Editor of Herald This Week Observes Thirtieth Anniversary In Brownfield

Just a Bit of Insight of the Mode of Living Here Thirty Years Ago. Many Friends Then, Still Our Best Friends.

"A. J. Stricklin, a young man of Anson, Texas, has accepted employment in the Herald office. Mr. Stricklin has had several years experience in the printing and newspaper work, and is competent to render valuable aid in the publication of this paper. He comes well recommended as a young man of exemplary character, and will be welcomed by the good people of Brownfield." — from the Terry County Herald, January 30, 1909.

The above local news item was

penned by the late Neil H. Bigger, then editor and publisher of the Herald, but was hand-spiked into type by the writer. Just who recommended us, or guessed that we were "a young man of exemplary character" our boss did not state, nor did we deny, as that made little difference just then. Anyway, we then became a piece and parcel of the good town and county, and so far no sandstorms or other adverse winds, and we have had many, have caused us to move, even temporarily.

The best we can gather now is that we left Anson on Monday morning, January 18, 1909, on the Wichita Valley railroad. Remained in Abilene all day or just about nightfall, when the T. & P. passenger pulled out west. Now we did not ride the rods; we borrowed sufficient money from brother Tom to get to Brownfield, feed and all. The balance of the night after about eleven p. m., was spent at the old Stewart Hotel, at Big Spring. And next morning about nine, we left for the future home on the cap. Jack Head was heading this way in his two-cylinder Maxwell, carrying us and three other bums.

By dent of good luck, Lamesa was reached slightly after noon, where we partook of a good lunch provided by a fine pioneer lady in a combined cafe (no restaurant) and boarding house on the north side of the square. Wish we could recall her name, as it was a fine dinner. Stuck in a sand bed just north of Lamesa square, but finally got out, and reached Brownfield about five o'clock, and took up board (on credit) with a fine lady and life long friend, Mrs. Daugherty, now deceased. As a place to sleep, we shared a bed with the school principal (Supt.) Jesse Webb, now a prominent Houston lawyer. This bed was a wall let-down affair at night, and hang up affair in day time, in the offices of a small lumber yard then run by W. G. Hardin for Connell Lumber Co., of Big Spring. But it was a good bed in a warm room, and we appreciated it.

We find that the issue of January 23, was skipped, the paper then being issued Saturday. There was two reasons for this, the main being the editor was down with lagrippe or flu, we now call it, and there was no copy. Second, we had been out of a printing office ten years, and wished to practice sticking type a few days. So the next issue was January 30th. Yeah! those were the good old days. It took a freight wagon just twelve days to go to Big Spring and back, and if the weather wasn't just right, much longer. One week we published the Saturday issue the next Tuesday. Had to wait for print paper to come in on wagons. And many times, chuck (groceries to you) would get scarce, but as long as anyone in town had flour, meat or lard, they divided. And fuel was an object as well. While coal could be purchased in Big Spring at $8.00 per ton, it took just $17.50 to get it hauled to Brownfield. So many substitutes were used, mainly mesquite grubs and cow chips. The grubs could be purchased for about $2.50 per load, but you don't realize how fast they would go in a sheet iron stove when a blue norther or snowstorm struck. But then coal was $25.50 per ton in your bin. To offset this, there was the finest people on earth as your neighbors. If your friend had food, fuel or money, you had it. The bank never took mortgages those days, and didn't lose a dollar. No home and few business houses had a key—you didn't need locks.

It was a hard struggle for our boss to pay us $45.00 per month, and that was just about as little as we could get by on, as room and board was from $25.00 to $30.00 per month, not to mention laundry and other incidentals, so by about the first of June, he owed us $85.00 he could not pay, nor had he ever paid the late Judge W. R. Spencer the $700 for the plant, so a sale was negotiated, wherein for the $85 in wages and $125.00 in cash we obtained from that faithful older brother, Tom, we took up the first note, and Judge Spencer graciously agreed to extend the other so long as it took us to pay it. But luck turned our way, for the next year, 1910, the railroad came to Lubbock, and in 1912 to Tahoka, so that we got enough extra advertising out of those places to make our payments. We took charge of the plant with the first issue in June, 1909. At that time, we were using an old George Washington hand press to print the paper, and the type was worn and not much more than one and a half cases. In June, 1910, we went to Dallas and purchased a large job press for the paper and two big cases of new type, paid what we could on it and came home and put the proposition up to W. A. Bell, then cashier of the Brownfield State bank. He capitulated after some grousing, as in the case with bankers.

This is an old story repeated again to the old timers who have been here 20 or more years, but to the newcomers, gives just an insight of some of the things the pioneer was up against. There are some things about pioneering that is great, the common level of all humanity, and the common honesty of the citizenship. But, who would now do without their electric lights, their gas fuel, running

Geo. Mahon Placed on Important Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Official announcement was made this week of the election of Congressman George Mahon by the House of Representatives to a place on the Committee on Appropriations. The place is considered a highly desirable one and is much sought after among Members of the House. Only two Democratic Members were elected this Session. The membership of the committee includes 25 Democrats and 15 Republicans, Mr. Mahon being the only Member from Texas.

Since the Committee is a major one and has a heavy schedule of hearings throughout the Sessions, a Democratic Member of this Committee is not permitted to serve on any other standing committee of the House. Mr. Mahon leaves posts which he has held through two terms in Congress on the Committees on Civil Service, Insular Affairs, Census, and Elections.

