Terry Boys Training At Ft. Leonard Wood

Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.—Three men from Brownfield, Texas, who recently entered military service, have arrived at the Engineer Replacement Training Center here for an intensive training program in preparation for combat engineering duty.

Training will include basic subjects like close and extended order drill, manual of arms, rifle marksmanship and combat principles as well as the functions of military engineering, use of tools and equipment, building of fixed and floating bridges, demolitions and construction of roads and obstacles. Soldiers go from here to tactical units or to special training or officer candidate schools.

New arrivals are: Pvs. Sam K. Raney, Route 3; Vernon Farrar; Florentino Rodriguez.

Pfc. Byron Sandage Seriously Wounded

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sandage of the Union community have a communication from the War Department under date of February 27th, stating that their son was seriously wounded on the North African front.

The date given as the wounding of Pfc. Byron W. Sandage was January 31st. The family have heard nothing further from the war department. Let us hope that by now Byron is convalescing.

Mr. Sandage gave the Herald this information, Tuesday, and while he is taking the matter on the chin like a Spartan, one can see that he is deeply hurt.

But, says he, we must expect such things while our boys are freeing the world of rattle-snakes.

Later—Mr. Sandage came in Wednesday stating he just received a letter from Byron saying he was getting along fine.

Studying Aviation Mechanics At Amarillo

Ovie L. Holleman, son of: H. L. Holleman, Route 3, Brownfield, Texas, has begun an extensive course of study in aviation mechanics at this Army Air Field, one of the newest schools in the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

He will spend several months at this great mechanics' school, and upon graduation will be sent to one of Uncle Sam's air bases, there to do his part in keeping America's "Flying Fortresses" harassing the Axis.

In addition to mechanical training, his course here will include army discipline and courtesy, military drill and physical exercise to put him in the peak of condition.

Finishes Course At Amarillo Air Base

Amarillo Army Air Field, Amarillo, Texas. J. B. Kempson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Kempson of Rt. 5, Brownfield, Texas, has completed his course of studies as an aviation mechanic in this Army Air Forces Technical Training School.

His graduation from this technical school now fits him for airplane maintenance and he will be sent to some air base where he will assist in keeping America's Flying Fortresses in the air for Allied victory.

In addition to completion of the schedule of academic and practical studies as an aviation mechanic, he has been thoroughly drilled in military tactics and defense and a course of physical training that has conditioned him to meet all requirements of an American soldier.

Sailor Jim Cousineau Works For Uncle Sam

There is not much we can tell the people here about Jim Cousineau, son of Mrs. W. L. Cousineau that they don't already know. Jim is up around 30 now and in view of the fact that he started to school in Brownfield when in the 7th grade, is evidence enough that he is considered an old timer here in this new county.

While we know that Jim had rather peace would settle down over the land, and permit him to come home to mother and sister, we also know that he would not think of such a thing as long as there is a job to be completed up in Alaska, Africa, Asia, Europe or elsewhere.

After finishing high school, Jim took two years of college work at Tech. When attending high school Jim was seldom seen gadding about on the streets. He generally had a job even while in high school. Among his first job was with the Bailey Grocery after school hours and Saturday. He also held a job with the compress for some time.

His longest job since finishing 2 years at college was with the city, being with them for eight years as meter reader and clerical work, as well as sometimes an emergency lineman. Everywhere he worked came the same report, a good, faithful and honest employee.

Jim left Brownfield May 12, 1943, and was given the navy oath, June 15, 1942, Norfolk, Va. He has been quartered in Alaska since last November.

Terry Couple Have Four Boys In Service

Here is another Terry county couple that have four boys in the service of their country. They and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pharr, and the following are their four boys:

Cpl. Vernon D. Pharr, of the 84th Flying Squadron, Lubbock, Texas.

John Robert Pharr, Navy Reserve, Norfolk, Va.

Odus W. Pharr, Petty Officer in the U. S. Navy Air Corps San Diego, Calif.

Travis E. Pharr, left yesterday for training. Don't know where he will be stationed.

Buel Price, Hospital Attendant first class, at the Naval base at Farragut, Idaho, came in Sunday night on a fifteen days furlough.

Buell, 6 feet two, is a very handsome lad in his uniform. It is believed we have around one hundred-twenty-seven boys in the Navy.

Mesdames J. H. Morris, S. F. Pride and Mrs. Roy Bean of Plain, where here Wednesday, shopping. Mrs. Morris has four sons in the service, at Bryan, Lubbock, Ft. Lewis, Wash. and Africa. She had a cable from the son in Africa this week, saying he was ok, went through the last big battle without a scratch.

Pvt. Walter Teer from Lubbock Army Flying School, visited his wife over the weekend.

Lt. Murphy May of Long Beach, California, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom May.

W.A.A.C.'s Speaker To Be Here Wed.

Lt. Jessie Gardner will speak in the District Court room, Wednesday, March 10th at ten o'clock, in the interest of the Womens Army Auxiliary Corp.

Each service club of the county and all interested citizens are urged to attend and especially fathers and mothers.

March has been proclaimed by Gov. Coke R. Stephenson as W.A.A.C. recruiting month, and our quota is set at 9. Women and girls of the ages from 21 to 44 are eligible for enlistment. Mrs. Hazel Holt has been named as chairman for Terry county.

Texas has an enviable record of furnishing volunteers for all of the uniformed forces of the United States, and we should not be less diligent in the task of supplying womanpower for the W.A.A.C.'s.

Kenneth Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw, of Wellman, is home on a thirty days leave from Gauaiacanal to recover from injuries received at the front line of battle. The story of young Bradshaw was in The Herald last week.

Hackney To Try For Commission

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, ARMY FLYING SCHOOL, March 3 — Burton G. Hackney, former practicing lawyer at Brownfield and Terry County Attorney, has left this school for Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Florida, for Air Forces Administrative Officers.

He has also been promoted to Sergeant at LAFS, where he was working in the Trial Judge Advocates Office. He is married and his wife resides at Brownfield.

Mrs. Bob Whitney and children went to Amarillo Sunday to see a nephew of Mr. Whitney's who is quite ill.

Public Welfare Office Moved

The local office of the State department of Public Welfare has been moved from the court house to the old Legion hall building. The offices are in the west end of the building formerly occupied by the commodity store.

The office will be open each first Monday for application interviews and by appointment other days during the month. Miss Kanna Stephens, is field worker in charge.

State Bank May Raise Capital Stock

The reader perhaps note a legal notice in this issue of the Herald, relative to a called meeting of the stockholders for early April to vote on raising the capital stock.

We have been informed from other sources that by raising the capital stock, banks have a large loan privilege, and may at the same time extend large loans to firms or individuals.

With the rapid expansion of the demands of this area, banks must also grow to meet the requirements placed upon them.

Purchase Of Bonds To Buy Food Ruled Out

LUBBOCK, March 1.—Enforced purchase of war bonds in order to obtain any commodity defeats the purpose of effecting an equitable distribution of available goods between rich and poor alike and is a violation of government OPA officials.

"Although merchants undoubtedly are prompted by patriotic motives when they require a customer to purchase a war bond in order to obtain some commodity, the practice might deprive the poor man of some of the necessities of life simply because he cannot buy bonds," they said.

Carried to an extreme, the practice would permit stores to sell scarce goods only to those wealthy enough to buy the required amount of bonds.

