Have You Any National Geographic Magazines?

About a year ago, L. A. Jett presented the Maids and Matrons Club library with National Geographic magazines files from 1922 to 1938 inclusive, but there are a few numbers missing, as follows: 1937, December, April and May; 1938, November; 1939, October. If you have these magazines, and wish to donate them to a good cause, call Mrs. J. L. Randall, telling her the numbers you have.

Mrs. Randall as committee for this department has recently ordered substantial backs or covers for these books that will be put on them. So if the covers of your magazine happens to be gone, that will make no difference, as all that need backs will be repaired by the ladies.

Lubbock B. of C. D. Renews for Herald

A perfectly nice looking check was received this week from the Board of City Development, Lubbock, countersigned by A. B. (Ah Boy) Davis as manager, which gives off the appearance of passing muster at a Lubbock bank when it goes back up there. Anyway, we have moved up their Herald for another year, thereby taking a chance.

Laying aside the levity and teasing, Mr. Davis states in his letter accompanying that the B. of C. D. gets much information out of the many daily and weekly papers in the area, which comes to their desk each week. They keep them posted on the development and expansion of the south plains area, states Mr. Davis.

M., where he will address the general assembly of the Brownfield schools at the high school auditorium. Rev. Markley is said to be a very fluent speaker as well as a great patriot, and the local Legionnaires as well as school children will attend and hear the address.

We might state in this connection that the Wm. Howard Post has purchased a number of copies suitable for framing, of Pledge to the Flag, Mr. John Bost and his manual training class has framed these pledges, and it is the aim of the local Legionnaires to place a copy in every school room in Terry county.

Lubbock Lady And Neighbors Enjoy Herald

Had a letter and remittance last week from Mrs. John Raymer renewing for the Herald. She stated in her letter that not alone she, but several neighbors, who are Terry county pioneers, read the Herald after she has finished it, as she passes it on to them.

The writer first met Mrs. Raymer back some 30 years ago, when she was keeping books for the Lubbock Avalanche, then a weekly and edited by James L. Dow. Later she married Mr. Raymer, who was manager of the old L7 ranch near Meadow, where we have visited them in their home.

126 World War Vets Registered Here

According to Jim Miller, the registration of World War veterans went over pretty good last Saturday in the area served by the Wm. Guyton Howard post. A great many of these were not members of the post, according to Jim. The number registering was 126, which we believe is a good showing.

Of course from time to time, others who happen to be in town will be registered to augment the above number. It is our opinion that very few veterans will object to registration, as we have found them to be a man very patriotic, and willing to serve their country again, if need be here at home.

We have seen articles from a few writers, mainly in some of the daily press that could see no need of the veterans registering. But there are any number of people that can't see any need of the United States preparing for any eventuality. Some of them are members of the U. S. congress.

Perhaps if some of the veterans over in Belgium and France had been well organized and armed, the Fifth Columnists would not have had such an easy matter of getting behind the lines and ruining the morale of those people.

"Gone with the Wind" Had Big Second Run

"Gone with the Wind" finished another high three day run here last week, with matinees each day. People who attended this time stated that the show was identical to the first run here two months ago except the price, which had been greatly reduced. People all over the area attended the last as well as the first showing.

In this connection, the Herald takes this means of thanking Mrs. Ethel Jones, proprietor of the Jones Theatres for passes to both shows, as well as many other courtesies she has shown our family from time to time.

Dry Ticket Carries In Yoakum Election

PLAINS, Feb. 24—On the basis of incomplete returns, indications were tonight that Yoakum county voters failed to authorize the sale of alcoholic beverages in a special election today, it was reported to G. P. Bean, county judge.

Two large boxes had been counted at 8:30 o'clock. They totaled 144 votes for and 364 against sale of intoxicants. Two smaller rural boxes had not been brought in, but it was believed they would be insufficient to exert much influence on the total.

Deputy State Supt. Is In Austin

We are requested to announce that Esten Day, deputy state school superintendent, will be out of his office from Saturday of this week until March 5th, when he expects to return to his offices at Lubbock.

The Rambler Goes On A Sad Mission

Last Wednesday night, the writer was called by a nephew, Benton Stricklin, from Waxahachie, stating that his brother's wife had died at ten o'clock the night before at their home in Tulsa, Okla., after a lingering illness. He also stated that the funeral would be Friday at Grandview. We left here Thursday afternoon, taking the midnight train at Snyder.

