Judge Neill Addresses Our Service Men

To our boys everywhere, and I guess all of you from Terry county are "our" boys. I regret to write you this line of stuff; have tried to keep it a secret, for your sake, but the radio broadcasters have leaked it out, even Congress threw up a flare 'tother day, but our predicament is so unusual, so serious, maybe you ought to know it, tho I feared when you learned how we were suffering here at home you might drop that war, rush back to our rescue, and lose a mighty promising victory. If you only knew that your Paw, was about to lose his coffee, only for breakfast, sugar on Sundays, your Maw here in town has to walk, walk plum round the block to get loaf of bread, and it not sliced, and the Maw's out in the country have to take 59c for butter and eggs. The pigs when you left, are being sacrificed at an average of $36.29 each. The cowman who worked so hard to develop this country, for posterity, is forced to take only $101.79 for his cows, and can't sell a calf for over $59.98, and the poor down trodden farmer is getting .18% for cotton, Midland and Odessa grade, and on top of that, has to pay more for labor than used to, but worse than all, it is so scarce, some of us have to do the work ourselves, and I for one don't like that a darn bit. I tell you boys its awful.

We know you are having lots of fun sliding down Alaska's icy glaciers, taking those eternal baths in the fathomless seas; exploring those beautiful jungles of coconut groves; sleeping in the refreshing mud of those tropical islands, sun-grin at the glistening sands of Africa's scorching deserts, and skim thru the cooling stratosphere; burying your buddies in a Global cemetery, skip the Yuletide season away from kin and friends. Away from home for some a year, others for years and-?. But what of it? Think of us here limited to 35 m. p. h., 4 gallons per week, cut out pleasure driving; can't ride to the show, nor go see our mother-in-law, nor go to Sea-graves or Tatum, and it looks like now, they'll finally cut out our ball games, took the cuffs off our pants, and we seldom get any chewing gum at all; now they are rationing canned goods, which will tear up the newly weds. We hate to mar your vacation, boys, but its awful. Some can't take it, from the yiping and griping of some of them, you'd think there will be more casualties here, than over there. We sure do need you, wish you would hurry and— Oh, never mind, go ahead and finish the job. Real Americans ain't much on this piking stuff no way. We'll send you food and material, we will not stand you up cause we know you won't let us down. We would rather listen to the yiping here, than what you have to listen too. So don't worry about us, we'll get along some how, Rabbits aint rationed yet and we are letting the women do the work. We'll keep the home tires rolling, till you bring home the rubber, when you come marching back to the girl you left behind the steering wheel. She wont be far away, on an "A" card, and she wont be sitting under the apple tree with any one else (Cause the other fella is in the service too).

We'll, we got a home front too, in act we have lots of front; some of us put on big ones. The 78th battle began early this month at Washington. The Republicans taken the winter offensive, and rolled down with eloquent tanks, puffing smoke (mostly) yelling that 40 year old slogan "Remember Bureauarcy", which the Democrats took away from them several years ago. The Democrats, who suffered heavy casualties

Seventy-Five Percent Of Tax Collected

Virgil Burnett, tax assessor and collector of Terry county, was in Tuesday and stated that to January 1, 75 percent of Terry county and state taxes had been collected. The rolls show a total of $105,832.61. Therefore the 75 percent collections represented a total at that time of $77,293.72. Divided, the county got of that amount $43,590.80, while the state got $33,702.92.

These collections he stated was 20 percent better than at the same time in 1942. There were 2645 poll taxes assessed, of which 1193 had been paid to Jan. 1, this year. You can pay a poll tax without paying your property tax, but it won't work the other way around. And delinquent poll taxes are collectible, but you can't use them in voting unless paid before midnight January 31st, each year.

You can pay your car license tax in February or March, but they are not supposed to be put on your car until April 1. This time you will keep your old 1942 license plates, and will be given a metal tag 1x4 inches, with 1943 thereon, which may be attached to your old plate with the use of one bolt.

Should you lose one of your plates, front or rear, and Virgil says you would be surprised how many are lost, you should immediately turn in the remaining plate and get a new set that will cost you $1.00.

Earl Burnett Tarleton Winter Graduate

Stephenville, January. — Commencement exercises will be held for the Fall semester graduates of John Tarleton Agricultural College on Friday night, January 22, at 7:30 p. m. Twenty-seven boys and eleven girls are candidates for graduation.

In keeping with the policy adopted by the graduates of the summer semester, no elaborate exercises will be held. Most of the boys graduating will go directly into the armed forces, many of them being members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps. Among those graduating are Earl Burnett of Brownfield.

last November in the battle of the Ballots, backed up to old positions to rehearse their lines, and hold what they got, the Officials went into their facts-holes, the Commander-in-chief issued a Communique which upset their pill-boxes, Lots of boom, booming at first, but it will simmer down to political patrolling, with occasional pow-pows in fact all that smoke will fade away in the first rays of Victory Sun. Only one casualty reported Leontenant Henderson, was carried to the rear, but his rashmention goes marching on.

Oh, its with us about the same as with you. Your army officers pass the buck, and ours pass the bunk. Your Cpls. and Sgts, check you in and check you out, line you up and bawl you out. Ours will sign us up, and signs up out, shows your card to get about. It takes bull and bullets to win this war; you handle the bullets, and Congress will sling the other. We'll Praise the Lord, and you pass the ammunition, on to them sons of (censured), and we'll all get our coffee and gas again.

Well boys, all of our Fronts here, are agreed on one thing, and that is full confidence, in the courage and ability of our fighting forces, in the air, on the land and seas. We would bet on you, but can't get anyone to call it. We know you'll do your part, if we'll do ours.

Our Allies, and enemies all know too, that it will be the American Armed forces, that will "Turn the lights on again, all over the world."

Good by, fellas for awhile, we are proud of you, and hope to see you in grand Victorious re-union back in old Terry, some sweet day soon.

Yours for Victory,
Geo. W. Neill.

16,000 Theatres Urge Unity And Understanding

Next week, starting Thursday, January 14th, sixteen thousand theatres in the United States will inaugurate a country-wide celebration of UNITED NATIONS WEEK. This celebration is being sponsored by the War Activities committee, Motion Picture Industry, Theatres Division.

The motion picture theatres of America already have a thrilling record of accomplishment in the effort on the home front. They have done a stand-out job in the War Bond Drivers, in the Salvage Campaign and in the showing of films to publicize important government information and to unite us as a great and powerful nation at war.

Now, these theatre are making another all-out effort. Realizing that unity—the kind of unity that does not sag at the sly whisperings of Quislings and defeatists and that does not falter when the news on the fighting front grows grim—is one of the most vital elements in the Alliance of the United Nations, they now urge us to participate in a week of activities to commemorate an event which will inevitably shape the Peace to come in the post-war world.