Both the OPA and the Treasury Department are seeking to halt the practice. From the OPA viewpoint, "combination" transactions of the type are prohibited in the nylon hosiery regulation and in the General Maximum Price Regulation. The Treasury Department, in a letter to OPA, "Strongly disapproved" the practice as "one of questionable propriety, although undoubtedly pursued with the best of motives" and deems it advisable to divorce the war savings program not only from the motive of private or personal profit, but even from the appearance of any connection therewith.

Our George Gets Beauocrats Told

Of course he did it in very diplomatic language; he used no words that means "fight" in Texas, but our George Mahon, typical west Texan, who has not had the frankness of the West Texas took out of him by the white wash polish of the east, got the beauocrats told on the floor of congress recently. Congress Mahon of the 19th is a gentleman, rather soft spoken, but can on occasion get rather "sourcastic," and on this occasion, it appeared to George like the old song, "Somebody Lied." It lay between the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and the Rubber section round Mr. Jeffers.

Both seem to have been passing the buck about the use of grain sorghums in the manufacture of synthetic rubber. Both professed to know nothing of each others orders. But with a few sharp raps on the knuckles, each began to have a faint remembrance of statements they had made.

That was a masterful address our George made, but we have an idea those bureauocrats will continue to experiment, hedge, hem and haw and finally make rubber out of whatever best pleases them.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Perry and daughter, La Verne, visited Mrs. Martin Warren and family in Rotan, Texas, over the weekend. Mrs. Warren is the daughter of Mrs. Perry.

Drive For Guard Recruits Get Good Results

A drive for recruits staged by the local company of the Texas Defense Guard resulted in the addition of between twenty and thirty new men to that organization. There is still sufficient facilities to drill a much larger number and any person in or near the draft age or older has a hearty invitation to be present at the Legion Hall Tuesday evening at 8:30.

Guests of the Guard last Tuesday were Major Jackson and staff of Lubbock. Major Jackson is commanding officer of the 39th Battalion. There is still some question as to whether Company D will be transferred to this Battalion or remain in the 34th.

The Guard is now assisting in the training of the Victory Corps being organized in the high schools. Drill periods are on Wednesday and Friday of each week.

Trying To Prevent Slaughter Of Dairy Cattle

To help halt the slaughter of good milk cows and potential dairy producing animals the Farm Security Administration announces the inauguration of a new program in Texas, designed to maintain essential dairy production levels if the state.

Details of the plan, called the Dairy Animal Conservation Program, were received here by Terry and Yoakum County supervisor in the FSA, from Jesse B. Gilmer, regional Director at Amarillo, Texas.

The plan provides that Mr. Dennis Lilly, has authority to purchase milk cows, heifers and heifer calves from farmers who contemplate liquidating their herds or surplus parts of their herds. These animals will be resold to farmers who have the facilities to keep them in essential production.

"This new war-time function," said Mr. Lilly, "provides for the government purchase of dairy animals from farmers, who because of inadequate supplies of feed, labor or other facilities, have been sending their animals to slaughter. The government is not competing with commercial buyers but is trying to keep dairy animals on local farms by reselling them to farmers in the vicinity who do not have the facilities to care for them."

The supervisor explained that in the event local dairyman or farmers can not take on the additional animals, they will be sold to individuals in other parts of the state. He said only healthy dairy cows or potential producing animals will be saved from slaughter.

Dairymen or farmers in this area who may be compelled to market surplus animals or those individuals who wish to purchase surplus animals are asked to contact the FSA supervisor at his office in the Post Office building at Brownfield.

W.T.C.C. Sponsoring Big Cotton Acreage

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has taken to the airwaves with this message, to be off-repeated, beamed to cotton farmers of the area: "For victory in war and peace, let's plant more cotton."

Wednesday, on ten radio stations over West Texas, the regional chamber inaugurated a series of 16 twice-a-week broadcasts seeking to prove its all-out claim that a serious shortage is developing supplies of cotton ranking next to steel in war production needs. The only way to meet the shortage, contends the WTCC, is to produce a larger than average crop, mainly from increased planting.

The chamber is urging West Texas cotton farmers, both as a contribution to the war effort and as a piece of good business for themselves, to utilize to the fullest the 1943 acreage allotments handed down by the Department of Agriculture, and plant every legal allowable acre. Scheduled are two broadcasts a week, the second logged for next Sunday afternoon. Thereafter the program will be on the air every Wednesday morning and Sunday afternoon.

All phases of the industry will be looked at by WTCC commentators. Among the subjects handled will be West Texas production facilities; costs of production here and elsewhere; relative percentages of quota underplanting; cotton's influence on West Texas life along with its contribution to war and the post-war world; and its accelerated new uses. Shown also will be the need of cotton products as clothing and shelter for the Armed Forces, for munitions making and as necessary food for humans and high protein feed for animals.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davidson announce the birth of a baby girl. Mrs. Davidson is in Lubbock General Hospital.

School Express Thanks To Citizens

To the citizens and children of Brownfield, we wish to publicly express great appreciation for the splendid interest in the welfare of schools and for your excellent cooperation in making possible the landscaping of the Jessie G. Randal Primary school grounds. We have been assured by the committees that in a few days the collecting will be finished and the funds will be in the treasury to pay cash for the beautiful piece of work now in progress.

Such a project as this makes one appreciate the fine citizenship of our community. Enough could not be said in praise of those mothers who have sacrificed their time to serve on the various committees. This piece of work shall stand as a monument to the great interest you have in the education and welfare of all children. These things are the essence of Democracy.

Were it possible we would like to give the name of each person who had given so generously of time and money. The following merit special recognition:

- Lions Club,
 - Junior Chamber of Commerce,
 - Jessie G. Randal P. T. A.
 - Junior Maids and Matrons,
 - Girl Scouts,
 - Garden Club,

- Mr. King has been very generous in giving 650 feet of elm hedge beside making reductions in the prices on the plants in the regular landscaping. Fifty-eight school children have contributed $1.00 each for a special tree which will bear the child's name.
- Again all praise and congratulations to the civic-minded people of a very fine city. We wish to serve you in all possible ways.

Days Set To Sign Production Sheet

By Looie Miller

The farmers of Terry County are signing their names to production plan sheets in all communities in the county. The committeemen report that about two thirds of the farmers have come in and signed their production plan sheets at the place and time designated. The committeemen have agreed to work another day or two next week in assisting farmers in filling out these plan sheets. Because of the bad weather the first part of the week many farmers were unable to meet their committeemen. The Pleasant Valley committeemen will be in the AAA office Monday and Tuesday of next week; Challis committeemen on Wednesday; Needmore and Poole on Thursday; Johnson on Monday; Union and Scuddy at the Union Gin the 15th and 16th.

Commenting upon the campaign, Mr. Pearce Warren, Chairman of the USDA War Board, appeals to all farmers to plan for maximum production despite shortages which already exist and which might hinder production later in the year. He also urged all farmers to meet their committeemen and sign their farm plan sheets at the designated place and time as it is very important that these farm plan sheets be signed.

"If the farmers will plan and plant for maximum production I firmly believe that steps will be taken to get the crops harvested," B. F. Vance, chairman of the state USDA War board said in encouraging full speed ahead for Texas farmers.

He added that food is too important to the war program for any of it to be wasted and for that reason "we can be reasonably sure it will be harvested, regardless of the difficulties."

F.F.A. Boys Helping War Effort

The F.F.A. boys of the Brownfield Chapter are helping the war effort in ways other than producing large quantities of beef, pork, and field crops.

