JACK-O-LANTERNS ANYONE . . . The youngsters could have a "hey-day" turned loose here. Just think of all the Jack-O-Lanterns they could make from this pile of pumpkins on the Omer Kelton place. This is just what these pumpkins are raised for, too. To make Jack-O-Lanterns out of. However Kelton does raise some pie pumpkins as well as various types of squash.

Tour Of County Shows Harvest Well Underway

After making a tour around the county this week, Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley reports that harvest of many different crops is well underway. The county agent says the sunny type weather of last week gave drying conditions so that farmers can resume the harvest.

"Corn is being taken from the fields just about as fast as the moisture content will allow it to be removed," said Tanksley. He pointed out that farmers have started grain harvest in some dryland areas and that most yields have been above average. Tanksley feels the county will have an excellent early dry-land grain sorghum crop.

"Sunflowers are still being harvested as they mature. The yields are a little lower than expected on irrigated land, but dry-land yields have held up pretty good as a whole," he commented.

The county agent pointed out that wheat seeding is moving at a very fast pace the last two weeks. Most of the wheat acreage, 65-70 percent, has been planted at this time, according to Tanksley.

He said, "we may be a little ahead of schedule, but the farmers have the moisture and they have started seeding wheat." He also stated that there will be still more wheat planted behind the grain and corn crops.

Produce or vegetable crops are also in the process of being harvested. Farmers will be digging carrots soon and the bell pepper, and tomatoes are being picked. Tanksley said there are a few watermelons left, though not many.

Speaking of the cool front that blew in Tuesday, Tanksley said he did not feel it will interrupt the harvest as it appears to be a dry front.

He did point out, however that the cold temperatures received two weeks ago, caused moderate to severe defoliation of cotton and pretty well stopped

Pumpkins Bring Smile To Many

What does one usually associate with the month of October? That's easy question to answer. Any little kid can tell you. JACK-O-LANTERNS!

Where do they get them? They make them! From a pumpkin!

Several local farmers will put that grin of delight and anticipation on the face of many youngsters as they gather the pumpkins and ship them across the nation, for just that reason. To be made into Jack-O-lanterns.

In fact, just the other day, C.V. Crabtree of Muleshoe, shipped out two semi truck loads weighing an estimated 40,000 pounds each to Dallas and Tennessee. And there are still pumpkins galore in his 12 acre pumpkin patch located six miles west of Muleshoe.

Crabtree says the market looks good this year, and he confirmed the fact that the pumpkins were being grown especially for youngsters to make into Jack-O-Lanterns. The bigger, the better. And there are some big pumpkins on his farm.

Ben Roming has 65 acres of pumpkins, located seven miles west of Muleshoe and he is loading them at this time.

Omer Kelton is also well into the pumpkin business and has

Rotarians Learn Of Child Abuse

Bill Coleman, Protective Service Worker of Littlefield, Texas, was the guest speaker at Rotary Tuesday, September 30, and spoke about Child Abuse. Coleman has been in this line of work since 1972, working out of the Littlefield office. He is originally from Morton and attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Coleman said that Child Abuse is divided into three categories: physical abuse, sexual abuse, and emotional abuse.

He defined physical abuse as inflicting physical injury on a child.

Sexual abuse is forcing a child to engage in sexual activities, which he said is hard to bring charges on the accused with only the child's statement.

And emotional abuse is regularly, and over an extended period of time, demanding that a child do more than he is capable of doing and criticizing and humiliating him for not living up to the demand; or making such unclear requirements that the child simply cannot understand what he is supposed to do.

Coleman pointed out that Neglect is divided into two categories: physical neglect and emotional neglect. "Physical neglect," he said, "is failure to provide sufficient food, clothing, shelter, medical care."

Jaycees Take Honors At Convention

Several Muleshoe Jaycees and their wives attended the Area I-A Convention held at Hereford September 26-28. Local Jaycees reported that the convention was outstanding with inspiring programs and great food.

The highlight of the convention was the presentation of a JCI Senatorship to local Jaycee Curtis Walker. Walker is serving as Area I-A National Director and has done much to inspire the Muleshoe Jaycees. He was cited for his many past achievements and untiring devotion to Jaycee work. Muleshoe Jaycee Jeff Smith made the presentation of the Ultimate Jaycee honor to Walker.

The local Jaycees also brought home other honors from the area convention. Richard Kimbrough was awarded first place in the Ben E. Wolf Memorial competition for membership activities for members with less than two years membership. Terry Field was a close second with only one less point than Kimbrough.

Mike Armstrong received first place as chairman of the Miss

Conservation Benefits

Temple, Texas. Conservation programs ultimately benefit everyone, but farmers, ranchers, and other rural landowners are the principal caretakers of natural resources.

"Their stewardship will continue," Edward E. Thomas, head of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in Texas, said, "because most of our natural resources—soil, grass, trees, and our watersheds—are under private, rural ownership. Towns and cities occupy a very small portion of our available space.

"This means the individual farmer or rancher who cooperates with a soil and water conservation district, and who is carrying out a conservation plan on his property, is the backbone of America's conservation programs.

"For the farmer, the conservation plan means preserving basic raw materials—the stuff of which farms are made—and using them in such a way as to maintain a long-term profitable operation," Thomas said.

"For the non-farmer, the conservation plan means a more stable supply of food—meat, milk, grain, and non-food necessities such as wood and fiber. Benefits of conservation farming are evident and easy for the entire community to see.

"We have been asked why, if farmers and ranchers and ranchers are the backbone of our conservation programs, does the Department of Agriculture emphasize urban conservation," Thomas said. "In response to this question, I think the clearest way to answer would be to list some of our reasons:

"In the first place, we do urban conservation because as a federal agency, we must serve all

The four persons, are members of the Aspencade Motor Cycle Club, who are on their way to Ruidoso, N.M. to attend a motor cycle meeting there. They just happened to stop by the Law Enforcement Center in Muleshoe, and they just happen to be law enforcement officers themselves.

McVicker Wins Weeks Football Contest

J.E. McVicker, Box 766, Muleshoe, was the winner of the third Football Contest sponsored by the Muleshoe Journal this season. McVicker missed three games, as did three other persons. The winners had to be determined by the tie-breaker.

McVicker was only 21 points off the tie-breaker, placing him first. Two of the games in the contest ended in a tie, Kentucky and Maryland, 10-10 and Baylor and Michigan, 14-14, so those games had to be graded as a "miss" for those persons choosing one team or the other as winner.

As this week's winner, McVicker will receive $5 and be given 10 points in the contest.

Placing second was Doug E. Wood, 906 W. Sixth, Muleshoe, twenty-three points off in the tie-breaker. He will receive $3 and six points in the contest.

Third place winner was Jim Walker, Box 563, Muleshoe, who will receive $2 and four points in the contest. Walker was 28 points off the tie-breaker.

The majority of the contestants missed five games.

