Makes Statement to Voters of Justice Pre. 1.

Brownfield, Texas August 5, 1938

To My Friends:

I am a Candidate for Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1 Terry County. I am qualified for the office. On April the 13, 1926, I went to work as caretaker of your beautiful little court house. Since that time, I have looked after, cared for and have been responsible for more dollars and cents value than any man in the county. Your court house having cost you $130,000. I have worked more days, and longer hours, than any man in the county. I am on the work on an average of 15 hours a day, seven days a week.

Four years ago last September, the Honorable Commissioners Court gave me a two weeks vacation. The only one I have ever asked for, or had, during the 12 years service. I have given my full time and done my best to keep your building in good repair, clean and sanitary. It will be impossible for me to make a personal visit to see each of you. As County Court begins Monday, August 1st, and runs three weeks and then District Court begins and runs four weeks and it will keep me very busy. I have no stones to throw at my opponent. He is my friend. I am before you now, asking you for your vote and support for this office. If you think I am entitled to an easier job, I will do my best to give you the service, you may expect of an officer. You will always find me on the job, ready to serve you, if you will honor me with your support on August the 27th, I will ever be grateful.

Yours sincerely,
—J. W. Oliver

Some of the Errors We Made Last Week

We left out two cards of thanks for candidates last week that should by all means have been in there. They were delivered to us in plenty time, and all the way we can figure that they disappeared was that they were accidentally blown off the news hook, or off the compositor's table after they were carried back to the machine.

Last week was a hot one, and all windows were raised as high as they would go, and once in awhile an extra heavy gust of wind would hit a pile of paper, and we have an idea that is the way these two announcements disappeared.

One of them was for F. M. Burnett, candidate for Justice of the Peace, and the other for G. W. Luker, candidate for Commissioner Precinct No. 1. As both were defeated candidates, it looked like we were trying to add insult to injury. But both men are personally good friends and have always been, and there would have been no occasion to pull a trick like that.

The other mistake was a statement in the writup of the sudden death of R. A. (Richard) Crews, in that it was asserted that he had a brother. His sister, Mrs. Thompson, from Reno, Nevada, was in this week and corrected that error.

We must have gotten some flour in our eyes last week.

Woodrow Chambliss Addresses Lions Club

Woodrow Chambliss, who has recently returned from England to visit his parents, addressed the local Lions Club at luncheon Wednesday. After the summer vacation, Woodrow returns to England for two more years of study in dramatics.

Mr. Chambliss gave the club a very interesting short picture of the situation across the pond, as his class has all nationalities, as well as visit different countries. He believes that all Europe is preparing for war, but a lot of bluffing as well.

The Lions Club is very proud of a flag trophy representing the seven foreign countries as well as the United States, that they won in the International membership drive in District 2-T. The local club was far ahead of any other club in the district.

Ready to Give Governor Elect a Chance.

Much was said and written before the election, and some of the lesser papers are accusing the big dailies of Texas of keeping up a campaign of fun and hurrah about Governor-Elect O'Daniel. But editorially, we have noted that the big dailies of Texas have been very fair and just, and are willing and ready to hands off and help if necessary Mr. O'Daniel make Texas a real, progressive governor.

Most of the very adverse comment that we have seen since the election, was comments from the big eastern, and some of the Pacific coast dailies, that would lead one to believe that Texas people had elected a hoodlum, a court jester, a comedian, playboy or what have you as governor. Some of these articles would lead one to believe that Texas people were so full up on politicians that they are ready to elect a crack brain in order to rid the state of a boss ridden condition.

Nothing could be further from the truth. O'Daniel was not the choice of the Herald, but he is now, as he is the choice of every good Democrat. While the governor-elect has his moments of fun with his hill-billy band to amuse the people, he can on the other hand be very serious and is said to be a very religious man. We know that no crack-brain could put over the sales, or made money for his employees and himself, unless he had some business ability.

Noting the action of the hundreds of county conventions over the state, in that they pledged themselves to stand by and for the platform of the incoming governor, shows the temper of the people as a whole to abide the will of a crushing majority. There was an exception in some of the more populous counties, with large cities, where the local bosses who have held sway for years, fought to keep from giving up their pie counters. But in each of these cases, a rump convention was held, favoring O'Daniel, and these delegates will likely be seated. Terry county sent an un-instructed delegate favoring O'Daniel.

Judge Louis B. Reed Wins 106th Judgeship

Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa was elected district judge of the 106th judicial district of Texas in last Saturday's primary election by an approximate 2,300 votes over his opponent, W. W. Price of Brownfield. Reed carried four out of the six counties in the district. They were Dawson, his home county, Lynn, Garza, and Gaines.

Judge Reed was named judge to succeed the late Judge Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa, to fill out his unexpired term. W. W. Price is a well known attorney of Terry county. He ran against Judge McGuire four years ago. Totals according to the last reports were: 7,524 for Reed and 5,226 for Price.

By counties, totals were:

County	Reed	Price
Dawson	2,759	877
Terry	874	1,639
Lynn	1,922	1,352
Garza	900	710
Gaines	831	384
Yoakum	238	264
Totals	7,524	5,226

County School Board To Meet Saturday

The County School Board of Terry county will meet in the Courthouse at Brownfield, Texas, Saturday, August 6th, for the purpose of classifying the common schools and to hear objections to transfers. If any district trustee knows of an objection to transfer from his school, he will be given a hearing at this time. —Lee Fulton, County Superintendent

County Goes Dry By Smashing Majority

With a vote almost three to one, Terry county voters decided Monday to "stay as is." There was not a wet box in the county, but all joined the procession with a string of dry votes that left no doubt in the minds of anyone, the sentiment of the people of Terry county. The dries polled exactly 1153 votes, and the wets 397, which was only 56 more than signed the petition calling the election.

This shows that lots of people will sign a petition for an election that do not vote in accordance with the petition. But this is according to our republican form of government. When you stop petitioning of people, or trial by jury, then we can begin to talk about a dictator government.

Beer was sold for some two years in Brownfield, but the Attorney General held that when a county was dry when the 18th amendment was adopted, there could be no wet spots in such county, unless the whole county voted wet since repeal.

The sale of beer was stopped in Brownfield by that ruling, and later a county-wide election called, when the people voted dry by a convincing majority. The election Monday was the first to be held since that time.

Seeks Full Term

Associate Justice Richard Critz elected to the supreme court after the tragic death of the late Judge W. B. Pierson, is asking election this year to his first full term on the high court bench.

Meeting Starts Wed. At Church of Christ

Charley Bankhead will do the preaching for the local Church of Christ to start Wednesday night to run over the third Sunday. Bro. Bankhead has a fine reputation as an evangelist, and the church has done well to secure his services.

For some time past the church has been preparing for this meeting by talking it as well as "laying in store," so there will be no collections when he comes. All are cordially invited to come out and hear him. The meeting at Gomez closed Sunday night with five baptisms, and much good done otherwise.

Plan Fun for 160,000 Children

The thousands of school children attending the glamorous Castle of Foods at the Golden Jubilee celebration of the State Fair of Texas in Dallas during the month of October will have a grand good time as well as unusual educational facilities. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, believes that the exhibits, programs, and special entertainment given for children and grown-ups in the Castle of Foods will be of such striking educational value that they will be sufficient cause for sending 160,000 Texas school children to the Fair. In the picture Mr. Woods (right) is conferring in his office at Austin with Granville W. Moore (center), chairman of the Food Industries Committee, who will present the Castle, and Rex V. Lentz (left), managing director, both of Dallas, on the subject of clowns, performing animals, souvenirs, and the like for children who visit the Castle.

