

Sandage Tells Why He's For Allred

Editor, Terry County Herald, Gentlemen(?)

History tells us that Napoleon said that he would fear two uncontrolled newspapers more than he would fear ten thousand bayonets. Anyway, it is great to live in a country where we have free speech, free press, religious and political freedom, due process of law and trial by jury.

Our newspapermen are permitted to either defend or criticize our President, our Supreme Court, our Military officers, our county officers, and a newspaperman might also be permitted to criticize the official record of Sen. O'Daniel, and still be considered a gentleman, provided some of the O'Daniel supporters do not know about it. We see that one Texas Congressman has stated that we are now losing the war, and warned that we must put forth a hard effort, and make many sacrifices in order to turn the tide, and stated that it would be a long, bloody struggle.

Sen. O'Daniel tells us that it is to be a short war, and that we are already over the hump. I would like for some one to tell me who to believe, what to believe, when to believe and how to believe.

We were told that there ain't gonna be no run-off. Now we are told that "Pappy" will easily win in the Second Primary. What will we be told after the run-off is over? I do not pretend to know what the result of the election will be. I do know that the election is not over—yet. The common citizens have already voted to keep a "professional politician" in the governor's office and if you don't believe it, just ask Hal Collins.

We should remember that in 1938, Bascom Giles had more than 49 percent of the vote in the first primary, and lost in the run-off. Judge Sharpe of the Supreme Court in 1934, was further behind his opponent than Allred is now and he won in the run-off by a substantial majority.

Some people say they can't see why Judge Allred gave up a lifetime job at $10,000 per year to enter the Senate race. History tells us that we have had several unselfish men in our own and other countries, who have been willing to make great sacrifices in order to serve their people and their country. Have we forgotten the Gracchi, who gave their very lives in an attempt to better conditions in their country?

The Sans Culotte of France would have never destroyed the Bastille without the guiding hand of men like Mirabeau and Lafayette, who were inspired by an indomitable sense of justice, and who helped the half-naked and wholly-starved people of France bring about better conditions. Then here in our own country, we have had our own George Washington, who for five long, dreary years, he gave up a home of comfort—worked or fought without any thought of salary—endured untold hardships and finally helped establish the best form of government under the shining sun—the government that has meant so much to you and me—and did it because he was like our own Jimmie Allred—willing to make a sacrifice in order to serve his country.

Those who write history will perhaps say of Jimmie Allred that he was loyal to his country and his friends; loyal amidst treachery, sham and fraud; true in the midst of deceit, camouflage and undue criticism; brave in the midst of faltering and paltering cowardice; honorable when honesty seemed to be at a premium; stalwart, self-reliant, aggressive and progressive, when men everywhere were abjectly surrendering their God given right to stake out for themselves a place in the world; a man whom misfortune could not daunt, whom sorrow could not dismay, whom calumny could not discourage, who clung to hope when others said he should yield to despair, who saw a sunlit sky when others could see nothing but darkness, one who, when evil tongues attempted to whisper his

Getting The New Airport In Fine Shape

C. A. McLaughlin, local cotton broker, and Tommy Black of the Board of Development, picked up the Senior and Junior members of this firm Wed. afternoon, for a drive out to the new city-county airport, 4½ miles east of the city on the Tahoka highway.

The grass has been burned off perhaps a quarter of the section, and five bulldozers were used early this week in tearing up the mesquite bushes and leveling the runways. More of the section will be used when and if demanded by the government. Wide runway strips have been built in all directions, so that no matter which way the wind is blowing, there will always be a strip to take off.

The grounds are a lot smoother than one can imagine, and a car or plane has no trouble negotiating any part of it. It is the intention of the promoters to build at least a 20-plane hanger at present, and they are scouting all over this area to find old warehouses or other buildings for sale that will answer for the hanger and offices.

Gas is nearby and can easily be piped to the offices, and a small park will be started. If the government decides to use the grounds the city will run a power and light-wire to the grounds. At present, however, it is not proposed to light the field.

Band Instructor Has Been Secured

E. E. Hancock, superintendent of the local schools, announced this week that Mr. Hardy E. Williams has been secured to instruct the local band. Mr. Williams was at Roscoe the past year, and was formerly at Olton. He comes to our schools well recommended.

Mr. Hancock stated that the band school would start at 10 A. M., Monday, Aug. 17, at the high school. He stressed that fact that it would be imperative that if a student wishes to take band instruction this year that they be on hand the first day, and get an even start with the other students.

The Brownfield band has always been a good one. Let's all assist Mr. Williams to the best of our ability this year in making it even better, if possible.

Report A Big Allred Rally Last Week

A number from here attended the Allred rally and business meeting at Lubbock, last week. Mr. McIver stated that he had a much larger crowd at both the business meeting as well as the speaking later than he did at his first appearance in Lubbock earlier this summer. Several former Moody men, as well as a few O'Daniel men attended, he stated.

McIver says that Jimmie was really in his element that night, and made one of the best political speeches he ever heard. Senator O'Daniel's name was never mentioned, but his position on a number of vital war measures was attacked.

good name away, squared his own conduct to the teaching of the sermon on the Mount, who fought against overwhelming odds, who snatched victory from defeat, who so lived to bring hope to despairing humanity, who refused to call Washington City an insane asylum; one who cooperated with, and had the respect and friendship of President Roosevelt, the best president we have had since the days of Washington, a man who was a real friend to our gallant soldier boys, and one who was hated and feared by our enemies within who attempted by all unfair means to cripple the war effort of our country. A man who could uphold his commander-in-chief when he rightly allowed saboteurs and persons convicted of treason to pay with their lives for the crimes they committed against our country.

All these good things, and many more may some day be written about Jimmie Allred.

Jacob Sandage,
Rt. 5, City.

26 Certificates Issued To Food Handlers

In bringing to a close such a series of schools in Brownfield, the 3 week's training school for food handlers conducted by the local Health Department in co-operation with the State Health Department, it was announced today by the local Health Unit that 26 individual certificates were awarded and placards of approval were placed in five food establishments.

These men and women have studied bacteriology, Communicable diseases, medical zoology, foods, disinfection and sterilization, personal hygiene and sanitation, and have passed the required tests on their relation to sanitation and food handling.

Individual food handlers are proud of their certificates, which signify their successful completion of the training courses offered by the State and local Health Departments; to the public the establishment's placard of approval signifies that his employees have been instructed in safe methods of food preparation and handling, as well as satisfactory standards of cleanliness and sanitation. Food establishments where placards of approval are displayed have shown by virtue of their attendance and meeting of sanitary requirements that they are interested in protecting their customer's food from contamination.

