BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY AUGUST 8, 1941

Farm Bureau Federation Meeting At Brownfield

There is to be a joint meeting August 12, 8:30 p. m., at the Legion Hall of the business men and farmers of Terry and Yoakum counties for the purpose of discussing their mutual problems and attempting to bring about a better understanding between the two groups of people.

Dr. E. R. Alexander, General Manager, with headquarters in reputation as one of the best speaker. Dr. Alexander has been associated with Texas A&M College for the past 20 years. He recently accepted the position as Manager of the Federation. He has the reputation as one of the best speakers in Texas and is well qualified to discuss the mutual problems of both the farmer and the business men.

With Dr. Alexander will be J. Walter Hammond, state President of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. He will also have a part in this discussion. The Texas Farm Bureau is responsible for the recent parity legislation. This gives the farmer 85% parity. These benefit checks place the farmer on par with all other types of business so far as income is concerned.

W. R. Tison of the Johnson Community, state director for this district, consisting of 19 counties, will introduce both speakers and act as chairman of this meeting. We would like to see a good representation from Terry and Yoakum counties.

4-H Girls Have Style Show

The 4-H girls staged a county-wide style show August 2, 2:30 p. m., in the district courtroom as an achievement day in clothing. Fifteen girls modeled garments which they had made in connection with their 4-H Club work, some modeling more than one garment.

Judge Lincoln made awards to the following girls: Marilee Shepherd, from the Union 4-H Club, first place in the junior division for attractive apron and bonnet; Marj Jo Luker, from the Union 4-H Club, first place in the Senior division for attractive apron and bonnet; Mau Dell Morris, from the Foster 4-H Club, first place in the play clothes division; Alta Fay Phillips, from the Wellman 4-H Club, grand award in the junior division for outstanding 4-H achievements; Ada Sue Dean, Wellman 4-H Club, grand award in the senior division for outstanding 4-H work. Judges were Mesdames Virgil Crawford and E. R. Steen.

Reports were given by Wilma Waters, Gomez 4-H Club, and Geneva Collins, Scudday 4-H Club, on their trip to College Station, for the State 4-H Short Course. Mrs. P. G. Beauchamp, sponsor of the Scudday 4-H Club also gave a short talk on her trip down with the girls.

The Union 4-H Club should receive worthy mention for having the largest number of entries in the style show.

Gene Hill to Play at Coaching School

Plainview, August 4—West Texas football fans will have a preview of the popular fall sport August 29, when picked teams from Class A and Class B high schools will perform at the closing event of the annual Plains Coaching School which opens here August 25.

From towns over a wide West Texas territory, football stars who are winding up their high school careers are being invited to participate in the All-Star classic which will bring the school to a fitting culmination.

Among the athletes who have already accepted an invitation to perform here is Gene Hill of Brownfield, an end, who will play on the West Squad.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Griffin and Children, Andy and Judy, are vacationing in Colorado this week.

Farmers Can Insure More Than Half Of Crop

Under the 1942 cotton crop insurance program, Terry County cotton farmers will be able to insure 50 percent or 75 percent of their average yield. L. A. Brock, chairman of the Terry County A.C.A., announces.

The details of the United States Department of Agriculture crop insurance program are being perfected in Washington now and growers will be able to insure their next year's crops before seeding, he continued. The insurance will protect them from all unavoidable hazards, such as drought insects including boll weevils, flood, plant disease, wind fire and hail.

Premiums and guaranteed yields will be figured in terms of lint cotton and the premium will be based on the crop-loss history of the county. Yields and crop-loss averages will be figured on the basis of historical or appraised productivity over a period of years.

Premiums for growers, the AAA official continued, will be figured on a lint cotton basis. Payment of premiums will be made with a commodity note which each grower will be compelled to sign guaranteeing payment of the premium on or before maturity date. The maturity date is at about the time cotton is picked or about the time indemnities are usually paid.

In paying the note, Mr. Brock continued, it may be paid either in cotton or the cash equivalent. In the event the note is not paid when it matures, the cash amount of the premium will be deducted from the indemnity paid the grower, or from the first Government payment he receives. These payments include cotton loan, parity and AAA payments.

Santa Fe Official Assumes New Duties

Q. M. OLIVER

O. M. "Mark" Oliver assumes new official position with the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway, in this territory, as assistant general passenger agent. He is a member of a pioneer Texas family and one of the youngest officials in the country to hold such an important position. His headquarters are in Amarillo.

Free Picture Show At Courthouse

A free picture show sponsored by the Extension Service, cooperating with the AAA and the Soil Conservation Service, is to be held in the District courtroom, Brownfield, August 9, 4:00 p. m. The whole family is invited.

The show will consist of several educational films regarding advance work in agriculture. There will also be a comedy.

Hahn and Family Leave for Vacation

Beyrl Hahn and family left this week for a sojourn in the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado. They will be gone some two or three weeks.

Hahn has been a very busy man of late getting his Auto Supply Store open and under way, and we believe a vacation is deserved. But watch your waist line Beyrl.

Money Price Farm Supplied With Fruit

Made a trip out to the Money Price farm Sunday afternoon. As we had borne our 180 some odd pounds of flesh, blood and bones on our No. 7 feet part of the day, Money was unable to get us to walk around much seeing the sights. We feel sure though, that he has a good crop, if the hired men have worked it. "Mon" just makes out he works hard by dodging it.

Did go out in the orchard, however, and filled our old paunch full of good juicy peaches, while he and his wife and our frau were filling a tub of them to fetch home for canning purposes, being as the wife did not already have some three bushels on hand. They sure have some full trees, many of the limbs hanging to the ground. The seasons have been so good this year despite the fact that trees were loaded with fruit it is large and well formed.

It is quite and restful to get out of a large city? Like Brownfield on occasions and drive to a peaceful farm home, and watch the fowls and animals nose about. And they have just about all the fowls extant, including a world of chickens, peafowl, a herd of geese and ganders and goslings, turkeys and we believe guinea fowl.

They take a just pride too, in their cattle, a fine black poled Durham heading the herd. Then there is just the common run of work horses, and the pride of the farm, a number of paints. They have a number of calves that are a cross between poles and jerseys that will bring a much better price than straight jersey steers will bring.

Not much luck with their plums this year. They bloomed profusely but no deal. Dr. Davis has suggested that he obtain a few hives of bees and perhaps the pollenizing process of bees will be just what the trees need to set them to bearing.

Anyway, we'll watch Doc's suggestion with a lot of interest in the honey part.

Black to Preach for Johnson Revival

JAMES F. BLACK

James F. Black, former minister of the Brownfield church of Christ, who is located in Denver City this year, will begin a ten day revival at Johnson school house on Friday night, August 15. There will be preaching twice daily: 10:00 a. m. and 8:15 each evening. This is a special invitation to all his friends to attend the revival.

James F. Black Jr., son of the preacher will conduct the song service. James F. Jr. has just concluded a two months tour with the Abilene Christian College quartette. They toured seven states in two months, advertising the college and soliciting prospective students. He has been on the quartette each year of the three spent at ACC.

If you would like to spend a very pleasant vacation, come over to Johnson school house, August 15 thru Sunday, August 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Price came in this week from California, where they have been since the first of the year.

Surry Shaffer of Dallas is the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. S. Brumage.

Herald Is Interviewed By Two Farmers

A lot of people are of the opinion that the average farmer is not in the least interested in whether or not the other fellow is getting by or not, what his works consists of, or what will suit his convenience. And too, lots of people think they want it all themselves, and don't give a hang whether the other occupations or callings are making both ends meet, or are just holding the strings.

But there are good business men among farmers as well as anyone else, and especially L. L. Brock and Bill Tison, Terry Co. farmers of the Texas Farm Bureau Association. They were in Monday to find out just how much publicity we could use at times, and make it convenient to ourselves, and at the same time help the Bureau. Since the Herald visits perhaps 80 per cent of the farm homes of the county, it is our desire and pleasure to serve them as much as possible.

But these men wanted to find out just how much publicity we could use, and how much it costs to put up and run a column of type. We tried to explain this the best we could, and they promised to "boil down" future articles as much as possible and yet make good sense out of it.

One Nebraska country editor recently saved all the "free" publicity sent him by the hundreds of government, state and private concerns for one week, and then made a nestmate of the amount of type required to publish it. It would have taken a seven column paper of 32 pages to accommodate it, and cost the publisher around $300.

Farmers get their plow up checks, parity checks, and checks for land that is not even used. The aged get their pensions, and the manufacturer gets his rakeoff via the tariff wall. The newspaper is the only concern that Uncle Sam asks to give its time and products free of charge. Uncle Sam pays the lumberman, the dry goods man, the grocery man and hardware man and every other concern for what he gets. But he asks the newspaper to give him their only revenue (space) free of charge.

