Reminded That We Still Live In West Texas

With a very mild winter, several rains and much mist, some of us had up until Monday just about decided that we had been transplanted to east Texas or Louisiana, but we had a very nice little sandy Monday, that left no doubt to our eyes and nostrils that we were still west of the 90th.

Then Wednesday, the Weatherman decided to show us that we had merely been initiated Monday, and we are in to take some of the really rough degrees. It not only had our eyes and nostrils filled, but we could get a mouthful, crack it in our teeth or spit mud, just as we liked. It was a humdinger, and kept the newcomers on edge.

Down in the draw where the Brownfield Elevator Co. has their big shelling-threshing plant, they were piling up against their fence, and threatened to break it down and let the hogs out in town.

Boy, it was something to write home about, and a sample of what we may expect for the next few weeks.

Alvarado Man Leaves 1911 Paper Here

Recently Wilson Collins, of Collins Dry Goods, purchased an old residence on Second Street, and employed carpenters to dismantle it, preparatory to the erection of a modern new cottage, and to use the old lumber in the construction of the new home as far as possible. The wreckers found a magazine in the old house dated July 29, 1911.

The old magazine, a copy of American Field, sportsman publication printed at Chicago and New York, still had the wrapper on it, with the name, Pete Pope thereon. The only Pete Pope that we know in this section is Pete Pope, a groceryman and former Mayor of Alvarado, Texas, who happens to own some land in Terry county. The supposition is that Pete took the paper out of the office at Alvarado, came up here and lost the paper while here looking after his land.

Anyway, while the paper was published 29 years ago, there are still familiar ads in it, such as Winchester, Remington-U. M. C. ammunition, Marlin, etc., but the clothing of the men (there were few sports-women those days) and especially their hats look odd at this time. American Field is still being listed by magazine agencies at $5.00 per year now instead of $4.00 then.

Pete might write us giving us some details on why the magazine was found here. Possibly he traded it for the two sections of land he owns here.

Probable New Oil Pool In Southeast Yoakum

After acidizing with 1000 gallons of acid, the George P. Livermore No. 1, Earnest Ownby flowed 16 1/2 barrels of oil in three hours through two-inch tubing. The test will probably be acidized before given another test and put on production. This is believed to be a new oil pool for this section.

The Magnolia completed two new producers in the Slaughter pool in Hockley county this week, one for 1,031 barrels and the other for 1,003 barrels daily. The Deavers Co. added a new 1,200 barrel producer in the Wasson pool in Yoakum county.

A Visit To Snyder And Sharon Ridge

Went down Snyder way Sunday to spend the day with Herman and Sallie Trigg, our son-in-law and daughter. Accompanied by the wife and Jack, Jr. Found them looking well and seemingly doing well, but working hard as they have a good business with their refreshment place of both eats and drinks out on the highway. Herman was looking extra "swell," and come to find out he was the Vice-President of the newly organized Jaycees. The Brownfield Jaycees had the honor of instituting the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Snyder, and are still working on one at Lamesa.

They hired an extra man in the afternoon, and we did Snyder by streets and almost alleys, and a few back yards. But the most interesting part of the afternoon was a drive out to Dunn, where Herman landed in the U. S. A. some 26 or 27 years ago, and the very house he was born in. Then west to Ira, where the oil field of Scurry county really begins, and ending with Sharon Ridge proper, where there are lots of wells, mostly on pumps. This is a shallow field, wells running around 2000 feet instead of 5000 as in this and other Plains counties. But we understand that small rigs will drill them, and the cost is not so great. However the average production is far below our average well.

Found one sign that said: First National Bank and Brownfield leases," which of course was startling, but it simply meant that they were the leases of the old First National Bank of Snyder and the Snyder Brownfield family, and that our Brownfield people and the First National here had nothing to do with the lease. Most of the wells are in what is perhaps the roughest, most rugged part of Scurry county, and used only for ranching in that particular section.

While in that area, we visited the Diamond T ranch headquarters, which are ideally situated in a rolling section of Scurry county. Our understanding is that it was purchased several years ago by a rich Oklahoma oil man, who has improved it with a modern ranch house, and buildings for employees, as well as a lot of stables and sheds. They take great pride in the horses they are raising and training, as well as the pure bred Hereford cattle.

In fact, Scurry county has a number of well known cattle breeders, that show all over the country, among them the Winstons. Like Terry county, Scurry has a variety of soils that will produce abundance of feed as well as cotton, which makes it an ideal feeder-breeder section, the same as our own county. But it appears to us that on the average, they are some ahead of us on breeding, but not any on feeding, perhaps. Some herds of sheep were seen here and there.

After one reaches Post, they will note that some of the trees, such as willows of the weeping variety, are putting out leaves, and some of the yard shrubbery has never shed last years leaves, the winter has been so mild. Wild rye, or something of that order is green and growing profusely along fence rows of the country lanes, highway right-of-way, and even the yards. We had a delightful day with the kids, and reached Tahoka at sundown, and with our long twilights, there was still a red glow where the sun went down in the west when Brownfield was reached.

SING-A-SONG TO MEET
The Terry County Sing-A-Song will meet at the Harmony School House on Sunday, February 16 at 2:00 p. m. Everyone urged to attend.

Mrs. T. Martin, Mrs. Ben Lee and George Cartwright visited his mother at the Lubbock Sanitarium Monday night. Mrs. Cartwright was able to be moved home Wednesday after having undergone major surgery two weeks ago.

J. C. Bass, Route 5, was in Monday to subscribe for the Herald.

Terry County Can Have A Fair

By The Fair Committee
Last year our plans for a fair were abandoned because we did not have a place to hold the fair. Shortly after the committee that had been appointed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided that if Terry County is to have a fair we must have some buildings. Several years ago the county officials purchased a tract of land northwest of town for a city-county park that never materialized. It is the plan of this committee to conduct a stock selling campaign and, if sufficient money is raised, to build some permanent buildings on this land, if not the money will be returned.

We feel sure that the county officials will permit this and the citizens of Brownfield and Terry county are urged to take part in this campaign.

If we are to have a fair in Terry county, and there is no reason why we can not, it is necessary that this campaign be a success.

