Uncle Jimmie O'Connor Enjoying California

Cayucos, Calif. July 31, 1938

Friend Jack:

Been aiming to write you a short epistle for some time, but have been running around seeing the sights. Will not undertake to tell you or describe all, for you have seen most of them, and if I were able to make plain all I've seen since I left home, June 11th, the readers would think I was an old windjammer. We, Mrs. Hamilton, and daughter, Christine, left Brownfield for Amarillo by bus, and visited a few days with my daughter, Mrs. Rogers.

On the 15th, the girls in company with some other ladies left for El Monte, Calif., I left the same day on the train. They arrived on the 18th at 2 a. m., and I at 6:30 a. m., same day. Never was out of my coach all the way. My son-in-law and wife met us at my son's of Coalinga, and after visiting there a few days, we drove 175 miles along the sea coast route, to their camp at this place. On our way we saw many wonderful sights, mountains, hills and valleys. As soon as we arrived here we had to get our winter clothing, which we had been warned to bring. Certainly is cool here and very little fog.

An apology: Got a car door slammed on my hand which makes my writing poor. Got a free ride over to Eakerville with my son, Eustice, and his wife, 145 miles, over hills valleys, by some LARGE ranches, (of 1/2 acre or so). I fish off the pier, and the kids go bathing and clam hunting with Uncle Cook. All went to see the lighthouse, climbing 9 flights of steps; great show. Saw Hearst's mansion on a high, high hill, but couldn't get close to it. This castle was shipped from England, and rebuilt. Hearst is to return soon.

I can't tell all I've seen and heard this time, but will spin you some tall ones, when I return about the 15th of September. Regards to friends.

Citizens Get Notice Of a Stiff Tax Raise

Forgetting the primary for the time being, the burden of discussion this week was the radical raise in valuations for school purposes, and the business men of whom were raised from 20 to 100 per cent were not liking the raise at this time a little bit. Most of them the writer talked with, said they did not wish to do anything to cripple the school, but that a radical raise at this time when a third of a crop of cotton or less is the outlook, they felt it was the wrong time to further burden with taxes.

Conditions with many have not been any too good except 1937 in many years. Indeed many of us have had to hustle all day and half the night to keep all taxes paid, and some of us are delinquent for some of them. All our state, and county campaigns, and even national, have been based on platforms advocating lower taxes for the masses, and to be confronted before the campaign is yet over with higher local taxes, is not being received very well.

It is the understanding of most of the heavier taxpayers in the school district that the district received almost enough from the state last year to meet salaries, with perhaps less than $2,000 borrowed for that purpose. At the same time it was understood that there was enough taxes collected locally to meet all bond and interest payments, and some of the older and higher interest rate bonds liquidated with lower interest rate.

Nothing has been said about new buildings, as the present ones are still adequate. So, the taxpayers are at a loss to understand the need of additional money at this time. At any rate, the board of equalization probably know of the reason, and they certainly will have a nice audience to explain to the 23rd and 24th, if present talk on the streets and in the business houses means anything.

Cub Schedule Lacks One Home Game

In spite of untiring efforts to complete the football schedule for this fall, the Brownfield high school needs one more home game. The present schedule should prove very interesting as it will introduce the Cubs to some new opponents. With the division of the district and the cancellation of some of the scheduled games, the locals matched games with schools of the oil fields south of us. This usually means a tougher schedule, but it also means better games and a possibility of better financial returns. The schedule follows:

- Sept. 16, Kermit (There)
- Sept. 23, Olton (Here)
- Sept. 30, McCarney (There)
- Oct. 7, Jal, N. M., (There)
- Oct. 14, Open for home game.
- Oct. 21, Monahans, (There)
- Oct. 28, Tahoka (Here)
- Nov. 4, Open (No game)
- Nov. 11, Salton (Here)
- Nov. 18, Post, (There)
- Nov. 24, Levelland (Here)

Millions to Be Spent By WPA in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 7.—Expenditures of $113,285,883 on Works Progress Administration projects in Texas were detailed today by State Administrator H. P. Drought in a report covering the three fiscal years in which the Federal agency has operated.

Cooperation between Texas cities, counties, and independent school districts, whose share of the total cost was $28,121,525, and the Federal government, which contributed $85,164,358, has made possible the operation of 6,703 work projects during the past three years, Drought stated.

Since a handful of workmen stood on the freshly-turned earth of an emergency spillway at Lake Trammel near Sweetwater on September 20, 1935, to receive the first PWA paychecks delivered in Texas, hundreds of thousands of men and women have performed 2,050,116 man-months of labor on Federal projects. For these services they have received $68,610,005 disbursed in the form of subsistence wage checks.

Demonstration of Ball Bros. Canning Products

Miss Eugenia French, well known Home Economist of the Ball Brothers Company, will be in Brownfield on August 18 at 2 p. m., at which time she will give a free demonstration of meat, fruit and vegetable preserving at J. B. Knight Hardware Company.

Miss French attended Texas State College for Women where she was awarded special prizes in recognition of her Home Demonstration work. She also was on the special honor roll and did demonstrations in food classes. Miss French, because of her special training and study in Home Economics, is not only perfectly prepared technically for her work but she also has a charming personality which claims her audience's attention and admiration. Having had considerable practical experience, she is able to explain all the latest and most economical methods of canning foods in glass containers in such a manner that it is easy for listeners to understand every step in the process.

The Ball Brothers Company, manufacturers of quality glass jars for nearly half a century, is sending Miss French and scores of other qualified demonstrators all over the country to show housewives the United States Government-approved methods of steam pressure, hot water bath, and open kettle canning. Every one in this vicinity is cordially invited to hear Miss French and ask her any questions pertaining to canning.

Business Still Pretty Good Says Davis

Among the institutions called on last week end, was the Farmers Implement Co., now owned by Borden C. Davis, W. C. McKinzie this city and Mr. Applewhite of Tahoka. Mr. Davis was in, but Mack seemed to be out at the time. Mr. Davis says that business is unusually good for the time of year.

Five men are working there at present, and the repair men were all busy on this and that, hot as it was. They are making some very attractive offers to those who purchase a Farmall 20 Tractor between now and Sept. 15th, midnight. There are six very essential attachments: in this list that you will need, and a free choice of either.

So, better hurry around and make your purchase before that time if you are in the market for a tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Allen spent Sunday in Ralls. Christine McDuffie accompanied them to Lubbock and visited with a little friend.

Hockley Seems to Have Best Average Crops

The writer and wife "lit a shuck" early Sunday morning for one of our rambles, partly to look at the crops, and partly to visit relatives and friends, and get a free feed or two. Leaving Brownfield for Levelland around eight o'clock, we found that the average size of cotton became larger as we went north, reaching its maximum in the vicinity of Levelland. However, we found that the harder lands are suffering much more for rain than we.