Last year and this year so far, the boys have purchased more than $500.00 worth of War Bonds and Stamps, and are buying them all along.

Several of the boys are planning to grow Victory gardens to supply their families with fresh vegetables, which will probably be hard to get in the future.

Mr. Neely, the vocational agriculture instructor, is teaching the boys how to cull hens, what to feed for best results, the kind of surroundings to make healthy chicken, and best kinds of shelter. Many of the boys are planning to get pullets for egg production and cockerels for fryers, and too, the boys are learning the diseases of livestock and poultry. Cause, symptoms, and treatment, and the proper care of livestock to make better stock in the future. Most of the boys have either registered or purebred stock.

The farm shop, which is operated by Mr. Neely in the Industrial Arts room, has enabled the boys to repair farm machinery which otherwise would have to cast aside; and the equipment with which the work is done is particularly new and certainly does a good job.

These boys are learning to contour land so as to hold the moisture and stop wind erosion. Contouring keeps the farm in good shape, builds up the land, and retains the fertility.

We are working for a 100% contribution to the Red Cross, and I expect we shall get it.

This report enables the reader to get a glimpse of what these young men are doing for their country, and should inspire everyone to do a little more in whatever work he has chosen to bring a quicker Victory to the Democracies.

Hunt For Tokio And Gets Horse Laughs

Some time last fall a citizen of Tokio visited his son-in-law, working for a lumber company at Antlers, Okla., relates an article recently appearing in some of the dailies. Being told there was quite a lot of work here picking cotton and gathering feed and corn, the Antlers man decided later to go to Tokio. But he forgot there were several "Browns" in Texas. He was just told that it was near Brownfield, Texas.

But the man bought a ticket to Sherman, Texas, and then was sold one to Brownsville, which is 615 miles from Sherman. If the man had just known, he was then only 368 miles from Brownfield, really the place he wanted to go. Having reached the city at the southernmost tip of Texas, and on the gulf, he began to make inquiries about Tokio, and was laughed at for his troubles. Even the police seemed to be non-plussed, but finally suggested that maybe it was near Brownwood, Texas. When he reached that city, still some 300 miles short of his destination, he was again the butt of jokes when Tokio was mentioned.

Worse still, he had traveled some 1100 miles and his funds were about gone. Again, he appealed to the sheriff's office. Luckily it so happened that a liquor board agent was in the office at the time, a Mr. J. C. Royal, who had been working in this section before being transferred to the Brownwood district. Mr. Royal told the man just where Tokio was located, as he had been through there numbers of times.

But the weary traveler's funds, as stated above had almost vanished with much travel and expense. But Mr. Royal advanced him $5, which the small amount he still left would carry him to Brownfield and Tokio, and buy

Americans Like The Truth

Labor today is the most powerful single group in the nation. It can make or break the war effort. Labor leaders, by demanding their pound of flesh during the emergency, can bring disastrous inflation which would wipe out a half century of labor gains, together with the savings and standards of living of every man, woman and child in the country.

Is it any wonder that Captain Eddie Rickenbacker has asked labor to make sacrifices along with the rest of us, forego extravagant overtime demands. Help to protect the working right of men returning from war, cease disruptive jurisdictional strife and make-work tactics; are these things too much to ask of labor at a time when the country is fighting for its very life? They most certainly are not.

The public agrees heart and soul with every word that Rickenbacker has uttered. Those who attempt to discredit him as a labor hater, will hurt labor, because the words he has spoken were born when he was very near to death. Men near death think and speak the truth. And Americans like to hear the truth, no matter how unpleasant.

Self-Medication Rather Risky

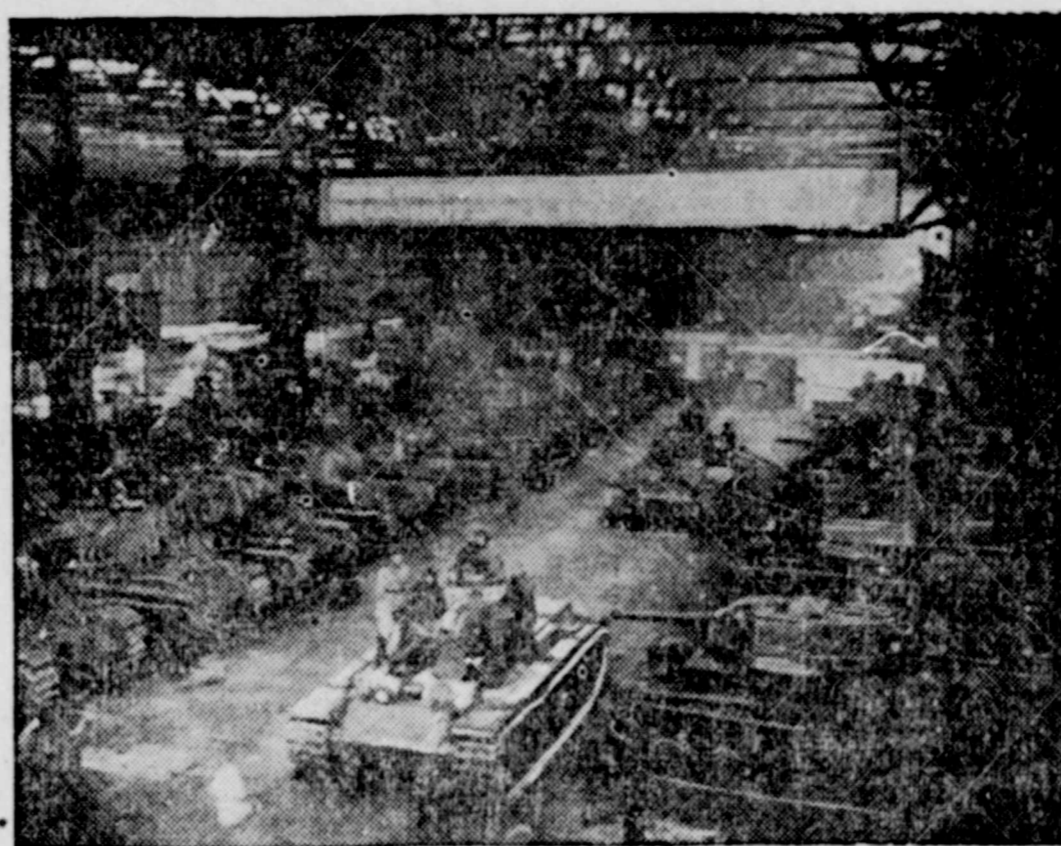

Austin, Texas — The careless or uninformed use of medicines cause much serious illness and even many deaths in Texas every year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in a statement urging the public to use caution in self-medication.

"It is never safe to take medicine in the dark," Dr. Cox said. "Always read the label carefully to make sure the aspirin you expect to take is not a bichloride of mercury tablet. As a matter of fact, poisons and medicines containing poison should be kept together, well out of the reach of children and marked in some distinctive manner. Another thing to remember," Dr. Cox said, "is that medicines should always be taken exactly as directed by a physician because many beneficial medicines can do untold harm if taken too frequently or in too large quantities. It is well to stop and think that you may be taking your own life in your hands when you take medicines casually."

The State Health Officer also warned of the danger in the inclination of many persons untrained to diagnose and treat their own illness. Such persons are likely to guess wrong, he asserted, and while they may not take medicine that is actually harmful, they are nevertheless postponing an accurate diagnosis and the resulting proper treatment that could help their illness.