This contest will continue each week through football season

Jaycees Conduct Center Survey

The Muleshoe Jaycees, meeting in regular session Monday, September 29 at the XII Steak House, agreed to support the Bailey County Agricultural-Civic Center Committee by conducting a local survey to determine needed facilities in the Center. The Jaycees will conduct a telephone survey and possible random house survey to assist the committee. The survey was to begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Joe Harbin and Dr. Jerry Gleason, members of the committee were present for the Jaycee meeting to discuss their plans for the Center. They gave an explanation of their proposal and a history of the committee's purpose and its present reactivation of efforts to secure a County Center.

The Invocation was given by Kenneth Ferguson after President Butch Duncan called the meeting to order. Jack Hysinger led the Jaycee Creed.

Jerry Gleason, who were introduced by their hosts. Corky Biggerstaff was recognized as a new Jaycee member.

President Duncan called on the new JCI Senator and National Director Curtis Walker to report on the Area I-A Convention held September 26-28 at Hereford. Walker reported that the convention was a great success. He congratulated the local Jaycees for their interest and participation. The Muleshoe Jaycees brought home four trophies from Hereford.

State Director Ted Barnhill and State Vice-president Charles Moraw discussed highlights of talks given by Bill Allsdorf, Mike Faulkner, and New Mexico State Jaycee President, John Wirtz.

Jeff Smith agreed that the convention was very inspiring. Smith plans to begin teaching the Leadership-In-Action Personal Dynamics series to the Jaycee Board of Directors this week.

Monte Dollar reported on the membership clinic at Hereford Area I-A Convention.

MULESHOE MAN INJURED . . . J.D. Hargrove of 709 1/2 West Avenue G, Muleshoe, was injured when involved in a two-car collision about 8 a.m. Tuesday, September 30, 4.2 miles northwest on U.S. 84. Wendell Aaron Lee, Rt. 2, Muleshoe, driver of the second vehicle was not injured. Hargrove received head lacerations and was taken to West Plains Medical Center for treatment.

Local Man Injured In Car Wreck

A two-car accident which happened around 8 a.m. Tuesday, September 30, 4.2 miles northwest of Muleshoe on U.S. 84 sent J.D. Hargrove of 709 1/2 West Avenue G, to West Plains Hospital for treatment of head injuries.

Hargrove was driving a 1968 Chevrolet, traveling northwest, towards Clovis, when it struck a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Wendell Aaron Lee, Rt. 2, Muleshoe.

The Texas Highway Patrolman who investigated the accident said Lee was going south, crossed the railroad track, stopped and failed to yield to the Hargrove vehicle, causing the collision.

Lee was cited for failure to yield.

Pumpkins...

Therefore, one would guess that this is the reason, that on Halloween, a day set aside for devilment, merriment, fun and practical jokes, the many faces of the Jack-O-Lantern appears carved from a pumpkin, depicting whatever mood the sculptor is in at the moment.

On the practical side though, there are some pie pumpkins raised in the area. These are much smaller pumpkins and are sweeter. Most of the pumpkins raised here are raised for Jack-O-Lanterns and are sweeter. Most of the pumpkins raised here are raised for Jack-O-Lanterns and are of the Connecticut Field variety, for their size and shape. Most of the big pumpkins are shipped east, according to Crabtree.

So it is, at this time of year, that one may expect the catch a whiff of spicy pumpkin pie coming from the kitchen and see the merry, sad, or devil-may-care face of a Jack-O-Lantern sitting on the front porch or in the window on some youngsters home, lighting the way for all the alloween spirits who will get together on October 31. Omer Kelton has been raising pumpkins for several years and C.V. Crabtree says he will be planting them again. Raising pumpkins is good business and they grow well in the fertile soils around Muleshoe.

READY TO LOAD... These pumpkins are ricked and awaiting the truck that will take them to market. C.V. Crabtree, located about 6 miles west of Muleshoe has already shipped out two semi truck loads of pumpkins weighing around 40,000 pounds a load to Dallas and Tennessee.

education, guidance, and supervision. Emotional neglect is failure to provide a child with love and affection."

According to Coleman, the latest figures estimate the child population under 18 years of age in Texas to be 4,823,151.

He pointed out approximately 4,000 cases of suspected child abuse were reported in 1973 in Texas and 2,509 were confirmed. Of these, 135 were cases of sexual abuse.

"Child abuse is one of the leading causes of infant mortality in the United States and there were at least 104 child abuse deaths in Texas in 1973, he stated. These figures were compiled in 1973 and for the year 1974, they can be tripled," he said.

Abused children ranges in age from infants to adolescents. Fifty percent are six years of age or younger.

Coleman stated that all kinds of parents abuse their children. A Texas study done in 1973 shows that confirmed reports had twice as many Anglos as Mexican-Americans and Blacks combined. This is about the same percentage as the ethnic makeup of our state.

He went on to point out that abusing parents most often have experienced defective parental care themselves; they are not necessarily psychotic or mentally ill, and are characterized by immaturity and insecurity.

The Department of Public Welfare maintains a child abuse report system at its central office in Austin and is called CANRIS (Child Abuse and Neglect Report and Inquiry System). CANRIS maintains a history of reported child abuse and neglect cases in Texas, so that a worker in the field can have ready reference to the computer files, and can see if a family has any prior history of child abuse or neglect. The procedure takes only minutes.

Coleman also told the Rotarians that there are not enough Foster Parents in the State of Texas and that most cases reported to their department are of neglect rather than child abuse.

Mules Meet Portales Friday

The Muleshoe Mules will be looking for another victory when they travel to Portales, N.M. for their fifth football game of the season.

The Portales Rams with their 5-5-1 1974 record and 2-2 District or Conference record are looking forward to butting heads with the Mules. Ram Coach Army Salinas says they will be playing 10 returning seniors, 18 returning juniors, and that lack of experience plagued them last year. He says his team has 10 returning offensive starters and five returning defensive starters.

He lists his weak points this year as inexperience on the defense, and names his toughest opponents as Eunice, N.M.; Muleshoe, Lubbock Christian High, Artesia, N.M. and Lovington, N.M.

Coach Salinas has been coaching the Rams for the past three years and has a career record of 28-13-5. He is assisted by Coaches Joe Brock, Jimmy Joseph, Jack Willis, Loy Hampton, Randy Fowles, Don Gomez, Kim Merchant and Frank Burke.

The Mules are looking for a large crowd of fans to follow them to Portales and cheer them on to their third win Friday night. Game time is 8:30 p.m. and the game will be played at the college stadium.

Farm Equipment Prices May Ease

COLLEGE STATION -- Farmers shopping for needed equipment in the coming months may be faced with a rather pleasant change -- wider selections and, maybe, somewhat lower prices.

After a year of record low farm equipment inventories in 1974 and the resulting skyrocketing prices, equipment supplies are once again increasing to the point that prices may ease somewhat during the remainder of the year.

That's the contention of Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Although farm income was down last year and is projected to be down again during 1975, expansions in crop acreage and the recent strength in livestock prices may stimulate some equipment purchases later in the year," points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Of course, a big factor would be the softening or at least stabilizing of equipment prices."