And too, we beg the reader's pardon for writing about ourselves this week instead of someone else or some other business firm, but this was really an anniversary. We already know of some other firms that will get their writups in these columns on their anniversary, one of them real soon, and it is going to be a binger, all illustrated 'nerthing.

Bank Statements Show Fine Condition

While the bank statements show somewhat behind the statement of December 31, 1937 statement, published last January, they are nevertheless splendid, as you will see by going over them in this issue of the Herald, where in a full statement as required by the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, as well as the State Banking laws, is being published.

But before taking this into consideration that at the same time last year, nearly 40,000 bales of cotton had been gathered and marketed, whereas this year, about a fourth of that amount had been gathered. Again, the 1937 corn crop was being put on the market and was 50 to 75 per cent better than the present one, not to mention other feeds. So, taking all these things into consideration, we can't see that we are greatly behind last year, so far as banking resources are concerned.

But for comparison, we are giving you a condensed total of last year and this of the combined statements of the two banks here, the Brownfield State Bank and First National Bank:

Dec. 31, 1937 Statement
Loans	$ 232,375.11
Resources	1,660,750.43
Available cash	1,383,907.73
Deposits	1,523,557.95

Dec. 31, 1938 Statement
Loans	$ 364,444.20
Resources	1,478,177.63
Available cash	1,076,230.36
Deposits	1,330,790.84

One thing that has lowered resources to some extent is the fact that the banks have $132,069.09 more money loaned in the community than at the same date last year, which shows that the local banks are nicely caring for the needs of the community, despite a short crop last year.

Just Can't Do Without Old Home Paper

This week we had a communication from Mrs. Ivy Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green of this city, enclosing remittance to renew for their Herald. Mrs. Savage stated that a copy each week of the Herald was like getting a letter from home, as it brought the news she most desired, and concluded with, "it is a great little old paper."

Which all reminds us that Ivy was a very small young lady when we landed in Terry county 30 years ago this month, in her short frocks and hair done in pig tail style, but as pretty as a peach. She finished high school at 14, and according to rules and regulations could not enter college at that age.

The writer and perhaps others wrote President Sandifer of, at that time Simmons College, now Hardin-Simmons University, impugning him to make special allowance for her entrance to college, which he graciously consented to do. She was put in charge of a fine, motherly lady who had charge of one of the dormitories at that time.

It is indeed refreshing to know that after 30 long years, the Herald is still the choice of many readers.

Tax Collections Ahead of Last Year

Another reason that things are not so tough as many seem to think is the report coming from the County Tax-Collector Gore's office to the effect that tax collections are running consistently ahead of the same date last year.

For instance, Tuesday, it was reported from that office that at the close of business Monday night, the collections were $533.17 ahead of the same date last year.

With report of practically every business man in town that business after January 1, was better than they expected, maybe it is time to lay our little hammers away.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Christopher made a business trip to Amarillo, Friday and visited in Perryton before returning home.

First Week of District Court Began Monday

Judge Louis B. Reed and official court reporter, John Edmondson, of Lamesa, and Truett Smith, District Attorney of Tahoka, came in Monday for the opening of the winter term of district court, which will last four weeks. Judge Reed immediately empaneled the grand jury, and set them to work, with any assistance and advice they need from the district attorney, and county attorney, Eurlon G. Hackney.

Judge Reed informed the Herald man that the docket was unusually light this term, as he had it well cleared at the last term, and he anticipated a well rounded up docket when this present term is history. A number of civil and non-jury cases are being disposed of this week.

The district officials stated that the Yoakum county docket was real heavy, not with criminal cases, as there was only one, but with trials to try title, as clearing up titles in any oil field begins when oil is found. As usual, Judge Reed had a good story for us.

It seems a Lamesa banker went into the filling station business. A customer wanted ten gallons of gas. The ex-banker asked where he was going. To Lubbock, said the customer. H-e-m-m! said the banker, that is only 120 miles there and back. Don't you think you could get by on six gallons?

Senator Nelson On Important Committees

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. — Selection of Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock as a member of nine important Senate committees was announced this week by Lieutenant Governor-elect Coke Stevenson.

Senator Nelson was named chairman of the judicial districts committee, and vice-chairman of the commerce and manufacturers committee.

He was appointed a member of the highly important state affairs committee which will consider all old age pension bills, tax measures, liquor control, and other subjects of state-wide importance.

Nelson was appointed to the highways and motor traffic committee which will consider the question of raising the 7,000 pound lead limit on trucks.

Other committees to which Nelson was appointed were counties and county boundaries, representatives districts, senatorial districts, and state institutions and departments.

"I am pleased with my appointments which will put me in a position to serve my constituents and to adequately protect and advance the interests of my district," Nelson said.

Year-End Moves By Tenant Farmers Cost County Huge Sum of Money

The Annual Move is Not Only Costly to the Tenant, But A Great Expense to Landlord as Well. Both Lose When There is No Permanency.

Year-end moves will cost Terry county tenant farmers more than $24,453, and that is only the beginning of the cost to them and to the general public, it was stated by Dennis Q. Lilly, County Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration.

The Supervisor estimated that 429 farm tenants of this county move every year. The actual cash cost is around $57.00 per family, he said, but the final cost to the tenant and to the public is much greater.

Most of the tenants who move could be stabilized through leasing methods which would encourage them to remain upon the same farm and to improve it, the supervisor stated. He said that the FSA Flexible lease form, now being distributed by his office is winning favor with both landlords and tenants and that a considerable number of farms in this county will be operated under it during the coming year.