The campaign to stock sell will begin in the very near future. We are starting this campaign early enough so that we may determine whether or not the good people of Terry county are really interested in having a fair, if they are not then our efforts will have been in vain. We would like to impress upon you that it will take the efforts of everyone in the county to put this project over and not just a few.

A number of prominent men over the county have been selected to conduct the campaign in their respective communities. They are: Lee O. Allen, Jay Barrett, W. H. Black, Earl Bond, C. J. Bonham, Frank Bozeman, Whit L. Coor, J. L. Lyon, W. G. McDonald, J. L. Millsap, R. G. Nutt, C. P. Ogar, Irvin Oliver, J. A. Parks, L. P. Price, Ed Stevens, W. R. Tilson, S. W. White, E. C. Willis and Mr. Wilhite of Challis.

The committee composed of: C. T. Edwards, Chairman; Leo T. Holmes, Vice-Chairman; T. L. Patterson, Secretary and Spencer Kendrick, Treasurer has obtained a charter from the State of Texas for the Terry County Fair. R. N. McClain, J. E. Shelton and Ray Christopher has been appointed to give the committee assistance in carrying out the campaign and conducting the fair if and when one is held.

South Plains Peace Officers At Levelland

Sheriff Joe Price and Deputy Mon Telford attended the South Plains Peace Officers regular convention at Levelland, Tuesday. They reported a good session, and that they were well entertained by the officers and people of that city. Sheriff Parker of Tahoka, the president of the association, presided.

A luncheon for the delegates from the 40 counties of Texas and New Mexico was served at noon. Resolutions were passed asking the legislature to increase the pay in counties where the office of sheriff is separated from that of assessor-collector. Also they asked for 5c per mile pay for travel expenses when in line of duty.

Good Crowds Attend Revival At C. of C.

The revival meeting at the Church of Christ, being conducted by James O. Wilburn, of Odessa, is progressing nicely, according to W. S. Boyett, local minister of the church. Joe F. Coppinger, song leader and evangelist of Era, Texas, has charge of the song services.

Elder Boyett stated that fair audiences were attending the day services, which started this week, and good ones at night, with excellent audiences Sundays. There has been six responses to date. The meeting will close Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter DuFrain of Sudan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Throop Sunday. Mr. DuFrain is editor of the Sudan News.

Dates Set For County Interscholastic Meet

The Terry County Interscholastic League officials met in the Brownfield H. S. Building Monday, Feb. 10, at 5 p. m., with one hundred percent attendance. The meeting was called to order by director general C. L. Padgett, and the following business was carried out:

The date for the county meet was set for March 21-22. The director-general was given authority to arrange for judges for the meet. The same type of awards are to be given as were given last year. Each school shall pay into the League Award Fund according to its census enumeration. The track meet will be held Friday evening, March 28, and the proceeds derived from admission tickets (prices ten and twenty cents), will be put in fund for expenses of meet for next year, unless needed for this year's expense. If a sufficient number of track entries are made to justify preliminaries, same will be played Friday afternoon, March 28.

It was agreed that Interscholastic League rules be observed concerning date of entries in all events and that an all round county championship not be determined. Senior declamation and choral singing were scheduled for Friday evening, March 21, and playground ball will be played in April. Junior county meet is to be held at Meadow on February 20-21st.

Kansas Man Likes Looks of Herald

We had an order from a Leavenworth, Kan., man, recently, and he seemed to be feeling good the day he sent in his order, as his letter was rather p'thy with wit and humor, although some of it was more serious, especially where he mentioned that every time one found a way to make a bit of money, some one else swiped his basket, eggs and all.

We had sent him a copy or two of the Herald, and he stated he liked the size of our type, and our style of writing. However, he stated that he was just a hill-billy farmer, and was much happier since he quit trying to get rich, and was just content with a living. By the way, Kansas is the state from which our governor came, and he likes hill-billy music, at least.

He also wished quotations on cottonseed meal, and Mr. Belew of West Texas Cotton Oil Co. took his name to supply that information. He also inquired about hornless Hereford cattle, as he says he feeds some, and asked particularly about the Bronson Cattle Co. Not being familiar with that name, we'll leave that up to some one else. Perhaps some of our cattlemen might supply him with dehorned or muley Herefords.

In case you are interested, the man's name and address can be found at the Herald office.

1940 Scoreboard of Texas Highway Accidents

Deaths:
Every 5 hours 1 person killed
Every week 34 persons killed
For the year 1,757 persons killed
Economic Loss:
Per Minute $ 95.20
Per Hour 5,712.00
Per Day 137,088.00
For the Year $49,900,000.00

The cost of highway accidents—the economic loss to Texas by reason of such accidents—during the last year amounted to more than a month's earnings of over 500,000 stenographers paid at the rate of $95.00 per month.

As a means to reduce this staggering loss, twenty-one state organizations are asking the passage of a standard driver's license law. The bill to bring Texas driving requirements on a par with other states is now pending in the Legislature. It has features that will replace the "toothless" law which expired two years ago.

Mrs. M. B. Morris is visiting with relatives in Thornton for two weeks.

Over One Million Legionnaires To Register For Defense

The American Legion working through its 11,715 posts is going to register all of its 1,078,119 members, if possible, for national defense service. Unaffiliated World War veterans also will be asked to register. The registration will be entirely voluntary. Its purpose is to provide the local, state and national leadership of The American Legion with a complete inventory of the assets of the organization in manpower, experience and special training that could be made available to the government if needed in the defense of the nation.

National Commander Milo J. Warner has proclaimed Saturday, February 22, the 209th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, as national defense registration day for all Legionnaires and unaffiliated World War veterans who care to do so.

On that day every American Legion post in the country will ask its membership and local World War veterans generally to fill out a questionnaire. This form will be in triplicate. It will chronicle every Legionnaire's capabilities and talents which could be used in national defense. The post will retain the original copy of the questionnaire. The second copy will go to the department headquarters. The last copy will go to national headquarters. From these copies will be compiled post, department and national indices of American Legion national defense assets. These indices will enable The American Legion quickly to locate any member or veteran for whose special services governmental agencies might have a need.

Local Post Ready

The Howard Post No. 269 of The American Legion in this city will undertake to register all Legionnaires and unaffiliated World War veterans in this community and surrounding area.

