

Cpl. Bullard Now Stationed in France

Strictly speaking, we don't imagine that Cpl. R. A. Bullard, if in France, as his mother, Mrs. S. E. Bullard, believes, is stationed. The word station really

CPL. R. A. BULLARD conveys the idea of being still, located, at one place. If the dailies and radio is any source of information, all United States troops in France are very much on the move—transient, tourists. Anyway, a letter to his mother on Route 3, city, says he is somewhere in France, and his letter stated: "all is well, and am sure enjoying letters from home. Tell everyone hello." He sent his mother some beautiful souvenirs from England.

See Number Terry County Servicemen In California

J. D. Beasley, prominent planter and ranchman of the Needmore section was in this week to report on the trip of the Beasley and Don Yowell families trip to California, recently. Among the Terry County boys they saw were Robert Beasley, J. D. Yowell, S. A. Hodges, Billie Joe Tilger, Raymond Benson, all of which were with them a number of times at the hotel, and "we sure had a good time with the boys".

"We didn't get to see Gossett, Sears, Crawford or Holland Redding. The boys we saw are doing well and looking good, and were sure glad to see us. Said they would be glad to see a dog from Terry county. S. A. Hodges said he was going to turn in his resignation as soon as the war was over. All seemed anxious to get away from there and get some action. Benson and Yowell will take up farming when it is over. Beasley and Yowell think they will settle in Terry county.

Mr. Beasley stated that they certainly had fun with all of them making wise cracks about what they are going to do when it is over. "They, the boys, say they are getting scattered now, but will all meet back in Terry. After being around these boys for about two weeks, we just about decided that Terry county was a doggone good place to be from or go back to."

OVIE HOLLEMAN TRANSFERRED FROM ENGLAND TO ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Holleman received a letter from their son Orvie stating he had been transferred from England to Italy, where he participated in the invasion in southern France. This is the second invasion he has been in, the first one being in Normandy, the 11th of June. He stated that he had made 11 missions over enemy territory and hoped he would not have to make many more, he was thankful that they had made it alright. He says he sure gets nervous and the guy who says he is not scared and nervous while being in the air, not knowing what minute your time is next, is a liar or not human.

While he would not take the world for what he has been through in helping get this thing over with.

Ovie told his parents he wished the people here in the United States could see how war could change things, like those people in Italy, France and all those places that has been wrecked by war, then they would realize what war could do to people and just what they can stand. Ovie has been promoted from Sgt. to S/Sgt.

The Hollemans are proud of their son, along with their 19 nephews that are fighting in this war, also a son-in-law, has given his life for this cause.

Everybody and their hounds were glad to see Dr., or to use his army title, Capt. A. H. Daniell, on the streets of Brownfield once more, after being away for 23 months, mostly in Australia, New Zealand, and the islands adjacent.

DR. ALFRED H. DANIELL where he has been helping to bring as many of our boys home after bad wounds as possible.

He stated he left the south seas last week, about Thursday, stopped to gas up at Guadalcanal, another island this side, and then Pearl Harbor, where they had time to get a meal. Then on to San Francisco. He took first chance on just a freighter plane, he called it, there, and arrived in Amarillo Monday, and got to the hotel, where he was to meet his wife just five minutes ahead of Mrs. Daniell, who met him there. They arrived in Brownfield about 3 a.m., Tuesday. After a 30-day leave, he will be assigned to Randolph Field, Texas.

Didn't get to talk with him, as at that time a half-dozen others were quizzing him, so will try to get something on the south and central Pacific fights, as well as particulars about the country next week. He looks the picture of good health.

Jim Thomas Given Death By Hale Jury

Jim Thomas, tried last week by a Hale county district court at Plainview, was given a sentence of death in the electric chair. The jury deliberated three and one-half hours. He is alleged to have cruelly murdered Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt of Littlefield during the night of October 26, last. Thomas, with a long string of crimes behind him, was out of the state penitentiary for treatment of a leg wound. Why is it a rich state like Texas can't afford treatment for dangerous criminals within the walls of the state institutions?

At this Air Service Command Station Lt. Sullivan attended a series of lectures given by battle-wise veterans which included instructions on chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat theatre.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our liberation of occupied Europe.

How Should We Celebrate Victory

The Herald has been reading quite a bit of late on how the USA should act when victory over Germany, and perhaps later Japan is announced. Some, and this includes some of the dailies, have decided that it would be inappropriate for us to celebrate, say with ringing of bells, parades, fireworks, etc. They say we should remember our fighting men, many killed, many more wounded and in hospitals.

But we'll bet a gill of buttermilk to a doughnut, that when our service men, be they in prime of health, or if barely able to wiggle, will toss the old GI sky piece in the air and make the welkins ring when victory is announced. Uncle Joe Stalin has the boys march a few thousand Nazi prisoners through the streets every time they take a German stronghold and fire a few hundred cannon. And if anyone reads the newspapers, or a week later magazines, well illustrated with scenes, they know that the French nor the Italians didn't sit down and moan the fact that they were liberated.