"A tenant who stays upon a given piece of land for only a year has no opportunity to build up that land and no incentive to do it," Mr. Lilly continued. "Instead, he is inclined to take out of it all he can. The land owner may be struggling along like the tenant on an inadequate income.

He has his money invested in the land and taxes to pay, so he also is interested in having the tenant get the most possible out of his year's crop, letting the future take care of itself. In many cases, the landlord does not live in the county or the state, and fails to realize what is happening to his soil."

The supervisor said that tenant families move during the winter after the crops are harvested, which means that the movement is made at a time when the children must be taken out of school. "They not only lose several weeks of school, they do often stay out for the remainder of the school year. When they do go back to school they are likely to be set back in their classes, and become discouraged and disinterested. The same discouragement and lack of interest occurs with the tenant farmer himself, and with his wife in regard to participation in community activities."

The estimate of tenant farmers moving in this county was based upon the state average of approximately 40 per cent of tenants moving annually, and the last census figure show the number of tenant farmers in this county to be 1073.

Bargain Center Burglars Caught

Sheriff Gore was advised this week that two men thought to have been the ones that burglarized the Bargain Center here lately were being held in Abilene, and will be brought here to face quizzing of the grand jury, which is now in session.

It is stated that at least one of them has a pen record. They also knocked the knob on the safe in the county Tax-Collector's office but did not obtain anything.

It is believed that officers are getting very hot on the trail of the other two men wanted for the burglary of the J. B. Knight Hardware in December.

Aryain Clearance Sale Starts Saturday

The Aryain Dry Goods is starting their annual January Clearance sale this week, beginning Saturday, and we wish the readers would all feast their eyes on the many, many bargains offered in their page ad this week, and be ready Saturday morning to invade their store and take out a great supply of these reasonable offerings, which are at or near the wholesale cost line.

Mr. and Mrs. Aryain have now been in Brownfield a number of years, and they have always made their goods stand the test, or exchanged or money refunded. If honesty and fair dealing had not been practiced by them, people would long ago have found that out, and they would have had to seek new and greener pastures.

They have always kept clerks of willing and courteous characters, and people that you know and trust. So make it a point to see this swell line of seasonal dry goods they are offering before it has been picked over, and the stock and sizes broken.

Hobbs Visited Terry In the Early Days

While J. O. Hobbs has not been living in Terry county but some 20 years, he came to Terry in 1904 and purchased a place, both he and another fellow he did not mention, from Hollis, Okla. Mr. Hobbs was in Monday to renew for the Herald and disclosed some of the happenings here at that time.

At that time, Gomez was all laid out and booming, he stated, the late J. T. Gainer, whom he had known in Oklahoma, being one of the promoters of the new town, named for the Cuban patriot. At that time Brownfield was a bald prairie, but Mr. Hobbs stated that it was in the race for the county seat.

Among other things, Mr. Hobbs stated that it was the easiest matter in the world for a stranger within the gates to be entertained and while there was not much in the way of amusement, something was put on at the school house, or there was a party or dance.

West Tex. Chamber of Commerce Man Here

Mr. Edwin A. Spacek, Director of Development, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, from the headquarters offices in Abilene, was a visitor in our city last week, and while here on other official business, in company with W. R. McDuffie, local director of the WTCC, made the rounds to get the Brownfield quota of memberships for 1939.

Mr. Spacek, formerly of Slaton, stated that Brownfield had always come through with its quota and more, and was sure it would get its number this year, although they had hardly started at the time he was interviewed.

The main reason for Mr. Spacek's visit at this time was in order that west Texas really get lined up to see what can be done about getting our freight rates equalized with other sections of the country.

PURPOSE

The drunk hailed a cab and fell into the back seat. "Shay, driver," he ordered, "drive me around the block a hundred times."

The driver was startled, but he obliged just the same. Around and around the block they went. And on the sixty-fifth trip, the stew leaned forward.

"Step on it, buddy, I'm in a hurry."

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

One of our exchanges reports that a speaker at a Jackson Day dinner in his town said that Jackson fought Napoleon on the 8th day of January, 1815 at New Orleans. And the speaker was reported to have been an ex-Tennessean. The history we studied said they were British not French, under Gen. Edward Pakenham that Jackson and his Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi squirrel riflemen tangled with and whipped the loll out of some 20 days after a treaty of peace had been signed at Ghent. Perhaps that Tennessean got his book larnin' in better schools than the red hills of west Tennessee offered.

Despite the fact that retiring Governor Jimmie Allred has done some things that has brought down criticism on his head, mainly that of junketing all over America, crowning queens, cutting bridge ribbons, betting on football games, or dining with the elite of Hollywood, Gov. James V. Allred has accomplished many wonderful things for Texas. And despite the fact we have a heavy deficit hanging over us, he has vetoed many measures that required more money from the taxpayer, and we have had the lowest state tax rate in years. Therefore the Herald wishes for the ex-governor a full measure of success, and many years of success as a Federal Judge.

Tom Mooney is a free man again. The incoming Democrat governor of California, the first in 40 years, was elected on a ticket pledged to pardon this man, who is a radical at heart. Court after court had passed on the verdict of a jury that tried him 20 years ago, and gave him the death penalty, later commuted to life, without finding a fault with the jury's verdict. But many contended that it was a perjured jury and perjured witnesses that convicted him. Nevertheless, as soon as Mooney becomes a free man, he is up to his old tricks of staging strikes and picketing, and agitating extreme measures. California is a peculiar state made up of many foreigners and radicals, and Mooney may stay clear of the toils of the law a long time, but in Texas—well our advice to him is to steer clear of the Lone Star State.