"This is a summons for possible important service to God and Country whom we served as young men in 1917-18," Commander C. T. Edwards of the local post said. "I feel certain that every Legionnaire and World War veterans generally will welcome this opportunity of perhaps doing another bit for their country. We do not expect to be called for active military service. Most of us are beyond that age. But there are many home defense duties to be performed.

"I urge every Legionnaire and other interested World War veterans in this community to register on February 22. If you are going to be out of town on that date, fill out your questionnaire before you leave. It is a patriotic duty, and we of The American Legion have never shirked our duty, or lagged in our patriotism. The time has come again when we may be called upon once more to stand up for America, and I am sure every Legionnaire in this community is ready."

Highway Department Issues New Road Map

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 — The 1941 spring edition of the Texas Highway map issued by the Texas Highway Department is now available to the public. The cover of the spring edition is a natural color photograph picture showing a sunrise scene on the Gulf Coast of Texas, and the new map, shows that highways, cities and towns, and, as with every issue of the map, shows that pavement has been placed on many unpaved gaps since the last map was issued in the spring of 1940.

Features of the 1941 spring edition map are the new Federal census figures for Texas cities and towns. Shown on the map itself are oil and gas regions, national forests, and principal lakes and streams. Inserts around the map show in larger scale the routes into and thru larger cities. On the back is a brief description of State parks, and other attractions; facts about Texas, and interesting pictures of industry and development in the State. The data includes comparative distances showing that it is farther between some cities in Texas than from the same cities to Los Angeles, Chicago, and Jacksonville on the Atlantic Ocean.

The Highway Department constantly strives to improve the map, and this edition is the most complete map yet issued. While new paving is shown, it is impossible, of course, to indicate on the map the many miles of old type paving on which reconstruction, improvement and modernization has been done.

The map is free to the public and copies may be obtained by writing the State Highway Department at Austin, or any of its District Offices.

C. L. Horn To Attend Texas Music Educators Convention

Clifford L. Horn, Band Director in the Brownfield High School, will attend the Texas Music Educators Association in Waco, Texas. This annual convention of the Texas Music Educators Association, in which directors and music pupils from all over the state will participate, will be held on February 13, 14, and 15.

Through its band, orchestra, choral, percussion, baton twirling, drum majoring, and sectional clinics, music pupils and instructors will receive the benefit of demonstrations and discussions by outstanding conductors and teachers of the country. All together some 2500 or more pupils and directors will attend.

In addition to the demonstration music of the clinics there will be concerts by the Golden Wave Band of Baylor University under the direction of Dr. Perry; a concert by the Waco Symphony under the direction of the noted symphony conductor, Max Reiter; special demonstration and exhibition of Baton Twirling, Flag Swinging, Rifle Drill, Trick Drumming, etc., by the "Dean of American Flag Throwers," Maynard L. Veleir; and many other entertaining features.

A revival of interest in instrumental music has come to the Brownfield Schools. At present over 80 young people are taking advantage of the music training offered in the first and second bands. Mr. Horn has been very enthusiastically received among the student body and faculty as well as among the patrons of the school.

White Population Continues At 89.8%

White population of the U. S. in 1940, says the Census Bureau in a recent release, held the same percentage of the country's total it had in 1930, or 89.8.

Thus the percentage of population increase for white and non white population was practically the same.

There were 118,213,287 white persons and 13,455,988 nonwhite persons in the U. S. in 1940. The corresponding figures in 1930 were 110,281,740 and 12,488,306.

Local Nursery Filling Big Orders

John B. King, proprietor of the Brownfield Nursery, informed us this week that he had been filling some large orders for various nurseries over the state, which had kept himself and a large crew just about as busy as two hunting dogs. They filled one for the Texas Nursery for Chinese elm of 90,000, and several lesser ones for other nurseries.

John says that a crew of about eight or ten is all he can conveniently use, as he has to have about one trained man to every three to see that the work is done right. That with filling his own orders, and helping people here in town plan front and back yard landscaping, keeps him pretty busy.

A Light Week In District Court

Mrs. Eldora A. White, District Clerk, informed us this week that last week was a very light week in court, there being a few civil cases tried, but few criminal. This has also been a light week.

However, the grand jury, after a recess, assembled again this week and returned seven bills of indictment, five of which were for drunken driving. We do not know whether they will be tried this term or not.

We still have a large percentage of good people in Terry county, and have little need of much courting. We are getting the cream of the crop of new comers too.

Mrs. Tom May, city, and son Murphy May and Miss Espy Stotts of Seagraves spent Sunday visiting the U. Sawyer family at Cross Roads, N. M.

Others may have another idea, but this "kentry ejuiter" can place Pierre Laval, of France, as nothing more or less than a traitor to that unhappy country. While not exactly placed in the category with the late but unlamented Benedict Arnold of this country, maybe he just hasn't had the chance. We feel that Laval is a better friend to Hitler than to poor, bleeding France.

A German editor over at Portland Oregon, says that Wendell Willkie is a shabby character—a sort of fool, and that German-Americans should be ashamed of him. Note that he hypenates, making German the principal and American the secondary. We'd pity what that lousy Boche would look like in Texas after such an utterance—or anywhere in the South. He'd better be darned glad he's in Yankeeedom.

Speaking of accidents, we almost keep abreast of most of the warring European nations on airplane accidents. Either we are allowing undertrained men to take charge of our big passenger, bomber and fighter planes, or the authorities do not realize the hazards of flying over some mountain ranges, or through fog. We will have to up production greatly to take the place of wrecked planes right here in the supposed peaceful USA.

Here in the United States, we, the free of the home of the brave, kill and mangle more people each year with accidents, many of them avoidable, than are killed by war in Europe. We want you readers to seriously read and think upon the death and injured accident statistics published elsewhere in this issue. And thinking is what we want to do a lot of. What's the answer? A lot of it is by drunken drivers, but a whale of a lot more of it is just simple pure darn carelessness. What Texas needs is a driver's law with real "teeth" in it, and the present legislature should take time out from wrangling to give a real good drivers license law to the state.

