Anniversary Of Pearl Harbor Attack

Come Monday and one year shall have rolled around since the cowardly and dastardly attack of the sneaking Japs on our Navy and Army at Pearl Harbor. Not only was the military attacked on that early Sunday morning a year ago, but civilians, men, women and children, as well as hospital installations were blasted by the slant eye rats.

In the 166 years the United States has had dealings with other nations no such attack on the nations as this has been recorded. Not even the pirates of Algeria, that merely attacked private shipping, can hold this attack a light. Nor was the sinking of the Maine in Havana harbor in 1898, which was laid to Spanish depredations, a breakfast spell. Indeed, it was never proven conclusively that the Spaniards had anything to do with the matter. Many live today who hold that Cuban patriots blew up the Maine to get the aid of the United States in driving the cruel Spanish masters from their shores.

While the time was early morning at Pearl Harbor, it was early afternoon in Texas. The writer happened to be at Brownwood that day, and the wife and myself, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Trigg drove leisurely through Camp Bowie, never being stopped at the entrance or anywhere else, and little or no attention was paid to us, or the hundreds of others who were driving over the grounds. But just try to get in now, or for that matter, after 1:20 CST o'clock last December 7th. We drove through that morning.

The first inkling we had of the matter was when we reached Sweetwater and stopped for refreshments. It was there we heard one soldier from Camp Barkley, Abilene, say to another: "Had you heard of the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japs? We'd better get back to camp at once." People were hovering over radios when we left. At Snyder we heard more, also at Post, and more of course when we reached home and our radio. But you know the story. You remember that if there were still any pacifists, they had closed up their traps, or joined the rest for all out war against the Nip rats.

But from this on, December 7th will always be a day on the American calendar. It will no more be a day of celebration than Thanksgiving, but will always be a day of sacred memory for the men, women and children who that day were murdered without warning in this dastardly attack.

We don't know just how the day will be observed in Brownfield, but in many places the citizens are making preparations to try and sell a War Bond to every person able to buy one, and stamps to the rest. In other words, it has been proposed to make the first anniversary of this cowardly attack one to be remembered by the rats, by buying bonds with which to purchase bombs for the Japs.

In some places, Sunday will be included in the observance, as the attack was staged on Sunday, and that it be mentioned in the pulpits and people urged to buy bonds on Monday. It is also suggested that thanks be offered that our nation still survives this bloody massacre and that prayers be offered for our men in the service of our country wherever they may be, and a solemn memorial service for those who died at Pearl Harbor.

The rallying cry that has been proposed is, "Work—Fight—Sacrifice."

Can't Go Anywhere So Will Read

W. T. Briscoe, prominent Terry county farmer was in Saturday and really loaded up on reading matter for another year. W. T. says looks like it's coming to the point where there will be no gasoline to visit, so one as well get ready to read a lot.

When he got through ordering, he hand the Herald a check for almost $15.00.

Another Wild Rumor Spiked By Hartzog

Rumor has it that farmers will not be allowed to butcher their hogs at home without paying a tax of some sort for that privilege. Rumor also has it that farmers cannot sell home killed or cured meats to their friends without incurring penalties of some kind. These rumors are aiding the foe and should be spiked whenever and wherever they appear, according to county agent A. L. Hartzog. Such rumors, possibly of subversive origin, tend to halt home killing and preservation of regular supplies of meat for farm families, which coupled with the inability of these families to make customary purchases of necessary meats in towns and cities when mileage rationing is imposed could lead to a vicious shortage of farm food supplies during the coming winter months. It is true that everyone is asked to voluntarily limit his individual consumption of red meats (the regular cuts of pork and beef) to two and one-half pounds per week, and a county-wide drive will be made to enlist every farmer in this voluntary share-the-meat program, however, let's make it plain to all that this in no way prohibits the usual preservation of meats at home. Rather, it is the duty of every farm family to kill and preserve as much as possible of the family meat supply for the coming year, and they are encouraged to do so. At no time in the history of our nation has it been more imperative that meats be cured at home. By-products of the home butchering such as heart, liver, lard trimmings, etc., do not count against your two and one-half pound voluntary quota per person. Neither do various wild game, nor chickens and other fowl or fish. Kill and cure your own meat, says A. L. Hartzog, County Agent of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

People Stocking With Reading Material

Readers, new ones, and renewals, have been rolling in too fast the past few weeks to record all their names, but will state that in the past week more than 50 have renewed, and around 25 have become new readers of the Herald. So, we are fast approaching one of the best paid in advance lists we have ever had.

Like one reader stated a fellow had as well stock up on reading matter, 'cause we ain't a goin' no where. Most of those who have taken papers other than the Herald at the club rate, has been dailies, as most of them want to read up on the fast moving war news during these long winter nights.

Will state for the benefit of those who may like magazines, that we are prepared to order any magazine published, as well as some of your favorite dailies and save you some money. Bring in your list for us to figure.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Allman of the Scuddy community spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Allman's sister in Floydada.

