WORLD WAR VETERANS TO REGISTER ON WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Government Asking All Veterans, Whether Legion Men Or Not, to Register. Chamber of Commerce to Assist At Their Office, East Side of Square.

On next Saturday, February 22, the Local American Legion Post will not only try to register every man on their membership rolls, but every veteran of the World War in the area. The Terry County Board of Development has graciously consented to help them, and the registrations will take place at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on the east side of the square. Of course the registration of veterans of the other World War is entirely voluntary, but the boys here wish to show an almost 100 percent registration.

Monday we had a short talk with Commander C. T. Edwards, and Ex-Commander H. R. Winston, both of whom are taking a leading part in the promotion of the post as well as registration. They stated that while there were originally 4,600,000 veterans at the close of the World War, that since that time some 600,000 had passed on, of which 1,500,000 belonged to the American Legion of Veterans of Foreign Wars, most or Veterans of Foreign Wars, most orders, the Legion being much the stronger. That would leave a probable 2,500,000 with no connections with either service organization.

Of course Howard Post here knows most of these veterans that have no membership in the Legion or VFW, but there are possibly some in a fast growing section like this that have not made themselves known to the post. These are the men that the post wishes to reach Saturday. So, if any reader of the Herald knows of such men, who may not see this article, please tell them that the registration will take place this coming Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce offices, now known as Terry County Board of Development on the east side of the square in the E. G. Akers building.

Mr. Edwards stated that of course the veterans were to be assured that the registration was entirely voluntary, that the constitution of the organization states that it is a civilian organization, and that the membership does not effect or increase police or military forces. But this does not in any way effect the position that near all veterans take that they once defended successfully the right of free nations to exist, and that they again are willing to get behind their country in any way they find themselves qualified, that no foreign invader or their agents molest this country.

The main thing, as the writer has it, is to catalogue the qualifications of each individual veteran so if the time does come, their government will know just what each of them can do best toward aiding the defense measures of the country. Also, let it be understood that the government at Washington thoroughly endorses and appreciates this registration movement. But the completeness of the questionnaire will depend wholly upon each and every veteran and their friends.

Our Police Chief Catches Coyotes By Hand

Last week there was a thrilling story in one of the area dailies about some fellow up near Whiteface that caught a coyote with his hands. It read as if that was entirely a new stunt. We have seen Roy Moreman, our chief of police, do that a number of times. Roy, by the way, was about the first fellow on the Plains that we know anything about that put on a wolf rodeo. That was back in the twenties.

Roy usually picked up the wolves and carried them back to the cage after they had whipped the hounds, or vice versa, although he usually wore gloves. But he related last week that on one or two occasions he had run them down in cars in pastures and got out and caught them. And he has plenty scars on his hands and arms to prove it. Roy and wife used to trap hundreds of them every winter in Terry, Yoakum, Hockley and Cochran counties, and even further north, and even now he sometimes calls his dogs and goes out northwest of town to get a coyote or two.

Speaking of his rodeos, he held one or more here, one each at Levelland, Littlefield, Lovington, N. M., and Big Spring. Possibly there were others. Usually a coyote was released from the enclosure and two wolf hounds put after him. Two well trained dogs usually dispatched the wolf in short order, but "green hands" usually got a licking.

Going still further back, somewhere around 30 years ago, an old Ex-U. S. Marshall and Ex-Rough Rider with Teddy Roosevelt, used to catch wolves in Oklahoma with a kind of quilt, riding upon the wolf on horseback. The man's name was Abernathy, we believe, but we can't remember his given name. No, catching by the hand is nothing new on the south Plains.

Jaycees, Wives Hear Dr. Irwin On Americanism

Sixty-one people were in attendance at a Lady's Night Banquet at the Venetian Auditorium last Monday night. Chief speaker of the evening was Dr. Irwin of the Lubbock Public Schools. His subject was "Americanism." Dr. Irwin was introduced by Ray Christopher, one of his former students and head of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce organization.

Plans for the local chapter's Public Health project were also discussed as were its plans for attending the state convention at El Paso in April.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Luxury Liner Boys of Lubbock. Burton G. Hackney acted as Master of Ceremonies.

J. O. Gillham Attends Bankers Meeting

J. O. Gillham, vice-president of the Brownfield State Bank, left last week for Fort Worth to attend the Texas Bankers Association in that city. The bankers of the state, as well as guests from many other states, meet in the convention city, then make what they term a Flying Squadron Trip over the state.

Among the cities visited this year were Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Waco and San Angelo. The bankers then returned to Fort Worth for their business session. Mr. Gillham stated last year that these trips were highly entertaining, but educational as well.

Horace Beck visited friends in Tahoka, Sunday.

Tax Collection About Normal In Terry

Virgil Burnett, tax collector and assessor of Terry county, stated this week that poll tax payments were about 75 percent of what they were a year ago, an election year, and much better than two years ago, which was an off year. The poll tax collections were 1775, with some exemptions for those who will be 21 later on in the year. Old people over 60 do not have to get a certificate if there is not city with more than 10,000 within the county. He stated that property tax payments were about 81 percent of the assessed valuations, and slightly less than last year.

E. G. Akers, assessor and collector for the Brownfield Independent school district, stated that collections were 87 percent of valuations, compared to about 90 a year ago, but that several sizable payments had been made since the first of February. Since the board operates on a budget of expected collections of 80 percent, the school will have plenty funds, with delinquent collections to come in.

Roy M. Herod, collector for the city, stated that they had the best collections in the history of the city, with fully 85 percent of the 1940 taxes collected, and others coming in. The Herald is glad that the three collection agencies in the cities have made such a good showing, and we feel sure that the other independent and common school districts in the county have done equally well.

Another County Heard From—
Michie Speaking

J. E. Michie came here about 1924 and entered the grocery business which he conducted a number of years and sold out and bought a drug store, but as that was out of his line, he soon sold it. In all he was here around ten years, during which time he and family formed many close ties of friendship.

Going to McAllister, Oklahoma, he again entered the grocery business, and has done a good business since. But he can never forget old friends here, and annually his letter comes in and always a check for one-fifty drops out as he wants to keep up with the goings on in the old home town.

He tells us that one of the boys is now at Fort Sill in the National guard, and is secretary to a general, and liking his job. This, the 45th division will move to Abilene in the next few weeks. Michie says he has about enough boys to whip Hitler.

Actually We Left Out An Advertisement

Last week we helped Mrs. R. O. Black get up an ad for her beauty shop, the Rialto, which she has recently purchased. How that ad disappeared, we haven't the slightest idea, but it did, and the Herald apologizes to that lady.

But Mrs. Black knows too much about business to think we left the ad out on purpose, or for spite, or any little matter, because she knows we don't get one penny for an ad unless it appears in the paper.

It was just too bad—for us, especially.

On The Honor Roll

We are glad to add the name of William C. Copeland, who is now stationed in Puerto Rico, to the Honor Roll of Territes, who are now doing their bit for the nation in the army, navy, air corps or the marines.

