St. James's Magizine. George Francis Train has declared earnestly for the right of woman to vote. In response to a telegraphic solicitation to stump Kansas for the cause, Train says; "If women can rule monarchies they should vote in republics." Again, in a second telegram, he said: "Virtue and intelligence should vote, as well as vice and muscle. When women vote the ball have fower they are the voters. we shall have fewer divorces and better morals." This excited the admiration of Susan B. Anthony, who dispatched to him: "God bless you. Begin at Leavenworth October 21st. With your help we shall triumph." Train is on the editorial excursion, and will open his mission in Kansas soon as he returns. It will be a lively canvass.

To-morrow night there is to be a massmeeting at Shady Side, New Jersey, for the momentous object of nominating the late General George B. McClellan for the Presidency. #### THE ELECTIONS.

The telegraph brings us the first driblet of election news. The esti mation is that New York city has gone Democratic and Maryland likewise. This is only guess work. Massachusetts, Kansas, and Wisconsin are guessed at as going Republican. We are not alarmed and will wait patiently for the final result.

GARIBALDI A PRISONER.

"The telegraph brings us the intelligence that Garibaldi and his patriot band have been overwhelmed by their own countrymen, acting under orders from King Emanuel who owes his crown to Garibaldi. Thus it is. once again the cause of Italian liberty and unity has been overthrown by the intrigues of Napeleon. This defeat however will only be a temporary check upon the ultimate settlement of the Italian question; it is on ly a question of time and a very short time at that. They dare not take Garibaldi's life, and as long as he lives the cause of liberty is hopeful; he has the sympathy of the people all over the world, and that his countrymen did not rise en masse to aid him in his efforts to give them a nationality proves that they are not deserving of Garibaldi or the position he would secure them. But it has been ever so that freedom advances, slowly but surely, baptised at every step with patriot blood, beaten down to the earth, and rising again stronger than before. Garibaldi a prisoner! what will they do with him? Italy has no walls thick enough to hold him-banishment is useless. To kill him would only ignite the conflagration which would destroy his destroyers. Then what will his King betrayer do with him?

GALVESTON LETTERA

The Convention-Military Headquarters Our Commanding General-Report from the Interior -The Remedy -Police Matters-Items.

Editor Son Antonio Express :

The probability is that an election will two. The sight of his wrecked home, be ordered in this State within a few of his condition, no doubt killed him. Thus ends the last act in the series of tragedies as remarkable as they have proved lamentable." defeat the proposed means of reconstruc-tion by a " masterly inactivity"—that is, atay away from the polls themselves, and intimidate and deter our newly-cufranchised citizens and Union men wherever sible from depositing their ballots. This is the programme. It behaves the registration district to be active and vigilant; using every expressing ex gencies of the hour, and the promised him full dominion of all the ertion to rouse the loyal masses to the importance of polling a strong vote for the Convention-sending good and true men to represent them.

Our Military Headquarters, it is understood, is located permanently at Austin - that is, if the wishes of the Commanding General will be considered; in any event, Headquarters will remain at Austin till after January-General Reynolds rightly judging that his presence near the Governor is indispensable in the reorganization of the State.

The pruning of Copperhead official from efficial places has already con menced, and we are assured that the commanding General intends having in his military family soldiers who know no laws but those of their country, and men who will not disgrace the uniform of their Government by a vindication of rebellion open or professed. Again reports reach us of much disorder prevailing in the interior, especially the eastern and northern counties of the State. We have recently the high-handed proceedings of the rebels of Polk county in "bunting" Mr. Goddin, the editor of a Union paper in Livingston, and formerly the Bureau Agent of the anty; also is Houston county, the ving out" of Dr. Hunsaker, formerly the Sub, Assistant Commissioner for said county, for no other reason than that he professed the principles of the Republi-can party and endeavored while in office to perform his duty toward the oppressed facedmen. The remedy to the chaotic state existing in several of the counties will be sharp and swift. We have the assurance that General Reynolds is determined to rid the State of lawless men and their abbettors; and to begin, will remove the bad men who infest the cival offices. Union men may count on energetic action on the part of our Commanding General.

Statements and affidavits of our citizens, who have been abused and maltreated by Chief of Police Perry, have Cotton unchanged, sales 8,000 bales. been forwarded to General Reynolds for his action.

The friends of Perry concede his removal as a foregone conclusion within a few days. Perhaps the most disgusting feature, to all generous men, connected with the arrest of Major Plumley, is that Perry demanded the Major to sign a bond to "abstain from all Republican meetings and refrain from all political discussions." This was a course indigpantly refused, and a bond of an ordinary haracter was taken.

Our city is already recuperating from the effects of the epidemic. Buildings are being erected, lots filled up, and the constant arrival and departure of steamers and vessels give us a lively business air once more. Many of our citizens are returning from their Northern tour refreshed and invigorated for the active business campaign of the winter and spring. Our physicians do not deem it entirely safe for unseelimated persons till we have one or two heavy frosts. The air is crisp and cool, but no frost has yet fallen; we nightly expect it.

OUR JARKETS .- Sweet potatoes are the main delicacies of the season; isn't it a shame in a city which bears so strong a resemblance to Damascus, in its water privileges? But our gardeners will cry out that the naughty grasshoppers have ruined them. The hunter after garden truck will find but a poor show in our market. Military Plaza is the place to seek for country produce. Like the early bird who seeks the worm, you must be up early or you will find nothing to mark the spot where good things have been; but arising early you will, find wagons loaded with sweet potatoes, chickens, batter, wood, hay, etc. And on the ground spread out on clothes are little piles of poppers, ochre, green tomatoes, squashes, and onions. Looking at the supply offered it would seem that there was not enough vegetables (except peppers) to supply a dozen hungry men. Evidently the grasshoppers havn't eat up all the green stuff. Now we suggest that this a mighty poor show for a poputation of 15,000 inhabitants; and further, that the method it is offered to the publie does not rise above the dignity of an Indian village. We want a railroad,nothing but the sport of the iron horse will ever drive away our semi-barbarism. A fruit and vegetable market is one of our necessities, but there seems no hope of anything decent until we have a rail-

DON'T WANT A RAILROAD,-We believe there are actually people in this city who don't want to see a railroad come to us; they are afraid of the consequences; they are afraid of the new impetus it would give everything-of the new blood it would force into our commercial life; they have it all their own way now; they eached the currency of the United States of America, and nurse the silver dollars of Mexico; they are afraid of the revolution in business-in the basis on which it will be done; and we shouldn't be surprised to find them moving in a straight line for the hard money-cursed country west of as when the steam horse and green backs appear among us as a circularing medium.