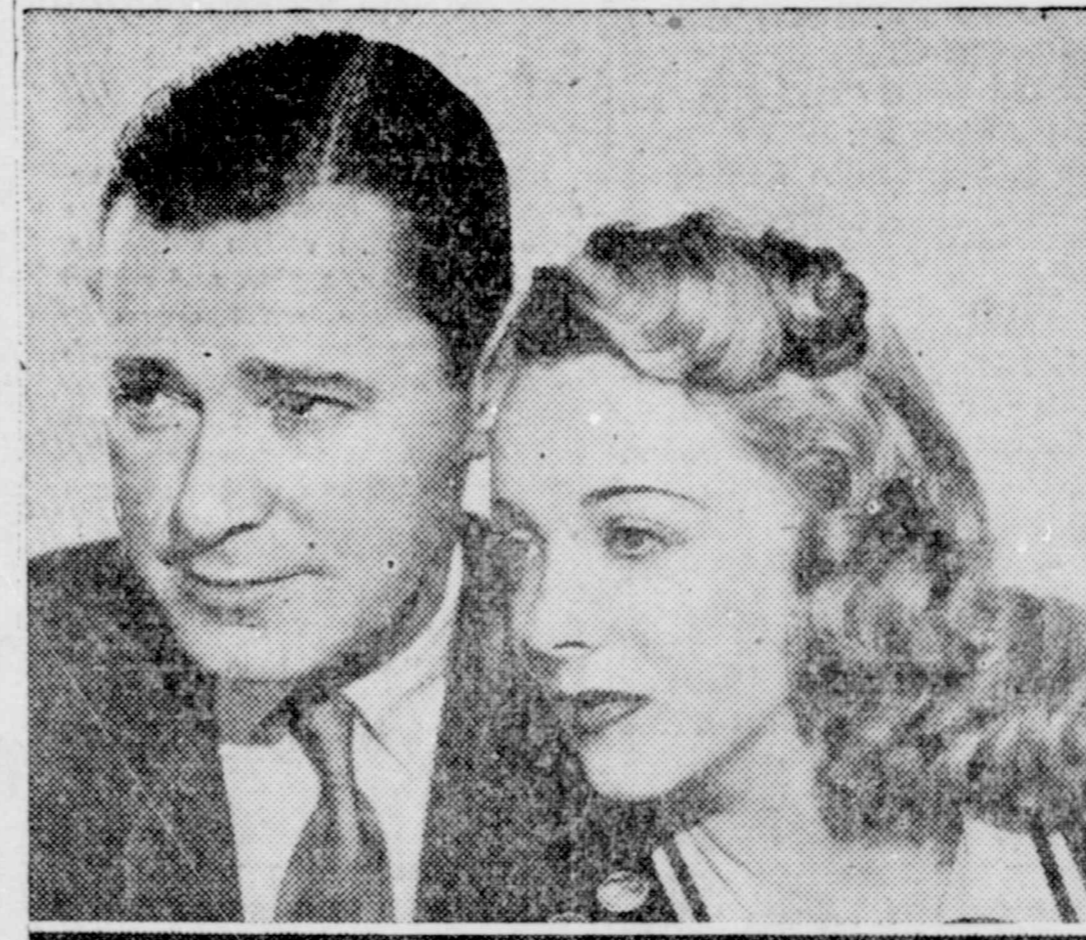

Lions Club Sponsoring Softball Tournament

The Brownfield Lions Club is sponsoring a softball tournament at the Cub field according to Virgil Keyes, who is in charge of arrangements. Mr. Keyes stated that some of the crack softball teams of this section will participate in the tournament, which will start Monday night. Competition will be keen.

Some exceptionally good games have been played here recently, and the tournament games will be better still. Nice prizes will be offered for first and second place winners, and all teams will be at their best.

A small admission will be charged in order to help pay for the lights and other incidentals.

HERALD ADS GET RESULTS

Herbert Marshall and Virginia Bruce are the stars of Columbia's thrilling "Adventure in Washington", now at the Rialto Theatre with young Gene Reynolds, Samuel S. Hinds and Ralph Morgan. A story of romance and intrigue in the world's mightiest capital, Adventure in Washington is directed by Alfred E. Green.

Governor O'Daniel Throws His Last Party

About the best writeup of the O'Daniell-Wrathier nuptials that we saw was from the "Unofficial Observer" in the Mirrors of the Austin Observer. The Observer did not pull any punches, but described the affair as he saw it, including the 3000 who attended as blanketed invited or engraved ones. Some of the latter, however, seemed to have failed to get in through the rabble of the common herd. Like all crowds made up mostly of children, the crowd became noisy and restless before the refrains of the Wedding March started.

Many hovered near the barrels that were said to have contained fruit juices, others around the piles of pop bottles. It was given out that these were not to be touched until the ceremony was over. Then they were attacked in true mob style. Tables were overturned, along with the drinks. Ice water ran everywhere, and soon this was pure dee mud. Cake (they had a huge one) was in such demand that it could not be passed out fast enough to suit the hungry, and so it was chucked out not unlike a lot of boys snowballing.

It was said that one south paw gal from Ft. Worth was none too accurate in tossing coke and many ladies were patted in the face with a chunk of iced cake, intended for just anyone. Flowers and shrubs were trampled under excited feet; paper cups were scattered pell mell, and the whole affair was a mess.

Soon, we shall have an incoming governor, we believe and hope will show some dignity about the governor's mansion, and keep it at least as clean as his sheep ranch down at Junction. Hall! Coke Stevenson, the man of few words and cautious action. Normalcy has returned to our grand and glorious state.

The Passing of Earnest Lockhart

Old timers in this section will regret to learn of the passing of G. E. (Earnest) Lockhart, 59, at Lubbock Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in that city Wednesday afternoon, and was attended by many people from Brownfield where he remained for two years and thence to Tahoka, Brownfield not being a railroad town at that time.

Mr. Lockhart soon became one of the most noted lawyers in this section, and after the formation of the 72 Judicial District, he was elected District attorney, which office he held a number of years. In 1926 he moved to Lubbock and formed a partnership with Gerard and Brown. In 1931, he served a term as State Senator.

He is survived by his wife and two children, Mrs. Bill Ed Watson of the city, and Mrs. W. Knight of Tahoka; five brothers, one of which is the State Treasurer, Charley Lockhart of Austin, and two sister. He was buried in Lubbock.

Farm Bureau Leaders Will Discuss 1942 Program

W. R. Tison, Terry County farmer and director of the Texas

W. R. TILSON

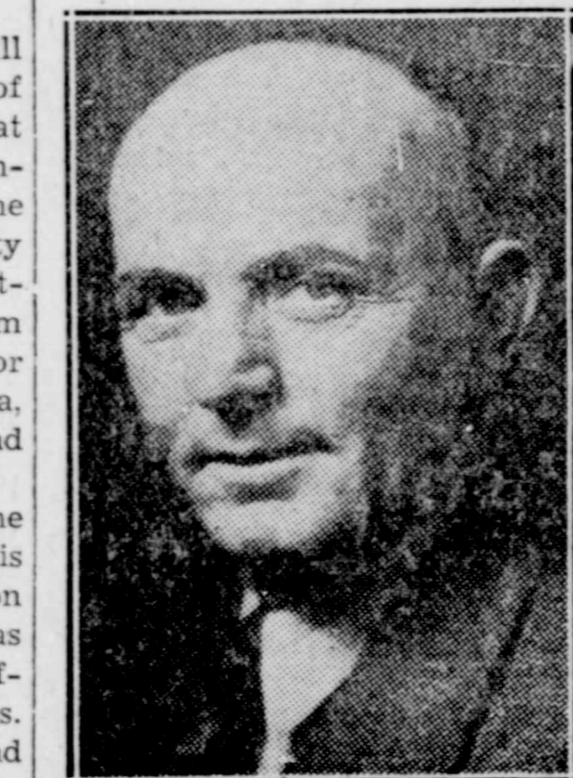

Farm Bureau Federation for this district will be in charge of the Farm Bureau meeting at Lubbock,

E. R. ALEXANDER

August 8, 10:00 a. m., at the Lubbock Hotel.

Farmers of this area may well thank the Farm Bureau for the great increase in prices of cotton and wheat above last year," Tison states. "Without the strength of Farm Bureau members in 41 states and the leadership of Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, J. Walter Hammond of the Texas Farm Bureau, and other state leaders testifying before the congressional committees, the 85 per cent parity loans for cotton and wheat would not have been provided. Congress was made to realize that farmers deserved better price."

J. WALTER HAMMOND

Tison further advises that the present market price of cotton has been influenced above the 14 cent loan value due to speculation, increased domestic consumption, and reports that stocks of government loan cotton would be withheld from the market.

"Without a cotton loan saving as a floor for the cotton market, we would be receiving far less than 10 cents per pound," Tison said. "A word of warning to cotton and wheat farmers, however, is that this loan applies to 1941 crops only. We must band together in our Farm Bureau organizations throughout the nation to hold this loan for 1942 crops and for consecutive years."

On the program will be J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, E. R. Alexander, general manager of

Thomason Brings In The Peaches

G. M. (Mack) Thomason of the Scudday community, was in Wednesday with a sack of as fine peaches as we have seen this year, barring those from California that are irrigated, and every one that shows a little faulty plucked off, as well as all that the orchardist in that state thinks the tree will not mature as large fruit, is pulled off. But the Thomason trees ripened all that stayed on the trees from the blooming period on.

The natural rainfall, has, of course, been exceptional this year. Hardly a week passed during the growing stage that a good rain has not fallen. Mack stated that his orchard was four years old, and that he had a good crop of peaches last year, too. He agreed with the Herald that we are having more fruit crops than we used to have. This can partly be explained perhaps by the fact that the growers are getting harder trees, and better suited to this climate.

He brought in two varieties, but mostly the Mamie Ross variety, that beautiful white skinned peach with the beautiful red blush.

The largest was measured, and the circumference was 9 inches, and two weighed a pound. He has all the fruit the family will need, but didn't state whether or not they would have any for sale.

Jaycees Sponsoring Boy Scout Troup

At a record meeting recently, the Junior Chamber of Commerce decided to sponsor a new troupe of Boy Scouts, which will be organized as soon as possible. If interested contact Virgil Burnett, the chairman of the committee, or either of the following committeemen: Richard Chisholm, Herman Cheshir, Ed Mayfield, Lan-lus Gross.

The Jaycees are anxious—very anxious—to know how you feel about the sponsored playground that has been carried on for the past six weeks. Judging by the number of pupils who have been attending, it is popular. Nothing unpopular is ever given a great deal of patronage.

Just the same, the Jaycees want to know in order to arrange for another next year if you like it. And you that have sent your children should call Lynn Nelson or Prof. Brewer and thank them, or offer friendly criticisms if you wish or make suggestions.

Walters Has Some Good Fruit

F. E. Walters brought in some very nice plums this week, and if the sample twigs he had are a fair sample of the rest of the trees, he will have lots of them. He stated that they would be ready for canning and preserving in about two weeks.

By the way, his eldest son Chester and family are here from Houston, visiting them. Chester stated that the city where thirteen railroads meet the sea is still on a boom.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Zachary of Lubbock, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. McIlroy, Monday night.

Mrs. I. M. Bailey and daughter, Sandra, are in Corpus Christi for a two weeks vacation.

the TFBF, and district Farm Bureau leaders. All in attendance will have a part in the discussion according to Tison's plans. A broadcast of part of the program is scheduled at 1:00 p. m.

The Farm Bureau meeting held in Lubbock last March 13 was attended by more than 500 farmers and farm leaders. Tison expects an even larger attendance at the Friday conference.

District 2 is composed of the following counties: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Kent, Lamb Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Par-Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

Each of the above counties is expected to have more than twenty-five representatives present at the Lubbock meeting.

Just because Chas. A. Guy did not have a $2 bill in his possession, he thought they were as extinct as the dodo. But a whole raft of Lubbock folks "writ" in that they had 'em, and one lady had hundreds of them. The Herald also has one of these $2 williams, Mr. Guy, and we'll show it to next time you're in Brownfield, if you'll stand way off. Ours, however, is the baby blanket variety, and not the saddle blanket variety.

Here is some good news for our fellow beings. Those who have time to study the matters, and are good at figures tell us that our incomes are going to be greatly hiked in Texas this fall. While some portion of the nation, particularly in the manufacturing sections are going to hit the high at a better pace, the goose will drop some of her golden eggs in Texas. However, some of our friends among the fair sex are going to weep over their silk stockings that cannot be bought, or perhaps their favorite lipstick, rouge and powder will have hit the ceiling, along with other luxuries. But we'll all live over it.

