A Letter To The Boys In Service

By Jacob Sandage

Some of the readers of the Herald have suggested to me that I write a letter to the "our boys" in the military service, and one member of the fair sex, says I am a more gifted writer than Old He, but of course I ain't saying nothing about it, at least where the old He might hear about it. I might say that the old He tried to get different parties to write a letter to the boys, but he found most every one too busy to do any writing, and knowing that I am a man of leisure (?) and as a last resort, the old He requested me to write the letter, and of course I have plenty of time as the farmer whose boys are all in the service has nothing to do except the impossible. But don't worry. The impossible has happened in many of our war industries, in the way of production and if you don't believe it just ask the Axis powers.

W. J. Bryan often said that the American people sleep until the 11th hour but when goaded into action they always accomplish more during the one remaining hour than any other nation ever accomplished during the entire day. If we have not been goaded into action since Pearl Harbor, then no doubt our enemies will want to "hid out" when we are aroused from our peaceful slumbers.

True, we have a few unpatriotic citizen who have gone on a strike, and a few others who are determined to exercise their American privilege of bellyaching when they must suffer hardship, or in any way make a sacrifice to serve their country. This however, is the exception and not the rule.

No doubt there are times and instances when criticism is decidedly beneficial. Before we complain we should ask ourselves these questions: "Have we helped the situation?" or "will my criticism hinder the war effort?" Always bear in mind that a fault finding attitude among the people lowers the morale of a nation just as surely as an old chronic grumbler lowers the morale of a home. Chronic fault finders seldom find anything worth while to their country. The principals upon which Democracy rests are everlasting as the hills, but they must be applied to new conditions as they arise. Conditions have arisen, and we must meet those conditions. The man who is not willing to bear his share of the burden of government which protects him, that man is unworthy to enjoy a government like ours.

It is a fact that all around us we can see the Spartan mothers, who put herself into the very jaws of death in order to bring a son into the world, and she has seen that stalwart son answer his country's call and true to the American tradition, that mother is not complaining about taxes, hardships, or any sacrifice that she may be called upon to share.

Remember soldier boy, that you are not only fighting for the best form of government under the shining sun but you are also fighting for the best mother that ever trod upon this earth—As pure as the spotless snow, and one who would sacrifice her very life rather than sacrifice her character, and for that mother's sake, if for no other reason you must carry on and make your country a good soldier. For you to do otherwise would be to refute the old adage that "like begets like."

The school boys of West Texas who were inspired by the study of history in our public schools only a few years ago, are now

Two Garage Men To Carry On

While he has no Pontiacs to sell, C. E. Ross, local automobile dealer, (pre-duration) says that with a slightly less crew he is carrying on and doing his very best with his mechanics to keep 'em rolling. While all this is happening, he says, sometimes when a car is torn down and the trouble located, it may be a week or more before parts can be had.

But, says he, most people are very patient about the matter and seem to understand the situation, and just wait till the parts come in. And this was about the same line we had from Frank Jordan, Dodge and Plymouth dealer, who between his repair shop and a good farm is making hay while the sun shines.

Frank further stated that he was having his repair work done on commission basis. He named a fine weekly salary he offered his repair man, but the man said he had rather work for himself, which of course was alright with Mr. Jordan, as in this way the job costs the customer no more.

We Had A Long Talk With The Hills

Had to go to Tahoka last Saturday afternoon to meet a five o'clock bus that really got to Tahoka at seven. So the old He and Jr. left the womenfolks to visit with relatives and we joined the Hills at the Lynn County News office.

Well, for more than two hours we had a great time, talking shop and the war. We fixed the shops and won the war. Also we may have panned neighboring editors a bit. Did your ears burn, Sharley?

helping to make history in all parts of the world. Our forefathers, in our beloved charter of Americanism, the Declaration of Independence, used these words: "We pledge our lives, our fortunes, our sacred honor." There were those who lost their lives. There were those who lost their fortunes and unfortunately there were those who lost their honor, and to lose honor, is worse than to lose life itself. Soldier boy, never let men like Aaron Burr, keep you from making good.

Remember soldier boy, you are fighting under a flag that has never gone down in defeat, though for four long years it was pitted against the bravest soldier that ever wore a uniform — the Confederates, and whether your sirs fought under the Star and Bars with Lee, with Grant under the Stars and Stripes, they would turn over in their graves if you fail to make your country a good soldier.

Soldier boy the girl you left behind will still be waiting for you when you return. She may now be heard singing a mixture of love and patriotic music. But the sweetest music you will ever hear, soldier boy, will be a few years after you have won this war, and you are settled down in a home of your own, and when you come in from your day's work, you will hear that some girl singing "Bye oh, Babe, oh Babe, Bye." And when you take that young American in your arms you may be sure that he, your son, will some day, understand that his dad helped to write in bold letters across the sky these words: "Liberty, even our own liberty is the heritage of all mankind."

And you can teach that son that to be an American is the greatest privilege on earth — a greater privilege than to be a king, dictator or even a Napoleon. Soldier boy, we can not promise to elect you to an office after you have won this war, unless you tell us there ain't gon'na be no gasoline rationing in Texas and we know you wouldn't tell us that. But you will always receive the plaudits of a grateful people.

Some critic may say I copied this article from another writer. I did, so what are you going to do about it?

The Old Farmer Does Little Gripping

Up at Washington, where they put the old dirt farmer in the same class as striking labor, and refer to him and his friends as a bloc, have very little conception of what the farmer has to contend with under present conditions. Instead of talking about a 40 or 48 hour week, you may hear them talk about 72 hours or more of toil per day this year. And there is not the slightest threat of a strike. They could come a lot nearer living a whole year on the farm without another crop than miners, for instance, could live and support their families on a three months strike. But the farmers wont strike during this war for even a day. A vast lot of them have sons or grandsons in our army, navy, marines, and what have you, from Australia to North Africa and India. They will not let these lads down.

There is no more comparison of the patriotism of the American farmer and the but recent foreigner, digging coal, than there is between a waltz and a jitterbug. Instead of calling in the War Labor Board to settle this and settle that before they can work, the farmer is preparing the best seed he can get to put in the soil, and even now is preparing that soil for their reception. He is preparing to produce more poultry, eggs and butter than ever; more beef pork and mutton; more wool, mohair and cotton than has ever been raised in this country's history, despite short labor and poorer equipment.

And then he comes home at night about dark, milk the cows and feed the poultry and livestock. After a late supper (its not dinner with him) he sits down to his radio to listen in about strikes and more strikes of high paid organized labor. Isn't that enough to warn him without comparing the farm bloc to the labor organizations?

In the meantime, however, farmers and people who are his friends, are going to expect congress to cut some red tape in a hurry and be prepared to shift what transient labor there is from one area to another, as need become acute. If congress and the powers that be up at Washington expect the farmer to surpass his record 1942 yield, they must show a readiness to do some planning themselves, and less squabbling about non-essentials.