During the first half of 1975, tractor sales have been 19 per cent below the pace set during the first six months last year. However, the sales of self-propelled combines increased 25 per cent during the first half of 1975 compared to the same time period last year. The average price farmers paid for farm machinery rose 14 per cent during the first half of this year while wholesale prices increased only 5 per cent. Also, motor vehicle prices rose only 5 per cent. "This indicates that dealer margins on farm equipment have increased in recent years, and with inventories increasing, the time may be ripe for farmers to do some bargaining," points out Hayenga. "Overall, it looks like the supply-demand situation for farmer equipment is shifting back from the imbalance of last year to a more traditional level," adds the economist.

the people. This is done in harmony with the programs of the locally-governed soil and water conservation districts, and the wishes of their directors.

"Secondly, we do urban conservation because we have found conservation practices and principles that have been tested for 40 years on rural areas will work in towns, too.

"And we must remember that although urban areas are small, percentage-wise, they contain most of the people, and in comparatively congested conditions. Therefore, a land use mistake in an urban area can hurt a lot of people and can cost a lot of money. To express it another way, following good conservation planning in an urban area can bring benefits to a large number of people all at once."

"The foundation of our work with urban interests or farmers is the soil survey," Thomas said. "Interpretive maps made from these surveys can show community planners features about the soil--overflow areas, shallow soils, areas where foundations must be strengthened to withstand soil pressure, and other soil and water-related problems. Soil surveys are prepared by the Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station."

Farmers and ranchers use the soil surveys and similar interpretive maps to help plan the best use of their land.

"The economic and physical benefits of conservation improvement work to rural landowners, and to their city neighbors, are evident in higher crop yields, clearer waterways, safer communities, and a better environment," Thomas concluded.

AUSTIN -- Two hundred and fifty Texas liberals met here recently to talk 1976 presidential political strategy and threatened to challenge the new presidential primary bill.

The group, led by Democratic National Committeewoman Billie Carr, said winner-take-all provisions of the primary law -- designed to help presidential aspirations of U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen -- may tend to deprive minorities of delegate strength.

Ms. Carr indicated the primary act would be challenged under the Federal Voting Rights Act, designed to protect minorities.

Liberals, determined to make things tough for Bentsen and Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the 1976 primary, remained undecided what course of action to follow.

They will meet again October 25 and November 22. Ms. Carr urges filing of uncommitted delegate slates for national nominating convention seats from all 31 senatorial districts.

Others prefer lining up behind one of the serious liberal presidential contenders, and still others want to file delegates for a "favorite person" like former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough or Ms. Carr.

Meanwhile, the liberals heard sales talks from representatives of six potential presidential candidates.

Trial Postponed

Impeachment trial of District Judge O. P. Carrillo by the Senate has been postponed until October 6 -- perhaps later.

The trial had been scheduled to resume Sept. 29, but Carrillo's trial in Corpus Christi on income tax charges lasted longer than expected.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said he consulted with attorneys for all parties and the Senate's legal counsel and concluded that the "wisest course of action" is to put off the impeachment hearing for at least another week.

Appointments

Sidney E. McKinney of Abilene has been named to the Industrial Accident Board by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Briscoe also selected these members for the Motor Vehicle Commission: Robert Lee Ragsdale of Austin, John N. Cleveland of San Angelo and James M. Carnes of San Antonio.

Vote Unmonitored

The U. S. Justice Department won't monitor the November 4 Texas constitutional revision election under terms of an agreement between state and federal officials.

The Federal Voting Rights Act extension makes all Texas elections, election law changes and redistricting matters bearing on voting rights subject to federal supervision.

Texas has sought unsuccessfully to delay implementation of the law, but the November vote will escape supervision.

In exchange for the exemption, the state will distribute more than 100,000 Spanish-language copies of the proposed new Texas constitution at supermarkets, courthouses, libraries, churches and meeting places of Spanish-speaking organizations.

Spanish copies of the revision document were to be widely distributed in Spanish-speaking areas anyway, under original state plans.

The state apparently will press its appeal of a federal district court decision that Census Bureau officials didn't have to hold a hearing on validity of their determinations that Texas falls under the Voting Rights Act by virtue of low participation in the 1972 presidential election.

AG Opinions

A county judge can spend county funds to hire as his secretary a county commissioner's daughter, Atty. Gen. John Hill stated in a recent opinion.

In other opinions, Hill concluded:

Neither a legislator nor his firm may contract with the state or a county on projects authorized or funded by the current legislature.

A mayor can't serve as a county political party

A county treasurer can destroy cancelled bonds, bond coupons and county warrants without necessity of duplicating them after the county auditor has had time to audit them.

There is no specific criminal offense covering interference with or resisting service of civil process. Civil process may be served aboard domestic and foreign merchant vessels but not naval vessels.

Trustees of a state hospital patient benefit fund may use certificates of deposit as collateral for a loan where proceeds of the loan are used for purposes for which money in the fund may be legally expended.

The director of a public health district may receive compensation in addition to his regular salary for performance of an authorized autopsy.

It is improper and illegal for a sheriff or constable to send eviction notices when notations would make them appear official acts of a court or an officer of the state.

Myasthenia Gravis Clinic Successful

The very personable Dr. J.E. Tether, Neurologist and noted authority on the disease, Myasthenia Gravis, conducted a highly successful patient clinic for myasthenia gravis patients, Friday Sept. 5, 1975, at the Hi-Plains Hospital, Hale Center, Texas. This was the fifth visit to Hale Center for Dr. Tether, for such a clinic. Coming from Indianapolis, Indiana, Dr. Tether saw some 35 patients during the long day at the clinic. Patients registered from many cities in Texas and from Okla., Ark. and New Mex. Many had seen Dr. Tether at previous MG Clinics in Hale Center, but there were several new people coming for the first time. Assisting Dr. Tether were the staff of Hi-Plains Hospital which included Dr. Hugh Wilson and their new Vietnamese doctor, Dr. The, and Dr. D. R. Foster. Dr. J.E. Tether, M.C., F.A.C.P. has a distinguished career in the medical profession. He is considered one of the leading authorities in the world on the dreaded disease, Myasthenia Gravis. The 62 year old doctor has written numerous papers on Myasthenia Gravis which have been published. He is co-author of "Modern Health" and "Human Physiology", both high school textbooks published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, New York. His work has also been published in Encyclopedia Americana. He received his A.B. degree in 1934 from Lehigh University, Bethlehem Penn. and qualified for his medical degree in 1938 at John Hopkins, Baltimore Md. He has served as director of clinics, assistant medical director, chief of diagnostic clinic, and associate professor of medicine during the years of 1943-52 and the Indiana University Medical Center. He has served as associate professor of Neurology at the University from 1952 to the present. Half of his time is devoted to private practice confined to diagnosis and treatment of Myasthenia Gravis. The Northwest Texas Chapter of the National Foundation of Myasthenia Gravis, of which J.E. McVicker of Muleshoe, is chairman, sponsored the Clinic. It was funded by a Grant recently given by the E. # When Will Calves Hit Market?