The local Health Unit announces that the following individuals were awarded certificates: Kyle Graves, Ted Hardy, James Mullins, O. W. Schellinger, Madison Weaver, Haskell Harris, Bill Shaddock, Henry Chisholm, Paul McDermott, Drew Hodby, Mrs. Drew Hodby, Mary Edith Hudson, Ola Mae Justiss, A. E. Cary, Perry Crawley, Walter Morris, B. S. Morris, Mrs. M. E. Brown, Don Cates, Lois Taylor, Mrs. J. W. Nelson, Mrs. W. W. Teer, Dorothy Blanton, Shirley Bond, Inez V. Chandler, and Margaret Travis.

Placards of approval were awarded the following food establishments: Alexander Drug Co., Chisholm Food Store, Harris Food Market, Drew Hodby Grocery and Market, and Kyle Grocery.

No Retreads For The Speeders

Rationing boards all over the nation have warned the speeder, the guy who stops and starts his car by spinning the wheels; the guy or guyena who turns a corner one one fore and rear wheel, need not make application for new tires or retreads.

Yep, the officers have been instructed to watch people on the roads as well as on the streets, and if you have a speeding ticket, your goose is cooked so far as getting new tires, or having the old one retreaded or relined.

Most any old tire if run on not more than 30 or 35 miles per hour, will last a long time. That was the full speed of the old T models, you'll remember, and will actually get you there.

We'll All Appreciate Insurance Reduction

With most everything going the other way including federal, state, county, school and city taxes, along with food and clothing, the announcement that Texans will get a big reduction in their fire insurance policies is a welcome bit of news.

According to Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, the reduction will save the state $3,200,000 on their insurance premiums, and between $5,000 and $6,000 to Brownfield.

It is quite unusual in war times to get insurance reductions, but with better fire fighting equipment as well as better trained men both in paid and voluntary fire departments, the reductions of losses the past few years has been sufficient to justify the reduction.

Bill McGowan left Tuesday for San Antonio, where he will be in the Army Air Corps.

Good News For Pig Raisers—Bad For Eaters

According to the dailies, pork has been pegged at 9.35 on the foot at Chicago, which means something like 8c per pound here in Terry county, and is a great incentive for our farmers to produce more pork. In fact, pigs farrowed now will make the ideal shot 285 we believe, by March next.

With worlds of feed now growing in Terry, and the fact that railroad cars will be at a premium in moving essential foods and munitions, it would not be a bad idea for our farmers to get a few pigs and prepare them for market.

While the high pork is good news, it has no sweet chord for the consuming town and city people, and for that reason, the price was pegged. Beef and pork producers who remember the other war, with its high priced meat, to be followed by "meatless" days will agree to the hedging.

They will remember that the consumer remembered the "meatless" days too long after the war was over. It took years to get our nation back to eating more meat.

Sgt Bowman Even Reads The Ads

Had a short letter this week from Sgt. James T. Bowman (Jimmie) to his buddies, who is just fixing to go out in the desert on maneuvers. He wants his Herald changed to the new address as he says he practically memorizes each issue, even including the want ads.

It just so happened that his dad dropped into the office for the same purpose, and told us a few things that are happening to Jimmie, fast, these days. He has had two promotions, first a corporal and now a sergeant. He is in the finance division, and is trying to make Uncle Sam a real hand. Here is a sample of what he hears and sees:

Recently an officer called the finance crew together to go into Los Angeles after the payroll of several million dollars. There was an armored car for them, and in ahead and on the side and in the rear were soldiers with six shotguns, sawed-off shotguns, sub-machine guns, and what have you.

Arriving at the bank, the streets were cleared for two blocks, and the finance crew went in after the money and put it in the armored car. The same procession left the bank with all sirens going. Jimmie told his dad that he really got a thrill out of the incident.

Save All Your Old Greases To Sell

There is now a market for your old rancid fats, such as fried meat grease, skimmings from soups, and left over lards. But this grease must be heated, and carefully strained into a vessel to remove all meat parts and other foreign matter.

Piggly Wiggly and perhaps other grocery stores are paying 3c per pound for this grease. As we understand the matter, fats are becoming scarce, and as fats are used in glycerine, from which explosives are made, the government needs these fats.

James Thurman Somewhere In England

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thurman, who live about two miles southeast of the city, were in this week and informed us that they had received a letter from their son, James, who is now somewhere in England. He is in good health and enjoying himself, they stated.

Should some of his friends want to drop him a letter, it will reach him addressed as follows: Pvt. James E. Thurman, 8074463, 9th Fighter Sq., APO 873, U. S. Army, cr. P. M., New York, N. Y.

A Weekend Out To The Mountains

The Herald bunch, Senior, Junior and wives, along of course with the 3rd edition, bundled up a few belongings last Friday and hustled off to Ruidoso, New Mexico, up where the tall pines pine through the night and the babbling brook murmurs its accompaniment, and where a fire at night feels about like they do here in October.

It's a fine place to spend a few days or all summer if you are able to stand the gaff. There are lots of Brownfield folks there all the time. Some including Mrs. L. M. Winger maintain their own summer home, and she entertains many guests, including soldiers from Ft. Bliss and Air Base boys from Lubbock. This is mighty fine of the Wingers.

Others like our selves were there in their rented cabins, and this included J. B. Knight and family, who have been there some time, and Bruce admitted that most of this time was spent sleeping, eating and resting.

Returned via El Paso, as the ladies had to visit Juarez and buy "junk" to us. Didn't cost much but satisfied them. This is the third town in Old Mexico we have visited, and we must say that Juarez (pronounced Warez) is decidedly the cleanest and best paved. Saw no open air meat markets over there, the places being seemingly as clean as across the river in El Paso, Texas.

Late when we left El Paso, so we drove only to Carlsbad, N. M., where we spent the night, and on home next day, Monday. Had good rains all the way from some 25 miles west of Hobbs, N. M., to Seagraves, Texas. This rain fell Sunday, and will be very beneficial to ranges. No crops in that section to speak of west of Seminole.

Got home around noon, with two or three days work stacked up on us, when we really needed two or three days to rest. Such is a week-end vacation.

Did You Get That $5 Red Stamp

We note a few cars here and there that have never obtained that little $5 red stamp from the postoffice that permits one to drive the old bus. We have it on good authority that Federal men are now out looking for cars without them, and it is a $25 fine and maybe a jail sentence, or both, not to have them.

