Sgt. Robert L. Rhyne In Thick Of Fight

The following letter was recently received by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rhyne, from their son, who is a marine:

Dearest Mother and Dad:

I guess you think I'm never going to write, but this is the first chance I've had to mail anything, and I haven't received any mail yet, as we have no address. Hope we can settle soon and get mail through. I know you wonder where I am, but if you have been reading the headlines in the papers about the Marines, you can guess.

Remember I told you that when anything happened, the Marines would be the first to do it. It has been true, hasn't it? I am well and healthy and sure have a tan I had mumps aboard ship coming over. Took them just after crossing the equator. Didn't hurt me much. We have church services when possible, and I go. It sure makes one feel good to be able to be in religious services, after going through and seeing what I've seen. I'll have some exciting tales to tell you when I get home.

I sure have been lucky so far and hope my luck holds out. Mother, you and Estelle save all the clippings from papers about what the Marines are doing. I want to read them when I come home. Some day I'll tell you how come the dirt all over this letter, as you'll wonder why. It is a long story. I'll write every chance I get. Take care of yourselves, and I don't want you to worry about me.

Lots, lots of love, Son
Sgt. Robert L. Rhyne,
Marine Corps.

Home Wrecked By Gas Blast Sunday

The small two room home of Dewey Corrigan on south Fifth, just south of the West Texas Gin, was left a mass of wreckage about ten o'clock Sunday morning. At the time only Mrs. Corrigan and 14 year old son were at home. Luckily the house did not take fire after the blast.

The walls of the home were pushed out and the concrete foundation chipped up like it had been shot with dynamite. The floors were ripped up, and few glass or china utensils in the kitchen were not broken. Mrs. Corrigan was skinned and bruised but not seriously injured, but suffering from shock. Her son was not injured, but had the presence of mind to cut off the gas and electric lines.

Authorities report that it was a case of home plumbing without the aid of regular license plumbers, and had not been inspected by the city engineer.

Has 'Em All Operated On Now

Banker J. O. Gillham was seen coming from the hospital late last week, seemingly in a happy frame of mind, and stated that one of his daughters had just been operated on for appendicitis, and was doing well.

That winds up the operations on the three girls so far as appendicitis is concerned, stated, Mr. Gillham. While that is some operations for one family, we believe that W. O. Hart holds the record. We believe that every member of his family has had an operation for appendicitis, including himself.

ALFRED SMITH VISITS HOME FOLKS

Alfred B. Smith left Tuesday after spending several days at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith.

Alfred just finished another course in radio and is at present stationed in Florida. However he is expecting to go into active duty any day. He is now a radio operator. Mr. and Mrs. Smith took Alfred as far as Texarkana, Texas on the way back to Florida.

Since 1935, Texas has been the leading mineral-producing state of the nation.

Some More Unwelcome Sky Juice Falls

While rain fell in almost flood proportions last Friday afternoon and all night, none of it expected or wanted, Terry county farmers can take it. Some have told us that one result of the rain, was that all poison, put on last week was washed off, and that worms are eating the leaves so fast now that there isn't anything left to put poison on.

Arthur Green stated that lots of the bulls in his field knocked off by the hail a week ago last Sunday, had begun to open, and he had anticipated gathering them. But last Friday's rain had put a damper on that, covering them with mud. The government gauge here registered 3.73 inches from about five P. M. Friday to Saturday morning. It was a slow rain, but the ground was already wringing wet, and a high wind put the feed in a kneeling position in places.

The damage would have been immensely greater if it had fallen in an hour or two instead of about 14 hours. Voicing the sentiment of an old acquaintance we used to know, who always found something good in everything, "it sure is a good time to plant turnips." Or is it to late?

Anyway more years than otherwise, we of the high plains cast our peepers longingly for clouds no bigger than a man's hand, only to be disappointed. For the past two years our "cup" runneth over. There just don't seem to be any happy mediums.

Despite the wet ground, the gins are running more and more each day, some having ginned upwards of 20 bales last mid week. K. W. Howell, a big planter just east of town announced he was getting out five bales Tuesday afternoon.

An Old Time Territe Passes On

H. H. Timmons, 66, of Lubbock, farmer and cattleman, passed on at 12:22 Tuesday morning at a Lubbock hospital after an illness of two weeks. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at Meadow at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, followed by burial in the Meadow cemetery. His widow survives, as well as a number of relatives in the Meadow section.

Hope Timmons settled in north Terry county early in this century and lived there many years, when he moved to Lubbock. He was one of those pioneers that you could depend on, and always knew where he stood on all questions of betterment of the community.

Many old friends in Terry county will be saddened to learn of his passing.

In Army Air Base At Will Rogers Field

WILL ROGERS FIELD, Okla., Sept. 21 1942. Private William A. Conner, formerly of Brownfield, Texas is one of the soldiers stationed at this Army Air Force bombardment base.

Private Conner is assigned to a signal platoon here. He is the son of Willie Aaron Conner West and N. 3rd, Brownfield, Texas.

Before entering the Army, Private Conner was employed by commercial photography as a freelance photographer.

Harris P. Smith Family in Calif.

The Harris P. Smith family, former Tokio people are now residing at Costa Mesa, Calif., and state they like, but that Texas will always be home to them. They left here June 30th for public work in the west coast state, and want the Herald to follow them. Well, here she comes over the Rockies.

Major Edmund Freeman of Biggs Field, El Paso, was the guest of Miss Jane Brownfield over the week-end.

Cubs To Play Lamesa There Tonight

Coach Johnny Bost, the one-man coach of a double-A team, will journey tonight with his team to tie into their old rivals the Tornados, for a real scuffle. While Bost has been out of the coach business for a number of years, leaving that job up to Nooncaster, Barrett, et. al., he doesn't seem to have lost any skill in shaping up a team.

Lamesa has been in AA some three years, and during that time the Cubs have not met the Tornados. Just how the game will go will be known better around ten o'clock tonight. Lamesa played Snyder, an A team, last Friday night, beating them 6 to 0, and claim they had a hard time doing it. Last year, Snyder was just about the tail ender of their district, but they may have a real team this year.

And just because the Cubs licked the Midland Bulldogs last Friday night 13 to 0, is no reason to get on a high horse, as people who saw the game and know football say Midland was over-confident and under-trained.

The Cubs' 13-0 triumph was their first start in class AA of the Interscholastic League. The Bulldogs were held outside the Cub's 40-yard line throughout the fray. Teamwork highlighted the work of Coach Johnny Bost's club. Blocking and lack of fumbling stood out on the soggy field. Ivan Hall, with consistent punts out of bounds, was outstanding for the visitors.

The first Brownfield touchdown was set up by Ladell Nelson's 40-yard end run to the Midland 11. Lewis carried over from there and try for point was missed. In the final quarter Lewis returned a punt 75 yards for the final score. Blocking was excellent on both touchdown jaunts.

Other games scheduled for the season, are as follows, the conference games being preceded by an asterisk:

Oct. 2, open, Oct. 9 Tahoka at Brownfield; Oct. 16, Levelland at Brownfield; Oct. 23, *Pampa at Brownfield; Oct. 31, *Plainview at Plainview; Nov. 6, *Lubbock at Brownfield; Nov. 13, open; Nov. 2, *Amarillo at Amarillo, and Nov. 26, *Borger at Borger.

