Ray Brownfield Promoted to Rank of Lieutenant-Colonel

In his home town, Lieutenant-Colonel Ray Brownfield, is receiving the congratulations and well wishes of the people who have known him from childhood. He comes from prominent pioneer

Lt.-Col. Ray Brownfield families on both sides of the house, the Brownfields, for whom the town is named, and the Pycatt family, from which his mother came.

Around about 1930, Albert Ray or "Little Ray" as he was always called here, was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute, at Roswell, with the rank of Second Lieutenant in the reserve. A few years later Congressman Geo. Mahon, of this district, appointed him as a cadet to West Point, and he finished there just a year or two before we entered the war.

Artillery has always been Ray's long suit, and from all accounts he has gone places in his chosen unit of Uncle Sam's army. He has proven the efficiency of the new Bazooka gun, according to what military information that has been allowed to leak out, not to mention larger field pieces. The picture we show is not in the uniform he is now entitled to wear, but as he looked when he graduated from NMMI.

Bill Hardin Has Received Twelve Decorations

A late letter from Tech. Sgt. Bill Hardin to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hardin, discloses the fact that he has received a total of 12 medals and decorations for his exploits in the Pacific area to date. His first was for the December 24-25, 1942 attack on Wake Island, from their base in Hawaii.

Since then, Bill and his crew have been moved to the southwest Pacific, where at one time they escaped miraculously after their airplane, a Liberator, took a plunge in the sea. Bill was wounded and his pilot seriously wounded, but all recovered and most of them are back in service.

They have had a delightful rest period, he writes, back somewhere in New Guinea. He expects to get a visit home around the holidays.

Cpl. Greenfield Now Somewhere In Ireland

Cpl. L. O. Greenfield, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greenfield, city, writes home from overseas as follows:

October 21, 1943
Dear Mother:
Although I haven't heard from you in a long time, I'll keep writing and I know that you are doing the same. I'm sure that you are as anxious to hear from me as I am from you. I'm very anxious to hear from all the family.

So far I like living in Ireland just fine. I'm in doubt about what extremes I can take in telling you about it; so for the time being I'll not say anything except that I am very favorably impressed with all that I have seen. There are a few customs that seem a bit strange to me, but I'll get used to those in a short time I guess. You can't beat the good old U.S. A. though.

I'll have to close, so bye now.
Lots of love,
L. O.

T-Sgt. Rambo Home On Furlough

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rambo were not a little surprised and pleased this week when their son, Technical Sergeant Charley Rambo came in home, after some two and a half years in Alaska, going up there before Pearl Harbor. Charley can entertain one for hours telling about Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

No, he had seen no live Japs, except those that were prisoners. Alaska for the most part is rough and rugged, with few passable roads, but he said it was a hunter's and fisherman's paradise. All kinds of big game and the world's biggest rainbow trout. The way the sun acts up though, is also interesting. Just seems to circle around overhead. In the summer it sets about midnight, and comes up around two A. M. But then, the northern lights give enough light to see about anywhere.

Like most soldiers he likes to talk about peaceful matters rather than the task of hunting Japs.

Sgt. Raymond C. Fore In Hospital

We learn that Sgt. Raymond C. Fore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fore, of Rockwood, but formerly of Brownfield, is hospitalized somewhere in the Mediterranean area. He entered the Infantry in 1941, going from Ranger, Texas. He graduated from Brownfield high in 1938.

He has been in the hospital about a month. He has a sister still living here, Mrs. D. S. Carroll.

Sends A Jewish New Year Greeting Card

We had a V-Mail card recently that put a kind of puzzle in the knot on our shoulders we sometimes refer to as our head, but with the aid of the rest of the force, we finally discovered it to be a Jewish New Year greeting from North Africa, the year being 5704.

That was a long time ago, but the card was dated October, and was from Gordon Alexander, who was formerly employed here by the Bargain Center, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kirschner.

By the way, Mr. Kirschner stated that it was the oldest calendar on record, but his son corrected him, stating the Chinese calendar had it bested a few thousand years.

Sgt. B. M. Corley, with the Clovis Air Base, is furloughing this week with his wife and child, and his parents W. K. Corley.

During his stay here, Mrs. Rebecca Ballard invited a number of his friends in for an old-time get-together. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hord, Lee O. Allen, Bill Heflin, Bruce Zorns, Troy Noel, Jack Bailey, Miss Sue Jones and the honoree, Eddie Ballard. When Eddie left, several of his friends accompanied him to Amarillo.

