (N. M.) Progress.

Community Co-Operation

COPYRIGHTED FARM AND RANCH-HOLLAND'S MAGAZINE

Already the great manufacturing industries of the country are concentrated in a few of our large cities. This has meant congestion of population, slums, tenements, and sweat shops. At this very time we have statesmen, educators and philanthropists who are leading the movement to stop the flow of population to the cities and to improve the conditions of those who are there now. On the other hand there are great combinations of capital that are striving to concentrate the merchandising of the country into a few of the larger cities. Millions were already thus invested before the people realized the gravity of this new peril. When you destroy the merchant in the smaller towns and cities of our country you destroy that community life and community spirit which has done more than any one thing to make America great.

Here in the Southwest farming is the corner stone of our prosperity. We produce the cotton, the corn, the wheat, the cattle, the wool, the fruits and the vegetables that help to feed and clothe the world. Manufacturing is now small, and will continue to be for years to come in comparison with what we receive for our agricultural products. But the merchant is a very important factor in our continued growth and prosperity. He is the connecting link between the producer and the outside world. In many cases he is both buyer and seller, purchasing the farmer's products as well as selling him manufactured articles. At all times he is a consumer of those things which the farmer has to sell. The merchant helps to build the churches and schools, to install electric light plants, telephone exchanges and sewerage systems. He contributes heavily to our tax funds and donates liberally to every worthy enterprise. He acts as a buffer between his customer and the accidents and misfortunes of life.

FETERITA A PAYING CROP.

Feterita is a grain sorghum from British Egyptian Sudan, in the region of Khartum. It is a variety of durra differing from the white durra often called Jerusalem corn, in having erect heads, and black gums or hulls instead of greenish white. The hulls are nearly smooth instead of very hairy, and the seeds are slightly flattened instead of being much flattened as in the case of pure white durra. Two or three lots of this durra have been obtained from the region named. One of these have been bred by the United States department of Agriculture as a grain producing variety, and is called Sudan durra. Another almost identical one has been selected by the office of forage crop investigations as a forage variety, and has been distributed under the name of Feterita.

We have obtained and distributed seed of this crop to selected demonstration farmers of Oklahoma and have recommended it as a desirable crop. Our main reason for propagating it as a grain variety was because it is somewhat earlier than the common varieties of black bulled kafir and because the heads are entirely erect and therefore more satisfactory to harvest with a grain header than is the dwarf milo or standard milo in which part of the heads are pendant or goosenecked. The grain of this durra or feterita is much softer than the milo or kafir. It is, however, much more drought resistant.

This department has decided to recommend feterita in preference to either dwarf milo or blackhulled kafir where these can be grown. It is earlier than the common variety of blackhulled kafir which has been heretofore grown in Oklahoma and neighboring states.

When it was first introduced into the state many irresponsible stories were circulated concerning the plant, that have left the impression on the minds of many people that feterita is like some other much heralded crops of no practical value.

The results obtained on the state demonstration farms and at the various secondary agricultural schools and experiment stations, and by others who have given it a thorough trial, all tend to prove that it is not only of practical value, but has many points of superiority over both of the more familiar grain sorghums—milo and kafir. We have received news from every section of Oklahoma that feterita has withstood the drought of the past thirty days and in practically every instance has matured where kafir and milo are complete failures. Feterita is one crop that will beat the hot winds and drought by maturing thirty days earlier than milo.

The feeding values of feterita as a grain and forage is equal in every way to kafir, and we believe it to be better on account of the grain being larger and much softer than kafir. It can be fed to good advantage without being ground, which is necessary to obtain best results with kafir.

This department has prepared a bulletin entitled "The value of Feterita as a Drought Resistant Grain Sorghum," which will furnish all information, including planting, harvesting and its value as silage. It will be mailed free on request.—D. S. Woodson, Supt. Farm Demonstration work in Oklahoma.

READ THE RECORD.

In this day of progress the man who would succeed must be informed about the world's doings. The local paper gives him local information which is needed, but it can't cover the whole field. Hence the man who would keep step with the march of the times will take a general news paper also.

The Ft. Worth Semi-Weekly Record has taken front rank among the great publications of the South and West. It is specially prepared for the reader who has not the time or the opportunity to read a daily paper.

First of all, it is a newspaper. The Record believes that the people of the village are as interested in current events as the people of the city.

In the next place, it carries features suitable for all members of the family—women and children as well as men.

Last, but by no means least, the Record's editorial policy comprehends the economic welfare of the farmer and stock raiser. The Record is an acknowledged leader in the discussion of public questions in their relation to agricultural production.

In subscribing through this office you can get the Ft. Worth Semi-Weekly Record together with The Reporter, both papers one year for only $1.75. Accept this remarkable offer today.

Respectfully,
 W. T. Finch,
 John Pohlman,
 John E. Morrison,
 Committee.

LES HIBOUX
 Friday Mrs. W. D. Norman, president of the card club called a meeting at her home. After the business was transacted an hour was spent playing bridge. A pretty little prize, a sweet grass bridge pad, was given to Mrs. E. C. Stovall, a guest, for top score.
 Hot coffee with whipped cream and pimento sandwiches were served at the conclusion of the games.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stovall and son Norman are on a visit to Dallas, and attending the Fair.

The News from our County Correspondents

Mount Pleasant.

Say boys didn't that long list of good roads enthusiasts made up of Graham citizens, and so tastefully printed in The Reporter, look good? Oh some will say "those fellows can't work, there are some on that list who could not do a day's work to save their lives." So said the writer the other day in the presence of R. G. Graham, and received the following unanswerable reply:

"Well, whatever they do, be it much or little, will be absolutely without cost to you fellows." So let's all co-operate with these fellows to the end that we may have better roads. Of course most of the hands have worked their full time. So have these Graham people paid their street tax, too. And then some of us have passed the road working age, but on this occasion age doesn't exempt us. We are an army of road making volunteers. Will you enlist or are you going with the bush-whackers? I believe you will come.

What do you all think of the proposition to establish a Young county hospital along the lines as set forth in The Reporter recently? Why would it not be better to have such an institution here among us, where we could have our loved ones who are so unfortunate as to have to be sent to a hospital, near us, so we can look after them? Let's hear from the Correspondents and others on the subject.