Lt. Dorothy Davis Now In England

A recent issue of the Redlands, Calif., paper showed a two column picture of Lieut. Dorothy Davis, who was raised in that city. She was all dressed out in U. S. nurse uniform, and is now located somewhere in England. She stated that she and other American nurses have taken over a house, which has been designated the "Mud House," and she says it is almost that.

While reared in California, Dorothy, like her elder sister, Virginia, now married, were trained at Lubbock General Hospital, and many Brownfield people know both. In fact, claim Texas as home now instead of California.

They are almost like kin folks to the Herald family as they are sisters of Mrs. Stricklin's brother-in-law, and both have visited in our home many times.

Normal Year's Rainfall Registered To Date

Terry county's normal rainfall annually is around 18 inches, and to date we have already received a total of 18.59. By months, we have the following record:

January	trace
February	.95
March	.05
April	3.02
May	1.64
June	3.30
July	2.52
August	2.01
Sept., to date	5.10
TOTAL	18.59

Limestone is found in practically in all parts of Texas except the Coastal Plain.

Terry's Quota 12-13 In By Mid-Month

That Terry county is meeting its quota and more of Naval recruits month by month in the north Texas district, is released by the headquarters at Dallas. Of the 2,500 for the whole north Texas district, Terry county with a total of 12, had already furnished 13 by the middle of the month.

The north Texas district hopes to reach their goal of 3,600 by the end of the month, and if all other counties of the district follow the lead of Terry county, that figure will be passed. We are now in the "Lexington Volunteer Week," the new airplane carrier by that name to be launched Sept. 26th, which is tomorrow.

The Navy has some very attractive features for the man 17 to 50, who are citizens, can pass the examination, and who desire to volunteer before being drafted. You are asked to get in touch with your nearest recruiting station, which is for this area, Lubbock.

However, recruiter Neill Walker calls at the Brownfield postoffice every Tuesday.

J. E. Aint What He Usto Be

J. E. Young of south Terry used to be quite a wrestler in his younger days, and admits it. However, he was in Monday to bring us one of his famous, long, sweet, black melons and noting that he had a quite a hang over to one side, he admitted that he had been too kiddish of late and got a couple of rib broken.

Now J. E. is a big 200 pounder, red faced and really husky looking, but getting up in years, not too many, but some. He found a small fellow, Bud Pedworth, a neighbor hunkered down on the grass over at the court house park, recently, slipped up behind him, locked his arms under Bud's thighs, and thought to play with him a bit, and then sit him down again.

Bud came unwound, broke the hold on him, and each yanked up the other's hind leg. Finally in the swift melee, both fell, Bud's head giving J. E.'s side a lick like a three year old ram had hit him. As stated above, J. E. has two broken ribs and Bud has a black eye.

J. E. says that friend wife told him that night that maybe he would find out some day that he was not quite as young as he used to be. Done found it out, he told her?

Lynn Countian Growing Pecans

Last week's Lynn County News, Tahoka, had an interesting article about a citizen of that county, who came there in 1908, and instead of planting a lot of black locusts, as was the habit those days, he put out pecans, recommended for west Texas, and saved 11 out of 12.

These are large trees now, and pecans make one of the best known shade trees, aside from the utility of their nut crop. Several that we know in Terry county have from one to several trees. The writer has one, and although still small, bears a few nuts each year. It has been badly shaded or crowded by other trees, which have been thinned out, and the pecan is now growing nicely.

Collins Loses Nephew In Solomon Islands

C. W. Collins of south Terry was in Tuesday and informed us that he had a nephew killed in the recently air, land and naval battle of the Solomon Islands. He stated that the nearest they could get at the matter, his nephew was killed the 20th of August.

His nephew, a young man by the name of Ford, had three years of college work, and was trained for bombardier work, and was evidently bombing a Jap naval vessel from the air when shot down. He was 23 years old.

Los Angeles C. Of C. Always On Job

We felt like a millionaire Tuesday when we opened a letter from Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, there was a check attached for the sum of $14,370,704.00, but the darn thing was made out to "the people of Texas", was on the Western Consumers Bank, which we bet was fictitious, and was signed by "The People of Los Angeles County."

But it is good to get a thrill, even if it don't last. And there was good reading in the form letter accompanying the check. It stated that Los Angeles county and city were good customers of the western states and Texas. And we know that we ship them a lot of pork, beef, as well as shelled higeria and maize, and other sorghum grains, and some corn. These grains are mostly carried by trucks, sold on the market out there, and the return load is fruit for us.

With the exception of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Arizona, Los Angeles county purchased more "vitals" from Texas than any of the rest of the ten Western states, and these purchases jumped from $3,751,186 in 1937 to $14,370,704 last year, and will likely top more states this year, as Washington and Arizona we just a few hundred thousand ahead of us.

We Have Invite To Texas Prison

The Herald had a special invite to go to the Texas Prison at Huntsville, and that without even benefit of clergy, attorney, or trial by jury. The invitation came from S. E. Barnett, superintendent of printing. But Huntsville is a long ways for thin tires, unless Sheriff Joe Price will stand the gaff.

The occasion is the annual Prison Rodeo, which is unlike rodeos away from prison walls, will run for four days, but not consecutively. They will each be on Thursday, Oct. 8, 15, 22, 29—at the prison stadium. There will not be a designated press day this year on account of rubber shortage, but newspaper folks are invited to come any one of the four Thursdays.

Organized 11 years ago, the Texas Prison rodeo is said to be the world's fastest and wildest, and more than 100,000 people attended the four performances last year. Each performance will start at 2 p. m., and run two hours. People who have attended say you get you're money's worth.

Liking Job At Douglass, Arizona

Received a letter this week from the Eli Perkins family out at Douglass, Ariz., stating that he was liking his job as foreman of a government lumber yard, that they are all enjoying good health, and he likes his out-of-doors job.

Perkins was employee of the Herald back in the early thirties. Since that time he has worked mostly in Amarillo on the two dailies there as linotype operator. A week or so ago, we stated that some melons were being shipped to Douglass, and Perk has been looking for them. He knows how good Terry melons are.

Joint Parent-Teachers Meeting

The first meeting of the parents and teachers met Thursday night, Sept. 17 at the High School. Interesting high lights of the meeting were several musical numbers by the High School Band led by Mr. Williams, Band Director; singing by the group, lead by Mr. John Locke; an interesting discussion of current problems of the school by Mr. Hancock, Superintendent of schools, and Mr. W. R. McDuffie.

Minnie Hazel Gore of the Gore Shop, was a Lubbock visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Curley Edwards is now in the employ of the First National Bank.

By Stuart Cloete

Why should anyone buy War Bonds? There is no compulsion to buy them. There is no winter relief . . . no SS man standing outside the door saying, "Buy, or else." Nothing is at stake but the future of the country . . . perhaps of the World.

What then is a stamp or bond but a vote of confidence in ourselves? In our capacity to drive on, to break all opposition and then to reconstruct upon a new and better design, a world that will be different. A world of surplus instead of one of scarcity. But a bond is more than this. It is an investment. It is something of a miracle that freedom can be bought and that in addition it should pay a dividend of almost 3 percent. And this is not all, bonds stand between us and the spiral of inflation which could engulf us more easily than any enemy outside our gates. For the first time in many years, demand backed by money exceeds supply which normally equals demands, and even stimulates it by advertising credit purchase plans. Are we to save money against the time when we may need it, or bid for the few consumer goods that are left against ourselves?