Well, we go to press this week under a new governor of Texas, the Hon. W. Lee O'Daniel, ex-flour merchant of Fort Worth. While the new governor has promised a whale of a lot, it is perhaps safe to say that he has not promised a great deal more than some of his recent predecessors. All candidates promise a lot more than they expect to put over in order to make connection with the payroll, and we do not hold this against them—it is the fashion. On the other hand, we are hoping that the new governor makes us the best chief executive we have had since James Stephen Hogg held that office. While the Herald did not support his candidacy, we are for him 100 per cent in everything he undertakes for the betterment of the people of Texas, and for the upbuilding of the state. We also trust that he and the legislature can come to immediate agreement that time be not wasted in needless wrangling that costs money and does no one any good.

Old Man Texas was looking over the expense account of his employees and found the insignificant sum of $1,963,457.00 charged up for traveling expenses for 1938. "You fellows travel by special train or sumphin'?" "Well, we don't hitch hike boss." And that's it. It cost the tax payers of the state $189,848,852.26 to run Texas last year. If there was as much

Keeping Cured Meat At Its Best

It is not necessary to have cured hams and bacon dry or rancid in summer, as they do when left hanging in the smoke-house until used up. Our old friend cotton plays a new role in good eating, and certainly cotton growers should be interested in any method that enable them to use more of their own product to advantage, as they have long done in cooking oils and compounds, and more lately in margarine. It has been found that refined cottonseed or cooking oil in bulk, or five gallon cans, at your grocer's. Since it can be used over, the cost of preserving meat in this manner is not excessive.

The Lubbock (Texas) Experiment Station gives the following suggestions for West Texas conditions, and they will doubtless apply to most of the Southwest. "Hams can be properly cured by leaving them in cure two days for each pound the ham weighs; for example, a fifteen-pound ham will cure in thirty days. Bacons will cure in one day for each pound—eight pounds, eight days, etc. When the meat is removed from the cure the excess salt is washed off with clean, cool water, the meat is then soaked in fresh well water for a period of two hours for hams and one hour for bacons. Use fresh water for each batch of meat, as the water becomes salty with use."

"The meat is then hung up to drip and dry over night before smoking. Smoking is not absolutely necessary before placing the meat in storage, but is desirable. After the smoking is completed the meat should be allowed to cool. Then pack it in any suitable container—the crock jar, the lard can, or the oak barrel; the crock is preferable."

"After the meat is well packed in the container the refined cottonseed oil is poured in until the meat is completely covered. Where a hundred pounds of meat is packed into one container it will require about four gallons of oil. A cover of some kind should be placed on the container to keep out dirt or other foreign materials. Store it in a cool, dry, well ventilated place, such as a cellar or dugout."

Meat stored in this manner will not dry out, mould, or shrink. It will not become rancid or excessively salty, and insect damage is eliminated. Bacons will absorb some of the cottonseed oil if kept in too long, but hams will keep three years if necessary. It is recommended that bacon be used or removed from the oil after about six months.

The Lubbock station has used the same oil for two years without its becoming rancid. It is not yet known how often it can be used, but a method of restoring the oil to its neutral or non-rancid condition is being worked out.

The cottonseed oil method of storing cured meat has been successfully used as far south as the Gulf Coast, and for long enough time to demonstrate its efficacy. It makes no difference what method of curing it used—dry salt, sugar cure, smoked or unsmoked, the oil keeps the meat in the condition in which it comes from the cure. The better the cure the better the meat, of course, but after all, that juicy, fresh-cured taste will not be retained unless some method of preserving it is employed. The cottonseed oil bath excludes fungus molds, insects, and the drying-out effects of the air.

Home-cured hams and bacon may be the best in the world, or the most unpalatable. Certainly nobody enjoys rancid bacon, or dry, salty ham, such as the best "home-cured" becomes in time if left as it comes from the cure or the smoke-house.

GUARD AGAINST SYPHILIS

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 14 — "Guard against Syphilis" is the slogan of National Social Hygiene Day to be observed throughout Texas on February 1. The day will be marked by meetings to highlight community campaigns against syphilis and will focus public attention on vital steps in the conquest of syphilis, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Evidence of interest in the forthcoming event, the third annual observance in the current attack on syphilis, point to a larger demonstration than those of previous years, Dr. Cox said.

Increased activity and interest on the part of official and voluntary health and welfare agencies, civic groups, service clubs, women's organizations, churches and schools is expected.

Defining the objectives of the 1939 attack in terms of the slogan, these points were said to underlie present national, state-wide and community planning in social hygiene:

Guard against syphilis by telling the American people about the dangerous disease—how it can be prevented and cured.

Guard against syphilis in youth, the age of greatest incidence, by strengthening the efforts of church, home, and school to provide better facilities for sex education, character development, and preparation for marriage; and by correcting community conditions which threaten the health and welfare of young people.

Guard against syphilis in marriage and childhood by encouraging good laws—and their observance—requiring examinations for all those about to marry and for all expectant mothers.

Guard against syphilis by attacking quackery, and arch-complice of disease.

Guard against syphilis by supporting adequate voluntary and official health programs, both state and local.

