Brownfield Schools To Make Transition From Eleven Year to Twelve Year System

Some years ago, educators in the state of Texas began a study of the merits of the twelve year system of public education. This study was prompted by a very revealing study which showed that a large per cent of the school pupils in the state of Texas took twelve years to complete eleven years of school work. This study has also shown that teachers throughout the state of Texas are agreed that children need one more year of preparatory work before entering the average high school. Three or four years ago, schools over Texas began to make the transition from the eleven-year to the twelve-year system, until at present a large majority of schools in Texas are using the twelve-year system.

There has been no legislation that compels a school to make this transition, however, the very fact that the matter of transferring a child from one school with eleven years to another school with twelve makes this transition necessary. This necessity along with the many advantages of the twelve year system over the eleven has caused the Brownfield Public Schools to make plans for this transition beginning next school term.

"How will the transition from the eleven year system to the twelve affect my child and his education?" is the question asked by most parents. That question has as many answers as there are children involved if it is placed on an individual basis, however, this general explanation might help some to understand how the change will affect their children. Theoretically, this change will affect any child this coming year who is entering the first year of school. In other words, the first year work under the new plan will be more basic, will be broader, will go beneath giving the child more time to grow than the first year of work under the eleven year system. In actual practice, however, many pupils will profit from an added year in elementary school who are at present in their second, third, fourth, or even fifth year of work. For example: a boy is in the third year of school; his parents and his teachers agree that he needs more preparatory work than he can possibly receive in four more years of elementary school work; that boy may be promoted to the fourth year under the twelve year system and will receive five more years of elementary training. If, on the other hand, this boy does not need an extra year in elementary school, he may be promoted from the third year to the fifth year which will give him four more years in elementary school, the same amount of time that he would have spent had the transition from the eleven to the twelve year system not been made.

This year, teachers will make placements according to their honest opinions in regard to the needs of the child. All parents are urged to contact these teachers either before promotion period or after and counsel with them about their ideas of the needs of their child. By absolute cooperation between the parent and the teacher, this transition period will be made without ill effect upon the child.

McWilliams Furniture To Hold Cooking Demonstration

Demonstrating the latest in oil burning stoves, the McWilliams Furniture Company is showing the 1941 version of the modern Perfection Oil Range from 2 to 4 o'clock, Saturday, May 17, at their store.

The latest Perfection Range features easily regulated burners which remain at a constant temperature after setting burners, soot-free fuel combustion and the added advantage of now being possible to pipe the fuel directly into the stove from an outside storage tank.

D. C. Casey, company representative, will be in charge of the demonstration, during which time movies will be shown on the construction of stoves, steaks will be broiled, biscuits baked and coffee made. Mr. Casey states that he can broil a steak as quickly on the Perfection Oil Range as it can be done on any stove using any other type of fuel or any stove using the same fuel.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the demonstration.

Miss Elray Lewis of Santa Fe, N. M. spent last week end here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis.

Gene Hurt Writes From Fort Bliss

FT. BLISS, TEXAS
Reception Center
May 5, 1941

Well Folks, since last writing to you our work of processing draftees has almost come to a standstill. We have received practically no new men during the last month, but beginning with the fifteenth of this month we are scheduled to run 9,000 men thru the Reception Center in the following 30 days. It seems that ever time Britain suffers a reverse or defeat that the draft is speeded up and due to recent British losses we are due to take full speed ahead on our work with inductees.

Although no new men have been coming here, we have been extremely busy training the men who were here when the stream of new men dried up.

Beginning at 7:30 in the morning with setting-up exercises the men go thru a full schedule of training including extended hikes of three to six miles distance daily; practice on sighting and handling rifles and pistols, rifle and bayonet practice; lectures on military courtesy and discipline. First aid instruction are given by means of lectures and motion pictures; personal hygiene is also taught thoroughly. During the coming week we will give the men instructions on the mechanics and use of the machine gun and trench mortar. The reason for the variety of subjects is that these men will soon be sent to camps all over the country and will be in infantry, cavalry, artillery, tank and anti-aircraft units.

Strange as it may seem to the ordinary citizen there is less talk of war in the army than in civilian life. The ordinary soldier, which doesn't include all draftees, isn't very well informed of the unpleasant situation which now confronts the entire world. Most were very reluctant to leave their civilian jobs which in most cases paid much more than they receive in the army, but they are anxious to learn their new occupation and make as good a soldier as they possibly can. Incidentally, you folks who remain in civilian life are bound to have to make certain sacrifices to pay for this job of national defense and many of you will probably feel that the burden is too great and that you are having to pay more than your share. If you ever wake up with that thought in your mind and heart, just remember that hundreds of thousands of young men are giving their time, their physical and mental abilities and are sacrificing more than you will ever be asked to sacrifice.

They are doing it not because they are militaristic in spirit, not for personal gain or honor, not for national ambition, but because the land of their birth or adoption is in danger and their love for this land of freedom and justice demands that they give their lives, if need be, to preserve a place of decency, toleration and freedom on this mad earth, and they want to be fit, trained and ready for any emergency. Of such men YOUR army is made.

It also numbers among its members men who have fled from their native lands which are now under the heel of Hitler. One such man, named Blum, is a soldier at this camp. He told me a day or so ago that when his native Czechoslovakia fell to the Nazi machine that he determined to come to America and become a soldier in our Army. He is one of us now and is as patriotic as those of us who were born in this country.

You Terry County fellows who are drafted in the near future be sure to look me up when you reach the Reception Center. I am still in Company A and will be mighty glad to see you and possibly I can be of some help to you.

So long,
Eugene S. Hurt.

Clean-Up Week Set For May 26th

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Are we a Christian town? Mayor Coleman has designated the week beginning May 26th, as Clean-up Week for our city. He advises that City trucks will pick up all trash, if placed on property line near alleys or streets. Both the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce will sponsor and aid in the project. Prizes will be awarded and announced later. A clean city is not only more healthful to all but is a thing of beauty, and is certainly not a trashy reputation. With our tree lined streets and beautifully flowered lawns, it only remains, for a very little raking in the back yard and outer edges of the premises, to make Brownfield one of the cleanest and prettiest little cities of the west. A clean yard and lot is as commendable and more noticeable, than a well kept house. It reflects either the industry and pride of the housewife, or her control over a lazy husband. We are not urging the folks to clean up, we merely call it to their attention, believing that our citizens have the civic pride to do this job well. For it is "OUR" town. This is not limited to residences only. Our business men should take notice of the condition of alleys in rear of their buildings.

Sam Morris To Speak Here Saturday

Sam Morris, of Del Rio, who is campaigning for U. S. Senate to take the office left vacant by the death of the late Morris Sheppard, will speak in Brownfield on the court house lawn, Saturday, May 17th, at 10:00 A. M. Mr. Morris is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas, and of Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island. He is nationally known.