Maynard has quite a crime record, having been convicted in McClellan county for car theft and forgery, also the Federal men are wanting him.

District court convenes here Monday Nov. 15th, with several felony cases on the docket.

No Such Animal As A Printer

Printers are becoming as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. We know; we've tried to find one recently. Last Sunday week, we spent most of the afternoon in Hobbs, N. M., in quest of a printer, linotype operator or even an ad solicitor. So soap. This week end we interviewed editors at Lamesa, Big Spring, Merkel, Blankett, Mullins, Brady and Sterling City. If you want to be laughed at, just ask about printer at some country plant.

Some will tell you that they, too, would love to have one; some will crack that there is no such animal extant; while some of the older ones like Uncle Bill Kellis, 89, of the Sterling City News-Record, will tell you to roll up your sleeves and do it yourself for the duration. And all give about the same reason for the sudden scarcity of help for the printing office.

Many of the younger ones have been drafted into Uncle Sam's services; the middle aged and older ones have drifted into war plants or large city printing plants where they get a wage no country weekly can afford to pay and stay in business.

But, there's no use to howl. Just about every other business is effected in the same way. All are working long hours because they are either short handed, or have to use untrained help. One can, however, just go to a training school three or four months and get to be a fair welder, but no such luck with a printer. That takes years, and like learning to be a physician, many fall by the wayside as it takes too long to draw top wages.

Uncle Jimmie Green Working for Herald

This is to notify our readers that Uncle Jimmie Green is taking orders both for renewals and new readers for the Herald, and he'll appreciate your business—so will we.

Cigarette Funds Growing, Says Jim Miller

J. D. Miller, manager of the cigarette fund for our overseas boys, announced this week that he had just received $250.00 which bought 5,000 packages of cigarettes, which was matched by the tobacco companies and already on the way to the various war fronts. The Boy Scouts also collected over $30.00 last Saturday and like amount the Saturday before.

The makers of Raleigh cigarettes also donated 10 per cent of the above amount. Miller stated that the American Legion wanted to have another consignment of 5,000 cigarettes ready to send overseas before Christmas.

Drop money in any of the little red, white and blue boxes found in stores or places of business.

COURT HOUSE OFFICES TO BE CLOSED FOR LUNCH HOUR

On account of so many of the court house force having children directly or indirectly connected with the schools, they will close their offices for the lunch hour to conform with that of the school, from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

E. G. Akers, Capt.

Grain Shipments Looking Better

Local grain dealers expressed the hope this week that the congestion in grain shipments would ease up shortly. They have received several cars early this week but could use ten times more. They have been promised more cars soon, and can resume their all out buying. It is thought heavy shipments of wheat in the north has used all the cars and now the corn belt may compete for those released.

The lack of cars here and at seaboard centers, is also given as the cause of a slow down in cotton buying. The nation's crops being marketed all in a few month's time, together with enormous shipments of war materials, has temporarily overreached the capacity of the railroads, but is expected to thin out soon.

Cards For Overseas Men Must Be Sealed

Acting Postmaster L. A. Greenfield stated this week that the Postoffice Department under date of November 5th, advises that all cards sent to soldiers overseas, must be in a sealed envelope, and prepaid at the first class rate of postage.

The War Department also urges that such cards be mailed at once, stating that cards mailed now, will, according to the army postal service, reach even the remote APO's by December 25th.

Mail a card to that boy today.

Drive Lagging

Chairman Crawford of the Terry county war chest drive reports that to date about $1,500.00 has been collected, about half of our quota. Because of domestic duties, the rush of the year, lack of cars, etc., it is difficult to send workers to various districts.

It is requested that those who have not been visited, kindly contact some of the committee, or hand in their contribution to O. R. Stice, Treasurer, at the First National Bank, or to Chairman Crawford in the County Attorney's office.

Tax Collections Mounting

County Tax Collector Burnett reports that about 62 per cent of 1943 taxes have been paid. The city reports that more than half paid, and the Brownfield Consolidated School District about 30 per cent. The low tide of the latter accounted for, that a large percentage of their tax payers are oil companies and similar nonresidents, who usually wait till around the first of the year.

PATCH TESTS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Patch test are now available at the health unit at the court house between 9 and 12 and 1 and 4 on Monday through Friday. A charge of 10 cents will be made for each test.

The tests cannot harm anyone. They do not hurt or frighten a child.

The affair will be at the Johnson school house. Socks will be sold for bond and the cake walk proceeds will go into the club fund.