There is one more reason for buying bonds. The President, who is also the commander in chief, has asked us to do so. Meanwhile . . . while we hesitate . . . while we complain of nominal hardship . . . men die . . . only fighting men, but women and small children also. They die for a good cause. A good reason . . . for freedom. But we who are not dying must pay in time and money or we shall find ourselves dishonored. The time is short. It passes . . . and having passed, is forever lost.

Men in France, in Poland, in Norway . . . men all over Europe are regretting time . . . are saying: "If only we had known." But we do know. The writing is on the wall. Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, Singapore, Dunkirk, are not dreams. They are evil things that happened, and now this evil approaches us. It lies in wait off our coasts.

Time is money . . . but money cannot buy time, nor bring dead men to life, nor purchase freedom once it is lost.

That is why we must buy bonds now . . . today, and tomorrow, and the day after. Buy bonds until this thing is destroyed utterly . . . because time is not subject to manipulation . . . because the past is dead and the future mortgaged . . . because the world cannot live half free and half slave. Nor we, the free, allow the mortgaged upon our freedom to be foreclosed. Failing now, we fail forever. Never before could so much be bought for so little. Never so much lost for lack of that little.

Clifton Armstrong Volunteered in LAFS

LUBBOCK ARMY FLYING SCHOOL, Lubbock, Texas, Sept. 17. Clifton Armstrong of Brownfield has volunteered his services to the U. S. Army Air Forces and has been enlisted by the Lubbock Army Flying School to become an aviation mechanic.

After a brief processing period at Fort Sill, Okla., he will be given recruit training. Upon completion of his recruit training, he will be ready for assignment to duty on the flying line repairing and maintaining the bomber training planes used in training the future flying officers of the Air Forces.

The Air Forces needs men with mechanical or radio technical experience. Men who think they may be qualified are urged to see Capt. W. B. Marschner or Lt. W. C. Freeman, procurement officers respectively for the Lubbock and South Plains Army Flying Schools.

Miss Sue Belle Couchman and brother, Dayton, of Union, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Redford Smith.

Capt. Edwards Made "Arkansaw Traveler"

Capt. C. T. Edwards, of Co. D, Texas Home Guard, who along with Lieutenants Tobe Howze and John R. Turner, attended Camp Bullis near San Antonio, is displaying with much pleasure his commission as "Arkansaw Traveler." Capt. Edwards had a number of Arkansaw men in his company at Bullis, and they showed their appreciation by having the governor of Arkansas issue the commission.

This commission, with the great seal of the state of Arkansas thereon, together with the official signature of the governor and secretary of state, license Capt. Edwards a special "Traveler" and good will ambassador for Arkansas wherever he goes. Capt. Edwards stated that while Arkansas did not have a big Defense Guard like Texas, it made up in quality, and that many prominent men, like the secretary of state and other state officials, business executives and others made up their official staff.

"The dozen men I trained from that state, along with many more from Texas," said Capt. Edwards, "got right down and learned all the new war tactics, including commando-ing, and seemed to regret when the time came to disband. Hours were from early morn till 11 at night. No time out for bathing or shaving. A major from England was their chief instructor in commando tactics. Valuable aid was also given them by Major Endicott, large shoe manufacturer of Boston."

Home Guard to be Better Equipped

Talking about the local company, Texas Defense Guard, Capt. Edwards stated that they would be a lot better provided for in the future, as when regular army men are all shipped out, it will be up to the Guardsmen to protect the country. Winter uniforms are now being shipped out and fifteen million dollars is being appropriated by congress to better equip companies with rifles, ammunition, etc.

Jaycees Hold Banquet At Wines

Twenty-six members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce met last Monday noon at the Wines Hotel. Reports are that this was one of the best banquets and programs in some time. A fine talk was made by Supt. E. E. Hancock of Brownfield Consolidated School District.

The most pleasing portion of the program was two violin solos rendered by Mrs. Kettle, with Mrs. Huff at the piano. J. E. Gillham is president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, and presided at the banquet.

The Commissioners Court has called a stock law election to be voted on the same day as the general election, to be held November 3. A stock law was voted on back in the twenties, and carried, but it seems that insufficient record was made of it, and it is a question whether or not the law is legal, thus the new election. It seems that in some communities some individuals who care little about the wishes and friendship of their neighbors, have turned their stock, hogs and cattle, wild loose to forage at will on their neighbors crops. As a consequence, some of those roving herds have been shot and killed, and physical encounters in one or more instances between molesters and molestees have taken place. A new election will likely stop all such, as few people have fences around crops now days, and the law will likely carry by a top heavy majority.

There are but two classes that seem to be contesting price control legislation, organized labor and agriculture. The former is not making much outcry, as they have very high wages, and with a ceiling over what they have to buy in the way of food, they seem to be pretty well hitched. Farm interests, however, are demanding a parity price, plus enough to care for increased cost of farm labor. Anyone who lives in an agricultural section can vouch for the big increase in farm labor prices the past year, or even this year, and experts as well as farm organizations acknowledge that parity plus will mean a twelve percent hike in the cost of living. But even with that, people who know farm incomes will tell you that farmers are getting but 36 percent of labor incomes per capita. But there are some 50 million innocent bystanders that are caught between the devil and the deep blue; merchants, especially small shopowners, professional men and others. There is the barest margin between the wholesale cost and the ceiling price, and many have seen their business dwindle from month to month. Publishers have seen around 20 per cent of their income go up in smoke with canceling of car and tire advertising. The car dealer, perhaps the worst hit, has seen 62 per cent of his business vanish in this air, yet some are not permitted a hike in prices. Another bunch looking down their noses is the oil fraternity, with gas rationing an assured fact. But maybe that will turn out like sugar rationing—old cars coming out for the reason that owners want to be sure to get their part if rationing comes, whether they need it or not.

Camp County, Texas, is showing the way to other counties, on how to stop the drain on the treasury for this and that one for food, medicine, chewing tobacco or hospital care. The Camp county commissioners say there are jobs for all able-bodied, and handouts will go only to the sick or feeble unable to work from this on. It takes quite a bit of guts to shut off the drones, knowing what we have gone through the last ten years, but there must be a stopping place somewhere, and now with work for all at good wages is the time to stop it. Take Terry county for instance, its general fund stays in the red about ten months out of the year.

The Herald may be just a bit pessimistic, but it is a bit fearful that the north and east, not to mention the middle west are preparing to put men in congress of the Ham Fish stripe that will block a peace victory when it comes just like Reed, Clark, et al, did when Woodrow Wilson was trying to get the US to quit isolationism after the other conflict. We won the other war, but lost the peace, and this an even greater conflict to the credit of our stupidity for listening to the siren song of "they wont bother us again." Even Texas elected a Senator this summer that has a questionable attitude about the US taking its stand with other peace loving nations to keep the peace by policing the warlike nations. God help this nation if they lose this war and another peace conference.

Texas produces more than 6,000,000 pounds of honey annually.

