Son of a Spindletop oil pioneer, George A. Hill, Jr., of Houston will dedicate the monument to that field's first oil well during the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association here October 9-11.

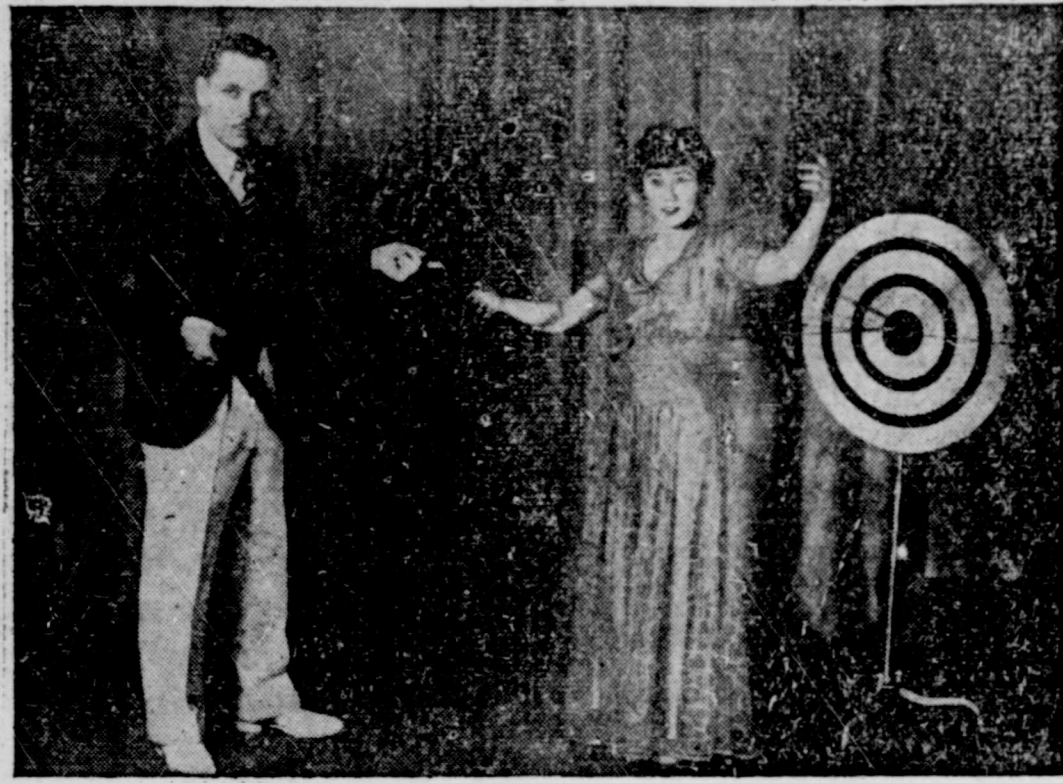

The dedication of the tall granite shaft will climax the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the Spindletop field, J Cooke Wilson, convention chairman, said. The program scheduled for Thursday after noon, October 9, will be broadcast.

One of the leading oil producers of the nation, Mr. Hill is head of the division of production of the American Petroleum Institute. His hobby is research into Texas history, in which field he is author of two books. He is an authority on the early history of Spindletop, America's first great oil field.

Mr. Hill's father was active during the boom days of the field. While there, Mr. Hill Sr. was chairman of the first conservation board in the history of the oil industry, heading a committee under authority from the district court there to see that operators completed their wells properly with adequate safety precautions.

A number of prominent oilmen who got their start at Spindletop in 1901 also will take part in the

Farm Program News

By Looe Miller

Speeding up work to get 1942 AAA allotments to farmers by November 1 is the gigantic task facing county offices now, L. A. Brock, chairman of the Terry County AAA Committee, announced this week.

Allotments are being issued about six months before the usual time since all decks must be cleared for the house-to-house canvass in the national defense program, the AAA official said. The farm plan sheet method, through which farmers plant crops for maximum payments under the AAA program, will be used by committeemen in the feed and food campaign.

