DRYS VICTORS IN MINERAL WELLS VOTE

Pros Get 580 and Antis 355. Saloons Close in Thirty Days.

Mineral Wells, one of the most popular summer resort towns in Texas, voted "dry" Saturday. The count was 580 for prohibition and 355 against. The city's seven saloons will close in about thirty days, the time fixed by law after public notice of the election result. The election was a surprise in a way, although leading prohibitionists were confident their new system of campaigning would win. Instead of making speeches and arousing the city over the issue, they went quietly about in a personal canvass and pledged more than a close majority for their cause.

The prohibition will cover the justice precinct that includes Mineral Wells. The total vote of 925 was not far short of the precinct's normal vote, which is but little more than 1,000.

Mineral Wells has been "wet" for years. Only a few small places in the county are now "wet." The entire county voted down prohibition a year ago.

Birthday Party.

Master Edward Wood entertained a host of his little friends last Saturday afternoon, at his home in West Graham, celebrating his tenth anniversary. His natal day was on Sunday, October 4th, so the celebration of the happy event fell on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Wood issued the little invitations without the knowledge of the host so the pleasure of the occasion was enhanced by the delightful surprise. The usual peanut hunt furnished never ending delight to the little youngsters, and after an anxious search, Master Deak Matthews captured the prize, a box of stationery, for having actually found the greatest number of peanuts. Master Manning Vick succeeded in tailing the beloved donkey and for this stunt was also awarded a box of stationery. A long table on the lawn, bearing the birthday cake was the center of admiration. In cutting the magic cake, Jo Hall Morrison fell heir to the dime and Hubert Rehders was consoled by the button. Whips were given as favors, which marked places at the long table for the thirty-six boys. Mesdames Walter Douglass and Harvey Bills assisted Mrs. Wood in dispensing grape juice and cake to the following boys:

Deak, Bud and Jo Lee Matthews, Max and Glenn Wallace, Liddle and Billy Felps, Carl Schuster, Norman Stovall, Jo Hall Morrison, Manning Vick, Philip Flint, Hubert and Henry Rehders, Charles McLaren, Ernest Howard, Mansell Birdwell, Hilliard Mabry, Glenn Martin, Glenn Babb, Eric Williamson, Buster Todd, Jim Norman, Herman Morton, Bruce Fawks, Lynn Johnson, Fred Adair, Jean Beckham, Hubert Mayes, Willie Wallace, W. T. Douglass, Billy and Jim Doydle, L. J. and Clyde Bower.

Quite a few of the boys invited were out of town and two or three did not receive their invitations in time to attend the happy event. Loads of presents of knives, watch fobs, tie clasps, balls and other trinkets prized by boys were left the young host to attest the high esteem in which he is held by his little friends.

LES HIBOX

Mrs. Glenn Q. Street entertained the Auction Bridge Club on Wednesday afternoon with a handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Allye Logan.

Several games of Bridge were played, after which the hostess presented Miss Logan with an artistic box of handkerchiefs. The high score prize was given Mrs. M. K. Graham, a dainty handkerchief, which she gave to the honoree, and Miss Zella Allen winning the "booby" also presented a dainty handkerchief to the honoree. Delicious cake and grapefruit cream was served to the following: Mesdames Stovall, B. Street, M. K. Graham, Arnold, Fowler, Hutchison, Gay, Parrish, Norman, and Wadsworth; Misses Eula and Allye Logan, Lillian Manning, Pauline McJimsey, and Dorothy Graham. Invited guests, Mrs. S. B. Street and Miss Zella Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood have returned from an extended visit to relatives at Kilgore, and other points in eastern Texas. They also recuperated for two weeks at Mineral Wells. Mr. and Mrs. Wood have moved into the Bennett cottage in east Graham which they have rented for a short time, as their home was destroyed by fire while they were away.

COPYRIGHTED FARM AND RANCH-HOLLAND'S MAGAZINE

It is only human to get into a rut and do things exactly as our forefathers did. We are all such creatures of habit. For example, we have thought for centuries that there was but one way to finish the inside walls and partitions of our houses and other buildings, just as our ancestors did by plastering, despite the fact that as soon as the walls "settled" great, ugly cracks appeared in the plaster. Then we awoke to the fact that there was a better way, and now we have more modern methods that are revolutionizing building plans.

Great-Uncle David and Great-Aunt Mehitabel used to drive an entire day or more to do their "marketing" and "shopping." They had to, for there were no rural free deliveries, no telephones, no telegraph, parcels post, automobiles or motorcycles to enlarge their radius both from a purchasing and farming standpoint. Today it is different. The farmer has the same needs for clothing and the actual necessities of life as his city brother, but unlike his forefathers he spends less time going after them. In other words, if he does not care to go to the mountain, he requests the mountain to come to him.

In the first place, the modern farmer is an up-to-date individual. He is well informed, and in many cases is a college graduate. He knows how to "shop" by telephone or mail. If he did not his efforts would be about as disappointing as hunting for the pot of gold that is supposed to be hidden at the end of the rainbow.

If he wants collars or shirts or trousers, rakes, plows, harrows, it is all the same. He can speed an order to his merchant by phone or mail and by asking for standard brands with which he is familiar he knows that his purchases will be satisfactory in every way. He is not looking for "bargains" or "price-cut" brands inferior in quality and workmanship. He wants only the best and is willing to pay for the best. He wants what he wants when he wants it, and will take no substitute.

Even though he has never sold collars or rakes or plows, he has perhaps spent years perfecting a seedling strawberry plant that bears his name, or breeding cattle that he has individualized, and he has been up against competition so hard that he knows the game. You cannot fool the farmer, for he no longer bears the opprobrium of "Hayseed."

Being accustomed to think and act for himself, he is not susceptible to substitution on the part of the dealer, for his tastes have been educated to the better things.

Young Folk's Party.

Last Friday night, Master Silas Jeffery entertained a few young friends at his beautiful home in east Graham. The lawn was brilliantly lighted and the greater part of the evening was spent in lively outdoor games. These games, with music and readings, furnished the pastime of the evening. Misses Juanita Adair and Fay Martin contributed several enjoyable readings and Miss Neweta Flint rendered a number of piano selections in her finished manner.

Misses Adele Jeffery and Ellen Black and Mrs. J. T. Rickman assisted Mrs. Jeffery in serving an ice course.