O'Donnell Editor Pays Off An Election Bet.

O'DONNELL, July 29. — W. G. Forgy, editor of the O'Donnell Press, lost an election bet last Saturday when a flour broker from Fort Worth won the Democratic nomination for governor without the necessity of a runoff.

Forgy paid off his bet today for all O'Donnell to see—right on the front page.

Instead of carrying the usual front page masthead, this week's issue of the O'Donnell Press is the "O'Daniel Press."

Forgy, who supported the candidacy of Ernest O. Thompson, says "I can take it."

And "O'Donnell's O'Daniels" agree.

Rev. and Mrs. E. V. May were here visiting friends and calling on all they could, the past week end. He was former Baptist pastor here, was accompanied by their youngest daughter, who was born here. The oldest boy is in summer school at Howard-Payne, Brownwood, and the youngest in San Marcus Academy.

Yes We Had Some Grasshoppers.—Smith

some time ago that he had some grasshoppers that were calculated to get "rank" out on his farm. We had passed his home place two or three times on the highway, and about ten days ago, drove around the other side via neighborhood road, and narry a grasshopper did we see. So we were loaded for Jess when we saw him Monday.

We put the proposition up to him, and expected him to renig, but no sir, says he, they were not on the home place, but on a lease near Rich lake that is surrounded by pasture lands. But he says they are not bothering now—starved out he guessed.

So, that was just another instance in which we got the wrong sow by the ear.

ATTEND REUNION

G. G. Gore, Lence Price, and Sheriff Ches Gore and daughter, Miss Doris Lee, went to Memphis last week to attend the old settlers reunion. Both Mr. Gore and Lence worked on the old Shoe Bar ranch in Hall county back 30 years ago. They report a fine time.

Body of Lynn Co. Man Found, Suicide

TAHOKA, July 29. — Verdict of suicide was rendered this afternoon in the death of Milam Montgomery, 34-year old farmer found with his throat cut in a sudan field on his farm near Tahoka, said Coroner W. L. Henderson, O'Donnell justice of peace.

Body of Montgomery was found about 7 o'clock Friday morning. A relative had found a razor missing from its customary place and had later discovered Montgomery missing from his room.

CARD OF THANKS

We can't express the feeling we have for those who have proven themselves our true friends. We don't know the names of all who helped so generously, but we wish to thank every one for the flowers that were so lovely, and for all other kindnesses shown us. ## We Watched the Boys Churn Last Week

"When a boy we used to dwell in a home we loved so well, on a farm down in sunny Tennessee." Well, that pretty near expresses the condition of the life of the writer, but there was especially one chore that we abhorred, and that was churning, but some one had to churn and if all the rest were busy, and we didn't have time to slip down in the creek bottom with a gun before being discovered, the churn business was allotted to our tender mercies.

Sometimes the milk had not "turned" and we would have to add hot water. Sometimes the butter just would not "gather" and other and sundry means had to be employed. So much for home churning.

We saw them at it down at Bandy's Produce Friday, but they will never have blisters in their hands doing the job of running the dasher. They let Mr. Killowat do the work.

But these boys, Mack and his helper, who make Mc's Pride Creamery Butter, sure get a hustle on themselves when they get ready to churn. First some fifteen or twenty cans of cream are put in a revolving vat where it is heated to a high degree and pasturized. From this vat, it is put into another still larger one, where it is cooled down with ice, and churned.

This butter, for local trade in the grocery stores is put up in quarter, half and full pound packages. Where it is shipped out, a lot of it is put in 60 pound blocks, where the dealer slices, packs and brands his own butter. This butter is bound to be pure, after pasteurizing, as it is then packed in oiler paper and cartons, and is not easily contaminated after leaving the factory.

Mr. Bandy has well nigh a net work of cold storages in the three buildings he now has, as well as huge cellars under ground. These storage places are petitioned, as fruits, vegetables, and meats do not all stand the same degree of temperature, and each place is temperatured to meet the needs of the produce in that section. It is worth one's time to visit this place.

Public Schools Will Get $22.00 In State Aid

AUSTIN, July 29.—The board of education voted to day to give the public schools the same per capita state aid for the year starting September 1, that they are receiving this year, $22 per scholastic or a total of around $24,386,000.

Six of the nine members of the board concluded it would be unwise to boost the allotment in the face of the automatic tax board's decision yesterday that the tax board could not raise the state property tax for school purposes.

Vote Divided 6 To 3

The vote for the $22 allotment in preference to one of $22.55 was 6 to 3. Those supporting the higher figure were Chairman R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, John Laird of Lufkin and Ben F. Tisinger of Dallas.

Comptroller George H. Sheppard calculated revenues next year would pay only $21.40. If his estimate should prove correct, the remaining 60 cents would be disbursed early in the following year.

Sheppard asserted, however, that an intensive delinquent tax collection campaign would raise more than enough money to pay $22.

School In Great Need

School men had hoped before the automatic tax board acted that the per capita allotment could be raised to around $24. They said schools were in great need of additional state aid.

There was an echo from the recent gubernatorial campaign as Bowers vainly argued for a higher apportionment.

"If the legislature pays every old person a $30 pension," he said, "they will pass a sales tax and the school fund will receive one-fourth of that."

W. Lee O'Daniel, Democratic nominee for governor, is pledged to work for a $30 pension for persons over 65 years old who meet constitutional qualifications.

An Italy, Texas editor boast out loud that he was nominated over an opponent for Justice of the Peace, having received practically all the votes cast, without spending a penny, and that friends put up his $8.00 filing fee. We think the Italy editor is setting a bad precedent. If all candidates showed such a miserly disposition on campaign years, where would the country editors be?

Kenneth Collins, advertising expert, gave some wholesome advice to the nation last week, when he said that business should have faith in the country's future, and should start advertising now, "to build tomorrow's sales," as well as a reputation for the future. He asked business men not to be like the characters in the childhood story books, such as the "Sleeping Beauty" waiting for Prince Charming to come and plant a prosperity kiss on her cheek. Business can go forward if it wishes; it can hold back by the same power.

The joint report of the U. S. Geological Survey and the Texas Board of Water Engineers has been received. In this report, the joint committee says that the underground water supply of the South Plains is its greatest asset, not even excluding our underground mineral resources. But they say we must conserve them. Indeed, the report says that the underground water supplies of central and south Texas are already scarce, and will become acute if proper steps are not taken to conserve the water supply. Just how they propose to do this is another matter. In California, snow water from the mountains is allowed to run out in the desert via ditches, and sink into the soil, in this way, they keep up their water level in wells.

A dispute has arisen that may have a setting in an investigation in Congress ament the recent floods along the Colorado, and especially below the Buchanan dam. It is reported that farmers are unmercifully criticizing the Colorado River Authority for the washing away of their crops, and in many instances, their houses and livestock. They say that the water stored behind the dam should have been released before the floods from the upper reaches and tributaries reached the dam; that the Authority was holding water to sell to power companies. The CRA replied that even if the headway of water had been released, the floods coming down from the vicinity of Lano, Brady and San Saba, were unprecedented in volume, and there would have been a flood anyway. They invite an investigation by unbiased engineers.