William's name was sent in by his mother, Mrs. Gladys Copeland of Meadow, and blanks are being sent Mrs. Copeland that she may better list her son for record purposes.

Does Terry County Want A Fair?

(By Fair Committee)

For the past two weeks we have run articles about the proposed Terry County Fair and have had a number of people comment on the projects. So far every one that has approached the committee has been highly in favor of the fair. We would like to hear from more of you good people about the idea, as constructive criticism is one of the best solutions to any problem.

If enough people are really interested in seeing the fair put over, then our job will be much more pleasant. We assure you that we will do every thing in our power to have a good fair.

In putting over a project such as this the efforts of the entire citizenship of Terry county will be needed and not just a few. Each of you have a part in the fair and we urge you to step forward with your ideas and comments. The fair committee consists of: C. T. Edwards, Leo Holmes, Spencer Kendrick, J. E. Shelton, R. N. McClain, Ray Christopher and T. L. Patterson.

Terry Gets Slight Boost In Cotton Acreage

Terry and Yoakum counties were among the very few in this area that got a slight boost in cotton acreage that may be planted this year. This also applies to acres that may be devoted to other crops. No wheat acreage was allotted to either counties, as very little wheat has ever been planted except for winter pasturage.

Terry this year got a total of 148,757 acres for all crops, of which 96,958 may be devoted to cotton, an increase of some 5,000 acres over last year. Yoakum county gets a total crop of 29,743 acres of which 10,340 may be devoted to cotton.

The South Plains area gets a total of 1,464,520 for cotton, a slight increase, with a general crop of 2,020,931 acreage, and a wheat acreage of 1,077,572.

Gertrude Rasco plans to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rasco, at Memphis, Texas.

Miss Maudie Jo Fields visited her father and sister in Brownwood last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyson accompanied her to Brownwood and went from there to Calvert to visit relatives.

Oil Fields In Area May Become The Largest In The World

Second Now Only to Huge East Texas Pool. May Take 25 Years to Drill Out Proven Area. Large Payroll Distributed in Trade Territory.

While the huge east Texas oil field is the largest known proven area in the world as well as the state, having an area of 135,000 acres when the Wasson field of Yoakum and Gaines counties are combined with the proven area of the Slaughter pool of Cochran, Hockley and Terry counties, west Texas gets some honor. Of course these are different pools, but some day may prove the same, as the Wasson-Denver and Bennett pools of Gaines and Yoakum are now proven, as well as the connection of the pool in Cochran with those of Hockley and Terry counties.

Cedar Lake and Seminole

There may be possibility that the pools of Cedar Lake 22 miles south of Brownfield, and the Seminole pool near the city of Seminole may be different pools. Again, some oil folks believe the initial opener in southeast Yoakum last week punctured an entirely new pool, but just the same they are all in the area of five counties, Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley and Terry. On the other hand, there may be a connection in even these. Time will tell.

25 Years to Drill Out Area

Some of the oil men in the "know" have stated in the past six months that it will take at least 25 years for the companies to drill out the known area in this section. If one will visit the Magnolia production headquarters in Brownfield, and see residences that cost as much as $6,000, as well as other expensive buildings, grounds and waterworks, they can guess that Magnolia has settled down for a long siege of drilling in this area. They drill their own wells. Magnolia has lots of money, but none to throw at the birds. The same may be said of other major companies as well as independents who are prepared to drill out the area, now know to be productive. Below we give a recent estimate of the number of wells, the potential production, etc. Of course we all know that with proration, nothing like this amount is allowed to be taken from these wells, and they are even shut down entirely about a fourth of the time:

Pool	No. Wells	Pot. Bbls.
Slaughter	186	2,142,000
Seminole	164	982,000
Wasson	1065	20,036,000

We have no record of the number of wells and potential production of the Cedar Lake pool. In the three above we have a total of 1415 wells with a potential of 23,160,000 barrels per day. It is no wonder that the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association recently stated that Uncle Sam could be merely making a fourth turn on the valve of the wells in Texas alone, have enough oil for whatever purpose he wished. The proven acreage in the Wasson and Slaughter pools alone is around 110,000 acres.

Liquor Election Called For Yoakum County

The County Commissioners' Court received a petition Monday asking for the calling of an election for voting on the legalizing of alcoholic liquors in the County of Yoakum.

The petition carried the names of approximately 180 signers, although only 99 eligible voters are required to call the election.

Attorney Hooper checked the list for their eligibility and reported to the court the legal requirements had been met.

The Court set the date of the election for February 24 and notices are being posted in each precinct according to law.

The question to be voted on will be stated as follows:

"For legalizing the sale of all alcoholic beverages."

"Against legalizing the sale of all alcoholic beverages." — Yoakum County Review.

Tom May transacted business in Carlsbad Wednesday.

Many Got Help On Income Returns

Mr. Burl Bedford, deputy income tax collector, and an assistant were here Monday and Tuesday to help the people of Brownfield and area get their income tax questionnaires in shape to turn in by the 15th of March. And they were fairly well swamped the full two days, as there were people here from as far away as Lovington, N. M., that we know of.

Mr. Bedford is both patient and helpful especially to those making their first returns. While he is looking to the interest of the federal government in whose employ he is, no one can say that he is not entirely fair to those making returns. We heard many so express themselves.

The help they rendered was entirely voluntary, as that is not part of their duty, but was primarily to voluntarily assist those who have never made a return before. Hereafter those assisted will have a duplicate to go by, and returns next year can easily be made from them.

Let us forget, let us repeat once again, and get this through your head. If you are a married person, and your gross money receipts in 1940 were as much as $2,000, you have to make a return. A single person with a gross income of $800.00 must make a return. This applies to farmers as well as business or wage working people.

Last but not by all means least, there is a heavy penalty and fine attached to those who failed to make such returns.

Minnie Hazel Gore Buys Opal's Dress Shop

Miss Minnie Hazel Gore has purchased the Opal's Dress Shop from Mrs. Opal Herlacher and took charge Monday. Miss Gore has been living in Lubbock since 1935 where she was employed at the Jenkins Jewelry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gore of the Johnson community and grew up in this vicinity. She graduated from the local high school in 1934. Miss Gore has been in Dallas this week purchasing spring merchandise for the shop. She will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. Lala Shaw, who is also well known here.

Mrs. Herlacher has moved to Oklahoma City.

Holly In Canadian Aviation Service

Burt Holly, who is well known here, is now in the service of Canada, helping to train their young aviators to fly and care for airplanes, and perhaps delivering American machines to Canada across the line. His picture appeared recently in a rotogravure section of a large daily.

We are glad to add Burt to the honor roll of Territes and Ex-Territes. He married one of the Jeter girls several years ago and moved to California. About two years ago he returned here for awhile and instructed several in flying, and moved to Seagraves. He owned his own plane.

Farmers Can Make Feed-Seed Loans

Mr. L. B. Wright of the Emergency Feed and Seed Loan, urges that farmers wanting to put in their applications for a Feed and Seed Loan do so as soon as possible.