In fact, rain, and when, was the subject of every conversation in Hockley and Lamb, although well cultivated lands are not showing any great need of rain, except the where whitish rock crop out. The fact too, that their cotton and feed is larger, would necessarily mean that they will need rain sooner than we, even admitting that sandier lands need as much rainfall as harder lands, which all know do not.

Anyway, if they can get a rain in Hockley and Lamb in the next two weeks, they will be healed. Lamb however, does not have the average size of Hockley; being more like ours, and some even less—just coming up. In all sections, we found some very foul crops, which is the result of either overcropping, or laziness, and we believe more the former. These weeds, and sometimes needle or tickle grass are in some cases as high as the crops, and are of course sapping the land badly right when it is needing the moisture.

Cotton is now sending down a tap root in search of moisture. As a consequence, the "splindling" look is changing to more bunching, and it is fruiting nicely. Much of the cotton is blooming in the Levelland area. Not much of anything but squares yet this side, and in Lamb county, that we saw.

Reached the home of our brother-in-law about 9:30, and found they had just eaten breakfast. Could have gotten another free meal if we had started out without breakfast. Would just about made connections there for breakfast. Spent most of the heat of the day there and had a fine meal, and talked about our neighbors.

Tried to visit our friend Lawrence Daniell (or has he changed it to O'Daniel) at Amherst, but he and all the other people, neighboring people, hounds, cats and dogs seemed to have been at the ball park there where they were playing a double header finals in a tournament. And so on to Anton, where we spent just a few moments with Editor Richards and saw his print shop. Looked just like any other print shop—lots of ink on everything and paper all over the floor and tables. But they get out a very interesting small town paper.

Around Anton and between there and Roundup, is in the shallow water belt, with lots of irrigated farms. It was there that we saw some real crops, and one field of sugar beets. The crops are fine from there on into Lubbock. Another thing we noticed was, that there was a goodly sprinkle of beer cans all along the highway, and every once in awhile we would pass a car parked on the side of the highway or out a piece on a country road, with a bunch of men and sometimes women or girls hovered on the off side and it did not take a Sherlock Holmes to tell what they were drinking. Yes, we have no beer.

Reached Lubbock awhile before sundown, and visited around with a few friends, taking supper with our good friends, the Ditto family, who recently moved up there. Thence I came after dark, and could not see the crops to report on them on this stretch of highway.

Slicker Puts Fast One By On Local Widow

A well dressed and apparently refined lady applied at the home of Mrs. Estella Brown, who lives on east Tate street, and applied for rooms for herself and a supposed sick husband. The woman stated that she and husband were to put in a tourist court on a nearby corner, and the Brown rooms exactly suited them, as they were nice, and close by their work.

Later, the woman said she had a check for $35.00, which she would have to get some one to endorse, and asked if she would mind endorsing it. Further, as soon as she got back from town, she would pay in advance for the room or rooms and put her sick husband to bed.

The woman came to town, got the check cashed and vanished, not having been seen since. Mrs. Brown failed to get the car number, but the check was on a Rusk bank. It was returned, we understand with notation, "not known."

Local Delegation Get Action On Highway

BY J. E. SHELTON

On August 1st, County Judge Simms, three members of the Commissioners Court and the writer appeared before the Highway Commission in the interest of some contemplated highway construction for Terry county. The commission had its meeting at San Antonio instead of Austin and so far as the writer knows is the first meeting of the body that has ever been held outside of Austin.

One of the main objects of the trip was to procure an agreement for placing highway 51 as a WPA project from Brownfield to the Hockley county line, as it was expected that the project on U. S. 380 west of Brownfield would be completed sometime in early October and that it would be necessary to provide labor for approximately 120 workers that have been certified and that are now at work on 380.

It will be remembered that we had previously been awarded an appropriation of $40,000.00, for grading and drainage on this highway but it was not sufficient for us to have money with which to pay for a caliche base and we decided that we would request a place for it on the NRWR program. The commission readily granted our request, so we are hoping that a survey will be completed and that arrangements can be made for construction to begin immediately after work is completed on U. S. 380. It might be well to state that we do not know where the route will be located and it all depends upon the survey that will be made by the engineers. It might come down the Levelland road or maybe some other point, but our county and city officials have pledged themselves to procure the right-of-way wherever it is desired. During our session before the commission, the writer undertook to call attention to a situation that applies to U. S. 380 in Yoakum county and of the opinion that it will be cleared within the next few days and that the court of that county can proceed with the procuring right-of-way on whatever route is decided upon, which when procured will call for commencement of construction sometime early in next year. In December of last year a delegation from Terry and Yoakum counties appeared before the commission and requested construction from Plains to the Terry county line and were received favorably, but no definite promise was made. However, within the last few weeks, the engineering department has commenced locating caliche beds and we are of the opinion that something will be started on that sector within the next few months. Now if we can just get pavement through Yoakum county we would have a paved highway almost into Roswell and maybe right into that city as the New Mexico Highway Department is constructing the division between Tatum and Bronco and will have it completed within the next two or three months as they are working in three shifts of eight hours each and are certainly getting the job done in a hurry. The writer was in Roswell, Monday, of this week and was informed that an allotment had been made for construction of 17 miles east of Roswell to connect with the present pavement and that work on it would start as soon as the Tatum-Bronco job was completed. The projected construction east of Roswell calls for a new bridge over one mile north of the present one and will shorten the road approximately nine miles. We hope that all of these completions will be made before the end of 1939 as we are losing a lot of traffic on account of road conditions. Practically everything coming out of Roswell is routed either to Clovis or Pecos and we never see them and naturally lose the sale of whatever goods that they may want to buy.

Reached Lubbock awhile before sundown, and visited around with a few friends, taking supper with our good friends, the Ditto family, who recently moved up there. Thence I came after dark, and could not see the crops to report on them on this stretch of highway.

Revival Under Way at Church of Christ

Evangelist Leonard Bankhead, of Goose Creek, Texas, began a revival meeting at the local Church of Christ on Wednesday night of this week. This meeting with two sermons daily at ten o'clock a. m. on week days, and eleven Sundays, and 4:30 evenings, will continue over the third Sunday. Bro. Bankhead is said to be one of the best young preachers in this brotherhood, and the people of this section are cordially invited to hear him in all services if possible.

Stalling Finished Threshing Corn

R. L. Stallings was in this week and announced that he had finished threshing (shelling) his corn crop, but it was the 1937 crop. We have a sneaking idea that R. L. was taking no unnecessary risks on making another crop. In fact, he says he is keeping better than 400 bushels of shelled corn for "Hard Times."

He sold 400 bushels, however, to a local buyer getting 43c net. Mr. Stallings admitted that his new crop was very promising, and a bit later on, if it looks assured, he may turn his other 400 bushels of old corn into cash.