ONE RESOLUTION YOU SHOULD KEEP

By this time, most of your New Year's resolutions have probably been broken. That's only human. Bunt there's one resolution every one of us should make and keep for the twelve months ahead. Here it is: "I resolve to do my part, as a motorist and pedestrian, to help reduce America's ghastly death and accident toll."

During a large part of 1938, the accident rate declined. But we haven't yet earned the right to compliment ourselves and sit back on our laurels. Tens of thousands of people died unnecessarily last year—the victims of recklessness and ignorance. Tens of thousands more will die unnecessarily this year—unless all of us do something about it.

There are three basic approaches to the accident problem. First, comes education. And that doesn't mean just teaching the rudiments of safety to school children. It also means reaching the adult—continuously and pointedly—with those simple instructions and suggestions that, if followed, will reduce the hazards of motoring 90 per cent.

Second, comes law enforcement. Incompetent police—wholesale ticket fixing—sloughy prosecutors—inefficient traffic courts—these are among the best friends the Grim Reaper has. A number of American cities have materially reduced their accident rates by revising their traffic codes, training their traffic police, and doing away with fixing.

Third, comes better street and highway design, to eliminate "accident prone" locations. Many an intersection which was a virtual death trap has been made safe through competent engineering. Every community should start on a long-time program that will gradually do away with this cause of deaths and injuries.

We can have safety—if we want it, and are willing to earn it. This is a universal problem, and its solution depends on the cooperation of us all. We made progress toward that end last year—let's do a great deal more this year.

24TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED BY DR. MCKNIGHT

Dr. J. B. McKnight last month rounded out a quarter of a century as superintendent and medical director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium with a record of having planned and directed the growth of the institution from a small colony to the second largest state hospital of its kind in the United States.

Dr. McKnight observes his twenty-fifth anniversary and begins his twenty sixth year as the sanatorium's executive officer, on New Year's Day. The anniversary finds Dr. McKnight in the midst of plans to further enlarge the sanatorium. A new seventy-five bed patients' dormitory is now under construction.

When Dr. McKnight was placed in charge of the hospital January 1, 1914, the institution was known as State Tuberculosis Colony No. 1 and consisted of half a dozen buildings, three of which provided fifty-seven beds for patients. The colony's plant was valued at $80,000. The State Sanatorium today boasts sixteen patients' dormitories with 865 beds for patients, and two dozen or more subsistence and supply buildings. The institution now represents an investment of approximately $2,000,000 by the State of Texas.—The Chaser.

AND NOW LOOK WHAT HAPPENED: W. LEE O'DANIEL HAS POLL TAX

Fort Worth, — Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel qualified as a 1939 voter today when he obtained a poll tax receipt from tax-assessor-collector John Bourland. As he paid $3.50 poll taxes for himself and Mrs. O'Daniel he declared he still was of the opinion that the levy should be eliminated.

O'Daniel advocated elimination of tax as qualification for voting in his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination last summer. Later he divulged he had not paid the tax himself for several years and therefore was not a qualified voter.

LUCKY AMERICANS

The average American workman who labors only 18 minutes for a pound of bacon would have to work at least twice that long to make a similar purchase in almost any foreign nation, a survey of comparative buying power and wages has shown. For example, the Englishman would have to work 45 minutes at the prevailing British scale; the German 89 minutes and the Belgian 156 minutes. Almost the same ratio applies to all standard foodstuff.

For the same grocery order the Englishman would work 3 3/4 hours, the German 7 hours, and the Belgian 14 hours.

ROB PETER TO PAY PAUL

The President's special railroad committee recommends "less" Government regulation of railroads. The report suggests unified regulations of all classes of carriers to equalize competition—resembling a sort of rob Peter to pay Paul program.

In the above matters, and in other particulars, the report offers nothing very convincing as remedies.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN TO YOU IF A TIRE BLEW OUT AT 60?

YOU'D BE SAFER WITH HUDSON'S EXCLUSIVE AUTO-POISE CONTROL

WHY? Because this revolutionary mechanical invention (patent applied for) automatically helps to keep wheels on their course—on rough roads, in heavy side winds, even when a tire blows. The operation of AUTO-POISE CONTROL does not require special tires, tubes or extra equipment of any kind. It is standard at no extra cost on all 1939 Hudson passenger cars; NO OTHER CAR HAS ANYTHING LIKE IT.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN TO YOU IF HYDRAULICS SUDDENLY FAILED?

YOU'D BE SAFER WITH HUDSON'S EXCLUSIVE DOUBLE-SAFE BRAKES

WHY? Because, even if hydraulics should suddenly fail through accident or service neglect, the driver of a Hudson just pushes farther on the same foot pedal and STOPS. Thanks to Hudson's exclusive Double-Safe Brakes—two braking systems (finest Bendix Hydraulics and a separate reserve mechanical system) working automatically from the same foot pedal. Many letters in our files tell of accidents prevented by Double-Safe Brakes, standard in all 1939 Hudsons.

His Age Got His Name In the Bible

We were just thinking of a man that lived to be 969 years old. He was born, and raised a family then died, and that's his record. But he had a wonderful background. His father only lived 365 years, but never died. The chief pilot on the boat that saved the world was this man's grandson.

When man lives a century now, it comes front page news for all the papers. Somebody has said that if you want to live a long life in this age, get a disease that is incurable—and take care of yourself. On account of the brevity of life, we don't have time to do much good now. Neither do we have time to make many friends.