The trouble with many Americans is that they have not had to go through any blitz; their near relatives have not been butchered because they would not collaborate, and they have not had hundreds of kin and neighbors sent off into slave labor. In other words, the war has not come close to Americans, and they just are not mad at anybody. That is, some of them are not. But this writer and most people have had the war come very near them in killed and wounded, and when the beastly Japs and Germans are put under foot, they feel that it is time to celebrate.

Another thing, most Americans will feel that it means that their loved ones that are still alive can be returned to them, and they'll feel like celebrating. And we don't mean they'll feel like going out and get pie-eyed drunk. Maybe a coke or a glass of buttermilk if you can get them. Water or coffee, anyway. But we believe our people will feel just like they did the night of November 11, 1918, and will let off a little of their pent up feelings by shooting a few fireworks" if they can be had.

Tom Warren Jr. Brings in First Bale

Season Football Schedule Announced

They have 11 lettermen, and 12 squadmen, about 60 in training. They announce the schedule for the fall season as follows: Sept. 22—Lamesa at Lamesa Sept. 29—Seminole at Brownfield Oct. 6th—Levelland at Brownfield Oct. 13th—Open Oct. 20—Hobbs at Brownfield Oct. 27—Pampa at Brownfield Nov.—3. Lubbock at Brownfield Nov. 11—Borger at Borger Nov. 17—Plainview at Plainview Dec. 2—Amarillo at Amarillo The last five are all conference games.

Terry Delegates Attend Convention

Most, if not all, of Terry county's five delegates: R. M. Kendrick, O. L. Peterman, Homer Winston, J. O. Gillham, and Lee O. Allen, plan to leave Sunday for Dallas to attend the state Democratic convention to be held there next Tuesday. W. B. Tudor, Jess McWhorter, Glen Akers, John Cadenhead, and Tom May are alternates.

The delegates are instructed by the county convention to vote as a unit and carry out the policy of the state convention held at Houston last May, which were anti-Roosevelt. It is expected a hard fight to take place over the question of electors, as most of them have expressed their intention to vote against Roosevelt and Truman, in the electoral college. The pro-Roosevelt group will contend for a new set, or have two sets placed on the November ballot.

Of course, "old Homer" is expected to tell them something about cattle and cabbage. More interest is taken in this convention than any since the Ferguson era, and the political eyes of the Nation will be upon Texas, Tuesday.

Drought Area Farmers To Buy Plains Grain Cooperatively

Farmers and stockmen in counties affected by drought are showing considerable interest in cooperative buying of grain sorghums, now being harvested in the South Plains, according to A. L. Hartzog, County Agent.

The idea of buying grain cooperatively has been advanced by J. D. Prewitt, acting director of the A. and M. College Extension Service, since it became apparent that there is insufficient storage to take care of the grain sorghum crop.

Surveys conducted by county planning groups in West Texas show that not over ten per cent of the crop can be cared for by farm storage. Elevators likely can hold only another 10 per cent. The railroads will handle about 70 per cent of the crop and commercial truckers the remaining 10 per cent.

By August 29, 61 counties had expressed interest in buying about 1000 car loads of grain, between now and December 15, the program is expected to grow like the feed wheat program according to C. Horn, head of the Extension Farm labor office. During six months last year, Texas farmers bought cooperatively more than 2500 cars of feed wheat.

Ross Motor Company Building on Broadway

The Herald sought an interview with Mr. E. C. Ross this week in regard to his new building, now under construction on Broadway at Seventh. But at their present location on west Main, we were very courteously informed by his manager that C. E., along with Red Tudor and Dick McDuffie, were all in El Paso dodging a bull. However, it was thought if the trio succeeded in dodging El Toro, they are to be home by Friday.

But Friday was too late for the interview. The building is to be of tile construction, stuccoed, and 50x100 feet, concrete floors with suitable offices and display rooms in the front. In other words, C. E. is getting ready against that day when automobiles will be released for sale to whomsoever will, and we hope that won't be long, as Germany seems to be on her last legs.

Floyd Moore, well known local builder has the contract for construction. The foundation has been laid, and much of the material is now on the ground for the building. When completed, it will be fully occupied by Mr. Ross for his automobile agency as well as repair and supply department.

A. B. Buchanan of Gomez is in the Veterans hospital in Amarillo. He has been there some six weeks.

Dove Season Opened September 1st.

Late last Friday afternoon the boom of shotguns could be heard from Brownfield by those with acute hearing. That was the opening day of the dove season in the northern part of Texas, and, evidently a few saved up some shotgun shells.

It is reported in some quarters that shotgun, as well as rifle shells, will be released soon, as about all the war ammunition the army and navy will need is now made up, stored or on the road to the fronts.

Let's All Be Careful—Don't Murder

This week, the business and professional men are sponsoring an ad in the Herald, appealing to motorist to be as careful as possible since school has started, especially. Don't run over a child. You'll regret it as long as you live. Look! Listen! Think! ## Three Hurt in Car Wreck Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson of the Tokio section were slightly injured and their small son suffered a fractured arm, cuts and bruises, Wednesday night, when their car driven by Mrs. Richardson, ran into a car that was parked on the pavement with one wheel jacked up, which had been left unoccupied by an unknown driver, on the Brownfield, Roswell highway, near Tokio. Another child in the car escaped injury.

