RAPID BUT NOT A "MUSHROOM" GROWTH DESCRIBES THE J. B. KNIGHT STORES

From a Very Modest Start in a Store With 2500 Feet of Floor Space, This Firm Has Spread to Two Buildings Combining Some 15,000 Square Feet of Space.

This week, we take for our sketch, the J. B. Knight Hardware and furniture stores. It is our intention to try to sketch a different kind of business each week. It will take many weeks, but we'll keep after it until we tell the story of all of them. Perhaps some weeks we may double up on some of them, in order to finish up sooner. Will say for the benefit of the reader that none of these firms have solicited or expected these writeups. They are free as well as voluntary on our part.

In the good year 1924, a middle aged man, W. M. Ashworth, and a young man, J. B. Knight, landed in Brownfield from Graham, Texas. Up to that time Mr. Knight had been an employee of Mr. Ashworth, but in Brownfield a 25X100 store building (the south half of the present store) was rented, and Mr. Knight became one of the proprietors in the enterprise. A very modest but modern stock of groceries was installed on one side and shelf hardware on the other. From this modest beginning, we wish to trace the growth of the splendid establishment to the present time.

In about one year from May 1, 1924, Mr. L. F. Hudgens purchased the interest of Mr. Ashworth in the business, and the hardware and grocery stocks were increased to the full capacity of the store, and two years later, in 1927, the north half of the store that had been occupied by the Max Winkler Dry Goods, was leased, and the hardware and furniture stock greatly enlarged, and the grocery business confined to the south building. In 1934, Mr. Hudgens purchased the grocery business individually, leaving the hardware and furniture business to Mr. Knight and Claude Hudgens, son, of L. F. Hudgens. In 1935, the grocery business was moved to the present site.

During the same year, Messrs. Knight and his partner removed the partition walls separating their store, giving them double the floor space, not to mention a tile warehouse built in the rear, that ran back to the alley, 140 feet. This with the balconies, gave them around 8000 feet of floor space. The show windows were remodeled, and the entire store turned into one of the most modern on the south plains. The stock has been kept to par and above, with hardware and furniture of the best type, yet at prices that have moved these stocks, to be replaced with newer stock in minimum time.

One of the largest deals in the history of Brownfield was consummated on April 1, 1937, when Hudgens & Knight purchased the large hardware and furniture stock of one of their competitors, the Brownfield Hardware and Furniture Company. It was out of the question to consider the consolidation in either one of the two stores, so the location of the Brownfield Hardware on west Main was leased by the new owners, and the two huge stocks put in this building, while the consolidated stock of hardware was housed in the building on the west side of the square. As luck would have it, the alley entrance to the back of the hardware, and the side entrance to the furniture store, were almost directly across the alley from each other, making quick communication between the two stores possible.

On December 20th, Mr. Knight

B. Martin and family are entitled to a pass to the—purchased the interest of his partner, Claude Hudgens, and became sole owner and manager. Mr. Hudgens purchased a hardware business in Levelland and soon moved to that city. Now just a word about the proprietor, who is still a young man as age goes these days.

He was born January 7, 1899, at Graham, Texas, where he was reared, educated and married, but the children have all been born in Brownfield. So Brownfield is really and truly the home of the Knight family. Mr. Knight has always been found among those who believe that Brownfield has a place in the sun, and has lent his influence as well as his financial support to every worthwhile institution. He has served on both the school board as well as the city council, and has in other ways been a help and booster for the city and county.

Mr. Knight is a man of pleasing disposition, but wastes little time in frivolity. He has a beautiful home on east Cardwell street, and takes great pride in keeping it in tiptop shape. At his store, wishes of the customer is always considered of importance. You are waited on with the same consideration whether you are buying 5c or $500.00 worth of goods—and if your credit is good anywhere—it is good at the Knight Hardware and Furniture stores.

Hardware Burglarized Monday Night

Thieves broke into the J. B. Knight Hardware store on the west side of the square sometime Monday night. Entrance was made from the skylight by means of a rope. Exit was made by a rear door, as it was an easy matter to get out after getting in. The rope was still at the store, being a large grass rope, probably used in towing cars.

Six guns were taken, five from the front, and one from the case, mostly high priced automatic and pump shot guns and rifles. A quantity of ammunition was taken, probably around $25.00 worth, according to Mr. Knight. It is believed that the thieves were smart enough to handle the rope with gloves as no finger prints seem to have been found, and very few clues left for officers to work on.

The whole town has been going through a seige of thievery of late, the like of which we have not had in some years. One can hardly leave a car parked two minutes after dark without it being rifled of anything valuable. Two ladies had purses stolen from cars Monday night, and the writer had his car rifled last Wednesday night almost under a light, while in the house eating supper.

Many have seen cars of late patrolling through darkened streets and alleys, and it has been reported to us they are high school boys, and officers are of the opinion they about have them spotted. Such must be stopped, even if the night force has to be doubled and tripled for awhile, or these young thieves will take in the town. They have been taking gas for some time, now they are taking anti-freeze out of cars.

Of course, when the arrests are made, some parents are going to howl to high heaven, and they don't have any more idea than a monkey where their boys are after dark. Of course, the disgrace of a jail and probably a pen sentence is going to break the heart of some good mother, but other people and their property must be respected and protected.

Check up on your boy, and find where he spends his time after dark and in whose company. Perhaps you would be surprised.

Mrs. Wilson Collins was a guest of the Collins family in Lamesa the past week.

Believe This Will Be Beet Sugar Area.

Last Saturday, C. P. Obar and Fred McNabb of the Meadow section, were in to put in a notice that they are now agents for the famous Peerless irrigation pumps for Terry, Lynn and Yoakum counties. Mr. Obar has had three years of experience with these pumps, and knows what they are, and his neighbors who do not irrigate will testify that he has made crops whether it rained or not. In fact, they are "crop insurance" and pay off.

Mr. Obar broached the question of sugar beets and stated that if they could get a number of irrigation plants installed in time, a large acreage would probably be planted in Terry county. He stated the government would now give aid in installing these pumps. We made mention of the apparent success of sugar beet culture north of us, and the likelihood that some day a sugar factory to use them might be established somewhere on the south plains.

Whereupon, Mr. Obar remarked that experts on sugar beet culture had declared that our sandier or mixed soils, especially in the north part of the county, was really better for sugar beets than the harder land further north. He said further, that it was entirely possible with a large beet acreage in the next few years to get a sugar mill in Terry county.

We know that it is a cinch that we must go sparingly on cotton in the future if it is to bring us anything like what it is worth to raise and gather it.

Firemen Hold Their Annual Banquet

Terry's White Kitchen was the scene of the annual banquet of the Brownfield Voluntary Firemen and their invited guests Wednesday night of this week. Some thirty-five people were served during this banquet of turkey and roast pork ham, with all the trimmings. It was truly a feast, well prepared and served.