The following were present: Misses Mary Eichelberger, Fay and Mildred Martin, Jaunita Adair, Edith Birdwell, Neweta Flint; Byron Rickman, John Morrison, Oliver Loving, Edgar Flint and Ernest Babb.

Presbyterian Aid Society.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society held their regular meeting with Mrs. Z. A. Hudson last Thursday afternoon, with sixteen members present. Mrs. Rehders opened the meeting by reading the second chapter of 2nd Corinthians and conducting the further devotional exercises. For roll call, responses were given from the "Missionary Survey," topics having been previously assigned. Mrs. Rubenkoig conducted a most interesting lesson from "At Our Own Door," the especial topic related to the mountaineer of the South. The study of the lesson disclosed the fact that the mountaineers are isolated entirely from the outside world, hence have no knowledge of the gospel whatever.

Mrs. Duncan sang "Flee as a Bird" as a very sweet and effective solo.

The next meeting will be on October 15th with Mrs. Hallam as hostess.

Baptist Missionary Society.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met with Mrs. W. D. Boswell on October 1st.

This was a very interesting meeting. Fifteen ladies responded to roll call with a scripture verse containing the word, "whoever."

Mrs. Griffin conducted a very interesting lesson on the Bible. These lessons are always very helpful.

The following program was carried out:

Song—"What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Prayer—Mrs. Short. Scripture Reading—1st Cor., 13th chapter.

Offering—$4.15. Dismissal prayer—Mrs. Tidwell.

Kaye-Caldwell.

Miss Eula Kaye and Mr. W. M. Caldwell of Waco were married Sunday at 5 p. m. at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. E. Kaye, in Arlington Heights. The service was read by Rev. C. V. Edwards of the College Avenue Baptist Church. Only close friends and relatives were present.

Sprays of beautiful golden rod, with a background of greenery, formed the principal decoration of the room, and the bride and groom, unattended, stood before an improvised altar of white flowers, palms and ferns.

Miss Ann Rogers sang "I Love You" before the ceremony, and played the wedding march also. The bride wore a white crepe de chine gown and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left for Waco, where they will make their home. The bride has many friends, especially in Arlington Heights, and was one of the beautiful young women in that suburb.—Star-Telegram of October 5th.

Ladies of the Christian Church Pick Cotton.

Last Friday, thirteen ladies of the Christian Church went out to I. B. Padgett's farm about a mile from town and spent the day gathering the fleecy staple. These energetic workers, with their own hands, added twelve dollars that day to the church erection fund. They picked out one bale of cotton. Mrs. McGowan led the bunch in results, she having picked two hundred and thirty-two pounds while Mrs. George Miller, who had never engaged in this branch of industry before, picked only sixty-nine pounds. A little Morehead child of six years distinguished himself by picking twenty pounds.

During the day Rev. B. F. Stallings and Mr. George Miller brought out a bountiful supply of cold watermelons which greatly refreshed the harvesters. The following ladies comprised this bunch of pluck and industry: Mesdames W. I. Tidwell, B. F. Stallings, V. E. Edleman, W. C. Bell, George Miller, Edd Martin, Alma Martin, William Johnson, McGowan, R. L. Reed, Moorehead and Miss Lucille Reed.

Two Kansas Poets.

We recently read a couple of poems by Kansas poets that were so widely different in sentiment regarding rural life in the sunflower state as to attract our attention. A sample verse of each poem we submit herewith that our readers may get a correct view of the pleasures of farm life in that state:

First Poem

"When the cares o' day is done,
On the Plains of Kansas,
And the kids begin to yawn,
Sleepy like, in Kansas,
Farmer wipes his glasses blurred,
Reads a chapter o' the Word,
Then kneels down and thanks the Lord that he lives in Kansas."

Second Poem

"I put a crop in the land,
Way out in Kansas,
The wind took off both crop and sand
And gave it to another man,
Way out in Kansas."
There is evidently two schools of poetic thought in Kansas, or else the author of the first poem quoted is like Job, in the midst of his sores and afflictions after reading "a chapter of the Word," able to thank God that he lives in Kansas. His first statement seems to indicate as much as he starts out with the expression, "When the cares o' day are done." The action of a gentle Kansas zephyr in wafting his crop across the state line would come properly under this head, and he may intend to dismiss a matter of so little moment as one of the "cares o' day," and there may not be such a wide difference in sentiment after all.—Munday Times.

OCTOBER

Of all the seasons' myriad moods
Whether bright and gay, or grave and sober,
Which one was e'er so dear, so
sad,
So lovely as October?
Her woods are fragrant as a flower
Of roses in midsummer's glow;
The brilliant leaves hang trembling
Where sweet crisp breezes blow.
The lonely crow calls in the wood,
The bee plies at her winter home,
The squirrel hoards the ripened nut
For the dreary days to come.
The aged year draws near its close,
There's a delightful mellow haze
That enchants one like fairyland
In these soft October days.

Mrs. Moorehead Honored.

Last Tuesday afternoon, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church honored Mrs. Louis Moorehead of east Graham, with a delightful surprise. Mrs. Moorehead is leaving Graham this week to make Fort Worth her home, and in token of the esteem in which she is held by the Christian church several ladies of that body went over to her home and passed away a pleasant hour. The feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a sterling silver tea pot to Mrs. Moorehead, by Mrs. B. F. Stallings, in the name of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church. Mrs. Moorehead and her family leave many friends here in their church and elsewhere who wish them happiness in their new home.

The Spirit of Co-Operation.

R. H. Stockton, president of the Majestic Manufacturing Company of St. Louis echoes the spirit of co-operation in sending letters to his friends and patrons of the South. He says in part:

"Planters able to do so owe it to the South to withhold their cotton from market. Bankers must for the present mix patriotism with their business, and assist planters and tenant farmers to hold their cotton until the situation clears, which it will do, we think, within 60 days.

"The United States government is now arranging to aid the establishment of a merchant marine in American bottoms, and congress seems to be looking at the matter from a patriotic instead of a partisan standpoint. We have no doubt but that inside of 90 days we shall be able to ship promptly to foreign markets our cotton, corn, wheat and meat.

"Our advice is to organize all the interior cotton markets to secure storage and insurance, and have a committee formed to pass on grades. You will then be in a position to ask for your part of the funds in the hands of the federal reserve board.

"If the war continues, the consumption of American mills will be greatly increased, and the war will develop special opportunities for our mills in the South American markets.