All were brought to local hospital where they received treatment and were dismissed.

A Crying Need is More Rent Houses

Hardly a days goes by that some stranger, most of them prosperous looking, are not in this office inquiring for dwellings, apartments or rooms. Not a few of them are looking for business locations.

Only this week a man wanted to move his oil rig business to Brownfield, as he remarked that Brownfield was so ideally located to all the area oil fields. He would build a home if he could, or would buy one ready built, and rent a business location.

If Brownfield will just take advantage of its fine location in proximity to the oil fields of Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley and Terry counties. Shall we take advantage of these natural conditions to make a fine little city, when the war is over and materials can be gotten for buildings, or will we be asleep on the job and let business go to other places?

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cruce and daughter, Mrs. John Gaddell, and her son, John Richard, of Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. John Gracy last week end.

Mrs. Eldora Norris, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Maury Lewis, of this city, became the mother of 7 pound girl at Lubbock, Friday evening. Her husband N. J. Norris, is Radar Technician with the Navy, Norfolk, Va., but is expected to arrive today.

NOW YOU CAN DRAW A BEAD ON 'EM

If you have a few minutes to spare, you may begin to oil up the family flintlock. W.P.B. has taken cognizance of the fact that animals and birds are causing widespread destruction to crops and livestock all over the country. The ban on the sale of ammunition to hunters will be removed temporarily in the near future. Available for nimrods will be 240 million rim-fire cartridges and 130 million shotgun shells. Wolves, Coyotes, foxes, weasels, wild ducks, crows and pheasants should not be told of this regulation. Happy hunting.

Miss Katherine Jane Acker of Hereford, Texas, came in Thursday to visit her aunt, Mrs. G. S. Webber. She is a cadet nurse at St. Anthony Hospital, Amarillo, where she has just completed the first three months of training.

GARDENING IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

Recently we had an opportunity to read a letter from an extension worker in Hawaii who has been sent to the South Pacific by the navy to assist with Victory gardens. At the time he wrote the gardens planted and tended under his supervision were providing enough vegetables to relieve the monotonous diet of men in the base hospital. Before long he hoped to raise enough to give something fresh once each week to all the men stationed at that particular post. They were worn out on dehydrated foods, he said, and fresh vegetables were a morale booster of high caliber.

Gardening isn't all easy in the South Pacific . . . as this letter indicated. It ended: "Last week a tank battle ruined our tomato

National Income Hits New High

Washington, Sept. 4.—National income reached a new high annual rate of $158,000,000,000, and national production a new high annual rate of $196,000,000,000, in the first half of 1944, the Commerce department reported.

While reaching new heights, however, expansion of both income and production in the first six months of 1944 was at slackened rates, the department said, the three per cent increase in gross national production over the final half of 1943 representing

SEVENTEEN YEAR OLDS MAY CONTINUE THEIR EDUCATION

The War Department has authorized the expansion of the Army Specialized Training Reserve Program.

The ASTRP offers academic training, given in colleges and universities selected and approved by the War Department. Men who are eligible for this training will be trained at Government expense, which consists of tuition, housing, subsistence, clothing and medical care. The only expense that is borne by the student is laundry, dry cleaning and other personal expense.

Due to the fact that the terms are limited to three months, in order to receive this training, you must be enlisted before you reach 17 years and 8 months of age. However, it is suggested that you make inquiry immediately after attaining your 17th birthday, because the sooner you enlist the more of this valuable training will be available to you.

One of the many advantages of this training is that it will better qualify you for promotion after your call to duty (sometime after attaining your 18th birthday), than the ones who did not take advantage of this training.

This is a program worth investigating. For further information, contact the AAF Examining Board, Hq., West Texas Recruiting, Post Office Building Lubbock, Texas.

CHILDREN SHOULD HAVE SUBSTANTIAL BREAKFAST

Austin, Tex. Sept. 6.—"Breakfast should supply everyone, young and old alike, with from one-fourth to one-third of the day's food needs," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "In order for a growing child to get this much of his day's requirements, he needs a hot substantial breakfast consisting of cereal or whole grain bread, fruit or fruit juices, eggs or meat, and a milk drink."

Dr. Cox discussing the dietary needs of school children says further, "In many homes the line of least resistance is followed. The children when offered food at breakfast time may reply that they are not hungry, they do not have time, or in some instances will even sa breakfast makes them sick. Older children, especially girls of high school age, sometimes deliberately go without breakfast in order to keep from increasing their weight. This is both foolish and dangerous. They deprive themselves of body building materials when they fail to eat nourishing food. Faulty nutrition with its health hazard often results. In young children this means that resistance to disease is lowered and the processes for developing and maintaining health definitely are handicapped.