Marice Thompson visited Bernard Thompson in Amarillo last week and attended the ball game between Pampa and Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Barnes of Fort Worth Texas are visiting in the B. L. Thompson home.

John Hunter of Amarillo spent Thanksgiving and the week end with his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Howell and baby of Midland spent the week end with Mr. Howell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Howell.

Mrs. J. E. Greenfield from Dumas visited friends and relatives over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Blain Wiggins, Kay and Kirk of Lamesa spent Thanksgiving in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Shillingburg, Mr. Wiggins' sister.

State Jaycee Prexy To Speak Here

ganization on Tuesday night, December 8th, J. E. Gillham, local president stated today.

Shepperd along with Paul Dollarhide, Panhandle, Vice-President of Region Six and Brownfields representative on the Executive Committee, will be honored guests at the meeting to be held at the Leigon Hall Tuesday, Dec. 8th at 8:30 P. M. Shepperd will speak on the timely subject "Why a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Wartime."

Meeting will be held jointly with the Texas Defense Guard. The general public is cordially invited to come out and hear this talented young man. And this is by no means a stag affair, so be sure and bring the ladies. There will be no admission charge whatsoever.

Despite travel difficulties, Shepperd, youngest man to ever serve as State President, has traveled more miles on Jaycee business and has visited more local organizations than any other state president. By automobile, train, bus and by travel bureau he has traveled over 20,000 miles visiting 63 local organizations advocating stripping peace time committees from local organization's structures to be replaced by groups working toward three objectives: Winning the War, Achieving National Unity and Winning the Peace.

The Brownfield Jaycees wish to thank Capt. Edwards and the Defense Guard for their cooperation in making this meeting possible.

Van Winkles Doing Nicely At Roswell

A note recently from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Van Winkle of Roswell, stated that they were doing nicely with their cafe there. Said to tell people hello.

They were former citizens of Brownfield, and had many friends here.

Mrs. Clifford Horn of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, has returned to Brownfield. Her husband is being transferred to unknown parts.

Rio Theatre Guttled By Fire Saturday

What is believed to be one of the most destructive fires here in several years, occurred here last Saturday, when the newest theatre in the city, the Rio built just a few years ago, was litterly gutted. While the damage to the building was mostly inside, about one fourth of the roof will have to be replaced.

Monday, the adjusters had not arrive to allow claims for insurance, but the damage will run well up into four figures. On account of gasoline rationing, it was stated that adjusters had to make their trips do for two or more places where insurance had to be adjusted.

Discovered By Little Girl

We understand that a little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lowe, was playing in the rear of the building in which is located her father's photograph studio, three doors from the Rio, when she discovered smoke coming from that building, and reported to her parents, who called the fire department. Just how it caught has not been determined, whether from defective wiring or possibly spontaneous combustion.

Nearly All Seats Are Ruined

At first glance, one might conclude the seats, especially in the front, were not badly damaged, but the upholstery is absolutely ruined, and many of them, especially near the stage are charred, and the ply-wood ruined. Even those near the front, where the fire was never so hot, one can punch a hole in the upholstery with their finger. All fixtures on the wall and stage are ruined.

Screen and Sound Effect Out

As the fire seemed to have started in the rear, the screen of course was a total loss, and with it the sound effect there. The front loud speaker was not badly damaged. It was stated to the Herald that it was believed that most of the loss can be repaired or replaced at this time, but whether it is attempted during the war will depend on local developments. At least the roof will be repaired so there will be no further damage from wind and water from the outside.

This was quite a blow to Mrs. Ethel Jones, owner, at this time, when materials are so hard to get. But she is not the kind that quits, and the Rio will open again in due time.

Relative of Moorheads Died Nov. 29th

Miss Zoethalia Jones, 19, daughter of Mrs. Floyd Browning of Leadville, Colo., and Ralph Jones of Claude, Texas, died at St. Michael Hospital in Amarillo Nov. 29th. She was buried at Claude, Texas, Nov. 30th.

Deceased was born at Meadow, and received her primary education there, finishing at Roswell, N. M. She then finished at a business college at Amarillo, and was employed by the Pan-Tex Corporation at the time she became ill.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow and Ralph Jones, Sr., of Claude, are grandparents of the young lady. Those attending from Terry county were, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Moorhead and daughter Terry Lou, of this city; Mrs. J. R. Moorhead and Mrs. H. R. Henson of Meadow.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins visited relatives in Friona and Muleshoe over the week end.

Miss Louise Heath, student of Tech spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Decker of Lubbock visited Mr. Decker's mother, Mrs. Minnie Decker, Saturday. Mr. Decker is stationed at the Army Flying School.

S. W. Welcher was up from Wellman section this week to get his Herald up another year, and get his regular reading in the form of a daily. He, like a lot of farmers, was worried about getting sufficient gas to make another crop and getting it to market.