Following the banquet, E. D. Jones, master of ceremonies called on several local people, including Clyde C. Coleman, Mayor, J. E. Shelton, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dudley Repp of the Texas Compress Co., who made short addresses. Mr. Bert Herrin, of the Panhandle Construction Co., Supt. of the new water and sewerage construction here, also made an address, as well as Earl E. Jones local theatre man, who invited all present to see a free show following the banquet.

The final, a splendid address delivered by Mr. Johnny Johnson, (Shonny Shonson) of Houston, service promotional man of the American Legion, who told of the work of the Legion and Auxiliary in trying to rehabilitate veterans and their families, especially those in bad health.

Committee of Child Welfare. As an active member, Judge Allison plans active work in the campaign to provide for underprivileged and crippled children.

Throughout his campaign last summer, one of the highlights of his speechmaking tours was "less money for ticks in east Texas and more money for our crippled and destitute children." As county Judge of Hockley county, he has had quite a lot of experience in such work that will stand him well as a committeeman.

Lester McPherson, road maintenance superintendent, went to Lubbock Thursday to attend a First Aid Demonstration school.

LIONS HELP BLIND LADY TO GET STARTED

Mrs. Chambliss (Above) Just Wants a Chance

This is the Lions Concession Stand that she operates as it appears on the main floor of the Terry County Courthouse.

A very interesting story could be told by Mrs. Chambliss, if she were inclined to talk. For five years she has lived behind closed doors—doors closed far more tightly than any closed doors in the lives of the average people—doors that have refused to be opened.

Mrs. Chambliss is blind. Just recently, the Lions Club of Brownfield, gave Mrs. Chambliss an opportunity to partially open those doors of blindness, by giving her a business in which she might occupy her time profitably. In this business, she has an opportunity to make a living for herself, her four children, and her sick husband.

Yes, she has the opportunity. The stock is paid for; her stand equipment is clear of debt; she has no business rent to pay—no overhead to speak of; all net profit goes to her. Jane Brownfield and Buster Beck have graciously agreed to keep books for her.

Everything is in her favor now IF—

If half the people of Brownfield and community will stand behind her.

If half of the tobacco bought by the men who represent any of the outstanding churches of Brownfield were bought from Mrs. Chambliss, her living problem would be solved.

If half of the men and women in Brownfield who say they want to help those who are less fortunate than themselves, would buy their magazines from Mrs. Chambliss, her living problem would be solved.

Mrs. Chambliss asks nothing from charity.

She asks only this question: "Although I am blind, will the people in Brownfield who buy cigarettes and cigars, candies, gum, magazines; buy part of them from me? Will they give me just as no business rent to pay—no overhead to speak of; all net profit I might make an honest living?" The fifty members of the Lions Club are earnestly awaiting the answer from the general public.

Gomez Exes Travel 1400 Miles For Home Coming

Approximately 175 "Exes", visitors and "Homefolk" sat down together at beautifully laid and bounteously laden banquet tables on Friday evening, December 2, in the Gomez school building in observance of the Second Annual Home-Coming of the Gomez school and community.

The tables were festive with their Yuletide decorations as multi-colored lights peered out from among sprigs of holly offset by miniature pine trees, equidistantly planted down the center of each long table. The menu consisting of baked turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, green beans, creamed potatoes, candid yams, cranberry sauce, frozen salad, cherry pie ala mode, mints, nuts, coffee and was prepared and served by the cooks under the direction of the local P.-T. A. and Ex-Students Association, who sponsored the event.

The following program was rendered with Mr. Homer Winston of Brownfield presiding as Toast Master of the evening.

1. Invocation, Rev. A. L. Hicks, Pastor of the local First Baptist church.
2. Welcome, Miss Nellie Mae McLeroy.
3. Response, Mrs. John C. Shinn of Plainview.
4. Vocal Solo, Miss Patsy Ross Black.
5. Reading, Billy Max Condra.
6. Organization of Annual Home Coming event, Miss Nellie Mae McLeroy.

The officers as elected were namely, President, Mrs. Charlie Moore of Brownfield; Vice President, Miss Nellie Mae McLeroy; Secretary, Mr. Ross O. Black; Treasurer, Mrs. H. N. Key; Reporter, Mrs. M. C. Butler of Lubbock.

7. Reading, Miss Grace Tarpley of Brownfield.
8. Vocal Solo, Miss Maxine Kelley of Quemado.

10. Recognition of "Exes" and visitors, Homer Winston.
11. Awarding of prizes, Supt. X. R. Banks. Mr. R. J. Purcell of Tulare, California, drove 1400 miles to claim the prize for the "Ex" coming the greatest distance to the banquet, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Jr., of Brownfield was awarded the prize for having sent the largest number of children to Gomez school, seven in number. Miss Marie Moore of Brownfield topped the scales at 103 pounds won the prize that was given to the smallest Ex in pounds, attending the banquet, Mr. Ross O. Black of Gomez boasted 195 pounds of brawn and muscle and took home the prize awarded the largest Ex in attendance at the affair.

Group singing led by Mrs. Mon Telford of Brownfield. The song, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," was dedicated to the Exes who now are braving the sea of Matrimony together and who spent with their sweetheart days in the Gomez school or community. Some fifty couples stood during the rendition of the song, displaying their corsages of mistle toe tied with the school colors that were pinned upon them as they entered.

Benediction, Mr. Will Black. The following Ex-Teachers were present, County Supt. and Mrs. Lee Fulton of Brownfield; Miss Creola Moore of Plains; Mrs. Ruth Bowers Parks of Lubbock; Mrs. John C. Shinn of Plainview; Mrs. Wood E. Johnson of Johnson community; Mr. Terry C. Redford of Brownfield.

THE OLD TOWN IS ALL "LIT UP" FOR THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY SEASON

Stringers of Street Lights, Combined With Many Beautiful Window Displays Turn Minds to Near Approach of Christmas. Many Residences Being Decorated

The city of Brownfield is all "lit up" like a Poleox church, if you know how they are lit up these nights, which makes us know that it will soon be time for old Santa Claus to visit all the good little children again in the near future. But to us oldsters, its greatest reminder is "have I done my Christmas shopping?" Anyway, the lights are beautiful and well arranged.

We note also, that a number of the residences have been all nicely decorated with outdoor lights in the Christmas colors, and they make us want to stop, look and admire. Many, many more of them however, could be improved, and make the old town look more inviting and suggestive of the holidays with just a few wreaths and strings of colored lights. Let us get our electrician busy on a plan to put all our homes in a Christmas look if possible this week.