"To sum up, we believe there will be a market for the cotton crop and it should bring an increased price."—Farm and Ranch.

Rev. Gaines B. Hall returned Saturday night from Presbyterian at Thurber and held the regular services at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The only pleasure some women get out of society is in trying to keep others out.

The pen may be mightier than the sword but all the same you can't make the Germans believe it.

T. R. has been sued for libel. It wasn't about the map of Brazil either.

The State of Virginia endorsed state-wide prohibition on September 22, when the state was voted "dry," by a sweeping majority.

Emperor William of Germany is reported to be suffering of inflammation of the lungs, contracted on the battlefield. His fifth son, Prince Oscar, was obliged to retire from his regiment on account of heart trouble, caused by over-exertion. We wonder that this latter malady hasn't seized the whole German army.

Last week, the senior partner of the great mail-order house of Sears & Roebuck died, in his early fifties. Mr. Sears left a fortune estimated at twenty-five million dollars. He had made this fortune solely from the mail order business, which method he originated himself at the age of twenty-one years. So lucrative was this cash concern, that he was able to retire from active business at the age of forty-five and pass the remainder of his life in luxurious ease. Mr. Beecham of the famous "Beecham's pills," and C. W. Post, the multi-millionaire cereal king, too, have passed away this year. This trio amassed fortunes from successful advertising.

Much has been said of late years in regard to the "Inefficiency of Old Age." Men are often shelved because of their years, while in truth, the ripe wisdom of a hoary head is often the very salvation needed. The present war offers an interesting example of what may be accomplished by men whom we usually refer to as "aged." For instance, the German General Von Hindenberg, who is considered by some as the ablest general in the war, is sixty-seven years old and a war-scarred veteran of 1870. The chief of the General German staff, next in rank to the Kaiser, is General Von Moltke who is sixty-six years of age. This general is a nephew of the famous Von Moltke, who held the same position in the German army in 1870. General Von Kluck, who commands the German army in France and who has done most of the marching and fighting, is sixty-eight years of age and his military operations have been ever alert and decided. General Von Buelow is sixty-eight; General Von Heeringen is sixty-four. The German Crown Prince himself is only thirty-two but his able chief of staff is sixty-five. The French Commander, General Joffre, is sixty-four; General Gallieni, the Commander in Paris, sixty-seven. The English Commander, Gen. French, is sixty-two. The Russian commanders are said to be about sixty years of age, although statistics are lacking.

Not His Bunch.

A Sunday-school teacher was quizzing her class of boys on the strength of their desire for righteousness.

"All those who wish to go to heaven," she said, "please stand."

All got to their feet but one small boy.

"Why, Johnny," exclaimed the shocked teacher, "do you mean to say that you don't want to go to heaven?"

"No, ma'am," replied Johnny promptly. "Not if that bunch is going."—Delineator.

Good Services at the Baptist Church Sunday.

Last Sunday was a good day at the Baptist church. The attendance at Sunday school was not as large as it should have been, but the interest was good, and we will have more present next Sunday. We are anxious to see every pupil of the Sunday school present Sunday. Be sure and invite some one else to come. The B. Y. P. U. service was very fine. A most excellent program was rendered, and there were from seventy-five to one hundred present. Don't miss next time. B. Y. P. U. meets every Sunday at 7 p. m.

We are still having some glorious conversions in our regular church services. We had one conversion Sunday, and two the Sunday before. This makes forty converted and received for baptism from the Sunday school alone, during the past nine months. Do you want to have a part in this kind of work? Would you encourage it? You may by your presence and your prayers. We have now come upon the finest season of the year in this country, try and not miss a single service. You are especially invited to be present next Sunday, October 11th. Rev. J. P. Boone of Dallas, an old schoolmate of the pastor, an able preacher, and one of the best men in Texas, will preach for us. Let us give him a large and enthusiastic audience. He may speak to the Sunday school, come in time for that.

OUR MORAL OBLIGATION TO PLANT MORE FEEDSTUFFS

We Not Only Owe It to Ourselves But to Those Who Are Aiding Us in This Crisis to Plant Food and Feed Crops.

In various issues of The Progressive Farmer we have pointed out as strongly as we know how the reasons why our farmers should raise more feedstuffs, especially during the coming year. Nearly all of these articles have had for their object the showing that this should be done because it is evident that feedstuffs are going to be unusually high, and consequently the profits from the raising of these feedstuffs will be large. In other words, the appeal for the planting of more feedstuffs has been to the pocket—usually considered the strongest arguments that can be made.

But there is a moral side to this question that ought not to be overlooked. First, the cotton producers of the South are appealing, and with justice, to every one in this country to help them over the misfortune that has temporarily overtaken them in the destruction of the immediate market for their product. It is right that every one should join hands in helping in this emergency, and it is a matter of pride to see how thoroughly this is realized. On every hand people are rushing to the front, not only with suggestions as to how this difficulty can be surmounted, but with actions. This is found in its most pertinent form in the "buy-a-bale-of-cotton" movement that is gaining such headway. That this is an entirely unselfish movement to actually be of service is amply attested by the fact that the price being paid for such cotton is in the neighborhood of 10 cents a pound, when the same buyer could doubtless get it for a good deal less if his idea was simply to speculate. There can be no doubt that this movement continued and persisted in will be of tremendous help in the maintenance of values.

On the other hand, since these people have voluntarily come forward and paid more for these bales of cotton than they could actually buy it for, it is incumbent upon the farmers who are receiving the direct benefit to do all they can to see that their helpers lose nothing by their generous move. One of the most potent factors in insuring a good price for this year's cotton, with the amount that this "buy-a-bale" movement will remove from the market, is the assurance that next year's planting will be reduced. The best way to insure this is to put that land in some crop now that will occupy the land at the time that cotton should be planted next spring, and the crop that will insure this is a crop of grain. So when a farmer plants an unusually large acreage of grain this fall he is not only taking steps to insure himself a profit next spring, but he is also fulfilling a moral obligation by giving his word expressed in action, that he will reduce his cotton acreage the coming year.

There is still another moral obligation upon us to plant more largely of feed crops this fall. The production of feed of all kinds has largely stopped throughout Europe, and it is going to be but a short while before those hosts who are so busy now in destroying each other are going to turn to America, with supplicating hands, begging us to give them something to eat. But in order to meet this demand that is coming as sure as the sun is going to rise in the morning, we must prepare now by planting large crops of foodstuffs for man and for beast.