Scales Says Old He Good Pinch Hitter

Had a letter this week from Pvt. Malcolm Scales way out at Salinas, Calif., which stated that this Old He as a pinch hitter with a letter to the boys in the service, rated 1000 with him. But there was a sad tone to the letter. He had missed his Herald since the issue of the 20th, but hoped Uncle Sam would deliver them some time.

Malcolm stated that he could not realize just what the old home paper meant till he got away from home. By the way, he thinks he'll be moved soon, and until he knows his new location, he wants us to stop the paper to him and let the folks here pick up and mail the copies he misses in the meantime.

Gasoline Ignites While Cleaning Clothes

Gasoline used for cleaning clothes at the residence of Mrs. Estelle Brown, Wednesday morning, became ignited. The fire department was called immediately, and succeeded in stopping the blaze before any serious damage was done. We understand the lady's hands and arms were quite painfully burned.

The damage to the kitchen was confined to curtains, wall paper and a hole burned in the linoleum. There was no explosion. We did not learn whether Mrs. Brown carried insurance or not.

There was another alarm Monday, when a car out in the edge of the city caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before the fire boys arrived.

Finished Up Cotton On Thanksgiving

Old Big Boy F. H. Carpenter was in last week to hand in his "buck" for another year of this grand old sheet, and stated that he finished gathering his 1942 crop of cotton on Thanksgiving day. He got 41 bales this year, and besides made a huge feed crop.

Now hold a minute. Did we state that Big Boy gathered this crop? Yep, we believe we did. Well, we'll take it all back. When pressed a bit F. H. acknowledged he had little to do with the gathering, but did haul it off to the gin.

A lot of us, however are guilty of using the little two letter word WE, when as a matter of fact it don't mean a thing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Holgate visited their daughter and family in San Angelo over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Neugent and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Neugent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neugent in Tahoka.

Mrs. Barney Holgate and little daughter, Dora Elizabeth, of Amarillo are visiting in Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley Steen of Amarillo spent Sunday with Mr. Steen's mother, Mrs. W. E. Steen.

Messrs. Martin and Joe Decker of Hamlin spent Thanksgiving with the R. L. Foster family. Mr. Tom Rushing, an uncle, returned to Hamlin with them.

Mrs. John H. Alldredge and children met Mr. Alldredge in Lubbock Wednesday night. Mr. Alldredge is with the Soil Conservation Service at Dimmitt, Texas. He returned to his work Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spradling and son, Robert David of 419 south second street, have as their guests the past several days, Mr. Spradling's mother, Mrs. J. B. Spradling, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Cooke, of Emory, Texas. Mr. Spradling is the principal of the Gomez Ward School.

Cecil Burnett and wife were here Thanksgiving from Monahan to have the national dinner with his dad and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett. It seems that they were the only ones of the children that were able to get home for the day.

Farmers Called On To Increase Production

Citing the fact that the 1942 crop on American farms was one of the banner ones in all history, when weather seemed to do its stuff to make it a bumper one, Secretary Wickard of the United States Department of Agriculture is asking for a ten to fifteen percent increase this coming year if possible. In fact, he states that American farms and farmers are now front line fighters. We must, he stated, feed ourselves and the armies of the US and allies.

Unlike Hitler, the President has announced that we will not steal and plunder food from nations we are forced to invade, but will when necessary supply starving civilians with needed food until they can produce food crops themselves. This, stated Wickard, may mean that many now abundant crops will have to be rationed. It is very essential, he stated, that abundant nourishing foods, such as meats, potatoes, poultry and poultry products, together with dairy products be produced next year.

Speaking of food, a few years back if one should have mentioned that cotton could be considered a food product, he would have been laughed at with a crack like, "you can't eat cotton." That is true so far as the lint is concerned, but those seed are becoming more and more valuable as seasoning fats, a cheap but wholesome butter substitute, just to mention a few. Then there is that by-product of the seed when the oil is pressed from them, such as meal and cake, of which there are few feeds equal or better for livestock. Then the hulls take their place as fine roughness.

And concerning the increased production, that will depend on many things, such as sunshine and rain at the proper time and in proper proportions. Then there is the ever growing question, "will the farmer be able to get help?" Still another is, will he get sufficient repairs to maintain his farm implements? These are questions that Mr. Wickard and other higherups at Washington should study. The farmer can no more increase production on the farm without proper tools than the boys at the front can whip the Nazis and Japs with poor or inefficient implements of war.

We have but recently talked with some of our implement men, and they tell us that they hardly got sufficient repairs this year, and that manufacturers tell them there will be less next year. At the same time, another hard year has been put on their tractors and implements with the sure certainty that if they can't get new machinery, the old implements must have more repairs if they maintain a production rate of 1942, not to say anything about 15 percent increase.

