SOUTH PLAINS BANKERS HOLD A VERY IMPORTANT MEETING AT LUBBOCK

Houston Cotton Brokers Making Effort to Get Business From This Section. Will Pay Only 80 Per cent of Loan Price. Go Insurance On Cotton While in Transit. All of Loan Price Paid Here.

J. O. Gillham, vice-president, and Leo Holmes, Cashier of the Brownfield State Bank; W. R. McDuffie, cashier, and Clovis Kendrick assistant cashier of the First National Bank of this City, attended a very important meeting of South Plains Bankers in Lubbock last Thursday night, the 22nd.

According to Mr. Holmes, the object of the meeting was to get lined up in order to handle the government loan cotton this fall. It seems that the big cotton brokers of Houston are muscling in to get the cotton shipped to that port, paying the owner only 80 percent of its value, and after shipping, it has no insurance on it until classed and graded, and then after a lapse of time, the farmer gets his other 20 percent.

If local bankers handle the loan, he gets the full 100 percent of the loan and it is weighed and put in storage here.

Mr. Harry Blocker, who has charge of the government classing and grading in Lubbock, promised the Brownfield bankers a 24 hour service, after the cotton is cut and sample sent up there, where our closing grading office will be located.

There will be no advantage whatever in storing Houston, as insurance and grading is no cheaper than here, and as exporting is at a standstill, mills in the Carolinas, Georgia and New England had as soon have the cotton shipped from here as from Houston.

And another important feature that must be considered. Here, you deal with men and banks you have known for years, and the Houston men are strangers. Personal friendship goes a long ways sometimes.

This Section Has Mighty Good Crops

Over the past week end, the writer had an opportunity of seeing quite a stretch of country, and in that more than 200 miles saw a wonderful crop of feed and cotton. We loaded out here Saturday afternoon around three o'clock for Big Spring and Coahoma down in old Howard, the we being other than the writer, Jack Jr., wife and little son, Jack Taylor, and Miss Mabel (Eli) Whitney, home demonstrator for the FSA here. Miss Whitney was a teacher at Coahoma before coming here.

While everything was lovely, and we had a wonderful time, there was just a touch of sadness, as one of the Roberts' in-laws, Archie Thompson, was defeated by a little more than one hundred votes in his race for his fourth term as commissioner of that county. But there was a consolation. He carried his home box which was also the home box of his opponent. The Big Spring box defeated him. One of the Roberts daughters, Mrs. Ida Collins is the county treasurer, and perhaps some thought one office holder in a family was enough. Politics is that way.

Going down there, we journeyed through the country via Welch in order to see more crops in Terry county. Crops are good all the way. Then Sunday, we returned via Colorado City and Snyder in order to see Herman and Sallie Trigg, our daughter and her husband, as they had just returned from a trip to the deep South, and we wanted to hear about it. Didn't leave Snyder until after dark, so didn't see any more crops. They had a good rain however from Snyder east.

So, to home and to bed by slightly past ten pee em.

