Let Us Get That Junk To Rolling

C. Sears Off To A Flying Start

C. Sears and family are gadding about over the State. After getting a fillup of Homer Winston's best Gosden on Aug 23, they headed their Plymouth in the general direction of Haskell county, where they expected to get their first square meal. All cried when they left Brownfield: Mrs. S because she was leaving town; son because he left without kissing his gal; C. shed a bitter tear out of his good eye, and the Plymouth cried because it didn't want to be selfish.

After two good feeds and a nights rest and heap much talk, they head for old Haskell city to chew the rag with other old friends and seek out more meals, and shook hands till his arm ached. Then south as a loco crowd flies to Gatesville and the cedar brakes, finally lighting again at the wife's sisters home in Milam county, where many of Pappy O'Daniel's common people live; thence on to Marlin, Mart, and met old friends of 45 years ago, when Cam steered a yoke of oxen down the road with cord wood, and even saw the old physician who officiated at the birth of some of the children.

Found lots of farms taken by Johnson grass, but found some good cotton in Falls county, and got a job for his wife and son—he thinks. They have two more weeks rambling around in that section, and if old friends wish to write them, their address is care of Harris Apt. 105, Marlin, Texas.

Mr. Sears has been a reader of the Herald ever since he landed in Terry County, and thinks it is one of the best papers, he says, despite the fact that we like to josh C., sometimes pretty rough. But he knows we wouldn't do it unless we liked him. All are feeling better since starting the trip.

Fine Surgeon Being Greivously Slandered

Two gentlemen, one of them a particular friend of the writer, called this week, and we soon found that the call was not altogether social or fraternal. We was first asked if we had heard that so and so of their town, a prominent doctor and surgeon, had been arrested as a fifth columnist. It was news to us, but they informed us that it had reached other towns as far away almost as Brownfield.

It all probably started because this man has a German sounding name, and is probably being put out and circulated by people in sympathy with the Axis. This man has always been regarded as a true, loyal American, and we know that he had a brother that was a high Naval officer until his death three years ago. The FBI is working to locate the rumor starters, with the idea that they are Hitlerites and trying to divide our community spirit.

We have some people in Terry county with German sounding names. In fact, their far-off forebears came from that country. But we would vouch for their loyalty as quick as we would for any man named Brown, Jones or Smith in the county.

Don't listen to such idle gossip. If you have to hear it, report who is putting it out to your local officers, who in turn will communicate with FBI.

Friends of the above man all over the south Plains brand the rumor about him as an infernal Nazi lie.

Sgt. Curley Edwards has been shipped from Camp Bowie, Brownwood, for parts unknown.

Saturday The Day To Rally With Junk

Lets go, folks! Saturday has been set as the big day to get the junk in so that it can be shipped to the steel mills to keep them rolling out material for the war front. Otherwise, there is going to be a bottle neck in production. Many have already brought in junk, but more have not. Some suggested 50 pounds per inhabitant. That is only around 600,000 pounds. We believe if all will get in this war effort, that amount can be exceeded.

Looe Miller handed us a wire from the Triple-A at College Station which stated, "It is imperative that every effort be made to get scrap iron off farms and ranches at once, since mills are running short of materials. Please urge every county chairman to put forth every effort to get surplus junk turned in. We believe farmers and ranchmen will respond when they understand the situation and realize the importance of scrap in the production program. Scrap iron drives should at once be intensified."

Saturday has been designated as the big day here in Brownfield. There will be no parades, no barbecues, no speechmaking, as the parade will be wagons and trucks of scrap, the barbecue will be fed the Huns and Japs in the shape of cold steel, and the roar of cannon will make our speeches. Scrap will be received at the following places:

Caperton Garage, west of Snap Service Station, and across highway; American Legion, Chris Quante in charge. If you wish scrap weighed on public scales, they will be found at the Chris Quante place, but you can sell anywhere you wish. This is just north of the ice plant.

Hitler says, "We shall have our Storm Troopers in America." Mussolini says, "We consider peace a catastrophe for human civilization." Admiral Yamamoto says, "I am looking forward to dictating peace to the United States in the White House at Washington."

WHAT DO YOU SAY?

Bring in that scrap.

Meeting of Farmers Sat. 12th

A mass meeting of farmers is called for Saturday, Sept. 12, at the district court room, to discuss the labor situation and tire rationing. It is very important that farmers of the area attend this meeting. Circular letters are going to each farmer, signed by Pearce Warren, Chairman, Terry County War Board.

Bond Meter Ad Dropped This Month

The Herald is dropping the Bond Meter Ad this month in view of the fact that the US Treasury Department has asked that we rather push some advertising authorized by them. These ads are like the Meter ad, underwritten by Brownfield business men.

At this time the Herald is not certain that the Meter ad will ever be picked up, as it is more likely that we will follow the suggestions of the Treasury Department as far as possible.

Solicitors are finding it rather hard to get some of these ads underwritten, as it has become quite a fad in Brownfield with from one to three every week. But as long as competitors solicit them, the Herald will do so in self defense.

Personally, we had rather solicit individual ads, as we believe they are better for the customer as well as the paper. The Herald would agree most any time to abandon so many cooperative ads, if others would agree to do so.

Won't be so bad if the girls do have to go without permanents during the war; the men won't be home to see them anyhow.

New Officers Of The Day Appointed In Local Red Cross

Sewing, Mrs. A. J. Stricklin; Knitting, Mrs. Dick McDuffie. Monday, Stricklin, Mrs. Lee O. Allen; Tuesday, Mrs. G. S. Webber, Mrs. Dick McDuffie; Wednesday, Mrs. R. L. Harris, Mrs. Redford Smith; Thursday, Mrs. L. A. Rhyne, Mrs. G. W. Graves; Friday, Mrs. Frank Wier, Mrs. Redford Smith.

The above chairmen and officers of the day have been appointed for the next sixteen months. Please see that you carry out your duties conscientiously; you owe it to your country. Come at 1:30 and stay until 5:30 or 6 o'clock—stay if you are only one there until at least 3 o'clock. As many people as there are in Terry county, sounds strange to say you are the only one there, yet it happens nearly every week.

If our boys fought like some of us sew and knit, we would lose many battles. You can spend at least one afternoon a week sewing and carry some knitting home with you, and then spend another afternoon making surgical dressings. The surgical dressing program starts soon and will be in the old Legion Hall. We don't know the hours as yet but you will be notified through the local papers. Watch for the date and more information about the program. Mrs. Clovis Kendrick is chairman, Mrs. J. J. McGowan, ass't. chm., and Mrs. Henry Bates, advisor. The sewing and knitting we are now doing is our 1941 quota; please cooperate and help us finish as we are receiving material for 1942 quota. You owe this service to your country, yourself and your fellow man.

Mrs. Lester Treadaway, Chairman, War Relief Production.

James Burnett Retained On Staff

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnett had a letter from their son, James, recently from Norfolk, Va., stating that he expected to be shipped out soon, but they received a telegram under date of August 31, stating that he had been retained there on the staff of the Physical Instruction School, and that a letter would follow in a few days.

James graduate from Brownfield High School, and four years later graduated from Abilene Christian College. He was prominently mentioned in both athletic and fraternity work while a student, and always made fine grades.