There will be a clerk in the basement of the Courthouse every day for this purpose. Mr. Wright will continue to be here each Friday.

Attend Bankers Convention

Roger W. Babson, the forecaster and statistician of finance, tells us and especially the Republicans to forget about "Good Old 1929." He says there is much in the future for all of us if we are satisfied with a reasonable amount of this world's goods, and are willing that the other fellow make a bit too.

And, so, a peckerwood would go collegiate. Down at Baylor U., at Waco, one of those worm hunters betook himself to the building of the $500,000 Browning library and art collection. It took a goodly number of students and attendants on stools, ladders, etc., the best part of the day to eject the weed part of the student. And not until the place looked like Sir Don Bull had visited a china shop.

Henry Ford, down on his Georgia farm, lows as he hopes the Axis-England duel will result in a draw. He figures that a complete victory of either will mean almost subjugation of the other, and that hate and prejudice would mean another war in a decade or so. Maybe there is more in Mr. Ford's ideas than most of us think. That man has a long head, and its his own.

Our isolationist friends love to pull that old chestnut about how much England owes us, but they never mention the sums that Germany and Italy owe us and have long since ceased to pay even the interest. Now, those birds can only see the amount England owes us. Some of them ought to go to Germany and Italy and live under dictators awhile and see how they like it.

About the most popular man on the south plains is a cotton oil mill worker at Lubbock, whose bit of land in east Texas is now flowing black gold at a rapid rate, and he is rich. However, the man chooses to hang onto his job at the mill. He not only has many offers of marriage, although already happily married, but many want the loan of this sum and that sum, as well as airplanes, and what have you. Anyway, maybe he gets a thrill from fan letters.

More and more awards for outstanding accomplishments are being made to men who have worked with and for the betterment of the youth of the land that they be made better men and women to take the place of the present generation. Such work has been made with Boy Scouts, 4-H Clubs, FFA, Girl Scouts and others. Most of us are too busy with our own business to help the boys and girls collectively speaking, and just pay a small amount monthly or yearly to let George do it. The man that invents a better gun, or airplane or battleship is not necessarily worth more to the community, or as much as the man or woman who lead boys and girls to a better moral and a more healthful life. Recently the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce made such an award that deserves more than passing notice, when they awarded Henry Elder, 1935 graduate of Tech college, for his outstanding work as agricultural teacher in the Lubbock schools.

Agreeing agreeably with the Lynn County News, we think the GOP is laying a poor foundation for their battle of ballots with the Democrats in 1944. It may prove otherwise, but we seriously doubt it. Any party that goes against overwhelming sentiment of all out aid for Britain, just to be opposed to FDR or the new deal will fail. And like the News, the Herald believes that Wendell Willkie has been moved up sever-

Haskell Countians Move To Terry

Some weeks ago Mr. W. P. Murphy sold his farm near town, and last week Mr. Murphey and wife moved to Tokio in Terry county, where they will live, together with their son, Preston. It is with genuine regret that we give up these good people. Rochester will not seem like the same place with them gone. They have been residents here for many years, were living here when this editor and family moved here about 14 years ago, and they have many friends in the community who feel warmly attached to them.

While we regret to lose them, we sincerely hope they will find the move both profitable and pleasant, and in the event they should ever decide to return to their old home town they will find a hearty welcome awaiting them. Rochester's loss will be Terry county's gain, and we commend them to the fellowship of the good citizenship of that section. Before leaving Mrs. Murphey called at the Reporter office to extend the time on her subscription and said they would enjoy reading the news about their friends here.

Proposed Air-School Wants Applicants

Last week an article was published that efforts were being made to organize an air-school in Brownfield. All those interested in learning to fly are requested to fill in the blank below and return to the chamber of commerce office by Wednesday, February 28th. Those filling in the blanks will be notified of the first meeting of this group and John Christman of Lubbock will explain how the school is to be operated, cost, etc. Mr. Christman is furnishing the land that will be used for a city-county air-port and if enough men are interested in the school, he will build a hangar, buy two new Taylorcrafts and hire an instructor to give the lessons.

all notches in the estimation of the people in general, by taking his stand for aid to the allies. He declared on the stump on several occasions, and even after the election, that he would be for the administration when he thought it right, and opposed when he considered it wrong, and that's exactly what he has done. And he seems to have more common, ordinary horse sense than all the rest of his adopted party leaders combined. A damp-hool policy like the most Republican leaders have taken, means death to that party, and such a party does not deserve to live.

Furnish Year 'Round Food, Revenue And Use of Land

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh article of a series, "Blending Livestock With Cotton," published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)

Milk, butter and other dairy "crops" are being harvested to an increasing extent by cotton farmers who have found dairying to offer many advantages to supplement cotton. Among reasons for the marked increase in dairy cows in cotton-growing areas, as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are:

Dairying furnishes foods essential for the family diet, and no animal rivals the cow in efficiency in converting feed into food.

Dairy cows efficiently utilize roughages and, thereby, permit use of land suited to pasture and forage production.

Dairying encourages not only diversification of crops, but of labor and income, so that stable revenue is provided from labor not required by seasonal crops.

Combined with cotton, dairy cows make efficient use of the feed products of cotton. Cottonseed meal furnishes protein of proved quality, more of the fat needed by dairy cows than is contained in many feeds, and more phosphorus than is furnished by commonly-used dairy feeds, except wheat bran. Cottonseed hulls also aid dairymen in economical feeding, and are efficiently utilized by the dairy cow.

Good care and good feeding are important for successful dairying; and a rest of 6 to 8 weeks before calving, with liberal feeding, keeps cows in good flesh for calving and milk production. To provide the protein and other nutrients needed before calving, a good mixture for dry cows on pasture or grass hay is: 100 pounds of ear corn chops or grain sorghum head chops; 100 pounds of ground oats or wheat bran; and 100 pounds of cottonseed meal. Three to 5 pounds of the mixture are fed, daily per head. If corn or grain sorghum silage is fed, 2 pounds of cottonseed meal, daily per head, provide all of the concentrate needed.

Cows in milk need ample amounts of protein to balance farm grains and roughages. Grains and roughages are widely interchangeable, so that the choice depends largely upon which crops the farm produces, or are locally available. Quality of the available roughage determines the protein content required in the concentrate mixture. In feeding roughage, a good practice is to supply all of the hay or silage cows will eat daily — about 2 pounds of dry roughage or 6 pounds of silage — for each 100 pounds of live weight.

Cows fed only non-legume roughage, low in protein, require a concentrate mixture containing approximately 24% crude protein, fed at the rate of 2 to 3½ pounds for each gallon of milk produced daily. Cows fed a combination of low-protein and high-protein roughages require a concentrate mixture containing about 20% crude protein fed at the rate of 3 to 3½ points for each gallon of milk produced daily. Cows receiving only high-protein roughages—good quality legume hays—require a concentrate mixture containing about 16% crude protein fed at the rate of 2½ to 3 pounds for each gallon of milk produced daily. MRS. THOMPSON PASSES

With the going away Tuesday, 7:30 A. M., of Mrs. J. W. Thompson, 68, another long time resident and fine lady passes. As Mrs. Storie, she started in business with a fruit stand years ago on the east side of the square, and self styled herself as "the old apple woman," brought to her perhaps by the comic strip, "Apple Mary." While she sold lots of apples and other fruit, produce, etc., many of the needy got fruit and other help from her free. The writer has been the recipient of many of her proffered apples. She married Mr. Thompson about three or four years ago.