And never were conditions more favorable for doing this than throughout the whole of Texas this fall. Ordinarily the difficulty about fall-planted grain is to get it to germinate in time, owing to our frequent lack of moisture. As though she new the necessity, Nature has prepared the way for a large grain crop by giving us an unusual amount of moisture in our soils at this time and with cotton lands recognized as the very best soil preparation for grain, we would be recreant to our moral obligation to the world did we not utilize these advantages to their fullest.—Progressive Farmer.

Cotton for a Home

What are you going to do with your cotton? Do you ever figure on owning a home? It's up to you—I will accept cotton as a cash payment—and give long time on the balance—as I have several places that I will sell this way.

This may be your first and last opportunity to buy a home in this way. It might pay you to investigate. I forgot to name the price, but it will be satisfactory. The right is reserved to withdraw this proposition at any time without previous notice.

Fall Opening

Fall fashions are in. During the next two weeks this store will be a busy place, fitting out the early shoppers—men who have learned the wisdom of getting the "first pick."

Remember this—each season the styles change just enough to rob an old garment of its former charm. New body lines, new patterns and new colorings make it hard going for the left-over suit.

It does not cost any more to buy early. And you are well dressed from the crack of the starting gun.

Come in. Come in any way, even if you only "browse" around. Start in by looking at STYLEPLUS CLOTHES $17.

No need of thinking you can buy these clothes for less later on in the season. They are always one price and always quality you can trust.

If you have been in the habit of making your old suit do until late in the season for the sake of trying for a bargain, come here and try STYLEPLUS, a suit never sold for more and never sold for less—always a bargain.

Skillful fashion artists design the styles, workmen who are trained in producing STYLEPLUS quality apply the tailoring.

You could not secure such style and finish plus all-wool fabrics plus good trimmings if the makers were not one of the largest in the country and did not specialize on this one suit.

We have other clothes. We have dwelt at length on STYLEPLUS simply because this suit appeals to so many men—in quality and in price.

Come in and see the new styles and fabrics

COUNTY LINE

Hello Correspondents, how are you all this fine day?

You see Johnnie Dolittle, I'm not scared quite as bad as you imagined I was. It will take more than a mistake to scare me, however, I will admit that my mistakes are scarry looking all right.

Miss Mary Caudill, who spent the summer at Grapevine, Texas, returned to her home at this place Wednesday. We are sorry to say that she is still in poor health.

Mr. Atkins has moved to his farm in this community and is building a new residence.

A few people from here attended the show at Graham Monday.

S. M. Gann went to Mr. Hughes' Tuesday to top maize, so he said. However, we have our doubts about the maize question.

And here comes Red Wing, insinuating that I will vote for Jack o' Diamonds, providing he is running on a matrimonial ticket, otherwise I suppose my vote will be withheld. Now Red Wing, I do not blame you for trying to crawlfish, but didn't you know you couldn't catch matrimony on a governor's hook? Red Wing my advice to you is for you to take a full grown dose of the tonic that you measured out to Jack o' Diamonds, and he refused to take, then maybe your next governor and matrimony talk combined will not sound so disgusting. And to "ease your mind" will tell you that I have Jack o' Diamonds and have the great consolation of knowing that I'm voting for a person who is far too honorable to accept the votes of negroes in order to gain the victory.

The early cotton in this part of the world will soon be a thing of the past.

Jack Cammack and family of this place left Wednesday for Sand Valley, where they will pick cotton for a while.

Mrs. Will Reeves and children of Little Arkansas, are visiting relatives at this place.

Asbury Caudill and family have moved to the place on Duff Prairie that Mr. Caudill bought from Frank Rickles. We welcome them to our community.

Frank Ribble of this place is in Ming Bend this week making syrup.

No, Snowflake, I'm not chilling at present. Haven't any time to chill. Dad has me busy picking some of that 7-cent cotton. How are you by now? I would be glad to see you.

Why don't you ever come down in this part of the country?

Well Trixie, I try not to let mistakes bother me but you see I generally make so many that I can't help worrying about them.

Correspondents, did any of you ever see a paper grow as fast as The Reporter, and be as newsy? Just look, fifty Correspondents and more I guess. Then what paper can beat The Reporter for local and personal mention news. Then there is the Want Ads, the Community Co-Operation article and the second page is given to a little of everything that is good and interesting. Well can our editor say, he is proud of the dear old West Texas Reporter, for he has made it one of the best papers there is in Texas. And well can we scribes say we are proud to be allowed to contribute our letters to so fine a paper. Three cheers! for The Reporter, the best paper in West Texas.

To the Staff Poet, will say I for one have enjoyed your poetry, and would be sorry to know that you was not going to furnish us rhymes for the coming year. Staff Poet please accept my compliments and be sure to continue to send in your poetry weekly.

Mr. Editor, do have some mercy on the readers and Correspondents. You know when you set a little child down with toys all around it and tell it that it can have only one toy they can't for the life of them decide which one to select, so are we scribes in the same fix. So I'm not going to give my opinion on your questions for I can't. Whatever our editor prints in The Reporter will be for the best, let it be what it may. Let it be poetry or let it be in an "editorial way."

What our editor says goes and I think he should be the judge. And no, Mr. Editor, we'll not serve on the jury.

Plow Boy, your last letter was good. All your letters are good as far as that goes, but I was just speaking of the last one. Surely you do not care for people calling you a socialist do you? I had far rather a person would call me a socialist than a democrat. Every one to their own notion though, so here, Plow Boy take my pencil and write us another good letter.

Silver Bell.

CRAIG POINT

Well, Mr. Editor, how do you like this little norther we are having? Jack Frost will be coming one day before long and with him, which is going to make it kind of hard on us cotton pickers.

Messrs. O. K. and I. V. Freeman have been baling hay for D. G. Killion the past week. We hear they baled 1100 bales. Mr. Killion had to build new sheds for it.

Rev. S. D. Cook filled his regular appointments at Upper Tonk and Briar Branch Sunday.

Prince Schlittler of Graham spent Sunday with Willie Baugh.

Yes, Hollyhock, I remember that afternoon, I saw you, although I can't say I know who you want me to talk to for you, unless it is the one who would pass twice a day. Is that him? Hope you will be at the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Killion attended the Baptist church in town Sunday night.