Yes, when you got your No. 4 ration book, there was the usual coffee ration stamps in it. But that don't mean a thing. The ration books were planned and printed months before coffee was taken off the ration list. Our advice would be to leave them in your book against the possibility that something else may be rationed, and the coffee stamps be used for that.

While President FDR was passing on "no discrimination because of race, color or creed," he might have made himself joint better with a lot of the common run of the mine folks, who are wondering why his administration is allowing discrimination as between union and non-union men, always favoring the former? Just a simple question, but he won't answer it.

According to a form letter we received from Senator W. Lee O'Daniel addressed to the mayor of Corpus Christi, the Senator is teeth and toenail against building a natural gas pipeline from Texas to West Virginia and other states, for private manufacturer's or individual use, at government expense. They will have to show the Senator that it will be necessary for the war effort. Again, we heartily agree with the junior senator. No use to let them drain our natural resources that might mean enterprises for Texans, to boost manufacturing in other states.

There has been some rather glaring and unethical stuff practiced here of late among the printing fraternity of hiring or offering to hire people in their employe. In both instances, it was comparatively newcomers to the printing fraternity, who did the unusual. The Herald has never hired anyone that was still working for another party, and never will. We might add that we have heard of one or two instances where merchants have tried to hire the other man's help by offering higher wages. But in both, it made the employee sore, as their present employers have kept them for years past when the going was bad or good. Generally speaking such tactics don't get one anywhere.

Remindful of that old adage about "an apple a day will keep the doctor away," the writer saw prices in a grocery store window this week, quoting apples at 10c per pound and Texas oranges at 6 1/2c, which is an extreme reversal of a few years ago. As Robert Quillin in his column aptly put it: "It is cheaper to call the doctor than to buy the apples."

Just a year or so in the past, financiers were telling us that 100 billion dollars would be the limit that the nation's war debt would stand. But with a much larger national income, Mr. Chase, of the Chase National Bank, of New York, one of the nation's largest banks, made a statement recently to the effect that the debt could be stretched to 300 billions without harm. But, he recommended that taxes be reduced after the war, and that smaller payments in the principal be made, but keep the interest paid. This may sound like it was said in favor of the big banks, yet coming from such an authority, it has the ring of good, sound reasoning.

J. D. Beasley was down from the farm in the Needmore section, Tuesday, and passed very favorable comment on the article last week by President Dick McDuffie, of the board of development, on getting along with our Latin-American neighbors.

FIRST NATIONAL TAKES ALL OFFICE SPACE

Almost since the First National Bank was built back in the 20ties, quite a large space in the rear has been rented to abstracters, insurance and real estate men. Lately, more office force and room had to be provided, and this portion of the bank utilized by them. This space in the rear has been fitted up nicely for the bookkeeping department, leaving most of the front available to the officers and cashiers.

Increased Demand Placed On Service Industries by War

THE ELECTRIC UTILITIES

Each symbol represents 5 billion kilowatt hours output for industrial use.

THE RAILROADS

Each symbol represents 100 trillion ton miles of freight.

THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

Each symbol represents 10 million long-distance telephone calls.

Prepared by FITCH INVESTORS SERVICE

How war's impact has added to the responsibilities of America's utility, railroad and telephone industries is shown graphically in the above chart.

The magnitude of the added volume of work placed upon the men and women of these great service industries is difficult for the layman to grasp. The chart is worthy of study.

In every instance these industries have met war's challenge while maintaining practically normal standards of service to the civilian population. The workers who have quietly carried on these enormous tasks are not eligible to receive official government awards for their truly great wartime accomplishments.

In an effort to give credit where credit is so obviously due, General Cable Corporation — the nation's leading independent supplier of electrical wires and cables, — has undertaken to publicize their records of accomplishment. An editorial from the New York Times calling attention to the patriotic contribution of these war workers, has been reproduced in a General Cable advertising release from Coast to Coast.

Churches Are Paying Out Their Property

There used to be a saying among people that churches were the poorest pay known, and their credit rating was extremely low, if you ask us. But this usually came from anti-church people or straight out agnostics. However, people with money to lend these days had just about as soon take on a church note as any.

There is a reason for the change. In the old days, the deeply religious and perhaps the poorest financiers of the community were chosen as the finance officers of the churches. Now days, a little less consecration, perhaps, and more business ability is the rule in choosing church officials. We do not mean by the above that church officers are not members in good standing.

