Mrs. Cartwright Dies In Plainview

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cartwright and son, George, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Loyd and daughter, returned Monday from Plainview, where they attended the funeral of their mother, and aunt, Mrs. Lissie Cartwright, who passed away last Thursday noon, Oct. 9th, following a few weeks illness.

Funeral services were conducted Friday evening at the Church of Christ of which she had been a member some fifty years. Minister Paul McClung of Lamesa officiated. Interment in Plainview cemetery.

The deceased was born in 1872, in Titus county, Texas, and was married to J. S. Cartwright in 1890, and moved to Wilbarger county in 1905, where they lived until 1925. She had resided with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Haas-

Mrs. F. A. Bradley visited in Gilliland, her home town, Tuesday of last week. She was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shephard and Miss Ruth Shephard were in Dallas from Thursday through Sunday attending the fair.

Gilbert Nunn spent the week end in Dallas visiting his sister, Mrs. Frank Shappard and seeing the fair.

Named to Head March of Dimes

George D. Wilson

Appointment of George D. Wilson, Houston businessman and civic leader, as Texas State Chairman for the 1948 March of Dimes was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1948 campaign to be held Jan. 15-30, will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation, established by Franklin D. Roosevelt to "lead, direct and unify" the fight against infantile paralysis. The March of Dimes each January is the sole support of the National Foundation.

Mr. Wilson formerly headed the trustees of the University of Houston, the Houston Board of Education and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has been active in the American Red Cross and served on the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He was 1947 March of Dimes chairman for Texas.

In announcing that Mr. Wilson had accepted the state chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor revealed that since 1943 infantile paralysis has taken a tragic toll, with more than 72,000 Americans having been stricken.

"Thousands," he warned, "continue to face a long fight for recovery. This summer, fortunately, we had a 'breathing spell' as polio incidence nationally did not approach the awful total of 1946.

"The cost of the 1946 epidemic alone will run to some $30,000,000, without taking into account the large sums necessary to care for those stricken this summer. We do not know what 1948 may bring, but we must be prepared."

Much Grass For Pasture Planted

R. W. Carlton, Soil Conservation director whose weekly column is missing because of the funeral of a relative in east Texas, reported that he has over 1000 acres of land planned and 300 acres already planted to grasses for pasture experiments. There are in small tracts and by various farmers in the county. Several tracts are under irrigation.

He said that there is 164 miles of terracing planned in the county by farmers in addition to what has been recently done.

"Many farmers are having deep plowing done," Mr. Carlton said, "and a former county commissioner at Wellman has purchased a deep plowing tractor and plow to contract deep breaking in that area. There are also several other contractors in nearby counties for the same purpose."

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe System carloading for week ending October 11, 1947, were 30,346 compared with 26,323 for same week in 1946. Cars received from connections totaled 13,132 compared with 13,280 for same week in 1946. Total cars moved were 43,478 compared with 39,603 for same week in 1946. Santa Fe handled a total of 42,915 cars in preceding week of this year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Thrasher, of Longview are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Bill Heflin and Mr. Heflin.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Fowler of Lubbock, were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fowler.

Mrs. Betty Sims, of Meadow was a Brownfield visitor Tuesday.

BROWNFIELD

City Looked "South Of The Border" Last Saturday

A representative of this paper was coming out of the post office late Saturday afternoon, a lady acquaintance remarked: "Brownfield looks like 'south of the border' this afternoon, doesn't it?" That lady really had something on the beam.

These Latin-Americans seldom give trouble. If so, it is generally just one out of perhaps thousands, and they come nearer having trouble among themselves than with their English speaking neighbors. Usually they are the most polite of people, and are accommodating to all people. Added to that, they are a very patriotic people as a whole. They took their places among the English speaking Americans not only in the late but the 1918 unpleasant war. If you will read the names of Terry county youths on the plaque over at the courthouse, you will note that a full quota of Spanish speaking Americans from this county, paid the supreme sacrifice.