Gaines County Wet By 257 Majority

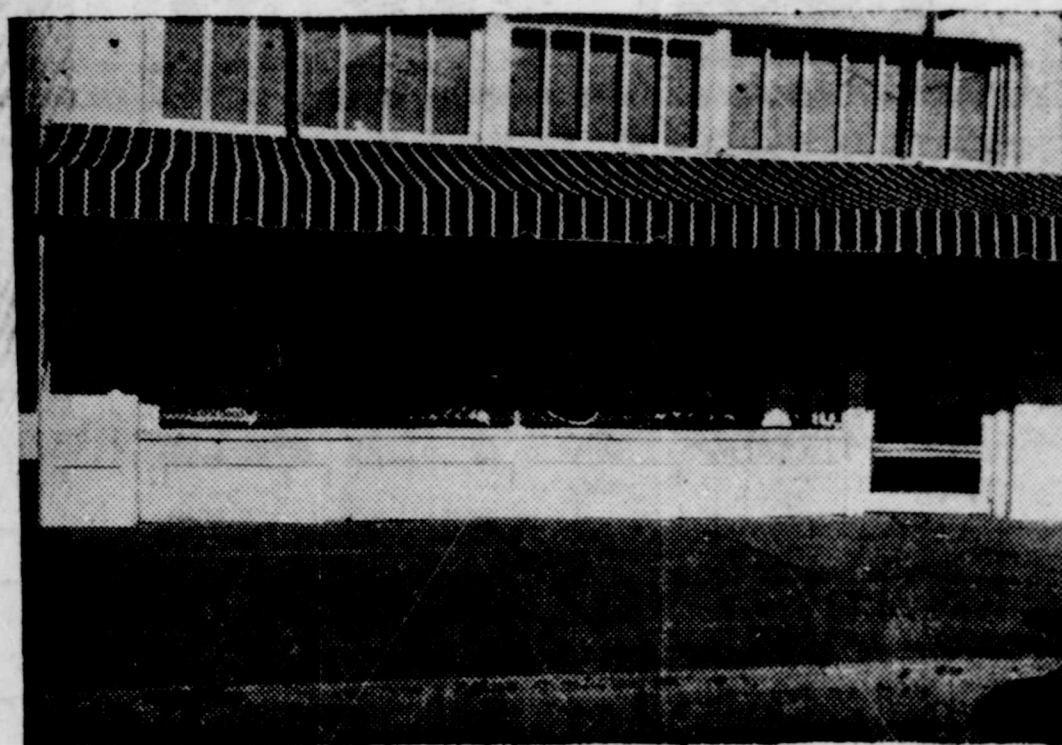

In the county wide election last Wednesday, Gaines county again voted for light wines and beer. The vote without two small boxes was 851 for beer and wine and 695 against, a wet majority of 257.

Seminole again voted dry by 18, much smaller dry majority than last election. Seagraves voted wet again by 4 to 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey and children of Lubbock visited home folks here Tuesday.

HERE IS YOUR KYLE GROCERY

This view, luckily, was made after the radical change in front of the store in replacing the old-fashioned awning with the latest store awnings made of duck in gay colors that adds fully 100 percent to the exterior view of the store. Many changes for the better have been installed on the interior too, in the past month or two.

This is an old store under a new name and management. For years the store was known as Hudgens & Knight, and even before that as Ashworth & Knight. About four years ago, Clarence Hudgens now of California and Kyle Graves purchase the grocery department of Hudgens & Knight, and the grocery was then known as Hudgens Grocery. On the first day of June, 1939, Mr. Graves purchased the interest of his partner in the store, and re-named the place, the Kyle Grocery.

Kyle Graves has been a consistent and good advertiser in these columns. He has increased the business of the store at least 50 percent, and is considered one of the most progressive citizens of the city. He has a personnel that is hard to beat; they know their several duties and attend to them.

To Install New Equipment in Ritz Theatre

The management of the Jones Theatres announces the Ritz Theatre will be closed a short while, beginning Tuesday, Sept. 3 in order to install new equipment and complete interior decoration. The theatre will be re-opened as soon as completed, resuming its regular house policy with matinees every afternoon and retaining the tax free admission of 20c excepting Bargain Night, when it's 5 & 10c.

The Rio Theatre, reopening Tuesday with "The Women", starring Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford will endeavor to bring you only the pictures you want to see, at popular prices. In response to the many requests that we have matinees daily at one of our better houses, the Rio will open daily at 1:15 p. m. Such pictures as "Jessie James", "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" will be brought back and the best of new pictures will be shown, such as "Young People" starring Shirley Temple and Jack Oakie, "Girl From Avenue A" with Jane Withers. The admission will be 30c, including Federal Defense Tax. We invite you to attend our Rio, the best "little" theatre in West Texas.

Pound Brings In Some Big Apples

Talking about the Big Apple, a modern dance, while L. R. Pounds, prominent farmer who lives a mile west of town, may never even have cut the Pigeon Wing, he has raised some really big apples this year. In company with T. L. Patterson, chamber of commerce secretary, he was showing them to people in town last week.

We weighed the two apples on postal scales at the Herald office, and they weighed exactly one pound each, and measured 14 inches in circumference. We have never seen any shipped in that were larger. He didn't know the name of the apple, but they had the same color as the old Horse Apple of our boyhood days, but flatter shaped.

Mr. Pounds stated that he had about five bushels of these apples on the trees.