And we might add just here that the "Alphabets" up at Washington might make a hit with the "farm bloc" by sending out less forms and questionnaires on this and that and the other to bother and harass the hard working farmer. But will they do it? Not ten days ago, one farmers told us that he had rather make a crop than to fill out, sign up and go to this place and that place to ask what he could do. They are getting danged tired of the whole mess.

Yes, the real dirt farmer expects congress to quit so much pussy-footing and cut a lot of needless red tape and PDQ's, COD's, etc.

Everything In Line For Birthday Celebration

Last minute arrangements are about complete for the President's Birthday Celebration and dance at the American Legion hall Saturday night. Wednesday afternoon, Ray Christopher, chairman, stated that most of the tables had been reserved.

Those who enjoy dancing will find Bill Bryan Price and his orchestra in top shape for the affair, and a warm building and one of the best floors in this area.

In the meantime, in the drug store people will find places to chip in their nickles, dimes, quarters, halves, etc. Keep up the march of dimes against infantile paralysis.

Miss Myrl Moore is reported to be improving after a three weeks illness.

Local Man Buys Registered Jersey

New York, N. Y. — A registered Jersey bull has been purchased by D. F. Mathis of Brownfield, Texas, from Joe M. Peterson of Lamesa, Texas. The name of the animal is Daisy Royal Volunteer 441524.

The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by the American Jersey Cattle Club, with offices in New York City. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey Breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to fingerprinting, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known.

Jersey make up 42% of all dairy cows in the United States. Because they produce the world's richest milk, and because there are more Jersey than any other breed in America, their role in National Defense is an important one. Increased production of Jersey milk guarantees the protective food needs of here and abroad.

Had is the past tense of money.

It Pays To Be Square With Folks

About the best compliment the writer has had in some time was paid him recently by a long time merchant at Seagraves, Mr. O. H. Hearne. He said: "Mr. Stricklin, you are one of the few editors that I know that did not desert the farm interests when oil was struck in this section." No, we have said all along that we would have a good farming section here long after all the oil has been pumped out of the ground.

Just a few days after that another man a farmer, happened to be in a business house where the writer was talking to the proprietor. Anyway, it came about that this man stated: "I have always said that Stricklin was honest. He proved it one time when a New York man made out a check for $15 for my brother who had lost his home by fire. Stricklin could have endorsed that check, as it was made out to him, and no one would ever have been the wiser. But my brother got that check and he certainly needed it."

We had forgotten all about the matter. The check was made to us by the late Wilbur Fauley, New York editor, who owned land in Terry county. Yes, no one might never have been the wiser, but an old time editor would have had no surcease of conscience if we had taken that money.

Doyle Settle To Speak Here

Under the sponsorship of the local Junior Maids and Matrons Club a speaker, Doyle Settle or one of his representatives out of the OPA headquarters at Lubbock will be in Brownfield Feb. 9th at the High School auditorium at 4 p. m. to explain and demonstrate the new point ration food program.

This program will be explained thoroughly and is one every person should be vitally interested in mastering, and in knowing your family will mean whether your points is getting the proper foods for the given points or in other words you will be told just how to properly ration your points to give your family the necessary vitamins.

The Junior Maids and Matrons are to be commended in this part of the war work and they urge each and every person that positively can to attend this lecture.

An obstinate man does not hold opinions; the opinions hold him.

$2500 In Concert Sales At Wellman

On Thursday Night, January 21, the fourth State School Victory Concert was rendered in Wellman School auditorium. Due to dismissal of school for crop harvest, the first arranged program was omitted but the total sales for the school now exceeds $4,000.00.

Our first program was arranged on short notice by Mrs. Hamm and her music Classes and resulted in sales of approximately $700. Our second Concert was rendered wholly by our Elementary Schools and resulted in sales of $1,174.60 while this program was presented by the Junior and Senior classes and was a presentation of a 3-act comedy. A Little Clodhopper. A large and appreciative audience attended and purchased $2,350.00 in Bonds and $194.90 in Stamps. Miss Oliver, director of the play, was convinced that her efforts were not wasted.

Our next Victory Program will be given on February 18 and in form of basketball games for both our senior boys and girls, who will accept the challenge?

Superintendent J. T. Jones expresses appreciation for the Schools to its citizenry and states that the goal of the next program will be announced later. Under his supervision, Wellman Schools contributed an average of 180 pounds of scrap per pupil in their November Drive. We are very proud of the response of our community to the call of our Country in time of her need, and the loyalty and patriotism of our citizens is something we can be justly proud. We all can do more. BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS.

Lubbock Man Buys Corner Drug Store

It was announced this week that Mr. Wilgrass, of Lubbock, who has been with the Mark Halsey drug stores for some time, had purchased the Corner Drug store here from the owner, Jim Graves. Mr. Wilgrass is a pharmacist, has wife and five children, four girls and a boy, and comes highly recommended as a citizen and business man.

With a four weeks special on, the stock was considerably run down, but the owner states that he will restock as soon as possible. The family moved here yesterday.

Jim graves left Tuesday according to Mrs. Graves, by Dallas, where he will be inducted, and assigned to some medical corps as he is a pharmacist. Jim is a fine old boy, and will make friends wherever he is placed.

Gypsies Gyping 'Em At Seminole

Last week, the Seminole Sentinel stated that there had been some four Gypsies in their city for some time, "telling fortunes." When they left, they took a lot of other stuff that belonged in the building and not to them. They were arrested at Odessa and brought back.

The same paper went on to state that some forty of them were scattered over the south Plains, with seeming headquarters in Lubbock. Some have been located here, but are probably being closely watched by the law. To say the least, this class of citizens are no good to any community, and their co-called fortune telling is just a plain fraud.

Kenneth Moore Made Gunner Instructor

Kenneth Moore son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore, stationed at Williamsburg, Va., has been made gunner instructor after his basic training. His buddy Ed Williams, who left here with him from Gladiola, New Mexico, passed through here Tuesday and visited in the Moore home. He is being transferred to Rhode Islands.

Retail Milk Set At 13c Quart Here

According to announcements made last week, retail milk was set at 13c per quart here, slightly higher in Lubbock and some of the other larger towns, and slightly lower in other towns in this area. The wholesale price here was stated at 11½c. A very slender margin of profit with feed advancing. Also, the retailer gets just 1½c for keeping it in his frigidaire for perhaps a day or two.

Back during the climbing prices of the early twenties, this writer kept a cow. There were two grownups and two children to drink milk and eat butter. We had to buy all the feed at a very high price. Accounts for two months ran, one month $21.00, the other some over $19.00. We sold the cow for around $100 and found we could buy all the milk and butter we needed for half the figure, and with none of the trouble.

Since that time we have never kicked on the price of milk and butter, if it was good and fresh, and when feeds were high. Of course the farmers and dairymen of the section have part of their feed raised on the farm. But even at that they won't get very rich selling milk at 11½c per quart and butter at around 50c.