"Whether young, middle aged, or older, a good health practice is to break your fast with a good breakfast. The day's first meal

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Looking a gift horse in the mouth is maybe not so super-polite, but it is good horse sense. Otherwise, before you get him home he might be the kind that would cave in on you and you would just have acquired for yourself some burial expenses. It is just about likewise when the Govt. offers to give to some town or community a nice power house or dam on some river or creek, for 10 cents on the dollar, or free, and the town or community takes it because it looks like a bargain. Nothing is a bargain if you do not need it, like a 100 dollar set of books on veterinary science is no good at 6 bits to a guy with no horse, or a farmer buying a 15 dollar plug hat for 50 cents—he is just out 50 cents. In the early days out in the shorthorn country, the natives would now and then pick off a customer for a useless 100 acre ranch. And if the guy was a bit slow and not too alert, they would slip an extra 100 acres in on the deed. And when the tenderfoot woke up he just had for himself some more, and new, taxes and expenses. Many a gift horse has the heaves.

Yours with the low down,

LEST YOU FORGET

One of our home boys, Sgt. L. H. Key, sends us the following poem, which he stated had been turned down by some leading papers and magazines as "too hot." If there is too much heat in it, we fail to get it. Our notion is that some papers and magazines just did not want to publish it. If it hurts anyone, it will be the very selfish who has no interest in this war except to "let George win it."

The Herald has never been much for poetry, but we have always tried to accommodate our boys in uniform as much as possible, and just because we don't particularly care for poetry, is no reason others don't. And there is some good thoughts in this poem, well brought out. The poem follows:

LEST WE FORGET
Where are those things we were fighting for,
Risking our lives in some far off shore?
Hoping and praying night after night
That when we come home things will be alright.
In jungles and fox holes, day after day,
We searched for the foe and drove him away.
Struggling in mud and filth and rain,
With hearts full of spirit and bodies in pain,
In muddy holes, our prayers we said,
Many a night those holes were our bed.
Many a time it was so fiercely hot,
Our bodies felt they were ready to rot.
Through sag and mountains and valleys and streams,
How long did it last? A hundred years it seems.
With rifles and packs, entrenching tools, too,
How often we did this, no one knew.
We worried little about our plight,
As long as folks home were doing alright.
Many the time we thought we would sob,
But we couldn't waste time, we had a big job.
A job that required a constant alert,
It had to be done, no matter how much it hurt.
When conditions permitted a moment of rest,
Our woes we forgot and thought of the best.
While thinking of home and our place in the sun,
Some one would shout: "There's a fight to be won!"
"On your feet, we march," and then—
We would leave our dreams and be off again.
Each time we moved the tension would grow,
What went on inside us, you'll never know.
We'd never know if we'd live to tell
Of some places on earth that resembled hell.
Not all of us lived to bring back word,
Some are still there—they'll never be heard.
They fought for a cause they believed, until—
Their bodies were buried on some

"The end of the war is in sight," declared General Bernard L. Montgomery, Allied field commander, the other day after the German army in Northern France had been shattered and almost destroyed. But it will not close this time, President had previously declared until the Allied armies march into Berlin and Tokyo. We were glad to be given that assurance again, not that we are burning to get revenge on the German people, but because that we believe that this time they must be shown that they have been thoroughly whipped, that wars of conquest does not pay, and that it is disastrous for any people at any time to submit to the rule of a dictator. The people of Germany must be so thoroughly convinced that these things are true that no dictator again will be able within the next century to so hypnotize them that they will be willing to launch out again on another great international campaign of rapine and robbery.—Lynn County News,

Both are Phillips Research Laboratories

IN TIME OF PEACE hundreds of Phillips chemists and engineers devoted themselves, in the glass-bricked laboratory pictured above, to search for product betterment.

Car-owners reaped the benefit in improved gasolines and lubricants, at prices which represented ever-increasing value for the money.

IN TIME OF WAR, Phillips research activities are sharply focused on the requirements for victory, and the U. S. Armed Forces . . . and you, not as a car-owner but as citizen and taxpayer . . . reap the benefit in improved products, at prices which represent ever-increasing value for the money.

The Phillips airplane pictured above, with its unique test and measuring devices, is also a laboratory . . . a flying laboratory for a Phillips pioneering research project. Phillips recently was first to conduct a flight test program to determine the anti-knock performance of aviation gasolines . . . not in earth-bound test motors . . . but in combat-type engines under actual flying conditions.

PHILLIPS HIGH PLACE in the war production of butadiene for synthetic rubber, 100-octane aviation gasoline, and other petroleum chemicals, is the result of Phillips long years of peacetime research to extend the frontiers of knowledge concerning hydro-carbon chemistry.

Who can predict what great new benefits will flow to motorists after victory, as the result of Phillips wartime exploration of the limitless possibilities of the chemical production of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum?

This much can be predicted with confidence: With the coming of peace, car-owners will be offered a vastly improved postwar Phillips 66 Gasoline. In the meantime, whenever you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips great refineries are gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Isn't it odd how history has a way of reversing the verdict that many people pass upon their contemporaries? The mists of abuse and harsh, angry words clear away, leaving the figure of a man as majestic as a mountain—after he has died.