New Terry Well A Fair Producer

George Livermore No. 2 Glimp, section 8, block X, psi survey, in the Northern Terry County south extension area of the Slaughter pool, has been completed for daily potential of 469 barrels of oil daily, plus 5½ per cent water after treatment with 2,500 gallons of acid. Total depth is 5,035 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Webber were Lubbock visitors, Monday.

District Court Set To Grinding Monday

The first week of the summer term of district court was set to work Monday with District Judge Louis B. Reed as the Umpire, and District Attorney Truett Smith at the bat. The grand jury was empaneled and set to work, and the crowd in the lobby approaching those twelve fearful fellows gave evidence that the grand jury was going into its work of investigating crime in Terry county with a will.

The first week of course is non-jury, and Judge Reed took up the divorce cases, default judgements, etc. Some of the cases for the second week will be jury and some non-jury.

Monday: Earnest vs. Burleson, Jury; Cathey vs. Hodges, non-jury; Carruth vs. Walker, jury; Lee vs. Gordon, non-jury; Bryant vs. Hahn, jury. Friday: Morris vs. McAdoo; Hartman vs. McAdoo; Gable vs. McAdoo, two cases. The last four all being pleas of privilege.

Third week, criminal court, Tuesday: Black vs. Cotton. Monday, Pool vs. Aldridge, both jury cases.

Fourth week, jury cases: Monday: Willard vs. Whitaker; Wellborn vs. Warr.

Among the out-of-town lawyers here to set their cases were, Lee R. York, Abilene; Major Simpson, Amarillo; G. H. Nelson, Frank Brown, Jack Randal and Attorney Evans, all of Lubbock; E. C. Cain and Tom Gerrard, Tahoka; A. B. Cook and Bill Griffiths, Seagraves; John Edmison, Lamesa.

Good Showers Visit Terry County

A light shower fell here Sunday afternoon, while not in sufficient amount to penetrate the soil, cooled the atmosphere and livened up things. Really nothing was suffering in well cultivated fields, as there was a fair deep season in the ground.

Another rain fell after midnight Tuesday morning that measured seven-tenths of an inch, and was heavier west and southwest. Some hail was reported in the Lahey community, but we failed to learn how much damage occurred.

It was quite a bad looking cloud, and was accompanied by quite a bit of lightning and thunder. T. A. Newberry reported that he got at least 2 inches of rain. He lives two miles west of Gomez.

Only Short Time Left To Be Vaccinated

Dr. Brumage has asked us to again urge all children who have not been vaccinated for smallpox do so at once. There is only a short time left, as school starts September 4.

Don't Confuse Hunting Regulations

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—While the changes in migratory bird hunting regulations were few, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is warning sportsmen to become familiar with the new regulations and not to get them confused.

The greatest confusion is likely to come from the shooting hours of ducks and doves. Under the new federal regulations, with which Texas laws conform, duck hunting may now start at sunrise and must end at 4 p. m. Dove hunters can start shooting at sunrise, but must quit at sunset.

Too, there is only one duck season in Texas, it opening at sunrise Nov. 2 and ending 4 p. m. Dec. 31, but there are two dove seasons and some special regulations. The dove season will be from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Throckmorton, Haskell, Young, Wise, Jack, Denton, Collins, Hunt and all counties north of them.

Officers Having Trouble With Youths

Police Chief Roy Moreman and Constable J. D. Stafford brought in some copper tubing to the Herald office one day last week to have us identify. Now before you guess that the copper coil tubing was a distillery, will state that up to this year it was used in a water cooler, giving us city pressure around a block of ice.

Mr. Moreman stated that he caught some boys who live west of the railroad with it, and other property that they had taken, and that it was not the first time these boys had been hauled into juvenile court. We have had to run some boys off our premises that were nosing around several times.

Moreman stated that the law was having trouble not only with these boys, but some others as well. Well, if they do no desist they are headed straight for the reformatory at Gatesville.

Terry Farmers Getting Ready for "Pepper Bellies"

If nothing unforeseen happens, in another month the cotton fields of Terry county will be white and ready for the harvest, and the biggest since 1937. Drive out any direction you wish, and while the stalks are not extra high, they are simply loaded with bolls from top to bottom.

And so, in another month, in 1930 trucks and ancient model autos, the vacant places about town will be filled with "pepper bellies"—Mexicans to you, perhaps, here for the duration of the harvest, and you'll begin to hear that soft language of the Rio Grande on all sides of the street.