If anyone should contend that a hospital at Graham would not be a paying institution or even self-supporting I would answer, neither does the free schools pay anything. Not a cent in dollars and cents do they pay, but who will deny that they are a blessing to humanity and well worth the cost of maintenance? And the churches: what revenue in dollars and cents do we derive from them?—they are a continual expense, and it takes a vast amount of money to keep them up, yet who would entertain the idea for one moment of dispensing with them? I imagine a country where no school bell rings its welcome to the little ones as they come flocking to the seats of free learning; where no church bell tolls the sacred hour when all may go and hear the gospel, "without money and without price." Suppose one should pass through a country whose schools and churches were closed with a board nailed across the doors bearing these words: "Closed because not self-supporting." Who wants to live in such a country? Not even the non-church goers would stay in such a country, would they?

We are so glad, Thelma, that your paper has a crank. It has needed something to turn it around for a long time, but I doubt if you are strong enough. Now don't get mad, because you know you said you was "cranky." I would not call you that myself, because I think you are a good writer.

Referring to the good roads subject, will state further that one of the members of the good roads committee, Mr. Finch, tells me that on the morning of the 5th day of November, we, the hands of this section of road running through Mt. Pleasant, are expected to meet a bunch of 12 or 15 hands from Graham at the five mile post and work with them under the supervision of our overseer, Hollis Moore, for two days.

Listen Dago—just a little bit nearer, I fear the editor will hear and he is already getting cold. Didn't you notice how anxious he was about your dog freezing? But Western Girl is to blame for it all. I was in hopes the editor wouldn't think about that old overcoat till next June. It is the same coat he wore on the famous expedition to the north pole with Dr. Cook, I guess, as he says it is "ten years old." Anyway, the mere mention of it causes a chill to pass over him and he imagines everything is covered with frost. Please be careful, Western Girl. We can't afford to lose our editor—just now.

Be careful, Brunette, I fear you and the Ft. Worth Record will spoil Buster and cause him to think we are all pleased with the way he is playing "hooky" on us; I am sure the Record would not be satisfied with a monthly report from one of its news gatherers who was expected to report weekly, neither would Brunette be satisfied with a report from The Reporter's Correspondents once a month. By all means "give honor where honor is due" and render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, but at the same time we should not "spare the rod and spoil the child." Buster "is" a good writer but he seems to be forgetful.

Whereas, New York had a Presbyterian governor, but he failed to jump when boss Murphy popped his whip, and whereas New York now has a Roman Catholic governor, therefore be it resolved: that Protestants may wake up about the time Rome walks off with us.

Plow Boy.

Proffitt

Mr. Bridges of Memphis is here on business.

We regret to learn that Grandma Wells has been very sick. She is some better at this writing.

The singing Sunday eve at Mr. Bellamy's was well attended. There was a large crowd at the candy breaking at Mr. W. M. Gibbs' Saturday night.

Miss Mamie Sheridan spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Ola Strather.

Messrs. Charlie Norton and Adam Cobb of Newcastle attended church here Sunday.

Mrs. Della Lisle was in this community this week taking up orders.

Mr. Sam Gibbs and family who have been visiting his parents, returned home Monday, accompanied by Willie Willhoit.

Mr. Charlie Woodbridge and wife spent Friday with his parents.

Miss Fay Tankersley of Graham is visiting her aunt this week.

Miss Grace Strather spent Sunday with Miss Winnie Reid. Snowflake.

South Bend.

Bro. Chunn filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Messrs. Leslie Scott, Leroy Britton and Miss Bessie Scott left Saturday morning for Dallas to attend the Fair, returning home Monday night. They were accompanied home by Miss Ella Moore of Lubbock, who will spend several days visiting the Scott family.

The young folks enjoyed a party at Mr. P. G. Cunningham's Saturday night.

Misses Fannie Goode and Annie Holcomb took dinner with Misses Bettie Dawson and Sadie Scott Sunday.

The public school at this place will begin Nov. 3rd, with Miss Ethel Gibson of Springtown as teacher. We expect to have a good school this term.

Bro. Black will preach here on next Sunday instead of the second Sunday in November.

Honeysuckle.

Loans renewed. E. C. Stovall.

Oakland.

Everyone went to bed fanning Saturday night but got up just about frozen Sunday morning. We are having real winter now—a-days. When it is winter I am wanting summer and in summer I want winter. Pretty hard to please us all, isn't it?

Guess you all have heard of the big killing by now. It is old Jack Frost. If you haven't you will pretty soon, especially those who get to the cotton patch very early.

Mr. Hignight has moved and the family that is to occupy the place next year has moved in.

Miss Ethel Baty was in Graham last week with her sister, Mrs. Clayton, of Bryson.

Bud Goldston and wife have been at Bud's father's as Bud is building him a new house over there.

Silver Bell we are glad Aunt Judith Winter is able to be away from home once more.

Mr. Bird Padgett and wife were trading in Graham Saturday.

Miss Carmack of Graham will begin her school at Oakland next Monday.

Plow Boy you will have to hurry if you order your teacher from Sears, Roebuck & Co. or it will be so cold she, or he, will be frozen by the time they get here and it will take him too long to thaw out. Just go to the Dallas Fair and bring one back with you for you can find them on every corner and I'm sure that it wouldn't be hard for you to capture one.

Miss Dora Robertson returned home Saturday from Graham, where she has been spending the week with Mrs. I. B. Padgett.

There was no Sunday school at Oakland Sunday on account of it being so cold and rainy.

Mr. Whitfield and Jeff came home Sunday morning from the place where they had been preparing their land for sowing grain the past week.

Dago you will not have to educate your dog as he has got to where he can get all the news out of The Reporter and then make chewing gum out of it besides. I would send Tige off with a circus if he was mine and let the people see what a smart dog Henry Chapel has.

Well I will have to ring off and build my fire up or I will be almost numb in a short time.

A Friend.

Dakin.

My! how do you all like these cool mornings? They are awful for cotton pickers. I picked my last, Saturday and am not a bit sorry, either.

Edgar Craig called on Curtice Findley Sunday afternoon.

Miss Hattie Belle Reed and brother, Thomas called on Miss Jaunita Bryan Saturday night.