His summer speaking tours have taken him before conventions and Bible conferences in 40 of the 48 states during the past four years and his "Voice of Temperance" broadcast has been heard for the past six winters on the powerful Mexican radio stations along the Rio Grande border of Texas.

He is making his race on the platform of prohibition, for National Defense in support of House Bill 4,000 introduced by Representative Houston, of Kansas, and Senate Bill 860 introduced in the upper house by the late Morris Sheppard whose vacant seat he seeks in the special election to be held June 28th.

Don Ameche stars as a romantic boulevardier in "That Night in Rio," 20th Century-Fox's most lavish Technicolor musical of the gay South American capital.

Local Jaycees Invited To Sponsor Duchess

Galveston, Texas — Brownfield has been invited to send a duchess to Galveston's Tenth Annual Oleannder Festival, under Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsorship, June 7 and 8.

By virtue of this year marking the 100th anniversary since an oleannder shoot was first brought to Galveston, which now boasts of more than a million bushes, the forthcoming fete promises to be the most elaborate in history, characterized by pageantry, parades, exhibits, bathing, and beauty reviews.

Queen of the festival, "Miss Oleannder," is Miss Faye Branson of Galveston, daughter of Fred C. Branson, member of the University of Texas Board of Regents, and Mrs. Branson, a Stephens College Coed. Miss Branson, chosen by Cecil B. DeMille, as one of eight beauties to adorn the Vanity Fair group of the annual Longhorn edition of A. & M. College.

In addition to the out of town duchesses, and escorts, the coterie will also include a "Miss Galveston," chosen on the basis of popularity. All of the local and state representatives will be gowned to represent the various types of oleannders of which there are now 60 classified varieties.

The program will include a coronation and band concert Saturday night at the City Auditorium and a parade on the boulevard Sunday afternoon.

Another attraction will be a floral exhibit held at the Galveston Hotel on both days, in which all of the known oleannder varieties will be placed on view.

Incidentally, two of the latest species of oleannders have just been named in honor of Rabbi Henry Cohen, dean of Texas Rabbis, and the Duchess of Windsor.

Requirements For Air Corp Entrance Are Lowered

The War Department has lowered the requirements for enlistment in the Regular Army Air Corps from High School graduation to an 8th Grade education, providing applicants for this branch can pass the War Department Classification Test.

This new Regulation opens to intelligent young men without a High School education, an excellent future and a wonderful opportunity to learn an Aviation trade, through the Air Corps Technical Schools which are open to any enlisted man of the Air Corps.

The following courses are just a few of the many taught at the Air Corps Technical Schools. Aircraft Machinist, Airplane Mechanic, Welders, Electricians, Instrument Specialists, Aircraft Sheet Metal Workers, Aircraft Riggers, Radio Repair and Operators, and many others too numerous to mention, for the Air Corps Soldier must be a specialist in some department.

Applications are being accepted now, at this office or the nearest Recruiting Station, of young men with at least an 8th Grade education who can pass the test. Young men applying now have three choices of assignment; March Field, California, Air Base, Fort Sill, Oklahoma and Lowry Field, Colorado.

Recruiting Stations are located at the Post Office Building, Amarillo, Post Office Building, Plainview, Court House, Childress and the Post Office Building, Pampa, with the Main Office in the Post Office Building, Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bynnie White and children of Big Spring and Lt. Truett Flache of Ft. Sill were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Flache Sunday.

Chris Quante and son, Odell, made a trip to the Davis mountains Sunday.

Teague-Bailey Chevrolet Company Building Damaged By Fire Wednesday Night

Snappy Service Station Has Fire

The Brownfield Volunteer Fire Department had just about the busiest time of its history last Wednesday night when it had two fires to fight at once. Shortly after the department was called to the Teague-Bailey Garage, fire started in one of the electrical gasoline pumps at the Snappy Service Station. Neither the cause nor the exact damage could immediately be determined as the rest of the pumps as well as lights in most of the tourist camp cabins, operated by the same management, refused to function.

Homer Winston, owner of the tourist camp and service station, was on a fishing trip near Athens at the time of the fire.

Golf Club To Re-organize

Arrangements for the use of the old site having been made with the Commissioners' Court, the local golf club will hold a meeting next Monday night in the offices of Joe McGowan for the purpose of electing officers and making plans for the coming year. Time set for the meeting is 8 o'clock.

It is the hope of the local golfers to have a real live wire organization this year and it is also hoped that plans for obtaining grass greens can be worked out in the next year or so.

Brownfield is far behind older towns of the same size in recreational facilities and we should now start giving a little more attention to the recreational aspects of our town.

The average non-golfer usually has the impression that the game is played only by the very rich and the very aged. Nothing could be further from the truth. While a very high percentage of this country's wealthy people also play golf, it is a game that can be enjoyed by people with modest incomes. Certainly elderly people play and enjoy the game as it does not require the violent physical exertion that is a part of nearly any other outdoor sport, but on the other hand, each summer finds more and more people in all age groups turning to golf.

Indeed, golf is the game in which more people can actively participate, regardless of physical or financial condition, than any other sport.

So be sure to make it a point to attend this meeting. It is open to everyone interested in the game or who think they might become interested in it. A special invitation is extended to all newcomers-golfers.

Remember the time and the date.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Limer of Vallejo and Long Beach, Calif., are visiting the Stricklins in Brownfield this week. They plan to go on into south Texas and join the Senior Stricklins who are there on vacation and also visit a son of Mrs. Limer who lives in Lampasas.

Second Community Farm Dinner To Be Held At Pleasant Valley Tuesday, May 20

On next Tuesday, May 20th, the second Community Farm Dinner will be held at the Pleasant Valley school house at 8 p. m.

Farmers in the Pleasant Valley community should notify Mrs. W. E. Steen or Mrs. S. L. Greathouse that they will be present, and those planning to attend are asked to be at the school house where the merchants will meet them.

Merchants and business men that are planning to attend are asked to notify the Terry County Board of Development as soon as possible so that ample preparations can be made to take care of them. The dinner at Gomez on April 17th was a success, and we would like to take this opportunity of urging every business house in Brownfield to have a representative at these dinners.

Tentative dates have been set as follows for the coming months: May, Pleasant Valley; June, Forrester; July, Johnson; August, Harmony; and September, at Wellman.

Those attending the Gomez dinner have highly endorsed the project as being a very worthwhile project and we ask that every one make an effort to attend and let's make each one bigger than the last and don't forget to leave word at the Terry County Board of Development so that preparations can be made to care for everyone.