Most of us conclude that the "sit-down strike" is an output of the present era. But searchers in the University of Texas library find that the present sit-downers are way behind the times, and that apparently there is nothing new under the sun. Old manuscripts disclose the fact that way back in the eighties... a lot of Texas cowboys were drawing $50 per month for some 80 hours of work weekly, went on strike and "got" down in their bunkhouses. Their wages were hiked, too, according to the narrative.

And while we are at it, we might state for the benefit of some that may believe otherwise, that we think what the government gives us is not really free. Somebody pays and pays for every gift that is doled out, and don't let that slip your mind.

Jimmie Rankin in the Ralls Banner answer Charley Guy's man Friday, the Plainsman at some length, in a recent article in his column brought out the argument that the larger the county or state, the cheaper it could run. The Plainsman seemed to want some dozen counties around Lubbock to "jine" up in one big county government, with of course the headquarters and all the money at Lubbock. At least that was our idea of what the discourse was all about. In other words, if a farmer over at Bronco, down at Gail, Seminole, Tullia or Muleshoe, wanted to see if his parity check had come in, he would have to go to Lubbock, or phone up there. Or if Sallie and John out a Whiteface wanted to get hitched up, there would be a long drive up to the Hub. No deal.

The Herald believes that as a whole, there is no set of men or women more patriotic than country newspaper editors. They give without stint of their time, space and money—yes it takes money to run a newspaper—to all local endeavors, such as clubs, churches and schools. But riding the old horse gets old at times. Take for instance the propaganda that comes from dozens of alphabetical departments at Washington, and add to them, from the state departments, weekly, and it takes no little part of an editor's time to cull the worthy from the unworthy. Somebody at Washington and elsewhere gets good money to get out this propaganda, and a lot of it is really hokey, but they ask the weekly newspaper publishers throughout the land to publish this stuff free (as there is no appropriation.) Most weekly papers give anywhere from $25 to $50 weekly free space to many causes. What other kind of business does this? What other kind of business is even asked to contribute to the government their goods free of all cost? Space is a newspaper's only stock in trade. If Uncle Sam were to ask any local business to contribute the equal of some 31 columns of space each week to EXP and WAX, etc., they would get the hal hal Papers do not of course contribute 31 columns, but they are asked to do so, a cost to the Herald of Some $300. Yet, newspapers are asked to pay their taxes just the same as any other business. Newspaper folks are not asking any favors, they are simply asking for a square deal. One Nebraska editor so wrote his sentiments to his congressman lately. His congressman agreed, and said so on the House floor. He stated that if the government wanted space in newspapers to carry on, they should pay the newspapers just the same as they paid other people.

CHEATING OLD AGE

Mankind has spent lots of time and money trying to find a way to keep from getting old. Well, you can cheat the old bugaboo without very much trouble, cost or loss of time if you will just follow the directions and suggestion below:

One of the main things to do is to drive your car as fast as you can on wet streets and roads. Be sure your brakes are in bad order and your tires worn smooth. Don't worry about losing control of the car because there will always be something to stop you—a wall, tree, fence or something else.

Always drive fast and careless around curves, over hills and on crowded streets, because it makes you look like you are a man of pep even though you are a bum driver and haven't got as much pep as creek water or a May goslin.

Be sure never to stop, look or listen at railroad crossings for if you do somebody is likely to think you are timid or a sissy. Anyhow the train engineer ought to know where the crossin is and be on the lookout for you.

Never miss the chance to pass the car ahead of you when you come to a big, sharp curve or a real steep hill. It's such a lot of fun to be surprised by a truck as big as a box car. But you can always turn out of the road if you meet another car or truck, even if you have to go through a fence, clump of trees or down a steep dump.

Demand half of the road. Be sure its the middle half. If the other fellow ats nutty show him other fellow acts nutty show him is.

Never fail to take the shortest rout around blind left-hand turns, and be sure to make all turns from the wrong lane. Don't ever be guilty of holdin out your hand to show which way you are going to turn. If you do somebody might think you had a bit of sense left.

Don't worry about what might happen to the other driver on account of your careless, silly and unlawful drivin. He ought to be able to take care of hisself if you can. If the other fellow can't read your mind, it's his fault—the blockhead.

BOYETT HAS GOOD MEETING IN NEW MEXICO

This office received a card from the Boyetts recently, stating that he was having a good revival meeting at Causey, N. M., near Portales, with several additions.

He goes to Rochester, Texas for another meeting before returning to Brownfield.

Lyntegar Electric To Extend Lines

Garland Pennington general manager for the Lyntegar Electric Co-operative, received an announcement from Washington on Thursday of last week that an additional appropriation of $130,000 had been made for the construction of at least 230 miles of extensions.

A map of the proposed extensions, however, shows the new mileage to be approximately 240 miles.

Plans call for the construction of about 70 additional miles in Dawson county 60 in Terry, 35 in Lynn, and smaller amounts in Hockley, Garza, Borden, and Martin. Furthermore, the Terry County extension will run over into Yoakum county for a distance of about two an a half miles and an extension in Lynn county will protrude over into Lubbock county for a short distance.

When all of these extensions are completed, the network of electric lines will extend through or into nine counties with a total mileage of about 900 and with at least 2,300 subscribers.

Easements for the extensions are now being procured, and the setting of stakes is expected to begin soon after August 1.

Mr. Pennington was not willing to hazard a guess as to just when contracts would be let and actual work on the extensions begun; but Mr. Pennington will get all the preliminary work done just as rapidly as possible.—Tahoka News

In connection with the above, C. T. Edwards states that he has a map of the proposed extensions in Terry County, and those wanting to know whether or not their places were on the extension, may see the map at Farmers Implement store.

Accent On Hose

Smart high school girls are accenting their summer sportswear with mercerized cotton stockings. Styled in links, cables, and ribbed creations, these novel over-knee stockings are done in pastel shades to match cotton frocks. The National Cotton Council predicts that this current summer vogue will lead to winter use of knee-length cotton hose by girls in both grammar and high schools. The Council has medical support for its claim that there "is no clothing that makes less sense than a school girl trudging through cold and snow with bare legs from ankle to knees."

ual freedom in the world. It is more than the maintenance of a free economy and free commercial intercourse among nations, and an unregimented social life. Our stake in this war is our own future independence and the assurance that that independence may endure"

"Fun N' Frolic"

There's plenty of vacation fun 'n' frolic in this smart new all-in-one cotton play suit. The wrinkle-resistant crinkle cotton doesn't need ironing. This new one-pieceer, says the National Cotton Council, is a basic ensemble for summer sportswear.

BOYETT TO HOLD WELLMAN MEETING

Everyone cordially invited to attend any or all of these services.

Betty Flippin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lolan Flippin of Breckenridge, is here visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bandy.

My First Year Of 4-H Club Work

By Modell Morris, Foster 4-H Club

I have enjoyed my 4-H Club work. It has been fun and has helped me learn more about sewing, cooking and grooming.

First in our club we covered our club sewing boxes and fixed them attractively.

The first thing we made was a Dutch bonnet; we had to learn how to sew straight seams, how to whip in hem and how to sew on a machine. After making the bonnet, I knew how to make something harder. We made stuffed toys for children. I made a cat and turtle that taught us more about embroidery. Our next garment was an apron. The last things we made were laundry bags, shoe bags and belt racks. Outside of my club work I have made four quilt tops and a pair of pillow cases, several pot holders and several dish towels. I have also helped quilt two quilts. I think sewing is a lot of fun.

In our club we also learned more about how to be a good cook. First we learned important facts about cooking vegetables. Then I tried cooking vegetables and making salads out of them at home.

I also learned more about making out a balanced menu and balancing plates according to the color scheme and minerals, vitamins and calories. At home I help with the cooking. I cook cakes, cookies and sometimes prepare a whole meal by myself. I help can also.

I helped fix the club frame garden. We dug it then fixed the water system, then we put manure in and leveled it up. We were assisted by our sponsor, Mrs. Alex Reid, and our County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Holloway.

Although I do not have a frame garden at home we have a family garden. It has in it tomatoes (they are bearing), hot and sweet peppers (they are blooming), cucumbers (they are also blooming) and we are also ready for our second planting of radishes.

I made a scrapbook on different arrangements of kitchens and dining rooms and different foods.

I have learned more about how to be better groomed. I have been trying to keep a grooming chart.

I have enjoyed my club work and it has helped me very much.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Marshall went to Lohm, Texas, Saturday to take Mr. Marshall's sister, Mrs. Hall, home. Mrs. Hall has been visiting in the Marshall home for several weeks.

P. M. Williams and boys attended the rodeo at Post Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. French spent the week end in Wolforth with their children. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Cotten and children of Wolforth, Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Brown and children of Seagraves, and H. P. French Jr., of Camp Wolters. They enjoyed supper in the McKinzie park in Lubbock Saturday night.

Among those going from here this week end to Ruidoso will be Mr. and Mrs. Dick McDuffie and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Allen.

Army Recruiting Officers Here Wednesday

Major Joseph Peller and Sergeant C. A. Barnes were visitors in our city this week, their object being the possible establishment of a flying cadet unit of the U. S. Army. It seems to attain this, they must get at least 20 young men interested and recruited.

Major Peller explained that Uncle Sam is spending $55,000,000 on this school or University throughout the United States, to train young men in many ways to better fit them for life after they are out of the Army. Then too, it will be quite an honor for any town to have a squadron of its own.

The pay while you are training is $21 per month and the government gives you a $10,000 life insurance policy. If you make good and get to be a non-commissioned officer, of course your pay increases while in training. If at the end of the training, you show your worthwhileness, and are capable of training others, your salary shoots up to as much as $240 per month.

U. S. Marines Travel On Snow Cruiser

Camels, mules, ox-carts and airplanes have been used by the U. S. Marines as modes of transportation, but at least four of Uncle Sam's sea soldiers know how it feels to travel in a snow cruiser—the first chaff of its type ever made.

The Marines were with the Admiral Byrd expedition to the Antarctic and were selected to make the trip because of their abilities as radio operators, mechanics, or airplane pilots. The strange craft in which they made their home at the faraway southern base was called the "Penguin."

Built like a huge trailer, approximately 50 feet long and 20 feet wide, it was powered by two Cummins diesel engines. The odd conveyance included cooking, living and sleeping quarters, machine shop, engine room and other compartments.

Huge rubber-tired wheels, weighing three tons each, enabled the snow cruiser to pass over wide spaces in broken ice fields without making detours, and the cruiser was also able to carry an airplane on its ample roof.