Speaking of safety measures, and death from automobile accidents, we hear a lot about drunken drivers, which lead a lot of us to think they are responsible for a large share of them. And they are responsible for entirely too many accidents. But statistics glare us in the face, and we know that these statistics are gathered by experts on highway and street traffic, whose duty is to get the truth of the matter. These statistics show that the lowly pedestrian, the walker, if you please, is responsible for more than 15,000 of the 39,500 deaths in 1937, or way on toward half. They go on to show that 67 per cent of these accidents was caused by the pedestrian utterly disregarding traffic laws, or acting in an unsafe manner. Here is some of the causes described by the Safety Council: Jay-walking, failure to observe traffic lights, drunken walking, walking

In politics it seems that "hill billy" band music gets the job done. In 1930 when the late Huey Long went down into Arkansas to help Hattie Caraway in her race for the Senate he got together a hill billy band and sound truck, and Mrs. Caraway was elected. Yes, siree, hill billy music gets 'em out to the polls. No doubt Ringling Bros. circus will be in demand next presidential campaign year, however when Lee O'Daniel went on the air with his hill billy music campaign this circus folded up and went into winter quarters. Yes, siree, there is power in themar banjoes and fiddles. Nero fiddled while Rome' burned, and O'Daniel "fiddled along" while the others "also ran." -Lockney Beacon.

BATCHES OF WHITE LIES

Newspaper reporters when starting out must learn that: Brides are always beautiful, charming and talented. Grooms are progressive, prosperous, and highly respected. Candidates are honest efficient and will save the taxpayers money. The deceased is loved, mourned and greatly missed. Refreshments are dainty, delicious and lovely. The musical was divine. The banquet speaker was entertaining, instructive and a second only to Josh Lee or something. That the Moses of the community generally moocher is a "leading citizen, giving freely of his time and means for the betterment of his people." That the editor should be shot, run out of town or put in jail. That, when necessary, shotgun weddings were nothing more than secret marriages. That the reporter must be deaf, dumb, and blind when the interests of the influential are in jeopardy. And finally that white lies are great lies, especally to those who profit thereby.—Temple of Truth, in Donley County Leader.

"Jawn" Price got all worked up last week because Hockley county proposed to spend $70,000 for a new jail to keep their hobos up in the style they were used to. But Jawn made an error as usual, in that he said that amount equaled what the government was paying for P. O. office buildings at Littlefield and Brownfield. True in regards to Littlefield, but the Brownfield building is to cost $5,000 more, or $75,000.—Brownfield Herald. We give 'em a lot Andy, you fellows ought to get patriotic, too for five thousand bucks worth.—County Wide News, Littlefield.

Yep, it's all right to give sites if property is not worth much anyway. Come over some time "Jawn." -Lockney Beacon.

Rogers, Annie Bell Counts and her husband G. A. Counts, and Elizabeth Brownfield, Martha Brownfield, Jane Brownfield, and A. D. Brownfield Jr., children of A. D. Brownfield Sr., and their deceased mother Mattie H. Brownfield, Defendants, and said petition alleging:

No. 2250 THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY, IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, AUGUST TERM A. D. 1938. TO THE HONORABLE DISTRICT COURT OF SAID COUNTY:

1. Now comes S. E. Roberts, who resides in Randall County, Texas hereinafter called plaintiff, complaining of Mrs. May W. Sharp, a widow who resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Sallie W. Panneck joined by her husband S. W. Panneck, who resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Orell Gambrell and her husband James H. Gambrell, who resides in El Paso, Texas, W. E. Harris who resides in Carrizozo, State of New Mexico, Jeffie Ray Rowe and her husband John A. Rowe, who reside in Los Angeles, California; Estell Harris Rogers and her husband G. L. Rogers of Albuquerque, State of New Mexico; Annie Bell Counts and her husband G. A. Counts who reside in West Point, New York; and Elizabeth Brownfield, Martha Brownfield, Jane Brownfield and A. D. Brownfield Jr. children of A. D. Brownfield, Sr. and their deceased mother Mattie H. Brownfield, who resides in Florida, State of New Mexico, that said defendants are all the children and children of deceased children of W. R. Harris and M. J. Harris, now deceased, hereinafter styled defendants; and for cause of faction, plaintiff represents to the court that on or about the 1st day of January 1938, he was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises situated in Terry County, State of Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple to-wit: All of the South One-half of Section Number Sixteen (16) in Block T. Located by virtue of Certificate Number Eight (8) issued to the D. & W. Ry. Company original grantee containing 320 acres of land.

Beginning at a stake the N. E. Corner of Survey No. 1 Block M for the Southeast corner of this tract. Thence West 1900.8 Vrs. to stake the Southwest corner of this tract. Thence North 950.4 Vrs. to a stake for the N. W. Corner of this tract. Thence East 1900.8 Vrs. to a stake for the N. E. Corner of this tract. Thence South 950.4 Vrs. to a stake for the S. E. Corner of this tract and the place of beginning. 2. That on or about the 1st day of January A. D. 1938 defendants entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withholds from him possession thereof. 3. And for further cause of action plaintiff will show to the court that on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the land and premises described above belonged to the community estate of W. R. Harris and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that on the 11th day of May A. D. 1909 the said W. R. Harris was appointed Community Administrator or survivor of the Community estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that he duly qualified by taking the oath of office and giving bond as required by law on said date. That on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909, believing that he was the sole owner of the said land above described tract of land he said W. R. Harris executed a Warranty Deed, as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield, that on that date the said W. R. Harris was the legal Community Administrator of said estate. That he erroneously executed said deed as an individual instead of as Community Administrator of the Community Estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris; That since the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the said M. V. Brownfield and his assigns has been in peaceable possession of said land and premises and have paid all taxes on said land assessed. On account of the error in the execution of the deed by W. R. Harris to M. V. Brownfield a cloud has been cast upon the title to said land.

Wherefore plaintiff prays Judgment of the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that plaintiff have judgment for title and possession of said above described land and premises, that the Deed of W. R. Harris as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield be declared to be the act of W. R. Harris as Community Administrator of the estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, and for such other and further relief special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to. C. B. Flesher, Attorney for Plaintiff S. E. Roberts.

Be Sure to Plan to See Our Own Texas First

Lynn May Lead in Cotton, Jennings Says

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Sixteen South Plains counties on top of the Caprock, should produce 423,000 bales of cotton this year, based on the condition of the crop as of July 27, in the opinion of V. O. Jennings, veteran spot cotton broker here. Jennings made his estimate after an exhaustive study of crop conditions.

Lynn county will lead the Plains, he estimates, with a probable production of 80,000 bales; Lubbock is placed second with 55,000 bales; Crosby third with 52,000 bales; Dawson and Lamb tied for fourth with 45,000 bales and Hockley next with 42,000 bales.

Crosby Has Chances to Lead
In commenting on his estimate, Jennings said:

"Crosby has a good chance to lead with production per acre, with Lynn, and Dawson following near.

"Lubbock, Lamb and Hockley counties are in fair to good condition, with Terry poor, as compared with its allotment of nearly 90,000 acres being cut to around one-third actual plantings, or nearly one-third of the allotment.

"This estimate is calculated with killing frost from November 4, to November 10; if earlier, the frost will reduce chances and if it comes after this date, chances will be increased.

Crops Are Late
"Crops are from at least 10 days to a month late, with an average of three weeks late."

Records of the state experiment sub-station at Lubbock show average killing frost date at Nov. 3.

Jennings for many years has made an estimate of the probable yield for his former connections. He is one of the best posted men in this section, in the trade, on acreages and yields.

Checked and Rechecked
In making this estimate Jennings checked and rechecked with farmers, ginners and others, as well as county agents. He held up issuing his estimate in order to make another complete check of the situation.