Farmers generally are not very optimistic, however, about corn prices this fall. Most of them we have talked with state that cattle are fat off the range, and bring almost as much money as corn fed, and unless this condition changes to where they can put cheap feed into the hides of steers and hogs, there will be a very poor corn and feed market, with the huge crop forecast.

But his consolation was short lived; the dries won the day with a kind of Lee O'Daniel majority. He won't get his beer, legally at least.

B. L. Thompson Farm Has Good Cotton

We saw several stalks of cotton Friday taken from the 75 acre cotton farm of B. L. Thompson in the Tokio section, that had from 8 to ten grown bolls. This cotton can easily make a half bale per acre, or even more, as cotton farmers in this section usually count bolls up to Sept. 15th that will mature.

Second hand, we heard that Tobe Howze said that his cotton was fully up to what it was this time last year, and he made 145 bales of cotton last year. Sam Miller, another good farmer of the Challis section informed us this week that he was sure that his cotton was fully up to the same time last year. So, there you are.

Most of the cotton, however, is not blooming yet, but is spreading and making rapid growth. At the same time, it is putting on forms very fast. Very likely in the next ten days, there will be plenty blooms, and counting them making cotton up to September 15th, sure, with a probability later, we believe considerable cotton will be made.

In fact, the estimate of 12,000 bales made by a Lubbock man may have to be revised upward several times. Usually we make more cotton than we think we will, except one year, when we had a freeze around the 20th of October. To say the least, this will likely be one of the cheapest crops the farmers have ever grown here, as very little replanting had to be done.

To tell the truth, 70 per cent of the crops, that stand, year in and year out are planted in June. And, while lots of years planting begins in May, a whole of a lot of it blows out, or is hailed or flooded out by excessively hard showers.

For instance, last year, we had a guessing contest on the amount of cotton that would be made, lasting up into October, and the average of those guesses was around 30,000 bales, and the final ginnings was more than 55,000 bales.

To Advertise Scenic Wonders of Texas

Corsicana, Texas, July.—An advertising campaign designed to whet the interest of Texas in the scenic, recreational and travel opportunities in Texas will be released to Texas Newspapers within the next few days. Datus E. Proper, executive vice-president of the Texas good road association, has announced. Final details were worked out by Mr. Proper in a conference with Lowry Martin, President of the association.

The campaign will consist of a series of advertisements presented by the Good Roads Association showing the wonders and beauties of Texas. The advertisements have been prepared in mat form and will be released through the offices of The Texas Press Association, which endorsed the movement at its recent annual meeting. The material will include one full page, attractively designed layout and a page of 15 small mats.

The movement has the approval of the Texas Highway Commission, the Texas Traffic Safety Association, Chamber of commerce and other civic organizations.

Texas has been slow to stimulate tourist traffic, Martin said. "Many Texans are wholly unaware of the wonderful things scattered through this broad state of ours. The purpose of this effort is to give Texans a better appreciation of their state and to arouse in them an interest to visit spots of rare scenic, recreational and historical value. Texas has everything for the tourist and, we believe, most of them would 'see Texas First' if properly encouraged to do so. A brief tour to any part of Texas will convince any motorist that there are splendid opportunities in his own back yard for a zestful, thrill packed vacation or travel tour. Lets 'See Texas'. Then when we visit the other states we will better able to sell Texas to tourists in other areas. Lets get acquainted with the big bend, the wonderful Texas Panhandle country, the giant forest of the east, the beauties of the Texas coast and the magic Rio Grande Valley. Then more effectively we can sell Texas to the world and bring in a golden flow of Tourists dollars."

Milk Production Very Important to Texas

NEW YORK, August 10.—Texas' growing importance in the dairy industry is strikingly illustrated in the new MILK FACTS booklet issued by the Milk Industry Foundation. MILK FACTS shows that Texas with $46,541,000 cash farm income from milk in 1937 heads the list of South Central states.

Charts show that the United States is one of the ranking nations in the consumption of dairy products. With per capita consumption of fluid milk at 153 quarts a year, America tops all other countries except Switzerland with 232 quarts.

Annual per capita milk consumption in quarts for other nations is: Denmark—144; Czechoslovakia—138; Netherlands—120; New Zealand—112; Great Britain, France and Germany—92; Australia—88; Belgium—68 and Italy—28.

"Milk in one form or another, comprises over 25 per cent of the 1,500-odd pounds of food used each year by the average American," says the booklet. "It requires about 10 1/2 quarts of milk to make a pound of butter and 4 1/2 quarts to make a pound of cheese. Approximately 350 million new milk bottles are purchased annually."

The booklet contains pictorial charts and figures showing the importance of the milk industry to the country's economic picture. Diagrammatic charts illustrate how the United States utilizes its milk supply of some 48,777,000,000 quarts of milk a year.

City of Wink to Stage Golf Tournament

Wink, booming oil town in Winkler county, has recently finished a new golf course and country club. They are very proud of their achievement, and are inviting all west Texas for a tournament there August 13th and 14th.

They promise some real competition, as some good prizes have been hung out. The affair will be topped off Saturday with a barbecue and dance.

Congratulations are in order to Editor and Mrs. E. A. Richards of Meadow account of the arrival of a daughter, recently (didn't tell us the date in his paper.) Anyway, about 1938, we shall expect to see a deal of society stuff from the pen of the new arrival in the Meadow Star.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is to be a big date in the city of Amarillo, when the last link of the Will Rogers Memorial highway is formally opened with delegations along the route from both terminals at Chicago and Los Angeles. It is believed that Mrs. Rogers will attend, and she is sending the favorite saddle bag of her late husband, "Soapsuds." A number of screen stars who were great friends of the great humorist-humanitarian, as well as Gov. Allred and perhaps two or three other governors, will be on hand for the big celebration.

Our anti-new deal papers, especially the magazines and dailies have for the past year or so been lamenting the fact that the farmers were so cut down on their cotton acreage, that production had been limited to the point that pauper labor in Asia and other countries, were taking the cotton market away from America. Well last year southern planters did their stuff with one of the largest crops on record and the largest carry-over ever heard of. This resulted in very low prices. Now, these papers and magazines are blaming the new deal for an overproduction. It certainly is a pity that the FDR administration can't do anything that suits them.

The Highway Patrolman is not always the boogerman that he is pictured. For instance, it is cited that John Lowery found a man and four motherless children stranded over near Henrietta a year or so ago, and helped them on their way, where they fared better. This family met up with Lowery again recently, when the stranger delivered his thanks for aid again, and the children delivered a big hug and kiss to the stalwart guardian of highway traffic.

As head of the RFC, Jesse Jones publicly warns bankers to lend more freely or else the Government will. Like Mr. Roosevelt, who does one thing as President and another as Democratic Party chief, Mr. Jones has a dual personality. In private life he is chairman of the National Bank of Commerce, Houston, Texas. This bank's June 30 statement shows loans and discounts down $670,000 since March 31 and total resources more than 70 per cent liquid. Mr. Jones would be more candid if he told the bankers: "Do as I say—not as I do."—Amarillo Times.