Friday (today) is the big day of all days when several thousand children from the trade area are expected to put in their appearance here for a great time all day long. First, there will be the big parade, then there will be the distribution of Christmas packages, and then they will have the afternoon to see the free picture, which is the "Sky Giants," that Mr. Earl Jones is putting on especially for the children at the Rialto.

Yes, sir, it is going to be a big day for all. The children to come, see and conquer, and the older ones to get a kick out of seeing the kids get a kick out of the day. Don't let nothing short of sickness keep you away today. Come, and let's all have a great time together.

Foundation of Water Works Completed

Workmen have completed the foundations of Brownfield's new $56,000.00 Waterworks System's Reservoir and pump houses, F. E. Whitaker, resident engineer for the Public Works Administration, which has provided an outright grant of $26,100.00 toward the project, reported to the Regional Director, Geo. M. Bull, that completion of this important phase of the job has come well ahead of schedule.

Work on this and other PWA-financed projects has been speeded up to comply with Administrator Harold L. Ickes' order that men and materials be put to work as quickly as possible.

The water system is slated to be ready for use by March 20, 1939.

Twenty men are employed on the job and for each of these wage earners two and one half other family heads are having a livelihood in the forests, mines, factories and other agencies producing and supplying the building materials used.

With the completion of foundations, the next construction step will be the construction of pump houses, reservoir, tower and water tank, and new water mains.

Our Farmers Vote For Retention of Quotas

The farmers of Terry county voted overwhelmingly, according to the number of votes cast for the retention of farm quotas on cotton in Terry county, according to information given us at the office of R. N. McClain, county agent.

The vote was 554 for and 129 against, or a favorable vote of 77 per cent, which was about the same in Texas, and for the cotton belt as a whole. Of course it was disappointment to the cotton men (not raisers) but dealers, who want farmers to raise cotton to the saturation point—cotton they can't possibly sell at any price.

But the Herald has felt all along that it was farmers who were engaged in cotton production, and it was their business to approve or reject the quota as they saw fit. Farmers don't usually tell us town people what and when to stock, and if they did most of us would pay darn little attention to it.

It Pays to Advertise In The Herald

A lady, wife of a groceryman of Jayton came up on Friday, Dec. 2, to see the Yellowhammers and Cubs play, but had the misfortune to lose her left hand glove. A small ad was placed in last Friday's issue, and Monday we started her glove to her at Rotan.

The glove was found by Claudie Gore, son of Sheriff and Mrs. Ches Gore. No trouble to find any lost article by advertising if it so happens that an HONEST person finds it.

Don't Lay Blame on All Football Boys

Just because three of the football boys are in the toils of the law for petty thefts, don't say "the football team is in trouble." There are still some twenty or thirty of the Cubs that the mark is not on, and we certainly hope they continue to walk the way of good citizens.

But for three, it looks bad, folks. The county attorney permitted the writer to read their sworn statements. We are all very sorry that after a very successful season, ANY of the Cubs should turn out thus, but let us thank the Lord that there are no more than these and hope there won't be.

In the meantime, let us support our officers 100 per cent in trying to keep the town clear of petty thievery. They are doing their sworn duty, and let's support them no matter where the ax falls.

Supt. Fanklin Visits Herald Office

Supt. Homer Franklin, of the Meadow schools, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office early this week, and gave us some information about his basketball expectations this year. Among which, he stated that the Meadow girls team was to entertain the State AAU champions, December 16-17.

The champion for 1937 school year was the Allison high school girls, placing first and Meadow 4th. The Meadow girls played the state professional champions, representing a life insurance company at Galveston, last Friday night, being defeated 35 to 13. Some of the Galveston girls were around 6 feet tall.

R. D. Jones Shoots End Of One Finger off

R. D. Jones, of the Johnson community had the painful experience of getting a finger shot off while out hunting Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Jones had missed several shots and stuck his finger in the end of the barrel to see how dirty the gun was, when it was accidentally discharged.

Mr. Jones was brought to the hospital to have the finger dressed. No other finger was badly damaged.

Two Arrested For Drunken Driving

Two men with a Illinois license on their car were picked up by the night force Tuesday night for reckless driving, and it was found that they were intoxicated after being arrested. They were put in jail, and were still in Wednesday.

It was stated that one of them was an oil well driller, and the other an oil field worker. Their car was confiscated.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin and Miss Vona Lee Ditto were Sunday visitors in Lubbock.

Around the Clock

by e. g. d.

A Statewide Cooperative Educational Activity for the Christmas season of 1938 has been sponsored by the newspapers and radio and the following Carol of Danish origin is contributed this week: Christmas brings joy to every heart

Sets old and young rejoicing,
What angels sang once to all the earth

Oh hear the children voicing,
Bright is the tree with lights aglow,

Like birds that perch together,
The child that holdeth Christmas dear

Shall keep these joys forever,
Once to this earth our Savior came

An infant poor and lowly
To open to us those gardens fair,
Where dwell his Angels holy,
Christmas joy He bringeth us,
The Christ child, King of Heaven,
To every little child he saith,
"Shall Angel wings be given."

Great interest in the Christmas prizes given yearly by the Chamber of Commerce is being shown by the lovely trees, both inside and outside. Brownfield is really "lit up" in a charming homey way.

All the children in Brownfield and environs will make merry this week, December 16, as a result of the good fellowship of the business men of Brownfield, a live Chamber of Commerce, a dependable club of representative women who "do things" and a big hearted gentleman, Mr. E. E. Jones.

ATTENDS TEA IN LUBBOCK

Those who attended the tea at the Tech Dormitory, December 10, were Mesdames E. D. Jones, W. H. Dallas, M. G. Tarpley, J. R. Turner, W. A. Bell, W. B. Toone, R. B. Parish, L. Nicholson, J. J. McGowan, Roy Herod, J. M. Telford, D. P. Carter, Misses Viola Brown, Jo Fields, Ola Belle Brown, and Mrs. M. E. Jacobson.

The tea was given as a courtesy of the Lubbock Music club to the music clubs of Brownfield and Levelland.

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, an accomplished musician of Fort Worth was a piano soloist.

Mrs. W. H. Dallas and Mrs. E. D. Jones, president and vice president of the local club were in the receiving line.

CEN-TEX HARMONY CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The members of the Cen-Tex Harmony club enjoyed a lovely Christmas party and exchange of gifts at the home of Mrs. Roy Winger on Tuesday, December 13.

A white Christmas tree heavy with beautifully wrapped packages stood beside the fireplace.

Mrs. W. B. Toone graciously presided at the tea table.

Christmas carols of all nations were sung by club members, each wearing costumes relative to the country represented.

The guests were Mrs. R. T. Breedlove and Miss Laura Lee Jones of Levelland, Mesdames Jacobson, Bell, Teague, Dallas, Parish, Telford, McGowan, Tarpley, Jones, Winger, Hendrix, Wier, Nicholson, Carter, Misses Fields and Brown and Mr. John S. Powell.