And too, the merchants will begin to feel the increase in business, and there'll be a gay time in the old town and county.

LIONS PLANNING TO ATTEND ZONE MEETING AT LUBBOCK

The local Lions club held their regular meeting Wednesday noon at Cohanogher's Cafe, during which the zone meeting at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, Saturday night was discussed. A good delegation is expected from here to attend what promises to be a gala affair.

After the business session, Dr. W. S. Brumage showed two very interesting movies dealing with disease control, which are releases of the State Dept. of Health. They were very educational and were appreciated by all present.

3 Local Students Get Degrees At Tech

The Herald has received an announcement from Texas Tech college at Lubbock, that three young people of Brownfield have received degrees, and are now ready to go out into the world and seek employment in their chosen profession.

The three are Miss Alma Fern Green, B. S. in Education; Durward Moorhead, B. B. A.; Ruby Nell Smith, B. A.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF FAIR BOOSTERS AT COURTHOUSE LAST FRIDAY

The Matter of a Permanent Terry County Fair Now Under Way and It is Believed That it Will Be Put Over. Committee Receiving Much Encouragement from Citizens.

Some thirty or thirty-five Terry County Fair Boosters met in the district court room last Friday night to try and formulate plans for a permanent Terry county fair. What the crowd lacked in numbers seemed to be made up in enthusiasm. It was a thoroughly representative bunch too, being a good cross section of the business and professional men of the city, with a sprinkling of farmers.

C. T. Edwards, International Harvester Co. dealer here, presided. Mr. Edwards is also on the committee mentioned in these columns last week, together with County Agent McClain and J. E. Shelton, as men who will coordinate and put on the fair this year. Each are real fair boosters, and three better men to handle the preliminaries of getting ready for the 1940 fair could hardly have been selected. Mr. McClain was the secretary of this meeting.

The object of this meet was not so much the putting on of the 1940 fair as it was to see if the people of the area were really interested in a permanent fair with a permanent home. A number of talks were made, all of them favoring a permanent organization and permanent housing. The main question under discussion, however, was the amount for which a share of stock should be sold. Mr.

Shelton stated that a number of questionnaires were sent out to farmers last year, and most of them decided $10 per share would be about right. Some believed a lower figure than $10, in order to let in working people, or at least to sell them on easy terms. Others stated that they believed that those able to pay should be the ones to put up the money.

By some questioning, it was found that at least two of those present, Dr. E. C. Davis and C. T. Edwards would take as many as five shares, and that everyone present would take at least one or more. Those who had studied the matter stated that they believed $5,000 would cover the cost of the first absolutely necessary building, and that others could be added as finances and need justified.

A fine soliciting committee of hustlers, composed of C. C. Primm, Leo Holmes, Mon Telford, Lee Fulton, Lynn Nelson, Spencer Kendrick and Geo. W. Neill were appointed by the chair to sell stock. They met Tuesday of this week to make a list and formulate plans.

The writer has talked with several of those who attended the meeting Friday night, and with one accord, they are of the opinion that a permanent fair can be put over for Brownfield and Terry county.

'No Dice' on Highway Says Commission

The citizens of Brownfield, composed of County Judge R. A. Simms, and Commissioners Tom Warren, J. F. Malcolm and George Henson; T. L. Patterson, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, J. E. Shelton and County Judge-Elect, C. L. Lincoln, seem to have hit a snag at Austin.

They appeared before the highway commission in regard to having the highway from Brownfield to the Hockley county line on 137, hot topped and paved. They were received very graciously, they stated, but were informed the Commission did not have that much money at this time.

So, it looks like Terry will have to do like Gaines and Yoakum, if they want this, and the highway to Lamesa finished anyway soon. The highway department has already agreed to take the roads and bonds off the hands of the other two counties. This was what the Highway Commission suggested to the gentlemen mentioned above.

State Bank May Use Rest of Building

Off the record, we understand the Brownfield State Bank is seriously considering the use of the rest of the building belonging to them, after the Palace Drug store moves into their new home, corner Main and Fifth. At least they are said to contemplate the use of all the lower floor as far back as the two story section goes.

A contractor and architect are now going over that portion of the building making plans, which may or may not be adopted, in which all the safety deposit boxes and other things may be housed, giving more room in front for the main banking workshop.