Leslie Reed left Saturday morning for the East, where he will be for some time.

Misses Lilla Belle Findley and Mamie Keplinger and brother, Otis, visited Miss Tressie Snodgrass Sunday afternoon.

Say, Jack o' Diamonds, you people up there wouldn't care if "Zack" killed another cow would you?

Miss Lilla Belle Findley drove to Bryson Tuesday and was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. S. H. Chambers, who stayed until Friday morning.

Misses Fay and Flo Whitfield went to the Dallas Fair Tuesday and returned Wednesday night.

Mr. Sam Keplinger and son, Willie, returned home Saturday night from the river, where they have been baling hay.

Mrs. A. J. Bryan was shopping in Graham Thursday.

Well, as I have to go to school tomorrow I must quit and get to studying books. Maybe I can send in a better letter next time.

Blondie.

Gooseneck.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Suttle are visiting relatives at Olney.

Mrs. Lucy Parsons made her usual trip to Bunker Thursday and while there visited with Mrs. Wiley.

Little Miss Ruth Brown of Bunker visited her papa last Thursday.

Lester Suttle came in from Waco Friday night; he says that "Gooseneck" is good enough for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar James made a trip to Ming Bend Saturday.

Mrs. Caudill and daughter spent several days with Mrs. Oscar James last week.

Deacon Brown has been pulling cotton bolls for Uncle George Rose.

Mack Rose spent Wednesday night with Mr. Brown.

Uncle Lawson Conder has bought a fine horse.

Uncle George Day measured the road to Bunker Thursday.

Verbie Suttle is spending the week with Ella Smith.

Lester and Elma Suttle called on the Parson boys Sunday.

Bob McLaren and Prof. Creager were swapping yarns with Joe Parsons Sunday afternoon.

Deacon Brown spent Saturday night with the bachelors.

The Sunday school crowd was small on account of the bad weather.

Our school will start Nov. 3rd with Prof. Creager as teacher.

Bob McLaren says that he is growing and that he can fill pants large enough for two men.

We understand that Luther Berry has rented a farm. Look out girls.

George Berry has gone to Ft. Worth to go to school.

As the norther gets no better I will draw closer to the fire.

Gander.

Cedar Creek.

I suppose the people in this part of the world have seen a well-fought battle ended, a victory nobly earned. Last week the large green cotton worms made a raid on our native boll weevils, and the boll weevils were forced to raise the white flag. However, Captain Worm raised a six-shooter while General Boll Weevil raised a bottle and they had a time. Yes, they had a time.

Jack Frost made his appearance Sunday night and has caused the sweet potato and melon vines to lay aside their coats of green.

Dr. Evans of Caddo was here Tuesday to attend Mrs. M. L. Rickles, who is very sick.

J. W. Gann of Pickwick visited relatives in this community Saturday.

Lila says she wishes to inform Madam Rumor that she hasn't broken her heart; that she has only sprained her imagination.

We ask Uncle Geo. Winter to please accept our thanks for bringing out the mail from Ivan Saturday.

If the cold winter months are not too awful cold we are thinking General Green will soon be ruler in this community, as almost every farmer is sowing small grain. King cotton will be forced to surrender.

Uncle Josh West and son, Eugene were Graham visitors on Monday.

Smith says he sure does "love honey," but from the looks of his face now we are doubly sure that the honey bees don't love Smith.

B. P. Ritchey, Lila and Dewey were guests at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Upham Sunday.

Some one please finish my speech for me. Dad is all ready to go to the post office and I haven't time to say another word.

Silver Bell.

Hunt.

As I have been absent for a little while will come again and put Hunt in the columns of our live Correspondents' pages.

On the 14th we had a runaway scrape in this community. Mr. Calvin Clayton and Miss Melissa Johnson went to Wichita Falls and were married. Miss Johnson's mother had them in court Saturday.

Mrs. Calvin Clayton spent a part of this week with Mrs. W. E. Reeves.

Mrs. Matthews and daughter, Era, were shopping in Olney on Friday.

Mrs. H. E. Clayton and Mrs. W. E. Reeves were shopping in Olney one day this week.

Mrs. Matthews spent Tuesday afternoon with Grandma and Mrs. H. E. Clayton.

Little Harold Rayburn of Olney is spending this week with his grandfather.

Mr. G. R. Smith lost a fine milk cow last Sunday.

I wouldn't be surprised if the wedding bells didn't ring at Mr. Bryan's. Mr. Butler has bought a range and set it in the dining room.

Some of the young people of Shinola attended Sunday school and preaching here Sunday.

We were glad to have them and extend them an invitation to come again.

Cotton picking is just about all over here now and Rosebud isn't crying, either.

Mr. Rogers and daughter, Ella May and Misses Pearl and Emma Smith took supper with W. O. Rayburn Sunday night.

Singing at Mr. Henderson's was fine Sunday night.

Mr. Woolsey and Master Tom Matthews are on the sick list this week.

Millie Henderson spent Sunday with Mamie McCraghen.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hulsey. Rosebud.

Lower Tonk.

Cotton picking is the order of the day in this part of the world with wheat sowing a good second.

Ernest Beckham of Graham visited at W. E. Moore's the first of the week.

Mrs. Kelly of near Elbert is visiting her daughter Mrs. Sam Jones.

Miss Anna Belle Wadley spent Thursday afternoon with Miss Alma George.

Messdames T. C. and Lila Wadley and Miss Anna Belle visited at G. W. Gowens Friday.

Mrs. Cora Jones visited her mother Saturday.

Miss Anna Belle Wadley and Jim Jones went to the party at Mr. Cunningham's on Saturday night.

Mr. Doc Howard of the plains is visiting his mother and sister Grandma Howard and Mrs. A. A. Timmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wadley were at Mr. McClanahan's Sunday night.

Misses Eppie and Jewel Moore and Walter Kemp called on the Misses George Sunday afternoon.

Murry Moore visited up in the Valley Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Wadley and daughter, Miss Effie, went to Graham Saturday.

Misses Eppie and Jewel Moore and Alma George, accompanied by Messrs. Walter Kemp, Jim McClanahan and Vernon George called at G. W. Gowens Sunday night.

Claud and Ernest Clark visited their sister, Mrs. Jones last Sunday.