And to get by the law, it is up to you to prove that you have not driven the Jitney or Chevy since July 1. If you have had the old bus in the stall all that time, ok; otherwise the burden of the proof is on you.

President Young Democrats To Speak For Allred

Hon. C. L. Harris, former State Representative of Dickens, Kent, Garza, Scurry and Fisher counties, and at present President of Texas Young Democrats, will speak here Saturday in the interest of Jimmie Allred for US Senator.

Mr. Harris' itinerary is announced as follows: At Meadow at 3:00 P. M.; at Brownfield at 4:30 P. M.; and Seagraves at 6:30 P. M. It is supposed that he will speak here in the court park, from the band stand.

Applewhite Takes Charge Of Implement Business

James Applewhite, son of J. K. Applewhite, implement man of Tahoka, has moved here to manage the International Harvester implement business. He has had charge of the O'Donnell store, closed recently for the duration of the war. Mr. Applewhite has a wife and two children.

He will take the place of C. T. Edwards, who is a reserve captain in the army, and is expecting to be called into the service any day now.

Mrs. Yvonne Forbes is visiting her father in Hobbs, N. M.

Revival Starts Sunday At First Baptist Church

DR. I. L. YEARBY

The revival at the First Baptist church, Brownfield, begins Sunday, August 16th and continues through Sunday, August 30, with services twice daily at 10:00 A. M. and 8:45 P. M. The evening services will be preceded with a prayer service beginning at 8:15 P. M.

The church has secured the help of Dr. I. L. Yearby, for 15 years pastor of the First Baptist Church of El Paso, as preacher in the meeting. Dr. Yearby is one of the greatest preachers among Southern Baptists. His work is outstanding in character and success. If you fail to hear this man of God, you will miss a great spiritual treat.

Rev. J. C. Cohen, Gospel singer, for many years in Texas will have charge of the music. Rev. Cohen got his training at Moody Bible Institute. He has probably won more folks to Christ than any other Gospel singer in Texas.

It is hoped the meeting will be a blessing to the entire community. Everybody is welcome to attend any and all services.

Jaycees Name Brewer Army, Air Corps Recruiting Chairman

Primary objective of Texas Jaycees during the coming year will be the assistance of various organizations over the state in the recruiting program of the Army and Army Air Corps.

Vernon Brewer has been named chairman of local recruiting committee, and Colonel Durette, in charge of Army and Air Corps enlistments, will contact Vernon regarding his assignment at a later date.

Special stress will be made upon recruiting of aviation cadets for the Army from the 18 and 20 year age groups, however age limit is 26 years.

Brownfield Jaycee urge all young men interested in aviation to contact Mr. Brewer for any information desired.

Remembered Us With Some Peaches

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Thomason of south Terry, remembered the Herald family with a nice basket of peaches from their orchard 'other day, which were prime eaters, and as we managed for some cream and sugar, it surely was a treat.

They did not state the variety, but they looked the part of the Mamie Ross, as their cheeks were nice and pink. Anyway, we still have some, and we have our mouth all set off a cobbler. Thanks a lot, folks!

Jaycees To Sponsor Dance For USO

Local Jaycees will sponsor a USO benefit dance Wednesday night, August 26, at the American Legion Hall. Admission will be $1.10, and tickets will be sold by the Phi Beta Craesus girls club. Bill Price's Dixie Band will furnish the music. Entire receipts will go to USO.

This Platform Should Get The Votes

A Brownfield man who has been hankering to enter politics for years, but who lacked a fool-proof platform, has realized his ambition as he read the platform of John Doe running for constable of Sonora which was published in the San Angelo Standard. Here it is:

John read this platform while rolling through Sonora streets on a wagon drawn by two paint horses and carrying a huge banner: "There ain't gonna be no run-off." He was accompanied by a group of musicians playing hill billy music which is said to have compared with the following oration:

"Ladies and gentlemen: I am for the common people and the constitution. I promise a pension for every pioneer citizen who has reached the ripe old age of 41.

(Johnny had recently turned 41.)

"I am agin war, agin sin, agin taxes, interest and exchange.

"I favor reciprocal trade agreements that help you and me—especially me.

"I am agin the WPA, the CIO, SOS and the YMCA. As to labor—I am unalterably opposed to it in any form. I am in favor of dividing the rich man's property among us common people—and often. Elect me, 'Honest John,' a self-made man whose reputation for truth and veracity is always questionable—who has never fought a duel or been convicted of a capital offense—elect me as your public servant. The ain't gonna be no runoff."

Byron Sandage Somewhere In Old Ireland

The Herald had its first letter this week from one of the Terry county boys who had landed on foreign soil. Pvt. Byron Sandage is the son of Jacob Sandage of the Union Community. His short letter, written July 26th, follows:

Dear Sir: Please send my paper to me at my new address. All our mail is handled through New York.

I am in Northern Ireland for the present, but don't know for how long. A US newspaper is news, no matter how long they take to get here, or wherever we may be. Who knows, I may read the Terry County Herald in Berlin or Rome. I have seen a few states and parts of two foreign countries since I left, but I still like Terry County.

Pvt. Byron Sandage, ASN 38064136, Bty A, 91st Arm'd Fabn, APO No. 251, c/o P. M., New York, N. Y.

Why don't you kids that went to school with Byron, drop him a line. We feel sure he would appreciate it. Above address is correct.

Defense Guard To Aid In Marine Recruit Drive

Since Defense Guard units over the State have been asked to aid in the U. S. Marine Corps' drive for new recruits, Company D is now ready to do its part in this direction.

Complete information is now available at the off ice of the Terry County Board of Development, which is also downtown headquarters of the local Guard unit, and anyone interested in this branch of the service is cordially invited to drop in and all details will be carefully explained.

Incidentally, several ex-Marines are in the officer and enlisted personnel of Company D, and due to this fact, a great deal of interest will be taken in the drive by the local Company.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this means of thanking both my old and new friends in Brownfield and Terry county for calling on me on my 90th birthday; for the profusion of flowers and other appropriate gifts. Again, I thank you from the depth of my heart.

Grandma Lewis.

A local lady sent in a news item for the paper this week and added: "Keep up those fine editorials; I like them." And just when we didn't think scarcely anyone read them.

What has become of that paper down Fort Worth way that boosted its editor for governor each week before the first primary by relating his experience in milking cows?

Editor John Price of the County-Wide News, Littlefield, suggests that if Hitler would get him a hill-billy band, maybe he could pep up his people to eat artificial foods and like it.