Should old friends wish to write him, his address is James R. Burnett, C. Sp. Naval Base, Physical Instruction School, Norfolk, Va.

First Bale 1942 Cotton Ginned Friday

Coming in several days before the first bale last year, the first 1942 bale of cotton was received at the Farmers Co-op Gin here about ten Friday morning, August 28th. It was raised by Harmon Scales of the Hunter community in south Terry. Tomy Black of the Board of Development stated he would circulate a premium list in a few days.

Mr. E. L. Roberts, manager of the Farmers Gin stated that only 1300 pounds of cotton was gathered to get the bale, mostly picked, but the bale weighed 470 pounds, which was a good turnout. Mr. Roberts stated that while he had not closely examined the lint he felt sure that it would grade middling or better, with 15-16 inch staple.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Edwards were Lubbock visitors Wednesday.

A Visit To Sallie And Herman Trigg

Being as fall is no wroiling in—you can feel it in the air—the Old He, and the Majority, decided we'd better make a week end trip down to Brownwood to see the kids, Herman and Sallie Trigg before Jack Frost comes. In fact, we were just a bit fearful that it would still be hot down there, but it had rained recently, and more came Sunday, making it real pleasant.

Left here around noon Friday, but stopped for some time at Coahoma with the folks there, so it was near seven when we finally arrived in Brownwood. Herman was out at the lake fixing a hydrant in the camp house, and Sallie was out at Camp Bowie to see a movie star, Rita Hayworth, we believe, along with some army officer's wives who are staying at their apartments. So we just made the best of it until Herman and his mother, Mrs. Graves came in. Finally a bit after dark, Sallie and the other ladies got in from Camp Bowie, and as they had chucked out the, we made it fine on leaveings from the noon meal.

By the way, Mr. and Mrs. Graves have a motor boat out at the lake, and that lady has become quite adept at snaring the bass and crappie. She was highly complimented on a string she caught one day last week by the game warden who makes a short talk weekly over the Brownwood radio. Mrs. Graves managed to get another nice string Saturday afternoon, carried them home, froze them, and we had them for our noon meal Monday—and was they good?

Now for the crops. Last year, south Dawson, Howard, Scurry and Mitchell had us badly skinned on crops, as our April and May plantings were washed out by heavy rains. But this year, we have the table turned on them more ways than a farmer can whip a mule. However, they have average crops, take them on a ten year average basis. One sees very little corn after you leave the Plains, or strictly, Terry and north Dawson. Feed is pretty good all the way down, and we mean maize, etc. They seem to have had a fair oat and wheat harvest.

But what gives a man the shivers is the fact that thousands of acres of pretty good land has been abandoned, and Johnson grass is taking the country. What is more heartbreaking is the fact that few cattle are running on this grass. Sunday morning, despite threatening weather, the four of us drove out 19 miles north of Brownwood to the State Park. Most of this is broken ranch country with occasional farms. The headquarters of this park, built of native stone, is a pretty place, on a high eminence overlooking Lake Brownwood, which looks almost like a bay here. As it was raining and our time nearing to leave for home, we did not tarry as long as we would wish at this inviting spot.

Texas has much of natural scenic beauty if you look for it. But lots of Texans don't think so, and leave the state for beauty spots. Twenty years ago, most Americans thought the same of our nation, and thought they had to visit Europe to see anything worth while. Judicious advertising has changed that, and it will also, some day, make Texans, Texas conscious.

There are jillions of gallons of water in Lake Brownwood. Large concrete canals run from near the dam to the city, edging the fertile Pecan Bayou Valley. We asked why more people did not use this water to make orchards and truck farms to feed the ever growing city and its thousands of soldiers camped nearby. It was Herman's idea that as long as an ordinary carpenter or mechanic

Schools Are Rolling—Keep 'Em Rolling

As stated in these columns previously, upon the advice of school authorities, as well as the statement of Superintendent Hancock last week, the Brownfield school, the Meadow school, as well as all schools are going to have to operate under a terrible handicap this term. But Jones' grocery, Brown's Hardware, Smith's drug store and what have you, are now or will operate short-handed before this fight is over. So will this printing plant, in all likelihood.

Many teachers that are well qualified, have been offered better paying and perhaps shorter hour jobs in defense plants; others have hied away to where these defense plants are located and where the schools are in good shape financially, and perhaps offer a raise in salary over what a strictly farm section can pay. Hundreds of men teachers have been called into the service.

The Herald is of the opinion that the bunch here at Brownfield as well as other school will bear down and do their utmost to give the people the best school possible with the undermanned system part of the time. It is up to us to cooperate to the best of our ability to overcome the handicap as much as possible.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burnett are another old time couple that will end the first half century of their married life with old friends and relatives today in the western part of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett were married fifty years ago today at Duffau, in Erath county, by Elder R. A. Briggs, a Primitive Baptist minister. Fifty years is a long time to dwell together, but it can and has been done many, many times.

This couple lived in Erath county many years before coming to Garza county and settling 36 years ago. They came to Terry county 27 years ago, where they have lived since. Mrs. Burnett is in fine health seemingly, and bears her age well. Her husband, however, has been bothered with asthma lately, and is confined to his home most of the time.

To this union five children have been born, but only two survive, being Mrs. Jack Longley of Meadow, and Arnold of this city. They have 8 grand and 3 great grandchildren living. This honored couple will hold open house Friday, and ask old friends and new ones for that matter to call. Mr. Burnett served several years as Justice of Peace in this precinct. Congratulations, old friends!

Bond Buyers To Have Name In Airplanes

Mrs. Ethel Jones has been notified that people who buy bonds from the Rialto or Ritz, will have their names on plaques on the inside of B-25 bombers, thus sending a personal message to Hitler and Hirohito. These are the same planes that Jimmy Doolittle and his boys used over Tokyo.

Last Tuesday night, the first night of sales by the two Jones theatres, they sold more than $5,000 worth of war bonds and stamps.

could draw their $9 to $15 per diem out at Camp Bowie, they didn't want a truck garden. We guess that is about right.

Kept in or just ahead of the rain all the way. Rained on us to past Coleman, then out of it, but stopped too long at Coahoma to talk with the folks and it caught up again. Ran ahead of it again this side of Lamesa. So, to home and to bed.

Farm Meeting To Be Sept. 11 In Lubbock

Farmers from six counties of this area will discuss problems of farming in wartime and hear latest reports on legislation affecting agriculture at a meeting in Lubbock Friday, September 11.

In conference, to be attended by farmers and stockmen from Garza, Lynn, Lubbock, Terry, Hockley and Yoakum counties, is to be held under the auspices of the Texas Farm Bureau. Producing the food and fiber needed for victory will be the theme of the meeting.

Reports will be given by state Farm Bureau leaders on the Southern Regional Farm conference held recently at Raleigh, North Carolina, in which some of the nation's foremost agricultural and war program chiefs explained the vital issues facing farmers today.

Effects of ceiling prices on agricultural commodities, the farm labor situation, the all-out battle to maintain full production through parity prices, the need for a strong farm organization, and many other local, state and national problems of current interest will be discussed.

W. R. Tilson of Brownfield, District 2 director of the Texas Farm Bureau, will preside at the meeting and discuss problems of direct concern to this particular area. Other speakers will be J. Walter Hammond of Tye, state Farm Bureau president, and G. W. Haggard of Waco, editor of Texas Agriculture. A round table discussion will follow the talks.