Besides the South Plains counties listed, a 6,000-bale estimate is given for "other counties," to include Swisher and Yoakum.

Following are the estimates, with last year's final ginning report:

County	1932	1933
County	Estimate	Crop
Bailey	15,000	37,310
Briscoe	8,000	11,374
Castro	4,000	6,052
Cochran	6,000	19,386
Crosby	52,000	88,189
Dawson	45,000	110,787
Floyd	18,000	32,705
Gaines	6,000	9,866
Garza	22,000	32,713
Hershel	31,000	49,522
Hockley	42,000	80,448
Lamb	45,000	99,651
Lubbock	55,000	162,448
Lynn	60,000	152,651
Farmer	2,000	10,197
Terry	12,000	55,751
Others	6,000
Total	423,000	959,125

Application for a lump-sum payment under the old-age insurance program may be made by a close relative of a deceased worker, if he worked after 1936 in a covered employment. Claims should be filed with the Social Security Board, 1012 Oliver-Eagle Building, Amarillo, Texas.

Some Cafes Raided By Highway Patrolmen

Brownfield was greeted Tuesday on the heels of the beer election by several highway patrolmen, who with local officers, visited some half dozen places where beer was alleged to have been sold, and found some in two of three places, and none in others. Two places were raided last week.

This was probably a direct result of a rather hot campaign, in which much was printed bearing on bootleggers in Brownfield. The Herald hopes whatever of bitterness that has engendered in this campaign between business interests, will soon die out. There is no use to keep up an agitation after an issue is fairly settled at the poles.

Let's all pull together to make Brownfield a good town, a good place in which to live, alive, wide-awake place.

Going to have another amateur box over at the Auditorium this week. The other one proved to be a very fine drawing card.

L. F. Hudgens, of Lubbock, was down Saturday visiting his son and daughter, Clarence Hudgens and Mrs. Kyle Graves. He called on the Herald to renew for it as well as renew old times together. He is getting along mighty well following a very serious operation.

We are very sorry to report that Hershel Timmons of Meadow, whom we reported last week as having an operation week before last, has had a basket, pneumonia, followed by some hemorrhages. His family as well as his brothers, Hope of Lubbock; W. H. of Ropes; and Wilburn and John A. of west Lynn county, are staying close by his bedside. He is thought to be some better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Blankenship of Lubbock, were down Sunday to see their old friend, R. H. Timmons, confined to his bed in the local hospital.

We understand that Will Snodgrass, old Terryle, now of western New Mexico, stopped briefly with his brother, Hugh in Yoakum county, one day last week, and went on to the Snodgrass ranch in Borden county. He will be back through we understand, and visit old timers.

Mr. Fred Seale was in Lubbock, Monday on business.

Miss Elray Lewis has been visiting in Plainview.

Mr. J. D. McCollough was called to his daughter's bed side in Wichita Falls, Texas, Monday.

Mrs. Oscar Adams of Stephenville has returned to her home after a visit with relatives here.

Miss Irene Adams visited in Lubbock last week.

Mrs. Utah Eicke and baby are spending two weeks in Oklahoma with her brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nelson left for Ruidoso Wednesday for recreation and rest of ten days.

Mr. Denins Lilly and wife and daughter were in New Mexico, Sunday.

Dean Headstream of Colorado spent Saturday visiting his cousin, Mrs. Opal Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benton went to the Big Bend country Sunday and will stay a week or ten days.

Mrs. Virgil Bynum of Kerrville is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. E. Brown, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Stinson.

No, Elijah's God Isn't Dead, Nor Will He Die.

So far as this paper is concerned, this will be the last article in debate with Editor Hill of the Lynn County News, who has softened up some since the discussion started, until our ideas are not so far different after all. To begin this article, we are going to lay down a premise that God at no time has ever done for man what man can do himself.

After the crossing of the River Jordan, the children of Israel were no longer fed by miracle. Elijah banished into a wilderness without food, was fed by raven, but when times changed, and rain came, he was fed as other men, "by the sweat of their brow." Remember that such in the days of miracles; no such things happen today. We admit that Bro. Cowper's poem sounded good, but poets are allowed quite a variation, never taken literally, Bro. Hill.

We no more believe that God is riding around these days seeking whom he may devour, than we are. We would hate to accuse God of riding in the front seat beside your friend, who ran over you, telling him to "get Old Hill." We are persuaded you do not believe it. We just can't fashion that kind of a God that loves everyone, and even sent his Son to redeem the rankest sinners, by paying the price of death on the cruel cross.

Just why there is more rain some years here than in others, the weather men are disagreed, but over a ten years average, it remains practically the same, but in no instance as much as the average in the Mississippi valley. These same men tell us to that the safest place during a thunder storm is inside a flat building or even a cellar, and to stay away from trees, or in a doorway where there is a draft.

You are right, Mr. Hill, we don't think the works of God are any tinkertoys, requiring constant attention to function properly. According to Holy Write, he finished his work in six days, pronounced it good, and rested on the seventh day. State Press in the Dallas News says there are no fixed principles, but he is often wrong. There has been very little variation in weather since time has been recorded.

As to praying over the sick, we have just this to say. During the miraculous times of the Apostles, not only the sick were healed, but the dead raised, and they (the Apostles) were empowered to drink deadly poison without harmful results. But Paul himself stated that miracles would pass and did pass with churches established, officers instructed, and most of the New Testament written. If not, why did not Paul heal Timothy instead of urging a remedy? At that time, too, Peter, we believe, wrote to some Christians to pray and rub with oil. We believe it is proper thing to do now, that is, pray for the sick and afflicted, but use the remedies we know to be good for such diseases, just as you used the skill of the best surgeon you thought of, when you were hurt. A Prayer for daily bread without some work would get us nowhere. A mixture of both is alright.

If our wishes in the matter were all fulfilled, there would be no sickness, no sorrow or death in the world. We could even fill our pantry shelves if they could be filled by offering a prayer, instead of appealing to the relief station. Don't misunderstand us, personally we believe that God intends his followers to do most of their praying for spiritual blessings, and for the growth and progress of his churches on earth. And as an after thought, thank him for the rain, the sunshine, and even friends, for he has already bestowed those blessings. We are also taught to pray for the powers that be—not "cuss" them, that they may rule us wisely, and that we might be allowed to worship God as it is written in His word, not as our conscience dictates, as we often hear, for our conscience can deceive us.

Paul stated that his conscience was wrong when he persecuted Christians, so let's not rely on that too much. Yes, sir, Bro. Hill, these great bodies that God perfected and flung into space, may perseue their interrupted course for thousands of years yet, just as on that morning when the new sun shone for the first time on the baby earth, way back yonder, we know not when. ### COWBOY WEDDING PERFORMED IN TRUE WESTERN STYLE

By Jack Potter

On the morning of July fourth, about four o'clock, I was suddenly awakened and asked to dress hurriedly and participate in a pursuing party hunting for an eloping couple, that had made a fast take off, well mounted from the court house.

In the pursuing party were Mr. and Mrs. Pettis, John Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Kurtz, Edna Laudet, J. O. Brock, Farris Stevenson, Raymond and Stewart Pettis and the old scout Darden Grimes, who had taken the lead, riding one of his fine mounts.