Then, there is a constant drain of young man power from the farms to the war production factories, the army and navy and other war divisions. Many of the war plants pay much more than farmers can possibly pay and make a living for himself and family.

Also, Mr. Wickard reminded the farmers that they must stay on the job from sunup to sundown and that means from ten to fourteen hours, depending on the time of year. Are the war workers, the labor unions and others asked to do this? Positively no. Then why is one class asked to work 72 hours a week, while another is told to work only 42? We are just an old country editor out here that has spent a lifetime either on the farm or in a printing office. That's all we know. But there is a lot of things said and done up at Washington that we'd like to hear fully explained. This 72 hour vs. 42 hour joke is one of them.

Not every lawsuit is worth the time involved in having it decided.

Mrs. Curley Edwards had a V-Mail letter from her husband one day last week. Evidently he is somewhere in north Africa, as he stated in the letter that he would likely visit Cairo soon.

Let's Spike Another Rumor

Lets hang up the scalp of another rumor. Farmers can sell home cured meats or processed products of any kind, in any amount, to any person, free of tax or restriction so long as sales do not exceed a total of seventy-five dollars in any month. In the event total sales do exceed seventy-five dollars in the month the person doing the selling simply is not permitted to charge more for the item than he received in the period from September 28 thru Oct. 2. In the event his month sales of products going to the ultimate user do exceed seventy-five dollars he should keep a record of such sales and prices received to OPA.

Don't let this rumor keep you from sharing your farm products with neighbors who wish to buy them. It takes a lot of War Transportation to ship a hog to Brownfield by way of Kansas, City.

Fisher Family Is Hard Hit

Most people heard last week that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fisher of the Union community had lost their home by fire while in the field at work. This couple was in Saturday and informed us that their neighbors had certainly been nice to them.

We mostly have to have some calamity befall us, it seems, before we can begin to appreciate the worth of neighbors and friends. And further, we believe that one's neighbors in most any community in Terry county would repeat just what they did for the Fishers in the Union Community.

Hopes To Get His Crop Gathered

Although he was not hailed out, and had May cotton, J. D. Wilson says that water stood on his land so much this year that the plant just stayed green and refused to open. Too, he poisoned his worms and the sun did not get to his cotton.

As a consequence, he fears that most of the transient labor will be gone when his crop is ready to pick. We suggested that he call on his neighbors to help, as most of them are done picking. Mr. Wilson lives in the Meadow section.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for the kind deeds and sympathy shown us when our home was destroyed by fire. This also goes for the business firms of Brownfield.

May God's richest blessings be upon you.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fisher and Family.

Messrs. Bobby Lewis, Tommie Hicks, Bobbie Bowers, and Harold Sims, Texas Tech students, visited their friends over the weekend.

Usually this scribe enjoys the artistic attainments of the American cartoonists without criticism. But there is one letdown of late that we would suggest that they eliminate. When that murderous group, Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini are shown, the last named pus-gut of the group is always shown with quite a quantity of gauze and tape about his face. Our suggestion is that the g and t might also be added to Hitler and Hirohito now. They too, need a bandage.

We know enough of farmers to state that although they are given huge tasks to perform in the war effort, they will not stage a sit-down strike. They will do very little mousing no matter what tasks they are asked to perform. But the limits of their endurance as well as machinery and tools should be taken into consideration. However, come what may, as long as the machines or old Pete and Beck can navigate, the American farmer will be found trying. And he's no clock watcher. The days may be long, but we can't picture Madame Perkins being called in to arbitrate a strike among them, just because every little thing don't pan out just as planned.

Well dog our cats. The same day that gas rationing went into effect, we, the people who love to indulge our sins saw too very disheartening and attractive things to come on the front page of our dailies. One item stated that the Oklahoma bootleggers would have to fold up with no gas to get them to their customers. The other item stated that a famous or infamous, according to your own notion, Strip-Teaser up at New York would perform her undress act in the court room. And with only a tank full of gasoline and 2000 miles from the scene! Darn Hitler!

Don't know what you think of the matter. In fact we don't care a great deal. But we can't get it through our noodle that Rome is any more of a holy city than London, Paris or for that matter, Ber-

An advance shipment of 300 head of cattle out of a contracted 1100 head by the Middleton Brothers has been made by Dewey Middleton. Most of those sold were Herefords.

Weighed in, the first shipment average 300 pounds and brought $11.50 per hundred in El Paso.

All cattle under the contract are to be shipped as conditions warrant and when completed will amount to around one million pounds which the Middleton Brothers will furnish for national use this year.