Cleburne was reached around eleven Friday, where the body had been brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Watson. Funeral was held in the Methodist Church at Grandview at 3 P. M. as that was by far the largest church building in the town. Elder Glen A. Wallace, minister of the Cleburne church of Christ, conducted the funeral, following which, the body was laid to rest in the old Antioch cemetery north of Grandview three miles.

The huge crowd of Cleburne and Grandview people, the profusion of flowers, attested the esteem in which Arbutus (Johnny) as she was more familiarly called, was held. Others were there from as far as Tulsa, Tennessee, and many other places. Besides her parents, she leaves her husband, Alton, a little four year old daughter, Nancy, and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her departure. Everyone seemed to have loved her, and she was cheerful to the last.

Had quite a nice visit in the home of our Johnson county brother, Meeks and daughter, Violet, all that are now at home. Also in the home of his late wife's mother, Mrs. J. Y. Benton, where we spent many happy hours in our young manhood. Spent Saturday night in the home of brother Tom and wife at Fort Worth. All their children have flown the home nest, but most of them live in Fort Worth, only a son being in the Canal Zone. Had a nice time considering the circumstances of the visit.

That whole section is water logged and still raining. More rain had fallen, they stated, than for three years. Left Fort Worth about eleven Sunday for Denison via Dallas, arriving there about two. After a late lunch in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Taylor, parents of Jack Jr.'s wife, we had a short visit with the old grandmother of the family also in Denison. Jack Jr., had gone down Friday afternoon to bring his wife and little son home. He was accompanied to Denison by Mrs. Crowe and daughter, Pat, of Seagraves.

We left Denison around four in the afternoon, via Sherman, Gainesville, Henrietta, Wichita Falls, Seymour, Dickens and Lubbock, arriving home between one and two Monday morning, despite a lot of rain, fog, snow, and a bad detour between Dickens and Crosbyton. If you wish to count mileage, the old Rambler really rombled some during the brief time specified above, and we didn't have to be rocked to sleep when we clambered under cover slightly after two o'clock Monday morning.

J. R. Kee Takes Nash Automobile Agency

The Herald takes pleasure in announcing that J. R. Kee has accepted the agency for the Nash Motor Co., in Brownfield, and already has a demonstration car, and has made arrangements with the United Auto Parts Co. on West Main for storage space. As soon as practical, Mr. Kee intends to put up his own building somewhere in the business area of the city.

In the meantime, his used car lot will remain as now just south of the Edwards Food store on the southeast corner of the public square, where you will find many bargains in used cars.

The time was when Nash made only a high and medium priced bracket car. But they are now putting out a smaller job that dealers say is a real honey, and will really go places on a minimum gas supply.

Mr. Kee has been a citizen of our city for some five years, except a short time he was located at Olney with a company. He is now considered a fixture in Brownfield, and one of its main boosters. We want you to watch the Herald next week for his formal announcement.

35,000 Pound Truck Bill Passed

One of the hardest battles of the 47th Legislature last week went through its primary stage as the House of Representatives okayed a bill raising the truck load limit from 7,000 pounds net load to a gross weight of 35,000 pounds per truck.

With the bill already out of the House of Representatives prospects were that the Senate highways and motor traffic committee would consider it along with a subcommittee report Monday night on the scientific formula truck bill. The subcommittee will give a favorable report to the scientific bill with a gross weight of 48,000 pounds instead of 56,000 pounds set in the original Kelley bill.

The House fight over the scientific bill stretched over two days, and forces were closely divided. However, the battle was calm, restrained, serious. It was an important measure and the House acted accordingly.

Final passage was reached Wednesday after Tuesday's all-day discussion and voting.

The vote on final passage was 78-to-60.

Guardsmen May Vote Mann Rules

Unless the United States Supreme Court rules otherwise, members of the Texas National Guard are entitled to vote in Texas during their period of active service.

This was the effect last week of a ruling by Attorney General Gerald Mann, who pointed out that Texas' Supreme Court has held that the status of National Guard officers and enlisted men does not change due to their active service "so far as Texas is concerned."

Mann is contesting the Texas court's opinion, in an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court in the so-called Carpenter case governing the paying of salaries to officers in the Guard who are also state officers.

However, men who are chosen under the Selective Service act lose their voting privilege, Mann said. The State Observer.