The meeting will be held at 2:30 P. M. in the Hotel Lubbock at Lubbock. All interested farmers are invited to attend.

Following the sub-district conference in Lubbock Friday afternoon, an evening meeting of the Terry County Farm Bureau will be held in the American Legion Hall at Brownfield at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Don't Forget Cotton-To-Gin Meeting

For fear some overlooked the article printed in these columns last week relating to the meeting to be held in Lubbock next Tuesday, Sept. 8th, at 1:30, we are calling attention to it again this week. While a great many farmers have sufficiently good rubber to get their cotton to the gins this fall, some will not, and it is imperative that this cotton keep moving.

Mr. Mark McGee, State Director, Office of Price Administration, will personally have charge of the meeting. Members of county rationing boards, farmers from every voting and school precinct on the south plains, editors, bankers, farm agents, chamber of commerce officials, county judges, mayors, ginners and others interested in cotton are urged to attend this meeting.

Sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Lubbock High school.

Yearbook Being Printed For M. & M. Club

The 1942-43 year book of the Maids and Matrons Club is now in print at the Herald office. This club was organized in 1905, and was sort of an old timer when this writer arrived in Brownfield 33 years ago. It was a real going institution then.

This club is probably the oldest or one of the oldest on the south plains, and so far as we know, have always had their full quota membership, as well as a waiting list. They have maintained an excellent library for many years, as well as sponsoring other civic needs of the town.

Sexual Perverts Roaming The Town

It is a bad condition in a town when a sexual pervert is roaming the town. It is known that two ladies, possibly others have been propositioned by this low grade of human brute, and the officers hardly know how to look for the offender, as the description varies. This, in a manner, would be occasioned by the confusion of a lady when approached in such manner, which, we understand, happened on the streets in broad daylight.

The ladies who may be approached by this moron in the future, please forget your natural modesty for the time, get the description of the brute, and call the officers. Call another man if possible to keep track of the undesirable until the officers arrive. And as long as such a person is at large, people with small children, especially girls, had best keep pretty close track on their whereabouts. A moral and sexual monstrosity will attack such.

And if you have not heard about the matter, don't jump to the conclusion that the offender or offenders are negroes. THEY ARE WHITE MEN. When we hear of such people, we want that law of sterilizing passed in Texas like many other states have. Such animals, when sterilized, become pretty docile.

Another thing, someone is liable to decide that he knows the party that insulted his wife or daughter, and take the law into his own hands, and perhaps fill some innocent man full of lead. Better be sure, and work with the officers.

At least such trash should be confined in jail, the pen or a lunatic asylum. Report all suspicious characters to the officers at once. There is no need for people without work and molesting women to be roaming our streets. Put the vagrants and drones to work, or run them out of town.

Another Old Couple Married 50 years

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Noble, who have lived for more than 40 years about a mile off the new highway to Tahoka, and just over in Lynn county, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary. One son, Robert and family are citizens of Brownfield.

Back in the early days, when the wagons hauled freight from Tahoka to Brownfield and points west into New Mexico, when bad weather overtook them, or trail drivers, that was a favorite place to stop as they had a large country home, and plenty corrals and horse pastures—and the main thing, you were welcome.

Co. D, Texas Guard Tries Camping

The local company of Texas Home Guard, has been trying the real roughing of it this week, out at the little county park. Boy Scout tents were used, but most of the boys have come in home since Sunday night.

Boy, they really have had a trial of camp life under very adverse conditions, as it has rained some each night, and real heavy showers Sunday and Tuesday nights. But most of the boys seemed to enjoy it in a way.

Recent visitors in the B. Martin home in the Tokio section were Mrs. A. P. Stewart and her son Jim, of Redding, Calif. They were accompanied to Hollywood, Calif., by Mrs. B. Martin, who will visit her son, Wayne Buchanan.

Ulee McPherson successfully passed his examination for a mechanic in the Naval Air Corps, for ground work. He will be stationed in San Diego.

War or no war, people will smoke, and many of them want the "tailor made" variety. Cigarette production in 3000 factories reached 22 billion ready rolled in July. This was the 20th consecutive month of increase.

And here's good news for the kiddies. Despite priorities, the ingenious American toy manufacturer has met the demand for toys for the children on Christmas, by using substitute materials not demanded for war work. Your dealer will be well stocked as usual, but there will be a difference.

The Santa Fe railroad is abandoning their line in the north Panhandle between Boise City and Farley. It was their original intention to make this a short-cut line to Colmar, but government requisitioning for track and bridge material, and lack of revenue in the section, was put before the ICC with their approval of the abandonment.

In order to keep production of consumer goods as high as possible, and at the same time release as many factories as possible for war production, one factory will make all ice refrigerators, for instance, for the duration, while competitors will use their factories for war work. Shifts in other merchandise, such as typewriters, etc., will follow suit.

The Herald is going to be mighty nice to the farmers for the time being, for their income is increasing, and maybe that would be a good source to line up a loan. Texas farmers had an income of 334 million dollars the first seven months of 1942, compared to 206 million for the first seven in 1941. You'll have to admit that is a big increase. And

The Better Business Bureau is warning people of a number of racketeering scheme, and ask them to be on the lookout for them. Some of them are supposed to be improved types of apparatus for fighting incendiary bombs, and BBB says they are no improvement whatever on what you have been instructed to use. But because people have money to spend, and wish to have the best in fire-fighting equipment, they are buying most any gadget offered by racketeers. And there are no "magic pills" for gasoline.

Homer Garrison, head of State Police, is looking for healthy, intelligent young men for patrolmen, following a course of training, of course. The war effort has taken a toll of his men, and only recently they had to recruit some 40 license examiners. If you think you would like a job as highway patrolman, with prospects of advancement, get in touch with headquarters in Austin.

Well, they say that Texas is in for one of its best turkey crops. Good hatches are reported, but little above the average destruction from predatory animals. Food and water has been abundant during the growing season, and the birds are expected to be fat by the time they are pen fed for awhile. Texas has 3,724,000 of the estimate 33,786,000 turkeys in the United States, or about 11 percent. But let us whisper this: Unless you have a mighty good friend in the country, you are going to pay a lot more for your Thanksgiving or Christmas turkey than for many a year. Other meats are high, and turkeys will follow the trend.

surely Texas farmers will not be able to use all that additional 128 million dollars?

BROWNFIELD LADY DIES AT RALLS

Mrs. E. E. Bryan, Brownfield, was buried here at seven o'clock, Friday the fourteenth. Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ, Ralls, with Bro. R. L. Travis in charge of the services.

Mrs. Bryan passed away Thursday afternoon at Ralls where she had been visiting relatives for several weeks prior to her death. Although in ill health for several years, her death came suddenly, following a stroke suffered only a few hours earlier in the afternoon.

Survivors include her husband, E. E. Bryan, and son, James, both of Brownfield, and two daughters, Mrs. Glen Jones, Crane, and Mrs. James E. Smith, Midland.