By Boyce House

From out of the nowhere, all through life's storms and trials, and to the very threshold of the pearly gates, the home town newspaper carries the individual. When Doctor Stork deposits six pounds of pink and shriveled cussedness, squalling, at the home of the parents, the home paper assumes its helpful watchfulness over the new-born babe's destiny by adding four pounds and making him "a fine, bouncing ten-pound boy."

When he reaches manhood and wanders from the old nest and, through the influence of his Uncle George, gets a job driving a bus for the Insect Inn at Bingville, the old home paper comes through and puts him in "a lucrative position of trust."

And when he persuades some misguided female to share his miserable fortune, the home paper describes him as "a sterling young business man, brave and handsome."

Then when middle age has thinned his hair and put his waist line in the lead, the home paper brushes the dandruff off his coat, obscures the tobacco juice on his shirt front and makes him "a substantial citizen."

When politics gets into his system and he tries to get elected to the legislature, he is again made over by the same cheerful agency from the ordinary bonehead he is into "a friend of the people, whose statesmanlike qualities commend him to the thoughtful consideration of the voters."

And finally when his worthless old carcass is ready to return whence it came and Satan stands smiling, ready to receive the sinning soul, the home paper throws its last bluff and tries to sneak him past St. Peter with the choicest collection of fairy tales to which his career has given rise. On the off chance he might run across a copy, it even tries to palliate the miseries of the hereafter by having his relieved rejoicing widow "prostrate with grief."

Dear old home paper, cheerful, hopeful, old liar that you are. How commonplace most of us would be, were it not for the great, big charitable heart that guides you.

Just imagine that you are traveling along over the plains south of Amarillo and east of Canyon. Level as a floor for mile after mile in all directions, the earth stretches out before you. Then, wonder of wonders!—there it is, the Palo Duro Canyon. You find yourself almost on the brink, looking down into the bed of a pre-historic river, far, far below—walls of rock, huge boulders, granite in all kinds of weird conformations.

No wonder that the unknown cowboy who first saw the canyon exclaimed, "Golly, what a gulch!" Of course, you want to know what caused it; every visitor asks that question. Mason King has an answer for you. He says:

"An early-day banker in the Panhandle dropped a nickle in a prairie-dog hole and he dug all this out trying to recover the nickle!"

But Time, using wind and water and cold and heat, was the builder, naturally.

You see a story of untold ages spread before you in the different strata that form vari-colored streaks in the wall of the canyon, says Guy Suder, paleontologist, and he juggles hundreds of thousands of years so skillfully in his conversation that you would scarcely be surprised to see a dinosaur come lumbering along.

The lighthouse; the profile of Statanta; the Capitol (you see the dome and one wing for the "House", the other for the "Senate") and other formations attract thousands of tourists yearly to Palo Duro Canyon.

May Make Synthetic Rubber Of W. T. Grains

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has made a plea to Washington for prior consideration, in the nations synthetic rubber program, of a raw source material whose marketing and utilization are not planned and established by government regulations. This is the grain sorghums of which West Texas produces 80 per cent of the state's supply and 40 per cent of the nation's.

The Baruch rubber fact-finding committee appointed by President Roosevelt last month made its report Sept 10. One of its recommendations was that plant facilities be provided for greatly stepping up the output of synthetic rubber derived from ethyl alcohol made in plants erected near grain producing areas. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, after intensive research, sent a petition to the Baruch Board dated Sept. 4, asking it to "give earnest consideration to the potentialities of grain sorghums for the manufacture of rubber and to strongly recommend the full utilization of grain sorghums, as well as wheat and other grains, in the rubber production program."

Synthetic rubber is made from the chemical compound called butadiene, among other derivatives. Ethyl grain alcohol is a source product, one gallon producing enough butadiene to make 2½ pounds of synthetic rubber. The WTCC brief presented figures showing that grain sorghums rank high in alcoholic content, one ton producing 79½ gallons of highest ethyl, while a ton of wheat produces 85 gallons. The sorghums, it was asserted, will produce ethyl-made rubber cheaper than any other vegetable product. On a basis of current prices it is shown that the cost of one pound of sorghum-derived rubber would be 11 cents, and that one dollar invested in sorghums would produce, in alcohol volume, from a half-gallon to more than a gallon in excess of other grains.

Sorghums being a sort of orphan crop, the brief said their cheap utilization could be attained without disturbing the economy and relationship of other products.

C. C. Warren was in Monday to renew the Herald going to his son in the army, and stated that the leaf worms had certainly went places in the cotton since the rains. He had pointed just before the big rains.

Dr. A. H. Daniel left Monday for Riverside, Calif., where he will be located as a surgeon in the US army.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Henderson and family visited relatives in Robertson, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davidson and Genevieve visited Mr. and Mrs. Farris Brooks of Sundown, Wednesday.

Vital Farm Problems Discussed At Meeting

Vital problems facing the farmers at this time were discussed at a meeting of the Terry County Farm Bureau in the American Legion hall last Friday night, Oct. 4.

W. R. Tilson of Brownfield, District 2 director of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, presided and discussed the purposes of the organization and some of the issues affecting agriculture at this time.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation has no connection with the old Farm Bureau that sponsored cotton pools in the 1920's," he pointed out. "Our organization has nothing to sell and nothing to buy. Its primary purpose is to represent the farmers' interest at Washington, and to sponsor legislation beneficial to agriculture."

Mr. Tilson pointed to the critical issues that are now being decided in the Capital in regard to price ceilings on farm products. J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, is now in Washington trying to insure that Texas Farmers get a fair break with labor and industry in the price-fixing policy that is about to be adopted," Tilson said.

"The next 20 days are going to be among the most important in the entire history of American agriculture," he emphasized. America has the only organized farmers in the world, and after this war we are going to be called upon to represent world agriculture at the peace conference. We can not get a fair break for agriculture unless we are strongly organized," he added.

One War Week

A calendar of events on one war job in one recent week gives a graphic picture of how General Electric is working to meet wartime emergencies.

1. THURSDAY: An order was received at an eastern G-E factory for equipment needed by a U.S. warship near Australia. A special call went out.

2. THURSDAY NIGHT: As many workers as could be efficiently employed on the job worked all night, all day FRIDAY, assembling the equipment.

3. SATURDAY: Under police escort, the equipment was rushed to a nearby airport. Traveling by plane, it arrived in San Francisco on SUNDAY.

4. WEDNESDAY: A bombing plane landed the equipment at its Pacific destination—10,000 miles from the factory—six days after receipt of order.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

From out of the nowhere, all through life's storms and trials, and to the very threshold of the pearly gates, the home town newspaper carries the individual. When Doctor Stork deposits six pounds of pink and shriveled cussedness, squalling, at the home of the parents, the home paper assumes its helpful watchfulness over the new-born babe's destiny by adding four pounds and making him "a fine, bouncing ten-pound boy."

When he reaches manhood and wanders from the old nest and, through the influence of his Uncle George, gets a job driving a bus for the Insect Inn at Bingville, the old home paper comes through and puts him in "a lucrative position of trust."

And when he persuades some misguided female to share his miserable fortune, the home paper describes him as "a sterling young business man, brave and handsome."

Then when middle age has thinned his hair and put his waist line in the lead, the home paper brushes the dandruff off his coat, obscures the tobacco juice on his shirt front and makes him "a substantial citizen."