Local Girl Training For WAAC

FORT DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. Auxiltry Mary Elizabeth O'Brian of Brownfield, Texas, has begun training in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

She was assigned to a Receiving Center company for a week's elementary military training. Here she is issued clothing and equipment, instructed in rudiments of drill, and given Army classification tests. These tests will help determine the jobs she will fill in the WAAC.

For the following four weeks, she will be assigned to a basic company for more detailed training preparing her to replace a man in a non-combat Army job.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Bailey of Brownfield, Texas.

Cary Bakery In New Location

By the time this reaches the reader, the Cary Bakery that has been located on the south side of the square in the Dee Brownfield building will be in the former location of Super-Market on the Seagraves highway or in the southeast part of Brownfield. Mr. Cary has purchased this building.

He stated to a reporter this week that he would have a nice clean, airy building for his business with plenty natural as well as artificial lights. Then, too he will have almost unlimited space at his disposal.

So at the new location you can still get your Betty Anne bread, pies, cakes and cookies, and can drop by for some hot rolls. His products as usual will be found in your favorite grocery.

Postal Receipts Set New Record

For the past three weeks the Herald has tried to get a statement of postal receipts at the local post office for the past year, but with short help, and some rather inexperienced, Mrs. Marie Dallas, Acting Postmaster was unable to give us the exact figures. At last they were worked out and here they are:

Receipts from January 1, 1941 through January 1942, $29,034.26. Compared to $28,245.01 for the same period of 1940-41, showing a gain of $789.25.

Mrs. Dallas further stated that the last quarter of 1942 was the largest in history, being $9,316.30.

Mrs. M. B. Sawyer is in Dallas visiting her daughter Mrs. Raymond Barrier and son Oscar Sawyer.

In a sense The Herald can claim four employees in the service. True one of them, Ralph Bynum has been away several years with other papers, the last being the Abilene Reporter-News. But he learned the trade in the Herald office. The other three are Horace Beck and Red Curry in the army, and Blacky Bownds in army aviation.

Goodbye and good luck, A. E. (Eddie) Warren, of the Post, Texas, Dispatch, is the greeting from this exchange to you. Eddie has volunteered in the navy, and will be connected with the technical department of photography, a subject he has made a hobby. In the meantime, his editorial desk has been left in the hands of his very capable wife and she seems to be carrying on in a fine way.

A happy change was made at the recent inauguration of Gov. Coke Stevenson and Lieutenant-Governor John Lee Smith from the carousing berbeques and fiddle bands of the past few years. The ceremonies were the simplest that could be devised, with addresses by both men after being sworn in, to a joint session of both houses, and both really had something to say. There were no balls and other frills and furbelows to follow. Maybe a war is bringing people to their senses.

With the best chance in two decades of getting the Texas Senatorial and Representative districts redistricted, neither of our districts have a representative at Austin. Senator Formby is in the army, and recently made a second lieutenant. Representative

Halsey of Lubbock, is learning aviation somewhere. With some powerful men in south and east Texas supporting redistricting, with both governor and lieutenant governor west Texas, our chances of redistricting is good. Really a lot of those east and south Texas fellows are getting ashamed to any longer permit some representatives to represent 30,000 Texans, while out big district out here in west Texas, just to mention one, has more than 130,000 people. As this column has often stated, this is taxation without representation, the very thing the Revolutionary war was fought about.

It seems that some northern people who are either ignorant or prejudiced, and a certain columnist can be classed in the last category, persist in saying that the reason southerners volunteer so readily is that they can get more money and are better fed in the army than at home. As long as United States history has been written this same condition has existed. It existed in the south during anta-bellum days when the south was as rich as any other section. In our own memory, it existed during the Spanish-American war, when to our own knowledge Tennessee, where we then lived, filled its quota quickly and some of the youths we knew went to some of the northern states to volunteer. Some went as far as the Pacific coast. Was this slur just to try to hide the bare fact that the south and the southwest have had two and three times more volunteer per capita than the north and east? If so, they are just four-flushers and their opinion is not worth a rotten herring, and we don't believe the rank and file of northern people share such beliefs. Those who have visited the south know better. It has always been the idea of southern people that when they have a war, even if they didn't start it, to get it over as quick as possible with the loss of just a few men as possible.

The Judge Says:

Evidently, Rommel is a joke; that's why that English Army never could catch on to him.

Looks like Hitler better transfer Rommel to Russia, to show that bunch the way to go home.

When it comes to transportation, we are only in our A.B.C.'s.

It don't matter what Hitler tells his home folks, its the Russians that shortening his lines.

Texans, are easily climated in all our major war fronts. Those in Alaska, are used to ice and snow; those in Africa, are at home in a sandstorm, and those in them Pacific Island coconut groves, are not unacquainted with nuts.

We wonder if that famous goosestep isn't lately evolving into goose pimples.

The Senate should begin now to debate the Peace treaty then maybe it and the duration would end at same time if the war isn't too short. If they wait till the war is over to begin their debating, before they get thru, war No. 3 will be well on its way.

Well Roosevelt and Churchill have "dood" it again, and all so discreetly secret. Now watch the politics go to arguing, that FDR should have went over in a boat instead of by plane, should announced it on Sunday instead of Tuesday, should have met at Timbucto, instead of Cassablanca. Seems like they can't keep him out of the Whitehouse, even if he goes to some other country. Won't Congress' face be red! Well they can start another investigation if they can find enough member not now investigating something else. The old west taught us the expediency of doing things, and talking afterwards, and we can't get away from either.

While the newspapers who had advance knowledge of this meeting, can justly boast of how well they can keep a secret it shows, there isn't many woman editors.

THE COW THAT DIDN'T GET MILKED

She was a Holstein. There are many like her on our farms. But this cow was not on an American farm. She was grazing in a little pasture in Holland, native country of the Holstein, when hell broke loose. A new kind of horrible hell called a blitz. She went crazy. She ran until her tongue hung out. She wasn't milked that morning, or that night, or the next day, or the next. Her beautiful udder spoiled. But maybe it is just as well—Hitler and his men take all the milk. They take everything from enslaved Holland.

Remember this story as you milk your good herd. Keep on remembering it—and buy U. S. War Bonds—every dollar's worth that you possibly can. Buying Bonds will help with the war right now—and be one of the best investments you ever made. They never sell for less than you pay for them. They increase in value every year. If held for ten years, they return $4 for every $3 invested. And they can be cashed any time after sixty days if you need the money. ### Fires Destructive To Lives In Texas

AUSTIN, Jan. — Fires in Texas last year claimed the lives of at least 328 persons, reports Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner. In addition, Hall stated, there were 345 non-fatal injuries from fire reported by fire marshals of Texas cities and towns.