ANNOUNCERS TAKE NOTICE

We can't get reconciled to the continued mispronunciation of 'rations'. No matter what Webster says about it, the correct pronunciation is 'rash-un' not 'ray-shun'. But the radio announcers keep on saying 'ray-shun'. The term rations up to the outbreak of the war was used most in the army. And there it was always 'rash-un.' Usage makes a pronunciation correct, and the vast majority of the usage is 'rash-un.' And rash-un it will always be to the men who served in that other war. We hope the radio announcers will all take notice.—Jimmie Rankin in Ralls Banner.

There has been about one and one-half inches of rain here since Sunday night, and none of it especially needed.

Soon be cotton gathering time when all will have some money. Right now we want to remind you to pay up on your Herald that we have been carrying several months:

THE ATLANTIC CHARTER

The eight points of the Atlantic Charter, formulated by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill in August, 1941, during their historic meeting at sea, may be thus summarized:

1. The United States and Great Britain seek no territorial aggrandizement.
2. They wish no territorial changes that are not in accord with the freely expressed desires of the peoples concerned.
3. They desire to have sovereign rights and self-government restored to those from whom it has been taken by force and will respect the rights of all peoples to choose their form of government.
4. They will attempt, without disregarding their present obligations, to allow all states, big or small, victor or vanquished, to obtain, on a basis of equality, the trade and raw materials they need.
5. They will strive, in cooperation with all nations, to achieve all improved labor standards, economic advancement and social security.
6. "After the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny," they hope to establish such conditions that people everywhere can dwell in safety within their borders and live in freedom from fear and want.
7. Freedom of the seas is to be assured for all.
8. All nations must abandon the use of force; those who threaten, or may threaten, aggression, are to be disarmed; a "wider" system for permanent security will be sought, and practical measures encouraged that seek to lighten for peace-loving peoples the crushing burden of armaments."

WASTEFUL

A middle-aged woman lost her balance and fell out of a window into a garbage can. Chinaman, passing, looked into the can and remarked: "American vely wasteful. She steely good for 10 years yet."

Four local negroes were sent to Lubbock Wed., for medical examination before being inducted into the army.

To Better Serve You WE NOW HAVE TWO PLANTS

In order to meet the growing demand for our ginning service more promptly, and to better serve the farmers of Terry County, we have purchased the Griffin Gin Co. plant located across the street from our original plant, the Farmers Co-Op No. 1. The Griffin gin is thoroughly modern, equipped with all the known devices for giving West Texas cotton the best possible turnout and grade. It will operate under the same policy of friendly, efficient service at the lowest possible cost that has been proved so popular at our original plant.

Taking everything into consideration, you cannot find better ginning service than you can get at either of our plants in West Brownfield. These institutions are owned and operated by the farmers themselves, and you will find the farmer's interests always protected by them.

Both of our plants have been thoroughly overhauled and placed in first class operating condition. Efficient crews have been employed and, to make a long story short,

WE ARE READY TO GO!

Try our service, if you are not already acquainted with it, and let us show you how hard we will try to please you in every respect.

Let's Talk About Money

... and WAR

When you hear that bombing planes cost $335,000, tanks $75,000, anti-aircraft guns $50,000—And when you hear, too, that America needs 60,000 planes, 45,000 tanks, and 20,000 anti-aircraft guns at once—

It doesn't take much figuring to see that winning this war calls for every dollar all of us can scrape together. With our freedom at stake—with our farms, families, even our very lives depending upon the outcome, we'd gladly give this money.

But we aren't asked to do that. Our Government asks us only to lend the money—to put our increased earnings into War Bonds—month after month—until this war is won. In doing so, we save for our own security as well. For we get back $4 for every $3 we invest, when the Bonds are held 10 years. And if we need the money, we can get it all back any time after 60 days from issue date. This is the American way—the volunteer way—to raise the billions needed for Victory. And the money can . . . will . . . must be raised.

So let's show them that the farmers of America are helping to win this war in two vitally important ways—by producing more Food for Freedom and by saving more in War Bonds. Make Every Market Day "Bond Day"—Invest At Least 10%.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Garand semi-automatic rifle, which is the standard issue today for the U. S. Army, is superior to the old Springfield rifle in many respects. We literally need millions of these fast shooting powerful rifles to equip our army. They cost $85 each and are being manufactured at the rate of one a minute. They fire sixty 30-calibre shells a minute.

Every one of the 40,000,000 employed persons in America could easily buy one of these rifles for the army. Not that we need that many, but the reserve could go into shells and other much needed supplies. Buy more and more War Bonds and top the quota in your county by investing at least ten percent of your income every pay day.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your county go over its War Bond Quota.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Aside from the sixty-mile an hour Mosquito Torpedo Boats, the Sub Chasers are the speedsters of our Navy. Light and fast, they are the eyes of the Fleet on the water. They displace approximately 1,500 tons and cost about $2,400,000 each.

We need many of these powerful, fast little boats to cope with the treacherous submarine type of naval warfare fostered by our enemies. Everybody can help pay for more Sub Chasers by putting at least ten percent of his income into War Bonds. Buy Bonds or Stamps every pay day. Buy them from your bank, your post office, or from your office or factory through the Payroll Savings Plan.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

With the Summer meetings over, we hope to get down to normal life. Our S. S. meets at 9:45. Preaching at eleven, subject, "When Life Tumbles In." The young, people meet at 7:15. Preaching at 8. Subject, "Mutual Dependence". At the close of the service Sunday night we plan a fellowship hour. We will retire to the Fellowship Hall and eat watermelons. Don't you think it will help all of us to have more social life at our church? Let everyone come. If those who have boys in the service, will let us know their favorite song we will sing that song in their honor. If we will all get together more we can the better maintain our morale and thus the better support our boys who are fighting for us. So let each one be in his or her place at each service. Visitors are always welcome.

O'DANIEL RETURNED TO WASHINGTON

Junior Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, by orders of the majority of voters in Texas, will return to Washington for a period of six years, for better or worse. Since it is the Democratic way of carrying on, we submit to the voice of the people at the polls. He is as much the Bulletin's senator as he is yours, and we are not going to hold our nose to say so. We are just hoping that Pappy has learned a great deal during the campaign just closed and that he will go back to Washington, equipped to do better. He should have at least learned much about what Texas people want in the way of legislation; he should know by this time that they do not want him to take over congress entirely; that it is not necessary for him to frighten the President to the extent that the commander-in-chief need to leave the capitol when he learns of the mighty Lee O' being in Washington. He probably knows by now that the war will not "soon be over," and that Texas is backing

President Roosevelt in all of his war efforts. Lee O' will perhaps settle down and try to help on the war program rather than hinder it. He will perhaps quit keepink company with the fellows who still contend that this country cannot be invaded, that the country can live to itself.

We need an army and a big one, if we are to save our nation from the grasp of Hitlerism. If W. Lee is capable of learning, it has probably been crammed into his head that we must make it an all-out war.

We hope he has learned much during the past two months, because his opponents have told him plenty, and we hope he will get down to earth and realize that there is much to do now, and still great problems to be worked out by Washington officials, and that he must co-operate with the captain of the team to win the game.

We are going to be charitable enough to believe that he will change his system of playing and fall in line to help win the war; make himself useful in Washington rather than ridiculous. He is

MAINTAINING MEDICAL STANDARDS

American medicine is doing everything in its power to meet the enormous demands of war for physicians. It is assisting the military forces in swiftly obtaining the doctors and dentists they need. As a war measure, the medical schools of the country have increased the sizes of their entering classes by about 10 per cent, and have adopted an accelerated program which calls for the graduation of a class every nine months. In addition, the bulk of the medical schools are now making available for military service all members of their faculties except those who are absolutely essential.