To show the trend of affairs, a few decades ago, churches took years and years to pay a small debt that would be considered a trifling affair now. Let's take the Methodist church of our city, for instance. Just a few years ago, they remodeled and built onto their structure, and made a real, modern church plant. Last Sunday Bishop Holt of Dallas, dedicated the building now free of debt. About the same time, the Baptist people spent some $40,000 for a real modern plant, and they hope to dedicate it by January or soon thereafter.

Also, last Sunday, Bishop Holt dedicated the Methodist church at Plains, and we have read of numerous dedications in nearby towns. Well, the people have money, and they figure now is the best time in the world to get from under. The Main Street church of Christ was about ready to build a new plant, but the war came on and froze material. They have recently invested some three or four thousand dollars in War Bonds.

So far as we know, the North Side Baptist, the Four Square church, the second street church or Christ or the church of God on Fifth street owe little if anything on their plants, and the Nazarine church have heir lot and are accumulating building material. The Presbyterians have recently remodeled and enlarged their church property, paying for material at that time, we understand.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, the Lord has seen fit to call from our midst, into another field of labor, our beloved pastor, Avery Rogers, and his family.

Therefore, be it resolved by the First Baptist Church of Brownfield, Texas, in Conference assembled, that we commend to the Brotherhood of Victoria, Texas, Brother Rogers, and his family, as being tireless workers, on the right side of every moral, or religious issue. A fearless messenger, who speaks in a bold voice, in condemnation of sin. A man of the co-operative type, that sponsors as one of our leading figures, Missions, Local, State, and National, that believes and advocates that his people sponsor these activities with their money, and their talents. Brother Rogers is never on the fence, shoots straight from the shoulder, strikes to hit, but in a way that you have to take it, because it is right.

Brother Rogers has been with our church several years, has built it from the ground, through his leadership, one of the finest church properties in the state. Has led the people to give of their means, the Bible way resulting at this time, in reducing the church debt, to a figure, where our regular budget would retire in a short time our entire debt.

Brother Rogers leaves our church in good financial condition and a membership united to a single working body, with no friction, or strife.

May God's richest blessings go with them to their new field of labor, AND to you the brotherhood of Victoria, we commend this noble family. Follow their leadership, with your prayers, and your Council, and your church will grow, and the Lords work will prosper.

That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of our church, a copy handed to the press, a copy passed to the Baptist Brotherhood of Victoria, Texas.

Handling and Curing Sweet Potatoes

College Station, Nov. 1.—From the row through the curing house there is a chain of problems in the life of a sweet potato. Beginning at the row, vines should be removed immediately if early frost strikes, or the potatoes dug at once. But even after the vines are removed digging shouldn't be delayed or trouble in storage may develop, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. and M. college extension service.

From that point until they are safely marketed, avoiding a few things and doing others will prevent waste and money loss on the potato crop. Sweet potatoes are tender and it's an invitation to trouble in keeping and marketing them to bruise them in the field. After the surface of the potatoes dries, they may be graded, carefully crated and hauled to the curing house in a vehicle with good springs to avoid jolting and bruising. If the wagon has no springs, place a layer of hay or potato vines in the box.

Do not store potatoes having weevils or sunken spots indicat-

TEXAS FARMERS SWELL BANK DEPOSITS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—Texas farmers put "money in the bank" in September, as farm cash income for the state rose to $144,000,000, a 20 per cent increase over income received by farmers in August, the University of Texas bureau of business research has reported.

Cumulative farm cash income in Texas from January through September was $728,000,000 against $555,000,000 during the corresponding period a year ago—a gain of 31 per cent.

The number of cattle marketed during September was a little below that for the same month of 1942, but higher prices brought revenue from cattle to $15,000,000 as compared with less than fourteen million the year before.

Mrs. L. D. Chambliss went to Lubbock Tuesday to visit her daughter, Miss Lois, who is attending Tech.

ing black rot. Storing in crates provides better ventilation than in bins, and ventilation is an important factor in curing. Stack the crates on two by fours, or four by fours on blocks about one foot high to obtain air circulation under and around them. If the weather is cool or damp, don't wait until the house is filled before starting the curing.

In the curing process, which usually requires 10 days to two weeks, the temperature should be controlled as nearly as possible at 80 to 85 degrees. After curing it should be reduced gradually to 55 degrees and held as nearly as possible at that point. Miller cautions that after curing heat should be provided when outside temperature goes below 48 degrees, and ventilation increased to reduce temperature if it goes above 60 degrees. Chilling injures the keeping quality of potatoes.

The relative humidity should be kept to as nearly as possible at 85 per cent during curing, and not lower than 75 per cent or above 80 afterward to prevent excessive shrinkage.