The Miami Chief came back at us last week, acknowledging, however, that they still owed us a Stetson after there 14 years, during which time we have almost learned the Jellybean habit of going bareheaded. But Editor Bob Haynes wants Eee Eye Hill of the Lynn County News to share 50-50 with him in the hat, as Bob has an idea that Eee Eye failed in boosting Tahoka, and let Brownfield get ahead. Our idea is that Eee Eye will wash his hands of the whole affair as he is a deacon in the Baptist church, as well as a lay minister, and gambling is all out with him. Our number is a seven, Bob, in case you want to bring the hat with you to the Panhandle Press Convention in April.

Although February is a short month, it has given to America two of its greatest men, Washington, who was greatly instrumental in accomplishing the freedom of the United States from the mother country, England, while Lincoln is regarded as the chief emancipator of the negro. But there was born on February 11, 1847 a man by the name of Thomas Alva Edison who, also, has been greatly instrumental in the freedom of the races from druggery and lonsomeness. Edison

Thomas A. Edison has meant much to the human race.

Us Democrats got awfully sore at Willkie because he quit us and joined up with the Republicans last year. And now the Republicans are chewing off his ears because he agrees somewhat with the Democrat leaders in helping England win the war. But Willkie is shaggy headed, bull headed, and a rugged individualist, and asks and gives no quarters. He makes up his mind that he is right and takes Davy Crockett's advice "to go ahead." To say the least of it, the last fall's candidate for president is no fence rider—he is no compromiser, he is no appeaser—never has been, and perhaps never will. Even though of German extraction, he has no sympathy whatever with the present ruling element in that nation. There are no Heil Hitler for him. Perhaps he'll be read out of the party he has just joined.

Gov. O'Daniel kept his record intact last week by appointing two Republican politicians to high positions. They were Haile of Hereford, who managed Landon's campaign in this section in 1936, and a man by the name of Haley, who was quite active for Willkie in the recent campaign. —Anton News.

Last summer Governor O'Daniel bragged about the five million dollars he had saved for the taxpayers of Texas through his veto. Now he admits that the state needs $61,000,000 in new taxes to take care of the needs of the state. The question naturally arises: Just how much worse off is Texas today than it was when O'Daniel was a candidate for reelection?—Canyon News.

Henry Ford has refused to deal with the unions in his great industrial plants, so far as he knows his employees are just men. That he regards them as such is proved by the fact that he pays them higher wages than union men draw in other plants. But he reserves the right to hire and fire whom he pleases. The government is refusing to give Ford defense contracts because the Ford plant is not under the supervision of the NLRB. Must defense equipment bear the union label? Ford says he won't make them that way, and he has never yet taken a licking.—Anton News.

Probably one of the sanest approaches to the sot drunkard problem in recent weeks was announced Monday by Dr. Walker L. Voegtlin and Dr. Frederick LeMere of Seattle in the scientific journal... Plan evolved by these two doctors calls for injecting the patient with a nausea producing drug and placing him in a tempting bar room display... When the drug begins to make him sick the patient is urged to take a drink, and as long as the nausea continues the patient is plied with any type of beverage he desires. After a week of this process, the one undergoing the treatment is usually so well trained that the mere sight of a whiskey bottle produces a real and effective nausea that can be safely marked up as a "cure"... This process, endorsed by the nation's leading physicians, does not leave the patient in a state to become a drug addict—something many other treatments fail to achieve.

Henry Ford is an onery old cuss, so far a labor leaders are concerned. Henry has always paid a higher wage scale than the unions demanded; has always treated his men so well that he has no strikes; has encouraged home ownership, and has given his employees every advantage. Yet he does not fit into the plan of the labor radicals, who demand that he submit his personal ideals of a successful business to the whims of this group. As a result, the largest single manufacturing plant in the world is deprived of gov-

Plan Early For Your Canning Needs
By Maretta Holloway

Interest in making family food preservation budgets is being shown by the home demonstration women, because such budgets, when made by the homemaker to fit her particular family's needs and tastes, provides a balanced diet the year round and reduces any waste from canning too much of one food and not enough of another.

No two preservation budgets will be the same, because each family is different in its eating habits, likes and dislikes. The method, however, for figuring a preservation budget for any family is the same. The size of the container will be different for various size families, but the number of containers will be the same for all families. For families with 2-4 members, canning should be in pint size containers, for larger families, in quart sizes.

Method for Planning

1. Determine the number of weeks in the year during which a can or jar must be opened if the family is to be served a particular food. Take, for example, green snap beans. For most families, three months out of the year is about the limit for the supply to come from the home garden. That leaves 9 months for green snap beans to be served, not fresh from the garden, but out of a can or jar. In other words, 36 weeks must be used as the guide for canning green snap beans.

2. Decide how many times a week the family will eat canned green snap beans and enjoy them. Let us say that the family would enjoy canned beans served twice a week.

3. Figure the number of containers you must preserve. You may do this by multiplying the number of non-productive weeks by the number of times you plan to serve the food a week. For example, for 36 non-productive weeks at two servings a week, one would need to preserve 2x36=72 containers of green snap beans—pints, for the small family, quarts if the family has 5-8 members.

4. Making the plan work is not hard, if after the homemaker decides how many times a week the various foods are to be served, she tacks up a reminder by her food preparation center. To be sure, if canned greens have been preserved on a plan based on two servings a week, and they are served three times a week, there will not be enough canned greens to run the family for the entire period. The plan must be followed if it is to work. Forms to fill in for making preservation plans may be secured for the asking from the county home demonstration agent.

ernment contracts for national defense, because Henry will not adjust his idea to those who seek to dictate his business. We are wondering whether it makes any difference to those oppressed Englishmen whether Henry Ford is making munitions, or that the munitions are manufactured exclusively under the direction of CIO. Should American boys be forced into battle with Hitler, we are sure that none of them will look at the labels on the shells, guns, tanks or trucks to see who make which, and under what labor contract. No nation has ever been so kind to labor as the United States, and now under the pressure of preparing to save civilization some labor unions are seeking to dictate the whole labor program. The people of the United States are not interested in whether CIO shall crush AFL, or whether AFL shall predominate; but we are certainly interested in getting the national defense program under way, and that this nation shall be prepared for whatever may come in the future. — Canyon News.