The purpose of this medical program is twofold. First, the Army and Navy must be provided with sufficient men of medicine. Second, and equally important, there must be no deterioration in the standards of medical instruction. It is obvious to anyone that a badly-schooled or underschooled doctor would be a definite danger to the community in which he might practice. As a result, medical groups have insisted that the medical schools maintain their standards—and the government authorities have wisely cooperated.

A "speed up" in medical education can only go so far. There is a definite limit beyond which time necessary for education cannot be reduced. The future welfare of this country demands the highest standards of medical care and service—and American medicine will see that those standards are maintained.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

"Uncle Buck" was (for he's passed away now) the gray-haired, mild-mannered bailiff of federal court. Friendly and even jolly in manner, nevertheless, he could—if you gained his confidence—tell many an interesting story of bad men in the Southwest for, first and last, he was an officer for 40 years.

One day, while out in a little West Texas county seat town, he ran into one of the toughest hoppers in the State. However, Uncle Buck had no official business with the man; in fact, they were rather close personal friends, considering their different stations in life. So they had something to drink—probably in ice cream soda, strawberry flavor.

The bad man—let's call him Jack—was in a talkative mood and among other topics he discussed the fate of an officer, who not long before, had attempted to arrest a notorious outlaw and was shot to death.

"He didn't go about making the arrest in the right way," Jack said.

Some months later, Uncle Buck was handed an indictment against Jack. He called two deputies and the pair walked, unannounced into Jack's hangout and, while one pointed a sawed-off shotgun at Jack's belt-buckled, the other roughly commanded the killer to turn around and flatten out against the wall, and then he was relieved of his shooting-irons.

"I don't like the way your men treated me," he snarled at Uncle Buck. "I'll get even with you."

"Why," Uncle Buck said mildly, "I was just carrying out your suggestion."

"How was that?"

"Don't you remember when we were talking out in West Texas a while back, you told me the safe way to arrest a dangerous man? Well, I had it done just the way you told me then."

Jack studied a moment, then his face lighted in a grin. "I reckon that's one on me," he said.

Another of Uncle Buck's stories was of a different nature and dealt with a traveling evangelist. Now this revivalist was a powerful exhorter but he did like his liquor. One afternoon, he sent his man-of-all-work, a darkey, over to Paul's Saloon, to get a pint of whiskey. The negro was gone so long that it came time for te evening service. The evangelist began his sermon and was discussing the Apostles, and reached Paul.

"And what does Paul say?" the speaker shouted.

The darkey had just entered the tent and was standing at the back. Thinking the question was meant for him, he said:

"Paul done say he won't sell you another pint till you pays fuh dat last one he let you have." And that broke up the preaching.

At least that was Uncle Buck's story.

WE NEED ALL RACES AND CREEDS IN AMERICA

AUSTIN—The American people today are again finding religion as a center of unity in their lives, are realizing again that when they are doing any work that is honorable, they are doing the will of God, Dr. Edmund Heinsohn, pastor of the University Methodist Church, told the 500 graduates of the University of Texas at August baccalaureate services.

Dr. Heinsohn pointed out three great failures in the national social system and urged the graduates to think of these in the light of what might be done about them by the future leaders of the country.

"First of these is the widespread ignorance on the part of the great numbers of the people concerning the spirit and meaning of their government. The second is the division between various social, cultural and economic groups," he declared, "while the current belief is that economical prosperity is more important than anything else in life—ethics, morals, or character."

Americans, Dr. Heinsohn said, have the opportunity to perform for a distracted world a service greater than the gifts of manpower or natural resources. That service would be to achieve a new spirit of tolerance and appreciation for all people, regardless of race or creed.

"From Canada to the Gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, we have our English, our Germans, our Irish, our Czechs, our Swedes, our Norwegians, and representatives of all other races—and all are citizens of our country," Dr. Heinsohn said. We need them all the MacArthurs, the Marshalls, the Nimitzes, the Eisenhower, and the Leahys.

"We need all our citizens, but we are not going to have them unless we make them feel that they are appreciated and wanted by their fellow citizens, rather than tolerated or endured," he emphasized. We must supplant the old and outworn and outmoded spirit of tolerance with a new spirit of appreciation."

WRONG NUMBER

The telephone rang in the press room at the White House. The reporter who picked up the receiver heard a negro voice saying: "Hello—is dis Doctah Adams?"

"No," answered the reporter, "this is the White House."

"Oh, de White House, said the voice, hesitatingly. "Please excuse me, Mistuh President!"

STRAIGHT THINKING WOULD HAVE HELPED

Any way you look at it, this war was caused by the wrong kind of thinking. If the German people had been thinking straight, instead of being emotional, they would have rejected Hitler back in 1936 or earlier. If the leaders of England and America and the smaller countries, including France, had been thinking straight, Hitler would never have been allowed to arm the Nazis. Straight thinking, even after the war started, could have averted the march of the Hitler hordes. We look back now over disaster after disaster caused entirely by poor thinking by me in positions of power.

We even bunched our battleships and parked our planes to make a perfect target for the Japs at Pearl Harbor. A school boy should have known that a large part of our Pacific fleet should not have been anchored side by side, that our main air force in distant waters should not have been housed in one huge hangar. Second guessing has no part in this. The thinking was definitely wrong.

It is encouraging then to read where a recent report of the American Psychological Association tells of a simple set of exercises that definitely improves the ability to think straight. It is in this field of study and research that all future hope lies. Material advancement and scientific progress have definitely not produced a better world.—Ex.

PETROLEUM ENGINEERING DEPT. TERMED FINEST

AUSTIN, Aug. 21—The University of Texas petroleum engineering department was termed a pace-maker for other institutions in this field in a recent article in "The Petroleum Engineer," national trade journal.

"With its competent faculty, excellent instructional facilities, and favorable settings, petroleum engineering at the University of Texas is setting standards that most other institutions in this field will find difficulty in matching." The article—one of a series describing the nation's educational opportunities in this field—pointed out.

It also termed the University's new petroleum engineering building "undoubtedly the finest academic building in the United States devoted exclusively to petroleum engineering instruction and research."

A MODERN SOLUTION TO AN AGE OLD PROBLEM

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

GOVERNMENT RESEARCH shows that 90 percent of the American people are constipated?

PHYSICIANS assert that a slowing up of bowel movements is man's chief ailment and the underlying factor in most of our physical troubles?

PSYCHOLOGISTS have traced most of our unhappiness, neuroses and failures in life to faulty waste-matter elimination?

THE DEGREE OF YOUR INTESTINAL ACTIVITY determines to a great extent the state of your health, your happiness and even the length of your life. Anything less than normal intestinal activity permits an accumulation of residues in the colon (large bowel) that contaminate the blood-stream and by unnecessary work wear out the liver, the kidneys and other detoxifying (poison-destroying) organs; damage the blood vessels by their very contact with vessel walls; irritate and intoxicate and render prematurely senile the cells of the body.