PA'S APPRAISAL

Teacher: "Is the world round or flat Bobby?"

lin. Of course we guess the Catholic would regard Rome as a holy city like the Jews think of Jerusalem. Take the rest of us, however, and the rest is quite a bit of the world's inhabitants, we regard only one city as Holy City, the one spoken of by John when confined on the lonely island of Patmos as he chronicled the Revelations. He spoke of the New Jerusalem as the holy city, and that's not located on this footstool called the earthly universe. Why spare the Wops in Rome any more than the Dagoes in Turin and other Italian cities? To a great majority of people, the Pope and the Papal city are just another man and city. That's all. Old Hitler and Musso thought nothing of planting their bombs on Westminster; why should the Allies spare St. Peters at Rome?

Got anything on your hip, brother? You remember what that meant a few years ago, or should we say during pre-Volstead days? Well, it might mean, "Can you spare a pint of gasoline, brother," in this age of the world.

One "raydio" announcer recently startled many of us that were listening, to wishful thinking. He stated that many of the real old, smooth tires now on our jitneys would last another 20,000 miles if we kept to a speed of 35 or less. If that is a fact, we're going to get even more mileage out of our famous five.

If you had one Thanksgiving feed this year, not to mention two, you had much to be thankful for.

Will History Repeat Itself

"History repeats itself" has become a truism in the experience of mankind. In our own nation's history, national experiences seem to come to life again and again as the years click along. Especially is this true of political history.

America became a leading participant in World War I during the last two years of that conflict. Today finds our nation engulfed in a World War after the conflict had been raging for some time. Germany was our chief antagonist in 1917-18. A Hitlerized Germany declared war on the United States in 1941 before the echo of the Jap guns at Pearl Harbor had died away.

A great president of the United States Woodrow Wilson, led the nation in World War I as it battled to victory. Wilson led the world as plans were outlined at the peace conference to "make the world safe for democracy." He was recognized as the greatest figure in the world as he strove with other Allied leaders to outlaw wars and establish peace for all mankind.

Wilson's plan, embodied in the provisions of the League of Nations, was adopted by several other nations but was rejected by his own. "A little group" of willful men in and outside the United States Senate fought it with criticisms and crippling amendments. Because of a political landslide which took away the President's majority in Congress, the document finally passed by the Senate so emasculated the peace plan that the Chief Executive and his cabinet refused to accept it. In an attempt to carry the issue to the people, the health of Woodrow Wilson broke down and in time he was in his grave.

The party that came into power after World War I continued to rule under three presidents. A modified plan brought forward by President Harding got nowhere. Meantime the League of Nations, minus the support of the United States proved itself ineffectual in world affairs.

In 1929, less than a year after President Hoover took office, ten years after the peace conference, the worst depression this nation has ever experienced broke over the country. By 1932, affairs had reached a desperate stage. Banks followed each other into bankruptcy, business firms were failing everywhere, suicides were mounting, the unemployed tramped the streets and roads by the millions, farmers and stockmen were getting almost nothing for their products, and parts of the country even faced revolution.

In that dark hour, Franklin D. Roosevelt came to power. Within a few hours after his inauguration steps were taken to bring order out of chaos. Bank failures became negligible, business revived, hope came back to the ordinary citizen. Conditions had so improved by 1936 that the Roosevelt ticket carried every state but two. The election of 1940 saw another endorsement of Roosevelt, in spite of the third term issue. World War II broke on Ameri-

Long ago the railroads made possible the swift settlement and development of this land.

Today they face their greatest test in the struggle to preserve it. For this is essentially a war of rolling wheels. Millions of men, and tens of millions of tons of vital raw and finished products must be moved swiftly and surely, where and when they are needed.

Stop the wheels that move them, and we stop all that floats and flies as well.

That is why today, on the Santa Fe, movements essential to the war effort are "topping" the biggest job in our history. They must come first, beyond argument or selfish interest, on every American railroad.

KEEP 'EM ROLLIN'—OR ELSE

* No nation that does not possess efficient mass transportation can hope to win a modern war. In America that mass transportation job is squarely up to her railroads. If they fail, we lose.

Neither battle gallantry nor industrial wizardry alone will turn the tide. To meet this tremendous responsibility, we ask for every possible consideration in the allocation of materials for vitally essential repairs, maintenance and new equipment.

LET'S ALL PULL TOGETHER

As the tide of military rail travel mounts, you can help us maintain adequate civilian passenger service as well, in these ways:

- * Make reservations and buy tickets early
- * Cancel unwanted reservations promptly
- * Carry least possible luggage, checking extra pieces to avoid crowding
- * Vacate dining cars quickly after meals
- * Travel mid-week, avoiding week-end and holiday rush periods.

Turn freely to your local Santa Fe representatives for help on your travel or shipping problems.

SERVING THE SOUTHWEST AND CALIFORNIA

ca in December 1941, has grown in intensity to this day. Isolationist pacifist and obstructionists had prevented preparedness to such an extent that our nation could not immediately take the offensive. An all-out war effort has been getting underway for almost a year. Many proposals for speeding up the effort have encountered opposition in Congress and elsewhere. Reverses on the war fronts have been experienced by the United States troops for the first time, but now the light begins to gleam through the darkness and we well know that American arms fighting with her allies will in the end be victorious over the Axis powers.