Since greater production of milk, eggs and other foodstuffs, are being asked of Texas farmers, county goals will be announced in a few weeks. Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard outlined details of the defense program to southern agricultural workers in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29 and 30.

Flexibility of the AAA program to curtail production of surplus commodities and at the same time increase production of commodities essential to defense needs is evidenced in the 1942 AAA program which has been designed to meet a national emergency.

Cotton and peanut allotments will be established as in former years but no general allotments will be made because of the increased emphasis on feed and food.

Allotments will also be established for commercial Irish potatoes therefore any producer wishing an allotment must apply at the AAA office at once.

Determining an average lint yield and premium rate per acre for every cotton farm in Terry county is the first task to be accomplished under the cotton crop insurance program.

We hope to start writing insurance applications in the county later in the fall, however, detail work will not begin until 1942 farm allotments have been determined.

The 1934-1940 cotton history for a farm will be the basis of determining the lint yield for a farm.

Premium rates, which will reflect as nearly as possible the crop insurance risks on the farm, will be taken from losses shown in the base period. By this method, each farm will have an individual rating and the possibility of the good farmers carrying part of the risk cost of the poor farmer will be avoided, the AAA official pointed out.

Baptist Church News

The new teachers and department officers were in charge last Sunday morning and a number of new classes have been formed all of which changes are somewhat confusing but it comes only one time each year and now that it is over let everyone give their full support and cooperation. It is believed that with the larger number of classes more people will be reached for the study of the Bible and if such is the case it will be worth while, and if mistakes have been made they will soon be corrected.

Many have thought for some time that a helper for the pastor should be employed who will direct the educational work in the church and if a suitable person can be found he will no doubt be employed but much care will be exercised that such a man

The Training Union has been making progress, but here too, is a great field for the training especially of young Christians where they may be taught how best to serve as workers and leaders and the young people who miss this service in their younger years will be greatly deficient in their capacity to serve throughout their lives, but this fact is not recognized by many of them and they need to be brought into this useful service and here too, the proper pastor's helper could devote much time and effort very profitably.

There is a left out feeling on the part of too many people of the MEMORABLE PASSAGE — "Erected to commemorate the heroic period of early Texas history and to celebrate a century of the independence and progress of Texas as a Republic and State and dedicated to the study of the natural sciences and civic history." —These lines appear high on the exterior wall over the west entrance of the five-story Texas Memorial Museum at Austin.

Q. What was the first city in Texas to use natural gas for heating, cooking, and for industrial purposes?

A. Corsicana, Navarro County. About 1900, Corsicana began using gas from its local fields. Marshall was the second city a short time after Corsicana began.

FOUR LEAGUES OF LAND — Analyzing the disposition of Texas' public domain recently, Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, pointed out that four leagues of land were set aside for the schools of each county. These lands are under the control of the commissioners' courts of the various counties and are not within the province of the General Land Office. Fifteen counties, Commissioner Giles said, were organized too late to receive any such lands. A total of 239 counties in Texas have received 4,229,166 acres of land for local school purposes.

Q. When and what was the peak production of petroleum in Texas?

A. Texas' peak production of petroleum was in 1937, when 510,318,000 barrels of crude valued at $594,500,000 were produced.

IF — the footage drilled in Texas' 9,775 oil wells in 1940 alone were extended into one hole, it would reach entirely through the earth leaving a "hole" of 500 miles in the air at each end. The footage for the year was 36,604,646 or more than 7,000 miles.

Q. Have any species of mammals become extinct in Texas recently?

A. Yes. The State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reports three species of Texas Mammals to be extinct. They are the jaguar, the Merriam Elk, and the Texas grizzly bear.

WHAT A RAIN!!! — The heaviest rainfall ever recorded in Texas fell in Taylor, Williamson County, during the 24-hour period of September 9-10, 1921. A total of 23.11 inches fell, including 17 inches during one 12-hour calendar day.

