

Just to Keep the Hiway Record Straight

According to the Tatum Courier, there is to be a highway meeting soon, the object of which is to get a "shorter route" from eastern New Mexico to Lubbock. The Herald would be the last paper on earth to discourage new highway development—but—

Just who got an idea that the proposed new highway is the "shorter route," we have no idea. However it has been referred to as such, once before in the Tatum paper and at least once in the Lubbock Avalanche or until it was corrected. Here is the official figures of the two routes:

Tatum to Bronco	15
Bronco to Plains	17
Plains to Brownfield	33
Brownfield to Lubbock	39
Total mileage	104

Tatum to Millnesad 27
Millnesad to State Line 15
State Line to Levelland 42
Levelland to Lubbock 29

Total mileage 113

Thus we find the route via Bronco, Plains and Brownfield is NOT 30 miles longer, but 9 miles shorter. In order to keep the record straight we hope Bro. Morris copies this in his paper. But build all the highways you can.

Hog Cholera Ordinance Being Published

It seems that hog cholera does not originate in this section of the state but sometimes it becomes epidemic in a herd in this section from hogs being shipped in from east or north Texas, or from other states.

A few years ago, when the banks here began to supply pure bred hogs to 4-H Clubs, that some were received that had been given the serum, but had not been held long enough at point of shipment, and as a consequence, the disease came near being epidemic in this county.

It is rather hard to control this disease and publication of the special notice by each county, similar to that appearing in the Herald last week, must be made to comply with the regulations of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

This notice is being repeated again this week, and be sure that you read it as it will likely be the last time it appears, if you raise and sell hogs, or deal in them.

Lions Hold Regular Luncheon Wed. Noon

Some fifty members of the Lions Club were in attendance Wednesday noon at their regular luncheon.

The hour was spent mostly in business session, and some very interesting discussion on various matters were heard.

The club was glad to have as guests Mr. C. I. Wall and Miss Mary Alice Crosson, of Lubbock. These people have connections with the West Texas Gas Co., and were introduced to the club by Lion Herman Heath.

Plans were made for a Donkey Softball game to be played here the last of this month. This game will possibly be played between the Lions Club vs. Meadow. A more complete report of this game will be announced next week.

Piggly Wiggly Manager Attends Convention

Pat Patterson, manager of the local Piggly Wiggly grocery, left last Friday for Gulf Port, Mississippi, where he will attend a convention of Piggly Wiggly owners and managers from all over the nation, and at the same time enjoy a ten day's vacation at one of the most popular Gulf resorts.

Mr. Patterson will return Saturday we understand. His sales the past year have stood very high among the stores in this section, and while attendance is not based on sales, as we understand it, the owners in this section were anxious that Mr. Patterson attend.

preach at the morning services. The reports from the meetings Rev. Cohen has been engaged in this summer states that he is doing great singing and soul winning.

Mrs. Y. B. Aikins of Dallas, Texas will be at the piano. Mrs. Aikins is among the very best pianists. The pastor will do the preaching at the evening services. The board of deacons and the W. M. U. will be responsible for the attendance upon the services.

Everyone is welcome to attend any and all of the services of this meeting.

Gaines Co. Gas Not Up To Panhandle Quality

According to a report in the last issue of the Seminole Sentinel, and verified by Herman Heath, manager of the West Texas Gas Co. distributing station of Brownfield, Seagraves and Seminole, the gas wells of Gaines county, while strong, have an inferior product to Panhandle Gas.

A few weeks ago, one of the wells near Seminole was cut in on the West Texas Gas mains leading into that city, and the product tried out. It was entirely unsatisfactory to both the company and customers, and the gas was cut off, and all the pipes "blown out" and Panhandle gas turned in again. It may be that within a few years stoves and heaters will be perfected that will burn this gas satisfactorily, just as there are stoves that will burn Butane gas.

An English unit of measurement is used on testing gas, and it was found that the Gaines county gas had only 885 thermal units of heat to 1000 for Panhandle gas. However, as gas gets scarcer, we imagine a way to treat and handle this gas will be found.

Telephone Company in New Home at L'field.

Spending around $40,000 for a new building and equipment, the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. has just opened in their new building with central battery equipment at Littlefield, providing the first unit of a real up-to-date system.

That company completed the installation of a central battery plant in Brownfield last winter, that cost thousands of dollars, and is a great improvement over the old crank system. They already owned their own building here, and did not have that expense, but spent much money in remodeling their building to care for the new exchange.

Spending huge sums for new systems as fast as they can get to them, extending and building new lines, with extra circuits over this section, especially in the oil field portions, shows that this company has great confidence in the future development of the south plains section, and are building to care for this growth.

Hotel, Coffee Shop Under New Management

The Brownfield Hotel and Coffee Shop are being completely remodeled and redecorated, and will be open to the public, under new management, Saturday, August 20. A nice time of year to open a new business and should be a gratifying one to the new managers.

They invite you to visit them on Friday, August 19th, and have a cup of good coffee and doughnuts on the house.

The Herald Still Holds Great Reader Interest

Almost every day people tell us that the Herald grows more newsy and more progressive with age. These people are both old timers and newcomers. While some of them get rather behind on occasions, one day they walk in and tell us that they appreciate us keeping the Herald coming, and pay up.

And there is no guess work about the amount of reading matter; as they can see themselves. For instance last week, the Herald carried 820 inches of reading matter and illustrations, while the combined reading and illustrated matter in its two Terry county competitors was 600 inches a matter of 220 inches more reading interest in the Herald, and 460 inches more than its local competitor.

We appreciate so many right here in the summer coming in to renew, when money is a little scarce. We still have a few pen and pencil sets for those who will come in at once and renew. Shall we hold a set for you? Our large rural circulation makes the Herald a superior medium for the advertiser, and while we have never tried to fill the Herald with ads to the exclusion of reading matter, once in awhile it may so happen that way. Usually, however, we add more pages if crowded with advertising, unless we have a last minute rush of advertising, when we have no chance to add more pages.