Miss Olga Fitzgerald and mother, Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald spent Sunday visiting in Lubbock.

STUDENT HOLIDAYS BEGIN EARLY AT ACC

Noble J. Harris, son of Mrs. J. D. Harris, Meadow, and Evelyn White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam White of Brownfield, Texas, attending Abilene Christian College in Abilene, Texas will arrive here about the 17th or 18th for the Christmas holidays.

Granting a student petition for the holidays to start five days early, President James F. Cox the first of last week announced that the school would close the 17th and will convene again on January 2, 1939.

LAMESA ENTERTAINS

Postmasters, postal clerks and carriers of the 19th Congressional District were guests of Lamesa on Saturday night. A banquet in their honors was held in the dining room of the First Methodist church.

The principal speaker for the occasion was Congressman George Mahon and two other well known speakers, residents of this district, were Olaf Baldwin, Postal Inspector out of Amarillo and W. D. Grassi, President of the State Association of Postmasters.

METHODIST W. M. S.

The W. M. S. met at the Methodist church Monday, December 12, at 2:30 o'clock, having World Outlook program, followed by a business session, conducted by Mrs. Carpenter.

There were 13 ladies present. Plans were made for a number of the ladies to attend the Harvest Day meeting at Lubbock, Wednesday, December 14.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Fred A. Walker, Pastor
Sunday School, 10:00 o'clock.
Morning Worship, 11:00 o'clock.
Senior C. E., 6:30 o'clock.
Night Service, 7:15 o'clock.

The subject for the morning service is, "Sowing and Reaping" and at night the pastor will speak on, "New Life for Old." The singing of Christmas Carols will be featured at both services. We will be singing from our new Hymn Books and expect a day of inspiration. Come and be with us.

COURTESY CLUB

The 5-B Courtesy Club met Dec. 9th, 1938. President R. B. Walls, Jr., presiding.

The good manners committee led by Maybelle Roper, gave the following program:

Song, "Going to a Circus," Glenna Faye Ross, Nita Jean Worsham, Corine Thresher, Dorothy Cope-land, Alvis Bradley and Willie Myrtle Jackson.

Story, "How Trouble Came in the World," Glenna Faye Ross.

Mark McGee of Fort Worth, has the distinction of being the first man in Texas to be sworn into office with the dueling clause left out. He was recently sworn in as director of Tech college.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

A free will offering was made Sunday for foreign missions which is called the Lottie Moon offering by the missionary society or W. M. N. Many members were absent and it is hoped that they will not be left out of this great offering which takes care of 125 missionaries on the foreign field. We need Missionary Baptist in fact as well as name and ask you to bring your offering for this cause, marked foreign missions, and every cent will go to that worthy cause.

The Bible School was not quite up to the average in attendance and we would urge those not in attendance elsewhere in the study of the Bible to visit us at least and perhaps you will wish to continue, as we have a class for every age, and the best teachers available and will do our best for your boys and girls, but bring them as we have a place for you.

The Sunday evening message was a discussion of the five ways men are seeking eternal life, only one of which is recorded in the Bible and asking the people to read the Word of God for themselves that they make no mistake in this important matter.

The W. M. U. met Monday in circles with 23 present.

All circles meet at the church next Monday at 2:30 p. m. for mission program with Lottie Moon circle in charge. Also a business meeting will be held.

The pastor is pleading for all the membership of the church to take some active responsibility in its financial program, even if it must be small and if you are a member and know that you are not giving support to the church budget, which is for local expense, Association Missions, Southwide and World-Wide Missions, as well as orphanage and local charity, which cost over $6,000 last year, and is expected to cost as much next year. It is not a heavy burden for our church if those able to take part in it will do so and it is well to add that every item listed is being taken care of monthly, and if you are not paying anything, others are being burdened on your account which you know is not right. We want it understood that we welcome the poorest in our church without regard to their clothing and we ask them to come and see if they are not respected as we know they will be. Some have used this as an excuse for not attending this and other churches but it should not be done.

Bring your friends to the services next Sunday.

METHODIST CHURCH

John Witt Hendrix, Pastor
Church school opens at 9:45 a. m. and closes at 10:50 a. m. And to this you are cordially invited. Don't forget the hour, 9:45 a. m.

The church offers two periods of public worship, 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m.

MORNING WORSHIP makes its offering of song and worship. The pastor will deliver a sermon using as theme, "The Prince of Peace." This will bring up some most vital and interesting subjects for discussion; for example, Did Jesus preach a gospel in Israel which would have saved it nationally immediately? If so, what was that Gospel? Did his peace program contribute to his crucifixion? Can he expect to end war? You might be interested.

EVENING WORSHIP comes on with a good song service. This will be the occasion of the First Quarterly Conference. Dr. O. P. Clark will be present and preach. The churches hear him gladly. We want to make this service worthwhile.

The Leagues and Young People will meet at 6:30 p. m. And to this you are invited.

ORPHANAGE OFFERING! We mention the fact that our regular Christmas offering for the Methodist Home will be made next Sunday, 18th. We publically mention it for the simple reason that many of our people place this as tops in the real privilege in giving. It provokes real giving of good sized money. Next Lord's Day, please!

A MacDowell and Nevin program will be given on December 27th at the regular meeting of the Cen-Tex Harmony club.

Oldsmobile retail sales were the second largest in November on record, being exceeded only by November 1935.

YOUTH CRUSADE

In the Methodist church the General conference meets every four years. This is the law making body. During the last four years the Church moved to two tasks, namely, and first, paying off the debt acquired in the Board of Missions—a debt of $385,000, and at this the church paid over $400,000, and on the strength of this sent out fifteen new missionaries.

The second objective was to bring to our people afresh the Aldersgate Experience of John Wesley, wherein, after thirteen years of earnest strivings in every possible manner, he came one night at about 9:15 into a conscious experience of Divine grace. He said, "I felt my heart strangely warmed; that my sins had been forgiven." The last two or three years past this message has gone out from every pulpit, in city, in village or country place in all America. This renewed emphasis an experimental religion has deeply changed the current of thinking and living among those people called Methodist. I trust is isn't presumptive to believe this has gone further, has lapped over into other people and has given a renewed and quickened spiritual life. This we do know: that two other denominations, the Presbyterians and Northern Baptist invited great Methodist leaders to address their General assemblies on this message and commemoration.

Now, for the next four years, beginning last May, we are to give emphasis to winning, to teaching and evangelising of the youth of our church. Great meetings are being called for the study of the mind of the youth, to prepare the leadership in the nature of present need, to place before them the urgency of this movement. It is revealed, to all who care to know, that the present distress and distrot situation in other lands, particularly Russia, Germany and Italy, has arisen over the mind of youth; that they were unhappy, uncared for and no place had been provided for them in the church. These men of personal charm and ragnatism, of inward ambition and greed for power, seized upon this situation, won the youth by their program and are now using them to enforce their dastardly purposes.