The theatres of America are sponsoring United Nations Week so that every man, woman and child will realize with sharp pride that an amazing array of nations have pooled their resources, manpower and armies for a united offensive against the Axis and are today a formidable bastion of power for our ultimate victory.

There will be a container in which to place your donations at the Rialto and Ritz theatres.

Meadow Boy Makes Good Of 2nd Lieut.

Lt. Vernon Lee Bundrant

Mat Courtesy U. S. Marine Corps
ATLANTA, Jan 11th—Vernon Lee Bundrant, of Meadow, Texas, has been appointed a second Lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps, it was announced here today. He was appointed to the post after successfully completing an intensive ten weeks of officers' training course at the Marine base at Quantico, Va. He will now undergo another ten weeks training course to equip him to lead the fighting leather-necks in battle.

Lieut. Bundrant, 24, attended Texas Tech College where he majored in journalism and was a member of the Alpha Chi fraternity. The son of Charles A. Bundrant, Meadow farmer, his ambition is to be an author.

He enlisted in the Marine Corps in April, 1942.

Had To Come Back To Brownfield

Readers will remember that D. L. Patton left us about a month ago to go to Grand Prairie, to work for the North American Airplane Corp. Well, he has returned as you will note by his ad this week. Just couldn't stay away from Brownfield, he stated.

He will have charge of two Phillips 66 oil stations, the Mack's Oil Well on the highway at Tate, and the Phillips 66 Station at Main and Fourth. He wants to see his old friends.

Grocerymen Say No Runs On Rationed Stuff

We decided this week to get the viewpoint of a few leading grocery stores for a summary of just how the people of this area was taking the point rationing of canned goods as well as other groceries to take effect some time next month perhaps. We found that all had about the same experience; that there was no runs on anything, and as a whole most people we cooperating fine.

In fact, the grocerymen, five of them, were fearful that the same old thing would happen when sugar and coffee rationing was announced. But it is believed that our people are now fully aware of the fact that many things must be rationed in order that all of us may get our just share, and that there be plenty for our fighting men as well as our allies overseas.

To say the lest, the grocerymen were pleased beyond expression, and think we have some very patriotic folks. The following is a breakdown of expressions of those contacted:

No. 1. No noticeable change; all buying about as usual. One lady brought up four cans of soup and asked if we thought that too many, if so she would return part of them to shelves. Our customers have been very co-operative.

No. 2. The people have been very nice. Some that got two or three cans would offer some back and apologize if the store thought they were getting more than their share. It was so different from coffee and sugar rationing when that was announced.

No. 3. I had only one man that might have bought out of his proportion, and he like a lot of our customers live miles from town and have always bought heavily about once each month. I am so glad our people are so patriotic and reasonable about the matter.

No. 4. Buying of future rationed stuff about as usual. To tell the truth, there is not a great deal of stuff to make a run on in the way of canned goods. Had one woman customer from another county seat town that tried to buy a case of canned goods. Our people are very nice about taking substitutes, like different brands of coffee from what they have been using.

No. 5. We are having no trouble whatever. A few times we have noticed customers take more than their share of canned goods. A clerk usually tell them before they get to the cashier's counter that they are taking too many cans. That saves both them and ourselves embarrassment. Taken as a whole, the people are real nice about rationing.

George Basil Bragg In Air Force

Had a letter from Mrs. George Bragg, of Lubbock, recently, telling us about their son, George Basil, who was reared here, but finished high school after the family moved to Levelland. He entered the Army Air Force the 14th of August, after working at an airplane plant near Los Angeles. He got his basic training at Salt Lake City, then transferred to a technical school at Lowry Field Denver, Col., and for the past few weeks at Muroc in California. He Married Miss Jewel Goe, of Levelland at Yuma, Arizona, and enlisted soon after their marriage.

Two Sons in Service Daughter in War Plant

Mrs. W. M. Flint was in last week to get the Herald started up to her son, B. J. who is in the United States' Navy. And she stated, she order to get the Herald started is mandatory, as B. J. writes he'll cut her ears off if she don't.

They also have another boy in the Navy and their daughter works in a war plant at Fort Worth. Evidently the Flint family are out after Japs and Nazis.

Banks Have Record Breaking Deposits

With deposits of $4,584,363.87, compared to $2,868,269.38 a year ago, which was a record deposit for that time, the December 31, 1942 deposits show an increase of 1,716,094.49 over the December 31, 1941 figure. In fact, the only portion of the banking facilities of the banks to show a decrease, was the loans. They are off $142,606.73 from one year ago.

Never in their history have the banks went through the grind of this past fall season, and for that matter are still pretty busy. This extra work fell on just a few of the regulars, and a lot of green hands that up to this fall had no experience in a bank. But they worked like beavers, and learned remarkably fast. Several of the regular hands are in the service of the U. S.

But a detailed statement is being printed in these columns this week. Read it. The following is a breakdown of figures of a year ago and this year:

Dec. 31, 1942	$4,584,363.87

Largest Class Receives Wings in Gulf Coast Training Center

EDITOR'S NOTE: A cut of Lt. Rambo was ordered out of Lubbock Monday, but for some reason failed to arrive. If it gets here, we will run his picture next week.

Randolph Field, Texas, Jan.—Trained to razor-edge and ranging in age from 18 to 27 years, the greatest number of war birds in the history of the Army Air Forces—Gulf Coast Training Center received their silver wings at eight advanced schools today, and are ready and anxious to join their comrades in dealeing aerial death and destruction to the enemies of Democracy.

Augmented by classes from two new fields, Blackland two-engine at Waco, Texas, and Eagle Pass, Texas, single-engine fighter schools, 43-A is the beginning of the 1943 output of pilots.

New pilots from the Brownfield area include: Lt. Gerald G. Rambo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rambo. The tremendous expansion program, which was launched even before Pear Harbor, saw eleven classes graduated last year. Forecast that the 1943 production will far outnumber that of 1942 is based on the fact that many new schools in the Training Center are now nearing completion and will contribute flying graduates.

Lieutenant Gerald G. Rambo graduated from Brownfield High school with the class of 1941. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps in May 1942, and took his pre-flight training at Kelly Field, Texas. His primary work was finished at Tikeston Mo., in July last year. His basic training was obtained at Enid, Okla., and advanced training at Foster Field, Victoria, Texas. He is 20 years of age.

Had a letter and the usual annual remittance from J. E. Michie, of McAlester, Okla., stating they were all well, but scattered to the four winds. Dick was in Washington, and Chas. was learning to use one of those big bombers in California to tear into the sneaking Japs. Business good as they have a huge government plant payroll. Can sell all the groceries he can get.

Mrs. John Alldredge, Gerald and Jonalynn visited with Mr. Alldredge in Dimmitt over the week end. They also visited in Hereford before returning home.

"Lavish Dinners" Are Scored By Rep. Mahon

Representative Mahon of the 19th District says "Lavish dinners" by Washington socialites are uncalled for at a time when house-wives scan empty store shelves for food, and Monday so told agriculture Secretary Wickard and Price Administrator Henderson.