Q. To whom shall I write to get information about the old cattle trails of Texas?

A. J. Frank Dobie, Austin is perhaps the best informed Texan on almost any subject regarding Texas. He is a great author, a typical Texan, and will be glad to give you whatever information he has pertaining to the subject of trails.

FOR TEN CENTS — you can get a 28-page leaflet containing hundreds of interesting Questions and statements about your state. Send to this paper or A. Garland Adair, Austin.

Some 'super-patriots' raise a howl of righteous indignation against giving any aid to Russia. If we are going to try to whip Hitler, why shouldn't we help Russia, as the Red forces are doing a great job against Hitler's armies. We do not have to approve their ideas, political or religious. We have no right to dictate to other nations as to the form of government. We made no squawk against Poland, who was about as undemocratic as a nation could be. —Anson News

ANS. QUEEN ISABELLA OF SPAIN. COLUMBUS BROUGHT BACK SOME COTTON IN 1493 AS PROOF THAT HE HAD DISCOVERED A NEW ROUTE TO INDIA!

There is something pathetic when a candle burns out; something intensely human is connected with watching the flicker and die. So often we witness the same in men we have desired to honor, and after honoring them have Time unmask the truth and, half in sorrow, half in disgust, see the flame of their greatness falter, flicker and die. A case in point is Charles A. Lindbergh. How we honored him in 1927 when his hand piloted the first aircraft across the Atlantic Ocean and brought it down safely in France; to him went the glory although two others were close on his heels and these have been almost forgotten. Now he unmask himself and we have an exhibit of the real Lindbergh—and how infinitesimally small he is. Men from every walk, editors, financiers, industrialist, students, law makers, folks, seek to find the motivating influence in connection with Lindbergh's stand, but none have found it despite the fact that assertions and predictions made by him since the German armies marched on Poland have been proven unfounded, and he fails to answer the questions concerning his position. —Rochester Reporter.

A similar situation holds in the beer industry. The vast majority of beer retailers operate clean, decent law-abiding establishments. Now and then an occasional "black sheep" retailer turns up who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

The Beer Industry is now actively working to eliminate such retailers. We want to protect your right to drink good beer and our right to make it.

We also want to protect the economic benefits of beer. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from more than 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only the reputable places where beer is sold, and (2) reporting any law violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

No 'Good Old Days' For Mr. Jack Pratt

By Jack Pratt in the Pickets County (A.A.) Herald

Did you ever hear a friend or neighbor say, "Those good old days are gone forever?" Well better for us that they have. We happen to remember what those "good old days" were like. It required three days for a cotton farmer to go to market and return, hauling one or two bales of cotton on a mule or ox wagon over muddy roads, camping on the roadside or in dirty camp houses, which when sold, would hardly pay for the little box of necessities which were written on a list carried in the vest pocket.

The cotton was cultivated with a home made wooden plow stock, the yield was never over half a bale to the acre. The corn was good if 10 bushels were produced to the acre, and the women and girls were content to wear cotton checks and gingham dress, black cotton stockings and high topped shoes; to riding four miles to church and Sunday school on a mule wagon, and to have one dance a year, when it was a disgrace to hold your partner other than by the hand and then while dancing only. With those days and our present manner of spending, the farmer would not be able to pay his taxes much less keep up the family automobile and dress in style. A man in those days who had a bank roll of a thousand dollars was considered a rich man.

Young men hired themselves out for $4.00 and board, the school children walked three and four miles to summer schools—there were no schools in the winter time. How many of you can remember when you had biscuit once a week and when company came?

How many of you learned to read by a pine knot fire? How many of you raised your own smoking tobacco and smoked a cob pipe? How many remember the first lamp with a chimney used by the family? How many remember the days when a young man with a horse and buggy was the idol of all the girls of the community? Don't say "Good Old Days" to us.

We remember too well picking four cent cotton when it was covered with ice and frost, digging ditches with a shovel and spade, splitting pine poles into rails all winter and building fences all spring; breaking bull yearlings to pull a wagon and riding a razor back mule to mill; ginning cotton on a water gin, carrying it in baskets to the screw press and packing it with a mule; sleeping in the cotton house when company came, and whipping ticks off your legs with "pinerile," and fighting flies away from the table with a peacock feather brush, or more often a peach limb, and driving the mosquitoes away with smoking rags. No more of those "good old days" for us, no sire!