With peaches being quoted at from $2.50 to $3.00 per bushel, and other fruit in proportion, we don't vision any mad scramble among housewives for canning sugar.

The laws say that absentee balloting can start 20 days before the primary or election. But how can it when it takes until some 15 days before the election to get the runoff ballot to county chairman? You answer that one.

A form letter received by the press this week from Jimmie Allred, says that he deeply appreciates the generous manner in which newspaper columns have been opened to him, and closes with this paragraph:

"Emphatically, I reject the notion that because a newspaper opposes me or anyone else means the publication is 'corporation controlled' or otherwise is improperly influenced. To me the policy of a newspaper represents the views of its owners under the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press. That, among other things, is what we are fighting to preserve in this war of survival."

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel may be a good man; we are not questioning his morality or mode of life, but he is no more qualified to be a U. S. Senator than this writer, and we know we are not. He is supposed to belong to a keen lawmaking body, but knows no more law than any ordinary business man or farmer in Terry county. Any of us, seeking legal advice would go to the best attorney we could think of. The man we send to Washington should not only be versed in state and national laws, but international laws as well. James V. Allred served several terms as district attorney of Wichita county, then as attorney general of the state, governor and last but not least as a Federal Judge. Which man do you think could better stand with Senator Tom Connally and help write the peace after the war is won? Think folks.

The News has been under its present management for 32 years. On August 1 we started our 33rd year in Canyon. With the passing of Editor Harry Koch of the Quantahua Tribune-Chief, Editor Jack Stricklin of the Brownfield Herald became dean of the Panhandle publishers. Jack is one year senior to the News man among the Panhandle publishers. Canyon News.

Senator O'Daniel claims that he is the candidate of the "common" people. If this statement was not so pathetic it would be funny. Before he decided to jump into politics, O'Daniel was very much opposed to the so-called common people. According to the flour salesman's own statement, no laboring man was worth more than 22 cents an hour. This was when he was a Fort Worth capitalist. But he fell in love with the "common" people when he wanted their votes.—Canyon News.

THE HULL DECLARATION

Hull's address on war aims was one of the greatest. Few have equalled and none has surpassed it in honesty, in clarity, in nobility. It had the inspiration of integrity. The United Nations could well commit themselves to the Hull declaration at once.—The New York World Telegram (Ind.)

A TIMELY ADDRESS

The first requirement is to defeat the enemy, but our chances of winning the peace will be better if we have planned and prepared for the great problems that victory will bring before they are upon us. Secretary Hull's address is pointed in that direction, and therefore commends itself to the most careful consideration.—The Washington Star (Ind.)

HULL SPEAKS FOR AMERICA

Farmers May Obtain Jacks And Stallions

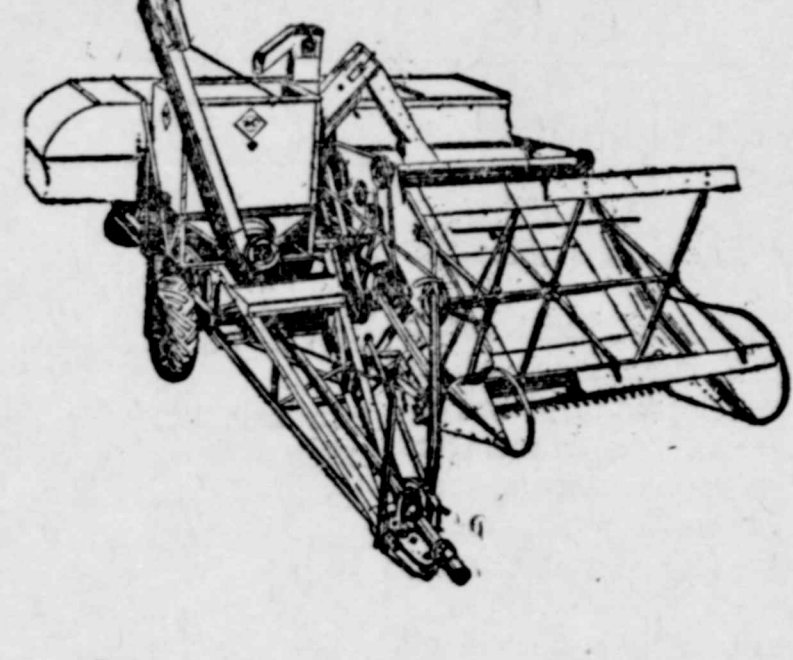

AUSTIN—In order to help meet the growing demand for saddle and draft horses and mules, Texas farmers and stockmen who need a stallion or jack should make application to the Jack and Stallion Division of the State Department of Agriculture, Austin.

The department issued that statement today with the announcement that there are now several of the state-owned jacks and stallions available. The stallions include Belgian, percheron and saddle types.

The animals may be leased by stockmen or farmers for $30 yearly, with the remuneration to be derived from breeding fees. The fee limit is $10. The animals will be delivered to the leasor free of charge by the department.

Curtalement of supplies of rubber and gasoline is expected to bring about a greater demand for horses and mules, and thereby increase the demand for the services of the state-owned jacks and stallions. It is estimated that the state animals have already increased the wealth of the state by about $3,000,000, although since its creation in 1934, the Jack and Stallion Division has never cost the state a penny for its upkeep and administration.

KNIGHT MACHINERY

Thinking back over a quarter of a century of news-gathering: The most exciting adventure maybe was the time that I went along with police in response to a call of burglars in a house and when we rolled up and got out of the car, the burglar opened fire. I was thin then anyway and I jumped behind a telephone pole ahead of the two officers and told them to hunt another pole and I shrank up so there was three inches of the telephone pole on each side of me.

Or maybe it was the time that there was a similar call and excited folks told us that the burglar was still in the house. There were three ways that he could get out. So the officers stationed me—unarmed—near one of the exits, telling me to stand in plain view out under the arc light and the burglar, seeing that someone was guarding that way, would make a break for it at one of the other exits and they would nab him. And that's what he tried, and one of the officers captured him. But just suppose he had decided to shoot his way out past that sap who was out there in the light! However, I didn't think about that till afterward.

Like the time I joined in the pursuit of the Santa Claus bandits after they had held up the bank at Cisco. An officer, in taking a riot gun out of the car, was careless and the weapon was discharged and the leaden pellets pattered in the leaves just over my head. It was an hour later that I realized how close a call that was—and I had a chill.

But for sustained, nerve-wrecking tension, give me—, rather, don't give me again—a visit to "the port of missing automobiles."