The appeal in the church is for us to provide for them a place in our hearts, in our scheme of things, to summon them to a high and holy endeavor, to save their minds and their talents from like men in our land, to reveal to them a program founded and promoted by one no less than our Lord and Master. It was the beginning of this movement which brought together into our local church last Saturday and Sunday a most select group of 200 young people, first and last for nearly all the churches and charges of the Lubbock district. They were guests of the church, in the homes of the people, guests of our young people at a lunch Saturday evening and of the church Sunday at noon.

They departed Sunday afternoon after a consecration service led by Dr. O. P. Clark, the Presiding Elder, and as they left they were full of thanks and gratitude for some excellent services and fine hospitality.

The loyal support of the church made this possible. This support came from sundry people, even some of other denominations invited them into their homes. The McSpadden Floral sent offerings. Thanks to all.

MRS. G. W. GRAVES TO HAVE T. E. L. CLASS SOCIAL
The Christmas social of the T. E. L. class will be at the home of Mrs. G. W. Graves, Monday night, December 19th, at 7 o'clock, with a covered dish luncheon. All associate members are cordially invited and please don't anyone forget to bring the big sister gift.

MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB
The Maids and Matrons club met Thursday with Mrs. Mon Telford. An interesting program was given, after which a dainty salad course was served to the 22 members attending. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. L. Randal.

Eugene Ellis and Brooks Bentley, of this city, on the Sul Ross football team at Alpine, together with team mates were recently entertained with a vinison and quail dinner, followed by a dance.

LOCAL GIRL CHOSEN ONE OF EIGHT TECH BEAUTIES

Miss Elray Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis of this city, was chosen as one of the eight beauties of Tech college, recently by a visiting celebrity.

These eight young ladies will have full page pictures in the term's issue of La Ventana, the college year book.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our appreciation to the friends and neighbors who so ably assisted us during the illness and death of our darling wife and mother. Also for the lovely floral offering. May God bless each of you in our earnest prayer.

J. C. Lewis, Mrs. A. S. Taylor and family, Mrs. T. A. Boone and family, Mrs. D. M. Short and family, T. D. Lewis and family, Mrs. Tom Taylor and family, Mrs. Bert Ingram and family, Grover Lewis and family, Moury Lewis and family.

MRS. TERRY NOBLE PASSES

Mrs. Terry Noble, 46, pioneer of Lynn county, both on her parents as well as the Noble side of the house, passed away at a Lubbock hospital last Tuesday night. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Terrentine, who was pastor of the Methodist church in Brownfield when the Noble family lived here from 1932 to 1934. Rev. Terrentine is at present pastor of the Tahoka Methodist church.

Mrs. Noble has many friends in this city who mourn her passing. She was a very pleasing gentlewoman, and a staunch worker for her church as well as for the social uplift of her community. Those attending the funeral from Brownfield were, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter, Judge and Mrs. R. A. Simms, Mrs. J. L. Randal, and Supt. M. L. H. Baze of the local schools.

Among those handing in their renewals Saturday were W. M. Bill Adams, O. F. Krueger, Mrs. Dave Finney, city and routes, and J. L. Sims of Welch.

Accompanying his renewal recently, Frank D. Smith of Bakersfield, Calif., writes: "Must have the Herald to keep posted on Terry county."

Green vegetables contain minerals, and these are needed to build up bones and teeth and to keep the blood and other body fluids in good condition.

Denver and Bennett Pools Connected

Yoakum county shared the spotlight as linking of its two major pools, the Bennett and Denver, appeared assured.

The linking well, Mabee No. 1 Willard, 71, flowed 2840 barrels oil daily to rate the largest initial potential of the county.

It is understood that the allowable in the Wasson-Denver area will be cut due to pipe line congestion, with promise connection to all new wells as a result of the cut. That step amounts to pipe line proration for the area.

T-P No. 14 Bennett, 695, gauged 2,252 barrels oil daily.
Allison No. 2 Bennett, 695, gauged 2,231 barrels oil daily.
Aloco No. 1 Cecil, 891, flowed 242 barrels oil daily.—Yoakum County Review.

The Intermediate B.T.U.P. is having a social Friday night at the church at 7 o'clock, at which time there will be the exchange of gifts. Mrs. J. M. Teague is leader.

Mrs. Garner Hyatt and small son, Vance Garner of Hamlin are here visiting her sister, Mrs. Ches Gore and her mother, Mrs. Lee Walker of Meadow.

THINK ABOUT SAFETY BEFORE-NOT AFTER YOU BUY A LOW PRICED CAR

WE BLEW A FRONT TIRE AND TUBE AT 60!

But, in a public test, the new Hudson 112 stayed straight on its course—safely (without using special tires, tubes or equipment)!

Why? Thanks to AUTO-POISE CONTROL—a revolutionary mechanical safety invention that keeps wheels on their true course automatically—on rough roads, in heavy side winds, even when a tire blows. NO OTHER CAR HAS ANYTHING LIKE IT. Auto-Poise is standard, at no extra cost, on the new Hudson 112—one of America's lowest priced cars.

WE DISCONNECTED HYDRAULICS AT 40!

In the same public test, hydraulic brakes were suddenly disconnected, but the driver just pushed the same foot pedal and the new Hudson 112 STOPPED—safely!

Why? Thanks to Hudson's exclusive DOUBLE-SAFE BRAKES—two braking systems (finest Bendix Hydraulics and a mechanical reserve system) working automatically from the same foot pedal. Many letters in our files tell of lives saved by Double-Safe Brakes—in all 1939 Hudsons.

Ross Motor Company Back on Hill Street

The Ross Motor Co. has reached the point where they don't ask the Herald anything about the matter when they are ready to move, and this time they had been moved two or three weeks when we discovered they were not present at their place on east Main.

Yes, they are back at their old stand on Hill Street, near the Shamburger Lumber Co., with some new Olds, Hudsons and Terraplanes, as well as a large stock of used cars. And they are traders. What have you?

Mrs. J. H. Fisher of the Union community was in this week to pay for some butter wrappers she had printed. Mrs. Fisher makes a fine grade of butter—we've tried it—and wants people to know when they are buying her butter. She informed us that they made more than 100 bales of cotton from the 1937 crop, just picked until they got tired and quit. This ear they got four bales, what the worms and dry weather left.

Among others that have handed in a dollar or more on subscription this week: J. E. Gracey, W. R. Bridges, C. B. Hester, T. C. Garner, Roy Herod and Ame Flache, city and routes; Geo. Alexander and Fred Snitker, Tokio, and F. H. Carpenter, Welch.