We are glad to report Mrs. S. D. Cook much better, also Mrs. Henry Kelley, who has been right sick the past week.

Grandma Killion has been suffering from a burned hand but it is some better at this writing.

Walter Green is hauling cottonseed from Woodson to Graham this week.

Will Mayes and son, Willis, took dinner at Mr. Baugh's Saturday.

Come on Jack o' Diamonds, you will wip in the end, for by the time Ferguson's term is out the "honorable side" of Texas will see what a great mistake they made and be ready to vote for an "honorable" man sure enough.

Hall Baugh spent Sunday with his nephew, Willis Mayes, in town.

Denver Killion had a new telephone put in one day last week.

F. R. Cornelius cut feed for S. D. Baugh several days last week.

Mrs. Trout and children returned to their home in town Sunday, after picking cotton for Mr. Lackey for the past two weeks.

Hoping to see all the Correspondents at the reunion I will go. Bluebird.

INDIAN MOUND

Sunday school was very well attended Sunday, there being forty-seven present. We long to see the time come when we can have twice this number.

Bro. J. L. McCord preached for us Sunday morning.

Indian Mound Baptist church has called Rev. J. W. Evans of Loving as their pastor for next year.

Mr. Howard and little son from Red Top attended church here Sunday.

picking cotton near Olney for some days.

Elmer Stephens took Sunday dinner with Wesley Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith and baby took Sunday dinner at the home of Will Hoggard.

Mrs. Lon Stephens, who has been very sick, spent last week at the home of H. H. Stephens, returning home Sunday.

R. G. Taylor and son, Hilliard, were in Graham Friday with two bales of cotton.

J. S. Frazier and son, Coy, were at Newcastle with a bale of cotton Friday.

Some of our farmers are sowing wheat.

Mrs. W. R. Dollins and babies and Mrs. Mollie Dollins visited at the home of Ed Steadham from Saturday till Sunday.

Miss Minnie Fisher took Sunday dinner with Mrs. Will Hoggard.

A. Bird and family visited Horace Busch of Tonk Valley Saturday and Sunday.

G. W. McComas, wife and son, John, E. H. Stockings, R. G. and Hilliard Taylor attended church at Red Top Sunday.

Kid also attended church at Red Top Sunday and I saw our new Correspondent, Augusta, while there but never had the pleasure of getting acquainted with her, but hope I may soon.

I am here to give the news of the neighborhood as best I can. Our neighborhood is far ahead of one I am going to copy from, The Lone Star Monitor, entitled "News of the Neighborhood."

A blank crop report was sent out by a Cleveland paper for the farmer to fill out and the other day one of them came back with the following written on the blank side: "All we've got in this neighborhood is three widders, two school ma'ams, a patch of wheat, the hog cholera, too much rain, about fifty acres of taters and a durn fool who married a cross-eyed gal because she owns eighty sheep and a mule which the same is me and no more at present."

J. O. D. when you send in the report of your wedding be sure and beat this fellows.

Last Thursday we had a street parade when Clark & Sons show passed here from Loving to Newcastle traveling overland. There was a Turk driving two extra large elephants and a camel.

One day last week some men in a car stopped at R. G. Taylor's, who lives on the W. W. Williamson farm, and got some water just in time to prevent their car from burning up. R. G. says all automobilists don't know how well he likes to quit work and go after the cows or they would stop and get water and leave the gate open so the cows could get outside as these fellows did.

Some one asked through The Reporter last fall or winter "Where are those Republicans and weak-kneed Democrats who said if Wilson was elected president we would sell six-cent cotton?" No one answered his question at the time and may not now, but as to the six-cent cotton, I think there will be all any one man will want to buy, after a few more days if it still continues coming down.

G. W. McComas and son were hauling wheat to Graham Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Howell and family of Newcastle visited at the home of F. E. Borchardt Sunday.

Some of the ladies met at J. S. Fisher's Monday and tackled on the orphan's quilts. Those present were Mesdames G. W. McComas, F. E. Borchardt, C. Rutherford, A. Bird, Will Hoggard, R. G. Taylor and Miss Grubbs.

R. G. Taylor was in Graham Tuesday with a bale of cotton.

Will Fisher was in Graham Friday with a bale of cotton.

Mrs. Ed Steadham is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mollie Dollins.

F. E. Borchardt and daughter were callers at Newcastle Saturday afternoon.

Bro. J. L. McCord, Mr. Howard and son took dinner at J. S. Fisher's Sunday.

Rev. J. W. Evans will preach for us next Sunday. All that can, come out and hear him.

As it is near mail time I had better quit and get this in the box. Kid.

Do You Know?

BRYSON

Didn't The Reporter have a fine lot of letters last week and week before? If Mr. Editor don't look out he will have to put three sheets in the paper for we can't read such fine print without spectacles and we can't buy spectacles these war times.

Cotton picking is the order of the day.

The gin is running regular every day and has ginned 300 bales up to Saturday.

Not very much cotton selling. Hardly ever anybody offers to buy and when they do the price is somewhere about 7 cents and nobody isn't going to sell at that price unless they are compelled to, although it looks like somebody has money yet or has sold a bale as there has been quite a few boys acting like they were drunk. Some of them are married men, too. They will get drunk and then try to keep it away from their wives. I don't know how far they keep it from them. Looks like they could spend their money for something better than whiskey.

The Methodist meeting has been in progress, although it closed Sunday night. The meeting just lasted a week and was conducted by Rev. Thomas, who did some good preaching and had large congregations. The last time I wrote there wasn't much hopes for a meeting this season.

I believe anthrax has just about died out around here, as I haven't heard of any new cases in a week or two.

J. C. Simpkins gave a singing Sunday evening. A large crowd attended and every one reported a splendid time with an abundance of good singing.

Alfred Simpkins has been suffering with toothache.

Come again Red Wing with another good letter and tell us how you enjoyed yourself at that party in your vicinity Saturday night. Trixie was there, wasn't she? Didn't we have a jolly time, though?

Carrie Nation, it has been quite a while since I have seen you but I saw your photo the other day.

Troy Sampley went to Graham Sunday night.

Trixie didn't get to attend the show Monday night, but several from here did go.

A large number of Union Ridge, Rock Creek and Keyser folks attended the meeting. We welcome you all back.