FIFTEEN DAY PROTEIN REGULATION EASED

A revised regulation adopted by the War Food Administration releases the fifteen day order on protein meal and cake as pertaining to the farmers and ranchers providing for their livestock needs, according to A. L. Hartzog, county agent. In discussing the revised ruling the agent said that a farmer or ranchers supply on hand of meal and cake is no longer restricted to a fifteen day supply. It is however restricted to his normal livestock needs. The revised regulation which is much more satisfactory and workable from the standpoint of both farmer and rancher permits a sufficient volume of protein feeds to be stored to meet normal demands of his own livestock. It is however more rigid than previous regulations in its other implications. In effect the new regulation permits and encourages both farmer and rancher to obtain and store an amount equal to his normal needs of protein feed thus protecting his livestock production. The farmer may do this by securing from his own "seed run" all of the meal and cake his animals will normally need, but any surplus cake and meal that his livestock do not need is definitely barred by the order from "resale to others" by him at a profit above the ceiling. It may be transferred or resold to other users without profit. Every farmer is urged by the county agent to take his own needs and transfer or leave any excess meal and cake for the use of others.

Due to the fact that Terry county borders the ranching country to the south and west and is the first point of contact of those seeking "meal at any price" tremendous individual pressure is felt and those being pressed to resell at a profit, are cautioned that ceiling prices established by OPA do not provide or permit the farmer a profit. It is apparently wise to remind ourselves that either intentional or unintentional violations would be a likely source of trouble. Farm owners of protein feeds are also reminded however that they are permitted to transfer the meal at will, if no profit to themselves is accepted.

1943 RUBBER TREE

YESTERDAY'S RUBBER TREES were 10,000 miles away in Far Eastern plantations. Today's rubber trees are right in our own front yard.

Only a punctuation mark here separates the two simple sentences above. Actually between them are more than a decade of intensive research, hundreds of millions of dollars, and an almost unbelievable plant-construction program to meet our relentless wartime needs for rubber.

From the day of its founding, the great Research Laboratory of Phillips Petroleum Company was dedicated to a twofold objective: (1) the improvement of present petroleum products; (2) the extraction of chemical values from petroleum.

Because Phillips and other American scientists devoted themselves to such problems, the Nation is today, in its hour of need, harvesting a multi-million-ton crop of home-grown rubber!

The butadiene (basic ingredient of synthetic rubber) which Phillips produces is a synthetic chemical. So likewise is Phillips 100 octane gasoline. From petroleum chemicals, too, come explosives... plastics... medicines and anesthetics. The list is almost endless because petroleum and petroleum gases are an overflowing storehouse of hydrocarbons, the chemical raw materials for making an almost limitless number of products.

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries in addition to producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

YOUR GOVERNMENT ASKS YOU TO USE LESS GAS

and Help Keep War Plants Humming

HERE 'S HOW YOU CAN HELP

1. Winterize your home by insulation, weather stripping, caulking and storm windows if possible.
2. Close off all unused rooms.
3. Keep home temperatures as low as possible.
4. Reduce temperatures to 55 degrees at night and when home is not occupied.
5. Do not use range ovens or top burners for room heating.
6. Save gas in other ways which will occur to you.

The natural gas that heats your home and fries your breakfast bacon is used also for many vital war purposes. Pipe lines to transport it are over-taxed. New materials cannot be secured to bring you all that is required for unrestrained consumption.

The conservation of gas is the home-front duty of every man, woman and child, at home or at place of business. Uncle Sam is counting on you to do your part.

Immense Crowd In Brownfield Saturday

A typical fall o'-the-year crowd swarmed the streets and stores in Brownfield Saturday, following a fair week for harvesting crops. The great percentage of Mexicans was noticeable, but all seemed happy and peaceful. Merchants report the best sales day for many months.

There appeared many trucks loaded with cotton pickers on the street Sunday, and looked like plenty of such labor would soon be available. Still there is considerable demand for them, as the cotton harvest is just good started. Late reports indicate approximately 7,000 bales have been ginned this season in the county.

FATHERS IN DRAFT SOON

Fathers day in the draft is coming up about the 1st of December, according to R. A. Simms, secretary of the local selective service board. Calls are being made heavy, indicating that many fathers will be called November 29, or about December 14, to fill the quotas on these dates. Not only are we building a bigger army, in wider fields of the world, but our casualty lists are increasing. It is likely, too, we are preparing to make the global kill in Europe soon.