Among these friendly people you will note that the boys and girls are well posted on what is desirable to be worn by both sex, and of Saturdays and Sundays, many of the youths are as well dressed as anyone. And among the women and younger girls, there is much real beauty.

Much has been said and written about price differences on work. This followed the assertions of a Mexican counsel down in Mexico City, who perhaps had not been north of the border this year. It was in regard to price of cotton picking in Arizona, California and Texas, the latter being accused of discrimination. Perhaps the official did not take into account that it is much more trouble to "pick" than to "pull" cotton, as it is done in Texas. In other words, one can pull almost three times as much cotton as they can pick. Then too, long staple cotton is much harder to pick than short staple, as the former has smaller bolls, and does not open as well.

Investigations have been conducted on a kind of Gallup poll of some of the Mexican people in this area. Some of them are native or naturalized Texans (Americans.) Some have come over legally as workers in Texas fields while others are "wetbacks" (swam the river while the immigration authorities were looking the other way) perhaps. All of them were satisfied with wages and working conditions without exception, and some took sharp issue with the Mexican Counsel about the matter. None of them were dissatisfied. Then, the farmers who had cotton to gather were polled. The 100 per cent opinion among them was that there absolutely was no discrimination in cotton pulling wages in this section. The pollees all stated that they wanted their cotton gathered, and it made not one iota of difference with them whether the laborer was white, brown or black. All were paid alike.

Some of the farmers interviewed expressed themselves that really they had rather have a crew of Mexicans, as in most cases they were equipped with cotton trucks to haul the cotton to gins.

One great trouble has been places to feed these people over the week ends. Most cafes are small here and have their regular customers year in and year out and must care for them. But the

SHORT STORY The Dog and His Master By FERN AUBLE

THE dog stood motionless, soft brown eyes riveted on the small figure lying face down. Sobs racked the thin young shoulders...

Slowly, the dog moved toward the boy until he stood over him. Tentatively then, he nuzzled the youngster gently.

Thad Lacey lay motionless for a moment and then, slowly, almost fearfully, he rolled his head to one side and stared up at the dog standing over him.

"Au, gee," he breathed softly. "Gee, where'd you come from, boy?" Thad's fingers gently fondled the silky ears.

Then in a floodtide of remembrance, his eyes filled once more and he rubbed his knuckles into them angrily. His voice roughened as he said, "Spot wasn't nearly as pretty as you, but I loved him anyway."

Thad's head came up and he made no effort to hide the heartache in his eyes as he said with a shaking, indrawn breath, "Uh-huh. He was my dog. Old man Benton shot him yesterday. Said Spot was runnin' his sheep."

"That's too bad, son. I'm sorry you lost your dog. Mr. Benton was probably too hasty, but there've been a number of sheep killed around here lately and the farmers are pretty touchy."

"I know, but Spot didn't hurt his old sheep none. Not ever."

Slowly the dog moved toward the boy until he stood over him.

THE man was silent for a moment, watching the boy fondle the hound. I've never seen Bucky with such an idiotically happy look about him, he thought.

Suddenly, he made his decision and looking hard at the boy said, "Look here, son. You've lost your dog through a mistaken notion on the part of Mr. Benton. It looks like you and Bucky there understand each other pretty well."

"You take Bucky for your own dog. A boy needs a dog and all dogs need a boy for their master. You and Bucky belong together."

He stopped, smiling at the light in Thad's gray eyes and before he could repent of his offer, turned on his heel and started rapidly across the field.

Thad looked after him wordlessly. He sprang to his feet and raced after the man, Bucky loping at his heels.

"Hey, mister!" Thad's voice reached the man as he walked with downbent head. He stopped and turned slowly.

"Hey, what's your name, mister? I never seen you before neither." There was a note of apology in the man's voice.