IT IS A COMMON FALLACY

that one bowel movement a day is sufficient to keep the body machinery free of wastes. By the use of the X-Ray we have been able to follow through the stomach and intestines and have found that the average person having one bowel movement a day (wrongly considered normal) has at least 48 hours (TWO DAYS) elapse before the food taken at a given meal is evacuated.

DR. W. C. ALVAREZ OF THE MAYO CLINIC

has found that in inactive people the time involved in the passage of food, from the time it is taken into the body until it is expelled as fecal matter, is three days, and it is not a rare instance, from one to three weeks. It is obvious that food kept at body temperature for such periods will become putrefied. As human beings, we live on mixed diets and have a tendency to indulge in excesses. The usable portion of our food is absorbed and utilized by the body in its various metabolic processes. The unusable portion, together with the poisons formed in the body cells, are harmful and must be eliminated. The more completely and promptly these wastes are eliminated, the better the health of the individual. The colon is the most important organ of elimination, yet—

THE COLON IS NOTORIOUSLY INEFFICIENT AND NEGLECTED

In order to know the dangers of constipation and how to prevent or banish this troublemaker, we must know something of the functioning of the organs that are affected.

THE STORY OF DIGESTION

The process of food digestion begins in the mouth, where the saliva mixes with the food and starts the digestion of starches. The food then goes to the stomach where it is mixed with gastric juice, whose principal constituent starts the breakdown of proteins. After two or three hours the food is sent on to the small intestines, where it is mixed with the secretions from the pancreas and intestinal walls, together with bile from the gall bladder. In the upper part of the small intestine the bulk of digestion takes place, with all three classes of foods, proteins, fats, and starches, involved. The food has become a thin greyish amber liquid by this time and absorption (the taking up of chemicals by the blood) is proceeding rapidly. The greater part of absorption takes place in the small intestine. After from four to six hours the food is pushed along to the large intestine or colon.

THE COLON IS THE CHIEF WASTE RECEPTACLE OF THE BODY. It is only about five feet long (in contrast to 24 feet of small intestine) and capable of considerable distension. It has little power of absorption as it was not meant to take part in the digestion of food but only to quickly dispose of the waste materials for which the body has no use.

The Colon has been aptly described as the garbage bin of the body and should be kept as sanitary as a good housewife keeps the garbage can in the kitchen. It is easy to conceive what happens in this tube when waste materials accumulate for hours or even days in the presence of warmth, moisture, and bacteria. Fermentation and putrefaction follow, with the production of various offensive gases and toxins (poisons) which excite and irritate the bowel wall and become absorbed into the blood and lymph streams.

MODERN HEALTH TEACHING IS STRESSING THE GREAT LESSON OF PREVENTION RATHER THAN THE CURE. Most diseases of middle age, and later are the aftermath of minor ailments allowed to remain active because of a lack of appreciation of the philosophy of disease-prevention. The medical profession has long given serious consideration to sources of infection, the teeth, tonsils, sinuses and other localized points of possible infection are usually checked in routine manner. Most physicians, however rarely investigate the more prevalent sources of trouble which are the COLON and RECTUM. Rectal and colonic diseases are responsible for more chronic ill health than all the better known sources of infection put together. Literally speaking when the large bowel is dormant, a cesspool is formed which slowly but insidiously poisons the entire body.

IT IS BUT NATURAL THAT A LAZY, INEFFICIENT COLON WILL EVENTUALLY CAUSE TROUBLE. It may act abnormally in any one of the following ways:—

BACTERIAL: The Colon is the most common focal center of infection, due to the fact that it is a natural incubator and constantly harbors vicious disease-producing germs. These give rise to secondary infections in any part of the body; for example:

Arthritis, Neuritis, Appendicitis, Cholecystitis, Myocarditis, Endocarditis, Body Abscesses, Abscessed Teeth, "Colds", Respiratory Diseases.

Inflammations of: Throat, Nose, Sinuses, Eyes, Ears. Infections of: Urethra, Bladder, Kidney, Anus, Rectum. Skin Diseases: Acne, Eczema, Hives, Psoriasis, Boils, Carbuncles, etc.

CHEMICAL: The decaying contents of an inefficient bowel liberate toxins that numb the nerves, dull the mentality and produce numerous symptoms of auto-intoxication or intestinal toxemia. According to Mathews, a leading authority on physiological chemistry, the following is a partial list of the poisons that have been found in the human colon: Indol, Botulin, Skatol, Phenol, Cresol, Cholin, Ammonia, Sepsin, Putrescin Cadaverin, Muscarin, Butyric Acid, Ptomatropin, Mytilotoxin, Hydrogen Sulphide.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION AFFECTS THE WHOLE BODY AS WELL AS THE MENTAL OUTLOOK

The harmful effects of chronic constipation are unfortunately not confined to the bowel itself. The toxins formed in the colon weaken and injure the walls to such an extent that they are no longer able to prevent these poisons from entering the blood and lymph vessels. By these means they are distributed throughout the body and account for much of the malaise and the vague, dull headaches, pains and discomforts of daily life. Among the numerous complaints occurring as the result of poisoning of the system with intestinal toxins are such conditions as:

Malnutrition, Dizziness, Coated Tongue, Sallow Complexion, Hay Fever, Arterio-sclerosis, Cirrhosis of Liver, Circles under Eyes, Hypotension, Fatigue, Impotence, Gallstones, Neurasthenia, Mental Derangements, Gas Pains, Acidosis, Headache, High Blood Pressure, Diabetes, Asthma, Diarrhea, Insomnia.

MECHANICAL: Hardened and solidified Masses of stool, by their sheer weight, causes reflex pain from pressure on organs or nerves. Fecal impactions may even produce ptosis or sagging of the colon, leading to displacements, kinks, adhesions, and centers of irritation which may ultimately be the site of ulceration or malignancy. Impactions of the sigmoid and rectum are often responsible for hemorrhoids and other severe rectal and anal disorders.

DEVASTATING EFFECTS OF GASES

The production of intestinal gases by Welch's bacilli and other bacteria mechanically interferes with the blood flow in the abdominal and pelvic circulatory system, which in turn seriously affects the circulatory system, which in turn seriously affects the circulation of the entire body. By pressure against the diaphragm the distended colon interferes with the proper function of the respiratory system and even the heart itself. According to Alvarez, distension of the rectum will produce symptoms such as: Mental Haze, Headache, Flushing of the Skin, Depression Dullness, Nausea, Sweating, Restlessness, Malaise, Loss of Appetite, Abdominal Discomfort, High Blood Pressure.

A Colon impacted and distended with irritating materials will produce a back pressure, causing in turn ideal stasis and mechanical upset and reversal in the normal gradient (direction of flow). In this manner reverse peristaltic waves are produced, which even though mild, commonly give rise to the following symptoms: Lack of Appetite, Vomiting, Regurgitation, Heart-burn, Hiccups, Belching, Nausea, Bilioussness, Coated Tongue, Foul Breath, Globus (Lump in Throat).

A SERIOUS CONDITION ARISING FROM CONSTIPATION AND THE TAKING OF LAXATIVES IS COLITIS

This is an erosion and inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the colon because of continued irritation by the poisons that are created by the putrefying fecal matter.