Funeral services were held for deceased, who has not been in good health for several months, at the Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Avery Rogers, pastor, speaking. Burial in the Brownfield cemetery followed, with a Lubbock funeral home in charge.

Survivors include the husband, J. W. Thompson; a brother, Cadmus Brown of Sylvester; three sisters, Mrs. Emmaline Taylor of Omaha, Louise Brown of Norman, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Sally Stanford of Fort Worth; two sons, Ben E. and Austin Storie of Brownfield; two daughters, Mrs. Ruby Farley of Roby, and Mrs. Gertrude Murphy, of Magdalena, N. M.; 13 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Roger Curry had as his guests last Saturday, his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Curry, and sisters, Misses Belva and Gladys Curry of Rule. They visited in Lubbock Saturday night and Tahoka Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Aryan of Seminole, a former resident of Brownfield, underwent major surgery at the Lubbock Sanitarium Wednesday.

Happenings Around Homemaking Dept. of Brownfield H. S.

The homemaking girls have been rather busy the past weeks at school carrying on various projects and programs. Some of the latest events are listed below.

Valentine Tea

The Freshman cooking class entertained with a tea on Friday afternoon from 3:45 to 4:45 honoring the faculty and their wives and husbands. The valentine theme was carried out. Heart-shaped sandwiches, icebox cookies, mints and punch were served to about forty-five guests. Different members of the class served as hostesses throughout the afternoon.

Assembly Program

The sewing classes gave their program in assembly, in the form of a style show several weeks ago. The girls modeled the dresses they had just completed during the semester. The first year girls dresses were for school wear, made from cotton print wash material. For most of these girls this was their first dress to make themselves. The second year girls made general wear costumes from silk and wool materials.

F. F. A. Entertainment

The girls of the second year homemaking class are busy this week making plans for the preparation and serving of the F. F. A. banquet Friday night honoring their parents. About one hundred and twenty-five or thirty are expected.

Protectors For Your Mattress

By County Home Dem. Agent

A scrupulously clean bed is the pride of most home makers. The mattress, pillows, and comforters receive hard wear and they are not easily cleaned. Simple protectors which can be laundered often can be made for these articles, and they will help keep a bed fresh, clean, and inviting.

The mattress should be protected with a cover for the springs, a mattress slip and a mattress pad. All of these are inexpensive, easily made and are worth many times their original cost in the years they add to the life of a mattress.

A mattress cover is simply a case made to fit over a mattress. Light weight domestic no heavier than a sheet is recommended as the best material for a mattress cover. This can be washed easily and often. One may use sacks already on hand, or buy domestic just the width of the mattress. Then make the boxing the depth of the mattress on both sides and on one end. On the other end leave an extra eight inches of material to serve as a flap which can be buttoned over the end of the mattress. Six to eight buttons will serve, spacing them slightly more than six inches apart. In making the mattress cover, allow for generous seams, and extra strength and well tailored appearance can be gained by binding the seams with bias binding.

A mattress pad is essential too. It may be made from light weight domestic or sacks, and from a pound to a pound and one-half of clean cotton. It should be just the size of the top of the mattress, rounded on the corners and about the thickness of a cotton quilt. The pad should be quilted sufficiently to hold the cotton in place when laundered.

Pillow protectors are easily made. These should be made of a soft pliable material which will not interfere with the softness and smoothness of the pillow. The general method of making pillow protectors is the same as that for pillow slips. Allow an inch and a half for the fullness of the pillow and make it just long enough to cover the pillow, folding over about two inches to button neatly.

Protectors for the comfort will save many washings and add years of service to your bedding. To protect the comfort from becoming soiled at the end which is at the head of the bed, it is well to cover it to a depth of 12 to 20 inches with a straight piece of some soft, pliable, washable material, forming a cap over the end of the comfort, protecting both the top and bottom sides. This can then be easily removed and washed without having to clean the entire comfort, since this is the part that becomes soiled first. Cut the material the width of the comfort. Allow 2 inches for French seams at the ends. Allow an extra amount for the width nem desired. When the cover has been slipped

CUTS GEORGIA'S FEDERAL ROAD AID

Uncle Sam has withheld $504,074 in federal funds from Georgia, because that state has diverted gasoline taxes and registration fees away from highway uses. The penalty is the third and largest ever inflicted by the federal government because of diversion.

Congressman Wilburn Cartwright, chairman of the House Roads Committee, declared, "Congress cannot be expected to continue indefinitely attempts to help complete the highway systems of those states which pursue the indefensible practice of misappropriating their own gasoline and other motorists' special taxes to purposes not related to highways." To prevent federal penalties of this kind, and to protect their road systems, 11 states have amended their constitutions to require that road funds are used actually for roads.

F. M. Cox, formerly of Yoakum but now ranching in the Lovington, N. M. section, was here Tuesday to see if he would have to make an income tax statement. He did.

Claims Oil Paying Share of Taxes

DALLAS, Feb. 17—More than half of all the oil produced in Texas already pays a tax of over 10 cents a barrel, a survey just completed by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association statisticians shows. Twenty-two separate taxes are now levied against Texas oil producers.

The survey, based on tabulation of tax records of all 254 counties and of independent taxing subdivisions, shows that more than half of the State's oil bears taxes of 10.25 cents a barrel. All of the oil produced in Texas pays an average tax of 9.23 cents a barrel, while in some counties the taxes amount to 15 and 20 cents per barrel.

"Texas oil producers now pay 22 separate taxes, or 21 in addition to the State gross production tax," a statement today from the association points out.

"Fair Trades Act" Or "Price Fixing Act"

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—If the "Fair Trade" price-fixing law is passed by the Texas legislature, it will legalize the very practices which caused payment of $64,500 in fines by liquor dealers last week, according to N. H. Pierce, Menard publisher.

"Attorney General Gerald Mann caught these distillers and wholesale drug dealers specifying what retail prices liquor dispensers must charge for their bottles," said Mr. Pierce. "He filed suit. This payment of $64,500 of last Friday was the third such settlement made on the suit. The distillers don't even have the courage to fight the anti-trust laws in the courts, so they are asking for the so-called Fair Trade Act to legalize their price-fixing by striking down our anti-trust laws. I am sorry to say that the bills have been introduced, and are being given serious consideration.