New 1941 Model Feeds Vehicle Has No Wheels

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth of a series, "Blending Livestock and Cotton," published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)

As automobile manufacturers advertise their new, improved models, Southern farmers and feeders are developing, without much advertising, new, improved methods to market their feed crop. Hoofs, not wheels, feature the "1941 model" feed seller of the South—the beef cattle whose feeding brings a larger return for grains, roughages and cottonseed feed products produced on Cotton Belt farms.

By converting six or seven pounds of grain, and even more pounds of roughage, into one pound of beef animal, Southern farmers are marketing their feeds more efficiently and economically, obtaining more per bushel or ton, securing fertility for the soil, and making better use of available labor. Rations balanced with the essential protein in cottonseed meal, or cake, enable then to get the maximum pounds of beef from their grains and roughages.

A practical plan for feeding cattle in the dry lot is to start cattle on all of the roughage they will eat and one pound of cottonseed meal, daily per head, for calves or 2 pounds for older cattle. Within 4 or 5 days, this daily allowance of meal is increased gradually to 2 to 2 1-2 pounds for 350 to 500-pound calves; 3 to 3 1-2 pounds for 500 to 800-pound yearlings; and 3 1-2 to 5 pounds for 800 to 1,000-pound steers.

Ground grain may be added gradually, decreasing the roughage, after cattle are on the full allowance of cottonseed meal. Grain may be increased every third day by about 1-2 pound for calves, 1 pound for yearlings, and 2 pounds for mature steers. Thorough mixing of concentrates and roughages is important to prevent scouring, looseness and the possibility of cattle "going off feed." Cottonseed hulls are especially desirable for mixing with concentrates when there is a tendency toward looseness.

Satisfactory gains are made by yearling or two-year-old cattle receiving all of the silage they will eat, with 4 to 6 pounds, daily per head, of cottonseed meal. When the relative price of meal is favorable, the average daily allowance may be increased to 8 to 12 pounds through last March 19 pounds. A dry roughage may replace silage at the rate of about one pound of dry roughage for 2 to 3 pounds of silage.

Ground grain sorghum fodder, mixed with 3 to 4 pounds of cottonseed meal, daily per head, makes an efficient fattening ration. Grain, when available, gives added finish if 1 to 2 pounds of ground grain per 100 pounds of live weight are added to the daily allowance of each animal. Grain should be added gradually.

If legume hay is fed as the sole roughage, the cottonseed meal may be reduced one-half, and limestone is not needed.

Photographer Returns To Brownfield

T. G. Allen, photographer here from about 1926 to 1930, has after several years of sojourn here and there to find the sugar pond, returned to the place where he left it—right here in Brownfield. He spent four years in Lubbock, going to Fort Smith, Ark., where the family have spent most of the time since. Mr. Allen was considered to be one of the best photographers we have ever had in the city.

Along about Christmas, he came back to Brownfield, saw the great growth the town had made, and decided to locate here for good. In fact he stated that he was sorry he ever left here. His studio will be found in the Brownfield building on the west side of the square.

may replace one-half of the total grain in the ration, but molasses contains only 70 percent as much total nutrients as corn.

Plenty of clean water and salt should always be available. A good practice is to place salt in a box separate from feed troughs. One-tenth of a pound of calcium supplement should be added to the daily ration of each beef animal if rations contain sorghum fodders or silage, grass hays or cottonseed hulls.

SPEECH TEACHER AND STUDENTS WILL ATTEND SPEECH CLINIC

Miss Reva Newsom, teacher of speech and dramatics in the Brownfield High School, with a group of speech students will attend the West Texas Speech Clinic to be held in Odessa on February 21 and 22.

A demonstration of excellent work in debate, declamation, extemporaneous speech, and one-act play will be given at this clinic. Critic judges from Austin will give a public criticism of each performance which will allow all visitors to learn from mistakes made by those who perform. A one-act play will be presented by the El Paso High School. Abilene High and Lubbock High will engage in debate in a demonstration performance and numerous other schools over this part of the state will participate in other speech fields.

Truck Load Bill OK'd By Dirt Farmers

AUSTIN, Feb. 11—Approval of a scientific truck load limit bill by a House of Representatives committee on highways and motor traffic was hailed by Bailey B. Ragsdale, president of the Texas Dirt Farmers' Congress, as a step forward for Texas farmers and livestock men.

"The house committee," Ragsdale said, "has acted in the interest of the people of Texas. The Dirt Farmers' Congress, representing 32 farm and livestock organizations with 250,000 members, has fought from its beginning against the present unjust load limit of 7,000 pounds which discriminates severely against agriculturists shipping their products by truck."

The scientific truck load bill was number one among the problems discussed at the third annual meeting of the Dirt Farmers' Congress in Austin this week. The organization passed a resolution giving the bill its unanimous support.

A large crowd of Terry county people attended the Singing convention at Denver City Sunday.

Brownfield Getting A Landing Field

For some time the chamber of commerce has been trying to get a better landing field for Brownfield. At last the work is under way. Monday morning County Commissioner T. D. Warren sent one of his maintainers over to start dragging the runways. Judge C. L. Lincoln and the other county commissioners have given invaluable assistance in getting this work started. John Christman of Lubbock is furnishing the land and plans to start work soon on a hangar and an air-school. All those interested in learning to fly are urged to contact the chamber of commerce for particulars. The site of the landing field is about four and one half miles east of town adjoining the Brownfield-Tahoka highway on the south. We ask that if you should know of someone that is interested in learning to fly, have them contact the chamber of commerce office.

"Fair Trades Act" Branded Outrageous

AUSTIN, Feb. 10—An analysis of the so-called Fair Trade Act introduced into the Texas House yesterday by Reps. Arthur Cato of Weatherford and Richard Craig of Miami reveals that:

1. It contains a repealer clause against the Texas Anti-Trust laws.
2. It delegates not only to manufacturers but also to wholesalers and jobbers power to fix retail prices without the consent of retailers.
3. It provides not for 'minimum price' as did previous price-fixing laws but actually confers to fix an exact price, THE price at which articles must be sold to manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers.

"This is the most outrageous attack on the rights of the consumers of Texas in our legislative history," Jim Carroll, secretary of the Texas Merchants Association, said in releasing the above analysis.