We have always gotten our regular rate on advertising. We never carry a free ad for anyone. If we did, we'd feel that we should treat all alike, and give an ad occasionally. The only concession we ever make on rates is to churches.

Reader interest always has and always will be advantageous to the advertiser.

Friends and Neighbors Hoe Sick Man's Crop

The thoughtful suggestion of John R. Gayle, neighbor of R. H. Timmons, who has been critically ill in the Brownfield hospital for the past twenty-four days, resulted in 104 men and women, boys and girls, chopping out his crop of 60 acres cotton and 40 acres of teed. Dr. J. N. Campbell, pastor of the Meadow Baptist church, of which church Mr. Timmons is a faithful member and deacon, made a call for 30 cotton choppers and over 100 responded. Mr. B. D. Gryder assisted Mr. Gayle in overseeing the work.

The ladies of the church and community, directed by Mrs. C. W. Duffey, served a generous picnic dinner, at noon after which Willis J. Ray of San Antonio, who is preaching in the Meadow revival through a message to the workers. Friends of various faiths and neighbors from a radius of ten miles came in to assist, showing their esteem and appreciation for Mr. Timmons.

Mr. Timmons is in the run-off for Commissioner in precinct No. 2, and was operated on Wednesday before the Primary. His son, Malcolm and son-in-law, L. A. Winningham, with their wives have been at the hospital daily since his illness and have been kept from their crops, so the workmen after chopping out the crop on the home place in the morning went in the afternoon to Winningham's farm and chopped out his cotton crop of about sixty acres.

Tahoka Boosters Here Advertising Rodeo

Neighbor Tahokans were here Wednesday in great numbers, advertising their Rodeo and Celebration which they are putting on for two days, August 25-26. A great number of cars were along, with all kinds of noise makers. Think they must have borrowed Post's toy cannon.

The first day, Thursday, there will be a basket picnic in the city park. Twenty beeves will be barbecued for the second day, with a proportionate amount of onions, pickles, bread and black coffee to feed 10,000 people.

Come again with your noise makers, neighbors.

Tom Hunter Endorses Judge C. V. Terrell

AUSTIN, Texas, August 15.—Tom Hunter, candidate for Governor of Texas in the July primaries and recipient of 114,000 votes, today endorsed the candidacy of Judge C. V. Terrell for Railroad Commissioner.

Stating his reasons for his choice of Judge Terrell in the Railroad Commissioner's race, he outlined briefly the history of the Texas oil industries and the benefits received from Judge Terrell's work.

"Judge Terrell is entitled to lots of the credit for the present stability in the oil industry," he stated. "In 1931 and 1932, conditions in Texas and the nation were terribly unstable. All industries, the oil industry especially, were in chaotic condition."

"During the latter part of 1929 and through 1933, I gave practically all of my time in an effort to aid business and labor. A good part of this time was given in direct support of bettering conditions in the oil business and for oil workers. Leading in this fight, I was in a position to know from whom substantial aid was had, and in fairness, I must give proper credit to Mr. Terrell in his support."

"Oil is our big money crop. Every person in Texas is directly affected by the conditions of the industry. Distressed oil business will distress all other lines of labor. Oil money has helped to build our cities, furnished work for the carpenters, brick masons and all other groups of labor."

"Distress of this industry will reflect on employment and the state as a whole will suffer. The very safety of our school system depends largely upon oil."

Mr. Hunter went on to stress the fact that the gross production tax, the ad valorem on oil properties and even gasoline tax would be greatly

Cubs to Begin Training Monday, August 29th

Word has just been received from Coach Aubra Nooncaster that he will be in Brownfield on Monday, August 29, to call the high school football team together for training. Coach Nooncaster states that he and Assistant Coach Tipps have been working on some plans for the coming season and have high hopes of putting out a successful team for this year. Both these young men are excellent students and fine gentlemen as well as students of football, and both have been doing work on the M. A. degree during the summer.

Brownfield Schools to Open September 1st

The Brownfield schools will open September 1. This date falls on Thursday and has been chosen because of the convenience in registration and the Christmas holidays. High school pupils will begin registration on Monday, August 29, with seniors reporting Monday, juniors and sophomores, Tuesday, and freshmen, Wednesday. It will be necessary for all high school pupils to report on the days specified if they expect to be enrolled the first week. If they do not report on the days specified, they will be counted absent on Thursday and Friday, as no high school registration will be made on Thursday or Friday.

The grade-point system will be adopted this year, although it will not be applied to the graduates of this year. The grade-point system means that a pupil must make a certain number of points before graduating from high school, each subject grade counting a certain number of points. The higher the grade, the greater number of points toward graduation. The purpose of the plan is to discourage indifference toward low grades. A pupil who becomes habituated to the practice of "getting by" will have to spend a longer time in school and make more courses than the pupil who makes a high record. This system will be explained more in detail in a later article. Suffice to say, however, that a pupil who can make "A's" and "B's" and refuse to make more than "C's" will find himself short on grade points and will have to take additional courses for graduation.

The psychology of the plan is sound. A bad habit of indifference and slovenliness formed while one is attempting to obtain an education may defeat the very purpose for which he is getting an education.

Accepts Position As Mgr. Paducah Gin

The many friends of Clifton Jones, son of Mrs. O. L. Jones, who have known him from childhood, watched him enter school and graduate, are rejoicing that the West Texas Gin Co., has recognized in the young man a potential of his late father, who was long a trusted employee of that company.

Clifton has received word of his appointment as manager of their plant at Paducah, which is a good cotton section, and is leaving this week to take charge. While we hate to see him leave Brownfield, we know that his past life and preparation merits this recognition.

For the past two years, Clifton has been an employee of the Ward Shoe Service, taking the management when Mr. Ward was away, but he has always taken care of Ward's customers in a fine way during his absence.