South's Fibers Are Essential Raw Materials

Cotton, Wool and Mohair Are Resources Aiding Nat'l Security

(Editor's Note: This is the eighth article of a series, "Blending Livestock With Cotton," published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)

By blending sheep and goat raising with cotton production, the Cotton Belt is producing much of the nation's supply of three essential fibers—cotton, wool and mohair. In peace or war, production of these fibers on Southern farms and ranches contributes to the security and economic welfare of the entire nation. In addition to furnishing lint cotton, the South's cotton acres furnish cottonseed feed products needed by sheep and goats for efficient production of wool and mohair.

Economical production of wool or mutton requires good care and feeding of the range or farm flock during winter months. Experiment Station research and experience have proved. Adequate amounts of quality protein, supplied by 1-4 to 1-2 of a pound, daily per head, of cottonseed meal, cake, cubes or pellets, keep ewes in good condition for lambing and furnish nutrients needed for maximum growth of uniformly-strong wool. Silage is a good succulent roughage for sheep when 3 to 4 pounds, daily per head, are fed with meal or cake.

Plenty of water and salt should always be available for sheep. Oyster shell flour or ground limestone is needed by sheep fed corn or sorghum silage, grass hay or sorghum fodder.

Lamb feeding offers an excellent market for farm grains, roughages and cottonseed feed products produced in the South and Southwest. Lambs entering the feeding pens should be fed carefully. Rest, plenty of water, and a mixture of 93 percent cottonseed hulls and 7 percent cottonseed meal will give lambs a good start. After ten days, this mixture may be changed to 75 percent hulls, 15 percent cottonseed meal, and 10 percent molasses. After thirty days, and of the farm grains may be added gradually until 30 percent of the daily ration is grain, with the cottonseed hulls reduced correspondingly. One-half of the cottonseed hulls should be replaced with legume hay during the latter part of the feeding period.

Another practical plan used by successful feeders of lambs is to feed 1-3 of a pound of cottonseed meal or cake, daily per head, and all of the silage lambs will eat, during the first four weeks. Then, they start adding 1-16 of a pound of sorghum grain to each of the two daily feedings of silage. This is continued until lambs are getting one pound of grain, daily. One-eighth of a pound of grain is then added, every second day, until lambs are getting all of the grain they will eat. When silage is fed, a calcium supplement should be sprinkled over the silage each day, at the rate of 2 1-2 pounds for each 100 lambs.

Gomez H. D. Club To Have Bed Exhibit

We have been asked by the Ladies of the Gomez Home Demonstration Club to state that they will have an exhibit Thursday Friday and Saturday of this week, at the hardware department of the J. B. Knight store on the west side of the square, a complete bed exhibit, and that the general public is cordially invited to view it.

The exhibit of course, will include everything made at home except the actual furniture, such as home made mattresses, mattress and pillow coverings, and many other articles. The idea is to show what can be done in this day and time in each community to make living conditions better.

A tired person just simply cannot rest comfortably and get a good night sleep on a poor bed, or a bed that is old, ragged and filthy. Take time out to see this exhibit.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Feb. 10—Business—Though you may have spotted price rises in some things, and got the impression that living costs were on a strong uptrend, fact is living cost rises have been amazingly low in comparison with what was feared the war would bring, on the basis of the 1914-18 experience. National Industrial Conference Board's report on 1940 shows that the wage-earner paid only nine-tenths of one per cent more for his essential requirements in 1940 than in 1939—and nearly three per cent less than in 1937. The survey covers food, clothing, housing, sundries, light and fuel. The Board uses 1923 as the standard for living costs. With that as "100", costs during 1940 for the fields surveyed aggregated 85.3. Which means that the purchasing power of the '40 dollar was 117.2 per cent of what it was in '23 . . . you could buy as much with a single round dollar in those essentials as you could have got for $1.17 in 1923.

No Runaway—So maybe prices aren't going to run away, after all—though we certainly heard plenty of talk expressing fear of just that when the defense drive was just starting. Maybe we should knock on wood. But the experts say this stability in cost of living, thus far, in spite of numerous "inflationary" influences, has been due mainly to three factors: (1) Our abundance of foodstuffs and raw materials; (2) mutual determination, arising out of experience in the other war, on the part of both business and government to keep prices down; (3) comparatively small number of labor disturbances, to date.