I commenced asking questions and I found out that they had chased this eloping couple off the cap-rocks of Apache Canyon on the south side, and that they were wondering around in the bad lands. My advice was to put a man at the narrow and only trail leading out over the rim to the table lands. I was asked to mount one of the relay horses stationed around and to be on alert look out and should they make their appearance out in the open for me to lasso them. Sure enough while I was mounted and hiding behind a boulder, the eloping couple who by this time had found out that they were being pursued and had made a break for the mesa on the west.

As they passed me, I lassoed them and just as the sun came up over the Mesa, I lead them down to the Scout Cabin and asked them to explain. They told me that they were both products of the western plains and that they had agreed to travel down life's journey together and that they were bound to get some romance and adventure out of it. They then produced a marriage license which read that Steve Brock and Helen Pettis were authorized to join in marriage. They informed me that I had captured and lassoed them and that I could finish the job by applying the letter "M" brand, which stands for matrimony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz of the pursuing party came prepared for a long hunt, so a fire was built on the prairie and the event was celebrated with a fine wedding breakfast prepared western range style. Fried potatoes and onions, eggs and black coffee was enjoyed immensely by all.

This fine western young couple has our best wishes for a long prosperous and happy married life.—Union County Leader, Clayton, N. M.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock of the Union community.

He was practically reared in Terry county and received all of his education here. His many friends extend congratulations.

LOST IN THE MALPAIS

Tuesday, July 19, 1938. Three women tourist, one from Louisville, Ky., one from New York City, sisters, and a French girl visiting this country, left Albuquerque, N. M. to visit this region, the objective being El Morro National Monument. Arriving at Grants, N. M., they were told to visit the Ice Caves which was near the road to El Morro. Arriving opposite the Cave they parked their car about ten o'clock a. m., and began the march across the Malpais beds in the direction indicated by placards on the trees; as it is impossible to reach the caves with any sort of vehicle. About twelve o'clock, Mr. W. E. Martin, who owns a section of land near the Ice Caves stopped near the parked car. He was with two little girls, but saw no one.

The following day, Wednesday, he came to my place. He is a half brother of the writer. He spent the night at Leslie Moorheads, and Thursday he returned to his place. On passing the Ice Caves, the same car was still parked. He felt that all was not right and went to the Pilot Light and reported it. A Forest Ranger came to the parked car and had Mr. Martin guard it all of Thursday night. The Ranger called the Chief of the State Patrol, which proved a very foolish thing to do as the delay diminished the chances of finding the women alive. When the Chief arrived, he cautioned Mr. Martin about giving any alarm as there may have been four play. Friday came and still nothing in the way of a search was begun. Saturday morning at an early hour Mr. Martin drove to my cabin and requested the help of the boys. All three went and are very well acquainted with this Malpais region, especially Jake Moorhead, who knew it perhaps better than any other man there. There are very few in the entire country that would venture without a guide into this Malpais.

On arriving at the Ice Caves, the Patrol Chief, Governor Tingley of New Mexico, the Forest Rangers, and some seventy CCC boys and numbers from San Rafael and Grants, New Mexico. From our side of the mountain Leslie, Thaddeus and Jake Moorhead, Mr. Martin and Jim Bob, as a mascot.

After some parleying as to the proper course to take, it was decided to go south from the Ice Caves. After going about half a mile they began to find evidences that the women had gone that way, a bit of paper, branches of Pinon trees, a rock turned over and bits of cotton. Further along a shoe heel, ashes where they had built a fire. Some two miles south of the Ice Caves, a Mexican boy of the party saw Miss Pardieu, the French girl, standing on a Malpais hill. The sisters were unable to walk. Their clothing were in shreds. The French girl, who had gone to the Ice Caves, had worn shorts, and of course, they had found them much shorter. However, she was game to the core, and refused to be carried out and walked to the waiting cars. The sisters were carried out on improvised litters. They had gone four and one half days and nights without food or drinks. They spent three days and nights a short distance from the Ice Caves, hoping that someone would come along and discover them. Their stay at one place was the best thing that they did. If they had begun their walk immediately over the Malpais, they would have exhausted themselves and hastened the end, or perhaps perished in some hole in the Malpais.

The women reached the Cave, but mistook it for just a large hole in the Malpais, they continued their walk beyond the Cave and were lost. Just why this place should be called a National Monument and advertised as such is indeed not clear to me. I first visited the Ice Caves in November, 1931, and wrote to the Herald. At that time the trail was well marked. From the top of the Malpais you could see the icecaves hanging from the front projection over the entrance. A ladder was in position to facilitate descent. Not so now; the front is caved in, filling much of the space in front of the entrance, no ice in sight, the ladder has been destroyed, nothing to indicate that it is not just another hole in a wilderness of Malpais.

The distance from the highway indicated on the placards that some three hundred yards would likely stop one unfamiliar with the location. The miserable place should be closed to the public. There is nothing there to see. Ice Caves are not much of a show in the Malpais. They can be seen in places easy of access.

I was at the Cave, Sunday, next day after finding the women. There was a picnic there. A man entered, or rather crawled without a light and went some thirty feet back, stepped into a hole and fell thirty feet. He was carried up and out, with great difficulty and thence to the hospital. Had he fallen on the other side, he would have never been found.

This Cave is not a National Monument as advertised. It is on privately owned land. The destruction of the ladder and defacing signs and placards has been charged to sheepherders, but who knows how a shelf of rock at the entrance came to be fallen? If the state is back of the advertising it should be held responsible for the condition found about this place. Those women should be given damages for the mis-statements made and published, inviting tourists to visit this natural object of interest, when they know the dangers to be met in this region of Malpais, where even its own citizens will not enter without a guide that knows the region.

It has been asserted that more than twice the population of this state tour this country every year. The state cannot be surpassed in natural objects of interest. Add to this its interesting population of Indians and its romantic history. The newspapers asserted that the Governor was on hand directing the search. The Governor did not join the searchers. The blundering in not commencing the search when notified is almost criminal. They could have been found on Friday if the search had been begun. There were no evidences of foul play, the parked car was locked and no evidence that the parked car had been interfered with. The women suffered much that could have been avoided by prompt action. The State Patrol could have begun his investigation and the search went on without him. I do not question his honesty of purpose.

—Aesculapias, Dr. J. D. Moorhead.

This is A Leisure Time For Planning Ahead

At this season, between final cultivation and fall harvest, there is more leisure for both leisure and profit than for several months to come. It is a mighty good time to visit around and see what other farmers are doing, to gather ideas and useful information, to digest it and adapt it to use at home, to make plans for next year's operations. If planning is delayed until after the rush of fall harvesting it is too late to get ready for some of the things one may want to do next year.

Nobody can convince E. C. Davis, tenant farmer of Conway county, Arkansas, that it doesn't pay to plan far ahead and set down the steps necessary to reach certain goals. Sitting down with his county and home agent and the farm management specialist Mr. and Mrs. Davis worked out a plan which called for 16 definite things to be done within the year, in order to improve their living conditions and provide a more dependable income. They set their goals pretty high; it scarcely looked possible to carry out every point in the plan. But they found planning each step far ahead helped get the job done at the proper time, and they fulfilled the entire 16 parts of the plan the first year. Now they can raise their goals.

It would have been too late to "plant two acres of grain for chickens" if the Davis family had waited until after Christmas to plan the year's work; or to "sow 30 acres of cotton land in vetch to be plowed under next spring." These are only two items of the 16, but serve to illustrate why forehandness in planning is essential to good farming practices.

Every farm family and its farm is a different problem. Some families are satisfied with less than others, some want one thing, some another, and the problem is to make the farm give the family what it wants. Vague hoping for a luck break with big yields and high prices doesn't usually bring results. Weather or something else beyond control may defeat the best of plans, but working without a definite plan is responsible for more defeats than weather.