"If the people of Texas knew the real facts about this scheme to turn the pocketbooks of Texas consumers over to out-of-state manufacturers and distillers, they would overwhelm their legislature

REA LINES SPREAD OVER TEXAS

College Station, Feb. 17.—Four contracts for building 819.7 miles of lines to serve 1,523 consumers have been awarded by four electric cooperatives in Texas. The Rural Electrification Administration has listed the four coops as the Lamar County Electric Cooperative Association in Paris, 172.2 miles, to serve 392 members; the Karnes Electric Cooperative of Karnes City, 300 miles, to serve 439 members; the Dewitt County Electric Cooperative of Cuero, 120.5 miles, to serve 261 members; and the Jackson Electric Cooperative 218 miles, to serve 431 members.

with their protests."

Mr. Pierce was one of the first Texas newspapermen to see through the flimsy excuses which are advanced as reasons for asking for retail price-fixing laws.

"Two years ago, this so-called Fair Trade Act had much support both in the legislature and in cities and towns all over Texas because it was so badly misnamed and misrepresented. The newspapers of Texas did a real public service when they publicized the

Transfers And Additions To Texas Football

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—A major shake-up involving the entrance of three new teams into high school conference AA football, several transfers in conferences A and B and the addition of seven new schools to competition has been announced by the Texas Interscholastic League.

Changes were announced at the University of Texas by R. J. Kidd, league athletics director, in a tentative alignment, subject to change.

In Conference AA: District 3, Colorado moved up from 6-A; District 10, Ennis moved up from 16-A, Mexia, transferred from 12-AA; District 12, Livingston moved up from 27-A; District 15, Harlandale (San Antonio) transferred to 36-A.

Teams moved up from B to A competition include Dimmitt, Friona, Seagraves, Seminole, Fort Stockton, Alvarado, Birdville (Ft. Worth), Keller, Pleasant Grove, Bogata, DeKalb, Brownsboro, Port Lavaca, and Benavides. Denver City is a new addition.

Seven new schools entering competition for the first time in Class B are: Abernathy, Fort Hancock, Crawford, Blanco, Johnson City, Waelder, Premont.

proposal in its true light as a measure to boost prices and fix and freeze them where ever the manufacturers of trademarked articles choose.

"Apparently much of this support has vanished in the glare of publicity. Two years ago, the House Fair Trade Act had 12 signers. This year it has only two, and they both are new members.

"I hope the newspapers will continue to expose this selfish and unwarranted attack on the rights of Texas housewives to shop for and secure bargains. It is their public duty. I know I will in my paper.

"After watching this 'Unfair-trade' legislation for two years, I am determined to fight for one thing. I want to see that beautiful name, 'Fair Trade,' changed. I want the law presented to the legislature and to the people of Texas in its true colors.

"It's name should be amended to the 'Retail Price-Fixing Act.' That is an accurate description, and it allows the people of Texas to know what kind of a law their legislature is considering."

POWDER FOR SENTRIES BIG PROBLEM IN 1803

The neatly trimmed locks worn by the U. S. Marines of today make it hard to believe that powdered pigtales were once worn by them and that every man appeared at dress parade and elsewhere with his hair neatly whitened and braided.

Yet, such was the custom of Revolutionary times up until after the War of 1812. During the intervening years the locks of the leathernecks glistened under a liberal sprinkling of flour which was commonly used for hair powder.

In those days both British and American Marines used flour to whiten their cues, while the bluejackets of both navies wore single twisted braids which were tied with a bowknot at the neck. Sailors, however, did not powder their hair.

Sometimes the marine flour barrel was empty and officers complained that they had no flour to "powder the sentries." When the flour barrel failed on the U. S. S. Philadelphia in 1803, a marine lieutenant wrote to his commandant that he would be willing to buy the flour himself if he had the cash.

Estimates computed in December, 1807, include $150.00 for "flour for hair powder," apparently considered a sufficient sum to keep the hair of approximately 1,000 enlisted men properly whitened.

Powdered hair became obsolete among service men as well as civilians early in the last century, and long locks are no longer considered to be good form.

Today, Marine Corps regulations require that the hair shall be closely trimmed around the edges and that it shall not be over two inches in length. Even shaved necks are strictly taboo.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—BUSINESS

—More and more the business news of the day ties in closely with the front-page news—that is, war and defense. While all indexes of business and industry keep moving up as the defense drive moves to higher production levels, the problem of subcontracting—to "spread out the work" on defense projects—comes to the fore. At the same time, the week's ominous developments with respect to extension of hostilities in the Far East—Japan's movements toward British and Dutch possessions in the East Indies—brought immediate reactions affecting trade routes that are vital to Uncle Sam's industrial as well as military welfare.

FARMING OUT—In defense contracts, our biggest plants have all they can handle now—many of them more—and the pressure of time in producing armaments is as great as ever. So, with the lease-lend bill certain to make available more billions from Congress for productive effort, Defense Director William S. Knudsen and his production chief, John D. Biggers, are bearing down on getting the work spread out, utilizing more fully the equipment of hundreds of small manufacturers and machine shops throughout the land. Idea is to let the major companies do the contracting, and be entirely responsible for their fulfillment, but "farm out" just as much work as possible to smaller, specialized operators.

BANKS TO HELP—How to get chief contractor and potential subcontractor together is a problem. But a nationwide network, centered in Federal Reserve Banks, is being formed to help bring about these tie-ups. Senior bank officers will be assigned to see that no small firm that is even a moderately good risk has to turn down a defense job because of lack of financing help. And if a holder of a contract with the Office of Production Management is looking for places in which to farm out parts of the job, he will find in his nearest Federal Reserve bank a card index of available machine-tool hours in smaller shops. Conversely, if the "little fellows" are looking for a job they can do, they can get full details on contracts being let in their general area—along with engineering help in figuring out just what part of any given contract their shops could best handle.

BORDEN COUNTY TO CELEBRATE 50th YEAR

Gail, Texas, Feb. 17.—Combined with the Borden Co. 4-H Livestock Show at Gail, Texas, March 22, 1941, Bodren county and Gail will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the organization of the county and founding of the town. Featuring the event will be a big free barbecue and free rodeo. Schools of the county will render special broadcast programs.

At a mass meeting attended by citizens from all parts of the county, committees to handle various details of the celebration were appointed. At last year's livestock show the attendance reached 3,500. This year the attendance is expected to be much larger.

SO THERE WAS REALLY A "MARRYIN' SAM"

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—When the Texas colonies were under Mexican rule, there was only one man in the whole territory who could perform marriage ceremonies, University of Texas Library records show.

His headquarters were in San Antonio, and at irregular intervals he traveled through the colonies marrying people. It was the custom, however, for impatient couples to marry when they pleased by signing a bond certifying that they would appear before "Marryin' Sam" next time he came around, and would have their marriage legalized.

Rising payrolls and an increasing farm income will soon drive Texas business to an all-time peak, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

ISOLATIONISM AMOK

Senator Wheeler turns to the isolationists' old "grapevine" means of information when he states he has "absolutely reliable" information that the United States Army does not have a single plane fit for modern combat service. The late Senator Borah, relying upon the same "grapevine," announced there would be no European war only a few weeks before Hitler invaded Poland.