COLLEGE STATION -- Everyone in the cattle business knows that calves are abundant this fall and that this oversupply is causing a crunch in market prices. However, just when these calves move to market will have a big effect on prices, and the "when" is anybody's guess. "Seasonal marketing of calves in Texas and in many other states is normally heaviest in late summer and fall because most calves are born in the spring," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "In fact, about 75 per cent of all the calves born across the nation are marketed in that season of the year." So what's the big mystery about fall marketing of calves this year? "Weather conditions since last winter could be a big factor in causing cattlemen to change from the traditional marketing pattern this fall," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. Uvacek cites a number of examples. "Good forage last fall and winter due to good rains caused considerable overstocking which, in turn, may have delayed calving this spring. So calves may be marketed later than usual. "Late spring rains this year have caused calf weights to be lighter, so producers may hold them longer for further gains. "Good summer rains have provided for excellent grazing conditions and have reduced the cattlemen's incentive to market.

"As ranges and pastures continue to hold up going into the fall and low prices continue, many producers will further delay marketings." Uvacek feels there will also be a fair number of heavier feeder cattle moving to market this fall due to the large number of yearlings held over from last year.

Of course, much hinges on the course that feedgrain prices take this fall. "High feed prices will probably force a heavy movement of calves to market right after the first frost," says Uvacek.

Hunting Leases Boost Income

UVALDE -- Game hunting is mushrooming, and hunting leases provide a good opportunity for ranchers to increase their income, according to an area wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. Milo Shult, at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Uvalde, says a rancher who wants to use his land for hunting purposes must practice sound management and provide protection, cover and food for game species. In addition, many desirable non-game species profit from such management programs. "In Texas, over 95 per cent of the land is privately owned," Shult says. "This means that sound management of game species is the responsibility of the landowner."

Muleshoe Auxiliary Attended The District Convention

The Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary attended the Area I District II convention, Wednesday, September 24, in the new George M. Brewer Assembly room in Methodist Hospital, of Lubbock, the Lubbock auxiliary were hostesses.

This year's theme "The Pursuit of Perfection is the Ultimate Endeavor" was used by this year's State President, Mrs. John Bolmfalk, of San Antonio. Her message challenged all auxiliary members to realize the importance of self-understanding. It is very important for us to know ourselves, before we can know someone else and be of service, Mrs. Bolmfalk pointed out.

Local reports and roll call was given by all area auxiliaries. Muleshoe was third in attendance. There were some 150 auxiliary members attending. Mrs. Bolmfalk gave the state report. Two projects have been approved by the state. It is now up to the local auxiliaries to get the information to the public.

Those projects are:
1. (The Medic Alert: This is a bracelet worn by an individual with a known health problem, such as heart trouble, diabetes, allergies, contact lens, etc. The person's medical history is kept on file in a central location. Any authorized person can call the twenty-four hour toll free phone and get the information, in the event that the person is unable to give it. The price of the bracelet is seven dollars and can be updated each year at a cost of one dollar.

2. Operation Child Safe: The purpose of this project is to reduce the amount of deaths to children under five, who are killed in an automobile, due to lack of proper child restraints. The Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries approves a child restraint.

George M. Brewer was the key speaker for the morning session.

Brewer paralled the quality of health care in America as compared to England. One comparison is that we are tardy in addressing ourselves to the improvement of care to our sick poor in America. Brewer stated further that health care in America is still superior to that of England. Here we can see the doctor of our choice and in England, a patient may see one doctor on Monday, go back for tests on Wednesday, see another doctor on Saturday for surgery, with still a new doctor, for post operative care. There is no feeling of congruence in the medical field.

On the problem, of the price, of health care, in America, the trend of thinking is to let the federal government take over. This is supposed to make health care more available, cheaper and more efficient. There has not been one endeavor taken on by the federal government, that has been any cheaper, any more efficiently run, and is far from being made more available, to the public.

Annual Convention In Abilene

Texas Home Demonstration Association 49 annual convention was held at Abilene, Sept. 23-24-25 at the Civic Center. There were 800 registered.

Mrs. Dalph Briscoe was the speaker at the THDA. Chris Brooks, the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens project coordinator told of the many areas and helps that are available. Curley Hays, a former football star, and Farm and Ranch Representative of West Texas Utilities, of Abilene addressed the group.

The purpose of the auxiliary is to work hand-in-hand with the hospital and the public and to have a well rounded knowledge of the problems that face the American people. Together, we all may benefit from a workable solution, that will and can be accepted by all.

The members attending from Muleshoe were: Dorothy Green, Mrs. Kenneth McGehee, Mrs. Henry Malone, Mrs. Alex Williams, Mable Caldwell, Mrs. Dwane Stevens, Mrs. John West, Mrs. Haney Poyner, Clara Crain, Mrs. R.A. Bradley, and Mrs. Herbert Pugh, our guest.

Of the ten members that attended, five of them won door prizes.

New Feature Scheduled

In recent years, the art of sewing has been undertaken by many thousands of Americans. And in the forefront of this trend has been Western wear. Many fashion experts call it "the fad of the century".

Starting Oct. 2, the Muleshoe Journal will bring to its readers "Belle's Patterns with a Western flair".

Belle's patterns have been brought by more than 2,000,000 Americans throughout the past seven years. One pattern will be illustrated each week in the Muleshoe Journal. Readers may purchase the patterns by mail. Watch for this popular feature, starting next Oct. 2.

president and roll call was by Ben Harman, reporter.

The business discussed included the up coming fair to be held on October 4, in the old Western Auto Building.

Also, new officers were elected for the new year. Those new officers elected were president, Ben Harman, vice-president, Stacy Vandiver, secretary, Monty Vandiver and reporter, Dana Smith. County delegates are Tyrri Vandiver and Beth Harman.

A broadminded man is one who takes your side.

First Baptist Plans Nursery

The plans for creating a church nursery within the main building structure has been presented to the deacon body and the three adult departments of the Sunday School. The plan is to provide an adequate nursery for babies and small children who attend the church. This is something that has been on the heart of many for a long time. The plan was presented for a nursery by the Building and Grounds Committee.

To accomplish the plans for the proposed Nursery, it would be necessary for some of the Sunday School Departments to utilize different areas of the building than they are presently using. No one wants to be changing assembly rooms and classrooms just for the purpose of changing. People who see that the proposed change would save money, provide better facilities for everyone concerned, and give a boost to the total church program, are without doubt ready to make any reasonable adjustment.

Most certainly we do not want to make a mistake in a building project. Every effort will be made in the planning to eliminate things that will not meet the needs of the church.

If you have questions about the proposed nursery plans, please direct them to the pastor, or to the Building and Grounds Committee: Raymond Scott, Chairman; Clarence Jones, J.R. Johnson, Alex Williams, Elbert Hamilton and Mike Miller. In a called business meeting on Sunday evening, October 5, a recommendation to pursue the Nursery project will be presented by the Building and Grounds Committee.

FRIDAY IS THE DAY OF THE CAT.

Announcing an average 29% mileage improvement for 1976 cars over 1975's at your Mercury dealer.