Opposition to the administration crystallized during the weeks immediately preceding the general election and the voters reduced the Roosevelt majority in Congress. Absolute agreement cannot be expected in a democracy such as we live in; ordinarily that is not to be desired. But opposition may be extended too far and hamper the very nation's safety, especially during a crisis such as war.

Will this kind of opposition mount higher and higher when the new Congress convenes in January? Will this nation lose the fruits of victory following this terrible World War II as did the leadership under Wilson less than a generation ago? Will partisan opposition be pushed forward under the guise of such high-sounding phrases as "loyal opposition," etc? Will another depression follow on the heels of a peace to come? Will there be a THIRD WORLD WAR as the result of disunity? Will the next quarter of a century repeat the record of the last one?—Kerrville Times.

Women AT WAR

Irene

When Irene got home from the airplane factory she was good and tired. This was the hour after work and before dinner, that she always looked forward to. Her private name for it was "My sissy hour." Into it, these days, she packed all the lazy, luxurious little things she loved—things that used to take up a lot more than an hour of her peace-time days.

She sat down at the little desk in her room. You could tell quite a lot about Irene from that desk. The water-glass filled with the small bouquet of flowers she sometimes bought on the way home. The paper-weight of pink marble. The thin, crackly blue air-mail stationery. And the big, framed photograph of a young man in a corporal's uniform—as good-looking a man as Irene was pretty. On the blotter pad lay the telegram that had come that morning just as she was leaving for work.

With those long, well-shaped fingers she reached for a sheet of paper. She nibbled the end of her pen for a bit, and then she wrinkled up her nose at the picture of the soldier and began to write, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau", but the corporal's name was Jackson and she called him Pete. Her round handwriting spread across the page. "My boy friend is with the A.E.F. in Ireland. He has cabled me fifty dollars with which to buy a diamond ring. I've been thinking it over and decided to buy a War Bond to help Uncle Sam instead. This may help to bring my boy friend home sooner, and then he can help me select my ring."

Slowly she began to sign her name. "Irene —"

(Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Let's all sacrifice as Irene has done. Bring final victory closer with the money you put into War Bonds. Make certain your family budget tops 10 percent by New Year's.

Demand For Cotton Steadily Increasing

AUSTIN—Forget about talk of cotton "surplus"—more and better cotton must be grown in this country if the combined demands of war, industry and civilian users are to be satisfied, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas Cotton expert, has declared.

There is a potential market for thirteen million bales in this country next year, the University Bureau of Business Research director said. Consumption for 1941-42 amounted to 11,200,000 bales, which is five million bales more than normal.

The unprecedented consumption last year was a result of war demands, and in 1942-43, this will be supplemented by increasing civilian needs and wants. But lack of mill capacity and the fact that some mills are forced to use lower grade cotton than is required for maximum efficiency will prevent the attainment of the 13,000,000 bale goal next year, Dr. Cox said.

In addition to requirements for cotton lint, there is a very serious shortage of vegetable oils, and cottonseed furnishes one of the best of such oils. There is also a shortage of high protein feed for the production of meat and dairy products.

OPA TIRE INSPECTION REGULATIONS

The following regulations, announced by OPA, now have the full force of law and it therefore becomes obligatory for tire dealers to follow them exactly and completely:

TIRE inspection is now compulsory for every registered vehicle in the country. Between Dec. 1, 1942 and Jan 31, 1943, every passenger-car and motorcycle owner in the United States must have his tires inspected by an authorized OPA Inspector at an Official Inspection Station, to approve the continued operation of his vehicle. You must keep your Tire Inspection Record in your car at all times. The Inspector must sign your tire Record at every subsequent inspection (depending on what Gasoline Ration Card you hold) to approve the continued operation of your car; to permit you another gasoline ration book when your present one expires; to make it possible for you to be considered eligible for other tires or recaps at some future time.

An authorized OPA Inspector is at this Official Inspection Station to approve the continued operation of your car—on the basis of regular and compulsory Tire Inspection, between December 1, 1942 and January 31, 1943, and thereafter. You need not wait until that date however—to have your tires examined and the 5 best of those you own determined—so that you can sell your additional Idle Tires to your government. For explanation as to how to go about getting your Idle Tires into government hands, drive up or phone—we'll be glad to tell you.

Baptist Church News

Visiting last Sunday on the part of the membership of the church and Bible School hurt the attendance but since the gas has been rationed we hope to have less visiting on the Lords Day and more attendance at the Lord's House.

The regular attendance Sunday morning should never be under 500 while we had only 266 who registered last Sunday morning. We cannot expect better attendance from the members of the classes than the example set by the teachers and officers of the school.

If all Baptists who are members of this church and living in this community should be present next Sunday morning with their families there would not be less than 1200 present and why should they not be there?