The room is really needed now, and as the city and section grows, the extra space will be more required by this fast growing institution.

Noel Tailor Shop to Be Enlarged

The Noel Tailors will soon enlarge their plant by adding the 10x80 feet now being occupied by a domino parlor, to the building, giving them 25x80 feet, according to Troy Noel, proprietor.

Mr. Noel stated that considerable new and modern machinery will be added as soon as the partitions are removed. This will give them more work and storage room.

E. S. Hurt, local lawyer, has returned from a visit with relatives in Fort Worth and Dallas.

First Bale Brings Over $100 Premium

The first bale of 1940 Terry county cotton, was raised by Roy McNeal in the southern part of the county, and brought to the West Texas Gin Monday, August 26th, where it was ginned and wrapped free, Herman Cheshir, manager, stated. This bale was raised from cotton planted following the big rains in April.

A premium of more than $100 was paid Mr. McNeal. The bale weighed 426 pounds.

This compares with the first bale of 1939, which was ginned Saturday, Sept. 2nd. It was raised by Elmer Edwards, seven miles south of town, and also ginned by the West Texas Gin Co.

Rollin McCord Defeats Burton G. Hackney

Rollin McCord, present county attorney of Lynn county, was elevated to the judicial attorneyship of the 106th judicial district by voters in the six-county district Saturday. McCord defeated Burton G. Hackney, Terry county attorney, 7,329 votes to 5,863 votes.

Only one box in Lynn county was reported incomplete and the results will have no effect on the total vote.

Results were as follows:

County	McCord	Hackney
Gaines	834	801
Dawson	1,546	1,631
Yoakum	544	490
Terry	1,176	1,358
Lynn	2,331	1,026

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

Leon Trotsky claims to have been hacked to death with a pick by one of Smiling Joe Stalin's hirelings. One form of Russian radicalism is just as bad as another, and any form of government in Europe, powered by a dictator, is as nasty as old Satan's kingdom. Any man who puts himself in either, is subject to assassination by the agents of the other. Whether bolshevik, nazi or fascist, they are daded by the Devil and born of Hell. If Trotsky was in power, the other side would catch old Billy just the same as he has. All are rotten.

If we, the citizens of Brownfield, really wish to help out officers, we should report to them when we see youths snooping around our places picking up things. We acknowledge that we have been slack concerning this matter. Time after time we have had to run boys away from our place who were picking up metal around the linotype metal melting apparatus in the back of the printing office. In not reporting these things, we are not aiding ourselves or the officers, and are encouraging youths to pilfer. Thus, we are heading them straight to the pen. Sometimes a good talking to by the Judge of Justice of Peace will change the course of a boy for the better.

Had a card from Preacher J. H. Killion this week, now down at Monahans, the guy that used to fill at least a part of the pulpit at the church of Christ here. He, like Jay Sham Lewis, decided that as we are newcomers here, that James (Farley) Dallas and his postoffice gang might not know us, so he had this on the front for their information: "If addressee is dead, please wrap in asbestos and forward." End of that quote. On toher side, (quote) We enjoyed seeing your handsome profile in the paper last week. Even the kids said you were getting better looking—end of that quote. Well, sir, several of the ladies have told us that we were better looking than we were 31 years ago, but we have not become so excited but that we have kept our shirt on, knowing the diplomatic quality of the ladies as we do. In other words, after letting the matter boil to a simmer, we sum up that what they really mean is that 30 years ago, you were as ugly as Puss Irvin's chamber maid, but we'll allow the old cuss has made a bit of progress, but is still short of Robert Taylor in looks. Ha! Hum! Soon be cotton picking time.

We'll tell you this much about how we voted. We lost no candidates in the state race. Come to Terry.

Here's some good advice we want to pass on to others that we found in a press sheet (so seldom see anything good in a press sheet.) "When you begin to roar and tear your hair about insurance rates, remember that you made the rates." Can't be, says you, I didn't make the rates. Yes you did, brother. Every time a house or business is burned by your neglect or carelessness, it effects the insurance rates of all who carry insurance, as sure as you are your mother's son.