Lots of people are learning that Mr. Jones and the RFC are not so keen to loan as they were lead to believe. That so-called loan to "little business men" is the biggest farce that has come down the pike of the new deal. If you wish to borrow money to "blow in" or buy a lot of stuff you don't need, OK. But if the money is to be used to liquidate debts and get a cheaper rate of interest, you are out of luck.

"Evidently the long inarticulate cry of simple humanity for its due place in the policies of business and of government is being heard in high quarters. And as progressive business cooperates with progressive government to answer this call, America will thrive and go forward, and dwell in peace. On the side of government Roosevelt stands preeminently for devotion to this ideal. The people believe in him because he is their tested friend. Business may well believe in him because he is trying to meet constructively the needs of a changeful and momentous time."—Atlanta Journal (Dem.)

"One of the fondest delusions of those who have always hated the President and his program is that he is losing his popularity. Such men listen to each other talk and pretend that they have clearly heard the voice of the people. But if the people are losing faith in the President they certainly fail to show it. If his recent transcontinental tour proved nothing else, it showed, as Felix Belair, Jr., wrote in the New York Times, that 'he has lost none of his old appeal for the man in the street.'"—Raleigh News & Observer. (Dem.)

"I call Franklin D. Roosevelt a conservative statesman just because of the social bent he gives to democracy. He is a true friend and a genuine servant of liberty, even when he limits and regulates it socialistically, for it is by such means that he takes the wind out of the sails of fascism and bolshevism alike."—Thomas Mann.

THIS FELLOW HARDLY KNEW HOW TO ACT

The Anadarko Daily News publishes the following story concerning a farmer who became rich:

"Dear J. B.—Well, since I sold the little farm in Arkansas, I have prospered. You know we always lived in that little one-room shack but came to East Texas and purchased a farm and pretty soon I leased it to an oil company and was sure lucky. They hit a big oil field on the place and now I have bought me a big house here in Alton. It has 6 rooms and there is one room that we don't do anything but eat in, then one we just sit in, 2 rooms that we don't do anything but sleep in, 1 room we don't do anything but cook in, and there is one that is all white that has a place that you can wash your hands and face in. Over in the corner there is a place to wash your feet in. When we moved in there was two lids on this but we have taken them off, we are using one of them for a dough board and we have framed Grandpa's picture with the other one. Write me a letter when you have time.—Your friend, Jim.

The above was banded us by a Yoakum countyman, who wished his name withheld as he didn't wish to have those newly rich Yoakumites crawl his hunkers. But he said the article fitted some of them to a "T." How about it Bro. Hale?

Mr. Smith: "Why, darling! What ails your eye? Why the bandage?"
Mrs. Smith: "Don't be ridiculous! This is my new hat."

Located by virtue of Certificate Number Eight (8) issued to the D. & W. Ry. Company original grantee containing 320 acres of land.

2. That on or about the 1st day of January A. D. 1938 defendants entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withheld from him possession thereof.

3. And for further cause of action plaintiff will show to the court that on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the land and premises described above belonged to the community estate of W. R. Harris and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that on the 11th day of May A. D. 1909 the said W. R. Harris was appointed Community Administrator or survivor of the Community estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that he duly qualified by taking the oath of office and giving bond as required by law on said date. That on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909, believing that he was the sole owner of the said land above described tract of land he the said W. R. Harris executed a Warranty Deed, as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield, that on that date the said W. R. Harris was the legal Community Administrator of said estate. That he erroneously executed said deed as an individual instead of as Community Administrator of the Community Estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris; That since the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the said M. V. Brownfield and his assigns has been in peaceable possession of said land and premises and have paid all taxes on said land assessed. On account of the error in the execution of the deed by W. R. Harris to M. V. Brownfield a cloud has been cast upon the title to said land.

Wherefore plaintiff prays Judgment of the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that plaintiff have judgment for title and possession of said above described land and premises, that the Deed of W. R. Harris as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield be declared to the act of W. R. Harris as Community Administrator of the estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Grazing Control Aids Grass

Grass kept eaten down and constantly trampled by livestock has little chance of attaining a healthy growth and the bare soil soon becomes subject to wind erosion. Grazing has been permitted on the pasture at the left at intervals and the grass is healthy. Continued grazing of the pasture at the right of the fence has created an erosion hazard, Soil Conservation Service range examiners point out.

Tower Enhances View

From this tower, located at the end of the most beautiful drive on the south rim of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, can be seen in all its glory, the Painted Desert, Coconino Plateau, Hopi and Navajo Indian country, and in the distance San Francisco peaks, highest mountains in Arizona.

The Watchtower at Desert View, on the South Rim of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, is a faithful recreation of the lookout stations or towers erected by the ancient inhabitants of the Southwest many centuries ago.

Constructed of native stones on the brink of the chasm, the Watchtower rises from a huge foundation of green-stained Canyon boulders. At its base is a low round Kiva, a reproduction of the ancient ceremonial chambers or temple of the Pueblo Indians.

On the walls of the Kiva and at each level on the ascent to the tower are a number of actual specimens of Indian pictographs—drawings and carvings, many centuries old.

From the top of the Watchtower, the view embraces vast expanses of the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and the Kaibab National Forest.

Bright Angel and Kaibab trails built by government engineers permit a closer study of the Canyon walls and of the story of centuries of erosion which is recounted daily by Government geologists at the observatory near Yavapai Point. Sure-footed saddle mules carry one safely over the trails while motor coaches cruise leisurely along the rim drives.

Clothes End the Controversy

DENTON—It takes longer to make a dress of stone than of cloth, but the statue to Pioneer Women to be erected at Texas State College for Women is now modestly clothed. Artist Leo Friedlander, who started a furor with his original model of four nude figures depicting a pioneer family, won the approval of the Board of Control with the model pictured above, which is now under construction. Critic of the original claimed that the figures "looked like apes," and that a nude statue was not "appropriate to a woman's college campus."

We Met the Man With the Picture

Some ten days ago, the writer received a picture of a local man, Mr. B. W. (Tex) Warren, accompanied by an invitation to call and meet him. The invitation came from B. E. Needles, head of the Needles stores in this section, including that at Brownfield, to call and meet Tex.

Well, we called last Friday, but Tex was a very busy man, as he had a deal on to sell a truck, so we just barely got to meet him. Don't blame him in the least—business before pleasure—you know it would have been some pleasure to meet us, and get a load of our gas.

Mr. B. E. Needles was a great friend of Brownfield before he located a store here, mentioning just one time in 1936 when we had our big celebration, he furnished a big truck for two days to haul our band and boosters over this section, advertising the affair, and then brought his sound truck down for the night programs.