Low-Price Trend—The auto industry, which has pledged itself to priorities on defense orders, finds itself able to surge ahead full-blast to meet what is predicted to be the greatest spring demand in its history. Announcement of new models shows a definite trend toward stepping-up production and continued low prices, indicating no noticeable shortage in basic materials.

We might state also that they are giving the store a new coat of paint, which adds greatly to the appearance of the interior.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Publishing Co. has added a new series of body type that is much more legible, and well as easier on the eye. At the same time, it doesn't appear to take more space in the columns for the same amount of reading matter. Modern newspapers are doing all in their power to make reading of their papers an easy matter.

Latest reports are that there are now a total of 1700 irrigation wells on the south Plains, watering some 165,000 acres. Formerly this acreage was confined somewhat to regular crops of wheat, cotton, maize, alfalfa, vegetables and fruits. Lately thousands of acres of spuds and sugar beets have been added and other crops will no doubt be added from time to time. Most of the wells are confined to the three tiers of counties just above Terry. However, it has been proven that irrigation wells work fine in this country.

The citizenship of Littlefield appear to want home rule as far as possible, as more than 150 of them have petitioned the city council to divide the town into wards, and permit them to elect all city officials. This is not a bad idea, as with wards, every portion of the city has adequate and interested representation on the council. We have known it to happen a few times when practically every councilman lived on the same street within a few blocks of each other. If the right kind of men are elected, this is alright; otherwise, it might work a hardship on some portion of the city.

Around 1922, the Herald first began to get Chevrolet advertising from Campbell-Ewald Co., Detroit, and has received such advertising almost every month since that time. The company is this month celebrating its 30th birthday, having been started in a humble way by Frank J. Campbell and H. T. Ewald. Today, they check out to newspapers about $10,000,000 annually for advertising. Campbell-Ewald have always been a fine advertising firm with which to do business. Their schedules are simple and easy to follow, and we have never found them contentious over small matters. While "30" in newspaper parlance will not mean "the end" to them, we sincerely hope, we are offering our congratulations, and wishes for many happy returns of the day.

The Meadow Star took considerable space in its last issue to advise people to trade in Meadow, giving various reasons, all of them good. But the trade of people is not an easy matter to handle. Some folks like to trade where they have to hunt a parking place, and even pay for the privilege of parking while they shop. Then there are grocermen whose families buy their dry goods elsewhere, and dry goods folks whose families think the furniture better if it comes from the BIG TOWN, and on and on. Some folks in business think their letter heads look better if printed far, far from home, Mr. Richards. So, we have so arranged that Meadow folks will trade in Brownfield or Lub-

YOUTHFUL COMPOSERS OF SONG HIT

MILTON PAGE

JEAN ELVINS

"Admiration's Happiness Melody," the gay tune that everybody's humming now, was composed by two students of the University of Texas. Milton Page wrote the music while Miss Jean Elvins provided the lyrics. "Admiration's Happiness Melody" is their first publication, yet it's popularity promises to place them among the top writers of current song hits.

It all came about somewhat like this: Mr. Clay W. Stephenson, Jr., Advertising Manager for the Duncan Coffee Company, Houston, Texas, was searching for anything and everything pertaining to "happiness" for use in the current Admiration Coffee advertising program.

Mr. Page and Miss Elvins learned of Mr. Stephenson's advertising plan through a mutual friend, and immediately became inspired with the idea of writing a "happiness melody" to tie-in with the Admiration Happiness campaign. Days and nights of frantic work finally produced the song that was to become "Admiration's Happiness Melody," and off to Houston raced the youthful composers to sell their song. On a slightly bewildered but nevertheless "game" Advertising Manager the enthusiastic song writers pounced, and after some discussion, Mr. Stephenson and the song writers retired to a local radio station to audition the song. Just one hour later Miss Elvins and Mr. Page had sold their first song—the "Admiration Happiness Melody."

Hedy's Smartest Screen Wardrobe

"Come Live With Me" gives Lamarr a chance to combine her beauty and glamour with a dash of comedy. It also gives her an opportunity to wear a collection of Adrian's smartest designs for the seasons of late '40 and '41. She has fifteen changes in all, ranging in type from clever suits for daytime wear to the most exotic of evening attire. It proves to be one of the most extensive collections of style-setting items ever worn by the star since her Hollywood debut. Stewart's role of a struggling young author is another made-to-order for the star. It is doubtful if he has ever had a better opportunity. The combination of Stewart's homespun qualities plus the ultra-sophistication of Miss Lamarr will provide a study in contrasts long to be remembered.