Among the types of fires causing a number of deaths, Hall listed the following:

Ninety-seven persons were trapped in burning buildings; gas-line fires resulted in death to 48; clothing ignited by open fires and open flame heaters killed 38; gas explosion fires caused the death of 27; twenty persons burned to death when trapped in cars and trucks involved in highway accidents; kerosene fires caused the death of 15, and two of the fires deaths are listed as suicides.

Eighty-nine deaths were recorded as resulting from 30 fires which claimed the lives of two or more persons.

The Fire Insurance Department records show the heaviest loss of life from fire was during January with 60 deaths. Deaths by months for the rest of the year were: February, 37; March, 31; April, 31; May, 28; June 17; July,

Second-Hand Bedding Must Be Sterilized Before Sold

Austin, Texas, Jan.—In an effort to prevent the spread of disease through bedding, 5,863 second-hand mattresses and other articles of bedding were sterilized during the month of November, 1942, according to a report issued this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox State Health Officer.

"Since it is estimated that the average individual spends one-third of his life in a sleeping or reclining position, each individual is certainly entitled to sanitation in any used article of bedding that he may purchase," Dr. Cox asserted.

He Was Just A Common Farmer

John Doe — average farmer—left early for town one morning. He was in a hurry, and broke the National 35-mile per hour speed limit, for he had plenty to do at the County Seat. He had to register for Selective Service, fill out an occupational questionnaire, get a certificate for a tire re-cap, apply for a card to sell his wheat, file for permission to buy a new potato digger, and secure a copy of his oldest boy's birth certificate so he could enlist in the Marines.

When he arrived at the Court House, he found all the office closed and every one out to lunch, due to War Saving Time. While waiting for the County Agent's Office to open, the State Highway Patrolman stopped and asked to see his driver's license and check his Federal stamp. Then the Chief of Police came along and asked him to move out of a 15-minute parking zone. In his rush, he had forgotten to get his wife's sugar ration certificates, and had to go back for them.

Unable to stand more, he hurried to a Drug Store and bought some aspirin, and if the F. B. I. hasn't caught up with him, he is half way home—and out of gas.—Texas Tax Journal.

FIRE DESTROYS COCHRAN COUNTY GIN

The Dykes and Son Gin, located in the community of Oasis, about 15 miles west of Morton, was ravaged by fire around noon Wednesday. The fire was believed to have started in the press room. Morton Firemen were called to the scene but arrived too late to save the gin plant, but succeeded in saving many bales of cotton on the ground. About 100 bales of seed cotton, several bales of baled cotton and a considerable loss of cotton seed were added to the loss of the gin plant. An estimate of the damage was said to be around $45,000—Morton Headlight.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

If you heard a threat growled in your ear as you stood at a bar and turned to find yourself facing your worst enemy with a knife in his hand, what would you do?

A friend of mine tells of an uncle of his, in frontier days, who found himself in this situation.

"I'm going to kill you," his foe said through clenched teeth. The man's face didn't change as he remarked, in a casual tone, "All right."

Then he added, "At least, give me the privilege of examining the knife that is going to kill me." And he coolly extended his hand, took the weapon from his amazed enemy — and then of course ran him out of the place.

At one time, I was probably the youngest traveling salesman in the world. At the age of 10, I sold portable adding machines. My father really was the agent but I went along. We would walk into a store — say in D'Hanis, Sabinal or Hondo — and he'd tell about the device, then I'd climb up on a high stool and demonstrate.

On one occasion, the merchant already owned a Burroughs — a big machine — but just to show, anyway, what our "vest pocket" contrivance would do, I sat at the counter and competed with the cashier. The storekeeper called off a long flock of numbers and, while the cashier punched keys and pulled a lever, I simply zipped little chains with a pencil-shaped stick and when "Total" was called, the amount was right there in front of me whereas my rival had to pull the handle three times to get the results.

We both had the same total and my dad's machine was only $10. We sold lots of them, too.

Everybody in the little Texas town knew and liked Big Mack.

He was a hard-working thrifty farmer who was close to 50 years old, a bachelor. And then he decided to get married so he joined a matrimonial bureau and got into correspondence with a widow who lived up North. At last, he proposed (sight unseen), was accepted and sent his bride-to-be her railroad fare.

Everybody in town knew about the mail order romance and when the train rolled in, the platform was crowded. Well nobody got off except one traveling man and the train was about to pull out when, out of the coach up near the baggage car, off stepped a negro woman, clutching a picture in her hand.

She caught sight of Big Mack, ran up to them, threw her arms around him and gave him a great big kiss.

He kissed her right back because, you see, Big Mack was colored, too!

An Appreciation of The Late Ame Flache

Born in Seguin, Texas, Feb. 25th, 1859 he departed this earthly life December 18th 1942.

Married to Miss Elizabeth Mitchell Dec. 24th 1902 at Moro, Taylor County, Texas.

Brother Flache is survived by his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Binie White of Vincent, Mrs. J. M. Hill of Denver, Colo., Mrs. R. B. Parrish and Mrs. J. B. Ford, of Brownfield, and two sons, Mitchell Flache of Brownfield and Lieut. Truett W. Flache, of Fort Sill, Okla., and nine grand children, as well as a great number of friends of many years in Terry County and elsewhere.

Leaving his birthplace as a young man he came west and worked on ranches in several counties, working for many years on Mr. Paramores ranch of whom he stated he owed his financial success in a large measure.

He did not become a Christian in early manhood but attended a meeting held in Vincent, by M. C. Bishop and was reported as the only convert in that meeting of one week, and as a result of this experience his life was changed to that of an humble fellower of Christ and a strong adherent to his church.

Brother Flache was charitable and tolerant of all Christian people but he was loyal to his own church and had been a member of the local church in Brownfield for 24 years and supported it with his presence and his purse and was asked to burn the notes given in part for the original basement in which the church worshipped for many years.

The present building was completed in 1940 for which brother Flache was the largest contributor and only a few days before he died he expressed his approval of the plan to greatly reduce the indebtedness against it, and when the corner stone of this present building was put in place he was asked to do it, at which time he said, "this is the happiest day of my life" as the need of a place in which the people could worship in comfort was laid heavily upon his heart.

Brother Flache was not given to religious demonstration, and lived a life without any ambition of leadership but was willing to be counted as one of the supporters of every good work and only on rare occasion when he was pressed to do so would he say a word in public for any cause which he warmly favored.

His funeral was held by his pastor in the church he loved and had helped to build. Dec. 18th, 1942 and he was laid away in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery which he had also helped to make possible.

Brother Flache set a fine example for all Christian men and others in their church life and as a citizen among his fellowmen as well. It was related to this writer, of brother Flache, that many years ago he had sold a piece of land receiving a substantial down payment, the purchaser leaving the country and paying nothing more on the land for a good many years and deciding that the purchaser leaving the country and paying nothing more on the land for a good many years and deciding that the purchaser did not intend to pay for the land he returned to him the money he had paid and took back the land, showing that he did not covet the possessions of others.

Brother Flache has left to his family and all of us the heritage of a christian life and will be greatly missed.—Contributed.