The matter of paying $5,000 of the indebtedness of this church is being considered by the membership but we are wondering how seriously? The church voted that it should be done but perhaps a majority of the membership is not present and are not interested. It would save $250 per year in interest alone. Money given to the church is deductible for income tax payments. We know of no reason why this should not be done this month but there are a great number of reasons why it should be done.

The church is the organization founded by Christ himself and he is interested to see how we treat it and honor it by our presence and support.
We invite visitors and try to welcome them to all our services.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burnett and children of El Centro, Calif., accompanied by Mrs. Homer Newman of Fullerton, California arrived here Thanksgiving morning to spend the holidays in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnett. James Burnett was expected to be here but was delayed. He is expected to be here December 4th to complete the family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. McPherson left Brownfield at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning for Amarillo. In Lubbock they picked up Mr. and Mrs. Barton McPherson: in Canyon Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McPherson joined the group. They ate Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Craig of Littlefield were supposed to have been in Amarillo, but because of Mr. Craig's illness they were not able to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Coppedge of Sweetwater spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Coppedge's sister, Mrs. Jack Griggs.
Mrs. C. T. Edwards had a notice from Boys Ranch at Coppers Grove, Texas, that anyone who has surplus sugar sacks, flour or feed sacks, they would like to have them for cup towels. Just address Boys Ranch, Coppers Grove, Texas, or let Mrs. Edwards know and she will pick them up as she's sending a package soon. Really a worthy cause.

Use Your Cold Storage Locker

You are definitely encouraged to use cold storage locker if you have one with possible meat rick-acting around the corner the filled locker will be a source of real value in augmenting the national supply of meats. Needs of armed forces and lend lease are being met through the purchase of packer supplies at prices slightly above ceilings under which distributors are operating. This pinch is being felt by those depending on daily visits to the markets to supply their table, and will be considerably relieved if every farm family continues to do its best to grow, kill and cure as much of its own supply of meat as possible thus lessening competitive buying at the corner grocery.

If we are to share we must first prepare to care for our own needs.

Warns Of Some Fire Hazards

AUSTIN, Dec.—Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, says wintertime brings a seasonal increase in fire hazards. The added, dangers of restrictive fire creates a need for closer inspection at home.

"A substantial percentage of our fires at home during cold weather," he explained, "result from a few common causes. The most of these we could prevent by being more careful. Our neglect in taking proper precautions during winter has caused unnecessary fire losses."

Commissioner Hall listed the following as several of the common causes of fire at this season of the year:

Steam pipes, unless properly installed, can cause fires. Steam that dries the wood which is then in condition to absorb oxygen and ignite. A steam pipe may in time char the wood and dangerously lower the ignition point. Steam pipes should be at least one inch away from any wood work.

A common report on the cause of fires during cold weather is the "defective flue." This type of fire can be prevented by frequent inspection of all flues, or smoke pipe connections.

Overloaded electrical circuits must be regarded as year 'round hazards. It is of particular importance that all electric circuits be protected against overload by the use of proper size fuses.

A leading cause of winter time fire fatalities is the use of Kerosene or gasoline to kindle or "quicken" a fire. Gasoline is a dangerous explosive—too dangerous to keep in the house under any condition. Also, the improper use of kerosene can cause serious fire losses.

A few simple practices in the use of portable oil heating appliances will prevent many home fires. Wicks in such heaters should be kept clean and adjusted to the proper level. Sufficient ventilation is needed to assure proper combustion. Heaters should be kept a safe distance from combustible furnishings and placed where they will not be easily overturned.

HEALTH OFFICER LOOKS FOR T. B. INCREASE

AUSTIN—Emphasizing the importance of cooperating with the national tuberculosis control program, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today declared that war more than any other circumstance breeds the adverse conditions conducive to an increase in the prevalence of this disease.

"The history of tuberculosis throughout the world shows clearly that war brings an increase of this disease in its wake," Dr. Cox declared. "Exposure, malnutrition, fatigue, and physical hardships make it easy for tuberculosis to strike."

While war conditions in the United States do not at present approach those in Europe, Dr. Cox said that serious thought should be given to the fact that tuberculosis deaths in England and Wales increased 12 percent between 1939 and 1941.

Dr. Cox outlined the symptoms of tuberculosis as ordinarily being fatigue, poor appetite, digestive disturbances, loss of weight, afternoon or night fever, lingering cough, pleurisy, hemorrhage, night sweats, and anemia. If any one of these symptoms persists, Dr. Cox warned that a physician should be consulted immediately and an examination given to determine whether or not tuberculosis is present. If this disease is diagnosed in its earliest stages Dr. Cox said that a great percentage of the cases can be cured.

MISSING OUT

weather frequently results in death. Clothing ignited when a person stands too near an open flame heater or fireplace is one of the common causes of fire fatalities during the winter months.