SOUTH PLAINS NEEDS SUGAR PROCESSING PLANT

Lubbock, Oct. 30—One way to bring the factory to the farm would be to build a processing plant for sugar beets on the South Plains, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department of Texas Technological college.

Over a period of years experimental culture of sugar beets has been carried on at Texas Technological college as well as many other localities on the South Plains. Yield and sugar content are satisfactory, but high freight rates make it unprofitable to ship the beets to processing plants at far distant points.

Sugar beets can be grown in quantity and successfully in this area, according to Dr. Young, and potentially sugar beet growing has promising possibilities.

Deputy State School Man Here

Deputy State School Superintendent, E. H. Boulter, visited Terry County Monday, November 8th for the purpose of checking salary aid applications.

He approved the schools of the county for approximately $7,500 and complimented them on the condition of the finances. Mr. Boulter will make a visit to each school some time after the first of January of 1944.

L. P. Bennett, prominent ranchman of Yoakum county, was a business visitor here Tuesday. He reports range conditions in his section very good.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Chapman of El Paso, were visitors last week in the John Gracey home in the Harmony community.

I Give You Texas

General Sheridan once said, "If I owned Texas and h—, I'd rent out Texas and live in h—."

And Senator Ben (Pitchfork) Tillman is credited with having declared: "Texas has more trees and less timber, more rivers and less water, more cows and less milk—and you can see farther and see less than any durn country in the world."

These are the two best-known sayings about Texas—and they with 498 others are included in a new book, "I Give You Texas: 500 Jokes of the Lone Star State."

The oldest joke on the weather in Texas is the story about the farmer who started to town in a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen. On the way, one of the oxen died of sunstroke and, as the farmer was skinning the animal, the other one froze to death.

Another is the one about the traveler who asked the filling station attendant in West Texas, "Does the wind blow like this all the time?" and the native answered, "No, sometimes it turns around and blows the other way."

Maybe not so often told is the one about the tourist who was going through a Southwest Texas town. He saw a teacher out on the school campus with a group of little children. She had a garden hose and, as the water sparkled through the air, she said, "Children, that's what rain looks like."

Of course, everybody has heard about there being nothing between Amarillo and the North Pole except a barbed wire fence. When Admiral Peary reached the North Pole, he is supposed to have remarked, "Gee, I'll bet it's cold in Amarillo this morning." (This is a gross reflection on the exhilarating climate of the Panhandle). And we all know the suddenness with which a norther strikes: like the time the man threw a dipper of water at the cat. Just then a norther hit, freezing the water in mid-air and the chunk of ice fractured the cat's skull.

Anyhow, there are hundreds of Texas jokes in the book—about razzbacks, mavericks, cowboys, Judge Roy Bean, politicians, to name just a few of the subjects. The Naylor Company of San Antonio is the publisher of "I Give You Texas" and (if the editor will let this get in print) the price is $2—and I think it's worth every cent of it, but, then, I'm the fellow who wrote the book!

5,000 FED AFTER THREE-HOUR NOTICE

FEWER PROFESSORS MORE JEFFERS—

One of the most outstanding feats in war production was done by William M. Jeffers, former rubber director, in building up facilities to supply this nation with synthetic rubber. In about a year, he had the program completed and the rubber rolling out. He then resigned and went back to his job of railroading.

Shortly after he resigned, it was suggested that he had better return and see that tires were made out of the new rubber supplies available, as tire companies claimed they were short-handed. In reply, Mr. Jeffers said he finished the job he was chosen to do—get rubber; that the shortage of manpower in the tire industry is not nearly as serious as on American railroads. He said that in his letter of resignation to the President, he told him there was a shortage of tire fabric for which the War Production Board was responsible, and that the question of manpower shortage had been repeatedly called to the attention of the War Manpower Commission. He said that Colonel Dewey and others who worked with him on the rubber program, understand it thoroughly and that if Dewey will demand the ultimate in support of the rubber program from the rubber companies, the War Production Board and from the War Manpower Commission, the rubber program will come through. "There are practical men in the OPA who, if given the opportunity to head up the rubber problem within the OPA, will do a job."

The Jeffers philosophy of getting production, which he did with rubber, one of our most scarce articles, is what this nation needs more than policies and theories which promote shortages. Bounteous supplies, reasonable profit, and such regulation as is needed to prevent profiteering, is the real American way of doing business.

We need more Jeffers and fewer professors.