Living in the odd craft was fairly comfortable, the Marines say, except that when it became colder than 40 below zero and the kerosene in the cruiser wouldn't burn. At such times they were forced to seek shelter where coal was available.

Minerals which promise to prove valuable were found by geologists with the expedition, and the new shore lines and mountains were discovered. The Marines had a good opportunity to test extremes of temperature, most of them having served previously in the tropics.

NUTRITION INFORMATION

A little after five one afternoon, on our picnic grounds at Hyde Park, representatives of various organizations in the county gathered to discuss with state representatives what had been accomplished in spreading nutrition information. Miss Ruth Wheeler of Vassar college, who had been made chairman by the Cornell university group, which is in charge of this work in the state, has been ill, and so the work is not completely organized.

I felt a good deal was accomplished for they named a radio and publicity chairman and talked over methods of getting information to the people of our county. A home demonstration agent is being sent by the Emergency Home Demonstration committee to a group of counties, including Dutchess, and our county agent, Mr. Shepherd, called a meeting at which women were named to take charge of the arrangements for the agent's work.

This seems to me very important, because she can help us to accomplish things which are now being asked of the women of the United States of America. First we may see that our schools are used as demonstration centers for child feeding. That means that every available source of supply must be tapped for food to be used daily.

BACK IN WASHINGTON

We reached Washington, D. C., from Hyde Park in time for lunch the next day and the visitors began to arrive at once. I did have a little time to talk over one or two important family things with the President before he was again engulfed in government affairs.

At 4:40, I went to the airport with Jimmie and Rommie, who were starting for the West coast and waited to meet my daughter, who was coming in from Seattle, Wash., to attend Mayor LaGuardia's meeting on civilian volunteer participation in defense.

Anna was about twenty minutes late, which meant that a gentleman who was waiting to hand me a gift for the president sent by the mayor of an English city, had to wait for nearly twenty minutes. However, he was very kind about it. Afterwards, Dr. Frederick Douglas Patterson, the president of Tuskegee institute, came to tell me how well the training of the flying cadets is progressing there, and that Tuskegee is being named as a recreational area for Negro men on leave from Fort Benning.

The crown princess of Norway and her party left to return to Massachusetts on an evening train. Our only other dinner guests were Dr. Floyd Reeves of the American Youth commission, and Dr. James Meader of Russell Sage college.

PRESIDENT'S MEMORY

Four of us sat on the south portico of the White House one night, having dinner; the President, our daughter, Anna; our cousin, Monroe D. Robinson; and I. Mr. Robinson had just returned from Peru and was telling the President of his impressions. He thinks Peru is one of the most interesting countries he has ever visited and cannot wait to return. Mr. Robinson has made some real friends and feels that they like him just as much as he likes them.

In the midst of his talk, my husband, in a very quiet way, said: "Have you ever happened to see an old book which has an illustration of a Peruvian Indian playing golf? They played golf in Peru years before they played it in Scotland. To all intents and purposes it was the same game except that instead of having to end up in a little tin cup, they had to hit a very small stick."

Monroe's face was a study. He had hardly expected to be told something about Peru, especially something which he felt might even be news to some of his Peruvian friends! Then my husband went on to explain that in college, he had bought the books every year for the Fly Club and Pudding Club libraries. For the Fly club, he had concentrated on books of old travel, and among them had found this particular book, which he considered the most interesting and which furnished the basis of some of his knowledge of Peru.

What wouldn't I give to have as retentive a memory as the President has, and at the same time always to be able to reach back into my mind and pick out the particular thing applicable to the conversation of the moment. Hours afterwards I can sometimes remember something which would have been very valuable, if it had only come to me when I was actually talking.

LA GUARDIA GROUP

The next day was given up entirely to the meeting held in the White House by Mayor LaGuardia's committee. Five members have been named from every corps area and represent all the different interests in our national life.

After lunch, the details were taken up and I hope that every member of the committee will go home knowing what the first steps in this program actually mean in the way of work. The future alone can tell how it will develop.

VITAMINS AND EYESIGHT

College Station, Aug. 4—A warning to parents to be certain their children are getting plenty of vitamins is being voiced by Doca Hale, specialist in parent education and child development. She says when a child goes without the right food for too long the lens of the eye may cloud over, and blindness may result.

The specialist tells this story. Some worried parents recently had their five-year-old child's eyes examined. The child had complained that his eyes itched and burned, and the parents had observed his eyes were sensitive to light. They thought he needed glasses. Instead of putting glasses on him the doctor gave the child a big dose of vitamins and put him on a diet which was exceptionally rich in vitamins.

"Vitamins keep the eyes seeing well and feeling well," the doctor said. "We know of nothing else that will do this."

This is the diet recommended: A quart of milk every day, an egg a day, a serving of whole grain cereal every day, plenty of fresh green and yellow vegetables every day, yellow fruit or tomatoes every day, and some liver, fish, and other meats several times each week.

Here are some other facts the doctor gave these parents: Some children pile sugar on their food. Too much sugar dulls the appetite for other foods and may blur the eyesight or injure the health. Too much sugar may do damage. Rats living on food containing too much of a certain kind of sugar always develop cataracts on their eyes. Cataracts are common among people with diabetes.

Heading for Bread and Water Rations

President George S. Benson of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, recently appeared before a House Committee and presented a detailed report on how the Federal budget can be cut at least $2,000,000,000—and none of the cuts advocated would in any way affect the defense drive. They would all be made in non-essential undertakings.

Sometime ago, the Secretary of the Treasury, also testifying before a Congressional Committee, said that non-defense expenditures could be reduced $1,000,000,000 or more.

Yet Congress, so far, has shown absolutely no disposition to make any reductions in spending. It is simply piling the gigantic defense expense on top of our already distorted budget. Unless an awakened public forces a change in that attitude, there will be but one end—national bankruptcy, national disaster, national collapse, and bread and water rations for every man, woman and child in the land.

ERECT 49 CHAPELS IN 11 TEXAS ARMY CAMPS

Austin, Texas, July 28 — Erection of 49 regimental chapels in eleven Texas army camps, under a program now being carried out by the Constructing Quartermasters, was praised by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in a communication to the chief of Chaplains of the United States Army, Washington, D. C.

The chapels, which will be available to Protestants, Catholics, and Jews alike, will cost approximately $1,000,000 when completed, the Governor was advised. Each chapel will have a moveable altar, so constructed as to be adaptable for use by the several religious groups. A series of doors and panels in the altars will provide the essential requirements for each kind of service.

The religious program as planned by the United States army to reach every man in the service seems to me to be of the highest importance, Governor O'Daniel said.

While no attempts is being made to force religious observance upon any man, it is significant that the tradition of a God-fearing American Army is being maintained in sharp contrast to the materialism of the totalitarian states. This activity will doubtless receive the approbation of American citizens generally and will bring a great satisfaction to the hearts of the mothers and fathers of our soldiers.

Mrs. M. B. Sawyer and Mrs. Aut Graham, expect to leave Friday for Buffalo Gap to attend the Sawyer reunion to be held there in the near future. From there, they will go to Marlin before returning home.

Mrs. Spencer Kendrick and two children and Mrs. Daniel Davis, visited their brother, Bugs Woosley, at Ft. Bliss, over the week end.

Bobbie Lewis, who works on the Goode Ranch at Yeso, N. M., spent Wednesday night with his folks here.

Misses Ruby Smith and Queenelle Sawyer are in Ft. Worth spending a week with Miss Becky Ann Smith, a friend whom they knew in Tech.

Senate Names Connally Head Of Big Committee

Washington, D. C.—Texas' Senior Senator, Tom Connally has been elevated by the Senate of the United States to head the powerful Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Connally is the first Texan to have ever gained this distinctive honor.

Connally was first assigned to the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate in 1931. In ten years he has advanced from a position of twentieth on the committee to the chairmanship. Before being elected to the Senate, Connally served on the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House.

The Foreign Relations Committee, rated as one of the three most important committees of the Senate, works in conjunction with the President and the Department of State to form and to enforce the foreign policy of the United States, a matter of topmost importance at the present time. In their natural course, matters to be taken to Congress relating to foreign policy from the President or the State Department pass through the hands of the Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

All treaties before the Senate for ratification, are first passed upon by the Foreign Relations Committee. Recent legislation or national interest which the committee has handled has been the Neutrality Acts and the Lease-Lend Act.

Senator Connally is particularly well suited for his new assignment, with his years of service on the committee in both the House and Senate, his knowledge of conditions in other countries gained by personal visits to all sections of the world, and his acknowledged debating ability.

The Herald Passes Its 37th Birthday

The Herald is no longer a young thing, as it passed its 37th birthday this week, having been born at Gomez in December, 1903, before Terry County was organized. While getting up in years, it is quite a lively youngster at times. On the 1st of June this year, the Herald had been in the Stricklin family for 32 of the 37 years.

TWO DUCKS SURVIVE TOUCH OF CIVILIZATION

Stories of two ducks which had contact with civilization, but had escaped have reached the game department office. One duck was seen waddling down the main street of Aransas Pass and was captured by two women. However, they decided they were unlawfully in possession of the fowl and released it. They found that it had been slightly injured, which accounted for its inability to fly. When last seen the duck was waddling contentedly down the street. The other duck, a big mallard drake, apparently mistook Highway 87 north of Dalhart for a river and landed on it with a bump which must have jarred his ancestors, as the editor of the Mator Tribune puts it. A light snow had fallen, but had not remained on the highway, although covering the countryside. The sheet of bright moisture probably made the road look like a river and the mallard dove into it. However he was able to crawl off into the weeds and disappeared.

TEXAS MILK PRODUCTS PRODUCTS STEPPED UP IN JUNE

Austin, Aug. 4—Approximately one-fifth more Texas-produced milk is being converted into staple dairy products now than a year ago.

Reports from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reveal 151,027,000 pounds of milk were used during June in making 4,813,000 pounds of creamery butter, 1,870,000 gallons of ice cream, and 1,946,000 pounds of American cheese. A small amount went into evaporated, condensed and powdered milk products.

Creamery butter manufacture was 20.9 per cent higher than in June 1940, ice cream was 38.6 per cent higher and cheese 14.9 per cent higher.

Life insurance statistics show that there are five causes of death each of which today takes an annual toll greater than the U. S. war deaths of the last war: heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage accidents, and Bright's disease. Care and preventive effort can reduce this death toll, it is pointed out by life insurance men.

Mrs. Charlie Moore and Mrs. W. B. Brown left Sunday for Lawrence, Kansas, where they will visit Mrs. Browns mother.

More than 3 1-2 per cent of all life insurance death claims are paid for automobile accidental deaths, it is reported by the Institute of Life Insurance, this tragic toll costing life insurance policyholders $35,000,000 annually.