The assignment sounded simple enough: A gang was stealing cars from the city where I lived. The thieves ran the autos across the state line to a small, county-seat town and there they chiseled out the engine numbers, switched the parts around and sold the automobiles to purchasers who were not too particular.

The editor told me to run down to this town and get the story. Light-heartedly, I alighted from the train and called on the mayor, who greeted me cordially enough until he learned that I was a newspaperman and what my mission was. He looked around in alarm and said:

"Get out of here before they see me talking to you—it would be as much as my life is worth."

You can rather imagine that state a penny for its upkeep and administration.

So I called on the county attorney. He refused to discuss matters with me at all. Then I drifted around the town, casual-like, talking about this and that and doing some looking for myself and piecing together the information as best I could.

Finally, a couple of grim-lipped men came up and started doing some questioning themselves.

"Ain't you a newspaperman from the city?" one asked. When I said that was true, he demanded, "What are you doing here?"

"I'm thinking about buying the paper here," I replied. This didn't seem to satisfy them but they walked off, casting scowls back over their shoulders at me.

Just to make my explanation true, I did buy the paper—or at least I went to the newspaper office and bought one copy for a nickel. It was three hours until the train back to the city would arrive—and they were the longest three hours I ever spent.

P. S.—I did write the story and the ring was busted up. You ought to try newspaper reporting—never a dull moment.

RED CROSS SOLVES SOLDIER'S PROBLEMS

MASON CITY, Ia.—Death, an appendectomy, and the hardship of a woman running a 200-acre farm caused endless worry to a young soldier until the American Red Cross went into action here recently.

The soldier's father died recently, leaving the enlisted man's stepmother to run the large farm with the help of a 16-year-old son. When an attack of appendicitis sent the boy to the hospital, the stepmother saw no way out but to call the soldier home. The Mason City Red Cross Chapter solving the mother's problem by advancing sufficient money to enable her to hire help.

Sons Of The Alamo Always Good Fighters

AUSTIN—The ill-fated Alamo was no "military mistake," but an "act of mighty human effort and one of undying glory" that has fired Texas men of arms since 1836 and will continue to spur them on to fearless achievements on the battlefields of World War II.

Thus predicts Charlie Jeffries of Winkler, writing in the June issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, published at the University of Texas.

Jeffries points out that the battle of the Alamo delayed Santa Anna's invasion for three weeks, thus giving the Texian forces time to rally; that it gave the Mexican commander an incautious over-confidence; that it cost him 1,000 whose strength might have made a different story at San Jacinto.

But "its greatest effect has been on Texas men under arms," Jeffries believes, citing the decisive Battle of San Jacinto, fought with the battle cry "Remember the Alamo" on the lips of the Texian soldiers; Terry's Texas Rangers and Hood's Brigade in the War Between the States; Roosevelt's Rough Riders, trained under the shadow of the Alamo for the war with Spain; the famous 36th and 90th divisions in World War I who "were always ready to go forward when the order was given; they never lost one inch of ground they had taken."

"And now we are in it again," he concluded. Already Texas men have been called on to shoulder arms and fall in ranks. When the baptism of fire comes, can they stand it? The chances are they can. They will be properly imbued for the ordeal. As they have shown on men of the Lone Star land for a hundred years, the lights of the Alamo will shine on them too."

Sam Houston's much-debated reason for retreating so long before facing the Mexican army at San Jacinto was one of discipline—to allow laggards and deserters to drop out, leaving only the small but dependable force he could control, suggests Lt. Col. William

Baptist Church News

The Annual Revival At Baptist Church

Beginning Sunday, Aug. 16th and closing Sunday August 30th, we have secured the services of Dr. I. L. Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, El Paso, Texas, as the preacher to hold our annual revival. Dr. Yearby has pastored the great church at El Paso fifteen years and is in great demand as a preacher and speaker at encampments and his work in this Western city has been outstanding in character and we consider ourselves and the entire community very fortunate in having him to come to us for this annual revival.

Rev. J. C. Cohen, singer-evangelist, will serve in this capacity and he is not a stranger among us, having conducted the singing during several meetings for this church.

The hours of the meeting will with prayer groups assembling be 10 o'clock A. M., and 8:45 P. M., each evening at 8:15.

The objectives of this meeting are the growth in the Christian life of every Christian who may be able to attend the services and leading those of the community who are lost and are rejecting the Spirit of God to accept Christ as Saviour and Lord and come to be obedient servants of His for the duration of their lives.

We invite Christian people of every name to attend and enjoy these services and will they not bring with them their unsaved friends, some of whom have not attended religious services for many years and have only a few

The annual revival is a great event in any church and almost all Christian people can point to some such service as the place where they accepted the Christ and aligned themselves with the people of God.

We especially invite the people of our neighboring country churches to take this opportunity to worship with us.

RATS ARE DESTRUCTIVE DISEASE CARRIERS

Serious losses are being caused by rats and their effects on our efforts to supply food and feed for the prosecution of the war according to R. N. McClain, county agent of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service. Rats are not only wasteful but are carriers of diseases, such as typhus fever. The U. S. Public Health Service points out that these diseases are rapidly increasing.

Often control measures for rats will vary for different premises.

No poison, however good, will be effective unless the rats eat it.

For this reason baits should be chosen that the rats will take readily. At least three different types of bait should be put out at the same time to assure effective poisoning. Be sure the bait is fresh and attractive. Baits should be placed on pieces of paper to make their removal easier.

The following are suggested formulas for mixing poisoning baits: one pound of barium carbonate to five pounds of hamburger meat. Mix thoroughly with a paddle. Five grams sodium arsenate to one pint of sweet milk. Mix thoroughly and expose in convenient containers. Extreme caution should be taken to keep poison away from children, livestock and pets.

Mrs. P. M. Langham, from Frederick, Oklahoma, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Langham this week.

Mrs. C. E. Ross and family, accompanied by Miss Louella McCreight, is leaving Saturday to attend a family reunion in Quitman, Texas.

American Legion WANTS SCRAP METAL

Needed
WAR

Despite the fine salvage efforts already put forth by American people, the need for this material is still acute, according to government authorities. Americans once more are asked to bow their necks in an extra-effort scrap metal salvage campaign.

The Legion Post at Brownfield is redoubling its efforts and has organized an intensified scrap metal salvage campaign. The people of Terry County are urgently requested to look their places over again and bring in every ounce and pound of scrap metal in order that war materials will keep going to our boys in increasing quantities. The gins of the County and Chris Quante at Continental Oil Co., Brownfield, have been selected as receiving stations and will weigh the materials and issue tickets cashable at the Brownfield State Bank at the ceiling price rate of $8 per ton. The Legion requests that all scrap metal except car bodies, fenders barrels and other bulky items be turned in at once.