Mac George and Jim Brewton attended the W. O. W. lodge at Graham Saturday night.

James Gowens called at T. C. Wadley's Sunday afternoon.

Miss Anna Belle Wadley went to South Bend Sunday afternoon.

X. Y. Z.

Flint Creek.

Cutting wood is the order of the day here now, as it takes that to keep from freezing.

Jack Frost came near eating us up last night. The rain came down in little balls here Sunday morning for a while; but let it freeze, then we will have some fun skating.

There has certainly been some cotton gathered here the past week. In that time there has been 23 bales taken out of this community—but there is still more.

The Miller boys of the Center Ridge community, Mr. Hignight of Oakland, Mr. Bennett and little boy and Mr. Herndon's family have succeeded in finishing the picking of Mr. W. D. Rogers' cotton so he has been going to Graham quite often the past week.

Mr. Caskey and wife went to Graham Thursday.

Mrs. Rogers called at Mrs. A. D. Moore's Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore went to Bryson Sunday to see Mr. Moore's father, who is very sick.

Mr. John Taylor of Loving came through that awful cold wind Sunday just to be in Flint Creek community, but he said it was chilly. But that is the way to succeed John, come rain or shine.

Mr. W. E. Stephens went to town Thursday.

We will jump right from the Young county fair to the Texas State fair, but I don't suppose there will be as many of Young county at the state fair as there were at the county fair, but I suppose they will have as large a crowd.

School days will soon be here again and the bushes will be thinned out once more. They're getting pretty thick as it has been a long time since one has been cut down.

The people think we will have a good school this year as we have a teacher from Bryson. If she is as good as the other teacher we had from that place I know we will have a good school for I know by experience.

Why Blondie do you think you have found a spot that will do for a garden, and don't think there was any one in that picture that looked enough like a person to keep the rabbits all scared away? I am surprised.

Well, there was certainly something wrong with the Kodak, yes that was the reason. Well I am coming. Jack o' Diamonds.

Red Top.

Cotton is about out and wheat is most all sowed, and my! it will soon be school time for Spinster Maid.

I suppose all you Correspondents will pardon my absence as I have been so busy sowing wheat.

The apron party at Mr. Lem Bryant's Saturday night was well attended and an "elephant time" reported by all present.

The weather doesn't seem very favorable for Sunday school this (Sunday) morning.

The party at Teague Littlejohn's was reported a dandy.

Mrs. Thigpen is on the sick list this week.

Mr. E. T. Slater and family, G. W. Slater and family and W. F. Slater and family spent the afternoon at Grandpa Slater's.

Mr. Dee Osborn made a trip to Olney Saturday.

Misses Eureka and Mary Slater were shopping in Graham Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Slater were business visitors in Graham Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McBee and family spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McBee.

Well as it is growing along toward noon I guess I had better run along and see what I can find to eat.

Pleasant Hill.

How are you all this cold winter day?
Everybody has been pulling bolls this week.
Mr. W. T. Vines and children have been pulling bolls this week for Hub Rogers.
Mrs. Emily Rogers visited her son Henry, Saturday and Sunday.
Mr. Bonny Crabtree has been pulling bolls for Hub Rogers. He pulled 472 pounds one day last week.
Mr. Vines is going to Megargel next week on business.
Mrs. S. L. Thornton and children visited Mrs. W. T. Vines and family Sunday afternoon.
Mr. Joe Rogers and wife visited his sister, Mrs. Williams of True last week.
Hub and Luther went over to South Bend Sunday.
I will ring off this time as news is scarce. Lonesome.
(It is a pleasure to welcome Pleasant Hill and you came to the right place if you are "Lonesome" for the Correspondents of The Reporter never allow any one to be very lonesome. And if you stay with them very long we look for you to change your name to "Crowded."—Editor)

Rocky Mound.

Hello all of you Correspondents of The Reporter; I would surely be proud to see you all.
We are certainly having some winter today but we can't have warm weather all the time.
I want to compliment the writers for their nice letters for I sure think they are fine.
Yes, Blondie, I would like to have one of Jack o' Diamond's photos too if it would scare the rabbits.
The crowd at Sunday school Sunday was very light on account of bad weather.
Lillian Nored is quite sick with slow fever. We hope that she will soon recover.
Most everyone about here is through picking cotton.
Mrs. E. Mowery visited Mrs. J. S. Burkett Sunday afternoon.
Our school starts Monday the 27th with Mr. V. M. Chambers as teacher.
Henry Hunter spent Saturday night with Elbert Mowery and wife.
Shorty Phillips seems to be very restless these days. It is rumored that he has heart trouble; but do not be uneasy, Shorty, I think you will live through.
With best wishes and success to all will close. Buffalo Bill.

Eliasville.

My! but didn't we have a norther Sunday, and a little rain early in the morning, but about noon the sun came out from behind the clouds and made itself welcome.
Several from here attended the State Fair on last Thursday and Friday. Among them were Argo and Mont Davis, Fred Souther and Charley Ardis. They report the Fair excellent.
Mrs. Pat Douglas of Pine Bluff, Ark., is visiting her father, Mr. Souter.
Miss Maud Souter has returned from an extended visit in New York. We are glad to have her with us again.
Mr. Wash Jarnigan of Gorman is in our country with a load of potatoes; we wish him success in selling them.
W. P. Stinson had a fine lot of melons that he wanted to be certain that the frost didn't get so he plowed them all under, left them for several days, then investigated to see if they were all right. He was surprised to find his melons ruined. We are sorry for him. He wasn't quite so wise as some of our people who carried their melons and put them in the cellar. Dixie.
For cheap money on land apply to Arnold & Arnold

Markley.