This is a weighted average based on a comparison of projected 1975 and 1976 sales of all models of Mercury cars and our computation of EPA test results for combined city/highway testing mix. While most of our cars improved for 1976 on the EPA City/Highway basis, some 1976 mileage improvements were not as dramatic as this average since their big improvements were made in 1975 models—like our MPG cars introduced in June. Note: California cars have different results.

Mercury Grand Marquis. 17 mpg highway, 13 mpg city with 400 2-V V-8 engine. The ultimate degree of Mercury luxury and elegance. From the car that made the blind-fold ride tests famous.

Mercury Montego MX Brougham. 19 mpg highway, 13 mpg city with 351 2-V V-8 engine. Mid-size price, gas economy and easy handling. Without sacrificing roominess, luxury and Mercury riding comfort.

Mercury Bobcat Villager MPG. 34 mpg highway, 24 mpg city with manual transmission. The room of a wagon; the same mileage estimate as our 3-door. Either way, when you get in a Bobcat, it's love at first drive.

And two Bobcats estimated at 34 mpg highway, 24 mpg city.

Mercury Bobcat MPG. 34 mpg highway, 24 mpg city with manual transmission. Now you can get mileage that compares with the small imports in a solid little Mercury that gives you hundreds of pounds more car.

Mercury Cougar XR-7. 19 mpg highway, 13 mpg city with 351 2-V V-8 engine. As unique in its own class as Continental Mark IV. And now you can select a Silver Cat, a gleaming new Cougar at a new price.

Mercury Monarch Ghia. 24 mpg highway, 18 mpg city with 250 6-cylinder engine, manual transmission. Last year, based on eight tests of handling and driving comfort on American roads, 41 out of 50 owners of American cars judged a 1975 Monarch Ghia superior all-around to a new Mercedes 280.

Mercury Comet. 23 mpg highway, 18 mpg city with 250 6-cylinder engine, manual transmission. Our tough, durable compact. In this dashing new optional Sports Accent Group and Sports Vinyl Roof, Comet's still low priced.

All fuel economy numbers are estimates based on EPA tests. Because of many engine and transmission combinations and optional equipment, the car you choose may perform differently. Furthermore, the gas mileage you actually get depends on you. Your type of driving. Your driving habits. Road and weather conditions. And how your car is maintained.

All cars shown with optional WSW tires and Bumper Protection Group.

Booths Filled For Arts Festival

The Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival scheduled for October 17-19 in the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview has filled all available booths with an impressive array of approximately 120 artists and craftsmen from the Tri-State area. These artists, representing the best of talent in New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma, will display their artwork and will demonstrate their techniques at the festival, which will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. each day and will include such entertainments as concessions, square dancing and spinning and weaving exhibitions.

The festival, a recognized Bicentennial Event, will feature many artists whose paintings and handicrafts will carry out a 200-year-anniversary theme. Another theme of the festival will be to "buy something original for Christmas." Visitors to the festival wishing to do so will find a variety of gifts offered by local artists.

Among the local artists displaying their work will be Ted Bell of Floydada, whose acrylic watercolors portray many of the historic, old buildings and homes of the Plains area. Another local artist-participant whose oil paintings often feature old houses and windmills in Plains landscapes is Ruth Barnett of Hale Center. R.C. Stevens of Plainview will offer for sale his handmade jewelry, oil paintings, macrame, ceramics, and redwood signs. Ricky Garms of Plainview will offer his mixed-media artwork, one feature of which will be silk-screened T-shirts. Garms, the originator of the Running Water

Draw Arts and Crafts Festival emblem, will be willing to demonstrate his silk-screening technique at the festival. Festival visitors will be able to enjoy several such demonstrations by area artists as they visit the different booths at the festival.

Admission to the festival will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. Three-day festival passes, $2.50 adult and $1.00 children, may also be obtained. Inquiries concerning the festival should be directed to Dr. C. Gwin Morris, Box 20, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072.

Cotton Outlook Improves

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas consumers may see an improved textile situation for cotton during 1975-76, Marlene Odle, a clothing specialist, reports. While Texas produces about one-third of the nation's cotton, it only processes about one-fifth of the national total. Now a relatively new development--open-end spinning--makes Texas cotton more useful

"No smell" underwear with its own "built-in deodorant" is now available in men's socks, t-shirts, athletic shirts and briefs. "A new dyeing technique for cotton that adds new dimensions to denim and will allow one side of the fabric to be dyed one color and the other side another color.

"Cottons blended in different amounts with other fibers are constantly researched to produce performance characteristics with comfort and easy care. One of the most recent blends is 60 per cent cotton with 40 per cent polyester. Other blends are with spandex, wool, mohair, and rayon," she said.

"This system can use short-staple, low micronaire cotton to spin high-quality yarns and do it three to five times faster than the conventional ring spinning method.

"The spinner works more efficiently and saves seven to eight cents a pound on raw material costs. New open-end spinning mills in West Texas will increase the percentage of cotton processed in Texas," she said. Miss Odle is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Highlights of the 1975-76 world cotton outlook are prospects for near-record beginning stocks, smaller production, and larger consumption. Market analysts expect U.S. cotton exports to increase because of improved foreign relations and anticipated foreign purchasing."

However, with current low cotton prices and increased competition from food crops, the global output of cotton may drop moderately below 1974-75.

"Consumers apparently have 'rediscovered' cotton--it's making market gains at the expense of manmade fabrics. For instance, 100 per cent cotton flame-retardant uniforms recently was selected as the best fabric for industrial canvas used in connection with the building of the Alaska Pipeline.

"And the largest U.S. slack manufacturer has introduced a 100 per cent cotton fabric into its line of products for the first time since the advent of manmade fibers."

New fabric finishes promise to make cotton more versatile, the specialist reported.

"Researchers at the Southern Regional Research Laboratory are testing a new germicidal finish for cottons. It will kill and inhibit the growth of unwanted bacteria, with potential uses for bandages, hospital gowns, sheets and pillowcases," she said.

Dr. Albertson Inspires TOPS

Dr. Albertson was TOPS guest speaker for their regular meeting this week. He gave an inspiring and encouraging talk on urging everyone in the club to record what they eat and drink a lot of water. You will be more conscious of what you eat this way. Some of the causes for obesity is the lack of social contact. It is entitled, complex illness in most cases. Salt should be used only in cooking and not ever on the table.

Twenty-two members weighed in. The Queen was Mrs. Owen Jones, and there was a three-way tie for first place. Mrs. Ronnie Garner, Mrs. Dan Vinson and Mabel Wolf. A two-way tie for second was between Mrs. J.L. Parker and Mrs. Raleigh Mason. Three birthday honorees were Mrs. Harold DeLoach, Clara Crane and Mrs. Tom Berry.

Mrs. Raleigh Mason won a hairset for six consecutive months. Eight members plan to go to Sunray for the area rally day, Oct. 11. The cancan winner had left the meeting before it was over, so she was ineligible to receive it. It will build up for next week.