(Handed in by H. P. French, Yoakum County reader at Tokio, who had just visited the old home county in Alabama.)

Who was it that said the flag was going to be changed to 47 stars and a biscuit?

Although the special session to pass the county bond assumption law has just been over a short time, already agitation has started for another special session. While the legislature is in session, uncertainty as to new taxes and new laws keeps business men, industry and the public in general disturbed and worried, and—as one observer expresses it—Texas is entitled to a recess from politics so its people can settle down to doing things that will enable them to pay the new taxes—state and federal—and to turning out the things needed for national defense.

Del Rio has always suggested excitement to me. It all goes back to the days of my childhood when my father had his boxball tent on the principal street of the border town. Just across the street was a saloon, and from time to time the crash of overturned tables and the smash of glasses could be heard. Once the door flew open and three husky fellows came out, bearing the marks of battle, and last of all came the victor, the smallest man of the lot, his chest puffed out like a banty rooster.

While we were living in Del Rio, there was a revolution in Mexico and so a troop of American cavalry came to town. Some of them camped for a few days on the vacant lot next to us . . . Barbecue pits were on several of the corners (like filling stations are now) and the goat barbecue was very good . . . The stream that divided the town was singularly blue and you could stand on the bridge and gaze at the big silver fish in the clear depth. On the other side of the bridge was the Mexican portion of Del Rio with such formidable names as "Boston Barber Shop" and "the New York Store" . . . Bread from the little Mexican bakeries with their adobe ovens in the back yard was delicious. I wonder if it would taste as good now.

It is needless to name him, says the Milwaukee Post.

He is hated by the people of America, of Czecho-Slovakia, of Poland, and of Denmark. He is hated by the people of Norway, of Holland, of Belgium and of France. He is hated by the people of Yugoslavia, of Greece and of England. He is hated by millions in Germany, by millions in Italy, by millions in other European countries and in Asia, Africa, South and Central America.

Can such a man win a permanent place in the world? He arose by appealing to hate. He attracts what he gives out—hatred. He will go down in a storm of hatred.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. How do I get the highest return on my investment in Defense Savings Bonds?

A. By holding each Bond for its full term of years you will secure the full maturity value. A Defense Savings Bond of Series E increases in value 33 1-3 percent if held for 10 years.

Q. Is the Government concerned over whether I buy my Defense Savings Stamps at Post Offices, banks, savings and loan institutions, retail stores, or elsewhere?

A. No. The Government is interested in having as many persons as possible take a hand in the National Defense Program. Toward that end the Treasury is making Bonds and Stamps available for the purchase in the largest number of places possible.

Note.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps are now on sale at retail stores.

"SHAME ON YOU, SYBIL"

A certain enterprising West Texas newspaper has found a new, and perhaps strongly effective method in dealing with home-folks who go shopping in nearby cities for items they probably could buy just as well from home merchants. In the "Personal" column last week a brave reporter made note that "Miss Sybil Roberts shopped in Lubbock Friday" and then in parenthesis ("Shame on you, Sybil").

It takes just a little more than poetic license to approach a delicate subject like leaving home to buy ordinary items of merchandise, in this fashion. The writer evidently knew Sybil in a neighborly, friendly basis, and will likely be able to get away with it, with nothing more serious than a little passing repartee.

This incident, however, points a moral. Our Sybils, and Richards, too, should trade at home—and the less shame they feel about doing so, becomes a greater menace to the stability of the old home town.—Clarendon News.

My Week

by Eleanor Roosevelt

AN ENTERTAINING EVENING

We had an interesting evening as we watched some short documentary films, and then two gentlemen, Mr. Charles L. Todd and Mr. Somkin, who have been making recordings of interesting folk songs and dance music in the migratory camps on the West coast, for the Library of Congress, played some of their records.