We note that Bill Stell, variety store man of Seminole, and formerly of this city is chairman of the rationing board of Gaines county.

Baptist Church News

Good congregations last Sunday altho the weather was not good and it is a fine sight to see the children on their way to learn about the Bible and those who fail to study it in the church almost always do not study it anywhere as it is not taught in the home as formerly. Many parents who are anxious to have their children in the public school all the week are careless about their learning about God on the Sabbath day and forget that education without moral training is sadly deficient as has been proven over and over in the lives of our greatest criminals as the prisons and reformatories are not occupied as a rule by those who have been in the church school as statistics reveal.

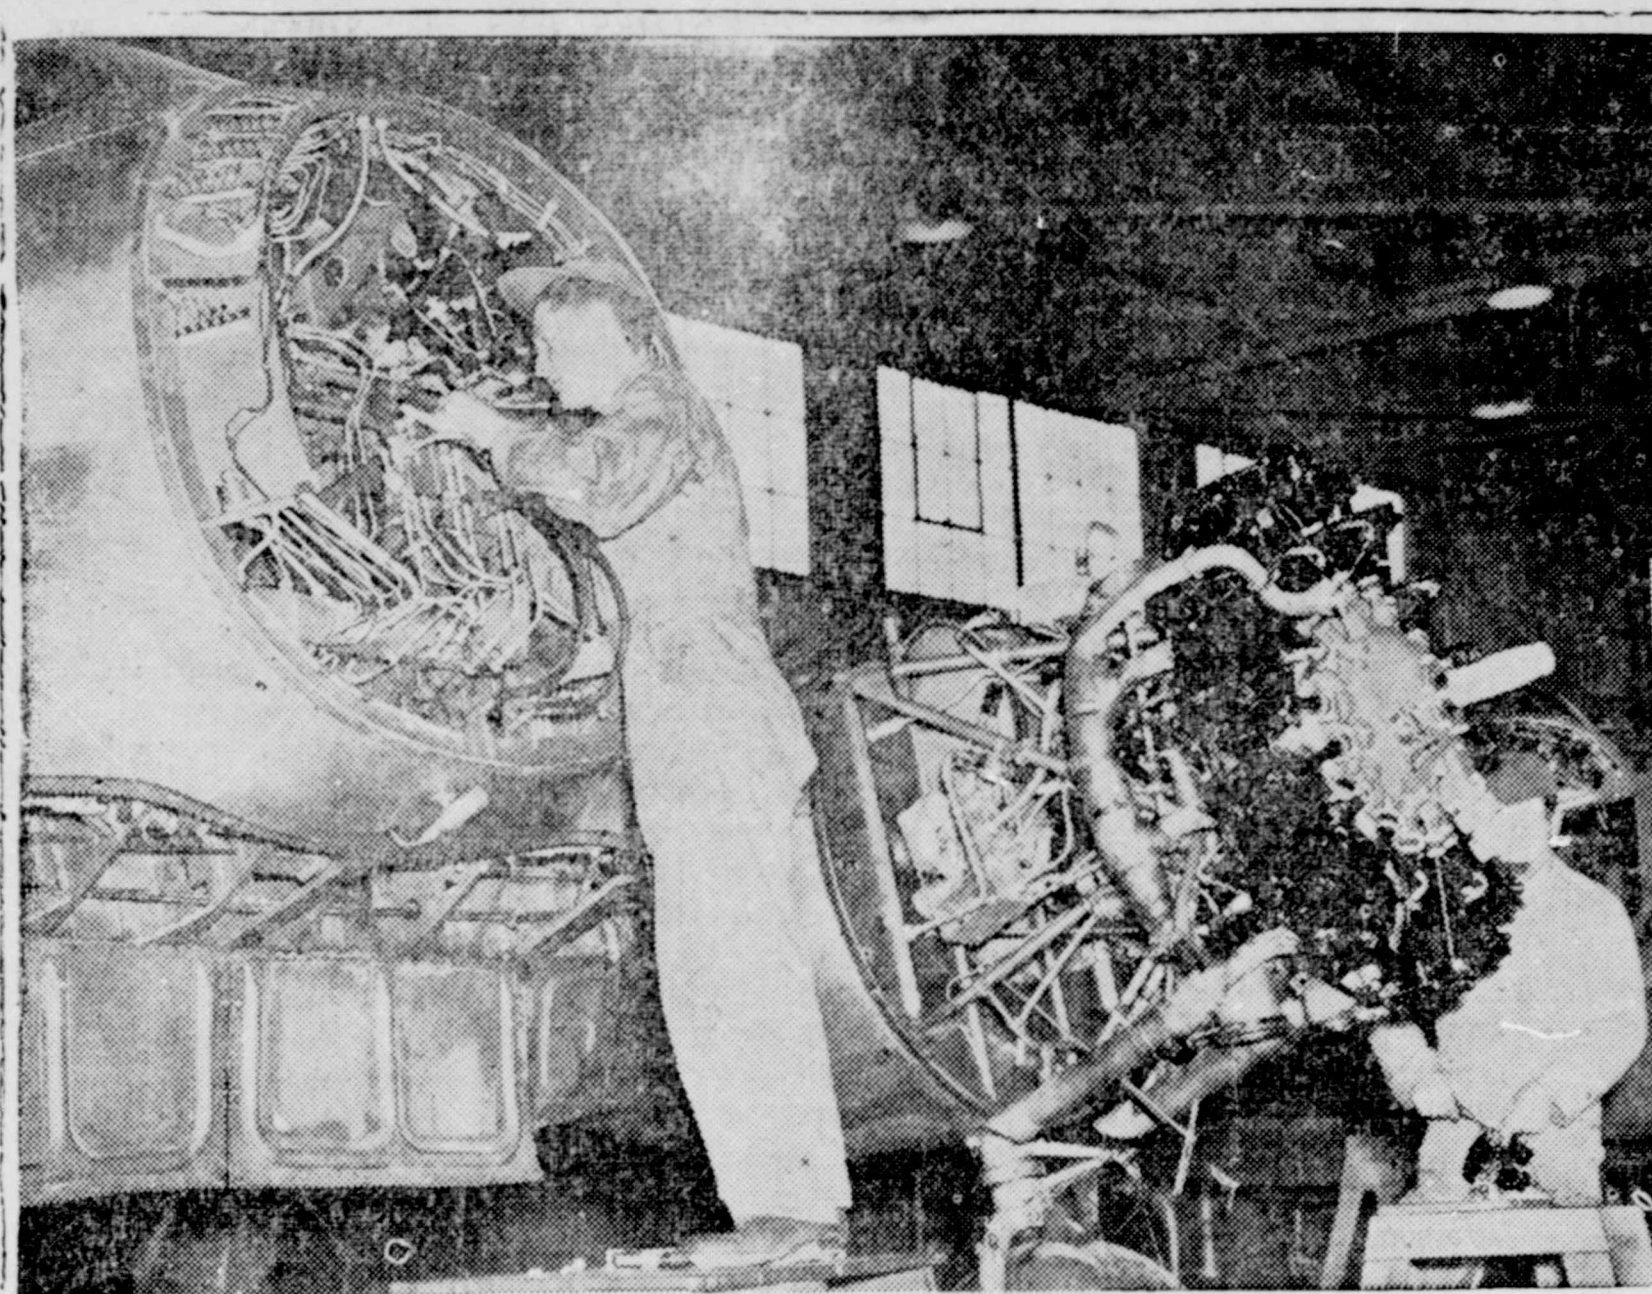

Baptist of all people must educate their folk to think for themselves.