A young man seeking enlistment in the United States Marine Corps at San Antonio, Texas was asked if he had any heart trouble. He answered: "No, but I was in love once!"

TEXAS HENS ARE DOING THEIR DUTY

Austin, Aug. 4—Texas hens are doing their part to meet the country's food emergency.

June shipments of Texas eggs totaled 346 cars as compared with 182 cars a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Of the total movement, 287 cars went outside the state, chiefly to New York and California.

Forwardings of poultry—chickens and turkeys—fell off considerably, from 42 cars in June, 1940, to 29 cars last month.

A NEIGHBORLY BULLETIN BOARD

Sometimes when the whole family goes away for a Sunday afternoon, neighbors or relatives may call, with no way of letting you know they paid you a visit. We know one housewife who has solved that problem by tacking a large slate alongside the front door of her home, with a pencil on a chain beside it. Callers who find no one at home leave their names to let the family know who visited them, and at the same time deliver any special messages. The slate has also proved useful for leaving messages for the children, in case the mother is away when they come home from school.

STRANGE FRIENDSHIP

The mountains of west Texas about six miles from Van Horn are the scene of a rather strange friendship. A seven point deer and a young ewe bighorn mountain sheep have been seen together several times. Not long ago a biologist of the Game Department came upon the strange pair bedded down together under a bluff on the side of the Beach mountains. They sprang up together and the buck bounded off up the mountain closely followed by the sheep.

Total benefits and credits to American life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries since 1843, when the oldest existing life insurance company sold its first policy, have exceeded the total premiums paid in all these years by 1 1-2 billion dollars according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Life insurance statistics show that there are five causes of death each of which today takes an annual toll greater than the U. S. war deaths of the last war: heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage accidents, and Bright's disease. Care and preventive effort can reduce this death toll, it is pointed out by life insurance men.

Mrs. Charlie Moore and Mrs. W. B. Brown left Sunday for Lawrence, Kansas, where they will visit Mrs. Browns mother.

More than 3 1-2 per cent of all life insurance death claims are paid for automobile accidental deaths, it is reported by the Institute of Life Insurance, this tragic toll costing life insurance policyholders $35,000,000 annually.

Exquisite Decorative Doilies are Crocheted

THE final, exquisite touch to any decorative scheme, and one that you can contribute yourself, is found in dainty needlework. Hand crocheted doilies are part of our American tradition, and here is a set of three which will enhance the beauty of your buffet or lend charm to an occasional table. These gossamer, web-like doilies crocheted in mercerized cotton will look crisp and fresh after repeated tubbings—and will cost you just 20¢ to make. Doilies may also be entered in a special class in this year's Nation-Wide Crochet Contest and will be judged for national honors and cash prizes. Directions for making these doilies and details of the Contest may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying design No. 7254.

COTTON ON THE OFFENSIVE

The cotton industry prepares for the third year of its nationwide campaign to increase the consumption of American cotton through advertising, scientific research, and resistance to discriminatory legislation. Through its three-fold attack the industry expects to attain the goal of parity consumption and parity income as well as parity price.

Headed Out For Little Old New Orleans

We bade Houston adieu around eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 14th, and headed for the big city of New Orleans on the mighty Mississippi. There is a very interesting drive the rest of the way through Texas over 90. This highway skirts the San Jacinto park to the north, and you cross the ship canal just outside the city of Houston. There are a number of interesting small towns between Houston and Beaumont, with skits between pine-woods, hardwood timber, some prairies, and lots of good farms, but like all other sections of Texas at that time we saw, had too doggoned much water.

Beaumont is a real interesting town, and the business men seem to be live wires. It looked so cool and inviting, that we decided to stop there to get our Wednesday shave. Twenty-five miles east is Orange, the county seat of the county by the same name, and the last county in Texas. Here Uncle Sam has many ships under construction, and the town is a beehive in industry. We did not take the time to try to go down to the shipbuilding area, as we felt sure that like most places where defense building of any sort is underway, it would be difficult for a stranger to get close enough to see what was really going on.

Soon after leaving Orange, one goes into Louisiana, after crossing the muddy Sabine river into Calcasieu parish, Louisiana. After crossing into the bottoms on the other side of the river, we decided that Louisiana sure had fell down on their road building in that area, as the roads were not to be compared to those on the Texas side. But we soon found that old man Sabine had been washing their road badly, and after a few miles of travel we came to better roads—in fact good ones. That is one thing that Huey Long did for that state. He built good roads and high powered bridges all over the state.

Like that section of Texas, one sees as much or more acreage in ribbon cane and rice as cotton, corn etc. There are very few hills, the country being flat and very fertile. About the most interesting city in southwest Louisiana is Lake Charles. We were held-up on a long bridge before entering the city for a number of U. S. army trucks to pass, and there must have been a great number of Texas boys among them, as a lot of them hailed us with Hi-Texas! or Yea-Texas! In other words, they Yo-hoed us, but failed to make us mad, we had something on over our shorts. One enters Lake Charles from the West with a kind of horse shoe curve around the lake. On one side of the highway is a shimmering lake, apparently as clear as crystal, and on the right, some of the prettiest homes one can imagine with spacious, well kept grounds, and streets running south from the lake, connecting with the highway or Boulevard. The business section of this city of 15,000, is modern too, with a number of skyscrapers. There seems to be quite a bit of wealth concentrated there. The town looked so good, and as it was twelve, we found a cafeteria and took lunch. This was our first in a cafeteria, but as Mrs. Herald had eat in such "jyntys" in California, we put her forward, and watched what she did.

It's easy when you know how, and you get just what you want at a very fair price. Soon after leaving Lake Charles, we begin to see farmers plowing with the dust blowing. In fact we were getting into the dry area. Old man weather played a mean trick on us this year by turning the usual Mississippi valley weather loose on Texas—even west Texas—and giving them the usual variety that we have out here. It was a low underhand trick, but maybe we need variety sometimes. Jennings, Crowley and Lafayette are interesting towns, and at the latter, you soon begin to go into a section that is different. There are thousands of Cajunes and Negroes, with their peculiar pronunciation of words. Of the two the negro seems to be the most intelligent on an average, but many Cajunes are well educated, and seem to be quite wealthy. However many of the service stations were manned by negroes instead of Cajunes, and these Negroes could handle the servicing of your car, and filling out purchases from your courtesy card as well as anyone. At St. Martinville, you are really in the Evangeline country. One leaves 90 near Brourdass for that town. Here too, you almost leave the Protestant world, and run smackdab into a section almost entirely Catholic. We visited the little cemetery around the huge live oak, known as the Evangeline Oak, at the center of which is supposed to be the setting of Longfellow's poem "Evangeline". Nearby is a Catholic school and church. Out at the huge two story building where the gal is supposed to have lived that beat Evangeline's time with the guy, and caused the maiden to pine away and die, is a museum. Her body is supposed to rest under the Oak.

But this epistle is getting too long already. We aimed to have told you a bit about the Longfellow Evangeline State Park, and will in our next.

Memorable Passage: "Son, it is more essential that you be courteous and a gentleman always than it is that you be brilliant". Col. Paul Wakefield.

Q. What is a ground sloth?
A. The ground sloth, now extinct, was an animal about the size of a rhinoceros. Its nearest relative is the sloth of South America. During late geologic time the ground sloth lived in Texas and generally throughout the southern United States. A skeleton of one of the largest of the ground sloths is now on exhibit in the Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, of which Dr. E. H. Sellards is the director.

Q. Are eggs ever found as fossils?
A. Yes, Fossil eggs have been found of birds and reptiles. In the Texas Memorial Museum is a nest of fossil eggs found in San Patricio county, Texas.

Q. Who introduced the bill in the Forty-seventh legislature creating the Texas State Council of Defense?
A. Representative Joe C. Carrington of Travis county.

Historical: Jesse Jones is the only Texan who has served in the cabinet of the President of the United States as Secretary of the Interior.

Q. What was the Comanche War Trail, and can you give me any information about it.
A. The Comanche War Trail extended from the plains country—western Kansas and Oklahoma—down through Texas traversing the Pecos at Horse Head Crossing. It is said that the trail was used by the Comanches in making raids into Mexico. The Indians set out on their raids every year on the September Moon, and that moon came to be known to the Comanches as the "Mexican Moon" and to the Mexicans as the "Comanche Moon". The trail was explored by Lts. Hartz and Echols in 1859 while they were experimenting with camels for use by the United States army. They followed the trail from Comanche Springs (now Fort Stockton) to near the Rio Grande, a distance of about 160 miles. About 60 miles of the distance was through the area now designated as the Big Bend Park. The trail continued on into Mexico for several hundred miles and was adopted as the state line between the Mexican states of Chihuahua and Coahuila. This information has been furnished to Do You Know Texas? by E. E. Townsend of Alpine.

Save The Babies

The lives of thousands of Texas babies are being saved this summer by intelligent parental care during hot weather. However, many more infant deaths could be avoided if parents would have a keen realization of the value of simple common sense precautions, states Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Records of the State Health Department Bureau of Vital Statistics show that 2,506 babies died of diarrhea and dysentery during 1940, many of them occurring during hot weather. The infant death rate for diarrhea and dysentery in Texas is too high, as can be seen from the above mortality figures. Public health officials cannot solve the problem alone; parental cooperation is the real key to its solution.

The following suggestions, if followed by parents of infants, would go far in further reducing deaths from diarrhea and dysentery:

1. Whenever possible, infants should be breast fed for the first 6 or 8 months. When bottle milk is used it should be boiled or pasteurized.
2. Drinking water for the baby always should be boiled.
3. Personal cleanliness should be the rule for every member of the household. Those handling milk or food should be particularly careful.
4. Any member of the family or visitors showing symptoms of disease, no matter how slight, should be kept away from the baby. They should not be allowed to handle any of the food intended for him.
5. The house should be screened to protect not only the baby, but all household food, from flies.
6. Every home should be provided with a sanitary fly-proof toilet or sewage disposal facilities.
7. Every home should have a safe water supply.

While most of the above suggestions are applicable at all seasons of the year, the following precautions are important in hot weather:

1. The baby should be kept as cool as possible
2. He should be kept clean
3. Clothing should be reduced to the simplest essentials
4. He should be protected against insects
5. He should not be overhandled
6. He should be kept in the open as much as possible.
7. Water should be increased internally and externally
8. He should not be overfed and finally, if there are signs of illness, the family physician should be consulted promptly.