We have some sickness in our neighborhood at this time. Mr. Dean has been very sick and is no better at this time. Mr. Jno. Owen is much better. He is able to be up.
Our doctor is making his arrangements to leave us soon so Markley will be without a doctor. I think this is a good location for a doctor, at least they all make money here.
Our school commences today, the 27th, Mr. Moreland, teacher. The cotton is about all out, so I hope we will have a good attendance from start to finish.
M. M. Wallace has returned to Markley and we all bid him welcome.
Mr. Joe McDaniel has come around and bid us all goodbye six times, but don't think he will leave until after the sixth of November for Joe is one of the largest road workers we have at Markley, so we wouldn't like to give him up till after that date.
Did you ask me if we were going to work the roads the fifth and sixth? Yes sir, all of us— from 21 years to 70 years of age. M. A. Stewart has his program made out—his carpenters, plow boss and so on. Every man will know where he belongs and what he is supposed to do on these days.
Say, Mr. Reporter man, I hear quite a lot of compliments passed on your paper, and justly so. I will say this; I think you are doing your duty and if you are hungry or thirsty come to Markley and we will feed you, and when you return to Graham you will be singing cornbread, buttermilk and good old turnip greens. BONO.-

Bunger

Here comes the Goose again after an absence of sixty days. She has had a great many ups and downs since her last writing but mostly downs.
But I am not the only person who has ups and downs. Mr. George Rose has some ups. He slept on the folding bed the other night and the bed shut up with him and he bawled out fire, scat, murder, and his wife ran in the room where he was and never thought about the bed having him caught for quite a while and she happened to notice his toes sticking out over the head board of the bed. He had too many weights on the bed, I guess.
You all remember some time ago Salemite had a long spiel about economy. I like her spiel all right but I think this neighborhood has got her skinned a city block. There are thirteen women in this part of the world and all wear one bonnet to town.
Mrs. G. W. Wiley visited Mrs. Jones last Friday. Mr. Wiley goes to town every other day with possibly Sunday excepted.
Mr. George Berry has gone back to Fort Worth to finish his studies in the high school.
Uncle Jim Daves is going to his new home down near Gorman, in Eastland county. We regret to lose him as a neighbor and friend.
Mr. Tom Beach said he caught the biggest coon he ever saw the other night in the Ferguson hollow.
Miss Cora Rose and Miss Nora McLaren made a sneak on Mr. Oscar Jones melon patch Sunday afternoon and took pie melons instead.
Bunger Booster spent Sunday with Mr. Rose.
Look out girls, Mr. Luther Berry has rented a place near Bunger. Some one will get a chance to say yes.
Mr. George Mahoney hauled a big load of wood this morning. I guess he would call it wood. I saw some brush hanging over the side of the wagon.
Mr. Berry is nux vomica good to feed hounds on? Goose

Jean.

I will endeavor this cold windy eve to write a few news items for The Reporter. It seems like we have not had time to write the past few weeks, and I see so many good letters in the last few papers that I am almost ashamed to send in the kind of letters I can write. I do think the Correspondents have made wonderful improvement and are sending in some letters that would be news for any kind of newspaper, much less a county paper. And I am sure we all feel proud of our Mr. Editor and The Reporter. Just compare The Reporter with most county papers and you will see quite a difference.
No, Miss Brunette, Buster had never heard of the Ft. Worth Record's compliment and we are from Missouri, and you will have to show us. Please give chapter and verse in your next letter as we will think you are making fun of us to our face.
I see Plow Boy and Salemite have been cussing and discussing the hog business and I will add my experience. I paid $5.00 of hard earned cash for a six weeks' old pig last spring and have fed it about $30.00 worth of feed and—well, when I go to have a hog killing time this fall I aim to hold Big Sandy up by the hind legs and whack him in the head with a nail hammer, so about all I will get out of the hog business will be the experience.
D. W. Whitt is building a new addition to his residence and upon completion will make a very nice home. We are glad to see so much substantial improvement as it not only adds to the value of the home on which they are made, but every good home is an advertisement for the country.
Nick Brooks has also done some improving on his residence that adds much to the looks of the place.
On last Sunday at 3 p. m. at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Joe Johnson, Miss Jennie Johnson and Mr. J. W. Dodd were united in marriage, Rev. J. L. Roach officiating. The bride is an accomplished young lady, the only daughter of one of our most prosperous and influential citizens and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mr. Dodd is a well-to-do young farmer and one of our most popular young men. The happy couple boarded the 5 o'clock train to the Dallas Fair and returned home Friday. They are starting off on the sea of matrimony well prepared, followed by the best wishes of their many friends for continued happiness and prosperity.
Mr. Riley Dollins, the popular county road boss, was in Jean Saturday buying supplies for his men and teams.
A Mr. Duckworth of Newcastle has located with us and will engage in the mercantile business. We would be glad to have others do likewise. "The more the merrier" you know.
We are pleased to state that there is not a vacant house in town at present but there are still a few vacant lots, and if anyone sees this who is dissatisfied with his present surroundings, come to Jean, the garden spot of Young county.
Prof. Kirkpatrick has moved in with his family and will begin his school soon. Buster.

Orth.

Cicero and Tol Routon are sowing wheat to a finish. They expect to sow 700 acres.
Protis Burton is through picking cotton.
You should have all seen the bunch that took in the show at Wichita Falls, it was a sight.
The flue blew out at the Orth gin Saturday but no one hurt.
Mr. Hustage went to Olney to get repairs.
G. W. Rux has sold his place to T. J. Routon and bought the Carlton place northwest of Orth.
T. J. Routon will leave Sunday morning for East Texas to look after his property in that section. J. T. Lowe will have charge of his store while he is gone.
S. R. Jeffery has been rounding up and branding his yearlings the past week. They had branded one and turned him loose just after Mr. Jeffery had walked away. The yearling saw Mr. Jeffery and made for him, striking him in the back. The branding iron went one way, Mr. Jeffery another and the yearling still another.
I understand that Ed Park and Mr. Maupin have quit the ranch.
The farmers up here are just about through sowing the small grain and what they have up is looking fine.
Cotton picking will soon be a thing of the past. We got another rain Wednesday and a norther with it and a frost Wednesday night.
J. N. Newman, our deputy, made a flying trip to Newcastle this week.
George Leberman and J. N. Newman are talking of spending a few days at the Dallas Fair next week.
I am informed that Mr. Collie has rented a place near Wichita Falls.
Mr. Logue and son of True were in Orth trading Saturday. UNO.

Mountain Home.