Being the largest evangelical group of Christian in the world and having always opposed every form of state control of religion they have always directly opposed by Catholic and other groups who have sought to have the state control the religious thinking and education of the people.

Having been persecuted ourselves by these groups who were able to secure the protection and authority of the State we are persistent in our plea that all people should be free of coercion from the state as regards matter religious.

The multiplicity of religious cults of today can trace their ancestry to two great sources, the one to the church of Rome who claim the right to change any church ordinance they wish and the other source to the Baptist who claim the Word of God as the only authority in matters religious. We welcome you to our services and you will find here a people who are not antagonizing any group but teaching the word as it has been given to them.

COPELAND HARDWARE

Railroad Win Naval Victory

The prophets who a few years ago cried that the railroads were as out of date as the horse and buggy, are without honor at home or abroad. Our railroad probably saved this country from an invasion.

For example they moved soldiers and supplies to the critical danger points in a matter of hours following Pearl Harbor. Without firing a gun they became one of the greatest obstacles to the success of Hitler's submarine campaign on the Atlantic.

James F. Byrnes, Director of Economic Stabilization, is quoted in the newspapers of December 30, as saying: "The railroads have done a magnificent job. Before Pearl Harbor there were 5,000 barrels of oil delivered in Eastern Seaboard territory a work. Two weeks ago it was 761,000 barrels a day. . . . We have to look for relief from the immediate situation to the railroads and railroads tank cars."

By their ability to do this unprecedented job of moving oil overland the railroads snatched from the submarines one of their greatest prizes, thus winning what might be termed a major victory. It would be impossible to estimate what the efficient functioning of our railroads means to this country in the fight against our enemies.

HAMMER HEADED

Every time some old person is kicked out by the children after they have been deeded all the property, the picture of a Fulton, Indiana cemetery bobs up. Some years ago, an old man residing near that little village deeded all his farm property to his children, then was kicked out of house and home. With the small sum he happened to have left in the bank, he had a certain tombstone made with a man's head carved on the top with an arm and a hammer in the hand over the head. Next below, he had these words engraved: "If any man gives his property to his children before he is dead, take this hammer and hit him on the head." The old man's body is buried by the tombstone today. The kids blew in the farm and moved to Chicago before the old man died.—Clarendon Leader.

Last Sunday was a great day in every service. We have just completed the remodeling of our building which is now exactly twice as large as it was adding more room for our fast growing Sunday School and our new S. S. tistry. We raised enough money in the morning service to take care of every cent indebtedness against our church for which we praise the Lord.

We had 105 present on time for Sunday School and our new S. S. Supt. Bro. M. D. Baker who is doing a mighty fine job says he things we will shortly be reaching our "200 in Sunday School Goal". We are especially proud of so many new members and visitors in our services.

Our revival begins February 8, with Rev. George Crittenden, of Fort Worth, Texas, doing the preaching. We urge every member and our friends to pray for a mighty revival. Make your plans now to attend this meeting and bring the unsaved.

Explaining that it would have to be a church without a head, without a body, and without a life. This Sunday night Mr. Henry has chosen as his subject, "The Establishment of The Church".

Some teach it was started when John The Baptist began his ministry; others when Jesus called his twelve Disciples, and others at the death of Christ, while some teach it was on the Day of Pentecost. Are you confused about the date? If so, you are extended a cordial invitation to attend the service this Sunday night to learn the answer from the Bible.

Hair-splitting is no longer a joke with the new electron microscope, which makes visible a whole world that has previously been too small for scientists to study.

New WAAC Officer On Duty In District

Lieutenant Jessie Gardner, WAAC recruiting officer, arrived in Lubbock last Wednesday for recruiting duties with the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District. Lieutenant Gardner will work with Lieutenant Rose Smothers in securing enrollments for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Lieutenant Virginia F. Williams, who has been on duty within the District has been transferred to the Dallas Recruiting and Induction District.

Lieutenant Gardner received her commission on December 24th. She enrolled as an auxiliary and was selected for officer candidate training, graduating with the first class selected from the ranks. In civilian life she taught English in Shorter College in Rome, Georgia.

Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durrette, Commander of the West Texas District, stated that plans are being carried out in order that the first quarter's quota of WAACs will be met. Some counties in the District have met their quota for the entire period ending March 31st. Several counties are ahead on their first month's quota. However, many counties are far behind.

Lieutenant Colonel Durrette said that each county must fill its quota in order to supply the number of women needed for this quarter. He also pointed out that by enrolling its quota the West Texas District can release 584 soldiers for active combat duties.

Women interested in enrolling in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps should contact the nearest Army Recruiting Station or the Headquarters office in Lubbock.

"Behind The Scenes In American Bunsiness"

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—ALL-OUT: What total war means to Americans was made clear by President Roosevelt in his annual budget message to Congress. Whereas the budget for 1943 "was an instrument for transforming a peace economy into a war economy", that for the 1944 fiscal year beginning next July 1 will reflect "the maximum program for waging war." All told, the chief executive asked for $109,000,000,000, of which $100,000,000,000 would be for war expenditures alone—an outlay three times the current year's expenditures of Germany, five times those of Great Britain, and 14 times those of Japan. It is twice the expenditures asked a year ago by the President, four times actual expenditures for the fiscal year 1942, and 16 times defense expenditures for the fiscal year 1941. Half of the $100,000,000,000 is to be raised by taxes, necessitating an additional $16,000,000,000 in taxes which are quite likely to be placed on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. To critics who declare that sacrifices of Americans are not comparable to those of the British, it might be pointed out that the effort required to meet our own program fully measures up to that of any of our Allies. Under the 1943 budget, the per capita burden of the American effort is estimated at $897 against $440 for Britain.

MYTH-EXPLODING —American ingenuity has blasted the myth of German superiority in producing precision optical instruments. Sighting instruments, machined to tolerances as fine as 1/10,000 of an inch, are flowing from plants of Mergenthaler Linotype, Westinghouse Electric and Minneapolis-Honeywell Regular Company and the latter's production alone is said to exceed that of this country in World War I. An example of the ingenuity that made this possible is the system of humidity control devised by Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers.