When politics gets into his system and he tries to get elected to the legislature, he is again made over by the same cheerful agency from the ordinary bonehead he is into "a friend of the people, whose statesmanlike qualities commend him to the thoughtful consideration of the voters."

And finally when his worthless old carcass is ready to return whence it came and Satan stands smiling, ready to receive the sinning soul, the home paper throws its last bluff and tries to sneak him past St. Peter with the choicest collection of fairy tales to which his career has given rise. On the off chance he might run across a copy, it even tries to palliate the miseries of the hereafter by having his relieved rejoicing widow "prostrate with grief."

Dear old home paper, cheerful, hopeful, old liar that you are. How commonplace most of us would be, were it not for the great, big charitable heart that guides you.

Just imagine that you are traveling along over the plains south of Amarillo and east of Canyon. Level as a floor for mile after mile in all directions, the earth stretches out before you. Then, wonder of wonders!—there it is, the Palo Duro Canyon. You find yourself almost on the brink, looking down into the bed of a pre-historic river, far, far below—walls of rock, huge boulders, granite in all kinds of weird conformations.

No wonder that the unknown cowboy who first saw the canyon exclaimed, "Golly, what a gulch!" Of course, you want to know what caused it; every visitor asks that question. Mason King has an answer for you. He says:

"An early-day banker in the Panhandle dropped a nickle in a prairie-dog hole and he dug all this out trying to recover the nickle!"

But Time, using wind and water and cold and heat, was the builder, naturally.

You see a story of untold ages spread before you in the different strata that form vari-colored streaks in the wall of the canyon, says Guy Suder, paleontologist, and he juggles hundreds of thousands of years so skillfully in his conversation that you would scarcely be surprised to see a dinosaur come lumbering along.

The lighthouse; the profile of Statanta; the Capitol (you see the dome and one wing for the "House", the other for the "Senate") and other formations attract thousands of tourists yearly to Palo Duro Canyon.

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10th

AUSTIN — Gov. Coke Stevenson has formally proclaimed October 4 to 10 as "Fire Prevention Week" in Texas.

Citing the urgent necessity for preventing fires during time of war, Gov. Stevenson said, "the production of materials essential to the prosecution of the war by our nation is taxing the capacity of industrial plants, and curtailment of production because of fires becomes a menace to our own safety."

The Governor called upon Texas citizens and various local organizations to emphasize the danger of fire and to encourage fire prevention.

Commenting on Fire Prevention Week, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, suggested that every Texan accept individual responsibility in adopting fire prevention measures at home and at work.

"According to the official proclamation," Hall said, "Fire prevention Week has special significance this year. The defense of factories, farms and homes against destruction by accidental fires is essential to the war production program and conservation of vital resources."

"There is another reason why we must devote more attention to preventing fires. We are now receiving dividends of lower insurance rates — the results of preventing fires. In order to keep the low fire insurance rates now in effect, it will be necessary for us to prevent fires in the future."

Veneral Diseases No Respectors

Austin, Texas. — Because of the fact that a veneral disease is no respecter of persons, people of every class and color, rich and poor, educated and ignorant are numbered among the victims, asserts Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Veneral diseases, of which syphilis and gonorrhoea are the more commonplace, are among the most vital health problems in the State of Texas today," Dr. Cox said. "This state has been chosen as the location for dozens of army camps, training fields, naval bases, shipbuilding yards, airplane construction plants, and other major defense industries. The resulting influx of workers and armed forces has emphasized the need for exerting every known means in the control of veneral diseases."

The State Health Officer pointed out that self-diagnosis and self-treatment are extremely dangerous and advised consulting a physician for determining definitely whether or not a veneral disease is present.

"Only a reputable physician can properly diagnose such a disease. The presence of gonorrhoea is not disclosed by a routine blood test, and the diagnosis of syphilis requires more than a blood examination," declared Dr. Cox. "Both syphilis and gonorrhoea are almost 100% curable if discovered and treated in their very earliest stages. Thousands of deaths annually could be prevented," Dr. Cox said, "if sufficient attention were given to the early diagnosis and thorough treatment of syphilis. Delay reduces the chance of cure and in many cases is the direct cause of death."

JUSTICE FOR THE TRAITOR

Detroit Judge in condemning a traitor to death remarked: "We have been soft to the extent of being mushy. There are too many in the sob squad and too few in the fighting squad." That he was right was pretty clearly indicated by the fact apparently nobody has every been executed for treason in the United States though many have been guilty and some even convicted. The judge was right again when he advocated making it clear that "during this war the penalty for treason is death" when we realize that a traitor is one among us who is helping our enemy in the war, it is apparent that his object—the logical consequence of his acts—is the destruction of American lives. That puts it up to the authorities to choose between the life of the traitor and the lives loyal Americans, most likely American soldiers. That consideration is enough to change American "softness" into firmness in justice.

Americans are properly proud of the fact that they are inclined to mercy, tolerance and forgiveness. But in a death struggle those qualities become a weakness; we must throw them off and "get tough," or be beaten—Pathfinder.

Dream Of Average Citizen In 1946

(Mr. Average Citizen drives up to the curb on the street of his home town and after alighting from his car meets THE GHOST OF MY NEIGHBOR'S SON, who lost his life on Bataan Peninsula in 1942.)

The Ghost of My Neighbor's Son—"Hello, Mr. Average Citizen; how does the world serve you?"

Mr. Average Citizen—"Fine; I have done right well by myself lately."

TGOMNS—"That's a nice new automobile you have there."

Mr. A.—"Yes. You know I made a lot of money during the war."

TGOMNS—"Is that so? I didn't know about it. How did you do it?"

Mr. A.—"Well you know a lot of those draftees had to dispose of property at a sacrifice and I kept plenty of cash on hand to take advantage of any case where I could catch one in a 'pinch.' And I kept my job right on through the war and used my salary to pick up more of those 'bargains.' See those four rent houses over there? I picked those up like that."

TGOMNS—"Mr. A., how old were you when World War II started?"

Mr. A.—"Thirty-five, why?"

TGOMNS—"Were you in good health?"

Mr. A.—"Perfect. There has never been anything wrong with me. You know I played halfback for Old Tech for three years. Just look at this waistline now."

TGOMNS—"I suppose you have quite a lot of War Bonds put away?"

Mr. A.—"Well, yes and no. You see, I was a member of the 70 per cent Club during the war. I bought bonds to the extent of 10 per cent of my salary which entitled me to wear the button. It was impossible for me to tell what I was making on my investments and the 10 Per Cent Club didn't require checking into that. My salary was the only income anybody knew about. Of course I had to cash out a few War Bonds occasionally when I had a chance to make a killing. You know War Bonds only give you about two and three-quarters per cent return."

TGOMNS—"Was your job essential to helping win the war?"

Mr. A.—"Well, no, but I had two kids under 18 years of age."

TGOMNS—"It was my understanding that the Army, Navy and Marines wanted men like you for skilled jobs so they wouldn't have to train unskilled men. Industry also wanted men like you. They claimed it would save months of time and much manpower in winning the war. Besides, they paid skilled and professional men enough to support their families."

Mr. A.—"Yes, but this messy business of being under military regulations and wearing a uniform didn't appeal to me. Besides, they spent too much time winning the war. If they had thrown in more men and had taken more chances, we would have whipped them a year sooner. However, I shouldn't kick, because the longer it lasted the more money I made."