THE BEST COSMETIC

It is estimated that the women and girls of America spent last year not less than $500,000,000 for rouge, face powder, and other so-called aids to beauty. There is a recipe for beauty that is far better than any of these, but it begins on the inside and works out. "Every pleasing thing you do makes you a bit more attractive" said a teacher to her class of girls. That teacher had found the secret of real beauty. There must be a beautiful soul within if the countenance is to be beautiful. Every act of kindness, every expression of love leaves its impression upon the face, softening the hard lines and smoothing out the wrinkles in a way that no outward application of cosmetics can possibly do. And the best of all, it is permanent.—Onward.

The oil well being drilled on the Brownfield ranch three and a half miles southeast of the city, reached the contract depth of 5500 feet Monday, and was pronounced a duster. Abandoned. Well, it seems that all but a small section of northwest Terry is destined to be just a good old farming section, and that means prosperity over many years to come.

IVE TEXAS

The immortal Joseph Weldon Bailey once declared that the greatest blessing that the Lord bestowed upon Texas was in putting Oklahoma between this State and Kansas. Similarly, it could be said that another great blessing is that Texas is next to Mexico, that incomparable, year-round vacation land—because it is necessary for the host of tourists from all parts of the United States en route to Mexico to pass through Texas, leaving in their wake a trail of gold which benefits all lines of Texas business.

Furthermore, Texans are fortunate in that they do not have to spend long days of travel to reach Mexico but can climb on a train or a bus or get aboard the family automobile and, in a few hours, be south of the Rio Grande.

Your Columnist is just back from such a trip. (It was the second visit to the Southern Republic, the other being two years ago by rail.) The adventure begins when you cross the International Bridge at Nuevo Laredo after having filled out a traveler's card for each member of the party above 15 and having arranged (for nominal amount) a bond that you will bring your car back. Inspection of baggage is quickly and politely done and you soon find yourself rolling through a wild, but interesting, landscape on the world's longest straightway—45 miles.

Every so often you cross a bridge over some creek—each has a name, as Arroyo de Death or Arroyo of Hot Eye, a name that no doubt stands for a story.

You swing across the slants of Mamalique Pass, a fine piece of engineering, and arrive in Monterrey, 145 miles south of the border, a city of industry and modernity, at the foot of famous Packsaddle Mountain. We drove around much of the city, admiring the beautiful homes, fronts flush with the sidewalk—fronts that are dyed rich green or deep purple or intense scarlet; the shops full of silver, tapestry and basketry, and the cathedral with its bells.

After a night at the hotel Ancirra, the journey is resumed. Mile after mile of changing scenes unreal; with luncheon at the white, new Cerro Gordo Hotel in Victoria. As you glide along, you see a mother walking through the bright sunlight, her shawl extended to shield two small children as well as herself; a procession of pilgrims, all in white, headed by men transporting two church bells suspended from poles; babies carried on the backs of mothers; a man stowaway, perhaps) hanging from the back end of a bus; men, each carrying a machete, the knife that is almost long enough for a sword and is used to chop one's way through the jungle; and cornfields high up on a mountain side and to the very tops, at unbelievable angles.

Women, with carriage as erect as a Casa Manana showgirl, are carrying pots on their heads, hands at their side, and they turn their heads to look at the passing car. Men are bearing heavy loads of wood or even a small log on their backs, the burden being held in place by a leather strap that passes around the forehead.

Even little children have miniature loads. An old man with some fruit trudges by on his way to market. There are little towns every few miles on the mountain slope and you think of life being lived with such a hamlet as the center and with many perhaps never venturing more than 25 miles away.

And so late into the Valles to spend the night.

An Ex-Marine Keeps Lonely Vigil

From the life of a bandsman in far-off China to that of a radio operator on the lonely island of Atka, one of the Aleutian group, was the odd transition made by Charles R. Magee, a former U. S. Marine.

Magee and his wife are the only white persons on the island. The remaining eighty-five inhabitants are Aleuts, who in appearance and mode of living resemble the Eskimaux.

From his outpost Magee sends radio dispatches several times daily and makes a daily observation for the Weather Bureau.

Mrs. Magee, assisted by her husband, conducts a school for the island children.

About twice a year, although its visits are by no means regular, a supply boat reaches Atka and adds some welcome items to a somewhat monotonous bill-of-fare. The only available supply of fresh meat is from reindeer herds on the island.

For years Magee was in the Marine Corps attached to the American Legation at Peiping, China, and he also served as a musician at several posts in the United States.

When he left the service his comrades lost track of him. He happened to tune in on a band concert given by the Marine Band at Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands, some 2,000 miles away. Magee immediately wrote a letter to his buddies at that naval station, but it took months to reach them.

Like sea soldiers all over the world he remembered the Marine Corps tradition: "Once a marine, always a marine."

Mrs. U. D. Sawyer, Cross Roads, N. M. bounced another dollar fifty in over Uncle Sams mails for the Herald another year. We also note that her daughter, Miss Fern, took third place with her trained pony down at Seymour and therefore added another feather to her hat.

INDIANA ADDED TO THE McDONALD OBSERVATORY

The star gazing "family" which manages McDonald Observatory, giant West Texas astronomical plant in West Texas, has been increased, as Indiana University joins the universities of Texas and Chicago for astronomical research. Indiana scientists—who will use the plant's 82 inch mirror and photographic devices 15 nights each year—intend to concentrate their observations particularly on the speed of distant stars, University of Texas officials here are informed.

Heretofore the Texas owned observatory has been concerned largely with the composition and physical nature of stars rather than their particular activities in space.

Pre-fabricated housing may be that "revolutionary" big new industry for America—economists have long wondered why somebody didn't put it on a production line basis; defense housing needs may give it the required extensive, sudden market. Much debated increase in curtailment of auto production (50 per cent instead of 20) would not go into effect until November, anyway, no matter how the OPM-OPACS dispute turns out. Cotton crop beset by boll weevils, bad weather, smallest planted acreage on record—sure to fall couple million bales below domestic consumption may be a real "crop scare" if rains continue in southeast. Nation's department store sales up 23 per cent, last four weeks average.

Women, with carriage as erect as a Casa Manana showgirl, are carrying pots on their heads, hands at their side, and they turn their heads to look at the passing car. Men are bearing heavy loads of wood or even a small log on their backs, the burden being held in place by a leather strap that passes around the forehead.

Even little children have miniature loads. An old man with some fruit trudges by on his way to market. There are little towns every few miles on the mountain slope and you think of life being lived with such a hamlet as the center and with many perhaps never venturing more than 25 miles away.

And so late into the Valles to spend the night.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 28, — Going up! Retail prices, which have been held fairly well in check through the "war period" up to recently, are almost sure to show much more abrupt rises between now and autumn—and thereafter. The June index of living costs of the Department of Labor was 104.6, compared to 102.9 for May—by far the sharpest monthly differential this year to date. Thing that makes further and more drastic rises unavoidable is that, up to now, stores have been selling merchandise acquired when wholesale sale prices were lower; but stocks in this category are now being rapidly used up—and they have to be replaced, of course, by goods that come in at a higher cost. This is especially true in the food, clothing and house furnishing lines.

FOR CIVILIAN SAFETY

Nation wide training programs for employees of local governments in such primary defense duties as air raid and sabotage protection are being urged as an "immediate necessity" by Mrs. Melville Muckleston of Chicago, president of the National Consumers Tax Commission. Mrs. Muckleston, who is a former national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, says that special training for employees of such municipal departments as public works, health, fire, police and utilities is needed.

UNION POLICY

One union, which has quite an important part to play in the handling of food supplies for the army as well as in civilian supply, has gone right to the White House with a voluntary "statement of policy in defense or in war". The Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America, in the statement presented by their president, Patrick Gorman, vouchsafed that "we must put our own personal concerns and our own union concerns second to the national concern and welfare", and that "our union will not in any way take advantage of the national need to seek advantage for our membership".

SENSIBLE, PATRIOTIC

When the OPM announced its rubber rationing plan a few weeks ago, we listed several rules for "stretching tire miles, a thing that it now is patriotic, as well as thrifty, to do. John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company, now backs up those rules with hard facts on the "why" of them from the testing laboratories: The reason for correct air pressure is important is that each pound of under inflation increases tread wear by one-eighth, besides adding to gas consumption. A tire only slightly out of line is dragged sideways many feet per mile.

BITS O' BUSINESS

Pre-fabricated housing may be that "revolutionary" big new industry for America—economists have long wondered why somebody didn't put it on a production line basis; defense housing needs may give it the required extensive, sudden market. Much debated increase in curtailment of auto production (50 per cent instead of 20) would not go into effect until November, anyway, no matter how the OPM-OPACS dispute turns out. Cotton crop beset by boll weevils, bad weather, smallest planted acreage on record—sure to fall couple million bales below domestic consumption may be a real "crop scare" if rains continue in southeast. Nation's department store sales up 23 per cent, last four weeks average.

RUSSIAN TRICKERY HURTS GERMANS

The Germans complained of Russian "trickery". They said whole fields of corpses would suddenly spring to life and start mowing them down. Camouflaged Russian cannon would let panzer units roll by and then open a terrific fire.

Now wasn't that just too low down for anything? They should have sent the German high command maps showing where all their artillery was located. They should have stood up and been shot down like men!

Furthermore, it is downright uncomfortable to be rolling along in high gear and have your tank blown into scrap iron by a cannon you thought was an old stump or something. Ach, Ja!—Abilene Times.

Jim Hatton, old timer here, who has been making his home around Los Angeles for the past several years, was here last week and informed the Herald that he was preparing to move his family back to Brownfield to make their home. Jim says he has made some money in the real estate business out there, but that he and family have never been really satisfied. He married Miss Maude Groves, who was really one of the old settlers in the Groves, (now Union) settlement in this county.

A study of 629 Negro families in one Northwest Texas town recently revealed that only eight had home gardens. Twenty-six were home owners.

NEW OIL That gives car engines GOOD OLD OIL-PLATING

far Outlasts 5 other big brands in Desert War of Endurance

Oil-Plated engine proves good for more than Double the Mileage averaged by rivals in Daring Death-Test... Certified

Plenty of good old pre-streamline cars with OIL-PLATED engines still pass your house quietly . . . pass newer cars on the road . . . pass new cars many a time without needing a quart. That's because inner engine parts have been kept OIL-PLATED by the strong magnet-like action that won't let OIL-PLATING quickly drain down. Even through the nights, OIL-PLATING stays up to its top-most point—on guard against wear in advance! Yet this famous OIL-PLATING—based on the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent—is merely one factor in today's great success of the new

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
—Lasted 5,683 miles longer than next-best oil tested in Death Valley

Conoco Nth oil invited itself straight up against 5 other representative oils in an all-out test to the death . . . unbiased . . . Certified. The graveyard was cruel Death Valley—so hot you can't sweat. 6 everyday coupes were used—all alike. Each got one 5-quart fill of some competing oil—locked in by the Official Referee. Then under strictly equal conditions all cars sped without added oil, till engines cracked up.