THREE MORE DRAFTEES TO LEAVE SOON

We are informed by Raymond Simms, executive head of the local draft board, that three draftees will be inducted in to the Army training service May 22. They are Raymond Dubose, R. E. Colsen, and Bruce McNeil, each have volunteered to go ahead of their call.

THE WAR

By Geo. W. Neill

General Sherman uttered the best definition of war, generally. A war of conquest is as useless as it is horrible. It is the low-down opposite of the higher ideals of civilization. It is adverse to Christianity and all other religions, world-wide and age-long. There is no cause or objective so lofty as to justify a war of conquest. There is no cause, as just and necessary, as a war of defense. A robber will also kill, in aid of his robbing. Those who so lust for the property and control of others are murderous at heart (if they have any) and will slay and destroy to achieve their greed. Those who instigate a war of conquest admit their rifles are more effective than their reason, they put more trust in their trigger-finger than in their tongues, that the sword is mightier than their pen. How foolish to spend billions for bullets, when millions in peaceful trade would acquire better and more lasting results. How foolish to destroy properties, that has taken generations to create, useful to the living, to take over a wasted land, for the temporary satisfaction of an egotistical greed and lust. What glory, grandeur or honor can be claimed by wanton destruction of the weak and peaceful? Surely such efforts are not born of intellect or human reasoning, but must be a throw-back to some primitive element that civilized man thought had long ago been bred out.

How any man, or group of men,

ATTEND PERMIAN BASIN BOARD MEET IN MIDLAND

Tom May and J. O. Gillham attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Permian Basin Association in Midland Tuesday evening.

can for several peaceful years devote the talents of their minds and hands to the making of utensils of civil life, is beyond human understanding. How any man or group of men, in this age of refinement, culture and high civilization, would turn intellectual and scientific achievement to such barbarous methods of conquest, is beyond civilized thought and conscience. And in evidence there is some kind of motive, or element arising that behooves the rest of the world to take cognizance of.

Yet in the last few years there has arisen in Europe three just such Monsters, "heads with but a single thought and hearts that beat alike," and formed a partnership for plunder and like hungry hawks on baby chicks, they have taken and plundered little countries after countries. When these triple Gangsters concern themselves over other peoples and countries, it is time all other countries and people concerned themselves about this avaricious trio. They are Gangsters, with all the elements known of the American underworld, coupled with the power and arms and might of men, to become a world menace. International Gangsters. Like Gangsters they can join in and agree on the plunder of others. Like Gangsters they do not trust each other. Like Gangsters they must be stopped by civilized authority. It is true, like Gangsters they will ultimately fall out over the spoils of their plunder, but that will not transfuse living blood into veins of the million, dead, nor feed the starving innocents, nor rebuild their mills and homes. A mad dog is loose in Europe, with an all time record of froth. He pays no heed to boundaries, seas, oceans, nor hemispheres. Why should we? Events in Europe the last two years prove the truth of some old adages "A stitch in time saves nine," "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," "Procrastination is," an aid to Hitler.

America had better build its (de)fenses high, strong and now.

SOME PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

By Geo. W. Neill

I was born and reared in the Sunny South, of Democratic Partisan parents, amid likewise neighbors, and of course, father-like son, have been a democrat ever since. Although through my early childhood and teens, I heard many old men talking of the grand Confederacy, and attended several ex-Confederate reunions, at which a big speaker would orate appropriately to the occasion (my youth being that far back.) Candidates would berate the carpetbaggers, tie them to the Republicans, which was not only something to orate on but a pretty good vote getter, so I also became a Confederate. In fact I had reached far up in greenhood, before I learned that "dam Yankee" was two words. The first Presidential election I remember much of was 1896, when the immortal William Jennings Bryan, (also) ran against William McKinley, who was elected. Of course I read nothing but strict democratic papers, heard nothing but democratic speeches, and come to believe that William McKinley and his chairman, Mark Hanna, were Tyrants of the worse kind, and the country had played the devil. I was about to croak, but we went on raising cotton and plowing with Georgia stock (no, this was in Texas) when in 1898, the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana's famous harbor, and the Stars and the Stripes began to wave in the Spanish breeze, and that old Republican President, McKinley, declared war on Spain, called for volunteers, and I'll be doggone if all the democrats of right age in our community didn't get on their ponies and rid off to the county seat and joined the army. Some went to Cuba, some to the Philippines and some not quiet to either, all yelling "Remember the Maine." Some came back on furloughs wearing their blue uniforms, and I woke up to the fact that there weren't no democrats, there weren't no Republicans, there weren't no confederates, nor no more dam-yankees, but a united army from every state and under just one flag, which is still THE one and same flag.

Of course that was just a before-breakfast job, and was so short we soon forgot it. After a year or so humming "Just as the Sun went Down" the tune hits that arose from it, we got back to our politicking again, cussing the tariff, Government ownership of railroads, the Trust, and everything else we could hammer the republicans with, but they continued to outvote us. Finally in 1912, Woodrow Wilson found a gap in their lines and carried the ball through and scored, the first time for our democratic team since 1892, and then again in 1916 we poured it on the darned republicans. And then in 1917 a German submarine sank some of our ships, and old Woodrow said, "The ocean is a public road, and we've got the right to travel it." So he went before Congress, and told them: "The time has come for us to make a decision, we have made it." In other words had asked them in diplomatic language, "what 'cha gonna do about it?" And I'll s'wore if them mean old republicans didn't join right in and voted for every war measure, and backed up that Democratic president, like everybody's business. I slipped off behind the house where no one was looking and took my hat off to them republican Senators and Congressmen. The same old flag began to float in the European breeze and there came, from every state, the 'steins, 'woskys, 'Olsens, Chaves, Smiths, Browns and Jones', and there weren't no democrats, there weren't no republicans, just a united American Army, as good as it was big, and singing "Goodbye Ma, Goodbye Pa," and "Tipperary" and to the march tune of "Over There," they went over there and done a good job of it, and when they came back the Nation says: "These are our sons, in whom we are well pleased." Then we sorta settled down, or up, in 1919. We had 30c cotton, a big boom, which in 1929 blowed up and we did too, and the republicans recovered the ball, and kept it for the next three innings. Course we went back to politicking again, harped on the tariff, farm relief and everything we could think of, but they just laughed at us, kept the ball, and gate receipts. But in 1932, Hoover fumbled, and FDR, for the democrats recovered, and has held it ever since—even his own team can't get him off the field. Anyway we have kept up our politicking, cussing the depression, unemployment, farm relief, but at least we have learned our alphabet. But now the same old flag begins to flutter again in the European breeze. There is another war coming around the corner, we can already feel its draft. Politics is sagging in the middle, under the weight of National Unity. There is Stimson, Knox and Willkie, and there is FDR, Hull and Homer Winston. There ain't going to be no democrats, there ain't going to be no republicans, nor race, color or creed, but a solid American Army, the biggest and best ever, who will have the sky as their ceiling, the seabeds as their floor, and we'll all join in the song, "From the Mountains, to the Prairies, to the Oceans white with Foam." That is, if our strikers, will lend their already well-paid hand.

The annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention is in session as this is published, in Birmingham, Ala., and as is well known this convention represents the greatest constituency of any church democracy on earth, composed as it is of delegates from free Baptist churches whose membership in the South alone aggregates five million members. These churches last year came to the aid of the Baptist of England enabling them to carry forward their missionary endeavor and will no doubt do so again this year as the churches of England are unable to send funds from their country. Terry Shows Increase In Vehicles Over Last Year's Report

For the first time in its history, Terry county will this year have to remit motor vehicle registration money to the state...

Increase in the number of vehicles registered this year over last, was 20 per cent. Due to the higher cost of registering the heavier trucks made legal under the recently passed truck load law...

Total vehicles registered this year to date is 3152 against 2724 a year ago, an increase of 428.

My Week by Eleanor Roosevelt

Through the West In Los Angeles, we listened in a pleasant living room to Mr. Winston Churchill speak, so many thousand miles away.

Mr. Churchill can use the English language so that it rings and pounds the emotion behind the words into your brain. He knows the value of contrast. Though it is years since I have read the poem which he quoted, I can think of none better to fit the occasion.

At 12:30 we hurried down to the NYA center to see a colossal and fine statue of the President.

Miss Thompson and I lunched with Mrs. Jerome Schneider and my daughter-in-law, Romelle. In the afternoon many people came to the Melvyn Douglas' house for tea.

Meeting James Hilton, Burgess Meredith, Mary McCall, Dorothy Parker and many others actually in the flesh, has been an experience which I had never hoped to have.

FRIENDSHIPS So often you have to be glad because of your friends. I kept saying to myself, even if some programs are wrong, the ideas in back of them must be right or the people wouldn't be with us in the fight for democracy.

It was particularly nice also to see again some familiar faces. Mrs. Marc Connelly, who was so patient in the broadcast which I had the fun of presiding over in the last campaign; Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Mann, whose short time with us in the White House was such a pleasure;

After dinner, we went over to Mr. Walt Disney's studio and he was kind enough to show us some of the work he is doing for defense. I liked particularly the drawings before they reach the color stage, and was very glad to find one artist at work in the studio and to see what the process of making these drawings really means.

One day we lunched with Mr. Herman Lissauer and the board members of the Modern Forum. I had an opportunity to talk for a few minutes with a representative of the Y. M. C. A. who is considering some youth broadcasts.

In the afternoon, the members of the National Youth administration advisory committee met here and the NYA Symphony orchestra played for us on the patio in back of the house. It was a wonderful setting and I very much enjoyed the picture spread out before me as well as the music.

Governor Olson of California spent a little while with us, so the young people had a chance to meet him. I was particularly touched at his taking the time to come during such a busy period.

I was glad of an opportunity to talk with several people quietly at the end of the afternoon. Then we had an early and very peaceful family dinner and drive down the hills into the city for the lecture. I was amused by all the precautions taken because of one threatening letter.

Los Angeles is a friendly city and it was nice to have a word with so many people as I went in and out for my lecture. I shook hands with as many people as I could in passing by. The mere expression on their faces showed that they felt kindly toward me, and many sent messages to the President.

In Los Angeles, I visited Judge Shontz's court. It is a court of the little people who have claims for sums of money under $50. I found it very interesting sitting beside her listening for a few minutes to their problems.

We went back to Mrs. Douglas' in time to see a really remarkable collection of craftwork done by the Mexican-American youngsters in NYA groups. Though weaving and ceramics have only been taught for three months, they would be a credit to workers of much longer experience.

Pancho Lopez, rioting, rustling, romancing rogue of the Rio Grande, as portrayed by Wallace Beery in "The Bad Man," in... which he out-vivas his famous Villala role. The new picture is currently playing at the Rialto Theatre.

BIG SUM READY FOR AGED IN TEXAS

A total of $42,000,000.00 per year will be available for old age assistance in Texas, Senator Marshall Formby announced this week, following passage of the $23,661,000.00 tax bill by the Texas Legislature.

Senator Formby, who voted for the bill throughout its enactment, said the State would have $21,000,000.00 for old age assistance, and this amount will be matched by the Federal Government, making a total of $42,000,000.00.

Under the new tax bill, $3,100,000.00 annually goes to Teacher Retirement fund; $1,500,000.00 goes to dependent children, and $400,000.00 goes to needy blind.

"There is enough money in the new tax bill," Senator Formby said, "to solve our social security problems in Texas for the time being. It has taken several years to raise the money to take care of these obligations, and I was glad to have had a part this year in helping pass this important bill."

It is probable that the Legislature will adjourn by the first of June. The two important problems, Social Security and raising the truck load limit, have both been disposed of, and most of the major appropriation bills have already been passed.

Austin observers say that this has been the busiest Session of the Legislature in the history of the Capitol.

CARLOAD SHIPMENTS OF CATTLE DROP

NEW LABORATORY TO COMBAT CATTLE FEVER

AUSTIN, May 15.—A new laboratory to combat Brucellosis, a recurrent fever which blights dairy cattle, was opened at the University of Texas Friday, May 2.

Equipped with a dust-free room and modern equipment, the laboratory was partially endowed by the Clayton Foundation of Houston. Following the opening of the laboratory, biologists conducted an afternoon seminar describing the disease and reporting their efforts thus far to seek a cure.

LETTER FROM A FRENCH WOMAN

The apparent unconcern of people in the United States toward what is happening to the innocent peoples of Europe was brought out in a letter from a woman of French origin, published recently in a large daily newspaper. The neighbors had repeatedly told her how lucky she was to be in "God's country," yet never appeared to care that 10,000 civilians died in Belgrade, victims of Nazi bombers.

People of the United States apparently are still more interested in the baseball results than in the terrible suffering of enslaved Europeans, and are worried because of the inconvenience of the draft. She sums it up by saying: "As I am of French origin, my neighbors never miss a chance to boast how happy we are over here, compared to over there. Strange enough, I just cannot join in the rejoicing. Serbs are not of my race, Greeks either, and my country is at peace, but I don't see that any decent human being can boast of their peace, abundance and happiness when other human beings are massacred all over the world. Aren't you afraid, some day, nobody will want to die for dear old New York?"

FSA Designated As Nat'l. Defense Agency

The Farm Security Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, has been designated as a National Defense Agency, according to word received here by Dennis Q. Lilly, rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA in Terry and Yoakum Counties.