Speaking of birthdays, and that has been quite a smeared on discussion in these columns of late. Editor Sam Malone of the Seminole Sentinel and ust musta be Siamese twins. Last week he had an identical article in his paper that we had the week before, the same visitors from the same places; the same presents and the same eats, word for word. Either Sam copied our article without credit, or this is a coincidence for Mr. Robt. Ripley.

The reports of the bombardment of England across the Channel from France by the Nazis, reminds us of our younger days in Johnson county, Texas. The writer and some six or seven other cotton pickers decided one fall to order a $5.43 single barrel Long Range Marvel shotgun each from a popular mail order concern. They came in one Saturday, and so we bought a bunch of black powder ammunition from a Grandview firm and started toward home in the Antioch community. Plenty cotton tails were found, and we imagine the peaceful inhabitants along Chambers creek thought Sam Bass and his gang had returned.

Some cotton in the county is reported to be more or less infested with worms, but that is not unusual, although they appear to be a bit early this year. If they get rough, the only course to pursue is to poison "L" out of them. By the way, if you want to see a banker get "ringy" just let a farmer walk in, who has his crop mortgaged for every dollar it will stand, and announce, "Well, the worms are simply eating up my cotton crop; what are YOU going to do about it?"

Orb Stice, employee of the First National Bank, is taking a vacation this week, but will spend most of his time in Brownfield, he stated.

Henry Bates has a very prolific tomato patch in his back yard this year. He showed us a triplets recently. We have seen lots of twin tomatoes, but this was the first triplet. We also enjoyed one of his big black melons, which he and wife presented the Herald household.

Mrs. Money Price had a tonsillectomy Monday.

Newspapers to Get Bulk of Pontiac Ads

Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors from September until January will announce its 1941 models with the largest introductory advertising campaign in the division's history.

Newspapers again will form the backbone of Pontiac's sales drive, according to W. J. Mougey, Pontiac advertising manager. MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., continue to handle the account as they have since 1934.

This introductory budget is exclusive of mechanical costs and is 65 per cent over the amount spent by Pontiac in the same period last year.

Hitting hard on newspaper advertising Pontiac has raised its four month newspaper budget 55 per cent, and extended the publication of pre-announcement, announcement, Auto Show and introductory copy from 2,000 newspapers to 2,500. A newspaper circulation of upwards of 41,000,000 persons thus is guaranteed. Insertions will appear every week until January 1 and will open September 5. Advertisement sizes will run from 48 inches through 144 inches.

The black tile decorations around the front and side of Hotel Brownfield and Corner Drug store add greatly to the appearance of that building.

KILLS LION WITH 410 SHOTGUN

A Mexican lion measuring more than 7 feet was recently killed north of Bruni in Webb County by a Mexican hunter who used only a 410 gauge shotgun to bring down the huge cat, it is reported to the State Game Department by a game warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Jr. and Horace Beck were Andrews visitors Saturday. They were guests of Mr. Roberts' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay King, Mrs. Queenelle King and son Robert, visited Mr. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King in Lamesa, last Thursday.

Midland Boosters Invaade Brownfield

Publicizing the Sixth Annual Midland rodeo to be held at Midland on August 31, September 1 and 2, a delegation of 40 Midland business men on a two-day, 750-mile goodwill tour over West Texas stopped here for a brief visit Tuesday, members of the party distributing literature and inviting local residents to attend Midland's annual celebration which they termed "the outstanding rodeo of the Southwest." SUDDARTH-DALLAS NUPTIALS

In the presence of immediate members of the contracting parties, a beautiful and impressive ceremony was read Tuesday evening, August 27, at the Methodist church, Tahoka, at seven o'clock when Miss Betty Lu Suddarth, daughter of Mrs. Walter E. Suddarth, and Clyde McBeth Dallas, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dallas were united in marriage by Rev. G. E. Turrentine, pastor.

The double ring ceremony included "Reeths Entreaty" an insertion used by the bride's mother, a tender and beautiful devotion. Miss Ernestine Story presided at the piano, playing "Bercense" by Goddard, as a processional and "The Rosary", Nevin, was heard during the vows.

The bride wore street length navy sheer, with chantly lace collar and cuffs, black accessories. Her white bouquet was Madonna Gladiola.

Following the ceremony reception was given in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Story, where a handsome lace and satin cloth covered serving table was centered by American Beauty Roses.