CUT CLEANING TIME

What's your favorite sport? If house cleaning isn't your answer, keep these basic ideas in mind to help you get through it faster:

- * Concentrate on doing one job at a time. Set aside one morning for doing the laundry, another for vacuuming and floor washing, a third for dusting and "smudge" work.
- * Certain spray cleaning chores that require little or no moving of objects can be done all at once--and with new Glass*Plus™ glass, appliance, and cabinet cleaner. It takes care of cleaning windows and window sills, light switches and fixtures, door knobs, mirrors, kitchen and bathroom sinks and spigots, cabinets, shelves and countertops. You can move from room to room, spray cleaner and clean cloth in hand.

* Organize your cleaning aids--store floor cleaners with mops, furniture dust and polish aids with feather dusters and polishing cloth, etc. Keep duplicate sets on each floor of your home, or carry them conveniently in a caddy.

* Large jobs, like major room overhauls, should be done individually. Plan to do just one or two rooms a day, so you can give them a careful, thorough cleaning.

* Practice the reward system. When the job's done, enjoy yourself...lunch with friends, spend the afternoon reading a good book, or just put your feet up and relax!

Wheat For Oil?

Senator Henry Jackson and others have proposed the United States swap the Soviet Union some of its grain surplus for oil, of which Russia is now the world's largest producer.

It is an attractive proposition, which would apparently relieve some of the U.S. dependence on Middle East oil, assure adequate supplies at home and possibly prove the beginning of annual exchanges, which might be tailored to fit the nation's needs.

While it would be unwise to grow too dependent on Soviet oil, for obvious reasons, the arrangement envisioned would also be vital to the Soviet Union, which must have enough food for its people. Therefore the grain imports from America would be vitally important to Moscow.

If oil is swapped for grain at prevailing world prices, the financial impact in this country of such an arrangement would be minimal. If, however, a barter arrangement could be worked out, through which the U.S. could swap stored grain and price-support grain, perhaps from earlier years, the suggested arrangement might offer major financial advantages.

President Ford has said this suggestion is being explored by U.S. negotiators. Since the Soviets need U.S. food badly, one hopes U.S. negotiators will insist on some such arrangement.

Spending Deficits

President Gerald Ford, said by some to be courting the conservatives, talks of a federal deficit of $60 billion. The probable congressional deficit is around $75 billion.

In per capita terms Mr. Ford's indicated deficit is $282.66. The congressional figure is $353.32 for each of us.

But most of us are not single taxpayers, we are part of what's called family economic units. There are in the United States 71,164,570 of these family economic units, known to the statisticians as households. Mr. Ford's deficit will be $843.12 for each. Congress's will be $1,053.90.

That's quite a bit of non-existent money for the government to spend on each family unit. And if you want to know why we're still being subjected to double-digit inflation, that's the place to start looking.

If citizens would look at reports of government spending in terms of the impact on each family unit, perhaps public opinion would create a genuine braking effect on the spending that causes deficits and inflation.

The most recent peace-buying program of aid to Egypt and Israel, for instance, comes to $56.21 per household. Israel's share comes to about $3,000 per Israeli household for the first year.

The arithmetic is simple. A billion dollars is $14.05 per household unit. Whenever the politicians and the pundits use that anesthetizing term, remember what it means in dollars you owe—in dollars on which you will have to pay interest until your debt is paid.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Ford Losing-Durkin's Message-Inflation & Energy-Tax Cuts-

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- There's unmistakable evidence now that President Ford is losing the 1976 election today by following conservative inclinations and advice the majority do not support.

Practically all agree Ford is sincere doing what he thinks best for America. But his surprising inclination to do the bidding of the oil industry (and let the little man suffer immediate consequences), even though an honest conviction, has cost him dearly.

The clearest evidence came from New Hampshire, where, after Ford's public appearances to help the Republican candidate, Democrat John Durkin won handily, with far greater support than he received last November.

Political experts in that state believe the economic issue was the main reason for the Democratic victory in that Senate race. And many believed Ford has lost much support in going along with the oil industry, which has a very poor image after its windfall profits and higher prices in recent years. (Party organizations were also a factor but not the major one.)

Also, the huge budget deficit and returning inflation, are having a bad effect on Ford's image. Now that the economy is apparently on the road to recovery, there's much fear continued tax reduction (as proposed by Rep. Al Ulman, House Ways and Means Committee chairman and others) is certain to speed up inflation.

Interest rates are already rising sharply again and if the $10 billions represented by this year's income tax cuts is again lost to the Treasury next year, another fifty billion dollar deficit could result.

How can a Republican President be elected when the country is running such deficits, inflation is rampant and energy prices are soaring? It seems very unlikely—in the light of the New Hampshire vote.

Costly Ban

WASHINGTON—Ill-conceived actions by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) with regard to chemical insecticides could cost farmers and consumers dearly if they are not soon reversed.

The EPA has begun proceedings to ban the use of the chemical insecticides chlordane and heptachlor. The manner in which EPA is proceeding raises serious questions about the validity of its case and the agency's regard for due process of law.

Chlordane and heptachlor are widely used to prevent insect damage to corn, wheat, flax, peanuts and a host of other crops in the United States. Chlordane is the active ingredient in such commonly used insecticides as Black Flag Ant and Roach Killer and Ortho Ant Killer.

Chlordane is at present the only cost-effective remedy for treatment of various corn pests, seed treatment of wheat, and prevention of termites. More than five million acres of cropland are treated with chlordane. Without the insecticide, losses of the American corn crop could reach 24 million bushels. The loss to the American wheat crop could be as high as seven per cent of the total—more than the amount sold to the Soviet Union this year.

Alternative means of controlling insect pests are astronomically expensive. They range from $5.80 to $12 per acre, as opposed to costs of 11-43 cents per acre for chlordane or heptachlor.

Obviously, farmers and consumers will pay an extremely heavy price in additional costs and reduced crop yields if chlordane and heptachlor are banned.

The price would not be too heavy if there were hard scientific evidence to support EPA's claim that the two chemical compounds do in fact cause cancer in humans. But no convincing evidence has yet been forthcoming, and EPA's actions indicate that the bureaucrats there are aware of how flimsy their case is.

EPA began its campaign against chlordane and heptachlor in late 1974, when it announced its intention to cancel the registration of the two compounds. Hearings were begun to determine if there were sufficient cause to warrant banning chlordane and heptachlor, but the hearings were abruptly and precipitously cancelled by EPA on July 30.

EPA announced its intention to suspend the two insecticides, despite the fact that it had not proved their use is harmful. No reason was given for this hasty action, but there are reports that EPA scientists—who would have been called to testify had the hearings continued—have mixed opinions about the potential harmfulness of the two insecticides.

One fact is clear—chlordane and heptachlor have been widely used for 25 years without a single incident which would justify banning their use before the evidence is fully assessed.

I have written EPA Administrator Russell Train urging him to permit an independent scientific inquiry to determine what the facts are with regard to the two insecticides. If Mr. Train does not respond favorably, I intend to propose appropriate legislation.

OVERRIDES VETO
The Senate overrode President Ford's veto of the $7.9 billion education appropriations bill and enacted it into law.