Dairy Feed Price Adjustments
The Terry county ACA has been advised that dairy feed payments will be made direct to producers upon submission to the county AAA committee of satisfactory evidence of quantity of whole milk or butter fat sold, for whole milk sales records must show the pounds of milk delivered and the butter fat contents is not necessary. Butter fat sales evidence must be on butter fat basis. Payment will be at 20 per cent of the butter fat rate for cream sold for consumption of such.

It is expected that the first payments will cover October sales. Time of payments depends upon availability of forms. The Terry county ACA committee has been called to Lubbock for the purpose of discussing the dairy feed program, Friday, October 29th.

The payment rate for milk in Terry county will be 40 cents per hundred weight and the payment for butter fat will be five cents per pound.

Production Factor
The rate of reduction applicable to Terry county for recovering the required amount of associational expenses for the 1943 agricultural conservation payments for administering the program in the county is 3.2%.

Applications
Most all applications have been typed and ready for the farmer's signature. There has been 150 applications submitted to the state office. It is hoped that we can get these applications signed and audited and out of the office in the next 15 or 20 days in order that most farmers will receive their payments about the same time. It will save time both on the farmers and the associations part if he will bring in the card on which his farm serial number is shown. This eliminates the time of having to look up the number.

Feed Wheat
Feed wheat is still available in carload lots delivered at Brownfield for feeders who wish to purchase same.

Casein, the constituent of milk, is used in confectionery and certain manufacturing foods, in cosmetics and ointments, as an adhesive material, in printing and sizing cotton fabrics, for water-proofing paper and for making distempers.

Terry County School Land

GWN

One hundred years ago the Congress of the Republic of Texas set aside, out of its public domain, four leagues of land for each of its counties, as a permanent school fund. This was reserved when Texas was admitted to the Union in 1845, and reaffirmed in our present Constitution. In 1876, the Legislature, taking a spasm as the Legislatures sometimes do, and created a large number of counties in west and northwest Texas, a then unsurveyed domain covered with all out of doors, designating each county's four leagues in them. A good portion of Lamb, Cochran and Hockley counties were taken up by such leagues. Terry county's four leagues were located in the central part of Gaines county, some 15 miles to the southeast of Seminole. It is mostly very sandy land. A league contains 4,428 acres.

A popular, though not necessary, subdivision is in 25 Leagues of 177 acres each. Terry county's four Leagues, 17,712 acres, were sold as a whole in March, 1907, for $3.00 per acre on 40 years time, bearing six per cent interest. The principal, or amount of the note, was $53,136.00. The annual interest was $3,186.16. The land was later subdivided and resold in units of 492 acres to divers buyers. Some criticism was urged at the time because of low price, which was then a far price, that is should be held for future enhancement. The commissioners decided the children of that day may as well have some benefit of its revenue, as those of the future. When does the future begin? When is tomorrow? At the time, and for several years following, the county was sparsely settled, only some seven to 10 schools, all common. Scholastic opportunity of about $10, and no state aid. Because of this these schools' terms were extended by one to three months, and then but few reached the nine months terms.

The price was vindicated by the prompt payment of interest for the first 20 years, equaling the principal. Then a few tracts in the early 30's were forfeited for non-payment of interest, repossessed and resold at $5 an acre, with five per cent interest in which part of the mineral rights were retained, which may or may not be of considerable value. About one-half of the original purchase price has been paid. This, amounting to $28,000 has been invested by the commissioners court in local school bonds, which have later been refunded, and the money is now in government bonds, bearing two and one-half percent plus. The best that can be had, because of national low interest rates. All of the land repossessed has been sold. Some of which has been leased for oil development, and the commissioners now have offers to purchase some of the minerals.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED YESTERDAY

Though the pall of war hangs heavy over our people, the members of the William Guyton Howard post of the American Legion at Brownfield, observed Armistice day yesterday at the building and grounds, by staging their usual sunrise breakfast and raised the flag on the new pole just installed.

The Texas State Guard, Company D of the 34th Battalion was mobilized, practiced drill and other maneuvers under command of Capt. E. G. Akers, which was upon orders from the Adjutant General's office, being statewide, as all other units were to do the same, making reports as to numbers.

The school observed by chapel program exercises only. Under the strenuous work and business of the people because of war conditions, no pretentious parade or programs were attempted.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I been researching. Lit out to see what was taking place elsewhere. Found out 3 things. The first thing was that everybody had skads of 'foldin' money. And the second thing was that everybody was mad and unhappy.

Most folks were mad about how many steaks they can have—if any—or how much gas is on a coupon. Nobody was mad about the price.

Any notion that anybody is lugging around, that just money, or something like "security from the cradle to the undertaker" will make you happy, is all wet. That is a good thing to find out. That is progress.