AVOID STRANGE DOGS

AUSTIN, August 8—The mean dog that suddenly becomes friendly may transmit hydrophobia or rabies, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer in refuting the timeworn belief that rabies must be spread by a frothing "mad dog."

"In the first stage of rabies," Dr. Cox states, "the disposition of the dog changes entirely. A happy, playful dog becomes dejected, creeps away and hides. An ordinarily vicious dog may become friendly. If he licks his master's hand, he may spread rabies through cuts and abrasions on the skin. The dog may be mean at times, and at other times apparently normal."

According to Dr. Cox the phrase "mad dog" is associated with the second stage of rabies. This is the irritable period in which the dog becomes restless, sometimes running away and returning hours later, worn out from fighting other dogs. Rabies may be suspected, especially if the dog was not formerly in the habit of leaving home. Because of irritation the dog may snap at everything it approaches and will run amuck in crowds, often biting people. The dog's bark changes to a throaty howl in this, the most dangerous stage.

Rabies, according to many authorities, has a 100 per cent mortality in man unless Pasteur is instituted. Pasteur treatment, however, is nearly 100 per cent effective in saving lives when properly administered. Rabies must be considered with every dog bite and the history of the dog should be studied to determine the possibility of rabies infection. The dog which bites a person must be caught and confined for ten days observation. If the dog develops hydrophobia it should be killed and the dog's head sent by express, packed in ice, for a laboratory examination. See your family doctor immediately after any dog bite.

The State Health Department maintains the Pasteur Institute in Austin where the heads of dogs suspected of rabies are examined. Your family doctor will immediately avail himself of this service if he has reason to suspect the dog was rabid. Treatment for hydrophobia is supplied by the Pasteur Institute.

BETTER HOUSING

AUSTIN, Texas, August 1—The State Department of Health while approving slum clearance projects to prevent over-crowding, and its attendant hazards, is at the same time housing over 135 employees on two-thirds of one floor in the Land Office Building.

When questioned about this condition, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, stated that he knew that working conditions were far from ideal but until the Legislature provided more space nothing will be done about it.

Dr. Cox stated, further, that the ideal solution would be the erection of a building, in connection with the one already existing for the State Hygienic Laboratory. The State owns a quarter block of land at this location and also a PWA grant could be secured so that the actual cost for such a building would be very small.

At present the records of millions of vital statistics, birth and death records, are housed in the State Health Department offices and contribute a serious fire hazard. A new fireproof building would provide protection for over 5,000,000 records that may be needed by Texans to establish proof of birth or death. These records if destroyed could not be replaced for any amount of money.

Such an arrangement would give adequate space for the health department and provide badly needed housing space for some other State department.

ORPHAN OF THE STORM

Japan's decision to give up the 1940 Olympic games is notice to the world that the Chinese adventure shows no expectation of early termination. It is out of the question for a nation at war to hold the games, waiving even the serious question that arise under such conditions of financial stringency. Safeguards cannot be offered the guest nations. The people who would furnish the crowds are beset with other problems and could hardly be expected to forget anxiety as a whole to make a gala festival out of the games. Japan is taking time by the forelock and surrendering title to the games in order to assure enough leeway to its successor. But the important international parts is that Tokyo must see no end to the war in China this year or next.

The games themselves will lose nothing by transfer though the Oriental setting would have been unique in the history of the event. Whether Helsinki or Cleveland or some other locality is lucky enough to obtain the location, the games will be, as always, a colorful spectacle attracting world interest. Unfortunately, as Japan's predicament attests, the Olympics have not gone as far as has been hoped for them in increasing world friendship, in promoting better relationships that it seems could be based on better understanding between peoples. As a matter of fact the games develop a good deal of bickering between countries. If you wish to observe nationalism at fever heat, watch it while Olympic team managers, contestants and coaches battle for every possible, often unfair, advantage that may help to send the national flag to the top of the pole in a particular event.—Dallas News.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, August 8 — BUSINESS — Construction of small homes is setting the pace for other industries in the general recovery movement which continues unabated, according to reports from many parts of the country. The Federal Housing Administration reported a 100 per cent gain in mortgages selected for appraisal in July over the month last year. Meanwhile, America's mills and factories registered an estimated five per cent increase in production activity for July compared with the previous month. Usually there is a decline during July and August from spring levels. Enthusiastic approval last week of "great national retail demonstration" by members of the National Retail Dry Goods Association assures a forthcoming event which should be of great interest to consumers. The retail industry, third largest in the nation with annual sales volume of 40 billion dollars and employing 3,500,000 persons, will set aside one week in September for stores all over the nation to unite in dressing up for public inspection. WASHINGTON — About this time of year merchants and jobbers in every section of the country take inventory of goods on hand, and scan the business skies for possible signs of how much stock they should lay in for fall and winter trade. The U. S. Department of Commerce here, following the same procedure, has just issued its mid-year report on consumers' goods inventories. The report says that stocks on hand have returned to normal. The large quantity of merchandise which accumulated during the latter part of 1936 and early 1937, says the report, has been gradually liquidated. Pointing out that retail sales during the first six months of this year were about 15 per cent under those for the same period of 1937, and about five per cent below 1936, the report concludes that this trend seems to have run its course, and that a continued improvement in sales is in prospect.

WAR SCARE — Hoarding of gold on a widespread scale has cropped out again in Europe where there is general demoralization of sentiment as a result of the new Far Eastern crisis. Should Russia and Japan go to war, it is felt that Hitler might consider it an opportune moment to press his ambitions in the rich agricultural land of Ukraine, now a part of the Soviet Empire. Competent American and English observers, however, are guessing that the threatened Russo-Japanese conflict will not go beyond the present border sniping stage. They point out that stalwart China at the expense of much suffering and hardships among its civilian population has very much weakened Japan during a year of stubborn resistance to conquest. Japan, therefore, is believed to be afraid to take on another adversary at this time in view of her increasingly unstable economic status at home and the prospect of continued determined resistance by the Chinese.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR — A "draftless fan" which stands on the floor and draws in cool air at approximately floor level, shooting it up toward the ceiling in a perpendicular column. . . . A collapsible fish net, which snaps open like an umbrella, to lift fish out of the water. . . . An electric bulb which gives off perfume or medical vapors; the light bulb is thinly coated with clay or alabaster, in which perfume or medication is absorbed. . . . Cakes made with soap; such a small quantity is added to the baking mixture that it does not affect the flavor, but makes the cake lighter and fluffier.