One, a song by a boy of 14, was a gem, though he was covered with confusion and ran away when he heard it played! Many of the records, like the song written by a woman about her trip from Texas to the West, were heart-rending, in spite of the fact that one could not help laughing at certain little twists of language and expression.

These recordings are going to be historically interesting, but the inspiring thing to me is that people can live through such hardships and still have music in their souls and the ability to express themselves hopefully. Mr. Todd told me that when they have a dance, or are happy, over the prospect of work or some small event in their daily lives, these people apparently seem to be able to enjoy themselves with complete forgetfulness of the past and the future. They have learned what so many of us do not learn—that the present is the only thing we really possess.

CHINESE PHILOSOPHY

That night I read a little volume, arranged for publication by Stanwood Cobb. It is called, "The Wisdom of Wu Ming Fu," and is a collection of his translated poems and sayings. The Chinese philosophy over the centuries has come to the same conclusion as our migrants, and they would agree with Mr. Fu that "it should be our concern to make each present moment perfect."

"WE HOLD THESE TRUTHS"

The next day was most beautiful and four of us went by car to Sugar Loaf mountain and basked in the sun, with a beautiful view spread out below us. After lunch, in the shade of some trees, with the rocks as our seats, we read aloud the preface to a short anthology called "We Hold These Truths," compiled by Stuart Gerry Brown of Grinnell, Iowa.

This address impressed me, for I know two pretty good representatives of what American citizenship means, who are now in Washington and who have had close association with this same place in the past. This anthology is a collection of documents, written by our great men over the period of our whole history. Documents which all of us frequently want and should turn to, to clarify our own beliefs.

One afternoon I received Dr. Juan Carlos Blanco, the ambassador of Uruguay and Madame Blanco, and Mr. Fernand Dennis, the minister of Haiti, and Madame Dennis. They were my first diplomatic visitors for the fall, and they certainly were charming ones.

Secretary and Mrs. Morgenthau dined with us that night, and the next day Mrs. Morgenthau was catching up on some of the civilian defense work on which we are going to work together in the coming months. I find a wealth of volunteers who are anxious to do something useful, but I shall not be satisfied until I begin to see people actually at work in communities all over the country. That is where the real civilian defense must have its roots.

By proxy, that day, I learned a good deal about my new job, because Mrs. Henry Morgenthau Jr. met the staff in the morning, and sat in on Director LaGuardia's meeting. In the afternoon, she met with another group, which discussed the complexities of the jurisdiction of work. All existing organizations will finally be drawn into a pattern where everybody will do his best with the least possible friction.

Anybody with experience knows what this can mean in the way of difficulty during the period of organization. A hundred times a day I shall wish what I have so often wished in the past, that human beings could be reconstructed overnight. If we would think only of the objectives to be achieved and never of the instruments to be used, least of all ourselves, how much more we could accomplish.

Great teachers through the ages have tried to teach us that this is the only efficient way of working and, perhaps, in the end, the only way through which any civilization can be saved. However, we do not always believe these teachers.

"DIGGING FOR MRS. MILLER"

I read through a little book called "Digging for Mrs. Miller," by John Strachey. It is an account of the experiences of an air raid warden in England. It is certainly different from anything I have ever read by him before. He is dealing with facts, whereas in the past he has dealt almost always with theories. It is a valuable little book and will enable people to visualize daily life for the ordinary man and woman where total defense is required.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McDuffie were Lubbock visitors Sunday.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

IT WAS no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said — these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car — certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry and cherish the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are! You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnaught Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

TEXAS LONGHORN STEER FOR U. S. ZOO

A typical Texas longhorn steer, sought for many years by the National Park Zoo in Washington, D. C., has at last been found. T. T. East, rancher of Hebronville, (Jim Hogg county) donated the steer to the Zoo. It is 12 years old, weighs 1,200 pounds and has a horn spread of 8 feet.