"Squandering food is just as bad as wasting ammunition or military equipment," he asserted in identical letters to the two officials.

Calling attention to newspaper stories of "Lavish private dinners" which have been held in various hotels and private homes" recently in the Washington area, Mahon declared:

"The average citizen is unable to buy many of the stable cuts of meat and other ordinary foods, and he cannot understand how it is possible for these grand dinners to be held.

"You are soon to announce a food rationing program. May I appeal to you to write the rules in such a way that elaborate dinners cannot be held by a few thoughtless individuals while the average citizen is unable to buy many of the ordinary foods for a hungry family.

Sgt. Turner Helping Train Medical Corps

Sgt. Loyd O. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Turner of this city, was a pleasant visitor to the Herald office Wed., to get his name on our big list of Service Men readers. He paid off with a U. S. $2.00 bill seldom seen here now but frequently seen around the border, as they are the only American currency allowed circulated in old Mexico.

He is in a medical training school for the army at El Paso, using the Wm Beaumont Hospital. Loyd has been connected with the training of men there almost all the two years he has been in the army. He states that some 1500 men are trained for three months, and are then ready to be shipped to battle fronts, where they aid the regular physicians in many ways.

Said he had been expecting to be shipped out for some time, but high hospital officer told him he was more valuable to the armed forces as a trainer. He has a fifteen day furlough.

Local Men Training At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Jan.—Termed by Lieutenant General Henry H. Arnold "inherently the most able fighting men in the world" future pilots for Uncle San's war planes graduated this week from the San Antonio Cadet Center pre-flight school and went to primary training fields.

General Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, reviewed "ten acres of cadets" at the entire cadet detachment on a recent visit to the Cadet Center. The San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center classification center and preflight school make up the largest military installation of its kind in the world.

Among those leaving for primary schools were 383 aviation cadets from Texas including three from Brownfield. They were: Aviation Cadets Richard M. Kendrick, John J. Kendrick, Ollie W. Warren.

Gets Pomotion To Private First Class

Camp Barkeley, Texas, Jan. 11, 1943. (Special)—Headquarters of the Medical Replacement Training Center announced this week the promotion of Private Kenyon H. Banks, Headquarters Detachment, 11th Medical Tng Regt. to Private First Class. He resides at Meadow, Texas.

Highlights Of President Message To Congress

"By for the largest and most whole strategic picture of 1942 are the events on the long fronts in Russia."

"The Axis powers knew that they must win the war in 1942—or eventually lose everything. I do not need to tell you that our enemies did not win this war in 1942."

"The period of our defensive attrition in the Pacific is passing. Now our aim is to force the Japanese to fight. Last year we stopped them. This year we intend to advance."

"I can not prophesy. I can not tell you when or where the United Nations are going to strike in Europe. But we are going to strike—and strike hard."

"We all know that there have been too many complicated forms and questionnaires . . . I have had to fill some of them out myself."

"Yes, 1943 will not be an easy year for us on the home front. We shall feel in many ways in our daily lives the sharp pinch of total war. Fortunately, there are only a few Americans who place appetite above patriotism."

"I do not prophesy when this war will end. But I do believe that this year of 1943 will give to the United Nations a very substantial advance along the roads that lead to Berlin and Rome and Tokio."

Grigg Has Ice Plant Under Lease

We had an idea until recently that the Brownfield Ice Plant made up the ice, and wholesaled to Jack Grigg. But Jack says since he has been here some three years, he has had the plant under lease hires his own men, and makes his own ice, which is wholesaled and retailed. He also stated that it was operated the same way by Chris Quante the last year or two he operated the plant.

Jack has had years of experience in ice making. He brought his family here from the Monahans section when he took over the plant. During that time he has lived here, he has made a host of friends and a fine line of customers.

About two years ago, he took over the distribution of Borden milk drinks and ice cream, as well as milk in the Brownfield area. He has built up this business until it is now paying him well.

Meadow Man Died Here Monday

W. E. Savage, 54, a resident of the Meadow section for the past 21 years died Monday night at the local hospital of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife, his mother and three sisters.

Following funeral services at the Meadow Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, the body was laid to rest in the Meadow cemetery.

Terry County Singing Convention at Gomez

Mack Thomason was in Tuesday and stated that the winter session of the Terry County Singing Convention, would be held all day at the Gomez school auditorium, next Sunday. Everyone cordially invited.

Terry county folks are requested to bring plenty chaw in order to take care of visiting singers form distances. "Let's sing away the blues," says Mack.

A lot of graineries have been sent here this season by the FSA. As we understand it, they are already cut ready to be nailed together. A number of them are still near the depot, already put together.

On the home war front, we seem to have one in the offing between Beauford Jester, the man who took Jerry Saddler's place, and who is the chairman of R. R. commission, on one hand, and Olen Culberson on the other, with Col. Thompson an unknown quality in the dispute. It seems that Jester had announced that intrastate rates to railroads would be increased soon, according to Culberson, who believes the railroads are making sufficient money at present, and that any increase just now would be playing into the hands of the bureaucrats at Washington in the form of the ICC. Quoting Culberson, who stated: "Unhappily our form of government is not a Gibraltar that can resist constant attacks and encroachment by Federal bureaucracy upon the right of state sovereignty and that even with the most vigorous resistance against such encroachment, it is always losing in the struggle." Jester was picture by his opponents last year as being a railroad and corporation attorney. Maybe that was for campaign purposes. Maybe not. We shall see.

Lots of people are losing sugar, gasoline and other rationing cards, which makes one wonder sometimes if so many of them are really lost, or are some of them being pilfered? One case that we know of the card evidently taken from the man's car glove compartment. If rationing books are left in these little lockers, they should really be locked. We have also some cases of pilfering home canned fruits and vegetables as well as some coffee and sugar from private residences. As long as thieves abound, we should lock our homes, cars, etc.

The USDA is calling on Texas to increase its peanut acreage this year from a bit over one million acres to 1,300,000 acres, which the powers that be down at the A. and M. claim will be a tough job. The fact that peanuts are a sandy land product, and that much of Texas area is either black or tough rawhide land, such an increase in acreage is no small assignment.

A press release from the district OPA offices at Lubbock informs us that there will be a searching checkup on gasoline rationing cards, especially "C" books. The OPA relates that these books were obtained for preferred mileage on the pretense they were needed for essential driving, according to State Director, Mark McGee, who went on to state that many cars from this section were found at the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas new year day, by investigators. The owners of these cars will be found by use of the license registration, and if they cannot give a good reason for being there, their "C" cards will be taken up. Highway Patrols are also asked to crack down on those driving more than 35 mph.