In 1896, the "gold bugs" said that free silver, which William Jennings Bryan advocated, would make money more plentiful, which would make it easier for debtors to pay their debts and that would be "wrong" because a creditor couldn't buy as much with a dollar if dollars were abundant as he could if they were scarce; therefore, free silver was "dishonest." They overlooked the fact that the great increase in the world's commerce without a corresponding increase in the medium of exchange had already had the effect of making money scarcer, thereby making it harder on the debtors and favoring creditors—but that, of course, was not "dishonest."

And they didn't like Bryan because he was backed by the Populists, "a dangerous element." Actually, the Populists were mostly farmers groping for economic justice in the face of high transportation rates they had to pay and the low prices they received for their products.

Manufacturers posted notices on the bulletin boards that their factories would close if Bryan were elected. Ministers preached sermons urging the election of McKinley on the ground that free silver was "immoral." And that most righteous man, Mark Hanna of slush fund fame, sent forth stump speakers who pointed out that Judas had betrayed the Master for 30 pieces of silver—therefore, silver was accursed. Under the same reasoning, the human race should of quit using lumber because the Savior was nailed to a cross made of wood.

Well, they beat Billy Bryan. And then some prospectors found gold in the Klondike and thereby made the world's money supply more abundant—thus accomplishing in a different way, what Bryan wanted to do. And later, Republican presidents issued money made out of paper and nobody said it was "dishonest," and nobody turned down a chance to acquire some of it, either. I heard Bryan declare, with a smile, in a speech in 1914: "They said I wanted to put a government imprint on a piece of silver and make it worth $1. They said if you threw one of Bryan's dollars into a furnace, you'd have only 54 cents worth of silver. Well, if you'd throw one of their paper dollars into a furnace, you wouldn't have anything!"

Bryan never became president but he lived to see many of the principals he advocated become the law of the land; votes for women, the income tax and direct election of United States Senators.

When the reactionaries in the party tried to nominate Champ Clark in 1912, Bryan threw his weight behind Woodrow Wilson, who proved to be one of our greatest presidents.

A NORTHERN VIEW OF NEGRO VOTING

The Christian Science Monitor, on commenting favorably on the fact that many negroes were allowed to vote in the recent Democratic primaries in Texas on the fact that so far there is no evidence that any effort was made to keep negroes from voting in the Texas primary, made some interesting comments. One of them follows: "It would be well for Northern people to understand that Southern whites often are more genuinely friendly to the negro than those who claim to be his friends."

The Monitor goes on to state that much of the agitation in support of suffrage for negroes has been carried on by political bosses who see in the colored people an opportunity to herd votes into blocks by appeals to race prejudice. Block voting, it should be added, is the one thing that makes it possible for political bosses to maintain themselves as leaders of machines. Once people starts voting as individuals and not as members of some particular group the bosses will lose their jobs.

That has happened in Northern cities where there are large negro populations and it can easily happen in the south if participations in electoral processes by negroes becomes general. It is refreshing to find a newspaper published in the North take a common sense view of the whole problem of negro voting, as The Monitor has in the editorial mentioned above.—Vernon Record.

DEATH OF RATS ESSENTIAL, SAYS DR. COX

Austin, Texas, August 17.—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tape worm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease as yet remains unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every rural and urban area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of rat proof design in buildings, the use of rat proof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force rats out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Letter of Condolence To Soldier's Mother

We had the privilege of reading five letters of condolence, as well as testimony, as to the manly and soldierly qualities of Willis Huckleberry, killed on D-Day in the invasion of France, and addressed to his mother here. One was from his captain, Hamilton D. Childree.

Captain Childree stated that Willis, a pilot on one of the gliders that landed behind German lines on D-Day, happened to strike very dough area, and that Willis was instantly killed. Other members of the crew were not seriously hurt. The captain testified to the valor of these sky commandoes, and the good work they did in confusing the efforts of the Nazis. He also mentioned that the personal effects of Willis had been shipped to her.

Other kindly letters to Mrs. Huckleberry were from a buddy that had been in all the training camps with Willis, and his roommate, and of course Willis was "Huck" to him. His name was Haskell Hazelwood, and stated his wife and family lived in Oklahoma, and that he had relatives whose names he did not know, near Brownfield.

The three others, who wrote V-Mail letters were F/O Bruce Stitsinger, F/O Wayne M. Brough and Glen M. McPherson. All testified to the manly and fighting qualities of Willis.

Uncle Sam Schools Terryites

A recent communication from John Dumas, seabee down in the Bermudas, states that it looks like Uncle Sam thinks Brownfield boys are good material or dumb, one or the other, and recalls that the old gentlemen in the long, striped coat and starchy high hat, persists in sending he and Jack Stricklin, jr., to school.

And, John recalls now that "unknownness" to him, while at Norfolk, Va., recently, he learned that Jack Tieman (also going to school) was just across the bay—but John didn't know about it until he returned to Bermuda.

Stars are great suns whose volumes average a million times greater than the volumes of the earth.

HALCYON DAYS

An old timer recalls that men wore handle-bar mustaches and sauced their coffee, wore a watch as large as a full grown turnip which was fastened through a vest buttonhole with a log chain. He went to a barber shop twice a week for adime shave and to read the Police Gazette and to look at the galaxy of racy pictures adorning the walls of the barber shop. In those days, as a picture gallery, the barber shop had only one competitor—the livery stable. Great days!—Clarendon Leader.