By the time we reach 40, we are under treatment of the doctor, and some become familiar with all the drugs sold in the apothecary shop, and then our body may bear the marks of a lot of fancy hemstitching before we reach our allotted time. People before the flood had time to plant acorns and wait a century for a shade. But we are in the market now for a gourd vine, or what have you, that will grow a shade over night. Or an umbrella that will do in a pinch.

We are all in a hurry now and have no time to grow oak trees, and in this hemmed in condition, we will take our three score and ten and let it go at that, but we think that the man who used 969 years got the best of the deal.

ROBERT WELCH PASSES

In the passing of Robert E. Welch, of Meadow, that community loses a good friend and promoter of the better things for the community, and the old timers of Terry county have lost a friend in whom they had utmost confidence. In fact, as far as sowing wild oats is concerned, that period was never realized in the life of Robert Welch. From childhood his mode of life has been more that of a staid, mature person. This does not mean that he did not laugh and enjoy life, for he did, but that he seemed never to have passed through that wild life period.

Robert was born October 16, 1885, therefore was 43 years of age, and 13 when the writer came to Terry county. Therefore we have intimately known him in youth, young manhood and maturity. He passed away last Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at the Legion hospital at Kerrville, Texas, and brought to Brownfield, where the body was kept in the Brownfield Funeral home until Sunday afternoon, when it was carried to the Meadow Baptist church, where funeral services were held, conducted at 3:30 by Rev. W. K. Horn, former pastor at Meadow, assisted by Rev. J. E. Anderson of Plains, who made Robert a deacon, and the present Meadow pastor, Rev. Leverett. The body was laid to rest in the Meadow cemetery.

Robert received his high school education in Brownfield, and when the U. S. entered the World War, he joined the army and spent much time in France in the service. When the war ended he returned and entered the services of Cicero Smith Lumber Co., and soon after the establishment of the Meadow yard about 17 years ago, was sent up there to manage it, which position he held until recently. It was in Meadow that he met and married the young lady who survives him. Robert was a true and loyal member of his church, and was very positive in his attitude against all forms of worldliness and immorality.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Glenola, 13. Also, his mother and several brothers and sisters. For the past five years Robert has been in failing health and for the past few months he has been losing ground steadily despite all that could be done by medical skill.

L. P. C. Association Passes 5th Milestone

Five years of cooperative production loansduction loans to Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum and Gaines County stockmen and farmers were completed on January 4, 1939, when the Lubbock Production Credit Association passed its fifth anniversary.

Established to assure farmers a dependable source of credit available at all times and at reasonable rates, the Lubbock Production Credit Association has made loans totaling $2,176,866.00, according to Wade Cooper, Secretary-Treasurer. Members have good attention to their obligations and the total loss sustained since organization amounts to less than $900.00.

Although the greatest use of production credit loans in this area has been for financing farmers and stockmen, many association members have obtained loans for a variety of practical purposes such as loans to finance dairy operations and the feeding of cattle, sheep and hogs for the market.

Each stockman or farmer who has obtained a loan from the Lubbock Production Credit Association has become a voting member of the association. Each member has only one vote, regardless of the amount of stock in the association he holds or how large his loan may be. The association now has 423 local stockholders, and capital investment in the association amounts to $191,145.00 protected by sound reserves totaling $24,225.00.

E. R. Davis of Lubbock is president of the association, A. R. Brownfield of Brownfield is vice-president, and the board of directors includes T. W. Gabbert of Ralls, Roy Sherman of Seminole and Roy Fitzgerald of Plains.

Agricultural Workers Honor Pioneer Investigator

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 16

At a banquet held Friday night in his honor at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, R. E. Dickson of Spur was presented the 1939 Merit Award of the Texas Agricultural Workers' Association for distinguished service to Texas agriculture. As superintendent of the substation of the Texas Experiment Station at Spur for twenty-four years, Mr. Dickson has served Texas agriculture with fidelity and distinction.

While his accomplishments in grain sorghum improvement and with livestock feeds and feeding have been significant, it is as a pioneer in the investigation of soil and water conservation problems that he is best known, and perhaps it is in this field of agricultural research that he has made his most notable contribution.

In his work on the Spur Station, Dickson plowed a virgin field in unearthing many of the principles and practices of soil and water conservation that today are part and parcel of the broad and comprehensive national program with which the nation is seeking to protect and to restore its most important natural resources—the soil.

FOURSQUARE CHURCH, BROWNFIELD

Rev. Irene Lee, Pastor
Our pastor has just returned from a three weeks trip to Los Angeles, where she attended the annual conference convention, and reports a very delightful trip, and a good time of christian fellowship and spiritual blessings. She is now on the firing line for God with a new inspiration to go forward.

We will in the next few days begin the completion of our church building, which has been delayed. Everyone is ready to work, and anxious to see it completed. Watch for the results. Come out where the old time gospel is preached with results. We are starting two Rededication Services prior to our winter revival, starting Feb. 5. You will want to attend these services.

Friday, January 20, 7:30 p. m., the pastor will bring the message with the young people in charge. Subject: Rededication to the word of God. Sunday 10 a. m., Sunday School. Come out, you that have been missing; we need you. At 11 a. m., subject: Rededication to Faith.