One by one the old timers, who helped to formulate Terry county in its early stages, who helped, if you please put the swaddling clothes on the infant, has passed on to her reward. This was Mrs. J. C. Lewis, 87, who with her husband and children settled south of Gomez 34 years ago. The family later moved to a place two miles west of Brownfield, but have been living in the city for the past 20 years.

Mrs. Lewis while feeble for some time, did not get seriously ill until about three weeks ago, and died Saturday night. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and the large crowd in attendance attested the popularity of deceased. Rev. Bollinger, of Cone, Texas, minister of the Primitive Baptist denomination, officiated, as Mrs. Lewis had been a member of that church since young womanhood. The body was laid to rest in the local cemetery, with the Brownfield Funeral Home in charge of all arrangements.

Rev. J. C. Lewis, also a Primitive Baptist minister, and Mrs. Lewis were both born in the state of Illinois, where they married 67 years ago, and where their first children were born. But in their young married life they moved to Grayson county, and later to Knox county. Coming to Terry county in 1904, the year the county was organized. They have made Terry county real citizens and raised a fine family.
Besides her husband, Mrs. (Grandma) Lewis is survived by eight living children, three having passed on, as follows: T. D., of Clavis, N. M.; Grover of Wellman; and Moury of this city; Mrs. Sid Taylor of Fort Worth; Mrs. Athol Boone, of Clovis; Mrs. Tom Taylor of Lovington, N. M.; Mrs. Bert Ingram of Shamrock, Texas; Mrs. C. C. Short of Broadview, N. M.; and a host of grandchildren.

WINTER COMPLAINT
AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 5, — "Babies and young children need as careful protection at this time of the year against "winter complaint" as they do during the warm weather against "summer complaint," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing seasonal disease hazards for young children.

"Winter complaint" includes influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and other diseases of the respiratory or "breathing" system as distinguished from "summer complaint" which attacks the digestive system. Diseases like pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after affect of measles or whooping cough or one of the other so-called children's diseases; or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. They are more prevalent in winter than in summer and they are even more difficult to combat than digestive ailments. Nearly all the diseases are spread through the secretions from the nose and mouth.
These respiratory diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children. Those not in vigorous health are more susceptible to those infections. The first line of defense is to strengthen their powers or resistance against ill health; the second is to keep them under medical supervision. The third is to keep them away from others—young or old—who have coughs, colds or fever.
The importance of keeping children away from persons who have colds, or any other infectious disease cannot be emphasized too strongly. The utmost care should be exercised by those with colds, and who are unavoidably brought in contact with young children, not to cough or sneeze so that the spray of saliva reaches the children.

GOOD SALE CHRISTMAS SEALS ANTICIPATED
AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—Daily returns in the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals are a fairly good barometer of general economic conditions, thinks Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the Texas

Tuberculosis Association.
"Each year we mail seals to some 75,000 persons in Texas," Miss Nichols states, "proceeds from the sale of which finance the campaign against tuberculosis. In recent years many of our contributors, unwilling to discontinue their support of our work, but unable to make their customary contributions, mailed small donations in silver and postage stamps which helped us to carry on during the hard times occasioned by the depression. This year, in contrast, most of those to whom we sent seals on Thanksgiving Day are buying more seals than usual and there is a notable increase in the number of contributors remitting by check and currency, and a corresponding decrease in remittances in coin and postage. Also our total receipts to date exceed receipts for the same period last year, in view of which it seems to us that, by and large, the average citizen in Texas is enjoying greater prosperity than has been the case for some years past."

Take Time to Make Time
These long winter nights may be so used as to save time and labor next summer when the growing season demands that every hour and every stroke of work be made to count. There will be no time for thoughtful planning then, but thoughtful planning now will pay large dividends later. Whether there is a government program or not, and whatever government program may be in effect in 1939, fore-handed farmers la yout the major lines of their year's operations ahead of planting season.
In every community may be found farmers who thrive better than their neighbors under the same conditions, and in every case, whether or not they consciously sit down and map out a system of farm management, it will be found that their thrift is not luck but good judgement in making the best possible use of their facilities and utilizing the available labor to a better advantage. In its simplest terms good farm management is "man use plus land use."
Certain crops call for a peak of labor at the same time, and if they are not to suffer from neglect, labor has to be hired. This is a cash outlay which must be deducted from the gross profits from saleable products, reducing the farmer's own net returns proportionately. Good farm management plans for spreading the operator's own labor over a longer period, and this involves crop diversification. Crop diversification to be successful demands livestock to utilize the feed crops, and livestock grown, multiply and produce while the operator sleeps.
By planning ahead, a succession of grazing crops to be harvested by the livestock themselves may be provided, and under normal conditions some sort of green grazing may be had throughout the year in most of the Southwest. This is well illustrated on the W. F. Glenn farm, Grayson county, Texas, where sheep and cattle graze the year round. The cotton and corn fields are grazed in fall, volunteer oats sometimes are also available. Fall sown wheat and oats furnish grazing throughout the winter, rye grass takes up where the grain fields leave off, and by the time rye grass seeds and dies down, native pastures and Sudan grass are ready to furnish summer grazing.
There is more to planting, however, than pastures, and one of the most constructive moves toward more profitable farming in the Southwest is the county planning programs worked out by farmer committeemen with the technical help of extension, experiment station, and vocational education forces.
In the State Fair at Dallas a striking exhibit was that of Hill county (Texas) which showed the enhanced returns from practical and scientific planning and set a goal for the planning of every farm in the county by 1940. Doubtless other counties have adopted a similar program, and where they have, the farmers who first co-operate will be that much ahead of their neighbors.
It is not necessary, however, to wait until there is a county-wide planning program, and the individual farm family, after all, must plan according to its own resources and abilities. Helpful bulletins can be had from the agricultural colleges on request, and they will well repay careful studying during these long winter nights when there is plenty of time to read and digest the information they supply.

County agents, vocational agriculture teachers, the Farm Security Administration will help those who wish to help themselves by planning ahead.
KILLING RED ANTS
LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 26.—Inquiries about numerous little red flags dotting the campus of Texas Technological College disclose that Prof. Ray L. Chappelle, department of agricultural education, has marked the location of 1,200 big red ant beds on an area of 160 acres. He plans to kill the ants.
Already he and a group of NYA students have poisoned 400 beds. A test will be made next spring to see if the poisoning has been effective. Professor Chappelle says this well known Texas pest can be killed out and he expects to "show" some doubting Thomases.
Carbon bisulphide (high-life) is used generally for this purpose, but according to Professor Chappelle, the ant hole or nest should first be filled with water and then a half pint of high-life poured in and the opening closed tightly.
These big red ants are pests over a wide area. They destroy lawns, flowers, and crops, and are also capable of delivering a big wallop with their stingers. Contrary of general opinion, birds do not eat these ants. A few lizards are about the only ant eaters, says Chappelle.