Mr. Editor I will write again as you are so good to all your writers. I think we have a good paper and we are always glad when Thursday morning comes so we can get the Reporter, for we can sit by the fire and read all the news from several counties around and can learn what our neighbors are doing. Those that don't take our good paper out here we let them read ours.
Well it is pretty cold in this part. The wind is blowing and it is raining too.
Messrs. Bill and Tom Bunger went to Graham with cotton on Friday.
Mr. Emmet Lisle spent Saturday night with Roy Ribble.
Mr. Dick Whittenberg and Mr. Frank Sharp took their cotton to Graham Saturday.
Mrs. Girtie Sharp spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. Lou Driver.
We are very sorry to hear that Miss Maud Carmack was not able to teach our school for we were anxious to have her with us, but we all wish her well and hope she will be able to teach later as the scholars are all very anxious to have her to commence the school.
Mr. Bud Chambers from Bryson will teach our school this year. We wish him good luck with the school.
Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whittenberg spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Bill Bunger.
Mr. Albert Askew was helping his father sow wheat Monday.
Plow Boy when you put in an order for a teacher you can just order us a preacher or send us one either for our preacher is going to move away. I am sure you can get one from Sears, Roebuck or Arbuckle Bros.
Mr. and Mrs. Norman went to Graham Tuesday.
Well I will say goodbye for this time. Homeite.

Loving.

The Loving school started on Monday morning with about 90 pupils present. Prof. Johnson of Erath county as principal, Miss Lillian Hall, teacher of intermediate grade and Miss Echols teacher of primary grade. After this week most all the pupils will attend as nearly all the cotton will be out by that time.
The Simmons gin has turned out 560 bales up to Monday night and the Union gin is not far behind. About 1200 bales will cover the number at Loving this year.
Bro. J. L. McCord was here Saturday night till Monday morning. He is talking of locating at Loving.
A called session of the County Farmers Union was held at Loving Saturday. Quite a number from all parts of the county were present. An oil mill man from Wichita Falls was to have met the Union here but failed to put in an appearance. A local Union was organized here a few days ago with R. M. Sims president and G. B. Underwood secretary.
The Ladies Mission Workers of Loving will meet at the Baptist church next Saturday week the 8th of November to quilt three quilts for the Buckner Orphans home. All who are interested and willing are invited to help.
There were no services at the Baptist church Sunday on account of the cold rainy weather.
Will Holt and family will go to Erath county the first of November. Mr. Holt will take charge of a telephone office. Correspondent.

Indian Mound.

Mesdames B. W. Drum and Ira Huckaby visited Mrs. J. A. Bird Wednesday.
R. G. Taylor made a business trip to Graham Wednesday and had the pleasure (?) of facing the rain and norther home.
I admire the action taken by the Loving and Rocky Mound communities in defense of the quail. If farmers everywhere would do likewise I'm thinking their crops would suffer less from troublesome insects.
Mesdames G. W. McCommas and J. S. Fisher were visitors at Austin Bird's Thursday afternoon.
School opened here Monday morning with thirteen pupils, two trustees, several and the teacher present. wish Mr. Simpson great success with his school, and the prospects, from the opening, look encouraging.

W. R. Dollins has finished picking his cotton crop and carried his last bale to the gin last Friday.
Mrs. G. W. McCommas and son Floyd visited in Graham on Saturday.
Mrs. Gentry Williamson was shopping in the city Saturday.
That was quite a fierce little norther we had Sunday, wasn't it? and it was followed by a killing frost out this way. The frost will be an advantage in opening up the cotton.
Mrs. Lizzie Bryan and daughters, Misses Ivy and Jean spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fisher.
I say amen to Plow Boy's speech where he said these so-called Christians were ready for the shelf when they arrived at the point where they refuse to go hear a preacher other than one of their own denomination.
Mike Fisher was a visitor at the Bird homes Sunday afternoon.
R. G. Taylor and John McCommas were in Graham Monday.
There will be preaching at the school house the second Sunday in each month by a member of the Apostolic Faith.
N. B. Nolan made a trip to Graham Monday.
Miss Jimmie Bird made a trip to Orth Monday in the interest of her school. The time was spent in determining the different grades and books to be used by the pupils.
Miss Minnie Fisher is spending the week with her sisters, Mrs. H. L. Bush of Tonk Valley and Mrs. Andrew Bryan of Dakin.
Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Williamson are spending the week in Ft. Worth and Dallas. She is having her eyes treated.
Let us all remember we have Sunday school at 10 o'clock and prayermeeting at 3 each Sunday. Each one come and do his part and we will be a great success.
Western Girl.
(A note from Western Girl to the Editor states that she will not be able to write from Indian Mound as she is going away to teach school. Let us all extend her our best wishes and look forward to having her join us again as soon as school is out.—Editor.)

COPELAND-GALLAHER NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

The marriage yesterday morning of Miss Corinne Gallaher, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallaher to Mr. Tom Copeland of Corpus Christi, was one of the most charming social events of the season.

The home was beautifully decorated with smilax and cut flowers. There were baskets of roses in the parlor, carnations and roses were used among the smilax in the back parlor and reception hall.

With the shaded electric lights and numerous candles burning in a beautiful candelabra, shed that mysterious glow over the rooms which always gives an added solemnity to an occasion of this kind.

Just preceding the entrance of the bridal couple, Mrs. Charles Daggett of Fort Worth sang Thomas Moore's wonderfully sweet and touching song, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Charms," arranged by "N. Clifford Page," Mrs. Tom Gallaher playing the accompaniment.

The bride and groom entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, taking their places in the doorway between the front and back parlors, which was a bower of smilax and roses and from the center of which hung the traditional Wedding Bell, composed of white roses. At the conclusion of the vows rose leaves were showered from the bell on the happy pair.

Rev. B. F. Stallings, pastor of the First Christian Church, performed the marriage rite in a beautiful and impressive manner.

The bride was attired in a dark blue matelasse traveling suit with girlish blue velvet hat and carried an arm bouquet of white Chrysanthemums and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Copeland will spend ten days visiting in San Antonio and other points, after which they will be at home at Corpus Christi, Texas.

Graham society regrets to lose this charming young woman but congratulates Mr. Copeland on his choice of a bride and wishes them both the best of life's blessings.

They departed on the 7 o'clock train amid a shower of rice and good wishes.