Do we want a fall garden, a good table and full pantry next winter? It's time to get the ground ready and buy the seed. Do we need winter grazing for livestock and poultry? It's time to decide where it is going to be and get ready for sowing on the fall rains. Do we want the best prices for Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys? The grain for fattening must be in the bin several weeks before marketing time. Does the land need a winter cover? Seed can usually be bought more cheaply ahead of planting season than when everybody wants them.

Nearly all farm families plan ahead to some extent, but too few take the time and trouble to work out their needs and the plans to meet them in definite form. Merely doing this and getting them down on paper is no job for a half-hour's casual conversation. It takes time to discuss, adjust, and work out the details, and there is no better time than the few weeks just about now. The first plan will usually be revised several times by study and discussion, and it is therefore a good idea to lay it aside for a few days while everybody thinks it over. Then bring it out and work it over at intervals until all its weaknesses are ruled-out.

A great deal of help can be had from county agents, home demonstration agents, farm management specialists in extension service, and vocational teachers who are technically trained in the many matters that enter into a complete home and farm management plan. Call on them, get bulletins and study them, and go at the job as carefully and thoroughly as a manufacturer plans the construction and operation of his plant. This takes time and we can't start too soon the time spent in planning is worth more than any other equal time.

South Plains Cotton Acreage Estimate

Statistics showing the approximate number of acres of cotton in actual cultivation in eighteen South Plains counties have been compiled by K. N. Clapp of Lubbock for Anderson, Clayton & Co., the total being 1,129,150.

These figures are based on allocations made to the various counties aggregating 1,245,138 acres. Of this amount about 148,000 acres have been abandoned but about 32,000 acres of sod must be added, making the total approximately as above given.

The acreage in these eighteen counties last year is estimated at 1,600,000 to 1,800,000 acres. The decrease from last year therefore is very considerable.

Clapp's figures for the various counties for this year are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: County Name and Acreage. Includes Lubbock (165,000), Lynn (144,000), Hockley (123,500), Lamb (122,500), Dawson (105,000), Crosby (100,000), Terry (58,000), Floyd (44,000), Bailey (46,000), Garza (33,000), Cochran (30,000), Brisco (23,000), Parmer (17,000), Gaines (10,000), Swisher (9,000), Castro (9,000), Yoakum (6,500).

Cherry Queen Picks Cherries for College Education

Miss Josephine LaFranier, 18, this year's Queen at the Cherry Festival in Traverse City, center of the great Michigan cherry growing region, had a special interest in this year's picking. Her father, owner of one of the largest orchards in the region, gave her the deed to this season's crop to defray her college expenses. After reigning over her "court" at the Festival in queenly style, she donned overalls, drove her new Chevrolet back through the thousands of cherry trees and started to help harvest many tons of cherries.

READY FOR RUN-OFF

G. A. Jerry Sadler, 30, Longview, is the youngest candidate for State office and is opposing the oldest, Sadler fought through a field of veteran campaigners to run a close second to C. V. Terrell, incumbent in the Railroad Commission, who has been in public office in Texas for more than half a century. Sadler's slogan is "Put Sadler in the Saddle," and he is shown here with one foot in the stirrup. Sadler promised a continuation of his same fast and furious campaign methods that enabled him to win a run-off place.

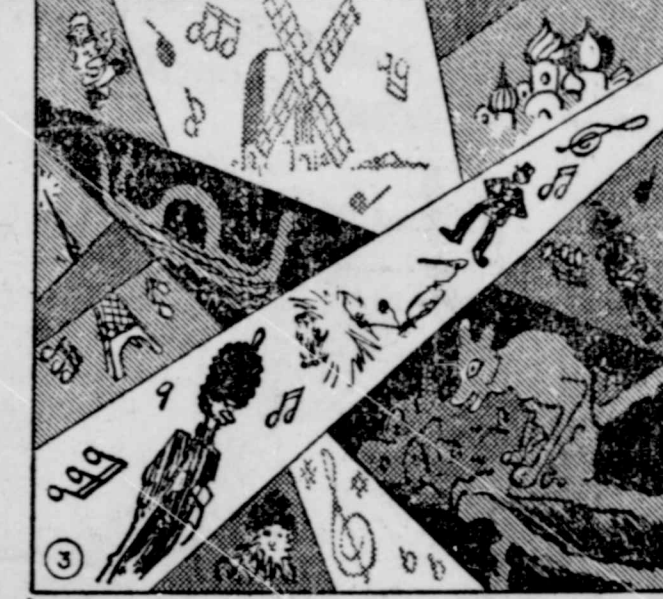

BIRTH OF A SONG

At the age of four Mana-Zucca clambered gracefully on to a piano stool, and gave her first public performance.

At eight she played a Beethoven Concerto with the New York Symphony Orchestra under Walter Damrosch.

At thirteen, Mana-Zucca commenced a world-wide, intensive tour of the centers of musical culture.

In seven years she gave many performances and gathered much musical background. "I Love Life" is the expression of her acquired philosophy.

Franz Lehar liked Mana-Zucca's voice, and persuaded her to try operetta. But after a successful trial, she found it was not "serious" enough.

Mana-Zucca settled in Miami with her husband, Irwin M. Cassel, and their young son, Marwin Shepard.

A tireless worker, success did not put a stop to Mana-Zucca's efforts, and her pile of manuscripts kept growing.

She is one of the most prolific women composers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, with over five hundred compositions to her credit.

You can be sure that the preacher is aiming at somebody, trying to help his people make right decisions and live better lives, to bring to them encouragement by emphasizing some great gospel truth.

WHY DO BANKS RETURN OVERDRAWN CHECKS?

To put the question another way, we are occasionally asked, "Why can't you hold up a check of mine for a few days until I can make a deposit to cover it?"

We are naturally anxious to accommodate customers whenever we can, but to hold up checks is not sound banking practice. If we cashed a check for a customer when he had insufficient funds to cover it we would, in effect, be giving him money that belonged to someone else. If we did this for him, other depositors of our bank would be entitled to the same consideration.

Banks are required to list all overdrawn checks on their books as overdrafts. Such overdrafts are discouraged by all banking authorities and banks which permit them are subject to censure by the bank examiners.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—The honeymoon is over, and the first signs of discord between the ill-assorted groups who rolled up such a tremendous majority for W. Leo O'Daniel as Democratic gubernatorial nominee, developed over the week end, in the wake of the county Democratic conventions. In Fort Worth, the nominee's home town, the "blue shirt" O'Danielites, led by Joe Steadham, labor leader, walked out, after bitterly assailing the "Chamber of Commerce bunch" which he accused of "steam-rolling" the convention. Frank Rawlings, ex-Senator and politician de luxe, was the floor leader.

In San Antonio, the Quinn city machine, which has been running political affairs for a good many years, controlled the convention, and a "rump" session was held by O'Daniel delegates who walked out. There will be a contest for recognition at the Beaumont convention September 13. There was also a split in Houston.

Collins Talks

In Dallas, the convention was especially interesting. Carr P. Collins reputed to be "closer to the throne" than any other man with O'Daniel, dominated the session. As a result of the influence of Collins, an ardent dry, the Dallas delegates take to Beaumont resolutions declaring the sale of beer and wine unconstitutional and calling upon the Legislature to bar their sale by the drink throughout Texas. It also urged stronger laws against book-makers, and gamblers, and altogether was a distinct shock to the "liberal" element in Dallas, whose support was enlisted for O'Daniel on the plea that he was "a sensible businessman" and "liberal" in his views.