Patriotic citizens who are doing all they can on the home front, putting in many, many hours each week in an effort to win the war, together with our soldiers, sailors, marines and air men, really get disgusted at the end of a long day of work, when they must listen to reported strikes of high priced laborers, that are holding up the war effort and aiding Hitler and his bunch. It makes the

Party Plank That Hits Loan Sharks Will Aid Cause

Austin, Jan. 7—Expectation that the new legislature will take action against the loan sharks evil has been expressed by officials of the Texas Consumer Credit Committee, who add that impetus has been given to the movement by the plank adopted by the State Democratic Convention.

Rep. S. J. Isaacs of El Paso, who worked diligently on behalf of anti-loan sharks legislation two years ago, was sponsor of the resolution which was adopted by the State Democratic Convention without dissenting vote. The resolution declares:

"On account of most states having passed laws that have practically put them out of business, there has been an exodus of loan sharks into Texas during the last few years. These leeches on society are plying their nefarious business in this State to the extent that the poorer people, including many of the thousands of soldiers who are being trained here to fight the battles of democracy in foreign countries, are being systematically robbed annually of millions of their hard-earned dollars by the collection of usurious interest ranging from 100 to 300 per cent.

"These millions of dollars are being taken not only from those least able to bear the burden, but the money is being diverted from the legitimate business channels of the State.

"Our people are taxing themselves multiplied millions for social security purposes to help the poor and helpless but, under present conditions, a large portion of this tax money goes to the loan sharks in usurious interest.

"Therefore it is the sense of the Texas Democracy that the 48th Legislature should enact such legislation as will effectively put these loan sharks out of business in this State."

firing squad come to mind, as their reasons (?) for striking many times wouldn't hold shucks. When this war is over some 50 millions of common, ordinary citizens are going to be lined up against this bunch of hoodlum leaders and the men they are supposed to represent, and there will be a day of reckoning. After this war may come that long predicted conflict between capital and labor, but the capital will be left out, and common, decent citizens will be substituted in their stead against organized pirates.

The council of pharmacy and chemistry of the American Medical Association at Chicago, recently announced that cold serums or vaccines, were of no value in preventing colds, nor was vitamins, they stated, as cold start mostly from viruses.

WHICH ARE YOU?

If a fellow tries to kiss a woman and gets away with it he's a man; if he tries and doesn't get away with it he's a brute; if he doesn't try but would get away with it if he tried he's a coward; but if he doesn't try and wouldn't have gotten away with it if he tried he's wise.

A Letter To Hitler

By Mrs. W. G. Hardin
Brownfield, Texas

The following poem by Mrs. Hardin was copied by The Retort, a paper published by the soldiers at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Take a retrospective view Herr Hitler
Off the things you meant to do
Herr Hitler
By your greed for power and gain
Many Germans have been slain
What for this did you attain, Mr. Hitler.

You mustered all your armies, looked them over
Said that world supremacy you would maneuver
But you gave your people—well
Tis a word we cannot tell
But it's synonym will spell Schecklegrober.

So a "nitwit rules our land, Herr
Hitler".
Can't tell where he'll make his stand.

Herr Hitler
But your lair he now has stalked
And his armies have been balked
He was thinking while you talked
Herr Hitler.

What about the Dover Strait, Herr
Hitler
Seems you were a little late, Herr
Hitler

Air Supremacy will tell,
Britains sent you off Pell Mell.
And your armies sent to — But that's a military secret, Mr.
Hitler.

Stalin, Russia's grizzly bear, Herr
Hitler
With his men, gave you a scare,
Herr Hitler

Proved a barrier between
You and where you've been
But you're going to go? Well
When? Mr. Hitler.

You'll be forced to bite the sod,
Herr Hitler
With Mikado, Japan's God, Herr
Hitler

Now that Japs are on the run
There'll be no more rising sun
Won't McArthur boys have fun?
Mr. Hitler.

Old Mussolini's sore, Herr Hitler
Doesn't love you anymore Herr
Hitler

He has nightmare's when he sleeps
And in wakeful hours he weeps
O're the company he keeps—Herr
Hitler.

Rommel's armies in a mess—Herr
Hitler
He may follow Rudolph Hess,
Herr Hitler
When he hears our Bombers drone
Bearing fighters, every one.
Quitting when the job is done,
Herr Hitler.

And our navy is somewhere, Herr
Hitler
On the sea and in the Air, Herr
Hitler
Merchants, convoys carriers, all
Sail away at duty's call
With their cargoes great and small
Herr Hitler.

Our Marines are in the show, Herr
Hitler
Where? well wouldn't you like to know
Herr Hitler
But wherever they may land
Soon you'll hear from their command
Situation well in hand Mr. Hitler.

It looks awful for you now Herr
Hitler
And I kind of think somehow,

Predictions On Post War Diets Made

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. — Americans in the post-war world will be better fed than they are now, for men in the armed forces are learning to eat and like nutritious foods and children are building better food habits in community school lunch rooms, Louise Bryant of College Station predicted at a recent meeting of the Texas State Nutrition Committee in Dallas. Miss Bryant represents the Bureau of Home Economics on a four states post war planning committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Since the government's food rationing and share-the meat programs are based on nutritional requirements, civilians as a whole will learn more about adequate diets as well as receiving an equitable part of the national food supply.

Other predictions on post war feeding were given to the committee by Victor H. Schoffelmayer, Dallas agricultural editor, who believes dehydrated soup mixtures will be popular after the war.

The State committee was told that the American Red Cross now has 1,243 nutrition instructors in Texas. Frances MacKinnon, nutrition director for the Midwestern states, said more than 10,000 Texas homemakers have been trained in Red Cross nutrition courses and are available for war services.

Other speakers included Hazel Bratley, regional nutritionist for the Federal Security Agency, Dr. J. M. Coleman of the State Health Department, and Grace I. Neely, Dallas, of the Agricultural Marketing Administration. Attendance of state, county, and municipal workers at the meeting was nearly 100, according to Mildred Horton, state chairman and vice director of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

THE BULL THAT WILL NEVER GET TO AMERICA

His name is Rajah of Oaklands. Last we heard of him, he was on the Island of Jersey, a little spot of land in the Channel between France and England.

He's a great bull and breeders over here wanted him. He probably would have been imported except that one day the devils that "Heil Hitler" gobbled up the Channel Islands. Where is the bull and the fine Jersey cattle? Fate unknown. And the people—everything that they have labored for is in the hands of a devouring Germany.

This story repeats itself again and again in the wake of Axis conquest. We must remember it in the coming weeks and months in so many, many ways. One of the ways is by buying U. S. War Bonds.

You buy Bonds today for two important reasons. First, to help your Government win this war. Second, to help yourself. For they are an investment that never depreciates in value. They increase in value every year up to maturity, when they pay a third more than original cost. And you can always cash them any time after sixty days if you want to. Receives Copy Of United States News

Dr. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow sent the Herald a copy of the United States News, A tabloid printed by the American Armed forces in the Middle East. The copy sent us was dated December 4, 1942, and was not a mimeograph sheet, but set with linotype machines and regular newspaper presses used in the printing.