"The safest rule is never to use medicine, internally or externally that has not been prescribed by your doctor and for that, particular illness with which you are suffering," Dr. Cox concluded.

"WHEN THE WAR IS OVER"

When the war is over, and the fighting is all done, The peace that follows, shall determine if we've won.

Let there be no selfish blunders, as have been before, Make this a lasting peace, for all, and ever more.

Let the future so be planned, that we may something gain, Don't let our boys who gave their lives, do so in vain.

"Live and let live", should be the motto, for every one, 'Til then, as far as "VICTORY", we have not won.

There's no doubt we'll win the war, regardless of the cost, But, unless we win the peace, we have only lost.

We have within our power, to set the world at ease, So, let's do a good job, it's up to you and me.

Let there be freedom, and let it forever remain, For every living soul, upon this earth again.

SOMEWHERE IN CALIFORNIA

Somewhere in California where the sun is like a curse And each long day followed by another slightly worse And 'sit around dreaming of a fair, greener land. Where we all look upon this land of wasteful sand.

Somewhere in California where a woman's never seen, Where the sky is never cloudy and the grass is never green, Where the coyotes nightly howling, rob a man of blessed sleep, Where there isn't whiskey and the beer is never cheap.

Somewhere in California where the nights are made for love, Where the moon is like a searchlight and the southern cross above, Sparkless like a diamond in a balmy tropic sky, Its a shameless waste of beauty, when there's not a girl in sight.

Somewhere in California where the mail is always late, And a Christmas card in April is considered up to date, where we never had a payday and never have a cent, But we never miss the money, cause we'd never get it spent.

Somewhere in California where the ants and lizards play, And a hundred other rattlers replace the ones you slay. Say No Joke To Do Business Now Anent the discussions of regimentation in these columns of late, a groceryman of many years experience, called recently to discuss the matter with the Herald. This man stated that fifteen years ago, merchants had plenty rope, and could use their own judgement about certain phases of the business.

But, as the new deal came in power, they were more and more restricted as to what they could and couldn't do. And what with figuring prices and points, social security tax, victory tax and numerous other headaches that the lay groceryman knows absolutely nothing about, the worry and trouble is hardly worth the effort, he stated.

To use just one illustration of what a man in business can innocently get up against, he related a thing that happened several years ago where he then lived. Most of us now have forgotten that "processing" tax that was finally held unconstitutional. Anyway, this man had an Oklahoma mill ship him a car of flour. While in transit the tax was declared unconstitutional, and the milling company deducted this tax from the invoice. The merchant in turn deducted the approximately 35c per 48 pounds from the price he sold the flour to customers.

Years went by and in the meantime, he moved to Brownfield. One "happy day" he got a notice from the government to pay this tax with penalty and interest added. Well, it had been so long that he felt sure that he could not find one or more of his old customers that would swear that they bought flour from him out of that certain car, less the processing tax.

Therefore it meant a suit, with the cards stacked against him. He paid off. What would you have done? This just illustrates one point of the trouble business men are up against at present.

Well if it isn't one thing its another. Tuesday we were navigating around pretty well, but Wednesday finds us writing in the hospital with an infected foot.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has proclaimed all this month as women Army Auxiliary month, and all help possible will be given to recruiting personnels.

Some one noted last week that we just about had all the front page devoted to the boys in the service, the Red Cross and Texas Defense Guard.

Old Texas had a birthday Tuesday, being now 107 years, and still a youngster at heart.

Most of us remember a lot of that old "kulturl" hokey we heard back 15 and 20 years ago.

Recently we counted 136 inches of advertising in a simple four page syndicated paper, with the four pages printed at home.

Wellman Victory Concert Successful

The Wellman Victory Concert netted a total of $1,698.50, on Thursday night of last week.

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

As I see it, the purchase of War Stamps and Bonds is necessary and not discretionary.

If we do not buy bonds, and lose the war, the Nazis, Fascists and Japs will come over and take all our money. If we win the war, we will have our money, our country and our institutions.

I disregard entirely the fine interest and good investment features of War Stamp and Bonds. Our safety, our country, our future peace constitute an interest of such magnitude that it cannot be expressed in dollars.

All Americans—businessmen, employees, employers, wage earners—should buy to the very limit. Overtime, bonuses, extra profits should all be put in War Stamps and War Bonds. It is not only patriotic. It is necessary.

J. Sam Lewis Died At Gallup, N. M.

J. Sam Lewis, formerly on the staff of the Avalanche-Journal at Lubbock for several years, but more recently editor of the Daily Independent at Gallup, N. M., died early last Friday at a Gallup hospital, after a brief illness.

Many people of this section will remember Mr. Lewis, as he made many banquets for the Lubbock publications, as well as farm demonstrations, livestock shows, etc. Mr. Lewis especially shined as a farm news writer.

The body was shipped back to Lubbock, where funeral services and burial took place Monday of this week. He leaves a wife and a son, John Sam Jr., as well as a host of friends to mourn his passing.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

At Matamoras (across the river of course from Brownville) you can dine—or could years back—in a setting that was truly glamorous, out in the open with an unbelievably big moon made of new silver so low that it was barely above the tops of the twin palm trees and a marimba band played soft melodies.

At a nearby table, a Mexican aviator was talking in English to two Americans. He was describing a flight at night over swamps: "I could see lights glimmering in the waters. No, it was not the reflection of the stars; it was the moonlight hitting the eyes of the alligators!"

There has been considerable talk from Austin in criticism of the "short work week" over the nation.

Well, the shortest work week that I know anything about is right down in Austin under the dome of the Capitol.

Just sit down and take a stub pencil and the back of an old envelope and figure it out for yourself. State department employes come to work at 8 and get off at 5, with an hour for lunch. That figures out eight hours a day. But they've given 15 minutes in the morning and another 15 minutes in the afternoon for coffee, so that cuts down the time on the job to seven hours and a half.

But we're not through figuring yet. That seven and a half hours a day is for Monday through Friday. On Saturday they get off at noon and, of course, don't have to come back till Monday morning.

Assuming that a department works what time he is actually at his desk—and that's a pretty violent assumption in some instances—then he works 41 1/2 hours a week.

But wait! We haven't allowed for two weeks' paid vacation, sick leave and all the numerous holidays that State departments take off. Figure all this in and, Mr. Taxpayer, you will do well to get 36 hours of service per week from hundreds of your State department employes.

If our State bureaus would suspend most of the holidays for the duration and if they would work on Saturday afternoons and give the public the same type of service that the public gets from private business and private industry, then those departments could get along with one-fourth less employes than they now have.

The average business man, in these days of war taxes and labor shortage and stress and strain, is working from 60 to 70 hours a week. The farmer always have worked 72 hours a week on the average and they're working harder than ever now.

You can now make butter from grass. All you need is a cow and a churn.

A STRAIGHTFORWARD STATEMENT

Joseph Stalin has made the following statement: "We have not and cannot have any such war aims as the seizure of foreign territories or the subjugation of foreign peoples—whether it be the peoples and territories of Europe or the peoples and territories of Asia, including Iran. Our first aim is to liberate our territories and peoples from the German fascist yoke. We have not nor can we have such war aims as the imposition of our will and our regime on the Slavic and other enslaved peoples of Europe who are waiting for our help these peoples in their struggle for liberation from Hitler's tyranny, and then to accord them the possibility of arranging their lives on their own land as they think fit, with absolute freedom. There must be no interference whatsoever in the internal affairs of other nations."