One of the bottlenecks of optical manufacture has been the effect of humidity on glass which, on some days, halted production entirely. The engineers discovered that glass absorbs and exudes moisture — minute amounts of water come out of the glass and deposit particles of soluble salt when humidity is falling, making the glass sticky, and moisture stays within the glass when humidity rises. Using the know-how acquired in 58 years of devising temperature and industrial controls, they hit upon a plan for controlling humidity which makes production possible, regardless of weather for the first time in optical history. This system has been made available to all other companies manufacturing sighting equipment for the armed forces.

THINGS TO COME: A new strip cartoon magazine to be issued quarterly by Parents Magazine. It will present true stories of today's heroes and heroines... A civilian ration kit, pocket-size, with four tiny compartments for sugar, coffee, butter and an egg. A new odorless garden fertilizer, made mostly of garbage by Jean MacLean Chemical Co. . . A new non-wheat griddle-cake mix, high in protein value, a product soon to be marketed by Soy Food Mills under the trade name "Golden Soy."

iture Mart in Chicago in record number last week but manufacturers had little to offer. In fact, sales were rationed to keep down the volume of orders that would have set a new all-time high and some even displayed "Nothing for Sale" signs. One of the most stringently rationed items was upholstered furniture — with either wooden springs or none at all. Modernistic furniture, much of it demountable — enough for a four room apartment could be packed in a 6x6x6 case — predominated the market, accounting for 36 percent of the total. Because of an increase in the birth rate, Lullabye furniture reported it was 60 days behind on deliveries. A survey by the Walnut Manufacturers Association showed exhibits of dining room and bedroom furniture to be 47 percent below 1941 and 33 percent less than last year. The dearth of furniture was said to be partly due to the fact that 65 percent of the nation's furniture makers are selling to the government and others are trying to get war contracts.

TO THE RESCUE: Now that gas and rubber rationing are making stay-at-homes of millions of Americans, it isn't surprising that old-fashioned games — the kind that were popular in the Gay Nineties — are coming back. In fact, a survey of game popularity by Marshall Field and Company of Chicago turned up some interesting facts. Games like rook, parchesi, flinch and dominoes lead the field. All sorts of games for two are being played more and more while chess and checkers sets, popular with the armed forces, are in big demand. And children's games aren't old-fashioned. Today's kiddies are playing with toy soldiers and guns and tanks and other make-believe fighting equipment (fashioned from non-critical materials). War games which have captured the youngster's imaginations are "Commandoes" "Flight Patrol," "Flying Aces," and the like. So instead of playing cowboy and Indian and cutting out paper dolls, the kiddies are working out technical war maneuvers and pretending that they, like their big brothers, are in the fight, too.

BIT O' BUSINESS: It's the department store buyers who throw the parties now for manufacturing sellers, reversing an age-old custom. They're eager for anything they can find... Lockheed has put a new giant transport in the air capable of spanning an ocean with a light tank and its complement of troops. The huge plane is powered by four Wright 2,000-horsepower air-cooled radialmotors.

Lynn Nelson has been transferred from the Air Base at Lubbock to San Antonio, where he is studying instrument boards. Sim Schillinger says Lynn is not too busy to send "cute" post cards to his friends.

Died With Cotton Sack on Hih Back

Louis Warren, one of the pioneer negroes of Chickasha, died in a cotton field Tuesday afternoon with a cotton sack on his back. His passing was like he wished it to be. He liked to pick cotton and he thought it was the duty of all colored folks to get out and pick all the cotton they could. He said that it was the only way the old folks could help to win this war.

Louis was 77 years old. He worked for the Rock Island railroad for 27 years. He retired a few years ago on a pension and had been picking cotton every day possible.

Tuesday afternoon he and his wife were working southeast of the city. Warren had picked nearly a hundred pounds in the morning and said he was going to get 200 before the day was out. His wife and he were picking together. But there were some short rows to be picked and Warren said he would pick them as he liked to pick short rows. His wife picked on through the field. After an hour or so she went to look for her husband. He had fallen over his cotton but he had 60 pounds of cotton in his sack. He had done his day's work.—Chickasha (Okla.) Star.

4-H Boys Large Producers of Food

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. — Texas 4-H Club boys in 1942 produced and sold livestock and livestock products, and poultry and eggs valued at more than $1,000,000. The actual amount received for the beef calves, swine, sheep, goats, wool, mohair, poultry and eggs they marketed was $1,099,514.15.

A complete survey of the year's activities made by L. L. Johnson and J. W. Potts, of the A. and M. College Extension Service staff shows some outstanding achievements in demonstration work. Johnson is state boys' club agent and Potts the assistant agent. Beef calves sold numbered 4,552 with a total of weight of 3,459,808, and brought $494,186.23. Boys in Extension District 2, in the South Plains area, topped the regional production in numbers, poundage and revenue. They sold 813 calves weighing 675,797 for a total of $89,621.

Swine ranked second to beef calves both in weight and value. A total of 14,249 pigs, weighing 2,594,316 pounds went to market and sold for $334,203.58. Again District 2 led with 2,051 animals for which buyers paid $54,104.71. District 11, in the Gulf coast region, crowded the plains area by obtaining $52,976.52 for the 1,870 pigs its 4-H Club boys fed out and marketed.

In order of value, the boys sold $29,123.16 worth of poultry; 535,152 dozen of eggs for $150,935.33; 4,706 sheep for $50,361.02; 47,556 pounds of wool for $18,005.38; 271 dairy cattle for $19,604.49, and 4,074 pounds of mohair for $1,843.60.

Ration Information To Be Given

LUBBOCK, Jan. — Every effort within the power of the Lubbock Office of the Office of Price Administration will be made to give all available information on point rationing to county War Price and Rationing Boards, food stores and the general public prior to opening of the program, Howard R. Gholson, Lubbock District Manager, stated today in announcing plans for a series of meetings with county boards.

Workers from the district office now are touring the 70-county district to meet with individual boards and give them all information and instructions issued thus far.

A series of meetings with groups of boards will open Feb. 1. Mr. Gholson and other officials from the district office will meet with the boards to answer questions and present all available information. Schedule for the meet with the boards to answer questions and present all available information. Schedule for meetings with boards follow:

Lubbock Friday, Feb. 5, 10 a. m.—Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Scurry county boards.

"In this way," said Mr. Gholson, "boards will be prepared when the date for issuance of war ration book two and the effective date for the rationing order covering processed foods are announced."

The processed foods includes virtually all commercially processed vegetables and fruits — canned bottled and frozen vegetables, fruits, juices, dried fruits and all soups.

Information has been received in the Lubbock District Office of a statement issued by Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown as follows:

"Published reports state that the food administrator, Claude Wickard, has signed an order directing OPA to ration condensed and evaporated milk, Jellies, jams, preserves, fruits butters, pickles and relishes, processed fish, shell fish and food products containing meats.

"The impression given by this story is that immediate rationing of these items is contemplated. This is definitely not so. I have conferred with Mr. Wickard and he confirms this statement.