The news part of the issue was very similar to that we got here at home about that time in the way of war news. There was lots of news of happenings in the states, in which of course the men are all interested. Among the pictures were wirephotos of American and French officers meeting, and one of the first batch of U. S. army nurses arriving in Egypt.

There were also pictures of football games in the state, one being of the Navy and Georgia Tech. Some of Hollywood beauties. One intended to tickle the boys was an army officer wearing a mask training a bunch of WAACS. The idea was that to show his face would attract too much attention from what he was learning them.

A double page spread in the middle of the eight page paper, on the left side showed the destruction being rained down on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, and on the right half scenes of factory production and assembly lines in the U. S. one year from that date, December 1942.

The paper was sent by his grandson, Thad Moorhead.

Mrs. Stricklin, Sr., left Monday for Brownwood, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Herman Trigg and Mr. Trigg or two weeks.

The Santa Fe railroad moved 31,778 carloadings last week compared to 28,007 for the same week of 1942.

W. P. Forbes was in this week to renew for about the twenty-eighth time and we called his attention to a record. He was exactly eleven days behind, which is unusual. He is usually a few days in advance of expiration date getting in his dollar. Said his wife had already reminded him of his habit breaking record.

W. H. Hare was in last week exhibiting a northern paper that quoted flour in 24 1/2 pound bags. Its always 24 even in Texas, or 12, 6 or 48, as the case may be.

Carson County Texas, is underlain by the largest natural gas field in the world, which supplies such northern industrial centers as St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver and Chicago.

Baptist Church News

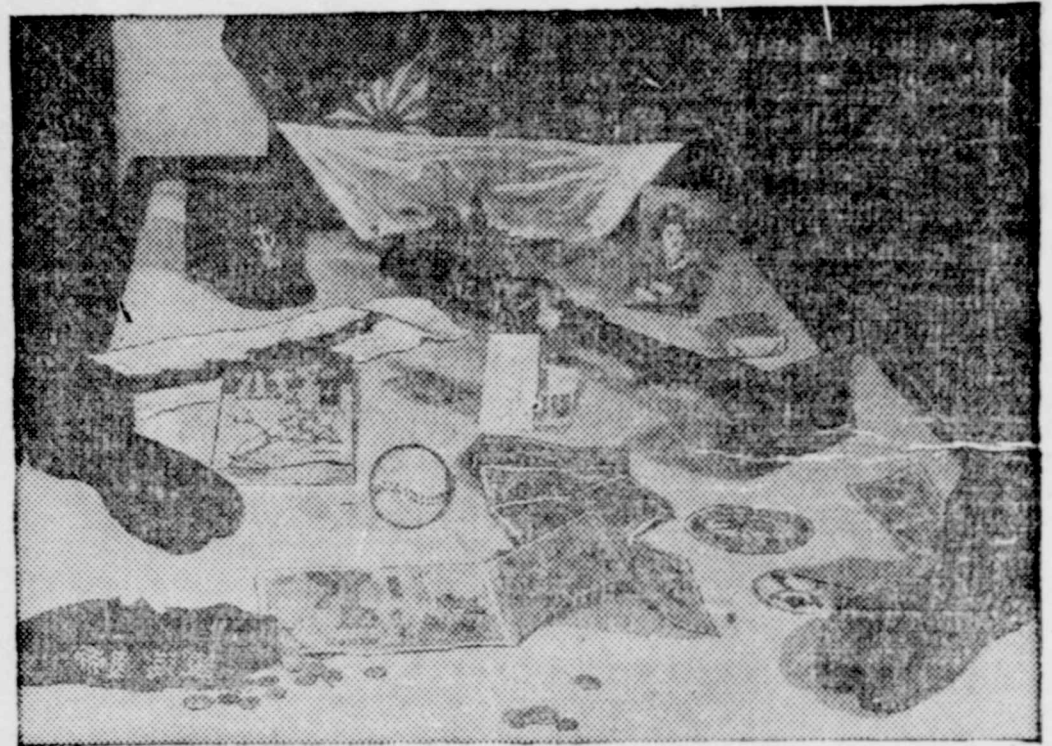

With good weather again last Sunday 303 registered in the church school for Bible study. Men make the poorest record in attendance as 9:45 is most too early for big men but the children generally make it and often walk a good distance to do it.

Men could make an appointment at the bank without difficulty, that is different. It is not much wonder that people outside the church make the church a matter of small importance when we witness how it is treated often by its own members.

The pastor has asked the deacons to become responsible for conducting the Wednesday evening service of the church for a while and they hope to make it a helpful devotional hour with a greatly increased attendance. Every teacher and officer in the Bible school should be present for one hour to better prepare them spiritually for meeting their classes Sunday morning and every one who have enjoyed the fellowship of the prayer service in other days are asked to come and have a part in this service. The work of the preacher is of first importance but was never intended to lessen the activity of the most humble member of the church, in New Testament times.

The work of seeing the entire membership to reduce the building indebtedness continues, and why should not every one have a part in it?

Some do not contribute because their offering is of necessity a small one but they lose the joy of doing what they can and having a great part in a great task. Remember what the Master said of the widow who made the greatest

THE LONG LIFE OF A JOKE

One of our contemporaries prints an anecdote about Gen. Douglas MacArthur who it seems, was stopped one night by a soldier who asked him for a cigarette. The General produced one and then the soldier asked for a match. The General complied. The soldier, on striking the match recognized the General, apologized and saluted. And the General told the soldier that was alright—"but you're lucky you didn't stop a second lieutenant."

Now, this is a very good Army story. It was, moreover, just as good during the last war, when it was told about Gen. John J. Pershing and another soldier. It had wide currency at that time and has been revived many times since then. We have not yet heard from Africa, but we have a hunch that some of these days General Eisenhower, walking along the sands some night, will be accosted by a soldier who will want a cigarette. That will give Eisenhower his chance to get in on the chain. How old is this joke, really? There is probably no way of telling. Did Washington ever use it or some variation of it? Did a soldier ever ask Gen. William T. Sherman for a cigar. We are prepared to believe all these things. The story's longevity is evidence of its soundness. Carry on boys. However, what we really need is this war is a paraphrase, or a bringing up to date of President Lincoln's remark when a busy body told him that General Grant drank a good deal of whiskey. Lincoln, it will be recalled, wanted to know what brand he was using with the idea of sending some of the same to other Union Generals. May be somebody could work out something to Mussolini's recent speech in which he charged Mr. Churchill with drinking alcoholic beverages. We might have Count Ciano saying to Mussolini: "Let's find out what brand Churchill drinks and send some to our Generals." Such jests should not be allowed to die. — New York Herald Tribune.

Women AT WAR
Sophia
Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Worthington, dressed soberly and wearing their best black gloves, walked along the stony country road back toward Sophia Hardy's farm, to pay their visit of condolence.