"PM, New York City's non-advertising and impartial newspaper, has just concluded a series of stories showing how that state's so-called Fair Trade Act has drained millions of dollars yearly from New York consumers by inching up prices. This will happen in Texas unless free and competitive selling remains.

"Section 5 of this proposed Fair Trade Act reads: 'All laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.' Two years ago a proposed Fair Trade Act was ruled 'in conflict' with our anti-trust laws. 'Inconsistent' is a broader term than 'in conflict.' If this proposal passes, Texas may lose its greatest defender of the common people against exploitation, our anti-trust laws.

"The first section of the bill reads: 'That the buyer (retailer) will not resell such commodity except at the price stipulated by the vendor.' That clause previously read 'minimum price' and 'producer,' rather than 'vendor.' In this case, 'vendor' can mean either wholesaler or jobber as well as manufacturer. This means that if manufacturers refuse to boost prices, wholesalers and jobbers can do so.

"The obvious intent and purpose of so-called Fair Trade has always been to fix and raise prices to the consumer by invalidating one section of the anti-trust laws. In this bill, the price-fixers have come out into the open. By disregarding the pretext of 'minimum price,' by delegating price-fixing power to the wholesalers and jobbers as well as the manufacturers, and by this direct attempt to repeal the anti-trust laws, they clearly indicate their confidence that the Texas legislature will do their bidding. I don't believe it will and if the people of Texas awake to their danger, I know the legislature will refuse."

FOURSQUARE CHURCH

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Rogers have assumed their duties as pastors of the Foursquare Church since the departure of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Wilson, former pastors. They are widely experienced in both evangelistic and pastoral work. Prior to their coming to Texas some eight months ago they evangelized in Mississippi and Kansas. Lucille Rogers, a native Texan, was co-pastor with Rev. Floyd Dawson at Lubbock four years ago until she resigned her position to go out in the evangelistic field with Miss Daisy Beard.

Rev. Lee Rogers whose home is in Kansas, attended Southwestern Bible School at Enid, Oklahoma, and completed his seminary work at L. I. T. E. Bible College in Los Angeles. He will be bringing the morning message and Sister Rogers will be speaking on the subject "What Lack Ye?" at the Sunday evening evangelistic service.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Jones of Denver City were guests of his mother, Mrs. Oscar Jones, Sunday.

Miss Winifred Aycock of Spur was the week end guest of Mrs. F. A. Scott.

Pasturing Stubble May Cause Erosion

This is the time of year when the value of stubble in protecting the land from wind erosion is quite evident to those who have a dense stubble on their field, E. R. Steen, Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, points out. "It also is the time of the year when serious soil blowing can be started by the grazing and trampling of stubble fields," he stated. "The stubbles left from milo, kafir, or hegari really give promise of preventing excessive soil blowing."

"Not only are the good stubble fields of the community protecting the land from wind erosion, but stubble also will be a great help if snows come during the remaining winter months. In the past many fields that were bare had practically all of the snow blown off of them into roadside ditches or against other obstacles," he continued. "On fields where a dense stubble was standing the snow was kept distributed evenly over the fields and soaked into the ground. . . . This is just another item in keeping all of the available moisture that comes. The water reservoir, our soil, will hold the moisture until crops can have a chance to grow on it."

THE PASSING OF WILL BLACK

It is with extreme sadness that we chronicle the passing of W. H. (Will) Black, 67, of the Gomez community, who we claimed as a good friend for the past 31 years. Will had not been in very good health for the past several years, but his condition was not thought to be serious. Monday afternoon about five o'clock, his wife had gone to do some chores, and left him writing a letter at a table. When she returned, he had his head on the table, and thinking he was asleep, shook him and found he was dead. He was in town Monday, seemingly in as good health as usual.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ in Brownfield Tuesday afternoon, with a great crowd present that would have more than filled the building twice. The floral offerings were profuse, showing the esteem in which he was held throughout the section. Elder W. S. Boyett read some scripture, and the prayer was read by James O. Wilburn, evangelist, who is holding a meeting here. Elder James F. Black, of Denver City, tried to speak words of comfort to the bereaved, and warn others to prepare to meet their God. Burial in Brownfield cemetery, with Brownfield Funeral home in charge.

W. H. Black was born in Fannin county, Texas, Jan. 23, 1874, and moved with his parents to Stephens county where he grew to manhood and married. The Black families moved to Terry county about the time the county was organized, and settled at Gomez. Will Black always took a leading part in the development of his community and county. He served a number of years as Commissioner of his precinct, was a leader and elder in the organization of the Church of Christ as Gomez some time after the county was organized in 1904. For a number of years he served as President of Farmers Co-operative Society, which owns a gin, mill, freezer plant and other businesses in Brownfield, and recently as the vice-president. He was regarded as one of Terry county's best and most progressive farmers, having fine farms and good farm homes near Gomez.

In addition to his wife, he leaves two sons, Byrl and Ross, and families, one brother, George, and two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Bridges and Mrs. W. E. Winn to mourn his departure. Deceased will be greatly missed by his many friends.

Mrs. Bowman of Amarillo has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. S. Webber, this week.

REV. EARL ANDERSON COVERS A LOT OF GROUND

"Brother, if we knew our Bible prophecies we would know that democracy is doomed to die no matter who wins this war or any other war and a Union of European nations ruled by a dictator will be formed."

Now that is Rev. Earl Anderson of Dallas, as he is quoted in the Dallas News of Monday, February 3, section two, page one.

We do not dispute Bro. Anderson's right to interpret his Bible that way, but we believe he is basing a mighty lot of assertion on an assumption.

To predict a world dictator in some future date is one thing. To predict the death of democracy in this generation is another. Of course democracy will die if we all assume that it is doomed by destiny and by fate to die, and sit down and wait for its demise.

We admit our own puny limitations. But we have read these prophecies over several times carefully and we do NOT think they mean that democracy is doomed in this generation, and when it is finally gone there will be a mighty short space of human government of any kind left for man to live through.

That is our flat assertion. We hope it is worth nearly as much as his flat assertion. He can't prove his. We are not undertaking to prove ours—no conclusively. Bro. Anderson is evidently a very able preacher of the gospel. But it is barely possible that he may not know all about what these prophecies mean. If he doesn't, then he is making a pretty dangerous statement. —(U.S.B.) In Abilene Times.