The out of town guests to the marriage were: Mrs. M. D. Copeland and Mrs. James Carey of Whitesboro, mother and aunt of the groom; Mrs. J. S. Holly, Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gallaher, Amarillo, Mrs. Chas. Daggett, Ft. Worth, Mrs. H. B. Graham, Miss Mary Delle Gallaher, and Blakey Gallaher of Fort Worth.

How Sunday Reached Frontier.

High principle and humor have ever made an irresistible combination. Early merchants on the American frontier conspicuously failed in the observance of Sunday; therefore, when a young New Jersey trader, who had settled at Louisville, Kentucky, closed his store on the first Sunday after it was opened there was much ado in the town.

Other establishments kept open; had he not noticed it? he was asked. Yes, he knew it. Why did he close? He was the first to do so; he must know that also.

"Why?" said a facetious merchant, "Sunday hasn't yet crossed the mountains."
"Yes it has," declared the newcomer, pleasantly. "I brought it with me."

That simple and ready reply proved more effective than any amount of argument, and although he was first to observe the day in town, he soon had many followers in Sunday-closing.—Youths' Companion.

The question of whether it may not be wise for the distilleries all over the country to close down during 1914 because of overproduction and large stocks on hand in their warehouses is being raised by several distilling firms of Kentucky, according to the Chicago Tribune. These men assert that the overproduction was so great during the fiscal years 1911, 1912, and 1913 that a "panic" in the whiskey business will result in 1914 if something is not done to prevent it. One Kentucky distiller recently told the correspondent of the Tribune, "There has been such a nationwide overproduction of distilled spirits during the fiscal years of 1911, 1912, and 1913, with 1914 starting off with the biggest deluge of all, that the trade of the country is justly alarmed. Propositions are being launched to curtail 1914 production, even to the extent of closing down distillery operations. Each of these years in turn has broken all previous production records in the history of the industry. As a result there remains in the bonded warehouses of the United States after a complete deduction of all withdrawals, a gigantic net total of 274,648,260 gallons."

All of which is in perfect accord with the explanation that has been given by the temperance people of the increasing consumption by the people of the United States of alcoholic liquors.

A Drunkard's Will.

The following is a will by a drunkard of Oswego, N. Y.: "I leave to society a ruined character and a wretched example. I leave to my parents as much sorrow as they can in their feeble state bear. I leave to my brothers and sisters as much shame and mortification as I could bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart—a life of shame. I leave to each of my children, poverty, ignorance, a low character, and a remembrance that their father filled a drunkard's grave. Christian Inquirer.

R. R. Men and Total Abstinence

"We can say with justifiable pride and without fear of successful contradiction that if all classes were as free from the liquor habit as are the railroad men of the present day, there would be little left for the temperance workers to do. To convince oneself of this fact it is only necessary to mingle with railroad men at their gatherings, to attend some union meeting in any part of the country and note the entire absence among them of any desire or tendency to visit saloons or to indulge in the use of intoxicating liquors. In our own brotherhood the great virtue of total abstinence is one of the first lessons our members are taught at its altars. Our men know how deeply impressive this lesson is, and the imposing and solemn conditions under which it is so forcibly impressed upon them."

SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER

Every intelligent man wants to keep up with the news of his own community and county. Therefore he needs a good local newspaper. He also needs a paper of GENERAL NEWS and for State, National and World-wide happenings he will find that

THE SEMI-WEEKLY FARM NEWS has no superior. The secret of its great success is that it gives the farmer and his family just what they need in the way of a family newspaper. In addition to its general news and agricultural features it has special pages for the wife, the boys and the girls. It gives the latest market reports and publishes more special crop reports during the year than any other paper.

For $1.75 cash in advance we will send The Semi-Weekly Farm News and The West Texas Reporter each for one year. This means you will get a total of 156 copies. It's a combination that can't be beat, and you will secure your money's worth many times over. Call or mail your subscription to THE WEST TEXAS REPORTER, Graham, Texas.

LITERARY CLUB

The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle met in the first open session of the club year with Mrs. Evans Mabry, on last Wednesday afternoon. She was assisted in entertaining by the preceding hostesses of the club, Mesdames Gallaher and McLendon. Mrs. F. Parrish was programmed as the fourth hostess but was out of the city.

This delightful little home was decked with black-winged bats, saucy jack-o'-lanterns, the "eerie black cats," and yellow pumpkins—all suggestive of the approaching Hallowe'en festivities and the fall of the year. Preceding the program a short business session was held at which time Mrs. H. L. Morrison was elected delegate to the Convention of Federated Women's Clubs to be held in Corpus Christi, Nov. 11.

Mrs. B. W. King was chosen alternate.

Mrs. Hall was director of the lesson for the afternoon, selected from the attractive study "Rambles and Studies in Greece."

Excellent papers were given by Mrs. Miller, whose subject "Athens and Attica" was delightfully treated; and Mrs. Hallam on "The Museums and Tombs of Athens."

Mrs. A. A. Morrison rendered a delightfully descriptive piano number, "An Alpine Love Story" which was much enjoyed.

As an afterlude to the program, a dainty luncheon was served, carrying out the Hallowe'en motif in every detail. The table was centered by an immense pumpkin, with accessories of lighted tapers and green foliage. The following invited guests enjoyed this happy affair: Mesdames Garrett, Pohlman, Scarborough, Mabry, McCain, and Tom Gallaher of Amarillo.

The Museums and Tombs of Athens.

(Paper read before the C. L. S. C. by Mrs. R. G. Hallam and published by request of Club.)

The museums of Athens are, frankly, a disappointment. To the traveler seeking the antique in Italy, one finds statues galore of the old Greek masters; these are cleverly patched up where a "patch" is needed; almost every trace of disaster and devastation is obliterated. This veneer is, at first sight, satisfactory, but upon closer research, the observer will at last recognize that the nicely mended Greek work in Italian museums is not worth one shattered fragment in the real home of pure art, although in ruins.