Board reports that the nation's industrial output showed the sharpest increase last month in nearly three years.

KLEPPE NOMINATED
President Ford has nominated Small Business Administrator Thomas S. Kleppe to be Interior Secretary.

ON SUPPLEMENTS
The Federal Trade Commission has proposed a rule which would require advertisers and sellers of protein supplements to state that the products are a waste of money for most Americans and a potential health hazard for many.

Vikings Nudge Cowboys

Last Thursday, September 25, the Vikings won over the Cowboys with a score of 6-0. The game started out when, Raymond Cabrera, the Vikings kicker made a 40 yard kick that went to Albert Lopez who ran it out of bounds for about five yards. A few plays later, the Cowboys quarterback, Michael Davenport, made a nice pitch to Gilbert Beunrosto, who for a first down ran a good 10 yards. Three plays later, the Cowboys turned the ball over to the Vikings. The teams first play ended up well, with a 20 yard gain. The ball stayed in about the middle of the field for the rest of the 1st half. At the beginning of the second half the kickoff went to Brad Poyner, who fell to his knee of a low kick, on their own 45 yard line. The ball stayed in the middle of the field until on a run on the outside, Felix Norman, carrying the ball, ran for a bout a 50-yard touchdown. The extra point was incomplete. The kickoff went to Jackey Burris, who under pressure, fell on the ball. The Vikings gradually moved the ball down to about the 5-yard line of the Cowboy's goal after retaining the ball, but couldn't seem to get another touchdown. On the last play of the game, Felix Norman intercepted a pass, but gained no yardage.

Bills, Steelers Battle To Draw

Last Wednesday, September 24, the Bills and the Steelers, two of the seventh grade football teams, battled it out to end up in a 6-6 tie. To begin the ball game, Kelly Harrison, of the Bills, kicked off. The Steelers got the ball and started to drive; but, they were stopped and forced to punt. The Bills had the ball but couldn't seem to get going. The Steelers had the ball again. The Steelers quarterback, Larry Beene, handed off to Marvin Lewis. Lewis broke through and made a great fifty yard run for a touchdown. They failed to make the extra point so the score was the Steelers-6; the Bills-0.

To begin the second half, Marvin Lewis kicked off for the Steelers. The Bills had the ball; but, still couldn't seem to put anything together so the ball went over to the Steelers. They couldn't seem to get going wither so they gave the ball back to the Bills. Then the Bills started driving, they got down to about the five yard line. It was fourth and goal to go. The Bills quarterback Jimmy Gleason hit Jeff Hyde wide open in the end zone for a touchdown. The pat failed.

The Bills tried an on-side kick but failed to recover it. The Steelers ran a couple of plays but the game ended a 6-6 tie.

Senate votes increase for disabled veterans.

Historical Society Organized

This year Mrs. McKillip and several of the students in the seventh grade have organized a Historical Society. The purpose of this organization is to preserve the history of the state of Texas, Muleshoe and Bailey County. Some of the requirements of being in the Historical Society are as follows: you must be in the seventh grade, during your sixth grade year you must have maintained an average of 90, and you must have an interest for the history of Texas. At the present, only seventh graders are allowed to be members of this society; but, it is hoped that next year it can be worked out so that eighth graders can be in it too.

At the present, there are approximately 24 students in the society. During the year they will be doing various projects that have to do with the history of Texas. If a project has been done well and written in the Texas Historical Magazine it will go on record in Austin. The Society will meet every first and third Wednesday during second period.

Photos Were Taken

The 1975-76 school pictures were taken on September the 24th. Two different photographers were in Muleshoe to take the pictures. The same photographer took pictures for Mary De Shazo and Richland Hills Jr. High and High School had the same photographer. These pictures will be used in the yearbooks.

We are sure this year's pictures will turn out good. They will arrive in about three weeks. They have not been priced yet; but, it will be announced later when they arrive.

ON GAS PRICES

Armed with statistics showing gasoline prices continue to creep upward, some leading members of Congress urged President Ford to negotiate a plan to prevent a sudden price increase after August.

On Wall Street
By Bob Hill

The gold district of Cripple Creek, Colorado finally shut down production of gold in 1961 after having produced over 20-million ounces of gold from mines with such famous names as Ajax, Vindicator, and Independence. Now, if plans jell and a major mineral producer picks up its option, the gold district of Cripple Creek will once again open up the mines and enjoy a production boom as well as continuing to be a tourist haven.

Outside capital just wasn't available to get the Ajax mine re-opened, so the deal with Texasgulf was made after considering offers from 15 other companies wanting to joint-venture a gold mining project.

RUSSIAN RULES

MOSCOW--The Communist party newspaper, Pravda, reported that a street cleaner in a town southwest of Moscow had been sentenced to a year of "corrective labor" for feeding loaves of bread to her pigs.

Texasgulf, Inc. has signed a letter of intent to join with Golden Cycle Corp. in a mining and development program at Cripple Creek. Golden Cycle owns 60% of the mining district, having picked up the properties after World War II, but closing down production after costs got out of hand and in the face of a fixed price on gold which made mining unprofitable.

Most gold is produced as a by-product or supplemental activity to copper mining. Texasgulf has produced traces of gold at its copper mine in Ontario, but this is the first outright gold mining venture for the company. Golden Cycle figures it can turn a handsome profit on Colorado gold if the price of gold stays above $98 per ounce. Gold this week has been trading at $128 per oz., down from a high of $186 per oz. earlier this year. Experts doubt that it will drop below $100 per oz. in the near future.

According to Charles E. Schwab, president of Golden Cycle Gold, there could be a lot more gold produced down here. He confidently predicts that the Golden Cycle-Texasgulf partnership could be processing 2,000 tons of ore daily with a net production of 1,200 ounces of bullion per day, within five to six years. Initially, Schwab had hoped to raise the funds through a partnership offering but the stock market slide killed it.

CORNER CATCHER

The only center pivot in the world that hits the corners.

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to getting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation. For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots.

Smallwood who received junior college All-American recognition last year as a defensive tackle was switched to Offensive Tackle in an effort to bolster the NMMI running attack which has averaged better than 270 rushing yards per game. Smallwood was credited with 19 knockdown blocks against defensive linemen and linebackers. Coach Ray Sewalt said that a review of the game film showed that Smallwood played as close to a perfect game as was possible for an offensive lineman.

Processing Seminar

COLLEGE STATION -- With the rapid change taking place in the livestock and meat business, meat processors must continue to be concerned with providing an acceptable product for consumers. To help them in this effort, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in conjunction with the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University is offering a special seminar in meat processing.

The seminar, keyed to meat processors throughout the state, will be held Oct. 3-4 at the Aggiedland Inn in College Station, announces Woodrow W. Bailey, livestock and meat specialist with the Extension Service.

Highlighted will be such subjects as new methods of producing more tender meat, improved methods of holding fresh meat longer, use of mechanically boned meat, new packing methods and the latest material for improving the appearance of finished meat products.

"We have some 500 meat processors in Texas, and we feel they will benefit from this seminar," notes Bailey. "With the tremendous increase in the slaughter of grassfed beef in the past two years, they are all concerned with making this type of beef more acceptable to consumers."