NEWS FOR HOMEOWNERS — The modern trend in home building is toward insulation; walls are protected against heat and cold, ceilings and basements against frost, dirt and seepage. Latest development in the field is "window conditioning" which architects and engineers claim is the most vital insulation of them all. Installing double sash or storm-point out that stalwart China at the er dollars and cents saving to the homeowner than any type of insulation. Tests conducted by Prof. G. L. Larson, of the University of Wisconsin, show that in the average home which is not "window conditioned" one of every four shovels of coal goes out the window instead of in the furnace. The tests also reveal that the cost of double glazing or "window conditioning" is repaid within two years through furnace fuel savings.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK — America's 1938 wool clip placed at 368,528,000 pounds, 2,000,000 above 1937. . . . Aircraft earnings: United Aircraft second quarter net income $3 cents a share compared with 39 cents a year ago, Curtiss-Wright nets $2,181,862 in first half of 1938 compared with $900,597 in 1937 period. . . . Celanese Corp. of America has net income of $1,557,445 in year ended June 30 against $4,461,227 last year. . . . August home furnishings sales off to good start. . . . Steel production gains 7.6 per cent to a new 1938 high. . . . Utility holding companies get SEC order to file plans for integration and corporate simplification by December 1. . . . July sales of three auto manufacturers show improvement.

ABOUT DICTATORS

Terry County Herald (Brownfield): Many writers pretend that they believe President Roosevelt is the type of man to try to become a dictator. Nothing is further from the expectation of anyone who has studied human nature. Any man who can crack jokes with his friends, as he did about the rain in Amarillo, or in exchange of wires with Vice-President Garner about fishing and bosses, or swing a mean deep old belly laugh, is as far from a dictator as the poles. It takes a grim, grouchy, starchy, doubled-jawed sour puss to be dictator. F. D. R. is no more turned like Stalin, Mussolini or Hitler than a human is like an ape.

State Press in Dallas News: Dictators are made by constituents who are willing or anxious to be dictated to. A political servant who accepts orders from his superior without question is doing what one such servant can do to make a dictator. A constituency which elects no servant without pledges to do whatever the chief directs him to do is paving the way for a dictator. All dictators gain their predominance by promising special favors to special groups. Men gladly vote for what they suppose to be their own interest, the interest of the nation being secondary. No body believes Mr. Roosevelt wishes to be a dictator in the sense that Europe and Asia have developed that species. But he certainly has demanded subserviency from legislators and held the fear of punishment against those who made gestures of dissent. The love of power is to man like the love of candy is to a baby. The baby will reach for candy at sight, and the man will reach for power. In the making of a dictator, in the actual sense, the army must assist. After gaining the friendship and confidence of a considerable element of the civil population the dictator turns to the army. He gets control of the higher command and through their control of the ranks. Thus the dictator controls by promises, to the Generals and to the citizens, by promising a new prosperity to one group and a new glory to the other.

Moderation Vacation Theme Song

Jane Weir, motion picture starlet, uses cream as a sunburn lotion.

MODERATION is the proper theme song for the mid-summer vacationist. At least it predominates in the advice of health officers in dozens of cities who urge moderation in exercise, sunbathing, diet and refreshments for adults and children. The Washington State Health Department asks parents "to observe three rules—See that children do not overexpose themselves to sunlight; teach children the difference in bottled milk and encourage them to ask for pasteurized milk when away from home; take from home water for their needs or make provision for boiling." Dr. Joseph I. Lund, New Haven health officer, says, "milk is the best all-around food," but advises vacationists that the best protection is to have it pasteurized. Dr. John L. Rice, New York City health commissioner, suggests moderation in diet, above all, common sense. South Bend Health Department says, "any person going into a strange locality should be more than careful that the milk he consumes is pasteurized." Another vacation hint is that cream has the added virtue of being externally useful as a sunburn remedy. "Upon arriving at a new vacation playground," says the Milk Industry Foundation, "a sensible thing is to find out if the milk is supplied by a dependable distributor."

Texas Gets New V-8 Economy Test

This cab over engine truck carries gross weight of 11,280 pounds, and is loaded with 6,000 pounds of genuine Ford parts. The test run will cover 10,000 miles and is being made to determine fuel economy, handling ease, and hauling efficiency. DO BANKS WANT TO MAKE LOANS NOW?

The answer to this question is emphatically, "Yes" . . . Banks generally, are making loans every day — and would like to make more of them. In the first place, banks have funds to loan — for improved business conditions have greatly increased bank deposits. Secondly, loans are a chief source of a bank's profits. No bank knowingly refuses to make a good loan for the same reason that a merchant does not lose a good sale if he can help it.

Bank loans are made when business men see clearly a profitable use for the money and the bank is satisfied the loan will be repaid when due.

Your banks are willing to loan their funds to business concerns and individuals whose qualifications give adequate protection for our depositors' money.

The revival meeting will begin at the Baptist church on Sunday, August 21. Rev. J. C. Cohen of Palestine, Texas will have charge of the music, with Mrs. Y. B. Aikins of Dallas at the piano. We feel that the musical program of the revival is well provided for in the coming of these two to us.

Rev. Cohen will preach at the morning services and if some one else is not secured the pastor will preach at the evening services.

Make great plans in your program for this meeting.

ENGLAND HAS NO RABIES

While the situation of a blind young American separated from her dog guide at the port of entry into England may arouse our sympathies, one can not overlook the fact that the strict British regulations have made England a country entirely free of rabies.

There are no mad dogs in England because no animal susceptible to rabies infection is permitted to be brought into the country until after a six months' quarantine. The Brits do not accept the anti-rabies serum as an effective preventive, any more than do some authorities in our own country.—Star Telegram.

CAN PINEAPPLES

COLLEGE STATION—The pineapple is credited with being an aid to the digestion and a better source of protective food than most fruits, according to Miss Grace I. Neely, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. "Pineapple is not only a good food, but when we consider that it may be bought and canned for one-half of 1-3 of the price we pay for a good grade of canned pineapple, it is also a good investment," she said. "Home canning of pineapple is a regular practice with many home demonstration club members, according to the food specialists. She pointed to the cooperative purchase of a truck load of pineapples by home demonstration women of Parker county recently.

A committee there made arrangements to bring 100 dozen fresh pineapple, averaging 7 pounds in weight, to Weatherford at a price of $1.50 a dozen. The fruit, which was grown in Mexico, was gathered direct from the field and loaded in the truck. The entire load was disposed of between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m.

The women who canned the pineapple reported an average of 40 pint containers from each dozen fruits.

A similar procedure was used in McCulloch county, where girls bought 100 dozen pineapple and canned them for a total expense of 7½ cents a pint.

All over the State 4-H Club girls and home demonstration club members have been realizing savings and adding to the variety of their families' diet by canning this fruit. Directions on canning may be obtained from county home demonstration agents, Miss Neeley said.

"TERPEZONE FOR RESPIRATORY TROUBLES"

Health is the great fundamental of life. An education is of little value without health. Wealth loses its savor unless there is health to enjoy its advantages.

The attainment of health is a matter of close attention to nerve lives. When the mental impulses that travel from brain to nerve cells in all organs of the body are able to come and go with freedom, there is normal action in all organs, and a state of health is realized. To free the spinal nerves of interference take Chiropractic spinal adjustments.