Sunday 7:30 p. m., a great evangelistic service; come bring the unsaved. Subject: Rededication to Christianity. Tuesday 7:30 p. m., subject, Rededication to the Holy Spirit. Everyone welcome. Never a stranger but once.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock, W. M. U. Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The congregation of the local Missionary Baptist church wishes to take this means of expressing their heartiest thanks and deepest appreciation to Mrs. T. W. Bruton who so graciously donated a number of trees for the beautification of the church grounds. The men of the church met on Monday of last week and set out the trees.

MARKS OF CHURCH SUCCESS

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The W. M. S. met at the church Monday, January 16th. Mrs. Cook led a very interesting and profitable discussion on the first three chapters of Judges.

The Bible study for next Monday will be the fourth, fifth and sixth chapters of Judges. There were sixteen members present.

In the business session we discussed the Federated Missionary meeting which is to be held at the Methodist church on the fifth Monday of January.

The speaker will be Mrs. Wylie of Lubbock who is a returned Missionary from India. The women of Brownfield have in store for them a great opportunity, as she is a very interesting and inspirational speaker.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH SHOULD GET FUNDS
AUSTIN, Texas — The Texas State Department of Health is facing one of the most critical stages in the history of its existence", states Dr. Holman Taylor, Secretary, State Medical Association of Texas.

"The rapid expansion of the public health program during the past few years in Texas has been due in part to increased interest of the citizens in the need for a more adequate program of health protection and a more emphatic demand that these services be given through the State Department of Health", Dr. Taylor further states.

"If these demands are to be satisfactorily met and the people in all parts of the state gain the reasonable health protection to which they are entitled, the following fundamental needs of the Department should be met for the next biennium.

1. A substantial increase in the amount of funds for the support of the central administration.

2. Adequate appropriation for the promotion of a successful anti-venereal disease program.

3. The passage of a new up-to-date sanitary code in line with the national code.

4. Sufficient monies to be used as an equalization fund for promotion of local health work in the financially weaker cities and counties.

5. An increase in the number of public health districts from 6, the present number, to 12 with adequate personnel to carry forward an effective program of communicable disease control.

6. A separate appropriation for both Malaria control and Pneumonia typing.

7. A Constitutional Amendment to permit counties to levy and

AUSTIN — The new legislature loafed leisurely through its first week, doing little but completing the organization routine and receiving a number of Senate bills. All hands were awaiting the inauguration of Gov. O'Daniel, and his all-important message, which was scheduled for Wednesday of this week, his second day in office. In it, he had promised to reveal his plan for raising the $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 necessary to carry out his proposal of $15 a month for everybody over 65—half his original pre-election promise of $30 a month for everybody over 65.

several close contests, and debated through a couple of days over its rules, without finally adopting any. The hitch was a proposal to place all investigating activities under the jurisdiction of the Rules Committee. The members, realizing that committee investigations of State departments and other matters in the past have proved prolific sources of political thunder for the investigators, turned thumbs down on the plan. They favor the usual custom of appointing the authors of a successful investigation resolution to the committee thus created, which spreads around the opportunity to make political hay from the publicity that usually comes from a legislative probe. The Senate has used the one-committee method successfully for the past two sessions, but the House evidently didn't like it.

Watch These Issues

Pensions and taxes have received most of the publicity so far, in advance of the regular session, but a brief survey reveals that there are a lot of important legislative matters that will engage a great deal of attention from the session. Watch these issues, among others:

The Senate bill by Kelley of Edinburg, to raise the load limit of motor trucks. There is a stronger statewide sentiment reported in favor of this action than ever before, but the railroad lobby, powerful as in any Austin, is gathering in force and a life-and-death struggle over the issue is in prospect.

Amendments to the State Unemployment Compensation section of the Social Security law, as proposed by Senator Allen Shivers of Port Arthur, to eliminate recognized injustices and reduce the cost of operation to the consuming public, which in the long run, pays all the bills. The changes have the endorsement not only of the affected employers, but also of the administrators of the law, headed by Orville Carpenter, former State auditor.

A state wages and hours law, which would take in virtually everybody not affected by the Federal Act. Although sponsored by union labor organizations, there seems to be no other important sentiment in favor of such an act, which opponents claim, would actually decrease employment and raise the prices of virtually all commodities.

Courthouse Lobby Busy

The county courthouse lobby, which is one of the strongest, has been desperately busy for two years, seeking a method of getting the State to take over millions of dollars of county road bonds, the money for which was used to finance construction of roads that are not now State highways, the State has assumed county bonds used to pave roads later taken into the State Highway system. Best lawyers in the House and Senate declare the constitution forbids the State taking over these old county debts, but there is a surplus of about $5,000,000 in the fund created by allocating 1 cent of the gasoline tax to pay off the assumed county bonds, and the county courthouse boys will not rest in the efforts to grab off part of this money. The Taber plan folks recognized the limitations of the constitution, and proposed to issue a huge $200,000,000 State bond issue to get around it. When the Taber plan was received coldly, the County Judges Association brought forth its own plan, but evidently didn't read the Constitution very closely. Many highway officials are beginning to see in the various attempts to raid the bond retirement fund a backdoor method of diverting gasoline tax money, which might bring on from Federal authorities a shut-off of Texas' $7,500,000 annual federal aid highway money.

Another Hot One

"A fair trade practices act," sponsored by independent merchants, and opposed by folks who declare it is a price-fixing measure to restrict competition, will surely bring on another bitter legislative struggle.