Roy Clayton began stripping his cane Monday morning. He went into his cane patch and began stripping the cane and found that the cane was so high that he had to get a pair of stilts to stand on so that he could strip the cane with ease.

Sam Cullers was in town Saturday riding around in his buggy "holering" every now and then that he had molasses for sale.

Health is fine and everyone seems to be enjoying themselves.

The moving picture show is Saturday nights regular now and sometimes other nights in the week.

Hurrah! for the humbug Plow Boy, for there were two humbugs in town here last Friday. They claimed to be salvationists but if they were they were able to get out here in some of these cotton patches where they are wanting pickers in the place of getting on the streets and begging nickels and dimes.

Misses Nichols entertained quite a few friends Sunday. There were about twenty-five in the bunch so I'll not mention their names as it will take too much space.

William Ballow left here last Tuesday morning for Fort Worth. He has been out here visiting and looking after his father's stock.

Here Daisy Flat, take my pencil and don't be so slow about writing. Trixie.

Cartier's Cement for mending china, glass and crockery, 10c at the Graham Crockery Co.

FLAT ROCK

Dear Mr. Editor and Correspondents. How are you enjoying this fine weather? It suits the Candy Kid exactly.

I'm just wondering how many more communities there are in the county that I've never heard of. A new Correspondent joins our band most every week and we are always glad to welcome every one.

Rev. Roark of this community was called to Ming Bend Saturday to preach the funeral of Mrs. James.

Mrs. Will Etier and little daughter of Alvord are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hodges.

Fay Cook spent last week with her grandparents at Craig Point.

Mesdames Corley and J. H. Alford called on Mrs. Porter Sunday afternoon.

Lucian Smith was the guest of Miss Georgia Burton Sunday eve.

Misses Augusta, Ethel and Josephine Cornish of Graham were driving in our community Sunday and called to see Mrs. Carey and Mrs. Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Parsons and baby spent Saturday night with Bert Bray and wife of the Tonk Valley community.

Messrs. E. H. Corley and Brit Mays sat up at Mr. Keplinger's Saturday night.

Mrs. Carey visited Mrs. Porter one day last week.

Mrs. Fannie Roark and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Iva Fain.

Messrs. Horace and Oscar Fain called at Mr. Corley's Sunday.

Anna Mays spent Saturday night with Miss Mary Field.

Walter Robbins of Tonk Valley spent Sunday with the Hazelton boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ragland of Rocky Mound spent Saturday night and Sunday with R. W. J. Parsons and family.

Messrs. Freeland and Roy Walker, Bill Martin and Boyd Hazelton and Rev. Roark ate supper at Mr. Corley's Sunday evening.

Mrs. R. W. J. Parsons spent Friday with Brit Mays.

Mrs. Burton and daughter, Miss Georgia, called at Mr. Hodges' Sunday afternoon.

The singing Sunday night was very much enjoyed by all present.

Messrs. J. M. Taylor, Jesse and Bill Martin and the Corley boys went to the Woodman lodge Saturday night.

G. O. Hazelton and son, Oliver, attended church in Graham Sunday.

Some of the farmers say they will not take less than ten cents for their cotton. We think this is all right if they would all say it and then stick to it.

Miss Maggie Taylor visited Miss Leota Hodges Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brit Alford spent Saturday night and Sunday with E. H. Corley and family.

Miss Jessie Alford visited her brother, John, at Salem Saturday night.

The members of Miss Dollie Martin's class were glad to have her back in Sunday school Sunday, after a few weeks absence.

Mrs. Emma Cook and children visited Saturday night and Sunday with Rev. S. D. Cook and wife of Craig Point.

I'm so sleepy now I can't guide my pencil right and if I keep on writing I may tell some of my dreams. Here is my pencil Buster, but I think you'll have to sharpen it before you can use it. Candy Kid.

LUCILLE

News is very scarce this week with this writer.

On October 1st, Mr. Bert McPherson lost his house and everything in it except three trunks and there was nothing in them to amount to anything. The people have all been right good to them as some of the neighbors started out with their wagons and gathered up two wagon loads for them. Most everybody gave something and they have made up enough money to build his house back. The wagons intend to start this (Monday) morning to hauling lumber. The house was destroyed by fire. They did not know how it caught as they were all in the field.

We had all kinds of preaching here Saturday and Sunday. Bro. Williams, the Missionary and Bro. Fisher, the Primitive Baptist both preached at Lucille Saturday night. Bro. Williams baptized one Sunday afternoon.

We had preaching at Grandma Doan's Sunday eve.

MARKLEY

The health of our vicinity is good at this time.

People are very busy with their crops. The late feed crop is excellent. I have never seen so much fine feed in this part of Texas before.

The cotton will make about a fourth of a bale to the acre.

Our gin is doing good work, giving a good turnout of lint and a good sample. But say, Mr. Editor, what are we going to do with the cotton? There is no market for it.

The farmers have got their grain threshed and we have plenty of wheat, oats, and rye for ourselves and some to spare and we will sow more small grain in this gin district this fall than was ever sown before. We have more hogs at this time than we ever had before, so you see that we are starting out on new lines. Whether we succeed or not remains to be seen.

Mat M. Wallace and Charley Noel spent the past week in Wichita Falls.

Prideaux Bros. are rounding up some cattle to ship this week.

Dr. Williamson has been in this part of the county quarantining us from Jermyn or Jermyn from Markley. As I am not well up on this disease that is creating such havoc among the stock I have no opinion to offer.

J. M. Wallace is buying cotton on account and paying one half cent above the market price.

The farmers are taking their cotton home and will not put it on the market before the 15th of January, 1915—or at least that is the way Markley is going to do. So my friends if we are owing you anything rest your souls in peace, you will get your money in A. D. 1915, for cotton at that time will be a good price and Germany will be no more. Bono.

We are extremely anxious to increase the feeding of

MEAL AND HULLS

among our farmer friends, and as an inducement to this end we offer for a limited time only the following unprecedented bargains in

Exchanging Meal and Hulls for Cotton Seed

For One Thousand Pounds of Seed

We will give 1200 pounds of Hulls and 400 pounds of Meal

You have the seed, we have the hulls and meal. We want to buy your seed. We want to sell hulls and meal. You need meal and hulls, for though you have other feeds at home, meal and hulls at these prices, make better and cheaper feed than anything grown or made for any kind of farm stock.