Save Judges, Is Plea

Collins also indicated that even O'Daniel leaders are fearful of the results of a "sweep 'em out of office" hurricane started by the flour man. Collins urged Democrats in the runoff primary to "find out about the candidates and vote for the best interests of Texas," declaring "there are some men in office and who have held office who ought to be re-elected, and there are some down at Austin who ought to be defeated." J. L. Goggans, permanent chairman, seconded Collins' warning not to defeat all present office-holders, by adding "especially in our judiciary."

Job-hunters were warned by Collins that O'Daniel will fill the pobs on merit alone, and told bluntly not to ask the aid of himself (Collins) to get jobs as rewards for political aid given the nominee, "because I won't do it."

Reports from the rural counties generally indicated O'Daniel supporters were given a free hand. The difficulty at Beaumont will be composing the various factions who cast 525,000 votes for the flour man. They entertain the most widely varied views on many public questions.

No Name Changer

Judge Richard Critz, of the Supreme Court of Texas, has always suffered from a slight political handicap because many voters are not familiar with the proper pronunciation of his name. It is pronounced "Critz" to rhyme with "nights"—not to rhyme with "grits." When Judge Critz was considering plans for his runoff campaign last week, somebody suggested that he go to Court and legally change the spelling of his name to "Crites."

"My ancestors fought in the Revolutionary war, and my father fought in the Confederate Army" replied Judge Critz, nettled at the suggestion. "And that name was good enough for them. I wouldn't change it for all the votes in Texas."

Then a clever publicity man met the problem by thinking up a slogan: "Critz for the people's rights" to guide the voters.

Flood Affects Politics

Out of a raging flood in the Colorado river which tore through five counties, destroyed several bridges, damaged highways and washed away ten to 20 million dollars worth of farmers' crops ready for harvest, may come one of the significant political developments of the year. Charging that the Colorado River Authority had filled Buchanan Dam with water preparatory to generating a lot of power to sell in nearby Central Texas cities, and wouldn't let the lake level down even when warned the flood was coming down, irate farmers in the five affected counties met in Austin with Gov. Allred, and other officials, and demanded a Senate investigating committee probe. Chairman Tom Holbrook, no lover of the New Deal and its power-selling theories, called the committee to meet August 8.

The farmers contend dams must be used either for power or for flood control, primarily, and can't serve both purposes effectively. They charge the Authority officials sacrificed their crops and homes to their burning desire to generate and sell power. Then, they answered the criticism of the ruined farmers with the arrogance characteristic of bureaucrats, and further angered the protestants. Congressman Lyndon Johnson, of the Austin district, an ardent Government power advocate, is "on a spot" politically over the situation, and though he has no opponent this year, is reported looking apprehensively toward the primary election two years hence since the flood.

Allred To Quit Soon

Hinting broadly that he will step out of the Governor's office near September 1, Gov. Allred exhibited his commission as U. S. Judge for the Southern Texas district, and talked to friends this week about the "tremendous congestion" of the docket of the new court. It will open for business Sept. 5, with more cases set for trial than any other Federal District Court in the United States. Best guessers here feel sure Judge Allred will be on the bench. That will give Walter Woodul, lieutenant governor, about 4½ months to serve as Governor. Meanwhile, Woodul, high man in the first primary for Attorney General, was vigorously prosecuting his runoff race with Gerald C. Mann, ex-SMU football star of Dallas.

Austin Notes

This was "trade-out" week among the candidates, and virtually all candidates for State office, defeated and left in the runoff, visited the capital for conferences with others... Ernest O. Thompson, departing for the Oil State Compact meeting in Colorado, expressed no bitterness at his defeat, and his friends began talking freely of his "next race for Governor" . . . Bill McCraw announced he will practice law in Dallas after January 1 . . . The school folks were well-pleased to get a renewal of the present $22 per capita apportionment. The Automatic Tax Board set the State tax rate at 49 cents, giving the constitutional maximum of 35 cents to the general fund, and 7 cents to the Confederate pension fund, with 7 cents additional for free text-books. The school apportionment will be financed from the available school fund.

The Camera in the Kitchen

DO YOU ever carry your camera into the kitchen? Next time you want to take pictures indoors, and run out of subjects, try exploring the realm of stove, icebox and pantry. It's a happy hunting-ground.

Almost everything in a kitchen is a camera subject. The icebox and the china and aluminumware are a mine of still-life possibilities, and there are opportunities galore for "off-guard" pictures whenever a meal is being prepared.

The mixing of a cake can be a picture, if the big mixing bowl is snapped from a high angle with two hands busy with a spoon in the creamy batter. Mother breathlessly testing the cake with a broomstick is an opportunity for a "camid" shot. There are pictures, general or close-up, when the cake is being loofed. There is a splendid close-up in the cutting of the first slice, with the gleaming long-bladed knife going through the fluffy loaf.

A pile of shining pots and pans may make a splendid picture, if the photographer chooses a proper angle and works out a "dramatic" lighting. China, wet and glistening in a drain rack, is material for pictures. Even the dishpan, foamy with suds as two hands squeeze out the dishrag above it, is a picture opportunity.

The icebox yields eggs and vegetables that can be worked into interesting "still-life" pictures. A series of "busy hands" studies is well worth trying—hands peeling a potato, with a long curl of peel hanging; hands polishing silverware or drying glassware; hands turning a brown panake on a griddle or lifting a waaffle out of the iron—hands doing a thousand and one things!

Picture-making in most kitchens is simple, because the room is usually small and walls and ceiling are generally light in color. The camera should be loaded with supersensitive film, and three large amateur food bulbs used in cardboard reflectors. The proper distance from bulbs to subject is four to six feet. With this amount of light, one can take snapshots with a box camera at its largest lens opening, or use 1/25 second at f.8 or f.11 lens opening with cameras so marked. For close-up pictures, a simple portrait attachment must be used with most cameras.

CAMERA IN THE CAR

When driving, keep your camera on the seat beside you, loaded and ready. You never know when a picture chance (such as this) will pop up.

DO YOU keep your camera in your automobile when you're driving—all loaded on the seat beside you, lens and shutter set, ready to shoot at a moment's notice?

Try it sometime, and you'll be surprised how it helps you spot picture opportunities. Hundreds of pictures can be shot without leaving the car. This is especially true in warm weather, when car windows are down, and the top, in some cases, is folded back.

If you are not doing the driving, your hands are free and there are many more picture opportunities for you—as well as a better snapshot position. The car halts at a street intersection, and there may be a popcorn peddler on the corner, a window washer at the office window above, people busily hurrying to and from work. A small boy is struggling with a big bundle; an old lady passes by with her head wrapped in a shawl—chance for a well "character" shot. Indeed, all these can be good pictures—natural, "off-guard," full of life.

Never take a drive in the country without your camera. You see more, enjoy yourself more, notice more interesting things if the camera is along. Try making a connected picture story of a Sunday afternoon drive—and you'll be surprised how entertaining it can be. And here's an idea: picture landscapes and interesting stretches of road through the windshield of your car, from the back seat, using the outline of the windshield as a "frame" for the scene. Such pictures show not only what you saw, but how you saw it—hence, they are twice as effective. Needless to say, the windshield glass must be clear.