SURE OF VICTORY, THE GERMANS PLUNDERED

The Germans carted off to Berlin, Germany many of Rome's richest art treasures, AMG officers reported after a survey of the Italian capital. In addition the Nazis committed senseless vandalism at Lake Nemi, 14 miles south of Rome, where two ancient galleys of the Roman Emperor Caligula were burned and a seventeenth century castle of the Colonna, owned by Princess Ruspoli of New York was sacked.

It will probably be remembered that several years ago the Italian had Lake Nemi, pumped dry so that these ancient boats sunk in battle 2000 years ago, could be raised. They were found in almost perfect condition. But they are gone now.

Step by step with the advancing German armies organized Nazi looters marched across prostrate Europe in the greatest campaign planned plunder since Genseric and his vandals plundered Imperial Rome.

At the end of 1941 the German financial and industrial "haul" from the occupied countries was estimated at 45 billion dollars. In the succeeding two and one-half years this stupendous sum probably has been doubled.

Gold seized alone, totals at least $3000,000,000.

According to the Board of Economic Warfare, the Nazi regime has transported to Germany from the overrun nations' machinery war materials, and even garden tools and door hinges, while taking over whole industries at the rate of "tens" of billions a year.

"The Germans seized, as a matter of course, all the industrial and commercial concerns belonging to Czechs and Jews in the severed portions of the Republic. The greater part of the textile industry was concentrated in districts handed over and a great deal of this industry was in Jewish hands. All this was seized without compensation. Czechs and Jews were robbed of all house property, all business and factory premises, usually by violence and often with bloodshed.

The post-war problem is to find some way of delooting Germany—of getting back at least a part of this tremendous plunder.—Ex.

WAR INGENUITY

A lovely WAC came to a limpid pool surrounded by trees. She saw no one near and decided to 'pull' off and take a swim. As she came out much refreshed, she was astonished to see a male lieutenant walking toward her. She grabbed her clothing and hurried behind a tree. Just then the lieutenant shouted: "Camouflage company dismissed!" and all of the trees walked away.—Clarendon Leader.

When a man says his salary goes to five figures, he probably means the wife and four kids.

"Behind The Scenes In American Business"

By John Craddock
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—It's a little early for Mom and Pop to be thinking about Christmas and toys, but not so in the trade. Toy buyers and distributors have been canvassing every manufacturer in the country all summer to be sure of having a good supply for retail dealers in November. According to reports, dealers may expect to have a more plentiful supply of quality toys to offer this Christmas than in the last two years. Prices of some types of toys will be higher, however.

Less emphasis on war games is in evidence. This is attributed to current anticipation that the war with Germany may be over late this fall. Almost all toys this year will bear the stamp: "Made in America", since of course there have been no imports from Japan or Germany since the war began. Small wooden toys and games will be plentiful, but dolls and stuffed animals will continue to be on the scarce side. Mechanical toys,

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Yes, I'm afraid there's no denyin' it, Judge... jeeps and trucks and other kinds of motorized equipment have taken the place of the good old horse in modern warfare."
"It's true of lots of things in this war, Eben. Every day we hear of new tactics and requirements and new uses of products. For instance, take the alcohol that is used for war purposes. In World War 1, this vitally needed product was used mostly in making smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials and medical supplies. Today it must do far more... it must provide the base for such indispensable products as synthetic rubber, shatterproof glass, lacquers, plastics and many other of our requirements so essential to victory."
"As a result hundreds of millions of gallons are required every year... half of which is being produced by the beverage distilling industry. Bet you didn't know that, Eben."
"As a matter of fact, I didn't, Judge. That's a mighty important war contribution that had escaped me completely."

Canning Food for Boys Overseas

As all of you know from September 15th to October 15th, is the time to mail Christmas packages to our boys overseas—and now is the time to start planning just what we are going to send. The postoffice has already released instructions for preparing these packages. We are told to not send perishable foods. Many of our boys over there have written asking for various foods. About the only solution to this problem seems to be canning.

Christmas would not be Christmas without fruit cake so it tops our list, and here is the way to can it: Use any of your favorite recipes and after the ingredients have been mixed well, pack the mixture into greased R-enamel or plain tin cans. You could line the cans with waxed paper instead of greasing them. No. 1 or No. 2 cans are more satisfactory than larger ones. Leave from 1 to 1½ inches head space. Seal the first roll on the can; then steam No. 1 can, 60 minutes and No. 2, cans 75 minutes. Take them out and complete the seal. Process them at 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes.

Honey cookies, or any recipe using molasses, also butterscotch cookies and cookies made with dried fruits and uts keep moist over a long period of time and travel well. Just to be sure your son's favorite cookies reach him in an edible condition it is advisable that they be sealed in tin.

Fruit-nut candies, peanut brittle is not recommended for are the best keeping candies. The taffy and crystalized fruits shipment because it seems that the fat in chocolate breaks down easily when subjected to high temperatures and long storage.

Candies and cookies can be packed in tin cans by simply putting waxed paper between the layers of candies and cookies and filling in extra space with tissue paper.