If a war with a foreign enemy was killing 2,000 Texans a year, and wounding 54,000 others, it wouldn't take Texas' citizens long to authorize somebody to do whatever was necessary to stop the war and halt the slaughter.

But we have become so accustomed to slaughtering 2,000 and injuring 54,000 others each year in motor car accidents on Texas streets and highways, that the proposed new drivers' license law, sponsored by the Department of Public Safety and all safety organizations, may meet considerable opposition, because it gives the Safety Department the right to suspend temporarily licenses of drivers who are involved in serious accidents. The bill also would raise the age limit for licenses from 14 to 16; would charge a $1 fee for a two-year license; and otherwise tightens up restrictions to keep drunken, irresponsible and incompetent drivers off the roads. It closely follows the uniform driver's license law, in effect in many states.

Austin Notes

Veteran observers here believe the new legislature is much more conservative than its predecessors, and freely predict that no "wild" taxation legislation will come out of it. They point out that the State is now $20,000,000 in the "red" in its general fund; that the pension fund is facing another of its periodic "crises" without sufficient money in sight to keep up present payments through February; that the school people are asking for $21,000,000 for rural aid—a 100 per cent increase over the last appropriation which was the largest in history; that the higher educational institutions, with increased enrollment, seek more funds; and that the Board of Control and Gov. Allred have recommended larger appropriations for eleemosynary institutions. These demands, together with about $5,000,000 needed for teachers retirement, blind and dependent children, bust by considered along with pension liberalization. . . . Senator Albert Stone, of Brenham, declares the State could get $10,000,000 of quick cash revenue by authorizing private collection of delinquent taxes, which the county politicians just won't go after. He points out a private agency collected $100,000 in his home county of Washington in a few months, taking its percentage from penalties and interest only.

Urges Better Grade of Cotton

College Station, Texas, Jan. 17 —Cotton farmers must do everything possible to get the utmost return from their 1939 crop, E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, said in listing points that would help to increase income.

The biggest gain, Miller believes, can be made through improvement in quality. He urged the community, county, and area organization along the one-variety line. "This is important not only because quality and uniformity will bring in more cash per acre, but we need improvement if we are to develop our cotton markets and meet foreign competition," he pointed out.

Soil and water conservation will bring results, the agronomist stated, and quoted increased annual net returns of $6.51 an acre obtained at the Spur Agricultural Experiment Substation from terraced land farmed on the contour over land farmed with the rows running down hill in a 12 year test.

"It is good crop insurance to treat cottonseed with 2 per cent ceresan at the rate of three ounces per bushel," Miller said. Increases in yield through this practice were 25 per cent at College Station, 15 per cent at Temple, 9 per cent in the Brazos Bottom, and 4 per cent at Lubbock, recent experiment tests show.

Commercial fertilizer and manure on sandy and sandy loam soils have proved profitable, and he urged farmers to consult county agricultural agents for local recommendations as to amounts to use.

"Insect control is going to be important in 1939, and no farmer should forget proper seedbed preparation and cultivation," Miller concluded.

Mrs. E. Dickerson Passes

Mrs. E. Dickerson, 49, wife of a local painter, passed away at the hospital at 10 p. m. Tuesday night, after a fatal attack of pneumonia. The body was prepared for burial by the Brownfield Funeral Home, and carried to Vernon for the funeral and burial.

The Dickerson family have been in Brownfield about two years and have made many friends in that short time. Besides her husband, she leaves several children, to mourn her passing.

Mrs. Johnnie Haynes is convalescing from undergoing a major operation, Friday.

OLDSMOBILE SALES SHOW BIG INCREASE

Aldsmobile retail sales for the last ten days of December totalled 4,892 cars for a gain of 202 units over the 4,690 cars sold during the previous ten day period of December, according to D. E. Ralston, general sales manager.

"This is an increase in Oldsmobile sales of 1,909 cars or a gain of 64 per cent over the same day period in December of the previous year when our dealers sold 2,983 cars," said Ralston.

Oldsmobile sales for the entire month of December, 1938, totaled 14,659 cars compared to 8,934 cars sold during the same month in 1937 to show an increase of 63.4 per cent.

True the change might give the politicians and the political dignitaries who solemnly "elect" the President of the United States each four years, a bit more time to get their swaller tails properly smoothed out, and their fingers shinningly manicured, but we just wonder if a more simple way could not be found than just changing the date—why not do away with the electoral college altogether—because after all it's a bit obsolete, and some folks think un-American because under it, the majority doesn't always rule.—Littlefield News.

BUSINESS ROLLS UP NEW MARGIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. — The Nation's business rolled down the final stretch of 1938 with good momentum this week.

As usual in the week before Christmas, the spotlight played on expanding retail sales. Trade experts who summed up progress said activity was better than indicated by earlier estimates and that the uncertainty which harassed merchants a year ago was absent.

Industry had its normal year end let-down, with one exception: electric power. In this division production soared to heights never before reached.

Merchants and industrialists took cheer from the report of Secretary of Labor Perkins that employment had scored a better than seasonal gain in November.

They noted a significant gesture of confidence on the part of the largest steel maker in the World—U. S. Steel corporation. This company increased pay of salar-

PATIENCE

His father had given the little Jewish boy a dollar for his birthday. All afternoon the boy trotted around the neighborhood getting the bill changed to silver at the grocers, back to a bill at the bakers, and so on. His father asked him the reason for his behavior.

"Vell," said Ikey, "sooner or later somebody is going to make a mistake, and it aint going to be me."