CRUX OF THE FOOD PROBLEM

The president of the leading farm organization touched the crux of the food problem when he said: "There has been failure on the food front. That failure can be traced to the failure of administrative agencies . . . Empty store shelves, empty meat counters, disruption of production and distribution, are the inevitable result. Now these same people express great concern over food shortages. They have not yet worked out with far morganizations a sound program based on the knowledge of farmers and their organizations."

Subsidies and laws will not create food. Only the farmers can do that, and they need manpower, machinery and stability of government policies which will encourage production instead of keeping it in a constant state of confusion.—Industrial News Review.

Feeding The Dairy Herd

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. — A well - balanced feeding program for a dairy herd should comprise about one-third hay or silage, one-third pasture and one-third concentrates. This is the suggestion of G. C. Gibson, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

A Jersey cow weighing about 1,000 pounds will eat about 20 pounds of dry matter in roughages daily. If this is obtained from tender green grass containing 85 per cent of water, the cow would have to eat 134 pounds of grass. If gotten from silage she would have to eat 60 pounds daily. The sum of this is that one pound of hay is equivalent to three pounds of silage, and about six pounds of green grass based on the dry matter contained.

Hay should be fed the year round, Gibson advises, even when cows are on good pasture. In that case they will not eat much hay, but the moment the pasture begins to fail they start eating more, if the hay is before them. Experiments show that production of milk was maintained more evenly where cows had access to hay at all times.

Good green grass is the best and cheapest feed for a dairy cow. But, Gibson points out, the catch in that is that a high producing cow cannot hold enough grass to entirely meet her requirements. Accordingly, it is necessary to feed some dry roughage and concentrate feeds additionally.

Since a pound of digestible nutrients from roughages is as valuable as a corresponding amount of concentrates, and usually much cheaper, as much as possible of the feed requirements should be sought from roughage requirement than on any other part of the herd feeding program, Gibson says. Pasture management designed to control brush and weeds to permit grass to grow, plus one ton of hay and three tons of silage per cow will correct this. If silage isn't available, provide two tons of hay.

More About Regimenting The People

Dear Editor: Should it ever come to pass that our freedom of education and freedom of religion should be denied us by our own government, we would have little reason for fighting Hitler. One would have to be infused with something worse than communism to like that—in fact, Nazism. As for telling the housewife exactly what to fix each day for dinner, I can see no indications of that.

If one must be infused with a bit of communism, as you seem to imply, before he likes for our sugar supply to be divided up equally regardless of the wealth of the person or his station in life, I must say I am a bit infused with it. If one must be infused with a bit of communism to like for the available coffee to be distributed equally without respect for person, I must be a bit infused with it for that. If one must be infused with communism in order to like for our food to be conserved, distributed fairly, and sent to our soldiers and allies, I still like that anyway.

If one must be infused with a bit of Communism in order to appreciate production control to keep prices of farm products from falling too near or actually below the cost of production, I still appreciate the fact that farm prices have increased. If one does not favor conservation of our soils, by soil conserving or soil building practices, can one contend that he has much compassion for posterity. In another hundred years there really would be "wide open spaces" here.

If one must be infused with a bit of communism in order to appreciate price control, having to pay only a price and a half instead of two or three prices, I am afraid I am again a bit infused with it as for as that goes. Should inflation come on unrestrained and prices double, what would mean your earnings and savings would worth only half as much. It may, even more effectively than a thief in the night, take away half or more of every one's earnings and savings. The value of war bonds, insurance policies, Social Security Savings, savings for old age and "rainy days", could be cut in half, or reduced to an even smaller portion of their original value.

As for industrialists making too much money I am emphatically against that too, but as I understand it, last year's income levies taxed the higher incomes at the rate of 82 per cent. Even if they did make a lot, what they have left should be more nearly in proportion to their responsibilities in the war effort. Their prospects for a large income next year are not even that bright with the "$25,000 net income after taxes limitation" facing them. I appreciate that, as it seems to me it will prevent large fortunes from being made in this war. The Victory Tax with its post war refunds should be a very slight "headache" in comparison to 80 per cent and 90 per cent income taxes. The Victory Tax is probably the least painful and least expensive one that could have been adopted for the purpose. Everyone should pay some, but the richer people should pay enough that we can be sure that they do not realize undue financial gain out of the war.

Mr. Editor, I am in hearty agreement with your statements relative to "isolationist blocks" before this war and after the other war. It should be a pity we came through this one without establishing a successful peace plan. I would not pretend to interpret public opinion as accurately as a "Gallup Poll", but it is my opinion that the general citizenship was responsible, too, for unpreparedness. The extreme ideal of democracy is for all citizens to be leaders and to inform themselves and think out our social problems. Some of us were trying to do some thinking while others thought the subject too dismal and went on in their pursuit of pleasure. There were talks in various civic organizations, in periodicals, about war, against armaments, about problems of maintaining peace, and even pacifist movements. It is my opinion that the general public (at that time) was so pacifist minded, isolationist minded, disarmament minded, pleasure minded, it would have been difficult for leaders even in a position to act, to have done much.

It at the end of this war the Santa Fe Reports on its first year of war operation

During 1942, Santa Fe moved 79 per cent more passenger-miles...and 122 per cent more freight ton-miles...than in 1918, during World War I.

And all this was done with 26 per cent fewer locomotives than we had in 1918.

These figures indicate the greatest volume of business we have ever handled.

They also indicate why you may have experienced some difficulties and inconveniences in traveling or shipping by train during the past year.

Crowded Trains Our passenger traffic volume was up 102 per cent last year as compared with 1941. Gasoline rationing, in our territory, will increase that volume even more this year.

The Santa Fe must handle this additional load with its present passenger cars, as no more cars will be built during the war.

Late Trains In these days of unprecedented passenger volume it is not always possible to maintain schedules with on-time regularity . . . and since military trains have the right-of-way over everything else, they often cause our regular passenger trains to be delayed.

At many stations along the line, mail and express are heavier than in normal times—and take longer to load. This is another reason why trains are delayed.

Car Shortage Special troop trains are becoming almost routine on the Santa Fe. In just one case, we moved an entire division from one camp—and it took 55 complete trains to handle the men and equipment.

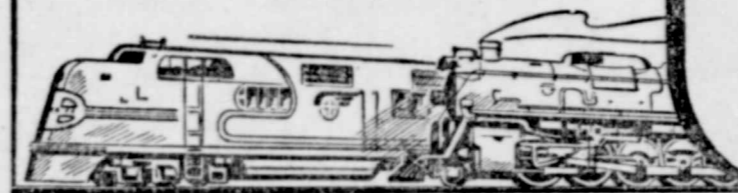

We must also keep our passenger cars in constant service to handle the increased traffic all over the line. For this reason, we cannot always concentrate extra cars at any one point.

Freight Cars Due to the submarine menace and the diversion of freighters to other services, almost all of the intercoastal freight tonnage formerly handled by ships through the Panama Canal was hauled by the railroads in 1942.

This brought about an unusually heavy demand for Santa Fe freight cars . . . increased considerably the average length of haul . . . and occasionally caused delays in delivering empty cars at some loading points. It also indicates Santa Fe has many busy months ahead.