For Feeding Horses and Mules

Fattening cattle, hogs or any kind of poultry.
One pound of Meal is worth--
3 pounds of corn--
2 pounds of oats--
4 pounds of wheat bran--

For Producing Milk and Butter

One pound of meal and hulls mixed one to four is worth--2 pounds of corn--
2 pounds of wheat bran--
2 pounds of cotton seed--
4 pounds of best hay--

You get about one thousand pounds of seed to every bale of cotton ginned. If you have used meal and hulls you know it is better feed than seed. It will make more milk, more butter, better milk and better butter, more flesh and more fat, and keep your cows or steers in better fix than cotton seed. If you have not used it, catch one bale of seed, bring it to us and take home on this basis: 1400 pounds of hulls and 400 pounds of meal, being 1800 pounds of mixed feed. Worth more pound for pound, in feeding value than cotton seed, corn or hay. Feed it to any stock on your place, and if you do not find it a better and cheaper feed, pound for pound, come and say so and we will pay for the seed. You may be the judge and there will be no "back talk."

LOVING

Talk about your shows, Loving has had them in all their various styles. Animals, circus performances, comedians, musicians and all the other branches of the trade. We've had four nights of them in succession, but everybody seemed to enjoy the last night as much as the first.

C. T. Story has just completed a well for Jim Hawkins at Lone Oak. We learn that he found a fine flow of water at a depth of two hundred and sixty-two feet.

A. B. Daniels recently of Graham has returned to Loving and is weighing cotton.

The Loving Hot Air Club meets regularly every Sunday at the G. T. & W. depot at 9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., respectively. Supposedly to welcome the going and coming of the passenger train.

P. L. Pittman, until recently in the employ of John E. Morrison Company store, has returned to Loving after a two weeks' sojourn in the cotton fields west of Olney. He will take charge of the Daniels dray for the winter.

Mr. Jewel and family of Arkansas have moved into the hotel near the depot known as the Story House, and are now serving the public with good meals and beds at reasonable prices.

Both gins are working from day-light until the long hours of the night. Cotton is turning out fine in this part of the county. What say you all, let's all wear cotton more so we can help bring the price to what it is worth.

We think the buy-a-bale system is the thing but we would have to buy one on the same system that Kid suggests, for this sign confronts us in every store we enter, "Don't Ask for Credit." It takes all we can muster up to keep our pantry from falling to staves.

Dr. Winstead is riding around in a new car. He will go to Jermyn on the first of November. Dr. Johnson will take his place here.

Ben Barrett and family moved to Vernon last week to make that place their home in future. Miss Lila Cunningham, a sister of Mrs. Barrett's, accompanied them.

Mr. Oliver lost a fine male last week. The cause of its death is undecided. Some say fever and others say anthrax. Hope it is not anthrax for we have been lucky enough so far not to have had it here.

Miss Vera Gatlin is visiting Miss Annie Beard for a few days.

Misses Mary and Florence Carmack of Graham visited Mrs. Lee Mayes Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Trimble of Erath county is picking cotton for Mr. Harten south of town.

Ed Harris of Wichita Falls was here on business last week. While here he paid a visit to his little daughter, Nellie, who makes her home with Mrs. C. T. Story. Little Nell has been quite sick but is some better at this writing.

Well, we must retire to dreamland so we can get to the cotton patch early in the morning—if it is not snowing.

Loving Heart.

I am glad to hear that anthrax is giving way.

I am about to starve myself to death waiting for the reunion.

Don't tell me that our little town is not growing, for we have two cotton yards now, T. J. Routh's and Andrew Gibbs'.

There was a sad accident in our community last Sunday when the team of Mr. Cardwell ran away. Mrs. Cardwell became frightened and jumped out of the wagon fracturing her skull from which she died in about forty minutes. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Jack o' Diamonds you are like the Kid, up against a hard one when you jump Red Wing. I know her and the Gray-eyed Girl like a book and you may as well go away back and sit down. Ed Jeffery was in Orth the 3rd looking for hands to help put up silage.

Charlie Duncan visited his sister, Mrs. Frank Rickles, Sunday.

Mrs. Bessie Smith and children, Mrs. Herron Newby, babies and sister, Miss Maggie Reed, of Fox Hollow were visitors at the Richardson home last Saturday and Sunday.

Corbett & Rickles have just about completed a splendid new dipping vat.

Here little Blondies is your pencil. I did not intend to keep it so long. Now don't you forget to use it next week.

Yes Plow Boy it is perfectly all right to spell Bible with a small "b" providing you use the first "b" a capital. Pat.

J. H. Fisher received the copy for the minutes of the Hog Creek and Trinity River Primitive Baptist Associations to publish. The Reporter office is doing the work. Those who need neat, good printing, done promptly, could not do better than to turn the work into the Reporter office.

The West Texas Reporter is growing in esteem among the country people. I think it deserves a good patronage.

J. H. Fisher returned from Pickwick and Lucille Monday. He reports a good meeting down there.

From what the daily papers say, the Germans are still holding their own against some three times their number. The Germans are not cowards. They are more advanced in learning than any nation on earth. The German universities are visited by thousands of students every year to complete their education. If they are defeated the world will be set back a hundred years in science and human advancement.

France is advanced some in human taste for style and fashion, but her fad is not as beneficial to the world as that of Germany.

England has no room to boast against the militarism of Germany. The Revolutionary war will furnish proof of this to Americans.

"The sixth angel poured out his phial on the great river Euphrates and the waters thereof were dried up, that the way of the Kings of the East might be prepared."—Rev. 16:12. So it is. The Kings of the East have been preparing for this great war ever since the sixth phial was poured out.

Say, German, what was it J. W. Green baled for J. W. Fisher? Not cotton of course. Well I hope not. If he had that much cotton he would be a ruined man, sure.

We welcome you German to our invincible band of Correspondents. I believe I know you, and I believe I know where Elmview is too. I think your rendezvous is on the most prominent corner in Elmview—at a place where two "ways" meet.

So you differ with me do you Beauty, concerning the city schools and education? Well, that's all right. I don't think any the less of you, as I presume you are honest in your disagreement. When I was a young chap "a sparkin' of the gals" I never did fancy a Miss who was always saying "yes sir" to all I said. No madam—sir, I liked the gal with will power and ideas of her own, provided they were based upon reason and common sense. As I said I do not think any less of you because you disagree with me, Beauty, but it would have raised my already high regards for you if you had given some reason for differing with me other than that you never did go to town to school a day in your life. If you have an education Beauty, you are one in ten thousand who was educated in a country school. It means something to be "educated" d'ye hyre me? You'll have to learn to spell like that and then you won't be "educated," my Beautiful friend.