Preserves are one of the most satisfactory product which can be sent. Again you can use your favorite recipe. At the end of the cooking, or if you have pre-heated the preserves you can pour the hot preserves into R-enamel cans. Fill the cans full and leave no headspace. Seal, and then invert the cans and let them cool in cold water.

Canned chicken would be one of the best things to send. Barbecued chicken or beef is easily canned. And we can always send chili or tamales for the boys who particularly like these foods.

Every man has some favorite food that his wife or mother cooks or cans. Sometimes its something ordinary like blackeyed peas, or sausage, or maybe kraut. So lets try to send them things we know they will like.—Mozelle Reast, County Home Demonstration Agent.

All Democrats who believe in time-honored custom of supporting the nominees of the party, are invited to be on hand and participate in this meeting. Homer Winston of Brownfield will be one of the speakers.

Some of the electors in the May convention have avowed they will not cast their vote for Roosevelt and Truman, thus disfranchising Texas voters. The voters of Texas must not and will not be disfranchised.

So, if you are a believer in majority rule, which is Democracy at work, come. Come one, come all, and let's undo what was put over on the people in May. You may not believe in all the Roosevelt administration has done, but thousands of you believe in letting the majority rule.

The Kind of Monument Our Boys Will Like

The Herald notes that in some places, funds are being collected to erect a cold monument of marble or granite, when it's "over, over there." On the other hand some communities are laying by funds while times are good to make another kind of monument; a living reminder to the boys and girls who really sacrificed for us, that we might live like we wish. A monument that they and their children and their neighbors children may enjoy year after year.

In other words, we should decide now whether it is to be a lifeless pile of granite or marble, or say a beautiful well kept park, dedicated to the service men of 1941-4—, that they could enjoy, season after season, together with their families, not forgetting plenty of playground equipment for the children—bathing and wading pools, etc.

We believe in our heart that our people are the kind that will want to do something in remembrance of the living and dead of this cruel war — this unnecessary war as far as we are concerned, as we did not start it but will finish it. So, it is up to us to decide whether or not we want something to just look at, or something to dedicate to our service men and women that they may really enjoy — a pleasure, season in and season out.

And it is not too early to begin planning these things, and the Herald suggests that the civic clubs of our city, of both sexes, take a lead in such a memorial. If we wait and let the war go by for a year or two, with probable unemployment and hard time, we are liable to FORGET. Let's get busy now. There is lots of land up and down the draw that can be purchased. Why not a part of the county park?

We are merely suggesting a Memorial Park. If anyone has a better idea, let's hear from them. Sign your name if you wish, or at least let us know who you are.

CAPTIAN MURPHY MAY HOME ON VISIT

Captain Murphy May came in Monday for a ten days visit with his parents. He flew into Odessa, where he was met by his sister, Mrs. Rebecca Ballard.

Capt. May had been on a hospitalship, a C-54, flying supplies in, and wounded out, from the fighting zone. He had been stationed at Honolulu, but the base is being moved to San Francisco, so he will be based there now.

Some of the islands he has visited are Salpan, Guadalcanal, Guam and Tarawa—and some of the adventures he has had would curl your hair. We'll try and relate some of them later, after we've had a better chance to talk with him.

Service men Urged To Keep Government Insurance

Formost is the instructions to all underwriters that returning service men "always should be advised to continue their government life insurance, and under no circumstances should they be advised to replace it with new insurance in this or any other

WE WILL PROTECT FOOD FROM WEEVILS

As the time of year approaches when cereal products or dried peas and beans will be stored for the winter, it is well to keep in mind according to A. L. Hartzog, County Agent, that such items should be stored in relatively airtight containers, such as lard or coconut cans, along with a little highlife (carbon disulphide) thrown in or dust of lime.

If these items are not saved for seed, weevils can be controlled by heating the product to 140F, for 20 minutes, after which they are stored in hot, dry cans or jars. Complete directions may be found in pamphlet MS 547, which can be obtained from the County Agent's office.

County Well Represented in Service

A week or so ago, while having noon lunch (dinner to us) at the Wines hotel, a man and his wife from Fort Worth were also partaking of a meal. Being their first trip to Terry county, they plied those about them with many questions, especially about the crops, such as the fine crop of grains, cotton and the big melons which they had seen on farm wagons and trucks on the square.

The gentlemen asked about the population of Terry county, as he and wife had just viewed with amazement the number of names on the "Honor Roll" on the north side of the court house square. When told that the 1940 census gave us a bit over 11,000, and that ration books at this time showed some more than 14,000, they were still further amazed that a county with no more than that should have such a list in the service.