This talented, independent race scorned to boast of their achievements or of their adaptability; but their masters borrowed, appropriated, made their own, the best points of their contemporaries and passed them down through the centuries as essentially "Greek art." Many small figures of terra-cotta, delicately molded and richly dressed, are found in the Grecian museums, cemeteries, in private collections, and have found their way into museums throughout the continent of Europe. These apparently, date back into the first age of sculpture. They are of graceful mould, sometimes toy-like in appearance, often remarkably modern-looking. Just why these were made is not obvious; whether for ornaments, toys, or merely as an outlet for the versatility of the Greek, anticipating the beauty and charm of the modern ideals of elegance. The older Parthenon, which was destroyed by the Persians, was partially used in rebuilding the surrounding wall of the present temple, at the opening of Athens' career of wealth and affluence. The ancient sculptures, found among the ruins, are very stiff, crude, and expressionless—sometimes comical. They invariably wear stiff conventional curls, more conventional beard, and a placid expression—far from utter lack of ability in the sculptor to render any facial emotion, whatever.

The Greeks believed in an afterlife to this life; but it was a dreary existence, filled with gloom and restlessness; an echo of the pleasures of this world, with no panacea for its woe and hopelessness. Among the pagans are found Plato, who taught immortality and Pindar, who sang of a future life far happier than this. However, the philosophy of these two was not popular with the Greeks and death, to them, was a dark unavoidable fate. The inscriptions on their tombs are most often only the simple word, "Farewell;" a word of pathos and finality. The monuments are chaste and pure, reserved; no violent grief is depicted; no clamoring; no extravagance; but, with innate nobleness of soul, humility and resignation are pictured: a sorrow more poignant than the Christian's, for it is without hope.

survived exempt from decay, immortal as a principle from which they exercise their control."

And the poet, Shelley, pays the following beautiful tribute to the influence of Greece on the world: "Greece and her foundations are Built below the tides of war, Based on the crystalline sea Of thought and its eternity. Her citizens, imperial spirits, Rule the present from the past; On all the world of men inherits Her seal is set."

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given Mrs. C. S. Wynns and her guest, Mrs. L. P. Robertson, of Fort Worth, Monday afternoon, by several of her friends.

The ladies drove up to the house in a car, walked in and took possession of the house and informed Mrs. Wynns that they came to give her a party.

An impromptu program of music and readings was rendered by Mesdames A. A. Morrison, R. G. Hallam, H. P. Rose, J. F. H. Crabb and Miss Mazelle Morrison. Others present besides these were Mesdames Jno. E. Morrison, J. W. Jackson, G. B. Hall, and Evans Mabry.

Delicious refreshments were served.

PRISCILLA CLUB

Mrs. G. B. Hall was a pleasant hostess to the Priscilla Club on Tuesday afternoon. Lively conversations were much in vogue, as were numerous pretty pieces of embroidery, and several crocheted hooks kept time, too.

Scattered over the entire suite of rooms were tiny pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, owls, black cats and yellow and white decorations suggestive of Hallowe'en.

Mrs. J. Hall Bowman delighted the club with a sweet vocal number, followed by a solo by Mrs. Rose, which was also enjoyed.

A delightful fruit punch with wafers was served.

Mrs. Z. A. Hudson entertains the club next week.

The ancient sculptures, found among the ruins, are very stiff, crude, and expressionless—sometimes comical. They invariably wear stiff conventional curls, more conventional beard, and a placid expression—far from utter lack of ability in the sculptor to render any facial emotion, whatever.

The Greeks believed in an afterlife to this life; but it was a dreary existence, filled with gloom and restlessness; an echo of the pleasures of this world, with no panacea for its woe and hopelessness. Among the pagans are found Plato, who taught immortality and Pindar, who sang of a future life far happier than this. However, the philosophy of these two was not popular with the Greeks and death, to them, was a dark unavoidable fate. The inscriptions on their tombs are most often only the simple word, "Farewell;" a word of pathos and finality. The monuments are chaste and pure, reserved; no violent grief is depicted; no clamoring; no extravagance; but, with innate nobleness of soul, humility and resignation are pictured: a sorrow more poignant than the Christian's, for it is without hope.

In that magnificent funeral poem, "In Memoriam," by Tennyson, written in memory of a loved friend, Arthur Hallam, we find words, sentiments that are peculiarly our own inasmuch as it deals with a universal passion—grief. After seventeen years, this gem of literature was wrung from Tennyson's heart—after years of lonely musings and silent questionings, he produced this exquisite elegy and other poems, dealing with the endless life. This poem has well been styled the English classic on the love-of-immortality and the immortality of love. As he who understands reads with intense sympathy "In Memoriam" and finds sweet comfort therefrom; so we can view the hopeless tombs of the ancient Greeks and realize they are a portrayal of the eternal human side of our nature—eternal, therefore real art. Her statues and temples are broken now, laid waste, their treasures scattered far and wide. But over all the world has gone the glory of this people whom for one brief century it was granted to give harmonious development of mind and body, and to found an art that shall outlive the ages.

Thomas Babington McCauly, who has the merited distinction of having written the purest English extant, pays the following lovely tribute to Athens in his now famous Critique "On Mitford's History of Greece"—"Her freedom and her power have for more than twenty centuries been annihilated; her people have degenerated into timid slaves; her language into a barbarous jargon; her temples have been given up to the successive depredations of Romans, Turks, and Scotchmen: but her intellectual empire is imperishable. And when those who have rivaled her greatness shall have shared her fate; when civilization and knowledge shall have fixed their abode in distant continents; when the scepter shall have passed away from England; and when, perhaps, strangers from distant regions shall in vain labor to decipher on some moldering pedestal the name of our proudest chief; shall hear savage hymns chanted to some misshapen idols over the ruined dome of our proudest temple; and shall see a single naked fisherman wash his nets in the river of the ten thousand masts; her influence and her glory will still

Special Sale for Seven Days Only
Seven Seasonable Items
On Saturday, Nov. 1, we will put on sale the greatest bargains you ever saw in the following goods:

Wool Blankets	Feather Pillows
Cotton Blankets	Pillow Slips
Bed Spreads	Wide Sheeting
Ready-made Sheets

We urge you to call as early as possible and buy these goods liberally, as our Special Sale prices are lower than usually asked during clearance sales at the season. Owing to the advance in cotton this fall, five of the seven items on sale are sure to be higher later on—just as soon as we have to buy them made from this year's cotton. So we advise you to buy enough of these goods to last a year or more.

Sale Starts Sat. Nov. 1 S. B. Street & Co. Sale Closes Sat. Nov. 8