Hedy Lamarr and James Stewart as the lovers in "Come Live with Me," opening Sunday on the Rialto screen.

This Thing Called A Ventilated Pantry

Ventilated pantry is a hard sounding title for so convenient and desirable food storage closet, and one which is quite simple to construct after all. Many a clothes closet has been turned into an ideal ventilated pantry with little or no cost, the size, of course, depending on the needs of the particular family.

A ventilated pantry is one so constructed that the cool air which is stored up under the house is drawn slowly through the pantry during the day and keeps the foods in the pantry at a desired temperature.

To make this possible: Locate the pantry as near the center of the house as possible—that means on an inside wall. Use beaver board, corrugated pasteboard boxes or several layers of paper to line an old closet to make the walls tight enough to aid in the proper insulation of the walls.

Make a screened opening in the center of the pantry floor to permit the cool air from under the house to force the warm air out of the pantry through a screened opening directly above in the ceiling of the pantry; usually an 18" square screened opening in the floor and ceiling will serve for the averaged size pantry. Circulation of air under the house should be made possible. Solid foundation walls should have openings in them, particularly on the south side of the house and at least on one other side. The opposite gable ends of the house should be also ventilated, as it is better to open the pantry into a well ventilated attic.

The shelves should be so constructed as not to interfere with a free circulation of air which aids in controlling the temperature in the pantry. Three four-inch boards with one inch between the boards have been found to be very satisfactory. In placing containers in the pantry, care should be taken not to obstruct this free circulation of air.

That's all there is to them!

Canned Food In Terms of Millions

College Station, Feb. 24.—Texas farm families influenced by the educational programs on gardening conducted by the Extension Service and by the garden provisions of the 1940 agricultural conservation program produced 600,000,000 pounds of vegetables for home use last year. The figure for home-produced fruit also went into the millions—12,028,127—in 1940.

This information has been compiled by J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist, and Jennie Camp, extension specialist in home production planning. They explain that this 600 million pounds of vegetables was produced on 127,350 farms and ranches in 161 counties "it meant $7,518,150 worth of vitamin- and mineral-rich foods on the family tables for approximately 600,000 families in those homes."

This represents a substantial increase over the vegetable production reported from 145 counties in 1939, and the two extension specialists say it occurred because farm people "made gardening a real business" in 1940. They grew their regular home garden, but 115,480 of them also had field gardens where they grew peas, beans, squash, cantaloupes, watermelons, sweet potatoes, and Irish potatoes.

In addition farm families grew 17,693 frame gardens in which 2,202,993 feet of vegetables were intensely cultivated. Usually vegetables in these gardens are planted and harvested from three to five times during the year. Reports for 1939 indicated only 10,241 frame gardens in Texas last year.

The specialists say also indications are that about 5,000 of the 127,350 gardens were planted by people who had never planted gardens before and 50 to 75 thousand of them were larger than in previous years.

Lamesa voted $75,000 worth of bonds Monday with which to enlarge their waterworks system to take care of a town of 7,000 people. They now have 6,000.

BELGIAN GIFT TO BRITAIN

Camille Cutt, Minister of Finance of the Belgian Government in Exile, recently presented the British Government with a gift of 100,000 pounds to be used in the prosecution of the war against Germany and Italy. Though Belgium, itself, is in the hands of the enemy, the Government in Exile carries on in London, along with similar governments of other invaded nations.

Besides the British government, headed by Winston Churchill, London now houses the Polish Government of General Sikorski, the Czechoslovakian Government of Dr. Eduard Benes, the Norwegian of King Haakon, the Belgian of M. Pierlot, and the Dutch of Queen Wilhelmina.

Armed forces of these nations also are fighting with Great Britain, and today many of the famous men of many lands, driven from their homes by Nazi Germany, have sought refuge in England. Many of them are world scholarship, or scientific research, famous for their creative writing, but were unable to continue their work under the iron rule of Adolf Hitler.

BUSINESS HANDLES SELF AS CO-ED GOES TO CLASS

By BOBBIE FELTS
Tech Torredor Staff Writer

At least one college student exists who trusts every one.

That person is Ruth Henry, senior journalism major, who sells candy and fruit in her room at the woman's dormitory.