ANY DONATIONS OF SCRAP METALS WILL BE HIGHLY APPRECIATED BY THE LEGION AND THE MONEY WILL BE USED FOR A WORTHY CAUSE.

"The Empty Room"

That is the caption of an advertising advertisement we have ever seen. The illustration shows a middle-aged man, standing alone and looking into a boy's bedroom. The text has him saying: "This is my boy's room. This is where he slept. This is where he dreamed a child's dreams.

"Here, in this empty room, are faded pictures of teammates and heroes... books scribbled over with notes and exclamations... the gloves and spiked shoes he hung up for good before he went to war... the silver cup he won at Sea Bright... bright pennants... and all the careless memoranda, the echoes of his days.

"If fathers could only pour their hate through the hot barrels of smoking guns and write the records of their grief with bayonet steel!

"They said I was too old to fight, though I'm only 50.

"But, if I'm too old to sight and drop a stick of bombs, I'm not too old to lay my money on the line for War Savings Stamps and Bonds!

"Maybe I am too stiff and slow to fly, but I've got control enough to keep my car speed under 40... so they can keep their fighting planes above 400!

"And if I can't march 30 miles a day with a full pack, I can walk two miles to work and back to help save gas and rubber!

"No, I'm not bitter any more because I won't win this war being a gun or on a ship or in the sky.

"I've come around to thinking that here at home we've got a job of passing the ammunition along, of sacrificing little things, of giving up and going without, of looking ahead to 'less' instead of 'more.' Somebody's got to do the necessary, undramatic things... and I guess that's what older men are for."—New York World-Telegram.

JUDGE E. C. NELSON

Candidate for Chief Justice Court of Civil Appeals Saturday, Aug. 22nd

DOES TRAINING COUNT? If not, why have schools and colleges? Judge Nelson has had the best literary and legal training our country affords.

DOES EXPERIENCE COUNT? Should a Chief Justice have had some actual experience as a practicing lawyer? Should he have had some experience before the Court he seeks to preside over? Judge Nelson has had years of experience, both as a practicing lawyer and as a trial judge.

SHOULD REPRESENTATION BE EQUAL? The Lubbock area already has one of the judges of this Court; and the Vernon area has one. Isn't it fair for the northern part of the district to continue to have a representative on the Court?

WHO SHOULD CHOOSE THE CHIEF JUSTICE? The people? Or a group of Lubbock lawyers? Judge Nelson did not ask any group whether he might run for the office; and he has not sought any endorsements. If elected, he will be under no obligations to any such group. He will be able to chart the course of the law fairly for all. Is that what you want? If so—VOTE FOR JUDGE E. C. NELSON.

INFANT DEATH RATE BEING REDUCED

AUSTIN, July 27—Figures released by the Bureau of Census reveal that the Infant Mortality has reached the lowest level in the history of the State, said Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. The reduction of infant deaths during the past year was phenomenal. For the past three years only two states had infant mortality rates exceeding that of Texas. The figures now available show ten states, Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, New Mexico, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia, have rates in excess of those reported in Texas.

Infant mortality is expressed in terms of the number of deaths per 1000 live births. The infant mortality for 1940 was 68 per 1000 live births whereas the rate for 1941 is 56.7 per 1000. In 1933 when Texas entered the registration area of the United States the infant mortality was 77 per 1000 live births. The present reduction in terms of mortality for 1933 and 1941 when applied to the 135,000 live births recorded in Texas in 1941 represents a saving of the lives of 2700 infants annually.

The evidence now available seems to indicate that the greatest reduction occurred in the southern part of the state where the State Health Department has been waging an intensive drive to protect the health of babies. It seems evident that the reductions in infant mortality achieved in El Paso, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Austin, and in Hidalgo County are the most significant in the state for the year. These same areas of the state lead in the number of well children. The mortality among the Latin American group which has been disproportionately high has apparently responded well to the educational efforts of physicians, public health nurses, and nutrition workers.

Maternal and child health is but one phase of the work being done by the State Health Department in their campaign to reduce illness and death. Other activities are carried out to the full extent allowed by the limited resources provided for saving lives in Texas.

Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Hanks had as their visitors this week, Mrs. John Brown, sister of Mrs. Hanks. Mrs. Brown is from Colorado City.

Farm Security Loans Now Available To Needy Farm Families

Authority to immediately resume receiving applications from low-income and needy farm families in Terry and Yoakum counties for loans with which to carry on their farm and home operations was received here recently by Dennis Q. Lilly, Rural Rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

The information that loan funds for the FSA's supervised lending program for the current fiscal year are immediately available was received from Jessie B. Gilmer, Regional Director, with Headquarters at Amarillo.

The Farm Security lending program, it was learned, will continue its policy of making small Food for Freedom loans to farm owners, tenants and part-time farmers. These loans are designated to assist families to produce food for home consumption. Production of food for sale will continue to be of secondary importance.

Food for Freedom loans are limited to $500.00 for each family. Borrowers may use the funds for the purchase of dairy animals, feed, seed, small farming and gardening implements, canning supplies, repairs for livestock and poultry housing facilities, food storage space, medical and dental care and so forth.

In addition to the small Food for Freedom loans for fall crops and gardens and other immediate needs, the Farm Security Administration, according to Mr. Dennis Q. Lilly, will continue making its regular rehabilitation loans, and community and cooperative service loans.

Old Time Terryite Dies Suddenly

John Scudday, 62, of Forsan, Texas, an old time Terry countian, died of what was believed to be a stroke the 10th. For 13 years John had been in charge of a number of pumps for the Moody Oil Company, and gone on duty that morning. Mrs. Scudday was preparing a reunion dinner for the children, as one of the boys was leaving the 12th for the army.

Not coming in at the usual hour, they waited some time for John, and one of the boys went to hunt him, but as he was almost unconscious when found, and being too heavy to carry to the car, the son began honking the car to draw attention. Soon other members came to seek the cause of the delay. He was carried to a hospital in Big Spring, but died soon after arriving.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church Tuesday, with the Baptist pastor in charge. Burial in Big Spring cemetery. He is survived by his wife, who is also a pioneer of Terry county, and daughter of Uncle Dave and Mrs. Cunningham, who settled in south Terry. Around The Block

We heard a cute quotation the other day that went somewhat like this: "When this depression is over, the rich will be richer, and the poor will be poorer, and we presume that the ones who are neither will be neitherer." Do you suppose it could be a little like the war, maybe? You know, those that dictate will dictate, those that are free will be free, and those that are neutral will be neutraler! You know August is really a wonderful time of year. It's really not quite summer, and not quite autumn, it seems to enjoy a sort of separation all its own. The August nights with the big full moon, and the crisp, cool air almost make you think of a soft spring night, too.