But even if Senator Wheeler were reporting the true facts about the air service, all-out aid for Britain would be a pressing necessity beyond debate, far from any concession which Senator Wheeler would make. In fact, according to Senator Wheeler's statement, America would be powerless to stave off aggression the moment British resistance would collapse. Not having any suitable combat planes, as Senator Wheeler explains, the United States could hardly enter the European war, a result which the Senator predicts from passage of the lease-lend bill.

Senator Wheeler frequently exposes unwittingly the lack of foundation both for the isolationists' position and for opposition to the lease-lend bill. His group relies heavily upon hearsay, and complacent optimism as to the future security of the United States. In times like these, this country can not afford to rely upon such flimsy bases when so much is at stake. In last analysis, Senator Wheeler merely caters to the emotional desires of other deluded people. Star-Telgram.

COTTON COATS FOR SHEARED SHEEP

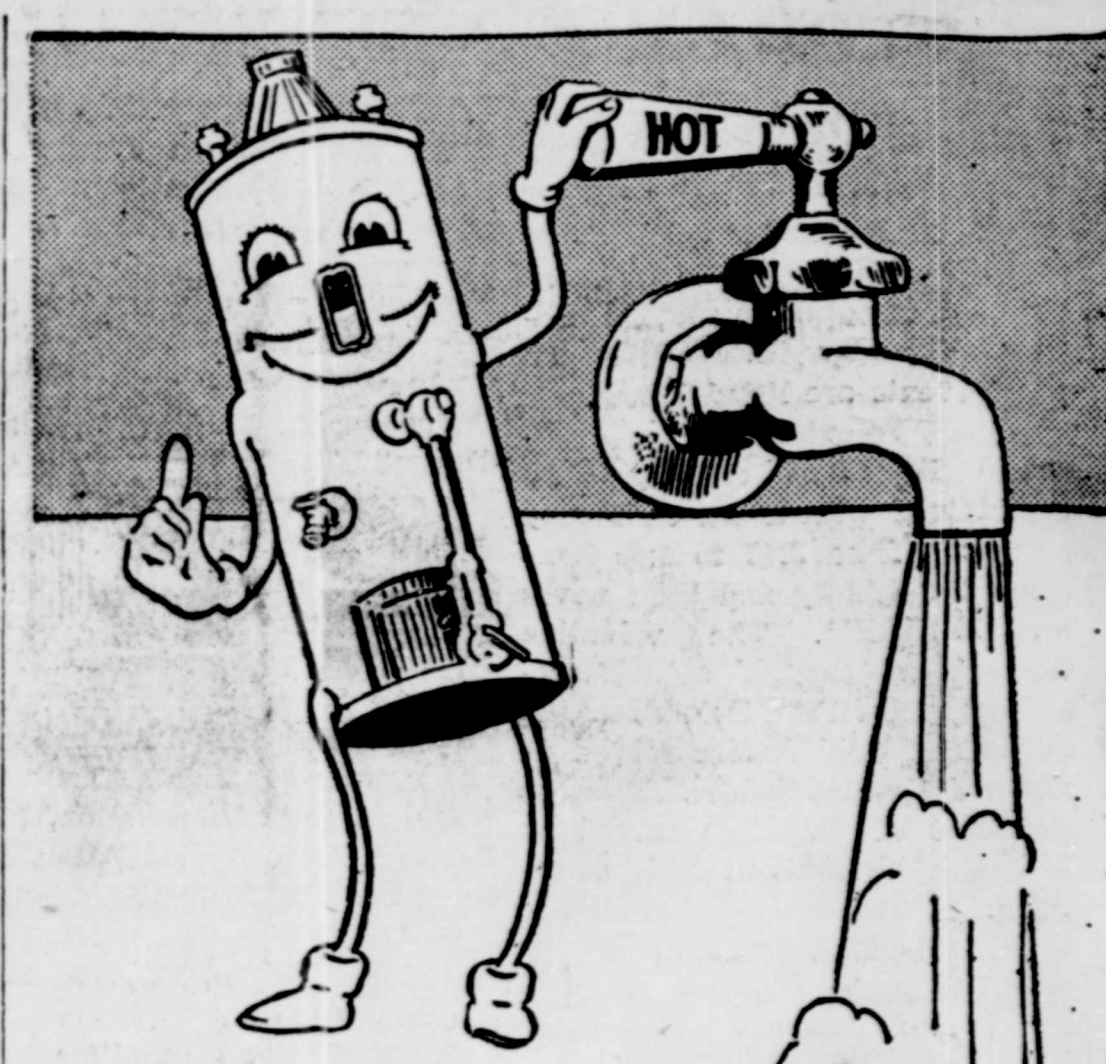

College Station, Feb. 10.—The office of information of the United States Department of Agriculture says that Dr. Robert H. Burns of the Wyoming Experiment Station, in cooperation with the New Orleans regional laboratory, is experimenting with the idea of clothing sheep in cotton "coats" after shearing. The purpose would be to protect the animals from exposure after shearing.

Last year, Dr. Burns tried out 72 of the "coats" and this year ordered 500 more. This new use for cotton might mean a potential consumption of 50,000 bales of the staple yearly.

WTCC DERIVES INCOME FROM ITS MEMBERS

ABILENE, Feb. 17—In its advocacy of economy in operation of government, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is wearing the jewel of consistency. For—said a statement from WTCC's headquarters office this week—its own operating budget for 1940-41 has not been increased in spite of new activities, and enlarged activities, in the work program.

The West Texas chamber derives its financial support from individual memberships in its affiliated towns and from advertising revenues in its magazine, WEST TEXAS TODAY, the latter merely breaking even with publication costs. Its affiliate, the Freight Rate Equality Federation, is similarly financed from dues of its 136 affiliated associations and individual members, aided by direct grants from the WTCC treasury.

Girls' 4-H Club Activities

By County Home Dem. Agent

Frame Gardens are being featured by the Girls' 4-H Clubs during February. The Foster Club has recently made and planted the club garden at the Foster Gin which is a central place. The sixteen girls, with the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Alex Reid, and the home agent, dug out the 4'x20' plot about ten inches, laid the quart oil cans, after cutting out both ends, for subirrigation, and loaded and unloaded the trailer of fertilizer needed to make a layer of about 4 inches before filling in with the rich top soil. Feed sacks were sewed together by the girls to serve as cover for the garden. Scrap timbers will be used for the frame which is to be higher on the north side than on the south, for added protection against cold and winds.

Scudday girls will make a frame garden at the home of one of the demonstration club members, Mrs. Buster Allmon, and will help the club food demonstrator, Ada Beauchamp, make hers. Gomez Club will make a garden on the R. A. Whitley place; Johnson Club has been asked to make a frame garden for J. A. Bench; Wellman Club is to meet the 26th at the home of their food demonstrator, Ada Sue Dean, to make a garden; and the Union Club will meet the 27th to make a frame garden at the home of the food demonstrator, Betty Jo Luker.

Members of the Scudday 4-H Club are preparing and serving the hot lunch each day at their school, with the help of Mrs. Victor Herring.