Clifton, your legion of friends wish you God speed, and they just know you will please your employers.

Montgomery Withdraws From Rep. Race

R. M. Kendrick chairman of the Terry County Democratic Executive Committee, has been formally notified of the withdrawal of W. T. Montgomery of Wilson, Lynn county, from the race as representative of the 119th district, composed of the counties of Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines and Dawson counties.

This leaves only Judge Alvin R. Allison, present county judge of Hockley county, in the race. However Montgomery's name appears on the Terry county ticket, but Mr. Kendrick explained that election officers would explain to voters that Mr. Montgomery had withdrawn.

Judge Allison was several thousand votes in the lead of his nearest opponent, and the withdrawal of Montgomery, who made a fine, clean race, came as no surprise to his friends, or the friends of Judge Allison.

PO Construction Supt. Arrives in B'field

Mr. H. L. Crosby, construction superintendent of the Martin Construction Co., of Kansas City, Mo., arrived Wednesday and will make this his home until the new Federal building is completed.

It is believed that within the next few weeks, work of digging the foundation will be started on the new postoffice building.

Stevenson Race Clear Of Mud-Slinging

While optimism clutched supporters of Coke Stevenson throughout the State following the endorsement of his candidacy for lieutenant governor by Governor elect W. Lee O'Daniel, the former speaker continued his scheduled campaign itinerary, pausing in Dallas Friday morning to issue a signed statement expressing thanks to Mr. O'Daniel for his pub-

Stevenson said he had refrained from any mud-slinging during his entire campaign, and had been unable to answer bitterness with bitterness when opponents attacked him.

In a statement this week, Stevenson said, "I am confident that my opponent received few votes in the first primary except by misunderstanding on the part of his supporters since the impression was created that he was a running mate to our next governor. My opponent was self-styled chosen cohort of Mr. O'Daniel in the first primary, and it is gratifying to me to see his claims repudiated by the governor elect himself."

"I recognize the right of the governor to have a lieutenant governor who will cooperate with him in carrying out his program. I recognized this right immediately after the first primary and made known to Mr. O'Daniel that if my candidacy was displeasing to him in any particular I would step out of the race because I wanted his administration to be completely successful. Stevenson said.

Three Teachers Hand Resignation to Board

Notice has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Merton Bell and Lyman Blackstock have submitted their resignation to the Brownfield school board. Mr. Bell is to enter Baylor Medical College, while Mrs. Bell will teach in some school near Dallas. Mr. Blackstock will take a position in the Odessa school system.

A tentative program for high school classes has been worked out, whereby only one teacher will be employed in the place of Mr. and Mrs. Bell. This teacher will be a specialist in the field of science. Mr. Blackstock's place will be filled with a teacher of social science and coach junior high school football. Several applications are expected within the next few days for these positions.

Thought They'd Had A Serious Wreck

Last Sunday morning just as the writer was about ready for church we discovered our Sunday coat was at the printing office, and the wife being ready (think of a woman being ready for church before her husband) we sent her to the office for it. She informed us that a great crowd was congregated about the hospital and in front of the Herald office, seventy-five people at least, she said, and was sure there had been a wreck as one of the officers was in the crowd.

Later in the day, we made further inquiry and found that they had five surgical operations Sunday, and four new citizens had arrived all the same day. No wonder there was a crowd down there.

Post Office Engineer Here House Hunting

Mr. Rich W. Pendergrast, who will be the engineer in charge of the building of the new postoffice in Brownfield, was here the past week end from Decatur, Texas, where he has been in charge of the construction of the postoffice building in that city. He was here house hunting in preparation of moving here.

He explained that he would have been here sooner, but some work had to be torn out and rebuilt at Decatur. He expects work to start on the postoffice building here in the next few weeks.

Brand New Distillery Started in Brownfield

Yes, sir, Brownfield has a new distillery. But before you call the constable, the sheriff, the highway patrol and G-Men, we hasten to explain that it is a solvent distillery installed by the Troy Noel Tailor shop, and is said to be the newest, the most successful type of machine in cleaning solvent of foreign particles known to science, and that there is nothing like it in this city or perhaps section.

Will state that we know little of cleaning and tailoring methods, but we believe Troy has something, but it will be best for those interested to call and see his new piece of machinery which cost hundreds of dollars to install. The machine or distillery more properly speaking is manufactured by the Butler Manufacturing Co., of Kansas City, Mo.

As explained in a circular, this machine which is a vacuum machine, absolutely does away with powders and such used in clearing up their solvent, and saves a lot of time in cleaning out and recharging, and is much less rough on garments. It also saves much time in cleaning and drying, taking not more than 25 minutes to dry an overcoat.

This distilled solvent, not only leaves a clear, soft liquid which is very penetrating to fabrics, but leaves them in prime condition, and when finished and returned to you, has the appearance of new material. But as stated above, describing this machine and its work, is quite beyond an every day reporter. Go and see it. Troy and his corps of ery which cost hundreds of dollars the machine.

Snyder Rodeo Boosters Here Monday Morning

Hardly a week passes now but a bunch of boosters from some place burst into our quiet little city with horns tooting, and loud speakers strutting their stuff to invite us one and all to come to their town, pay for a seat out in the hot sun, and watch some "hoss wrangler" ride an old pot bellied horse, rope a milk pen calf, or milk the old belled cow.

Snyder, it seems, is putting on some such a rodeo, and a live wire bunch was in Monday about eleven to tell us the glad tidings of great joy, with hill-billy music, singing and joke cracking. It may be that some like these amateur contests enough to go 100 miles and pay good money to see them, but not us.

Anyway we like to be sociable to visitors, and if this is worth anything to them in the way of advertising, well and good. Personally we wouldn't go that far to see the greatest bathing beauty revue on earth—not this hot weather.

Ropes Church of Christ Enjoys Short Lectures

Several from Brownfield, including J. H. Killion, local minister of the church of Christ, and Leonard Bankhead, who is doing the preaching for the revival at this church, attended the afternoon lectures at the Ropes church of Christ Sunday afternoon.