BIRTH OF A SONG

"MY MELANCHOLY BABY"

By Ernie Burnett and George Norton

From ASCAP Files

By Joseph R. Fliesler and Paul Carruth

Ernie Burnett wanted to be a jockey, and as a boy would swim the Ohio from Cincinnati to Newport to exercise race horses. But his parents wanted him to be a musician.

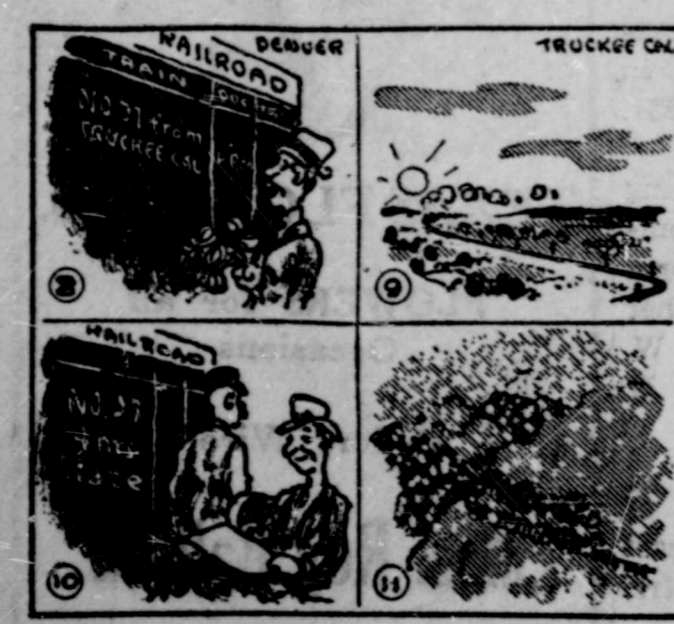

So at a tender age he was sent off to an uncle in Milan to absorb musical culture, but he soon left for Vienna, then on to Berlin (B.H.). Orphaned and penniless at 17, he returned to America to begin anew.

From concert pianist, with an occasional income, he became pianist to a variety show at a steady salary. The San Francisco disaster left him without funds, and it was a case of "California, here I go."

Back East, he joined Jesse Lasky's Pianophonds and began a tour of vaudeville houses, which finally brought him back to "Frisco". Here he fell in love, married, and lost his job.

Burnett scurried back to Denver for another job as piano player in a cafe. With his first money he wired for his bride to join him.

Her train was delayed by snow and Ernie despaired that she would ever arrive. Sitting in the waiting room he set his melancholy thoughts to music.

The song, "My Melancholy Baby", was a terrific hit. The composer became Sergeant Burnett on the fields of France. Nobody bothered to send him royalties, because he was soon listed as "Died in Action".

Returned like Enoch Arden, he protested like Mark Twain; was selected to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and resumed his rank as an American composer.

A ferris-wheel angle shot of your crowd is just one picture opportunity among scores you will find at the circus or street carnival. Take the camera along!

WHEN you go to the circus or carnival, by all means go early and take your camera along. There is endless variety of new, interesting snapshot material—and you'll actually see more, and enjoy yourself more, if there's a camera in your hand.

On the midway, you can picture side-show barkers, flamboyant tent signs, gaping people who are visiting a circus for the first time, wide-eyed youngsters munching popcorn or quaffing pink lemonade, gaudy displays of prizes at amusement booths, and scores of other amusing details.

Wandering about the lot, you will be able to picture interesting details of circus equipment, and perhaps novel sidelights of circus life—family wash strung out between wagons, mending of costumes and equipment, feeding and grooming of work stock. Be friendly, don't annoy the circus folk, and they will treat you courteously.

Pictures of performers and animals should be obtained during the circus parade, as you may not be allowed to take your camera inside the big tent. The light inside is usually too poor for good snapshots except with ultra speed lenses and film. But there is ample opportunity outside to keep the camera busy, and you can come away with enough good shots to fill several pages in an album. Try it just once, and you'll never be without your camera when the circus comes to town.

Behind the Scenes In American Business

NEW YORK, August 1.—BUSINESS—The great unpredictability of business is being demonstrated once again. Customarily July and August are slow months. Plants in some industries, notably auto manufacturing, shut down for retooling. Factory schedules in other lines are curtailed as workers go on vacation. Not so this year. For an increase in industrial activity the first three weeks of July is noted by the Federal Reserve Board. America's plate glass industry in June, the Board said, nearly doubled its production over May. Iron ore output registered a similar gain. Production of textile mills and anthracite coal mines jumped about 12 per cent. Railroads had the best earnings for any month this year.

WASHINGTON — U. S. business men are applauding a decision of the Federal Export-Import Bank to aid American exporters to gain a larger share of the Latin American market which England, Germany, Italy and Japan have so actively cultivated. One pending deal is the sale of 1,000 railroad cars and 26 locomotives to Brazil with the bank handling the credit arrangements. More trade with Latin America is expected to benefit southern port cities such as Savannah, Miami, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston. Miami, strategically located as the natural aerial gateway between the Americas, has prospects of becoming a major commercial city. Already it leads all American cities in air express shipments. A few weeks ago a federal loan-grant of $4,000,000 received by Miami enabled work to begin on enlargement of its harbor facilities in anticipation of long-term growth in Pan American trade.

GRAIN NEWS—The sun never sets on the English flag so widely scattered is the British realm. And it is probably equally true that there is no season of the year when somewhere in the world men aren't busy harvesting wheat. To the far flung nature of this farming enterprise can be partly blamed a drop of about five cents in wheat prices the last two weeks. Traders, viewing reports from many countries, place the 1938 world crop at about one billion bushels in excess of normal world consumption. The U. S. alone may have an export surplus of 375,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat harvest in North America is nearing completion and much progress has been made in Europe. The southern hemisphere will not harvest this year's crop until late fall, and harvesting will continue in Argentina all winter.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR — A table lamp which provides indirect light in a rectangular pattern to conform to desk or table area. . . . A liquid measuring device that puts the cork back in the bottle after delivering an exact ounce of liquid; it fits any bottle and pours 16 measured drinks a minute. . . . A fire-place that heats without smoking, gives a cherry glow for as long as 12 hours and can be used to heat several rooms at once; coal is held in a basket grate and is ignited by a special lamp. . . . Transparent cigarette paper, made of tobacco cellulose, stronger than ordinary paper and making less ash.

MARCH OF PROGRESS—Despite depression, high taxes and similar phenomena that give business men gray hair, scientists continue to turn out new products in America's 1,600 industrial research laboratories. It is reported that the B. F. Goodrich Co. has developed a new synthetic rubber-like material, koroseal, which can be used for wall coverings, umbrellas and raincoats, and in many industrial applications. Since American climate is not adapted to growing real rubber, which therefore must be imported from far-away Africa, the East Indies and South America, the search for a good synthetic rubber has been a "must" for years. ## A FRIEND FROM US HAS GONE

We, who met Laura B. Thompson, while she was visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin, just before her last illness and death, wish to take this opportunity of expressing our admiration and appreciation for such a lovely character. Our Sunday School was the last she ever attended. It was there we met her and enjoyed her so much. Little did we think she would be so soon taken from our midst.

We take this means of extending our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.—From Sturdivant Community, Palo Pinto, county.

Mrs. Earl Hill and children are visiting relatives in Brownfield this week. Mrs. Hill is a former resident of Brownfield and has a host of friends who always enjoy her visits back home.

Bert Elliot returned home with his sister, Mrs. Pete Tiernan and Mrs. Rance King, Friday night.

Marlin Hayhurst was a week end guest of his sister, Mrs. Jim Graves.