"How do you reckon she'll be bearing up?" Mrs. Kimball asked Mrs. Worthington. Both ladies wore their most solemn, funeral expressions. "A mighty severe blow," Mrs. Worthington said. "Mighty severe. To lose your only son, the mainstay of your declining years. And such a dreadful death, too—to go down with a ship. Mercy!" "The first of our boys from Hand County to go, too," Mrs. Kimball said, mournfully. "I wouldn't blame Sophia Hardy for feeling right bitter."

"They stood on the simple stone at the doorstep, with downcast eyes, getting themselves into the proper commiserative mood. "Come in!" The voice was brisk and cordial. They looked up in surprise. Sophia herself had come to the door. As they followed her into the parlor they exchanged glances, with eyebrows lifted. Sophia was not even in mourning. The parlor shades were not even drawn. "It's nice of you to come," Sophia said. "Do sit down."

"We came," Mrs. Kimball said almost reprovingly, "to tell you that our hearts are bleeding for you in your great loss."

"We know how lonely you must be out here," Mrs. Worthington said. "With nothing to take your mind off . . ." She sniffed and kerchieved.

"Oh, I keep busy," Sophia said. "I've just finished applying for the Government insurance on Tom's life."

The visiting ladies could not resist a shocked glance at one another. "I want to get it right away," Sophia said. "So I can put it into War Bonds. My boy hasn't finished fighting yet, not by a long shot."

The ladies were so occupied with feeling horrified, so titillated by this callous behaviour in a bereaved mother—that neither of them noticed Sophia's hands. Under the folds of her clean print dress, against the seat of her chair, they were tightly clenched. (Story from an actual report in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Better Feeding Will Help Meet Nitrogen Needs

(Editor's Note: This is the 9th article of a series printed to help farmers and stockmen increase their "Food for Freedom" production.)

Estimating that more than one billion tons of livestock manures will be produced on American farms during 1943, U. S. Department of Agriculture authorities say that this is the equivalent of about 34 million tons of nitrate of soda in fertilizer value, and can replace in part the dwindling agricultural supplies of nitrogenous fertilizers.

Rations containing increased amounts of cottonseed meal, peanut meal and other protein concentrates not only give better results for livestock, but also increase the fertilizer value of the animal manure.

"It is known that the fertilizing value of manure increases as livestock are fed more concentrates," says M. R. Cooper and A. P. Brodell of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in an article, "Home-Grown Nitrogen". "More concentrates than usual can be fed in the 1942-43 season. The combined production of protein concentrates, chiefly soybean, cottonseed, peanut and linseed meal will be about 2 million tons above the previous high production of 1941. This additional 2 million tons will contain about as much nitrogen as 800,000 tons of nitrate of soda."

Under ordinary conditions, they estimate, more than one-half of this nitrogen can be recovered from manure after the concentrates have been fed to livestock. Need for greater utilization of livestock manures for crop production is especially great in Cotton Belt states since South Atlantic and South Central States together use about two-thirds of the nation's commercial fertilizer and cattle feeding and the use of livestock manure have not been as extensive on many farms here as in some other areas. In addition although acreages of legumes of legumes should be increased greatly in the Cotton Belt, shortages of labor and seed may restrict legume planting; and legumes are not satisfactory as sources of nitrogen for some crops, such as certain types of tobacco, whose quality is reduced if they directly follow a legume.

These facts about the increasingly-acute for more nitrogen to maintain and increase 1943 crop production over 1942 become even more significant when they are combined with the many

GOVERNOR STEVENSON COMMENDS JAYCEES

"Junior Chamber of Commerce Week," January 14-21, being observed nationally was official in Texas with Governor Coke R. Stevenson signing the proclamation giving recognition to war time accomplishments of Jaycees in Texas. With 62% of the membership serving in the armed forces, Jaycees have sold over $100,000 worth of War Bonds per club and collected over 50 tons of scrap per club. Each club has also a regular monthly plan of buying War Bonds and Stamps.

During the week local Junior Chambers will conduct forums and call special meetings to select the outstanding young man in their communities to receive the Distinguished Service Award, presented by the National Junior Chamber. Virgil Burnett has been awarded the honor in Brownfield.

In his proclamation, Gov. Stevenson not only compliments the Jaycees for raising $100,000 in war bonds, and other war work, but states that the Junior Chamber of Texas, has done all this with approximately 62% of their membership in the armed service.

March of Time Shows "Men in Washington"

Entrusted by Americans with the destiny of their country are these figures from March of Time's "Men in Washington, 1942." Roosevelt, Wallace, Hopkins and Hull direct the diplomatic and morale fronts: the war and economic fronts are the responsibility of Nelson, King, Marshall and Henderson. Besides striking candid studies of these men, the film shows the feverish activity of the wartime capital of the United Nations, and the steps being taken to integrate vast U. S. resources for the coming second front. These men and the huge corps of Washington workers behind them face the grim task of prosecuting successfully a war whose opening broadside was a disaster to the U. S. But today America is on the march, one with the other freedom-loving peoples of the world, and in the wartime capital of the United Nations these men are setting their sights for total victory and total peace.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO Non-Residential Users Of Natural Gas

War Production Board Order L-31, as amended November 12, 1942, imposes certain restrictions on our right to deliver natural gas to you, and on your right to use natural gas. These restrictions, which apply only to NON-RESIDENTIAL GAS USERS (such as large or small business concerns of any kind, commercial establishments and industries), may affect your plans in the event you desire to do any of the following:

1. MOVE YOUR BUSINESS.
2. REPLACE YOUR GAS-FIRED EQUIPMENT.
3. INSTALL ADDITIONAL GAS-FIRED EQUIPMENT.
4. REQUEST GAS SERVICE FOR A NEW BUSINESS.
5. IN SOME CASES, WHEN YOU APPLY FOR RESTORATION OF GAS SERVICE.

Should you desire to obtain gas service under any of the above conditions, you should file an application for permission to do so with the War Production Board, and have such application certified by us. We have the necessary forms for your use.

Our purpose in calling this Order to your attention is to enable you to make your plans accordingly, IN ADVANCE of your actual need for gas service, or IN ADVANCE of any change in your gas-fired equipment. This nation-wide War Production Board Order is designed to curtail additional non-essential gas use, because of the anticipated inability of many gas companies to supply all gas needs in severely cold weather.

Some you no doubt have questions to ask. If so, we have at our office a qualified company employee who will be glad to discuss any contemplated changes in your gas service or equipment, and to advise you whether or not such changes will require the filing of an application for approval with the War Production Board.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS—

By Boyce House

Accident? Coincidence? Maybe—

The scene was the Weatherford Old Timers' reunion out at Holland's Lake back in 1932. It was well along in the afternoon of the third and final day and the crowds were thinning out.