I have installed a Terpezone for the sufferers of Bronchitis, Swasitis, Hayfever, Colds and Asthma. Anyone presenting this ad at my office will be given a Terpezone inhalation FREE!

BIRTH OF A SONG

"SOME OF THESE DAYS"
By Shelton Brooks

From ASCAP Files
By Joseph R. Fliesler and Paul Carruth

1. THERE was an old family organ in the Brooks' home in Amesbury, Ontario, and Shelton first met music on its keyboards—while brother-with-the-longer-legs, pumped.

2. At sixteen, his parents moved to Detroit, and Shelton became a mimic. His impersonation of Bert Williams at Luna Park, Cleveland, scored a hit with that comedian, at least.

3. Touring vaudeville, Shelton entertained backstage by improvising on his own themes on the small-time circuit pianos.

4. One number kept recurring to him, but when he wrote it down he was dissatisfied with the result—it seemed to have no theme.

5. A few days later he overheard a lover's quarrel in a cafe, and the girl's last words supplied the missing theme.

6. Rushing back to his piano, Shelton rapidly completed the music and wrote the words of "Some Of These Days."

7. Within a week, Sophie Tucker had scored a great hit with the song. As other vaudeville performers took up the song, it swept the country.

8. Brooks kept writing, earned membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. He is today a night club favorite and authority on jazz and swing.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—Money for pensions will be the first problem to confront the new administration when it takes office next January, is the opinion of those here whose business it is to follow the trend of public thinking Texas. The first indication of what direction the O'Daniel administration's efforts to meet the public demand for increased pensions will probably come out of the Beaumont state convention next month. The whole field is wide open—since O'Daniel made no commitments during his campaign nor since—and the platform adopted at Beaumont should show the direction in which he will turn to get additional pension revenue.

Sale Tax Drive On

Advocates of a sales tax already are busily urging this method as the last painful method of extracting substantial additional revenue, and it now appears that the sales tax advocates, headed by Jim Ferguson, did some shrewd political maneuvering during the campaign. At the outset, Ferguson, the most voluble advocate of $30 pensions and likewise the most ardent sponsor of the sales tax, endorsed and supported McCraw, who looked like the leading candidate early in the campaign. Later, as the O'Daniel movement developed, Ex-Senator T. H. McGregor, lifelong ally of Ferguson and as strong sales taxer, jumped aboard the O'Daniel band-wagon. The politicians wondered about this apparent "split" between the two veterans who have always worked so closely together, but when the votes were counted, and McGregor launched a speaking campaign in behalf of the sales tax, advocating repeal of the chain store tax at the same time, they understood.

Two Best Bets

The sales tax and additional taxes on natural resources appear to be O'Daniel's best bets to get important pension money. The oil industry, however, claims it is now bearing about all the load it can carry and remain in competition with other oil producing states, and any radical increase in taxation might result in a declining total of revenue, especially with too much oil being produced even under rigid proration. Oil and gas are now produced in substantially more than half the counties of the State, and a strong bloc to resist increased taxation on these resources would be formed immediately in the Legislature. Real estate no longer is an important source of state revenue, and the property owners have protested so vigorously that the trend there is to relieve real property eventually of all State taxation.

O'Daniel's taxation views are not known here. He has been a flour broker, selling to merchants himself, so it is a natural assumption that he ought to be sympathetic with the view of retail merchants, who oppose a sales tax to a man. If that is true, it appears that natural resources will emerge as the prospective patient for the $90,000,000 pension operation.

But O'Daniel's friends concede it was the pension talk that recruited the backbone of his tremendous strength, and being the careful student of public psychology that he is, few here believe the new governor will waste any time tackling that problem.

The Run-Off

The final scramble for votes between two candidates for each of six State offices, and a goodly sprinkle of local candidates is nearing the final spurt for the second primary August 27. The State ticket find Walter Woodul, lieutenant governor, of Houston, an able lawyer and an official seasoned by experience in public service, pitted against Gerald C. Mann, of Dallas, youthful Dallasite who is campaigning against "professional politicians," who has held three appointive political posts in the brief period since he graduated from Harvard law school. For lieutenant governor, Coke Stevenson, of Junction, veteran legislator, twice speaker of the House and political conservative, is opposed to P. Pierce Brooks of Dallas, a real estate sub-divider who has never held office, but ran for Governor two years ago. Chairman C. V. Terrell, of the Texas Railroad Commission, faces G. A. Sadler of Longview; Bill McDonald, Land Commissioner, of Eastland, whose administration has drawn criticism from legislative and other sources, tilts with Bascom Giles, a former employee of the office who has never held elective office. Two high court judges, also face runoffs, Associate Justice Richard Critz of Williamson county, with W. H. Davidson of Beaumont, and Judge Harry Graves, of Williamson county, with Judge James A. Stephens. Leading Lawyers of the State have inaugurated a vigorous campaign, in behalf of Judge Critz, who seeks election to his first full term, having been first appointed to succeed Justice Pierson and later elected to complete Pierson's unexpired term.

Campaign Aftermath

The extraordinary campaign waged by W. Lee O'Daniel and its outstanding success with the voters, has upset some traditional beliefs of candidates and campaign managers generally. The fact that O'Daniel, rated as one of the nation's premier radio personalities, used that medium extensively, has influenced heavy purchases of radio time in both primaries by virtually all candidates. Newspaper advertising has suffered considerable loss of prestige, as a result. But as one advertising expert pointed out, they overlooked the fact that it was the continuity of advertising effort, kept up for eight years by O'Daniel before he got into the Governor's race, that won success for him, instead of the medium he used. "It sho' is too bad, ma'am," remarked the negro cook employed by one candidate's wife, when she read the election returns and found her employer in a runoff race. "I was hopin' de boss man would win, but he's done got hisself in one of these 'run-arounds' . . . New State Senator from Fort Worth, to occupy the seat formerly held by Frank Rawlings, the upper body's ablest parliamentarian, will be Jess Martin, whose runoff opponent, Rep. Lonnie Smith, withdrew. Martin is a former assistant Federal district attorney . . . E. R. Lindley, of Beaumont, doorkeeper of the House of Representatives has announced he will be a candidate for the post of chief clerk of the new Legislature, and Mrs. Louise Snow Phinney, of Dallas chief clerk for the past 12 years, has also announced she will seek re-election, denying an earlier report that she would not run again.

ALL TEXAS PAPERS RECEIVED FAIR ADS

Every newspaper in Texas has received a preliminary order from the State Fair of Texas for paid advertising to be used a little later, it has been announced here by Holmes Green, Chairman of the publicity committee.

This is the first time in the ken of most advertising men, where a single order has gone out which has included every daily, semi-weekly and weekly newspaper in the entire state. There are more than 700 newspapers in the State, Mr. Green said.