FARMER LIVING WEST OF LITTLEFIELD GROWS 1 AND 5-32 INCH STAPLE
LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 3.—J. C. Beckman, well known farmer living eight miles west of here on the road to Pep, has grown cotton with a staple of 1 and 5-32 inches.
The bale, when placed in the government loan, brought 10.75 cents a pound or over $53 a bale. Beckham has 54 acres of the cotton, a California type.

Mrs. Nea Seif and Mrs. Wilson Collins were Sunday visitors in Lubbock.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

The University of Texas is collecting the writing of Gen. Sam Houston, first president of Texas. Already six volumes are in their possession.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, warns people about buying shelled pecans, stating that is a mighty good way to get some disease we should avoid. The pecan as it comes from the trees is sanitary, he states, and in many cases, where they are shelled by large wholesale grocery firms in their own factories, they are ok, but those plants that permit shellers to carry them home, where all the family and perhaps neighbors called in and help, they are liable to be anything else but sanitary. The best plan is to buy your nut unshelled, and do your own shelling.

Three young men were rounded up by officers here Monday for questioning concerning lifting purses from cars and other matters. These young men are high school lads that have been raised by good parents, and have had the right environments in youth, but somehow have stepped out on the wrong foot, and unless a halt is called, if they are guilty, are headed for a career of crime. These are brilliant young men, and can make very useful citizens, and the Herald hopes they mend their ways and show the world that they have the stuff in them to make real men.

Speaking of crime, and especially as it applies to youth, which has now come down from an average age of 40 years around 1900, to an average of 25 at present, has the community as a whole set the right example? Have we always returned that what does not belong to us to the rightful owner? And, while we have banned horse racing, which most church members consider the greatest gambling crime, do church members refrain from the very appearance of the evil? On the other hand, the Dr. Gallup survey, which predicted the election of Roosevelt two years ago and the per cent vote almost 100 per cent, has recently finished a survey of youths as to what started them on a gambling career. It may cause a blush of shame on church members, particularly in cities, that they got their first taste of gambling at church bazaars. Twenty-nine per cent gave them as their starter. The Herald has noted that in most of our school carnivals the bingo game is all the rage, or perhaps any other game where a chance is taken. Bingo is just a midget edition of faro and wheel of fortune played at the big time gambling houses. Yet, we outlaw horse racing, the sport of kings, but secretly nigger crap games, poker and many other games go on in the seclusion of the homes or houses for that purpose. Is it not time that we checked up on some of our "innocent amusement?"

I am certain that there are not in any branch of manual dexterity so many remarkable men as might be found in the printing trade. For quickness of perception, amount of endurance, and willingness to oblige, I have found the compositor pre-eminent. The printer is the friend of intelligence, of thought; he is the friend of liberty and of freedom of law, the printer is the friend of every man who is the friend of order—the friend of every man who can read.—Charles Dickens.

delayed his appearance on the scene by ten years. No president past 68 has ever taken office.

There is a prejudice against nominating older men for the job. At this moment Mr. Garner is the most available man for the presidency, but his age is a handicap. Only five men past sixty have held the job; the oldest, William Henry Harrison, died at 68, one month after taking the oath. But one of the greatest of them all, Old Hickory Jackson, was 61 when he took office and lived to be 78. The first Adams was 61, and lived to be 90. Zachery Taylor was 64 when he took office and died a year later. James Buchanan was 65 and lived to be 77.

There is little doubt that John Garner is the most powerful political figure in the country today. It may be that by 1940, in spite of his age, the country will call him to the colors. And, in spite of his age, few doubt that he would handle the affairs of the office with the vigor and efficiency of a much younger man.

For Old John Garner is really young in mind, body and spirit. He has taken care of himself. He knows the ropes. He has political savvy. And the country trusts him.—Abilene Reporter-News.

"God gave us two ends, one to sit on and the other to think with.

A man's success depends on which he uses most. It is a case of heads you win and tails you lose."—Clarendon Leader.

Dr. R. C. Baker, editor of The Bulletin, published by the Garfield County (Okla.) Medical Society, takes the doctors to task for thinking they do not believe in advertising, and cites the times that they casually (sic) mention to newspaper reporters things they would like to have carried as a "news item." Dr. Garfield says that all doctors believe in advertising and they might as well be honest and admit it. But the time has come that they cannot expect to "mooch" all of it. The doctor goes on to say that if ever the medical profession needed the right kind of publicity, the time is now. It is good to see doctors becoming as modern in this respect as other professions.—McLean News.

NO INAUGURAL BALL FOR MR. O'DANIEL

The governor's inaugural ball, which has always been a fly in the ointment to the good christian people of Texas, from the dim past, has been dealt a fatal blow by Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel last week when he stated that there would be no ball next January when he is inaugurated, but instead the ceremony will be held at the University football stadium where there will be room for the common people and where they can witness the ceremony without formal dress and not have to dance.

The 54,445 persons who wrote Mr. O'Daniel to run for governor will have special reserved seats and the "upper teens," if they attend will be compelled to take a seat alongside the hillbillies from the forks of the creek. "Papa Pass The Biscuits" O'Daniel has let it be known that the idea of a dance to celebrate his inauguration did not appeal to him.—Miami Chief.

THEY QUIT ADVERTISING

You may have been here forty years and everyone knows you are here, but do they think of you when they need merchandise?

Likely they do not. They think of the fellow who is constantly after them, reminding that he has the goods and service. Here are some things that "have been here 40 years," until they quit advertising. Now they are either off the market entirely or sales are limited:

Pears Soap, Pearline, Sapollo, Silk Soap, Sweet Caporals, Force, Egg-O-See, Lion Coffee, Rubifoam, Agri-Cola.

And, dear reader, how many delectable meritorious articles can you think of that are off the market today, or practically so, because they quit advertising, even if they "had been here 40 years?"

And if we wanted to be supercilious we could mention the names of several local firms that have ceased to exist because they were "too well established to advertise."—Great Bend (Kan.) Tribune.

be dead, then the heirs of Mrs. Fannie Stevens and the legal representatives of Mrs. Fannie Stevens whose names are unknown by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, Texas, on the third Monday in January A. D. 1939, the same being the 16th day of January A. D. 1939, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 14th day of December A. D. 1939, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2279, wherein R. C. Kennedy is Plaintiff, and Mrs. Fannie Stevens and her husband if she be married, and her unknown heirs and unknown legal representatives if she be dead are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on or about December 1, 1938 plaintiff lawfully seized and possessed of the following described property situated in Terry County, Texas holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:

All of the Southwest Quarter of Section Twenty-six (26) in Block D-14, C. & M. Ry. Co. Survey.