Your columnist was there to write up the events for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. D. B. Greene, staff photographer, remarked:

"We'd better get one more picture of a couple of pioneers." Soon I saw an old gentleman in picturesque attire and he agreed to wait until I could find someone else to pose with him. A man with thick, gray hair and flowing whiskers came in sight and he consented to be in the picture.

The camera clicked and, with poised pencil, I asked the first man his name. When he replied the other exclaimed:

"Don't you know me? I thought you might be here and came especially to see you. I've been looking for you all three days and was just leaving the grounds." The first pioneer peered and then said, "Why, it's Joe! I've been hunting for you, too."

And they embraced happily—boyhood friends who had moved to distant scenes and had not seen each other in a dozen years and might never have met this side of glory land had they not been together by a newspaper reporter who had picked them at random out of a throng of hundreds.

Coincidence? Accident? Maybe—but I like to think that a kind Destiny smiled and pulled the strings.

Thoughts as the new legislature begins its work:

Texas citizens believe that winning the war comes ahead of everything else but, subject only to that consideration, they favor maintaining our public schools and the State's humanitarian program, including old age assistance.

They favor doing away with unnecessary State jobs and, by means of this and other economies, maintain essential functions of government without new taxes or increases in present taxes as the people need all their income possible in order to pay for the war.

There is stronger sentiment than ever for doing something about loan sharks, who are preying not only on the general public but on war workers and soldiers and sailors. A Constitutional amendment as the remedy is receiving support.

There should be a Constitutional amendment providing that, if a man is eligible to vote in Texas, he does not lose that right if he puts on the uniform when his country is at war.

Those assigned places on the program were Mrs. A. A. Sawyer, Mrs. W. R. McDuffie, and Mrs. Jack Hamilton. These weekly services will continue on Wednesday nights at 1:30 at the church. Next week, January 20th, the service will take the form of a foodless banquet with an offering received for the starving of the world. Come fast and pray with us. If you are praying for strength for these times, for peace, and for loved ones away from home you are urged to join us in these hours of prayer.

Sunday morning the minister will discuss, "Church Union Now". Do you think it is common sense or God's will to have 200 bickering denominations? Is it any wonder the world is still un-Christian? This is not a movement to get all people to unite with this church or any other. It is a practical, common-sense plan whereby all Christians may work together for the Kingdom. Come and consider it with us.

TUCKS AND MORE TUCKS as worn in Hollywood by Ona Munson

Talented Star of the Movies

A pert little dress of rare newness marks this week's frock as unusual, especially now when novelty is at a premium.

It is very easy to wear because it is so flattering to any figure—and is decidedly feminine. Appropriate for any occasion that requires poise and quiet. The newness of detail is in the tucked shoulder panels of contrasting color, repeated in panels above the deep pockets on the skirt. The peaked-top pockets are repeated on the bodice, and each is decorated with a button. A self-fabric belt and buckle, notched-lapel collar, shorter-length sleeves trimmed with contrasting color, and the gored skirt are other important features. Colors preferred are grape with light blue trim, or green with gold contrast.

Best Trees To Stand Ice Storms

LUBBOCK, Jan.—Plant trees that will not break during heavy ice incrustations common in West Texas, says Prof. O. B. Howell, chief tree surgeon at Texas Technological College. The recent "spell" which injured so many trees on the plains showed that Chinese elm, willow, Russian olive, and hackberry suffered the greatest damage, while honey locust, ash, maple, poplar, and catalpa showed relatively much less or no damage. Moral: in replanting use trees that stand up under heavy ice loads, according to Howell.

In trimming up injured trees, all cuts over three-fourth of an inch in diameter should be water-proofed with asphaltum or other tree wound paint. This may be secured from hardware or paint stores. Ordinary house paint should not be used.

Pruning again is necessary in 12 months, according to Professor Howell, if the tree is to become properly proportioned. Where a limb is pruned numerous branches will grow out the first year. At the next pruning most of this new growth should be pruned off leaving the most likely branches.

The proper way to cut off a large injured limb, he says, is to undercut first and then from the top a few inches further out, saw the limb off. It will then drop without splitting further into the tree. This stump can then be sawed off at the proper place and it should always be slanted rather than cut squarely off.

Most trees on the plains are entirely too close together, says Professor Howell. The proper distance is 35 to 40 feet between trees, not over two to a 50-foot lot for the front is ample, he says.

THOUGHTFUL

An Irishman carrying a large sack of potatoes along a lonely road was overtaken by a man driving a team hitched to a wagon.

The driver offered Pat a lift, which gladly accepted but still kept the sack of potatoes on his back. The driver told him to put them down in the wagon.

"Sure," Pat replied, "I'm thankful for the lift ye gave me, but I don't want ye to be burdened with the taters as well".

Small County Stores Being Hard Hit By War

County folks are shaking their heads and pondering what is going to happen to the small country store and filling station, probably a dozen or more of which have been operating in this county, and many of them with more than a small degree of success.

During the past few weeks in this county alone, several such have either closed their doors or are planning to do so, and it looks like still others are destined to follow suit.

These closings are a direct result of the war, of rationing, shortages, and price restrictions. Too, the small store owner is often dubious about his ability to comply with the multitudinous government directives, and filling out of the required forms.

Wholesalers, hard pressed to fill the orders of customers in the towns and cities are making little effort to supply the little country store, and salesmen who have regularly called on them in the past, now cannot do so owing to limited gasoline rations.

It commences to look like the small country store and filling station is out for the duration.—Amherst Argus.

One of the leading turkey raising counties in Texas is Caldwell County.

Green Lake in Calhoun County is one of the largest water lakes in Texas.

Know Texas?

A reader of this newspaper may get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing to A. Garland Adair, Curator, P. O. Box 2072, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

To Liberate Man.
Texas Memorial Museum of the U. of T. Campus at Austin displays exhibits that stimulate American patriotism. These emphasize that all of our wars have been for a common cause, the same purpose, to liberate man.

The Revolution of 1776 was to get the privileged class of England off the backs of the American Colonists who were redeeming this wilderness.

The war of 1812 was to rescue American seamen from oppression.

The Mexican War was to liberate settlers of Texas from the whimsy cruelty of Mexican War Lords.

The Spanish War was to save the people of Cuba from the tyranny of the Spanish Government.

Every time our army and navy and flying corps have gone forth it has been to clean up some filthy autocracy.

But all of our wars have but a preparation for our present task. We did not realize it. No man foresees his Destiny, no nation foresees its mission. Yet the life of every nation, as of every man, is a plan of God.

God has been piling up riches on this continent until we are wealthiest nation in the world. He has been sharpening our inventive skill and our business ability. Our training has been intensive.

Now God says; "America, you are come of age. All I have done for you is to prepare you for the present conflict, for your real work, Go forth and make the world a decent place to live in."

At this time every son of America is called upon to do his utmost. The slacker is a traitor.