The weakest oil gave up while Conoco Nth still had 8,268 miles to go. . . Certified. All 5 rivals together averaged 7,057 miles less than Conoco Nth oil . . . Certified.

Real difference—from a Real source

Two modern synthetics are in new Conoco Nth oil. Now think of modern vitamin synthetics, making up for some of Nature's life-givers lost in modern food processing. Similarly, the latest oil refining methods destroy some of Nature's life-givers. But today full life is brought back—more than generously—by the two Conoco synthetics.

One of these will make Conoco Nth motor oil keep your engine OIL-PLATED. The other will check the effect of foul leftovers caused by every engine's normal firing. This commonest of all oil troubles is now checked—inhibited—by Thialthene inhibitor. . . Conoco Patent 2,218,132. But why technicalities?—when you know the Certified Economy record of Conoco Nth in Death Valley. You'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil, nor make your car try other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at recommended intervals. But knowing that one fill of Conoco Nth outlasted the other Death-Tested oils—by 74% all the way up to 161%—you can figure on a long time between quarts of Conoco Nth oil. Change today—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

Latest available oil of each competitive brand bought retail by Referee. New stock coupes all alike; broken-in alike; tuned alike; handled alike. HOME OWNERS FORUM

By ABNER GORDON

THE installation of an electric suction fan in the attic wall or a window section often makes livable in warm summer months those top-floor areas which otherwise would only be suitable for storage space. Representing but a small investment, a fan may well double possible living quarters by providing adequate ventilation even during the most sultry weather.

For night comfort, open the windows and turn on the fan during the cool of the evening to replace the dormant air heated by the sun beating on the roof all day. Close the windows and draw the blinds during the heat of the day, maintaining comparatively cool interior temperatures.

Q.—How should I paint a badly-worn maple floor originally coated with a waxed varnish finish?

A.—Since worn varnish forms an uneven base for painting, remove the old finish down to the bare wood before applying the priming coat. Soften the varnish with a good paste or liquid remover, then scrape the floor clean. Benzine will prove useful in wiping up any remaining wax. The initial paint coat must seal the boards to assure an even finish of adequate opacity. Consequently, specifications commonly call for a primer of 3 parts (by volume) soft paste white lead, 3 parts raw linseed oil and 2 parts turpentine.

To add body to the treatment, follow with a coat mixed from 6 parts soft paste white lead, 1 part raw linseed oil and 5 parts turpentine.

And, finally, for the utmost in service, finish off with a single coat of the following wear resistant formula: 6 parts soft paste white lead, 1 part raw linseed oil and 2 parts each of high grade floor varnish and turpentine.

Peaches, Peaches Everywhere

There should be peaches, peaches everywhere, on family tables now and on pantry shelves for winter use. In observance of Peach Week, July 24-31, let there be suggested.

Canned Peaches: Immerse the peaches in boiling water until skin will slip easily. Plunge into cold water. Remove skins, cut peaches in halves, discard pits. To prevent darkening and the loss of Vitamin C, drop the halves immediately into a solution made by dissolving 2 tablespoons vinegar in 1 gallon of water. Rinse fruit with clear water.

Make a light syrup by boiling for 5 minutes, 3 measures of water and one measure of sugar. Peaches may be packed raw, but a better pack is obtained if the fruit is first simmered in the syrup 4 to 8 minutes depending on the texture of the peach. Use a kettle or pan large enough to prevent stacking the halves. Do not cook until too soft to handle. Pack at once, placing the halves in over-lapping layers, the concave surface of each being downward. Fill container with boiling syrup. Process in water bath; quart and pint glass jars and No. 2 and 3 plain tin cans 15 minutes.

Peach Pickles

3 lbs. peaches (6 peaches to lb. average)
3 cups water
1 1/2 cups vinegar
1 lbs. sugar

2 tbs. mixed whole spices
White clingstone peaches are preferable. Select fruit, wash well, remove the skin carefully, as above for canning. Cook spicy syrup until it thickens, and add the fruit. Let stand overnight in the syrup. Drain off juice and boil until thick. Then add fruit again. Do not stir but keep under the slowly cooking syrup until peaches are tender. Pack hot into sterilized jars. Cover with a syrup, seal, polish and label. Store in a cool, dry place.

Crushed Peaches

Skin ripe peaches as above for canning. Pass the halves through food grinder with end perforated with large holes (better 1-2 inch foratedholes.) Pack at once into cans and to each gallon of fruit add syrup made by 1 1/3 cups sugar and 2 cups water boiled together 5 minutes. Exhaust 10 minutes. Seal at once and process in water bath 15 minutes for pints and No. 2 cans, 20 minutes for quarts and No. 3 cans.

The fruit can be heated in the syrup to 165 degrees F. and packed hot into cans and sealed at once and processed in the water bath as for canned peaches. This is an excellent way to utilize peaches that have good flavor but that are undesirable from size, spots that have been cut out, or that are a little too ripe to keep their shape well. Crushed peaches are suitable for serving at any meal.

Company D Bulletin Board

The Company enjoyed another barbecue after drill period last Friday.

Part of last Friday's program was taken up with a review of the recent guard duty undertaken by the Company. Several minor errors were brought to light, but with these few exceptions, the officers expressed themselves as being highly pleased with everything as a whole and are confident that in the future, the men can carry out their duties without a hitch.

Weekly articles, similar to this department, and concerning the affairs of the TDG Companies are now appearing in the newspapers of other towns in this area where Guard Companies are located.

Sergeant Black states that he was slightly confused for a short while last week. He says he understood Captain Edward's orders were for him to take charge of the Company for physical exercises, but the way the men dropped out when those who were not physically able to take calisthenics were given permission to do so, he thought that he might possibly have misunderstood the Captain and that his orders really were to dismiss the Company.

Many sections of Texas are reporting more rattlesnakes this year than for many, but no unusual number has been reported here. We recently saw more rattlesnakes between Post and Snyder than we have seen for years, if ever before.

Guests in the Tom May home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Stokes of Littlefield. Linda Beth Stokes, their daughter, who has been visiting Jo Pete and Ida the past two weeks returned home with them.

Mrs. E. Brown and Mrs. A. J. Stricklin visited the Herman Triggs in Snyder, Saturday.

New Army Trucks 'Can Take It'

America's military might is on the move! From Maine to California and from border to border, men and materiel this week are converging on the various summer maneuver areas, to begin in June the greatest schedule of simulated battle tactics ever held. For example, thousands of soldiers have already arrived in the Camp Forest area for the "Battle of Tennessee," where they will be joined by the famous "Rolling Fourth" and 2nd Armored Divisions from Fort Benning, Ga., and many other units from the East and Midwest.

Thousands of Chevrolet 4 x 4 army trucks have now taken their posts and are ready to face the rigors of the field, backed by months of testing under arduous conditions.

In the upper photo a Chevrolet 4 x 4 is shown on a 60% grade built especially for the testing of four-wheel-drive army trucks at the General Motors Proving Ground, while, below, it ploughs through a mud hole that would stop anything but one of these "iron horses" built for the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood and children Betty Jean and James Lee of Big Springs, were week end guests of Mrs. Underwoods brother Paul McDaniel and Mrs. McDaniel. They with the McDaniels were dinner guests of their aunt, Mrs. Roy Collier and Mr. Collier, Sunday.

Mrs. J. G. Butler and Mrs. Ruth Taylor of Lubbock and Mrs. J. W. Murchison of San Antonio spent the week end with Mrs. J. H. Dallas.

Miss Dorothy Stephens and Miss Opal Holcombe of Lubbock are the guests of Mrs. Lad Brownfield. Miss Stephens is a sister of Mrs. Brownfield.

Mrs. Bob Knott and son of Levelland, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter.

Advertising Pays

HOMER J. BUCKLEY, advertising specialist says:

1. It's a fallacy that the public will automatically seek the best.
2. It's a fallacy that the public knows the difference between price and value.
3. It's a fallacy that the public knows what it wants.
3. It's a fallacy that the public will automatically reward enterprise and service.
4. It's a fallacy that the public knows what it wants.
5. It's a fallacy that the public will demand over any great length of time what it is not reminded of.

Hence Mr. Buckley recommends persistent sales promotion and advertising.

NORTH SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

We are very happy over the attendance last Sunday at all services, but feel that there should be a larger number next Sunday, especially in view of the fact that all who are attending are receiving a great blessing and instruction. Will you be one of those present. The lesson is Colossians Two.

The sermon subjects both morning and night are simple Scripture messages that are both expository and evangelistic, and all may understand. Each Sunday morning the pastor, Jno. R. Denning, is bringing a series on the lives of Old Testament Characters, and their example for us. Next Sunday morning his subject will be: "Abraham, His Life and its Teachings."

Each Sunday night the messages are around "The Coming Crisis", and are prophetic in nature. Next Sunday night at 8:30 the subject will be: "An Age Heading Up in Tribulation." Come, bring your Bibles.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Our church opening and homecoming last Sunday was a happy affair and big success. The visitors and homefolks alike enjoyed the get-together and renewal of acquaintances. The speakings were good and all enjoyed the recalling of past happenings and the progress of the church. It was disappointing not to have our pews, for both the comfort and beauty of the church, but despite this lack and the big crowd, folks were comfortably seated. There were five babies baptised and six people came into the church at the morning service and one at the evening service. The bring-a-dish dinner served in our new dining room was a pleasant occasion. People visited and reminisced while they ate.

The church is now well equipped with Sunday School rooms, assembly rooms, chairs, tables etc. but the three departments in the new part of the building each need a piano.

Brother Hanks expects the seats in this week but regardless of them our services will be held in the church at the regular time from now on. Sunday school 9.45, church 11 for morning worship and the young people meet at 7.45 and church at 8.15 for evening services. We welcome all.

Pastor W. C. Wright of the Midway church of the Lamesa Association preached Sunday morning and evening in a very acceptable manner, Pastor Rogers being engaged in a revival with him in his church at Midway. The Missionary of District 9, J. Lowell Ponder will be present next Sunday and will preach at the morning and evening hours in the absence of the pastor. When the pastor is away for any reason a fine opportunity is given to every officer and teacher in the church organization to show the loyalty they talk about when the pastor is present and due to vacationing our attendance is not up to normal for several weeks and we must regain it.

In two more weeks, Dr. W. Y. Pond, one of the evangelists with the Texas Baptist convention, will preach for the church in the Summer revival and all of the officers and the people of the church should put this date, August 24th, in their calendar and be present and engage fully in this campaign for Christ and his cause.