"These particular items were included in Mr. Wickard's order at the request of OPA merely as an authorization to OPA to collect information with respect to the stocks of these items carried by food distributors.

"Rationing these items will not be undertaken until specifically authorized by the food administrators."

Many canned baby foods are to be rationed under the same point system to be used for rationing other processed fruits and vegetables. These will include strained or chopped foods made of fruits vegetables or meat and put up in sealed cans or glass jars. Most of them are commonly sold in 4 1/2 and 6 1/2 ounce containers.

On the other hand, certain baby foods, including canned milk, canned milk formulas and canned, prepared cereals are not be rationed.

"Including these foods in the rationing program," according to a statement from Washington by Harold B. Rowe, director of the foods rationing division of the OPA, "is not necessarily an indication that supplies are short. Rationing them is rather designed to safeguard supplies for the purpose for which they were intended, as food for infants and small children. If baby foods were not rationed they might be bought extensively as substitute for rationed canned foods, such buying would cut sharply into a available supplies and would soon dislocate normal marketing.

In addition to meetings with boards which the district office is conducting, plans underway for furnishing information to retailers in the food industry and for speeches on point rationing to organizations and public gatherings throughout the district. County Board Chairman have been furnished with information for speeches which might be delivered by board officials or other local speakers. Preliminary plans are underway for a tour of the district by representatives from the district office who will explain to retailers the operation of the point rationing system.

Rationing is to be preceded by a short freeze so that retailers may stock their shelves and make ready. During the freeze every man, woman and child is to be issued war ration book two. Blue stamps in the book are to be used in the processed foods program for rationing of canned, bottled

Old Bald Shell Undergoing Repairs

Lumber was put on the ground this week and carpenters will soon start on the repair of the band shell, which has really become an eyesore as it was.

Judge Lincoln stated that the Commissioner's Court discussed the repair or removal of the old shell, but decided as it would not cost a great deal to repair it and give it a coat or two of paint.

and frozen fruits vegetables and juices, dried fruits and soups. It has been indicated that red stamps will be used later for meats.

War ration book two contains four pages of blue stamps and four pages of red stamps. Each page contains 24 stamps lettered and numbered. The letter of the alphabet indicates when they may be used. The numbers which are 8, 5, 2 and 1, indicate the point value of each stamp.

SO EASY TO USE SO IMPORTANT TO SAVE

We realize Natural Gas is so easy to use that it is sometimes wasted unintentionally.

In the territory we serve the demand for this fine fuel has greatly increased, due to one phase or another of the war effort.

In normal times, we could obtain materials needed to increase the capacity of our facilities so that we could meet all demands. Today, that is impossible. That's why we are asking you to help by reducing your use of natural gas to the minimum on very cold days.

Here's How You Can Help

1. Shut off parts of the house not in use.
2. Do not keep your rooms too warm. Train yourselves to become accustomed to lower temperature.
3. Refrain from using the range oven for room heating.
4. Keep your heating equipment in top-notch condition.
5. Install insulation, storm sash, weather stripping, and caulking if possible.
6. Use a low blue flame for cooking, cook vegetables in as small an amount of water as possible, cook more one dish meals, and keep burners clean.

The Shrinking Oil Flow

In a significant year-end statement concerning the oil industry, William R. Boyd, Jr. sounds a grave warning. If anyone knows what's what in this business it is the popular Texan Bill Boyd, chairman of the Petroleum Industry war council and president of the American Petroleum Institute. During 1942 the oil industry "carried the mail", Despite transportation bottlenecks, shortage of material and man-power and other extraordinary disturbances, it met the government's huge war demands so that "not one ship or plane or tank has failed to move on schedule for lack of petroleum products." But as for 1943, Mr. Boyd warns crude production will be required to fill Uncle Sam's orders. "To meet even the rationed demand," he asserts, "would require a raise of more than 400,000 barrels a day by the end of the year, compared with the same period of 1942."

In his statement Mr. Boyd points out that while crude oil slightly less than the 1941 all-time record of 1,404,000,000 barrels, the 20,000 well completions during the past year were only 60 per cent of the 1941 total. And stocks of crude at the end of the year reached the lowest point in 20 years.

While specifically earmarked price increases have offset some of the cost increases due to transportation changes, Mr. Boyd warns that the refining branch of the industry particularly is incurring unique war costs "that must be recognized soon by the government. The burden of manufacturing more lower-priced and less higher-priced products in a frozen economy is attacking the solvency of many of the smaller units of the industry, and actually is threatening their ability to produce."

"New oil reserves are needed at once, and studies are being made now to determine what incentives ought to be granted to encourage discoveries."

Numerous competent authorities have urged that the thing most needed to stimulate wildcatting and thereby new field discoveries is a price increase sufficient to make wildcatting worth

Stockpiles like this are needed all over the country so that our Government can plan our armament program—and our mills and plants can deliver the fighting tools!

This is a continuous drive

Get the unused metal out of your cellar, your attic, your garage, your place of business. Without this scrap the Nation's steel mills must shut down, for all new steel is 50% scrap, and the mills have not enough for many weeks.

And one more thing. Help to stop the story—spread by innocents and ill-wishers alike—that there is lots of scrap already on hand. They point to junk yards, auto graveyards, and salvage depots that have not been cleaned out, as proof that there is no shortage. Kill this talk before it kills our boys!

In spite of the terrible lack of scrap, here is why you may still find full junk yards and scrap depots—and why they must be kept that way!

1. All scrap must be sorted, stripped, and broken up by scrap dealers before it can be used. Their yards are full because they are busy—preparing your scrap for the mills as fast as they possibly can!
2. Auto graveyards strip autos, keep the usable parts and junk the rest—turning out 450,000 tons of scrap in a typical month. Each must scrap within 60 days as many cars as he buys—that is the law!
3. Scrap collections sometimes have to stay around because the dealers can't handle them all immediately. Even if they could, the mills could not store it all. The local salvage depot is a stockpile—where your scrap is available for instant use as soon as it's needed. And it will be needed!

Remember if these places become empty, the mills shut down—and we lose the war!

So get out your scrap and help your neighbors with theirs. It's the greatest single contribution you can make right now to win the war!

the hazard. Petroleum Coordinator Ickes has concurred in that contention, but Price Administrator Leon Henderson opposed it. Now Henderson is out, and Sumner T. Pike, an experienced oil producer with a sympathetic attitude toward the industry, has been appointed to grapple with the oil price problem. A House interstate commerce sub-committee, reporting on its two-year investigation of the petroleum industry, Friday declared that the present ceiling price on oil is below the cost of production and said that refiners "will find it difficult to survive economically" unless given relief. The sub-committee urged higher ceiling prices as an incentive for discovering new reserves.

Mr. Boyd's statement adds a potent new argument to the case for a substantial price increase, and with Henderson, Pike and sub-committee developments there is reason for new hope for early action in that direction.—Houston Post.