Among the five minute speakers were two named above, and Elders Garnett of Tanoka; Fry and Vance of Levelland; Otis Gatewood of Las Vegas, N. M., who is preaching for a revival at Meadow. G. C. Brewer of the Broadway church in Lubbock, was given 30 minutes. Their subjects were mostly evangelistic, missionary, officers duties, and church government.

The Ropes church is young, but seems to have some good workers. Elder O. M. Reynolds closed a fine meeting for them Sunday night.

Dallas News Sold Out By Noon Sunday

The story of the life of Governor-Elect Lee O'Daniel which started in the Dallas News, Sunday, certainly put a premium on sales of that journal here, according to Jim Graves proprietor of the Corner Drug Store. He had sold out all they had, directly after they arrived.

In fact, when we went in to call for our paper, there were prospective customers there wanting to buy. Don't think he ordered any extras for Sunday, but has increased his order now. This shows the governor-elect is still very popular, as those calling for papers after the supply was exhausted stated they wanted to start reading the story.

Trial by battle was used to decide cases in Scotland until the close of the sixteenth century.

Area dailies reported Sunday that there had been a wholesale resignation of the local school board. We are glad that after more deliberate consultation and study about the matter, the board has agreed to stick for the time being, even if they believe they are under fire. We believe there can be an adjustment of the matter that will be satisfactory to all concerned. However, none of us like criticism, and most especially if the criticism is aimed at us when we are doing a free job for the public.

Only one more week for the candidates who survived the onslaught of the first primary to dread the inevitable. After that there will be quiet in Texas, for as the Democrat hosts decide, so is the state. Generally speaking, no other party has even a look in at the pie in the grand old Lone Star state. Speaking of primaries, the word itself meaning first, how then are we to have a second first or second primary? We think the better word is what is gradually coming into use, "runoff primary" or "runoff election".

This is the last week the Constitutional Amendment is to run in the Herald. Be sure you read it and become acquainted with its features this week, as it will not appear again. If we understand it rightly, a change in the oath administered to county and state officials is to be effected. Under the present oath, there is a lot about fighting of duels, or playing second to a duelist, which we understand was put into the constitution way back in the "good old days" when the gentlemen of honor became offended, popped the offender in the face with his glove, to be latter called on by the second of the offender, who was allowed to choose weapons. Offender and Offensee with their seconds and a doctor then agreed on a place "down on the crick" where the paces were stepped off, and orders given to "fire!" Anyway, we have progressed from that day, for the better some ways, perhaps, and worse some. Anyway the dueling part of the oath is to be left out, as everyone, administrator and administee, as well as the audience grin when this part of the oath is given.

O'Daniel Endorsements Right Down Our Lane

There has been much comment over this section this week, pro and con the endorsement of certain runoff candidates in the August or second primary. Some of the criticism has come from original O'Daniel men as well as anti-O'Daniel voters in the July primary, many asserting with good grace that "a man without a poll tax should not advise a man with one, how to vote." Yet, Govelet O'Daniel told more than a half million voters how to vote in July. As for the Herald, we can go right down the line with our next governor. In fact, for the most part, they were the men we voted for in the first primary. We also recognize the fact that the manager of any private business has some right in selecting the corps of officials that work with him. He at least should know who he believes would better co-operate with him in making a go of the business, and Mr. O'Daniel has promised us a business administration. Let's help, not hinder. The selection of helpers begins at Washington, where the president has the right to select his cabinet members, and we even give our school superintendents the right to help in the selection of his faculty. We do this because we believe he will have less excuse for failure, if he gets the help he asks for. Therefore, we are voting for Coke Stevenson for Lieutenant Governor, believing that Pierce Brooks is an unknown real estate man, whose statesmanship is unproven, while to be." The News has a nice little plant, with a new linotype machine. The News editor has helped the Sentinel out some in the past three weeks by setting some of our type on this machine, for which he has our sincere thanks.—Seminole Sentinel.

Stevenson's record in the house of representatives is before us. We don't believe there is a cleaner young man before the Texas people today than Gerald Mann, but his experience in the practice of law is limited. We know that Walter Woodul is capable of meeting in contest the best lawyers of the nation. We are therefore for Woodul, for our Attorney General. We also have our reasons for believing Judge Critz is head and shoulder above his runoff opponent, for Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Judge Davidson, and while there is slight choice between Judge Stephens and Judge Graves for Judge of Court of Criminal Appeals, we follow O'Daniel in choosing Graves. Our Railroad Commission is one of the most important offices, as they also have to do with the regulation of our vast oil and other natural resources. Therefore it behooves us to choose a man in whom we have utmost confidence, and whose worth to that body is not questioned. Therefore, believing that this is a poor time to change horses, we are for Terrell. For Commissioner of the General Land office, we are supporting the candidacy of Bascom Giles, as the present Commissioner Mr. McDonald has been under fire a great deal of the time during his first administration, and where there is so much smoke, there is bound to have been some fire. Gies promises if elected to carry out the policies of the late lamented J. T. Robison, under whom he worked. Robison held that office with credit to the state some 20 years. In making our choice, we have no disparaging remarks for their opponents. We are sure they are good citizens and stand high in their respective communities. But we believe that the choice we are making would be better for the State of Texas. Personally, we believe we would like some of the men we aim to vote against, better than those we aim to vote for. We have heard much about politicians of late, but let us all remember that a statesman can at the same time be a good politician, while just a politician cannot at the same time be a statesman. The fact that a man has held office for years should not be held against him if he has made good. And if he has made good, there is little reason for making a change. Bank directors do not change their officials every few years for no apparent reason. When fuses blow out when the washing machine or oil burner is started, it's because electric motors take a momentary surge of a relatively large amount of electricity to set them in motion. Don't attempt to solve this problem by using too large for safety. You can get regular 15-ampere household fuses with a "time-lag" that takes care of this starting current without impairing their safety value. In hot weather, eggs should be gathered at least twice a day and marketed at least twice a week.