The sweet shop in room 316 is open day and night and the girls go there, select candy or fruit and leave their money. Ruth is often away, but the buying of candy goes right on.

She has made enough money selling candy and working at the college switch board to pay this year's school expenses. Making her own money is no new experience for Ruth, however, as she has worked at the switch board for the past 4 years. In her spare time, she even sells advertising to Lubbock firms for her father's newspaper at Lorenzo.

Sometimes I feel like a terrible heel to be selling candy," Ruth remarked, "for almost half my sales are paid for with pennies taken from long suffering penny banks. I'm beginning to feel like a bank robber."

Mrs. Modell Calloway of Wing was a guest in the home of her brother, A. E. Cary, this week.

WARNINGS MADE ON PURCHASE OF LICENSE PLATES

New warnings were issued this week by officials of the county tax assessor-collector's office regarding registration of automobiles and trucks in the county of residence claimed by the owner of vehicles.

Plates for 1941 may be bought now but cannot be placed on trucks and cars until March 1, while deadline for purchase and viewing the new license tags is April 1.

Particular emphasis was placed on registration of trucks in the county of residence, violation of which constitutes disobedience of the law and is subject to a $200 fine. Both automobiles and trucks must be registered, according to law, in the county of legal residence.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—BUSINESS

While war drums beat louder with Nazi thrust to Balkans and Japan's movements in Far East, the hum of drill, lathe and saw in the United States matches the crescendo as the re-arming and "building an arsenal for democracy" drive goes forward at an ever faster pace. Practically every business index continues to reflect that progress. Plant-expansion contract awards by Army and Navy for January are an example: They totaled $375,685,332 worth—more than half as much, in that one month, as the total for the final seven months of 1940. Highlights of recent construction awards give an idea of where and "whatfor" some of the chunks of this money are going: Ordnance depots, at around $8,000,000 apiece, for Anniston, Ala., Fort Wingate, N. M., and Hermiston, Ore. . . . New $10,000,000 aircraft manufacturing and assembly plant for Omaha, Neb. . . . an additional $8,000,000 was allocated for additional construction and operation of an ammunition-loading plant at Ravenna, O., bringing the total awards for this particular project up to better than $48,000,000.

ACE AREAS—The nation's factory employes are now getting nearly a quarter-billion—$250,000,000—weekly in their pay envelopes, topping any peak periods of 1929 or 1937. Greatest payroll gains since July, 1939, have occurred in the five states adjacent to the Great Lakes. Here are located most of the country's steel capacity, many of its auto and truck plants, and a multitude of other light and heavy industries which normally turn out nearly one-third of the nation's manufactured products. Total payrolls in this area have averaged a jump of more than 50 per cent in last 18 months. The mid-Atlantic section of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is not far behind. It ordinarily accounts for about a fourth of national manufacturers and payrolls there have whooped up by 37 per cent. Pacific Coast states have found their factory employment boosted mostly by increase in aircraft and shipbuilding activity—and payrolls there show a 38 per cent rise.

HIGHWAY BOND BILL GETS SETBACK

A bill proposing to expedite the retirement of road bonds issued for roads which are to be a part of the state's military system was sent back to committee by the Texas House last week.

The bill was reported out of the committee after three hearings, but the House overwhelmingly favored the motion of Rep. Clinton Kersey of Bridgeport to send it back again.

American Dresses Are Plum Pretty

A mere man looking at the spring fashions displayed downtown would say that they look just as well and are more wearable than Paris fashions were last year.

As a matter of fact, our candid editorial opinion is that so far as dress designing is concerned, we have not been hurt one whit by the fall of France, regrettable as that catastrophe might be in some other respects. For a long time we have had dress designers in America just as capable of whittling out a pattern for the American woman as any in Europe. But, just as the colonists did in the way of literature, we have had the somewhat fanciful and perhaps wholly feminine notion that it had to originate in Europe if it looked like anything.

We have had a sneaking suspicion all along that some of the fashions originated in the United States and went by way of France to get a Paris postmark on them. And that a lot of imported fabrics were made in Boston. —Abilene Times.

FOOTPRINTS

Of the many things that vex us When the springtime's most unkind, To folks living in West Texas, Where the cow-trails used to wind, Is the bard who sang of foot-prints Guiding those we leave behind; Yet his sonnets leave few imprints Where the sand-hills are inclined. Had he lived here in our domain When the sand-storms blast and blow; Had felt the force of hurricane, He'd have learned what natives know; That the foot-prints on our pathway, When the wind has turned to gale, Are by tempest in its foray Mixed with ozone we inhale. —J. A. M.