ALLIS-CHALMERS STARTS PRODUCTION ON WORLD'S LARGEST CRAWLER TRACTOR

Comparison with smaller HD-5 Diesel indicates unusual size of new Allis-Chalmers HD-19.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Production of the world's largest, most powerful crawler tractor, the 20 ton Allis-Chalmers HD-19 Diesel is now underway at the company's Springfield, Illinois Works. Engineered completely new throughout, this tractor has been designed and built as rugged, simple and dependable as possible.

Operating adjustments, maintenance points and major assemblies are so located and designed that the care, maintenance and repair of the tractor can be accomplished with the least possible effort and loss of time.

By means of a three stage hydraulic Torque Converter introduced into the power train of the tractor the capacity for doing more work than conventional tractors is greatly increased. Application of the liquid drive principle to crawler type tractors originated by Allis-Chalmers, permits horsepower output of the engine to be held constantly near the maximum.

Fluid Power or the Torque Converter drive is the most outstanding factor contributing to smoother operation, because it eliminates so much gear shifting common to conventional tractors. The HD-19 transmission has only two forward speeds (0 to 3.0 low gear, 0 to 7.0 high), and one reverse (0 to 5.5). Thus a minimum of gear shifting and consequently more accurate control provides not only stepped up tractor performance but increased operator efficiency.

An A-frame track stabilizer design eliminates twisting strains, 84° of track tread and 8 1/2% of ground contact provide the HD-19 with excellent balance and reliable traction, easy accessibility of clutches, fewer adjusting and greasing points, are all additional factors which help make the Allis-Chalmers HD-19 the largest, and one of the most dependable, economical and efficient tractors in the field today.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Preston Murphy and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson were in Amarillo Sunday to hear Mr. LaRoe, of Washington, D. C. He is the moderator of the General Assembly and of the Presbyterian Churches USA.

The first railroad in the state of Iowa was constructed in 1855.

Stay White Longer House Paint

The "little white house by the side of the road" can stay white now longer than before the war years, says Home Management Specialist Bernice Claytor, of the Texas A and M College Extension Service.

Even though raw materials for paints are still scarce, a little more is available now, and scientific studies by commercial companies have resulted in much improvement. They found that white was more popular as a house paint and went to work to develop the white pigments that will shed dirt and renew the original whiteness.

The paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rot and decay. Its ability to stay white lies in the fact that, at the surface of the film, under normal conditions of exposure, a fine white powder forms which heavy rains wash away. Thus, the soil and dust are removed, and the house looks nice and white again.

Mrs. Claytor says these studies should be valuable to home owners who have trouble keeping paint on their houses because of climatic conditions which injure the surface.

FIGHTING COTTON FIRES

On display in 10,000 cotton gins, compresses and warehouses across the nation, this poster is an important tool of the 1947-48 fire prevention campaign now being conducted throughout the cotton industry under the sponsorship of the National Cotton Council and other cooperating groups. Carl Price Williams, prominent Jackson, Tennessee, is shown as he puts it to work in his gin, a constant reminder to guard against the threat of fire.

Predicts Drop In Food Prices For '48

Although a program of shipping food to Europe may keep prices high on farm products for a time, the United States will benefit economically in the long run, in the opinion of Prof. E. L. McBride, head of the Texas Technological College department of agricultural economics.

Food is apparently essential now to help Europe's people survive, he said, pointing out that from a practical point of view the United States must give every possible assistance to the nations that will prove excellent future markets for American commodities.

McBride foresees a general business lull in the United States, accompanied by price drops, in 1948. Europe's demands on American products will be lessened after the winter crisis, he predicted, allowing production to catch up with domestic demand.

Rotan Dairyman Has Prize Winning Cow

Brampton Irene Ash, a registered Jersey cow owned by J. C. White, Rotan, has been given the silver Medal Award of the American Jersey Cattle Club for completing an outstanding production record.