Federal programs contributing directly or indirectly, or both to national defense have been given a defense rating by the Federal Government. The chief contribution of Farm Security Administration to national defense is its rehabilitation of farm families who have suffered the plight of economic insecurity.

"The Farm Security Administration does far more than merely loan money to low-income needy families," Mr. Lilly said. Although this agency does make low interest loans to farm families unable to obtain credit from any other source, it has many other programs to assist America's rural families. Farm Security makes it possible for many low-income rural people to find security of tenure, improved housing and sanitation facilities, improved diet, more stable income and, in many cases, improved medical attention.

There is another phase of the defense program. Farm Security families are cooperating in the soil conservation program. They are using sound farm and home practices, rotating their crops, planning to plant cover crops, and are growing feed for their stock as well.

The rehabilitation supervisor reported that many of the landowners in Terry and Yoakum Counties have given their tenants long term leases so that live-at-home and soil conservation programs can be carried out. This is also a defense program. In these times of stress, long term leases—three to five years—are needed to give stability to the tenants and sharecroppers. These leases are beneficial to the land-owners as well as tenants, because it gives the tenants an opportunity to improve the fertility of the soil and take advantage of the environmental program to the FSA.

Approximately 300 families in Terry and Yoakum Counties have long term leases and all have written leases for one or more years, with an option to renew.

"In designating the Farm Security Administration as a National Defense Agency" Mr. Lilly said, "the National Defense Commission recognizes the fact that a nation that has too many low income inadequately housed, fed and clad persons in it, together with those who suffer ill health, cannot be a strong nation in times of peace or war."

HEAVY POPULATION, CARS HURT

Texans could legally kill six deer, twenty-five ducks or geese in a day and there was no limit on the number of turkeys, prairie chickens, doves and quail in 1903, according to an announcement of the most recent game laws in the May 15, 1903, issue to the Winsboro Wide-Awake, a newspaper now in the possession of V. Lamb of Flint, Texas.

The season on turkeys, prairie chickens and quail was from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1. The dove season ran from Sept. 1 to Feb. 1.

Now persons can take only two buck deer in a season, three turkeys, not more than twelve quail a day or thirty-six in a week, no prairie chickens and twelve doves. Thus is shown the effect of the doubling of the population in Texas between 1900 and 1940 and the damage to game which the motor car and good roads have made possible since the turn of the century, as has often been pointed out by the executive secretary of the Game Department. In 1900 the Texas population was 3,048,710. It had more than doubled when the 1940 census was taken. Too, in 1903 there were few motor cars in Texas and hardly any roads over which they could travel. Now no place is to inaccessible for hunters and fishermen to reach within a day or two.

Mare's milk is used extensively in Russia to manufacture alcoholic drinks.

TREATMENT FOR RABIES SHOULD BEGIN PROMPTLY

AUSTIN, May 15.—Reports from the Pasteur Institute of the Texas State Department of Health indicate that positive examinations of animals for rabies (hydrophobia) during the first four months of 1941 were statistically less than for the same period for the past two years, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The Pasteur Institute reports that 164 animals have been shown to have had rabies since the first of the year, out of 474 examinations. During 1940, 1,488 examinations were made, revealing 394 positive cases of rabies in animals and 1,094 negative. This was a decrease from 1939's cumulative 1,975 cases, of which 583 were found to be positive and 1,392 negative.

Rabies in man is rare but highly fatal unless Pasteur treatment is promptly instituted. It is significant that one death in 1939 and one death in 1940 were reported from rabies in Texas, so successful was the Pasteur treatment in the cases of persons bitten by the rabid animals.

Rabies in man usually results from the bite of infected dogs, though rabies may be spread by calves, sheep, squirrels, skunks, and horses. As a precaution against the spread of rabies, Dr. Cox advises penning up all dogs suspected of having rabies and keeping the animals under observation for at least ten days, but not destroying the animal. This holds true for other animals similarly suspected of rabies.

If a dog dies within the observation period, arrangements should be made to send the head of the animal to the Pasteur Institute, Austin, Texas, for rabies examination. The family physician or local health officer can make arrangements for shipping the head of the animal.

"Promptly after rabies has been established in animals, persons who have been bitten should begin treatment to prevent development of symptoms. Treatment should be begun before laboratory examination has been made in case a person has been bitten in the face or on the hands, or has received extensive wounds," Dr. Cox advises.

SERVANT OF SOCIETY, DECLARES BRITON

"A great deal of nonsense is talked about capitalism," writes Lord Londonderry, chancellor of Queen's University at Belfast and of Durham University, in the current Rotarian magazine. "Mischievous half-truths have been preached . . . (but) it really is a power for human well-being built by individual initiative and character."

"We have today in the world two finest possible examples of capitalism and communism, in America and in Russia, respectively," the British statesman points out. "The United States has a high standard of living and high wages; Russia, a low standard of living and low wages. These are eloquent facts!"

"Capitalism is so powerful today," Londonderry concludes, "because it has supplied, and still supplies, the dynamic force necessary for disciplined, organized human effort and development."

ONE "DORM" FOR MEN; ONE FOR BOYS

Lubbock, May 15.—Rivalry between residents of the two men's halls on Texas Tech campus waxes hot from time to time. Points of competition range all the way from food to politics.

This week, the crew from the "old" dorm has the upper hand. Some alert student, sunning himself in front of the residence hall, discovered that the cornerstone on the first one reads "Men's Dormitory." Inscription on the newer building reads "Dormitory for Boys."

How to make horsepower out of Thin Air!

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedan, $1006. White sidewall tires extra.*

JUST consider these plain facts about the engines in this 1941 Buick SPECIAL:

The engine that regularly powers this Series develops 115 horsepower and turns up 20.1 miles per gallon at a steady 30 miles an hour in Proving Ground economy tests.

But add Compound Carburetion,† and the same engine in the same model develops 125 horsepower and goes 21.5 miles per gallon by exactly the same tests!

There's more from less gasoline — and it comes, literally, out of thin air.

Because the two carburetors in this exclusive Buick feature handle a larger air volume than can be provided efficiently by a single mixer.

We'll let you figure out what extra power and extra mileage mean in extra fun, extra thrills, extra satisfaction.

We'll let you size up, too, how nice it is to travel farther more pleasantly — on as much as 10% to 15% less gasoline than former Buicks used.

But for the whole picture, just go get actual, local, delivered prices on a Buick.