TGOMNS—"Mr. A. did you have a son in the Army?"

Mr. A.—"Oh, yes. You know they caught him in the 18-year-old draft about two years before the war was over. But I got him into the Reserves early, and then used a little 'pull' (sly wink) to get him into a soft desk job, so he wouldn't be in any danger."

TGOMNS—"Mr. A., I have been alive in spirit only, since the early part of 1942 when a yellow animal dive-bombed my fox-hole on Bataan Peninsula. I have no emotional sensations other than a feeling of compassion for the whole human race. But if I were other than a spirit, and had the power, I would blast your soul into a blazing Hell. I would surround you throughout eternity with the agonizing screams of bleeding, torn, shell shocked American soldiers, sailors, and marines who cried in 1942 and 1943 for more guns, and tanks and planes, and trained men. I would force you to swim in the scalding tears of mothers, and wives and sweethearts of those boys who were sent too little and too late. I would keep reminding you that your son and daughter and wife had come to loath your memory and that all the others who remembered you despised you for the coward, traitor and cheat that you were on earth. I would keep a moving picture before your eyes of your filthy ill gained property being drench in the blood of those whose bodies were torn to bits in paying the supreme sacrifice in World War II that the United States might always be a haven of liberty for those who loved her."—Anonymous editorial in Littlefield County-Wide News.

Next time you entertain one of Uncle Sam's boys for dinner, just put a big piece of lemon meringue pie in front of him and you'll make a friend for life. No wonder lemon pie is the universal favorite of Uncle Sam's fighting forces. It's EVERYBODY'S favorite. Especially when it's made with TEX-SUN lemons.

Many of the Brownfield fans will remember O. D. Thomas as an outstanding player on the Cub team of a few seasons ago, as well as later a Red Raider on the Tech college team. His mother was in this week and stated that O. D. was now a naval ensign.

He is an ensign in the Navy Air Corps, and will be leaving Bartlesville, Okla., soon, for a station, perhaps some where on the war front.

WINNING the WAR
Begins
on the farm

IT'S TRUE . . .

that no planes roar down upon your home... no shells plow up your fields... no armies trample your crops and fields. Yet in this war, victory begins on your farm—by producing more Food for Freedom—and by saving more in War Bonds and Stamps. Here indeed is an opportunity every American will welcome. For by saving your money, you help save for yourself as well as your country. What's more, your money invested in War Bonds helps keep down the prices of the things you buy; helps make the money you spend go further—now. By putting your money into War Bonds and keeping it up regularly, month after month, you will be sure of having the money when you can use it best. And if you need the money, you can get it back anytime after 60 days from issue date of the Bond. Don't delay—your "fighting dollars" are needed now. Make Every Market Day "Bond Day"—Invest At Least 10%.

The local Red Cross sewing room is urgently in need of shirt buttons, see if you don't have some to spare. We are now making shirts and wish to ask each of you sewing to do your very best on these garments as in the past we have had to rip up some sewing and it can't be put back as neat as it should be. These garments have inspection at headquarters and of course we want this unit to stand at the top in everything we do, won't you help us do this.

You are cordially welcome at any time to help sew or cut at the room or to take sewing home with you.

MRS. W. R. McDUFFIE ELECTED SUPT OF CHRISTIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Last Sunday morning members of the Christian Church elected Mrs. W. R. McDuffie Superintendent of the Sunday School for the coming year. We look forward to growth and progress under her leadership. The minister explained the second step in the Faith Building Program, "A Bargain With Life."

Next Sunday the subject will be the "Art of Prayer," almost a lost art these days. Many are starving, spiritually, today. Neglect of nourishment for the soul through prayer is as disastrous to the mind and spirit as neglect of food is to the body. One can hardly be a Christian without prayer, and without Christian citizens, Democracy cannot long endure. Jesus said that men ought always to pray. Do you pray? Do you know how? You can learn!

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Monday, Sept. 23 is the date set for the second anniversary of the Womans Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church.

There will be a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock and every member, both old and new, is urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McGowan returned Monday from San Antonio where they visited Billy Joe, who is an Aviation Cadet. They report him thrilled with his work and doing fine and that they saw several Terry County boys. Billy Joe expects to be sent some place else in the next few weeks, but his present address is A/C W. J. McGowan, San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, Pre-Flight School (pilot) Group XVIII, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Young were luncheon guests in the W. W. Waddell home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lee and Miss Thelma visited in the W. W. Waddell home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Patterson, are the parents of a fine girl, born Tuesday.

A Fashion Frock

Wartime Wear!

Material Conserving Style for Patriotic Women..

STRICTLY FEMININE
as worn in Hollywood by
Ona Munson

Talented Star of the Movies

During these war days, when fashions are greatly influenced by the military and emphasizes tailored simplicity, it is refreshing to see a wartime frock that has the soft feminine touch without resorting to the now outmoded frills.

The fashion detail of this flattering frock is the apron front, with wide lace trim so woven that it looks like military braid. The sleeves have an echoing trim of the lace. The high round neck heads a row of fabric buttons, and the bodice is gathered on each side. The skirt falls into gentle folds and flares delightfully with each movement. Because of the strictly feminine lines this frock is highly successful in bringing out the good points of one's figure. Preferable colors are feminine, too. The two best are a beach blue or a cherry wine.

IS TIRE RATIONING IN THE BIBLE?

Does the Bible prophecy tire rationing?

Are you confused about world conditions, and wondering what the Bible teaches about them? If so, you are urged to attend the Church of Christ this Sunday night and hear Warren A. Henry, the minister, speak from the subject "The Most Misunderstood Book In The World. Called by Bruce Barton "The Book Nobody Knows."

"This sermon will be something different than anything probably the people of Brownfield have ever heard," according to Mr. Henry. Last Sunday night the Church House was practically full, and it is expected that there will be even a larger crowd this week to hear this unique sermon, dealing with the questions which so much concerns us all at this time.

MEADOW H. D. NEWS (Delayed)

Meadow Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Lillian Doak September 15th. Eight members and one visitor were present. Meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Herman Pendergrass. Several members brought things prepared from fruit and recipes were exchanged. The main topic of discussion was the display to be in Collins' window in Brownfield the last week in October. The poppy was adopted as club flower and red, white, and blue as club colors. After meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served. Next meeting is October 1st, in home of Mrs. Jim Finley.—Reporter.

Too bad you can't just as readily smell quality in oil. Neither can you see it, feel it, or taste it. This doesn't mean that there's no way to spot the genuine article.

So here are facts to help you pick a quality oil: Phillips offers a number of oils because car owners' preferences vary almost as much as their cars and pocketbooks. But when you want our best oil, there's no need for doubt or question. Phillips speaks out plainly. Tells you frankly that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to car-owners like yourself.

You can readily make sure of quality when you are replacing summer-worn lubricant with the correct winter grade, or when you are making the regular 1,000-mile change, by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

IT'S PHILLIPS FINEST QUALITY

Last week saw some changes made in the newspapers of this section of the Plains. Editor and Mrs. Hull of the Sudan News have taken over the Texas Spur. Afton and Mrs. Richards took over the publication of the Sudan News, which is still owned by the Weimhold interests. Still another change, is in the making as Editor Forest Weimhold of the Heckley County Herald was taken by the draft and is now a "Buck" Private in the Army of this country. We suppose that Mrs. Weimhold will be the guiding head of the Herald when Forest leaves as she is experienced in newspaper work.—Anton News.