Brownfield Sr., and their deceased mother Mattie H. Brownfield, Defendants, and said petition alleging: THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS. AUGUST TERM A. D. 1938. TO THE HONORABLE DISTRICT COURT OF SAID COUNTY: 1. Nov comes S. E. Roberts, who resides in Randall County, Texas hereinafter called plaintiff, complaining of Mrs. May W. Sharp, a widow who resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Sallie W. Panneck joined by her husband S. W. Panneck, who resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Ordell Gambrell and her husband James H. Gambrell, who resides in El Paso, Texas, W. E. Harris who resides in Carrizozo, State of New Mexico, Jeffie Ray Rowe and her husband John A. Rowe, who reside in Los Angeles, California; Estell Harris Rogers and her husband G. L. Rogers of Albuquerque, State of New Mexico; Annie Bell Counts and her husband G. A. Counts who reside in West Point, New York; and Elizabeth Brownfield, Martha Brownfield, Jane Brownfield and A. D. Brownfield Jr. children of A. D. Brownfield, Sr. and their deceased mother Mattie H. Brownfield, who resides in Florida, State of New Mexico, that said defendants are all the children and children of deceased children of W. R. Harris and M. J. Harris, now deceased, hereinafter styled defendants; and for cause of action, plaintiff represents to the court that on or about the 1st day of January 1938, he was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises situated in Terry County, State of Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple to-wit: All of the South One-half of Section Number Sixteen (16) in Block T. Located by virtue of Certificate Number Eight (8) issued to the D. & W. Ry. Company original grantee containing 320 acres of land. Beginning at a stake the N. E. Corner of Survey No. 1 Block M for the Southeast corner of this tract. Thence West 1900.8 Vrs. to stake the Southwest corner of this tract. THENCE North 950.4 Vrs. to a stake for the N. W. Corner of this tract. THENCE East 1900.8 Vrs. to a stake for the N. E. Corner of this tract. THENCE South 950.4 Vrs. to a stake for the S. E. Corner of this tract and the place of beginning. 2. That on or about the 1st day of January A. D. 1938 defendants entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withholds from him possession thereof. 3. And for further cause of action plaintiff will show to the court that on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the land and premises described above belonged to the community estate of W. R. Harris and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that on the 11th day of May A. D. 1909 the said W. R. Harris was appointed Community Administrator or survivor of the Community estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris, that he duly qualified by taking the oath of office and giving bond as required by law on said date. That on the 30th day of October A. D. 1909, believing that he was the sole owner of the said land above described tract of land he the said W. R. Harris executed a Warranty Deed, as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield, that on that date the said W. R. Harris was the legal Community Administrator of said estate. That he erroneously executed said deed as an individual instead of as Community Administrator of the Community Estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Harris; That since the 30th day of October A. D. 1909 the said M. V. Brownfield and his assigns has been in peaceable possession of said land and premises and have paid all taxes on said land assessed. On account of the error in the execution of the deed by W. R. Harris to M. V. Brownfield a cloud has been cast upon the title to said land. Wherefore plaintiff prays Judgment of the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that plaintiff have judgment for title and possession of said above described land and premises, that the Deed of W. R. Harris as an individual conveying said land to M. V. Brownfield be declared to the act of W. R. Harris as Community Administrator of the estate of himself and his deceased wife M. J. Terry County Produces Some Good Millet stated that it was just right now for cutting, as it would make better forage and grain than if allowed to mature. The German variety has a much more abundance of leaves for forage than the old type of this grain. Our encyclopedias tell us that this grain, which Americans use exclusively for livestock feed, has been used for untold ages for human cereal in the orient.

L. A. Winningham, young farmer of the Meadow section, was showing a sample of his millet here this week, which is of the German type. While there appeared some blasted sections of the heads, in the main, it was well filled out, some of the heads measuring 11 inches in length. Evidently the blasting took place in the boot, as he stated little rain had fallen on it since heading.

"UNDER THE BAMBOO TREE" By James Weldon Johnson, J. Rosamond Johnson and Bob Cole

BIRTH OF A SONG

From ASCAP Files By Joseph R. Fliesler and Paul Carruth

The recent tragic death of James Weldon Johnson separated brothers, who had been composing songs for two generations. The elder was, besides, an outstanding lecturer and leader of his race.

They were born in Jacksonville, Florida, educated in Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga. J. Rosamond went to Boston to study music, James Weldon became principal of the Stanton School in Jacksonville.

The summer of 1899, they left for New York City to interest producers in some songs they had written. They were taken up by many celebrities, including the famous vaudeville performer, Bob Cole.

They soon formed a partnership with him and created many songs and frequently made the rounds together.

Walking up lower Broadway, J. Rosamond hummed a negro spiritual, and Bob Cole was quick to see that it had popular possibilities.

They wrote the song, but the publisher didn't like it, and kept it in a drawer until Marie Cahill sang it to success.

The Johnsons and Cole were the songwriting sensations of the world in the first decade of the century.

When the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers was formed in 1914 the brothers were able to protect their copyrighted songs against infringement by commercial users of music.

MISS ANNIE LETHA HAMILTON
WEDS WINSTON REEVES; SERVICES READ SUNDAY MORNING IN LUBBOCK

Miss Annie Letha Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hamilton of Brownfield, and Winston Reeves, of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Reeves of Plainview, married at 8 o'clock Sunday morning in the auditorium of the First Baptist educational building with Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor, reading the single ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged as the couple stood before an altar banked with Picardy gladioli and palms.

Mrs. J. B. Huckabee, jr., of Brownfield played Indian Love Call preceding the ceremony. Playing the traditional wedding marches she was accompanied by the bride's brother, Charles Hamilton, who played a muted trumpet. The Flower Song was played as the services were read.