You'll find that nowhere else can you buy the same size, the same style, the same power, the same comfort at the same low bargain Buick figures.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, May 15 — BUSINESS — The ultimate impact of the "war economy" on taxpayer and consumer has become vastly more recognizable in the last couple of weeks. Ever since the defense drive started experts have warned against being too elated over zooming industrial activity, rising payrolls, saying we had to discount much of the gains, because of the basically uneconomic nature of the destructive, military goods being produced, as compared to constructive peacetime goods. But in the last fortnight it's become apparent that the degree of switch-over from production of normal goods to that of military machines and equipment is going to be far greater than almost anyone had anticipated. The eventual impact is two-fold: (1) Much higher taxes, starting right away, in effect, and (2) a less immediate but nonetheless certain, decrease in availability of consumer goods. Argument is abundant on the Treasury department's proposal for raising an extra $3,500,000,000, but there's no doubt about inevitability of tax increases on some such scale as that, though with minor alterations in allocation.

FARM "LIFE-LINE"—The gasoline engine, which forced the old gray mare into that "ain't what she used to be" status and completely revolutionized rural life, has now become a virtual "life-line amid plenty" for American farmers. According to a recent survey on shopping habits of their automobiles for doing their family marketing. "In fact," explained Joseph W. Frazer, president of the Willys - Overland company which made the survey, "14 per cent of the car owners no doubt would have to abandon their principal shopping centers if they were deprived of their automobiles." This is because a large part of the regular replenishing of family needs is done at considerable distance from home, nearly half of the farm families traveling more than five miles to market. Many rural car owners drive as much as 4,000 miles a year for household shopping alone. Reports from Willys dealers in rural areas, he said, show that many farm families are becoming increasingly aware of this important cost item—which averages about $60 a year—and are seeking to reduce it by turning to low-cost, low-up-keep cars, such as his company's four-cylinder American.

TECH STUDENTS VISIT POST COTTON MILLS

LUBBOCK, May 5—A group of 35 students and faculty members from the textile engineering department of Texas Tech made a tour of inspection of the Postex textile mills at Post recently. The group followed the entire process of the mill starting with the opening of the cotton bales to the packing of the finished product. There will not be a shortage of jobs for graduates of the textile engineering department of Texas Tech this year, according to R. L. Lee, Jr., department head.

Lee Brownfield was in Kansas City this week where he shipped a load of cattle to the market.

FIVE MILLION TOURISTS VISIT TEXAS

At least 5,265,570 tourists visited Texas last year, and spent $306,264,265.00, according to an estimate which has just been released by Philip Fuller, director of the Conoco Travel Bureau, the largest free service organization for motorists in the country.

Fuller's estimates are based on all tourist information obtainable—traffic flow data, counts made by state highway controls, statistics obtained from managers of private tourist attractions, and from toll bridge records, and from various other sources, including the Bureau's own records of travel information furnished through Conoco stations where Touraides are available.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

BIGGER PAPER MILL

The newsprint and groundwood mill at Lufkin will be enlarged this year to include a 125-ton, semi-bleached sulphate pulp mill, according to an announcement by Albert Newcombe, treasurer of Southland Paper Mills, Inc. A $2,500,000 expansion program authorized by the stockholders also calls for the installation of three new paper machines, one in 1942 and the other two in 1943 and 1944 respectively. George F. Hardy, pulp and paper mill engineer, will supervise enlargements to the mill as they are made.

The Southland Mill is the first to make newsprint paper in the South. It began operation January 17, 1940, and last year produced 31,000 tons of newsprint, an output valued at more than $1,600,000. The reported potential production of the mill is placed at 150 tons of newsprint daily.

TEXAS STARTED IT

Texas, along with Tennessee, started something about three years ago by pioneering in the establishment of cooperative freezer locker plants. Following the lead of these States, Arkansas now has seven such plants, Georgia five, North Carolina four, Louisiana three, and South Carolina and Florida one each.

CAPTURED WHITE BUZZARD

A white buzzard has been added to the collection of albinos at the Houston Zoo. W. C. Ferrel of Augusta, Texas, captured the bird after he had creased one of its wings with pellets from a shotgun. White Buzzards are extremely rare this being the first reported to the State Game Department in a decade.

Thanks Editors For Aid Given Farm Livestock

(Editor's Note: This is the concluding article of a series, "Blending Livestock with Cotton," published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)

"By publishing factual, practical and timely information on feeds and livestock feeding, daily and weekly newspapers and farm and livestock publications are rendering an important service in the South's program of blending livestock with cotton production in a balanced farming program," says A. L. Ward, Educational Service Director of the National Cottonseed Products Association, Dallas, Texas.

"In the series of articles, 'Blending Livestock with Cotton,' which have reached millions of readers through these publications this season, the Educational Service has made use of recommendations of Experiment Station, College and Extension Service leaders," he pointed out. "By making this information available to their readers, newspapers and agricultural publications have constructively aided their farmers and stockmen in the use of up-to-date, practical feeding practices."

(Editor's Note: This publication is one of those referred to by Mr. Ward as rendering a service to farmers and stockmen, as we have made frequent use of this material for its news and educational value to local livestock producers.)

Through their Educational Service, cotton oil mills have cooperated with State and Federal educational agencies in distributing their recommendations in the form of releases to newspapers and other publications. By such cooperation, cotton oil mills seek to aid the balanced farming program which these leaders advocate for the sound development of agricultural and livestock production in the Cotton Belt.

"With cotton fields supplying essential feed products for the livestock industry, made available by cotton oil mills in the form of cottonseed meal, cake, pellets, cubes and hulls, the blending of livestock and cotton production is a practical and necessary program for the South," Mr. Ward added. "As an essential industry, serving cotton growers and livestock feeders, cotton oil mills appreciate the cooperation which editors have given to their educational activities."

Plans for making similar information available to farmers and stockmen, through the press, are being made for next season, he announced. Starting early in the fall, a series of articles will be prepared, upon the basis of latest recommendations of Experiment Stations and other authorities, for the use of Southern publications.

Farmers are very conspicuous by their absence in town this week. Indeed have the "sowers gone forth to sow," and the prospects are they will reap a harvest a hundred-fold, when the works all done this fall.

Farm Program News

Below we are quoting statements by Mr. I. W. Duggan, Director of the Southern Division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which are taken from a news story released in Little Rock, Arkansas on April 28, 1941.

Because of increasing costs of things farmers buy and the increase in mill margins for manufacturing cotton into cloth, I. W. Duggan proposed that cotton farmers of the nation hold their loan equities and their 1941 cotton crop for parity prices.

The recommendation of the Triple-A official is that farmers demand parity for their cotton when they offer it for sale and that if they do not get parity prices for it that they put it into the 1941 cotton loan. Parity, he said, would be about 16 cents a pound.