HARVESTING AND GINNING GOOD IN 1940

COLLEGE STATION, Jan 27.— Seventy-two percent of the 1940 Texas cotton crop was picked and 91 percent taken to the gin dry and in good ginnable condition, says F. E. Lichte, Extension cotton gin specialist for Texas A. and M. College, in a survey of the ginning situation.

This resulted in more than 98 percent of the crop being ginned normal and better, he adds. The figure for normal preparation in 1939 was 94½ percent, but the improvement in 1940 of 3 1-2 percent translated into folding money meant that farmers and ginners increased the value of the crop more than half million dollars.

"The ginner is the first processor of cotton," the specialist points out, "and the lint cotton he turns out has a value which cannot be improved afterward, although the value of the bale often is lowered by additional sampling and careless handling."

In 1940, there were 3,056 active and 276 idle gins in Texas, representing a loss of 81 from the preceding year. The loss was chargeable to abandonment, fires, and declining need due to adjusted production. Active gins included 430 co-operatives.

James King, who recently sold his home here in town, is remodeling and modernizing his farm home out three miles on the Seagraves road, and will move out there. He will come in each morning for duties as clerk at the postoffice, and will hire a man to work his farm.

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles J. Hucker
University of Texas Library

The inspired determination for freedom, culmination in 1836 in the permanent establishment of the Republic of Texas, was not a new and unusual thing in the pioneer land of the Southwest. Rebellion had bubbled up before, and once, in fact, 24 years before—Texans had suddenly found independence actually within their grasp.

Today few remember. Who can tell of Magee, of Gutierrez, of Kemper? Few know even their names, but records in the University of Texas Library's famous Texas Collection show that they almost changed the course of history of this land.

It was in 1812. For four years a puppet king had ruled Spain for Napoleon Bonaparte, and Mexico had been rocked to and fro by revolutions which in 1821 finally gave it its own freedom. For months it had known no such thing as consistent civil order.

Augustus Magee, a lieutenant of the United States army in Louisiana, just three years out of West Point, knew all this. Moreover, he was young, ambitious and imaginative. He dreamed of conquering Texas and setting it free, and in the summer of 1812 he set his dreams into action.

On June 14 an army of 158 assembled in the east bank of the Sabine River. As its nominal chief Magee engaged Don Fernando Gutierrez, an exiled Mexican republican leader, in an attempt to win the backing of Mexicans in Texas. This move, apparently wise, proved to be his most costly mistake.

By October, nevertheless, the Americans had swept victoriously across eastern Texas and were secure in Goliad while a force under the Spanish governor tried in vain to rout them out of its former stronghold. The rebels now numbered almost a thousand and were living comfortably off the military stores captured in the town. They had no fear of the Spaniards.

One day, however, Magee had a gentlemanly chat with the governor over dinner. Just what happened no one knows; but Magee returned to his men with the news that they were to surrender and go home.

Enraged, the army, stronger than ever before and joyfully optimistic, absolutely refused to obey. Colonel Kemper was chosen commander, and the Spanish were immediately defeated with such losses that they withdrew to San Antonio. That midnight Magee, who had sulked in his quarters all day, committed suicide.

In March, 1813, the Americans—now 1300 strong—marched out toward San Antonio. Almost 2500 of the governor's men challenged them nine miles out of the capitol but after a short battle fled in disorder, leaving 1000 dead and wounded on the banks of the Salado. Next day, San Antonio was surrendered without resistance and the governor and his staff were made prisoners. Thus entrenched in the capitol of the province, Kemper and his men seemed to have gained complete success.

Immediately, however, came a crisis within which shattered all their hopes. The Spanish leaders, being taken to the United States for safekeeping, were murdered scarcely two miles out of the city by their escort. Finding that the massacre was Gutierrez' planned revenge for old injuries, Kemper and his fellow American officers washed their hands of the cause and left in disgust.

Without these leaders, the army had little chance; and in a few months a new Spanish force trapped it and almost wiped it out. Only ninety-three Americans escaped and reached Louisiana ahead of their pursuers. Then at last was the long-dying revolution of 1812-13 definitely dead.

"A party of five Indians, supposed to be Towaccinnies, were killed in Webber's prairie, twelve miles below this city, on Monday last. A large party of citizens are in pursuit of another party, discovered in that neighborhood.

"We regret to mention that our late esteemed citizen, the Hon. James W. Smith, late chief justice of this county, was murdered, about three miles above this city, on the 22d inst., by a party of four Indians, supposed to be Towaccinnies. His little son, aged ten years, was with him, and has probably been carried into captivity by the murderers."—The

HELP THE LAW

Too often we are prone to stay in the background and let the law take its own course. An incident that happened this week brought this point very forcibly to my mind. The officers were making an investigation of a case, and some who know facts would not lend their aid, because they did not want to incriminate anyone.

This is not always the best stand to take—in fact it nearly always is the wrong stand. True, there are times when some innocent party suffers at the expense of the guilty, but when someone else fails to help the law they often cause the innocent to be accused.

Every person should take the stand that the law is trying to protect them, and be ready to give aid when possible. It is sometimes hard to do, but will always work out for the best. You cannot dodge truth and get away. If you try you are usually trapped in a net of false statements.

It pays to aid the law because the next time you might want the law to aid you.—Winkler County News.

ONE KILOWATT-HOUR

We've all heard of kilowatt-hours—which are a measurement for a certain amount of electricity. But few realize just how much energy one kilowatt-hour represents.

In a recent laboratory test, a strong ex-pugilist was put to work driving a hand generator until exhaustion forced him to stop. He produced just a little over 1 percent of one kilowatt-hour. More than two hundred men took turns operating a bicycle-driven generator—and their combined efforts, kept up until they were too weary to go on, produced just ten cents worth of electricity.

A kilowatt-hour of electricity purchased from a utility company, costs from a fraction of one cent to five cents, depending upon your monthly consumption.

MISS MILDRED ADAMS

Mildred Adams First Woman Editor Of Baylor U. Lariat

WACO, Tex., Feb. 10 — Miss Mildred Adams, a senior from Brownfield, today became the first woman editor of the Baylor University Daily Lariat, campus newspaper.