We are sending men across the ocean, men who are physically and mentally the pick of the world, an incomparable army. But the men at home must back them up.

In Briscoe County Texas, which lies partly on high level plains and partly on the Cap Rock escarpment, the elevation drops as much as 1,000 feet within the distance of a few miles.

A Few "??" to Ask the Printing Peddler

When the Peddler selling stationery and printing supplies solicits your business, there are a few questions which he should be willing to answer to your satisfaction.

Among them being:

- ? Does he pay wages to a force of employees located in this City or County?
- ? Does his paper devote its entire space toward the betterment and upbuilding of this community?
- ? Does he grant you every favor that you would ordinarily ask of a local newspaper?
- ? Does the quality of his merchandise stand inspection—is it on quality paper stock and the printed matter attractively arranged?
- ? Will he submit proof of your work before finishing and mailing it to you C. O. D.?
- ? Does his price include postage and insurance charges?
- ? Can he supply your order on short notice?

If he can answer all the questions in the affirmative, he is entitled to your business.

Prosperity For Farmers

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan.—The important problem of prosperity for farmers will be solved by science and industry, R. C. Muir, General Electric vice president, declared in a G-E Farm Forum address here.

"Science offers great possibilities to the farmer of the future in the complete utilization of his land and facilities through diversified uses of farm products," Mr. Muir explained.

He also pointed out that "tomorrow, there will be improved devices and equipment: x x x freezing boxes will permit the storage of perishable food; and the farmer will have better lighting, lighter and more efficient automobiles and tractors, cheaper and better fertilizers, water-proofed clothing, and improved farm implements—all of which will benefit from the advance of science which has been very rapid under the stimulus of war."

Mr. Muir said that "the day after tomorrow" even the magnificent achievements of Luther Burbank may be surpassed by some future experimenter working with a new and powerful tool (the million-volt x-ray machine) which Burbank did not possess, because "x-rays provide the means, and the only known means, for modifying the germ cells which determine hereditary characters, and thereby producing a copious supply of new varieties of plants.

Regarding a balanced economy, Mr. Muir said in conclusion: "Through science and industry we shall solve the problem of equal prosperity for agriculture, industry, and commerce."

Seventh National Social Hygiene Day

Austin, Texas, — The Seventh National Social Hygiene Day will be observed in Texas on Wednesday February 3, 1943, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer and chairman on Health and Emergency Medical Service announced in Austin today.

"With the mass movement of men into Army camps, with war industries doubling and redoubling their production, 'boom town' conditions frequently prevail," Dr. Cox said. "Broken family ties, crowded housing, unprecedented demands on medical facilities, lack of knowledge, and prostitution, favor the spread of venereal diseases which in turn cost millions of dollars in medical care, lost time, inefficiency, labor replacement and accidents.

"Physical fitness not only of our soldiers, marines, and sailors but also of our civilian population, will determine the effectiveness of our war effort," Dr. Cox stated. "We must realize that the nation's defense depends on a healthy civilian population, able to produce needed materials."

Social Hygiene Day, nationally sponsored by the American Social Hygiene Association will be observed throughout the country on February 3, 1943. Army and navy officers, industry management, labor unions, health and welfare agencies participate in this nationwide campaign and collaborate on legal, medical, educational and protective measures to fight venereal diseases among industrial workers.

"Physical fitness is the foundation of a sound national defense—the prerequisite for victory," asserted Dr. Cox. "More and more Americans are coming to realize that among the first enemies to be conquered in its present mighty effort are the venereal diseases. There can be no strong nation where bodies are unfit; most assuredly there can be no military victory where disease acts as an insidious 'fifth column' within the ranks."

SHINE PHILIPS (above), of Big Spring, Texas, whose book, "Big Spring" has just been published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., New York publishers.

Shine, widely-known West Texas philosopher and humorist, has succeeded in catching the true spirit of the early days in West Texas. Old timers will chuckle and youngsters marvel at Shine's stories about drummers, saloons, cowhands, and "badger fights". Illustrations were done by Jerry Bywaters, well-known West Texas artist.

Leading reviewers in all parts of the country are enthusiastic about the book and agree that a bright and worthwhile page has been added to the growing literature on Texas. The publishers, who have made arrangements with most West Texas booksellers to handle the book, report that local interest is high and comments highly favorable.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

I felt sorry for the little, old man as he peered bewilderedly through the heavy bars that looked so unnecessary. The jail was clean but cheerless and there was the smell that hangs about all jails—a mingling of cleaning antiseptics and the body odors of men shut off from sunlight, free air and the perfume of grass and flowers.

The prisoner and a youth had engaged in a drinking bout. His companion had become threatening, (the old fellow related), and then had left the house, with the warning that he would be back to cause trouble.

"I heard him at my door and I shot one time—just to scare him I didn't mean to kill him", and the gray-headed man repeated the last remark, over and over.

Sheriff's deputies had already removed the body of the slain man before the district attorney and I drove to the house of tragedy. It was a day of deceptive sunshine, for a keen-edged wind was blowing and there were sheets of ice on the "tanks" just inside the fences. We turned at last into a rutted lane that was bordered by frustrated scrub-oaks, twisted and bare that December morning.

And there was the weather-beaten hovel, looking ready to fall.

Entering the single room, we saw a scene of indescribable poverty. There were no panes in the windows, which were covered with strips of cloth. The floor looked as though it had never known a broom. A few chipped dishes contained the remain of an old meal. There were two backless chairs. In the middle of the place was a bed, the quilts little more than rags.

I stooped and peered into the semi-darkness under the bed—and found myself looking at two gleaming eyes, with no body visible, if there was a body!

In a long instant, there came thoughts of vampire bats, of ghosts, of evil spirits—and I shouted and pointed.

The district attorney, more practical, took a stick and routed the old man's black cat from under the bed.

A splintered hole in the door revealed the course that the fatal bullet had taken. Footprints in the soft sand of the yard and the pool of blood nearby bore out the prisoner's story. So he was released from the clean, warm jail to go back to that cold and filthy hut.

I felt sorry for him. . . .

 "Well, mister, I don't know this Michelangelo; but if he paints cars at less than two dollars an hour he doesn't belong to the union."

WOMEN AT WAR

Bessie
 "All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"
 The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.
 "It's about this ten percent pledge," she began.
 "Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's quite a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $25.50 a week including overtime, don't you?"
 "Yes, sir, but . . ."
 The boss smiled.
 "Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."
 The boss turned to go back into his private office.
 "But what I wanted to say was . . ." Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"
 "They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."
 Bessie looked relieved.
 "All we have to do is scribble a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."
 Back in the boss's office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.
 "I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said.
 "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of . . ."

CHARACTERIZED
 A kiss is a peculiar proposition. Of no use to one yet absolute bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to lie for it, and the old man has to buy it. The baby's right, the lover's privilege, and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith; to a married woman, hope; and to an old maid, charity.