In discussing such a plan, the Southern Division director said he was of the opinion that cotton farmers are in a position, if they so desire, to hold their 1941 cotton for parity prices. There will be a short supply of free carryover cotton at the end of the present marketing year next July 31 because the government will have title to or have under loan most of the carryover cotton. "Because of this fact," he said, "by holding cotton off the market or placing it under government loan to obtain some cash to make partial payments on past due obligations farmers can obtain parity prices for their 1941 cotton which they sell."

"Wages have been increasing, mill margins have been increasing, retail prices have been increasing. In fact the price of everything the cotton farmer buys has been increasing. Because of the large surplus and the disruption of foreign markets, there has been no comparable increase in the price of cotton. The government loan, which is part of the AAA program is the only thing that has prevented a drastic decline in the price of cotton."

"Too many people are of the opinion that all farm prices have reached or almost reached parity. This is true for some farm commodities but not for others such as cotton and wheat which have larger exportable surpluses. Thirty per cent of all the farm people in the United States live on farms producing cotton and depend upon cotton for the major portion or all of their cash income. The March farm price of cotton was slightly under ten cents a pound or less than two-thirds of the parity price. Not only have cotton farmers failed to receive parity prices for their cotton but they have reduced their production with the result that they are far from receiving parity income. While cotton mills and most other industries are expanding production, cotton farmers must continue to curtail production."

"One-half of the proceeds from a bale of cotton goes to the person furnishing the labor in the production of cotton. Where a farmer produces cotton with his own or his family's labor one-half of the proceeds from a bale of cotton is chargeable to labor."

"On the average it takes about 220 man-hours to produce a bale of cotton. With cotton selling at ten cents a pound or fifty dollars a bale, which is about the price for which the 1940 crop sold, twenty-five dollars a bale would go to labor. This would mean that cotton farmers received less than 11 1-2 cents per hour for produc-

Senior Prophecy

Ladies and Gentlemen, our friends—and the Juniors — Last night as I sat having tea with Madame La Zombia, our conversation drifted to the Senior Class. As we talked, I began wondering "Just what does the future hold for me and my classmates?" She very graciously consented to look into the far-beyond to see what the stars held for each of us. And this, dear friends, is what she predicted:

Jerry Bolles now known as 'the' Miss Bolles, will very soon be a certain Mrs. Brown. Such a lovely couple in the legendary white cottage and picket fence.

Bobbie Bowers is a cute little blond Spanish teacher in none other than dear old B. H. S.

Doris Cain, the toast of vaudeville 12 years from now, is starring in that classic of the burlesque, "The Woman of Tomorrow?"

Auvenell Caswell is a first grade school teacher and also the West Ward P. T. A. President.

Dorothy (You are my Sunshine) Chaffin is now a member of the Harrington 'trio,' recently quartet. Lois Chambliss was recently appointed Secretary of Labor by President Roosevelt, who by the way, has won his 6th election.

Dorothy Chisholm, Virginia Stroup, and Mary Alice Tidwell have bought "Ye Whole Outfitter" Shoppe between 18th and 19th on Chestnut Street, N. Y. Dorothy the designer, Mary Alice the buyer, Virginia, the seller.

Elsie Clara, the twice divorcee of Reno has finally settled to a successful 3-weekers marriage to a gay Caballero at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Genevieve Davidson is now a successful hostess on the American Steamship Lines. She gets to visit Monte Carlo and all such interesting places, boy do we envy her.

Aline Denson is very very successful. You probably know her now as Arlene Devine, America's No. 1 photographers model. You've probably seen her on Chesterfield's or Tum's or on toothpaste adds. Hum! Hum!

Ruth Donathan is now in Europe doing Red Cross work for ing cotton in 1940. Even if cotton were selling at parity prices or eighty dollars a bale, the cotton farmer would receive about 18 cents an hour for producing cotton. Eighteen cents an hour is about half of the lowest minimum wage in industry, and is far below the wage of 75 cents to one dollar an hour received by Southern coal miners. The only way that a cotton farmer can increase wages for his labor is to receive more money for his cotton.

"The recent increase in the wholesale price of cotton goods is not reflected in the farm price of cotton but is due to the increase in the mill margins. Cotton producers have been wondering why the mills have been increasing their margins while they had the largest volume of business in their history."

"In March a year ago the average price for wholesale cloth based on 17 typical constructions of unfinished cloth was 22.29 cents a pound. The average price of cotton contained in these cloths was 10.70 cents a pound and the mill margin was 11.59 cents, a pound. In the first week in April this year the average wholesale prices of these cloth constructions had advanced to 30.96 cents a pound consisting of a mill margin of 19.70 cents a pound and an average cost of the cotton contained in the cloth of 11.26 a pound. Thus, in a year's time, the mill margin increased 8.11 cents a pound while the price of cotton increased only .56 cents a pound. If the mill margin had remained constant and the price of cotton had advanced, present wholesale cotton cloth prices would have advanced more than 8 cents a pound and farmers would be receiving prices above parity for the first time in 17 years."

"My suggestion is that cotton farmers plan to hold their 1941 cotton crops for parity price. Any cotton they are not offered parity for they can put in the loan and receive an advance on it sufficient to meet their most pressing immediate cash needs and still retain an equity in the cotton. With the present rate of domestic consumption, two-thirds or more of the prospective 1941 cotton crop will be consumed at home during the 1941-42 cotton year beginning next August 1. If cotton farmers get parity prices for their 1941 crop they will almost double their wages and get 18 cents an hour for their labor with no time and half for overtime."

the British. Yep Hitler's still trying, but "will he succeed?" that is the question.

What is the answer?
R. L. Clay, one of the most handsome boys in his class, has succeeded. Oh, my yes, he is now one of the leading young executives of the R. C. A. Radio Corp.

James Bryan, the president of his class, is now showing why he was made President. He is what members of his profession call a Globe Trotter. He is foreign correspondent for the New York Times. Oh yes, Mr. Bryan also has a novel to his credit, named, "Deep in a Dream." Wonderful, sure cure for insomnia.

M. J. Akers was captain of the football team one year and football is what proved to be his profession, for he is now head coach at the University of Notre Dame. And guess who his assistant coach is. None other than our old friend and classmate, Louis Waters.

Augustine Murry is now one of the leading commercial Artists of the day. Do I need mention that she is very successful and loves her work?

If you are ever in an automobile wreck or get bushed up, just look up our old classmate Jim Lane who is now a very famous surgeon, with headquarters in the Memorial Hospital, Chicago. By the way—Jim is not making a practice of breaking the gals' hearts, then seeing if he can mend them. He's failing fast in this.

Verna May Doss is chief hooper in the Tate Lax Shows, now touring the Southwest.
Nell Marie Eckert is now the head chemist in Mayo Bros. Clinic in Minn. and boy, how the foundations shake when she cuts loose. (Conclusion Next Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Noel spent Sunday with his mother in Dublin.