A huge three-tiered cake, in pastel frosting, revealed the names of the couple and the date. Mrs. Gertrude Lees, sister of the groom and Mrs. Prentiss Windson, sister of the bride, served at the refreshment table. The couple is at home at 1001 E. Caldwell.

The bride was reared and received her high school education at Tahoka. She was a student at "Our Lady of Good Counsel" at Dallas in 1938. Following this she was a student at TSCW, Denton. Majoring speech, voice and journalism.

The groom has grown to manhood in our city, having graduated from high school in 1929, has since pursued radio from National Radio Institute. At present and for the past two years he has been an employee of the Arizona Chemical plant.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dallas, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. James Harley Dallas and daughter Carole, Mrs. Gertrude Lees and Dickey Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss C. Windson of Muleshoe, W. E. Suddarth, father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Story and family, Rev. G. E. Turrentine and wife.

The bride's mother will be remembered by many friends, as the Mrs. Suddarth, president of 7th Dist. Texas Federated music clubs and was a most capable and highly esteemed member of the local music club. Her memory is an incentive to give of our best and an inspiration to those who loved her and admired her lovely and unselfish character.

Following the ceremony a six o'clock dinner was served to the wedding guests.

CLUB PUTS ACCENT ON FRAME GARDENS

Frame gardens were featured at the Tokio Home Demonstration Club which met Tuesday at the Claude Merritt home. A demonstration in laying cans for sub-irrigation in the second of the 5x20 ft. frame gardens which the Merritts are making was given.

"To get the most from the frame garden, the gardener should plan to plant it so that a succession of vegetables may be harvested. It is easy to see that where quicker maturing or slow maturing vegetables are planted together, the problem of making repeated plantings is more difficult. For this reason the frame garden may be divided into three general divisions, one for moderately quick maturing vegetables, one for fast maturing vegetables, and one for slow maturing vegetables," said Mrs. Merritt as she explained the ways for the success of their frame garden with its new crop of vegetables just beginning to show green.

Mr. Merritt plans to plant one of the frame gardens in strawberries. The strawberries will be set out during the last of October to bear next spring. One frame garden, however, will still be used for vegetables for the table.

Next meeting of the club will be Sept. 10, 2:30 p. m., at the Grover Perry home. At this meeting a demonstration in drying okra and corn will be given. You who are interested are cordially invited to meet with the club.

Still Celebrating Our Birthday

While our sixtieth birthday has gone off without many hitches, some have tried to hand us some lemons on a sharp-pronged fork. For instance, there was Old Chas. Armour Guy, of the Ambulance-Shurnal, Hubcock that tried to get poetical. Listen at his effusion:

"YOO-HOO!"

"Happy birthday to you, Happy birthday to you, Happy birthday, Uncle Andy, Happy birthday to you!"

(Andrew Jackson Stricklin, the crochety, gout-ridden editor of the Terry County Herald at Brownfield, is 60 years young today! May he stick around for many more years to pester The Plainsman with dirty digs!)

Not to be outdone, his chief-of-staff, Jay Sham Lewis, the living skeleton of that newspaper mob, tried to send us a birthday card, but when he went to "back" his letter, his typewriter got to stuttering and he ended by sending us the following on the envelope: "Hon. (or) Able A. Jackson Stricklin (or is it Strickland) The Old He; The Terry County Herald, Brownfield, Texas, U. S. A., care James Farley Dallas. It's a wonder we got that letter, Sham was so stingy in writing the address."

Enclosed and attached was a package of something like tea that Sham swore was good drinking, but so far, we have not tried it out on the cat, as we were afraid that Old Sharley had hired Sham to poison us.

Just as quick as our mug appeared in last week's paper, we began to have to swear that the picture taken 31 years ago was that of yours truly. Some of them stated that it was impossible for one man to put on that much poundage in 31 years out here in Terry where the sand gets in your craw.

In a more pleasing way, some of our friends, including friend wife, who was at that time at Indio, California, sent us a birthday

Last but not least, out fine young friend, Billie Joe McGowan slipped out to his mother's peach trees in the back yard and swiped a sack of as fine Elberta peaches as one would wish, and presented them. BROWNFIELD FRIDAY-SATURDAY TEXAS

FAIR MINDED . . .