Keep 'Em Rollin'! Please remember there's only one thing we want to do more than keep trains on time and supply cars as promised—and that's keep troops and war freight on airwarrior schedule. And we know that's the way you want it!

general public is not informed of feasible peace plans leaders may be prevented again from establishing a lasting peace and all of this will have been in vain.

Respectfully yours, Hardy E. Williams.

Dear Mr. Williams:

Despite all you've said, we still don't like regimentation, whether it be the Communist, Nazi or Fascist brand. We don't mind rationing for the duration, and will have to take our regimentation, too, but there is going to be a radical change even in Texas, after this affair is over. A man will not be elected to office in Texas, just because he says he is a Democrat.

We agree with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker who recently stated, "this nation has spent billions of dollars to destroy self-reliance, initiative, imagination and individuality, trying to plan the lives of 130,000,000 by a superior few."—The Editor.

Brownfield Gets Maximum Insurance Credit

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—A good fire record credit of 25 per cent will apply to fire insurance premiums on policies written in Brownfield for 12 - months beginning March 1, it was announced today by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner. This will result in a direct saving on fire insurance as 25 per cent of the normal premium will be deducted on policies written after the effective date.

The 25 per cent credit will result in an estimated saving of $13,840 on fire insurance costs for Brownfield policy holders during the next year. The estimate is based on fire insurance premium payments in 1942. A 25 per cent credit has been in effect for the past year.

The fire record for a city or town is determined by a fixed ratio between losses and premiums figured on a five-year average. The maximum good fire record credit is 25 per cent. The maxiheavy losses is 15 per cent.

Hall explained that the fire record credit is not to be confused with the key rate for a city or town. The key rate, he pointed out, is determined among other things, by the type and quality of fire fighting equipment and water facilities, as well as the adoption of fire prevention measures.

"Texas is the only state," the Commissioner added, which has a system for directly rewarding communities for the prevention of fires. When fire losses are kept low during the five-year period, the credits earned mean a direct saving to the individual citizen. Continued low fire losses throughout the state will result in lower premium rates, thus making fire prevention a profitable practice.

"Because fires have been prevented during recent years, thus reducing losses in many classes of insurance risks, the result has been a decrease in rates. A notable example is in dwelling risks. Reductions in insurance rates since 1936 approximate an annual saving of ten million dollars to Texas policyholders."

A Few ??'s to Ask the Printing Peddler

When the Peddler selling stationery and printing supplies solicits your business, there are a few questions which he should be willing to answer to your satisfaction.

Among them being:

- Does he pay taxes in this community?
- Does he donate space in his newspaper to the local community enterprises?
- Does he pay wages to a force of employees located in this City or County?
- Does his paper devote its entire space toward the betterment and upbuilding of this community?
- Does he grant you every favor that you would ordinarily ask of a local newspaper?
- Does the quality of his merchandise stand inspection—is it on quality paper stock and the printed matter attractively arranged?
- Will he submit proof of your work before finishing and mailing it to you C. O. D.?
- Does his price include postage and insurance charges?
- Can he supply your order on short notice?

If he can answer all the questions in the affirmative, he is entitled to your business.

Farm Bureau Backs Bill To Help Solve Manpower Shortage

WACO, Texas, Feb.—Enactment of a bill by Congressman Pace of Georgia to include labor costs in parity prices of farm products would aid materially in alleviating the agricultural manpower shortage because it would enable farmers to compete with industry for labor, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas farm Bureau Federation, declared this week in announcing support of the Farm Bureau for the measure.

"The volume of food and fiber produced for the war effort in 1943 will depend entirely upon the supply of manpower available which means farmers will have to meet industrial wage scales. Present farm prices will not per-

Points Announced For Dried Beans and Soups

LUBBOCK, March 5— Holders of war ration book two will surrender 8 points for each pound of dried beans, peas and lentils and 16 points for each pound of dried and dehydrated soups and soup mixtures.

The Lubbock district OPA office has notified county war price and rationing boards in the district of the point value of those commodities, which were added to the rationing program which went into effect March 1.

Army Of 4,500,000 To Canvass For '43 Red Cross War Fund

WASHINGTON — Preliminary reports to national headquarters of the American Red Cross indicate 4,500,000 men and women will participate in the house-to-house canvass in the 1943 War Fund campaign to raise $125,000,000.

Spurred by a need greater than in the days of the First World War, the nation's widest mobilization for mercy will get under way last Monday and will continue through March.

Some of the vast legion of War Fund workers are the 2,250,000 women regularly on duty as Red Cross volunteers. And there are the public-spirited men and women who are assuming task for the duration of the campaign conducted by the nearly 10,000 Red Cross chapters and branches that cover every community in the land.

Armed with knowledge of Red Cross operations in all theaters of war and in this country, in accordance with the mandate of the society's Congressional charter "to furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war," these workers will be able to impart the rapidly growing need of support from the home front.

National chairman of the 1943 War Fund is Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose work in this capacity lengthens a notable array of public services he has undertaken at the call of Presidents Wilson and Hoover and, now, President Roosevelt, who is president ex-officio of the American Red Cross. Concerning "Red Cross Month," Mr. Gifford says:

"Only through the support of millions of our citizens can we be assured that all vital obligations of the Red Cross will be accomplished. The Red Cross belongs to our nation; its support comes from voluntary contributions. We can be with our men on the battle fronts only in spirit but we can be represented by the presence of Red Cross personnel who are with our fighting men everywhere and by the work carried on in servicemen's behalf here at home.

"The American Red Cross has the biggest job and the biggest opportunity it ever had and I am supremely confident the challenge will be met. The little lapel tag bearing its emblem which will be given contributors to the War Fund will be a badge of honor worn by many millions of us in the coming weeks."

Confidence in the success of the War Fund campaign is expressed by Norman H. Davis, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee with governs all its operations, in these words:

"The obligations of the American Red Cross are always heavy. In a world at War, the grimmest one of history, these obligations are almost overwhelming. The American people, the Red Cross, fulfill their obligations.

"These obligations of the Red Cross are imposed by the Congress of the United States. Out of decades of experience, the Red Cross can cope with them effectively and efficiently to the extent support and cooperation are given by the people.

A Statement From Senator Formby

Senator Marshall Formby of this district has been named to the important Finance Committee, and 13 other Committees in the State Senate. He holds one chairmanship and one Vice Chairmanship.

Formby, who is stationed in Louisiana with the Army Engineers, is attending as much of the Session this year as is possible. He has been in the Army since last May.

He said he did not believe there would be a new State tax imposed upon the people this Session. He predicted that legislation would be passed this Session to give some increase to the aged persons of the State who are receiving old age assistance.

"Although I will not be able to be at Austin much of the time this Session", he said, "I want the people of our Senatorial District to contact my office in Austin at any time I can be of assistance. My office is open all the time in Austin and any legislation needed for the district will be taken care of by my friends in the Senate, if I am not in Austin at that particular time. Winning the War is the most important thing before the people now and it seems to me we should keep State taxes and State expenditures down at this time as much as possible."

Formby was County Judge of Dickens County before entering the Senate in 1941. He owns a farm at McAdoo where he was reared and also is publisher of The Plainview Tribune.

Thirty-four days were spent on the open sea in a rubber boat by three U. S. Navy men, Harold F. Dixon, Gene Aldrich, and Anthony Pastula. After enduring torturous days under the blazing sun, and freezing nights, these American heroes were finally rescued. In effect, they were kept afloat by a WAR BOND. We need lots of these rubber boats, so buy as many War Bonds as you can. You've done your bit; now do your best!