RED TAPE IN THE WAR

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

(Editor's Note: Dr. George S. Benson is president of Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas, a co-educational institution noted for having no unemployed graduates. Dr. Benson found himself catapulted into the headlines in 1941 when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee, and offered a concrete plan for cutting non-defense expenditures by two billion dollars. Self-reliant Harding College students recently hit the headlines when they asked the National Youth Administration to accept the return of funds allotted to them, requesting that the sum be invested in "tools for MacArthur's men.")

The time has come when the tax paying, bond buying, soldier-son contributing public should rise up on its hind legs and demand that Congress place a fixed statutory limitation on profits on war contracts. I refer to profits which remain after regular taxes have been paid. There's a right way and a wrong way to do this. President Roosevelt in his September 7 speech pointed out the right way when he said: "We must recapture through taxation all war profits that are not necessary to maintain efficient war production."

I back that proposal and method one hundred percent. And by the same token I oppose by one hundred percent the wrong way we have adopted by which we seek to recapture such war profits. This wrong way is through the renegeation provisions of Public Law No. 528 which was recently amended. Excessive profits can be recaptured under this law but it bungles the job by also starting a whole train of disorders and unbalances just as a bungling tinsmith does when he punches a half dozen new holes in a bucket while he fixes one old one.

I also am interested in ferreting out and recapturing excessive war profits in the right way because the wrong way now used may nullify everything I tried to do in helping cut the waste out of government. I went before Congress last year and pleaded with them to cut out or cut down on a lot of non-defense spending and then I made more than 75 speeches over the nation trying to rouse the people to join in this economy crusade. The result of all these efforts along with those of other like-minded citizens was that Congress did cut one billion three hundred million dollars out of non-defense spending. What gets me all riled up again are the plans of the government which may waste hundreds of millions that we saved by such hard effort.

There's no reason or excuse in the world for this new waste except that governments always seem to bungle and fumble along unless the people make too great a fuss.

There are 3,000,000 war contracts held by from 20,000 to 40,000 contractors. The law permits the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission to renegotiate each of the 3,000,000 contracts (in cases where the contracts held by a contractor exceed $100,000) and eliminate excessive profits. Some have estimated that if the law is enforced it may require the services of as many as 200,000 new public servants. Think of what they will cost us taxpayers. Think of taking that many men away from productive war work to perform a job which the Internal Revenue bureau staff could do with little additional help!

Other Bad Points
This fact alone should force the law's revision at the earliest opportunity. But this waste of taxpayers' dollars for the useless services of possibly 200,000 men who should be helping win the war is not the law's only bad point, bad as is this waste and the confusion that comes from duplicated services. The really bad part of the law is that it creates three new bureaucracies, one each by the War and the Navy Departments and one by the Maritime Commission, and empowers them to make up their own rules and procedures as each sees fit. These arbitrary rulings in time may demoralize and thereby reduce output of war materials.

The American way of life and government means government by laws and not government by arbitrary rulings of several bureaucracies. We are grounded in that way of life and government. Let's not imperil its existence now by demoralizing war industry through the creation of layer on layer of bureaucracy to do what established bureaus can do better!

It's about time for Americans, who want the war won, to demand that this law be changed so that the elimination of excess profits on war contracts be handled by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Its regulations on what is allowable as an expense deduction are built upon years of experience and its staff is guided by court decisions. All business management is familiar with these regulations. Such a change would substitute procedure under recognized law for the present chaos.

Remember, the effect of all unnecessary delay in war production as well as every dollar wasted will be borne by each reader of this article. I expect to write more on this subject.

You can't blame kids for wondering why they have to go to bed when they're not sleepy and have to get up when they are.

MAKE HIM REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR

IT was a monstrous thing that was visited upon the United States of America, that Sunday of December 7th, 1941! The sun had risen to light up a land of peaceful beauty and quiet . . . but from the "Land of the Rising Sun" there spewed the horror of life-taking, land destroying bombs dropped from a murderer infested sky! We can answer by making that blood-red sun set forever . . . for all it can mean to the world is treachery, viciousness, and facism in its most rabid form! Oh yes: the enemy shall pay in kind for the attack without warning on men going about their work . . . women at their household chores . . . children at play. 134,000,000 Americans are going to wipe clean the debt...NOW! And in 1943! 134,000,000 FIGHTING AMERICANS ANSWER THE AXIS on the war front and the home front!

ALREADY our men have blasted successfully at the Japs. And let us not forget that though our little yellow enemies hit at Pearl Harbor they are just part of that hideous machine that has Hitler and Mussolini at the controls along with Hirohito! So we've got to keep right on making fighting machines in such large numbers that every last facist can be exterminated from the world! We Americans love peace, and security, and are not a war-making peoples at all. But you stabbed us in the back, Japan—and since 'way back, when there's a just fight on our hands we Americans know how to make all hell cut loose until Victory is ours, and our Allies! Remember Pearl Harbor? And how!