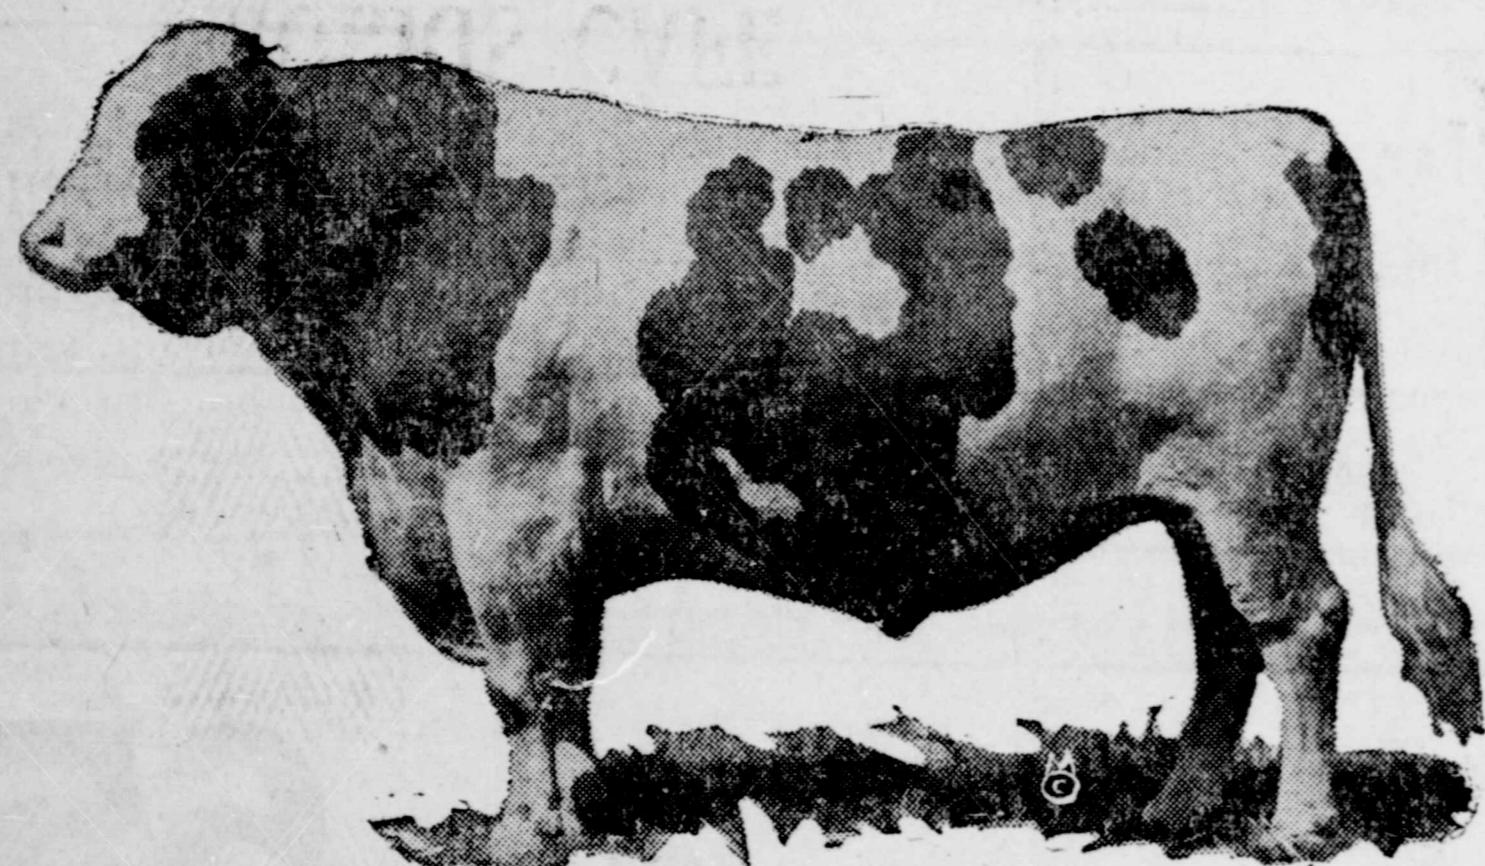

They were informed that Terry's number of volunteer and draftees ran just about the top if not the top of any county in the state or the United States, for that matter, population considered. The gentle-

SAVE FEED! INCREASE PROFITS! FEED WATKINS MINERAL COMPOUNDS TO YOUR STOCK!

WHEN YOU BUY prepared feed, you buy it on the basis of the value shown on the sack. You pay more for a 30 per cent protein feed than for one which shows 18 per cent.

Minerals are not all just alike—they vary just as prepared feeds do. It is, therefore, wise to buy your minerals on the basis of what's shown on the tag or sack. Watkins Mineral Compounds list openly on each tag the amount of each and every active ingredient which make up the 100 pounds in the sack. You know exactly what you are getting. There is no guesswork.

Don't judge minerals by sight, or by taste, smell, or advertising. Judge them by checking the formula and the amounts of each ingredient as well as the Guaranteed Analysis. A ration properly balanced with all the necessary minerals (such as Watkins contains) can greatly reduce your cost of production by saving feed that passes through the digestive tract undigested because of a mineral deficiency.

One dollar's worth of Watkins Minerals properly fed can save you over $5 in feed. That is a fact that you can prove if you weigh your stock and feed at regular intervals. Thousands of farmers have found that when they feed Watkins Mineral Compounds they cut the cost of feeding and increase their profits. Put Watkins Minerals to work for you.