That on the day and year last defendants unlawfully entered upon said land and premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withhold from him the possession thereof to his damage $500.00. That the reasonable annual rental value of said land and premises is $250.00. Plaintiff further alleges that Lee Perry acquired said land from the State of Texas; that he sold the same to Pat Wolfarth; that Pat Wolfarth sold the same to John S. Powell; that John S. Powell and wife sold the same to C. H. Goodwin et al; that H. A. Warren et al conveyed their interest to C. H. Goodwin; that C. H. Goodwin conveyed the same to S. B. Cardwell; that S. B. ## SUCCESSOR FOR CLIFFORD JONES CHOSEN, DIRECTOR

AUSTIN, Dec. 3—Mark McGee of Fort Worth today became a director of Texas Technological college at Lubbock succeeding the Clifford Jones of Spur who recently was named president of the institution.

Governor James V. Allred revealed he had telephoned McGee in Kansas City and McGee had accepted the appointment.

McGee, an attorney, was adjutant general during part of the first term of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. He is a native of Brownwood and a graduate of the University of Texas and is active in bar association work and American Legion affairs.

NOVEMBER SALE AUTOS SHOW GREAT INCREASE

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 12.—Sales of new automobiles in Texas during November rose sharply over the preceding month and substantially over the corresponding month last year, according to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas.

Reports from seventeen representative Texas counties show an increase in sales of 88.1 per cent over October and 17.9 per cent over November last year. Aggregate sales in these counties during the entire eleven months of the year, however, were still 32.4 per cent below the corresponding period last year.

Marked increases occurred over October and over November last year in all price groups, the Bureau's report said.

"We are working 40 hours a week and sales are still going up," he said. "We couldn't be doing good business if the others were having poor business."

MAN WHO CAST FIRST TYPE ON LINOTYPE MACHINE IS DEAD

BALTIMORE, Dec. 6.—Ferdinand K. Wich, 71, said by friends to have cast the first type on a linotype machine, died at his home Sunday night.

The type was cast when he worked as an apprentice for Ottomar Mergenthaler, inventor of the linotype. For the past 19 years he has been a machinist for the Baltimore News-Post.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — Although the general business picture is assuming a slight cloudiness at the year end, economic observers foresee silver linings on the horizon after the holidays. Woes of the utility industry are being lightened by a prediction that electric output in the first quarter will be the largest for any similar period in the history of the industry. Experts in the agricultural field believe that the farmer's cash income will be greater in 1939 than it was this year. Statistical services report that owners of clothing stores may look forward to a 10 per cent rise in sales volume during the first three months of the new year.

WASHINGTON — The latest list of members of the House of Representatives indicates that the November elections made deep inroads into the ranks of proponents of the chain store "death sentence" tax proposed by Rep. Wright Patman, of Texas. Of the 74 co-signers of the original Patman bill, one had previously withdrawn and 32 others were not reelected. This loss of support, together with mounting consumer, farmer and labor opposition, is interpreted by capitol observers as

"RECORD" RECORD YEAR — Back in 1933 merchants began to notice a revival in the sale of phonograph records, which for five years or more had been considered a "dead item." This comeback, continuing in spectacular fashion during succeeding years, has been aided and abetted by popularity of combination radios, phonograph attachments for radios, and perfection of portable machines. As a result almost 35,000,000 records will be sold this year, or a little better than one

The SNAPSHOT GUILD FINDING PICTURES

Winter is full of pictures—indoors and out—that you should be capturing now.

WHEN one is taking pictures—in the winter or any other time—there are just three things to seek. They are: interesting subjects, or interesting occurrences, or interesting effects of light.

Any of these—or all together—will yield good pictures, and you can find them almost anywhere. At random, I have set down a list of winter picture ideas—just suggestions to set your imagination working. Load up your camera, try them—and I'll hazard the guess that you can turn out dozens of good pictures in the next few days.

First, snow pictures. Can you picture the sparkle of sunlight, falling across new snow? Curious shapes of snow in drifts, on trees, on shrubs and fences. Children sledding, or throwing snowballs? Shadow patterns on the snow? Neighbors shoveling snow from the house walk? A horse-drawn sleigh? Tracks of people, or birds, or rabbits, in the snow? Snow falling, soft and white, outside your window? Paths beaten to barn or garage? Birds in the snow, pecking at crumbs? All these will make good pictures. Then, cold weather. Can you put cold into a picture—so that the viewer feels it? How about a picture of an old horse, nuzzling a frozen-over water trough? Icicles hanging from a faucet or pump spout? Frost on the kitchen windowpane? Passersby, bending into the wind, snuggled deep into the collars of their overcoats? Someone scattering clinders on an icy pavement? A small boy, rubbing his frosty ears with mittened hands? An old automobile with radiator spouting steam? A stretch of open country with snow clouds dark above it? These are good pictures—they tell the story of winter.

Again, indoors. Warm pictures, to contrast with the cold outside. Have you tried fireside pictures? Pictures of the family toasting marshmallows, or telling stories before the fire? Reading, under the warm glow of a lamp? These are good—and easy to make, with fast X-type film and two or three photo bulbs. Pictures such as these are interesting because they tell a story. They have "something to say." And they are the snapshots you should be getting now.

CASTOR BEAN CULTURE OUTLOOK ON SOUTH PLAINS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Dec. 12 — Dr. Henry Miller of Atchison, Kan., vice-president of the Chemical Foundation of Kansas, who recently checked some experimental plots of castor beans at Texas Technological College, envisioned profitable production of this crop on the South Plains.

"The United States has no commercial production of the castor bean," he explained. "We import about 1,050,000 bushels a year, most of them from Brazil."

Recently discovered use of the bean, which can be grown under irrigation or dry land farming conditions, is conversion to tung oil, used in paints and varnishes. Castor oil is used in making a synthetic cloth, toothbrushes, lubrication for airplane engines, and numerous other commercial products.

Yields average about 50 bushels per acre, he explained. About 150 gallons of oil and about two tons of stock feed can be pressed from 50 bushels.

TOO ZEALOUS

police department which had photographed an escaped convict in six different positions. These photographs were sent throughout the country, asking authorities to arrest him. Promptly, a reply came from the marshal of Hickville. It read: "Pictures received; have captured five of them; am on trail of the sixth."

Millionaire Jones was recalling the struggles of his youth. "I was living in California and my parents in New York," he said, "and I had just managed to save enough money to buy myself a bicycle when my father wrote that my mother was ill. I jumped on my bicycle and rode across the continent, only to be told that California air was all that would save my mother. So I dragged the bike in beside the bed, let the California air out of the tires, and she lived to the good old age of 95." —Ex.