Soil Conservation Service Gives Advice

Winter rains have brought much needed moisture to the county but soil blowing may be expected this spring where crops failed last year or where fields are without sufficient protection from crop stubble and trash, warns E. R. Steen, Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Past experience shows that the time to stop soil blowing is before it starts or as soon thereafter as possible rather than waiting until a large area has been damaged," he points out.

"Emergency or timely tillage is perhaps the only practical control measure against soil blowing that can be used at this season of the year," Steen says. "The purpose of such tillage operations is to check soil blowing after all other methods have failed."

"Listing or other types of tillage to stop soil blowing always should be done when the soil is moist," he continued. "When the soil is moist and deep plowing is practiced clods can be brought to the surface which will not deteriorate very rapidly under severe blowing conditions and hence will aid greatly in stopping wind erosion." The Conservationist advises that where possible tillage operations should be done on the contour. Not only is the soil blowing checked, but the land also is placed in a condition to catch and hold moisture from spring rains which otherwise might be lost from runoff. He recommends the lister or other tillage implements which will go deep into the ground and bring clods to the surface.

Tall stubbles that are thick and brittle like, as the stubbles left when milo, hegari, or kafir are harvested with a combine, is proving to be a real aid in preventing soil blowing.

"SCARE" ADVERTISING DEFINED BY MISS HARRIET ELLIOTT

"Scare" advertising has been defined by Miss Harriet Elliott, Consumer Commissioner of the National Defense Advisory Commission, as "advertising which tends, through fear of price increases or shortages, to induce the consumer to make speculative advance purchases."

"This definition of 'scare' advertising should be of material assistance to business organizations which are working so effectively towards keeping prices of consumer goods at reasonable levels," Miss Elliott said, following a conference between representatives of the Consumer Division; Walter Morrow, secretary of the Retailers' Advisory Committee, and Kenneth Barnard, general manager of the Chicago Better Business Bureau.

Past success in discouraging such practices, and methods for further curtailing them were discussed at the meeting. Miss Elliott pointed out that every effort made to discourage scare advertising is an essential measure for consumer protection in the defense program.

Early Texas wasn't very quiet, according to records at the University of Texas. Travelers described "hideous bellows" of alligators on river banks, hoots and howls of owls and wolves, "silvery notes" of whippoorwills, and the mosquito's "tuneful song."

Sports-minded University of Texas co-eds are disproving the old axiom that "girls are sissies." Entries in women's intramurals at the State school this winter—competitive sports between student clubs—have totaled 4,134 to date.

SAFETY LANES TO BE DISCONTINUED

AUSTIN, Feb. 17—Operation of the safety lane, one of the most popular safety features of the Highway Patrol, will be discontinued after Feb. 21, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director.

"The enormous volume of traffic accompanying defense projects has caused a depletion of Highway Patrol manpower to such an extent that the safety lane must be discontinued at least temporarily," Colonel Garrison said.

Garrison said two of the safety lane personnel will be stationed in Houston, two in Corpus Christi, and one in Abilene. The new assignments will become effective Feb. 21 when a current vehicle inspection campaign is completed in Corpus Christi, and several pending requests from other cities will be cancelled.

More than 1,500,000 drivers have taken their vehicles through the safety lane since it was started in 1937. And in that time the percentage of collisions traceable to mechanical failure has dropped from approximately 16 to four percent.

The safety lane, conducted by Highway Patrolmen in conjunction with local officers, has tested brakes, lights, horns, mufflers, steering, and windshield wipers in more than 100 Texas towns and cities. Originally there were two safety lanes, but one was discontinued under the reduced appropriation effective Sept. 1, 1939.

"This was a difficult choice to make," Garrison said, "but the demand for additional traffic control around defense projects can not go unanswered."

Mrs. D. G. Zachary of Lubbock was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. T. H. McIlroy, this week.

Texas Farmers Contribute To National Defense

College Station, Feb. 17—Maintenance and improvement of the nation's most important natural resource—the soil—is the farmer's and ranchman's job in the national defense program.

Texas farmers and ranchmen are doing their share of this task, B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Texas, told the Southern Regional conference of the AAA in New Orleans last week.

With enormous surpluses of the basic commodities already stored in the nation's warehouses and on the farms, the problem today is not one of producing abundantly but of maintaining and improving the soil's fertility, the Texas administrator said. The fact that more Texas farmers and ranchmen in the state cooperated with the AAA's conservation program in 1940 than ever before is ample proof that Texas agriculture is cooperating, he declared.

The speaker cited a few of the accomplishments of an estimated 637,000 farmers cooperating with the program in the field of conservation in 1940: the construction of nearly 23,000 miles of water saving terraces; contour farming of intertilled crops on 4,250,000 acres of cropland; planting soil-building crops on 10,250,000 acres; and contour listing, subsoiling or furrowing of 2,150,000 acres of noncrop open pasture land. These were only a few of the 31 soil-building practices used by Texas farmers in 1940, he said. He estimated that 88 percent of the farmers in the state cooperated with the program last year.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Good congregations last Sunday with one candidate for baptism at the morning service and many visitors in the audience.

At the evening service the pastor brought the message of the sabbath as contained in the Bible and admonished all Christian people to observe the Lord's Day by abstaining from profitable labor of every nature and also observing that day as a day for worship instead of the modern practice of using it as a day of recreation, and observed from history that every nation before falling ceased to observe the Christian Sabbath first. Many nations have changed the sabbath and are now changing it and our country is changing it by neglect as well as violation of the command which has never been repealed. There is food for thought among people claiming to be Christians.

The Brotherhood held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening and will bear fruit in the days to come. The men speak freely in their own meeting when they would not do so in a mixed audience and aside from valuable information they get about our work the fellowship is great and more men should enjoy them and have our welcome to do so.

The women of our church are more missionary in their practice than are the men because they have the Bible on missions and it is emphatically a missionary book as were the primitive or early churches as recorded in the New Testament, and we do well to keep near the faith and practice of the early churches.

Teachers and officers of the Bible school as well as the Training Union were entertained at a luncheon Wednesday evening in the basement of the church and talked over their problem of teaching and training in the work of the church that the generation coming on may be better qualified to carry on the work of the Master. Visitors are welcome here.

Ritz Trumpeters To Appear At High School Auditorium on February 24

Ritz Trumpeters, brass ensemble, will appear in the Brownfield High School Auditorium, on Feb. 24, at 9:00 A. M., according to an announcement today by James Bryan, President of Student Body.

Ben Ritzenthaler, formerly with Al Sweet's Singing Band, and twelve years with Herbert Petrie's Quintette, heads the Ritz Trumpeters. Each member of this quartet is an outstanding artist, having an unusual cultural and musical background supplemented by years of study and training in his respective fields.

Ritzenthaler studied at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago. He studied privately under some of the world's greatest teachers: saxophone with Linderman, staff artist, N.B.C. Chicago; trombone with Simone Mantia, first trombonist, Metropolitan Opera Orchestra; bassoon with Sensella, first Bassoonist, New York Philharmonic Orchestra. He is composer of several saxophone and trombone solos.