Slaughter of grassfed beef has increased tenfold in the last two years, points out the Extension specialist, and so far this year, grassfed beef slaughter is double what it was for the same period a year ago.

The girl selected to represent Lubbock and the South Plains will have weeks of intensive preparations for the national finals in Memphis. This preparation will include making personal appearances throughout the state.

The evening of the seventeenth will be taken up with a reception and ball at the Lubbock Country Club. The ball will be held for the purpose of presenting all of this year's entries to the public. Music will be provided for the evening by Mark Anthony and his band.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Maid of Cotton Committee will be hosting the ball and Mr. Richard Lackey, committee chairman, stated "the ball will be open to the public. Anyone interested in attending can purchase tickets at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. We are looking forward to a very fine evening as this will be the social highlight of the year for the local cotton industry."

Saturday, October 18, will see the end of the preliminary judging, as the girls finish their interviews. A luncheon for the girls and judges will be held to give the judges a last chance at evaluating the girls prior to the finals. Rehearsals will be held during the afternoon for the finals which are to be telecast over KMCC-TV on Saturday night.

Winds Still Blow Strong

The Miami Hurricanes were to have been silenced to just a quiet breeze last week by Oklahoma, but the Winds are still blowing strong after losing by just three points to the Sooners. If the Hurricanes aren't becalmed by Nebraska Saturday, the spread favors the Cornhuskers by 18 points. Miami will really have weathered a stacked football deck!

Three games in particular involve no less than six of the stronger college superpowers. Michigan plays host to Missouri. Notre Dame entertains Michigan State, and Saturday night, Ohio State is matched against U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles. It goes without saying that the results of these games will have much to do with next week's national rankings.

Maid Of Cotton Activities Set

Two days packed with activity await the girls who enter this year's South Plains Maid of Cotton selection.

This year's selection activities begin on October 17, which is jammed with activity. Preliminary judging and interviews with this year's selection judges will fill the morning.

At noon the girls will be hosted to a luncheon at the Lubbock Country Club by the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary. Following the luncheon they will continue their interviews and preliminary judging.

The evening of the seventeenth will be taken up with a reception and ball at the Lubbock Country Club. The ball will be held for the purpose of presenting all of this year's entries to the public. Music will be provided for the evening by Mark Anthony and his band.

age, the rights still out-number the wrongs, and I guess that's what keeps us in business. Through Saturday, September 20th, we picked 359 right, 121 wrong, and there were nine ties. The average: .748.

The normally intense rivalry in the Southeast Conference between Alabama and Mississippi won't be quite as heated this year. The Rebels are down . . . the Tida is still very much up and will be favored by 31 points.

WELDERS . . . Lloyd Killough maintenance construction supervisor, has been employed by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for 34 years, stationed in Muleshoe for the past seven years. Killough moved to Muleshoe from Bovina. Killough was host to Open House held Thursday, in conjunction with National Highway Week. This facility is located on 8th and American Blvd. In the old facility, a small tin building, there was no room for storing equipment inside and had only one little office which was used for everything, including where permits for wide and heavy loads were obtained.

Strange Things Plague Crew On Burning Hell Set

"Satan really is alive and well," or so states Evangelist Estus Pirkle whose evangelistic association presents the second gospel film entitled "The Burning Hell" which opens at Trinity Baptist Church, E. 4th and Avenue B, Oct. 5, at 7 p.m. and Oct. 6, at 8 p.m.

"Of course a like number of good things happened, due to the graciousness of the Father, but Satan stalked us from the first day on our hell set".

"Of course a like number of good things happened, due to the

The famous gospel evangelist had reference to the film's producer-director Ron Ormond who while checking the location site was literally thrown twenty five feet wrenching his left knee almost to the point of incapacitation.

When queried on the subject, Ormond put it this way.

"Brother Pirkle, my son Tim and I were inspecting the set, getting ready for our first night's shooting. We had built the set in a deep sand pit and special stairs had to be constructed to move equipment in and out. While walking down I slipped, but it felt more like I was pushed! I landed on my left leg twisting my knee. I had to limp through the rest of the picture."

Other events happened that were just as unexplainable. A huge moth butting the 3200 Kelvin special light as though trying to put it out.

"Ordinarily that light, if touched, would kill a bird instantly," one of them added, "but in the case of the moth, he was not even marred."

A severed wire to the camera motor delayed shooting for hours is one of a hundred constant happenings that plagued the crew and cast.

"And during the mixing of the many sound tracks, one of the units caught fire and exploded, delaying the mix.

"And this never happened in my life before, Gerald Sommerville, the sound technician explained.

Other unaccountable things continued to plague the picture, almost as though Satan himself did not want the picture finished.

"Then why a picture on hell?" this reviewer put forth to the evangelistic minister. His answer was quick and to the point. "because there are too many modern preachers who are preaching otherwise. Stating hell is right here on earth. The Bible teaches otherwise and speaks of a literal burning hell where sinners suffer forever and ever. I believe that with all my body and soul. If I did not, I would not be a preacher."

The "Burning Hell" is expected to show in thousands of churches and auditoriums throughout this and other countries. Presently, there are more than five hundred dates set for this picture.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered a possible tax loop hole. Dear editor:

These days, if you want to keep up with labor-management news you naturally have to read the sports pages and that's what I was doing the other night when I ran across an item that made me sit up straight.

According to it, owners of professional football teams can depreciate the cost of quarterbacks. That's right. Say they pay $500,000 for a quarterback. They then estimate he'll last for, at the most, depending on how much bigger and faster the blitzing linebackers get, about five or six years, give or take a few knee operations and broken ribs. So, they depreciate the cost on their income tax return.

While some people may be outraged at this, I think it's a splendid idea and if I can think of his name I'm going to write our Congressman and ask him to introduce a bill letting everybody in on this.

For example, say you're 50 years old and it has cost you a minimum of $2000 a year in food, clothing and shelter to reach that age. (You can't figure in what it has cost you to see $500,000 quarterbacks play, your subscription to Playboy and things like that.)

All right, that's $100,000 you've got invested in yourself, subject to annual depreciation on your income tax.

Now comes the ticklish part. Do you elect a write-off, say 10 years, or do you string it out over 15 or 20 or even more?

Suppose you feel good and drive carefully and decide to depreciate yourself over 20 years. That means you can write off 15,000 a year on your income tax. Sure beats that $100 Congress allowed us last year. Make a joint return, depreciate your wife, and wind up with the government owing you.

Changing the subject, considering how the CIA has been opening mail willy-nilly, how the FBI and the Secret Service have ignored clear-cut warnings about individuals who feel like shooting a President, how

Washington can't for the life of itself figure out an energy policy, how our foreign policy makers seem to believe selling arms to all sides is the way to secure peace, how the Russians continue to out-smart us when it comes to buying grain, how the big cities are going broke, considering all these and a few more you are probably thinking of, do you sometimes get the feeling that this country is being run mainly by incompetents? Yours faithfully, J.A.