And the third thing I dug up was about gasoline. The gent I talked to savvied oil—backwards and forwards. One place we could get more oil, he says—and maybe increase your coupon a gallon or so—and quick, is by rehabilitating a lot of our old wells. Easy as pie to do, he says, but a little too costly at present prices for oil. Well, I says, if pork chops and steaks are up, how come oil is held down? If you have any readers, ask them, or the Govt., or somebody—not me, he says.

Yours for the low down, Jo Serra

OBITUARY

The Pool community was saddened by the death of Mrs. Ruth Dunn, Nov. 2, after an illness of several days.

The Dunn family have been living in the Pool community for about four years, moving here from the New Moore community.

Mrs. Dunn was a teacher in the Pool Sunday School, and a charter member of the Nazarene church of Brownfield.

She was born and reared in Hunt county, Texas.

She was married to H. H. Dunn April 24, 1924, at Ryan, Oklahoma. To this union were born six children; two sons: Charles and Bobbie Ray; and four daughters: Mary Ruth, Juanita, Billie Yvonne, and Marcia Dell. Together with these children, Mrs. Dunn is survived by her husband, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Jackson of Lamesa, Texas; one brother, Raymond Jackson of McGregor, Tex. and two sisters: Mrs. Wilma Gwinn of Fort Smith, Ark., and Mrs. Opal Morgan of Grady, Okla., all of whom attended the funeral.

The funeral services were held in the First Methodist church of Brownfield by Rev. Nora Hamm, pastor of the Brownfield Nazarene church. She was assisted by Rev. H. D. Seago, pastor of the Pool Methodist church, and Rev. McCloy, pastor of the Lamesa Nazarene church.

The Brownfield Funeral Home had charge of the body, which was laid to rest in the Brownfield Memorial cemetery.

The flower girls were: Mrs. Glennas Rowe, Miss Effie Moore and Miss Alma Dean of Pool, and Miss Frances Lee, Miss Tommie Cyper and Miss Geneva Carruth of Brownfield.

Pallbearers were: J. M. Trussell, J. J. Gunter, R. H. Huddleston, S. V. Newsom, E. H. Grant and W. H. McDonald.

The honorary pallbearers were Foy Gunter, Olin Moore, Harlan Miller and Curtis Trussell.

Other relatives attending the services were: Sgt. Cloyt Gwinn and son of Fort Smith, Ark., Mrs. Raymond Jackson and daughters of McGregor, Tex., Mr. and Mrs.

CIVILIAN AWARDS

Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and results by these recognitions of unselfish devotion to the great task of turning both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the seasonal processors of food. The fact that they are not year-round operators makes them ineligible for Army-Navy "E" recognition. But if they are to receive the badge of honor they are to receive the award of the War Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low absenteeism, cooperation in the various food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.

A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications companies, and even the enormously busy railroads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why these powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its kilowatt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which last year handled 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 92 per cent and the passenger miles by 135 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

APPRECIATION

As the 25th anniversary of the 1918 Armistice passes into history, we find we are in another great war to preserve Democracy. While we mourn the loss by death, or the wounds of our fine, young men, we, as a nation, can feel glad that we are not overrun and subject to the indignities visited upon some of the nations of Europe and Asia

We also appreciate the good business the community has intrusted to us, and we promise to always strive to give the very best service possible at all times. Thanks!

Baptist Church News

Congregations were about the average last Sunday morning and evening when Rev. Aaron Shaw, the supply pastor of Plainview, preached, and being a returned Army chaplain he made several references to his work in the Army and the meaning of Army life to our men in the service. The membership will most certainly give him a good hearing as he is a strong evangelistic preacher and brings to us no new Gospel but that believed by Baptists for many centuries. Brother Shaw was relieved from army duty because of ill health but after an operation he is recovering and it is believed he will soon have his former vigor.

There was a marked decline in the attendance in the church school no doubt because of the disagreeable weather but we must learn to face the weather on Sunday morning just as the young people do in attending school during the week, and it is shameful indeed when teachers do not meet their classes on time and wonder why we do not grow in attendance.

Wednesday evening is all church night, choir practice beginning at 7:30; departmental meetings at 8:00 and the devotional period at 8:30, and you certainly should attend at one of these periods if you are unable to be present longer as the people need to be in the midweek service as it greatly strengthens

The work. We would take this opportunity to congratulate the membership of the Methodist church here upon the payment of their indebtedness and the dedication of their church building under the leadership of Rev. H. W.