You know what? We actually saw Mary Raye Simms and Carolyn Harris actually not fighting the other day. This raised considerable comment because they always find something to fight about.

Mr. Turner was looking as pleased as a dog with a bone the other day. He confessed he had a steak for dinner that would please even anyone anemic!

We heard the low-down on Morris of the Palace the other day... it seems that he came to work at 6:30 and woke up at 12. The new air base under construction should soon be finished... they say Sonny, Amy, Lee, Bobby, and Jack have been grubbing out there! When they were asked where their shirts were they replied that they worked so hard that the shirts had melted!

Hearing Bub Smith angrily muttering to himself the other night, we walked over to see what the matter was, as we got closer, we heard him say, "The nerve of the guy offering me only ten a week to start. What does he think I am, a college graduate?"

We hear Coach Aubra Noon-caster will be leaving for the army very soon. We hope he has as much luck and success in Army as he did with his football teams!

We are told that Bub and Amy have decided to file a complaint. As expert curb "hobos" they have decided there is too much traffic and lights. They have asked all motorists to please dim their lights when passing through town, so they will not be awakened by the bright lights!

We saw a cute idea carried out to perfection on three cute girls the other day. Glynola Murphy, Janette Edwards, and Charley Mae Harold all had pinafores and blouses exactly alike, even a little pin to match!

Have you ever seen grey eyes any prettier than Frances Joyce Rambo's, or a personality with more Vim Vigor and Vitality than Patsy Lewis'?

'Tis like old times to see Mr. Nolan Tipps, former teacher, walking down the street. They say Mr. Tipps plans to be in the Marines, won't that red hair and blue uniform be a knockout, girls? Speaking of army, Mr. McBrayer will soon be among "those in uniform." Saw Juanita Brown the other day. They say she is to be head of her class this year. It must be nice to be pretty and have lots of brains, too.

Don't you think Wanda Mae Zachary has beautiful blonde hair?

We heard Elsie Clare had a diamond. They say it's someone's mothers. Seems as if everyone is spending their spare time lately in Ruidoso. At least it's an ideal place to spend one's spare time! We heard a bit of philosophy today that would make fine remembering: "To have what we want is riches; but to be able to do without is power."

SANDRA SUE FORD PASSES

Sandra Sue Ford, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ford of the Union community, passed away at an early hour Wednesday morning after a lingering illness. Funeral services were read by Rev. TAKING EXERCISE BY "DOING NOTHING"

AUSTIN—"Physical exercise, despite labor-saving devices, still is one of nature's basic requirements for vigorous health. This fact frequently is overlooked by many middle-aged and older persons who deliberately have reduced exertion to a minimum, permitting gadgets, the automobile and other persons to do for them these things, which, in a less ingenious and abundant age, they would have called on their own muscles to perform. This tendency is being overdone," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"For instance, a few days ago a woman of fifty consulted a physician. After relating her vague symptoms, the doctor requested her to outline her daily routine. She said she arose about 9:00 A. M., had breakfast, read the paper, visited with friends on the telephone, had lunch, went to a movie or played bridge, dined at seven, played more bridge or read a book until bedtime. 'You see,' she said, 'I don't do anything.' 'And that, madam, is exactly your trouble. Sit-down recreations have got the best of you. Exercise, not pills, is what you need.'

"While an extreme example, this case serves to illustrate a lesson that well could be taken to heart by many men and women of middle-age or older. Substituting inclinations and inventions for physical activity definitely is not in line with nature's plans for the best achievable health.

"Of course, there is no desire to imply that the middle-aged and older should make a fetish of exercise. Indeed, a rigid exertion schedule might be harmful. The daily walk, physical interest in gardening, a moderate game of golf or other sport, if the doctor approves, should meet the requirements nicely. The regularity, not the severity, of the exercise in the fresh air is the big factor.

"Of course, some folks can 'lazy' through life and apparently live happily, healthily and to a good old age. From strictly a health viewpoint, however, they are likely to be the exception rather than the rule.

"Consequently, a little more attention to the fundamental demands of the body and less emphasis upon the 'soft life' is a rule that should be beneficial to many. Even in these speed-up days, leisure still is available to most persons in a measure not thought of a few decades ago. To put some of it to work for oneself in terms of healthful exercise, is good for young, middle-aged, and older persons alike."

Whole Wheat And Enriched Products

College Station—There are many localities in Texas in which enriched bread is not available. And while enriched flour is generally available to consumers, there still is considerable lower price and grade unenriched flour on the market. This situation has led a national organization of bakers, millers and retail grocers to begin a concerted drive to obtain the enrichment of all white flour.

"Enriched flour" is white or near white flour to which is required amounts of Vitamin B1, niacin and iron are added, explains Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. In line with the recommendations of leading authorities in the field of nutrition research, the Extension Service has long encouraged the use of whole grain products, she says, but since many people continue to use refined flours and cereals, enrichment of all flour and bread will pay dividends in better diets.

Nutritionally speaking, whole wheat or whole grain products are best; enriched flour and breads should be second choice.

County extension agents have recently been encouraged to cooperate in the enrichment drive and inform rural Texans on the comparative nutritional value of whole wheat, enriched, and refined flours.

Miss Phipps explains that yeast bread or quick bread made with whole wheat flour or half enriched white flour and half of 100 per cent whole wheat flour makes a very good flavored and nutritious product. Greater use of yeast breads rather than biscuits will go a long way toward conserving the vitamins in flour products. This is because the soda and/or baking powder used in biscuits destroy part of the thiamin in the flour, she explains.

CLEANER PREMISES HELP CHEAT FIRE BOMBS AND HAZARDS

AUSTIN—While all of us hope that our homes will not be fired by incendiary bombs from enemy planes, it is wise to practice a few simple precautions that will help control such fires, is the suggestion offered by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

"The most important thing to remember," he said, "is to avoid keeping unnecessary materials that may provide fuel for fire. Basements, attics and closets are prolific with fire hazards. This is particularly true of attics, which would be the most likely part of a house hit by a fire bomb.

get them. Remove spare clothing from the attic. Discarded lamp shades, picture frames and all other combustibles should be cleared away. The attic that is entirely bare of such things is the one that cheats the fire bomb.