An attractive coed who is active in many phases of campus life and who is confident there's more excitement (as well as more hard work) in the newspaper field than anywhere else, Miss Adams was named by the Baylor Board of Publications to succeed Louis M. Newman, Chilton. Newman resigned last week to accept a position on the Waco News Tribune and Times Herald.

The new editor first became interested in journalism when as a Brownfield high school senior, she was elected editor of her school paper.

She attended Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton the next year and was active there on The Bells. Coming to Baylor University, she was made society editor and held the position her sophomore and junior years. She was society editor of the Odessa Daily Bulletin the summer of 1939.

She edited a weekly paper at Baylor last summer and has served thus far this year as managing editor of the Lariat under Newman. In announcing her election of the chief editorial post, Prof. Frank E. Burkhalter, chairman of the board, said it was the first time since the Lariat was established in 1901 by Joseph M. Dawson that a woman has been editor.

In accepting the post, Miss Adams named George Bevel of Ft. Worth as managing editor.

Mrs. E. C. Throop is recovering from the flu.

NEWLYWEDS TO LIVE IN OKLAHOMA

The wedding of Miss Mildred Clay, only daughter of Mrs. Retha Lovelace of this city, and Ernest Dellenbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. All Dellenbaugh of Edmond, Oklahoma, took place Thursday, December 6 at 2:15 o'clock in the study of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock, with Rev. Jackson officiating.

The bride wore a dusty rose costume suit with navy and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. For something "old" and "borrowed" she wore an old fashioned pearl bar pen that had belonged to her maternal grandmother. She carried a drawn work blue linen handkerchief, a gift from Mrs. E. C. Davis. Miss Jerry Boles was maid of honor and Joe Broun was best man. Mrs. Dellenbaugh has attended the Brownfield high school for the past four years and was a member of this year's senior class. She was a popular member of the T. and T. club and was secretary of the organization.

Mr. Dellenbaugh has been employed with the Phillips Butane Gas Co. of this city until recently. He is a brother of Mrs. R. J. Purcell, city. The couple have gone to Edmond to make their home.

GUEST PIANO STUDENTS TO PLAY HERE

The South Plains Music Teachers Association is sponsoring a series of piano recitals in Lubbock and surrounding towns for pupils who are registered in the State Applied Music Division.

Programs were given at Slaton, Levelland and Lubbock last month. Programs will be given at Tahoka, Pecos, Lubbock and Brownfield this month.

The date of the Brownfield Recital which will be given by students from other towns, is February 28, High School Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. There will be about 10 students to play here at that time.

South Plains Music Company will furnish a piano for the program.

In March and April pupils of Gertrude Rasco's class will play at Lubbock and other towns.

Bureau of Identification

Science Versus Crime

Hidden away among the long rows of steel file cabinets which house thousands of fingerprint cards and photographs in the Bureau of Identification, a fingerprint expert pulls out a card which there is a small red tag. The classification on it matches the classification on the card in his hand. He inspects the two prints with a magnifying glass and takes them to his Chief.

The Chief checks the two fingerprint cards and dispatches a telegram to a South Texas Sheriff notifying him that the man he has in jail is wanted for murder in the Panhandle; another telegram is sent to a Panhandle Sheriff notifying him that the fugitive is in custody in South Texas.

In this manner are criminals apprehended, through the cooperation of local officers throughout the State with the Bureau of Identification.

At another file a second expert goes through the same procedure, but instead of a card bearing ten fingerprints, the card in his hand bears only one. He pulls a card from the file and compares the two under the magnifying glass. He has identified a fingerprint found at the scene of a Central Texas burglary with the like print of an habitual burglar—one whose record has indicated that he may repeat his crimes—whose fingerprints were filed separately in anticipation of such an event.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN TO WATCH FOR SABOTAGE

Here are FOUR NEW ADDITIONS to the BUICK SPECIAL Line that Compact Motorcar Bigness into Handy Size

*Buick SPECIAL 4-door Sedan, model 47, $1021.**

TIME was when you measured a car's ability and standing by the yardstick distance from bumper to bumper.

But not any more — not since Buick made ready the four new additions to its 1941 SPECIAL series that are built for big-car travel tastes — and small-car garages!

They are cars to take the measure of almost anything on the road in the lift and life of their 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL engines.*

*Add Compound Carburetion at slight extra cost and horsepower steps up to 125 while gasoline mileage goes even higher.

"Best Buick Yet"

They are cars with room for all the family, with all the little Buick luxury touches, with the unrivaled comfort of Buick's all-coil springing and steady-going roadability.

But bumper to bumper they are shorter — so they fit your garage.

Their wheelbase is 118 inches, so they park like a bicycle and slip through traffic with ridiculous ease.

They go farther on every gallon — farther, even, than other Buicks.

So you can't take their measure with a yardstick.

You've got to measure them by what they do for you — in the easier handling, the bigger thrill, the extra convenience they add — and by prices made lower by their new compactness.

How about seeing them — now?

BROWNFIELD FRIDAY — SATURDAY TEXAS

TECH COLLEGE PRODUCES SEEDLESS TOMATOES

LUBBOCK, Feb. 10—Seedless tomatoes are being grown in the Texas Technological college greenhouse, under direction of O. B. Howell, professor of horticulture. Because of the time involved in treatment of the plant, Howell said, use of the process commercially is not recommended.

Immature flowers where the pistil has not grown out were chosen, the stamens and petals were cut off, and a mixture of lanolin and indolbuteric acid placed in the pistil. Removal of the stamens prevents self-pollination and removal of the petals prevents pollination by insects.

Under normal conditions, Howell said, a pollen grain grows a tube which grows through the pistil, and the nucleus of the pollen grain unites with the egg cell, thereby causing seed formation. Removal of the pollen and treatment with the compound produces a stimulus which takes the place of pollen grain.

Better to cripple a schedule than a pedestrian.

A little care makes mishaps rare.

Mrs. Mildred Eubanks has come here from Ft. Worth and is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Carter. She is employed at the Clasique Beauty shop.

Miss Marilyn Claiborne of Lubbock was the week end guest of Miss Juanda Ruth Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. John King were business visitors in Odessa the first of the week.