By Margetta Holloway

"Of course, I'm fair-minded," said Mrs. S. L. Greathouse, vice-president of the Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club, and home food supply demonstrator for the community. "I certainly am trying to fill my food budget with containers of quality foods that will look good in anybody's fair."

Mrs. Greathouse told the home demonstration agent Monday, that their crop of fine peaches would fill a hundred or more quarts, as well as serve their own family and friends with all the fresh fruit they want. The peaches are being conserved in a variety of ways; canned, made into preserves, jelly, pickles, and dried. Her recipe for extra good peach pickles is as follows:

- PEACH PICKLES
3 lbs. peaches, 3 cups water, 1 1/2 cups vinegar, 3/4-1 lb. sugar, 2 tbs. mixed whole spice. Will yield about 1 1/2 quarts pickles.
1. Select uniform size, tree-ripened, firm, cling peaches with no spoil spots or bruises.
 2. Weigh peaches.
 3. Prepare syrup: Simmer vinegar, water, and spices which have been tied loosely in a cheese cloth bag, for 30 minutes. Stir in sugar and boil until medium thick.
 4. Remove peels from peaches, dropping peeled peaches into salt mixture (1 tbl. salt, 1 tbl. vinegar in 1/2 gal. water) to prevent discoloration.
 5. Rinse fruit and add to syrup and let slowly boil for 10 minutes.
 6. Remove from fire, pour fruit and syrup into crock and allow to stand in thickened spiced syrup over night.

Terry County Soils Are Analyzed

The soils on which many of our natural resources are founded give to use a field of interesting study and thought.

The soils from the farming point of view in controlling erosion and conserving moisture, can be grouped in as much as the same treatments will apply.

The use for group classification of soils is based chiefly upon the estimated capacity of these soils to produce cultivated crops under seasons of normal rainfall. Average experience in dry land farming has led to the observation that the lighter textured soils are more dependable for continuous, moderate production, as they produce

7. Next morning, pour off syrup and heat until syrup cooks down about one-half in volume.

8. Pack whole peaches into jar to make as attractive pack as possible.

9. Pour over packed peaches the boiling syrup.

10. Seal jars immediately.

11. Cool, label, and store in cool, dry place.

(This recipe and the method of procedure may be used for pickling other fruits as well as peaches. The fall garden, 18'x30' is a pretty view from the kitchen door. Located near the tank, yet convenient to the house for easy meal preparation is this store of growing beets, carrots, beans, mustard, turnips, and cucumbers, and what vim and vigor the recent rains have put into their growing!

Plans are being made for a frame garden, a further guarantee that fresh, green vegetables will be available even through the winter months.

"Where Most People Trade"

some crops even during the driest years; that is, no doubt, due to their ability to quickly absorb the dashing rains and to yield this moisture to readily growing crops. The heavier textured soils, while producing excellent yields of cotton and other crops in favorable seasons, often completely fail to produce in dry or unfavorable seasons.

In all probability, these heavy textured soils would produce fair crops in unfavorable seasons if they were aided by mechanical structures, such as terraces, to hold all the moisture that falls in dashing rains, common in such seasons.

The soils of Terry County fall primarily under two groups. The first group consists of deep, moderately light textured soils of high productive. These are soils of undulating to moderately rolling topography. The topsoil area is highly susceptible to wind erosion under conditions of ordinary tillage, which allows the soil to enter the blowing season with little or no vegetative cover. The subsoil area, as a rule, is moderately resistant to wind erosion. On the steeper slopes some sheet erosion and gullying occurs. These soils comprise a large portion of the better row crop land of this area and are productive under sound practices of farming. They possess a deep, friable top soil, resting on heavier, deep, compact subsoil material, and break into large, irregular clods when dry. Moisture penetration is rapid and the moisture holding capacity of the subsoil is high, thus favoring maximum usage of torrential rains and light showers, common to the area.

The other primary groups of soils are light-textured, deep and moderately productive. These are undulating to moderately rolling, upland soils with the topsoil area very susceptible and the upper part of the subsoil area moderately resistant to wind erosion. Very little water erosion is found. They are moderately productive soils, due to the excellent moisture relations. Moisture penetration is very rapid and moisture holding capacity is moderately high, while adopted to the production of grain and forage sorghum and cotton, erosion on these soils is best controlled under native vegetation.