Bill Hardin is now employed in Levelland where he is doing carpenter work.

Mrs. H. S. Duke and son, Mike, of Sundown were guests in the W. R. McDuffie home recently.

Miss Monah Perry spent Sunday with her parents at Tokio.

L. Nicholson transacted business in Ft. Worth the first of the week.

GREENFIELD-McADOO WEDDING MAY 11

At 6 A. M. Sunday, May 11, 1941 in the First Baptist Church at Hobbs, New Mexico, Miss Dorothy Greenfield became the bride of Mr. Richard E. McAdoo.

J. B. Langston of Hobbs sang "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bonds, accompanied by Mrs. M. A. Meador, who also played the wedding march from Lohengrin, by Handal.

Before an altar of roses and spring flowers, vows were exchanged in a touchingly beautiful, single ring ceremony with the pastor, Rev. B. N. Sheppard, officiating.

Mrs. Orland A. Foster of Ada, Oklahoma was matron of honor while Miss Anna Faye Profit of Hobbs was bridesmaid.

The bride wore a navy sheer dress with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her attendants wore corsages of red roses.

Mr. Orland A. Foster of Ada, Okla., acted as best man and Mr. Joe Logina, of Hobbs, attendant.

Mrs. McAdoo is a graduate of the Brownfield High School and did one year of post graduate work in our school. She is employed by the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, having been transferred to Hobbs two years ago. She is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greenfield of Brownfield. Mrs. McAdoo is an active member of the church and numbers her friends by her acquaintances, who love her womanly virtues and Christian influence, and wish for her just enough shadow to make the sun shine brighter on the matrimonial sea.

Mr. McAdoo is the oldest son of Mrs. Sally McAdoo of Hobbs and is employed by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Hobbs. He is a young man with high ideals and noble Christian character.

Only near relatives and a circle of intimate friends were present. Relatives were Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greenfield, son, Keller and small daughter, Juanelle, and Mrs. Sally McAdoo.

After a short wedding trip the couple are making their home at Green Haven Courts in Hobbs.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School will meet at 9:45 Sunday and Church at 11:00. Brother Hanks' sermon theme will be "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth." There will be no evening services because of the baccalaureate service which will be held at the Baptist Church.

Considering the weather the progress on our church building has been good. By the end of the week, the elements kind, we will have the roof finished, windows in and the building wholly protected from the weather.

We are grateful indeed for the use of the school building but of course we are anxious that the building program end and we can meet again in our own house. As an indication of the enthusiasm to complete the church is the fact that the young people will help Monday afternoons. The boys will come at two and work until the girls announce "refreshments are ready." The girls will come at four.

The Church needs you, you need the Church. Come!

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS DINNER BRILLIANT EVENT

Climaxing the 1940-1941 year of the Cen-Tex Harmony Club, the courtesy committee's plans and appointments were indeed most complete and appealing to guests, at the dinner, May 9th, at Hancock's Cafe. Guests assembled at 8:00 o'clock. Dainty and delicately tinted pink roses (the club flower) filled crystal bowls, making two centerpieces. Program, the products of our own local musicians, were used as place cards.

Mrs. E. D. Jones presided, sharing honors with Miss Maudie Jo Fields, program chairman. "International Relations" was the theme for discussion and the musical selections.

Special guests were Mrs. Grant F. Winston, Mrs. L. M. Wingerd, Mrs. J. D. Miller, Larry Miller, and High School young ladies,

Something New At Loyd's Shoe Shop

Marshall Loyd, manager of Loyd's Shoe Shop, has just installed an Auto-Soler, said to provide an entirely new and far more satisfactory re-sole and re-heel job on women and children's shoes. The Auto-Soler is an "automatic soiling and healing machine," invented and manufactured in Atlanta, Georgia.

For the past two years Loyd's has been doing good work for the people in this section, using the best machinery and methods available. They have been seeking a more scientific and quicker method of attaching invisible heels without nails.

The popularity which the new invention has achieved is attributed to the fine quality of its work. It is said to produce an invisible heel which in practically every way is fully the equal of the original heel on the shoe. It is said that in putting on top lifts (heel taps), this machine never splits or damages the heel. It is also said that this machine leaves no nails to scratch hardwood floors or new linoleum.

TWENTY THREE MONTH OLD CHILD UNDERGOES MAJOR SURGERY

Gary Wade Willingham, twenty-three month old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham of Yoakum County, was operated Sunday at the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital following a ruptured appendix.

His condition was reported to be fairly satisfactory Wednesday afternoon by the attending physician.

Mrs. Bertha Stahler spent Mother's Day with her mother in Jacksboro. She was accompanied there by Mrs. J. S. Smith who also visited relatives.

BE PREPARED

The slogan of the Boy Scouts has been adopted as the rallying cry for First Aid Week because it is so appropriate. You know not at what time painful injury may be visited on a member of your family. Be prepared by keeping first aid supplies in your medicine chest. Act promptly but not hastily. If the injury seems serious, call a doctor at once and tell him what happened and what you have done. It's better to be safe than sorry.

Modern Home Ready For Final Inspection

With only final inspection by FHA architects to be accomplished the "TEXAN" exhibit home which will feature the observance of Texas Home Building Week here June 1 to 7, is approaching the final stages of construction.

Mr. Martin Line of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company, builders of the TEXAN here, at East Buckley Street, announced arrangements for the formal showing of the home are nearing completion and that this city's participation in the state-wide event will be a conspicuous event in local home building.

Almost from the beginning of construction, he said, there has been considerable interest in the TEXAN home and scores of interested persons already have inspected the property and watched its construction.

"We feel that our participation in Texas Home Building Week," he said, "will mark the beginning of an expanded building program here. In the first place we know there is a fairly large market for the type of home we are now building and we know that under the FHA system of home financing these homes are in easy reach of average income here. It will require less than a dollar a day to pay for the TEXAN type of home on the FHA system."

"Our home, of course, was fully approved by the Federal Housing Administration before ground was broken. FHA architects not only approved the plan and design but have already inspected construction twice. One final inspection, when the home is completed, is all that remains."

"Of course, this home will be offered for sale. Most important, however, is the fact that it will suggest similar types for the group of potential home buyers here who have been putting off home buying. Many of these families have not fully understood that small, attractive, well-built homes can be built at so low a cost."

"And, of course, many have not realized that under the FHA system of financing it can be purchased with a small down payment—usually 10 percent—and the balance in small monthly payments which include all charges, even taxes and insurance."

"We expect a large group of prospective home buyers throughout the week of June 1-7. We will have someone on hand to answer questions and to provide full and complete information on design, construction, costs and the FHA schedule of payments."