"People in inland cities might think such precautions are not necessary, but cluttered attics, basements and closets are breeding grounds for fires under normal conditions. A fire started through carelessness and neglect will burn just as much property as one started by a fire bomb."

A substantial reduction in the tremendous fire loss of this country would result from a thorough hunt for fire hazards from attic to basement of every home, and the removal of such hazards, the Commissioner stated.

"Texas home owners," Hall continued, "have recently earned an annual saving of two and a half million dollars because they have successfully prevented fires. In order to retain the saving already earned there must be no relaxation in preventing fires."

Navy Wants Men For Radio Work

An urgent call for men interested in radio work was issued today at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Lubbock.

Operators, repair and service men and technicians between the ages of 17 and 50 years are especially wanted for enlistment in petty officer ratings with beginning pay ranging from $78.00 to $96.00. Inexperienced men between the ages of 17 and 28 years may be enlisted as apprentice seamen with beginning pay of $50.00 and, if qualified in accordance with standards for entrance in Navy service schools, be assigned to Navy radio school upon completion of recruit training. Men who fail to qualify for or in radio school will be retained in the naval service in rating and pay in which qualified to hold.

All enlisted men of the navy receive 20 per cent addition to base pay for sea service or foreign duty. Married men are also allowed extra pay for their family.

Who Can Vote Without Poll Tax?

There are a lot of people who are eligible to vote without a poll tax receipt.

If you came here from another state, where there is no poll tax, since January, 1941, and have been a resident of the county six months and the state a year, you are entitled to vote without a poll tax receipt.

Election officials may ask you to make an affidavit to the facts in the case, but you are entitled to a vote just the same, all other requirements considered.

If you have been a citizen of the county six months and the state a year and want to vote without a poll tax, any election official will be glad to advise you.

A SYMBOL OF COURAGE

The New York Times in a recent issue, cited the value of Texas' Alamo as a symbol of courage providing inspiration for many young American soldiers who daily are visiting the "shrine of Texas liberty" in San Antonio. The Times editorial, giving an insight into what soldiers are doing and thinking in Texas, follows:

"Soldiers are tireless tourists, particularly American soldiers. All over the country these days, they are visiting the places that revive for them memories of our history. But nowhere is the soldier on leave more interested in a monument to valor than at the Alamo in San Antonio. They cluster around the mementoes of the gallant fight, and look without words.

There Davie Crockett and "The Alamo means much to James Bowie and Col. James Travis and 185 other men died when they knew there was no escape for the forces of Santa Anna. The Alamo is a gray building with its bits of the cornice knocked off by shells, an old Spanish mission. There is a lovely garden outside, with a gray wall around it. Little to indicate the slaughter that happened inside, where not a man escaped.

"Men died there because they were not afraid. You look at the walls pitted with bullet holes; at the tiny cell-like room in which Bowie was bayoneted after he was wounded; and you know that this was the stronghold of a few men who believed in themselves. Somehow, Corregidor comes to mind, our hat is off anyway. It came off instinctively when you walked into the door, as it does when you go up the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington. "This is a place where Americans proved that they were strong. It is not far from where thousands of American boys in the Air Force are showing that they are made of the same stuff as Bowie, Crockett and Travis. Not long from now they will be writing their epitaphs on the sky: 'Take it, this time we win!'"

Mrs. Dallas Is Acting Postmistress

We informed you last week that James H. Dallas, our postmaster was leaving for the Canal Zone to enter the postal service of the Navy Department.

During his absence, his wife, Mrs. M. B. Dallas, has been named by postal authorities as Postmistress, or is it Postmaster now days? Anyway, we believe that Mrs. Dallas will be as easy to get along with as James H.

THE FATTED CALF FOR HOME BEEF SUPPLY

College Station — Producing beef for home use is a real contribution to the wartime program. If some families are to have meat they must produce it, says Roy W. Snyder, animal industries specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Even the nondescript, pot-bellied, small, rough-haired Jersey type calf can be made into satisfactory beef for family use, Snyder says. It needs to be fed a fattening ration for four to six months before being killed. Feeding not only makes more beef, but improves the quality to an almost unbelievable degree.

If a milk-pen calf is available it should be started on feed at once. Use the feeds grown on the farm. It may take 1,200 pounds of corn or milo, 1,200 pounds of hay and two sacks of cottonseed meal for the average inexperienced feeder to develop a calf into good edible beef, but the feed will be used to good advantage.

Feeding the calf until it weighs at least 500 pounds when it is ten months old, is a good mark to shoot at, Snyder suggests. Feed it all it will eat so that it will put on fat as it grows. A good practice is to feed grain as soon as the calf will eat it. Oats is best to get a young calf on feed, but if it is not available, feed corn, milo or some other grains. After a few weeks begin decreasing oats and add corn or milo.

When the calf receives less milk later in the feeding period, add cottonseed meal or cake to the grain at the rate of one pound of meal to five pounds of grain. If it is not on pasture, give it plenty of good bright hay. Fresh water and salt also should be kept before it.

Let the calf have all the roughage it wants, but add all the ground grain and cottonseed meal

HUNDREDS DIE OF TUBERCULOSIS IN WAR-TORN GREECE

An eyewitness account of the terrible conditions prevailing in Nazi-occupied Greece was given recently by Alexander Minoitis, leading actor of the Royal Theater, Athens, on his arrival in New York aboard the Pan American Clipper. Minoitis escaped from Greece last October and made his way to this continent by a long and hazardous journey through Turkey, Syria, Palestine and Egypt.

He said the people of Greece are dying by the hundreds from tuberculosis and famine. There are no more burials, the Germans simply digging holes under the houses where people die and tumbling their bodies into them.

"I hardly like to go to bed," he said, "for every time I close my eyes I see the panorama of suffering my people are undergoing. I see again the atrocities of the Gestapo, I see the dead and dying in the streets of Athens and I see the hopelessly starved women and children, suffering but never crying."

Comptroller Geo. H. Shepherd has notified Virgil Burnett, Terry county assessor-collector that the state tax rate will be 75c on the $100 valuation this year. State revenue 35c; state school 33c, and Confederate pensions 7c. All persons between the ages of 21 and 60 years will have to pay $1.50 poll tax.

Mrs. Bebe Brown had a letter recently from the Weldons, who are vacationing with relatives in Alabama. The report a grand time and that they will be back by mid-September.