Extension dairymen at Texas A and M College were informed by the cattle club's headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, that White's cow has chalked up a production record of 11,369 pounds of milk and 582 pounds of butterfat over a 305 day period. Her tests were verified by both the University of Illinois and the American Jersey Cattle Club.

In compiling this record, the cow produced more than two and one half times as much butterfat as the average dairy cow in the United States. She has also been officially classified for type by the cattle club and given the high rating of Very Good.

Supt. Cowan Speaks At West Ward PTA Meeting

"Schooling Through the Years" was the subject Mr. Cowan used when he addressed the West Ward PTA at their regular meeting on October 2. In his discussion Mr. Cowan told of changes that have taken place in school systems during the past 15 years.

A few of the important additions he spoke of are: Government aid for the physically handicapped student; Visual Education which will include a motion picture projector to be used in connection with text books. "This, said Mr. Cowan, "will be very beneficial as statistics prove that about 90 per cent of knowledge is acquired by sight." The state is now building up a film library and when schools are properly equipped for them these films will be loaned free. A safety education program which is already being taught in some schools and is hoped will soon be in all of them will result in fewer accidents.

During the opening minutes of the meeting Mrs. Jack Griggs, president, introduced the officers and committee chairman of the organization. Mrs. Ted Hardy, chairman of room mothers, introduced the teachers and room mothers.

Mrs. Graham Smith read a paper on the "Birthday of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers" and Mrs. Walter Hord gave a "Jiffy Skit." These were inroduced by Mrs. J. M. Teague, program chairman for the afternoon.

Each month the room having the greatest number of parents attending the PTA meetings will be awarded a prize of $1.00. At Thursday's meeting Mrs. Brownlee's and Mrs. Nelson's room tied and were awarded duplicate prizes. The total number attending the meeting was 45.

Mrs. Walter Hord was given a past president pin as a token of appreciation of her work last year. Mrs. Charles Didway made the presentation. Mrs. James King will also receive a pin but was not present at Thursday's meeting.

To conclude the program, Mrs. Leo Holmes read an outline of the program for November 6. It will be in the form of a forum and the following speakers will be heard: Mrs. O. L. Peterman, Dr. P. C. McCord, Mr. Hiram Parks, Mr. Charles Didway and Mr. B. T. Fallan.

All parents are urged to attend this meeting.

TUNE IT FOR FALL CROPS...

SNAP!

The secret of fall harvesting is to adjust the cylinder speed instantly for varying moisture conditions that change from hour to hour. The All-Crop Harvester's Quick Speed-Changer makes it as easy as tuning your radio.

Tough conditions require higher speeds to thresh the grain or seeds from heads or pods. Dry, brittle conditions require slower speeds to avoid damage to kernels.

The All-Crop Harvester's famous full-width, rubber-faced, spiral-bar cylinder processes the crop gently and thoroughly in a wide, thin stream... at the proper speed to save it all.

Fresh Apples Bock On The Menu

King Apples is back again, and this fine fruit is heartily welcomed to Southwestern tables. Colorful, nutritious apples furnish several basic food elements needed by both children and adults, and at the same time, apples provide a festive touch to your menus. And every homemaker knows that a food that's fun to eat will spark even the laziest appetite.

Women everywhere will appreciate the reminder that apples, like other fine quality foods — may be purchased by brand name. Better known distributors of fruits and vegetables give their most respected trade marks and brand names to even seasonal foods, such as apples. Such labeling means that you can go to your favorite grocers and select the unquestioned best in even perishable foods.

So here's a suggestion. When you go to your independent grocer's today, buy a good supply of apples. Serve this fruit as between meal snacks, bake an old fashioned apple pie, or serve apples in your own family's favorite way. You'll get raves from your entire family. But there are two important things to remember when buying and serving apples. First, select a known brand of apples. Then, be sure to buy a supply that's sufficient to serve your family's needs. And lady, compliments will be yours!