Colitis is a frequent disorder among civilized people. In the mildest form there is little actual inflammation of the bowel, but rather an obstinate variety of spastic constipation associated with a good deal of gas, frequent gripping pains and occasional attacks of diarrhea. If neglected and not properly treated, this condition is liable to become chronic and gradually get worse until the lining membrane of the bowel is damaged. Extreme cases become ulcerative and may cause individualism. On account of the possibility of these future developments, chronic constipation and the simple types of colitis should never be neglected. Prevention is the only safe treatment for colitis.

The catalogue of diseases resulting from a septic colon is so long and varied that it would seem incredible if it were not vouched for by a list of prominent physicians the world over.

SIR ARBUTHNOT LANE, OF ENGLAND

who probably has seen more infected colons and their results than any other physician, after listing a veritable inventory of systemic diseases from arthritis to cancer, makes the sweeping assertion:

"NONE OF THESE CONDITIONS CAN ARISE EXCEPT IN THE PRESENCE OF INTESTINAL INTOXICATION"

There is no case of acute or chronic disease, regardless of what organ or structure of the body is affected, that is not made worse or more difficult to clear up by the retention of waste products through constipation. Because it constantly contains waste material and is the breeding place for harmful germs, the colon can exert a tremendous influence on one's general health. Because of its inefficiency many poisons are generated in the lower bowel which acts as a constant drain on one's vitality. This unnecessary expenditure of energy could otherwise be employed in constructive health-building measures.

DO THESE FACTS COMPOSE A MELANCHOLY PICTURE? They might indeed, were it not for the fact that modern science has evolved a solution of this age old problem of mankind. This modern method of insuring proper elimination and thus removing the underlying cause of much illness is:

YOU HAVE ONE OF THESE! Which One?

OUR GASTRO-INTESTINAL TREATMENT

Particularly by the newest method, has been proved to be the most satisfactory treatment devised by science to overcome the effects of constipation.

Our method of thoroughly emptying the large bowel in a manner that is natural and painless, tends to restore to normal the functions of the colon. This natural method assures thorough intestinal cleansing in a manner that is non-irritating, non-habit-forming and pleasant rather than distressing like enemas.

Doing this repeatedly over a period of time gives the abdominal muscles a great deal of exercise. This in turn builds up the musculature and the rhythmic functions of the colon. The intestinal muscles are utilized in an average treatment as often as they normally would be in several hours of exercise. The effect of this repeated action is usually to restore regular bowel movement without the need of chemical or other artificial aids.

PHYSICIANS TEACH US THAT CONSTIPATION CAN NOT BE CORRECTED BY TAKING LAXATIVES

Because constipation is so prevalent there are hundreds, even thousands, of different kinds of laxatives being sold but none of them has anything to offer in the way of a cure. Persons who are suffering from constipation use one preparation for a time and then another; constantly changing because the colon becomes accustomed to the irritant and no longer makes a violent effort to expel it from the body. A laxative does not move the bowel, but the bowel's effort to rid itself of the offending substance causes it to contract violently and expel its contents. The taking of laxatives is a more pernicious habit and the most disastrous results are seen daily. Cathartics act by irritating the lining of the intestine, while colon treatments mechanically remove the waste from the lower bowel. Cathartics taken by mouth pass through the esophagus, stomach, and many feet of small intestine before reaching the colon, where stagnation occurs.

AS DR. ALVAREZ OF THE MAYO CLINIC HAS SAID:

"Why upset 24 feet of intestine with a purgative when the material to be removed is in the rectum or sigmoid, within easy reach of a painless treatment."

Cathartics have never cured constipation, but, instead, tend to lessen the natural movement.

DR. KELLOG, DEAN OF THE BATTLE CREEK SANITARIUM, SAYS:

"To cleanse the colon is as harmless as to cleanse the teeth or wash the face. The mucous membrane which lines the interior of the body is much like the skin in many respects. It is accustomed to the contact of liquids. Certainly so innocent a liquid as water without drugs or narcotics must be less capable of injuring the mucous membrane of the colon than the filthy liquids and solids with which it is constantly in contact."

Our intestinal treatment strikes at the very source of infection and putrefaction by washing, softening, and cleanses the colon of bacteria and residues which are otherwise absorbed into the system and which result in undermining health.

WHAT OUR TREATMENT DOES

1. Washes out the contents of the colon (large bowel) and the poisons it may contain in a natural painless and harmless manner.

2. It cleans out the many pockets of the bowel not evacuated by ordinary bowel movements.

3. It exercises the colon mechanically, restoring normal "tone" by increasing the natural peristaltic movements.

4. It builds up the efficiency of the colon, restores rhythm and increases the number of evacuations. There should be three normal bowel movements daily without the use of cathartics.

5. It corrects and prevents constipation and its many resulting disorders.

6. It lifts a tremendous burden from the body's resistive forces and releases these for constructive purposes.

Here are shown the conditions of the colon. Your condition parallels one of the conditions shown or a combination of two of them. 95 percent of your physical ailments are caused by these conditions of the colon and nerve interference. You may have any one of hundreds of diseases all over the body, but they owe their start to poisons secreted from a defective colon. Our treatment restores the colon to its normal condition and position in the body, as shown by figure 1. Find which of these conditions you have and what must be done to correct it.

The conditions are shown in order of their prominence. Usually it is a combination of the second and either the third or fourth. Very rarely does a person have a normal colon as shown in figure 1.

Few people realize the importance of colon treatments. They prefer to have their conditions given long technical terms and pay high fees just to treat results. We treat the results of the secretion of poisons into the system also, but most important we remove the cause by treating the colon itself.

The colon is a sewage system, but by neglect and abuse it becomes a cesspool. When it is clean and normal we are well and happy; let it stagnate and it will distill the poisons of decay, fermentation and putrefaction into the blood, poisoning the brain and nervous system so that we become mentally depressed and irritable; it will poison the heart so that we are weak and listless; poisons the lungs so that the breath is foul; poisons the digestive organs so that we are distressed and bloated; and poisons the blood so that the skin is sallow and unhealthy. In short, every organ of the body is poisoned, and we age prematurely, look and feel old, the joints are stiff and painful, neuritis, dull eyes and a sluggish brain overtake us; the pleasure of living is gone.

How—we ask you—could any advertised PREPARATION lift a dropped transverse colon as shown in figure 2; how could they open a spastic condition as shown in figure 3; how could they correct adhesions? These preparations actually defeat the purpose for which they are taken. They produce harsh chemical actions causing inflammation and irritation; they exhaust the bowel muscles, so that repeated doses are called for at closer intervals, making you a slave to unnatural actions.

PLANT BLUEBONNETS NOW

College Station—Persons who desire to beautify their yards with Texas' state flower next year should plant bluebonnets now. To grow and bloom successfully, bluebonnets should be planted in a sunny, well drained spot, says Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Bluebonnets do not like to be disturbed by cultivation. They can be transplanted, but it is better to plant them where they are to grow. In parts of the state where it is too cold during the winter months for them to grow in the open, they should be started in flats, cold frames, or small pots and set in the open as soon as the ground thaws.

The state flower is very resistant to cold and will thrive during the spring freezes.

Your attic, basement or backyard may be a treasure trove. Uncle Sam needs rubber and scrap to build the weapons of war. Do your part by cleaning up and cleaning out! Trash to you may be tanks to the army.

Here's How Your Junk Can Help

An old flatiron will furnish enough iron for four hand grenades.