We Can't Equal Their Sacrifices, but We Might Try

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs 53 so every time you fill a 53 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Help your community reach its War Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department

Baptist Church News

The Bible School attendance was not up to the average last Sunday and right now during this lovely fall weather is the best time to build up the attendance in all of the departments.

The committee on recommendation of officers and teachers has been busy and desire to recommend only those who will shoulder the responsibility carried with their work and no doubt are at least a hundred places of leadership to be filled for the coming year which will begin October first and how men and women dedicated to their tasks are needed.

Next Sunday is promotion day in our school when our children and young people will be promoted to their new classes having closed a year with the classes they are in and this will necessitate changes of classes and teachers.

Just now is a fine place to enlist others in the study of the Bible and there is room in the classes for another 150 new faces each Sunday morning and they are living neighbors to each of us and can be brought with an earnest invitation.

Christ is looking for volunteers who will take places of work in his church and no service should be too small for any of us.

We need a faithful membership who will not make excuses of any kind for non-attendance but will attend the services at God's house faithfully as there are many millions of people now living who no longer have this privilege.

Invite your neighbors and friends to come with you next Sunday morning. They will be welcome.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Essential in the equipment of every Soldier, Sailor, Marine or Flyer is a first aid kit, consisting of bandages and antiseptics for instantaneous use. These materials are packed into a compact box and cost about $1.50 each.

We need millions of these first aid kits for emergency treatment. They are also used by Red Cross workers, in field hospitals and wherever needed until hospital treatment may be obtained. Even a child could buy one or more of these kits through purchase of War Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps every pay day and invest at least ten percent of your income in these government securities. You say let the roughnecks do the fighting, They are used to beans and stew, But I'm glad I'm classed with the roughnecks, Who fight for the Red, White and Blue. You say his girl couldn't bear to send Her sweetheart out with the rest. Do you think she'll be proud of him When she feels the Japs breath on her breast? You can thank God the stars in Old Glory Are not blurred with any such strains, Because there are ten million roughnecks That carry red blood in their veins. They go to drill in bad weather, Come in with a grin on their face, While your darling sits down in the parlor And lets a man fight in his place. FSA Placed On War Time Footing

Returning his week from Big Spring where he attended a district meeting of the Farm Security Administration, Dennis Q. Lilly, rural rehabilitation supervisor of the Federal agency, said the FSA's program has been placed on a wartime footing.

"Every activity of the Farm Security program will be considered on the basis of its contribution to the nation's war needs," he said. "This means that food production comes first and we will do nothing which does not contribute directly to the Food for Freedom program."

Of special interest to Terry and Yoakum county farmers was Mr. Lilly's announcement that loan funds are immediately available for food and feed preservation needs this fall and for food and feed production operations next spring.

"Farm Security," said Mr. Lilly, "has the responsibility for giving the needy, low income farmer a chance to participate effectively in the nation's war effort. With our help he can make a valuable contribution to America's food production program. Without our help, his strength and power will be wasted."

"We have instructions," he continued, "to begin making loans immediately and dig down deeper than ever before in order to help the greatest number of farm families."

"With the prospect of serious shortages in certain foods, the nation must depend upon the small farm operators to utilize their full labor and skills if the United States and the other United Nations are to pull through the present crisis to victory."

Terry and Yoakum county farmers may obtain complete details about the FSA's wartime lending program by contacting Mr. Lilly at his office in the Post Office at Brownfield, Texas.

A pitiable sight: A half-drunk soldier, sobering up a little and trying to find someone to cash his check so he could get back to camp. He said he had on the wrong uniform, he was unshaven and his clothes looked as if they had been thrown at him, and missed in a few places. Just another illustration of which civilians are many, of the Scripture: "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived by it is not wise." When asked whether he would do it again, his reply was, "I guess so." And the Scripture told that, too. "I will seek it yet again."

OUR VALLEYS OF DECISION

By Louis Bromfield

"This is a new kind of war, a war for which we have as yet been unable to find a name. It marks a turning point in world history, the most enveloping turning point there has ever been, because for the first time in the world's history the entire world is involved and because the decision involves the whole future of civilization."

"The future of civilization is a vague and tremendous and oratorical phrase. Interpreted and broken down, it means the freedom of yourself and myself, whether we shall be allowed to live in a decent fashion, enjoying liberty and prosperity and human dignity, involving the future of the very house we live in, the happiness and well-being of our children, the opportunities of young people and all the comfort and security of the old. It affects how we shall worship God, and how and whether we can live decently with our neighbors. We can help, all of us, by fighting, by working, by keeping our courage high. We can help too, enormously, by lending to ourselves the money which is necessary to win this war, by testifying to our confidence in our own country, our own battle. War Bonds and War Stamps are weapons exactly as tanks and guns are weapons. Buy now, not tomorrow or next day, but now—to save what God gave us and what we have fought for since our country became a nation—BUY WAR BONDS."

YES, I WAS REJECTED AND LEFT BEHIND

We found the following article stuck in the door of the Courier Office one morning last week. We don't know who the writer is, but we are going to break our rule of not printing anonymous articles by printing this one. Who ever the boy was who wrote this item, he has left behind a thought that should not go unregarded. Let's not condemn any boy who is left behind until we learn the true facts of the case. Sometimes they are not left behind willingly, but because of circumstances of which we know nothing. Think it over.

Yes, I Was Rejected And Left Behind!

When I walk down the street I feel that I am at the end of a pointed finger. I can hear whispers and low voices that seem to say "Why hasn't he gone?" Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

My friends have gone, years ago it seems. I heard their parents and friends tell them goodbye and so warmly wish them well. They left with a look of proud and lasting determination in their faces. I can think of no finer act that I could do with greater glory than to answer the call of my Uncle Sam and serve my colors. Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

Deep down inside of me, part of my heart and life seems to be gone—gone with my best friends. It seems that I have much left to offer, only my income, which isn't much, but that I will give with my prayers. Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

Blood Donor Rate "High Achievement"

For "high achievement in production" the American Red Cross Blood Donor Service has been awarded the Army-Navy "E" pennant and emblem.

No better description of the accomplishments of the Blood Donor Service, which is collecting blood for the nation's armed forces, can be found than the words of the Army and Navy citation. The fact that the Red Cross was able to exceed the quota of 380,000 pints of blood which has been requested by the Army and Navy is indeed a "high achievement."

But as Norman H. Davis, chairman of the Red Cross, has pointed out, that achievement would not have been possible without the cooperation of the hundreds of thousands of American men and women who have given their blood that others may live.

It is probable that few of those who gave blood to the Red Cross looked upon their contribution as a "high achievement." In the manner typical of Americans, they undoubtedly minimized its importance. To them the contribution was small in comparison to the sacrifices being made by the men in uniform.

Yet it is fitting, as Chairman Davis has said, that the award pennant be "dedicated to the thousands of volunteer donors whose generous cooperation has made possible the record on which the award based."

The job of collecting blood for the armed forces is not yet ended. At the request of the Army and the Navy the Red Cross is collecting an additional 2,500,000 pints of blood. The order is a large one, but it will be filled.