TEXAS SPINACH

Texas is the leading spinach-producing State of the Union. Indeed, a single spinach farm in Zavala county often produces more spinach than any State other than Texas. Texas' 1938 spinach crop amounted to six million bushels and was valued at $1,800,000. About 95 per cent of the State's spinach production goes to points outside of Texas.

LET THE CRITTERS DO THE WORK.

At this season crops are maturing and harvesting is ahead. A great deal of labor may be saved by turning live stock in the fields and allowing them to feed themselves. Under proper handling there is little waste of grain, and animals get the benefit of green forage that would not be saved otherwise, and which adds to the value of the grain by helping to balance the ration. If fields are not already fenced, a temporary fence of 32-inch woven wire will confine sheep and hogs, and with a few stanch posts at wide intervals, small stakes driven into the ground will support it. It can readily be rolled up and moved several times, and when it becomes too badly bent to stand up in a temporary fence, it is still good for permanent use, where solid corner posts permit tight stretching. Hogs are well known to be the best gleaners of grain, with sheep next. If crops are harvested by cattle, it is always advisable to follow with hogs. The cheapest pork, both in labor cost and the amount of grain required to make 100 pounds of meat, is produced by a combination of green pasture, hogging down feed crops, and the self-feeder, Carl P. Thompson, extension swine specialist of Oklahoma voices the experience of the best hog men when he says that it is doubtful if a farmer can afford to raise hogs unless they can run on pasture a good part of the year.

Besides the labor saving element it is good for the health of both hogs and sheep to get off the permanent pastures and on the cultivated fields, where internal parasites are less prevalent. It is best to confine the animals to a space that can be cleaned up in ten days to three weeks rather than permit them to roam at large for a month or more. In the final stages of grazing, gains will be slowed up by their walking over large fields in search of food, and there will be more wastage in the long run. It goes without saying that shade and water must be easily and continuously accessible to the animals while hogging down or sheepling off crops. Experiments have shown that a bushel of grain goes a great deal farther in meat production if the animal can drink when thirsty instead of waiting for periodic waterings several hours apart.

Mineral mixtures and protein supplements are usually not indispensable if hogs have access to good pastures and legumes, or skim milk, but experienced hog men say protein supplements always pay. Corn and cowpeas, corn and soy beans, corn and peanuts, make good fattening rations when hogged down together. With corn alone it is advisable to supply a mineral mixture and a protein supplement in self-feeders. Either wood ashes or air-slaked lime and salt in equal parts is good, and bone meal may be profitably added under some conditions. Charcoal is commonly used and hogs like it. The protein supplement may be based on cottonseed meal, linseed meal, peanut meal or tankage. The experiment stations of the Southwest have worked out formulas for protein supplements for their respective states, according to the availability and adaptation of the materials. Cottonseed meal is available everywhere in the Southwest, and may be safely and profitably fed to hogs by following directions furnished by extension hog specialists and county agents who keep up with experimental results. Enough feed goes to waste on most Southwestern farms to produce all the pork and beef or mutton the family could use. Pasturing the fields is the only way much of this waste can be turned to profit, and the most economical way of harvesting and selling crops that are adapted to harvesting by animals. Let the critters do the work.

How Do You Check Up On Your Driving?

AUSTIN, August 9.—State police traffic experts have devised a questionnaire from which drivers may determine their individual qualifications for operating vehicles in a safe manner.

Ten questions relating to basic causes for most accidents on streets and highways were listed by traffic research so that drivers may correct their errors. Each question counts 10 points if answered in the affirmative, with 10 points discount for negative answers. If your grade is between 90 and 100 you may consider yourself an excellent driver. A grade between 80-90 classed you as a "fairly good" driver, but if your grade is below 80 you are a menace to traffic safety and should correct your faults, state police warned.

The questions are:

1. Do you use proper arm signals when turning or stopping?
2. Do you always drive within legal speed limits?
3. Do you always refrain from passing other vehicles on hills or curves?
4. Do you bring your vehicle to a complete halt at traffic STOP signals?
5. Do you observe right-of-way rules at intersections?
6. Do you always park your vehicle so that it does not obstruct traffic?
7. Do you dim your lights at night for oncoming vehicles?
8. Do you always drive on the right side, not too near the center stripe?
9. Do you regularly inspect lights and other mechanical parts of your vehicle?
10. Do you drive in the same manner under supervision of a traffic officer as you do when he is out of your view?

"RELIEF BUMS"

A news item, says the Industrial News Review, tells of a Negro taxi driver who was unable to work for a time because of illness. He obtained $50 from a government relief agency to tide him over. Now he is back at work, and is trying to return the money. When it was pointed out to him that he was not legally obligated to do this, he observed "that was the way I was raised—and that's the way I'm raising my child."

A great many other Americans can learn a lesson from this Negro taxi driver. One of the most ominous portents on the horizon is the fact that thousands of people have appeared come to look on relief as a "profession." They plan to make it their "life work." Productive jobs in private industry hold no attraction for them, when they can take it easy at the taxpayer's expense. They figure someone owes them a living.

This isn't a criticism of those people who have turned to relief as a last resort, and are eager to get off the rolls as soon as opportunity for a real job comes along. Nor is it a criticism of relief per se. The hungry must be fed, the homeless sheltered, the clothless clothed. Honest beneficiaries of relief aggressively seek real employment. Professional "relief bums" are a new menace to democratic government.

The Negro's statement was news because his attitude was so unusual today. It should be printed on every relief check and public grant.

EMPLOYMENT FOR 3850 SOUTH PLAINS PEOPLE

Lubbock, Aug. 8.—Funds sufficient to employ 3,850 persons on Works Progress Administration projects in this territory during the month of August have been granted the Lubbock office, it was reported today by J. O. Jones, administrative officer.

The August budget figure makes it possible to hire 400 additional persons in the counties administered from the Lubbock office, provided that a sufficient number of suitable projects are sponsored by local governmental agencies, Jones stated.

Urging that cities and counties take full advantage of the opportunity to furnish jobs for the unemployed, Jones stated:

"Budgets have been allotted on the basis of existing need and we hope that local officials will provide enough projects of integrity to supply jobs for all those who need them in the Lubbock territory."

"Suffering among the unemployed, loss of community purchasing power, and less of the opportunity to obtain needed public improvements at a fraction of the normal cost will be the result of the failure of local agencies to sponsor sufficient projects to care for the jobless."

—AND THAT'S THAT!

Then, somewhere in West Texas during the campaign, a candidate for sheriff was passing his cards in a crowd. One voter refused to take the proffered pasteboard with the remark, "I'm going to vote for O'Daniel."

"But," replied the candidate, "O'Daniel is running for Governor, and I am asking your vote for sheriff."

"That's all right," replied the voter August have been granted the Lubbock office, it was reported today by J. O. Jones, administrative officer.

"I still don't want your card. If O'Daniel wants a sheriff in this county, I reckon he'll appoint one."