The bride wore an imported alpaca dress of teal blue made dirndl fashion with black accessories. Her blue doll hat was trimmed with an ostrich plume. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli.

HARDIN JOYCE HONORED

In a re-check of the records of the high school graduates it was discovered that an error had been made in transferring the grades of Hardin Joyce from the "circulating card" to the register and permanent record card, and that he was entitled to recognition as co-winner of highest honors in the Brownfield high school graduating class this spring. It is to be regretted that the teacher made the error in transcribing the grade, but he is not to be blamed in any way whatsoever, as it was clearly an unintentional error on his part. This school is glad to announce the honor that is due Hardin and regret that he was not so recognized publicly in the exercises.

In making this announcement, the school in no way detracts from the honors so rightly given the other winner—Vondee Lewis—and attests to the very fine young lady that she is, who has probably been of more help to the school and the faculty than any other person that has ever graduated from this high school. Vondee went over the matter with the superintendent and understands fully how the error came. Both of these splendid young people will attend Texas Technological College next year and will divide the advantages of a scholarship.

WHAT DO BANKERS CONSIDER A GOOD BANK LOAN?

Most bankers consider a loan good if it possesses the following qualifications:—

1. A borrower who has a good business reputation and credit standing.
2. A sound purpose for which the loan is to be used other than a fixed investment in a business, for this type of loan is not a proper field for a commercial bank.
3. A reasonably short term until repayment for commercial loans adequate ment for commercial loans, adequate estate loans.
4. Reasonable proof of dependable means for repaying the loan when due, or a definite schedule for repayment.

These banks have many good loans on their books. We are making new ones constantly. In every loan our first consideration is to safeguard the deposits entrusted to our care.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—Striving desperately to gauge the effect of W. Lee O'Daniel's precedent-shattering action in endorsing a slate of six candidates for State offices in the August runoff primary, political headquarters and political managers here this week end presented a scene of indescribable confusion.

The first flush of joyful enthusiasm which preceded the camps of the O'Daniels blessed candidates cooled rapidly, as hasty surveys in every section of the State brought in a wide variety of reports on the situation.

The first axiom in the lexicon of the politician is "Don't mess with the other guy's race." O'Daniel wiped that admonition off the slate as calmly as he disregarded all the rules of campaigning in the first primary, and called for his over half million supporters to elect Walter Woodul, Judge C. V. Terrell, Coke Stevenson, Bascom Giles, and Judges Richard Critz and Harry Graves. He said he needed these men to assure the "business administration" that the voters asked for. For a few hours, the blessed candidates and their workers seemed to think their races were "in the bag." Then the squawks began filtering in. Estimates of O'Daniel's action ranged all the way from a "courageous non-political act" to a "double-cross." Supporters of Gerald Mann and Jerry Sadler, opponents of Woodul and Terrell, were loudest in their protests. It became very obvious, very quickly, that O'Daniel would not lead all of his half million supporters into the camps of the endorsed group.

Allred's Hand Seen
O'Daniel spent a week in Galveston as the guest of Maco Stewart, insurance executive and political power on the island. Stewart is closely allied with Tom Holbrook, lame-duck State senator from Galveston. Then the governor-elect visited in Austin with Gov. Allred. Holbrook is reported here to have drafted the endorsement which O'Daniel made in his now famous radio talk. Allred is the enthusiastic backer of some of the endorsed candidates, including Woodul, Terrell, Giles, and the two judges. Political circles here buzzed with the report that Allred and Stewart (the latter acting through Holbrook) were responsible. The story that the endorsement were forthcoming was freely told in Austin hotel corridors two days before the speech, and Holbrook privately told the story to his friends, soon after the Mansion conference with O'Daniel and Allred.

Candidates Still Wonder
Both the endorsed candidates and those left on the doorstep were wondering what the effect will be. Consensus of belief was that O'Daniel would recruit some votes for the blessed slate, but there was much doubt expressed here as to whether he would be able to carry the whole ticket. But O'Daniel has upset the established rules of political campaigning so consistently and with such success that few observers here were willing to make any forecast as to the outcome of anything he has done. At the week end O'Daniel was reported here to have admitted he had received out-numbered commentary messages about two to one. Politicians here universally agreed the endorsement will bring out a huge vote in the runoff primary, when a light vote had been anticipated previously.

Flood Probe Drags
A boom for Sen. Albert Stone, of Brenham, to make the race for congress two years hence against Lyndon Johnson, was one political development in the wake of the lower Colorado river flood this week. Stone was non-committal, and two years is a long time for the voters to stay mad, even if they were washed out by floods.

The Senate investigating committee, which is delaying into charges that improper operation of Buchanan Lake aggravated the June flood, halted its inquiry after two days of testimony, in which a direct conflict of engineering opinion developed—the Colorado River authority engineers contending there was no improper operation, and Dean Taylor of Texas University engineering school taking the opposite view. The probe is to resume when engineering data said to be needed to determine the facts about the flood, is assembled this week. Meanwhile, the Department of the Interior, which sent an investigator to the scene, made public his report, exonerating the Authority management, and caustically charging that a "flood of propaganda" had been stirred up among the washed-out valley farmers by persons opposed to the Federal power development program.

Austin Notes
The University of Texas will open its long session next month without a permanent president, members of the Board of Regents said after a meeting here this week. Dr. J. W. Calhoun, comptroller, is acting president. The long-standing political feud between Gov. Allred and Rep. Martin Dies broke out again when Dies announced in Washington that he will appear before the Senate judiciary committee in January and oppose confirmation of Allred as Federal Judge of South Texas. The bitterness between Allred and Dies flared up two years ago when Clyde Smith ran against Dies for Congress, and Dies claimed Smith, assistant Secretary of State during Allred's first administration, was put into the race against him by the Governor. Inasmuch as the Allred appointment was arranged by Senators Morris Sheppard, and Tom Connally, and Vice President John Garner, Dies' protest—if he goes through with it—isn't expected to carry much weight. Capitol employees were wondering after the O'Daniel endorsements, if the undeserved commitments made by the endorsed group might mean that they will be forced to let O'Daniel dictate the patronage in these four extensive State departments, if the endorsed slate wins. The Attorney General,

ROADS AND RELIGION

Woman's three major interests, according to an old German proverb, are her children, her kitchen and her church. While modern civilization has considerably widened her horizons, these interests still remain supreme in the life of the typical American woman. Especially is this true of the small towns and rural communities where both men and women find their chief social and cultural life closely interwoven with their church.