50 feet of old garden hose will furnish enough rubber for four army raincoats.

Four pairs of old overshoes will furnish the rubber for a pair of army galoshes.

One old tire will furnish enough rubber for eight army gas masks.

... And in the Kitchen—Waste Fats are Vital too

To help relieve shortage of fats and oils (needed for glycerine to make explosives) save pan and broiler drippings and deep fats after you've gotten the cooking good from them. Strain into a tin can that is spotlessly clean. Keep in refrigerator or cool dark place until you have collected a pound or more. Then sell to your nearest meat dealer.

Save 10%... to Save 100%

All over the nation, patriotic Americans are spending less and saving more—putting at least 10% of their incomes into War Bonds and Stamps. So our boys can have the planes and tanks and guns they need to fight and attack and WIN for us!

So the Nazis and Japs will wish they hadn't tried to enslave America, too—and won't ever try it again!

And it's going to take 10% in War Bonds to do it!

So, if you've been postponing buckling down, remember, it's "Everybody 10%" or "Nobody (except our Axis masters) having a cent."

Baptist Church News

The revival came to a close Sunday evening with 47 admissions to the church during the meeting, by baptism 20, letters 25, statement 2.

The church was so well pleased with the preaching of pastor Yearby that they invited him and the Jew singer, Johnnie Cohen to return next year for another meeting, but it is not now known that Dr. Yearby will be able to accept.

We welcome these new people into the church and hope they will find here a church home where they may be busy in the service for our Master. There is an idea in the minds of some members that they have nothing to do in the church except attend and contribute to the support of the work, both of which are of importance, but our church needs women in the W.M.U. work, Men in the Brotherhood, and there is a place in the Church School and the Training Union for every member we have. These organizations do not detract from the church; they magnify it and afford each individual a place of Christian development and social contacts with others of their age group.

We are losing much because of failure of many of the membership to participate in these groups and we strongly invite them to do so.

There was present 351 in the Bible study period and it is our hope to greatly increase the attendance which appears possible with nearly 700 enrolled and hundreds in our city who never attend anywhere. We urge them to attend some church where God's Word is read and studied and invite them here. The records of institutions where people are confined for crime show that not many of their occupants ever attended a school for the study of the Bible and we fear it will not be different with those of our community who neglect this great opportunity for their families.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS:
This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Stamps to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One-billion dollars a month is the National quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined incomes of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of war for your fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about FOUR BILLION a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best; without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around—the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 scale, we'll be robbing the fighting man to add to our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be imposing dire hardships on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings—a tithe for Liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your use and protection later.

Your Government asks you to cut down your expenditures, to save your boys on the firing line and in the training camps, through your Government, ask you to save so that they may have what they need to win YOUR WAR for you—ask you to save to help to WIN THE WAR; to buy War Bonds and Stamps up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

Is Liberty worth it? Is Democracy worth it? Is America worth it? I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,
H. Morgenthau, Jr.

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

Mahon Addresses Spur Rotarians

Editor's Note: The following is a brief report of the address by Hon. George Mahon, made at Spur recently, before the Rotary Club. We suppose in the main, this is similar to the address delivered here before the Lions Club, which we did not hear. As this address, reported by the Times, at Spur, is a good representation of our Congressman's report of his stewardship, as well as what he sees and hears at Washington, we give it the publicity it deserves to the rank and file of Terry county people, who, like us, perhaps didn't even see Mr. Mahon while he was here on a brief call.

It seems the sack lunch is the order of the day with the Rotary Club of Spur. It meets today at the Spur Inn as usual and all members are expected to bring their lunch. The Inn furnishes dishes, iced tea and renders a fine service for the small amount each person donates for this purpose. The Spur Inn will open the dining hall soon and the Rotarians can meet as usual then.

The meeting last Thursday was very fine. The club had as a guest Congressman George Mahon who was the speaker for the occasion. Mr. Mahon spoke in regard of the war situation and stated that he was sorry that more information cannot be let out to the people. He censured the reports that are being put out by certain newspapers and magazines and stated that since these reports are not fair to the people since they give out one kind of report one day and then give out the opposite report later. This keeps the people confused, the Congressman stated, and it is not fair to those who are putting up every effort to win this war. He stressed the gravity of the war situation and said it will require the best efforts of everybody working together to win this situation.

He spoke of the rebuffs certain people are handing out to the President and Congress and others who have had to assume the leadership in this struggle. He stated that such things as these uncalled for criticisms are the most pleasant things that Hitler and Hirohito can hear, and he said, "They hear about them, don't forget that."

He said that in a game of football if the coach of the opposing team can learn the main plays and can figure out the weak spots of your team, he has a good chance to lick you. He stated that if Hitler and the Japs know about our equipment and our actions and our plans of this war, that they have an excellent advantage in that respect. He stated that a big bomber was being made by America and said that within a few days a certain magazine had a full picture of it, and a close-up view which would even reveal the type of rivets used and a full detailed account of its construction. That did not help America's war efforts one bit.

The Congressman looked fatigued and it seemed that he needed a rest. He is going over the district trying to get a cross section view of the feelings of the people. He stated that Congress had been in session more than a year without a day off, and that this time they were not in a state of adjournment, but every member out is subject to recall on three day's notice. Congressman Mahon stated to friends that he hoped this trip would give him a little relaxation and rest from the strenuous duties he had been up against.

Mr. Mahon seemed to get a lot of pleasure out of meeting his friends here Thursday. He thanked everybody for their encouragement, and requested everybody to give all the encouragement to America because that is the way to win this struggle.

He stated that our constant neglect in our preparations before the war started has required much extra effort. He said "We are getting the job done, and it is costing lots of money, but we must win if we expect to maintain our freedom and our American Plan of Life."

Statistics show that only a small per cent of the girls in this country are working girls; the rest are working men.

A great advantage of silent contempt is that it often prevents a black eye.

There are two sides to every question, but like fly paper, one side may be sticky.

Bring in Your Junk — Buy War Bonds

The first error any of us commits is not likely to prove very serious unless we follow it with the error of denying it. Purpose of the over-all price ceiling is to establish maximum prices to prevent further increases in the cost of living. Now that a man has invented a pinless diaper for babies, mothers will probably wonder why no man ever did it before. Many a woman tells her troubles to her husband because he is it—or they are him.

10-Year Shifts in Texas Income and Outgo

HOW the sources of Texas' income have shifted during the past decade is illustrated by the above chart, made public by James C. Tucker, partner of Barcus, Kindred & Company, of Austin, specialists in Texas municipal bonds. Texas' income in 1941 exceeded the 1931 revenue by $93,892,132, while the state's 1941 expenditures were $64,908,569 above the 1931 total.

Analysis of the sources of state revenue and the purposes for which funds were spent, reveals that: Fifteen per cent of the 1941 income was derived from sources non-existent a decade before—mainly liquor, wine and beer tax and employers' contributions for unemployment compensation. Public welfare expenditures, consisting of $3,600,829 for pensions in 1931, were $34,406,200 in 1941.

State expenditures for education and for highways totaled $107,008,655 in 1941, compared with $82,431,756 ten years before. These outlays which included state aid for school districts and local road districts, helped lower the tax burden in the communities receiving them and thus strengthened their bonds. Income from motor fuel taxes increased 80 per cent.