Dr. Pond is a dynamic speaker and preacher and the entire town and community will know he has been here as he stirs any community he visits and his son goes with him and conducts the singing.

We would congratulate the Methodist people of the community upon the successful completion of their building as they greatly needed it in this growing city and about the best recommendation any town can have is good, well-equipped church buildings and we think that those who decry and belittle the churches should move out where there are no churches and try it awhile, but they will never do it.

Every one has a cordial invitation to bring their visitors with them to church here.

Gene Describes Daily Life At Ft. Bliss

SUNDAY, AUGUST 3, 1941
Reception Center
Fort Bliss, Texas

Dear friends:

It is hard for me to realize that I have been in this Army for five months, the time has flown by it seems. Most soldiers gripe and grumble because they have nothing to do to make the time pass away quickly, but since the day I arrived here it seems that I have no spare time. My daytime hours are taken up with the job of drilling recruits and the nights are usually spent appearing on some program. Here at the Reception Center we have a dandy dance orchestra made up of musicians from Texas, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Minnesota. All of the members are expert musicians and masters of their trade. In addition to the orchestra we have several fine singers, an excellent cartoonist a side-splitting black-face comedian and for some reason unknown to me the Reception Officer, Major Agee takes me along with the bunch to bang my guitar and sing "Ferdinand the Bull". The members of the troupe have a great time together and we have succeeded in building up a lot of goodwill between the Civilian populations surrounding El Paso and the Army. On Tuesday morning we will go to Artesia, New Mexico to put on a program for the Lion's and Rotary Clubs of that city.

Your children are growing day by day. Soon they will be grown and lost forever will be their sweet baby and childhood days. Unless of course you are keeping a printed record of all those cute smiles and tricks.

Keep your camera loaded — take a picture of them every few days. Some day these pictures will be your most treasured possession.

ALLEN STUDIO

Ft. Bliss is now a beehive of activity in preparation for the movement of over 25,000 soldiers to Louisiana to participate in the gigantic maneuvers scheduled for the next three months. Only a skeleton army will remain here during the maneuvers. Since I am a member of the Detached Enlisted Men's list I will not go on the maneuvers but will remain here to receive selectees who will continue arriving at the Reception Center.

Two new Reception Centers, one at Mineral Wells, Texas and the other at Denver, Colorado are to be opened this month and will be staffed by experienced men from the Ft. Bliss Reception Center. My toes have been itching a little during this hot weather in El Paso so I have asked for a transfer to one or the other of the above places, so if you hear from me from a new address don't be surprised.

George Cartwright is carrying around a new nickname tacked on by his fellow soldiers, yep—you guessed it—"Shorty." He is on special duty to the Provost Marshal of the Post but is still living in the Reception Center and hasn't yet received a permanent assignment. The going is pretty rough on an unassigned man as he is not permitted to send off his laundry or cleaning but has to do his own work. George is getting pretty good over a wash tub and can push a mean electric iron so you see that the Army is teaching him a new trade and the girls who work for Jim Millers' Laundry better look to their jobs when "Shorty" gets out of the Army.

The old Herald ink splasher, Horace Beck, came over to see me yesterday and brought the good news that he has received a $7.00 raise and is now a 5th class specialist. When he has put in four months service he will also get a first class private's rating which carries a $6.00 monthly additional pay. Incidentally, I am now wearing the stripe of a Private, First Class and have been recommended for a Corporal's rating. Wish to the dickens that the powers that be would hurry up and approve my warrant—there's a lot of difference between $36.00 and $54.00 per month.

That word "dickens" reminds me that my good friends the Dixons sent me a big box of peaches last week. My tent was a mighty popular place while they lasted and I want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Dixon for myself and my soldiering-mates. Little acts of kindness and thoughtfulness such as that gives a soldier a lot of encouragement and makes his pathway a lot easier.

I suspect that the folks back home are wondering what the reaction of the selectee is to the plan to keep him in the Army more than the year originally contemplated. The legislation has been followed by the one year men rather closely but most men never expected to get out within a year's time when they were first drafted and so they haven't been much excited about the proposition. Naturally there are some who are quite bitter but I would say that they are in the minority. For my own part I decided before I came to the Army that I would probably not get out at the end of my year and have never had very high expectations along that line. I work on the principle that if I expect a discharge I will be disappointed and if I don't get it, while if I don't expect one then I will be pleasantly surprised if I am released when my year is over. Since I am past 28 years of age there is a small possibility that Uncle Sam will send me back to my crutches and wheel chair. Move over Dad Tudor I may be with you soon.

With sincerest regards to all,
I am,
Very truly yours,
Gene Hurt

Texas Beauty Wins National Acclaim

Garments Under One Dollar Each

More than 84,000 rural families in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana are learning how to be "all dressed up in cottons" this summer as agents of the Farm Security Administration go into the homes of their clients to demonstrate new cotton wardrobes prepared with the cooperation of the National Cotton Council. Three of the new cotton frocks, each made at a cost of less than a dollar, are shown above. Left to right, a pinafore of cotton domestic, a sports frock of blue denim, and a suit of cotton ticking.

Keep Bottle Open - Railroad Companies

Today the most common expression we hear is "bottlenecks", said M. J. Gormley of the Association of American Railroads, recently, "but the railroad 'bottle' has no neck. It is open at both ends, providing for the free flow of transportation. A bottleneck can only be created if we violate the main principle of transportation—that cars must not be loaded until it is known that they can be unloaded promptly at destination."

The so called railroad failure in the last war was due almost 100 per cent to the widespread use of cars as warehouses. Storage and unloading facilities were completely inadequate. The result was that cars often stood for weeks and months, waiting for their cargoes to be discharged. Had those cars been unloaded promptly, there would have been no serious transportation problem in 1917 and 1918.

Today the railroad's plant is infinitely better than it was during the last war. For almost twenty years, the lines have been preparing and planning for precisely the sort of emergency that exists now. Their success is proved by the record. They have handled a steadily growing volume of defense orders. They have handled record breaking crop movements. They have handled their normal freight and passenger business. They have transported legions of soldiers and sailors along with thousands of carloads of supplies for navy yards and army cantonments. They have brought gigantic quantities of freight to Eastern ports to be loaded on ships for England. And they have done all that without the slightest delay, car shortage or congestion.

The railroads in other words, are prepared. They will continue to handle the nation's traffic with unexampled efficiency, so long as cars are unloaded immediately on arrival and freed for service elsewhere. Every hour saved in discharging railroad cars gives impetus to the defense drive. The railroads will do their part, and they ask only that shippers cooperate with them. Railroad cars are not and cannot be warehouses. The railroad "bottle" must be kept open.

Mrs. Mary Ola Tinkler and two daughters of Lamesa, were here a few days last week, the guests of relatives.

Truett Flache is attending a government school in Marshall. Upon completion of his work at this place, he will accept a position with the government. He expects to be located at Mt. Pleasant.

Stop Two-Wheeled Accidents, Begs Noted Safety Expert

Fifty per cent of the persons killed in bicycle accidents are children between the ages of 5 and 14, Paul W. Kearney, noted safety expert, points out in the current issue of the Rotarian magazine. Over 1,000 youngsters have been killed and over 51,000 injured in such accidents in the last three years, he reports.

The fault is not entirely that of the bicycle rider. The fault is largely lack of stress on what Mr. Kearney calls "The Three E's"—Enforcement, Education and Engineering". Few cities and towns, only about 150, have studied the "bike problem" at all, and these have been rewarded by an immediate drop in accidents.

The Third "E", Engineering, is of necessity slow and expensive, but enforcement and education can be readily put into practice. Requiring registration of bicycles is a helpful practice, but only if it is used to enforce the laws pertaining to bicycles and used to report infractions of the law and commonsense. Many towns that require taillights or reflectors for "bikes" ignore the ordinance and permit the ordinance and permit bicycle riders to pedal after dark with no sort of light to protect themselves—or to protect the motorist who cannot easily see a dark object against a dark field.

Safety lanes in schools have disclosed that few bicycles are up to mechanical safety standard. The first day of the test lane at Steinmetz High School in Chicago, only three machines passed! Most rejections were for lack of lights or horns.

Several communities have special "bicycle traffic courts", administered by youths themselves with the cooperation of the authorities. Many of these use the police to serve summonses, but the actual trial and admonition is by youth of high school age. Penalties are usually attendance at a traffic school for riders conducted by the police or safety engineers working with the police.

VISIT THE BIG BEND COUNTRY

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Money Price made reservations to look through the big telescope at the McDonald Observatory on last Wednesday night but upon their arrival there the heavens had become completely overcast and they with three hundred others were disappointed. The professor in charge gave a lecture and said that nearly every Wednesday night this year had been cloudy and they were sorry for the condition over which they had no control. The party was not daunted as there were miles of the Big Bend Park open to tourists and they proceeded to Alpine where they spent the night and saw the wonders of the park the next day. Mrs. Price stated that there are some of the prettiest drives in that section she ever beheld. Said they were not equalled by the scenery in California and Colorado, or any of the western states she has toured.

Mrs. W. E. Latham is recuperating from having her tonsils removed at the local hospital.

Coleman Park is Looming Up These Days

We had occasion recently to drive through Coleman park, that beautiful little 20 acre plot down on the draw. Of course the trees and shrubbery are not large yet, but give it time. The trees are making rapid growth this year, however and it won't be long now until one can sit in the shade and picnic without driving 40 miles.

A nice entrance gate has been completed, with proper markers to let one know that the park is named for Mayor Clyde C. Coleman, through whose efforts the park was started. Paving has been completed from highway 51 to the entrance, and the driveways through the park graveled. Weeds have been kept down so the trees and shrubs could be given the greatest advantage.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred A. Walker and children and Mrs. W. B. Chauncey spent a few days at Ruidoso and Carlsbad Caverns

Mrs. Flora De Young of Tipton, Okla., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Tucker and Mrs. Tucker.

Fire Insurance Earned Tribute

United States Representative Clifford Davis of Tennessee, recently paid the fire insurance industry a well-deserved tribute for its splendid work in aiding national defense through fire defense.

Addressing the House, he said: "The National Board of Fire Underwriters has undertaken this work under a dollar-a-year contract at a considerable expense to the capital stockfire insurance companies that compose its membership, without any wish for reimbursement, but simply a desire to serve the best interest of the country."

"Its recommendations for safeguarding cantonments, supply depots, hospitals, naval properties, warehouses, terminals and shipyards—its plans for the fire protection and defense were developed with the utmost thoroughness. As a result, when possession of Army cantonments was delivered to those in authority, fire losses amounting to less than $3,000 had been sustained in construction valued at more than $100,000,000.