The church gatherings in many areas form the top spot in the entertainment program for the entire year. The weekly meeting of the missionary society provides an ideal opportunity for the ladies of the community to get together for a needle-and-talk session. Chicken dinners in the church basement during the winter and ice cream socials and such on the church lawn during the summer bring the members of the congregation together at intervals throughout the year. Within the church are formed numerous clubs of men, women and children with study or recreation as their chief aim.

It is, of course, on Sunday that the church assumes its greatest importance. Sunday school for the children and morning and evening services for the adults play their part in keeping up a high standard for the moral and spiritual life of the community.

Because of the important part played by the church in rural American life, the fact that many of our citizens are unable to attend church because of bad roads becomes especially serious. Sixty per cent of the 32,000,000 farm people in the United States live on unimproved dirt roads which bad weather often makes completely impassable. This means that more than 16,000,000 Americans are unable to get to church during many months of the year.

What can be accomplished by a church congregation with the aid of good roads is effectively demonstrated by the activities of the Hollandale Baptist Church. Until recently, the rural life in that section in the heart of the Mississippi Delta had been the old southern plantation system with negroes farming the land and making up the bulk of the population. Within the past few years, however, a large number of white people have moved there to buy and develop the land reclaimed by the government drainage program.

Since there were no churches for white people in the rural districts of that section, there was soon established a mission, a branch of the Hollandale Baptist Church, in a community 12 miles east of Hollandale. The mission church has since become a thriving organization with approximately half of the congregation dependent on buses for transportation to Sunday school and church. These buses, which are the same type as those used in carrying farm children to and from school, also serve to bring the congregation from the rural districts south, east and west of the town to the Hollandale Baptists Church.

"Good roads have been one of the greatest factors in the success of this work," writes Reverend L. L. Douglas, pastor of the Hollandale church. "Washington County, in which Hollandale is located, has a splendid road system. The main highways are paved, while the secondary roads are either gravelled or rock surfaced. Without this system of good roads it would be impossible for us to do what we are doing, since the nature of this delta soil is such that it is practically impossible to drive a heavily loaded bus over the native dirt roads when wet."

Bruce Knight and family have returned from their vacation at a mountain resort in New Mexico.

Roy Huckleberry is here visiting his mother and other relatives.

Railroad Commission, and Land Office control a good many hundred fat jobs, and the Lieutenant Governor also has some patronage. Should O'Daniel seek to curtail employees to save expense, many employees feel, the endorsed candidates, if they are elected, might have to stand for substantial reduction of personnel in these departments. . . . O'Daniel's announcement that he will seek to speed up court procedure was another demonstration of either courage or ignorance. No question ever comes before the Legislature that causes more strife. Most of the solons are lawyers, and each has a different idea about reforming court procedure. Usually, bitter debate rages for weeks, and then the reform bills die in committee.

Announcement was made recently that the Boy Scouts would again have an exhibit at the South Plain Fair to be held in Lubbock from September 26 to October 1.

Thard Dockery of Lubbock is general chairman of the Boy Scout Fair Committee and his working with him Vernon Neill, exhibits; Ed Allen, special activities; H. B. Bryan, maintenance and George Hale, preparation.

Allen announced that there will be special Scout activities in front of the Scout exhibit building each night. Neill, in a statement about the exhibits, said that there would be Merit Badge exhibits by Patrols, Troops and Individual Scout, Cub and Leader exhibits. Scouts and Cubs over the South Plains are expected to take part one hundred per cent, Dockery said.

A hint for women whose husbands enjoy fishing: Bass, trout or other fish need leave no tell-tale odor on kitchenware. Simply use a dilute solution of vinegar to deodorize cutlery and pans which have been used for fish.

Push the Pullets and Cull the Drones

"A hen does not stop laying because she is molting, but molts because she has already stopped laying," says a poultry authority. Hens which begin molting in June, July or August brand themselves as short-season layers and if they have not already been culled out, had best be disposed of before the fall laying season. The feed they would eat can be better used by pullets and the hens which will molt later.

If these hens drones are not already fat it will take only a few days in the coop on a rich fattening ration to put them in condition to can for family use, or for market. It is mistaken economy to take a poor hen to market, or to put in a can one too thin to kill for Sunday dinner. City dealers know better than to offer their trade hens that are not fat. If they must buy them poor, they feed them up before offering them for sale, and they therefore buy thin hens with this extra expense in view. The farmer loses the sale of the few pounds of grain it would take to fatten them and pays the market man to finish the job.

Fall and winter egg production, when the price is highest, comes from well developed pullets and late-molting hens. Most people prefer eggs from mature hens for early spring hatching, and those which have kept laying throughout the summer go into late but quick molt, and are likely to furnish the earliest hatching eggs. The same habit indicates a high annual egg production, which makes them the most desirable for producing next year's pullets.

Chickens, like people, must have a variety of food to keep healthy and vigorous. No one kind of grain will give them what they need, and while the ration should be built around the grains raised on the farm, as a matter of economical production, it is also poor economy to deprive either growing pullets or laying hens of other grains and mixed mashes to supplement the corn or grain sorghums which nearly every Southwestern farm grows. Wheat is the best single grain for poultry, but it, too, must be supplemented by animal or vegetable proteins, which are best supplied by skim milk or scientifically compounded mash feeds. The label on mixed feed tells its composition.