Laid End to End They Add up to a Swell Idea

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they flit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in a new and easily-handled size.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look at the first really BIG car in this bumper-to-bumper size.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

The Intermediate and Young Peoples Department held their reception last Friday evening at the church and had a very enjoyable evening with 72 plates at the table for the banquet. We have in this department a very promising group of young people who are receiving training that will enable them to fill places of responsibility in the church in the coming days and years of their lives.

Last Sunday morning brought more unfavorable weather but 219 registered in the Bible study with a greater attendance at the preaching hour. The attendance is always better under unfavorable conditions on the part of the young than that of the adults who are it appears are quicker to offer excuses while the children and young people go to school during the week and think nothing of a little unfavorable weather, and we wish to commend them for their faithfulness.

Three members were received into the fellowship of the church Sunday.

At an early date there will be an enlistment campaign to secure new members for the church school which now has enrolled 650 and there should be at least two hundred more people enrolled in the study of the Bible and if you and your family are not now attending a regular study of the Bible we invite you to come to the school next Sunday morning, 9:45, and see how you like the character of work being done here as we want you for a regular attendant.

Visitors are always welcome.

Morning Services:
 Sun. School 9:45; Church 10:55
 Evening Services:
 Young People, 6:45
 Church, 7:30.
 We enjoyed a good crowd at Sunday School last Sunday. A new study course "Methodist Missions Throughout the World" is being taught in the entire school. The book is especially interesting at this time because of world conditions and because it was written by a Presbyterian minister who is not particularly interested in missions. He gives us an unbiased view.
 At the church hour the pastor preached on the topic "Is Christ Real?" Four new members were taken into the church.
 Envelopes were handed to the congregation for contributions to the million-dollar fund to be raised for needs in the war-torn lands and for service in the military camps.
 The topic discussed by the young people was "China, New and Old." Their meeting was good.
 The pastor's subject for the evening service was "Temptation," a summary of which is "No one is tempted more than he can bear if he trusts in God."
 You are cordially invited to our church. We need you. Come.

 Under this program Tarleton has already trained 80 pilots without an injury. Mr. E. A. Blanchard, Tarleton professor, is in charge of this course, and Burl Tibbs is senior flight instructor.

LOCAL GIRL HAS PART IN TARLETON SHOW
 Stephenville, Feb. 24 — Doris Sherman of Brownfield, and a student at John Tarleton College, has been selected for a part in the "Mobile Mid-Night Frolics," a minstrel show sponsored by the Tarleton Voice Department. Doris will sing soprano in the chorus and will probably have a part in several of the novelty numbers.
 The first performance of the entertainment will be given March 11 in the College Auditorium. Other performances in near-by towns will probably follow.
 Directed by R. Eerton Coffin, Professor of Voice, the "Frolics" will include quartet and Choral singing, comedy acts, trombone and coronet solos, and novelty acts. Six end men and an inter-locutor will give the show all the ear marks of the old time minstrel show.

BROWNFIELD FRIDAY — SATURDAY TEXAS

LAHEY

Miss Winona Thomason spent Saturday night with Miss Gladys Webb. Miss Webb spent Sunday afternoon in the Shorty Thomason home.

Mr. J. F. Thomason and family spent the week end in Big Spring with her parents.

Mrs. Bill Lambeth is able to be up and about. We are glad to report.

The ladies of the community are planning a play to be staged at the Lahey school house. Watch for the date in this news.

The new house has just been completed on the Sawyer place. It looks nice from the outside and we are sure it is the same on the inside.

We are glad to report Miss Elma Lois Hulse is improving. We hope she will be alright soon.

Mrs. J. C. Cravens was seriously ill but is better now.

We wish to express our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Breen and family in the loss of his mother. She was living in East Texas but formerly lived in our community.

UNION H. D. CLUB

The Union H. D. Club met with Mrs. W. W. Thomason Thursday, Feb. 20.

Mrs. Ed Stevens was program leader and a very interesting program was presented on "The Child from 1 to 6."

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frazier of Plainview were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKinney last week end.

H. G. Richards of the home office of the Southland Insurance Co. in Dallas was a business visitor here this week.