I speak with reference to the ordinary rural school, for I am aware that there are some good schools outside of the cities and towns. For instance, There is, or used to be, I know, a good high school at Thorp Springs in Hood county. But good schools in the rural districts are by no means the general rule. Indeed the ordinary country school only serves to make good "hewers of wood and drawers of water." But, there could be good high schools in the country, and there should be. That's what I am hammering at. Let's go to work and build them. Let it be understood that I cherish no animosity toward the city and town people. I glory in their grit and determination to have good schools. I think, however, that our State school system is somewhat at fault. It should be more uniform. The free school money should be prorated according to the grade of school instead of so much to each scholastic. Then there would be sufficient money to maintain each school regardless of the number of scholastics would have no suspended schools. Such a law would also obviate much of the necessity of transferring pupils, which practice is worked in some localities to the detriment and sometimes ruin of once good schools.

Dreamy Eyes, I think your observations on the school question were excellent. Come again. Really Buster, I have read and re-read my former spiels which you refer to as being antagonistic to the merchant and I fail to find anything therein upon which you might justly base a row with me. I read your recent article dealing with the farmer and speculator with great interest and placed my seal of approval on it. I am aware of the fact that the ordinary retail merchant is as helplessly in the hands of the speculator as is the farmer. Guess you must have gotten your wires crossed friend Buster. Hope you will reconsider what I said. Plow Boy.

Reporter 52 weeks for $1.00.

PICKWICK

Preaching, did I hear some one say? Yes we have had preaching. Elder Moreland, Elder J. H. Fisher and Rev. Williams all have been preaching part of the time at Lucille and part of the time at Pickwick. The Primitive Baptists baptized Will Stevens and the Missionary Baptists baptized Miss Dora Layton today (Sunday.)

Wasn't the Reporter fine last week? I never got mine but Elder Fisher brought me one and I sure was glad to get it. Glad to have you with us again Silver Bell. Come on every week. We enjoy your letters very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Storm and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stevens and family and Miss Carrie Weldon all took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Henry and Uncle Dave Nicklas Sunday.

Jewel Nicklas and Miss Rena Camric attended singing at Mr. Dendy's of the County Line community Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Porter took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman Wester. Mrs. Daisy Nicklas called on Mrs. Edgar Perry Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Camric and family are picking cotton for A. S. Daves. Johnnie Dolittle, I thank you very much but I am afraid you would not be willing to let me take him and keep him would you? But listen, I won't take him from you if you will let alone.

John Worth Gann of this community visited his cousin Miss Ritchey, of the County Line community Sunday.

Pickwick is coming to the front. We had two autos in town at church today. One was John Doan's and the other was from Palo Pinto.

Mrs. T. F. Weldon called on the Mesdames Nixon Thursday afternoon.

Grandma Stevens spent the night with Mrs. T. F. Weldon Saturday night.

Mrs. Donnell has been real sick the past week but glad to say that she is able to go to church now.

That is all right Silver Bell if you are naturally plain spoken. I guess I can excuse you for one time if you will be right nice.

When you get ready to start to the reunion you will have to borrow old— You can get John to tell you his name and ride him. He won't throw you off.

Cotton picking is the order of the day down here.

Suppose all the Correspondents who pick cotton write and tell how much they pick each week and how many days it took them to pick it. I will start it so here goes. I picked 953 pounds in four days. Now come on all the rest of you and tell how much you have picked. I will quit and maybe the good editor won't leave out so much this time.

I forgot to tell you last week and liked to have forgotten it again this week. We have a few snakes down our way as well as has Dreamy Eyes. J. C. Weldon killed a big rattler the other evening that was five feet long and there have been several more killed, but that is the largest one that I know of.

Here Jack o' Diamonds is my pencil. Come on with some more good letters. Beauty.

FARMER

I don't believe I ever saw so many blue people as there are now. Not only around here, but everywhere I go.

Yes, Silver Bell I agree with you. The farming class of people are nothing more than slaves. It is worse on the farming class of people than it was on the negro in slavery time, for the owner would feed them and it is almost to the place now where the farmer can not get enough to eat.

Clarence Keen was thrown from his horse one day last week while running after a cow and was rendered unconscious for a while. I am glad to report that he was able to be at Sunday school Sunday.

O yes, Brunette, I sure do remember about the time you heard Pilot preach. It was in the year 1912 in the cotton patch and you were a mourner. I am glad that you have such pleasant dreams, but you know that all dreams are not true and in your dream you was mistaken, because you thought I was feminine instead of masculine. My sister does help me with my letters and I do not care who knows it. So you have not told anything that I care for at all.

Did you know that the Bible said "Follow peace with all men and holiness, without which, no man shall see the Lord." Heb. 12:14. And the Bible is so full of holiness that it says on the outside "Holy Bible." Let us be careful how we make light of holiness, because you know that the great day of the wrath of God will come and who shall be able to stand. The true in heart shall see God. The peace of God succeeds the whirlwind of battle that has agitated the soul. Carnality is weakness. Purity is power. The singing at A. C. Casey's was enjoyed by all present. Pilot.

MOUNTAIN HOME

Wasn't our paper just fine last week? Silver Bell's letter was in the paper.

Say Silver Bell, have you got well of the chills? I hope you were from what Dreamy Eyes said about you walking. I am glad you are getting gay in your old days. Now don't get mad.

Dreamy Eyes I was surprised to hear of the walk Mrs. Hughes took, but glad to hear she was able to go. I always heard where there was a will there was a way.

Oh, say, wasn't you afraid to write so much about "A Countrywoman." I enjoyed the answer that Plow Boy wrote. I did aim to brag on Plow Boy's letter but didn't get to mail my letter.

Everone is busy picking cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Owen returned home last Tuesday from Palo Pinto, and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan came with them. We are glad to welcome them back again. They report, the crops down there sorry. The worms ruined the cotton, but spoke of a fine crop of watermelons. That sounds good to me.

W. C. Bunegr and family visited Asbury Caudill and family Sunday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan, last Thursday, a girl. Mother and child doing fine.

Well, Gander I am glad you and the Goose have plenty to eat. Homeite.