The concert features quartets in brass, instrumental solos and duets, selections from overtures, marches, operatic gems, symphonic arrangements of familiar classics, and several deftly harmonized comedy and novelty selections.

Expert To Distribute Ten Million Fish

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—Texas anglers will have a chance to catch the survivors of 7,454,962 fish in lakes and streams of the state. That is the total number raised in the fish hatcheries of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, the executive secretary announced today after receiving a final report from the hatcheries by the chief aquatic biologist of the Department. Improved methods of fish production along scientific lines enabled the Game Department to show an increase of 2,139,201 fish distributed in 1940, a gain of 36½ percent over 1939, when 5,115,761 fish were distributed.

The gain of more than 2,000-

Among their comedy numbers is a trombone duet, in which each operates his partner's slide. One of their popular stunts is the blending of four popular tunes into one. In another, each member of the company handles and plays two instruments simultaneously.

The Ritz Trumpeters use six different instruments: trumpet, trombone, saxophone, clarinet, bassoon, and piano. Each member of the company plays several instruments, Mr. Ritzenthaler playing saxophone, bassoon, clarinet and trombone. An almost endless variety of combinations of these is used to produce a concert of thrilling beauty and enjoyment. Their artistry meets the demands of the most exacting critics, and the concert is presented with such dash, color and showmanship that they win the spontaneous and enthusiastic approval of every audience. The brilliant split-second timing of every movement and note makes the concert a dramatic poem of harmonious, flowing motion and melody. They were acclaimed as unsurpassed on their tour of the South and Southwest during 1937-38 and the summer of 1939.

This entertainment is open to the public. A nominal price of 15c will be charged.

1000 fish produced by the hatcheries was made despite the fact the Huntsville fishery was being remodeled and produced only 30,864 broam compared with 869,633 fish in 1939. The hatchery will be back in full operation this year. The Olmito Hatchery has been improved considerably and will also be at full peak. The Jasper Hatchery is being improved by the addition of thirty ponds, but will be in production and the executive secretary announced that the Game Department may be able to distribute 10,000,000 fish this year.

For the first time in the history of the Department, three hatcheries went over the million mark.

A Chamber of Commerce has been organized at Sundown, the new Hockley county oil town.

Union School Pupil Writes Theme On Visit To Mars

The following theme was written by Arlene Couchman, Freshman pupil of the Union school. Arlene is the daughter of George D. Couchman and is twelve years old. She lost her mother four years ago and since that time has kept house for her father and does most of the cooking. She is the pupil of Mrs. Jim Graves.

A Visit To Mars

The ship was rather crowded, but I didn't notice. We were nearing Mars! I would be the first person from the Earth ever to have explored Mars.

The minute we landed short, fat, little people began to swarm around. They were about three feet tall with squarish heads and an extra eye in the middle of their forehead. They have queer greenish complexions, probably resulting from the peculiar atmosphere. Martians are gentle little people, their curiosity outweighing their fear of us.

These people live in underground houses. The furniture is made of mats woven from the grass that grows along the man-made streams used for water. The people wore clothes made from this same plant.

The Martian's language sounds like a mixture of our Latin and German languages. It took me a very long time to learn their language. One day two men came toward me and, I presumed, asked me my name. I repeated the fellow's words, pointing at the man who had not spoken. He told me his name, apparently pleased that I was learning the language.

During my visit at Mars, I stayed with the king, who kindly gave me permission to explore the land, except behind a certain mountain range. There I was absolutely forbidden to go.

Now, at best, the Martians are monotonous, and my curiosity was aroused. What had the King to hide? What was behind the mountain range? One day I got out of bed determined to see.

Evening found me half-way down the forbidden mountain, and as yet I saw nothing to fear, but dark was coming on and it was cold. Then I saw strange lights grouped in two's. Apparently coming toward me. I sat down to wait, and suddenly the truth flashed upon me. I know why the King had forbidden me to come. The lights showed that people were there, and probably hostile. They were coming after me. I got up and started to run blindly, but the strange people kept gaining. I could see that the lights were eyes.

They could see in the dark. I could see them reaching out for me. I lunged forward, and lost my balance. I fell flat and the next thing I knew I was lying in my bed hugging my pillow.

Brownfield's Independent cagers won the Brownfield Independent basketball tournament, defeating the Meadow team in a hair-breadth game, Wednesday night, 21 to 19.

Man is what woman marries. Men have two feet, two hands and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar button or one idea at a time. Like Turkish cigarettes, men are all made of the same material, the only difference is that some are better disguised than others. Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes—husband, bachelors and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a man of obstinacy surrounded with suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties—prize, surprise and consolation prize. Making husband out of a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, sculpture and common sense, faith, hope and charity—mostly charity. — Swiped by the Kemp News—and re-swiped by this column.

In noting the powerful posts in our national government that are occupied by Texans—(Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House; Jesse Jones, head of the RFC and Secretary of the Interior, and the numerous House chairmanships)—it should be remembered that one of the important positions is that held by United States Senator Morris Sheppard, dean of the Senate and chairman of the Military Affairs Committee. Senator Sheppard has served in the Senate 28 years and, including his service in the House, he has been a member of Congress 39 years. Gillett of Massachusetts and Morrill of Vermont, neither of whom is now living, are the only men in history to serve as national lawmakers longer and one more term for the Texan would give him the greatest

Do you have to "TUCK YOUR CAR IN" at night?

Not if it's One of these Four New Additions to the BUICK SPECIAL Line that Compact Automobile Bigness into Fewer Bumper-to-Bumper Inches

HERE of late the modern automobile has been giving a pretty good imitation of a man getting up in the morning.

It has stretched and s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d—until today you almost have to have a shoehorn to get a car of any size tucked away in the family garage.

We thought something ought to be done about that.

So today in Buick dealers' showrooms you'll see four new models, additions to the 1941 Buick SPECIAL line.

They are typical Buicks on every count—steady, tireless travelers with a big 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL straight-eight under their bonnets.

But by the simple step of compacting all this ability, goodness and value on a 118-inch wheelbase, we've trimmed inches off the over-all length—and dollars off the cost.

We're passing those dollar savings on to you, which makes three reasons for going to see these honeys now: You'll go for their ability—your wife will go for trim size and easy handling—and both will stand up and cheer for the easily-reachable price.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE BETTY LOUISE VEST

Our little Betty has gone away To a land that is brighter than day, Oh, how her going has saddened our hearts, Just as her sweet smiles And baby words gladdened our lives,

In those few short years. In the home is a vacant chair, And in Sunday School a vacancy there; But in our hearts a sweet memory lives Of those sweet words and golden curls.

Some things are hard to understand, Just why a life so precious and grand, Had to die, And leave so Many behind to cry. But we know she'll meet us at Heaven,

There with out-stretched arms as she did at home, Sleep on precious darling, We know you are at rest, You know how we loved you, But God loved you best. So we lay her body beneath the clay, Undisturbed till the trumpet sounds on Judgment day.