SLOW POKE DRIVING UNLAWFUL

Texas' new speed laws have this significant paragraph: "It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a vehicle upon the public highway or streets so as to willfully obstruct or impede the normal movement of traffic. Police are authorized to enforce this provision by directions to the drivers."

OLD AGE PENSIONS HIGHER

Texas old age pension rolls reached an all-time high for September with payments going to 150,944 persons. Average payment also was slightly higher, Director J. S. Murchison said. In August approximately 148,350 pensioners received an average of $18.56.

JOBS FOR TOMORROW

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

New Deep Wildcat Test For N. W. Terry

Materials were being moved in for the Terry County wildcat to be drilled by the American Drilling Corp. of Hobbs, N. M., on land of W. T. Hufnall of Houston, 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 14, block D14, C & M survey.

The proposed 6,500-foot test will be 4 1-2 miles northeast of The Texas Co. No. 1 Murphy, a dry hole, and about the same distance and slightly east of the Geo. P. Livermore, Inc., of Lubbock No. 4 Jacobson, the nearest producer in the Slaughter field, in Terry county. Out of an original block of 1,440 acres assembled by J. H. Welborn of Brownfield and Jack Markham of Lubbock. Spreads were sold to Sinclair-Prairie, Honolulu and Skelly, and Argo made a dry-hole contribution.

NOTICE

I have sold my grocery and meat market on the highway to Drew Hobby, of O'Donnell, Texas, changing ownership on Oct. 4th. I wish to express my sincere thanks for the nice business my friends and customers have given me. I feel sure Mr. Hobby will appreciate your business very much. Thank you!

Connally To Speak To Texas Dirt Farmers

Texas' Senior U. S. Senator Tom Connally who will be in Texas about the middle of October, today was invited to be a special guest of the Dirt Farmers Congress and to address the Farmer - Stockman Banquet honoring Governor and Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson, on Oct. 14, in Austin, according to an announcement by Bailey B. Ragsdale, President of the Congress. The Banquet is to be held in the Texas University Union Hall at 7 P. M.

The newly created Rice Development Commissions of the states of Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, and the comparatively new Texas State Soil Conservation Board will be in full attendance. Other notables who will attend the farmers-rancher's affair are Hon. Homer Leonard, Speaker of the House of Representatives, who will serve as Toastmaster, and Dr. Homer Price Rainey, President of Texas University, who will deliver the address of welcome; and, Dr. T. O. Walton, President of Texas A and M College, who will deliver one of the responsive addresses.

Governor Stevenson, widely known as a down to earth stockman is the first from the ranks of agriculture to become Governor in more than a quarter of a century. It is therefore fitting and proper that the agriculture producers and allied interests of this state so honor him and Mrs. Stevenson, as charming First Lady as has ever graced the Governor's Mansion, Ragsdale said.

Over 900 farm and ranch organization officials and other agricultural leaders and, including ladies, will attend, he pointed out and added at the rate request for reservations now coming in, it appears that all reservations will be taken within another week.

Mrs. Vance Glover is staying in Lubbock this week with a sister who underwent an operation in a Lubbock hospital Sunday.

Mrs. N. L. Mason and son, Gene returned to Monohans Sunday after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Price.

MRS. HARRY CORNELIUS

Mention briefly of the passing and funeral of Mrs. Harry Cornelius was made in this paper last week. The Herald cannot refrain from a short mention of this fine lady this week.

She was born 38 years ago at Hedrick, Okla. Some two years ago, Mrs. Patterson moved with her two children to Brownfield, and about ten months ago accepted a position as cashier at the Palace Drug Store.

Few can ever forget that smiling, accommodating lady that waited on one at the cigar stand, or accepted their cash in payment of an account. All from the youngest to the eldest learned to love and respect Mrs. Patterson, and more recently, Mrs. Cornelius after she and Harry were married. It is good to have known people of her makeup.

Little solace can we offer to her bereft husband and children, to her aged mother, brothers and sisters. But as sure as Christ lived and died, there is a place where partings never come.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mosier, Big Spring, a fine boy named Micheal Allen, last Tuesday, Sept. 30.