Burdensome Bureaus

It has never been my good fortune to meet Bruce MacNamee who, until middle December, headed the United States Travel Bureau. I do not know his home state nor the nature of his boyhood environment. My entire knowledge of the man comes from a ten-line Associated Press dispatch, but I admire him, and here's why: As far as I know he is the only Washington bureaucrat who ever managed to abolish his bureau because he hated to be useless. There is a place in the halls of Harding College for his bust.

The cost of Mr. MacNamee's office could not have been a big item; not much compared with the 100 billion dollars to be spent on war in 1943. But even if there were only two men in the bureau, individually they deserve credit for quitting a useless job and freeing themselves to do something toward winning the war and saving the country.

Why Do We Care?
Do you wonder why the head of a little college in Arkansas, an agricultural state, is so interested in getting unnecessary bureaucrats off the public payroll? There are two good reasons, and both of them vitally concern you, no matter who you are. I will discuss them one at a time. First, every reader of this column is bearing part of the bureaucratic burden.

Many a man has not realized this because his part of the cost has been hidden from him deliberately. Back in 1935 and 1939, before the United States started making war expenditures, men earning $500 a year or less thought they didn't pay any taxes. The truth is however that the average such citizen was paying taxes at a rate of 21.6 per cent. Right now the federal government collects several billion dollars a year by taxing goods, adding the tax to the selling price, and the buyer knows nothing about it. These are called excise taxes.

New Income Taxes
Government expenses have increased, more taxes have become necessary and everybody, including people earning less than $500 a year, are footing the bill. Under the new 1942 federal income tax law there will be approximately 19 million new names added to the paying list. These will pay $73 apiece on the average, to raise $1,420,000,000. And of course income taxes will be in addition to the old hidden taxes. And now for a little simple arithmetic.

Each bureaucrat costs Uncle Sam an average of $2,400 a year, including office space, heat, light and supervision. That's as much money as 33 of these average new income tax payers will provide at $73 each. Get rid of one useless bureaucrat and save all the income tax money collected from 33 new taxpayers. It ought to be worth trying.

Who Are Useless?
In previous articles in this column I have offered some protest against the so-called re-negotiation law under which three gigantic new bureaus are being created. I have explained that about 90 per cent of the work of these bureaus can be done by the already-established Bureau of Internal Revenue with little if any added cost. But one of these new bureaus added 3,000 men last year and has just gotten started. At least that's the way it looks.

These 3,000 new bureaucrats already cost the government as much revenue as it can raise this year from 99,000 of the new $73 income tax-payers. The three bureaus might easily have 100,000 employees before the year is over and they would absorb all the new revenue raised from 3,300,000 average payers of $73 income tax. All this is in addition to the large hidden taxes they are paying already.

Farmers Need Men
Down here in Arkansas we need men. The same is true in every farming community. Every man counts because a man means a crop, planted and tended and harvested. A one-man crop will provide food for a good many people. To some extent every crop means more to eat and lower food prices. It is a safeguard against inflation, but a useless bureaucrat is just the reverse. He does not help with the war, but consumes what some soldier ought to be getting and boosts inflation every day he does nothing.

Of course, no clerical bureaucrat would be worth much on a farm if he were put there, but surely there are useful jobs he could hold. Already rumors are afloat about positions in essential war work with no men to fill them. Such of these jobs as can not be filled by women, some day, will of necessity take men from agriculture. In a labor shortage, it ought to go without saying that every unnecessary bureaucrat costs the country one farm-hand.

Trying to Conserve
Congressman Wesley E. Disney made a suggestion which would have gone a long way to prevent employing thousands of men unnecessarily in the three war-related, re-negotiation bureaus. He offered an amendment which proposed re-checking only those contracts which earned 2 per cent or more after taxes. Its purpose was to save 95 per cent of the auditing and make available, for battle or for productive work, 19 out of every 20 men engaged in re-negotiation.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

As I have had the privilege of seeing and talking to our boys in the combat zones in the old world and throughout the Pacific, I am convinced that if our people on the home front knew what these boys are going through in the hell-holes of the world for us, they would not worry about taxes and war bonds.

The least we can do is to accept the privilege of paying taxes and buying more and more war bonds to finance and win this war in the shortest possible time, thereby saving the lives of thousands upon thousands of the cream of our young manhood and additional billions of dollars for the cost of it.

Red Cross Will Be Needed When Europe Is Invaded

It has now become official that in all probability Europe will be invaded by the United Nations in 1943. And with it will come the greatest challenge to the Red Cross in history.

War plans for this year, according to James F. Byrnes, director of Economic Stabilization, "contemplate, within a measurable period of time, the invasion of Europe, one of the greatest military campaigns which, no matter how successfully and brilliantly executed, will involve casualties such as this nation has never before endured."

In these ominous words our people are giving full warning that THIS YEAR millions of young Americans and men of the United Nations will need every assistance we on the home front can give. They will be shedding their blood and giving their lives on the battlefronts so that we may continue to enjoy the rights of a free people.

The Red Cross, which is chartered by Congress to "... furnish volunteer aid to sick and wounded of armies in time of war ... to act in matters of relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their Army and Navy," must and will meet this challenge.

Goal of the 1943 Red Cross War Fund appeal, opening March 1, is $125,000,000, truly a large sum. But we invite every American to re-read the above quotations from Director Byrnes.

Walters Takes Dollar A Year Job

Honorable Frank Scofield, Administrator, Texas War Savings Staff, has announced the appointment of Albert L. Walters, Dallas, as Associate Administrator at $1.00 per annum.

Walters, who for the past six years has been Texas Manager of Braun and Company, Public Relations Consultants, has been a member of the War Saving Committee and chairman of the Retail Committee since before Pearl Harbor. Under his direction retail committees have been established in one hundred sixty-five points in Texas including all centers of 2,500 population and more. He is now actively engaged in the prosecution of the 1943 program through which greatly increased sales of War Savings Bonds and Stamps through retail outlets are expected.

In announcing his official appointment, Scofield said: "I am indeed pleased to have the able assistance of Albert Walters in the supervision and direction of the Texas retail sales department. Walters has worked faithfully at this job since August, 1941, and his official appointment came in recognition of the fine work he is doing. On January 29, Walters was cited by the Honorable Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, 'For distinguished services rendered in behalf of the War Savings Program.' He was given comparable recognition by the Treasury Department for similar work in behalf of the sale of Liberty bonds during World War I."

Says Give The Pencil Pusher A Rifle

San Diego, Calif., February 26th.—Well, how goes it, Jack? We are fine, or as much as can be expected. Haven't seen any of the Brownfield service men in a long time. Guess they are all overseas.

Just read your and Mr. Williams confab on "Putting the Blame Where it Belongs," and thought you told it very nicely. I believe if a lot of the people who have pencil pushing jobs, that are fixing some of our rationing laws, had a rifle, instead, it would be better for defense workers, service men and business men.

But this is all a new thing. Give Uncle Sam time and I believe he will furnish rifles to some of those parasite that have such "essential jobs", and let more of our farmers produce "eats." No kidding, Jack; wish you was here and buy a bill of groceries. Believe me, it is some experience.

But you just stay in there and keep pitching, and we'll keep

First Lady Selects Cotton

Make Your Own Fireless Cooker

With another World War in progress, the fireless cooker is coming into its own again.

Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service, says reports are reaching her about increased home-construction of this inexpensive, safe, and efficient device. In Denton County, for example, Mrs. Edna W. Trigg, county home demonstration agent emerita, has been despatched with requests for help in making fireless cookers. She is an "old hand at the job," she says, for she helped with the construction of hundreds of cookers as one of the pioneer county Extension agents during the first World War.

Fireless cooker is simply a well-insulated box which keeps the heat in and the cold air out, Miss Phipps explains. It is best suited to the preparation of dishes that need long slow cooking ... such as baked beans, soups, stews. Or it can be used for cooking the less tender cuts of meat and cereals.

With the aid of the cooker, busy homemakers can put certain types of dishes in the cooker, go about her farm work during the day, and in the evening find the main part of her meal ready to eat, the specialist continues. Canteen workers can use fireless cookers to keep food warm when it is cooked in one place and served in another.

Directions on constructing and using a fireless cooker can be obtained from any county home demonstration agent.

Notice To Horse An Cow Owners In City Limits

In a recent survey by the Five County Health Unit that there is about thirty-five of forty horse and cow lots in the city selected for the survey. Many of these lots are new. This increase, over recent years, is due to the fact that our people want to be sure that their children have all the milk and butter they need.

From the health standpoint this can be very dangerous to the whole community, because it furnishes more breeding places for flies. It has been shown that each female fly lays about 120 eggs at one time and a generation is produced every ten days at the summer temperature. There may be, therefore, twelve generations in a summer. Allowing 2880 flies to the ounce, it has been estimated that the total product of a single fly in forty days would equal 140 pounds, provided only one-half of them survived.

It is very important to suppress flies at every opportunity because of the large number of diseases which are transmitted by flies. These diseases include anthrax, glanders, typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera, erysipelas, and skin infections. It is interesting to note that for the first eight weeks of 1943 the incidence of dysentery has been greater than for the same period of any recent year. Dysentery is one of the most important diseases and has been the leading cause of death among infants.

Due to the shortage of doctors and nurses it is necessary, more than ever before, to destroy the breeding places of flies.

The best method of fly suppression is cleanliness. Manure should

RATIONING Americans Can Take It With A Smile!

DEAR CUSTOMERS:

WE ALL KNOW WHY RATIONING IS NECESSARY

The American farmers have done a magnificent job of producing food, but we are still short of fighting foods. We must feed our fighters and fighting Allies. Our fighters must go into battle well-fed and strong. Food must be set aside for future offensives and as an invasion weapon ready to go with our troops.

WE WILL GET ENOUGH TO EAT

You will have no trouble in feeding your family enough nutritious food, but it will take a little more care in planning meals, in shopping and in cooking. A few simple rules to assure complete satisfaction:

1. Budget points carefully by shopping at Piggly Wiggly where you will always find a complete variety of all rationed items available.
2. Use foods that are not rationed—in our produce department you will find the answer. Start your shopping here.
3. Don't waste food—Buy enough to satisfy your family, but remember the garbage can is Saboteur no. 1.
4. Grow and preserve your own foods—Start that Victory Garden today and watch our produce department for values to preserve. We have a complete supply of canning materials.

IT IS EASY TO SHOP WITH POINT STAMPS

1. During the first month you will only use the blue stamps, lettered A, B, C—totaling 48 points. You can spend all 48 points at one time or any portion you desire.
2. When you enter the store you will find a chart showing the number of points (Government official Table of Point Values) you will need to purchase each rationed item. Foods that are more scarce than usual will take many points; foods that are not so scarce will take fewer points. Your newspaper will most likely show this chart—suggest you clip it out for ready use so you can tell how many points you are using when you are making up your shopping list. You will also find the same information on the price tag or can.
3. When you are checking out, the total amount of points should be verified by you and then you take the right amount of blue stamps out of the book and give them to the checker. Use 8 point and 5 point stamps first—Save the smaller point stamps for low point foods. WE ARE NOT ALLOWED TO MAKE CHANGE IN STAMPS. You can take stamps from more than one book belonging to your family if you need to. You are not allowed to use loose stamps; they must be torn out in the presence of the checker.

The checker will be glad to tear them out if you wish.

At present the price and point value is marked on every can in the house. If you should be in doubt about any point, please do not mind calling on us to help you.

Our Stock of canned goods is strictly fresh and Nationally Known Brands.

REMEMBER, our ceiling prices are the lowest in town.

Baptist Church News

A series of services began Wednesday evening at this church without any previous announcements as Rev. A. B. Macklin a Russian Jewish Baptist preacher now in Texas, and we hurried to have him spend five days only with us, this being all the time he can spend here as his time is taken.

Rev. A. B. Macklin was exiled from Russia but before leaving he witnessed the murder of his own sister and he is now in charge of the Jewish Mission of Buffalo, New York, and other Missions which he supports as a Jewish preacher.

This is a rare opportunity for people of Free Terry County to hear this Jew who has become an evangelist to all men in behalf of the Christ that the Jewish nation rejected and crucified.

This article cannot be read until Friday morning which will give all of the readers an opportunity to be present Friday evening at which time the preacher will show the audience the observance of the Jewish Passover, being dressed as a Jewish priest for that occasion and on through Saturday and Sunday closing Sunday evening.

We have anticipated a Spring meeting and while this will be earlier than we had expected and of shorter duration we sought this opportunity to have our people get a first hand glimpse of conditions abroad by having this preacher of Baptist faith visit us and bring his message direct to our people. Tell your neighbor about it and come yourself and give him a large hearing as this will perhaps be his final appearance in Brownfield.

It is needless to add that this preacher comes with the best of reference and can give us a first hand word as to what Baptist have suffered in Russia as well as what they are doing for the progress of the gospel throughout the world.

This meeting is not for our own church people alone but all have a cordial invitation to attend every service possible.

Yvonne Forbus visited her father in Taiban, New Mexico, week end, recently.

Increase In Victory Gardens Seen

LUBBOCK, March. — Numerous West Texans will combine the use of a hoe with that of their ration books in feeding their families.

That is indicated by reports to Lubbock district officials of the Office of Price Administration, who said they had learned of plans underway throughout the district for planting of victory gardens and farms by individual families and groups.

OPA officials called attention to a project sponsored by wives of personnel of South Plains Army Flying School. Wives of officers and enlisted men at the field, which is one of the two Army flying schools in Lubbock, will plant a victory farm which is expected to provide fresh vegetables throughout the summer for all the families participating and an excess which will be canned for use next fall and winter. Some of the surplus also is to be given to other soldiers at the field or to civilians if needed.

Through the project, the group expects to substitute home-grown vegetables for those commercially processed, leaving the commercial foods for those who do not have access to home-grown foods. Mrs. Norman B. Olsen, wife of the commanding officer, is leader of the project.

OPA officials praised the manner in which the majority of West Texans have accepted the new point rationing of foods.

By careful planning before using their points and combining rationed foods with those which are not rationed, West Texans may obtain the maximum in benefit, they emphasized.

They stressed the importance of gardening not only to supplement rations but, in many cases, to take the place of rationed foods.

Immense saving of commercial-canned foods for use of the armed forces may be effected through gardening, they said. "If one person effects a saving of three or four or five cans a month by using home-grown vegetables, he becomes part of an over-all economy which might result in saving of thousands on top of thousands of cans for our armed forces. Multiply five cans by the population of a city of, we will say, 10,000 persons and you have a saving of 50,000 cans for that city alone."