Election Notice

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF TERRY

This 14th day of September, 1942, came on to be considered by the county judge of Terry County, Texas, the petition of 100 freeholders of the said Terry County for an order of election in said county for the purpose of enabling the freeholders thereof to determine whether horses, mules, jacks, jennets and cattle and cattle shall be permitted to run at large therein, and also to determine whether hogs, sheep or goats shall be permitted to run at large therein, and it appearing to the undersigned judge of such court that such petition was filed with the commissioners' court of said county on September 12, 1942, and that such court thereafter at their next regular term, on the 14th day of September, 1942, heard and granted the same and ordered that such election be held on the 3rd day of November, 1942, and that the judge of said county issue an order therefor to be given as required by law:

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me under such order and of the laws of this state, I, C. L. Lincoln, County Judge of Terry County, Texas, do hereby order that on the 3rd day of November, 1942, in the regular voting precincts of said Terry County, and election shall be held for the purpose of enabling the freeholders of such county to determine whether horses, mules, jacks, jennets and cattle shall be permitted to run at large in such county and also to determine whether hogs, sheep or goats shall be permitted to run at large in said Terry County.

That polls shall be opened for such election at the regular voting boxes in said Terry county, and the officers of election, heretofore appointed by the commissioners' court to hold the general November elections in Terry county for the year 1942, are hereby reappointed and ordered to hold said election in accordance with law.

No person shall vote at such election unless he is a freeholder and is also a qualified voter under the constitution and laws of the State of Texas. All votes of such election shall be by ballot, and voters desiring to prevent the animals designated herein from running at large shall place upon their ballots the words, "For the Stock Law," and those in favor of allowing such animals to run at large, "Against the Stock Law."

On or before the tenth day after such election, the persons holding such election shall make due returns of all the votes cast at their respective voting places for and against said proposition to the county judge of said county.

Public notice of this order shall be given for at least thirty days before the date of such election by publication thereof in Terry County Herald, a news-paper published in said county.

Witness the hand of the county judge of Terry County, Texas, this 14th day of September, 1942.

C. L. Lincoln, County Judge, 13c Terry County, Texas.

SAUCE OR THE GOOSE

News reports indicate that a Federal board may soon be formed for the purpose of fighting inflation and stabilizing prices. That board would be made up of representatives of the government, industry and labor. And in addition, it should have representatives of agriculture.

It is a curious fact that labor wants farm price ceilings on farm products—but it doesn't want similar ceilings on wages. In short, certain segments of labor are bent on having their cake and eating it, too. That is an economic impossibility.

Today farm workers can get the highest wages in history—but competent labor is practically unobtainable. Every farm cost is zooming up. Under those conditions, the farmer can't be expected to mildly accept drastic limitations on the selling price of his crops. Workable price control, in other words, must be applied equitably to all.

GET POULTRY HOUSES READY FOR WINTER

College Station—A large part of the chickens hatched last spring will come into production during September. The eggs these young layers produce during the fall and winter will count heavily in maintaining Texas' quota of the 1942 food goals. Accordingly, says H. H. Weatherby, assistant poultryman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, the hens should be provided with the most favorable surroundings in order to assure as nearly maximum output as is possible.

To provide comfortable housing and safeguard the health of the poultry, Weatherby suggests that poultrymen do the following things during September:

Clean and disinfect laying houses before pullets are moved in.

Repair roofs, walls, windows, ventilators and floors before cold weather.

Check all lighting equipment. Lay in a supply of good litter.

Provide at least one foot of feeding space for each five hens.

If pullets haven't been vaccinated for pox, do it now.

Provide plenty of ventilation in the house until cold weather.

Cull old hens and pullets closely. September is a good time to start fall chicks.

It takes plenty of good clean feed to make eggs. Weatherby points out. A hen laying 110 to 120 eggs requires 69.3 pounds of feed and uses 7.06 pounds to make a dozen of eggs. A hen laying 260 to 270 eggs needs 84 pounds of feed and uses 3.73 pounds to make a dozen.

At a time when the fate of the world hinges on American war production, destruction by fires is a criminal waste.

Careless acts and failure to detect new hazards have resulted in fires.

Texas annually produces enough eggs to give one to almost every person in the entire world.

SHOWS MOVIES OF NEW GRANDDAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Graham were hosts to relatives and friends last Monday night with a showing of colored movies of their pretty young granddaughter, Twilla Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Amo, of Roselle, N. J.

There were two reels of these films, taken during the time Mrs. Graham and Twilla were visiting in the Amo home, and showed Mrs. Graham and Twilla as well as the fond parents, holding and working with the baby.

At the showing were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer, Mesdames Tom May, Clyde Lewis, Cye Tankersley, Vance Sibley and small son, M. B. Sawyer, Curley Edwards and daughter, Jonelda, Mrs. Mumford Smith and Mrs. Sawyer Graham and son Mumford Austin of Glendale, Ariz., Mrs. A. J. Stricklin, Leon Lewis, Vondee Lewis, and Ida May May.

Mr. Vance Sibley, machine operator, also showed several other reels of the fall of Manila and short war sketches of other places, also some Pop-Eye and other child interest films for the children.

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND FUNERAL OF RELATIVE IN SNYDER

The body of Mrs. Novis Wren Eden of Corpus Christi, Texas, was laid to rest in the Snyder Cemetery last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Eden at one time made her home with Mrs. Jim Lewis and attended school here.

Those from here attending the funeral were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Huckabee, Sr., and Jr., Clyde Bond, O. D. Huckabee, Lewis Huckabee, Chris Quante, Mrs. Eldora White and Mrs. Geo. Warren.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Lois Taylor was hostess with a birthday dinner for her daughter, Barbara, on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, honoring her fifteenth birthday.

At the dinner and attending the show afterwards were Nita Jean Worsham, Morgan Copeland, Glenna Faye Ross, Ted White, Wanda Joyce Finney, Robert Lee Craig, Edgar Self and the honoree, Barbara Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton McPherson of Lubbock visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. McPherson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Craig of Floydada were short visitors in the B. L. McPherson home last Monday evening. They were moving to Tatum.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Collins' guests this week are Mrs. Collins' brother, Buster Brown and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Brown and son Harris of Canyon. They are also visiting in the W. S. Daniel home, Mr. Brown being Mrs. Daniells' brother.

Mrs. Lawrence Magee returned to Wichita, Kansas this week after a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock.

Mrs. Morris Lowe spent last week end in Ralls visiting relatives.

New Mileage

How to get new mileage into wornout automobile tires is demonstrated to Miss Dorothy St. Lawrence of Providence, R. I. at the Firestone laboratories. The trick is simple; by merely applying an all-cotton protector to the inner tube and inserting both into the old tire, an additional mileage life of 4,000 to 5,000 miles is obtained. Not bad in these days of rubber shortages.

The Army's fighter planes are the finest in the world and develop speeds up to 400 miles an hour. They cost approximately $100,000 each, provide fighter escorts for the huge flying fortresses, and combine speed, range, altitude and blistering fire power.

America's plane production plants are working over-time turning out thousands of these fighter planes. War Savings Bonds will help pay for them and the American people are committed to at least ten percent of their income to finance their cost in War Bonds. Every American, buying his share every pay day, will make it comparatively easy to supply our army and navy air corps with these supreme Eagles of the air.