However well the skilled poultryman gets along with a flock under close confinement, his intensive methods are not adapted to farm poultry production. Sunshine and green feed are the natural vitamin-carrying elements, and if the farm flock is given free access to them, while observing the same sanitary precautions of the poultry specialist, there is little doubt that the farm flock will be more resistant to disease, more productive in proportion to the feed used, and therefore more profitable per hen than the "egg factory" type of operation.

The Southwest is fortunate in that green feed may be grown for use in every month in the year, thus avoiding much of the winter expense for sprouted grains; and its many sunny days throughout the cold season reduces the need for cod liver oil in the ration. At this season preparations for winter greens are in order. If alfalfa or sweet clover is not already growing it can be seeded as late as the first of September; mustard or turnips sown now will give quick greens and fill in the gap until wheat, oats or barley are ready. Italian rye grass is making a good showing in most of the Southwest for winter pasture, and may be as useful in the poultry run as in the field.

The land for fall and winter greens must be ready for the seed when the time comes. If it is not ready now it is none too soon to begin preparing the kind of seed bed suited to the crop which is to be sown. A good seed bed is half the job.

Don't throw away candies you use for decoration in the winter just because they have become soiled. They can be cleaned to look like new with a cloth saturated in alcohol.

We thank Dr. H. H. Hughes, local dentist for his renewal.

Make Hard Fight On Marijuana Peddlers

AUSTIN, August 15.—Marijuana—the hemp plant that destroys the brain tissues of addicts—is being dealt death blows by investigators of the state narcotic bureau and federal agents, according to state police reports.

Captain J. E. Wheatley, head of the state bureau, stated in his report to Col. H. H. Carmichael, state police director, that a large number of marijuana fields have been destroyed by state and local officers since the narcotic law was put into effect last September. The "reefer" he pointed out, has been found flourishing in flower pots, fields, along creek and river banks and other places where moisture is abundant. During the past ten months 551 charges have been brought against persons trafficking in narcotics in Texas. A large number of these complaints were against marijuana distribution. The largest raid upon a marijuana field was made only last month and several trucks were required in hauling the hemp away for destruction by the officers. Local peace officers and federal agents work closely with state investigators in many of these instances.

Addicts crush the flowers of the marijuana plant and roll the leafy substance into cigars which are peddled at prices ranging from ten to fifty cents each, the report continued. The cost fluctuates in various sections of the state, depending upon risks peddlers must take in distributing their product. However, there is such a demand from habitual smokers of the "reefer" that they will make purchases at any cost—as long as the cost is borne by inefficient citizens.

State narcotic authorities estimate that crime, particularly thefts, drop by as much as fifty per cent when unrelenting raids are made upon dope dens. Captain Wheatley explained that addicts do not hesitate to steal valuable property which they in turn sell at ridiculously low prices.

DOVE HUNTERS REGULATIONS ANNOUNCED

AUSTIN, Aug. 3.—Dove hunters of Texas will not be subjected to a series of conflicting regulations such as confused them last year, the game department announced.

Compared to those of last year, the 1938 regulations are fairly uniform.

Combined state and federal laws governing both mourning and white-winged doves provide the following open seasons:

From September 1 to October 31 in counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin and Hunt, and all counties north thereof, and the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockway, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta and Franklin.

In the remainder of the state the open season on both species is from September 15, to November 15. Below the Texas-Mexican railway in the Rio Grande valley, however, only four days of shooting each week during the open season will be allowed—on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturdays, and Sundays—but this exception is not applicable to Webb and Zapata counties.

The hours for shooting mourning and white-winged doves during the open season are from 7 a. m. to sunset.

Neither species may be shot with a weapon other than a shotgun, and it shall not be larger than No. 10 gauge. If it is a repeating automatic shotgun it must be permanently plugged to a three-shell capacity.

The daily bag limit is 15 in the aggregate of both mourning doves and white-wings. The possession limit also is 15 in the aggregate of both species.

Baiting of doves of either species is prohibited by federal regulations.

LIGHTS KEEP HENS LAYING LATER IN SEASON.

The hillbilly song, "When Its Lamp Lighting Time In The Valley," really means something to southwestern poultrymen as the middle of August rolls by, according to Paul E. Estill of Sand Springs, Oklahoma. He recommends burning a small electric light all night in every laying house beginning this week.

Estill, trustee of the Sand Springs Home Farms, has reached this conclusion through his experience with 3,000 to 10,000 hens each year during the past five years and reports that using a 15-watt bulb in a 20x20 laying house with 125 hens increases egg production every time.

First, the production period is lengthened by at least two months and the hens are kept laying through September, October, and November. Hens that molt in September do not give their flock owners the benefit of high egg prices during late fall and early winter, but all-night lights will keep some hens going until mid-December.

During late summer weeks, hens can leave their roosts and get a drink if the weather is hot. Any flock will finish its production period in better health, if lights are provided,

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

In the short period of time between the first and second primaries it will be impossible for me to make a complete canvass of the county. In view of this fact I am asking those whom I may not be able to contact to consider this as a solicitation for your vote and influence, for the office of County Clerk, in the second primary of August 27th.

because each hen gets a chance to eat and drink during the night. This tends to make the flock more uniform in strength and vitality because timid hens are not fought away from the feeders, Estill explained.

"BRASS"

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the International Federation of Trade Unions in Oslo in May of this year, the Secretary of the Polish National Trade Union Federation said:

"Conditions in Russia are like those of the darkest ages. The unions lack freedom."

The General Secretary of the Belgian National Trade Union Federation said of the Russian Trade Unions under Communism:

"They do not pay a penny for these strikes because strikes are forbidden under threats of the death penalty."

And the American Communist Party has the brass to invite American laboring men on farms and in factories to join with them. For downright gall that takes rank with the youth on trial for killing his mother and father who pleaded for mercy on the score that he was an orphan.—Abilene Times.
